MUNSEY SAYS TIME IS RIPE FOR NEW PARTY

FORD BOOM WORRIES LEADERS OF BOTH OLD PARTIES.

BY DAVID LAWRENCE.

Copyright, 1923, by The Escanaba Press. New York, May 29.—"Conditions never were so ripe as they are today for the formation of a third party—if conditions in 1912 had advanced to their present stage, Roosevelt would have swept the country and the third party would have succeeded."

Thus spoke Frank A. Munsey, publisher of four New York newspapers today when asked his comment on William Randolph Hearst's statement that if Henry Ford were nominated by an independent party Ford would receive Hearst support.

Mr. Munsey does not advocate the formation of a third party nor has he taken himself out of the ranks of the Republican party though he has been bitterly opposed to President Harding's world court policy.

Conservatives Divided. "The trouble with the present situation," said Mr. Munsey "is that the conservatives are divided—they belong to the two old parties. Divided the conservatives haven't a show in the world. You can't get liberal conservatives, for instance, in a new organization unless there is a radical outburst. If there arises a strong radical party and it makes a good showing in 1924, perhaps even a winning place, you will get your liberal conservative party at once. The old parties would then die and ought to die."

Mr. Munsey pointed out to the writer that the Roosevelt party was formed in too big a hurry, that it didn't have time after the 1912 convention to get well organized and that the situation today is far different with a whole year ahead of the conventions. He added:

"I would not like to see a 'red' or socialist party when I speak of a radical party—certainly not a party that would frighten people but a party with a sane type of man who grips the public fancy. There are a number of good men for such leadership. Hiram Johnson is one, Albert Beveridge is another."

Ford "Boom" Worries. Mr. Munsey didn't essay any comments on Mr. Ford's candidacy beyond the remark that if Henry Ford came out absolutely against the world court, he would be charting a course entirely different from the two old parties which were committed to the world court. He does not underestimate Mr. Ford's political strength and potentiality.

Unquestionably the talk of Ford is the biggest thing in national politics both here and in Washington. It is reminiscent of the wave of sentiment which fired the political skies for awhile when Herbert Hoover was talked of as a possible candidate for either the Republican or Democratic tickets. But Mr. Hoover's friends made the mistake of trying to force their way into the conventions of the two old parties. Should Henry Ford's supporters try the same thing, their effort will end as did the Hoover boom—in nothing so far as delegates go. But Henry Ford is being talked of for an independent ticket and already William Randolph Hearst announces his readiness to support Ford, which is a nucleus of publicity strength that makes the old party leaders at least sit up and take notice.

Hearst Surprises. The amazing thing about the Hearst announcement is the attitude of many leading Jews in New York City who are flabbergasted at the Hearst position. The Hearst newspapers have always professed great friendliness to the Jews and have always fought religious bigotry. Mr. Hearst's avowed espousal of the one man who has levelled more attacks against Jews in America than any other man in modern times is causing considerable talk. Either it means Mr. Hearst has succeeded

LaFollete Is Not Candidate For President

Denver, Colo., May 29.—Senator Robert M. LaFollette of Wisconsin is not likely to be a contender for the Republican nomination for president in 1924 and President Harding probably will have the field all to himself, Gov. William H. Sweet, Progressive Democrat, said today in his regular conference with the newspaper men, during a discussion of his recent trip to Washington.

"I don't think Senator LaFollette at the present time is giving serious thought to presidential desires," said Gov. Sweet. "He is devoting his time now to reform measures and his work undoubtedly will bring him far enough into the political arena in the future."

"Senator Hiram Johnson of California appears to be the only possibility as an opponent to President Harding in the next election," Gov. Sweet said, but he does not believe that the California senator will part with the president on any outstanding issue unless it be Harding's desire for United States membership in the international court of justice.

The boom for Henry Ford may cause some lively skirmish in both Democratic and Republican circles, particularly the former, said Gov. Sweet, but he does not believe that the automobile manufacturer will be a formidable bidder for the Democratic nomination.

"I believe the league of nations will be one of the main issues in 1924," Gov. Sweet declared.

POLICE QUELL RED RIOTS IN RUHR DISTRICT

Communist Uprisings Dispersed with Appearance of Police.

Essen, May 29.—The arrival of trained police at Bochum and at other strike zones in the Ruhr today was welcomed by the German officials as being certain to liquidate the unrest among the large number of workmen now on strike. The officials predicted that there now would be little trouble with the "reds."

Sixty five police from Dusseldorf were sent into Bochum to reinforce the firemen and White Guards who since Friday night have been besieged in the headquarters of the firemen. On the arrival of the policemen there was a rapid disappearance of all the wearers of red armlets.

Police Help Situation. The local guards and firemen in several towns in the Ruhr had been reinforced by police from the Rhineland under an agreement with the various French commanders. A German official expressed the belief that the situation will now take on the aspects of an ordinary strike and the reign of terror attributed to the communist element, in which nearly 50 persons have been killed, will come to an end. The casualties in Bochum, according to the Germans, have been 18 persons killed and many wounded in the three days of fighting.

Profiteers Work Busy. A new kind of profiteering has made its appearance. At Essen and other towns where the Workmen's Commission Control compelled storekeepers to reduce prices, the stocks were sold out at the new rate to persons who took them elsewhere and disposed of them at a profit.

Local Builder Gets Contract For School Job

Contracts for the improvements and additions to the Webster school building at North Escanaba were awarded to A. Arntsen of Escanaba at the meeting of the board of education yesterday afternoon. The price was $34,970. This is exclusive of the plumbing, heating, wiring, etc., which are to be let on separate contracts. A resolution to call for bids on this work was passed at the meeting. Under the terms of the contract, the improvements to the old building must be completed and the rooms ready for use by the opening of the school term this fall. The new work is to be finished by Nov. 1. Work will be started immediately.

It never rains between the first and second catarracts of the Nile.

It is estimated that there are 400,000 mummies in Egypt.

DIGNITY MARKS PROGRAM FOR MEMORIAL DAY

Escanaba Honors Soldier and Sailor Dead of All Wars Today.

Escanaba people, of every age and station, will turn out today in the celebration of another Memorial Day. The services will be in charge of the several patriotic organizations of the city and the decoration of the graves of every veteran of all the American wars, in both the local cemeteries, will be one of the most important features of the day's observance.

The decoration of graves will start at 9 o'clock this morning. Committees from the joint organization will visit both cemeteries and place flowers on the graves of all soldiers buried there. The ritual services of the day will be held at Lakeview cemetery at 10:30, with all organizations participating.

The services at the cemetery will be simple. Mrs. George Ramepek, president of the Women's Relief Corps, will read the Gettysburg address. Anton Emba, veteran of the Spanish-American War, will read General Logan's "Order No. 11". Following this, "Taps" will be blown and the group will disband, going to the Coliseum where dinner will be served to the organizations and their guests by the Relief Corps unit.

In the afternoon the remaining services of the day will be held. Marine services for the sailor dead will be held at the foot of Douglas street. Flowers will be dropped over both cemeteries and over the bay from an aeroplane piloted by Hart G. Smith, of Chicago. The flowers will be donated by Peterson's Flower Shop. They will also donate those which will be placed on the graves.

All patriotic organizations of the city, whether civil or military in character, are asked to join in the column of march which will form at the Coliseum at 1:30 in the afternoon and proceed to Ludington Park, the scene of the afternoon's exercises.

John Lemmer will be the speaker of the day. Mayor T. M. Judson will be the presiding officer. Capt. L. D. Goddard will be marshal of the day. Music by the band, followed by a prayer by the Rev. A. I. E. Boas will precede "General Logan's Address," by Anton Emba. The Gettysburg Address of Abraham Lincoln will be read by Mrs. Carrie Ramepek. Music will follow.

MEMORIAL DAY ITS SIGNIFICANCE. By the American Legion Auxillary.

Memorial Day, with its sad and sacred memories, is with us again; in a literal and very sober sense—this day is the red-letter day of the year. The pages of history which it represents are crimsoned with the blood of American heroes who have left memories never-to-be-forgotten. It is a day made pathetically glorious by the presence of veterans "who by battle flashes" have groped their desperate way to a country saved.

Tradition has it that about the time the Civil War broke out a soldier of the German army came to this country and enlisted in our army, serving throughout the war. About the time the war closed he casually remarked one day, that it was the custom in Germany for the people to scatter flowers on the graves of soldiers once a year.

Nothing more was said at that time, but it is supposed that this was the origin of Memorial Day. Early in May 1868, Adjutant General Chickman conferred with National Commander John A. Logan of the G. A. R. (an organization then in its infancy) concerning the matter of having that organization inaugurate the custom of scattering flowers on the graves at some uniform time.

ALL READY FOR CHAMPIONSHIP MEET FRIDAY

TEN MICHIGAN CITIES REPRESENTED AT CONTEST HERE.

Representatives of ten high schools of the state of Michigan will meet on the stage at the Escanaba high school auditorium on Friday night at 8 o'clock, when the high school oratorical and declamatory championships for the state of Michigan, will be determined. Arranged under the auspices of the Michigan Oratorical and Declamatory Association, with headquarters at Lansing, the gathering will bring to Escanaba ten contestants, representing the districts in the state, together with the instructors and coaches of each school represented. In addition, E. E. Gallup, of Lansing, secretary-treasurer of the association and other officers of the organization will be in attendance.

Among the cities to be represented in the championship will be the following: Muskegon, Manistee, Ann Arbor, East Saginaw, Ionia, Mason, Zeeland, Norway, Cass City and Escanaba.

Program Announced. Following is a copy of the official program for the evening: Orations. Everett Winslow—The Supreme Need of Democracy. Leslie Butler—America and France. Franklin Rybrandt—An Organ of the Underworld. Alice Rasmussen—The Truth Shall Make Us Free. Lawrence Hartwig—The Tragedy of Today.

Declamations. Maurice Dailey—The Voice of Armenia. George McArthur—Abraham Lincoln. Maurice Powell—The Rider of the Black Horse. Joan Vanderlaan—The Soldier of the Empire. Bernice Vander Heyden—The Soldier's Reprieve.

School Makes Plans. Plans for the staging of the contest and the entertainment of the visitors are in charge of the faculty and members of the student body of the Escanaba high school and every effort is being exerted to provide a demonstration for the visitors that will leave nothing to be desired in the cordiality of this city's welcome.

Although championship oratorical and declamation contests have been held in the state of Michigan for the past twenty years, the present is the first time that a state contest has ever been settled in an upper peninsula city. That Escanaba has been accorded this honor is greatly appreciated by the people of this city and it is confidently believed that this appreciation will be reflected in a capacity audience at the high school on Friday night.

Gallup Praises City. E. E. Gallup, secretary of the Association, has issued a general letter to the officials of the high schools of the state, formally announcing the holding of the contest in Escanaba and in this letter he warmly praised the spirit shown by this city in its determination to land the championship.

Mr. Gallup's letter follows: "May 26, 1923. "Dear Sir: "The final contest of the Michigan High School Oratorical Association will occur at 8 p. m., Central Time, June 1, in the high school auditorium, Escanaba, Michigan. "This is the first time the final contest has ever been held in the upper peninsula. The upper peninsula has been very active in oratorical and declamation work. They have won about twenty per cent of the final contests in the past twenty years. The public schools of Escanaba, the Rotary Club, the Lions Club, and the Chamber of Commerce, are all bidding us to come to Escanaba. I realize this is a long distance for some of us in the southern peninsula. However, for twenty years, the schools of the upper peninsula have come to all parts of the southern peninsula for this final contest.

"The people of the southern peninsula may reach Escanaba over the Chicago and Northwestern Railway by way of Chicago, taking the sleeper out of Chicago at nine p. m., and arriving in Escanaba at 8:35 the next morning. It may also be reached by way of the Minneapolis, St. Paul, and Sault Ste. Marie Railway by way of Mackinaw City and the Straits, changing cars with only a five minutes' wait at Trout Lake

FIRES RAGING IN WISCONSIN AND PENINSULA

Superior National Forest in Minnesota Also Flame Swept.

Washington, May 29.—Forest fires in the Superior National Forest located in Northeastern Minnesota, are "spreading beyond control" according to reports received late today by the forest service which said that "if high winds spring up it will be difficult to prevent a widespread and destructive conflagration."

The forest service said it had been informed 60 men were fighting the fire raging in the Superior National Forest and that many more were hurrying to the scene to lend assistance. Many fires, it was stated, have been reported "outside the forest." Conditions it was added, are "dry and extremely hazardous."

WISCONSIN FIRES RAGE. Hurley, Wis., May 29.—Forest fires are raging on a front of two miles in the vicinity of Upson, 14 miles west of here. Through the efforts of the entire community which turned out and assisted in fighting the fires, 2,000 feet of logs were saved. The fire is largely confined to cut-over land. The Collins Lumber Company saved 3,000,000 feet of logs at a landing, calling every woodsman employed in that vicinity into service to fight the fire. At the latest reports, the fire surrounded the landing.

Rain Badly Needed. Fires are still raging in Gogebic county, Mich. Forest rangers say that such valuable timber is burning in Iron and Vilas counties, Wis., and Gogebic county and can be saved only by a heavy rain fall.

CLAIM MOTHER MURDERED SON

Lansing, Mich., May 29.—James Shannon, who is awaiting trial on a charge of murder in connection with the death of Harry, 12 year old foster son of Mrs. Emma Koppie, today told police he is the victim of a "frame-up." He asserted that Mrs. Koppie accused him of giving poison to the boy in an effort to clear herself of alleged complicity in the crime.

Shannon denied that he had given poison to the boy, and said he believed the boy was killed for his $1,360 insurance.

Mrs. Koppie is awaiting examination on a charge of murder growing out of the boy's death. Police also are investigating several other deaths that occurred in houses where Mrs. Koppie formerly lived in Deckerville, Mich.

LATE PURNELL LAWYER WILTS

Detroit, May 29.—Walter M. Nelson, Detroit attorney, recently sentenced to thirty days in jail on the charge that he falsified his testimony before the one man grand jury investigating into the affairs of the Hguse of David at St. Joseph, Mich., today offered his cooperation to Judge Harry Dingeman, conducting the inquiry into the colony.

Nelson, released from the Berrien county jail on an appeal to the supreme court, conferred with Judge Dingeman here today and later announced he had agreed to produce a woman witness who would swear to a criminal charge against Benjamin Purnell, head of the House of David. The charges, he said, would come within the six year proviso of the statute of limitations. The witness, he added, would be brought before Judge Dingeman before the end of the present week.

Palestine has 700 motor cars and 100 trucks.

NO PAPER THURSDAY. To allow employees of the Daily Press to participate in this city's Memorial Day observance no paper will be issued from the Press office on Thursday morning and the business office will be closed throughout today.

POINCARÉ WINS FULL SUPPORT OF DEPUTIES

CABINET HEAD GIVEN MAJORITY OF 438 IN TEST.

Paris, May 29.—Any doubts as to the solidity of Premier Poincaré's position was set at rest tonight when the chamber of deputies by a majority of 428 expressed confidence in him and his government and voted him the money needed to carry out his policy in the Ruhr.

Only the extremists voted against the premier. His other critics did not even resort to the common practice of abstaining, but added their vote to the premier's triumphant majority.

A vote on the appropriation of 35,500,000 francs for the expenses of the Ruhr occupation for the month of June, was 505 to 67. Debate Is Violent.

The debate on the subject took on the appearance of an assault on the Poincaré cabinet. M. Carguieu severely criticized the government's methods and demanded of M. Poincaré whether he would change them, at the same time declaring to the chamber that he would vote for the appropriations.

The premier showed plainly that he interpreted this method of debate as an attempt to shake the cabinet without immediately attempting to overthrow it. He called upon M. Carguieu and his friends to vote as they thought and he would not admit that orators could, from the speaker's stand, shake the confidence of the country in the cabinet, then come down and reassure him with their votes.

Opposition Called Out. The summons to the opposition to come out into the open put the chamber into a dilemma; many of the deputies showed by their applause that they approved M. Carguieu's words, yet were not ready to attempt the overthrow of the Poincaré ministry.

The premier declared flatly that he would change nothing in the methods decided upon in common with the allies; that he would not call out another soldier to reinforce the occupying troops, as demanded by M. Carguieu, asserting that any increase now would add to the expenses without adding to efficiency.

HEAD OF STATE SCHOOL SYSTEM TO SPEAK HERE

T. E. Johnson, state superintendent of public instruction, will deliver the commencement address at Escanaba High School on the night of June 14. It was announced yesterday. Mr. Johnson will make a special trip to the Upper Peninsula for the occasion.

"We are very fortunate to have secured a speaker of Mr. Johnson's caliber for the commencement address," W. E. Olds, superintendent of schools said yesterday afternoon. "He is not only a talented and forceful speaker but a leader in his work as well, and what he will have to say will carry weight because of the high position he holds."

For the baccalaureate sermon Mr. Olds has secured Prof. Francis M. Ingler of Appleton, Wis. The baccalaureate will be given on Sunday, June 10. Senior "stunt" day was observed yesterday without interference with classes and the Senior and Junior class picnic will be held at Stoughton on Saturday. Plans have not yet been completed for the annual banquet for the graduating class.

NEGOTIATIONS WITH BANDITS PROGRESSING

Powell Insists That Release of Prisoners Is in Sight.

Tsaochwang, May 29.—J. D. Powell, Shanghai newspaper publisher, recently paroled by the Szechow train bandits to arrange terms for the release of the kidnapped foreigners, today arrived here on his third trip from the outlaws' mountain stronghold and reported that negotiations were proceeding favorably.

EARLY PRISONERS KILLED. Shanghai, China, May 29.—Shortage of food in the bandit stronghold at Paetoku, before the kidnapping of a number of foreigners from the Shanghai-Peking express May 6, caused the bandits to throw 80 Chinese prisoners to their death from one of the mountain cliffs, according to information received today from Fr. William Leners, an aged German priest, who has made several trips to the outlaw headquarters.

SITUATION FAVORABLE. Peking, China, May 29.—Chinese military authorities and representatives of the Shantung bandits who kidnapped a number of foreigners from the Shanghai-Peking express May 6, are participating in direct negotiations for the release of the captives, according to advices received today by the foreign relations office here.

This new and hopeful turn of affairs is considered significant in official quarters in Peking and the departure of the international military commission on its investigation of the Tsaochwang has been postponed till Thursday.

TERMS ARE GIVEN. Washington, D. C., May 29.—Specific terms of the Chinese bandits for the release of Americans and other foreigners still held captive were cabled to the state department today by Minister Schurman at Peking who said that the bandit leaders had reiterated their five demands to the Chinese officials on the night of May 26. The terms presented were as follows:

"One—Withdrawal of soldiers. "Two—Central government to furnish the bandits regularly with food and clothing. "Three—Ten thousand bandits in the southwestern district be used to form six brigades under the direct control of the central government which should furnish arms and ammunition. "Fourth—The central government to give six months pay in advance, also arrears of pay not to exceed a total of six months' pay. "Five—Upon consent of the central government to the above terms an agreement to be drawn up between the central government and the bandit chiefs, to be signed in the presence of a representative of the diplomatic corps who will act as guarantor of the proper execution of the agreement."

The announcement issued by the state department made no comment upon the terms.

KITCHEN NEAR DEATH'S DOOR

Wilson, N. C., May 29.—At nine o'clock tonight Dr. C. A. Woodard, representative Claude Kitchen's physician, told the Associated Press that the condition of the minority leader was "very critical" and unless there was a decided change the end was only a matter of hours.

Mr. Kitchen, who has been suffering for several weeks with stomach trouble, began to sink shortly after three o'clock this afternoon. His wife and daughter and son are at his bedside.

It was said that Mr. Kitchen is making a most remarkable fight for life.

OFFICERS HOLD MURDERESS FOR TRIP TO COAST

RETURNS VOLUNTARILY AFTER FLIGHT TO HONDURAS.

New Orleans, La., May 29.—Clara Phillips, who escaped from jail in Los Angeles last December after her conviction of the murder of Mrs. Alberta Meadows, returned to this country today from Honduras in the custody of California officers and tonight was resting in the New Orleans parish house of detention, preparatory to starting tomorrow on her long journey to the Pacific coast.

The former Waco, Texas, girl who stepped from the liner Topan was not the Clara Phillips Orleans-ists had expected to see. They were prepared for a woman desperate over her recapture, after one of the most sensational escapes ever accomplished in this country. Instead she seemed to be in buoyant spirits. She told newspaper men that she was returning home voluntarily to establish her innocence and that she was confident it would be accomplished.

Prisoner Talks Freely. Mrs. Phillips, attired in a brown crepe de chine dress and becoming hat to match, was on deck as the Topan drew into the pier. She looked at the hundreds of curious spectators on the pier, apparently with little interest and when newspaper men and photographers boarded the vessel with customs officials she did not hesitate to pose for innumerable photographs. Mrs. Phillips did not make the journey down the pier to headquarters in a police patrol. Instead, Superintendent Maloney placed his personal car at the disposal of the California officer and his prisoner.

To Establish Innocence. The prisoner talked freely with reporters but was careful not to say anything that might tend to hamper her fight for freedom. In stating that she was returning voluntarily to fight for her name, honor, and "freedom in the right way," Mrs. Phillips was emphatic in declaring her innocence and equally emphatic in her statement that Peggy Caffie was the slayer of Mrs. Meadows. She stated that had she told all of her story at her trial she would have been acquitted.

Mrs. Phillips would say little concerning the details of her escape, but in reply to a query as to whether she was in communication with her husband during her period of freedom, said: "not all the time."

Mrs. Phillips and her guards will leave here at noon tomorrow on the Southern Pacific's Sunset Limited, which is due in Los Angeles Friday night.

Los Angeles, Calif., May 29.—Clara Phillips, convicted hatter-murderess, who escaped from the Los Angeles jail Dec. 5 and who was tonight in New Orleans en route to California, will spend exactly 41 minutes in this city Friday night before leaving for San Quentin to serve a life sentence for the murder of Mrs. Alberta Meadows, it was announced tonight by Sheriff William I. Trager.

$100,000 Missing From Victim's Body

New York, May 29.—Investigation in to the mysterious sinking of the rum lugger Dwight off Vineyard Haven, Mass., with a loss of nine lives, a month ago, has revealed that James A. Craven of Lyndhurst, N. J., one of the victims, had $100,000 in his possession when the ship sank. Federal authorities said tonight. The money was missing when Craven's mutilated body was washed up on the beach.

and Mississippi, and May 10th, by North and South Carolina. This year Tennessee will officially observe May 30th for the first time.

"It has become a symbol of the beauty of a union restored and a people harmonized by their common devotion to it.

"The American Legion Auxiliary in its triple role of welfare, rehabilitative and patriotic work will endeavor to follow in the footsteps of those who for so many years have made this 'day of memory' sacred and eloquent with unspoken sentiments of honor and gratitude.

"In St. Joseph's and Lakeview 'allent cities of the dead' are mounds of many veterans, including the graves of Escanaba's youth who died in the World War or as a result of disability incurred in the service of their country.

"There will be ten new graves this year to receive brave markers bearing the emblem of the American Legion, to mark the resting-place of our boys cut down in the Springtime of their lives 'Lest we forget.'

"Lord God of hosts, be with us yet. This be our earnest prayer, Lest we forget the burdens great.

"That they were forced to bear For us, that we might live in peace, Free from the tyrant's might, And from their homeland marched away To die perchance for right.

"Lest we forget" the hours of toil, Long miles of march each day; The nights when only God seemed near.

LUDGER KENNETH BLAIR. Ludger Kenneth Blair, new born babe of Mr. and Mrs. Ludger Blair, 230 North Twenty-first street, died at the home of the family Tuesday.

A. T. MARCEAU. A. T. Marceau, of Wausau, Wis., traveling salesman for the E. C. Atkins Company of Chicago who was taken ill at the Delta hotel last week where he was stopping while in this city and later removed to a hospital, passed away at ten o'clock Tuesday morning from an affection of the heart.

Dr. Ryan was widely known in Escanaba where he spent the early years of his life and his death came as a shock not only to members of his family but to a wide circle of close personal friends.

He attended the local public schools and was graduated with the class of 1911, of which he was president. He then entered the Detroit Medical College and was graduated in 1915.

After receiving his degree he interned at Providence hospital of Detroit for one year. He then became house physician at the Hotel Statler and after acting in this capacity for a year, he accepted a position as assistant physician and surgeon for the Dodge Motor Company.

In 1917 he enlisted in the Medical Corps and was commissioned an officer. He went overseas with the 90th division. While serving in France he contracted pleuro-pneumonia, from which he did not entirely recover before rejoining his division.

After his discharge from the army he returned to Detroit, where he resumed his connections with the Dodge Company. His skill and knowledge of surgery was recognized and he was made chief of the medical staff, a position which was considered by medical men as a remarkable one for a young man his age.

A year and a half ago he was compelled to resign his position on account of failing health. After traveling through the southwest, he located in Santa Fe, with the hope of regaining his health. He improved steadily and every hope was entertained for his ultimate recovery. It was a shocking surprise last Wednesday morning, when his family was notified that Dr. Ryan had unexpectedly suffered a heart attack and might not rally.

In hope that some of his family would reach him before he succumbed, his sister, Mrs. Marc L. Prass of South Bend, Ind., was notified to leave immediately for Santa Fe. She was followed from here by her sisters, Josephine and Catherine Ryan of Iron Mountain. It was not to be their good fortune as Mrs. Prass, the first to arrive, found that Dr. Ryan had passed away several hours before.

church. Rev. Anderson officiated at the services and spoke in glowing terms of the beautiful life led by the devoted wife and mother. The floral pieces were beautiful and profuse. The room in which the body lay in state at the family home was like a flower garden, so numerous were the tokens of esteem from her many friends.

The members of the Morning Star society and the Phebe Rebekah lodge attended the services in a body. The close friends who acted as pall bearers were John Carlson, Elmer Peterson, Andrew Peterson, Fred Anderson, Charles Olson and August Johnson. Burial was in Lakeview cemetery in the family lot.

MUNSEY SAYS TIME IS RIPE FOR NEW PARTY. (Continued From Page One) ed in making Henry Ford repeat his expressions of anti-semitism or else it means that politics has superseded all else in the mind of the chain publisher. It is bound to become one of the interesting phases of the campaign for if by chance the Ku Klux Klan gets tied to the Ford banner and issues of religious bigotry creep into the campaign there's no telling what political mix-ups are liable to develop in the next 12 months. Mr. Hearst talks independent radical party. Mr. Munsey thinks the birth of a radical party means the break-up of the old parties and the inevitable development of a liberal conservative party. No wonder the politicians are wondering whether the Ford boom is a real thing or a flivver. The average length of human life in the 16th century was only 18 to 20 years.

WHAT'S IN A NAME?

The man who was United States Treasurer under the Wilson administration became a partner in a brokerage firm in New York and the firm later went broke, entailing huge losses on customers. Subsequent court proceedings elicited the information that he got $500 a week for being a partner but rendered no service. When asked if it was not apparent to him that the only thing the brokerage firm wanted was the prestige of his name, he replied: "I did not think so at the time, but I realize it now." There were several men in the Wilson administration who were too dense to understand when they were being used as tools by the unscrupulous.

All motor oils look alike; but they're not. And poor oils cause most of your motor troubles. Poor oils don't lubricate as well; and usually cause hard carbon deposits. SUNOCO THE DISTILLED OIL. is just pure lubricant. It contains no "cylinder stock." Because it's pure it reduces carbon troubles, and after hundreds of miles it retains its lubricating qualities. If you could test Sunoco that's been used 800 miles, comparing it with ordinary oil used for the same distance, you'd see the difference. Many mechanics can feel the difference. We made careful tests to find the best oil for your car—and every other car. We found it—Sunoco. There are six types of Sunoco—all distilled. One of them is best for your car. Ask any Sunoco dealer for a booklet, "What's Happening Inside Your Motor?" It will tell you a number of facts you ought to know.' The ad is signed 'MARSHALL WELLS COMPANY' with dealers listed in Duluth, Minneapolis, Spokane, Portland, and Escanaba, Mich.

And with our flag waving proudly throughout the land, let us each, by some thought or deed, dedicate this day to our country's heroes. Those who have given all for their flag and nation.' A SACRED HOLIDAY.

Escanaba will pause today to honor the memory of those who gave their lives that the nation might live and to pay tribute to the living for the service they rendered that we and their posterity might enjoy the benefits of a free government.

It is proper that as a nation we should reverently today, bow our heads in grateful acknowledgment of the debt we owe, as a people, to our national heroes.

To those who fell in the treacherous and bloody struggle when division of the Union was threatened; to those who laid down their lives for the sake of a great humanitarian principle in the Spanish American War; to those who fought on died on the fields of France and Belgium, that world imperialism might be checked for all time, the people of this nation owe a debt of gratitude that can never be repaid. It is proper that a day should be set aside as a national holiday, to reverently review the history of the past and by the infusion of fresh patriotism, through the recognition of the sacrifices of those who fought and gave their lives for a principle, make we who live today, renew our pledge of faith and build stronger our love for allegiance to the principles upon which our government is founded.

Let Escanaba today join the nation in a proper observance of this holiday, hallowed by the lives of our forefathers and followers.

STEADY HAND ON THE HELM.

The substantial people of the country are coming more and more to appreciate the value of a national administration that does not trim its sails to every changing, passing breeze, and that does not yield to a panic of fear and become hysterical whenever a cloud appears upon the horizon. This Administration had a pretty definite course marked out when it was called to take charge of the helm of the Ship of State, and it has pursued that course consistently from the beginning.

One of the first problems which confronted the Administration was that of unemployment. It was urged that the Government undertake the task of finding jobs for those that were idle. The Administration did not yield to that demand, believing that the only substantial and permanent basis of employment is prosperous private industry. The Republican Congress and the Republican President set about the task of correcting the economic weaknesses of Government policies established under the Democratic regime. Prosperity was restored and today there is employment for every man who wants a job.

In fact, the pendulum has swung to the other extreme. Where in 1921, there were millions of men out of employment, there is now a demand for men who can not be found. Wages in many industries have been raised to fabulous heights. Where it was previously urged that the government should furnish employment, it is now urged that the immigration bars should be thrown down in order to permit an influx of cheap labor from Europe.

Once again the Administration seems to get hysterical but adheres to the policy of admitting a reasonable number of immigrants each year, shutting out all criminal, diseased, pauper, and other undesirable classes, and admitting chiefly people who come from those races most easily assimilated and Americanized. It is the belief of the Administration that in due course the employment problem will be adjusted by natural processes and that hasty action in throwing wide the immigration gates would be regretted.

The Administration's policy on the subject of employment is typical. In pursuance of the same policy of consistently following a well-defined course, President Harding has refused to enter upon a wholesale and destructive policy of revising the recently enacted tariff law under the flexibility clause. He has reaffirmed his determination not to en-

What we won't do to the "Hook" won't be worth while mentioning, and with the charitable assistance of the clamoring coarbs we expect to run the thing in such fashion that the good people of Escanaba and the territory adjacent thereto will come to truly appreciate what they are missing while the "sure 'nuff" conductor, Sirmon Pickens, is hibernating. No, Darling. He's Heard of Escanaba's Streets and is Afraid to Land Anywhere near the Town.

The following message was contained in a tomato can dropped by the plane in front of the Press office yesterday afternoon. The postmark was indecipherable.

In spite of the protests of some that he is injuring the public service by excessive economy, he has continued his policy of reducing public expenditures by every possible means, and thus far public service has not been impaired. He has paved the way for further reduction in Federal taxes and for substantial reduction of the public debt.

In the management of foreign affairs the administration has likewise been calm and deliberate. There has been no frequent announcement of a 'diplomatic crisis' with Mexico. Negotiations for the funding of the debt due from Great Britain were conducted quietly and effectively, and with good feeling on both sides. Our foreign relations are today the best they have been in a quarter of a century.

LITTLE JACK IS MISSING.
 Chapter LXIX.
 Mrs. Peabody had gone with her husband and Dick to the lemon orchard, Grace had joined them soon afterward, and then Mr. Peabody had returned to the ranch house, claiming he was tired. Mrs. Peabody wandered about admiring the competent way Dick had managed, plucking a leaf from the trees, thinking of Ann, how thankful she was, that in this beautiful climate she had grown strong and well again.

After a time she turned back toward where she had left Dick and Grace. They evidently thinking she had gone back to the house, were standing close together. Dick's arm thrown over Grace's shoulder, his face bent to hers in pleading fashion. The intimate pose, the look on Dick's face startled her. She retraced her steps a bit, then again turning in their direction, she purposely made them aware of her presence by coughing.

When she reached them, Dick was bending over his work, while Grace was seated on the ground eating an orange.

"Shall we go to the house now, Miss Edmunds?" Mrs. Peabody asked. "We have hindered Dick quite long enough."

Unwillingly Grace rose. "I must be going home," she said, looking at Dick. "Doctor Grayson is coming to dinner and I promised Ned I'd be back."

Mrs. Peabody saw the quick red flush that mounted to Dick's cheek, the disapproval in his face. She laid it to Grace's going, it never entering her mind that Dick was jealous. But Grace knew, and as she turned away with Mrs. Peabody she threw a remark back at

In spite of her narrow life and strict ideas, there was nothing of the meddlesome mother-in-law in Mrs. Peabody. She said nothing of what she had observed. But it worried her to see Ann unhappy. Dick and Mr. Peabody were late in returning. Before anyone could say anything, Dick explained:

"Grace had a headache, and I took her for a little spin. She thought the air would do her good."

Mrs. Peabody thought him frank, but Ann dropped her eyelids. She had a suspicion the visit and the ride had been planned, that her father's going had upset those plans only in part.

"He has kept away from her as long as he could," she said bitterly, after she went to her room.

After this incident nothing happened to prove that Dick and Grace were other than good friends until after Ann's parents left. And Mrs. Peabody warned Ann that she must not allow herself to think evil where none was intended.

Immediately they were gone Grace resumed her old tactics, telling Dick she deserved a medal because she had been so good; saying to Ann that she would have made love to her father if he had remained longer. Forcing herself on them, teasing, incomprehensible to Ann.

Ann was sewing in the house, Nora busy in the kitchen. Jack had been playing about the yard. Ann called to Nora to bring him in. Nora called, hunted about wildly. Jack was not to be found? Ann hurried out, and together they searched. Then, thinking perhaps he had wandered to the orchard to find his father, Ann hurried there. Dick had not seen him.

CITY BUDGET FOR THIS YEAR IS $92,443.88

Review Board Authorizes Slight Tax Rate Boost for Manistique.

Determined to wipe out all outstanding accounts and debts of the city of Manistique and give the city finances a clean start, the board of review approved a city tax rate of .0155 at their concluding session Tuesday morning. This is an increase of two mills over last year's rate, which was .0315.

The board of review's final meeting followed the budget session of the Manistique city council held Monday evening, when a city budget of $92,443.88 was authorized to meet current expenses for the coming year.

All city funds were pruned to the limit by the council, and all funds found with a balance this year were reduced to the extent of the surplus. The sewer fund and street maintenance funds suffered in the expense pruning process together with other departments.

In addition to the regular budgeted expenses, nearly $17,000 worth of back taxes are taken care of in the annual appropriations.

$500 to Scouts.

An additional $2,100 was added to the appropriations Monday evening by action of the council. Five hundred dollars of this goes to the Boy Scout movement in response to a request made to the council Monday evening by Messrs. Sheahan, Jewell and Falk, representing the financing committee of the Boy Scout movement in this city. In presenting their request, Mr. Sheahan cited figures submitted by the Gladstone council for last season's expenses in Gladstone. It is estimated that a total of $1,500 must be raised here to start the Scout movement. Satisfied that the Scout work meant much to the welfare of Manistique boys, the councilmen acceded readily to the request, and voted unanimously for the $500 appropriation.

Petitions were also received from the Stack Lumber company and the Charcoal Iron Company, asking that additional hydrants be installed on their property for fire protection. The presentation of these petitions resulted in a lengthy discussion as to whether they should be granted. The question was finally brought to a vote, alderman Debut voting no. Installation of the hydrants calls for the estimated expenditures of $1,100 and $500 respectively.

Pop Permits Granted.

The owners of 20 Manistique beverage shops had petitions before the council, asking for beverage shop permits. All of these were granted without question. The petition of S. Lafkas was discussed briefly, and was granted upon assurance of the Chief of Police that the proprietor had not been known to violate the law.

In view of the fact that the time limit allowed W. L. Orr and D. E. Seller for the re-construction of sidewalks along their property was soon to expire, the council voted to send notification to each of the parties, as several complaints had been received by aldermen regarding the condition of the walks at the present time.

It was decided also to notify Joseph Osterhaut that brick veneer should be applied as soon as possible to his garage on Deer street, now housing the Bowman Chevrolet Co., as per an agreement with the city last fall.

MRS. M. MARTIN FINED $10 HERE IN SLANDER CASE

Malignant gossip was handed a reproof in justice court here Monday afternoon, when a Manistique jury found Mrs. Minnie Martin guilty of slander, and recommended her to the mercy of Justice W. A. McKinney, who levied a fine of $10 and costs, in addition to a reprimand.

Mrs. Laura Belanger was the complainant in the case, and charged that Mrs. Martin had made remarks defamatory to her character, implying that she was not a virtuous woman.

Monday was the anniversary of the wash-day on which the trouble had originally occurred, and thus became the day for the washing of "soiled linen" in the local court.

Several other Gulliver ladies accompanied Mrs. Belanger as witnesses, while Mrs. Martin had no witnesses, and could only plead guilty through her lawyer, Jas. C. Wood, and demanded a jury. Awaiting the securing of a jury, the trial was postponed to the afternoon.

It was intimated that other similar charges would be lodged against Mrs. Martin in the near future.

McClellan Leases Boushor Barn Here

Negotiations were completed Monday, through which Elmer McClellan, local drayman, leases the large feed barn on lower Walnut street known as the Boushor barn.

McClellan has been identified with the draying business in this city for several years, and is well known to Manistique people. The Boushor barn is one of the old established feed stables of the city, their headquarters for farmers who do hauling to this city in the winter time. During the past winter the barn did a great volume of business in hay sales and as a feed stable.

As a result of the deal, Mr. McClellan will make the barn his headquarters in the draying business, at the same time continuing the feed stable and hay trade as it was under the former management.

Ball Game Later.

From the monument the parade will proceed to the cemetery, disbanding in time for the ball game. For the boys of the city, the ball game will not conclude the day's activities, for in addition to a free ticket to the same the boys will be banqueted in four groups, at the Masonic, Odd Fellows, Elks and K. Bike Riders Warned To Keep Off Walks

A warning was issued yesterday to bicycle riders by Chief of Police John A. Peterson, reminding them that the riding of bicycles on the sidewalks of the city was contrary to the city ordinance, and that violators were liable to prosecution if caught in the act.

That bicycle riders are a menace to pedestrians is charged by local people who have made complaint to the chief recently, and instances have been reported of small children being struck as they ran into the path of an approaching bicycle. Most of the offenders so far have been youngsters riding on the sidewalks for pleasure only.

Blue Ridge Is Scene of Picture At Gero Tonight

Virginia's Blue Ridge Mountains form the background for the picture booked as a Memorial Day feature at the Gero theater, Manistique. The story is called "Driven" and is full of satisfying thrills.

With a cast of players starred or featured in numerous productions, a story that attracted widespread attention when published, and superior direction and photography "Driven" has attained a place as one of the outstanding successes of the year.

"Driven" is an epic of the Blue Ridge mountains. It depicts life as it really is lived in the district where the only law is the law of force and where shooting a "revenuer" is considered something praiseworthy.

An excellent cast of notable players enacts this stirring drama. There is Elinor Fair, dainty and capable little star; Burr McIntosh, whose fame on the legitimate stage made him known the length and breadth of the land; Charles E. Mack of Dream Street renown, and loaned for this production by David Wark Griffith; Emily Fitzroy, noted screen and stage star, and George Bancroft, one of the best villains of the day.

STOP THIEF BIG SUCCESS OF THE YEAR

"Stop Thief," the senior play presented last evening at the high school auditorium by members of the graduating class delighted and held members of a capacity audience who crowded the auditorium to witness the performance.

The story of the comedy farce as portrayed by the principals and the minor characters, proved one of the best things done at the high school in some time and favorable comment was heard on all sides following the close of the final act.

Much credit for the success of the play goes to the members of the cast who enacted their parts with such ease and ability and especially to Matthew Wagner, under whose careful direction the play was produced.

COMMISSIONERS HEAR REPORT ON PROPERTY TAX

Other Matters Taken Up at Meeting Monday.

In addition to approving the budget submitted by Manager C. W. Ham at the public hearing conducted by the commission Monday night, action on a number of other important matters was taken.

The budget which was adopted without amendment or qualification, will receive final action at a meeting of the commission Thursday which will be held to pass the appropriation ordinance introduced at Monday night's meeting.

In addition to the budget, the commission Monday heard a verbal report from Manager Ham on the personal property tax situation in which he told the commission that reports showed $2400 delinquent during the last five years. This amount, the manager pointed out, is due the city on personal property and is needed for city expenses. Collection, it was said, will start immediately.

The commission also approved the manager's bond for $5,000.

Pay Commission.

It was also voted to pay the seven members of the special commission appointed to frame the new city charter. Reimbursement for the services given by the commission was not given under the only management and the commissioners took the matter up at the first possible opportunity. The members of the commission were: Jackson Stephenson, chairman, R. J. Riley, G. R. Empson, H. B. Laing, A. B. Cassidy, Phillip Louis and Dr. George Bjorkman.

JUDGES DECIDE WINNERS OF ESSAY CONTEST

Winners of the Boy Scout essay contest have been announced as follows by the judges, who yesterday finished going through the papers submitted, grading each according to its merits:

Michael Kinella, Troop Four, first; Kenneth Campbell, Troop Two, second; John Foy, Troop Four, third; Keith Campbell, Troop Two, fourth; Bernard DeHooghe, Troop Six, fifth; Wallace Cameron, Troop One, sixth.

The judges were Supt. C. H. Teague, Attorney G. Raymond Empson and J. A. Sturgeon.

"I was favorably impressed with the essays submitted," said one of the judges, "and frankly admit that I was put to considerable of a task to decide on which should, in my judgement, be declared the prize winners. I feel certain those boys who submitted the essays have contributed much to a good cause, and this applies to all the essays whether or not they are declared among the prize winners."

TO DARKEN HAIR APPLY SAGE TEA

Look Young! Bring Back Its Natural Color, Gloss and Attractiveness.

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea with sulphur added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant. Just a few applications will prove a revelation if your hair is fading, streaked or gray. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get a bottle of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound at any drug store all ready for use. This is the old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients.

While wispy, gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared, and, after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant. AMUSEMENTS

"Souls for Sale," a Goldwyn film, from Rupert Hughes' story of movie life, will be shown again today at the Delft theatre.

Much had been predicted for this amazing feature, with its cleverly developed plot, its thrilling climax and its exceptionally chosen cast, all worked out under the deft hand of the author himself, but unlike other much heralded pictures, this one does not disappoint.

As may be surmised from the title, the story deals with the unfounded belief that a girl must sell her soul to win fame in the movies. The heroine, pretty Eleanor Boardman, believes this, but finds souls are a drug on the market in the movie colony.

However, she does obtain a part in the movies, and the film discloses how success is actually won before the camera.

The never-to-be-forgotten scene occurs at the end when the immense circus tent, large enough to hold 10,000 persons, is wrecked by a tornado at night. Then lightning sets it afire. The villain, Lew Cody, is insane with jealousy and tries to murder Tom Holby, who is Frank Mayo. He doesn't, of course, but for a time it looks really serious for Frank Mayo and Eleanor Boardman. Another first class Goldwyn cast is in "Souls for Sale" including Barbara La Marr as the "movie vamp," Mae Busch, Richard Dix, and other well known players.

AT THE STRAND. Enid Bennett enacts the leading feminine role in "Your Friend and Mine," the photoplay version of Willard Mack's play, directed by Clarence Badger at the Strand Theatre today.

Miss Bennett's role in this picture, that of neglected wife of a money-mad business man, is a decided contrast to her part of Maid Marian in "Robin Hood," Douglas Fairbanks' photoplay.

During the few years she has been in pictures, Miss Bennett has established herself as one of the most beautiful and talented of screen actresses. Her motion picture debut was with Ince. She was starred in "Fuss and Feathers," "The Vamp," "The Hunted Bedroom," "Stepping Out," "The Woman in the Sultcase" and other successful pictures. Since then Miss Bennett has been featured in several all-star productions, and has enacted the leading feminine role in "Robin Hood."

Dr. John C. Acheson, president of the Pennsylvania College for Women, born at Fairfield, Iowa, 53 years ago today.

The Spirit That Lives On!

TODAY is distinctively American. We pause in silent homage to those who have died that this Nation might live.

The Liberty Bell; Lincoln's Gettysburg Speech; Dewey's Farwell; Pershing's Last Message, echo again their emprising challenge to the world.

Because America will ever preserve the sacred heritage of her Sons who gave "their last full measure of devotion," Memorial Day leaves its impress on the hearts of all people.

Those we honor today live on, to enable the spirit of all generations to come.

DIGNITY MARKS PROGRAM FOR MEMORIAL DAY

and Mississippi, and May 10th; by North and South Carolina. This year Tennessee will officially observe May 30th for the first time. As time went on the name "Decoration Day" was changed to Memorial Day as a day commemorating peace and re-union. Memorial Day has become in a real and inspiring sense a national holiday. It could not have survived merely as a celebration of sectional sacrifices and heroism, its observance would soon have died out. The very service which it performed of honoring the dead who fell in battle, gradually imparted to it a spiritual significance, which rebuked and finally obliterated the bitterness and suspicion engendered by the Civil War.

It has become a symbol of the beauty of a union restored and a people harmonized by their common devotion to it. The American Legion Auxiliary in its triple role of welfare, rehabilitative and patriotic work will endeavor to follow in the footsteps of those who for so many years have made this "day of memory" sacred and eloquent with unspoken sentiments of honor and gratitude.

In St. Joseph's and Lakeview "silent cities of the dead" are mounds of many veterans, including the graves of Escanaba's youth who died in the World War or as a result of disability incurred in the service of their country. These days will be decorated on Memorial Day by the American Legion Auxiliary with a floral wreath and a flag for which they offered their lives.

There will be ten new graves this year to receive bronze markers bearing the emblem of the American Legion, to mark the resting-place of our boys cut down in the Springtime of their lives. "Lest we forget."

Lord God of hosts, be with us yet, This be our earnest prayer, Lest we forget the burdens great

That they were forced to bear For us that we might live in peace, From from the tyrant's might, And from their homeland marched away, To die perchance for right.

"Lest we forget" the hours of toil, Long miles of march each day; The nights when only God seemed near

They were so far away— From home and friends—the hours of dread, The demon's screech and roar, The hell of shot and shell they faced, E'en comrades drenched with gore.

Lest we forget the blistering heat; Or days both cold and drear, The lack of comforts; parching thirst

With not a thing to cheer, Lest we forget the price they paid, The precious lives they gave, O God, help us to pray that be Lest we forget their grave.

Lest we forget the dear ones left, Who still must pay the price, Make us remember on this day Their priceless sacrifice, Help us, O God, for whom they gave, To pray that we may yet Be worthy of this fearful price, And not forget—and not forget.

Board of Review To Meet June 5 The Board of Review of the City of Escanaba will be in session each day beginning June 5 and continuing as long as may be necessary to handle the work which may be brought before them. It is expected that the sessions will not extend through more than three or four days.

Aeroplane Here To Take Part In Memorial Service Sailing across from Iron Mountain in 35 minutes, Hart G. Smith and W. F. Waldron, Chicago aviators, arrived in Escanaba early yesterday afternoon, landing at the DeGrande field near the west city limits.

Mr. Smith, pilot of the plane, has volunteered the services of himself and his machine for the purpose of dropping flowers over the bay and over both local cemeteries as a part of the Memorial Day observance.

It will be the first time that an aeroplane has played a part in the celebration of Memorial Day here. Mr. Smith's offer to assist in the day's services was accepted with alacrity by local Legion officials who are handling parts of the program.

Both Mr. Smith and Mr. Waldron are experienced fliers. Both received their training with the army air forces during the war and have been doing a great deal of commercial flying since. The plane used is a standard army plane powered with a Hispano-Suiza motor. Mr. Smith estimates that their machine has carried more than 10,000 passengers.

Mr. Smith and Mr. Waldron have been doing passenger work at Iron Mountain for the past two or three weeks. They will take up passengers here during their stay.

OBITUARY

BABY BRITZER'S FUNERAL.

Impressive funeral services were held for Baby Joseph James Britzer Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock at St. Joseph's church. Rev. Fr. Bertrand was the celebrant at the Requiem High Mass. Many relatives and friends attended in the cortege to Lakeview cemetery where burial was made.

HOLD FUNERAL TODAY. Funeral services over the body of Dr. Victor F. Ryan, of this city, who passed away at Santa Fe, New Mexico, one week ago, will be conducted at St. Patrick's church at 9 o'clock this morning.

The body of Dr. Ryan, accompanied by a party of relatives, arrived in the city yesterday morning. Solemn Requiem High Mass will be celebrated at the funeral this morning by Rev. Father Wilhelm, assisted by Rev. Father Jacques and Rev. Father Pelissier. The funeral will be conducted under the auspices of Cloverland post of the American Legion. Escanaba members of Delta County Medical Society will serve as members of an honorary escort while the active pallbearers have been selected from among members of the Legion, boyhood friends of the deceased. The active pallbearers will be Dr. H. J. Defnet, Dr. John J. Walsh, Dr. Louis Groos, Guy H. Sullivan, John Lemmer, Gerald Cleary, Louis A. Hoyle and Jacob A. Bink.

Dr. Ryan was widely known in Escanaba where he spent the early years of his life and his death came as a shock not only to members of his family but to a wide circle of close personal friends.

He attended the local public schools and was graduated with the class of 1911, of which he was president. He then entered the Detroit Medical College and was graduated in 1915. After receiving his degree he interned at Providence hospital of Detroit for one year. He then became house physician at the Hotel Statler and after acting in this capacity for a year, he accepted a position as assistant physician and surgeon for the Dodge Motor Company.

In 1917 he enlisted in the Medical Corps and was commissioned an officer. He went overseas with the 90th division. While serving in France he contracted pleuro-pneumonia, from which he did not entirely recover before rejoining his division.

After his discharge from the army he returned to Detroit, where he resumed his connections with the Dodge Company. His skill and knowledge of surgery was recognized and he was made chief of the medical staff, a position which was considered by medical men as a remarkable one for a young man his age.

A year and a half ago he was compelled to resign his position on account of failing health. After traveling through the southwest, he located in Santa Fe, with the hope of regaining his health. He improved steadily and every hope was entertained for his ultimate recovery. It was a shocking surprise last Wednesday morning, when his family was notified that Dr. Ryan had unexpectedly suffered a heart attack and might not rally. In hope that some of his family would reach him before he succumbed, his sister, Mrs. Marc L. Prass of South Bend, Ind., was notified to leave immediately for Santa Fe. She was followed from here by her sisters, Josephine and Catherine Ryan, of Iron Mountain. It was not to be their good fortune as Mrs. Prass, the first to arrive, found that Dr. Ryan had passed away several hours before.

MRS. ERNEST OLSON. Impressive funeral services were held for Mrs. Ernest Olson, at her home, 409 South Fifteenth street, at two o'clock, Tuesday afternoon and at twenty at the Swedish Mission.

MUNSEY SAYS TIME IS RIPE FOR NEW PARTY

ed in making Henry Ford repeat his expressions of anti-semitism or else it means that politics has superseded all else in the mind of the chain publisher.

It is bound to become one of the interesting phases of the campaign for if by chance the Ku Klux Klan gets tied to the Ford banner and issues of religious bigotry creep into the campaign there's no telling what political mix-ups are liable to develop in the next 12 months.

Mr. Hearst talks independent radical party, Mr. Munsey thinks the birth of a radical party means the break-up of the old parties and the inevitable development of a liberal conservative party. No wonder the politicians are wondering whether the Ford boom is a real thing of a flivver.

The average length of human life in the 16th century was only 18 to 20 years.

"Dokey" Minstrels Score Big Success

Escanaba Pythians were given an exceptional treat here last night in the appearance of the "Dokey" minstrels, of Ishpeming. The group, consisting of about 40 members of the Ishpeming Lodge, Dramatic Order of Knights of Khorassan, scored the same unqualified success here as they did at other peninsular points where the production was staged.

The order is one which features the dramatic in its lodge and ritualistic work, and the perfection of their work has become so widely recognized that any "Dokey" offering, public or private, is looked forward to as a real feature.

WHAT'S IN A NAME? The man who was United States Treasurer under the Wilson administration became a partner in a brokerage firm in New York and the firm later went broke, entailing huge losses on customers. Subsequent court proceedings elicited the information that he got $500 a week for being a partner but rendered no service. When asked if it was not apparent to him that the only thing the brokerage firm wanted was the prestige of his name, he replied: "I did not think so at the time, but I realize it now." There were several men in the Wilson administration who were too dense to understand when they were being used as tools by the unscrupulous.

The Piffle Hook

"While the old cat's away, etc." The honored and respected conductor of this column being laid up in drydock with his annual attack of diptheria, the pleasurable duty of turning out a galley of literary and humorous wheat and chaff devolves upon "the spray-footed galligault bird on the opposite of the table." What we won't do to the "Hook" won't be worth while mentioning, and with the charitable assistance of the clamoring contribs we expect to run the thing in such fashion that the good people of Escanaba and the territory adjacent thereto will come to truly appreciate what they are missing while the "sure nut" conductor, Silmon Piffle, is hibernating. Evere goes!

"By, Bring the mail!" Casually sifting the topmost envelope on the pile, we find the following wire from up on the Stephenson Line:
"Bridge One, Mich., May 30. (Collect)—Remarks of Denny the Deacon in yesterday's issue relative to origin of song, 'I'll shoulder my peavey, etc.'" are regarded by all informed persons as pretty much scattering timber. Who ever heard of a barn boss shouldering anything heavier than a hay fork? Hurry up Jim, push down at old Camp Eight a few years ago claimed that the ballad came north with one Haywire Henry from Bay City, during the well known Knights of Labor strike down there. The song was the official tune of the Carriage Rider's Union, whose members were all forced to leave the saginaw valley and hunt other jobs. Hoping you are the same, I remain, your respectful servant,
PEERLESS PETE,
Camp "A."

We have yet to hear from the following: Abner Bangs, Andy Skaggs, Jo Peto the Bone-slasher, Soo Lane Kelly and Uncle Logan Berry.
Sir:—From the Soo I hear that two moose swam across the river and chased an ore boat out of the locks. Can't you whittle something out of this?
MAC PIFFLE,

"What's he looking for, mother?" queried the small boy as he watched Hart Smith and his plane sailing circles over Escanaba yesterday noon. "Is he trying to find where Escanaba is?"

STEADY HAND ON THE HELM.
The substantial people of the country are coming more and more to appreciate the value of a national administration that does not trim its sails to every changing, passing breeze, and that does not yield to a panic of fear and become hysterical whenever a cloud appears upon the horizon. This Administration had a pretty definite course marked out when it was called to take charge of the helm of the Ship of State, and it has pursued that course consistently from the beginning.

One of the first problems which confronted the Administration was that of unemployment. It was urged that the Government undertake the task of finding jobs for those that were idle. The Administration did not yield to that demand, believing that the only substantial and permanent basis of employment is prosperous private industry. The Republican Congress and the Republican President set about the task of correcting the economic weaknesses of Government policies established under the Democratic regime. Prosperity was restored and today there is employment for every man who wants a job.

In fact, the pendulum has swung to the other extreme. Where in 1921, there were millions of men out of employment, there is now a demand for men who can not be found. Wages in many industries have been raised to fabulous heights. Where it was previously urged that the government should furnish employment, it is now urged that the immigration bars should be thrown down in order to permit an influx of cheap labor from Europe.

Once again the Administration refuses to get hysterical but adheres to the policy of admitting a reasonable number of immigrants each year, shutting out all criminal, diseased, pauper, and other undesirable classes, and admitting chiefly people who come from those races most easily assimilated and Americanized. It is the belief of the Administration that in due course the employment problem will be adjusted by natural processes, and that hasty action in throwing wide the immigration gates would later be regretted.

The Administration's policy on the subject of employment is typical. In pursuance of the same policy of consistently following a well-defined course, President Harding has refused to enter upon a wholesale and destructive policy of revising the recently enacted tariff law under the flexibility clause. He has reaffirmed his determination not to enter the League of Nations by the front door, the back door, or the cellar door. In spite of the protests of some that he is injuring the public service by excessive economy, he has continued his policy of reducing public expenditures by every possible means, and thus far public service has not been impaired. He has paved the way for further reduction in Federal taxes and for substantial reduction of the public debt.

In the management of foreign affairs the administration has likewise been calm and deliberate. There has been no frequent announcement of a "diplomatic crisis" with Mexico. Negotiations for the funding of the debt due from Great Britain were conducted quietly and effectively, and with good feeling on both sides. Our foreign relations are today the best they have been in a quarter of a century.

TODAY'S EVENTS.
Six hundred delegates, from forty or more nations, are to participate in the Second World Conference of Y. M. C. A. Workers Among Boys, which assembles today in the city of Portsmouth, N. H.

The little tailor shop in Greenville, Tenn., where Andrew Johnson began his career, is to be dedicated today as a permanent memorial to the seventeenth President.

Mrs. Peabody had gone with her husband and Dick to the lemon orchard, Grace had joined them soon afterward, and then Mr. Peabody had returned to the ranch house, claiming he was tired. Mrs. Peabody wandered about admiring the competent way Dick had managed, plucking a leaf from the trees, thinking of Ann. How thankful she was that in this beautiful climate she had grown strong and well again.
After a time she turned back toward where she had left Dick and Grace. They evidently thinking she had gone back to the house, were standing close together. Dick's arm thrown over Grace's shoulder, his face bent to hers in pleading fashion. The intimate pose, the look on Dick's face startled her. She retraced her steps a bit, then again turning in their direction, she purposely made them aware of her presence by coughing.
When she reached them, Dick was bending over his work, while Grace was seated on the ground eating an orange.
"Shall we go to the house now, Miss Edmunds?" Mrs. Peabody asked. "We have hindered Dick quite long enough."
Unwillingly Grace rose. "I must be going home," she said, looking at Dick. "Doctor Grayson is coming to dinner and I promised Ned Ed to be back."
Mrs. Peabody saw the quick, red flush that mounted to Dick's cheek, the disapproval in his face. She laid it to Grace's going, it never entering her mind that Dick was jealous. But Grace knew, and as she turned away with Mrs. Peabody she threw a remark back at

THE OLD HOME TOWN

By Stanley

In spite of her narrow life and strict ideas, there was nothing of the meddlesome mother-in-law in Mrs. Peabody. She said nothing of what she had observed. But it worried her to see Ann unhappy. Dick and Mr. Peabody were late in returning. Before anyone could say anything, Dick explained:
"Grace had a headache, and I took her for a little spin. She thought the air would do her good."
Mrs. Peabody thought him frank, but Ann dropped her eyelids. She had a suspicion the visit and the ride had been planned, that her father's going had upset those plans only in part.
"He has kept away from her as long as he could," she said bitterly, after she went to her room.
After this incident nothing happened, to prove that Dick and Grace were other than good friends until after Ann's parents left. And Mrs. Peabody warned Ann that she must not allow herself to think evil where none was intended.
Immediately they were gone Grace resumed her old tactics, telling Dick she deserved a medal because she had been so good; saying to Ann, that she would have made love to her father if he had remained longer. Forcing herself on them, teasing, incomprehensible—to Ann.
Ann was sewing in the house, Nora busy in the kitchen. Jack had been playing about the yard. Ann called to Nora to bring him in. "Nora called, hunted about wildly. Jack was not to be found. Ann hurried out, and together they searched. Then, thinking perhaps he had wandered to the orchard to find his father, Ann hurried there. Dick had not seen him.

Derisoping

We have this on the solemn oath of an Escanaba policeman, (him whom there can be none more veracious.)

Along about "two whoops and a holler" past Narenta, the story goes, a harsh, foreign note crept into the sweet whisper of the quadruple cylinder puddle jumper.

Impressed by the urgent need for immediate action he stepped on one pedal, took his foot off another, yanked at a lever and brought the cursing carryall to a halt at the roadside.

Something glinted in the side ray from his car's headlight. He jockeyed closer and recognized a familiar label. Stepping gingerly out into the muddy marsh he reached forth and plucked a five gallon oil can from the slough.

It was oil. Good, clean, medicinal.

"Peck's Bad Boy" Visits Escanaba Tuesday Morning

If you should find your pet pooch dog dyed a bright green or cerise, or your front door decorated by a crudely lettered "Small Fox" sign, or maybe an army of ants in your best bed; don't blame it on "spooks".

The "Bad Boy" is none other than George W. Peck, Jr., son of the former governor of Wisconsin, and the person who inspired the elder "George W." to write the interesting and educational stories of small boys tricks contained in the volume entitled "Peck's Bad Boy and His Pa".

Mr. Peck was in Escanaba yesterday in the interests of the Marlin Arms company. His work is in the furtherance of field shooting, especially in the trapshooting line.

Interviewed at the Delta Hotel, Mr. Peck admitted that he was undoubtedly the model on which the story of "Peck's Bad Boy" was designed.

CITY BUDGET FOR THIS YEAR IS $92,443.88

Review Board Authorizes Slight Tax Rate Boost for Manistique.

Determined to wipe out all outstanding accounts and debts of the city of Manistique and give the city finances a clean start, the board of review approved a city tax rate of 0.155 at their concluding session Tuesday morning. This is an increase of two mills over last year's rate, which was .0315.

The board of review's final meeting followed the budget session of the Manistique city council held Monday evening when a city budget of $92,443.88 was authorized to meet current expenses for the coming year.

All city funds were pruned to the limit by the council, and all funds found with a balance this year were reduced to the extent of the surplus. The sewer fund and street maintenance funds suffered in the expense pruning process together with other departments.

In addition to the regular budgeted expenses, nearly $17,000 worth of back taxes are taken care of in the annual appropriations.

$500 to Scouts.

An additional $2,100 was added to the appropriations Monday evening by action of the council. Five hundred dollars of this goes to the Boy Scout movement in response to a request made by the council Monday evening by Messrs. Sheahan, Jewell and Falk, representing the financing committee of the Boy Scout movement in this city. In presenting their request, Mr. Sheahan cited letters submitted by the Gladstone council for last season's expenses. Gladstone. It is estimated that a total of $1,500 must be raised to start the Scout movement. Satisfied that the Scout work meant much to the welfare of Manistique boys, the councilmen acceded readily to the request, and voted unanimously for the $500 appropriation.

Petitions were also received from the Stack Lumber Company and the Charcoal Iron Company, asking that additional hydrants be installed on their property for fire protection. The presentation of these petitions resulted in a lengthy discussion as to whether they should be granted. The question was finally brought to a vote, alderman Debut voting no, installation of the hydrants calls for the estimated expenditures of $1,100 and $500 respectively.

Pop Picnics Granted.

The owners of 20 Manistique average shops had petitions before the council, asking for beverage shop permits. All of these were granted without question. The petition of S. Lafraz was discussed briefly, and was granted upon assurance of the Chief of Police that the proprietor had been known to violate the law.

In view of the fact that the limit allowed W. L. Orr and E. Seller for tax re-construction of sidewalks along their property was soon to expire, the council voted to send notification to each of the parties, as several complaints had been received by aldermen regarding the condition of the walks at the recent time.

It was decided also to notify Joseph Osterhaus that brick veneer should be applied as soon as possible to his garage on Dear street, now housing the Bowman Chevrolet Co., as per an agreement with the city last fall.

MRS. M. MARTIN FINED $10 HERE IN SLANDER CASE

Malignant gossip was handed a reproof in justice court here Monday afternoon, when a Manistique jury found Mrs. Minnie Martin guilty of slander, and recommended her to the mercy of Justice W. A. McKinney, who levied a fine of $10 and costs, in addition to a reprimand.

Mrs. Laura Belanger was the complainant in the case, and charged that Mrs. Martin had made remarks defamatory to her character, implying that she was not a virtuous woman.

Monday was the anniversary of the wash-day on which the trouble ball originally occurred, and thus became the day for the washing of "soiled linen" in the local court.

Several other Gulliver ladies accompanied Mrs. Belanger as witnesses, while Mrs. Martin had no witnesses, and could only declare she was called for 10 a. m., but Mrs. Martin entered a plea of not guilty through her lawyer, Jas. C. Wood, and demanded a jury. Awaiting the securing of a jury, the trial was postponed to the afternoon.

It was intimated that other similar charges would be lodged against Mrs. Martin in the near future.

ALL TURN OUT HERE TO HONOR SOLDIER DEAD

Manistique Pays Tribute to Memory of Nation's Heroes.

All Manistique will join in the Memorial Day exercises planned for this afternoon.

Graves of the soldier dead will be decorated this forenoon, the graves decoration committee having been ordered to report at 9:30. Other improvements and decorations were completed by lot owners Monday and Tuesday, in preparation for the Decoration Day observance.

This afternoon's parade promises to be one of the largest ever held in recent years. It will be lengthened by the presence of hundreds of Manistique boys, marching in squad formation as part of the "Boys' Week" observance. World War veterans will march with the boys, and the local Legion band will lead the parade, which is to form at 1:30. Those taking part have been urged to gather at the court house square promptly at half past one, so that the exercises may be completed in time for the Manistique-Marquette game.

Webster Speaks.

Rev. H. A. Webster, pastor of the Baptist church, has been selected by the committee in charge to deliver the address of the day at the soldier memorial, where the parade will pause for short exercises before proceeding to the cemetery and thence to the fair grounds.

G. A. R. survivors, Spanish War veterans and members of other patriotic organizations will ride in cars to be provided by the committee. After forming at the court house, the line of march will follow the following streets: Oak to Cedar, Cedar, River, and thence to the west side, turning at Marking and back to the soldier monument for the exercises. Rev. Schevers will render the opening prayer, followed by singing, band music, and the address by Rev. Webster. Additional musical numbers will follow the speech, the exercises concluding with a benediction by the Rev. Cleveland and the sounding of taps by the Legion bugler.

Ball Game Later.

From the monument the parade will proceed to the cemetery, disbanding in time for the ball game. For the boys of the city, the ball game will not conclude the day's activities, for in addition to a free ticket to the game the boys will be banqueted in four groups, at the Masonic, Odd Fellows, Elks and K. P. halls, with speakers at each of these functions.

Tonight at eight, Manistique folks are invited to attend the concluding number of a very successful boys' week, a talk at the high school by H. H. Hughes, field man of the Boy Scouts, every parent in the city, and all people interested in boys will find much of value in the talk at the high school tonight.

"Blue Ridge" Is Scene of Picture At Gero Tonight

Virginia's Blue Ridge Mountains form the background for the picture booked as a Memorial Day feature at the Gero theater, Manistique. The story is called "Driven" and is full of thrilling thrills.

With a cast of players starred or featured in numerous productions, a story that attracted widespread attention when published, and superior direction and photography "Driven," has attained a place as one of the outstanding successes of the year.

"Driven" is an epic of the Blue Ridge mountains. It depicts life as it really is lived in the district where the only law is the law of force and where shooting a "revenuer" is considered something praiseworthy.

An excellent cast of notable players enacts this stirring drama. There is Elinor Fair, dainty and capable little star; Burr Mitchell, whose fame on the legitimate stage made him known the length and breadth of the land; Charles E. Mack of Dream Street renown, and loaned for this production by David Wark Griffith; Emily Fitzroy, noted screen and stage star, and George Bancroft, one of the best villains of the day.

FIRST SHOWING OF MAE MURRAY FILM TONIGHT

"Fascination," the latest Mae Murray production, which is presented by Robert Z. Leonard, reveals the famous star in the most ambitious of her roles. No other character that she has portrayed requires as much difficult emotional acting as "Fascination," which is now running at the Lyric Theater. Altogether it marks a new step in her career, a step in the direction of tensely emotional drama.

"Fascination" is by Edmund Goulding, who wrote Miss Murray's sensational success "Peacock Alley" from a story of Ouida Bergere. Most of the scenes are laid in Spain. Miss Murray appears as Dolores De Lisa, the daughter of a Spanish father and an American mother. She combines Latin fire with Yankee pep. The combination leads her to bolt from the rigid restrictions of her Spanish home to join the crowds going to the "Easter Day" bull fight. There she becomes fascinated by a handsome torador and this fascination leads her into a series of vivid adventures.

The cast includes Helen Ware, Creighton Hale, Robert W. Frazer, Courtenay Foote, Charles Lane, Vincent Coleman, Emily Fitzroy and Francis Puglia.

COMMISSIONERS HEAR REPORT ON PROPERTY TAX

Other Matters Taken Up At Meeting Monday.

In addition to approving the budget submitted by Manager C. W. Ham at the public hearing conducted by the commission Monday night, action on a number of other important matters was taken.

The budget which was adopted without amendment or qualification, will receive final action at a meeting of the commission Thursday which will be held to pass the appropriation ordinance introduced at Monday night's meeting.

In addition to the budget, the commission Monday heard a verbal report from Manager Ham on the personal property tax situation in which he told the commission that reports showed $2400 delinquent during the last five years. This amount, the manager pointed out, is due the city on personal property and is needed for city expenses. Collection, it was said, will start immediately.

The commission also approved the manager's bond for $5,000.

Pay Commission.

It was also voted to pay the seven members of the special commission appointed to frame the new city charter. Reimbursement for the services given by the commission was not given under the only management and the commissioners took the matter up at the first possible opportunity. The members of the commission were: Jackson Stephenson, chairman, R. J. Riley, G. R. Empson, H. B. Laing, A. B. Cassidy, Philip Louis and Dr. George Bjorkman.

ADOPT BILL SYSTEM FOR UTILITIES

The following statement has been issued by the commission in announcing a change in the monthly collection of light and water bills.

"Your city administration feels that the consumers of water and electricity would appreciate receiving bills for these services and we are adopting the policy of mailing them. The bills will be payable on or before the 15th of the month, stamped in red across the top. If they do not reach you by the 15th of the month, however, you should get in touch with the office, for if not paid by the date indicated, we will be compelled to treat the account as delinquent.

"We are doing this in the hopes of keeping accounts paid up regularly in order that the utmost economy can be practiced by us in the operation of your business.

"We are sure of receiving your fullest cooperation and wish to thank you for it.

"Please bring the bills with you when paying."

Escanaba Battles With Marinette Here Today

PERRIN'S VETS FACE HARD FOE

Crack Menominee Players in Marinette Lineup Today.

Escanaba's crack baseball team, in perfect running order and with an unbroken string of victories for the season, today will clash with the fast Marinette team at South Park at 3 o'clock this afternoon in the baseball feature of the city's Memorial Day program.

Eddie Schwartz, who has won a warm place in the heart of every ardent fan of the city by his stellar performance on the pitching mound this spring, will do the heavy work again today, with Moberg on the receiving end of the battery.

With the exception of a possible change in the left garden Escanaba's complete lineup today will likely be the same as that which smothered the Iron Mountain baseball machine on Sunday.

Invaders Are Fast.

The invaders of today have won recognition this season as one of the fastest aggregations ever to carry the colors of Marinette. Indeed in the lineup are a number of the players who last year gave Menominee one of the fastest teams ever to represent that city on the diamond. Krasnick, while hurrying for Menominee last season trimmed Escanaba in two successive games, will be on the hill for Marinette today, with Jab Murray behind the bat. Other well known players who will be in today's lineup for Marinette are: McDonald, Cullen, Deneff, DeLorme and others.

Won All Games.

Like Escanaba the Marinette team is yet to lose its first game this season, making the battle one of the most interesting early season contests ever staged at the Escanaba park. With fair weather conditions prevailing it is confidently expected that a record breaking holiday crowd will turn out for today's battle. The game will be started promptly at 3 o'clock.

JACK STILL BIG, OVERGROWN BOY, PLAYS WITH DOG AND CARDS

JACK AND HIS DOG, "JERRY."

BY BOB DORMAN.
NEA Service Writer.

Great Falls, Mont., May 29.—"So that's the world's champion, huh?"

This remark, a world of disdain in the drawing sentence, came from a weather-tanned, two-gallon hatted gentleman from one of the cattle ranches near here.

It was occasioned by the sight of Jack Dempsey rolling over and over on the ground as he played with a husky bulldog, whose delighted barks showed that he, too, was enjoying the rough sport, as well as his master.

For Jack Dempsey still is the big overgrown boy, ready for anything, from climbing a tree to playing a practical joke on one of his sparring partners.

Time has dealt lightly with him since he took the title away from Willard on that torrid afternoon in July.

His physique is still the same.

He carries no superfluous weight. In fact, it might be better if he had a few more pounds to take off in the strenuous weeks that will intervene before he faces Tommy Gibbons in the ring.

The spirit of youth is still his most outstanding characteristic. Life, to Jack, is a frolic from day-break to dark.

He will not enter on heavy training for some weeks yet. He spends his time playing cards with his mates, who take turns being beaten, for Jack is some card player; in running out to see how the carpenters are coming along with the new ring for his daily workouts; playing with his dog or in making life miserable for "Matty," the cook, with his demands as to "what will chow be ready?"

Jack is the puzzle of Great Falls. The people can't understand how such a "kid" can be the "terrible tiger of the ring."

Mitchell boxed cautiously in the sixth, waiting to nail Leonard with the right hand.

Mitchell had Leonard backing away and in danger in the ninth as a result of landing four right smashes to the chin.

Leonard lowered the challenger with a right swing and Mitchell was counted out while on one knee in the center of the ring in the tenth round.

NEW YORK STOCKS.
New York, May 29.—Pre-holiday dullness characterized today's stock market. Price movements were irregular in reflection of speculative indecision over the next definite market trend.

Professional interests were confined largely to about a dozen individual stocks. American Locomotive reached a new top at 143 1/2 and then slipped back to 141 on profit taking.

Sales of copper metal of 15 cents a pound or 2 1/2 cents below the year's high, brought some selling in the metal shares, most of the coppers showing slight fractional losses at the close.

LEONARD STOPS PINKEY IN 10TH

Lightweight Challenger Proves False Alarm in Action.

Chicago, May 29.—Benny Leonard dropped Pinkey Mitchell of Milwaukee for the count in the tenth round of a scheduled 15 round fight, after the champion had led in the fighting for the entire distance.

Chicago's society gathered its skirts tonight and invaded the famous stockyards district to join the clan from "back to the yards" to watch Benny Leonard, world's lightweight champion, in his contest with Pinkey Mitchell, the Milwaukee challenger, staged for charity. The Dexter park pavilion was packed with close to 9,000 cheering spectators.

Promoter Arrested.

Just before the Leonard-Mitchell bout James T. Mullen, promoter of tonight's program, was arrested by Captain Russell of the Stockyard's police station on the charge of violating the anti-prize fight law. Mullen had been standing in the ring, and was taken to a police station. His bond of $5,000 was signed by an alderman and approved by Judge Barasa, a former candidate for mayor. The arrest was made to test the state law prohibiting boxing.

Leonard Leads Battle.

In the first round Leonard and Mitchell feinted for the count in the first round of the fight. Leonard boxed defensively, declining to lead. Leonard connected solidly with two lefts and a right to the chin.

Mitchell relied on the defensive in the second round, forcing Leonard to do all the leading, but neither landed effectively.

In the third Leonard reached Mitchell with a right hand punch to the chin and received two solid rights to the chin in return.

Pinkey Is Jolted.

Leonard shook Mitchell with a jolting right to the chin in the fourth and Mitchell returned it only to receive a left and right to the head. Leonard ripped into Mitchell's body in an attempt to draw his guard out.

Leonard was ahead and boxing nicely in the fifth. He tried for a left and right to the chin, but Mitchell backed out of danger, continuing his defense battle.

Mitchell Is Cautious.

Mitchell boxed cautiously in the sixth, waiting to nail Leonard with the right hand.

Mitchell had Leonard backing away and in danger in the ninth as a result of landing four right smashes to the chin.

Leonard lowered the challenger with a right swing and Mitchell was counted out while on one knee in the center of the ring in the tenth round.

JINX PURSUES SOX CATCHERS

Graham Waited Year for Change, Got Finger Smashed.

Chicago, May 26.—A jinx seems to pursue the substitute catchers of the Chicago White Sox club.

In the first place, being a sub-catcher on a club boasting a backstop of Ray Schalk's ability is a handicap at the very outset.

Schalk's presence means everything in the Chicago lineup. Schalk is seldom hurt, and a glutton for work despite his rather frail physique. For that reason "sub" catcher on the Chicago club seldom get a chance to work.

Instead of seeking an off day occasionally, Schalk wants to work in exhibition games. Recently in the fifth inning of a game with the Athletics Schalk asked to be relieved. It is said to be the first time he has ever made such a request.

For over a year Graham, "sub" catcher of the Sox, has been waiting for a chance to break into the lineup. A collision at the plate so jarred Schalk that he got his chance when Ray requested to be relieved.

While it is no easy task to catch the deceptive spitballs thrown by "Red" Faber, Graham welcomed the opportunity. After working only one inning a fast breaking spitball smashed the little finger on Graham's right hand.

Knowing something seriously was wrong, Kid Gleason rushed to the plate. One look caused the Sox manager to send the rookie to the clubhouse. Tears were in Graham's eyes as he left the field and he was heard to remark:

"After waiting over a year for my chance I only got to work an inning."

No wonder they say a jinx pursues the extra catchers of the White Sox.

This is a real Surprise Sale—instead of waiting as is customary—until after the 4th of July—we have decided to cut the prices now—and clean up the remaining stock while there is still a big demand for suits. Our main reason for cutting prices at this early date—we are very much in need of room for the showing of mid-Summer apparel. Hence this Great Sale—Suits at 1/2 Price.

If you've been wanting a fine Spring Suit—here's your chance for a real "Bargain"—Suits are ideal Summer garments, as skirts can be worn separate with silk or voile blouses—and cold chilly evenings—the coat can be slipped on—and will take the place of one of the new—now so popular "Jackettes."

Remember — No Restrictions — Choice of Remaining Spring Stock of Suits at 1-2 Price

Memorial Day

A Respectful Tribute to the Nation's Departed Heroes

Today is Memorial Day, the day when every man, woman and child pays tribute to the Nation's departed heroes.

Once more we bow in respectful silence and pause while we issue a prayer for those who gave up their lives sixty or more years ago, that this nation "shall not perish from this earth."

North and South join hands in this devotion. The bonds and friendship have grown stronger with the passing years, until today this nation points with pride to its enviable position as the world's leader—as leader in every great movement for peace and happiness upon this earth.

AMUSEMENTS

"Souls for Sale," a Goldwyn film, from Rupert Hughes' story of movie life, will be shown again today at the Delft theatre. Much had been predicted for this smashing feature, with its cleverly developed plot, its thrilling climax and its exceptionally chosen cast, all worked out under the deft hand of the author himself, but unlike other much heralded pictures, this one does not disappoint.

As may be surmised from the title, the story deals with the unfounded belief that a girl must sell her soul to win fame in the movies. The heroine, pretty Eleanor Boardman, believes this, but finds souls are a drug on the market in the movie colony. However, she does obtain a part in the movies, and the film discloses how success is actually won before the camera.

The never-to-be-forgotten scene occurs at the end when the immense circus tent, large enough to hold 10,000 persons, is wrecked by a tornado at night. Then lightning sets it afire. The villain, Lew Cody, is insane with jealousy and tries to murder Tom Holby, who is Frank Mayo. He doesn't, of course, but for a time it looks really serious for Frank Mayo and

Dr. John C. Acheson, president of the Pennsylvania College for Women, born at Fairfield, Iowa, 53 years ago today.

The Spirit That Lives On!

TODAY is distinctively American. We pause in silent homage to those who have died that this Nation might live.

The Liberty Bell; Lincoln's Gettysburg Speech; Dewey's Farewell; Pershing's Last Message, echo again their emprising challenge to the world.

Because America will ever preserve the sacred heritage of her Sons who gave "their last full measure of devotion," Memorial Day leaves its impress on the hearts of all people.

Those we honor today live on, to enable the spirit of all generations to come.
