

CRAZED ASSISTANT KILLS RECTOR

HARDING TRIES TO CHECK TALK ABOUT '24 PRESIDENTIAL RACE

TELLS REPORTERS SUCH GOSSIP IS ANNOYING.

BY DAVID LAWRENCE. (Copyright, 1923, by The Escanaba Press) Washington, April 12.—President Harding has made a determined effort to get back to the American people in the role of their chief executive instead of prospective candidate for re-nomination in 1924.

The president took advantage of the first opportunity to address the corps of Washington correspondents—nearly 150 of them went to the white house to hear his remarks—and while nothing that he said can be quoted directly he left the newspapermen with definite thoughts which he was not averse to their making plain to the country.

Lasker Question Gives Clue. As per custom, the correspondents had handed in written questions as they filed into the room and it was apparent when the president picked up the first query on the subject of politics that he had made up his mind to say something to offset the stories which had been circulated during his vacation trip.

The question asked of Mr. Harding was whether he intended to have Chairman Lasker of the United States Shipping Board, who is to resign the middle of June, become manager of the 1924 campaign. This was the cue. It was provoked by a recent newspaper story to that effect. The conversation which followed cannot under the rules be given but the correspondents went away with these impressions:

First—that the president has the highest regard for Chairman Lasker and believes he has done a most unselfish work which will stand out in history but the question of Mr. Lasker's relationship to the next campaign had not been discussed with him or anybody else.

Doesn't Want to Talk Politics. Second—that the president wanted ever so much to go to Alaska as he believed the conflict of opinion between the department of interior and department of agriculture was such that administrative processes in Alaska were impeded and the development of the region itself retarded; that his experience in visiting the Panama Canal zone just before inauguration was of immense value and had indirectly resulted in an economy to the government of hundreds of thousands of dollars; that he believed in direct contact by administrative officials and believed it was his real duty to go to Alaska.

Third—that any trip to Alaska necessarily involved a trans-continental journey and any journey of that kind inevitably required the making of a few remarks enroute—speeches under those circumstances are unavoidable, but that he wouldn't go to Alaska or across the continent if the newspapers insisted on making of him a candidate for office; that he had a big work to do and that he felt committed to his presidential tasks and ought not to be thrust into the role of a candidate and that a president should have at least three years uninterrupted by that sort of thing and that now was not the time to talk politics, so if he could go to Alaska without political embarrassments along the way, he would make a few speeches and discuss in a non-partisan way some of the important problems before the country, such as, for example, the railroad question.

Daugherty Acted Alone. Not a word was said or implied concerning the announcement made at Miami Beach by Attorney General Daugherty who on the occasion of the president's visit there called the newspapermen and told them he believed Mr. Harding would be re-nominated and re-elected. It was this announcement which led the newspapermen to revive the subject of presidential politics at this early date but there again one is not justified in interpreting the president's observations as a rebuke to his attorney general for the latter insists now that he did not intend so much significance to be attached to his utterance. He did tell the scribes at Miami that he wasn't talking for the president and he went further a day or so later and said he hadn't even discussed the question of a newspaper statement with the chief executive. His whole object was to squelch booms of would-be nominees in opposition to Mr. Harding.

CHIEFTAINS OF G. O. P. DISCUSS PARTY POLICY

Six Cities Want Nominating Convention Next Year.

Washington, April 12.—(By the Associated Press.)—Preliminary discussion relative to the 1924 convention city of the Republican party, together with the making of plans to wipe out the remainder of the deficit incurred by the Republicans in the 1920 campaign and a survey of the general political situation, constitute the outstanding developments of a series of conferences with Republican leaders, concluded here tonight by Fred W. Upham, treasurer of the Republican national committee.

Prominent Leaders Present. Participants in the conference with Mr. Upham included John T. Adams, chairman of the Republican national committee, who returned to Washington today after a trip abroad, Secretaries Weeks and Davis, Assistant Attorney General Rush Holland and others prominent in the councils of the party.

Mr. Upham, during his two days stay in the capitol, also has had two conferences with President Harding, but at these politics have been entered upon only in a general way it was explained.

The discussions which have been in progress and which will be continued by Upham tomorrow in New York with Charles D. Hiles, Republican national commit-tee man for New York, and Will H. Hays, former Republican national chairman, are understood from some of those who saw the Republican treasurer, to have developed.

Six Cities Considered. First, that consideration now is being given to six cities—Chicago, Kansas City, San Francisco, Cleveland, Washington and Buffalo as the site for the 1924 convention. That the deficit of approximately $1,700,000 resulting from the 1920 campaign has been reduced to about $300,000 and that steps have been taken which it is hoped by party leaders will wipe it out completely by June 1.

That party leaders expect that the fortunes of the Republican party in 1924 may turn largely on the general business conditions obtaining during the next nineteen months.

New Orleans, La., April 12.—(By the Associated Press.)—General William B. Haldeman of Louisville, Ky., was elected commander-in-chief of the United Confederate Veterans at the closing business session of the annual reunion here late today and Memphis, Tenn., was selected as the 1924 reunion city.

Dr. George Harding of Marion, O., father of President Harding, spoke to the veterans today. He declared he considered Robert E. Lee, the greatest of American generals and Jefferson Davis one of the country's greatest statesmen.

After thanking the veterans for the manner in which he had been received he added: "I want to thank the southern people too, for the kindness with which they have treated my son. The south never had a better friend than Warren G. Harding."

PRIEST SLAIN BY ASSOCIATE AT KALAMAZOO

SHOOTING FOLLOWS ARGUMENT AT DINNER.

Kalamazoo, Mich., April 12.—The Rev. Fr. Charles Dillon, assistant rector of St. Augustine's Catholic church, shot and killed Rev. Fr. Henry O'Neill, rector of the church, as they sat at the dinner table tonight, then calmly went to the telephone and notified the police and the coroner. Dillon fired four shots, all of which took effect. As Fr. O'Neill sank back into his chair, dying, Fr. Dillon turned to the Rev. Fr. McCullough, the only witness of the tragedy and handed him a phial containing holy oils, with the request that he administer the sacrament of extreme unction at once.

According to a statement the assistant rector is said to have made to police and county officers, he was "driven to fury" by alleged ill treatment at the hands of the dead priest.

"He has treated me with disrespect ever since I came here 13 months ago from Battle Creek," he is reported to have told the authorities.

BELIEVE HIM INSANE.

Chicago, April 12.—Fr. Charles Dillon, working as an assistant at St. Augustine's Catholic church at Kalamazoo, Mich., shot and killed Rev. Fr. O'Neill following an argument at the dinner table tonight, according to word received by Bishop Michael J. Gallagher, bishop of Detroit.

Bishop Gallagher said that he had been notified of the shooting by long distance telephone. According to his information, Fr. Dillon entered into an argument in some trivial matter with Fr. O'Neill while the two were at dinner and then pulled a pistol from his pocket and fired, killing Fr. O'Neill almost instantly.

Bishop Gallagher in a statement to the Associated Press tonight expressed the opinion that Fr. Dillon was insane, stating that he "was noted for his oddities."

British Churchmen Denounce Russians

London, April 12.—(By the Associated Press.)—The attitude of the Soviet government toward the Christian church of the world, as manifested in the recent execution of Vicar General Butchkevitch and the condemnation of Archbishop Zepiak, forms the subject of an indignant protest issued today over the names of the Archbishop of Canterbury, the Archbishop of York, Cardinal Bourne, Rabbi Hertz, General Bramwell Booth and other religious heads representing nearly every sect in England.

Addressed to "all men and women of good will," the document exhorts those who have at heart the well being of the world and the maintenance of religious liberty to register their condemnation of the Soviet actions.

Chief Justice Is White House Caller

Washington, April 12.—Chief Justice Taft had a conference of nearly three quarters of an hour late today with President Harding. STATE HOUSE PASSES FIVE NEW MEASURES

Election Petition Costs Would Call for State-ments.

Lansing, April 12.—Five new bills were introduced and 21 others were reported out of committees in the house of representatives today. Three election measures were among the new bills. One of these would require statements of expenditures incurred in the circulation of petitions for political candidates. Another would amend the corrupt practices act to call for a stricter accounting of expenditures in election activities, particularly in the circulation of campaign literature.

"Klux" Bill Reported. The pre-primary convention bill would require a referendum brought by an initiatory petition signed by 25 per cent of the electors. The pre-primary convention would be held on the sixth Tuesday preceding the primary.

Rep. Burns' "Ku Klux Klan" bill was reported out without recommendation by the judicial committee. No motion was made to place it on the calendar.

The house adopted the corporation tax bill prescribing a maximum levy of $450,000. The maximum levy now is $400,000 in excess of that fixed by the senate. In the debate preceding the vote the measure was attacked as an attempt to penalize industry.

Four Year Term Beaten. The Henze bill giving the supervisors power to remove county road commissioners was carried 61 to 3.

The house voted down the Palmer constitutional amendment which would fix the terms of governor and lieutenant-governor at four instead of two years and restrict the service to one term.

"King Ben" Dead, Buried By Followers in Secret Tomb, Says Benton Harbor Rumor

LANSING, April 12.—Rumors that Benjamin Purnell, missing leader of the Israelite House of David, is dead, and that his body has been secreted in an underground tomb at Benton Harbor by his lieutenants in order that his claim to immortality may not be exploded, probably will be investigated by state officials.

The rumor is the latest to be advanced as explaining the possible whereabouts of the cult leader. It is based upon a strange story of a subterranean chamber beneath the House of Shiloh, Purnell's official residence, and upon the faith of his followers that he is immortal.

Purnell last was seen by those closely associated with him at Christmas time last year, according to their statements. He was ill and announced he was going away for a rest. The latest rumor is to the effect that he died and that a tomb was fashioned by his lieutenants in the underground passageway and his body hidden. Knowledge that Purnell had died, it is explained, would have destroyed the rock on which the cult is built.

Purnell is known to have been an old man. A witness in a recent suit against the colony testified the leader used hair dye. Although intimating they probably would investigate this latest report, state officials still cling to their belief today that Purnell had fled.

PARLIAMENT SETTLES DOWN

BONAR LAW PULLS MINISTRY OUT OF "HOLE."

London, April 12.—(By the Associated Press.)—The parliamentary crisis was quietly surmounted today when, after the government yielded to the Laborite demand to appoint a committee to investigate the grievances of the ex-service men, the opposition permitted a motion that the speaker leave the chair to be put without further resistance.

Thereupon, in accordance with constitutional usage, that grievance must be heard before supplies are granted, the house began a discussion of various subjects, including the question of the furious hindrances placed upon British trade by the French action in the Ruhr. The discussions having proceeded about three hours, Sir Phillip Lloyd-Graeco for the government, moved closure, which was carried 241 to 135, and the motion that the speaker leave the chair was agreed to unopposed.

The government thus received its defeat of Tuesday with a vote showing its normal majority, but it is generally considered to have suffered badly in prestige.

In what a few of the delegates declared was "steam roller fashion,"

HUNTER ASKED FOR TROOPS IN HERRIN REGION

SAYS BLACK KNEE SITUATION WAS SERIOUS.

Springfield, Ill., April 12.—(By the Associated Press.)—Declaring that Adjutant General Carl E. Black, when informed by a personnel officer, Colonel Sam Hunter, on June 21, 1922, that serious trouble was impending near Herrin, Ill., replied: "Let damn fools go to it," was made by Colonel Hunter today at a legislative inquiry into the Herrin massacre.

In direct contradiction to testimony yesterday of the adjutant general, Colonel Hunter asserted he repeatedly asked his superior to send troops in order that bloodshed might be averted. Even late at 3 p. m. Wednesday, July 21, a short time after two men were slain, according to Colonel Hunter, the dispatch of troops Herrin would have prevented further bloodshed.

Hunter Asked Troops. General Black testified he received no request from any source at any time for troops. William county. Colonel Hunter declared he requested troops during every telephone conversation with the general and that he also had transmitted to him a request for militia from W. J. Lester, president of the Southern Illinois Coal company, and C. K. McDowell, superintendent of the company's mine, who was slain June 22.

After the alleged remark of Adjutant General Black's was mentioned by Colonel Hunter, another sensation came when he declared in answer to questions of Chief Michael Igoe, Democrat of Chicago, that General Black recently asked him to change and rewrite his written report of the rioting made July 5.

Hunter's Only Witness. Pursuing the matter further Mr. Igoe obtained a statement from the colonel that General Black's request had been made "a week or ten days" after the house of representatives of an investigation of the fair send troops to Williamson. Colonel Hunter was the witness today and the committee adjourned until next Wednesday.

NO MYSTERY, NO SCIENCE, COUE PICTURE

French Chemist Explains His Method of Aiding Others.

There is nothing mysterious about M. Emil Coue or his methods. With a simplicity that was both charming and convincing, the little French chemist, in a screen version of his lecture, gave Delft audiences yesterday a glimpse of his work.

To Press readers who followed the remarkable series of articles written in Nancy, France, by Milton Bronner, N. E. A. staff correspondent, about the work of the French scientists, the picture was of special interest.

There is nothing scientific about the picture. It is simple outline of the talks and demonstrations he gave on his recent tour of the United States.

On the same program is a delightful comedy drama, "Thirty Days," one of the last pictures made by Wallace Reid before his fatal illness. Amusing complications arise from and surround Wally's attempt to avoid death by murder by going to jail. Reid is pursued by a gang of murderous Italians and flees to the safety of a cell.

The Strand program is "topped" by Gladys Walton picture, "Gossip," the story of a girl of the old South, fifty years behind her times, who is suddenly thrown into contact with the jazz edges of the modern world.

CONTRACTS FOR NEW SAW MILL ARE AWARDED

2 Months Required to Complete Plant at Chemical Location

Contracts for all of the material and equipment for the Delta Chemical & Iron Company's new sawmill at Wells, have been awarded and actual construction work will be started on the site of the mill destroyed by fire a few weeks ago, as soon as weather conditions will permit.

Cut Operations. Because of the destruction of the saw mill, through which all of the wood burned in the charcoal ovens formerly passed, it is impossible to operate all departments of the big plant at full capacity and because of a resultant insufficient output of charcoal, it has been found necessary to completely suspend operations at the iron furnace.

Will Not Increase Prices Until May 1st

Firestone Prices on Fabric and Cord Passenger Car Tires and Tubes, also Solid and Pneumatic Truck Tires Will Advance May 1st

The postponement of this price revision is possible only because of our realization of the price danger in the British Crude Rubber Restriction Act which became effective November 1, 1922. We were fortunate in our rubber purchases before the Restriction Act increased the price of crude rubber 150%.

We have always endeavored to champion the cause of better made tires delivered at lowest cost to the tire user by economical manufacturing and distribution. And we are glad of the opportunity to give the car owner the additional saving at this time.

Firestone Cords embody certain special processes which result in their producing mileage records, heretofore unheard-of in the industry. Among the more important of these superior methods are blending, tempering, air-bag cure and double gum-dipping.

Firestone Dealers are co-operating with us in our movement to supply your needs at present prices as long as their stock lasts and we have advised our dealers that we will supply them with additional tires this month only so far as our output will permit.

REXTON GIRL STEALS COAT FROM EMPLOYER

Miss Mary Tully, of Rexton, employed at Manistique, was arraigned in justice court here Thursday, charged with having taken several articles of wearing apparel from the Ray Smith home, including a seal plush coat belonging to Mrs. W. W. Parker.

Miss Tully was engaged a short time ago to keep house at the Smith home, tannery location. Here she was given the freedom of the house by Mr. Smith, and is said to have often entertained young men at the house during the employer's absence. Irregularities in the young girl's conduct were noted by Mr. Smith, but no complaint was made until Mrs. Parker asked for the immediate return of a coat which the girl was wearing about in Manistique.

Arraigned before Justice McKinney, Miss Tully produced the stolen articles, which included a cashmere and skirt in addition to the coat, all of which were taken from a trunk at the Smith home. She did not seem worried by the charges lodged against her, and when a fine was imposed, she was confident of her ability to raise the money in the half hour allowed her.

In addition to the fine, Justice McKinney exacted a promise from the young lady that she would leave Manistique today.

Miss Tully is 18, she said. Her mother died more than a year ago, since which time she has been left more or less to shift for herself.

FLOOD INQUIRY REPORT MADE

Committee Sends Copies of Its Findings to Many Firms.

Resolutions, signed by the members of Manistique's recently appointed flood committee, will today be in the hands of Escanaba, Gladstone, Manistique and Minneapolis firms who have holdings on the Manistique river.

The program as outlined is the result of a careful investigation and observation carried out by expert river men on the committee. The final draft was made Wednesday, the various members of the committee affixed their signatures Thursday, and the paper was approved Thursday afternoon at a special meeting of the city council called by the mayor.

Copies were made at once, and sent to companies that have holdings in the districts where flood prevention measures are suggested.

The following is a copy of the resolutions, which were released for publication after their approval by the committee yesterday:

Manistique, Michigan, April 11th, 1922.

To the Mayor and Common Council of the City of Manistique: Gentlemen—

Your committee, appointed by your body to investigate conditions along and in connection with the Manistique River with a view to elimination of danger from flood, and to submit recommendations as to the action to be taken as preventive measures, submit the following report and recommendations:

We have made an examination of the conditions along the Manistique River, and recommend that the following precautionary measures be adopted by the city or parties controlling and operating along and in said river:

First: Dam on Indian River at Indian River Road.

We recommend that the slash in this dam be removed at once and Indian Lake lowered as much as possible before crest of high water reaches Manistique and that when the crest of high water reaches Manistique, the slash in this dam should be placed, and the water from Indian Lake held back during flood stage.

Second: Main or Sorting Boom.

This should be closed and securely fastened as soon as possible. Third:

Loose Boom.

All loose booms between the Minneapolis, St. Paul, and Sault Ste. Marie Railway Bridge, and main or sorting boom above, should be secured to the river banks or piers to prevent jamming against the Soo Line bridge, the dam below, and the Manistique and Lake Superior Railroad bridge. Fourth:

Loose Pulpwood, Cedar and Logs.

All loose pulpwood, cedar, logs and other forest products in the river just above and below the Soo Line Railway bridge should be speedily removed, to prevent their jamming against railroad bridges and main dam. Gates in Upper Dam and in Lower End of Flume Wall.

It appears that the heavy ice on the upper side of the gates has been cut away, and the gates do not appear to have been recently raised. All gates should be immediately tested to insure easy and quick handling of same when the necessity therefor arises. Sixth:

Sluiceways and Gates in Old Chicago Lumber Co.'s Dam.

All sluiceways in the sluiceway at end of dam next to flume wall should be removed, and all sluiceways in sluiceway alongside the Stack Lumber company mill should also be removed, and the gate or gates underneath the mill should be opened. Seventh:

Obstructions and Debris.

There is at present in the river below the highway bridge, a mass of driftwood, stumps, trees, boomsticks, logs, and debris from the cofferdams used in the construction of the bridges and flume, and also the old piers now

NOREUS URGES APPLICATIONS FOR TRAINING

Quota for Citizens' Camp Being Rapidly Filled.

Reports showing that Delta county's quota of twelve men to attend the citizens' training camp which opens at Camp Custer August 1, is being rapidly filled has led to an announcement by E. J. Noreus, chairman of the county committee, urging Gladstone young men who wish to attend the training camp, to make their application to him at once.

Applications for the training camp may be made at any time with Mr. Noreus at the First National Bank. In addition to Mr. Noreus, Leslie Goddard and Fred Harris of Escanaba are serving on the committee.

At last season's camp, Lee S. LaPorte, Lloyd M. Seelye and Gordon E. Smith of this city, attended but so far they have not made known whether they intend to reenter. Of six who attended last year from Escanaba, five will return this year. This leaves but seven places for men from other parts of the county.

No Expense.

There will be no expenses connected with the trip, the government paying all expenses, including uniforms, food and medical care. Transportation will be paid by the men but each will be reimbursed upon his arrival at camp at the rate of five cents a mile.

Applications to attend may be made by any man between the ages of seventeen and twenty-four years, who is of sound character, intelligence and physical condition, and who is a native born citizen, or, if foreign born, has made application for first papers of naturalization.

There is no later service obligation connected with the training, although it is hoped that an inclination to associate with the national guard or reserve will be shown later.

Devotion to country, good comradeship, teamwork, and a feeling of democracy, coupled with high respect for good discipline and morale, will be aimed at throughout, and the purpose of the war department in holding the training camps, namely to bring together young men of all occupations on a basis of equality under the most favorable conditions of outdoor life, will be considered at all times.

Register at Once.

The location of the camp is ideal, and the training course mapped out includes military training, physical training and recreation, in the latter, lectures, moving picture programs, amateur and professional musical and dramatic entertainments.

While the date is a few months away, no time is to be lost by those young men who plan to attend, and Mr. Noreus urges that application be made with him as soon as possible in order that Gladstone may be well represented at the training camp.

AUXILIARY RENEWS ITS ACTIVITIES

Enthusiasm and a spirit of cooperation marked the meeting held Wednesday evening of the Women's Auxiliary to August Mattson post, American Legion, the first meeting of the organization to be held in some time. Over thirty members were present.

While Mrs. Katherine Stiles Laughton, state officer, of Menominee, was unable to appear, members of the local post being invited to attend the banquet given last evening at Escanaba in her honor, Mrs. Annette Pavlov and Mrs. Michael Jensen of Escanaba gave able assistance in the reorganization of the local post.

Officers of the new auxiliary unit elected and installed at the meeting are:

Mrs. F. J. Miller, president.

Mrs. Marion Cameron, first vice-president.

Mrs. Cliff Murker, second vice-president.

Mrs. E. C. Dayton, treasurer.

Mrs. Gus Lierman, secretary.

While the society has been inactive for some time, with the reorganization Wednesday night, one of the strongest posts in the county will undoubtedly be built up.

CHANGES IN PARCEL RATES ARE ANNOUNCED

Postmaster Miller Gives Out Rulings on Mail to Canada.

Following orders received from the postal department at Washington, Postmaster Frank Miller has announced that several changes effective at once will be made in regard to mail going to Canada, of which the local post office handles a good deal.

Rulings going into effect April 1, state that parcels will not be registered to Canada unless they are sealed and prepaid at the first class or letter rate of two cents an ounce or fraction thereof, in addition to a regular ten-cent fee for registration. The indemnity which was formerly $9.65 has been raised to $25.

Parcels going to Canada may be insured, however, at regular parcel post rates of twelve cents a pound in addition to insurance fees which will be the same as they are for mailing in this country. The insurance fees are:

Values to $5—3 cents.

Values to $25—5 cents.

Values to $50—10 cents.

Values to $100—25 cents.

Another ruling to which special attention must be paid is that parcels to Canada must bear the name of the province in which addressee is to receive the parcel.

May Weigh More.

The limit of indemnity fixed for lost or damaged registered matter when mailed to points in the United States or its possessions, has also been changed, having been increased to $100. The registry fee has been increased to ten cents for articles valued at $50, and 20 cents for articles worth more than $50.

The weight limit for parcel post parcels going to Canada has been increased from four pounds, six ounces, to eleven pounds.

LOCAL WOMEN ARE HONORED AT CONVENTION

Honors were conferred on members of Rachel Hirs, Lady Macabees, of this city, Wednesday, when several Gladstone women were elected to high offices in the county order, at a county convention held at Escanaba.

Mrs. Catherine Watson was elected past commander; Mrs. Mary Pease, record keeper; Mrs. McPerson, of Rapid River, chaplain; Mrs. Marie LaCombe, sergeant; Mrs. Ella Vanderweige, picket; and Mrs. Edna Young of Rapid River, sentinel.

In addition, Mrs. V. E. Tillman was chosen Gladstone delegate to represent the local lodge at the Great Hiv review which will be held in June at South Bend, Ind.

Gladstone members who attended the convention at Escanaba were: Meedames Catherine Watson, Isabel Tillman, Mary Pease, Mary Rollins, Elita Eaton, Marie LaCombe, Ella Vanderweige, Laura Castel, Myrtle Potarins, Avis Sanford.

The convention was attended by over fifty delegates from all parts of the county and consisted of two business sessions, morning and afternoon, and a dancing party in the evening.

F. R. A. Party Is Enjoyable

The dancing party given last evening at Wassa Hall by the Fraternal Reserve association was thoroughly enjoyed by members of the society and their friends who were invited. Dancing, including old fashioned numbers was the chief amusement of the evening. Refreshments were served at the close of the party.

EAGLES WIN PRIZES FOR JOHN SCHUSTER

Local Dog Fancier Takes Premiums at Oshkosh

Returning Thursday morning from the Fox River Valley Kennel Club show held at Oshkosh, John Schuster, of this city, brought with him three prizes, one by the two beagles which he bred at the show.

Schuster's "Wanderer," a copy of Mr. Schuster's own breeding, was the winner in the beagle class, and also was the "reserved" winner, which is similar to the sweepstakes winner in other classes. His other entries, "Rocky" and "Driver," won the novice class.

The dog owners from various parts of the country in attendance at the show were regally entertained by the Oshkosh kennel men during the two days of show, which extended through Wednesday and Thursday.

A feature of the show was the performance of an imported German police dog, exhibited by Arthur's. Following the commands of his trainer, spoken in German language, the dog killed and threw a dummy figure, at the sound of a pistol shot, demonstrating the wonderful work of capturing criminals by the highly trained German Police dogs. The animal is said to have been purchased at cost of $3,000, and had been recently imported that it was yet able to understand commands spoken in other language than the German.

"Wanderer" and "Driver," Mr. Schuster's winning entries, returned to their Manistique home the second morning train Thursday. They seemed unaffected by the honors thrust upon them at the Oshkosh show, and were more concerned in getting their breakfast.

Judge Fead Honor Guest at Banquet

Manistique K. P.'s enjoyed a banquet at their rooms on Cedar street Tuesday night, preceding the administering of degree work.

Judge Louis H. Fead, who is here for the spring term of court addressed the Pythians, as did court reporter, John A. France, and the sumptuous banquet was eaten with a relish by the large crowd present.

The K. P. Hall has recently been the scene of many enjoyable social events, due to the generosity of the Pythians in allowing the use of their rooms, and other events are planned for the near future.

Members of the American Legion have been given the use of the hall without rent for the holding of their meetings, through a motion passed by the Pythians. The Manistique post holds its regular session in these quarters tonight. Legion meeting dates are now every second and fourth Thursday of each month.

TRY SULPHUR ON AN ECZEMA SKIN

Costs Little and Overcomes Trouble Almost Over Night.

Any breaking out of the skin, even fiery, itching eczema, can be quickly overcome by applying Mentho-Sulphur, declares a noted skin specialist. Because of its germ destroying properties, this sulphur preparation instantly brings ease from skin irritation, soothes and heals the eczema right up and leaves the skin clear and smooth.

It seldom fails to relieve the torment without delay. Sufferers from skin trouble should obtain a small jar of Rowles' Mentho-Sulphur from any good druggist and use it like cold cream. Adv.

MAN O' WAR'S BROTHER LAZY

But Josephine Thinks He May Be Able to Step Out On Track.

By Josephine Van de Grift. New York, April 12.—I've just been over to see Man o' War's younger brother.

Messenger is his name and August Belmont, who sold Man o' War for $5000, has refused an offer of $125,000 for Messenger.

Belmont made no outer show of his chagrin, but when Harry Whitney came along recently and offered $100,000 for Messenger, Belmont refused the offer, and when someone later increased the offer to $125,000 Belmont still refused.

Is Messenger expected to excel the record of his distinguished elder brother? Has Unusual Disposition. Messenger has a gentle eye, a slim ankle, and his coat is the color of a rich coffee frappe.

Belmont made no outer show of his chagrin, but when Harry Whitney came along recently and offered $100,000 for Messenger, Belmont refused the offer, and when someone later increased the offer to $125,000 Belmont still refused.

MANY BIG LEAGUE STARS COME FROM THIS TINY COLLEGE

Brother Agnon, spiritual mentor and athletic counselor to young players at St. Mary's College, is credited with keen baseball eyes and hence gets a great deal of credit for the achievements of "His Boys" in the big leagues.

BY GENE COHN. NEA Staff Writer. Oakland, Calif.—What Ohio has been to the "White House," St. Mary's College is to baseball.

This rather obscure and modest secular school has produced more sparkling diamond dust than half a dozen of the big universities combined.

Its list of big-league products reads like a cross-section of any baseball annual. Its crop of fledglings never dwindles. Scouts literally haunt its unpretentious grounds.

As dean of athletics at the college he does pick them, and manages the team sometimes—and his selections speak for themselves.

For 36 years Brother Agnon has been at St. Mary's and, before that, at colleges in the same vicinity. He has been both spiritual mentor and counselor to thousands of youngsters.

Here are some of the big leaguers turned out by St. Mary's who have figured in the baseball limelight in late years: "Dutch" Leonard, late of Boston American.

KILBANE TITLE IN REAL PERIL

Criqui or Dundee Would Give Veteran Hard Scrap.

BY BILLY EVANS. Who will be the next feather-weight champion? Will the aging Kilbane be able to maintain his superiority, which has been but little tested for several years.

I was in New York when Eugene Criqui arrived from France to contest for the featherweight title. While I didn't get it straight from Criqui, since he speaks no English, I learned from one of his many interpreters that the European champion was a much disappointed young man.

Criqui finds himself in the rather unusual position of being a champion without a championship match that he thought was all but cut and dried. Here's the how:

Wants to Box John. Criqui came to this country to meet Johnny Kilbane for the featherweight title. Prior to sailing he had accepted terms for such a bout.

Kilbane is under suspension by the New York boxing commission. It had been planned to hold the bout at the Polo Grounds in New York City.

On the surface that doesn't seem to be asking very much of a champion. Going deeper into the proposition it looms up as a rather large task.

Kilbane is four years older than Dundee. Kilbane has fought but little in the past three or four years. Dundee just about leads all the prominent fighters of the country in keeping busy.

I fear Kilbane would have his troubles with Dundee. Such a happening would queer the proposed bout with Criqui.

CIRCUIT COURT TERM TO OPEN HERE ON MONDAY

Total of 106 Cases Scheduled for Action On Calendar.

A total of 106 cases will make up the calendar for the April term of the Delta county circuit court, which will open at the court house on Monday morning, with Judge R. C. Flannigan presiding. In the calendar a total of 60 criminal cases are booked for action, in addition to 22 jury civil cases; 18 chancery cases and 6 cases in which no action has been recorded for more than a year. Members of the jury summoned for service during the coming court term will report for duty at 9 o'clock on Monday morning, as it is possible that the actual trial of cases will be started before the noon recess is taken.

Long Term Indicated. Unless many of the cases on the calendar are continued for various reasons it is now believed that the coming circuit court session will occupy two complete weeks.

Following are the jurors who will report for service at the court house next Monday.

Many Merchants Removing Snow

Following the lead taken by Councilman W. J. Hanrahan, in engaging teamsters to haul away the accumulation of snow from in front of his store in the 600 block of Ludington street, other merchants on the street are following his example. Snow was cleared from in front of Mr. Hanrahan's store on Wednesday and yesterday teamsters started the work of breaking down and hauling away the drifted snow from in front of the L. K. Edward's Company agency and from in front of the Delt and Strand theaters.

Under action by the council on Monday night, in including in the annual budget provision for the levying of a special assessment of one quarter of one percent to cover the cost of removing snow from Ludington street throughout the next winter, work that is being done this spring at considerable expense to individual owners and tenants, will be unnecessary next spring.

WAGE CONCLAVE IS OPENED FOR DOCK OPERATION. Season's Scale Is Subject of Conference at Chicago. Negotiations looking to the establishment of a wage scale for the coming season were opened yesterday in Chicago between railroad officials and representatives of the Top Dock Workers' Union. Unseasonable weather conditions have delayed the opening of wage negotiations well beyond the usual time, but until a considerable change in weather conditions is recorded at the head of the lakes there will be no need for haste in the negotiations even at this time. Final Meeting Later. While the preliminary conferences will be held in Chicago, it is considered likely that Ashland, or some other upper lake port, will be selected as the scene for the final negotiations before the season's scale is finally fixed. MUST BE PERMANENT POLICY

All elements in this city's population will readily admit that Escanaba's greatest need to insure industrial progress is new industries.

The Escanaba Chamber of Commerce and the present city administration have done much and will do more in making Escanaba a desirable place in which to live.

But the two fundamental qualifications, in addition to making Escanaba a city in which outsiders will desire to live, before new industries can be attracted are a moderate tax rate and cheap power. The latter inducement, to draw new capital for investment here is now to be realized, but the tremendous stumbling block of an abnormally high tax rate still exists and no matter how efficient may be our municipal government, because of the location here of valuable railroad property that cannot be taxed locally, must continue exist until the city administration adopts a policy developing a new source of revenue, as a means of lowering city taxes.

Cities of moderate size in Michigan with the lowest tax rates, a factor that in recent years has made possible a tremendous industrial development, are cities owning their own public utilities and which apply a part of the earnings of those utilities to the conduct of the affairs of the municipalities.

A majority of the members of the Escanaba city council have voted this year, as an emergency measure, to take $20,000 from the earnings of Escanaba's utilities for the definite purpose of paying the city's portion of contemplated street improvements. Until the city council recognizes its inability to materially reduce the city tax rate, because of the limited taxable resources of the municipality, and accepts the example of cities similarly located and adopts as a definite policy the well recognized theory that city owned utilities owe a portion of their earnings to the taxpayers who made their purchase possible, and thus reduce the city tax rate, can Escanaba ever hope to progress industrially.

Such a policy has been recognized as sound by other cities where utilities are municipally owned and industrial progress has been made possible by offering to outside capital an attractive city tax rate, through diversion of a portion of the utility earnings. Such a policy was set up by Escanaba's present city manager, when as chief engineer for the Michigan Public Utilities Commission three years ago he prepared a report on this city's utilities and held that the taxpayers of Escanaba were entitled to benefit by one half of the utility earnings. A majority of the members of the city council have voted this year to accept this policy only as an emergency. Before the stumbling block in the path of Escanaba's industrial growth can be removed, it should be adopted as a permanent and a definite policy for the future.

LOW INSURANCE.
 The pacifists are fond of telling us that about 80 per cent of all Federal expenditures are for war or items resulting from war. Well, what of it? They amount to about one per cent of the nation's wealth, which is a reasonable expense for protection from all the rest of the world. Suppose the protective influence of the police, the militia, and the army were removed from the individual pacifist, and he were forced to protect himself, what proportion of his own wealth would be spent for that purpose? It is safe to say it would be much more than one per cent.

Chapter XXII.

For an hour or more Ann never moved. She sat huddled over the table in an attitude of dejection that nearly amounted to despair. Then the baby whimpered and she rose, gave him his food and laid him in his crib for his afternoon nap. After that she mechanically cleared the table, washed the dishes, and the little house in order, again slumped into a chair.

Was there any way she could avoid having Grace Edmunds as a guest in her home. She had made her excuse, her faint protest, and it had been carelessly brushed aside. Dick hadn't even noticed it—or her.

Grace's talk of the director, her declaring he would be jealous of Dick, that she intended to make him think Dick a single man, came back to her as she gazed unseeing through the open door. She thought of Besie, but what could she do? Grace never had paid any attention to her, even when visiting in her house for months.

Suppose she refused to let Grace come?

Dick would be angry for a time, but wouldn't it be better to have it so than to have her there making her bold advances to him? But she was near, the location lot was just beyond the edge of their range. She would contrive to see Dick—perhaps see more of him than if she were in the house. So the long afternoon passed, until baby woke, and it was time to prepare the dinner. Mechanically she moved about the familiar household tasks, usually done with such delight. Would Grace Edmunds come in with Dick? She said but two places. If Grace came she would see she had not expected. But the thought her, thankful there was no need to speak. Then she took the baby and busied herself with him while Grace and Dick talked.

"What makes you so quiet, Ann?" Dick asked after a bit. Grace had finished and she was smoking a cigaret, while Dick puffed away on his pipe.

"We'll go out on the porch. Come out there when you get through," Dick rose, and followed by Grace, went outside into the soft warm white night, while tears dropped from Ann's eyes on to the child.

Quietly she cleared the table. Grace had simply pushed her plate and cup back, making no offer to help. Ann resented this in a childish sort of way; it seemed to add to her unhappiness. She to remain in the house clearing away while Grace monopolized Dick, who often assisted her with the dinner things when they were alone.

"He's different already," she said with a sob. But she dried her eyes, did up the work, then quietly joined them on the porch.

"Time you came," Dick said as he drew forward an easy chair for her, then turned to Grace: "Ann's such a fine housekeeper. She never neglects anything."

"Yes, Ann's domestic," Grace replied carelessly, her accent showing disdain of the quality. Then she took up the conversation Ann's appearance had interrupted, an account of how she hoped to star another season.

"Father and mother are wild because I'm in the movies," she said. "They tried to make me give it up. But I wouldn't, and when I'm a star they'll stop objecting."

"You'll be one or I miss my guess," Dick declared looking admiringly at her.

"I know I shall! Now, Ann, show me where I'm to sleep. I'm dead tired, and we have to be on the lot at 9 o'clock, so call me in time."
