

SOO DEBATING TEAM HERE TO OPEN SEASON

Will Debate Deep Waterway Question at High School.

The Sault Ste. Marie high school affirmative debating team will open the local debating season here tonight, in a contest with the Escanaba negative team, discussing the merits of the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence deep waterway.

S. M. Matthews, Escanaba attorney, will preside. There will be but one judge instead of the three formerly employed in similar contests. The decision will be given by Prof. William Crow, head of the department of political science at Lawrence college, Appleton, Wis.

Escanaba's negative debaters, who will appear here, are Rodger Chenoweth, Virginia Reek and Alfred Lawrence. The captain of the team, Lawrence Hartwig, is ill and will not be able to speak. Escanaba's affirmative team—Ruth Erickson, Gunnar Back and Hjalmar Nelson—will go to the Soo early this morning to meet the Soo negatives in a discussion of the same subject. This Escanaba team is also minus one of its regulars, Harvey Jergenson, who is ill and will not go to the Soo. In last year's "double header" debate with Soo, Escanaba high won a double victory.

ESCANABA BOY IS KILLED IN SEATTLE, WASH.

Car Crashes Into Ray Hamelin; Driver Is Held

Roul Ray Hamelin, 20, of Escanaba, died Sunday in a Seattle, Wash., hospital, from injuries received about 24 hours earlier when he was struck by an automobile, it was announced yesterday in telegrams received by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Hamelin, 418 Ludington street.

Hamelin was discharged from the United States navy in Seattle about a month ago. According to word received here, Hamelin was standing on a curb when an automobile, the driver of which was temporarily blinded by some foreign substance which struck him in an eye, crashed into him. He was rushed to a hospital where he lived until the following day. The body will be held in Seattle until an inquest, fixing the blame for the accident, is concluded.

Gerald Cleary, secretary of the local American Legion post, last night wired the Seattle Legion for full particulars. It will be decided today, it was believed, when the body will be sent to Escanaba.

INSTITUTE FOR BUSINESS MEN HERE NEXT WEEK

Sessions of the merchants' institute, to be held here next week under the direction of Ben R. Yardman and Pryor Irwin, nationally known lecturers and specialists on business problems will be held in the city hall, it was announced last night by the retailers' committee of the chamber of commerce. The evening meetings will begin at 8 p. m. and the public will be cordially invited to attend.

There will be noon-day lunches on all five days, at the hotels of the city.

The institute will open next Monday and will continue for five days.

GOLDMAN GIVES A FINE TALK AT ROTARY MEET

Marinette Attorney Inspires Members of Local Club

One of the most inspiring talks given before members of the Escanaba Rotary Club in many weeks was that delivered yesterday by Atty. Harry Goldman of Marinette. Mr. Goldman, former president of the Marinette Rotary Club was invited to Escanaba yesterday to tell the members of the local club the elements that have made possible at Marinette one of the most successful Rotary organizations in the northwest.

In his address yesterday Atty. Goldman appealed to the Rotarians of Escanaba to live up to the high ideals of upon which the organization is founded. He insisted that Rotary in its operation, has four fundamental objects: the betterment of the members; betterment of the members' business; betterment of the members' craft or profession and betterment of the members' home, town, state and nation.

He asserted that any Rotary organization not conducted with those objects in view was not properly functioning. He advised the development of talent among the club's membership and the adoption of a serious purpose in achieving the ends for which Rotary was designed.

Mr. Goldman's address held the attention of the members closely to the end and when he had concluded he was rewarded by a roar of applause.

MRS. HERRO IS ACQUITTED IN CIRCUIT COURT

Mrs. John Herro, restaurant proprietor, was declared not guilty of a charge of stealing electrical current, by a jury in circuit court yesterday. The city utilities department declared that Mrs. Herro had obtained current unlawfully by attaching a "jumper" to the wiring. The "jumper" she was alleged to have used, a "check" meter placed by linemen on a pole near the building and the meter in the Herro premises, were offered in evidence.

The defense called no witnesses and the jury was out but a short time, returning a verdict about 5:40.

Judge Flannigan instructed the jury that in order to prove the defendant guilty, it would be necessary to establish the fact that she knew the "jumper" was in use for the purpose of defrauding the city.

Attorney H. R. Dotsch represented Mrs. Herro in the trial of the case.

KIWANIS HEARS ABOUT NATIONAL POLE BUSINESS

Traffic Chief Gives Club Interesting Talk

The National Pole Company of Escanaba, supplying the nation with 65 percent of its cedar telephone and telegraph poles, is the largest institution of its kind in the world, Guy H. Ramsey, traffic manager of the company, told members of the Kiwanis club yesterday at their regular weekly luncheon at the Ludington hotel. Mr. Ramsey's was one of a series of industrial talks by Kiwanians which have been in progress for several weeks.

"Cedar," Mr. Ramsey told his audience, comes from an Arabic word meaning "everlasting" and is one of the oldest woods known to man. He recalled frequent references to it in the Bible, especially during the building of King Solomon's temple, and he declared that it is still in great favor with buyers in lumber desiring permanency. In recent years the lasting qualities of poles have been extended, he said, due to the process of creosote treatment, but he said that the annual demand of the country for replacements was about 4,000,000 poles, a large percentage of which are supplied by the National Pole Company from their yards in a half-dozen states and in many districts transported on the company's own steamers and cars.

Mr. Ramsey reviewed the history of the traffic profession, told some of the duties and problems that confront a traffic manager and their relation to the purchasing and sales department and the importance of concentrating supplies and products at advantageous points.

Cotton Tells of Trip.

By careful planning, he said, the National was able to put 25,000 poles in the sleet-wrecked regions of the Fox River valley in February, 1922, despite the fact that train movements on the railroads were almost paralyzed.

He insisted that unless some steps are taken at once to con-

"A PURITAN WIFE"

BY JANE PHELPS

Chapter 26.
 The picture was finished and Grace had taken her things over to her cousin's. Ann breathed freer again, although she did not flatter herself she was rid of her entirely. But those morning and afternoon walks together would be over and Dick would not spend so much time with her. He had been on the lot often—Ann found out—had even neglected his work at times because of it. She said nothing of that, he had worked hard enough to need a little recreation, and had it not been for Grace's appropriation of him Ann would have been glad he was interested, that he took a little rest.

He had drifted back into the old intimacy of the year before, even more exaggerated it seemed, especially on Grace's part. She would link her arm in his, as they walked, ruffle his hair when she passed his chair in the house, or demand services, trifling in themselves, that Ann never thought of asking from him.

Just once Ann, stung beyond endurance by these actions, said to Dick:
 "Grace is too familiar with you, Dick. It doesn't look well."
 "She doesn't mean anything!" he had replied carelessly but Ann noticed he flushed and looked uncomfortable.

"Perhaps not," Ann went on, "but it isn't nice—a real lady is never bold."
 "Grace wasn't brought up as you were, Ann—your little Puritan," he replied, and Ann said no more. It never seemed to enter Dick's head that she might be jealous. Ann would not confess it, yet she was, horribly jealous of her big blond husband, and at times really suffered.

"Goodness, Ann, what a fuss you are! You have to give a man a little rope. You expect a man to be a saint. They're not built that way, although Dick is about as near one as any man I ever met."
 "Please remember what I ask, Grace," Ann returned seriously.
 That night Dick said, speaking perhaps more crossly than she ever had heard him:
 "Been complaining of me to Grace, have you? Want me to be laughed at because of your narrow ideas. It's humiliating, Ann, and I won't stand for it. Other men take a drink, and their wives don't go around complaining about it."
 Ann made no reply. She had not thought Grace would repeat what she said, and she resented it. Dick had hurt her cruelly, his fault-finding, his anger at her. So she turned away that he might not see her quivering lips.

A few days afterward he went to the settlement, and came home more intoxicated than Ann ever had seen him. Usually he soon recovered from the effects of drink, the long ride home, and so on. This time, however, Ann could not rouse him until nearly morning; then, as he finally got up from the couch where he had dropped immediately to sleep, a bottle fell from his pocket. It was half full. Ann picked it up, and before she could speak, had she intended to, Dick snatched it from her, saying:
 "You complain of me. Go around telling people I'm not capable of looking after myself! I'll give you something to complain of after this! Might as well have the game if you give me the name."
 Again Ann said nothing. This time she couldn't! Oh, why had she broken her silence? Why had she spoken to Grace? In an agony of fear, of remorse, she only blamed herself—not Grace, or Dick.

Tomorrow—Grace insists Upon Monopolizing Dick.

Ninety Two Take Part In Program, Musical Recital

The Franciscan Sisters of St. Anne's convent, are giving a recital Wednesday and Thursday evenings, April 18 and 19, at St. Anne's hall, which from all indications promises to surpass any previous musical entertainment...

Every pupil will take part and for that reason the program has been divided into two sections, so that the program each evening will be shorter and snappier than if all took part on the same evening.

Relatives and friends of the pupils are looking forward with great anticipation to the two nights of music which will be a treat to the lovers of music in this city and surrounding vicinities.

Parents are anxiously awaiting the opportunity to hear their children in a recital while the pupils themselves are anxious to demonstrate the progress made since the class started in September.

The piano which is being used for this recital is the Krawauer Bros piano and was furnished through the courtesy of the Hehringer Music House.

This is the first recital given by the Franciscan Sisters and it is expected that the hall will be packed each evening. The admission price is only 25c and the tickets are good for either performance.

The following program will be given Wednesday, April 18th.

COOK WITH GAS WEEK GETS AWAY TO FINE START

City Mgr. Compliments Merchants on Cooperation

"I am confident that more will be accomplished in proving to the people of Escanaba the economy offered to householders in burning gas for cooking, in preference to any other fuel, than in any similar period since the city plant was constructed," said City Manager Fred R. Harris yesterday.

"The manner in which the merchants of Escanaba are cooperating with the city on the observance of Cook With Gas Week, is highly pleasing. In fact, I have never in any city found such a spirit of real cooperation as has been demonstrated by the hardware merchants of Escanaba.

Displays Arranged. "Practically every store in the city where gas burning equipment is sold, has arranged a special display of their gas burning equipments, supplemented by special demonstrations. I am confident that a great many new gas stoves and ranges will be sold by Escanaba dealers this week and the use of gas correspondingly increased for the city."

In spite of the fact that Monday is generally recognized as wash day, all of the stores staging gas cooking demonstrations yesterday afternoon and it is confidently expected that the interest will increase as the week progresses.

SHRINERS MEET IN WASHINGTON EARLY IN JUNE

Use of Public Ground Is Authorized by Congress

BY HARRY HUNT NEA Staff Correspondent. Washington. — Miss Liberty, long marooned atop the dome of the capitol, has been licensed to step down for the week of June 4 and join in the greatest gambol this city ever has seen.

All previous capital festivities, including inaugural frolics and parading of victorious armies, will be overshadowed by the brilliance that will attend the sessions of the Imperial Council of the Ancient Arabic Order, Nobles of the Mystic Shrine.

With President Harding, himself a Shriner, joining in their gayeties, with public grounds and parks thrown open as camp sites, with the army authorized to provide tents and cots, the stage is all set to welcome and entertain a record-breaking crowd.

Congress Acts. Congress itself took time to authorize use of public grounds and army equipment and it appropriated $5,000,000 for the expense of additional police for Shriners' week!

"Conservative" estimates of the number of visitors place the number at "not less than 500,000." Which means the population of the District of Columbia is to be doubled.

Reservations in the 60 Washington hotels have already been exhausted. Provision is being made in the Southern Railway yards at Alexandria, Va., for housing 50,000 in Pullman cars. Minor Pullman cities will be established in the yards of the B. & O. and the Pennsylvania.

Parking space is being located and assigned to care for 35,000 visiting motor cars.

Home-Coming Week. Starting as a purely Shriner celebration, with "Washington, the Nation's Shrine" as a rallying cry, the movement to make June 4 the beginning of a gala week has broken through its original fraternal bounds and now is conceived as a "National Home-Coming Week" with the whole nation invited to join and see the sights.

Among these will be a pageant presenting historic stages in Washington's development as a world capital. This will be in charge of Brig. Gen. Amos Fries. But the great, grand, gloriously glittering climax will be the "Dance of the States" on the evening of June 7, for which Pennsylvania avenue from the capitol to the treasury will be made one mile-long dancing floor.

Divided into 48 spaces, one for each state, with 48 bands playing the same tunes simultaneously, directed by electric batons, 200,000 dancers will be able to trip.

Such are only a few of the high spots. Such minor events as a concert by 5000 musicians, the singing of patriotic airs by a chorus of 6000, the "Congress of the Seas," a marine spectacle showing the development of shipping from Noah's Ark through the Chinese junk, Columbus' caravels and Mississippi packets to the hydroplane and super-submarine, are merely incidentals.

Program of The Services, Forty Hours Devotions

The Forty Hours of Devotion and Adoration will be held at St. Joseph's Church beginning Friday evening, April 20, at 7:30, when there will be the recitation of the rosary, sermon and benediction. The evening service Saturday will consist of the Benediction.

Sunday evening the services will be at 7:30 and there will be a procession, sermon and Benediction. The masses for Saturday will be at 6 and 8 a. m. On Sunday at 8, 9:15 and 10:30. Confessions will be heard Thursday, Friday and Saturday afternoons and evenings.

Rev. Fr. Daniel, O. F. M., will deliver the sermon Friday, the topic being, "Blessed Eucharist." Sunday, "Holy Communion."

Western Electric Appliance Expert At the Fair Store

Mr. E. Conley, representing the Western Electric, is in the city conducting a wash machine campaign for the Fair Store the coming week. Demonstrations are held daily at the store and every household appliance operated electrically will be on display.

Mr. Conley is an expert appliance man and through his instructions higher efficiency may be obtained from various household articles electrically operated. Electric household appliances have made wonderful strides the past few years and no one need dread washday at this age when electrically operated appliances may be had to lighten the burden of the housewife. The demonstrations are interesting as well as instructive.

How is it possible to give you quality at the low cost of 10 cents for 50 cigarettes?

ANSWER: The government tax alone on 50 machine-made cigarettes is 15 cents—5 CENTS MORE THAN THE COST OF 50 "BULL" DURHAM CIGARETTES TO YOU!

The average smoker saves $1 to $1.50 a week by "rolling his own" from "Bull"—or from $52 to $78 a year. This makes quite a Christmas fund—or pays for a fine trip.

DEFOE INSISTS THAT GROESBECK WILL VETO BILL

Former Member of Legislature Says Clash Is Inevitable.

Mr. DeFoe, former member of the legislature and special observer at the present session at Lansing for the Federal Bond & Mortgage company, predicts in his latest news letter that Gov. Groesbeck will veto the two-cent excise tax bill, passed by both the senate and the house. As the result of ill feeling developed at Lansing between Gov. Groesbeck and a majority of the members of the house and senate, Mr. DeFoe predicts that at least one special session of the legislature will be necessary and serious complications are threatened for other important bills now before the legislature. In his current letter, Mr. DeFoe says:

"If political Lansing was tense a week ago, the peak of nervous strain has been reached as another week-end approaches. With the two-cent gas tax still an uncertainty. The amended bill reached the governor's desk on Thursday, and the best information is to the effect the Chief Executive will veto his promise and veto the bill. That the measure cannot be passed over his veto is almost guaranteed, although a shift of a single vote might change the complexion of the senate, so narrow is the margin.

Governor Has No Other Course.

The talk about the Governor vetoing hardly reaches the dignity of gossip, notwithstanding official Lansing continues to speculate on the Governor's course. He is bound by every rule of politics to write a veto. In the first place, he said he would, and the Governor keeps his word. In the second place, he used every resource at his command to get things for his position in the senate. Will he sten out now and leave his senate following out on a lamb, so to speak. Not Mr. Groesbeck.

Message Calls For Diplomacy

With it clearly settled that the Governor will exercise his veto over the next angle concerns the language and temper of the veto message. The report is that the document will tingle with criticism. If the Governor rebukes the legislature, and in this case it means practically two thirds, there is no telling what will happen in the next thirty days. The respective majorities will be in no mood to take a scoring because they happen to lack a vote or two of the constitutional two thirds necessary, in this particular case, to function to their full power. It then follows if the message is scathing and threatening, the future of all legislation is guess work and simple. For example, Representative Ari Woodruff of Wyandotte, chairman of state affairs tonight predicted at least two special sessions. The Wayne union, now serving his fifth term, calls attention to the fact the continuation of the school, drain, election, and labor laws and criminal code are yet to be considered, with a resolution going in tonight fixing April 27th as the adjournment date. Representative Osborn, of Chippewa, sponsors the first attempt in the House to fix a date to adjourn.

House Passes Corporation Tax.

Thursday.

The house lived up to predictions made in this letter last week and passed the Sligh corporation tax bill, with a $10 minimum, a $50,000 maximum, and an annual rate of 2 1/2 mills. The bill will now go to a conference committee, and no telling what will happen. The senate appears well satisfied with a $50,000 maximum. In this connection it is well to remember the provisions of the existing law, as some members go as far as to predict a compromise is out of the question.

WOMEN OF MIDDLE AGE

Relieved of Nervousness and Other Distressing Ailments by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Brooklyn, N. Y. - "I first took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound four years ago, and am taking it now for the Change of Life and other troubles and I receive great benefit from it. I am willing to let you use my letter as a testimonial because it is the truth. I found your booklet in my letter and read it carefully, and that is how I came to take the Vegetable Compound myself. It has given me a better appetite. I have recommended it already to all my friends and relatives." - Mrs. ENGLEMAN, 132 Palmerton St., Ridgewood, Brook., N. Y.

For the woman suffering from nervous troubles, causing sleeplessness, headache, hysteria, "the blues", indigestion, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will be found a splendid remedy. For the woman of middle age, in passing through the trials of the Change of Life, it can be depended upon to relieve the troubles common at that time. It should give a fair trial now, which will mean the law of two years ago will continue in force. Close students of legislative affairs freely predict the bill will finally get through both houses at a maximum figure of $100,000, with the house rate of 2 1/2 mills prevailing. Here is another danger brought out in debate on third reading: that beyond a certain reasonable limit such a law as this loses its legal status as a privilege fee and takes on a tax relation, in which case the measure would amount to double taxation and consequently illegal. This is all very interesting when considered in the light that the original law of two years ago was strictly an emergency measure, all of which emphasizes how hard it is to curb, let alone wipe out any source of taxation once it is created. Wayne county split on the final roll call on the Sligh bill. Little Hope For Tax Control Bill.

The proposition to give the governor a four-year term, disqualifying him for a second term, was given rough treatment in the house Thursday afternoon. The bill, which appeared in the form of a constitutional amendment, was sponsored by Representative Milton R. Palmer, of Detroit. The proposal required two-thirds vote, and this was about the total vote cast against adopting the suggestion. Thus far, despite this is the fourth month the legislature has been in session, not a single promised tax reform measure of any importance has been reported out. The Evans bill, controlling the tax levies of the future, was considered at a meeting of the taxation committee this week, but it lacked a vote of getting a place on general orders at that sitting. As the time grows shorter the prospects for all such new ideas in taxation grow less promising. Lack of tax policy is partly due, however, to the unsettled status of the gas tax. The legislature has thus far passed two major bills—the gas tax and the corporation tax, and to date no one knows how the respective bills will read in the compiled laws. Adjournment around the first week in May is the best guess on that question.

WELL AS EVER; S. W. MONTAGUE LAUDS TANLAC

Well-Known Ohio Citizen Declares It Fully Overcame Long Standing Digestive Trouble.

"Well, there is one less sufferer from stomach trouble in Canton, Ohio, I am glad to state, myself, and it's all because I gave Tanlac a chance," says S. W. Montague, 1813 E. Tuscarawas St., Canton, Ohio, well-known auto repair shop owner.

"I suffered for a solid year, and believe me I was in bad shape, too. I could scarcely eat a bite, and did not want to either, for indigestion was my sworn enemy. Terrible gas pains extended up through my chest, and many times I was in such misery I would roll on the floor. I was terribly nervous, was so run-down I couldn't get up a pound of steam for work, and how I managed to keep going is a mystery to me.

"But I have all my strength and health back since taking the Tanlac treatment. I don't have an ailment of any kind, and feel, look and act like a new man. Tanlac can't be beat the world over."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Accept no substitute. Over 37-million bottles sold.

ORGANDIE MODELS.

The organdie frock for this season is a bouffant model with ruffles and ribbons galore. Frequently it has a wide berth or the drop shoulder line, so popular in the Victorian age.

AMUSEMENTS

AT THE DELFT.

Reginald Barker's latest production, "Hearts Aflame," was seen for the first time yesterday at the Delft theatre, where it more than lived up to the unusually high hopes entertained for it. It proved to be a thrilling photoplay, telling a good story, and with episodes that should be remembered for a long time by those who see it.

Of course the big thing is the amazing forest fire. Nothing of its kind has ever been done before; it stands alone, and will for a long time, as an example of remarkable directorial craft as well as superlative photography. Barker has produced an episode that cannot be easily duplicated; and his remarkable achievement won the applause of the huge crowds which seemed to enjoy it thoroughly.

The story that provides for these thrilling situations is Harold Titus' novel, "Timber." It is concerned with the Michigan woods, and the characters that are presented in it are drawn with amazing fidelity. There has been no compromise for the sake of beauty; although there have been few scenes more beautiful than the flaming forest, printed in its natural coloring.

In the large and capable cast are Frank Keenan, Anna Q. Nilsson, Craig Ward, Richard Hendrick, Russell Simpson, Richard Tucker, Stanton Heck, Martha Mattox, Walt Whitman, Joan Standing, Ralph Cloninger, Leg Shumway and others.

AT THE STRAND.

Equal, if not better, than "Footlights," which is saying a great deal, is Elsie Ferguson's latest Paramount production, "Outcast," which was shown for the first time here at the Strand theatre last night.

A highly notable production

A WOMAN'S BACK

The Advice of This Escanaba Woman is of Great Value.

Many a woman's back has many aches and pains. Ofttimes 'tis the kidneys' fault. That's why Doan's Kidney Pills are so effective.

Many Escanaba women know this.

Read what one has to say about it:

Mrs. J. E. Fillion, 409 S. 13th St., Escanaba, says: "My back felt tired mornings after I got up and ached all day long. I had a hard time of it when I did my washing. My back hurt when I stooped and next day it was stiff and sore. I couldn't sleep during the night and I was greatly bothered with weak kidneys. Doan's Kidney Pills were recommended and I bought some at the West End Drug Store. They rid me of all the symptoms in a fine way." 60c. at all dealers. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfgs., Buffalo, N. Y. Adv.

WHAT Is Double Gum-Dipped?

Car-owners are naturally interested in just what the double gum-dipping process means in tire-building. For its importance to mileage performance has attracted attention everywhere.

This improved process in cord tire construction is rarely found in other than Firestone Cords. Extremely difficult to carry out, most tire manufacturers consider its expense prohibitive.

Yet Firestone has now so perfected and simplified gum-dipping, that notwithstanding their many advantages, Firestone Cords cost no more.

By this process the cord fabric is dipped in a heavy solution of liquid gum or rubber. When thoroughly saturated it is removed and allowed to dry. Thin coats of sheeted rubber are then pressed upon each side of the cord fabric in a process called "calendering." Thus there is double assurance that each separate cord is completely submerged in live, springy rubber.

The deterioration of tires caused by internal friction is well known by experienced car owners. Excessive heat is generated that literally burns away many miles of service.

In Firestone Cords, internal wear is practically eliminated. Gum-Dipping makes them stronger and more resilient. It is largely responsible for the buoyance and easy-riding Firestone users experience.

There is a good dealer near you who sells and services Firestone Cords. Go to him this month if you are looking for the way to reduce your tire costs.
