CHICAGO SEA SCOUTS PLAN LAKE CRUISE

Trip to Bring Them up This Way Next Summer

Some idea of the work of the "sea scout" branch of the Boy Scouts of America, soon to be organized here, may be gleaned from the following article from "Scoutcraft," published by the Chicago Scout council:

"Owing to the wonderful record made by Seascouts who made the cruise on the U. S. S. Wilmette last year, Captain Evers has given the Commodore, Howard F. Gillette assurance that he will be very glad to take as many Seascouts as wish to go on the cruise this summer.

"These cruises will commence in June and will continue through July, August, and September. Each cruise will last two weeks and the following ports will be made: Milwaukee, Mackinac Island, Duluth, Sault Ste. Marie, Detroit, Toledo, Cleveland, and Buffalo.

"It is expected that about eight cruises in all will be made and it is the intention of the Shipping Board that each Seascout ship will make its cruise as a unit. Every Seascout who is planning to make a cruise must have been a member of a Seascout ship for at least two months, hence, it is necessary for all boys to be registered before April 1st. Only those Seascouts who have a satisfactory attendance at their meetings will be allowed to go.

Chapter 89.
 That Walter had sent Vashti Vernon flowers meant little. That he was angry because I had found it out that he had tried to deceive me by saying he had bought some for the studio, meant a good deal.

When poor Helen Rolstrom had been concerned he had been singularly truthful and frank, even if angry, as it was his nature to be. His attempted deceit almost frightened me and made me very unhappy. I wished over and over that I had paid the bill and said nothing. But as I have said before, it is hard for a wife to be always tactful.

"Miss Vernon has asked me to drop in at the opera tonight," Walter said a few days afterward. He had been sulky ever since the talk regarding the Rolstroms' bill. "She has an extra seat in the box loaned her by some friend."

"That will be enjoyable," his mother said. "What is the opera?"

"Boheme."

"It is one of my favorites," his mother went on, saving me the need of speaking.

"What are you doing, Doreen?" "Nothing particular, why?" I hurriedly bathed my eyes.

"There's a picture around the corner I should see to see. Mary and Jennie are both in. Get on your things and we'll go and see it."

How I hated the idea! I in a cheap motion picture house with his mother while Walter was in a box at the opera with Vashti med all the time he was dressing. He was pleased that he was to spend the evening with Vashti. I had often heard him say opera bored him that he could scarcely sit through it.

"Too bad she didn't have two seats," he said to me. "But don't look so disappointed."

I was glad he took my seriousness as disappointment, so replied: "You know how I love the opera."

"Oh, well, you have plenty of time to go! The winter is young." I said no more, but when he went out throwing me a gay "good night! Don't sit up." I went to my room and had a good cry.

He had left very early, probably would stop and get flowers for Vashti, perhaps go to the hotel for her. I pictured them together, Vashti in one of those wonderful evening gowns she affected; gowns no one but she could wear effectively, and in which she was ravishing. I saw the appeal her beauty, so enhanced, would have for Walter and it seemed almost more than I could bear.

Mrs. Page called to me: "What are you doing, Doreen?" "Nothing particular, why?" I hurriedly bathed my eyes.

"There's a picture around the corner I should see to see. Mary and Jennie are both in. Get on your things and we'll go and see it."

Vernon. I, in my plain clothes; she, in evening dress. But I knew if I refused Mrs. Page would be both cross and inquisitive. So with a sigh I put on my things and joined her.

Unfortunately the picture, what I saw of it, was not calculated to add to my happiness. A neglected wife striving to hold a husband who was in love with another woman. Her pitiful attempts to make herself beautiful, to please him. Her failure at every turn. Even though she did at the last succeed—pictures must end happily, if untruthfully—he had given all that was best in him to other women. It was only after the other woman had thrown him off, shown herself utterly unworthy, that he thought of the faithful, patient wife.

To make it worse for me the man in the picture was a good deal like Walter, gay, inconsequential, lovable.

Mrs. Page was delighted with the picture.

"The right always wins in the end," she said as we walked home in the clear star-lit night.

"But is it worth winning, then?" I asked, scarcely knowing what I said.

"Of course it is! That poor tried woman had her reward for all she suffered in knowing he turned to her in the end."

I wondered!

INSTITUTE TO HOLD INTEREST OF MERCHANTS

Business Experts Will Spend a Week Here.

Marked interest is being aroused in the Retail Merchants Institute to be held in this city from Monday to Friday of next week. When Ben R. Vardaman, noted business and community expert and Pryor Irwin, counselor and mail advisor, will come to this city.

All of the merchants of the city are showing an unusual interest in the undertaking and it is now confidently believed that all of the seasons will be largely attended. Mr. Irwin will be in Escanaba Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday while Mr. Vardaman will come for the sessions of Thursday and Friday. Noon day meetings will be held each day and each evening a session will be held at the city hall.

While the meetings are primarily arranged to school merchants of Escanaba in modern and effective business methods, sessions will be devoted to discussions from the buyers point of view and the general public will be invited to attend any of the evening meetings or noon day luncheons.

Of a similar institute conducted at Paris, Ill., the Gazette of that city said: "Mr. Irwin closed the Business Institute with a talk on 'Weak Spots in the Paris Business Machine' Friday evening. The hall was well filled which was significant that the business interests of Paris appreciate the efforts of the Chamber of Commerce in bringing the Business Institute to our city."

Points Weak Spots. "Mr. Irwin said: 'There are very few machines that do not at some time need inspection and analysis. A business machine is no different than any other and to-night I am going to try and give you my view point of some of the things that would help the Paris business building machine be even more successful than they have been in the past. I should like to see more attention given to window displays in your city. With the splendid stocks of merchandise which you carry, it would not be difficult to have a veritable show room at the front of each store, if someone were sufficiently interested. When I see a show room I do not mean an assortment of everything carried in the store in the window at one time. I mean a clean well arranged display of one line of merchandise of kindred lines. Merchandise display also should be featured on the interior of your store as a whole. You have some splendid stores and some well arranged stores; but you also have many that should have fewer counters and more liberal displays. Splendid merchandise of every variety is in some stores being locked up away from the public rather than being shown. The public should be informed of these things and thus permitted to enjoy it.'

FARMERS SHOW A LIKING FOR PICRIC ACID Michigan, Wisconsin, Minnesota Lead Demand.

Washington, D. C., March 13.—Farmers in the Lake Region, including particularly the States of Wisconsin, Michigan and Minnesota, are actively interested, according to reports reaching the Bureau of Public Roads, in the distribution being made by the Government of left-over war explosives, particularly cartridge picric acid, for stump blowing, drainage work, etc.

H. L. Russell, Dean of the State Agricultural College, at Madison, Wisconsin, reports that the farmers of his State will use for the coming month at least thirty car-loads of the Government picric acid, with the possibility that the demand will go up to fifty carloads.

Michigan Active. L. S. Livingston, Land Clearing Expert of the State of Michigan, reports that he has started a Spring campaign of education among the farmers, to show them the use of the picric acid. He has started out over the State a Land-Clearing Train, to go into each county of Michigan, and is at present working in the Upper Peninsula of Michigan. This train, which carries a crew of twenty men, is demonstrating to the farmer on his own land the use of left-over war explosives for stump blowing and drainage purposes.

The land-clearing forces of the Minnesota Agricultural College have also started a Spring campaign of education among the farmers. The Bureau of Public Roads states that if the farmers in the three States mentioned find it difficult to get first hand information in regard to this distribution being made by the Government, they should write to or see either the County Agricultural Agents or get in touch with the State Agricultural College at Madison, Wisconsin, the State Agricultural College at Lansing, Michigan, or the State Agricultural College authorities at St. Paul, Minnesota.

Much Explosive Left. When the war ended the Government found itself with millions of pounds of surplus war explosives left on its hands. Congress passed a law that these should be distributed to the farmers and highway commissions of the States through the Department of Agriculture, and the Bureau of Public Roads is distributing the explosives without charge except a cost of seven cents a pound for drying, carting, and distribution, plus freight. It is suggested at the Bureau of Public Roads that owing to the fact that the stock of war explosives is being gradually depleted, farmers who desire to do stump blowing, land clearing, and drainage work, should make their wants known at once to the County Agents or the State Colleges.

While the estimates for the total needs of Minnesota and Michigan have not yet been made, Minnesota has ready orders for approximately 10 car-loads of picric acid for the uses mentioned, as a preliminary and a beginner for the Spring work. It is stated at the Bureau of Public Roads. While the Michigan estimates have not been made, they are expected to be larger than other States.

Five Above Was Weather Record In sharp contrast to spring-like zephyrs of Sunday, the mercury in the official thermometer at the Escanaba weather station yesterday morning dropped to five degrees above zero. Because of the crippled continued of the telegraph service south of Green Bay no telegraphic reports were received from outside points at the Escanaba station yesterday. A forecast for continue cloudy weather, with little change in temperature, was indicated for today.

And some one said on Sunday that spring was on its way.

Home and Factory Builders Take Center of Stage This Spring.

February figures for the principal cities of the country indicate that a building boom of unprecedented proportions exist over the greater part of the country, outstripping some of the most sanguine predictions made during the opening weeks of the year.

The monthly building survey of S. W. Straus & Co. for February shows an approximate total of building permits for the whole country of $340,000,000. Detailed official reports submitted to S. W. Straus & Co. by the building departments of 179 principal cities, show a total for February of $226,123,290. The same cities in February 1922 had a total of $153,675,445, an increase of $72,447,845 or 47 per cent.

Central West Leads. One of the outstanding features of the survey is the gain of 96 per cent shown in the Central West. In the Pacific West, the gain was 52 per cent; in the East 33 1/2 per cent and in the South 10 per cent.

Cities showing the largest gains over February 1922 in the Central West were Chicago, $14,218,600; Cincinnati, $1,134,205; Cleveland, $2,773,560; Detroit, $4,005,744; Omaha, $1,093,640; St. Louis, $1,379,165.

Cities showing gains of more than $500,000 over February 1922 included, in the Central West, Canton, $895,000; Columbus, $512,000; Evanston, Ill., $662,000; Milwaukee, $945,000 and Toledo, $615,000. In the Central West the cities with substantial February totals included Akron, $575,000; Canton, $1,029,000; Chicago, $27,712,000; Cincinnati, $2,174,000; Cleveland, $4,257,000; Columbus, $1,256,000; Denver, $1,024,000; Detroit, $7,287,000; Evanston, Ill., $233,000; Grand Rapids, $555,000; Kansas City, $1,676,000; Lima, O., $1,752,000; Milwaukee, $1,298,000; Minneapolis, $1,206,000; Oak Park, Ill., $566,000; Oklahoma City, $755,000; Omaha, $1,564,000; St. Louis, $2,664,000; St. Paul, $900,000; Toledo, $918,000 and Wichita, $593,000.

Materials Increase. During the month structural steel has shown a marked advance in price, while other important building materials practically all show indications of rapid approaching advances. The market, as in January, remained firm with many materials, according to stocks in the hands of dealers, activity of local building operations and the outlook as regards

It is wonderful news for every constipation sufferer to know that Kellogg's Bran guarantees permanent relief if it is eaten regularly. Two tablespoons each day; as much with each meal in chronic cases—taken consistently will work health wonders, driving out toxic poisons, freeing affected organs and allowing nature to eliminate the wastes in its own way!

Think what this means to health when you know that constipation is responsible for a large majority of human ailments; that it is often the direct cause of Bright's and diabetes; that, in milder form, it is responsible for sick headaches, biliousness, nausea, sour breath, pimples, etc.

production and transportation facilities. The demand for lumber as well as for many other basic building materials now exceeds production. This condition is in spite of increased schedules of production of 1922. If building operations continue at the present rate and the demand for material increases proportionately an inevitable increase of prices generally is looked for.

The labor situation is not alarming in any particular, but in certain localities it is growing more and more acute as the demand for workman holds strong or increases. The tendency of wages for the country at large is upward. Builders in numerous cities are figuring on a probable increase of wages in nearly all trades. From no quarter is an abundance of either skilled or common labor reported. Wage agreements are pretty well signed up in the important centers.

"Shall Ruin be the Penalty of Success?"

The Chicago Tribune in an editorial March 6th, says: —

"The senate committee on manufactures, directed by Senator La Follette, has returned a typical La Follette report attacking the various Standard Oil companies as, in effect, a monopoly more dangerous than the company was before its dissolution. The action emphasizes a growing tendency in this country to break down anything which is a success.

"We quote one paragraph as illustrative of the thought or lack of thought which produced the whole: 'While it may be that a Standard company in a particular territory does only about half the business in that territory—and some of the Standards do more than half and some less—yet in all territory some Standard company is so much larger than any single competitor that it has come to be almost universally accepted that the tank wagon price in any territory is controlled absolutely by the Standard marketing company for that territory.'

"In words not arranged by Senator La Follette, that can mean only one thing, namely, that there is competition, and that prices are determined by the most efficient organization. If not, it is clear that a smaller company would undersell the Standard, and so bring prices down. The purpose of the report is to break up and destroy the more efficient organization for production and delivery of oil and oil products. What would it leave as a substitute? Numberless small concerns, doing business inefficiently and with high overhead costs, which without the competition of the Standard would immediately force prices up, not down. Incidentally it would stimulate promotion of all sorts of wildcat oil companies which would dupe investors or speculators and help raise the price of oil products.

"In more detail, the report complains of the private use of Standard pipe lines, and wants to make them common carriers. In other words it would penalize a progressive organization and force it to divide its means of service with inefficient organizations. That sort of tyranny over business cannot go on. Human beings will not work without reward. They will not improve service or cheapen production and distribution if the profit of such improvements is to be legislated away from them by socialistic demagogues. If this report became the basis of the legislation it seeks it would destroy the incentive for improvement and energy in the oil business, and that business would lapse into a condition where we would pay many times the price we now pay for its products.

"Such thinking and such attacks upon successful business of any kind threatens the same disaster. It means demoralization of industry and energy and threatens an end to all improvement.

"The writer of this editorial does not now own, and never has owned, nor expects to own, one share of Standard or any other oil stock. He has, however, owned divvies, which consume oil products. He can understand how owners of automobiles would like to see the price of gasoline and oil come down. He can understand how a man like La Follette would seek the approval of the millions of automobile owners in this country by shouting that they are being robbed, and promising to stop it. But he believes too much in the intelligence of automobile owners to think they will seek lower prices of gasoline by destroying the most efficient producer and distributor of gasoline.

"It would not only be folly to bring that about because of its immediate effect, but because of its future effect. The Standard Oil companies are doing more to establish new sources of supply outside this country for American consumption than any other business we know. They have prospectors and engineers and financiers working throughout the world to obtain wells. Are we so lacking in intelligence that we would destroy a concern which is seeking to provide for our needs after our domestic supplies are exhausted?

"There is but one suggestion in the entire report that appears sane and reasonable. That is the one for prohibition or regulation of export. That is worthy of consideration and study. It might be advisable, though even then we would have to consider possible retaliations and the question of whether it would be wise to cut off such a portion of our foreign trade. National defense might warrant it."

LEGION ASKS STATEMENT ON RELIEF FUND

Committee Investigation Thus Far Fails to Bring Results.

Just what disposition is being made or has been made of the funds subscribed to the Delta County War Relief association during the war is a question that remains unanswered although a committee from the August Mattson post of the American Legion went to Escanaba early in the year in an effort to find out something definite.

At that time the committee was promised that a statement would be made in the near future but nothing of this statement has been seen in this city.

Section 12 of the by-laws of the association, adopted at the time it was formed, Jan. 2, 1918 provided that "in case of money in the treasury at termination of the association the Board of Directors may, by a majority vote, make such disposition as seems advisable at such time."

that if we, as members of the council, can see the importance of safeguarding the public health by employing a full time health officer and necessary nurses; we can find the money necessary to finance the work.

Has Poor Aid Plan. Mayor Judson also believes much of Escanaba's poor problem could be solved by providing working rooms in the basement of the city hall, where men and women of the city who are too old to hold regular positions or for any reason are incapacitated for ordinary work, could be employed at making over clothing, shoes and furniture.

It is possible that we will not be able to provide funds for a health service such as I have in mind but I believe that Escanaba is big enough and the health of the city is important enough to warrant us to at least start on a comprehensive, constructive health service.
