

WOMAN BLAMED FOR KLAN UPHEAVAL

WORLD POLICE PROPOSAL ALL "OUT OF STEP"

AMERICA WOULD NOT CONSIDER SUCH A PLAN.

BY DAVID LAWRENCE.

Washington, April 7.—The proposal of the president of the French senate that all the big navies of the world be scrapped and in its place be created an international police force...

The same suggestion in principle was made at the Paris peace conference by the French delegation and rejected by President Wilson. Since that time President Harding has in his addresses to congress unequivocally disapproved of any alliance of nations based on armed force...

When the Washington conference was in session to limit naval armament, it was considered impracticable to discuss the scrapping of all navies because the principal nations which had navies to scrap would not agree to any such discussion...

On its face, the statement of Gustav De Kerguezec is in line with the clamorings of Pacific opinion which believes in abolishing all weapons as a certain insurance against war but the distinguished Frenchman is not a member of that school of thought...

Wants Real League. "If the allies will follow a proposal for general disarmament of all the world's fleets and replace them with an international one, we shall be the first to agree to let the United States furnish to this international fleet ten ships, England ten, France six and Italy six. Then the world will have peace and not until then—let us create while there is time, a real league of nations. The present one is useless because it is unarmored. Arm a new one and it can command peace."

When Woodrow Wilson first broached the idea of a league of nations at the Paris conference, the French insisted that if it would be operated with an international army and navy, they would favor it. This was a super-government in which they believed but the American delegation argued that American opinion would not sustain any such proposal as it would involve a conflict with the constitution of the United States which vests in congress the sole right to authorize the use of America's armed forces.

Must Consider Congress. Both M. Clemenceau and Marshal Foch contended however, that during the war the United States had placed its armies under the supreme command of a French general and its navy under a British admiral so that in principle, the United States had yielded its sovereignty and a precedent established to all of which however, the answer was made that what had been sanctioned in an emergency could not be taken as an index of what congress would approve as a permanent policy.

Since that time the quarrel between the Wilson viewpoint on the league of nations and its opponents in America has resolved itself into a question of whether the United States is committed by moral obligation to the ultimate use of armed force with democrats denying any such implication. The chances of the unambiguous proposal of the senator De Kerguezec which flatly calls for an international navy to guarantee the peace of the world and particularly the provisions of Versailles treaty may readily be

MONUMENT HONORS ADAM

This, the only monument in America dedicated to Adam, was erected by John P. Brady on his estate near Baltimore. A modern daughter of Eve is seen regarding it.

Bodies of Eight Whiskey Pirates Found on Beach

VINEYARD HAVEN, Mass., April 7.—A tragedy of the rum running fleets was disclosed today when the bodies of eight members of the crew of the sunken Steamer John Vineyard were found floating in Vineyard Sound along with barrels of ale. The steamer, which went down within sight of the Cuttyhunk coast guards yesterday, was believed to have been damaged by collision with another vessel. Whether the second ship also sank was not known, but there was no wreckage to indicate parts of a vessel other than those of the Dwight.

CHAPMAN AIDED BY THEFT RING

Department of Justice Men Ready to Make Some Arrests. Athens, Ga., April 7.—Agents of the department of justice here working on a theory late today that Gerald Chapman, the million dollar mail robber of New York, was assisted in escaping from the federal penitentiary in Atlanta and subsequently from the hospital here by two men and a woman. The operatives declined to divulge the reason for this theory but it is known that every possible angle is being explored.

Know Who They Are. The statement of William J. Burns, director of the department of justice's investigation bureau, in Atlanta today said that information had come to him which led him to believe that members of a New York gang had spent large sums of money to pave the way for Chapman's escape was taken to support the theory of the secret service men here. There was no additional information here to add to Mr. Burns' statement that he had a "very definite idea" who the men were and that arrests involving the New York gang might be made in the next few days.

Doubt Basement Tale. Just what value the secret service operatives attached to the story of Henry Bishop, the guard at the hospital, who said he discovered Chapman in the basement yesterday morning is not known. It was reported from Atlanta that high department of justice officials were inclined to have doubts about Chapman being the man who was in the basement.

Roosevelt Visits Woodrow Wilson

Washington, April 7.—Franklin D. Roosevelt, democratic candidate for vice president in the last campaign, talked politics for an hour today with former President Wilson and later gave it as his opinion that definite foreign policy for the United States will be the outstanding issue of the approaching campaign. Mr. Roosevelt, however, declined to divulge the views expressed by Mr. Wilson. "Mr. Wilson is taking a keen interest in the political situation," Mr. Roosevelt said. "He seemed in much improved condition and not at all wearied after our long talk."

SEAMAN HELD AS COMPANION OF DEAD RABBI

YEOMAN ARRESTED BY CALIFORNIA POLICE.

San Francisco, Calif., April 7.—C. B. Hicks, a Yeoman held at the Mare Island yard for the San Francisco police in the investigation of the death of Rabbi Alfred G. Lafee, was identified tonight by Miss Louise Hewitt of Los Angeles, as the man who registered at a San Francisco hotel the day preceding the assault on the rabbi.

Belleville Tompkins, night clerk at the Gates Hotel, identified Hicks as the sailor who registered with the rabbi at the hotel as "H. B. Hickman." John Davitt, a schoolmate of the rabbi, also identified Hicks as "the good looking sailor" he saw in company with the rabbi near the hotel on the night of the assault.

The identification of Hicks was made from a long line of sailors and he was picked from the line by each member of the party.

CROWDER-ZAYAS SPLIT RUMORED

Havana, April 7.—The names of the members of the new cabinet to take the place of the cabinet which resigned a few days ago at the request of President Zayas has not yet been given out. It is stated that the president has failed to obtain the services of some of them he hoped would become ministers.

A local Spanish paper publishes an article today stating that Enoch H. Crowder, the American ambassador, has sent a note to the palace embodying his views on the political situation. According to the paper there was an agreement between the president and Gen. Crowder at the time the ministers were appointed that they should be subject to removal only when the circumstances that led to their appointment had been altered.

President Zayas maintains the circumstances have been altered, while Ambassador Crowder's contention is reported to be that they have not, and according to the newspaper, he says clearly and concisely that the agreement between the head of the Cuban government and the representatives of the United States has been broken.

Italian Royalty Receives Envoys

Rome, April 7.—(By the Associated Press.)—The first official ceremony connected with Princess Yolanda's marriage took place tonight when after the family dinner, the king and queen, Princess Yolanda and the prospective bridegroom, Count Carlo Calvdi Bergoglio and the Royal princess received the diplomatic corps at the Quirinal.

The royal party was surrounded by high dignitaries of the church, Camille Barrere, the French ambassador, who is the dean of the diplomatic body, having been in Rome for 25 years, offered greetings and good wishes in the name of his government and his colleagues and their respective governments, and also presented to the princess in their behalf a silver centerpiece with silver candlesticks.

SOLON PLEADS FOR UNITY IN PARTY RANKS

Republican Majority in Congress Menaced, Says Jones.

Washington, April 7.—Appealing to the republican members of congress for unity of action and to the administration for cooperation, Senator Wesley W. Jones, of Washington, who led the administration's fight for the shipping bill, issued a statement today declaring that unless the majority functions in the next congress, it will be discredited.

Must Give and Take. "With a full and frank exchange of views," said Senator Jones, "mutual concessions will be made and success assured." Otherwise, he declared, "even if the people in the country believe in the fundamental policies of the republican party, they will not continue to use that party as an instrument of government while it shows by its lack of cohesion that it cannot bring results."

Illustrating what he said seemed to be a need for more "teamwork" between the administrative and legislative branches of the government, Senator Jones said that "while some senators urge the recognition of the Soviet government in Russia," the state department has said no.

Wants Frank Talk. "There seems to be a substantial difference over the facts," he declared. "I think these senators and secretary of state should talk the situation over frankly." The facts should all be laid on the table, he said, and a frank discussion had "without any loss of dignity to either side."

HARDING ENDS HIS VACATION

Augusta, Fla., April 7.—His vacation ended, President Harding tonight turned his face toward Washington and his mind toward the problems of state. The departure of the presidential party from Augusta tonight brought to a close a vacation of five weeks for the chief executive, four weeks of which were spent in Florida and one in Augusta.

Now that it is over, it can be said that perhaps no president in recent years has been able to obtain such complete rest and freedom from care as has Mr. Harding in the period since March 5, when he left Washington.

That this almost entire separation from official duties has benefited Mr. Harding, is plainly seen. Moreover, Mrs. Harding, whose convalescence from her illness of last fall, although steady, was slow, while she remained in Washington, has regained much of her former strength. This return to health by Mrs. Harding, has in the opinion of members of the vacation party, been quite as much of a tonic to the president as the days spent in the sunshine of Florida and Georgia.

METHODISTS TO SIFT MISSIONS

New York, April 7.—Demands for an inquiry into expenditures for missionary and administrative purposes were voiced tonight by delegates to the New York Methodist Episcopal conference after Dr. Morris W. Eames, treasurer of the council of boards of benevolence of Chicago had been questioned regarding the disposition of the church's $18,500,000 appropriation.

On a motion made by Dr. Fields Hermance of Ossining, N. Y., a committee of three from each of the four districts of the church was appointed to consider the matter and to report to a secret session of the executive board on Monday.

Merchants Press Plans For Making Auto-Radio Show In Coliseum a Record Breaker

Dallas Turns Out to See Ku Klux Women on Parade

DALLAS, Texas, April 7.—The downtown streets of Dallas were jammed at eight o'clock, traffic was at a standstill, and police reserves were stationed at 50 foot intervals while near the county criminal court building, members of the "American women" reported as being an auxiliary of the Ku Klux Klan in Texas, assembled for a parade, the first to be planned by the women's order since its organization about a year ago.

In spite of adverse weather conditions continuing later into April than ever before in history, no thoughts are entertained by officers of the Escanaba Auto-Radio Association of postponing Escanaba's first annual auto-radio show at the Coliseum on Apr. 17, 18, 19 and 20. Officers of the association are confident that normal weather conditions will be fully well before the show dates and that the roads of the county and this end of the peninsula will be opened for general traffic by that time.

Plans Are Ready. All plans for making the first automobile radio show ever arranged in the northwest the most successful effort of its kind ever undertaken in this city, are going forward with unusual dispatch. With all of the display space in the big hall already disposed of and a contract awarded to the Provo Sign Service company for carrying out standard decorative schemes, only the fixing of minor details remains to be accomplished.

Every dealer in Escanaba has entered into the spirit of the big undertaking with an enthusiasm that has allowed the officers of the association to proceed with their plans with every measure of encouragement.

Letters were mailed yesterday by President W. H. Needham, of the association to the Rotary, Kiwanis and Lions clubs of Escanaba, bespeaking the support and cooperation of those organizations in making the big effort a success and it is confidently believed that that association can count upon the entire membership of those clubs in lending their moral backing to the enterprise.

Merchants to Assist. Already a number of the merchants of the city have assured President Needham that beginning with this week all of their regular daily store advertising will carry a boosting message for the big show. Some of the stores have announced that they will arrange special display windows and will cooperate with the association management in offering special bargains at their stores on the dates of the show, as a means of aiding in attracting visitors to the city.

The only deviation from the association's rule to permit only automobile, auto accessories and radio supplies at the Coliseum during the show, has been made in favor of the city. City Manager Fred R. Harris has been granted a space where he will set up a demonstration booth in the interest of securing more patrons for the municipal plant.

Aside from the city's display, every foot of space in the big hall will be used by automobile, auto accessory and radio dealers of the city.

MILITARY PRESSURE Disposes of Suit

San Antonio, Texas, April 7.—Strong military pressure, it is believed, was brought to bear on Captain and Mrs. Edwin Handley of the 20th infantry, to withdraw their damage suit of $100,000 filed in the district court against Colonel Arthur L. Conger, alleging defamation of the character of Mrs. Handley. The principals in the case refused to divulge the terms on which an agreement was reached and Gen. E. M. Lewis, commander of the eighth corps area, stated that two much publicity had already been given the matter.

Orders Return of Mississippi Boats

St. Louis, Mo., April 7.—(By the Associated Press.)—Federal Judge Farris late today ordered Colonel T. Q. Ashburn, chief of the inland and coastwise waterways division of the war department to return the Goltra barge line to the jurisdiction of the federal court for the Eastern district by April 21 or appear and show cause why he should not be cited for contempt. Colonel Ashburn began seizing the fleet of towboats and barges March 25.

EVANS CHARGES PLOT TO OUST HIM FROM JOB

FORMER HEADS OF K L U X BLAMED FOR FIGHT.

Atlanta, Ga., April 7.—Sensational charges that the present legal battle to oust him from control of the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan was conceived and is being engineered by Edward Young Clarke and Mrs. Elizabeth Tyler Crow, former associates in the propaganda department of the Klan, were made early tonight by Dr. H. M. Evans, imperial wizard of the organization.

Want Big Meeting. Dr. Evans simultaneously made public a copy of the telegram he said he sent to Tom Akers, and imperial officials from Washington last Monday night before he was aware of court action being taken, instructing Mr. Akers to call a convention of Klansmen from every state in the union to be held in Atlanta in the near future for the express purpose of considering the advisability of organizing a women's auxiliary to the Klan.

Clarke recently retired from the Klan, tendering his resignation. Later a proclamation was issued from the imperial palace saying that "for the good of the order" Clarke was no longer recognized as an official of the Klan. Federal authorities are now seeking him on an indictment charging him with white slavery in Texas and another true bill charging him with using the mails to defraud.

Retired Two Years Ago. Mrs. Crow, better known in Klan circles as Mrs. Elizabeth Tyler, retired from the Klan about two years ago after sensational charges had been placed against her and Clarke. She resigned following an alleged attempt to assassinate her at her home near here.

CONTROL BOARD NAMED.

Atlanta, Ga., April 7.—After a week of legal bickering between supporters of Emperor William J. Simmons and Imperial Wizard W. J. Evans, the affairs of the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan today were placed in the hands of three men, to be administered by them pending further orders from the court.

Superior Judge E. D. Thomas in announcing his decision today named Mr. Simmons, Dr. Evans and J. M. George, Marshal of the municipal court, as the committee to carry on the operations of the Klan.

Sheriff Relieved. Sheriff James I. Lowry, who has been custodian under previous court orders for the past four days, was relieved when he received the receipt of the commission for the headquarters of the Klan, its money, records and other properties.

Filing the action in Judge Thomas' court T. J. McKinnon, chief investigator for the Klan, and N. N. Furney, cashier of the order, were placed on trial in Municipal Judge T. O. Hathcock's court on charges of larceny. Both cases were dismissed for lack of sufficient evidence.

It now remains for the court to act upon the original petition of the Simmons faction toward a temporary injunction directed against H. W. Evans as imperial wizard, and other officers of the Klan, restraining them from interfering with Colonel Simmons as emperor and imperial wizard of the order he founded.

Reach Quick Hearing. This case is expected to reach a hearing within the next ten days, attorneys stated today. There is also pending a petition for a receivership for the Ku Klux Klan, filed by attorneys for Harry Terrell, and others of what is known as the "insurgent faction," hearing on which has been set for April 14.

DELIVERYMEN ASK AID FROM STORE PATRONS

Horses Fall, Unable to Combat Deep Snow Drifts.

Horses engaged yesterday on a half dozen Escanaba delivery wagons, serving patrons of grocery stores and meat markets collapsed completely after battling the deep snowdrifts the long Saturday workday.

As a result, it was announced last night, by the Elmer delivery system, serving a number of Escanaba stores, that if the snowstorm continues and the roads and streets are still blocked by drifts, only two deliveries will be made Monday.

Elmer wagons, starting on the 4 p. m. trips, were still out at 10 o'clock last night.

"Housewives can help materially during the storm period by trying to get all of the things they will need in one order," said the delivery concern last night.

Tenth Street Will Be Paved This Season

Traction Co. to Take Its Portion of the Work

As the result of a conference yesterday morning between City Manager Fred R. Harris and officials of the Escanaba Power & Traction Company, that company has announced its readiness to undertake its share of the work necessary to the construction of the pavement on Tenth street south.

Three petitions were sent out before noon yesterday to be circulated among property owners on that street requesting the reconstruction of the pavement and if sufficient signatures are secured, the long awaited and greatly needed pavement will be started early this spring.

Must Rebuild Track. Before the Tenth street pavement can be permanently reconstructed it will be necessary for the traction company to rebuild its tracks on that street and the result of the conference yesterday morning, when the company agreed to undertake the necessary work as soon as weather conditions will permit, greatly pleased Manager Harris.

The demand for the reconstruction of the Tenth street pavement has been most insistent among many of the property owners on that street and it is confidently believed that sufficient signatures to the petitions will be quickly secured.

Free Gas Is Not An Innovation

That the policy adopted by the present municipal administration in offering free gas connections from the alley mains within the walls of a home, is not new is proven by a booklet issued by the New York Gas Company, commemorating the one hundredth anniversary of that company on March 23 of this year. A facsimile of an advertisement carried by that company in the New York Post, on Oct. 15, 1824, is reproduced in the booklet, announcing that the company would make free connections with the homes of customers. The advertisement read in part as follows: "Store keepers and all others who may desire to use this safe, pure and economical light, are invited to apply to have service pipes laid before the hard frost sets in. These pipes will be carried within the walls of customers' houses and stores at the expense of the Gas company."

"IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE," SEAT SALE FOR PLAY DEMONSTRATES

Senior Class at E. H. S. to Have Big Audience Friday.

The power of suggestion! The psychology of print! Say a thing often enough and hard enough and the other chap'll not only believe you, he'll think it's his own idea and he'll fight for it.

"It Pays to Advertise." That was where Ambrose Peale lived.

Ambrose was an advertising writer, and his philosophy, expressed in the foregoing paragraphs, form the basis of one of the most entertaining plays ever written in America.

Roi Cooper Megrue and Walter Hackett, who wrote it, called it "a farcical fact in three acts."

"It Pays to Advertise," however is more than a fact. Mere facts are not always important. The Megrue-Hackett comedy, which will be presented Friday night, April 13, by seniors of Escanaba high school in the high school auditorium, puts over one of the biggest business lessons ever taught across the footlights. What is more, it teaches its lesson in one of the most uproariously entertaining styles possible.

To tell all of the details of Ambrose Peale's connection with the "Thirteen Soap" business, would be an injustice to those who expect to see the play, and so that information is withheld. Besides, the story cannot be told except in its original form, without considerable loss of effectiveness.

Misses Gladys Morrell and Rosamond Rogers of the faculty, who are coaching the production, declare that the cast is one of the most capable with which they have ever worked and are promising an exceptionally polished presentation of the play.

That the philosophy of the play has made an impression on the class managers, is evidenced by

MRS. HOWARD PLUCKER'S FUNERAL

Funeral services for Mrs. Howard Plucker, formerly Miss Agnes Olson, were held at two o'clock from the home, 612 S. 12th street, and at two-thirty o'clock at the Swedish Lutheran Church Saturday afternoon.

The floral offerings were very numerous and beautiful, tokens of esteem from the many friends of the deceased.

Those who carried the casket to and from the funeral car were chosen among the close friends of the family: Rudolph Anderson, Axel Olson, Hugo Lillquist, Roy Pearson, Arthur Monson and Alcide Johnson. The out-of-town relatives who came here for the obsequies were: Mrs. Masterson, Deer Lodge, Minn., and Mrs. Anderson, Tacoma, Wash. Burial was in Lakeview cemetery.

dismissed as improbable and the incident only strengthens the conviction of American officials that French statesmen have not yet grasped the true significance of the reaction that has developed in this country toward the use of armed American forces as a police force overseas.

Foster City Man Seriously Ill

Robert Phalen, of Foster City, was taken sick at the home of his parents Saturday, March 31. The attending physician ordered the boy removed to a hospital where an operation was to be performed. Owing to traffic conditions and no trains running on the Metropolitan Branch until Wednesday, April 4, it was impossible to take him to this city, which was the nearest place where there was a hospital.

Wednesday the snow plow got as far as Foster City and the train was taken to this city in the caboose and rushed to a hospital. The train arrived at 7 p. m. and at 8 o'clock he underwent an operation. He was in a very weak condition yesterday, having been obliged to wait so long for the operation which should have been performed immediately.

ESCANABA AGAIN ON ACCREDITED COLLEGE LIST

Over-crowding of Classes Must Be Stopped Here.

Members of the Escanaba board of education have been formally notified by Supt. W. E. Olds of the receipt of notice that the Escanaba high school has again been placed on the accredited list of the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools. The only criticism of the Escanaba high school offered in the notification received from the North Central Association was in regard to the overcrowding of high school classes and that condition will be remedied before the opening of the next school year.

Notice Received. Following is a copy of the letter received by Supt. Olds, together with a letter submitted by Mr. Olds to members of the board of education:

"Ann Arbor, Michigan, March 20, 1923.

"Dear Mr. Olds:

"We take pleasure in informing you that your High School was re-accredited at the recent annual meeting of the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools which was held in Chicago, March 15-17. You will receive official notice of this action from the Secretary of the Association within the next few weeks. You will also receive a bulletin giving the approved colleges, the accredited high schools and the revised standards. "It may interest you to know that at the meeting of the Association, a total of 120 Michigan High Schools were accredited. Of this number ten were new schools as follows: Charlevoix, Coldwater, Detroit Sacred Heart Seminary, Ferndale, Hart, Lowell, Manistee, Muskegon Heights, St. Johns and St. Louis.

"We regret to state that two High Schools formerly accredited were dropped from the list and that fourteen High Schools were warned to enforce with greater care the standards relating to the teaching load and the professional preparation of teachers. Your school, however, was fully accredited by the Association.

"We are much pleased to announce that the best report in recent years on Michigan High Schools from the standpoint of buildings, equipment, preparation of teachers, salaries, etc., was presented this year to the Association.

"Respectfully yours, Michigan Committee on North Central Schools. Inspector J. B. Edmonson, University Chairman. Inspector C. L. Goodrich, Lansing. Inspector E. L. Miller, Detroit."

"P. S.—Please note Standard 8 as it is not fully satisfied by your school."

Olds Writes Board.

Mr. Olds' letter follows: "You will notice that Mr. Edmonson adds a postscript to the letter again calling our attention to Standard No. 8. That is the standard that I have talked with you people about when we were considering our arrangement for high school for next year. It is the rule regarding the overcrowding of high school classes. If you remember we had a letter from Mr. Edmonson allowing us to run the remainder of this year as we organized in the fall with the understanding that we would remedy the condition next year. "Membership in the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools is the highest honor bestowed upon any high school relative to the standard of work maintained and it is a pleasure to know that we are all right with the organization. Of course, we will have to make good on Standard No. 8. "Sincerely, "W. E. OLDS, Supt."

COMPANY USES 3 YEAR RATTAN STOCK IN WINTER

Unprecedented Demand on Snow Fighting Equipment.

As the result of an unprecedented demand upon its snow fighting equipment during the present winter and spring, the Escanaba Power & Traction Company now has the last of a normal three-year supply of rattan in use in its two big snow sweepers. Last fall the company stocked sufficient rattan to carry the company through its normal winter battles against snow for three years. Never in the history of the corporation has there been such demands made upon its snow fighting equipment, making it necessary to renew the rattan in the big revolving brooms again and again. The heavy storm of last Monday reduced the sweeping surface of the brooms to mere splinters and during the week men were engaged in placing the last of the stock of rattan in the brooms, in the belief that the equipment would be in excellent condition for the first storms of next fall.

Stand the Test.
When yesterday morning's terrific blizzard swept the district, the snow plows were again hauled out in summer quarters and it was only by the most desperate efforts throughout the day that it was possible to keep cars running on the various lines. The fine, gale swept snow filled the tracks almost as fast as it could be removed. From early morning until the end of the storm the snow plows remained inconstant commission and again the company was able to accomplish the seemingly impossible by maintaining service on all of its lines. It was impossible during the day to adhere closely to schedules, but at no time during the day or night was it necessary to abandon the service on any line.

Pigeons are being used in the national forests in fire control work. The birds are taken to the scene of a fire by the ranger and are then used to carry a report to headquarters which gives the actual location and condition at the fire. In a test in the Idaho National Forest, carrier pigeons were flown from 17 different lightning fires and in every case each bird made a successful return with the message it carried.

Bathing Suits in Store Window Start Riot; No Fatalities

Biting blizzards cannot freeze the ardor of the Cleveland booster nor smooth his optimism. The course of commerce in at least one Escanaba store is charted by the calendar and not by the daily meteorological statistics. For instance, and for example, while members of the "window club" yesterday afternoon were debating the advisability of an amendment to the federal constitution which would prohibit the falling of snow after March 10, E. C. Vogt began to decorate the Mead Drug company's window with bathing suits.

Police reserves, armed with riot sticks, were able, after a brief but strenuous fight, to conduct him to a place of safety, beyond the reach of the enraged mob.

Casualties were slight.

Child Laborers In Beet Fields Of State Need Protection Of Law, Federal Report Declares

Washington. — The need in Michigan of some regulation in the employment of children in agricultural pursuits, at least more stringent enforcement of school attendance laws, is suggested in the detailed report of the Federal Children's Bureau on "child labor and the work of mothers in the beet fields of Colorado and Michigan," published today.

A brief summary of the report was published some time ago, but without giving the data which supported the conclusions.

The report largely coincides with similar findings recently made public by the National Child Labor Committee.

The examination in Michigan was confined to three counties, Grafton, Saginaw and Isabella, which constitute the most important sugar beet growing area of the state. Statistics about the employment of children in these three counties is offered merely as a sample of what may prevail throughout the beet growing sections of Michigan, Wisconsin and the Middle Western states.

The report declares conditions of child labor in this section are much better than in the Rocky Mountain beet area typified by Colorado, principally because in Michigan the average planting of the producers is only from five to six acres; whereas, in Colorado, in the average planting per farmer is nearly 20 acres. The smaller farmers naturally do a larger proportion of the work themselves, and the report shows that the chief evils of labor in the beet fields are attributable to the contract workers imported from the cities for a few weeks of intensive toil.

Michigan Conditions.

Discussing this condition in Michigan the report says:

"In the 511 families visited, there were 763 children between 6 and 16 years of age who had worked in the beet fields in 1927. Only one in five had reached the age of 14, while one in four was less than 10 years of age, more than one-half were from 10 to 13 years of age.

"One Hungarian father, a miner from West Virginia, who said that he came to the beet growing country because his children were to young to work in the mines, but could help 'in beets,' had all of his four children at work in the fields, the oldest 12, the youngest only 5 years of age. Four children under the age of 6 years were reported by their parents as working; 16 over 6 and under seven years; 38 between 7 and 8 years; 52 between 8 and 9 years; 91 between 9 and 10 years; 105 between 10 and 11 years; 114 between 11 and 12 years; 101 between 13 and 14 years; 76 between 15 and 16 years; 77 between 16 and 17.

"Both girls and boys work in the beet fields, but in the families studied there were somewhat fewer workers among the girls in proportion to their number. Only one-fourth of the boys but almost two-fifths of the girls, between 6 and 16 years of age, were reported as not working."

Small Children Work.

The report shows a great variation in the hours per day worked by the children. Among tenant farmers and land owners, the hours in many cases were comparatively short; but, in the their father told them we would do beet work again."

Hard on Mothers.

"In the same 511 Michigan families, 397 mothers were found doing full day's work in the beet fields, in addition to performing household work.

"Many of these working mothers had young children. Some had two children less than 3 years old and one mother had three. Of the 679 children under 6 years, 423 were in contract labor families, where mothers had little opportunity because of their work in the fields to give much attention to their babies. The mother of 9 of 10 of the farm owners' children under 6, were beet field workers."

The children-in-arms of contract laborers usually were carried to the fields with their parents.

Infants Suffer.

"A small canvas sometimes was put up for them and a common sight in the beet fields. Few children were protected by netting from flies and mosquitos. In one family, 2 children, neither old enough to walk, were laid on a blanket under a tree near the beet field. The parents began their work before breakfast, and bringing in both breakfast and dinner with them. The mother brought milk for the children, which, she said, usually soured in warm weather. She remarked that the warm days were hard on babies. Both looked pale and sickly."

There are 44 pages of this sort of testimony dealing with Michigan conditions. It is conceded that the labor problem in the beet fields is difficult, because of the unwillingness of adults to do the work. Child labor is not economical in the sense that the children do less work at the same relative pay as adults, but foreigners with large families, it is said, are virtually the only contract laborers who find the work sufficiently profitable to engage in it.

SNAKE DANCE.

For two years citizens of Prescott, Ariz., have reproduced the rain ceremonial of the Hopi Indians, the snake dance, by means of which this desert tribe indicates its compliance with the commands of its principal deity. The third reproduction of the snake dance by white men, students of the Indian ritual and long practiced in the art of its steps and chants, will take place in June. A reproduction of a Hopi village will be constructed of light material, but without a detail lacking, even to the sun-drying meat hanging from walls.

"With such a background, the white men perform a dance they hope to preserve from the altering hand of time," says a writer in Popular Mechanics.

It is desired to add to and expand this Indian pageantry so that by 1926, when the rest of America is rehearsing the landing of the Pilgrims, the signing of the Declaration of Independence, and the founding of New Amsterdam by the Hollanders 300 years ago, there will be in the Southwest a pageant going back still farther. It may deal with the Indian account of the creation—something oddly like our own Biblical one. It will seek to probe the history buried in legends, fireside tales, myths, religious rites and tribal traditions that hold the key to the earliest inhabitants of the southern Rocky Mountain region.

GIRL SCOUTS TO TRAIN LEADERS FOR WORK HERE

Training Course to Open on Wednesday Evening at Library.

The annual spring training course for Girl Scout leaders is to open on Wednesday evening under the auspices of Girl Scout Executive Jean Guthrie and members of Escanaba Council, Girl Scouts of America. Sessions of the training course will be held at the Carnegie public library at 7:30 o'clock, beginning on Wednesday evening of this week and continuing each Monday and Wednesday evening through three sessions.

The need for Girl Scout leaders for present and future troops of the city is very great and it is hoped by Miss Guthrie and members of the Scout council that a large number of Escanaba women can be interested in the training course this spring.

Statement Is Issued.

Of the coming course, Miss Guthrie yesterday issued the following statement:

"Every normal girl loves to work and play with a group of other girls. Left to themselves they may cultivate interests that do not help in the development of high-minded women or at any rate their group life may be of no particular benefit to the enlightenment of their lives.

"With leadership they can be directed into activities that are wholesome and pleasurable and that contribute to the upbuilding of character. And leadership gives to the girls the friendship and interest of older women in a way which makes their influence really be a factor in the girls' lives.

"The girls learn how to share their pleasures; they learn that a girl is more truly happy who is thinking of the happiness of others rather than of their own pleasure all of the time.

"They learn the glow of satisfaction that comes from giving up some of their time and energy to a cause which is not related to self especially, the losing of themselves in service for their town and neighbors.

"They learn the lessons of give and take in group life that every one, if he is to be an asset and

Ford Weekly Purchase Plan

For many years it has been Henry Ford's personal ambition to make the Ford the universal family car—to put it within the reach of the millions of people who have never been privileged to enjoy the benefits of motor car ownership.

During the past fifteen years over 7,500,000 Ford cars have been placed in the hands of retail customers—more than a million and a half of them within the past twelve months—and yet there are still millions of families who are hopefully looking toward the day when they can own a Ford.

And now the way is open.

Under the terms of this plan you can select your Ford Car, set aside a small amount each week and you will be surprised how soon you will own it. In the meantime your money will be safely deposited to your credit in one of the local banks where it will draw interest.

Think it over. Five dollars will start an account. The whole family can participate in it—father, mother, brothers and sisters each doing a little.

Why not start today. Stop in and talk it over with us. We will be glad to fully explain the details of the plan and help you get started toward the ownership of a Ford car.

Garden Bay News

Postmaster Joseph DeLona has just received a communication from the president of the Tourists' Association of America, with executive offices at Rochester, New York. The Association is desirous of getting the names of any persons in the district who would care to accommodate one or two or more tourists, with rooms or meals during the coming season, for periods ranging anywhere from a day to a whole summer. The names will be placed before prospective tourists many of whom will visit our section. This information is requested due to the fact that in so many of the resort sections, the regular hotel accommodation has been altogether too limited to take care of all the tourists and many of these have gone back to their homes disappointed on that account. Many of these tourists actually prefer a private residence. The Upper Peninsula Development Bureau is cooperating in every way possible. Our own association is functioning nicely and between us, considering the many tourist attractions we have to offer, we see no reason why we should not receive a fair share of the tourist business for the current year.

But local residents should feel it to be a personal obligation to cooperate. They can do this in many ways but at present we wish that any who are in a position to take in a few pleasure seekers will give their names, with particulars of the extent of their accommodations, to Secretary Bureau. Do not leave it to him to hunt you up, and because he fails to find you, growl because your name is not on the list. He will make up his list and mail by Wednesday, April 11, and all matter should be in his hands previous to that time.

Fayette readers are invited to get in communication with Mr. Bureau if at all interested in this movement.

The regular meeting of the Garden Boosters' Club, postponed from last Monday on account of the election, will be held in the Council Rooms on Monday night, April 9. The treasurer will be glad to receive the dues of any member not yet paid up. We will be glad to welcome any new members into our organization, at that time.

I wish to express my sincere thanks to the voters of Garden township who so loyally supported my candidacy for the office of supervisor at the election of last Monday. It was only such wholehearted support that made my success possible and I pledge myself to faithfully discharge the duties of the office with which I have been honored.

Signed, William McNally.

I desire to express my appreciation to the voters of Garden township for the confidence imposed in me at the township election on Monday, Apr. 2. I pledge myself to faithfully and efficiently discharge the duties of the office of township clerk to the best of my ability.

Signed, Edward Bureau.

The regular meeting of the Ladies' Guild of the Congregational church was held Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Wm. Winters, Sr., at Van's Harbor. A good company of members and friends from the village had the pleasure of a sleigh ride, down to the place of the meeting, through the courtesy of Paul Lamkey. A very enjoyable afternoon was spent.

Those fishermen who happened to be on the ice during the snow storm and thunder storm last Monday had a most peculiar sensation, which all are unanimous in stating was something never before experienced. One man was handling a chisel at the time preparing to make the hole in the ice. According to his statement, the electricity struck the chisel and gave him a shock that was anything but pleasant. Other members of the party say that the hair of the head stood upright. One man said that his head was buzzing to such an extent that he lifted off his head gear quite expecting to release a swarm of bees. The writer feels safe in stating that this is not a moonshine story but a genuine storm phenomenon. All the members of the party have recovered their usual mental poise.

Mrs. George Truckey is confined to her bed with a hard attack of the flu.

Mildred Truckey is sick at the home of her parents. Her place at school is being supplied by Lorna Boudreau.

Mrs. Harry Bailey is quite sick with the flu. Several of the children are also down with the same malady. Mr. Bailey is employed at Nahma.

L. P. Jeterabn of Fayette Bluff, made a Garden visitor Thursday.

Jos. Joque, of Fayette, made a business trip to town Thursday.

Jerry Kitts, of Fayette Bluff, made a business trip to Garden Friday morning.

Unofficial reports coming through from Fayette indicate that John Folio was elected for Supervisor, with no opposition.

Mrs. Wm. Folio was elected as Clerk, with no opposition, and Mrs. Jos. Thill won over a slip candidate, for treasurer. The race for the latter office was closely contested.

Dolly Pearson, the eleven-year-old sister of Albert Kitts, arrived at the Kitts' home at Fayette, Bluff, last week. It is anticipated that she will make her home there indefinitely.

Wm. Kauthen is sick with a bad attack of pleurisy. It was feared that pneumonia was developing. Mr. Kauthen is one of the oldest pioneer residents of this place.

Hubert Schraw of Green Bay, spent the larger part of last week visiting at the Truckey home here. He was sick with the flu most of the time during his visit.

Mr. Le Marbe, Sr., of Fayette Bluff, was a caller in town yesterday.

Harry Bloch of Ishpeming, arrived here Friday evening and will spend a few days visiting at the Casper home.

Hulle Dolgard and John Egert, both of Fayette, were Garden visitors today.

Frank Lalone and wife are rejoicing over the arrival of a daughter at their home east of town, yesterday. Mother and infant are doing well.

Harry Jacobson of Escanaba, Engineer on the Ora Express, passed through town Friday morning on his way down to Fairport where the Express has wintered. He will get the boat in shape for the opening of navigation, which, according to present indications, will be considerably deferred.

John Christensen returned from Manistiquette Friday. He drove up yesterday with a load of dressed beef and other farm produce.

Jesse Greene and brother Colan, of Fayette, were in town on business Friday afternoon.

Dr. Edward La Motte left here Thursday afternoon on a business trip for Escanaba.

A. S. L. WANTS JAIL SENTENCE FOR OFFENDERS Results in Two Counties Given Comparison.

Lansing, Mich., Apr. 7.—An interesting comparison in prohibition law enforcement activity in Michigan counties is disclosed in figures compiled by officials of the Michigan Anti-Saloon League. Saginaw county, with a population in 1920 of 100,286, made 167 prosecutions for liquor law violation last year. There were 86 convictions made, 50 cases were nolle prossed, 31 pending or not tried; Of the 86 convicted, 41 were fined, two were jailed, and six given suspended sentences and 34 put on probation.

Bay county, with a population in 1920 of 69,548, prosecuted 46 liquor law violation cases last year. Of this number, there were 23 convictions, eight nolle prossed and 10 pending or not tried. Of the 28 convicted, but three were fined and 20 were sentenced to terms in either county or state penal institutions without the alternative of a fine.

Courts Are Lenient. That figures covering Saginaw county show the right kind of activity on the part of the sheriff and police is the opinion of state dry league officials. They claim, however, that the courts have not been as energetic in that but two were given jail sentences without the alternative of a fine out of 86 convictions.

In Bay county, the drys contend figures show that the police and sheriff have not been very active in lining up violators but that their est of cooperation has been had from the courts, 20 being given jail sentences without the alternative of a fine out of 28 convictions.

The contention of dry leaders has always been that the illicit liquor business will not be materially reduced until judges start passing out stiff jail sentences without the alternative of a fine in all cases of convicted liquor law violation.

FANCY VOILES. Drop-stitch makes some of the most charming frocks for summer. It comes in the ost fascinating shades and needs practically nothing but a girdle, and perhaps white collars and cuffs to trim it.

Sports in Crete. The people of Crete, who had a definite civilization of their own, before Greece arose, paid considerable attention to sport and physical education. Most important as documents of their physical culture are the walls of Hagia Triada palace. In large bas-reliefs pictures of Cretan boxing matches are presented.

Bulls are presented in all varieties of action, often swinging on their horns a bull fighter whom they caught. In those bull fights the chief aim was to oppose without any weapon the approaching bull, to grasp him by his horns and to be thrown by him into the air, to come down gracefully to the ground and to await a new attack of the bull.

Forty Hours to Be Held at St. Anne's This Week

Announcement has been made by Father Jacques that the Forty Hours Adoration will be held in Saint Anne's this week. This is a devotion in honor of the Blessed Sacrament which has been observed in the Catholic church since the early part of the sixteenth century. Its purpose is to increase devotion to the Blessed Sacrament and to do honor to the time that Christ's body remained in the holy sepulchre.

For the past several years these devotions have taken place in Quasi Modo week and the same will hold this year. Fifty to observe these exercises requires careful preparation and the priests of Saint Anne's as well as the choir are sparing no pains to make these devotions as attractive and solemn as in past years. Father Paquet, pastor of Saint Anne's church, Calumet, will preach. He has chosen as his theme, "The Blessed Eucharist and the Holy Name Society."

He will give three sermons, two French and one English. The French sermons will be given at 7:30 Monday and Tuesday nights; the English, Wednesday at the same hour. Father Paquet is a pulpit orator of some note and there is no doubt but that he will do ample justice to the subjects he has chosen.

Besides the priests of the city, several others have been invited and will attend. Among them are: the Rev. Fathers George M. O. Laforest, diocesan director of the Holy Name Society, Menominee; Joseph Beauchene, Iron Mountain; Paul Le Goivan, Ishpeming; Alderic Paquet, Calumet; Owen Bennett, Gladstone; Joseph Dufort, Chassell; Philip Jutra, Schaeffer; Francis Guerin, Flat Rock; Joseph Guent, Engadine; Paul Fillion, Spaulding; Joseph Morin, Garden; Alphonse Coignard, Perkins, and others.

Following is the order of exercises that will be observed: The preliminary exercises will be held Monday night with prayers, sermon and Benediction. No confessions will be heard Monday night.

Tuesday, 9 a. m., Solemn High Mass and procession of the Blessed Sacrament; 3 to 5:30 confessions; 7:30 p. m., Sermon and Solemn Benediction; confessions.

Wednesday, Masses every half hour, beginning at 5 o'clock; High Mass at 8 o'clock; confessions from 3 to 5:30; 7:30 p. m., English sermon, Benediction, confessions.

Thursday, low Masses from 5 to 7; 9:00 Solemn High Mass, procession of the Blessed Sacrament and closing of the Forty Hours Adoration.

The program prepared by St. Anne's choir follows: Monday Night. "Il faut qu'il regne" Thibault Veni Creator Creamer "Jesus fils de David" Thibault O Salutaris Guilmant Tantum Ergo Webbe Laudate Gregorian Tuesday, A. M. Gregorian Mass sixth tone Offertory, Regina Coeli Gerbier Tuesday Night. "Non, Non, Seigneur" Thibault Veni Jesu Cherubini Tantum Ergo Rosewig Wednesday Night. "My Faith Looks up to Thee" Myer.

ANCIENT MASONRY. Imhotep was the earliest architect to put up a building of stone masonry. He flourished just after 3000 B. C., and his name deserves far greater fame than those of the early kings or conquerors themselves.

The erection of Imhotep's terraced buildings was but a step toward the construction of a pyramid. A generation later, so rapid was the progress, the king's architects were building the great pyramid of Gizeh (2900 B. C.). From the earliest piece of stone masonry to the construction of the great pyramid less than a century and a half elapsed. Most of this advance was made during the Thirtieth Century B. C., that is, between 3000 and 2900 B. C. Such rapid progress in control of mechanical power can be found in no other period of the world's history until the Nineteenth Century.

CLEAR AND CONCISE. A certain presiding judge at a trial took it upon himself to correct the tendency of a woman witness to deviate too much from the subject of her testimony. "Madame," said H. E. Honor, "you must employ fewer words. Do you understand?" "Yes, Your Honor."

"Then you must, in the fewest words of which you are capable, answer the plain and simple question, whether on the night under discussion, when you were crossing the street with your baby in your arm, and the street car was bearing down on the one side and the taxicab and the truck were attempting to pass said street car on the other, you saw the plaintiff between the street car and taxicab, or whether or when you saw him at all, and whether or not near the street car, the truck or the taxicab, or either, or any two, and which of them, respectively, or how it was."

NOT GUILTY. The owner of an estate on which there was a lake was annoyed to see a stranger fishing on his grounds. He approached the trespasser and began to abuse him. "This lake," he said, "is privately owned, and I stocked it myself. You must go away at once."

"Just a minute, sir," said the fish man calmly. "What did you stock the lake with?" "Trout," was the answer. "And I won't have—"

"That's all right, sir," said the trespasser unconcernedly; "I'm just fishing for pike."—London Tidbits.

Among things looking better going than coming are troubles and trousers which bug at the knees.

DAUGHTER OF MILLIONAIRE EARNS LIVING

Elizabeth Dennison Modern, Progressive and Free.

Yellow Springs, O.—A millionaire's daughter with calloused hands!

A millionaire's daughter working for a living and liking it!

A millionaire's daughter striving to bring happiness to the lives of the workers employed by that millionaire with helpful hints and practice from her own experiences.

The millionaire is Henry S. Dennison of Framingham, Mass., whose name is to gummer labels and tags what the Smith Brothers' pictures are to cough drops.

Works and Learns. The daughter, Miss Elizabeth Dennison, who, instead of going to a finishing school as many of her girl friends are, is attending democratic Antioch College here. She alternately goes to school five weeks and works five weeks winding armatures and associated work with working girls in a Dayton factory.

She doesn't do this for fun, she derives a pleasure from her work she admits, but the greatest benefit comes from her association with the factory girls.

"They're wonderful," she says, "I never knew girls before who acted so real. They just don't seem to care who knows it. We get along very nicely because I work hard and I don't get peevy. And besides, I sing for them and one day at noon I gave them a vaudeville show."

Miss Dennison's work is hard, she admits, but she takes it in good nature. She simply holds out badly calloused hands and remarks:

"This is what the wire did. They were pretty sore at first, but got hard after about a week."

After she goes through her course at school—and at the factory—Miss Dennison says she will engage in personal work. Eventually she hopes to inaugurate her plans for factory democracy in her father's plants.

STRENGTH AND SAFETY IN THE BODY OF STEEL

If you could see the main body structure of Dodge Brothers Business Coupe before the enamel is baked on, and before the interior is furnished, you would be profoundly impressed by its strength.

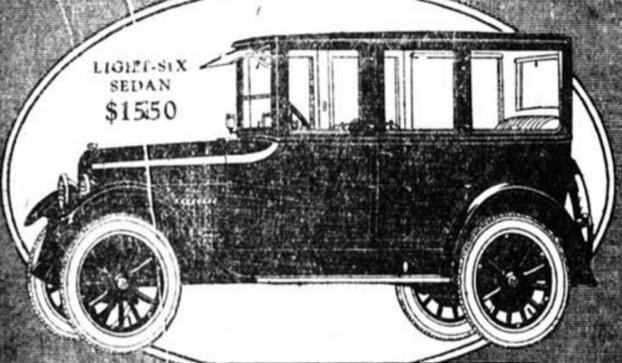

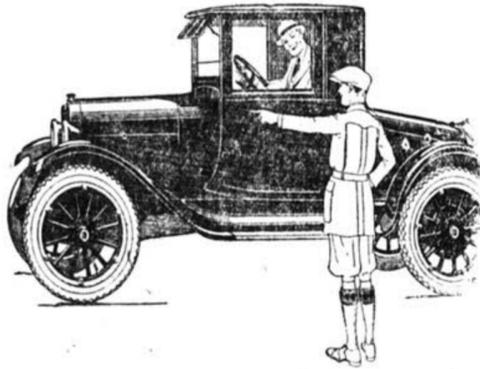

You would see that every panel, every pillar, and every rib is steel—that even the door sills and window moldings are steel.

You would see that all of these parts and sections are electrically welded together into one staunch steel body, with no bolts or rivets to work loose, nothing to rattle or squeak or warp.

And you would realize that, like the all-steel Pullman coach, this unique construction—originated by Dodge Brothers for this car—represents the last word in protection to passengers—the ultimate achievement in closed car sturdiness.

OFFICIAL RECORD OF ALL TIME IS ESTABLISHED

Snowfall for Winter Reaches Tremendous Total of 88 1/2 Inches

All official records for a winter's snow fall at the Escanaba weather station went by the boards yesterday's snow storm.

The previous high official snow fall record for a winter at this station was 83.8, established in 1886. In 1893, an interval during which the Escanaba weather station was discontinued and records were kept by a volunteer, it is recorded that a snow fall of 92.7 inches was recorded, but that record is not considered authentic.

On top of the latest heavy blizzard ever to find a place in the weather records of this station, Observer Spindler in his official prediction last night, could offer no hope that last night or today would prove the end of the storm.

When the storm struck Escanaba yesterday morning this district lay just within the edge of a severe disturbance that covered the entire west and southwest. Back of the low pressure area that held Escanaba in its grip throughout the day, the weather map showed another low pressure area in formation and gathering momentum as it sped in this direction.

A prediction issued on Friday for a drop in temperature to 10 degrees above zero yesterday morning, failed of accomplishment although during Friday night the mercury in the official thermometer dropped to 16 degrees, before it was again forced upward by the effect of the storm area. Up to late yesterday afternoon the barometer at the weather station continued to drop steadily during the entire day but late in the afternoon it showed signs of halting in its downward swoop, indication that the center of at least the first storm, was passing.

ARTHUR SHEEHAN'S FUNERAL.

DWARFS FROM NORWAY.

Toward the end of the Neolithic times a race of dwarfs, short of leg but immensely strong in the arms and very like in appearance to the pictures of brownies and gnomes today, appeared in the north of Scotland and the islands round that coast. They had come from Norway, crossing the North Sea in their kayaks.

WOLF STORIES INVESTIGATED

Game Warden Fails to Find Cause for Undue Alarm.

Investigations made by Game Warden V. P. Deemer of the reported slaughter of deer at Blaney, by wolves, revealed another case of "wolf when there was no wolf."

Deemer went to the "deer yard" at Blaney, Thursday, in response to a telephone call which informed him of supposed invasions of the yard by wolves. Closer inspection of tracks showed that they were made by a dog in the timberland frequented by the deer. The dog was found and shot by the warden, but residents of that section insisted they had heard the howling of wolves. The presence of the dog could not explain this, so it was necessary to make further investigations.

After remaining on the grounds for some time, Deemer heard the peculiar noise again and found that it was only the howling of owls. Later, residents of that vicinity admitted that the noise was the same one they had heard and supposed it to be the howling of wolves. So the mystery was solved.

The game warden found that the deer were lively and apparently healthy in their winter quarters and had found fairly good feeding places in the cuttings.

Instead of 50 deer, as reported, it was estimated that the number in the yard near Blaney would aggregate about 800.

PRAY HITS 'EM FOR HIGH MARK OF THE SEASON

Clinton Pray hit the highest mark that has been bowled at Brault's alleys in the past few weeks when he chalked up 253 on the boards last Friday night.

In the elimination contest now running at the alleys, Malloy still holds the high score mark with 950 for the five games. Weber is a close second with 948 and Olesak, with 935, is not far behind.

Practically all of the matches in the first session of the contest have now been rolled, and the winner will now pass on to the second session of the elimination. Following are the matches that have been completed: Remell 844, Cartensen 824, Munger 781, Pray 887, Busch 783, Bays 835, Malloy 950, Therreau 757, Smith 845, Olesak 935, Graphos 765, Forsher 832, Perry 794, Ekstrom 783, Coffey 810, Flodine 797, Hendrickson 750, Hastings 769, Atwood 847, Weber 948.

SPRING BAZAAR.

Announcement has been made of a spring bazaar, which will be held in the Ted Graphos building on Cedar Street next Saturday, under the auspices of the ladies of St. Alban's Guild. The bazaar will be open afternoon and evening, and scores of useful articles will be offered for sale, including dainty aprons, luncheon sets, kitchen aprons, children's clothes and a variety of gifts.

In addition, baked goods and refreshments will be served during the afternoon and evening. A cordial invitation to attend has been extended the public of Manistique by the Guild ladies.

TYLER'S TEMPERAMENT.

John Tyler, tenth President of the United States, was married twice, and in each case it was a marriage of affection. His first wife was Lettice Christian, daughter of Robert Christian, one of the best known men of Virginia. It might almost be called a boy and girl affair, but they were married and lived happily together for 30 years. The second wife of the President was Julia Gardiner. She married the President while he was still in office, and after his death went to Richmond, where she spent the remainder of her life.

Most Americans—regarding him in a superficial way—think of Tyler as one of the prosaic, matter-of-fact Presidents of the United States, yet in the wooing of Miss Christian he gave proof that he possessed an ardent temperament—the temperament of a love-stricken and romantic young man.

Bertrand Russell, bally Britisher, says we all would be better if we were lazier. The boss says some people are as good as they can be, then.

STILL TAKEN IN MOON RAID

Two Residences Visited By Sheriff's Party.

One moonshine still, two gallons of liquor and a large quantity of mash, were secured by authorities here Friday, the result of a raid and search of two Manistique West side homes.

The raids were made by the chief of police, sheriff and deputy, on definite information furnished them in an affidavit by a resident of the city. One raid was at the home of Mrs. Cora Hart on Houghton avenue, the other search was made in the residence of Frank Oliver.

Nothing was found at the Hart home to indicate a violation of the liquor law, and the search there was fruitless. At the other place, however, the paraphernalia and liquor were found with little trouble.

Tucked under a stairway niche, the authorities found the still which gave evidences of having been recently operated by the owner of the home and further search revealed the receptacles of finished liquor and mash.

Oliver was arraigned in Justice McKinney's court Friday, and released to obtain bonds for his appearance at the examination next week.

This is the first liquor raid made this year which resulted in the finding of a still, and consequently is the first still raid participated in by Sheriff Magnus Klagstad.

"THE FLIRT" IS CLEAN, GRIPPING AMERICAN STORY

Will Be Shown Monday for Benefit of Library

One of the arguments advanced by Manistique people who opposed Sunday motion pictures here was that the average picture was not fit for Sunday presentation. Advocates of the clean screen will find one of the best examples of a sparkling story without one objectionable feature in "The Flirt," showing Mogday at the Gero for the benefit of the Manistique public library fund.

Music especially adapted to the picture will be played, with Mrs. C. E. Kaye at the organ. There are few persons who have not had a heartbreaking experience with a flirt, because the species comes in both male and female form, hence there are few that will fall to understand the psychology of Mr. Tarkington's story, and, if they are not now in the midst of a similar experience, will thoroughly enjoy each minute of the performance.

Colloquial America doesn't exist at any one point, but here and there in the United States one may find homes with a surplus of love and a shortage of money where folks ask a blessing at vic-tuals, call dinner "supper," and dress up on Sundays. Booth Tarkington describes such a home in "The Flirt."

It will be like a trip back home for many who are heartsick with stranger's fever. The table cloth alone is enough to send a wayfarer back to Capital City, or Battle Creek or Newberry, or wherever he started from to conquer the world. It is red. The pepper, salt and vinegar are in a merry-go-round, and there is just one knife and one fork and one spoon.

And then the furniture. It is, of course, terribly passe, but a fellow can imagine himself sitting around in his vest and snapping his suspenders contentedly.

STAINS ON MARBLE. You can remove stains from marble by rubbing the spot with a slice of lemon dipped in salt. Let the juice stand on the spot for about an hour, then wash off. Not only will the stain be removed but the gloss will have returned.

CONFINEMENT patients taken at the home of Mrs. A. LaChapelle, 134 Mackinac avenue, N. Phone 399-S. Manistique, 3349-97-31.

Really Washable Walls and Woodwork

KEEPING dust and grime out of the home is the housewife's constant worry and problem.

Most of all, keeping the walls and ceilings fresh and clean is of the utmost importance both for beauty and sanitary reasons.

Health, Color, Harmony and enjoyment of the home go hand in hand where inside surfaces are treated with

Bradley & Vrooman Washable Interior Colors

They are perfectly sanitary—because washable. Any surface may be kept clean and fresh by washing with a sponge and cold water. No more time and trouble is required than is necessary for washing your windows.

And please remember that these washings do not mar or streak the finish but simply renew its beauty while cleaning it thoroughly.

Paint Doesn't Cost Money—It Saves It! Unless your home is protected inside and outside by repainting at least once every four years, you will lose, in repairs and lessened value, from five to ten times what the paint and labor would cost.

Save the surface and you save all.

Washable Interior Colors are adaptable for use in every home—cottages or mansions—also ideal for hospitals, theaters and other public buildings. W. J. CHARTER, -318 Houghton, Manistique.

KANSAS CITY, PREP CHAMPS

Rockford Second, Charleston Third, Muskegon Fourth.

Chicago, April 7—Kansas City high school, champions of Kansas, won the National Invitation Interscholastic basketball tournament of the University of Chicago here tonight, defeating Rockford, Ill., in the finals 43 to 21.

Chicago, April 7—The first national interscholastic basketball team ever selected as the result of a national invitation tournament was chosen by coaches bringing teams to the national invitation tournament of the University of Chicago, which closed here tonight.

Seven coaches and numerous officials who have watched the play of 40 teams, over 30 of them state champions, for the past week, joined tonight in picking the following All-American high school team:

The men selected are all from teams that made a strong bid for the championship, either going into the finals and semi-finals or ending in the last round before them and in nearly every instance the particular man selected for the All-American team was largely responsible for the team's success.

California Wins from Cornhuskers

Berkeley, Calif., April 7—The University of California defeated the University of Nebraska, 75 points to 56 in the east-west track field meet here today taking eight first places. The cornhuskers from the Missouri Valley conference put up a stiff battle in the track events but were swamped by the Californians in field events. The Nebraska team took first in six of the nine track events but took only one field event, the high jump.

Zuna, Millrose Ace, Wins Marathon Run

Detroit, April 7—Showing but little trace of physical strain and bearing a broad smile, Frank T. Zuna of the Millrose Athletic association of Newark, N. J., won the Irish-American Athletic club's annual 25 mile Marathon on the Pontiac to Detroit course today, finishing in 2 hours, 34 minutes and 4-5 seconds, eight minutes ahead of his nearest rival, Arne Smedin, Chicago, who won second place, and Frank E. Wendling of the Wilton Athletic Association of Buffalo, N. Y., third.

Maitland Fails in Speed Attempt

Dayton, O., April 7—High winds, which made flying difficult, today caused Lieut. Lester J. Maitland, McCook Field pilot, to abandon his attempts to set a speed record for a three kilometer course, after he had made two trips across the course at Wilbur Wright field near here. Four trips across the course are necessary under the rules of the Federated Aeronautics Internationale.

BOARS MAKE RAID

Lillemonde, France—Twenty wild boars swooped down on a farm owned by M. Dubourg, near here, and did considerable damage to crops before seven were shot and the rest routed.

London—Thirty babies in a public nursery here are being guarded carefully for fear they will poison anyone approaching them. The babies are the offspring of a rattlesnake and the nursery is a cage in the zoo.

Four Players Connie Mack Figures Will Greatly Help Athletics

Connie Mack is of the opinion that the experimental days are over, that the Athletics have arrived. That will be good news to the many followers of Mack all over the country.

Four players who Mack believes will aid in the Athletics' fight to the top are Sammy Hale, Wid Matthews, Walter Kinney and Riconda. Matthews is an outfielder, Hale and Riconda infielders and Kinney a pitcher who was with the Athletics a few years back, but who has been out of baseball for some time as the result of a Judge Landis sentence for breaking the rules of the game.

Hale and Riconda are third sackers. Hale cost Mack a lot of money and is slated for third. If he fails, Riconda will get his chance. Riconda was one of the stars of the New Haven, Conn., team of last year, which won the Eastern League pennant.

OLD ED WALSH STILL HOLDS 'IRON' CROWN

Urban "Red" Faber of the White Sox and Urban Shocker of the St. Louis Browns were the two hardest-worked pitchers in the major leagues last season. Faber was in 43 games, hurling 353 innings, while Shocker toiled in five more tilts, but five less frames. The two Urbans led the field in labor by a wide margin.

However, these figures don't begin to compare with the "iron man" stunts that Ed Walsh of the White Sox used to pull off that was in his prime. "Prinzance, back in 1903, "Big Ed" toiled in 66 frays for a total of 464 innings. In 1910 he was in 45 games, or 369 sessions; 1911, 55 tilts, or 368 innings, and in 1912 hurled in 62 bouts, or 393 frames.

Thus in those four seasons he averaged 57 games a campaign, or 399 innings of work. Nothing soft about that. About the nearest approach to Walsh's sensational performance in 1903 was that of Christy Mathewson in the same year. Maty that season was on the mound in 56 games for a total of 416 innings. But even that was 10 battles shy and 48 frames short of Walsh's mark.

"Big Ed" Walsh was surely an "iron man" when it came to taking his place in the pitcher's box. In fact, he was a veritable glut-ton for work.

Son's Illness Holds Walter Johnson Back

Tampa, Fla., April 7—The first tough break that Manager Donie Bush received in his debut as leader of the Nationals, centers around his star, Walter Johnson. A spring flinx usually pursues Johnson and this year is no exception. The severe illness of his 13-months-old youngster, necessitating a major operation, kept Johnson at the bedside of the boy during a greater part of the training trip.

"Walter will be in shape when the season starts," remarked Bush. "I am not worrying on that score. My only worry is over the youngster."

Henricks Counted on to Help Yanks

The New York Americans have picked up a mighty fine outfielding prospect in Harvey Henricks. The big fellow hits left-handed and has been one of the batting sensations of the spring training at New Orleans. Huggins regards him as a great hitter.

Henricks was secured by the Yankees from Galveston in the Texas League. While the youngster has shown great promise at the bat, his fielding is still very crude, and he has much to learn in that department of play before being ready for a regular berth.

"Prisoner, have you anything to offer in your own behalf?" "No, your Honor. I've turned every cent I own over to my lawyer and a couple of the jury-men."

INDO-CHINESE The Indo-Chinese silhouette is receiving much attention these days. It has a drapery drawn tightly about the back and chesed in the front under a sash or an ornament of some kind.

BROWNS LUCKY WITH ROOKIES SCHULTZ BACK IN HOME STATE

Lee Fohl's Club Has Some Choice Youngsters on Roster. Former Wolverine Hero to Coach Detroit Grid Eleven.

BY BILLY EVANS There is an air of pennant confidence floating around the camp of Lee Fohl and his St. Louis Browns this spring.

The Browns trailed the Yankees by a single game in the exciting 1922 struggle. Had the 3 to 2 defeat of Sept. 15 finished as the ninth inning started, a 2 to 1 lead for St. Louis, the New York vs. New York world series would not have been played.

At odd moments during the 1922 season Lee Fohl found himself in need of pitching strength, a third baseman and a right-handed pinch hitter.

For 1923 the Browns apparently have strengthened and improved. At least I saw some exceptionally ed these weak spots of a year ago, promising material in inspecting the Browns at Mobile.

The usual assortment of young phenoms drifted in this spring, but out of the flock the following have earned their major league diplomas:

Some Choice Youngsters. Southpaw Jim Elliott, from Terre Haute, who won 20 games and lost eight and fanned 214 in 250 innings.

Right-hander Hollis Thurston, from Salt Lake City, who looks better than his record of 15 victories and 16 defeats.

Outfielder Horace Bennett, from Tulsa, who batted .370 and produced 56 doubles, 11 triples and 24 home runs as a fence buster.

Third Baseman Homer Ezzell, from Shreveport, who batted .331 in the Texas League.

Third Baseman Sylvester Simon who batted .312 with Bay City.

Outfielder Vache, who batted .329 with Charleston.

Catcher John Schulte, from Mobile.

Southpaw Frank "Dutch" Henry, who won 20 and lost only four in the last Southern League, is also a great prospect. Henry failed to report at Mobile because of salary differences.

Browns Have Strengthened. The important point with the Browns is this:

Fohl expects better pitching. Pruett will have improved by last year's experience. The recruits have shown Fohl enough stuff to make him feel sure they will prove helpful.

He has third base protected in case Frank Elber's injured knee does not hold out in Ezzell and Simon, not forgetting the veteran Eddie Foster, who joined late last season.

He has a right-handed pinch hitter in Vache, who is built along the line of "Happy" Felsch, and in Chulte, the kid from Mobile in Schulte, the kid from Mobile.

Fohl is protected through injuries to his regulars with excellent material. Bennett is one of the best looking youngsters I have seen in the south. Of course, a recruit outfielder with the Browns was to sit on the bench and absorb experience or wait for an injury.

For in Kenny Williams, Bill Jacobson and Johnny Tobin there is an ideal outfield and one that is hard to beat.

There will be no changes in the Browns' outfield. Williams will be in left, Jacobson in center and Tobin in right. The infield will start with the peerless George Sisler at first base. Marty McManus, who was the talk of the league last summer, at second, brilliant Walter Gerber at short and Elberre at third.

Browns' Pitching Staff. The pitching staff from last year consists of Urban Shocker, Elam Vangilder, Frank Davis, Ray Kolp, Wayne Wright, Bill Bayne and Hubert Pruett, the latter the sensational college southpaw who stirred the community with his remarkable strike-out record against Ruth.

Fohl has given Pruett plenty of his attention this spring. The youngster is about 15 pounds heavier than a year ago, and this extra weight should help him, for they tell me that he was a bit too frail to stand the wear and tear of too much work last summer.

Severely ill do the bulk of catching again and is a great man. His assistants are Pat Collins and Josh Billings, with Schulte in reserve.

The young material with the Browns equal anything I have seen in the south and surpasses many rival clubs.

LOR' LUMME! WOT MISTIKES WE ALL MIKE

English Butler Checks
Up Errors in Movies.

BY JACK JUNGMEYER
Oilver City, Calif.—Butteling and valeting in the movies bear not the faintest resemblance to these important functions as performed in dear old England.

For this startling and withering statement we have to thank John Holmes Howell, formerly of the household of the Duke of Connaught, if you please, and now technical adviser in all such matters at the Goldwyn studio.

The information is highly important because, it seems, a good many of our youngest families are taking tips on the treatment of servants from the spurious film article. And getting dreadfully wrong!

John Holmes Howell, an imposing figure, with his own desk and attendants, tells the directors how servants ought to behave in pictures portraying smart life. They don't always follow John's advice, but that is one of the things an expert must bear in this vale of tears.

Poor Servants
"In London, now," says 'e, "a butler who looked like those I've seen in so many American pictures couldn't get a job as a brewer's drayman. Over there they're always six feet 'igh, with plenty of 'air on their 'eads. In most large establishments footmen 'ave to powder. 'Ow could they do it with a bald 'ead?"
"In the movies they think a servant only opens and closes doors."

"Lor, lumme, the mistakes I see! 'Callin' a duke's daughter 'lady,' and 'is son 'mister.' 'Callin' a baronet a lord—fancy that!"

It does seem that we bushwaas who've made a little dough and then go putting on airs have been a little off. But let John rub it in.

"They let a servant place a dish at the right and side of a lady at the table. Of course everyone knows the only thing served from the right is win— Yes, yes, John, go on! "Most extraordinary!"

"Now a valet always haccmpagnies 'is gentleman, shooting or fishing, as the case may be. There are only three things a gentleman tells 'is servant—mark this now, you nouveau!—"where 'e's going, 'ow long 'e will remain and what 'e's going to do."

Drinks With King
But here, ladies and gents who compel youg help to entertain in the kitchen and pull a lot of spurious swank on your servants, is Mr. 'Owell's real bombshell:

"I've seen King Edward take out a flask and 'and it to his gillie, the game-keeper you know, before 'e took a drink himself. And it was customary for Queen Victoria to take tea frequently with the gillie's wife."

"In those days it was always 'Would you please?' to the server 'ear anything like that from the movie people."

Has "Service" Record
Howell has served English nobility all his life, having been in turn carriage boy to King Edward VII., valet to the Earl of Dudley, Marquis of Zetland, Earl of Minto, Duke of Grafton, Duke of Portland and the Duke of Connaught.

Gosh, how mainstreetish it makes a guy feel to meet up with a sure-enough valet and get the low-down on high life. Dang it, after being talked to by Mr. 'Owell I've almost given up the notion of hiring a maid and putting on airs.

BOYS AND GIRLS BEST TEACHERS PROF. HOLDS

Lawrence College
Music Head Attracts Notice.

Appleton, Wis., Apr. 7.—Boys and girls make the best teachers. Working on this theory, Prof. Earle Bakery of the Lawrence college conservatory has been attracting state-wide attention this winter.

He has organized boys' glee clubs in the ward schools of Appleton. And what is more, he can call a rehearsal on Saturday and have a full attendance. Teachers have been coming from far and wide to see how he does it.

Children Best Teachers.
Mr. Bakery's theory is that a child will learn more quickly from another child than from an adult. Each six-year-old, therefore, is given an eight-year-old instructor.

His eight-year-old youngsters can easily read simple music at sight, and it takes about twenty minutes for them to learn a new song when they have teachers about their own age. Each student teacher is responsible for the way in which his own pupil sings, and is far more severe as a critic than a grown person when his pupil gets off tune.

WOOLS FOR SPRING.
There are a number of new light wools for spring wear that threaten to put the regulation blue serge out of the running for a while. Rope, poplins, wool crepes and flannels are some of the popular materials.

Buckeye Folks to Have Party

A nice party is being arranged for Tuesday night at Wassa hall by the Mill Council of the local Northwestern Coopers & Lumber company. Because of the large crowd that will be going from the Buckeye, only employees will be permitted to attend the party, which is arranged more as a private affair for their own enjoyment. The entertainment committee wished to call this to the public's attention as they are not anxious to turn down any one. The hall is too small to accommodate more than those from the Buckeye, for whose benefit it is being given.

PASTOR'S WIFE WRITES POEM FOR SONG BOOK

A poem written by Mrs. J. M. Bolton, wife of the Rev. Bolton, has been published as the dedicatory poem of a new song book, "Hymns of Praise," which will be used at the Presbyterian church for the first time today. Following is the poem to be sung to the tune, "Beulah Land."

Our Sunday School has met today
Within God's courts to praise and pray.
To God our grateful hearts we raise
Through this our gift the
"Hymns of Praise."

Chorus:
O Hymns of Praise, sweet
Hymns of Praise,
We gladly sing in prayerful lays
Our songs from out thy pages fair,
That helps us to forget our care,
And lift our hearts in tuneful praise.

To him who knoweth all our ways,
We dedicate this book today
To God's praise, and humbly pray
That its high thought may be our own,
And find acceptance at the throne.

Chorus:
O may we treat this book with care,
Make all its words our deepest prayer,
And thus within our hearts we'll build
A worship true and Spirit-filled.
(Chorus)

Hardware Display Attracts Attention

The Gladstone Hardware proved to be a place of more than usual interest throughout yesterday when a well known line of paints and varnishes, the Sherwin-Williams brand, was displayed attractively in the store and display windows. The window display was exceptionally attractive, colored balloons and an electric fan being used to call attention to the paints and varnishes shown there.

Souvenirs were given away, ladies receiving shopping bags, children balloons and the men were presented with gasoline tank gauges.

The Gladstone Hardware only recently adopted the agency for the S-W line of paints and varnishes.

CHIEF ADVISES MOTORISTS TO BUY LICENSE

Autoists who have failed to get their license plates to date will have to get busy right now or they are apt to have some explaining to do. Chief Eric Lindahl has issued the ultimatum that fines will be imposed after April 15 on all who drive cars without licenses.

"After the 15th of this month," declared Chief Lindahl, "those driving without a license will be brought into court and will have to pay a fine. There is no excuse for being without the license, as plenty of time has been allowed to get it, and also the certificate of title that is necessary to assure the license plates.

"In nearly all cases, the autoist without his plates has neglected the matter through careless and indifference, and he will be expected to pay for this carelessness through a fine that will be imposed if he is caught after April 15. That's final."

WHIPPING CREAM.
If you will whip your cream in a pitcher instead of in a bowl you will save time and will not spatter so much cream on yourself or the surrounding area.

A new vanity case that is unusually small and compact conceals the gold lipstick box in the fluffy tassel which is one of its most striking features.

BE PRETTY! TURN GRAY HAIR DARK

Try Grandmother's Old Favorite Recipe of Sage-Tea and Sulphur.

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray.

Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome. Nowdays, by asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this famous old recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, at a small cost.

Don't stay gray! Try it! No one can possibly tell that you darken your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy and attractive. Adv.

SMOOTH GRAVIES.
If you want your gravies, soups or thickened sauces of any kind to be lumpless, mix the salt with the flour before the liquid is added. Beat with a small egg beater instead of a spoon.

ROSE GEORGETTE.
A gown of rose georgette is trimmed with cascades of the material, outlined with small rhinestones. The effect is most charming.

THE UNIVERSAL CAR ANNOUNCEMENT

OF INTEREST TO MILLIONS OF FAMILIES

"I WILL BUILD A CAR FOR THE MULTITUDE"

Said Henry Ford in 1903—Read how the fulfillment of that prophecy is now made possible through the

Ford Weekly Purchase Plan

For many years it has been Henry Ford's personal ambition to make the Ford the universal family car—to put it within the reach of the millions of people who have never been privileged to enjoy the benefits of motor car ownership.

During the past fifteen years over 7,500,000 Ford cars have been placed in the hands of retail customers—more than a million and a half of them within the past twelve months—and yet there are still millions of families who are hopefully looking toward the day when they can own a Ford.

And now the way is open.

Under the terms of this plan you can select your Ford Car, set aside a small amount each week and you will be surprised how soon you will own it. In the meantime your money will be safely deposited to your credit in one of the local banks where it will draw interest.

Think it over. Five dollars will start an account. The whole family can participate in it—father, mother, brothers and sisters each doing a little.

Why not start today? Stop in and talk it personal ambition to make the Ford the will be glad to fully explain the details of the plan and help you get started toward the ownership of a Ford car.

Most of your neighbors drive motor cars. They can go where and when they choose. Their cars play a large part in their daily life, furnishing them with quick and convenient transportation for both business and pleasure.

Realizing what the automobile means to the average family in bringing them greater enjoyment of life, we have arranged to extend the facilities of our bank to those who desire to become owners of Ford cars through the new Ford Weekly Purchase Plan.

Under this plan, you can begin with an initial deposit as low as $5.00. Then select the type of Ford car you want—Touring Car, Runabout, Coupe, Sedan, Etc.—and arrange to make weekly deposits on which interest will be computed at our regular savings rate.

Come in and let us further explain the Ford Weekly Purchase Plan to you, or, if you wish, go to the Local Ford Dealer for further details.

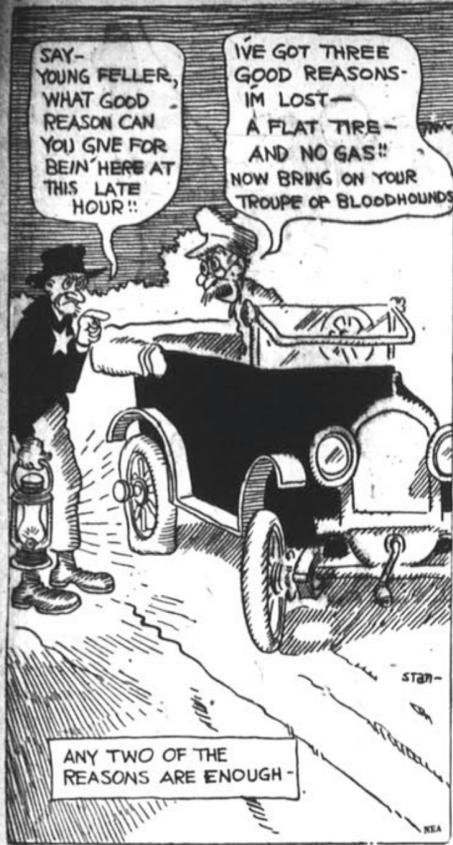

Start today, and before you realize it you will be driving your own car.

DESERVES COOPERATION.

Escanaba enjoys the honor and the privilege of having a postmaster who stands as one of a very few in the United States, able to secure from the post office department at Washington a modification of a drastic retrenchment order, effective April 1.

Newspapers of the nation since April 1 have been filled with accounts of efforts of individual postmasters to secure a modification of the national order, as affecting their individual offices and the records will show that Escanaba's postmaster was one of a very few to obtain authority for the slightest modification.

Recognizing the hardship that would be worked against patrons of the Escanaba post office, immediately after receiving the original order, Mr. Semer began a battle to secure its modification, by letter and by telegram to the department, with the result that the strength of the case established by him for the Escanaba office resulted in the modification received here on Friday.

In order to carry out other terms of the retrenchment policy by the department, Postmaster Semer has found it necessary to curtail the usual mail collection service in residence districts of the city. The people of Escanaba owe it to Mr. Semer, in light of the successful effort made him in their behalf, to lend him every possible measure of cooperation during the weeks that curtailment of regular service will be necessary.

STICKING TO THE CONTRACT.

Americans generally will be glad to note that our government is refusing to listen to the Allied proposals regarding the Rhine occupation bill. There was never any strong American sentiment favoring the retention of American troops in Germany. The American idea was pretty well summed up in this succinct sentence: "The quicker we can get out, the better."

Be not deceived by flash, my son. The wise man understands that sometimes on the worst of days, One finds the swiftest hands.

WEEKLY BOOK REVIEW. AMERICAN WOMEN WRITE FIVE OF TEN BEST SELLERS

AUTHORS OF BEST SELLERS—DOROTHY CANFIELD, AT LEFT, AND ZONA GALE.

BY JAMES W. DEAN. EW YORK, Apr. 7.—The hand that rocks the cradle is the hand that rules America's fiction. Five of the ten best sellers of March were written by American women. There are represented in the list. The five women are Dorothy Canfield, Zona Gale, Gertrude Atherton, Frances Hodgson Burnett and Kathleen Norris.

The names of Zona Gale and Gertrude Atherton will undoubtedly be found among the first ten in April through the immediate and fast-growing popularity of their respective new novels, "Faint Perfume" and "Black Oxen."

First Since "Lulu Bett." "Faint Perfume" is Miss Gale's first novel since "Miss Lulu Bett." It is so finely written that one suspects that the length of time in turning it out was due to meticulous selection of phrases and precision in construction.

This new novel is a romance of the mind, the love story of a girl of acute sensitiveness and a man hampered in the quest of happiness through an unfortunate marriage.

Leda, the girl, lives with the Crumbs, who had sought love in idleness, returns home divorced, bringing her son not through love of him but through revenge upon his father.

Baraby, the boy's father, comes in search of him and thus enters into Leda's life. His divorced wife holds them apart by threatening to withhold the boy.

Thus there is no physical element in the romance of Leda and Baraby. Theirs is a spiritual companionship; their happiness lies entirely in their mental attainment.

Physical Romance. Romance is mostly physical as Gertrude Atherton pictures it in "Black Oxen." This story deals with a woman past the middle meridian who resorts to new discoveries of physicians to gain rejuvenation. If she can recapture youth she can regain romance. The character exhibits pity, but not sympathy.

TURNING THE PAGES. Picked up "The Code of the Karstens," by Henry Walsworth Kinney. Dead title for a book dealing with the amorous escapades of a curly-headed Swede. If he had called it "The White Sheik" it would have a bigger sale.

"Life of Christ," by Giovanni Lipari (translated by Dorothy Canfield) seems a futile thing to me. He admits the fine literary style of the Bible and then sets forth the story of Christ in a less worthy style. Certainly he tells us no more of Christ than the Bible tells us.

Bill Tilden, tennis champ, sets forth in "Singles and Doubles" a peculiar idea of sportsman ship. That is, that a player recognizing the mistake of umpire or linesman in his favor should immediately throw the next point to his opponent. As Heywood Brown points out, this is poor sportsmanship. It reflects erica that, after Germany has paid them 60 billions, she can have the rest. They are resourceful. Americans generally have become exasperated with this dilly-dallying, shuffling, evasive attitude they have adopted towards the United States, and American sentiment will strongly applaud Mr. Hughes for demanding that the contract be adhered to.

A consignment of 15,000 bales of American cotton is reported on the way to Russia. When we read of similar consignments of hemp for the bolshevik government we will conclude that the time is drawing near when Russia may safely be recognized.

Americanism appears to have obtained only a 50-50 break at the hands of that St. Joseph jury trying the syndicalist, William G. Foster.

"A PURITAN WIFE"

BY JANE PHELPS

Chapter XVII. Ann had steadfastly refused to let Dick hire any help in the house. She had answered his plea that she have a maid, or a Chinik:

"No, dear, we must save our pennies now. Afterward I'll have to have someone for a while, but not now."

So Ann, frail as she was kept the house in order and had meals ready on time as usual.

Dinner was ready and she was sitting just inside the door when Grace and Dick came up on the porch. Dick was talking, his voice hoarse:

"What are you trying to do, Grace? Make me forget I'm married?"

Quietly Ann crept into the kitchen. Dick must never know she had heard. If he did they would have to speak of it and that she could not bear—not now. When they came in she had collected herself, and greeted them as usual.

"Grace is going home tomorrow, Ann. This will be her last dinner with us," Dick said in rather an embarrassed way.

"Then I am glad I cooked a good one," Ann said lightly. Grace was really going at last. Ann could scarcely hide her relief.

But as they talked she wondered what had happened? What had Grace said or done to make Dick ask that question? There was a little pique in the girl's manner, something she never had noticed before. Had Dick repulsed her, and because of her?

"Take good care of Dicky until I come again, Ann. Don't let him forget me," she said when Ned came for her, "and Ann, he's told me about forgetting what he's sent for when he goes for supplies. Better send someone with him. He'll forget to come back some day."

So Dick had told. She had tried so hard to keep it from them all, and he had told Grace, and she made a joke of it.

"I don't think Dick will ever fail to come back to me," she said quietly, "not as long as I am here to receive him."

"You surely have more faith in men than most women!" Grace returned. Then was gone.

"It will seem strange not to have Grace running in," Ann said. "I think she's rather overdone it lately. I'm not sorry she's going, but—well, I'm glad we are to be alone often."

He stooped and kissed Ann, then insisted she rest while he cleared the table.

Ann watched him as he moved about. Did he really mean what he said? Had he found himself drifting away from her, and had Grace's going meant he wouldn't have to fight temptation any longer?

She closed her eyes and he, thinking her asleep, dropped into a chair beside the table and laid his head on his folded arms. A sigh, almost a groan escaped him, but when after a few moments she stirred he bent over her and asked:

"Had a nice nap, Ann?" "I didn't mean to fall asleep," she parried.

"It will do you good." But all the evening he was very quiet and Ann, feeling his tense, news also said little. Was he grieving because of Grace? Or perhaps was he grateful he had resisted her?

A great flood of tenderness swept over her, a surge of love for the man she had elected to pass her life with. Never would she let him know she had suffered because of his companionship, his intimacy with Grace Edmonds. She was gone out of their lives, probably never to return. Her faith in her husband had not wavered, only follow his knowledge that she could be unhappy.

"For better or for worse," she said to herself with a sad smile. "The bitter with the sweet. Dear old Dick. He'll forget her soon." The smile was tender.

Chapter XVIII. To both Dick and Ann their child was a wonder babe. They named him for her father, John Peabody Belden, but called him Jack. He was a healthy, happy baby, with Dick's coloring, and Ann's sweet, firm mouth. As they bent over his crib when he slept, or watched him develop his cunning ways they grew close together again, as they had been when they were first married—before Grace came.

He was very little trouble, and Ann had let the Chinik boy go. "We need to save for him now," she told Dick. "He'll have to trudge some day when we are old." "That'll be a long time," Ann said. "I don't want you to overdo," Dick replied, but Ann had her cap to the hips in the back.

Depew, Nearing 90th Year, Writes On: Nine Biggest Events of My Lifetime

CHAUNCEY M. DEPEW AND THE NINE BIGGEST EVENTS OF HIS LIFETIME.

New York, April 7.—Chauncey M. Depew will enter upon his 90th year April 23.

The grand old man of American politics has seen four wars—and their aftermaths. He has been a friend of Gladstone, the statesman, and of Joe Jefferson, the actor.

He has made speeches in the halls of congress and before the motley crowds of the Bowers.

Since he became connected with the New York Central Railroad it has grown from a length of 128 miles to a length of 5600 miles, and he has seen the railroads of the United States grow from 3600 miles to 300,000 miles since he entered the railway service.

He has survived cults and fads and still retains the simple faith his mother taught him.

What are the nine biggest events that Chauncey Depew has seen in his nine decades in which he has lived? He tells of them here, in his own story, written at the request of NEA Service.

BY CHAUNCEY M. DEPEW.

The first big event that I remember was the Mexican War. I was 14 years old then and it stirred me with tremendous notions of chivalry. However, I could not include the Mexican War as being one of the nine big events which I have witnessed. Neither could I include the development of the railroads as that development has covered too long a period of time to be designated as an "event."

Here, then, are the nine big events which I have seen in my lifetime. I consider them big because of their far-reaching effects on the human race.

ONE: The election of Abraham Lincoln to the presidency. This was important not only because of the influence which the character of Lincoln has had on the whole world.

TWO: The proclamation freeing the slaves. This was the first great blow at property which had heretofore been held in profound respect. It was the forerunner of the present day agitation over the rights of property. But it took slavery out of the present institutions and made the Declaration of Independence the vital idea of the United States.

THREE: The World War. This was important because by its very horror it has paved the way for peace. The governments which instigated the World War have been overthrown. Future rulers will not be so anxious to rush into war when they reflect that they are likely to lose their jobs in consequence.

FOUR: The publication of Darwin's theory of evolution. It liberalized thought; it helped to break down the narrow dogmas of a personal devil and a brimstone hell; it showed that all things are in a continual process of evolution.

FIVE: The giving to the world of Pasteur's discoveries. I consider that he has done more than any other individual to benefit the human race.

SIX: The preaching by Emile Cuneo of the powers of auto-suggestion. Cuneo did not discover auto-suggestion but he is showing men and women how they may improve themselves with it. The United States is built upon the development of the individual. Around that development hinges its whole future.

SEVEN: The invention of the telephone. When the first telephone company was formed I took a sixth interest at $10,000 and kept it for about a week. Then I took somebody's advice and got out. If I had kept that interest I would today be worth hundreds of millions of dollars. But I wouldn't be here to enjoy it. The case and the fine diners would have killed me long ago.

EIGHT: Bessemer's discovery of his process of treating steel. It laid the foundations for one of the world's basic industries.

NINE: The discovery of radio. It opens up a field of development as limitless as the air itself.

Paris—When Lord Carnarvon reopens the tomb he has discovered at Luxor, Egypt, he will be disappointed. King Tutankhamen will not be there. The real tomb of King Tut was discovered in 1912, says George Rene, the French Egyptologist.

ANOTHER GHOST HOUSE.

Wilsbee, Eng.—The eight-room home of Joseph Serimshaw, a fruit farmer near here, is under surveillance after he reported to authorities that furniture had been flung about the rooms and $1000 damage was done by unknown hands during the night. Serimshaw lives there with his 32-year-old mother and 15-year-old daughter.

METAL LACES.

Gold and silver laces are effectively used for cape collars on evening or afternoon gowns. Frequently the collar crosses in front and falls in the form of a rounded cape to the hips in the back.

BUICK PASSES MILLION MARK

Buick Motor Company Incorporated in 1903.

Flint, Mich., April 7.—As requisitions for the millionth Buick car have come from so many of our branches and distributors—and dealers as well—it will for the present remain unassigned.

T. Strong of the Buick Motor Company today disposed of the question as to the ultimate destination of the smart model six cylinder sport touring car bearing upon it from the imposing number plate of 1,000,000.

"Of course they all want this car. Not primarily for sentimental reasons, but for an intensely practical one. It is a car of value. So we feel we cannot let anyone have it with a grain of cause of discrimination."

on Buick's ten years or more and feel a personal pride in the accomplishment of the million mark. They stand about in groups, looking fondly over this illustrious Buick, and a flood of interesting recollections find expression.

Starting with the head of the organization down to the humblest of the ranks, you will find many men who have "lived" with Buick since the days when the future of the automobile was a matter of grave doubt.

When the latter was merged with General Motors, he became assistant General Manager of the Buick. In 1919 he became President and General Manager. Thus Mr. Bassett has taken a prominent part in the production of all but about 4000 of the Buick million.

Then there is Cady B. Durham, who was made Assistant General Manager upon Mr. Bassett's acquisition to the presidency in 1919. Mr. Durham came to the Buick in the early days as Assistant Superintendent of one of the many units. Later he was promoted to General Master Mechanic, then to General Superintendent, and finally to his present position next to "the throne."

Some of the other present "key" men worked on the first Buick built after the incorporation of the Company in 1903, twenty years ago. One of them worked on the drawings of experimental Buick cars as far back as 1896. He is E. C. Richards, at present Research Engineer.

William Bearcraft, manager of the motor department, built the engine for the first Buick car. At that time the employees of the company numbered less than one hundred. C. J. Ross, General Factory Superintendent, has taken a more or less prominent part in seeing through the plant more than 985,000 cars. Chief Engineer E. A. DeWaters came to Buick in 1905 and F. A. Bowers, his Chief Assistant, shortly afterwards, so that the modern Buick car is largely due to development under their guidance. In the ranks there are several hundreds whose service covers a period of more than fifteen years.

In the sales department, E. T. Strong, now General Sales Manager, has assisted in the disposition of more than 900,000 Buicks. He was first employed as a special traveling representative, then as Branch Manager at Buffalo, Indianapolis, and Chicago, respectively. In 1916 Strong stepped into his present position. Since then, under his direction more than 750,000 cars, or three quarters of the total Buick production, have been marketed.

In the field organization throughout the country a similar situation prevails. Practically all the Buick branch managers and distributors have been with the company more than ten years and some of them considerably longer. All of these men have done their "bit" in the achievement of the million mark and naturally are imbued with a high degree of personal pride in the accomplishment.

TAKE SALTS IF STOMACH ISN'T ACTING RIGHT

Says Indigestion Results from an Excess of Hydrochloric Acid.

Undigested food delayed in the stomach decays, or rather ferments, the same as food left in the open air, says a noted authority. He also tells us that indigestion is caused by Hyperacidity meaning there is an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach which prevents complete digestion and starts food fermentation. Thus everything eaten soars in the stomach much like garbage soars in a can, forming acid fluids and gases which inflate the stomach like a toy balloon. Then we feel a heavy lumpy misery in the chest; we belch up gas; we eructate sour food or have heartburn, flatulence, water-brash or nausea.

He tells us to lay aside all digestive aids and instead get from any pharmacy four ounces of Jad Salts and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast and drink it while it is effervescing, and furthermore, to continue this for a week. While relief often follows the first dose, it is important to help neutralize the acidity, remove the gas-making mass, start the liver, stimulate the kidneys and thus promote a free flow of pure digestive juices. Jad Salts is inexpensive and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and sodium phosphate. This harmless salts is used for many stomach disorders with excellent results. ## FAMOUS "PEG" OF STAGE HERE ON THE SCREEN

"Peg of My Heart" Tops Bill at Delft Theatre First Half of Week.

"Peg of My Heart," with Laurette Taylor, who created the part on the legitimate stage, will come to the Delft theater Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

At the Strand, Clara Kimball Young will be seen Monday and Tuesday in her newest picture, "The Woman of Bronze."

"Peg of My Heart," which has Miss Taylor, of world-wide fame, is a tale of an Irish father and an English mother, of the Chichesters and Kingsworths, and of Sir Gerald Adair, Peg's legal guardian; and of the circumstances, amusing as well as heart-stirring that attend the young girl when she leaves the little Irish farmhouse where she was born and ventures among strangers to whom good form is the cardinal requirement.

As in the stage play, Miss Taylor has the assistance of Michael, the famous cannie actress with the masculine name, Michael has been with Miss Taylor in all her performances of Peg.

The screen production of "Peg O' My Heart" was directed by King Vidor. Miss Taylor's brilliant supporting cast includes such capable and popular players as Mahlon Hamilton, Russell Simpson, Ethel Grey Terry, Nigel Barrie, Lionel Belmore, Vera Lewis, Sidna Beth Ivins, D. R. O. Hattwell, Aileen O'Malley and Fred Huntly.

In "The Woman of Bronze," Clara Kimball Young is found in the atmosphere which her admirers like best—a sculptor's studio.

It is by far the most gripping, and at the same time the most difficult role Miss Young has ever played, and the result is her greatest screen triumph. The photoplay is filled with thrilling incidents, as one would expect in a story dealing with the attempt of a sculptor's wife to hold her husband, and to keep the flame of his artistry burning high, in the face of his infatuation for another woman. Here is a chance for emotional acting of the highest type, the portrayal of suffering voluntarily suppressed—for the sculptor's wife feared that any outbreak on her part might hinder her husband's work.
