WATER WAGON HAS HARDING AS PASSENGER

PRESIDENT REFUSES TO VIOLATE DRY LAWS.

BY DAVID LAWRENCE. (Copyright, 1923, by The Escanaba Press) Rawlins, Wyoming, June 27.—President Harding has become a total abstainer. He meant literally the speech he delivered at Denver, appealing to the people of America to give up strong drink even though their stocks were lawfully acquired before the eighteenth amendment and Volstead act were adopted. Mr. Harding, it was learned today, feels very deeply that as chief executive of the nation he should set an example of restraint, although there is no law against drinking liquor one has legally acquired and Mr. Harding violated no law in taking an occasional drink in the White House.

It has become known that in the last several months the president has refused gifts from close personal friends and has told them he meant to conform to the implications of the law as well as its specific obligations. Since the Harding administration began no liquor has ever been served at the table for official guests. There has been some gossip that personal friends would drop in at the White House, or meet the president at the golf links and offer a drink from a flask very much as might happen in the offices of senators and representatives, but while Mr. Harding has since early Marlon days enjoyed a sociable drink, he has had no regrets about practicing self denial for he believes the greater good to be accomplished nationally by a strict observance of prohibition more than makes up for the indulgence.

Class Feeling Strong. Close reading of the President's speech at Denver will reveal that he feels very keenly the rivalry of classes in America. The resentment of the working people over the fact that the rich can secure all the liquor they want, irrespective of price. What Mr. Harding realizes of course, is that there always will be available, through one channel or another, some supply from sources that cannot be stopped to the wealthy. Mr. Harding appears in the hope that they will voluntarily abstain from violating the law in purchasing liquor, and that they will either destroy what they have or fail to renew their supply when it is exhausted.

The president thinks the very security of American institutions depends on the attitude that the wealthy folks of the land take toward the Volstead act. If one law can be ignored, and an amendment held in contempt, he fears the whole structure will collapse. As for himself, the president has taken the matter to heart and while the public hasn't known it nevertheless it is a fact that for some time Mr. Harding has been abstaining and that he means to keep his household dry and will refrain even when away from the White House from accepting the invitations of friends or their gifts.

Feels Responsibility. Mr. Harding's sense of increased responsibility has been so sudden development his intimates say. He has been gradually coming to the conclusion that the sooner universal prohibition is actually practiced the better will it be for the moral fibre of the nation and the sooner will come those modifications in existing law that the people shall desire. His own prediction is that the longer prohibition is in effect the greater the likelihood that the changes in the law will be in the direction of effective enforcement rather than the relaxation but even if the sentiment of the nation were to swing to a 2.75 per cent beer the chances are that such a change would follow a period of absolute drought as far as strong drink is concerned. Instead of an era of continued bootlegging of whiskey that seems to be the trend of the president's mind at present. So long as the Volstead law is on the statute books the president himself will set the example of the nation in refraining from accepting any pre-Volsteadism drink or any from his friends in the intimacy of the White House circle for Mr. Harding has taken the pledge, not in written form, but with the conscience and the time may not be far off when he will appeal to the nation to do likewise.

A man does not succeed in business by the ordinary virtues catalogued by Samuel Smiles, but by the extraordinary qualities of vision and imagination; and you can't tie imagination down to office hours.

Canadian Launch Operating Saloon In St. Clair River, Sells "Suds" To Row Boats

Port Huron, Mich., June 27.—An enterprising skipper of a 60 foot motor launch of Canadian registry is taking advantage of the Dominion export laws to sell beer from his craft to anyone who desires to purchase it for transportation across the St. Clair river, the Port Huron Times-Herald says today. Stationed in Canadian waters, the skipper complying in all respects with the Canadian law, is doing a brisk business selling his stock at $4 a case. F. O. B. launch side. Canadian officials who have inspected the boat and checked over the transactions say no law is being violated on the Canadian side of the river. Each night, according to the newspaper, small launches leave the side of the "mother ship" and station themselves a short distance out in the river where they are visited by rowboats from the American side.

WALTON FIGHTS MASKED BANDS

Oklahoma Governor Says He Will Keep Troops On the Job.

Oklahoma City, Okla., June 27. (By The Associated Press)—Reiterating his determination to stamp out the activities of lawless mobs within the borders of Oklahoma, Gov. J. C. Walton today declared that he was ready to place every county in the state under military rule for the next three years if such drastic action proved necessary to suppress masked violence.

Having clamped martial law down upon Oklahoma county, where he charged mob outrages had been occurring for months, the governor let it be known that four other counties were on the "verge" of military rule.

Local conditions made it impossible to execute ouster proceedings against county officers remiss in their duties, the governor asserted. "Officials ignore whipping and assault," he declared, adding that the number of such cases was "appalling."

BUILDING MEN STRIKE AGAIN

Chicago, June 27.—Chicago is faced with another building tieup, more than 2,000 workmen leaving construction jobs on new buildings today and joined in a demand for higher wages. The strike started with about 150 men at the Athletic stadium, under construction at Grant Park. Here police arrived as one leader was delivering a soap box oration but did not interfere while the workmen remained orderly. From the stadium job the band marched to other buildings about the city, being joined by workers as they marched until the band reached more than 2,000 workmen. One leader, in a speech before the workers in Grant Park, declared that within four days 15,000 men will be on strike that will tie up at least $100,000,000 in building operations.

President Spends Day in Zion Park

Zion Canyon, Via Cedar City, Utah, June 27.—(By The Associated Press)—Utah's pioneer men, gray and grizzled in the service of empire building and the younger generation of Southern Utah, were hosts today to President Harding as he passed almost a hundred miles beyond the end of steel and into the nation's great playgrounds. The entire day was required for the motor trip from Cedar City to the park and returned tonight in time to depart for Pocatello, Idaho, where the chief executive will speak tomorrow. Mr. Harding and his party entered the park grounds from Cedar City, stopping at a number of places enroute. Joplin, Mo., June 27.—One man probably fatally hurt, several others slightly injured and perhaps a dozen towns and cities in southwest Missouri slightly damaged, with almost a score in darkness, seemed late tonight to be the chief toll of a terrific rain and wind storm which struck shortly before dark tonight and in some sections reached tornado proportions.

"GIRL BANDIT" ORDERED HELD TO GRAND JURY

Chicago, June 27.—Fred Thompson, the masquerader man-woman, charged with being the "smiling" woman bandit who shot and killed Richard Tesmer, today was ordered bound to the grand jury on the charge of murder by the coroner's jury investigating Tesmer's death. The jury also recommended that the police continue their search for the male companion of the "smiling" bandit and, when he is arrested, hold him on a similar charge. Thompson was attired again in the female clothing which he wore when arrested in the apartment of Frank Carlick, where he is said to have lived as the wife of Carlick and the husband of Marie Clark, arrested with Thompson and Carlick. He has been forced into male attire at the jail where he was ordered into denim shirt and trousers but when he appeared at the inquest, he again wore his dress, high heel slippers, hat and veil, his face freshly shaved and heavily rouged and powdered.

Identified Positively. Mrs. Tesmer, widow of the slain man, testified at the trial that Thompson was the one dressed in female clothing who fired the shot which killed her husband as they were returning to their home in the evening. Tesmer was killed as he and his wife were held up at the door of their garage, the woman and male bandits escaping in the Tesmer automobile.

COAL CASES TO BE DISMISSED?

Indianapolis, Ind., June 27.—Action on indictments charging a total of 127 mine operators and nine union heads and 99 corporations with conspiracies in restraint in the production and sale of bituminous coal, returned by the federal grand jury in the United States district court here in a period from Feb. 24, 1920, to Feb. 25, 1921, will be taken in federal court tomorrow before Judge Anderson, it was announced tonight by Attorney General Daugherty. While Mr. Daugherty declined to state what action the government would take, the opinion was advanced in federal circles that the case will be dismissed, perhaps with some action to protect the government should it desire to take action in similar cases later.

BURY VICTIMS, DENVER WRECK

Denver, Colo., June 27.—Funeral services for Thomas French and Thomas Dawson, both of Denver, victims of Sunday's automobile accident in Bear Creek canon, were held here today. President Harding sent a floral offering to each. The party, of which Dawson and French were members, was made up of Washington newspaper correspondents accompanying the president on his trip to Alaska, and local newspaper men. Mr. Dawson for many years was attached to the Washington staff of the Associated Press and was widely known throughout the country among newspaper men and public officials. Flowers were received from newspaper men all over the country. Mr. French was a statistician for the Great Western Sugar company and widely known.

DRASTIC STEP CONTEMPLATED BY TREASURY

VESSELS CONTINUE TO IGNORE DRY RULING.

Washington, June 27.—The government today prepared to take the extreme step in enforcing the supreme court stand against liquor imports of seizing ships which bring in intoxicating beverages, whether in cargo or under foreign government customs seals. Continued, if not studied, violation of the court's decision by an increasing number of foreign vessels entering New York with large amounts of beverage liquor under seal, it was said, apparently made necessary the drastic penalty of seizure, not only of the contraband beverages but of the ships themselves. Officials declared privately that the present practice could not be tolerated much longer and steps to involve the extreme penalty of the Volstead act were said to be imminent.

New York, June 27.—Three more foreign liners, the Chicago, of the French lines, the Olympic, of the White Star, and the Concord, Saxonia, arrived in port today with their return supplies of liquor under government seals. Of these the seals of only four have been broken so far. They are the Baltic, Berengaria, the Paris and the Cedric.

INSIDE THE THREE-MILE LIMIT

Choice liquors have been confiscated from several British steamers, by U. S. government dry agents. This shows how a derrick lifted many cases from the White Star liner Baltic at New York following the Treasury Department's ruling that foreign vessels may not have surplus supplies within the three-mile limits. Note the British government seals, which revenue agents broke open, affixed to the boxes.

ROAD PERSISTS REBELLION, SAYS DECISION.

Chicago, Ill., June 27.—(By Associated Press)—The Pennsylvania Railroad System, after a narrow decision of the Federal Railroad Labor Board, in refusing to acknowledge the elected representatives of the Clerk's organization, "has persisted in such violation in contempt of the unanimous decision of the United States supreme court," which sustained the Board's jurisdiction, the Board declared today in a decision.

The castigation of the Pennsylvania System—the second of similar nature within 11 days—succeeded when the system refused to deal with the elected representatives of the Clerk's organization as officials, representing employees' organization, although a system was ready to consider them as individuals.

KEARNS RULES WITH IRON MIT

But Tommy Does All His Own Figuring in Training.

BY WILSON ROSS
NBA Fight Expert.
Shelby, Mont., June 25.—Over at Great Falls Jack Dempsey, the champion, has everything figured out for him. Every move is planned for him by the foxy Jack Kearns.

But here at Shelby Tommy Gibbons does all the figuring for himself and plans out all the strategy that he expects to use in the coming big fight. Gibbons is the sole boss of all his own training stunts.

And so it will be in the ring here on July 4 when Gibbons meets Dempsey for the world's heavyweight title. It's doubtful whether Eddie Kane even will be in Tommy's corner. He'll be looking after the business details.

Kearns'll Be There.
But Kearns will be right in there in Dempsey's corner, supreme dictator of everything the champion does in the ring the same as he is the autocrat of the Dempsey training camp.

For a bit of the Gibbons strategy as Tommy explained it to me. One of the biggest differences in Tommy's system as compared with that of most every other big fighter is his idea on following up an advantage when he hurts the other fellow.

When other fighters sock another lad on the jaw and get him going, they try to keep after that injured jaw. Or if it's the stomach, they keep after the body. But listen to Tommy's hunch on that subject—

"When you hurt the other fellow, what does he do? If you hit him a dizzy wallop on the jaw, up goes his guard. His only thought is to protect the injured part and all his defense centers around that portion of his anatomy. It's the same, if you land a smashing blow to the solar plexus. His defense almost automatically is monopolized in protecting the injured stomach."

Picks Another Spot.
"So when he's protecting the injured jaw, I find the best way is to follow up by going after the stomach and body. He's so busy guarding the jaw that the body is left comparatively open and it's generally easy to get at that portion of his anatomy."

"Or if it's his stomach where you sink the blow that hurts, then it's time to go after the head and the jaw. For his guard has naturally dropped to shield the part that is hurt, and that leaves the opening above."

And right there you have one of the central ideas of the Tommy Gibbons plan of action. Of course, in this battle with Dempsey he'll have to hurt Jack first before he can carry out his hunch.

Just hark back to the Carpentier affair at Jersey City and you'll recollect that one blow of the Frenchman's had Jack in distress for a few moments in the second round. But Carpentier couldn't seem to follow it up even though Jack for the time being had backed up to the ropes and seemingly left himself open.

Jack Loses French.

HELP FOR GIRLS WHO WORK

Mrs. Lodic Tells How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Helped Her

Tyrone, Pa.—"A friend told me how Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had helped his wife, so my husband bought me a bottle because I was so run-down, had a nervous weakness, no strength in my body and pains in my left side so bad that I could hardly do my work. Before I was married I used to work in the factory, and I had pains just the same then as I have had since I have done my housework. I would not be without a bottle in the house now. It has stopped the pains all right and I have found out that it is a wonderful body builder, as it has made me well and strong, and is going to be the 'old reliable' with me hereafter, and I am always willing to tell other women how it has helped me. You can use this letter as you wish as I can honestly say that my words are true."—Mrs. M. Lodic, R. F. D. No. 4, Box 40, Tyrone, Pa.

BOARD PRAISES SHERIFF'S FORCE IN RESOLUTION

The following resolution, commending and expressing appreciation for the work of the Delta county sheriff's department in the capture of two escaped convicts, George Bloochas and George Natchoff, were prepared yesterday by the county clerk by order of the Board of Supervisors. Copies will be presented to Sheriff Carney and such of his staff as he may designate.

RESOLUTION: Whereas, The attention of this Board of Supervisors has been called to the facts and circumstances of the recent escape from the Branch of the Michigan State Prison at Marquette, Michigan, of certain against the peace and dignity to said institution for life terms as a penalty for the commission of criminal offenses considered the most serious that can be committed against the peace and dignity of the people of this State:

And Whereas, Further, We have been advised of the splendid service rendered to the Warden and his assistants by the Sheriff's department of Delta county, and also by the police officers of the City of Escanaba, so far as they were able to participate, in the pursuit and capture of said escaped convicts;

Now Therefore, Be It, and It is Hereby Resolved, by this Board that in behalf of all the good citizenship and people of the County of Delta, we do extend our sincere congratulations, and express our appreciation, for the results attained, to Sheriff Joseph P. Carney and his regular and special deputy sheriffs who, with him, and in cooperation with the State Police and Marquette Prison officials, answered the call for help, and with such courage and untiring devotion to duty, labored so unceasingly and unselfishly under circumstances fraught with danger, discomfort and disappointment.

And Be It Further Resolved, That it is the sense of this Board that these men are deserving of our thanks and commendation, not only for the fearless and fine manner in which they performed their duty in the face of death and the loss of their lives, but perhaps even more so for the splendid spirit shown by them in their determination to give the reward for the capture of said convicts, so justly earned by them, over to Mrs. Frank Curran, widow of the deceased officer who made the supreme sacrifice in the line of duty for his beloved State.

And it is hereby ordered that this resolution be spread upon the records of this session, and that engrossed copies hereof be given to Sheriff Carney and to such of his assistants as he shall designate to the clerk of this Board, as a simple token of our gratitude and appreciation for the service rendered.

George Harvey, Clerk, Board of Supervisors. C. W. Kates, Chairman.

Patriotic Service Planned for Sunday

A number of Escanaba churches are cooperating in plans for an outdoor service to be held at Ludington Park on the Sunday preceding the Fourth of July. The program will be patriotic in character and will supplement the regular observance which is to be held on Independence Day itself. The Rev. Harry Staver will probably deliver the principal address.

The city administration will cooperate by furnishing chairs and in other ways assisting in the program.

NOTICE R. P. O. E.
A regular meeting will be held Thursday evening, June 28, at 8:00 o'clock. Buffet lunch and smoker will be held after the meeting.

Now a QUICK Quaker Oats

Cooks to perfection in 3 to 5 minutes

No Waiting

These oats are almost ready cooked

Have you wanted an oat dish you could serve as quickly as boiled eggs? Then here it is. Our experts have perfected Quick Quaker Oats. It is the quickest cooking oats in the world.

Not different—just quick
Quick Quaker tastes just like regular Quaker. And Quaker, as you know, is world-famed for its flavor. This brand is flaked from the finest grains only—just the rich, plump, flavor oats. It is just the cream oats. We get but ten pounds of such flakes from a bushel.

That's why mothers of all nations send for Quaker Oats—millions of them. This is the supreme food for children, and mothers want children to love it.

In Quick Quaker the oats are cut before flaking. They are rolled very thin and are partly cooked. So the flakes are smaller and thinner—that is all. And those small, thin flakes cook quickly.

You get the same quality, the same super-flavor. Ask for the style you prefer. If your breakfasts are hurried, get Quick Quaker. But for flavor's sake, get one style of Quaker Oats. It was always delicious. Now it is also quick.

Regular Quaker Oats
Come in package at left—the style you have always known.

Quick Quaker Oats
Come in package at right, with the "Quick" label. Your grocer has both. Be sure to get the style you want.

The Human Element in Industry

IN business there is no such thing as independence. Business is part of the social fabric where every individual is, directly or indirectly, dependent upon every other individual. The stockholder is dependent upon the employe, and the employe on the stockholder, while both are dependent upon the public who buy and consume the products they manufacture.

Stockholders and employes also are consumers. In the case of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) more than eight thousand of the employes are part owners in the business.

With a keen realization of this interdependence, the company, the management and the employes practice that sound Yankee fairness in dealing with one another, which makes for better understanding and industrial harmony.

The individual employe is a citizen just as the individual stockholder is a citizen. Whether or not he is a good citizen often depends upon whether he is busy, happy and successful in the business which engages his attention.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is proud of its employes; they are good citizens, law-respecting, thrifty, industrious and happy in their industry. Experience has proved that this type of citizen makes the best employe. The employe who is zealous in the performance of his duty, who strives to give the public as well as the Company good service, is a citizen worthy of the name.

It is the policy of this Company to pay its workmen a good wage. Also it is the policy of this Company to promote and encourage "personal contact" between the employes and the management.

This open-door policy of fair dealing has resulted in uniform enthusiasm and loyalty on the part of the employes, and because of it the Company is better able to fulfill, in a satisfactory manner, its obligations to the people of the Middle West.

TO THE PUBLIC: LUMBER PRICES ARE BELOW 1920 LEVELS.

Propaganda of one kind and another has led the average citizen to believe that lumber has not descended from war time peak prices.

The result of this survey, on figures submitted from every section of the state, shows that retail sales prices on typical lumber bills for ordinary dwelling construction on today's market are 24% less than in June 1920.

The lumber merchant is doing his full share to stabilize the construction program and to keep the cost down.

The prospective home builder has every reason to proceed with assurance and confidence.

It Pays to Advertise

That's a recognized fact today. But bear this in mind: the only reason it pays to advertise is that millions of thrifty folks find it a paying proposition to be guided by the advertisements. If you will read advertising consistently for a while you'll readily agree that this statement is true.

It will pay you in money saved. Real bargains are offered frequently in the advertisements that appear in this paper. Watch for them. Take advantage of them.

It will pay you in time saved. It tells you exactly when and where to go for what you want to buy. You don't have to waste time and effort 'shopping around.' If your time is worth money, advertising will pay you.

It will pay you in added satisfaction. Every time a merchant or manufacturer advertises he obligates himself to sell you goods that are as advertised. Read the advertisements and be sure you get your money's worth.

Reading the advertisements is a plain every-day business proposition. It is a duty you owe yourself and your pocketbook.

Montana Bankers Again Bolster Fight Fund

THIRD $100,000 ROLL IN SIGHT

Great Falls Banker Says It Will Be Raised; Tracy Quits.

Great Falls, Mont., June 27.—(By the Associated Press)—Expressing himself as hopeful that the $700,000 due Jack Dempsey as the final installment of the $200,000 guarantee to fight Tommy Gibbons July 4 would be in sight tomorrow, George Stanton, a Great Falls banker, declared tonight that the money would be raised without a doubt before July 2, the date the amount is due to Jack Kearns, Dempsey's manager.

Stanton, who advanced $50,000 to help make the payment of the $200,000 installment to Kearns ten days ago, said efforts were being made to have the money advanced by the Great Northern railroad. If this proposal falls the business men and bankers of Great Falls would be asked to advance it.

TRACY WITHDRAWS.
Shelby, Mont., June 27.—(By the Associated Press)—Dan Tracy, pioneer Great Falls mining man and hotel owner, suddenly withdrew from the position of executive in charge of the business management of the Dempsey-Gibbons fight early tonight. Tracy said his withdrawal was due to inability to adequately protect the new capital put into the promotion at the time the second $100,000 installment was paid Dempsey June 15. Mayor Jim Johnson, treasurer of the fight, said Tracy's withdrawal would not prevent the holding of the bout.

Suzanne Wins First Championship Match

Wimbledon, Eng., June 27.—(By the Associated Press)—There were no surprises in the play for the world's tennis championships at Wimbledon this afternoon, with only one big thrill; this was when Suzanne Lenglen appeared in the stadium, which was crowded almost to capacity, to start after her fifth successive world's title. She began in characteristic manner, winning every game of the two set match from young Peggy Ingram, the daughter of one of England's own international players. Miss Lenglen played superbly.

Red Third Sacker Out for Ten Days

Cincinnati, O., June 27.—Babe Pinnell, Cincinnati National third baseman, who was injured in the game with Chicago Tuesday, will not be back in the game for ten days or two weeks. This information was given by the club physician, after an examination of Pinnell's injuries. The physician said the spikes of Aldridge cut a two inch gash on the outer side of the right ankle, in which five stitches had been taken.

Public Links Men Begin Third Round

Washington, June 27.—Three golfers from New York city, Philadelphia, and one each from Buffalo, Portland, Ore., and two from Boston, remained in the second national public links championship at the conclusion of play today at East Potomac park here. Two of the New York players meet in the third round tomorrow morning in the top half of the draw.

Oklahoma Golfer Loses; Big Upset

Minneapolis, Minn., June 27.—(By the Associated Press)—Favorites to win the 23rd annual trans-Mississippi golf tournament on the Minikahda course here came through today's test with the single exception of J. A. Kennedy of Tulsa, Okla., who fell before W. L. Young, Jr., of Moline, Ill., one up.

Zev, Two Others Hurt at Latonia

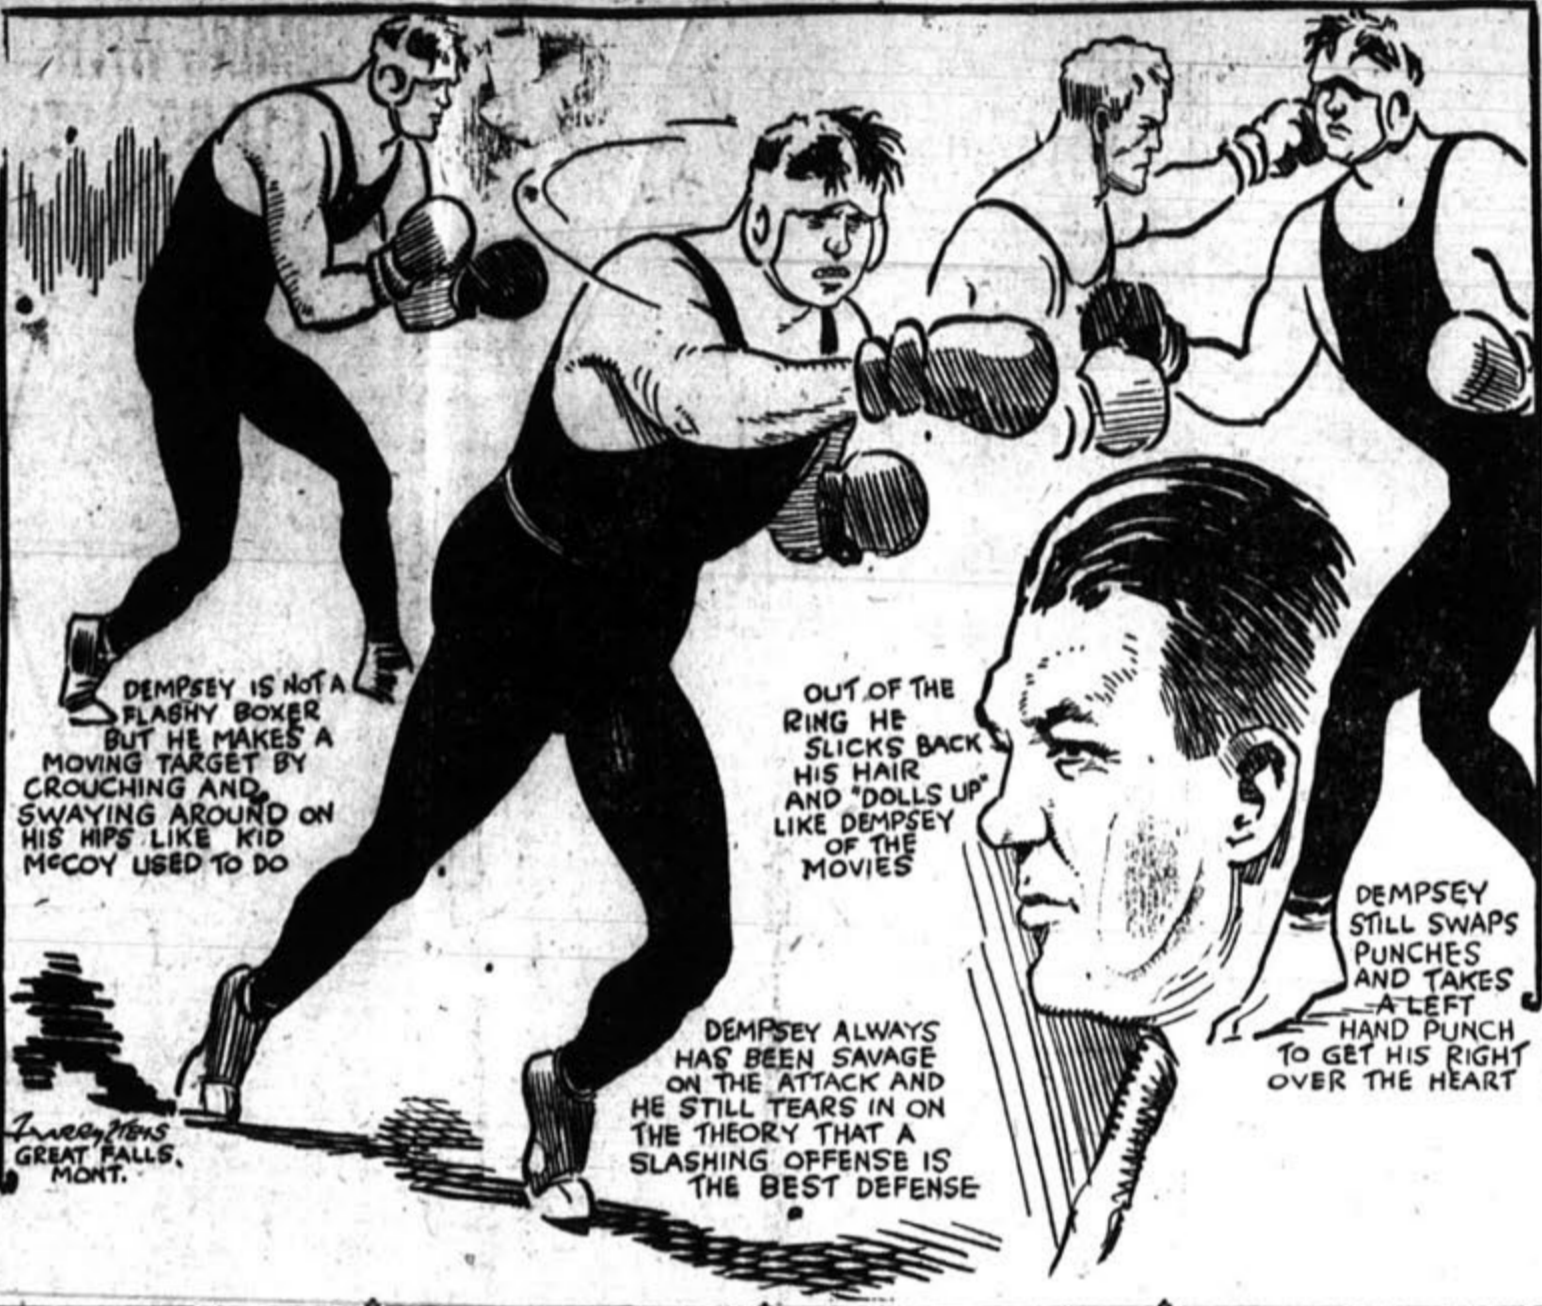

New York, June 27.—Three of the season's leading thoroughbreds, Zev, and Bud Lerher of the Rancocas stable, and Harry Payne Whitney's Chickvale, all candidates for the derby to be run Saturday at Latonia, suffered injuries in training today. All were withdrawn from the event.

Yale Golfer Leads Collegiate Field

Mount Vernon, N. Y., June 27.—Dexter Cummings of Chicago, representing Yale, won the qualifying medal with a card of 148 and Princeton won the team championship of a 72 hole aggregate of 336 at the annual, intercollegiate golf tournament at the St. Wanol club today.

The poor showing of Roger Withered, British amateur champion, also upset the dope. Withered, 344, just annexed the title from Francis Ouimet. He was figured to be a strong contender for the open championship. He played badly and didn't come close to qualifying, taking an 88 for his first 18 holes.

DEMPSEY FIT, SAYS KILBANE

Former Featherweight Champ Gets Closeup View of Utah Tiger

Johnny Kilbane, featherweight champion of the world for 11 years, was the first of the men of ring fame to get inside the Dempsey-Gibbons front line trenches.

He's visiting both training camps for NEA Service and the Press, writing expert opinions on conditions as he observes them. Herewith is presented his first article. It shows that Champion Dempsey still is the same old tiger of the ring that he was when he met Willard at Toledo.

Johnny had the grandest chance imaginable to get the closeup dope on the champion right off the bat, for as soon as he reached Dempsey's camp, Manager Jack Kearns asked him to referee Dempsey's workout battles.

BY JOHNNY KILBANE.
Great Falls, Mont.—That same terrible left hook, the blow that made Jack Dempsey famous and heavyweight champion of the world, is just as terrible as ever. And Jack is the same awful mauler who felled the huge Jess Willard so many times in the first round at Toledo. Even the experts at the ringside can't agree just how many times it was.

I say that left hook break the jaw of a seven-foot giant from Oklahoma, a fellow named Wray, the first day I was here, and I saw it land time and again on Dempsey's other sparring partners here. I felt sorry for them.

Before I came here, I read what a lot of experts on the scene had been writing about Dempsey. I was fully expecting to find the champion had slowed up a bit.

But take it from me, he is the same old Jack Dempsey, greatest of ring-maulers of all times. He can't pull his blows any more now than he used to.

Those reports that he is not the Dempsey of old are all wrong. He is in topnotch fighting trim right now. He's ready to step right in and fight his best fight any time the ring rings.

And he is doing the wise thing by not overdoing his training, taking it easy for a day or two and then salting at high speed for a good stiff day's workout. That's the system that will keep him just on edge up to the day he enters the ring with Gibbons.

It Was Nearly Murder.

Say, that left hook connected with the chin of the giant from Oklahoma so hard that it would have been sure murder to let that practice bout go on. I stopped it, even though the big fellow was in there putting up his fists after Dempsey and I helped him to his feet. But I was afraid he would be killed if Dempsey ever hit him again, so I called a halt.

Jack's on his toes every minute. Out there refereeing I could see every move he made. From the moment he first stepped up and put up his fists to make the first swing, I knew all the famous Dempsey power was there.

He was standing there loose and shifty and ready to shoot from any angle. It's his left that is his great asset. If he could use his right as well as he does his left, it would be sheer murder to let anybody get into the same ring with him.

But no matter what angle he

I don't see how his sparring partners stand the gaff, for he does not know how to hold back his blows. Those little fellows there to help him speed up have to take some terrific wallops.

None More Square.
From the minute he steps into the ring he means business. He never says a word. He just fights.

Outside the ring he smiles and is a great fellow to be with. But he becomes a fighting machine the instant he sets foot in the ring. The smile leaves his face and never returns until he gets out through the ropes after it's all over.

He's one of the fairest, squarest fighters the game ever has known. But he's there to fight. And all he knows, after the gong sounds, is fight.

Of all the major sports, the element of uncertainty seems to play a more prominent part in golf than in any other.

HARD-HITTING HEAVY SIGNED

Badger Will Also Play in Outfield; Workout Pleases.

Lee Smith, a Wisconsin pitcher-outfielder, taking his first workout with the Escanaba ball club yesterday, electrified the club yesterday with his healthy clouting and then brought smiles to the faces of the team's catchers by showing a world of stuff as a slab artist.

Smith, who was signed by the management this week, will make his first appearance with the Escanaba club Sunday against Munising. He may pitch, or it may be decided to use him in center field. At any event, the club will be given the advantage of his hitting ability.

Negotiations with another pitcher were still in progress last night and there is a possibility that the newcomer will be on the job before the Munising game.

The club had a speedy and satisfactory workout yesterday.

Leading fans interviewed by the management during the week have given the management the assurance they want Escanaba to stay firmly and prominently on the baseball map and the financial outlook, rather dubious the first of the week, is much better, it was announced.

In any other sport, the eliminating of a champion is a near tragedy. Champions reign supreme for years in boxing, tennis and other sports, but the word champion carries no such weight in the golfing world. In golf they jump into the spotlight over night and often pass out just as quickly.

TOM'S STYLE OLD TO JACK

Kilbane Says Dempsey Has Advantage in Method of Attack.

BY JOHNNY KILBANE
Shelby, Mont.—One fact concerning the Dempsey-Gibbons battle here July 4 that most of the sporting-writers on the ground seem to have overlooked is that Gibbons will be handicapped in going up against a brand of fighter absolutely new to him.

On the other hand, Tommy's brand of fighting is old stuff to the champion.

Dempsey is given little credit for ability as a boxer, but in boxing, as in fighting, he has developed his own peculiar style, and he can make it count surprisingly well. Unlike Gibbons and other fighters who are known for their boxing ability, Dempsey does not maintain a boxing posture. But he can hit from all angles with blows that have the wallops.

Jack Tears In.
This ability is very likely to confuse Gibbons, just as Georges Carpentier was confused at Jersey City, when he tried to box the champion and found facefuls of gloves shooting at him from all sorts of unexpected places.

Dempsey always is tearing in. If Gibbons tries to box him he will have to do more than step back before Jack's onslaught because the champion always will be on top of him with a savage attack.

Gibbons' strategy will have to consist of side-stepping the champion's rushes and tiring him thus in the early rounds. Straight retreat before the champion will only mean that Dempsey will get greater leverage on his punches.

Dempsey on Guard.
In Carpentier, Dempsey met a man who, like Gibbons, was depending only on his superior speed and boxing ability to win.

Dempsey knows from experience the sort of attack he may expect from Gibbons. Tommy, on the other hand, never has fought a mauler of Dempsey's type—a man of Dempsey's unstopable aggressiveness. But he has one advantage—he has met men who have handed him punishment in large doses and he has come up smiling. Dempsey, to date, never has fought a man who really hurt him.

Gibbons' chances will depend almost entirely on his ability to tap his left jabbing to his opponent's face to stop Dempsey as much as possible from getting set for one of his rushes, and to block the champion's wicked left hook.

That was the blow which started Carpentier on the way to defeat. And that is the blow Dempsey depends upon most to win his battles.

Many other great players like Jim Barnes, Harry Vardon and others of equal caliber were unable to make the grade. When one considers the mastery of these experts, it is a very easy matter to figure the uncertainty that is always prevalent in a golf match. The breaks and the state of mind play a leading role in golfdom.

POPULAR PLAY ON SCREEN TO VISIT DELFT

"Little Church Around the Corner" Opens Today; Soprano Also.

"The Little Church Around the Corner," coming to the Delft Theatre today is a screen adaptation from the well-known stage play of Charles Blaney. Claire Windsor has the feature role and heads an all-star cast. An added attraction will be the opening of the engagement of Jesse Anderson, famous colorado soprano, who will remain at the theatre for three days. "The Little Church Around the Corner" is the story of David Graham, who ministers to the poor, and the girl he loves, Lella Morton. Lella is the daughter of a millionaire mine owner who refuses to improve the conditions of the workers. David is thrown into a quandary, being tempted by his rich associations to renounce the poor, to whom his heart is bound. A great strike, and an mob in an ugly mood, bring on a dramatic climax; so does an odd coincidence, by which David is arrested for the murder of a man who was Lella's suitor. It is a picture in which "the course of true love never runs smooth." Claire Windsor's supporting cast includes Keith Harlan, Hobart Bosworth, Walter Long, Alec Francis, Pauline Stark, George Cooper, Margaret Seddon, Winter Hall, and Cyril Chadwick. William Seiter directed.

CREW OF MEN PREPARE CAMP AT GARTH

A crew of men under the leadership of County Camp Chairman J. P. Bushong are busily engaged in putting Garth in shape for the Girl Scout Camp which opens next week.

The large white house which up to two years ago was the summer home of the Green family of Chicago will be used for kitchen and dining room activities and the upper floors will be used for sleeping quarters for part of the campers. The tents will be pitched in the spacious yard so that a combination of town comforts and the romance of out door life will be effected. The camp committee feels that the house in connection with the camp is a splendid substitute for shelter until such a time as a permanent camp can be realized for Delta county.

Each town has practically completed arrangements to send their girls to camp and all that remains is to wait. In Escanaba all girls going to camp will report at the public library at 3:30 on the Friday preceding their encampment. The physical examination will be conducted at that time, the remainder of the camp fee collected and car-teen cards sold. Girls going the first week July 9- July 16 will go to the Library, Friday, July 6, at 3:30.

All girls expecting to camp the first week must have their one dollar application fee in their captain's hands so that she may give it in to the office not later than Saturday, June 30.

Girls camping the second and third weeks must give their application fee to their captain as she may send it to the office not later than Saturday, July 7th. This applies to girls out in the county as well as to Escanaba.

Girls from Escanaba will go by boat which will leave the pier at the end of Ludington street at 2 p. m., on the Monday of each encampment begins. There is no objection to parents driving their girls over if they wish to.

If you press forward you will get pushes to keep you going. Those at the back never get a helping hand.

BOY OR GIRL?

The body of A. T. Garland, who died at Minneapolis Sunday lies in state at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Holmes, 205 North Thirteenth street, where many friends have called to view the remains. Many beautiful flowers have been sent to the home, silent testimonials of the esteem in which he was held by his large circle of friends.

To make a mistake and then brood over it is to make two mistakes.

Having what you want is not nearly so interesting as getting what you want.
