

MARQUETTE BOY HELD FOR MURDER

PROHIBITION ENFORCEMENT NOT "OVERNIGHT JOB" SAY ADMINISTRATION OFFICIALS

QUESTION IS NOT NOVELTY TO U. S. PEOPLE.

BY DAVID LAWRENCE. (Copyright, 1923, by The Escanaba Press) This is the first of a series of news dispatches written after an exhaustive study of the prohibition question in which President Harding, Prohibition Commissioner Ray Hayden, Assistant Attorney General Willbrandt, Wayne B. Wheeler of the Anti-Saloon League, Capt. W. H. Blaylock of the National Association Opposed to Prohibition and leaders submitted to private interviews with the writer and gave their candid opinions on law enforcement and the subject.

Washington, Feb. 19.—To many people in the United States, prohibition is a novelty, something new, something suddenly imposed. But it isn't. The libraries are full of books, pamphlets, speeches, legal records of prosecutions and statistics all the way back to 1827. All kinds of prohibitory laws from local option to licensing of saloons and drug stores have been put on the statute books of the various states of the American union for nearly a century.

You can talk to the leaders of both sides today and both groups will insist that before you make up your mind whether prohibition is a good thing or a bad thing, the experience of the past should be carefully examined. As for conclusions, the "wet" will argue that the record shows prohibition cannot be enforced and makes for a gradual diminution in public respect for law and the oath of public officials. Conversely, the "dry" will say that when you have read all that has happened on the subject in the last fifty years you will be convinced that the movement had been from the outset the inspiration of the best citizenry of the nation and that the varied forms of restriction imposed by the states did not always permit of real enforcement, because the power of the federal government was lacking and that everything which occurred before 1920 was only an argument for the need of an amendment to the federal constitution.

Not Two-Sided Question. So the writer will concentrate not on the moot questions of the past but on the actual situation today, now that a liquor amendment is in the federal constitution and an enforcement law is on the federal statute books. To get at the facts he sought the aid of both sides in the hope that the information obtained might enable the reader to form his own conclusions. For the object of this series is not to champion either the viewpoint of the extreme prohibitionist who doesn't even like to discuss the hypothetical circumstances under which light wines and beer might be made an exception to the constitution and law or the viewpoint of the "wet" who makes no distinction between one kind of intoxicant or another and says the whole thing is an invasion of the personal liberty of the individual who knows how to drink with moderation.

The question of prohibition enforcement itself, however, really doesn't have two sides to it. Even the National Association Opposed to Prohibition concedes that the Volstead law and the federal amendment should be obeyed as long as they are in effect. This association has its doubts whether the law can be enforced and their arguments will be set forth subsequently but the controversy over the repeal of the amendment is separate and distinct from the question of whether prohibition can really be made effective.

States Made It Work. The first thing the prohibitionist draws to your attention is that before 1920, two thirds of the United States was dry, that is dry laws on the statute books of more than thirty states in which two thirds of the American people lived. He will admit that enforcement in those states was not all that could have been desired but he will argue that prohibition can be made to work and that it has long since ceased to be a matter of public controversy by a matter of the original dry states.

It is important to remember the group of dry states because whenever the subject of modification comes up the prohibitionist accuses his shoulders and gives an impression of utter hopelessness—he says the original dry states are numerous enough to make any change. However that may be it is interesting in getting the one's bearings on the prohibition problem to go back to

King Tut's Dust Remains in Tomb Until Next Fall

LUXOR, Egypt, Feb. 19.—(By the Associated Press) Tutankhamun's dust will not be disturbed this season. By the end of the week it is most probable that the opening in the sealed door of his tomb will be screened with wadding on a wooden frame-work and that the debris of centuries will be piled into the tomb shaft as the most effective protection against theft. A police guard will remain throughout the summer. The crowds seeking admittance to the fourth chamber Sunday were of such proportions that the Egyptian authorities this morning forbade any further incursions.

HUNT CAUSE OF ASYLUM FIRE

Blast in Dredging Nearby Blamed for Break in Electric Wires.

New York, Feb. 19.—(By the Associated Press)—A day of probing—into the ruins and into the cause—followed the disastrous fire which early yesterday morning wrecked a ward of the Manhattan state hospital for the insane on Ward's island, killing 52 patients and three male attendants.

Out of all the investigations started by many different agencies grow expressions of belief that greater care was needed to protect the madman's island, only two of whose structures were declared by Superintendent Marcus B. Hayden to be fireproof.

Coupled with the assertion that Dr. Hayden that a fire much more serious than that of yesterday threatens the island at any time, came a statement from the national board of Fire Underwriters, which in 1920 surveyed the institutions, declaring that "the terrible holocaust served again to emphasize the danger of death from fire that exists in such institutions throughout the country."

Dr. Hayden and his men contended that a blast accompanying dredging operations in Hell Gate, just south of the island, had been the indirect cause of the fire, breaking the insulation on electric wiring, and causing a short circuit. The fire apparently had smoldered a long time before it was discovered, and then spread with such rapidity that it was out of control before the ward patients could be removed.

Identification Slow. Throngs of friends and relatives gathered on the Manhattan shore early today waiting to be ferried across the river. Identification of the victims proved a slow process, so terribly had the bodies been burned, and hospital authorities soon gave up hope of finding the five persons reported missing, believing they had been cremated.

DENY HINDU CITIZENSHIP

Washington, Feb. 19.—Considerable enlightenment was thrown by the supreme court in a decision today upon the meaning of the words "free white persons" as used in the naturalization laws. The decision was in a case brought by Bhagat Singh Thind, a Hindu of high cast of full Indian blood, born in Punjab, India, who was granted a certificate of citizenship by the United States district court for Oregon, over the protest of the government. The court today denied his right to citizenship. Having decided recently in the Osawa case that a Japanese was not entitled to naturalization because of the term "free white persons" the court indicated today that it had intended to leave the question to be dealt with in doubtful cases by the "process of judicial inclusion and exclusion." The mere fact that an applicant could establish a line of descent from a Caucasian was not necessarily conclusive, it explained.

FILIBUSTER IN SENATE OVER SHIPPING LAW

Opponents Start to Block Vote on Subsidy Measure.

Washington, Feb. 19.—Efforts of opponents of the administration shipping bill to kill it through a filibuster were actively begun tonight in the senate, and brought from Senator Jones, Republican of Washington, in charge of the measure, a notice that he would endeavor to hold the senate in session all night tomorrow. The filibuster as started tonight, and shipping bill opponents made no effort to have it described as other than a filibuster, took the form of an address of three hours and a half by Senator Shepard, Democrat of Texas, on the operation of the league of nations, since its organizing.

PROPOSERS RUSH IT.

Washington, Feb. 19.—Confronted with an effort to displace their measure, Senate proponents of the administration shipping bill forced a night session tonight in waging the final stage of the fight to obtain enactment of the legislation before adjournment of congress.

Opponents of the bill attempted to bring about an adjournment at the usual hour, but were voted down 45 to 37. Earlier in the day they united with supporters of the bill in an endeavor to take up that measure and lay aside the ship bill.

Senator Jones, Republican of Washington, met the move with a motion to lay on the table the proposal to take up the filled milk bill which was made by Senator Ladd, Republican of North Dakota. The motion was defeated 44 to 42, and the Ladd proposal was left pending before the senate.

Leaders among the forces supporting the shipping bill conceded that the vote was a surprise and pointed out that several republicans who are considered as favorable to the shipping bill voted against tabling the Ladd motion. The vote on the motion to table was followed by extended debate, the feature of which was a lengthy exchange between Senator Underwood, the retiring Democratic leader, and several Democrats on the question of the propriety of a filibuster against the shipping legislation. During this debate, Senators Underwood and Hitchcock, Democrat of Nebraska, conceded that there was a filibuster against the shipping bill.

CLAIMS SHARE IN SPANISH RULING Family Estate

New York, Feb. 19.—Don Louis DeBourbon, self asserted half brother of King Alfonso of Spain today forwarded a formal petition to the Pope and the college of cardinals at Rome, requesting that the Spanish ruler be summoned to a hearing before the papal court in which DeBourbon claims for a share of the estate of his father, King Alfonso XII, who would be presented. Don Louis seeks the inheritance on the claim that he is the eldest son of the late Spanish ruler, through a Morganatic marriage and that he is two years older than King Alfonso.

POINDEXTER PERU ENVOY

Washington, Feb. 19.—The nomination of Senator Poindexter of Washington to be ambassador to Peru was confirmed by the senate late today in open session. Action was taken soon after the nomination had been received from President Harding.

Ganna Walska Opens Her Concert Tour

Elmira, N. Y., Feb. 19.—Madame Ganna Walska, wife of Harold F. McCormick, of Chicago, appeared for the first time upon the American concert stage here tonight, and for the first time since her marriage to the Chicago manufacturer. Walska is opening a tour which takes her on Wednesday to Detroit and later across the continent to sing in several cities, thence back to Chicago. The singer, freed from the threat of an injunction sought by Madame McCormick of New York, was in a happy mood and sang a difficult program.

LABOR BOARD CAN SUGGEST, NOT ENFORCE

SUPREME COURT SETS FORTH INTENT OF LAW.

HOOPER SATISFIED. Chicago, Feb. 19.—Chairman Ben W. Hooper characterized the decision of the supreme court in its decision today upholding the right of the United States railroad labor board to suggest methods of settlement in industrial controversies, as a "long step toward industrial peace on the railroads," when the decision was read to him.

HAS NO POWER.

Washington, Feb. 19.—The United States railroad board is a board of arbitration without power to enforce its rulings but dependent upon the support of public sentiment to give its acts effect, the supreme court today decided in a case brought by the Pennsylvania railroad company. The case was an appeal from the decision of the seventh circuit court of appeals, refusing to grant a restraining order prohibiting the board from publishing its findings with regard to the refusal of the railroad company to conduct labor dispute negotiations with certain representatives of organized labor.

Out of Shop Strike

The controversy arose during the recent strikes of the railroad shopcrafts throughout the country, and the Pennsylvania railroad, pointing out that it had negotiated its difficulties with representatives of its employees, refused to comply with the ruling of the labor board that it should recognize officers of certain labor organizations as representatives of its employees, and negotiate with them.

No Enforcement Power.

Asserting that it was not the intention of congress in providing for the railroad labor board to create a "tribunal to determine what were the legal rights and obligations of railroad employers and employees, or to enforce or protect them," the supreme court pointed out that "the courts can do that."

Japanese Deny Brazil Rumors

Washington, Feb. 19.—The Japanese embassy announced tonight the receipt of cable advices from the foreign officers at Tokio, asserting that there was no truth in a recently published report in this country that Japan and Brazil had entered into an agreement for the movement of 500,000 laborers from Japan to Brazil for colonization purposes. The foreign office said further that since 1920 immigration to Brazil had been on the decrease by about 1,000 each year and was expected to decrease still further because of conditions in that country affecting labor.

Billiard Ball Factory Burns

Muskegon, Feb. 19.—Fire which started from an explosion on the third floor of the billiard ball department of the Brunswick-Balke-Coller company's plant shortly after the day crew of 300 men quit work, resulted in injuries to two men and property damage estimated at $150,000. A series of explosions of chemicals and celluloid hampered the firemen. Four men working in the department when the third explosion occurred escaped as the flames shot through the building. Otto Loeffler and A. Muskobin, plant foremen, were injured by falling glass.

Crowe Asks Police Search Labor Heads

Chicago, Feb. 19.—A demand that Chicago labor leaders be searched for concealed weapons every time they are met by the police was made today by State's Attorney Crowe, as a result of the gun battle in a crowded bar last night in which Steve Kelliker, a union official, was slain. It was the 24th labor killing in Chicago in the past 12 years. Mesmer, "Handsome Dan" McCarthy, another labor leader, who was arrested following the slaying of Kelliker and the wounding by a stray bullet of a woman dancer in the cafe, declared that he had fired in self defense.

Jackie Coogan, the child film actor, has had a wonderful service of teachers. Paderowski has given him piano lessons; Pavlova, dancing lessons; Sousa, orchestral lessons; and Carpenter, boxing lessons.

DEATH PENALTY DEMANDED FOR L. C. CAMPBELL

Desert Killing Will Lead to First Degree Trials.

El Centro, Calif., Feb. 19.—Lawrence C. Campbell, of Marquette, Mich., and Charles Davis, of Birmingham, Ala., each of whom claims to be but 17 years of age, were bound over to the superior court of Imperial county today on a charge of murdering Leslie L. Nichols, prominent insurance adjuster of Los Angeles and San Francisco. The youths on Jan. 26 last led officials to a lonely spot on the desert north of here and Nichols' mutilated body was found in a shallow grave. The officials said that the boys confessed that they killed and robbed Nichols after he gave them a lift in his automobile crossing the desert. District Attorney Utley claims to have proof that Campbell is over 18 years old, in which case the youth faces the death penalty. The district attorney is endeavoring also to establish Davis' age.

ESSEN AGAIN WITHOUT COPS

London, Feb. 20, (Tuesday)—A Dortmund dispatch to the Times said that at 7 o'clock this morning, French troops, accompanied by detectives and gendarmes and escorted by 20 tanks, surrounded the main police barracks in Essen and disarmed the thousand men within. Police duty was resumed last evening by the men, who had been disarmed Friday, but all left their posts at 1 o'clock this morning and Essen is again without police.

A meeting between the police and trade union leaders and municipal officials tonight will decide what attitude the police will adopt in the interest of the citizens. German reports say that the communists suggested to General Fournier that they be allowed to form a communist police force, to be equipped with arms taken from the Green police, but General Fournier declined.

Liquor Inquiries Put up to Hughes

Washington, Feb. 19.—The treasury has asked the advice of the state department respecting the recent request by the house for data concerning the amount of liquor received by the embassies and legations here. It was said today by high treasury officials that while the treasury was in possession of all details of information sought by the house in the resolution introduced by Rep. Cramton, of Michigan, it will withhold its reply until the views of the state department are at hand.

Mrs. Ford's Lawyers Raise Technicality

Detroit, Feb. 19.—Arguments by attorneys on what constitutes an overt act occupied much of this afternoon's session in the trial of Mrs. May Ford, charged with conspiracy to kill her wealthy husband, Neely J. Ford. Mrs. Ford is alleged to have sought to engage a detective who claims he posed as a gunman, to kill her husband. Attorneys for the defense contended a distinction should be drawn between her alleged preparation and an overt act. The argument is to continue at the opening of court tomorrow.

Scout Finance Campaign Is Launched at Luncheon

One hundred and one solicitors, selected from the Lions, Kiwanis and Rotary clubs, will begin this week, the task of raising $7,500 for the support of the Boy Scout and Girl Scout work during the coming year.

Assignments of districts which will be canvassed by the men were made at an inter-club luncheon held at noon yesterday at the Ludington hotel, at which the work of the Scouts in Escanaba was outlined, generally, by W. E. Olds, superintendent of schools, and the solicitation plan explained in detail by Col. F. B. Houston, secretary of the Community Scouting Finance committee, an organization composed of 15 members delegated to the job by the three club bodies. Hope of completing the campaign in a week's time was expressed by Col. Houston and other leaders.

Mr. Olds, described by George F. Geniesse, who presided, as a man, who, as superintendent of schools, has had the opportunity of observing, at close range, the results of scouting here, told his audience of nearly 150 business men that Escanaba's Scout organizations are efficient and extremely beneficial to the youth of the city. High Per Capita Enrollment. Recalling that Detroit, often held up as a model Scout city, has only 4,000 Boy Scouts in a population of about 1,000,000, or four Scouts per 1,000 persons, Mr. Olds pointed out that in Escanaba there are 243 Scouts or 17 for each 1,000 residents of the city.

He told his hearers that there are, in Escanaba, 15 Girl Scout Troops, with 218 Girls actively in the movement, and that seven troops are active in Masonville, Rapid River, Gladstone and Bark River. He declared that the school work, the increased interest in education, and the tendency of

AMERICAN AID CALL SPURNED

HOUSE OF COMMONS REJECTS LAW'S PROPOSAL.

London, Feb. 19.—(By the Associated Press)—The House of Commons tonight by a vote of 395 to 196 rejected the point Liberal amendment to the address in reply to a speech from the throne proposing an investigation by the league of nations with American cooperation into Germany's capacity to pay reparations. The debate on the question was listed above the ordinary by the brilliant speech of former premier Lloyd George, who revealed undiminished parliamentary energy. Thus, through parliamentary etiquette, which regards an amendment to the address as a vote of censure against the government, the house rejected a proposal which probably had the strong sympathy of the majority of its members, because a contrary vote would have meant the fall of the government.

No Criticism for Law.

Mr. Lloyd George took the line that the momentum of French action in the Ruhr had developed beyond anything the French government ever conceived, and that it was the business of England and America to extricate France from an impossible and dangerous position. He repudiated any idea of censuring or criticizing the Honar Law government, which he said had done its best as a faithful ally. Every creditor had to choose between cash and smash, he declared. France was trying both, but she must decide upon one or the other. The French action was ill-conceived, betraying lack of vision. The Ruhr was an open nation without natural frontiers and with a hostile population. France was giving hostages to a possible enemy, which might invite military disaster.

Repairs Not Objective.

In brief, Mr. Lloyd George considered the French government committed to a policy of irretrievable disaster. There had been nothing in the reparations problem, which in his opinion, demanded such a violent step, and the disquieting feature was that there must be some reason beyond reparations, since reparations clearly was not the object in view.

American Flyers Go After Titles

San Diego, Calif., Feb. 19.—Word that the United States army air service will make a systematic attempt this year to make every world's record not already held by an American aviator, was received here today from Washington. Orders for special training of airmen have been prepared.

FARMER BLOC WANTS QUICK HOUSE ACTION

CONFERENCE OF REPUBLICANS IN SIGHT.

Washington, Feb. 19.—Farm bloc leaders in the house undertook today to force the issue on agricultural credits legislation. They obtained sufficient signatures to call for a conference of the republican membership but withheld its presentation to Chairman Tower on the promise, they said, that the banking committee would report out a composite bill within a day or two.

Passage Saturday?

They also said the arrangements had been made to take up the legislation next Saturday. The whole subject came up today in the rules committee and Chairman Campbell announced subsequently that as soon as the bill was brought out his committee would report a resolution giving it right of way. Passage of the legislation within a single day was the plan.

Rep. Dowell, Republican of Iowa, circulated the petition for a republican conference, and it was made clear that unless the banking committee brought out a measure covering the general ground of the Capper and Lenroot-Anderson bills recently passed by the senate, the conference would be insisted upon. The question before it would be the discharge of the banking committee from further consideration of the bills and early action in the house.

In Two Parts

Members of the house banking committee said today they had been working steadily on the credits measure but that the task had been complicated, because legislation had come from the senate in two pieces. They were said to be opposed to reporting out any legislation unless they were assured that it would not effect the efficiency of the present banking and credit structure.

BEN PURNELL DENIED WRIT

Paw Paw, Mich., Feb. 19.—An order denying a motion by attorneys for Benjamin Purnell, head of the House of David of Benton Harbor, that an injunction issue to prevent service of a writ of capias on Purnell for his appearance in court in an $800,000 damage suit was filed here today by Circuit Court Judge Desvoignes.

The suit is that filed by Mrs. Ruth B. Reed and Mrs. Gladys B. Rubel, who claim to be former members of the House of David colony and who charge among other things that Purnell forced them to marry men of his choice. They also seek to recover property alleged to have been turned over to the cult by their parents. Judge Desvoignes made the writ returnable April 25, the day being for the purpose of permitting attorneys for the House of David to carry an appeal to the supreme court and to permit an amendment of the bill of the plaintiffs, as it relates to their next friend in the case.

Says Mayor, Police, Threatened Life

Tampa, Fla., Feb. 19.—R. O. Darling, of Kissimmee, Fla., today filed an affidavit with the Osceola county court declaring that high officials of his county were members of the Ku Klux Klan which attacked him and threatened to take his life if he made known their names, according to an official copy of the affidavit published in the Tampa Times. The affidavit signed by Darling charged that Marshal Trizer and Mayor May of Kissimmee and others were his captors. Darling is said to be living in the woods near Kissimmee guarded by his friends, since he signed the affidavit.

Koreans Copying Ghandi Movement

Seoul, Korea, Feb. 9.—(By the Associated Press)—One of the recent symptoms of the undercurrent of unrest which is apparently prevailing in Korea is an attempt to copy the Ghandi movement in India. Koreans are being urged by leaders to use only articles of Korean manufacture and to shun otherwise in non-cooperation. Meetings of the dissatisfied element recently were held in Seoul and King-Yang but a parade planned for Seoul was dispersed by police. A number of Koreans are returning to their native land as a protest against conditions.

PROHIBITION ENFORCEMENT TO TAKE TIME

Traffic Disreputable

"Prohibition legislation has succeeded in abolishing and preventing the manufacture on a large scale of distilled and malt liquors within the areas covered by it. In districts where public sentiment has been strongly in its favor it has made it hard to obtain intoxicants, thereby removing temptation from the young and from persons disposed to alcoholic excesses. In pursuing its main object—which is to make the manufacture and sale of intoxicants first, impossible, or, secondly, disreputable if possible—it has incidentally promoted the invention and adoption of many useful restrictions on the liquor traffic..."

Effects Disputed. "There have been concomitant evils of prohibitory legislation. The efforts to enforce it during forty years past have had some unlooked for effects on public respect for courts, judicial procedure, order and law in general, and for officers of the law, legislators, and public servants. Of course there are disputed effects of efforts at prohibition. Whether it has or has not reduced the consumption of intoxicants and diminished drunkenness is a matter of opinion, and opinions differ widely. No demonstration on these points has been reached, or is now attainable, after more than forty years of observation and experience..."

OWNER OF DOG BUYS LICENSE; THEN-DOG GONE!

If anyone in Escanaba knows the whereabouts of a collie dog with white collar and nose, belonging to Ivar Hellman, he or she is requested to notify the police station. Convinced that the police "meant business" in their dog cleanup, Mr. Hellman Saturday bought a license and a new collar for his pet. Then, when he returned home with the collar and license, the dog was missing. The police are positive that the animal was not one of those caught in the canine cleanup. Mr. Hellman has paid his license money and wants his dog. So there you are. Several more victims were "executed" Saturday, and for the next week the police plan to increase the vigor of the anti-dog campaign. Its beneficial results are already apparent, they declare, in the decrease of the number of animals running at large on the streets, chasing teams and autos, and otherwise making themselves obnoxious. There was a rush for licenses Saturday and yesterday, and the total number has now reached the three-figure mark. Airdales are most numerous among the canine population; collies come next, spaniels third, and then the bulls. Pomeranians foot the list, as only two have been registered...

Schools Will Not Close, Olds Says

Rumors that the city schools were to close because of the prevalence of sickness brought a prompt denial from Supt. W. R. Olds last night, with the statement that the situation was showing marked improvement. "Last week, as high as 20 percent of the pupils were absent,"

OWNER OF DOG BUYS LICENSE; THEN-DOG GONE!

If anyone in Escanaba knows the whereabouts of a collie dog with white collar and nose, belonging to Ivar Hellman, he or she is requested to notify the police station. Convinced that the police "meant business" in their dog cleanup, Mr. Hellman Saturday bought a license and a new collar for his pet. Then, when he returned home with the collar and license, the dog was missing. The police are positive that the animal was not one of those caught in the canine cleanup. Mr. Hellman has paid his license money and wants his dog. So there you are. Several more victims were "executed" Saturday, and for the next week the police plan to increase the vigor of the anti-dog campaign. Its beneficial results are already apparent, they declare, in the decrease of the number of animals running at large on the streets, chasing teams and autos, and otherwise making themselves obnoxious. There was a rush for licenses Saturday and yesterday, and the total number has now reached the three-figure mark. Airdales are most numerous among the canine population; collies come next, spaniels third, and then the bulls. Pomeranians foot the list, as only two have been registered...

Mr. Olds said, "This was on Wednesday, when the storm brought the number of absences to the highest point. At present not more than 7 or 8 percent are absent; they are coming back in fine shape." A tan jersey costume is bound with black braid and equipped with a huge bandanna kerchief in orange and black. It has straight, tailored lines.

What is Physical Fitness? True physical fitness involves more than a passing attention to matters of diet, hygiene, environment and exercise. Important as are these factors, their benefit is neutralized unless the natural mechanism within the body works efficiently and without hindrance. Conditions within the body—far more than those without—determine true physical fitness. Osteopathy, with its application of the principles of adjusting structure, works always towards a true physical basis for bodily fitness. The Osteopathic Physician strives to keep natural mechanism in working order by keeping it free from interference and derangement. The results that follow come as a result of natural law. Nature given opportunity, rebuilds, repairs and restores. The principles of Osteopathy go hand in hand with the fundamental laws of Nature. Call an Osteopath

"SPOOKS" TELL ABOUT FUTURE OF THE WORLD

Young Psychic Claims She Can Write History of Next Century.

New York.—I have just interviewed the spirits of the "other world." I asked them about war and peace and the future of nations and they answered me.

This through the medium of Flora Marian Spore, young psychic whose powers have amazed scientific investigators for the past three years.

The interview took place in Miss Spore's studio in Greenwich Village. There was nothing mysterious about it—no darkened rooms, no trances, no awe-inspiring trappings.

"Ask them what will be the outcome of the Ruhr invasion." There was a moment's silence, then the answer came:

"France will not return defeated. She will get what she wants. But she will get more trouble than she has already."

"Will there be a Russian-German alliance?" "There will be strong business relations between Germany and Russia but distrust of each other will keep them separate.

"Will there be a Turkish-Russian alliance?" "Russia will desert Turkey. Turkey sinks away like a fallen foe."

"Not in the way you mean. There will never be a religious war."

"What will happen in the Balkans?" "Dissension, dissension, dissension. Some countries will be annihilated. Others will feed on these and grow."

"What part will the United States play in world affairs from now on?"

"America will be alone with every nation at her throat. There will be a bitter war. She will never rise to her former splendor. Sooner than people say war can come, it will come, like a blow in the dark."

"What part will the Orient play in world affairs?" "Japan will play a large part. China will rise. She will be one of the strongest nations of the world. In the end she will dominate by her wisdom. Japan will hold on by military strength rather than by brains. She will always have to be reckoned with."

"Will a world leader arise?" "There will be no leader. There will never be universal peace. Each nation must protect itself. The one best protected will lead."

"Is there any possibility of a British-French war?" "France already hates England but the war that is coming will be a world war."

"What will be the outcome of the Bolshevik experiment in Russia?" "Before the rivers of spring open Russia will have internal war. We cannot tell whether it is this year or the next."

MARKET REPORTS

NEW YORK STOCKS. New York, Feb. 19.—Heavy profit taking, particularly among the usual leaders, failed to prevent speculators for the advance from continuing their operations in other sections of today's stock market, giving the list a decidedly irregular appearance during most of the session.

Further increases in the price of copper, zinc and Montana and Wyoming crude oils again drew attention to those groups.

New high records for the year were made by a number of stocks, including Anaconda copper at 51 1/8; Kennecott at 43 1/4; Inpiration at 41 3/8; Utah at 71; Chile at 30 1/4 and China at 28 1/8.

Sales, 1,206,000 shares.

OBITUARY

Word was received in the city yesterday announcing the death at Centralia, Wash., of Herbert Lockwood, formerly of this city.

No details accompanied the message. Mr. Lockwood left here twenty years ago with John Symons for the west and has made his home there ever since. He is survived by his wife and three children.

Mrs. Lockwood was formerly Miss Dolly Morton of this city. Mr. Lockwood has one sister residing in this city, Mrs. F. F. Davis, 1412 Tenth Avenue.

DORIS BRADY. Word was received in the city that Doris Brady, two-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harris Brady, died Sunday at Flint, Mich., from an attack of diphtheria.

The parents are bringing the body to this city for burial.

The body will arrive via C. & N. W. railway Wednesday afternoon at two o'clock and will be taken to the home of the grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Brady, 507 18th street, where services will be held at 3:30 o'clock, Rev. C. A. Lund officiating. Burial will be in Lakeview cemetery in the family lot.

Mr. and Mrs. Brady are former residents of this city and have a large number of friends in this city who sympathize with them in their recent bereavement.

HELEN MAHE SHINER. Helen Marie, 15-months old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph C. Shiner, 328 South Ninth street, died at the family home Sunday after a short illness. The funeral was held at the Alto Funeral Home Monday afternoon, Rev. Harry W. Staver of the First Presbyterian church officiating, and burial took place in Lakeview cemetery.

MRS. JOSEPH BADGER. Mrs. Joseph Badger died at the home of the family, 1705 Ludington street, rear, Monday morning shortly after midnight. She had been sick since Saturday morning with pneumonia. Mrs. Badger is survived by seven daughters and one son, Mrs. Ira Roberts, Mancelona, Mich.; Mrs. Frank Lanfrenier, Wells; Mrs. Joseph Dupont, Mrs. Richard St. Martin, Mrs. John Garland, Mrs. Ed. LOOK OUT FOR THE SHARKS.

The sermon of the secretary of the treasury on economy and thrift may be divided into two parts. The appeal for further economy is directed to government expenditure; the urge to thrift is addressed to the people. The second at least, is likely to fall on ready ears.

As Mr. Mellon points out, almost $2,000,000,000 worth of war savings stamps and Victory notes are due or will fall due during the first few months of 1933. That means that this very large sum will be available as cash to the citizens who invested in these government securities and who desire to receive their savings in that form. The fruition of investments is always a dangerous time, and experience has taught the public how easy it is to lose the results of their thrift by listening to speculative promises of the get-rich-quick artists.

If it is of high importance that the investors should realize the benefits of their sacrifices, and the way to do that is to contemplate in advance the most profitable way of using this money. Obviously sound re-investment suggests itself in government securities or in other forms of sound finance. It is no time to waste money and one of the really practical benefits that came out of the war was the impulse to thrift, as manifested by the patriotic subscriptions now about to be repaid.

To many a citizen they may represent the first step toward owning a home, a car for the pleasure and health of the family, a piece of furniture for the house, a welcome vacation this summer; in some useful form the money may be visualized. But if no such constructive objective suggests itself, then there are many splendid investments which will enlarge this little personal saving. There will be plenty of willing advisers to suggest speculative enterprise, some of them honest but many of them wholly crooked. Nearly two billion dollars represents the private fortune of the thrifty public. It must not be wasted.

THE FARMER AWAKENS.

We are so used to big figures in these days that the mere statement that the American who has $50 would be a millionaire in marks in Germany brings a smile, not wonderment. So also when we learn that the farmers of the upper Mississippi Valley co-operatively sold $237,000,000 in food stuffs last year, our amazement is not what it once would have been at such a figure.

The farmers of the middle western states, however, who have learned that each is best served who serves all, have found great significance in the figure. If five states, Kansas, Nebraska, Iowa, Minnesota and Illinois, can turn a trick like that, what may not the farmers of all the nation do?

Here is a farm bloc that really means something. It means that the farmer is acquiring a consciousness of his opportunity, and is greatly benefiting thereby. It is only by such means as this that the farmer of the future will hope to get the return due him from his toil and husbandry.

The Farmer, it is true, was slow in coming to. He observed all the world about him organized before he really and thoroughly organized himself with his neighbors. Now, slowly, gradually, the lesson is sinking home. The farmer of America, it ever, now is facing an era in which farming will be more of a business enterprise than a gamble against long odds.

TEACHING MANNERS.

Some schools in Greater New York are teaching manners, and it is about time they began it. There is a course of study that deserves to be spread. The pity of it is that teachers didn't take that burden off parents' shoulders some decades ago.

tato may look more inviting to their eyes than one teeny forkful, but consuming the spuds that way is bad manners?

Many modern parents have shirked about all the duties they could, so let's go the whole way, and let the poor, hard-working, ill-paid school teachers, do this job of teaching manners, because nobody else wants to.

If there is a better behaved group of citizens in this town than is to be found in any classroom in any of our grade or high schools, we'd like to have somebody point it out. Politeness is imitative. Plenty of children will be found who "sass back" at their parents, but not so many who have no respect for what the teacher tells them.

Chapter 67.

The trip home was anything but pleasant for me. Walter was uneasy, so restless he couldn't sit quietly, and impatient of everything I said or did. It was the reaction, of course, and because it was his way he had to talk. As I was the only one conveniently near I was the recipient of his confidences concerning both Vash-ti Vernon and Daisy Borden.

It isn't easy for a wife to keep her temper while her husband raves over other women, but long ago I determined not to lose mine if I could help it. Walter was Walter. In some things one had to treat him as a spoiled child. So when he said:

"I hated to go back without a chance to paint Daisy." I agreed it was a shame, that she would have made an interesting model. Then added:

"But you have that lovely sketch of Miss Vernon to work up."

"Yes, and it will make a sensation," he replied. "Her type is very uncommon. But Daisy would have made an even better picture. She is one of the most fascinating little creatures I ever have met."

"Oh, well, perhaps you will see her again sometime and can get her to pose for you!"

"You bet I will. She's coming to New York next winter and has promised to let me know the moment she arrives."

A wave of jealousy, of discomfiture swept over me. Then my common sense came to my rescue, aided by knowledge of Walter's character. Walter was some months away. Before Miss Bor-

"I'm sorry if Jennie has disturbed you," was all I said. I felt a real affection for the girl and would not commit myself further until I had talked with her. I knew from experience how unreasonable Mrs. Page could be at times.

Save from
a year

You will be amazed to see how the use of "Bull" Durham will out down the cost of your smoking.

How is it possible to give you quality at the low cost of 10 cents for 50 cigarettes?

Here's one reason: The government tax alone on 50 machine-made cigarettes is 15 cents—5 CENTS MORE THAN THE COST OF 50 "BULL" DURHAM CIGARETTES TO YOU!

The average smoker saves $1 to $1.50 a week by "rolling his own" from "Bull"—or from $52 to $78 a year. This makes quite a Christmas fund—or pays for a fine trip.

"BULL" DURHAM TOBACCO

★ What a place "Bull" Durham holds in the hearts of Americans! Can you think of any other brand that has been the favorite of three generations?

Look at its history. From the Civil War to the Great War "Bull" Durham has been the American's greatest standby. Sixty years.

There really is no smoke in the world so altogether satisfactory.

A "Bull" smoker never switches. You can't interest him in any new experiments. He carries his preference wherever he goes.

This is because the special flavor and aroma of "Bull" Durham make a cigarette that can not be duplicated.

Find out. You will never know how good a cigarette can really be until you roll your own out of "Bull".

Who's Who Today's Sport News What's What

MIKE BRADY IS JINX OF GOLF

Wins First Big Tourney After 25 Years of Effort.

BY BILLY EVANS. Every sport has the original hard luck individual.

When Larry Lajole was managing the Cleveland team, year after year his club threatened to win the pennant.

One year a serious injury to Larry himself no doubt prevented him from realizing his great ambition—the winning of the pennant.

In the roped arena, on the gridiron or tennis courts, some individual is always known as the original hard luck guy—the jinx.

Golf is no exception to the rule. In golfing circles the name of Mike Brady holds all records for getting tough breaks in his efforts to win glory on the links.

In no sport has any individual been so unkindly treated by Dame Fortune as Mike Brady. Ranked for years as one of the greatest professional players in the game, something has invariably turned up to rob him of many of the golfing laurels he seemed on the very brink of winning.

Original Hard Luck Guy. Golfing history contains no parallel to the career of Mike Brady. After trying for 25 years, Brady, in 1927, by capturing the western open, won first honors for the first time in a major golf tournament.

Brady, like many of the other great professional players, among them the present national champion, Gene Sarazen, began his career as a caddy.

Back in 1921 Brady made his first real bid for big honors. In the national open, staged at Wheaton, he finished in a triple tie with McDonald Smith and J. J. McDermott.

In the playoff he finished second to McDermott by two strokes. Throughout the match the breaks went against Brady.

Wins First Big Tourney. Two years later, 1913, in the western open, McDermott was again the player to frustrate Mike's championship ambition. He finished second.

It was his very good fortune to see Walter Hagen and Brady meet in the playoff for the national open in 1919. I was umpiring in Boston at the time, and as the match was played in the morning it enabled me to get out to Braeburn and see one of the best matches in the history of the sport.

Hagen and Brady had finished in a tie for first place, and in the playoff Brady was again forced to accept defeat with a 78 to Hagen's 77.

In 1921 Mike finished second in the Canadian open after looking like a sure winner in the first three rounds.

Failure, however, failed to kill Brady's enthusiasm—he kept plugging away. Last year his efforts were finally rewarded by winning the western open with 10 strokes to spare.

MORE ENTRIES IN DOG RACES

Warm Competition Assured in All Five Events Saturday.

Receipt of additional entries yesterday for the Lion's Club dog races, to be held here next Saturday afternoon, assures lively competition in all five of the events.

There will be two races for single dogs, two events for one-dog teams, and a consolation event open to dogs who did not win prizes in any of the other contests.

Merchandise prizes of real value ranging from $25 down will be offered to the drivers, who are limited to Delta county boys and girls 16 years of age or under.

It is expected that several out-of-town teams will compete. Yesterday's entries included another team from Gladstone which is said to be a speedy one.

Details for the affair are being worked out and it is expected that a more complete announcement will be possible within the next day or two.

FIGHT MANAGER SAYS KILBANE IS DUE TO LOSE

First Real Boy Who Boxes John May Be Champ.

Jimmy Dunn, developer of champions, is of the opinion that the first real classy boy to meet the champion will win the title.

It isn't a case of sour grapes with Dunn. The famous manager of fighters regards Kilbane as one of the greatest fighters of all time, a fighter never fully appreciated by the public.

"Kilbane is one of those fighters who happen once in every fifty years. Fast on his feet, clever, the possessor of a master brain and the ability to hit hard any time he set, explains why for over ten years Kilbane has towered over the featherweight division," says Dunn.

"There is an end to every champion, however, and sooner or later Kilbane must meet his superior. Jack Britton, the 'old master,' finally succumbed. It is the same with every champion, you can't postpone the finish forever.

"Kilbane is getting old as fighters go. He hasn't done much work for several years. It is going to be harder for him to round into shape. In addition the vitality of youth will be lacking."

Dunn doesn't think so much of Criqui, the European champion, who is being imported for a Kilbane bout.

"I don't think Criqui will be able to take Kilbane. There are a half dozen better featherweights in this country than Criqui. I have a couple of boys who can beat Criqui."

A FRIENDLY WORD Jasper—I haven't a good word for that fellow, Jim. Dexter—Well, they ain't much good said about him. But I'll say one good thing about Jim, he wasn't always as mean as he sometimes is.—St. Louis Times.

Irish Meusel Is Better Than Bob

The Meusel brothers, playing with the New York Americans and Nationals, prove beyond a doubt the part that initiative and aggressiveness plays in the success of the diamond athlete.

Unquestionably Bob Meusel of the Yankees has more natural ability than Irish Meusel of the Giants, yet Irish is easily the more valuable ball player.

Saying that Bob is a better ball player than Irish, in no way belittles the ability of the latter, who is a wonderful outfielder.

Bob Meusel has every asset, a wonderful arm, great speed, plenty of courage and ability to hit. Yet it is a certainty that he will never reach stardom because of his indifference, his lack of aggressiveness and initiative.

Irish Meusel is the direct opposite of Bob, a real fighter. McGraw might make such a player of Bob.

All animals can see a reflection in a mirror, but in no case will the animal recognize the reflection as that of itself.

DETROIT BACKS BIG MAULIFFE

Hope to See Heavyweight Upset Dempsey Some Time in Future.

Detroit.—Detroit has visions of another world's heavyweight champion pugilist. A big fellow, who is at present being groomed to take the place once occupied in the realm of fistiana by its other native son, Tommy Burns.

The chap referred to is Jack McAuliffe, protégé of Mark Shaughnessy, who in the two years he has been in the game has come to the front with such rapid strides that he already looms up as one of the most dangerous men in the division.

McAuliffe has all the requisites that go to make a real fighter. He is a young giant, standing 6 feet 1 inch, and weighs 200 pounds. He is only 22 years old, but is a marvel of physical perfection.

For a big fellow he is exceptionally fast, and he has the tremendous shoulders of the athlete and the tapering waist. His chest is larger, when expended, than that of Jess Willard, despite the fact that the former champion outweighs him by 50 pounds.

McAuliffe is also the possessor of an exceedingly long left arm, which is said by critics to be the fastest and sturdiest left in heavyweight circles. Certainly it is the longest, longer even than the well-known reach of Willard.

To date, McAuliffe has engaged in 16 bouts, of which all but one were won by the knockout route. The only man he failed to topple was Floyd Johnson, at present one of the leading contenders for Jack Dempsey's crown.

McAuliffe couldn't hand Johnson a sleep-producing punch, but he gained the verdict in six rounds. With the exception of Tom O'Neil, who managed to last seven sessions, most of McAuliffe's opponents have hit the canvas after two or three rounds of battling. All told, his 16 bouts have averaged but a bit more than three rounds to the fight. A most remarkable record considering the class of men he has met, and the short time he has been at the game.

No less an authority than Jim Corbett declares that McAuliffe seems certain to reach the heights of pugilistic fame within the next two years. "I believe," says Corbett, "that, barring accidents, McAuliffe will be the champion of the world. He has everything necessary—youth, speed, boxing cleverness, strength, health and courage. He is the fastest and cleverest big man I have ever seen." And coming from a man like Corbett that's praise aplenty.

Shaughnessy, however, doesn't figure on making the mistake many others have made by matching his pupil with the top-notchers in a hurry. On the other hand, he plans on biding his time, grooming McAuliffe, slowly and carefully, with a crack at the title as the inevitable goal.

ROOKIE SHUNS MAJOR BERTH

Glenn Wright Says He Is Not Quite Ready for Big Show.

The major league is the goal of every ambitious ball player. A chance to win a berth on a big league team is usually jumped at as the big opportunity.

It seldom happens that a player turns down the chance because he doesn't think he is ready to make the grade in the majors. Such a player is Glenn Wright, sensational young shortstop of the Kansas City team of the American Association. He wants one more year in the minors. Then he says he will be certain to deliver.

A number of major league clubs tried to purchase the youngster. Clarke Griffith of Washington is said to have offered $40,000 and three players for immediate delivery.

Wright is a product of Missouri University. He was sent to the brush a year ago for experience and last season played much of the year with Kansas City. He made a lot of mistakes early in the year, but he progressed rapidly and when the season closed he looked like the best young ball player developed in the big minor of the west for many years.

Clark Griffith watched Wright for almost two weeks and then made an offer that Ban Johnson says was $40,000 and three players, while George Muehlbach, owner of the Kansas City club, says it was only $25,000 and three players. In either case it was a lot of money and there was no hunk about the offer.

When Wright heard of it he went to Muehlbach and told him he would rather remain in the association another year than to go to the majors before he was ready. Muehlbach offered him a contract for 1923, which he signed and then turned down the Washington bid. Muehlbach believes Wright will play such sensational bally in the association the coming campaign that he will bring a record price next fall.

Memphis has world's Littlest Referee

Memphis—Although the smallest referee in the world, Billy Hasek, Memphis boxing promoter and referee, probably has officiated in more fights than any other man serving in that capacity.

Hasek has worked in 3000 fights in the 12 years that he has been connected with the fight game. He is about 5 feet 3 inches and weighs in the neighborhood of 130 pounds. However, he is just as much at home with heavyweights as bantams.

MOORE PRAISES U. P. TO KAZOO EXCHANGE CLUB

Invites Lower State Men to "See Cloverland First."

Kalamazoo, Feb. 19.—A. C. Moore of Escanaba, addressed the Exchange club of this city today at noon, taking as his subject, "The Call of Cloverland."

"A statesman from upper Michigan has presented to the state senate a bill designed to grant a lower auto license tax to northern peninsula counties than that paid by the southern peninsula."

"See Cloverland First." "My message to you is not a claim to superiority for Cloverland, but rather a greeting, and an inventory of possessions that are yours not less than ours."

"The scenery and the orchards in the Valley of the Ontonagon will not be displaced in your memory when you visit the Shenandoah, and taste the apples of Alhamarie."

"There is a splendor about the Painted Rocks of Alger, and the limestone cliffs of Delta, that you will never forget, even when you have seen the Hudson and the storied Pallisades."

"Nature has appointed majesty enough in Keewenaw to make that wonderland a 'Garden of the Gods,' to you forever, no matter where you may journey in other years."

"Cities other than the Soo may brighten the days of tomorrow, but none of them will be bright enough to dull the memory of the beautiful port city, resting on the Straits of Mackinac."

"Yes, there is room for you in Cloverland, and a cordial welcome awaiting you. Will you come as a visitor? If you do you will come again, and you will bring your friends."

"Will you come as a 'settler,' to make a home in our cities, or to draw fortune from our fertile acres? Then you will be glad you came, though sorry you did not come sooner."

"And so will we, of Cloverland."

Wedding Announcement. Announcements were received in the city yesterday of the marriage of Miss Ida LaCrosse, formerly of this city to Mr. Elmer Anderson which took place at Kenosha Sunday.

Mardi Gras Party at Powers. The Mardi Gras Party staged in the auditorium of the Delta-Menominee Sanitarium at Powers, Mich., Tuesday evening, Feb. 13, marked one of the most interesting pre-lenten events of the season.

The soft strains of a syncopated march floated through the air six costumed maids advanced towards a May pole and with the rhythm of the music gracefully danced to and fro.

The evening's entertainment was pleasantly arranged, consisting of a very pleasing program of music, games and various stunts. The patients had the pleasure of having in their midst, Dr. C. F. Whiteshield as entertainer and Mr. McNully as violinist.

The games and stunts which were played by the patients proved a very interesting enjoyment. Miss Mannebach, as director of the amusements used a very unique idea. A number was given each patient, as the game took place, the participant was called by number and the pleasing manner in which the patients responded to the call caused considerable comment from the spectators.

"Last but not least" was the pleasant surprise which awaited the patients, was the sumptuous luncheon arranged by Miss Bennett, head nurse, who summoned them to the dining room. When the doors were thrown open their surprise was genuine. The luncheon was "one never to be forgotten," and they all enjoyed this feature of the party immensely.

The following is the program rendered: Piano Selection, Anna Hanson. May Pole Weaving and Tableau, Maids.

"America," accompanied by Mrs. Z. LaBombard. Helne and Katrina, Slim Simonson and Florence Bellomre. Accompanied by Mrs. C. F. Whiteshield.

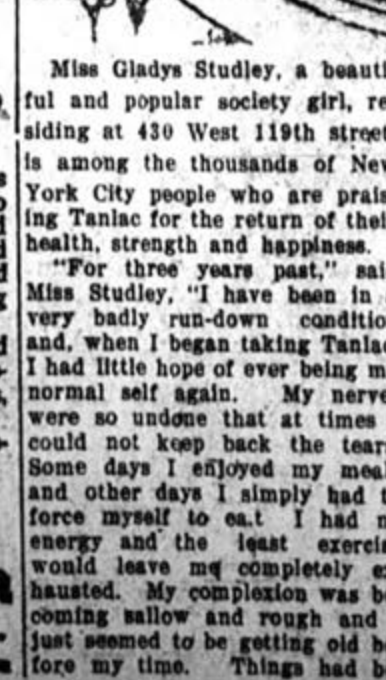

Violin Solo, Mr. McNully. Accompanied by Miss Healm, Menominee, Mich. Reading, "The Tamer," Dr. C. F. Whiteshield.

Games and Stunts. The Musical Chair—Exercise patients, accompanied by Miss Anna Hanson. Sewing on the Button—9, 13, 1 and 6. Blowing out the Candle—4, 8, 2 and 15. Walking the Iron Pipe—1, 5,

SECOND ISSUE OF C. & N. W. MAGAZINE OUT

Many New Features; Large Verse Department

Several new features are embodied in the second issue of the Northwestern Railway magazine, which is being distributed to employees here this week.

Among the incidents described as occurring along the system an account is given of the confusion caused when a ventriloquist exercised his powers among a shipment of caskets in a freight house.

Verse contributed by employees fills several pages. One of the rhymes is worth reprinting, and is given herewith: There was a gay young rabbit, And it started down the track; The locomotive struck it, And broke its little back.

There was an auto driver And he tried to cross the track Ere the locomotive got there— Now he has a broken back. What a silly, silly driver! What a foolish thing to do! Is man smarter than a rabbit? We will leave it to you.

SAPPHIRE BLUE. Sapphire blue brand is used to form an elaborate design about the cuffs and hem of a blue Polartwill suit. The jacket is lined with crepe de chine to match braid.

Walking the Iron Pipe with Umbrella—10, 12, 4 and 8. Popular Hits (songs)—1, 3, 5, 7 and 11. Musical Rug—Exercise Patients. Watch Your Step—2, 6, and 4. Umbrella Relay—11, 17, 15 and 21. Catching the Chicken—7 and 11. Pinning the Tail on the Donkey—All Patients. Prizes for Girls: Miss Elax Surula, Daggett, Mich. Prizes for boys: Mr. Frank Brounli, Menominee, Mich.

ILLUMINATION PLANS FOR FEB. 22 COMPLETED

Letters Being Sent Out to Ludington Street Houses Today.

Final details of the plan for the first formal illumination of Escanaba's new white way at 7:30 p. m. Thursday, February 22, were worked out at a meeting of the retailers' committee of the Chamber of Commerce yesterday afternoon, and letters are being sent out today to all business houses along the street.

They are requested to darken their windows at 6 o'clock, or, in the case of places which remain open, to draw their shades. The purpose is to make the street as dark as possible, so that the contrast will be the greater.

Handling of the fuses is in charge of a separate committee, which has made arrangements with the Northwestern for securing a large supply of the red lights. They will furnish the only illumination on the street for some minutes before the lights are turned on.

The circular being sent out by the committee reads as follows: "All Ludington street business places are urgently requested to cooperate to the fullest extent in securing the observance of the following on the evening of Thursday, February 22: "On this occasion Escanaba's Great White Way will be viewed for the first time."

"Promptly at 6:00 p. m. turn off every light possible that illuminates Ludington street and by all means every electric sign. It is suggested that drug stores, barber shops, restaurants, refreshment parlors, etc., which must remain open, turn off their front lights and if any have shades, to draw them. The idea is to have

The Trent Affair Civil War Incident

A page in the history of the Civil War is an incident known as "the Trent affair." Confederate envoys had been seized on the British steamer Trent by a ship of the Federal Navy. Southern ports were blockaded, and English goods could not be taken into them to be sold, and cotton which the English factories needed, could not be taken to England.

The envoys, who were to represent the Confederate government in England and France, were on their way from Havana when they were overtaken by the American vessel, which seized the two Southern representatives, and took them to New York. The English government demanded their release, and apologies from the American government. When the American government hesitated to comply with this request England sent troops to Canada, and steps toward war were taken. As the United States was having trouble enough at home, the Southern envoys were placed on an English vessel, and proper acknowledgment made.
