

GERMANS ATTACK FRENCH SOLDIERS

GOVERNMENT OPERATION OF MERCHANT SHIPS PROBABLE

BOATS WILL NOT BE "GIVEN AWAY" AT LOW PRICES.

BY DAVID LAWRENCE.

(Copyright, 1923, by The Escanaba Press)

St. Augustine, Fla., March 31.—The Harding administration is likely to be driven to direct government operation of the shipping board fleet as a permanent policy.

The trend of affairs may be read between the lines of the statement issued on the one hand by Chairman Lasker of the United States shipping board, insisting that if the government ships are sold below market prices to American purchasers the latter must guarantee to maintain specified routes and the negative answer returned by the principal ship owner groups that it would be useless under existing circumstances to expect the purchasers to do any such thing.

What the ship owners may find in the end is that they have unintentionally convinced the government that it cannot sell the ships on terms favorable to the upbuilding of a merchant marine as the administration sees it and that therefore, the only alternative is direct operation.

Won't "Give" Ships Away. Of one thing the ship owners can rest assured at the outset—there is to be no giving away of government ships at nominal prices without corresponding benefit to the government, and that the events of the last two or three days have already tended to swing sentiment in favor of direct operation.

Heretofore the shipping board has allocated its ships to private owners and has not directly operated any but the United States lines in the North Atlantic but if the fee system isn't attractive to American ship owners, the president is likely to confer in the suggestion that the whole fleet be operated by the government without any private managing agents.

Congress cannot very well refuse the necessary appropriations because prominent democrats who fought the ship subsidy bill committed themselves during the recent debates to a policy of government operation and it is a tradition that millions will be appropriated by the government for a losing venture in the interest of the public but not a cent would be voted to enable private interests to make money at the expense of the government. This is the basis of the opposition to the ship subsidy bill notwithstanding the conviction of the president and his associates that the proposed law limited profits and otherwise safeguarded the national interest.

Although the president still sees many advantages in private operation and dislikes government ownership of anything, no plan that he will work out will entirely remove the element of government regulation and constant control.

Politics Have Influence. From a political viewpoint, it would be wiser of course, for the president to work out a policy of direct operation of government ships because congress, meaning both democrats and republicans, would share the responsibility for the move and criticism would be reduced to a minimum. Any plan that ostensibly encouraged private management but is devoid of the necessary restrictions might, it is recognized, lead to incessant debate from now to the end of the next campaign about the "giving away of the merchant fleet" and similar insinuations of favoritism to special interests.

The president has hoped that the ship owners would agree to a plan which would make impossible and baseless any such criticism, but the statements of the last few days from the ship owners indicate men have not grasped the situation, for no matter how much inclined Mr. Harding is to private management, he cannot afford to turn over the merchant marine except through the guaranteed maintenance of specified routes.

KEENAN DEATH PROBE ENDED

Mitchell Questioned for Five Hours by Pecora.

New York, March 31.—After questioning John Kearsley Mitchell, wealthy Philadelphia financier and his personal attorney, John H. Jackson for five and one-half hours tonight, Assistant District Attorney Pecora announced he had completed his investigation into the murder of Dorothy King Keenan and that he would turn over all testimony and evidence to the police.

"The rest is up to the police," he said. Mitchell and Jackson recited every detail of their friendship with the slain model. Mr. Pecora said, and answered all questions "frankly."

"Do you mean that Mitchell's revelation give him a clean bill of health?" he was asked. He declined to answer. Has New Information. While refusing to disclose what testimony had been given by the two men, Mr. Pecora said that new information "of the greatest importance" had been brought to light.

The information strengthened his belief that Miss Keenan had been slain by conspirators who planned to blackmail Mitchell and also tended to support the police theory that she had been slain by robbers.

"I will say nothing as to who is suspected," Mr. Pecora continued. "I am through with this inquiry until the police request my further assistance. The police have more facts than I have and the scope of their investigation has been larger than mine."

Nothing Overlooked. Mitchell, he said, held the complete story of his friendship with Miss Keenan which dated back two years. So did Jackson. They were particularly questioned, he said, about their movements the night the model was slain. "Every possible question bearing on the case was asked by Captain Carby of the police and myself," he said. "We overlooked no detail and I feel that their interrogation has yielded all the information obtainable." Police Inspector Caughlin will reopen the inquiry Monday and probably will call in the Keenan family, he announced. Letters Not For Sale. "I see no reason to detain either Mr. Mitchell or Mr. Jackson as material witnesses," he said. The former was expected to return to Philadelphia tonight. Dot Keenan's love letters from admirers are not for sale, John Keenan, her brother, told reporters.

DRASTIC ORDER HITS ESCANABA POST OFFICE

Parcels Post Delivery May Be Cut Off for Three Months.

One of the most drastic retrenchment orders ever issued by the post office department, may force a complete suspension of special parcels post deliveries in Escanaba and the discharge of all extra and auxiliary clerks and carriers at the Escanaba post office on Monday. Immediately after the receipt of the unusual order, Postmaster John A. Semer forwarded a strong protest to the department at Washington, calling attention to shortage of help under which the office here was already laboring and it is expected that an answer to his protest will be received by wire on Monday.

All Offices Hit. The order issued last week affects every post office in the United States, requiring the laying off on April 1 of every extra and auxiliary clerk and carrier until June 1, to allow the department expenses to be held within the limits of the annual budget. Because of the fact that the regular parcels post delivery clerk at the Escanaba post office is officially listed as an extra carrier, unless a modification of the order is secured, Escanaba will be entirely without a parcels post delivery service until June 1. Curtail Collections. In addition to forcing the abandonment of all parcels post deliveries, excepting packages that can be carried by the regular letter carriers, the order will make necessary a decided curtailment in the mail collection service.

Semer Makes Protest. In his letter protesting against the application of the complete terms of the retrenchment order to the Escanaba post office, Postmaster Semer in his letter to the department mailed last week, showed that a much greater volume of mail is being handled through the Escanaba office with a smaller number of employees than any other office in this section.

In his letter he showed that while other offices have regularly designated parcels post delivery clerks, that clerk at the Escanaba office has been carried on the extra list and if his service is cut off the entire parcels post delivery service out of this office must be terminated.

Postmaster Semer asked that an answer to his letter be forwarded to him by telegraph on Monday.

RUM RUNNING PLOT REVEALED

Boston, March 31.—The federal grand jury will be called in next week by United States Attorney Harris, to study evidence in an extensive rum smuggling conspiracy unearthed in the past few days by customs and prohibition agents here. This was announced tonight as the latest development in a serial story that began with the arrest of two men and a woman Thursday night in an apartment and has since included chapters on a whiskey laden British steamship anchored off Block Island, R. I., and a mosquito rum fleet sighted between Nantucket and Montauk point.

At least 25 persons, some of them lawyers, will be called to testify before the grand jury, the announcement added. These will be asked to tell what they know of a band of conspirators with almost unlimited financial backing who are said to have been smuggling into this country whiskey from Scotland in enormous quantities.

231 Horses Named, Early Grand Races

Kalamazoo, Mich., March 31.—The early closing events on the grand circuit program to be raced here July 16 to 20, have drawn a record breaking number of nominations this year. The complete list shows 231 horses entered in the nine contests carded, an average of more than 26 starters to the event. The $10,000 Kalamazoo Exchange Club purse, formerly the paper mill's stake for 2:08 trotters has drawn 31 nominations.

Turkish Political Leader Is Murdered

London, March 31.—A Constantinople dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph Company gives a message for Ankara which states that All Chukri Bey has been assassinated "for political reasons."

HOOSIER JURY CONVICTS 55 WET PLOTTERS

PROMINENT GARY OFFICIALS ARE FOUND GUILTY.

Indianapolis, Ind., March 31.—One of the most sensational trials held in Indiana since the Volstead Act became effective, was brought to a close in United States district court today with the conviction of 55 persons on a charge of conspiracy to violate the liquor law. While the majority of those convicted are of foreign birth, several of the defendants were men charged with enforcement of the laws and who had taken oath to prosecute offenders. The jury began its deliberations Friday evening at 5:30 o'clock and reported its verdict in court this morning. Judge Ferdinand A. Geiger, of Milwaukee, who heard the case, said he would hear arguments on motions for a new trial or in arrest of judgment on April 20. Those convicted today may also be sentenced on April 20, but it is probable a later date may be set then.

Mayor, Judge, Sheriff. Topping the list of those found guilty of the conspiracy charge, which carries a sentence of from one day to two years in prison, or a maximum fine of $10,000, or both, was R. O. Johnson, mayor of Gary. Part of the city and county's legal machinery—City Judge William M. Dunn and Prosecutor D. M. Kinder, also were found guilty. William H. Olds, sheriff of Lake county, former Sheriff L. E. Barnes, former County Prosecutor Clyde Hunter, B. A. Lucas, a prominent attorney, and John Bennett, treasurer of the republican city committee, also were convicted. Those convicted were permitted to remain at liberty under their original bonds.

SOON TO START LEE MONUMENT

Atlanta, Ga., March 31.—The Stone Mountain memorial is soon to be a reality. The colossal figures of Lee, Jackson, Gordon and the other heroes of the Confederacy, will, within a short time begin to emerge from the stone face of the mountain under the chisel of Gutzon Borglum, and will mark their deathless way along the mountainside into the million years of the future.

This much has now been practically assured with the announcement today of the formation of the Stone Mountain Memorial association, whose primary purpose is to be the raising of the funds necessary to complete the gigantic undertaking.

A campaign will begin at once to raise $250,000 in Georgia. As soon as Georgia has responded the campaign will be carried to the rest of the nation.

Kentucky Miners Lay Down Tools

Madisonville, Ky., March 31.—Walkout of 5,000 soft coal miners employed in 40 mines in Western Kentucky was accomplished at the close of business today in an orderly manner. Reports received here tonight indicated.

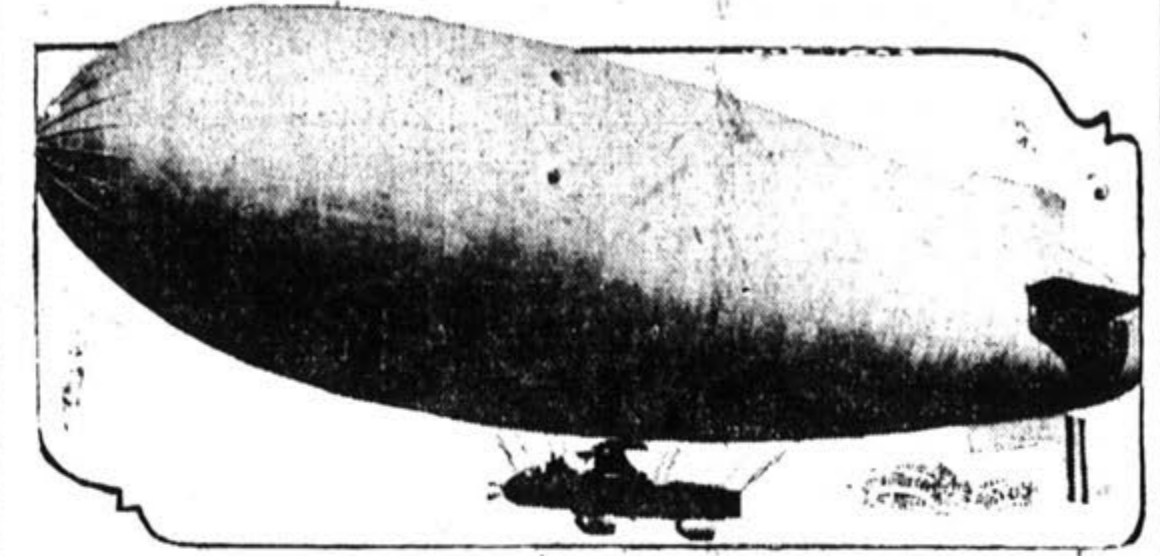

Hardings Conclude Stay in Florida

St. Augustine, Fla., March 31.—Rested and greatly improved in health, President and Mrs. Harding tonight brought their Florida vacation to an end, departing by special train for Augusta, Ga., to spend another week before returning to Washington.

Those who saw the president and his wife step from a train 25 days ago at Ormond and who also saw them board the train here tonight could not but see plainly the benefits derived from the vacation spent in the Warm Florida sunshine, away from the cares of Washington and without schedules or any firmly established routine.

The president, through the open life of the houseboat trip and the daily rounds of golf, has been bronzed by the Florida sun.

NEW FLYING MONSTER FOR U. S. AIR FLEET

This is the TC-1, largest non-rigid airship ever built in America. It's been completed at Dayton and will be turned over to the government air service for use as a training ship at Scott Field, Belleville, Ill. It's 195 feet long and carries 200,000 cubic feet of hydrogen or helium gas.

SPEED FLYING RECORDS FALL

MARKS BY YANKEES SMASH FRENCH FIGURES.

Dayton, O., March 31.—In a spectacular aerial derby, Army aviators from McCook field today set new world speed records for the 500 and 1000 kilometer distances, far eclipsing those made this week by French aviators at the Villa Sauvage airdrome.

Unofficial figures tonight showed that Lieut. Alex Pearson completed 500 kilometers in one hour, 50 minutes 12.7 seconds, making approximately 169 miles an hour, and that Lieut. Harold Harris and Civilian Pilot Ralph Lockwood traveled 1000 kilometers in four hours, 52 minutes, 35.24 seconds, averaging around 126 miles an hour.

Far Below Old Marks. Lieut. Batelier of the French army was the holder of the 500 kilometer record with a time of two hours, 42 minutes, 53.35 seconds and Lieut. Carrier of the 1000 kilometer distance, whose time was six hours, 39 minutes, 40.25 seconds.

In addition to the 500 kilometer mark set by Pearson, Harris and Lockwood also are credited with exceeding the French record for that distance as are four other McCook field aviators.

UNCOVER CITY OF ETHIOPIA

Cambridge, Mass., March 31.—(By the Associated Press)—The history of the ancient kingdom of Ethiopia through the long span of 1,100 years—from 750 B. C. to 350 A. D.—has been completed in outline by excavations in tombs and pyramids in the Anglo-Egyptian Sudan by the Harvard-Boston expedition headed by Prof. George Reisner.

The most recent researches of the expedition in the pyramids at Meeroe have established that the culture of the Ethiopians stood as an outpost of Egyptian civilization in Middle Africa. Dr. Reisner said in the report which he has made; that in the art of the Ethiopians a Greek influence obtained and that the invention of a script of their own was evidenced that the Ethiopians were a people of genius.

California Boys Died from Hunger

San Bernardino, Calif., March 31.—Autopsies performed on the bodies of Richard, Jensen and Dean Meacham, small boys found last night locked in a wooden case after being missing six days, revealed that both had died from starvation and suffocation.

Two superficial bruises on the Meacham boy were so slight they were probably self-inflicted during the child's struggles, it was said. Chief of Police Burcham declared while there was the possibility some one had closed the boys, he could find no reason to change the theory that the boys had crawled into the box and pulled the door shut after them.

Celluloid Films Ignite; Big Fire

Washington, March 31.—Fire, believed to have started today from explosion of overheated celluloid films, destroyed the army air service photographic headquarters, a repair hangar, and a privately owned airplane, at Bowling field here. Sixty liberty motors were badly damaged or destroyed. The loss will aggregate $250,000.

BODY OF BABE FOUND IN SHACK, MOTHER, 15, TO BE QUESTIONED

Autopsy to Determine Cause of Infant's Death. The body of a new-born babe, born to a 15 year old Bark River girl, in a shack in the woods at South Ford River, will be brought to Escanaba either today or tomorrow to determine whether or not the child was murdered. Both the girl mother of the babe and her married sister claim that the babe was dead when born and an autopsy that will be performed when the body is brought here, will determine the truth or falsity of their claims.

Born in Crude Shack. The babe was born at the crude shack in the woods at South Ford River on March 28, without a physician being in attendance at the time of birth and the body of the child was buried in a box in a barn near the shack, by a brother-in-law of the girl.

Sheriff Joseph Carney and Under-sheriff Elmer Swanson drove to the place where the girl mother is still seriously ill, in the driving blizzard of Friday. Because of the condition of the roads, the officers several times on the trip being tumbled from their cutter and driving a team that was near exhaustion, no effort was made to bring the body of the babe to Escanaba, but the brother-in-law of the girl mother was instructed to bring the body to the city on the first day the trip can be made. Unless orders of the officers are complied with by Monday a warrant will be issued for the man charging him with burying a body without permit.

DISEASE GERMS SAVED BY ARK?

Zoologist Attacks Bryan Onslaughts Against Evolution. Washington, March 31.—If William Jennings Bryan's denial of the theory of evolution be correct, Adam must have survived for 930 years, all the germ diseases which afflict man today we must have been created by vivisection; the Garden of Eden must have been in China and a lot of other startling things must have followed in consequence.

In addition to all that Noah must have been not only a capable ship captain, but the world's first successful public health officer, because he must have taken all the germs into the ark, and taken them out again without losing a single animal.

"Attorney on Germs" So declared Dr. Charles W. Stiles of Wilmington, N. C., noted zoologist and scientific research worker, before the Washington Biological society tonight. Describing himself as "Mr. Bryan's self appointed attorney on germs," Dr. Stiles argued that his fellow scientists that if one doesn't wish to believe all these things one cannot agree with Mr. Bryan.

Kansas Succeeds Milo D. Campbell

Washington, March 31.—Appointment of Walter H. Chappell, of Chanute, Kan., to succeed the late Milo D. Campbell, of Michigan as the "dirt farmer" on the federal reserve board, was urged in a letter sent to President Harding today by Senator Capper, Republican of Kansas. Senator Capper, leader of the farm bloc, said Mr. Chappell had the support of all farm organizations in Kansas.

German Actress of Shakespeare, Dies

Berlin, March 31.—(By the Associated Press)—While France is mourning the loss of Sarah Bernhardt, Germany's elder school of playgoers has been bereaved by the death of Helen, Baroness of Heidelberg, who left the stage a half century ago at the shadow of a renowned career in Shakespeare and other heavy roles. The baroness died the other day at the age of 84 in Meiningen, where she gained most of her fame at the Court theatre of Duke George II of Saxe-Meiningen.

Williams Elected Diamond Captain

Madison, Wis., March 31.—Rolle Williams, captain of last year's football team of the University of Wisconsin, was chosen today to captain this year's University baseball nine. Williams was elected in place of George Ruedinger, a pitcher, who was barred in the recent "purge wave" which lost Wisconsin six stellar players.

Says Lawyers Mock Immigration Laws

New York, March 31.—Politicians and attorneys are "making mockery of the immigration laws," by bringing pressure to bear upon the department of labor to special cases to allow mental defectives, undesirable, and others afflicted with diseases to enter this country. Immigration Commissioner Robert E. Tod, declared today in one case that of a family of five from Pittsburgh which was deported on the majestic today, more than $3,000 had been expended by the family and their friends in an effort to keep the deportees in the United States, Mr. Tod said.

Autos Forbidden University Camps

Ann Arbor, Mich., March 31.—The use of automobiles by University of Michigan students attending the summer camps of biologists and engineers has been forbidden except under certain conditions, by the board of regents, it was announced today. Student's possession of automobiles, the regents held, interfered with discipline "and tends to break down the solidarity of the camps."

ELEVEN KILLED IN RIOTING AT KRUPP PLANT

MOB ATTACKS SQUAD NEAR FAMOUS FACTORY.

LONDON, March 31.—A Berlin dispatch from Berlin tonight says it is now estimated that eleven persons were killed and about 85 wounded in the fighting today at Essen between French troops and employees of the Krupp works. A dispatch to the Central News says the Berlin Lokal Anzeiger reports that two French were killed during the trouble.

Essen, March 31.—(By the Associated Press)—Clashes between French soldiers and German workmen at the Krupp plant today resulted in the death of six or six of the Germans and wounding of about 30.

According to the French version of the affair a lieutenant and 11 soldiers who went to Krupp works for the purpose requisitioning automobiles, were set upon by a mob variously estimated to number between 2,000 and 3,000, which was called together by the factory siren.

The mob showered stones on the soldiers, the French say, many of the workmen armed with revolvers fired shots. The soldiers returned the fire, shooting at the heads of the mob at first, when the workmen refused to disperse, finally aiming to kill.

Engineers Beaten. When the skirmish was at height, an automobile bearing the French civilian engineers came along, and the fury of the workmen was shifted to them. They were attacked, beaten and severely wounded.

Their automobile was smashed and the chauffeur took refuge among the little group of French soldiers, but not before he was struck by several missiles. The engineers were taken inside the Krupp plant and severely handled. One of them, giving the name of Snowden and speaking English, came off much better than M. Saurey, the other, whose name and language are entirely French.

The French military command in Essen, informed of the riotous sent armored cars and tanks to the scene, and the appearance of these caused the workmen to retreat behind the walls.

The tanks entered and rescued the engineers and stood by while the lieutenant and his eleven men went on with the work of requisitioning automobiles.

Retreat in Good Order. The retreat of the German workmen in the face of the French French reinforcements was conducted in good order and they succeeded in carrying the dead and wounded into the backyard of the plant.

The French announced tonight they are positive a preliminary and concerted effort was made to bring their soldiers and the German workmen into collision. He declares that those responsible for the outbreak were former members of the German security police who have been disarmed by the French. The responsibility, he claims, is also gravely involved through the blowing of the siren which signaled the workmen to assemble. Severe penalties will be inflicted, the nature of which he has not yet been announced.

No German version of the affair was available tonight. Says Lawyers Mock Immigration Laws. TELL HOW TO RAISE DOLLARS

Florence Anderson (left) and Elizabeth Bell (right) together with Dorothy Cassels, all of Atlanta, Ga., are writing a book on "How to Make Money," intended especially for girls who prefer a career in business to one in the home.

Individuality in Dress—thus never look the same as other women, not because their personalities are not identical, but because their personalities are not the same.

When you think of your clothes, you don't classify them as "do you?" she demanded. "I don't think of Jennie as the girl, Mary the short one and the one who is getting too fat. You think of Jennie as that one creature, Mary as the one whose feelings must be considered and Julia as the assured person in the world.

Personality's Essential—The sedate girl can suggest moods by the introduction of and vivid tints in modern and she completely submerges her personality if she wears her clothes too gay. The movie stars all clothe their personalities. Mary Pickford doesn't attempt what Nazimova does, and Gloria Swanson and a poor model for Mabel.

Joseph, Mich., March 31.—The work of rounding up ten men, who were said by C. W. Tyson, arrested yesterday in connection with the case, to have composed the mob which kidnapped and flogged Dr. J. D. Dowling, city health officer of Birmingham, was undertaken Monday, officials stated tonight.

Orchestra at Norway. Mac's Entertainers of this city have been engaged to fill a two night engagement at Norway, Mich., April 22nd and 23rd. It is expected that many dance enthusiasts from the neighboring towns will go to Norway to hear the players who have played at many of the social functions in this city.

LONG WINTER IS CAUSE OF A FUEL SHORTAGE

Coal and Wood Supplies for City Hard Hit by Weather.

Unprecedented maintenance of severe winter weather conditions has resulted in a fuel shortage in Escanaba that is rapidly becoming more acute. For several weeks the city's hard coal supply has been exhausted and the city's supply of the usual grades of soft coal has been maintained, except for brief intervals, only by the receipt of car shipments by the individual dealers. In some instances householders have been forced to resort to the use of steam coal in stoves and furnaces.

Wood Companies Rushed. The usual agencies supplying the city's wood needs have been flooded with orders and some of the dealers are now accepting orders only for delivery within 30 days. The surplus supply of the Ford Wood Yard has been completely exhausted and that company is now supplying orders direct from cars as they are received from the mill. The I. Stephenson Co. Trustees, Steele-Wallace Corporation and Bird's Eye Veneer Company are all well behind in their orders, but provisions have been made to care for the cases of greatest need as they develop.

The stage of wood shortage here was reflected yesterday at the city yards of the E. & L. S. road, where a carload of green hardwood logs and second growth was being unloaded in 8 foot lengths and sawed into stove lengths for delivery to patrons.

SOCIAL

Leaders and Sponsors Meeting. The April Girl Scout leaders and sponsors meeting will be held Thursday evening, April 3rd, in the basement of the Carnegie Library, so as not to interfere with social engagements for Monday evening.

There is important business to come before the meeting so a full attendance is necessary. Home-making badge work will also be taken up.

Girl Scouts County Rally. For the first time since the organization of Girl Scout work in Delta County two years ago, all the Girl Scouts in the county are going to have an opportunity to meet each other.

The day is to be Saturday, April 28th. The place will be the splendid new High School Gymnasium at Gladstone, which the Gladstone Girl Scout committee has secured through the courtesy of Mr. Teague.

Complete details for the afternoon have not been formulated but will include the awarding of badges to the girls, a review of troops, the Girl Scouts own songs, a program and it is hoped that the Girl Scout Commissioner of Escanaba, Mrs. H. W. Reade, will be present to talk to the girls.

Mrs. Reade is in the east and plans to visit the Girl Scouts Headquarters at New York, so she will doubtless return with an interesting message for the Girl Scouts of this county.

WALLS FALL ON FIVE WORKMEN

Hartford, Conn., March 31.—Bodies of five workmen have been recovered from the ruins of a newly constructed tower which collapsed today at the plant of the Fuller Brush company and search is continuing tonight for several other men as yet unaccounted for. Among the missing is James Bent, vice president of the R. G. Bent Construction Company.

Just before quitting time at midday a steel girder supporting a 50,000 gallon water tank at the top of the ornamental brick and steel tower buckled. The tank crashed down tearing the tower to pieces and burying workmen beneath the wreckage. Firemen and police recovered five bodies, but digging into the great mounds of brick, mortar and twisted steel was not possible until the standing portions of the walls had been razed by dynamite tonight.

The property damage is estimated at $50,000. The tower was completed save for inside tile work, and the steel tank had been filled for ten days. The workmen killed were laying tile work on floors and walls.

MAGNUSON WILL ASK NEW TRIAL

Wisconsin Rapids, Wis., March 31.—John Magnuson, Marshfield farmer, found guilty by a jury today of the murder of Mrs. James A. Chapman who was killed last December when a bomb sent to her husband exploded as she opened it, tonight maintained his innocence as steadfastly as he did during the trial. He asked for a new attorney, declaring he was not satisfied with his defense and said he would make every effort to obtain a new trial.

The man who faces life imprisonment will be sentenced by Judge Park next Wednesday. He refused food today and was placed under constant guard, the authorities fearing he might try to end his life.

Mrs. Chapman, whose husband is a member of the county board of supervisors, was killed last December 27, and her husband was injured when they attempted to open a package containing a bomb which they received through the mail and believed to be a Christmas present. The state maintained that a drainage project controversy between Magnuson and Chapman offered a motive for the crime.

Washington, March 31.—Easter weather will improve as the day wears on, at least in the eastern part of the country. From New England to Florida the experts tonight predicted the day would begin cold and clear but that the temperature would rise as the hours passed, assuring a lesser degree of discomfort to the thousands who will march in the fashion parades.

Neither the hour for the scheduled ascent of the thermometer nor the height to which it will go were ventured by the forecaster, who confined himself to the brief "fair and cold Sunday morning followed by rising temperatures during the day," but it was indicated that those who show their Easter finery in the afternoon will do so with much comfort than will be had at the hour for the beginning of church services.

CHAMP ONE-LEG SPRINTER AT 86!

DR. W. EDWARD ERWIN.

York, S. C., March 31.—The champion one-legged runner of the south will be on hand to meet all comers at the annual Confederate reunion at New Orleans in April.

He's Dr. W. Edward Erwin of York, physician and Civil War veteran, 86 years young—His claim to the title is unclouded. It is based strictly on his record—that of having raced against all comers since the Civil War and not suffered a single defeat!

Dr. Erwin is as supple as a cat and can make a younger man with two legs exert himself to keep ahead. He never runs for a wager. With him the sport is the thing. He'd rather sprint than talk about the Civil War—and that is a subject dear to his heart. He lost his right leg below the knee at the famous Battery Wagner, Charleston Harbor, in 1863.

When Dr. Erwin races he uses an artificial leg, whittled himself from willow wood obtained from the banks of a stream near his home. The limb is so light he hardly feels it.

A year ago he promoted an interstate racing match of one-legged Confederate veterans, South Carolina against North Carolina, to be pulled off in front of the Mecklenburg county court house, Charlotte, N. C. But the other contestants got scared and backed out.

Dr. Erwin is expecting to run many races with his old comrades in arms at the Confederate reunion. "I'll give all comers a chance at the title there," he declares when asked about the matter. "I'm in fine form and have no idea of losing. Tell all the boys who think they can stiff dust my eyes with their feet to meet me reunion week."

MICHIGAN STATE EMPLOYES VISIT PRESS OFFICE Girls Begin Series of Calls On Local Industries. In order that they may become acquainted with the company their company serves, a committee of employees of the Michigan State Telephone company, began last night, a series of visits to various industries of the city. At the Press office, the girls saw the "wheels go round" in the news, composing, and press rooms, collecting material to be incorporated in a report they will make to their associates at the telephone office. The girls hope that their calls at the various plants in the city will be "returned" by the Michigan State Subscribers. "We are often asked whether it will be possible for telephone subscribers to see the telephone company's plant," they said. "As a matter of fact, the telephone company is always delighted to show the plant to its customers. There are no 'visitors' days, and visitors are more than welcome at any time. Our experience has shown us that folks in general know very little about the telephone business and we realize, also, that a better knowledge of the industries our company serves will help us give better telephone service. We expect to visit a large number of industries in Escanaba and vicinity." The committee, which visited the Press office last night was composed of Misses Hilma Larson, Florence Shy, Esther Bloomberg and Anna Reuss.

SCHOOL CENSUS WORK TO BEGIN EARLY MONDAY Taking of the school census in Escanaba, will be begun Monday morning by 35 members of the senior Sociology class of Escanaba high school. It is expected that about three weeks will be required to complete the census, as the enumerators expect to gather, in addition to a list of residents between the ages of five and twenty, on which the distribution of primary school money is distributed by the state, a large quantity of other data expected to be of considerable use, not only to the public schools, but to the heads of the parochial institutions of the city. The territory south of Ludington street will be canvassed first.

ST. FRANCIS HOSPITAL. Mrs. Gerhardt Carlson who is a medical patient is improving. Mrs. Olaf Hanson is a medical patient and is resting easily. Miss Agnes O'Donnell underwent an operation Saturday and is as well as can be expected. Mrs. Reno Lasananti of Rock was admitted yesterday as a medical patient. Mrs. Elmer Todd returned to her home after a seige of illness.

JUDGE YELLAND IS BACK ON JOB Judge Judd Yelland who has been ill at his home, has sufficiently recovered to be at his office both in the morning and afternoon yesterday. Ray won in a 5000-meter race. Wish we had entered our gas meter.

Program to Be Rendered Today at St. Anne's

The program which will be rendered at ten thirty mass today at St. Anne's church is one of unusual merit. The choir which is composed of mixed voices have been rehearsing for several weeks and the selections taken from some of the best composers are of deep religious meaning, in keeping with the Easter season.

The program is as follows: Prelude, Organ, "Gullmand Offertory, "Haec Dies", Weigand Mass in Honor of St. Elizabeth, Loesch Benediction, "O Salutaris Hostia", Rosowig "Tantum Ergo", Paul "Laudate Dominum", Gregorian "Praise Ye The Father", Gounod

IF RHEUMATIC BEAT NO SWEETS

Says glass of Salts helps to overcome Rheumatism acid.

Rheumatism is easier to avoid than to cure, states a well-known authority. We are advised to dress warmly, keep the feet dry, avoid exposure, and above all, drink plenty of good water and avoid eating sweets of all kind. Rheumatism is caused by body waste and acids resulting from food fermentation. It is the function of the kidneys to filter this poison from the blood and cast it out in the urine; the pores of the skin are also a means of freeing the blood of this impurity. In damp and chilly cold weather the skin pores are closed, thus forcing the kidneys to do double work; they become weak and sluggish and fail to eliminate this waste and acids, which keeps accumulating and circulating through the system, eventually settling in the joints and muscles, causing stiffness, soreness and pain, called rheumatism. At the first twinge of rheumatism get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts; put a tablespoonful in a glass of water and drink before breakfast each morning for a week. This is helpful to neutralize acidity, remove waste matter, also to stimulate the kidneys, thus often ridding the blood of rheumatic poison.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is used with excellent results by thousands of folks who are subject to rheumatism. Adv.

EASTER MONDAY DANCING PARTY OPENS SEASON

Every arrangement is now complete for the big Easter Monday ball with the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen are opening the spring dancing season at Terrace Gardens.

The Gardens have been completely renovated, improvements made, attractive decorations arranged and the floor has been put in excellent shape for the first dance of the season. Because of the cold weather conditions which have prevailed a special system of heating has been installed in order that the dancers may be assured of entire comfort during the evening. Special street car service will be given.

Bohr's Kittens, a new organization which is winning much favorable comment, will play the dance program. Flowers will be given to the ladies as favors of the opening night.

No effort has been spared by the committee to make the opening party one of the biggest of the season.

Long ago Queen Elizabeth of the Belgians studied the condition of her people, acquiring knowledge which stood her later in good stead. Shortly after her marriage she showed the spirit of humanity by working in the slums of the poorer districts of Brussels and establishing hospitals in many places in Belgium, besides acting as the leader of an association of women who strove to improve the condition of the lower classes.

TRAINS SLOWLY RETURN TO NEAR NORMAL TIME

Effects of Storms Gradually Being Overcome.

Passenger trains on both the Northwestern and Soo lines yesterday slowly began to approach regular schedules, following severe storms of the past week.

It was not until 3 o'clock Saturday morning that the Northwestern track between Wilson and Spaulding could be shoveled clear of snow to allow the resumption of traffic. Snow plows of all models were found to be useless in the emergency and only by the use of shovels wielded by a large force of men were the tracks finally opened.

No. 101 is Lucky Because Train No. 101 from Chicago ran north nearly on time and reached Powers but a few minutes after the tracks between that point and Escanaba had been cleared, that train reached this station yesterday morning but 30 minutes behind schedule.

The passenger train due here at 8:35 yesterday morning, however, did not reach the city until 11:45 and the south bound train from Negaunee reached here at noon, over an hour behind schedule. The regular afternoon passenger train arrived here nearly two hours late.

Trains were being operated both east and west over the Soo Line yesterday and by today close to normal conditions will be restored on that road.

REVIVE HAIR STYLES The new that antimacassars are coming in again will stir memories of those once ubiquitous parlor chair embellishments. Antimacassars were annoying wisps of lace or beribboned fancy work of washable character affixed to the tops of the backs of chairs to protect them from the oily perfumed locks of the Victorian beau.

And it is because men are again greasing their hair that antimacassars are coming back. In Victorian times the favorite anointment for masculine curls was macassar oil, whence the name "antimacassar."

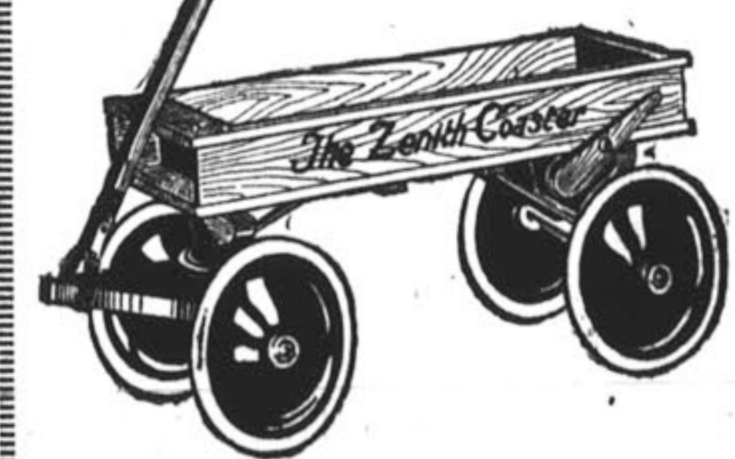

Kites are making some people look up for the first time in months.

Plymouth: "The City-Manager government weathered a storm in January, 1922 when amendments to the charter, which would have changed the form of government to a special election by a vote of 477 to 104."

Easter morning will dawn today with a most beautiful and impressive observance throughout the city in commemoration of the day of the Resurrection. Morning services will be held at early hours in some of the churches in keeping with the old custom of beginning the Easter festival.

FIRST: THE CITIZENS LABOR PARTY IS NON-PARTISAN. (In selecting candidates for office the CITIZENS LABOR PARTY do not take into consideration PARTY affiliations.)

The following people will assist with the ceremony: Master of Ceremonies, George...Crucifixion, Kenneth Call...James Cox, Fred Orr Jr.,...Charles Cox, soprano; Mrs. E. A. Evans, contralto; Mr. Angus J. Lellan, tenor; Mr. H. H. Groves, bass.

The movement has been pronounced by eminent horticulturists and big foresters the means by which horticulture will be made popular throughout America. It is the first general movement to awaken people to the need for more trees and the care of trees and shrubs and flowers after planting.

But it is hoped here that the bidding will be done next winter so that the teacher can have Box sochals in it and if this weather keeps up I will probably be the teachers Bow by that time as I have given her a ride to school 2 or 3 times when the snow was bad & I hear that the Contractor is a Swede and if that is the case the school house will be built right as everybody knows that anybody with a son on the end of their name is a good man.

The election promises to be an unusually quiet one, and predictions are that the vote here will be light. The one question of importance is the port district amendment, which provides for the improving of harbor and port facilities. The provisions of the amendment have been given publicity by Manistique newspapers, and local business men have expressed themselves as heartily in favor of the port district plan.

Three Rivers voters for the change and it came into effect in April, 1918. At that time, that city, like the other 134 cities of Gladstone's class that have turned to that form of government during the past six years, was deeply in debt and the property owners despaired in a constantly mounting tax rate and an ever increasing bonded indebtedness.

Pontiac: "City manager form saved $3,000 in the last year; Engineering department has government back to the old aldermanic form, were defeated completed plans, profiles and estimates for more sanitary sewers, drainage system, sidewalks, and 30 miles of proposed pavements. Attempt to revise the charter was defeated at an election held Nov. 30, 1921 by a majority of 4,138 votes."

Labor Endorses City Manager Charter

Quoting:

From the Labor News, Watertown, an editorial on the new manager government, from their issue of May, 1920: "The Labor News helped to elect the new city administration and we never have regretted it. We predict confidently that the new government will win an unshakable hold upon the esteem of our citizens."

From the Wheeling (W. Va.) Register: "At a four hour session, The Ohio Valley Trades and Labor Assembly went on record yesterday at the semi-monthly meeting in endorsing the commission manager form of government as it has been operative in this city for the past several years. Action as taken by the assembly was prompted by a communication received from the municipal officials of Lorain, Ohio, asking Labor's opinion."

BROTHERHOOD HEAD ENDORSES PLAN.

W. G. LEE, National President, Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, says: "I have personally investigated how the city manager plan has worked out in Dayton. I have asked railroad men about it. I don't see how any workman can oppose the plan after investigating it. I see nothing undemocratic in having the city manager selected by the commissioners. A city manager doesn't rule anybody. He doesn't pass any laws. He doesn't determine any public policies. I'm for the city manager plan because it makes possible the elimination of politics from public business and that means better government and lower taxes."

E. A. Nunan, editor of the Labor Review, Dayton: "Dayton has operated under the City Manager form of government for the past eight years, and in that period labor has had a square deal. I will go further and say I do not believe there is a city in the United States in which the interests of the wage-earners have been more seriously and sympathetically considered."

BACKED BY CENTRAL LABOR BODY.

Dubuque Trades and Labor Congress, says: "Organized labor, being responsible for the present form of government (manager form) in a large measure is very well pleased with the progress and method of application of the manager plan."

In Saturday's issue of the Escanaba Daily Press, our Progressive Voters League had an article against the proposed change. The Progressive Voters League we believe, attempts to represent labor. They say the new charter fails of representation and insists that it is against labor policies. Hence we quote the above, from those who have studied Manager charters, and their workings.

MANAGER PLAN IS DEMOCRATIC.

We think it but reasonable that the electors of Gladstone be apprised of the facts regarding our proposed change in the form of our city organization. May we not urge you to consider carefully the proposed charter and vote in favor of it Monday in order that Gladstone may keep abreast of all betterments in Public life.

Again it is said that the Manager plan is undemocratic. Democracy consists in controlling public officers and not necessarily in electing them. That way is most democratic, which gives the people the surest control. Democracy is control, and the new charter provides for such control through the Initiative, Referendum and Recall. And the Council in turn, may fire the Manager for lack of efficiency.

Is Gladstone too small for City Manager Government? Sixteen Cities in Michigan, and 184 Cities in the United States, Gladstone's size and smaller, have been operating with a City Manager Charter for years. And there has never been a city vote to go back to their former plan of government, after operating under such a charter.

FORGET PETTY DIFFERENCES.

We appeal to you, friends, to forget our factionalism, our jealousies, our political differences, and lets pull together to make better government possible in Gladstone. Take the experience of scores of other cities our size and smaller, and the word of people, such as those quoted, who have studied the matter.

Vote "For the Charter." Monday.

COMMITTEE FOR REVISION OF CITY CHARTER.

ATHLETICS TO BE UP IN RACE

Evans Says Connie Mack Has Excellent Ball Club.

BY BILLY EVANS.

Montgomery, Ala., March 31.—"Have you seen the Athletics?" How does Connie's team look?"

In every training camp that I have visited those two questions have been fired at me.

All of which makes it seem that the other American League managers have considerable respect for Mack's proteges.

Well, I have had a chance to look over Mack's athletes. I am convinced that the fears a number of clubs have for the strength of Mack's club are well founded.

The Athletics have gotten over the experimental stage. Mack hasn't very far to go before he has a well-rounded ball club. Connie's team is certain to be a mighty troublesome aggregation on the American League circuit this year.

About the New Players.

What new players has Mack picked up who are worthwhile?

While only one or two of the recruits may break into the lineup very often, Connie undoubtedly has some likely looking material.

Of the outfield recruits, "Wild" Matthews, last year with Milwaukee in the American Association, has the best chance to win himself a regular berth.

Matthews isn't a big fellow, being much more on the Wee Willie Keeler type than the Babe Ruth model. He isn't going to establish any home-run records, but he is going to be on—the bases a lot more than players who will hit 30 points more than he does.

The Milwaukee recruit is a left-handed hitter and thrower, and very fast. He is a hard man to pitch to and looks like an ideal leadoff man.

He makes the pitcher get 'em over and then mixes things up.

The home-run germ hasn't hit him because he is far too light to ever win fame as a circuit clouter.

Instead Matthews mixes a bunt or drag with an occasional healthy swing, so that he always has the opposition guessing.

Sammy Hale, who cost Mack a lot of money, has been joined the greater part of the training trip. A severe cold made him go slow at the start and just as he was rounding into shape a spike wound laid him up for repairs.

Hale can hit. There is no doubt about that. Probably Hale will never equal Jimmy Collins or Bill Bradley as a fielder, but he will more than hold his own in that department. It looks as if Hale will be worth every cent Mack spent for him.

Hale will round out Mack's infield with Galloway at short, Jimmy Dykes at second and Hauser at first. Quite some infield, young and full of "pep." It will turn in many a play worth seeing the coming summer.

Outfield is Doubtful.

For his outfield Mack has three veterans, Tilly Walker, Frank Welch and Bing Miller, also three youngsters in McGowan, French and Matthews. The first three are right-handed batsmen, the latter trio left-handers.

McGowan is a beautiful fielder. He has a nice position at the plate and should hit. If McGowan is able to hit there will be no keeping him out of the lineup. He has every other asset.

"Looks as if I might start with Miller in right, McGowan in center and Matthews in left," was the way Connie sized up the outfield proposition. "If any of the youngsters fail I have my veterans, Walker and Welch, to fill the bill."

With Perkins and Bruggy back of the bat, which means that department will be well taken care of, plus better than the average pitching, which it seems the Mackmen should get, the Athletics loom up as a mighty tough team to beat.

SARAZEN TOTES 18 CLUBS FOR EVERY GAME

Golf experts tell you that it is foolish to carry too many clubs in your bag. Most of them say that a half dozen is plenty. Others stretch the figure to 10, allowing for duplication of certain clubs in case something should happen to your driver, brassie or mid-iron.

Most professional players say that the amateurs are too fussy about their clubs, that the moment they go bad they blame the slump on the clubs rather than their poor playing. Of course such a system makes business good for the club professional and they really shouldn't offer any advice to the contrary.

While most of the leading professionals insist 10 clubs is plenty to pack around, few of them live up to the doctrine they preach. The next time you attend one of the big tournaments count 'em.

At a recent tournament in the south, it was noted that Champion Gene Sarazen had his caddy weighted down with 18. When some friend commented on the number, Sarazen replied: "The boy is traveling a bit light today, four sticks are in my club house locker."

In golf you hear a lot of things that don't mean what they seem to.

Who's Who Today's Sport News What's What

BILLY EVANS SAYS PITTSBURGH CLUB WILL MAKE GIANTS STEP SOME TO WIN

McKechnie, no player is working harder, and no player is accomplishing more. Schmidt is a finished catcher. It is impossible to compute his value in developing young pitchers aside from his regular work.

No Change in Lineup. The Pittsburgh club has close to 50 ball players at the Springs, yet it is doubtful if any of them will cause the Pirate manager to shift his lineup of last season.

The catching will be looked after by Schmidt, Goetz and Jordan, with two collegians, Warwick and Mattox, as great prospects.

The infield will have Grim at first, Tierney at second, Maraville at short and Traynor at third. In the outfield will be Higbee, Russell and Carey. Barnhardt will be ready for utility infield roles, while Cuyler is a great outfield prospect.

The pitching burden will fall on last year's staff. The only new fruit who looks as if he would be able to step right in and help out is Koontz, secured from the Sacramento club of the Coast League. Owner Dreyfus had to bid high for Koontz and Manager McKechnie says that present indications make it seem the money was well expended.

Traynor Real Star. I certainly was impressed by the work of Third Baseman Traynor. While Traynor did good work for the Pirates last year I look for him to go to it much better the coming season. Traynor is a remarkable fielder and a dangerous batsman. He is just arriving. In a year or so I look for him to be one of the most discussed players in the National circuit, a real star.

The Pirates are pennant contenders without a question. Some of the experts are trying to belittle the punch of the club by saying "Reb" Russell won't hit left handers. That is a mistake. True, Reb will take more liberties with the right handers, but the southpaws will find him anything but soft picking.

New York will have to keep stepping all the way, or McGraw's ambition to win a third pennant and world series will certainly be checked.

BASEBALL BEST GAME TO WATCH

Jock Hutchinson, Famous Golfer, Ardent Fan.

"The greatest game of all to watch is baseball," says Jock Hutchinson, famous golfer.

"When I say that, I am not throwing any cold water on golf," continues Jock. "Golf is a better game from a health standpoint, because age is no bar to playing it and it does not call for the strenuous exertion of baseball."

"However, no one for a minute would think of arguing that golf is as interesting to watch as baseball. I love to play it but can't enthuse very much as to watching it. I have always thought it took a game person to follow two golfers around 18 holes on a hot day."

"In golf the thrills are limited, as most of the experts become so perfect in their play that the matches get rather mechanical."

In golf the biggest thrill comes when some expert makes a poor play rather than a good one. A sliced shot or a missed putt is what causes the spectators to gasp.

"Most Englishmen enthuse over cricket, but I don't. I think some of the boys are kidding themselves when they rave over that game."

"I like to watch soccer. It's a great game with plenty of thrills. I like it better than the American brand of football. I can also enthuse over a good horse race."

"However, the greatest game to watch is baseball and I believe I would have been a big leaguer if I had taken up baseball instead of golf as a kid. Say, I can go out and get a fly ball like Cobb or Speaker right now, but I don't hit 'em so well. I do better swinging at a golf ball."

IRON MOUNTAIN TO HAVE STRONG SPEAKING TEAM

Iron Mountain is expected to show considerable strength in the sub-district, oratorical declamatory meet to be held at the high school next Friday night, that city, Stambaugh, Iron River and Escanaba, competing. The winners in each group will represent the sub-district in the district meet.

Iron Mountain was Escanaba's closest competitor last year in sub-district contest and is reported to have a pair of strong speakers again this year.

Tickets for the contest went on sale yesterday. The interest is intense and a large crowd is expected.

An added feature of the event's program will be a two-reel picture of the upper peninsula track and field meet, held last year at Menominee, which will show many prep school athletes, including most of the Escanaba team, in action.

King Alfonso of Spain is reported to be the best-dressed monarch in the world and buys an average of a hundred suits a year.

MACK'S DOORMAT DAYS ARE OVER, HE TELLS FANS

Athletics Won't Be Cellar Team This Year.

Montgomery, Ala., March 31.—The addition of one ball player often makes a ball club. Connie Mack is hopeful that Sammy Hale will supply the winning punch to his team.

"A winning ball club must have a good infield," says Mack. "I am hopeful that Hale at third will end my worries."

"You can't build a major league ball club over night. I have experimented with hundreds of players since 1914. For the first time I have the feeling that most of my worries are over."

"My club will stand up well under a man-to-man comparison. It is young and ambitious. There are no cliques. It is one happy family, every player being anxious to better our showing of last year."

"With me, as with every other big league manager, pitching is the big thing. If my club gets pitching it will make trouble for any other club in the league."

"My pitching should be good enough to make us dangerous. The stuff is there if the boys will come through with it. However, I have no more worries on that score than a half dozen other managers."

"With me, as with every other New York I will stack my pitchers up against any other staff in the American League. The pitching staff of the Yankees stand out. It boasts of five high-class pitchers with several mighty good men in reserve. Other clubs are fortunate if they have a couple of star twirlers."

"Regardless of the showing made in the series last year, the Yankees are a club with much power and great pitching. I had a great club in 1914 and it lost a world series in four straight games. "I am making no predictions. On second thought I want to make just one. The Athletics will not finish last in 1923. Those Ferdinand Frederickson was winner of the sidewalk roller skates awarded yesterday afternoon at the Coliseum rink as the prize of a "lucky foot" contest. More than 110 children participated in the contest.

The musical chair contest, so successfully staged for ladies last Thursday night, will be repeated for men tonight. The prize will be a month's supply of rink admission tickets.

There will be a number of added features, including a grand march, a "Kentucky steal," and other "specials." The rink will stage its usual Sunday matinee this afternoon.

The new metal has the same qualities as platinum and gold and is the only metallic substitute for those two. Its various uses are being experimented on constantly because of its inexpensiveness and value. Whereas platinum costs in the United States approximately $3,000 a pound, the new metal has a market value of $3 a pound in its unfinished state.

days of cellar championships are over forever I hope.

"We finished seventh last season. I hope for and expect improvement the coming season. Sixth place would be one notch higher, fifth place a decided improvement."

"The Athletics are on the way to better things. No longer do they intend to be the doormat for the rest of the American League. "We don't expect to win the American League pennant in 1923, but we do expect to have a lot to say as to who will win it."

Ice Skating Easter! Rink Will Be Open

ICE SKATING Easter Sunday! It has been many years since the sport was possible in Escanaba. It may be many more years before a similar opportunity is again offered.

The American Legion ice rink will be open for skating this afternoon, it was announced last night by Manager Billy Klein. The ice, he emphasized, was in excellent condition and he believes that there will be a large crowd in attendance.

The novelty of ice skating on Easter will, he believes, appeal to a large number of fans.

ESCANABA LODGE NO. 98 Esquire Rank K. P. Wednesday evening, April 4, 1923

DELTA CHAPTER No. 118, R. A. M. Regular Meeting, Second Thursday of each month.

Delta Lodge No. 195 Regular Meeting Third Thursday of each month.

JENSEN CLAIMS ESCANABA BILL HAS FAIR CHANCE

Former Member of Legislature Will Make No Predictions on Vote.

Hon. Peter Jensen, one of the members of a committee of Gladstone and Escanaba businessmen sent to Lansing a week ago to aid in convincing members of the legislature of the justice embodied in the provisions of the bill evolved in this city providing for a change in the method of distributing the primary school fund, returned to the city yesterday morning. Mr. Jensen announced yesterday that he believed the bill has a fair chance of passage and discounted any belief that the measure will have smooth sailing in either the house or the senate.

"Our bill has a number of staunch supporters in both the house and the senate but our exact strength will not be known definitely until a vote is taken," said Mr. Jensen yesterday. "Those who are for the bill are for it wholeheartedly and are working hard for its passage but I was a member of the legislature too long to make predictions as to results, before the vote is taken."

All Admit Justice

"There is not a member of either the house or the senate who does not admit that our plan is backed by all of the elements of justice and fairness that we claim for it, but merely convincing the members of the legislature that we are right and that our bill should be passed, is not sufficient. The constituents of the members must be made to see the justice of our proposal, as well."

"The bill has the staunch and unqualified support of the department of public instruction and Thomas Johnson, head of that department, is doing all he can to further its interests. Apparently every school man in the state and all of the various farmer organizations are back of the bill and on the face of things, the chances for the bill appear most favorable, but unless the constituents of the members of the house and senate are included in the measure's backers, there is now no means of telling how the actual vote will stand. The bill will probably be reported out by the house committee on education and it will then get its first real test."

PICKS FLOWERS WEEK AGO; FINDS HOME NEAR ZERO

L. G. Sawdy Returned From Trip to Richmond, W. Va.

After enjoying the experience of picking flowers on a sun drenched mountainside in West Virginia, where a spring like temperature of 65 prevailed last Sunday, L. G. Sawdy, superintendent for the Steele-Wallace corporation here, returned to Escanaba yesterday morning to find a temperature of four degrees below zero at Richmond, Va., where another plant is operated by the same company that owns the big Stephenson avenue woodware factory. Mr. Sawdy spent several days during his entire stay there most moderate weather conditions prevailed and last Sunday the Escanaba man spent a portion of the day in gathering wild flowers on a nearby mountainside in Washington, D. C. and New York, visited by Mr. Sawdy after leaving Richmond, however, he encountered most disagreeable weather conditions, preparing him to reenter the winter zone in this section.

A Smaller Plant

The Richmond plant confines its operations to the manufacture of butterdishes and clothespins and on a considerably smaller scale than at the plant in this city. The labor used in the Richmond plant is largely made up of white mountaineers, scores of whom have never left their home county. Conditions under which the plant is operated differ considerably from those maintained here but by conference with officials of that plant, plans were made for the complete standardization of the products of both plants.

Others Return Today

Other members of the Escanaba and Gladstone committee who have been at Lansing for the past week, are expected to return to their homes here today. Secretary O. J. Baudette, of the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce, however, will probably be forced to remain at Lansing, in constant touch with the progress of the bill until some definite disposition is made.

"Sex Specialist" Analyzes Plight of 20,000,000

BY MILTON BRONNER
Special Cable to NEA Service and the Press, Copyright 1923 by NEA Service, Inc.

London, March 31.—The problems created by Europe's 20,000,000 "superfluous" women and girls will solve themselves, in the opinion advanced today by W. L. George, world-famed "sex specialist."

These 20,000,000 are doomed to die old maids—their normal desire for husbands, homes and children unsatisfied—because there are not enough men to supply them with mates.

George has paid particular attention to the complex problems arising from this situation. Economist, sociologist, essayist and novelist, he has been interested in every aspect of the situation, from the biological to the romantic.

"The present preponderance of women over men in Europe is due, more or less to the losses of men in the war than all other causes put together," says George. "Therefore, it is a temporary situation."

"The present generation will last 30 or 40 years. Then it will pass off the scene. But the present generation will be the parents of the next generation; and that next generation, as usual, will be about evenly divided between the sexes."

Losses in industry. "For the time being I think woman is worse off than she was before the war, economically. She seems to have lost much of the ground that she gained during the war."

"Whole industries were created during the war in which woman sold her services. Many of these have passed out of existence. This, together with the rightful insistence that ex-servicemen be given jobs, has helped beat down women's wages and thus made things harder for them."

"Socially there has been a big advance for women. Before the war men met women only socially. During the war men met them in a business way."

"Men learned that women were capable; that they could do the job assigned to them; that in certain lines they could hold their own with us."

"One of the immediate results in England was that the professions were thrown open to women."

Learn Team Work

"During the war women learned to do team work. The friendships and comradeships formed among women during that period have in many cases been kept up; and that is a splendid thing for them and for the world."

"Morally I think woman is no

worse off as a result of the war and the consequent preponderance of women over men. That there has been some hysteria, that there has been some looseness in thinking, talking and acting no one will gainsay. But I do deny that it has been on any such scale as some people charge. There are now and always have been in the world three classes of women:

"Those who can't be plucked. Those who may be plucked. Those who are easily plucked."

"I don't think the aftermath of the war has appreciably changed the numbers in the three classes of women. If you watch the courts you get a pretty definite line on things."

Lesson Of Divorces

"There are three periods when married persons take their troubles to the divorce judge: "In the first year, those who ought never to have been married at all. They were totally incompatible, could never get along, and the break-up comes soon."

"In the fifth or sixth year, the restless men and women who find the marriage tie irksome."

"In the seventeenth to twentieth year, those who have not found happiness in marriage but who have endured the yoke for years because they wanted to wait until the children had grown up."

"Now during the war and just after it there were a great many marriages which should never have been made. The backwash from this was seen in the divorce courts. But that is now rapidly diminishing."

"I don't believe the preponderance of women over men in Europe will greatly increase either the number of women who will lead immoral lives or form illegitimate unions or who will go into nunneries."

"The average woman doesn't think about this excess of women over men. And even if she did, she would not take the subject to herself. She would always figure that she was one of those who were going to be married and not one of those who were going to be an old maid."

STORMS EASY FOR E. & L. S.

In spite of the severe winter weather conditions that prevailed through the greater portion of last week, completely blocking traffic over the Soo Line and hampering the operation of trains on the Northwestern road, the Escanaba & Lake Superior road was able to operate its usual trains each day throughout the week. All of the company's locomotives are equipped with snow flanges that have effectively served throughout the winter in keeping the track clear, excepting the more severe storms, when other snow fighting equipment was called upon.

Missing Boys Are Found, Ford River

Howard Vande Burghe, 13, and Hubert Baudette, 12, who were missing from their homes the greater part of the day Friday and Friday night, were found early yesterday morning in a farmhouse five miles west of Ford River. They had built a fire and were comfortable, they said. The boys told officers, who had been hunting for them, that they had gone farther from home than they expected and decided not to attempt to return home when nightfall caught them Friday night.

SENIOR CLASS PREPARING FOR ANNUAL PLAY

"It Pays to Advertise" to Be Presented This Month.

Rapid progress is being made by the cast of the Senior Class play which will be given in the Escanaba High School auditorium in a few weeks. The rehearsals are under the direction of Miss Gladys Morrell and Miss Rosamond Rogers each of whom has had considerable experience in coaching amateur productions.

"It Pays to Advertise" About forty seniors appeared in the try-out for the play and from this number an exceptionally strong cast was selected.

The members of the class who will appear in the play are: Perry Bergman, Eleanor Carlson, Alton Mailman, Catherine LeMire, John Haring, Hubert Bray, Nicholas Wolfe, Hazel Hemes, Marie Pepin, Ted Soder, Signe Nelson and Linnea Lund.

The play, "It Pays to Advertise," is a three-act comedy that is filled with clever lines. It is one of the outstanding Broadway successes and is extremely popular throughout the country. It is being put on by special permission from Samuel French.

It is planned to give two performances, a special performance being given in the afternoon for children.

Special Dance Number

One of the features of the evening will be a dance number prepared by Miss Florence Ladd of the High School faculty. The girls participating in this dance are: Ceilce LaPoint, Lucille Dube, Mildred Embs and Mary Cuthbert.

Tickets will be placed on sale by members of the Class of 1923 late this week and it is expected that the high school auditorium will be sold out in a short time.

EASTER FINERY MAY GET CHANCE ESCANABA TODAY

Moderate Weather to Follow Unprecedented Low Record.

New low temperature records for March 31 in Escanaba and a wide section of the United States, were hung up yesterday morning, when the thermometer at the weather station here dropped to four degrees below zero.

Stations that yesterday morning reported the lowest temperatures ever recorded on March 31 were the following: Duluth 6 below; St. Paul 4 above; Milwaukee 3 above; Chicago 12 above; Grand Haven 6 above; Toledo 6 above; Buffalo 6 above; Pittsburgh 12 above and St. Louis 16 above.

Others Are Caught

Other stations in this section reported low records of yesterday morning as follows: Sault Ste. Marie 6 below; Marquette zero; Houghton 4 below and Green Bay zero.

A possibility that Easter finery may be donned with a considerable degree of confidence by Escanaba women this morning, was offered by Observer Spindler yesterday. "It may not be as warm as some Easter's of the past and it's just possible it may snow a little, but Easter Sunday is bound to be a lot nicer day than a lot we have experienced recently," said Spindler.

GLADSTONE MAN IS NOT GUILTY

The case against Matt Turkovich, of Gladstone, charged with selling liquor to Joseph Labombard of Gladstone and Raymond Collomb, of Rapid River on Sunday night of last week, was dismissed in Judge C. D. McEwen's court yesterday, after a review of the testimony by the court. At the hearing before Judge McEwen on Thursday the two young men testified that they purchased the liquor from Turkovich, while five reputable witnesses, who were in the place when the lads entered and saw their actions throughout the time they remained there, testified that Turkovich sold them no liquor.

BLACKMAIL, GROWING PERIL, LINKED WITH 5 FAMOUS UNSOLVED CRIMES

BY EDWARD THIERRY.

New York, March 31.—Organized blackmail, perhaps the weapon of a single gang, is considered a possible solution to a series of crimes having startling coincidences and culminating in the murder of Dorothy King, Broadway model.

Millions of dollars are secretly extorted, crime experts say, in blackmail plots that have wealthy men and women as victims. These conspirators are known sometimes as "crime scavengers."

Analysis of the possibilities of a series of notorious crimes having been in the hands of one organized band of blackmailers shows these cases as links in the chain:

MYSTERIOUS slaying of William Desmond Taylor, movie director, in Los Angeles a year ago last February.

KILLING of a sailor by Walter Ward, millionaire baker's son, near White Plains, N. Y., last May.

UNSOLVED double murder of Rev. Edward W. Hall and Mrs. Eleanor M. Hall at New Brunswick, N. J., last September.

CHLOROFORMING of Mrs. Irene Schoellkopf, wealthy Buffalo woman, and $50,000 jewel robbery in New York New Year's Eve.

MURDER by chloroform of Dorothy King and theft of $15,000 worth of jewels in supposed plot to blackmail J. Kearsley Mitchell, son-in-law of E. T. Storerbury, millionaire Morgan partner.

Blackmail persisted as an explanation of Taylor's murder. Walter Ward, whose release has been the subject of an investigation by Governor Smith, declared he killed his victim to save himself from a gang of three blackmailers who had already obtained $30,000 and demanded $75,000 more. In the New Brunswick case the Hall family's theory was that Rev. Hall and Mrs. Mills met death at the hands of a band of blackmailers and robbers.

The Schoellkopf robbery case, the only one that did not end in murder, is linked with both the Hall-Mills and the King cases. Chloroform was used to subdue both Mrs. Schoellkopf and Miss King; in the latter case it came from New Brunswick, scene of the Hall-Mills murders; and two men connected with the Schoellkopf case are said to have stayed later at the same New Brunswick hotel which employed a man who disappeared from the apartment house where Miss King lived.

Another coincidence is that Neilson Olcott is counsel for Mitchell, whose letters to Dorothy King are believed to have been sought by blackmailers; and his father, William M. K. Olcott, former district attorney, admits he was consulted by the Hall family in the New Brunswick double murder and is regarded as the "brains" that directed the attitude of the Hall family.

"I have had a theory that the same gang of blackmailers might have been involved in other crimes previous to the King murder," said Assistant District Attorney Ferdinand Pecora.

Pinkerton detectives say blackmailing of wealthy men and women has become one of the greatest crime menaces. Most of the cases, they say, never come to light, although several months ago complaint was made to the district attorney's office that blackmailers had been active against many New York society women.

Edward S. Schwab, for 11 years postoffice inspector, says: "Many blackmail cases hinge on letters through the mail, and postoffice inspectors have investigated some that run into amazing figures."

Chief Detective Edward Raines, attached to the district attorney's office, says only a few blackmail cases a year get into the courts because most wealthy victims are willing to submit rather than face exposure, even though innocent.

In 33 years of police work, he finds blackmail "rates" steadily increasing until lately $100,000 has been mentioned as the sum demanded in several cases, including that involving Mitchell.

Police Commissioner Enright's office is one of the few crime agencies that favors the robbery theory rather than blackmail in the Dorothy King case.

"A PURITAN WIFE"

BY JANE PHELPS

Chapter X. What could she do? A whole year's work would go for nothing beside the permanent damage to some of the trees total loss of others. Ann shivered as the cold wind touched her. Again she thought of the telephone. Ned had one, but it was two miles away, and to get there she must walk.

Another half hour passed, then with a white face and set lips Ann wrapped herself warmly and started for the Prentice ranch. Bessie was alone. Grace not in the orchards helping, or hindering, Ned and his men as they lighted the heaters with their flaming torches, looking like giant fire-lies.

"What is it, Grace?" Bessie asked in alarm. "The telephone, Bessie. Dick went for oil and men. He hasn't got back. Our orchards will surely freeze."

"Who shall I call?" Bessie asked taking the receiver in her hand. "Brand's hotel. He always stops in there. Someone there may know if he started home."

Ann had walked so fast she was out of breath, and sank in a chair, gasping, while Bessie called the place that was known as a rendezvous for sociably inclined ranchers.

"Dick left some time ago, he should be home by now," she told Ann after a moment's conversation. "I must go right back," Ann rose.

"Wait until Ned or someone can take you, Ann. I can't tell them now. They are working to save the orchard. But they'll be through in another hour or two, please wait. It will make you ill to take that long walk back."

"You are as white as a sheet." "No, I must go, Bessie. Don't urge me."

"I'll send Ned and the men over the minute they get through. Dick may need them. I'm afraid it's already freezing." She shivered as she stood in the open door. "I never remember it so cold."

Ann stumbled along over the weary two miles she had just traversed, every breath a prayer—a prayer for Dick, a prayer for the safety of their crop.

She had left a light and when she saw it at last she cried out with relief. As she drew near she dimly outlined the silver. Dick was home.

She opened the door, and slumped in a chair, sound asleep, was Dick.

"Dick, wake up. Oh, the orchards will freeze! Dick, don't you hear me!" Ann shook him with all the strength she had left. As he sat up and rubbed his eyes, she asked:

"Where are the men Dick, and the oil? You must get to work at once, it is fearfully cold."

"The men—oh, God!—I forgot!" he covered his face with his hands, sobbed completely by the tragedy facing him, and great tears fell through his fingers.

"I told you you'd forget once too often," Ann said dully, numb, sick, shaking from weakness and anguish.

"God! What can I do? No oil! No men! Fool! Fool!" Now Ann was on her knees beside him, everything forgotten but his suffering.

"Ned and his men are coming over as soon as they finish, perhaps they'll be in time."

"Ned—coming—how?" "I went over there to telephone—to see if I could find you and Bessie will send them over as soon as they come in."

"You want—walked—oh, Ann!" "Never mind that now, dear. Come, I'll help you and we'll put the coverings on until they come."

"Dick moved heavily to the door. "See that!" he pointed to the ground, a white frost glistening on the soil. "It's too late, Ann. We're ruined!"

"Come!" She dragged him toward the plow of burials and cloth. Shaking off the lethargy that had held him, Dick grabbed a pile and led the way to the patch of young trees in the distance. For two hours they worked, Ann so tired she could scarcely move, Dick seemingly possessed of the strength of two men.

Then they heard a hail. Ned and his men had come—although there was little left for them to do. Just put the remainder of the clothes in place.

When Ann heard that familiar hail, knew that help of a sort coming for Dick, she slid down upon the whitened ground fainting. But hardly had Dick realized it, when she staggered to her feet, and gasped that it was nothing; just overtired. "She would go back to the house."

As she went she heard Ned bearing Dick for his carelessness in not providing himself with men and oil when everyone knew a hard frost was imminent. She listened for Dick's answer, but none came. He kept doggedly at work, saying nothing.

"When the last piece of cloth had been used, he staggered into the house, threw himself on to the couch face down and lay without speaking. Ann felt terribly ill. She shivered with cold could not get warm, but for what seemed hours to her neither spoke.

Chapter XI. Finally she crept over to him and laying her hand on his head said: "I'm so cold, Dick."

He raised hopeless eyes, then rose, and seeing how she shivered, how sick she looked, he helped her into bed. He covered her warmly, then made a fire, and brought her a cup of hot tea. And yet he had not spoken.

"Don't feel so badly, Dick. Perhaps there won't be so much—damage done—as you think." Not a word of reproach on her lips, nothing but pity in her heart—and her frail body racked because of her exertions of the night.

"I'm done for—you must have a doctor," he said dully as she continued to shake with the chill.

"Don't leave me, Dick. I'll be—all right—as soon as I get warm."

"If we only had a telephone," he muttered as he warmed blankets and wrapped her in them. Morning found her at last asleep, and Dick moved about quietly getting himself some coffee, a hopeless expression on his face.

"She said I'd do it once too often, and I did!" he said to himself bitterly, as he drank a cup of scalding coffee, drank it standing, gazing out at his orchards.

Just as he was debating whether to wake Ann before again starting for oil and men—the morning was very cold, more frost in the air—Ned Prentice drove up with his men and a tank wagon. He had telephoned for the oil the moment he reached home, and then had hurried over to help Dick, as is the habit of Westerners.

Bessie and Grace were with him. Bessie went in at once to care for Ann, so relieving Dick, but Grace insisted on going into the orchards with the men, pretending to assist Dick because he had been neglectful, although she knew no details. Ned only was really suspicious of what had happened the night before.

A great deal of damage had been done, especially to the lemon trees, not so hardy or so old as the orange. But they too had suffered, and all day the men worked to ward off further damage. They trooped in at noon for their dinner, all but Dick who would not leave the field, which Bessie had prepared. Ann was too ill to rise, and remained in bed watching, thinking. She would be almost reconciled to losing the crop if Dick would never drink again. Sick as she was she was terribly frightened that even such an emergency had not reacted upon his memory, made him think of his errand to town—such a vital one. In a way she knew the liquor the men gave him was bad. She had heard Ned say he wouldn't dare touch it, although he liked drink as well as any man. But this absolute forgetfulness—this loss of memory frightened her. Never had she mentioned it to a living soul, yet she realized that Ned and Bessie suspected something—probably that he was simply drunk. To her it was more than that! It seemed a menace to their life, their happiness. That he could forget the tank wagon, the men he needed, when their coming meant so much to him, made his forgetfulness of the household necessities trivial in comparison; yet both had sprung from the same cause.

She paid no attention when she heard Grace demand a lunch for Dick, say she was going to take it to him. All her strength was given to him—this problem.

Surely this would be a lesson he never would forget. The loss of part of their crop would mean nothing if he would promise never to touch liquor again. Poor boy—she thought. He had worked so hard, had been so elated over what he had done on the ranch. The loss of even a part of the new trees, a portion of the orange crop, would mean a year of the strictest economy, simply to replace what had been ruined in one night, if even that would do it.

It was dark when the men finished. Two of them would stay until the frosts were over, the pots had to be filled and lighted every night until the cold snap was over. Bessie would send over a Chinese boy to cook until Ann was able to get around.

Dully Ann tried to understand, to thank Bessie, but in vain. Even Grace's gay voice, telling Dick not to be a naughty boy again, fell upon unheeding ears. All she wanted was for Dick to promise, then to sleep.

The next day the doctor came, called by Bessie. For a week Ann was ill, then she slowly resumed her tasks, sending the Chinese boy away because of the expense. The weather had moderated, danger of further frost was over for the time. But it was several days before she gained courage to talk to Dick of what had happened.

"It isn't so bad as it might have been, dear," he said. "If it hadn't been for Ned we would have been ruined. As it is we are in bad shape."

"I shan't mind a bit, Dick, if you'll give me your promise never to drink again. It is the drink that does it, dear. It steals away your memory—it frightens me. Promise me, dear."

IF HENRY KEEPS IT UP

"Grandpa" Dupuis, Oldest Citizen of Escanaba, Hale and Hearty in 95th Year

BY ADRIENNE TOUSIGNANT.
Do you know him?
Of course you do, for is there a man, woman or child in this city who does not?

MR. JOSEPH DUPUIS

He is the oldest citizen of Escanaba and will celebrate his ninety-fifth birthday anniversary October 14th, 1923.
Joseph Dupuis, better known as "Grandpa" Dupuis was born October 14, 1828 at St. Edwards, Province of Quebec, Canada, near the boundary line of New York State. At an early age he migrated to this country with his parents and settled at Blackbrook, N. Y., from which place he came to Escanaba in 1852. He was employed at various lines of work in and around this city, and was one of the first crew of men who worked on the first dock which was built in the Escanaba harbor.

He worked at the Ford River Lumber Company's mill when it was first built at Ford River, and at the mill at Flat Rock, at Masonville and at Rapid River when there was only a few inhabitants in these places. When he arrived in this city there were only eight houses, no streets, no railroads, one general store which also was used as a postoffice. Provisions and other merchandise came by stage from Marquette and other points where there was a harbor where these goods were shipped by boat.

Carried Mail in 1868.
In 1863 and 1864 he carried mail from Marquette to Ontonagon and from Marquette to Flat Rock, now Groes, Mich. on snow shoes. It took one week to make the trip. Mr. Dupuis was familiar with every tree and stump along the snow shoe trail as the route was called and never was lost in the woods while doing this work.
"What salary did you get for carrying the mail?"
"Fifty dollars per month and we had to pay our board out of that."
"Did you pay much for board these days?"
"No, hardly anything, when we arrived with the mail the people were so glad to receive their mail that they gave us the best they had in the house in the way of food and always gave us a good bed at night."

conditions. He reads without the use of glasses and hears well. He plays solitaire for several hours each day and his deck of cards are always close at hand where he does not need to look for them. His memory is keen and he gave all the data in this story without having to tax his memory in the least.

Always a Democrat.
"To which political party do you belong?" he was asked:
"I am a staunch democrat and I have never missed an election since I was given the privilege of voting in this good old United States." Asked what he considered was the nicest building in this city which he has seen grow, Mr. Dupuis replied: "I have watched this city grow as you would watch a small slip of a plant grow into a big and beautiful plant with branches that run here and there. Yes, the branches are the new streets which have been added gradually and the blossoms are the many public buildings and beautiful homes which I have seen built, but I think the Delta Hotel is as nice a building as one could expect for the small space of ground which it covers, but there are other nice buildings which occupy more ground such as our hospitals, schools and churches and the library."

Sexton Over Thirty Years.
Mr. Dupuis never misses mass and is a devout member of St. Joseph's parish ever since the church was built fifty years ago. He was sexton at St. Joseph's church for many years and was sexton of St. Anne's and St. Joseph's cemetery for over thirty years. He dug graves when the Catholic cemetery was at what is known as Hessel's addition or Stephenson and Hartnett Avenues as far north as Eighth Avenue north and west to 22nd street north. The place is all built up with fine homes and many residents of this city never knew that it was once a cemetery.

He also knew every grave even when there was no marker on it. His memory never failed him.
Many times when he was walking home from the cemetery he was so exhausted from the heat or in the winter from the cold he would fall by the road side and vehicles coming along, the drivers would pick him up and drive him home. There never was a storm fierce enough to keep him at home when a grave had to be dug.

Mr. Dupuis was married twice, and was the father of eleven children, Fred, who is in Buffalo, N. Y., Levi, at Mt. Clements, Mich., Mrs. Peter Murray, city, Miss Helen Dupuis, city, Mrs. James

CALUMET GAIN IS ROMANCE OF BUSINESS WORLD

Single Room Expansion to Largest Plant of Kind in World.

When W. M. Wright founded the Calumet Baking Powder Co. in the spring of 1889, he rented one little room on the top floor of a small three story building, that still stands in Chicago, on North State street, just at the north end of the bridge over the Chicago River.
This little room was Office and Factory. Mr. Wright himself was manufacturer, Office Manager and Salesman.
His total manufacturing equipment consisted of a hand mixer, with an extremely small stock of supplies. This was all hidden behind calico curtains that stretched across the room. An empty starch barrel with a board across the top, served as a desk.
Salesman Wright worked on the outside getting orders that came in and turned them over

W. Harder, Eau Claire, Wis., Frank, of Flint, Mich., Mrs. E. C. Beck, city, Mrs. J. Bauden, city, who is an adopted daughter, the others having died in infancy. There are also fifteen grandchildren.

Fond of Children.
His first marriage was at St. Mary's church, Martintown, Ill., and the second ceremony was performed at St. Joseph's church in this city forty nine years ago by the late Rev. Joseph Langler, who was one of the first priests who came to this city.
Mr. Dupuis is looking forward with great anticipation to the silver jubilee which will be held at St. Joseph's church in the near future commemorating the fiftieth anniversary of the church and his only wish is that he may live to see this jubilee as he feels that as the oldest sexton of the parish he wants to attend this beautiful feast.

He has always been fond of children and all the little children for miles around, love him for not one passes him on the street that does not receive a kind word from him.

to Office Manager Wright, and then had Manufacturer Wright roll up his sleeves and make enough baking powder to take care of Salesman Wright's orders.
But behind the courage and ambition that gave life to these early efforts, was a flaming purpose to make a better baking powder; to treat the retail dealer as a business partner, and to protect the consumer from an inferior product.

The reward to such a business crusade has been phenomenal. Today the Calumet Baking Powder Co. has the largest baking powder factories in the world and its sales have grown to be 2 1/2 as much as those of any other brand.

The Company's home plant in Chicago, built in 1914, has a total floor space of 160,000 square feet—400 times the amount of floor space provided by the little State Street store room where Calumet first heralded its slogan: "Best by Test." This home of Calumet is the largest, best equipped and most sanitary plant of its kind in the world.

Early in 1920 the demand of Calumet had outgrown the Chicago Plant, and plant No. 2 was located in East St. Louis, Ill. This increased the Company's production about 40 per cent and put Calumet in close reach of the Southern States, where it plays such an important part in baking the famous hot breads of the South.

During 1920 Calumet had difficulty in obtaining sufficient materials of the high grade required. To safeguard against any possibility of inferior materials entering into the manufacture of Calumet, the Company at a cost of $1,000,000 purchased an immense material plant at Joliet, Ill., covering six acres, with 43 individual buildings and a total space of more than 1,000,000 feet. This plant guarantees Calumet's slogan:—"pure in the can—pure in the baking."

It is a far cry from the little 20 foot room in which W. M. Wright incubated the Calumet Baking Powder Co. to the Company's present mammoth quarters—the largest baking powder factories in the world. But Mr. Wright himself now Chairman of the Board of Directors, refuses to admit there has been anything wonderful in this growth. "Only one thing has brought this all to pass," he says, "and that is I had from the beginning the unsurpassable quality of Calumet Baking Powder."

More Park Seats Are Purchased

The city has purchased fifty park seats to be installed at Ludington park as soon as the season is opened. The dearth of seats at the park has been the source of many complaints in the past and City Manager Fred R. Harris took advantage of a recent opportunity to supply the park necessity at a bargain price.

Petitions are being circulated among the property owners on Ninth street south, seeking the construction of a pavement on the three unpaved blocks remaining on that street. Failure of property owners on the portion of First Avenue south, east of Fourteenth street, to sign a petition for improving the street, has permitted property owners of other street to take advantage of the opportunity to secure long waited improvements. The petition for the Ninth street improvement is being circulated by Charles Gunderson and it is expected it will be ready for presentation to the council on Wednesday night.

Dear John:

I have been wondering if you could work out an ad for me whereby I could impress upon the minds of the people of this community the advisability of placing their insurance in good old Stock Companies.

You know, I started in the business in 1908, consolidating my agency with the old Northrup & Northrup Agency in 1912 under the corporate name of Delta Insurance Agency. The Northrup Agency was established in 1880. I have seen agents and companies come and go; I have had chances to represent Mutual and Inter Insurance concerns but have stuck to what I consider the one sure line of insurance.

Now, John, write up an ad for me and express the thought I am trying to convey to you, so the people will read it and believe it.

With kind regards,

Yours truly,

PAIGE

JEWETT SIX

PAIGE BUILT

310% Increase In Sales!

IN JANUARY, FEBRUARY AND MARCH, 1923

Three Times as Many People Selected Paiges and Jewetts as in the Same Months of 1922

AND we could sell twice as many if we could make them. For Paige and Jewett sales are governed only by what we can produce. As far ahead as we can see Paige and Jewett will go through 1923 with an increase in business never before witnessed in the industry.

It took the public nearly a year to find out how good the Jewett is. This Paige-designed, Paige-built, moderate size six is the huskiest built car of its size. It has the biggest motor of any car its size—50 horsepower. And so in spite of its sturdy construction it is the most active car you ever tried out in a speed brush—5 to 25 miles an hour in 7 seconds. Try it.

Paige-Timken axles front and rear. Ball-bearing steering spindles. Springs 80% of the wheel base. Paige-type clutch and transmission prevent motor stalling; gear changing is so easy you can drop from high to second at 30 miles an hour. If you want the best car $1065 ever bought now is the time to buy.

Our Ideal Paige—long the Most Beautiful Car in America—is now more beautiful and enduring than ever. Richness you can see and feel—not a piece of imitation leather in the entire car. The body made proof against squeaks and rattles by double strips of patent leather which prevent metal touching metal or wood.

The Paige 6-70 motor with silent timing chain and high-pressure oiling system possesses silence which will endure—power that will not diminish. LEGION WANTS GOV. TO EXPLAIN GARDNER OUSTER

War Hero Kicked Out of Industrial School Management.

Lansing, March 31. — When Rep. John Holland introduced a resolution asking that an opportunity be given Maj. John F. Gardner to defend himself against charges which may have been responsible for his removal as superintendent of the industrial school for boys, he exploded a bomb, the effects of which are spreading among members of the legislature.

Immediately, besides members of the house, came members of the senate to his support. Immediately came to his support also a great throng of veterans of the World War, every one of whom demand that Gardner shall at least be given a square deal.

At the present time it looks as if Holland will have a big majority of the members of the house standing back of him when his resolution comes up for action, providing the committee on rules and joint rules report it out.

Legion Men in Arms

The whole story of the Gardner affair is mightily interesting and it seems apparent that in the wrath which the veterans are showing over his removal Gov. Groesbeck has made a very sad error. When the governor some 18 months ago removed J. M. Frost as head of the industrial school he temporarily appointed Maj. Rolf Duff, executive secretary to the place.

But Maj. Duff was one of those who saw in Maj. Gardner the right man for the place and with the backing of the American Legion men generally Groesbeck finally named Maj. Gardner to the place. From that time down to the moment when it was announced that Gardner had been removed, only words of praise for his conduct of the institution have been forthcoming from the executive office or anywhere else.

Mr. Holland says the governor himself within a few weeks has told him that Maj. Gardner's service was especially satisfactory and on the strength of what the governor said about Gardner's conduct of the school, the house committee reported out the industrial school bill with practically no amendments.

It was only a few days later that there appeared in the newspapers the story of Maj. Robert Marsh's appointment to succeed Maj. Gardner and then things began to happen.

Has Fine War Record

Maj. Gardner was for some years principal of the high school at Cheboygan. He was captain of a company in the 125th infantry during the war. Overseas he made a remarkable record and came out of the war with the rank of major. He was wounded overseas and was marked one of the most efficient of officers. He was twice recommended for the distinguished service cross.

Because of his general efficiency he was for a time assigned to the intelligence department, where he rendered service of the highest order, but during the fight at Chateau Thierry and all through the Argonne he was in the front line rendering heroic service in command of both company and battalion.

Sen. August H. Gansser, who was lieutenant colonel in the 125th, speaks in the highest terms of Maj. Gardner.

"He was an officer of intelligence and real capacity," says Gansser. "He was one of those who picked me out of the rubbish heap when I was wounded and so I naturally have the most friendly feeling for him. One thing I can't understand. The only thing I have ever heard against his record at the industrial school is that he failed to maintain discipline. In the service his was one of the very finest disciplined companies in the regiment. If ever there was a complaint against him, it was that his discipline was too severe so I can't for a minute believe he was lax in discipline at the school."

"Moreover, it seems to me he is just the right kind of a man for that place. He is a disciplinarian and he is a well educated school teacher and knows how to handle boys. It seems to me he has the essential qualifications for that job and service men generally don't like the idea of his being removed just to make place for somebody else or to satisfy the whim of the governor."

Just Kicked Out

Investigation develops that not only have no reasons been given to Maj. Gardner as to why he has been removed but that the terms of his removal have been particularly severe. He had supposed he was giving perfect satisfaction on his job when suddenly he received a letter from the state corrections commission asking his resignation, giving no reasons why it was desired but asking how quickly he could make it effective.

Maj. Gardner replied that while he was quite surprised at the request he had no desire to remain if he was not wanted but that it would probably be June 1 before he could conveniently get out as he would need that time to find another job.

Thereupon he received another letter stating they wanted him to get out before June 1—the mere fact that this was a veteran losing his job didn't seem to give any consideration. Gardner replied that under the circumstances he would try to get out by April 15, job or no job.

Promptly came the word that his successor had been named. So Maj. Gardner is to go out of his livelihood with no job in sight, with no consideration having been given to the fact that he

HUDSON, ESSEX AUTO "MADE" NOT ASSEMBLED

One of the principal factors in the quality and favorable price of both Hudson and Essex cars is that they are ninety percent manufacturers, and not merely assembled according to the DeGrand Motor Co. dealer.

"Both are made in the same factory by the same working force," said Mr. DeGrand. "The material are just the same in the two cars, and the same degree of care is exercised in manufacturing and inspection."

"Ninety per cent of the parts which go into Hudson and Essex cars are machined and finished in this factory—one of the highest percentages in the automobile industry."

"The Hudson and Essex plants are noted not alone for size but also for a compact and scientific arrangement which permits a high output of uniform quality with an economical working force. Machines which multiply the productiveness of labor are everywhere. Each of these machines repeats over and over its assigned operations with a uniformity which minimizes the opportunity of human error."

"Before material enters the machining department, it is thoroughly checked for every possible sort of flaw. The visitor realizes at once that this means in the uniform quality of the product, the technical man is equally interested to see how this care avoids the use of labor and machines on parts which would later have to be scrapped.

"These are practical economies which greatly lessen the price of the cars without skimping their quality."

PAJAMA COSTUMES.

Attractive pajama outfits are made of cotton crepe with blouses that slip over the head and have embroidered pockets.

is a veteran, recommended for the D. S. C. twice and wounded in action and with no reason given as to why he is thus being thrown into the rubbish pile.

But the end is not yet. The American Legion has only just become thoroughly aroused. Veterans want to know why Gardner, the overseas veteran, was removed without the formality of a reason being given, and why Marsh—good man though he may be, but not a veteran—should be given preference. The Holland resolution has stirred the matter good and plenty and the proposal when the opportunity is presented in the house to talk right out loud.

MENOMINEE IS BACK OF BILL EVOLVED HERE

Sister City and County Would Profit Materially.

Discovery that the city of Menominee will gain approximately $9,000 and all of Menominee county approximately $97,000, has made of that city and county staunch supporters of the Escanaba plan for distributing the primary school fund, now in the form of a bill before the state legislature.

Discussing the effects of the bill upon Menominee the Herald Leader of that city said:

The city of Menominee would benefit to the extent of about $9,000 a year in primary school money from the state if the legislature passes the bill changing the method of apportioning the primary fund. Under the present plan the city receives $37,000 each year from the state and would get $46,000 under the new plan.

The county as a whole would receive a net gain of approximately $97,000. Under the present plan of distributing the state primary fund Menominee county gets $107,874 annually from the state and would receive $205,065 under the new plan.

Because of the importance of the measure, the education committee of the house has called a public hearing at which those objecting to the measure may be heard.

Under the terms of the bill about 5,000 of the 7,139 school districts of the state would receive increased primary school fund allowances at the expense of the larger cities and more thickly populated districts of the state.

Indications are that should the bill reach the floor of the house it will bring out a stiff fight. Most of the agricultural districts will be found behind it, while the cities will be against the measure.

Detroit Big Loser.
Detroit would be the big loser under the bill, its annual share of the primary school fund being decreased by about $1,400,000 a year. Of the larger cities in the state but two would be benefited under the bill. Muskegon getting an annual increase of $134,845 a year and Bay City an increase of $12,254. Decreases which would be suffered by other large cities would be: Grand Rapids, $185,134; Kalamazoo, $38,593; Jackson, $37,791; Ann Arbor, $25,851; Pontiac, $33,590; Saginaw, $14,072; Flint, $68,057.

The new scheme of distributing the primary money is the work of O. J. Bandeen, of Escanaba. He has been in Lansing for some time and after many conferences with State Superintendent of Public Instruction Thomas E. Johnson, the bill was prepared and introduced in the house.

Representative Joseph Warner, chairman of the committee on education, says because of the importance of the measure, it is probable that his committee will report it out and leave it to the legislature to determine whether a charge should be made in the distribution of the primary money.

BUSINESSMEN TO LEND BACKING IN BIG SHOW PLANS

Effort Made to Attract Record Crowd to Coming Radio-Auto Show.

Business men in every line of the Escanaba will cooperate with officers and members of the Escanaba Auto-Radio Association to attract to this city for the first annual auto-radio show to be held at the Coliseum April 17, 18, 19 and 20, one of the largest crowds of visitors ever assembled in this city to participate in any event, excepting a Fourth of July celebration.

Letters have been sent out by the association to all of the business houses of Escanaba calling their attention to the elaborate plans being made for the show and asking the cooperation of all interests in making the undertaking a success. Already assurances have been received by the officers from the heads of a number of firms pledging their full cooperation and by the close of this week it is confidently expected that all of Escanaba's business elements will be solidly arrayed back of the show.

Fifty Towns Billed

Advertising matter announcing the big April event has been mailed to fifty towns and cities within a radius of 100 miles of Escanaba and every possible effort is being made to secure the widest possible publicity for the first undertaking of its kind ever attempted in this city.

By the middle of the April officers of the association are certain that all of the roads leading into Escanaba will be clear of snow, offering free access to this city for auto owners residing in a wide surrounding district. From reports received from surrounding points it is known that auto owners in a wide surrounding district are anxiously awaiting the opportunity to place their machines in commission and the auto-radio show will offer one of the season's first inducements to visit this city.

Letters Are Issued

Following is the copy of a letter mailed by officers of the association to all firms in Escanaba, asking their cooperation in making the undertaking a success:

"Dear Sir:

"We have every reason to believe that the Auto-Radio Show we are putting on April 17-18-19 and 20th will bring more people to Escanaba than anything since the 4th of July celebration. We are carrying on an extensive advertising campaign and will greatly appreciate your assistance. We are enclosing some tickets which you kindly use on your parcel post packages or letters?

"We also would like to have you mention the show in your newspaper advertising during the next two weeks. Again assuring you that your co-operation will be greatly appreciated, we remain,

Yours very truly,
AUTO-RADIO SHOW ASSOCIATION,
 R. E. Illingham, Sec."

Oakland Breaks Milwaukee To Chicago Record

Driven by B. W. Compton, automobile editor of the Milwaukee Sunday Telegram, an Oakland Six Touring Car broke the previous record time between Chicago and Milwaukee, November 26th, 1922. One hour and forty-three minutes were consumed in traversing the distance between the city limits of the two cities, or an average speed of 46.78 miles per hour. To those who know Chicago and environs, this record is all the more remarkable, because the route lies for many miles through the populous suburbs north of Chicago. The trip was started at 3:55 p. m. and half of the distance was covered after darkness fell, the traffic being unusually heavy all the way. "The record of 80.3 miles over this road, with its heavy traffic," writes Mr. Compton, "in one hour and forty-three minutes, is one that any automobile will have to hustle to beat, regardless of the cylinders or weight."

EASY TO DARKEN YOUR GRAY HAIR

You Can Bring Back Color and Lustre With Sage Tea and Sulphur.

When you darken your hair with Sage Tea and Sulphur, no one can tell, because it's done so naturally, so evenly. Preparing this mixture, though, at home is messy and troublesome. At little cost you can buy at any drug store the ready-to-use preparation, improved by the addition of other ingredients called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning all gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully darkened, glossy and luxuriant. Gray, faded hair, though no disgrace, is a sign of old age, and as we all desire a youthful and attractive appearance, get busy at once with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound and look years younger. Adv.

Lloyd George, when making a speech, has a habit of repeating the last few words of any sentence upon which he wishes to lay particular emphasis.

Going to Buy a New Car This Spring?

—Then Consider These Facts:

- 1 The Oakland Six-44 is an outstanding success! Every day, more and more buyers are convincing themselves that no other automobile offers an equal dollar-for-dollar value! In little more than a year, the demand has taxed the production facilities of the Oakland factory!
- 2 Oakland is so confident of the superiority of its engine that it gives a written 15,000 mile guarantee against excess oil in the combustion chamber—proof of the superiority of Oakland's cylinder, piston and ring construction. Only Oakland offers such a guarantee.
- 3 Only Oakland gives you a definite gauge with which to estimate the actual mileage an Oakland will deliver—free from expense. Consider Oakland's figures (elsewhere in this advertisement) in the light of your own motoring experiences, and you'll appreciate how remarkable they are!
- 4 In Cleveland, the average upkeep on Six-44's last year was only $8.06 per car. Other cities report similarly low averages.

Consider these facts—come in and see the Oakland Six
