"ALL ABOARD" TO TIE UP AT DELFT WHARF

Good Ship Will Sign
Up Crew in This Port.

From the quarter-deck of the famous amusement steamer Florida, Admiral John B. Rogers radioed Rear Admiral Jacobs for permission to dock his steamer at the Delft theatre wharf for 2 nights May 16 and 17. As long as Rear Admiral Jacobs has assented, it can be announced that passengers can get "ALL ABOARD" this merry craft with her flags flying, crowded with melody and fun for at least two excursions.

The Women's Club called Admiral Rogers that they would man the ship with an all-Escanaba crew of experienced "sars." The crew has been selected and is now under the instruction of Skipper M. C. Park, whom admiral Rogers sent here to pilot the cruise.

Alton Mallman, as Billy Brady is the "cocky" singer; Genevieve Olson, as Dorothy, his sister, the sprightly debutante; Frances Zahn is Beatrice Sloane, constantly pursued by Billy; Mrs. George Grey, the "inquisitive" mother; John Kates is Bob, the jilted lover; Harold Tolan and Dick Anderson are two old sea-dogs with salty tendencies; the Swedish Stewardess is Eleanor Carlson; the bluff Captain of the pleasure boat is Mr. Jennings; Alexander C. Phome, the "eulid" gentleman of all alibis and no work is Mr. Heckman. The rest of the crew is made up of over 150 of Escanaba's most "see-worthy" sailing lasses.

There will be dances galore and songs a plenty.

Among the new inventions is a collapsible grip. It acts like a man asking the railroad fare.

Pearson Program
Promises Treat
For Music Lovers

Lovers of good music will receive a rare treat Tuesday evening, May 15, when Miss Esther Pearson of Chicago will appear in a vocal recital under the auspices of the Lutheran church of this city. Miss Pearson delighted a large audience here last fall. Her striking voice and pleasing personality took the audience by storm.

Miss Pearson has had a variety of experience as a soloist. Her years of study and association with great artists and masters of voice have fitted her to a most unusual degree for concert work. Her success is attested to by musical critics of unquestioned authority from the various parts of the country where she has appeared in recital or as a soloist. Miss Pearson has sung with some of the most prominent musical organizations in the United States. In addition to her experience in recital and oratoric work, Miss Pearson has recorded several successful records for the Columbia Phonograph Company. The Chicago Herald Examiner says of Miss Pearson, "The voice of this artist is of great sonority, carries well, and in the higher compass is unusually brilliant."

Tickets are being sold by members of the Lutheran League who will undoubtedly reach all parts of the city.

Garrity Back On Job.
John Garrity, street commissioner, has returned from a two weeks' vacation spent at Fond du Lac, Milwaukee and other Wisconsin points. Mr. Garrity sums up the observations made on his trip in a few words. "Escanaba's as good a town as you'll find anywhere, bar none!" he reported.

Seek Wider Dock Arches.
Widening of the dock approach arches at the North Escanaba docks of the Northwestern and St. Paul roads may be asked of those roads, according to Fred R. Harris, city manager, who has the matter under consideration at present. Motorists complain that the arches at present allow too little room for automobiles to pass one another, a condition likely to result in traffic accidents.

Ash Hauling Speeds Up.
Six teams have been placed in service collecting the city's winter accumulation of ashes, hauling them to the foot of Ludington street where they are being used for the construction of a road to connect Ludington street and Lake Shore Drive. The road will swing through the property owned by the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce. Piling salvaged from Stephenson Dock is being used in a retaining wall at the connection with Ludington street.

Heater Expert Here.
Owners of automatic gas hot water heaters are advised that an expert from the Humphrey Automatic Water Heater company will be in Escanaba for the next two or three days for the purpose of rendering free service to owners of any type of heater. Together with the city manager the expert will visit the homes of all persons who find any fault with their heaters, whether in their operation, gas consumption or heating efficiency. All defects will be remedied, if possible, and needed adjustments made.

Auto License Law
Multiplies Grief
For Finn Farmer

John Letho, Maple Ridge township, drove into Escanaba Tuesday morning to get his 1923 automobile license plates. Parking his car across from the city hall he went about the city attending to his license plates and other business. It was a chilly day, and he wore his mackinaw coat buttoned up close.

Chief of Police John Tolan, glancing out of the police station window, saw the red 1923 plates on Letho's car across the street. An officer was immediately dispatched to investigate. As the officer reached the car Letho emerged from the city hall, hands struggling with his coat which the wind was trying to tear from his back.

Scant sympathy for Letho's discomfort was reflected in the officer's look. His eyes were hitting on all six. Confronting his man, he requested him to step in and talk it over with the chief.

Unsuspecting, Letho complied, fishing out his operators license and the other documents indispensable to motoring. The little matter of license plates could be adjusted without trouble, he felt. License plates, however, were of secondary importance in the conversation.

"Got any moonshine?" asked the chief.
"No! No have any," was the answer.
"What's this in your pocket?" asked the officer, running his hand over a suspicious bulge in the man's coat.
"What you mean?" Letho asked, simulating innocence.

"This thing, that's what I mean!" the officer answered, quickly slipping his hand in an inside pocket of Letho's coat and extracting a pint bottle of pale yellow liquid resembling in color, taste and smell the popular prohibition beverage known as "Moonshine".
Acting on the assumption that a fine in the hand is worth more than two cases in circuit court, the chief booked Letho on a charge of disorderly conduct, bringing him before Judge C. D. McEwen where a fine of $25 plus costs was successfully applied.

Marquette Hospital Damaged by Blaze

Damage amounting to approximately $12,000 was done Monday morning by a fire which broke out in the south wing of St. Mary's Hospital at Marquette. The blaze is believed to have started from one of the chimneys. Citizens, state constabulary and school students gave valuable aid in the work of moving patients from the smoked-filled rooms. The loss was entirely covered by insurance. Repairs will be started immediately.

AMUSEMENTS

AT THE DELFT.

"Vive le roi!"
"Vive la republique!"
Shouting these cries, the king's guards and the people of Paris engaged in conflict.
It seemed as if nothing could withstand the military murderous fire. But armed with pikes and confiscated flintlocks—urged by the Amazonian march of their women to victory or death—setting up barricades, firing from coigns of vantage, turning the city's cannon against the Swiss and German hirelings of their royal master, the rabble overwhelmed the soldiery, captured the fortresses, and in mad, drunken carnage and "feasts of reason" celebrated the wreckage of the House of Capet. Followed the torch, the massacre and the guillotine, the gory deeds of the Reign of Terror.

One may read of the nightmare of French Revolution in any standard book, but the remarkable thing is that only a few months ago that dread period lived again on a Westchester meadow, just outside the New York City boundary and hard by the peaceful waters of Long Island Sound. D. W. Griffith, who has led all others in the reconstruction of history, revived it as a background to his dramatic epic "Orphans of the Storm," a picture version of "The Two Orphans." Mr. Griffith wished to show that anarchy brings evils to the State tenfold those of the order subverted. This newest Griffith picture sensation, a United Artists Corporation release, will be seen at the Delft theatre again today.

AT THE STRAND.

Local followers of Tom Mix, the big luminary of the William Fox weikin, will have another treat in "Do and Dare," his latest vehicle which comes to the Strand theatre, today.
This new screenplay, which is from the pen of Marion Brooks and which was directed by Edward Sedgwick, casts the vigorous hero in three distinct roles—first, as the valorous and peril-defying scout of the western plains who rescues the beautiful daughter of the commandant of a desolate frontier fort from a hostile Indian tribe and then saves the post from the onslaughts of the savages; second, as the gulleless and passive youth who neither knows of, nor seeks adventure in his provincial shell, but who is suddenly fired by the desire for romance when he hears the lurid tales of his famous forebear; and third, as the brave and resolute participant in a South American revolution, whose daring deeds win for him the woman he loves and the command of a nation's military forces.

Those who are familiar with the varied talents of this dynamic actor can easily picture the grace and dash wherewith he conducts himself in the numerous scenes of this photoplay. To say it is Tom at his best is an old description but true nevertheless.

"Borrowing" of automobiles by spirited Escanaba lads in search of an inexpensive joy ride during the beautiful spring evenings has led to the issuance of police orders to keep a close watch for automobiles driven by persons other than the owners. Corner Residents Kick.
Increasing numbers of complaints from corner lot residents regarding damage done to their lawns by pedestrians and bicycle riders by cutting across their property have resulted in a police drive against this form of "jay-walker." Bicycle riding on the sidewalk is prohibited by city ordinance. Walking across lawns against the wishes of the owner comes similarly under the "thumbs down" sign. One patrolman has been detailed to roam around and observe violations of the law in this matter.

The Value of Personal Contact

PERSONAL contact is essential to the growth of complete understanding.

When business operations and business organizations were small, the employer could know his employees personally and the merchant could know his customers. All had the advantage that comes from the intimacy of close, personal acquaintance. Misunderstandings were easily adjusted. Every man knew every other man as a citizen and as a friend and there was no suspicion of motives.

Today, when big enterprise is the order of business; when large accumulations of capital are essential to the accomplishment of undertakings of real value to the public, the several groups are denied the advantage of this personal contact.

Recognizing this handicap, the management of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has established a system of direct personal contact with the great body of employees and through them with the public.

The management maintains close, personal relations with the employees through the Department of Industrial Relations, where the employer and employee get together on common ground to discuss and settle, in friendly conference, questions of mutual interest.

To promote still closer relationship, the Board of Directors, as a body, make frequent visits to refineries and to the field, where they meet and confer with the great body of employees.

The value of this personal contact is reflected in the harmonious relations which exist between the Company and the earnest, loyal, hard-working employees, who thriftily invest their savings in the Company's business and who have added interest in seeing that the Company's customers get efficient service.

MAKE EFFORT TO GET BILL BEFORE SPECIAL SESSION

Banden and Yelland Return from Lansing Yesterday

O. I. Banden, secretary of the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce, and Judge Judd Yelland returned yesterday from Lansing, where for weeks they have been representing this city before the legislature in an effort to secure the passage of a bill designed by Secretary Banden for a more equitable distribution of the state primary school fund.

Both Judge Yelland and Mr. Banden assert that the measure they would have been passed and placed before the governor for his signature had the senate been allowed to vote on the bill. Both Senator Frank P. Bohn and Representative E. H. Carter gave every possible aid to the two Escanaba men in their effort to have the bill reported out in the senate, but log rolling political tactics in the upper body, prevented a vote being taken.

May Call Session

There is a strong feeling at Lansing that Gov. Groesbeck will soon issue a call for a special session of the legislature to consider highway legislation, when it is expected the governor will again press his weight tax bill. Owing to the fact that that bill has encountered a stone wall of opposition in the house and the primary school bill has the greatest following in any branch of the legislature of any uncompleted legislation, it is believed possible that the governor may be induced to call the special session to consider both highway and primary school legislation.

Banden At Work

Secretary Banden faced a monumental pile of work when he arrived at his office yesterday morning and immediately began making plans for a forum meeting to be held next week when he will present a complete report to the chamber of commerce upon his experience with the so-called Escanaba bill before the legislature.

The orchestra played its first engagement, since the reorganization, at the Kiwanis club's dinner dance last night.

Mr. Douglas, the pianist, recently came to Escanaba from Minneapolis. The other members are well known in local musical circles and all are artists of first rank.

Plan Meeting To Explain Features Of Summer Camp

Features and advantages of the summer training courses offered at the Citizens' Training Camp will be explained Thursday night at a meeting to be held in the office of City Manager Fred R. Harris.

Mr. Harris, with E. J. Norous of Gladstone and L. D. Goddard of Escanaba form the Delta county board charged with Civilian Aid work of the War Department. They will undertake to answer every question which may be asked concerning the summer camp.

Delta county's allotment for this year will be 12 members. Six boys, having taken the 1932 course, have decided to "re-up" for this year. This leaves only six vacancies. However, the members of the board are confident that a few additional applicants may be accommodated if the applications are in at an early date.

The Citizens' Military Training Camp offers three courses in the groundwork of military training. The course will open at Camp Custer Aug. 1 and will continue for one month. All expenses will be paid, even to railroad fare to the camp and returning. The only equipment required of the boys will be their own toilet articles.

Three courses are offered, designated as the Red, White and Blue courses. Boys from 17 to 20 years are eligible if they can pass the necessary medical examination. All persons interested are asked to confer with a member of the board.

CHAMP ISSUES DEFI TO RIVAL

Greenleaf Would Play His Leading Challenger, Winner Take All

Spokane, Wash., May 8.—Imagine a champion of the ring proposing a match with a logical contender on a winner-take-all basis!

Greenleaf entertained hopes for a time this spring that he would be given the opportunity of stilling the wall from Schenectady when Charles Kline of the Strand Billiard Academy, New York, offered $4000 for a 900-point match.

Greenleaf immediately accepted, but Taberski demurred, the champ says.

When Greenleaf puts the proposition this time, it will be up to Taberski to accept or "forever hold his peace," the former thinks.

The champion entertains no thought of defeat at the hands of Taberski or any other exponent of the pocket game, and his record does not make dope pointing to a defeat from any quarter.

The last meeting between Greenleaf and Taberski took place in 1917 at Wilmington, Del., and the 17-year-old youth emerged victor over the wily veteran.

Greenleaf is only a slim boy now. His appearance at the table before a strange audience invariably draws comment as to his youth.

Greenleaf holds the tournament high run record with 100—a mark that has never been approached, and he holds the record in exhibition play with a string of 265.

LOVE OF GAME MADE RECORD POSSIBLE

Scott Discusses Feat of Playing 1000 Consecutive Games

EVERETT SCOTT.

Seasonal Statistics Tell Everett Scott's Great Record

EVERETT SCOTT, star shortstop of the New York Yankees, is the first ball player in the history of the game to play 1000 consecutive contests.

Scott began his remarkable record June 20, 1916. In order to turn the trick he has played six full seasons and parts of two others.

Aside from playing in 1000 consecutive games, Scott has had the unique distinction of playing in five world series, taking part in 24 such games.

Here is Scott's fielding and batting record during his long run:

BY EVERETT SCOTT. Star Shortstop N. Y. Americans. How did I play 1000 consecutive games?

Well, now that it is all over and I have passed that figure, I don't really know that I can explain, other than by saying that I love to play baseball.

Records have never meant a thing to me. So back on June 20, 1916, when I started my long run I hadn't the slightest idea that I was on the way to a record.

I have always loved to play baseball. I have always tried to give the club with which I am playing my very best efforts.

The fun that I get out of playing, plus the desire to serve my employer to the best of my ability, is responsible for my record for consecutive games.

Perhaps no player on the infield is more liable to injury than the shortstop. In the last eight years I have suffered a number of injuries.

There is no telling where I will stop.

St. Louis has more players in the major league than any city, due undoubtedly to the Municipal Baseball Association in the Missouri metropolis which consists of 224 teams.

Living a clean life, conserving my strength, using my head, plus a desire to always give my best efforts has enabled me to play more than 1000 games without a break.

How many native born players are members of the teams they represent in the major leagues?

The St. Louis Browns probably hold the record with four native sons on their list.

Will Keep on Playing. No player is called upon to take more chances than a shortstop.

While I have suffered a number of minor injuries on close plays where player, ball and infielder all meet at the same time, I have averted many an injury by anticipating the play and getting the start.

MANY FARMERS AT MEETINGS THRU COUNTY

Important Gatherings Being Held at Farms This Week

In spite of unfavorable weather conditions large groups of farmers are being attracted to the series of dairy and alfalfa meetings at different points in the county, at which addresses are being given by Prof. C. E. Dennison of the department of dairying of the Michigan Agricultural College and Prof. A. T. Putnam, of the farm crops department of the same institution.

Stresses Dairying.
In his addresses at various farms selected by County Agent Joseph Turner through the county, Prof. Dennison is describing the ideal type of dairy cows, demonstrating upon cows that are found upon the farms visited, pointing out the strong and the weak points. His addresses have pointed out the relation of breeding with production; proper feeding; the advantages of a pure bred sire, together with the advantages of a sire association over a privately owned sire. He also stresses strongly the advantages gained through cow testing associations.

Favors Legumes.
Prof. Putnam is addressing the farmers particularly upon the importance of legume crops; the preparation of seed beds; the planting of the proper variety of seeds and above all the superiority of alfalfa and clover hay over timothy hay as feed for dairy cows.

Today meetings will be held in Danforth and Flat Rock settlements; Thursday at Corcell and Friday in Maple Ridge township. On Saturday a pruning and spraying demonstration will be given at the orchard of John Martel at Flat Rock.

The recent flood made havoc on the hill between the highway adjoining Dayton Beardsley's farm and the Bay. The force of the water rushing down the hill was such as to cut a gully fully fifteen feet deep. Huge stones have been displaced and carried down the hill and the smaller stones have been carried and scattered in waves in all directions. The appearance of the hill has been altogether changed by the rushing waters.

The ladies of the Garden Congregational church held their regular meeting at the parsonage yesterday afternoon. The greater part of the time was spent in sewing and planning generally for the success of the organization.

A Kato's Bay farmer is announcing a discovery he has made about grass hoppers. Some time ago, when the snow was starting to go he went out in the sunshine and gathered up a number of hopper eggs, took them home and incubated them in a glass can. Sure enough he was rewarded with a brood of the little hoppers. It is not explained how the eggs were placed in this exposed position and the writer did not actually see the brood but in any case it is a reminder that there is no time to waste if the pests are to be successfully fought.

Clean-up day has been observed in the local schools. The rake and the shovel were very much in evidence and the school property is in harmony with the beauty and freshness of the springtime.

A telegram from Green Bay, received in Garden, states that Henry Deloria of this place, underwent an operation yesterday for the removal of gall stones. Mr. Deloria has been ailing for some months past.

SAGE TEA KEEPS YOUR HAIR DARK

When Mixed With Sulphur It Brings Back Its Beautiful Lustre At Once.

Gray hair, however handsome, denotes advancing age. We all know the advantages of a youthful appearance. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray and looks streaked, just a few applications of Sage Tea and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundred-fold.

Don't stay gray! Look young! Either prepare the recipe at home or get from any drug store a bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," which is merely the old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients. Thousands of folks recommend this ready to use preparation because it darkens the hair beautifully, besides, no one can possibly tell, as it darkens so naturally and evenly. You moisten a sponge or soft brush with it, drawing this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, the natural color is restored and it becomes thick, glossy and lustrous, and you appear years younger.—Adv.
