U. S. PROPOSES "SWAP" ON DETROIT OCEAN TANG

NO NEED FOR THIRD PARTY, ALLEN THINKS

ISSUES LACKING, SO IS LEADER, HE ASSERTS.

BY DAVID LAWRENCE. (Copyright, 1923, by The Escanaba Press) Washington, June 13.—"There is no sharp definition of issues and you cannot form third parties around the discontent and confused thought of ambitious leaders."

Thus spoke former governor Henry J. Allen of Kansas today in comment on the statements recently made by the two New York publishers, Mr. Munsey and Mr. Hearst, to the effect that political conditions in America were ripe for the formation of a third party.

Mr. Allen was one of those who broke away from the regular republican party in 1912 and is still one of the leaders of the "progressive" group. He visited the White House while here and gave his first interview on national politics to the writer.

Party Without Leader. "Third parties arise," he said, "when no party stands for a definition of issues. In 1912 there was an issue between progressives and conservatives. Some people have said the third party action in 1912 was hasty. It had a matter of fact been brooded and forecasted ever since the Wisconsin speech delivered by President Taft. It was a party formed around an issue and not a leader. Undoubtedly impetus was given the movement by Theodore Roosevelt as did also the conduct of the regular convention contribute a cause but fundamentally it was a clash between progressivism and conservatism.

"Today there is no sharp definition of issues and you can't form third parties around the discontent or confused thought of ambitious leaders. Today the effort to form a third party would amount to no more than the grouping of temporary beliefs on temporary issues.

Local Issues Crop Out. "You might form a party, for instance, out of all those who favor American entrance into the League of Nations, and another party out of those who favor staying out of the League. Still another party might be formed out of those who take the middle ground and favor American participation in an international court of justice.

"You could also make a new party out of local issues. There would be those who favored the Volstead Act and those who do not. But these are temporary matters which merely call for the exercise of political judgment and do not afford a basis for permanent political parties. No one knows today what a new third party would stand for or what the old parties in their next convention will stand for.

"So far as making a third party around the liquor issue, it wouldn't be possible. Political parties do not assume leadership in those controversial questions which have separated members of the old parties. The latter are filled with wits and dry.

"Both the old parties realize now that the mandate of the seven million voters by which the politics of President Wilson were rejected in 1920 was misinterpreted. It did not represent a desire for complete aloofness in international affairs. It represented a mixture of emotions that followed the war. Now we realize we should have some effective international relationships.

President Harding has recognized this in his sensible suggestion that America should join the permanent court of international justice. If his wishes are granted, it will probably reduce the importance of the League of Nations question in the forthcoming campaign.

"On the subject of the League, there has never been an issue on which the public state of mind has been so confused by glowing oratory on the one hand and the polemics of those who fear the League on the other. As a result, there seems no middle ground. The League is not as worthy as the encomiums of its friends would have it nor as bad as the tirades of its enemies. There must be a saner understanding of its limitations for good and its possibilities for evil.

Enemies Can't Agree. "If there is one thing, however, which proves the utter hopelessness of a third party today, it is the fact that Senator Hiram Johnson of California and Senator Borah of Idaho, both republicans, do not agree on issues. They are natural comrades in any third party movement but they disagree with each other on outstanding

Green Bay Youth Drowned In Bay de Noquet

DOPE FLOWING THROUGH EVERY NET U. S. SETS

Only 12 Pct. Seized As It Passes Border, Says Investigator.

This is one of a series of articles dealing with the dope traffic, written by Fred V. Williams, a San Francisco newspaper writer, who for several months mingled with some of the world's most notorious drug users.

BY FRED V. WILLIAMS. NEA Service Writer. AMERICA is today engaged in its greatest battle against the drug traffic.

From every corner of the national map the searchlight plays upon some drug-stained spot. What I have seen is but a minute section of this black area; a section that might be compassed with a small circle. But it is typical of all the other circles that might be drawn. And it is located in the heart of this diseased organism.

Drugdom knows no geography. In the final analysis. What the victims I have watched and lived with do, so do the addicts of New York, Chicago, Kankakee and New Orleans. Only the background changes. The differences in the people of the drug world are made by the kind of narcotic used, not by the places of residence.

But the Pacific coast has long been a great artery, from which branch the smaller veins that lead, like mapped rivers, to the east, the north and the south.

"Hop" Trade Hub. Here in San Francisco is the hub of the opium trade. Seattle and the northwest form important drug links with the orient, but nearby is the Canadian border for other traffics.

Southward the Mexican border mocks the St. Georges who would slay this dragon.

Automobiles cross the American line with cocaine, morphine, marijuana, almost anything and everything. They are innocent enough in appearance. Yet hidden in thousands of spare tires, hung in innocents from the sides and rears, is enough dope to answer the prayers of any number of victims.

Out through the Golden Gate, off San Francisco, fleets of fishing boats, like noisy water bugs, chase a black speck on the horizon. With darkness the black speck is flooded with light. Bands play and passengers dance. But the bobbing sea bugs wait patiently while, deep in the bowels of a great ship, men work swiftly, cunningly, tossing mysterious bundles overboard; bundles wrapped in cork that toss along the waters.

The liner passes into quarantine. Sometimes custom inspection reveals great caches in strange places—behind panels, in boilers, in secret places of every sort.

Less than one-eighth of the dope that starts for this country ever is seized. The majority of arrests made are but "small fry." The big dealers are seldom, if ever, caught. The "big five" of the Pacific Coast stays untouched.

Various narcotics are described by Williams in his next article.

Lincoln Framed His Kidnapping, say cops

Aurora, Ill., June 13.—The mystery of where Warren J. Lincoln, Aurora horticulturist, spent more than a month after he disappeared from his home will remain a mystery as far as Sheriff W. E. Orr is concerned. Sheriff Orr said today he was convinced the whole thing was framed by Lincoln himself.

BUCKETEER TO BEAR DETAILS OF N. Y. RING?

FULLER ASKS MORE TIME, AFTER HE PLEADS GUILTY.

New York, June 13.—Possibility of important disclosures concerning the operations of bucket looms in the Wall Street district loomed as imminent tonight.

Edward M. Fuller and William Frank McGee, partners in the most spectacular bucketshop failure of recent years, went before General Sessions Judge Nott this morning and pleaded guilty of bucketing. This afternoon Fuller was taken under guard to the office of Harold Coffin, referee in bankruptcy, for further examination concerning the affairs of his house.

May "Tell the World." He pleaded for and obtained an adjournment until tomorrow, however, after which time he said he might be able to give "valuable information not only concerning the assets of E. M. Fuller & Co., but with reference to various persons who might be responsible for the plight of his firm.

This was taken in some quarters as a hint that he might reveal connections with a huge bucketshop ring, existence of which has been a matter of gossip for months.

McGee Silent. How far Fuller would go in an attempt to win clemency from the court when he comes up for sentence was problematical. His partner, McGee, in announcing their decision to plead guilty, said they had decided on that court "to save innocent friends."

Fuller, while he did not contradict McGee, made no such statement himself.

Maine Woods Ablaze, Residents Fleeing

Bangor, Me., June 13.—The woods along the line of the Ashland branch of the Bangor and Arroostook railroad, in Arroostook county, were ablaze tonight over a distance of 25 miles, and inhabitants of small settlements in that district were fleeing from their homes. At Marsardis, a town of more than 1,000 population, the danger was imminent. Griswold, a village of 200 persons, was destroyed last night. So quickly did the flames descend upon the little community that the inhabitants had barely time to escape.

Chinese Sail Schooner Into Port, Spin Wierd Yarn

NEW YORK, June 13.—A two-masted schooner, bearing the name Mary Beatrice of Nassau, went into quarantine today with 15 young well dressed Chinese the only occupants, a strange ship with a weird story of the sea.

When quarantine officials found nothing of cargo or papers, customs authorities were notified and an interpreter summoned and a strange story unfolded.

The Chinese had bargained with the owner of the schooner, a white man for $500 apiece to take them aboard and land them somewhere on the American coast. On May 8 last, they set out from Havana, 20 Chinese, two white men and a negro.

When the food supply ran low, they faced the tall sailor man who owned the boat to carry out his promise and land them. He chased them to their quarters. One night a little more than a week ago, he took the schooner's only small boat and abandoned the Mary Beatrice and its passengers. After several days of waiting, the Chinese, impelled by the pangs of hunger, turned the schooner towards land.

The mystery of the seven missing was not fully explained. The Chinese spokesman, replying to questions about them, pointed over the side. He wouldn't say whether they jumped, fell or were thrown overboard.

Chicago, June 14.—The coroner's jury, investigating the death of Leighton Mount, Northwestern university student, whose skeleton was recently found under an Evanston pier, today reached a verdict that Mount had come to his death at the hands of persons unknown, and recommended that the persons be apprehended and brought before the grand jury.

A verdict stating that the jury was not able to determine how or in what manner Mount met his death, but that it was of the opinion that "he came to his death at the hands of some unknown person or persons, and we recommend that the police continue their investigation and if possible such person or persons be apprehended and held on a charge of murder to the grand jury until released by due process of law."

The verdict followed testimony that Mount was seen at the university about 3 o'clock on the morning of Sept. 22, that he was a normal youth and of a happy nature and at the time of his disappearance was planning to entertain friends a few evenings later with a musical concert.

Hardwood Lumber Men Decline Hoover Standardizing Offers

Chicago, June 13.—Standardization of grades and terms in the hardwood industry is progressing under the independent direction of the National Hardwood Lumber association, apart from the plan suggested by Secretary John W. McClure, of Memphis, said today before the 26th annual convention of the lumber organization towards the Hoover plan, Mr. McClure explained, was one of non-participation rather than opposition.

"No direct response has come from the department of commerce to your suggestion for a special conference of all branches of the hardwood industry to a view to the practical development of the department's idea," Mr. McClure told the convention. "Your statement that questions affecting the industry must, as a matter of practical necessity, be considered and administered separately from those affecting the soft wood industry has not been although its soundness has not been questioned.

SCALER FALLS FROM DECK OF PULPWOOD TUG

Renze Walsh, 26, a scaler for a Green Bay paper manufacturing company, was drowned in Little Bay de Noe yesterday afternoon when he fell from the deck of the tug, Lillian, while it was unloading pulpwood into a boom about one mile west of Stonington.

Searchers, headed by Carl Sawyer of this city, using grappling hooks and other apparatus from the sheriff's office, spent the night in dragging for the body without success. The search will continue today and until the body is brought to the surface.

No One Saw Fall. No one saw Walsh go over the side of the Lillian. According to Charles Nyberg, owner of the tug, who was in charge of the boat, and Joe Neadeu, her wheelman, Walsh was sitting in the engine room door on the port side of the craft, his feet on the rail, when the work of unloading the logs from the starboard side of the deck of the tug began. It was in that position he was last seen. When the logs had been cleared from the deck, Neadeu went to the engine room to ask Walsh to scale the portion of the cargo which remained in the hold. They could not find him. The distance to shore permitted but one conclusion, that he had fallen overboard, and they immediately asked for assistance in searching for the body.

Capt. Butterfield of the tug, Butterfield, which was handling the boom, brought the news to Escanaba and the party of searchers was organized by Mr. Sawyer.

Walsh had been with the tug, Lillian, since she began loading pulpwood at her home port, Martin's Bay. His father is said to be an official of the paper company to which the pulpwood had been sold.

Suicide Theory Scouted. The sound of the logs, falling from the boat into the water and their interest in the unloading task, was given by Nyberg and Neadeu as the probable reason they did not hear Walsh plunge into the water, or any outcry he may have made for help. They did not know, they said, whether he was able to swim.

He had been unusually cheerful, the men said, and they did not believe there was a possibility that his fall into the water was intentional.

Sheriff Joseph Carney said last night that while some of the circumstances seemed unusual, he saw no evidence that the tragedy contained elements which pointed to another conclusion than that of accidental drowning.

Walsh's father is expected to arrive here from Green Bay early this morning.

Foreign Consuls Refused Permission to See Executive.

Tien Tsin, June 11.—Li Yuan-Hung, president of the Chinese Republic, is being held a prisoner aboard his special train in the central railway station here at an early hour this morning, following his flight from the capitol at Peking yesterday.

The train is surrounded by troops under the direct orders of Wang Chen-Ping, governor of the Chihli province.

The troops allowed American Consul Jay C. Huston to enter the station but would not permit him to board the President Li's train to confer with the executive. The British consul was forcibly prevented from approaching the train.

The president is being held, it is said, because he has possession of the government seals.

CAPTIVES REACH SHANGHAI. Shanghai, China, June 13.—Six of the eight foreign captives held here yesterday released by the Shantung bandits after being held prisoners since May 6, arrived here today. Although unkempt and fagged out generally, the victims of the Chinese outlaws apparently were little the worse for their experience.

It was stated that the final negotiations for the release of the prisoners nearly ended in a fiasco. The bandits, at the last moment, demanded that 5,000 of their number be enrolled in the Chinese army instead of the agreed 2,000 and also that they be paid $100,000 ransom for the captives. The intermediaries and government agents compromised by agreeing to pay $85,000.

EXTEND SEARCH ZONE TO 12 MILES IS KEY.

Washington, June 13.—Modification of the edict of American prohibition enforcement restrictions as they apply to liquors as transit through American territory or in ship storage, powers by the state department a solution for present inconveniences occasioned foreign ships.

The project, it was learned today, contemplates exercise of the treaty making powers to amend existing statutes which means senate ratification would have to be obtained to make the modification effective.

The offer also is contingent on a reciprocal agreement treaty form by the powers involved which would give the United States the right of search up to 12 miles off shore in carrying on war against rum smugglers operating under foreign flags.

Comment Withheld. The American proposal is outgrowth of long study of the international legal situation that has arisen from rum smuggling operations and the recent supreme court decision on which the present treasury regulations exclude ships carrying liquor from American waters.

Comment on the American proposal was withheld in diplomatic circles. There was no indication available anywhere as to the probable attitude of the nine governments which had made the subject of diplomatic conversation. The project does not contemplate a joint treaty but wholly separate acts, the possibility presents itself that some of the maritime powers might enter into such relationships as proposed where others found it inadvisable to do.

No Immediate Change. The proposal does not contemplate any action to alleviate the liquor situation prior to final ratification of the treaties both parties. It therefore offers no methods to overcome the obstacles to commerce for several months at least as the American senate will not meet before December.

Conversations with foreign diplomats, it is understood, though in progress in some form or other for some time, have reached a point which would justify any definite plans.

The question of ratification of the senate will not come up until there is some assurance of acceptance of the proposal by the powers involved. It is recalled that in the exchange of notes with Great Britain relative to the previous proposal for extension of the right of search for rum, the British reply although unfavorable, admitted that there existed "an abuse" of the British flag in the protection of the hovever smugglers' craft of the Atlantic coast.

DETROIT AGITATED.

Detroit, June 13.—A campaign intended to crush the illicit liquor traffic in the Detroit district described by various prohibition enforcement agents as "one of the wettest spots in the United States," is expected to resume here soon, following the arrival today from New York of E. J. Yellowley, chief field representative of federal prohibition enforcement agents.

Mr. Yellowley conferred today with James R. Davis, federal prohibition director from Michigan, and Earl J. Davis, federal attorney for the Eastern Michigan district. Previous to the conference, Mr. Yellowley said the plans would be mapped for a concerted drive on the illicit liquor traffic along the Detroit-Ontario border.

To Double Staff. The field representative was expected to double the staff of federal prohibition agents here soon and voiced the expectation that a large percentage of the liquor traffic in this district would be wiped out before the end of the summer.

Mr. Yellowley discounted recent newspaper reports tending to show that great amounts of whiskey were being smuggled across Detroit river from Canada. He said most of the smugglers were bringing beer across the river.

"Detroit is one of the three or four really wet places remaining in the country," he declared. "This city never can be absolutely dried up, as long as beer and liquor is manufactured in Canada, but we can and will make considerably drier than it is today."

Dallas claims to be the city in America in the manufacture of harness, saddlery, and similar leather products.

HEAD OF THE PROGRAM. The Cinnamonson brass band played on her front porch. The program wasn't very harmonious to begin with, and it kept getting more and more so. Finally a pretty terrible number came. Such as "The Maiden's Prayer," the first cornet blared never before in Cinnamonson. The audience applauded politely, and the first cornet wiped his brow and muttered to the conductor, "What's the next selection, please?" "The Maiden's Prayer," the conductor muttered back. "The first cornet looked startled." "Holy smoke," he said. "I've been playin' 'The Maiden's Prayer'."—New Orleans Times-Picayune.

'White Plague' Wars with Bolshevism on Religion

MICHAEL CARD FAULHABER

By DON P. DROHAN, NEA Service Writer. Erie, Pa.—Tuberculosis is joining Bolshevism in a gigantic war on religion in crushed and bleeding Central Europe. Trailing in starvation's wake, it is exacting an appalling toll among the populace on Christianity's firing line. Such is the pathetic picture Michael Cardinal Faulhaber, archbishop of Munich, painted in an interview here. Into monasteries, convents and missions, where hungry women and children come begging for bread, the white plague—like a thief in the night—is sneaking. "Our priests and nuns and the other religious workers, already slowly dying from malnutrition, fall easy victims to this dread disease," explains his eminence. "Thousands have contracted it. Thousands more are suffering from softening of the bones owing to lack of proper food. Operations are out of question because of prohibitive costs."

No Work Available. "Other thousands are sacrificing their scanty morsels to hordes that storm their doors pleading for something to eat. They labor on indefinitely, without thought of themselves, until they're no longer able to remain on their feet. "So, too, with the little children in the orphanages. And with men and women who are roaming the streets crying for work. But there is no work to give them. "In the midst of all this poverty, disease and distress the materialistic philosophy of Bolshevism, however, is easier to combat than the plague. That we cannot stand off without aid from the outside."

Only the generosity of other nations can save us. Your people have been very kind to us. And I know they shall be equally as kind throughout the dark days we have yet to go through. "We appeal for no alms—merely a 'lift,' as you Americans put it. Some day we hope to pay our debt to the last mark. "I have come to the United States to express my country's appreciation for what you have done toward leading us out of the chaos. My visit is the realization of my life's most cherished ambition. "Even during the war," he continues, "when I was a chaplain at the front, I was impressed with the high regard our troops had for your soldiers. We found our most courageous foe our kindest friend. "With great expectation I set foot upon your soil. Nor have I been disappointed. I feel as though I were in another world. "The cardinal is one of the most distinguished theologians of modern times. From his pen have come many of the better known works on exegetic and homiletic nature. Despite his profound scholarship, he is remarkably democratic. Cardinal Faulhaber cleverly circumvented an attempt to kiss his ring. He preferred the American way of shaking hands. His face was wreathed in a pleasant smile. But a look of sadness displayed it as he told of the misery of his people.

Victor Johnson Injured While Loading Logs

Victor Johnson, an employe of the Wisconsin Land & Lumber Co. of Hermansville, was injured while loading logs at Hermansville Tuesday afternoon. Somehow a log struck him and threw him down in such a manner that he struck the sill of the car. At first it was not thought that he was seriously injured, he walked to the camp, a distance of about one half mile. Later in the evening symptoms developed which were alarming and he was taken to this city via C. & N. W. Ry. Wednesday afternoon and taken to St. Francis Hospital in the ambulance. He was found to be suffering from internal injuries.

EXPERT ADVICE.

The town hall was packed for the traveling melodrama, and the young heroine's tribulations with breathless interest. She was having a terrible time. In the space of five short minutes she was tied to a railroad track, narrowly escaped being dissected by a buzz saw, and had been thrown over the edge of a precipice. Miraculously she escaped every time, only to fall again into the hands of the villain. At last it appeared that she was certainly doomed. The villain led her into a lonely cave and cast her into the presence of a huge gorilla. "Revenge!" muttered the villain. "Oh, what shall I do? What shall I do?" moaned the beautiful one. It was too much. The strain could not be borne for another minute. Up rose a man in the audience and yelled in frenzied excitement: "Chuck him a nut, miss!"

A STORY THAT HELPED.

A banker with wide experience in pulling firms out of the difficulties into which the late deflation had brought them says that his best aid was a certain story. Whenever he said a thing must be done and the owners of the crippled business said they couldn't do it—which happened often—the banker would tell the following story: "A man was telling his son a bedtime story about an alligator. It was creeping up behind a turtle, with its mouth wide open. Finally it was within reach, but just as its great jaws were snapping shut the turtle made a spring, ran up a tree and escaped." "Why, father," said the boy, "how could a turtle climb a tree?" "By gosh," replied the father, "he had to."—Wall Street Journal.

BUT, THE FARE'S MORE THAN THAT.

Four hours they had been together on her front porch. The moon cast its tender gleam down on the young and handsome couple, who sat strangely far apart. He sighed. She sighed. Finally: "I wish I had money, dear," he said. "I'd travel." Impulsively, she tipped her hand into his; then, rising swiftly, she sped into the house. Aghast, he looked at his hand. In his palm lay a nickel.—Lampoon.

We have with us today, ladies and gents, the June graduates; so the world is saved again. A traveling man tells us New York is so wet now he couldn't find a dry place to spit. Henry's little old Ford looks like a political machine. These fickle youths, they know nothing about handling money. Spokane boy swallowed ten dollars. Our guess at the Dempsey-Gibbons outcome is Shelby (Mont.) hotel men win by a lock out. Egg producers met in Chicago. Enjoyed talks by eggsperts. New Jersey judge rules you can't run an auto and pet a woman. We rule you can, with cooperation. If you want a good laugh, save all this Dempsey-Gibbons dupe to read after the fight July Fourth. Mr. Poulin of South Bend, Ind., is satisfied with his lot. Man built a house on it by mistake. Tattoo marks, apparently harmless, are very dangerous. California cops identified a snar by them. Barbers' Journal editor says haircuts may go to a dollar, making half bald men madder than ever. Reds are trying to run things in the Ruhr. Only run amuck so far. Farmers are raising everything now and may be able to raise a little money next fall. Summer, at times, is a blessing. Kentucky robbers got all the pants of some Pullman passengers. News from Belgium: Rail strike over there ended. May have been our annual rail strike they had.

SEEKING BEAUTY?

Just Keep on Playing Make-Believe Advises Southern Prize-Winner.

EDITH WING PEACOCK

By NEA Service. San Antonio, Tex.—When you were little you loved to play make-believe, didn't you? Keep it up if you want to stay young and beautiful, advises Edith Wing Peacock, psychologist and famous southern beauty. She believes that psychology reveals more avenues to beauty than any beauty shop.

"Here's what keeps me young," she said, pointing to a photograph of a beautiful girl in an old-fashioned frock. "Myself—at 18," she explained. "I keep this always with me and it is the picture of myself that I keep in my mind. People are as old as they think. I think of 18, not 70. "I constantly tell women to remember that every thought affects the process of body building just as every thought of the mason directs the shape and stability of the house. "The mind is the architect and the cells are the builders. Since this is true, how necessary it is to keep the mind busy transmitting thoughts of love, health and youth." Mrs. Peacock thinks autosug-

At least fifty members of the class are still in Escanaba and it is hoped that all will be present for the "roundup."

WEAK, RUN DOWN AND AILING

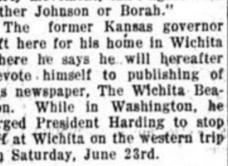

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Brought Relief When Other Medicines Failed

Winston-Salem, N. C.—"I was weak and run-down and had trouble with my side. I had been taking medicine for a long time and nothing seemed to do me any good. My husband went to the drug store and he said to the clerk, 'I want the best medicine you have for women's troubles.' He gave him a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it has helped me. In a short time I was able to do my housework, and now I am not only able to do every bit of that washing and ironing, but I help my husband at the store."—Mrs. L. K. Cooking School
By Prof. Becker
Draws Crowds

The cooking demonstration which is being conducted at the Escanaba Hardware Company's Store this week is attracting much attention on the part of the housewives of this city and surrounding vicinity. Each day the crowd increases and each day the enthusiasm is more evident. The first few ladies who called at the school of instruction were so well pleased that each one advertised the fact among her neighbors and friends and the crowd of Wednesday afternoon was proof of the satisfaction given by the work of Prof. Becker who is a past master in the culinary art.

Explaining the various recipes and minute directions which add so much to the success of the baking, Prof. Becker also relates pleasing anecdotes in his cheerful manner which makes the lessons more interesting as the time flies so quickly during the classes that some of the ladies were reluctant to leave after the very instructive lessons yesterday.

The afternoon session today will begin at 3 o'clock instead of at 2 as was first stated. The demonstration will last until 6 o'clock and will consist of bread baking, rolls, English cross buns, finger rolls, Vienna rolls, and a loaf of bread through which the sun shines three times at once. The cake baking demonstration Wednesday consisting of a series of lessons on cakes and icings. Prof. Becker baked in full view of the audience an excellent honey cake, a cake with lower layer made of ingredients lacking eggs and the upper layer made of eggs and which was called "gold cake". The filling was also described and samples given to the ladies who voted the cake baking a grand success.

Every lady in this city is cordially invited to attend these interesting and educational lectures and all are requested to bring a pencil and paper to write down the valuable recipes which are so freely given by the professor.

Prizes were awarded to the four ladies holding the lucky numbers yesterday afternoon and four homes in this city had a fine freshly baked cake added to their menu for supper as the prizes were some of the cakes which had been baked in the afternoon.

WICH BUILDING STARTED HERE THIS SUMMER

New Construction and Alterations Contracted for Total $173,000.

(By Adrienne Toussaint.)

Every season one notices a number of new homes being built, new garages, public buildings and many repaired. Some of these repairs are slight ones, hardly worth mentioning but to the owner they mean a great deal. Perhaps a room or two added to the home as the family grows, perhaps a new parlor or new basement and a furnace installed, but no matter how small or how large the alteration, it is done for a purpose. In most cases it is an added convenience or the want of more room which prompts the home owner to build.

When one is renting a house or an apartment no matter how much an alteration is needed there is the need of asking the landlord if it can be done, nine times out of ten the request is turned down.

There is a great deal of satisfaction in owning one's home especially if the person who has to earn the living for the family, has a steady position or one which would command him to settle down in one place and not roam about from one place to another. "A rolling stone gathers no moss" and this may be applied to the class of people who travel from one place to another selling out furniture at each stop and then buying new at the next move.

Home Owners Stable. Every young man who is contemplating marriage should make up his mind to buy or build a home. It does not require a fortune to do so. A small amount paid down and then the thought that there is something to work for, will make the young people put their shoulders to the wheel and strive to save and accumulate something for a rainy day besides an umbrella and there are some who have not as much as an umbrella to their name.

Thrift is Essential. Thrift is one of the most essential things in life. A young man once asked a young woman to become his bride. She referred him to her father who was a banker. The young man was very shy and nervous when he confronted the dignified looking old gentlemen, who was worth a small fortune, while he had nothing but a few hundred dollars which he called his own. After asking for her hand he waited for the father's answer. Much to his surprise the father said, "Young man have you any money?" "Yes sir. "How much?" "$200.00, sir. "Well go buy a lot, build a small house on it take out some life insurance and marry my daughter. My best wishes to you young man."

He hardly knew what to say. He did just as he had been advised and in less than ten years he owned his own home and was out of debt. He knew he had to meet these payments every month

Now a QUICK Quaker Oats

Cooks to perfection in 3 to 5 minutes

When the Man Wants breakfast in a hurry

Your grocer now has Quick Quaker Oats, perfected by our experts. It is the quickest-cooking oats in the world. It is perfectly cooked in from 3 to 5 minutes—long before the coffee. An hour could not cook them better.

If you want quick breakfasts, get Quick Quaker for them.

No different flavor

Quick Quaker tastes exactly like regular Quaker Oats. Both are flaked from the finest grains only—just the rich, plump, savory oats. All the puny and flavorless grains are discarded.

We get ten pounds of such flakes from a bushel. But their super-flavor has made this brand the favorite oat dish the world over.

In Quick Quaker the grains are cut before flaking. They are rolled very thin and are partly cooked. So the flakes are smaller and thinner—that is all. And those small, thin flakes cook quickly.

Quick Quaker, therefore, is ready in five minutes.

Get the style you prefer—Quick Quaker of regular. But insist, for your own sake, on the Quaker brand.

You want children to love oats. It is for them the greatest food that grows. Each pound yields 1810 calories of nutriment—twice as much as meat.

And here also is quick cooking, if you wish.

Regular Quaker Oats

Come in package at left—the style you have always known.

Quick Quaker Oats

Come in package at right, with the "Quick" label.

Your grocer has both. Be sure to get the style you want.

LACK OF SIZE NOT BARRIER

Rabbit Maranville Proves Bulk Is Not Needed in Majors.

BY BILLY EVANS. Bulk is not a necessary asset to success in the major leagues. While most major league managers like the big fellows, all other things being equal, no ambitious player need worry if he is short of stature and light of weight.

Wily Matthews, the spark plug of Connie Mack's team, is decidedly short of stature and light of weight. Perhaps there is no greater example in the major leagues of what the little fellow can readily do than "Rabbit" Maranville of the Pittsburgh team.

Maranville is the midget type. But he possesses courage, a keen brain and the spirit of hustle. When he joined the Boston Braves he got little more than a laugh from the fans. No one gave him much consideration because he seemed far too light to stand the wear and tear of the major league strain.

Scouts Passed Him Up. Maranville, because of his flashy style in the field, was looked over by many major league scouts. All passed him up for the same reason, underized. He wouldn't be able to hit his weight, was the opinion expressed by the experts, and Maranville didn't weigh much over 125 soaking wet at the time.

The Boston Braves needed a shortstop badly. Willing to take a chance on any shortstop prospect, Maranville was pressed in to service. Maranville made good from the start; upsetting the expert opinion of a majority of baseball's leading scouts.

His sensational rise to fame as one of the game's best shortstops didn't come without a great deal of effort and study on the part of Maranville.

This fact was brought out in a chat I had with Maranville the other day. "Must Practice Batting. The critics said my fielding was all right, but I never would hit enough to be a regular," said Maranville in discussing his debut.

"That convinced me that I must concentrate on my batting. I practiced batting, morning, noon and night. The recruits coming into the majors at present don't practice batting enough. During our spring training in the south I heard this remark from many of the experts touring the training camps: "So and so is a great fielder, but I don't believe he will make the grade because of his inability to hit."

"I want to give this bit of advice to the recruits: "Don't let the regulars discourage you because you are not allowed your regular turn at bat. That is necessary in order to keep the regulars keyed up to their best batting form. Learned Art of Batting. "Go out to the ball park before the regulars arrive and remain on the field after the game is over and the regulars have gone to the club house. Touted as a weak hitter because of my lack of size I have always been around the .300 mark.

"In fielding the recruit is also prone to neglect opportunities to make base runners fall into traps. Here is a play that I seldom fail to put over two or three times during the summer. "With a runner on first, the batter singles to the outfield and the runner on first in a majority of cases reaches third. The fielder seeing he cannot get the runner at third, throws to second to hold the batsman at first. I watch the batsman as he rounds first and if he does not intend to try for second I wheel around and snap the ball to third base. "The runner at third does not expect this play and in a great many cases carelessly overruns the bag, which often gives a chance for a play."

Will Have Competition. When next spring arrives Maranville will probably have been competing for the job of shortstop on the Pirates. It is understood that the Pittsburgh club has purchased Wright, the sensational shortstop of the Kansas City club of the American Association. Wright is said to be ready to step right into the big show and deliver. However, Maranville isn't disturbed.

"Yes, I understand Wright is a wonder and I am glad Pittsburgh has picked him up. I can't go on forever and the club will always need a shortstop. Probably I can tell him a few things that will help his play. Hope I can. Incidentally I feel that I have a number of years of big league stuff still in my system."

Public Links Meet Has 112 Starters. New York, June 13.—The entry list for the National Public Links championship to be held at Washington June 26 to 28, has closed with 112 municipal stars, representing 21 cities in all parts of the country. Listed for competition, the United States Golf Association announced today.

Gill's Protest Is Ruled Out by Board

Chicago, June 13.—The graduate managing committee of the Western Conference tonight overruled the protest of Coach Henry Gill of the University of Illinois, over the outcome of the recent big ten championship track and field meets and the University of Michigan was formally declared the winner of the contest.

Hornaby Returns to Lineup, Cards Win

St. Louis, June 13.—Aided by the return of Hornaby, who had been out of the game since May 24 with an injured knee, St. Louis today defeated Boston, 3 to 2, in the first game of the series. Hornaby got two doubles and a single in five times at bat.

Wolverine Boxer Loses by Knockout

Toplar Bluff, Mo., June 13.—Harry Kabakoff, lightweight, of St. Louis, knocked out Al Madden of Flint, Mich., in the fifth round of a scheduled ten round bout here tonight.

LOCALS EXPECT 2 HARD GAMES

Menasha Club Comes with Slate Unblemished for Year.

One of the best semi-professional baseball teams in the state of Wisconsin—the Menasha Legion aggregation—with its record for the series unmarked by defeat, will furnish fans of Escanaba with a high class brand of entertainment Saturday and Sunday. The Menasha club will meet the local Legionnaires at South Park both afternoons.

Menasha has defeated Green Bay, Appleton, Kaukana, and half a dozen other teams in Central Wisconsin this season, starting out in a manner which indicates that it will make a strong bid for the Badger state independent championship this year. It held that title for 1922 and the team which will appear here Saturday and Sunday is virtually the same as that which won the state pennant last season.

88 Golfers Ready For Troon Windup

Troon, Scotland, June 13.—On the wind swept links of Troon, eighty-eight of the world's premier golfers, among them the little group of Americans who qualified in their preliminary, will strike off tomorrow in the 75 hole struggle for the British open championship. Two complete halves of their journey toward the goal on the first day, the players will be swinging their irons from 8:30 in the morning until the same hour at night. On Friday another grid of similar extent will bring the competition to a close.

Reb Russell's Home Run Beats Phils

Pittsburgh, June 13.—Reb Russell's home run drive with Bligbee, who had doubled, on second, won today's game for Pittsburgh over Philadelphia, 4 to 2. Score: R. H. E. Philadel. 100 100 000—2 10 1 Pittsburgh 000 011 02X—4 11 2 Batteries: Behan and Henline; Morrison and Gooch.

Sammy Mandell Wins from Cleveland Boy

Cincinnati, O., June 13.—Sammy Mandell, Rockford, Ill., featherweight, defeated Jack Wolfe of Cleveland in a 12 round bout here tonight. Mandell won every round. Truly, Cutshaw is a most valuable asset to the Cobb machine in its fight for the pennant. His brains, coupled with his knowledge of the pastime and long years of experience, stand the Tigers in mighty good stead.

Jimmy Jones Beats Eastern Ring Star

Boston, June 13.—Jimmy Jones of Youngstown, O., was awarded the decision over Eddie Shevlin of Boston here tonight in a 10 round bout. Beaded georgette crepe capes, very ornate and colorful, are worn over very simple, one-toned frocks of chiffon or georgette crepe.

OLD KEYSTONE TEAMWORK HAS NEARLY PASSED

What has become of the famous keystone combinations of yesteryear? Where are the sensational second base-shortstop pairs that blazed across the baseball horizon in seasons past?

Where are men like Ferris and Parent, Collins and Barry, Evers and Tinker, Ritchie and Wagner, Schaefer and O'Leary and Bridgwell and Doyle and so on down the line? Chaps, whose scintillating performances around the middle cushion were known to ballroom in by-gone years. Apparently most of their type are now passed. At least that appears to be the answer. For all things considered there are really only two second base combinations in the major league this season which can even begin to compare with those of the past.

In Jimmy Dykes and "Chick" Galloway, the Athletics have one of them while the Giants have Frankie Frisch and Dave Bancroft, the other. Without a doubt these two duos lead their respective circuits. At least their work to date entitles them to top honors.

Of course there are other "doubles" in the main show which are a credit to the pastime. For instance, McManus and Gerber of the Browns, Collins and Johnson of the White Sox and Peckinpah and Harris of the Nationals. But none of them is in the same class as those toiling for "Mac and Mack."

For some reason or other there seems to be a lack of real classy material around the keystone bag now when compared with other days.

CUTSHAW DONE SAID CRITICS; HE FOOLS 'EM

Detroit, June 13.—"Old Ironsides" they call him. And that's just what George Cutshaw of the Detroit Tigers is.

For when the going is the toughest and crucial moments in the game arrive, it's good old "Cuttie" who steadies his mates and prevents them from faltering in the pinch. Situations mean nothing to the veteran. In fact, he just does on them.

When Cutshaw came to the Tigers from the Pittsburgh Pirates in 1922, he came with an "all through" label attached. The wisecracker figured he was "done," all ready for the trash heap. But Cutshaw, by playing a top notch game for the Cobblers all season, proved opinion in general was wrong.

This year, Detroit obtained Derrill Pratt to use at the keystone cushion, apparently as a strengthening measure. And "Cuttie" was to be kept in the main as a coach for the youngsters. But Cutshaw has been in today a great deal of the time showing his same old stellar brand of ball.

Today, Cutshaw, the "old-timer," is one of Cobb's first lieutenants. And has a great deal to say regarding the play of the Tigers. When in the game he directs the work of the inner defense, and few ivory plays are pulled with the veteran bossing the situation.

Truly, Cutshaw is a most valuable asset to the Cobb machine in its fight for the pennant. His brains, coupled with his knowledge of the pastime and long years of experience, stand the Tigers in mighty good stead. "Old Ironsides" they call him. The application is well applied.

It is said that for communicating with the inhabitants of Mars, a flag as large as Ireland and pole 500 miles long would be necessary.

TYGERS BOW TO MACK SLABSTER

Dauss Hit Freely; Burns' Bat Beats Sox; Yanks Blank St. Louis.

Philadelphia, June 13.—Rollie Naylor staged a comeback today and defeated Detroit, 5 to 2. On Saturday the Tygers batted him out of the box. Naylor also was a batting hero, his single scoring two men with runs that won the game.

Score: R. H. E. Detroit — 011 000 000—2 10 2 Philadel. — 000 400 10X—5 7 2 Batteries: Dauss, Cole and Baasler; Naylor and Perkins.

BURNS' BAT EFFECTIVE.

Boston, July 13.—George Burns' hitting, five hits in five times at bat, was a big factor in Boston's 10 to 9 win over Chicago today. Devorner was put out of the game for pushing Umpire Rowland in a protest over calling Kamm safe at the plate.

Score: R. H. E. Chicago. 050 011 200—9 15 3 Boston 112 060 090—10 16 0 Batteries: Leverette, Cvenkovs, H. Blankenship, Thurston and Schaik; Ferguson, Murray, Quinn and Devorner, Walters.

YANKS BLANK BROWNS.

New York, June 13.—After losing two games in a row, the American League champions broke their losing streak by trouncing the Browns 5 to 0 today.

Score: R. H. E. St. Louis — 000 000 000—0 4 1 New York 000 002 03X—5 9 2 Batteries: Shocker, Bayne and Collins; Dush and Hoffman.

Dempsey Wearing Leather Headgear

Great Falls, Mont., June 13.—Wearing a heavy green leather headgear to protect the healing cut over his left eye, Jack Dempsey boxed for the first time in a week today, flooring a 225 pound negro sparring partner and all but knocking out Harry Drake, the English heavyweight, in the savage six rounds he stepped with a trio of human punching bags.

The workout was the first real start of Dempsey's training for the championship contest with Tommy Gibbons at Shelby, July 4.

Reds Win by Drive Against McQuillan

Cincinnati, June 13.—Cincinnati knocked McQuillan out of the box today and defeated the Giants, 4 to 3. Score: R. H. E. New York 000 100 002—3 9 1 Cincinnati 022 000 00X—4 7 4 Batteries: McQuillan, Ryan and Snyder; Donohue and Wingo.

Gibbons Flattens Sparring Partners

Shelby, Mont., June 13.—Chasing gophers over Montana's buttes and prairies was part of Tommy Gibbons' training regime today for his Dempsey battle July 4.

The challenger brought back four furry denizens of the wilds as a memento of his trip and also picked off one jack rabbit and a snake on his hunting expedition. For the first time in her life, Mrs. Gibbons saw her husband in a workout today. Seated against the stockade, which surrounds the training camp, she watched Tommy tumble four sparring partners in eight gruelling rounds. Meanwhile little Tom and Jack, their two youngsters, climbed around the edge of the arena and eagerly watched their daddy work.

Seventh Frame Spurt Puts Robins Ahead

Chicago, June 13.—A seventh inning rally in which Brooklyn got five hits, including a home run, netted the visitors five runs and enabled them to defeat Chicago, 8 to 4. As a result the locals' winning streak was broken after having won seven consecutive games.

Score: R. H. E. Brooklyn—120 000 500—8 11 2 Chicago — 100 030 000—4 9 1 Batteries: Dickerson, Cadore, Dekater and Taylor; Osborne, Stueland and O'Farrell.

Vincennes Citizen Wants Everyone to Benefit by His Experience.

JOHN A. WILLIAMSON

"If I had the names of all the people who are suffering now as I suffered, I would write each one and tell them how Tanlac completely ended my long-standing rheumatism and stomach trouble," recently declared John A. Williamson, 302 Broadway, Vincennes, Ind.

"What little I forced myself to eat seemed to form a lump and caused awful pains in the pit of my stomach. Rheumatic pains would shoot through my back and shoulders and I could not sleep but an hour or two a night. In fact, I suffered both day and night and got so I could hardly drag myself to and from work."

"Tanlac put me right back on my feet. I'm always hungry now and enjoy my meals, for I don't have a particle of stomach trouble any more, sleep all night long and haven't a trace of rheumatism or any other ailment. Tanlac always got my highest praise."

"Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Accept no substitute. Over 37 million bottles sold."

Tanlac Vegetable Pills are Nature's own remedy for constipation. For sale everywhere. Adv.

CITIZENS PLAN GLORIOUS '4TH' AT MANISTIQUE

Fireworks, Parade, Baseball, Sports Among Day's Features.

At a citizens' meeting held in the City Hall Tuesday evening, it was decided to have a glorious Independence Day celebration in Manistique on July 4, with fireworks, merry-go-round, sports, parade, orations, band concerts and baseball games. Committees were appointed to attend to the various phases of the celebration, and the fire works committee began to function at once by placing a large fireworks order, which was sent in immediately by William LeDuc, representative of the fireworks concern, who was called into the evening conference.

The meeting was called to order by L. Rosenthal, general chairman of last year's Fourth of July celebration committee, and the meeting proceeded at once with the electing of officers, choosing R. W. Goodwillie as general chairman, L. A. Danielson as secretary, and W. J. Shinar as treasurer.

Pick Committees. A motion before the house to hold a real celebration in Manistique passed unanimously, as submitted by J. Blumrosen, and the meeting proceeded at once to the choosing of other necessary sub-committees, as follows: Advertising and soliciting: L. Rosenthal, Chm., M. M. Shiley, Fred Christensen, M. Klappstad, J. R. Nelson and Aug. Carlson. Sports—Oral Hupfer, Chm., Joe Yassau, John Shuster, O. R. Ponder, Chas. Underwood. Fireworks—Joseph Blumrosen, Chas. Isackson. Parade—Dr. A. R. Tucker, Chm., W. Beaudoin, Dr. H. L. Mead, Theo. Montgomery, S. M. Rubin.

Procuring speaker of the day—R. W. Goodwillie. Securing services of band, and arranging music program—Wm. Debut.

It will be the privilege of the committee chairman to add to these committees any additional members needed to assist them in carrying out their duties.

Next Again Monday. Further details, including the naming of a site for the holding of the monster fireworks display and other special features of the program are to be announced at a second meeting to be held at the city hall next Monday at eight p. m., though it was indicated yesterday that the committee favored staging the entire program at Lakeside park.

Paul Rediker owner of Manistique's holiday merry-go-round, was present at the meeting, and signified his willingness to set up his modern amusement device for the one day celebration, but asked the committee's advice as to the proper location for the machine. Decision on this matter was delayed, pending a report

LOCAL TRAPPER APPOINTED TO FEDERAL FORCE

The appointment of V. P. Deemer, Manistique, to the position of state predatory animal inspector under the Bureau of Biological Survey, U. S. Department of Agriculture, was announced yesterday, following a visit to this city of Dr. A. K. Fisher of the U. S. Agricultural Dept. and J. Stokley Ligon, Michigan Predatory Inspector, with whom Mr. Deemer will work in his new position.

Dr. Fisher, who is engaged in the directing of an economic investigation for the U. S. Department of Agriculture's biological survey, was in the city on Monday, and notified the Manistique man that he had received the appointment from Washington. Mr. Deemer has for some time been considered as a candidate for this post, for which he is admirably fitted through his experience as state trapper and warden with the State Conservation Department.

Relating to predatory animals, his new duties will be somewhat similar to the work of the warden, though embracing a much wider scope, and his long service as a warden will be a valuable asset to him. Mr. Deemer has tendered his resignation as warden for the Conservation Department, and it was learned yesterday that a successor had already been appointed on his recommendation. The new warden for the Manistique district will be Frank Voltaire of Thompson, who has already been notified of his appointment and both men will enter upon their new duties at once. Mr. Voltaire is well known in this vicinity, and the choice of the conservation department in appointing him to fill the vacancy has met with the general approval of sportsmen who know Mr. Voltaire's qualifications. He is expected to move to Manistique shortly, so as to be conveniently located for the proper discharge of his duties in the district.

Reports show that wolves and foxes are steadily falling prey to the conservation workers and state trappers in Schoerlaert county. Mr. Deemer reported Tuesday that one large female timber wolf and two foxes had been brought in by Peter Bowers, caught in the vicinity of Creighton.

HIGH SCHOOL IS AWARDED HIGH HONOR

Institution Is Placed On Three Year List

One of the highest honors that can be given any high school and one which is conferred on few schools in the state has come to the Gladstone high school with the announcement from the state department of education that Gladstone's high school has been placed on the three-year accredited list.

This announcement was received by the high school officials following an inspection visit of the school made a few weeks ago by C. L. Goodrich, superintendent of public instruction, in charge of the department of high schools, for the state.

It means not only the retaining of Gladstone on the accredited high school list, but of ranking it with the best schools in the country by giving a three year recommendation. This means that the schools will be given inspection for the accredited list only once every three years in the case of the majority of Michigan high schools.

The winning of a place on the three-year accredited list is a high award for the local school and speaks eloquently of the efficient system that has produced an institution of so high a rating.

Mrs. Magnuson was one of the pioneer residents of Ensign and was known and loved by a host of friends and acquaintances whose floral offerings filled the room where the body lay in state. COMMISSIONERS ADOPT TRAFFIC REGULATIONS

Adjoined Meeting Held Last Night at City Hall.

Gladstone's traffic regulations and the penalties affixed for violation of the rules became a part of the city charter with the adoption of the traffic ordinance introduced Monday at last night's meeting of the commission.

The ordinance provisions covering the limits of speed, manner of driving, parking, establishment of safety zones, equipment and use of lights, brakes and horns, school zones and the penalties for violation of any of the rules. The speed limit fixed in the ordinance is fourteen miles an hour on the business streets, nineteen on all other streets and four miles an hour when crossing a sidewalk to enter an alley or a garage.

The parking rule provides that cars must be left twenty feet from a hydrant or safety zone, while the lights provision requires a rear red light. The fourteen mile limit also applies to school zones. Penalties for violation of the ordinance will be not less than $1 and not more than $100, or from one to ninety days in jail, fine or jail.

The ordinance regarding disorderly conduct was also adopted at last night's meeting, the penalty for violating being fixed at from $1 to $100 fine or from one to ninety days in jail. Discussion of the administrative organization provision was held by the commissioners and City Manager Ham, action on the matter to be taken later. The organization provision is usually a part of the city charter but under the Gladstone charter is to be made an ordinance.

Consistency and Firmness Win

Months of negotiation, agreement between the United States and the allies for the settlement of the costs of the American army of occupation on the Rhine has been signed.

At the risk of appearing unsympathetic, we venture the hope that the floods at Tulga fail to drown out the booming bass voice of our old friend Foghorn Clancy, the world's soap-preem announcer.

"I see by the papers," remarks the other half-ripped canteen on the opposite side of the table, "that Johnny Dundee nearly killed Richie Mitchell at Milwaukee the other night, at least the Milwaukee sport writers admitted that Dundee earned 'a shade'."

Vigorous protests should be filed by all hundred percent Americans, against the instructions given prohibition agents working in the Detroit river to use short barreled shot guns on rum running craft operating in that alcoholic stream.

When a gypsy fortune teller offered yesterday to narrate the "past and future" of a pulchritudinous maiden of our acquaintance, she declined. "I don't mind hearing about my future," she said, "but my past is none of your business."

Out Spokane way, a fossil of a ginkgo leaf, said to be more than 1,000,000 years old has been dug up by geologists. It will be sent to a museum at Washington where it will be the champion fossil of the capital, outside of the senate chamber.

An M. A. C. history teacher is planning a trip to the Balkans where, it is understood, there is plenty of it.

Young man came into our office wearing Palm Beach suit and complained about the "terrible heat."

The Piffle Hook

THE NEWS that Lincoln J. Carter is preparing to reenter the theatrical producing business next season caused our heart to trip-hammer double forte until it was revealed that the daddy of "Bertha the Poor Sewing Machine Girl" would turn his attention to what he believes will be a higher form of theatrical art. Such gems as "Shadows at Three," and "On the Bridge at Midnight," will be "adetracked" by their parent. "Gimme those papers" and "I'm going to save the woman I love," will remain in their pigeon-hole among his archives.

Garden Bay News

Mrs. Emil Anderson was the victim of an unpleasant accident on Thursday when she was thrown out of the buggy in which she had climbed with the intention of driving up to the Anderson farm property north and east of their residence. The horse had just been hitched up to the buggy and Mrs. Anderson's daughter Grace had come to the house to see that all the doors were secure. Suddenly, for some unexplained cause, the horse took fright and bolted. He tore around the barn. One wheel became detached subsequently a second. The rider hung on so far but with the smashing of the second wheel was thrown to the ground. The horse and remainder of the buggy continued on the mad trip until the latter was completely smashed. Mrs. Anderson sustained a number of bad bruises and a nervous shock which is not pleasant to recall to memory. She is now able to be around her household duties again.

Dayton Beardley and wife, H. Headfield and wife and son Kenneth made a trip up near Marblehead on Friday. They returned with a trailer load of Certified Seed potatoes of the Russett variety. These will be planted on the Beardley farm and are so far as we know, the first certified potatoes to be planted in this section. These are at present worth about four times the amount of the ordinary table variety and it is hoped that this new venture will be so successful that others will follow and so make this locality one of the important centers for Michigan Certified Seed. Mr. Beardley is to be complimented on the forward step which he has taken.

Chauncey K. Miller, wife and family of The Pine, Manitowish passed through town on Sunday on their way to Fayette Bluff where they spent a very pleasant afternoon.

Mrs. J. W. Smith, Mrs. Bertha LaMotte, Edward LaMotte, Jr. and Reginald LaCoste made a business trip to Escanaba last week end.

Dr. LaMotte is going into the chicken business on a large scale. During the last week or two he has bought several different flocks. One of this was from a neighbor who lived but a little more than a stone's throw from his own home. The birds were very carefully brought over at night and placed in the barn on the LaMotte property. They remained there during the night, but bright and early they hurried back to their old quarters. The barn door had been left open, providing an easy exit. They were brought back again and again they returned home. This has since happened and the writer saw the doctor a few nights ago when he was bringing the chickens to his place for the fourth time. It is apparently a regular feature of the Doctor's work, to make his trip over to the other coop and bring back his feathered friends. It was suggested that he chop off their heads to make further escape impossible.

Mrs. A. W. Collins, Wm. Winters, Sr., Rev. H. Headfield and wife went to Sylvan Dell by gasoline boat on Monday afternoon. His many friends in the Garden and Fayette district will be interested to learn that Dr. Gibson, the ear and eye specialist has been visiting in the district for several days this week.

Due to the severe thunderstorm meeting of the Boosters Club was held on Monday night. This postponed meeting will be held in the Town Hall on Monday night of the coming week. Boosters please note.

Local farmers were beginning to feel alarm for the prospects of their crops. Up to Monday there had been only one shower of rain since the snow left. However, a regular deluge was experienced on Monday and again during the whole of Thursday. Not only has this been of inestimable benefit in hastening the growth of all crops, but it is believed that it will discourage the crop-destroyers to almost the point of helplessness.

Mrs. A. W. Collins, Wm. Winters, Sr., Rev. H. Headfield and wife went to Sylvan Dell by gasoline boat on Monday afternoon. His many friends in the Garden and Fayette district will be interested to learn that Dr. Gibson, the ear and eye specialist has been visiting in the district for several days this week.

Martin Birk and son Wallace motored to Marblehead on Saturday and renewed acquaintances with a number of old friends in that district.

Alex Mallouk has rented the Dr. LaMotte residence on the outskirts of the village.

Vilas Gray is drilling a well on the Jos. Boyer property east of town.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnson of Isabella and son Dewey of Nahma were in town on Sunday. They took to Nahma with them, Robert Roberts, in order that he might have more regular medical attendance. The latter was knocked down by an automobile recently and was not progressing as rapidly as was expected.

Rev. Chas. H. Harger of Benzonia, Rev. E. R. Latham of Olivet, Mrs. A. W. Collins of St. Clair, Rev. H. Headfield and wife of Garden, motored to Manistiquon on Tuesday. The three former went on to the Soo the following morning.

Dayton Beardley of Kates Bay has just received a very brief communication from his brother Erwin of Berwin, Maryland, stating that his home was struck by lightning on Sunday night. The building was burned to the ground and all the contents destroyed. It is supposed that none of the occupants were injured. Mr. Beardley counts Garden as his old home having spent the earlier part of his life here. His many friends in this district will sympathize with him in this unfortunate occurrence.

The thirty-fifth annual meeting of the Gladstone Association of Congregational Churches and Ministers was held in the Cooks church on Tuesday last and was attended by a large number of delegates and friends from Rapid River, Isabella, Fayette and Garden. Among the special speakers were Rev. C. H. Harger, General Missionary of the Conference, Rev. E. R. Latham, Director of Religious Education for the Conference and Mrs. A. W. Collins, Field Representative of the Women's Work of the Conference and also Rev. T. A. Kitchen, Pastor of the Rapid River church. The various addresses dealing with different aspects of the work, were of a high order and greatly appreciated by those present. Mrs. H. Headfield of Garden sang a solo at the opening of the afternoon session. An excellent dinner was served in the Grange Town Hall by the ladies of the Cooks church. Mrs. H. Headfield and Wm. Winters were the delegates from the Garden church and Miss Mattie Elliott and Florence Pizzala of Sac Bay served the Fayette church in a similar capacity.

The next meeting of the Association will be held in the Isabella church a year hence. The sessions have not been held in the Cooks church since the year 1910.

Mrs. A. W. Collins of St. Clair was the special preacher in the Garden, Fayette and Cooks churches on Sunday last. Mrs. Collins gave exceptionally interesting addresses on the work of the women on the home and also in the foreign field. She brought much inspiration to those who were privileged to hear her.

The ladies' Aid Society of the Fayette Congregational Church held their regular meeting on Saturday afternoon at the home of the president, Mrs. John Follo. This meeting was originally planned to be held with Mrs. Hughes of Beech Grove Farm, but on account of the sickness of her mother and her departure for Minneapolis, arrangements had to be made as above-mentioned. A special feature of the gathering was an address by Mrs. Collins on the Foreign Missionary work of the Women's organization of this state. Lunch was served by Mrs. Follo.

Mrs. John Watchorn of Fayette was appointed to serve for the period of three years on the Advisory Board of the Gladstone Association of Congregational churches.

ches. Mrs. H. Headfield of Garden was the scribe for the days proceedings. Edward LaMotte, Jr. made a business trip to Marquette the early part of the week.

DRINK WATER IF BACK OR KIDNEYS HURT

Begin Taking Salts if You Feel Backache or Have Bladder Weakness.

Too much rich food forms acids which excite and overwork the kidneys in their efforts to filter it from the system. Flush the kidneys occasionally to relieve them like you relieve the bowels, removing acids, waste and poison, else you may feel a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, the stomach sour, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment, the channels often get irritated, obliging one to get up two or three times during the night.

To help neutralize these irritating acids and flush off the body's urinous waste, begin drinking water. Also get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine and bladder disorders disappear.

This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys and stop bladder irritation. Jad Salts is inexpensive and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then to help prevent serious kidney and bladder disorders.

By all means drink lots of good water every day. Have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year. Adv.

Looking Ahead

IN ATTEMPTING to vision the demands for its products, which the next ten years may develop, the Standard Oil Company (Indiana), taking counsel of its long experience, is preparing to care for an enormously increased business when it develops.

In the decade just past the demand for gasoline has increased far beyond the dream of the most imaginative, as viewed from 1913.

In that year there were 1,287,000 automobile vehicles registered in continental United States.

Today, there are more than ten times as many, yet, the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is able to supply the demand for its service now more promptly and with greater efficiency than was possible ten years ago.

The Company has been able to keep up with this great, constantly increasing, demand because it always is working with a keen eye to the future and preparing, so far as is possible, for the extreme demand which may be developed.

During the past ten years the Company has found it necessary to expand its manufacturing facilities to an extraordinary degree; to create and develop processes which would recover a greater amount of gasoline from a given quantity of crude, without in any way sacrificing quality—to expand and perfect a network of distributing outlets which would operate with machine-like precision—bulk storage depots, service stations, delivery trucks and tank wagons.

Not even the remotest spot in the ten Middle Western states is without Standard Oil service.

All of these things have been done. They have been accomplished without any blare of trumpets—just as a part of the day's work.

It is the ambition of the 27,000 men and women who make up the personnel of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) to conduct every department of the Company's activities so that you, as an American citizen, will point with pride to the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) as a leader in a highly specialized branch of an essential industry.
