GENEVA LEAGUE HEADS FORGET U. S. ISOLATION

WORK OF BODY PROCEEDS WITH 54 MEMBERS.

BY DAVID LAWRENCE.
 (Copyright, 1923, by The Escanaba Press)
 Geneva, July 30.—There has been a distinct change in atmosphere here with respect to the prospect of America's taking her vacant chair in the League of Nations. The time was when the absence of the United States was keenly felt and when few people thought the League could accomplish anything without America. Three years and a half have passed since the league was born and while no doubt the moral influence of the league would have been greater if America had joined there has been built up just the same a greater confidence in the ability of the league organization to achieve results without America. It is much the same as an individual dependent upon a rich or powerful brother or parent being suddenly thrown on his own resources. Qualities of self reliance are developed and talents are brought out which might otherwise have remained dormant.

Turkey Will Come In. Thirteen former allied powers composed the membership of the league when it started, but within a short time all other signatories to the Versailles treaty except the United States had joined. Then came all thirteen countries which had been neutral during the war, including Scandinavia, Holland, Spain and Switzerland. New republics born from the war added and were admitted and finally three former enemy powers, Austria, Bulgaria and Hungary were received into the family. There is a strong undercurrent of opinion in favor of admitting Germany if she applies. Certainly Turkey will come in next autumn as the new Lausanne treaty entrusts to the League important administrative functions of special interest to Turkey.

Fifty-two Members. Today when the rolls are called, fifty two nations have a right to participate in the deliberations of the league. If there was for a time any danger of a rival association of nations being set up that danger is past. Even the Washington conference on armament limitation and far eastern affairs failed to provide any permanent machinery to keep on considering and checking up on many questions and principles raised by that meeting and probably the League itself will some day be found keeping a watchful eye on the problems growing out of the Washington treaties.

With practically every nation in the world in the league and with no danger of a rival institution being created to break down the organization already formed, the league has gained momentum and strength. If America comes in, so much the better, but the nations are finding the league valuable as an international mechanism for the settlement of dozens of intricate questions. The humanitarian and health work of the league is making a deep impression on the whole world and even the United States government sent official representatives to the opium conference recently conducted under the league's auspices. Incidentally, the writer, in examining the minutes of that meeting, came across the following statement made in a speech by the Right Rev. Bishop Brent, who was President Harding's appointee to the opium conference: "Expect America in. The League of Nations, with whom through you we are treating this matter represents the greatest association of nations in all history, solemnly bound by agreement to think and act in terms of mankind."

Although there is an impression in America that the league is dead, it is a fact that the United States government directly and indirectly keeps touch with League work and Americans have sat on some important commissions in conferences conducted by the league. People in the league think that ultimately America will join. They have heard President Harding say "no" but they think his voice is that of one political fact and that even he has turned favorably toward the greatest of the league's achievements, namely, the establishment of a permanent court of international justice. So they feel that in time American sentiment will swing to the league. It may take five or ten years, but what is that in the life of an organization whose members think it will, in time, become the greatest moral influence for the preservation of peace in all history?

CONDITION GRAVE

WARREN G. HARDING

Irene Castle Says She Did Not Get Divorce in Paris

NEW YORK, July 30.—Irene Castle, originator and introducer of many famous fads, today brought another one to America when she arrived here this morning with her pet goat. But she gave the large group of reporters who met her on the dock, little satisfaction. She refused to talk about herself, the goat or her husband. She did flatly contradict, however, the dispatches from Paris quoting court records to show she had obtained a divorce from Robert Treman, Itihca manufacturer. She declared she hadn't been given a decree, didn't want one and didn't ask for one. As to her husband, she insisted he would arrive next Wednesday on the Majestic.

COAL MAGNATES TO SHOW COSTS

Offer Their Accounts to Federal Commission Probing Mining. Washington, July 30.—Bituminous coal operators representing 75 per cent of the country's production, today presented a formal offer to the Federal Coal Commission, to make public complete accounting of costs, prices and wages in the industry, conducted voluntarily under government supervision. The plan was outlined at an executive conference between the commission and an operator's committee, headed by John Brydon, president of the National Coal Association, and including representatives of all the larger coal associations in the mining field. The committee also notified the commission it had completed plans for distributing bituminous coal suitable as an anthracite substitute in the event an anthracite strike eventuated. Mr. Brydon said later that sufficient quantities of low-volatile bituminous could be produced to take the place of anthracite in an emergency and that the operators would agree to control of mines by the government. Should the bituminous miners be called out in sympathy with anthracite workers, he declared non-union anthracite mines together with those in soft coal fields "where miners can be afforded protection existing laws allow," would be able to furnish the country an adequate supply of coal.

Both President Harding and Secretary of State Hughes have wished the league success for the sake of Europe, but have not believed it could benefit America. Time alone can tell whether the United States will benefit from the policy of aloofness. Certainly the league is no longer thinking in terms of America but is proceeding confidently on its way to help make the whole world progressively better in the age-long struggle between greed and higher morality.

Filipino Mission May Delay Sailing

Manilla, July 30.—(By the Associated Press)—The Philippine independence mission will not leave for the United States until after the insular elections, it has been learned. It is regarded here as doubtful if either Manuel Quezon or Sergio Osmena, will head the mission. Both are joint chairmen of the previous mission to Washington.

FARMERS FLEE AS CLOUDBURST HITS MARYLAND

No Loss of Human Life Is Reported; Many Towns Under Water.

Baltimore, July 30.—A flood in Carroll county, believed to have been caused by a cloudburst, has many acres along the north banks of the Patapsco river under water. Hundreds of houses are almost completely covered with water. One entire town, Marriotsville, is reported under water. Property damage is very heavy but no loss of life has been reported. Many towns have been cut off from other parts of the state. No word has been received from them since late this afternoon. Many pieces of furniture are floating down the river. According to word from Sykesville and Pikesville, on the south branch of the river, these towns are also under water. Stock Removed. Seven miles of Baltimore & Ohio railroad tracks are submerged. Half of a stone dam 100 yards wide, was swept away by the torrent, causing the high waters to mount seven inches higher. Barns in Carroll county side were swept away. Farmers, however, since the waters began their rise at 3:30 p. m., had removed cattle, pigs and other live stock to high ground and these did not suffer. Second Burst Occurs. A second cloudburst occurred at Woodbine at 9 o'clock tonight and Ellicott City, some distance away, has been warned that 10 more feet of water soon would reach that place. All light and telephones are out of commission. Hundreds of live stock have perished. Hundreds are floating down the river.

GREAT BRITAIN HANDED FRENCH BELGIAN NOTES

SECRETARY SURROUNDS DETAILS OF ALLIED CONTROVERSY. London, July 30.—(By the Associated Press)—The French and Belgian ambassadors today handed to Lord Curzon, secretary of state for foreign affairs, the replies of their government to the British note proposing negotiations with Germany to solve the Ruhr and reparations problems. Thus, commonplace enough, ended one chapter in the trying negotiations. Yet it is a question in the mind of the British public, whether these notes do more than open another chapter in the talks. If Premier Baldwin has brought about any note resembling finality in allied agreement he will be acclaimed as a miracle worker. But there are no signs that miracle has been worked.

Atlantic City Coal Front Quiet; Lewis Awaits "Foe" Move

Atlantic City, July 30.—All was quiet here tonight in the Atlantic City front of the United Mine Workers of America, as the union chief, John L. Lewis, waited in his camp for operators or the government to point the way out of the maze of controversies in anthracite negotiations. As far as the miners are aware, the operators have given no signs they are weakening with their opposition to the checkoff union dues paying system. Nor has the United States coal commission communicated with the union leaders, although it was predicted that since the miners were the aggressor in the existing crisis, they would be the first party approached if the government took steps to avert a strike promised on Sept. 1, unless the miners' demands were incorporated in a wage contract before that date.

Turco-American Pact Endangered

Lausanne, July 30.—The Turco-American negotiations are in an unfavorable position; it depends upon a decision of Washington whether a convention will be signed at Lausanne. Ismet Pasha took Rizza Sur Bey with him today to give him added strength in his talk with American negotiators. The first indication was left hopeful came when it was announced that Turkey will do nothing for the United States with respect to the protection of Christian populations in Turkey who were Ottoman subjects. Gas attacks as a means of overcoming an enemy are recorded as far back as 189 B. C.

Labor Men on Board Attack Public Group

WHARTON ANGRY STATEMENT. Chicago, July 30.—(By the Associated Press)—A. O. Wharton, and E. S. Brable, labor members of the United States railroad labor board, in a dissenting opinion to a decision made public today, declared that the Federated Shop Craft strike of 1922 was due probably to "the incapability of Chairman Ben W. Hooper and R. M. Barton, to understand the value placed upon trade union ethics by bona fide trade unions." Chairman Hooper and Judge Barton are members of the public group of the board. The statement was made in a dissenting opinion to a decision rendered by the board, ordering the wages of the Kansas City, Mexico and Orient railroad, and the Kansas City and Orient Railroad company of Texas, reduced to the wage scale that prevailed at the end of the federal control of the carriers. "The chairman and Judge Barton, in referring to the attitude of the employees in this case in said 'that the employees had admitted that the employees had admitted that the reduction should be made,' and the dissenting opinion. The members of the board, in placing such an interpretation on the statement of the employees, in the opinion of the undersigned, indicates incapability of understanding of the value placed upon trade union ethics by a bona fide trade union, and probably due to the same disability may be found the answer to the suspension of work July 1, 1923, by the shop men and others, which resulted in a loss of hundreds of millions of dollars to the carriers, employees and the public." Hooper's Reply. "The virulent nature of the dissenting opinion would seem to indicate that its writers have momentarily lost sight that he is no longer head of the striking shopmen but is now a sworn member of a public tribunal, designed to protect the people from the slightest effects of railway strikes," declared Chairman Hooper in his supporting opinion of the decision.

President's Condition "Grave" Says Bulletin Issued Early this Morning

Presidential Headquarters, Palace Hotel, July 31.—(12:30 a. m.)—(By the Associated Press)—President Harding's condition became grave tonight and an announcement was made to that effect after a consultation by physicians in attendance upon the chief executive.

The physicians declared in a statement that "definite central patches of broncho-pneumonia had developed in the right lung as indicated by the x-ray. The bulletins, issued at 9:10 p. m., read as follows:

"Definite central patches of broncho-pneumonia in the right lung as indicated clinically and by the x-ray.
 "Nourishment is being taken regularly and the abdominal symptoms are less noticeable.
 "While his condition is grave he is temperamentally well adapted to make a strong fight.
 "Pulse, temperature and respiration are about the same as made known in an earlier statement."

Henry Ford Spends Birthday Quietly

Detroit, July 30.—Henry Ford celebrated his sixtieth birthday today by remaining away from his private workshop. It was understood that his plans called for a dinner with members of his family tonight. Mr. Ford successfully dodged interviewers who desired to question him concerning the business outlook, the international situation and a variety of other subjects.

FITCH TO ASK FOR WARRANTS

Prosecutor's Son Will Be Made Defendant in One Case. Ludington, Mich., July 30.—(By the Associated Press)—Dalked in his effort to test Michigan's obsolete Sunday laws, Virgil A. Fitch, prosecuting attorney of Mason county announced tonight that he would continue his efforts to bring to trial his own son, Roscoe C. Fitch, H. M. Hallett, mayor of Ludington, and Palmer Hutchinson, a Detroit newspaper man, whom he charges with violating the laws by attending a dance in this vicinity Sunday night. Armed with formal complaints against Mayor Hallett and Hutchinson, Prosecutor Fitch went to Scottville, a village near here, and asked Justice of the Peace Carl Mead to issue warrants. This the Justice refused to do on the ground that such action was unwarranted.

Brotherhoods Link with Farm-Laborites

Albany, N. Y., July 30.—The Railroad Brotherhoods and the Farmer-Labor party today organized a New York conference for progressive political action, adopted planks for state and federal platforms, virtually agreed to sever all relations with the Socialist party and proposed several appeals to President Harding and Gov. Smith. Thomas G. Ryan of Albany is permanent chairman of the organization. In Hull, Eng. 60,000 people are dependent upon the fishing industry. More than 250 people over 75 years of age are still at work in Hertfordshire.

The development of pneumonia was the one thing which Brig. Gen. Sawyer, the president's personal physician had said less than two hours earlier that he feared almost above all else as a complication. Secretary Work, one of the consulting physicians, left the president's room plainly disturbed by the change in the president's condition. He was joined by Secretary Hoover and with one of the physicians, Dr. Ray Lyman Wilbur, went to another floor of the hotel to talk over the situation. Dr. Wilbur's countenance was grave. Soon after the issuance of the bulletin, Lieut. Commander Boone went out for a walk which he said might well be interpreted that no crisis was immediately expected. Announcement was made that there would be no further consultations or bulletins issued during the night unless there was a decided change in the condition of the chief executive. Members of the president's party, as they scanned the last bulletin issued were prompt to note the measured words of the physicians when they read the president was "temperamentally" as contrasted with "physically adapted to make a strong fight against the broncho pneumonia infection." As a measure of precaution, oxygen tanks were brought into the hotel late tonight but physicians said the need for that administration had not appeared at that time. The oxygen would be administered, it was explained, only in case the patient showed difficulty in breathing because of congestion in his lungs.

Modern Woman more Comely Then Helen

Chicago, July 30.—Modern woman has surpassed the Greek ideal and the flapper of today outshines Helen of Troy, and Cleopatra, according to beauty specialists who today opened the annual meeting of the American Cosmeticians Society. Any modern chorus beauty could outshine the beauties of ancient days. Dr. Nellie Cooper of Baton Rouge, La., president of the society declared. "In fact," she said, "any modern social gathering would do so. The American woman has learned to take more care of herself, internally and externally. In grooming the natural beauties and giving her surpasses the woman of any other day."

Hotel Well Equipped

"We are as well equipped to take care of him here, right in this hotel and in this city as we would be anywhere in the world," he asserted.

Will Not Be Moved

Asked about the possibility of pneumonia resulting from the oedematous condition of the lung, the physician said that was not a liability in the case, explaining that pneumonia is a result of the activity within the body of a pneumonia germ. There might arise an inflammation which would be just as serious as pneumonia, he added.

Resistive Powers Weak

The president's physician showed no hesitancy in declaring that the most threatening complication was the oedematous condition of the lung, which made its appearance during the afternoon. He announced that x-ray photographs had been taken with the aid of which he hoped to be able to ascertain by morning or sometime tomorrow whether there might be an inflation of a grave nature.

Gen. Sawyer said that the situation might be summarized by

"The liability is the condition with which we now have to contend and the possible implication of other organs none of which is safe from attack under the circumstances."

Expanding the increased pulse noted in the bulletin tonight

Gen. Sawyer asserted that all the complications at present discovered, united in increasing the drain upon the president's heart. "When his heart is beating above normal," he said, "it can readily be seen that the situation is serious." Dr. Sawyer declared there was no consideration of attention being given to the removal of the president to any hospital here or to any other city.

OFFICIAL BULLETIN.

The bulletin, issued after an hour's consultation, was as follows:
 "An official bulletin issued by the five medical officers at 5:25 p. m. today said President Harding 'except for weakness and restlessness' had been fairly comfortable during the day."
 "Pulse 125."
 "Respiration 44 and somewhat irregular."
 "There is some cough and evidence of congestion in one lung. He has taken some nourishment. Except for weakness and restlessness he has been fairly comfortable during the day though his condition is a serious one."
 (Signed) "C. E. SAWYER, M. D.
 "RAY LYMAN WILBUR, M. D.
 "C. M. COOPER, M. D.
 "J. T. BOONE, M. D.
 "HUBERT WORK, M. D."

Brig. Gen. Sawyer supplemented the night statement in a frank talk with newspaper men in which he said the word "serious" as used in the bulletin, meant not that the president's condition was "grave" but as "threatening to become dangerous."
 "The storm warnings are up," said Gen. Sawyer. "That is what I mean by serious."

Saying that the president had the predisposition to succumb to the attacking forces.

Due to the existing cause (ptomaine poisoning) he now is handicapped in an effort to throw off complications which have arisen and may continue to arise.
 The problem at this time, said Gen. Sawyer, is to get the machine strengthened so that it will have power to resist the attack being made upon it. He added it was impossible to state when that stage would be reached.

Explaining the increased pulse noted in the bulletin tonight

Gen. Sawyer asserted that all the complications at present discovered, united in increasing the drain upon the president's heart. "When his heart is beating above normal," he said, "it can readily be seen that the situation is serious." Dr. Sawyer declared there was no consideration of attention being given to the removal of the president to any hospital here or to any other city.

"We are as well equipped to take care of him here, right in this hotel and in this city as we would be anywhere in the world," he asserted.

CARE OF FLOCK AND CULLING TO BE SHOWN HERE

M. A. C. Poultry Expert to Conduct Four Schools

Arrangements have been completed through the efforts of Joseph Turner, county agricultural agent, for a series of four poultry schools in different parts of the county, at which experts from the Michigan Agricultural College will give lectures and demonstrations in culling and care of the flocks.

Farmers and their wives have been urged to make a special effort to attend these meetings, inasmuch as poultry raising is usually carried on as a "sideline" and in nearly every instance under the supervision of the housewife.

The schedule of meetings is: Thursday, July 31, 9 a. m., Bergman farm, Bark River; 2 p. m., Henry Kasten farm, Ford River; Friday, Aug. 3, 9 a. m., Emil Moser farm, Danforth; 2 p. m., John Grandcamp farm, Rapid River.

The success of these meetings will probably have a considerable effect in deciding whether or not future meetings will be held in this county and for this reason the residents of the districts in which the meetings are to be held are asked to make a special effort to attend.

Car Blows Tire, Runs "Hog Wild" On "Main Stem"

Just because one front tire on a Ford sedan went "bloody" on Ludington street late yesterday afternoon, three cars are in "drydock" and the large plate glass window in the Stack Lumber company office at 616 Ludington street is "bad order", smashed in several dozen assorted pieces.

The Ford sedan, driven by John Kallin, was proceeding contentedly along Ludington street behind a Studebaker in which two Nahma women, Miss Cath Remington and Mrs. Schwartz were riding. Just as the Ford driver was considering turning out to pass the other car, the front tire blew out, causing the car to lurch toward the curb.

Before he could straighten the car in its course, the radiator slammed up against the rear of the Studebaker, this in turn poking into the stern portion of a Star sedan owned by Oscar Kraus, and which was parked at the curb. The Star shot across the walk and pushed through the front window of the Stack office. The Studebaker came to a rest at the curb and the Ford came off and slid to a stop alongside.

The driver of the Ford, Mr. Kallin, poked his head and shoulders through the windshield and was uninjured. All three cars were damaged by the unexpected "triple play." The women were badly shaken and scared but suffered no other damage.

COMING AND GOING.

Arrived: Grammer, W. A. Wickwire, R. R. Richardson, H. B. Noyes, A. F. Dunham, Griffin, Lagonda and Corneliuss. Cleared: (All).

Cornell Resident Is Fined As Disorderly

Charges of carrying concealed weapons, made by Jule Charles Cornell township against Eugene Le Duc of the same place, were dismissed when the case came up for action in Judge C. D. Ewen's court Monday morning. Le Duc paid a fine of $10 and costs on the charge of disorderly conduct.

Canals to irrigate the Plain of Mesopotamia, round the Dead Sea, are proposed.

Mrs. Mary Servatious and son, of Chicago are visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ewen in this city.

Mr. and Mrs. John Falk and son of Manistique motored over Saturday night to visit with Mr. Mrs. O. E. Anderson and family.

WORM TURNS! Butcher Dictates To Society Now

Worcester, Mass.—Two wealthy society girls here are being ordered about daily by their butcher, dictated by their servants and scolded by their friends.

Yet they take it all smiling, for it's part of their job. For Miss Madeline Keyes and Miss Ruth Harrington, leaders of the younger set, became "hello girls" helping out the telephone company in a time of emergency.

After several weeks at the other end of the telephone wire, they chorus:

"It's mighty hard to keep a smile in the voice all the time, but we're going to stick it through."

Then between calls, Miss Keyes told her experiences:

"I'm afraid I expected everyone to be as courteous and considerate to me as though I were in a ballroom or in my own home," she said. "But I soon learned differently. One man, a butcher became awfully irritated. I gave him the wrong number and was an unconscious time finding it. After ten minutes of fruitless jiggling and swearing he yelled into the phone: 'Say! Are you deaf? Go on back to mother and gimme somebody who can get a number.'"

Miss Harrington doesn't like her job much, either.

"Life wouldn't be so sweet," she says. "If I had to be a telephone operator all the time."

"The business men alone are admirable in the way they treat us. But even they are wearing on the nerves."

HEAVY STORMS DO DAMAGE IN U. P. ON SUNDAY

Heavy wind and rainstorms throughout the entire upper peninsula, centering their greatest force on Delta and adjacent counties, caused considerable damage to farm crops, roads and telephone lines on Sunday. Hail accompanied the storm in many places, and in Escanaba and other towns nearby, lightning added its fury to the festivities of the Sabbath.

In Escanaba, a rainfall of nine-tenths of an inch fell within a very short time, turning the streets into miniature lakes and revealing finally to leave a caution, slippery coating of mud on walks and pavements. Dirt roads throughout the peninsula were turned to mud and paved highways were rendered exceedingly dangerous for motor travel during the period of storm.

Along the Tremont road to Marquette and at points west of Iron River trees were blown down across the road at a number of points, tearing down telephone and telegraph wires and forcing motorists in many cases to chop their trail clear through barriers of fallen timber.

OBITUARY

ROBERT RAYMOND.

The funeral of Robert Raymond, 79, of Wilson, who died in Wilson Saturday night after a lingering illness, will be held in that village at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon in charge of Delta Lodge, No. 195, F. & A. M. The Rev. E. A. I. Ernest Boss will officiate and burial will take place in the Wilson cemetery.

OFF FOR AFRICA.

Detroit.—Three months ago four wealthy Michigan men planned to explore the jungles of Africa in search of big game and adventure. Saturday, three of the four will sail on the Leviathan for England. From there they will sail a week later on the steamer Norman for Africa.

Those leaving Saturday are Gustave D. Pope and Dr. H. N. Torrey of Detroit, and William B. Merahon, Jr., of Saginaw. The fourth member of the party, P. W. A. Fitzsimmons, will not leave with the others he said today but plans to join the expedition a month later.

Mr. Pope left Detroit for New York Wednesday. He was joined by Mr. Merahon who took the same train from Saginaw. Dr. Torrey left Detroit July 14 for New York by way of Montreal.

Before sailing for Africa, Dr. Torrey will cross the English channel by airplane to visit the battlefields around Dijon where he was stationed during the World War. Mr. Fitzsimmons said today: "The party will leave England August 9 on the steamer Norman, arriving in Bombassa the first week in September. From there they will go by train to Nairobi, the capital of Kenya Colony, a city 320 miles from the coast. In the jungles of this vicinity and around the Uganda protectorate, most of the big game hunting will be done."

"Although I do not think it has been arranged officially, we are planning to give whatever specimens we are able to obtain to the museum at the University of Michigan," said Mr. Fitzsimmons. "This is the only museum we have considered. We will of course bring back trophies of the chase for our own homes in addition to what we will send to Annapolis."

Mr. Pope will be the first member of the party to return if present plans are carried out. He is to return to Detroit in December. Dr. Torrey and Mr. Merahon may continue their tour around the world going to Hindustan, India and Siam.

TIES OF MACARONI.

Detroit.—Eating macaroni is one thing—but becoming a cog in the intricate mechanism of its manufacture is quite another. In the opinion of 16-year-old Louis After, 1558 Catherine street, Louis vowed today that anything was preferable.

"I will work for a grocer, run errands for ad ruggist, sell fish, ice or anything else—even bananas—but I won't take macaroni."

This was the ultimatum he gave his mother Thursday night when she insisted he return to his job in a macaroni factory.

"No money, no macaroni to eat," Mrs. After warned him.

Then Louis' six-year-old sister Jennie sided with her mother.

"Go back to work," she told Louis.

A Man of the World.

In some of the schools there are penny savings banks for the children. One Friday afternoon, a little depositor asked if he might draw out three cents. He was permitted to do so and went off. On Monday morning, seeing him return the money, the teacher remarked: "Why, Robert, you didn't spend your three cents after all."

"Oh, no," he replied airily, "but a fellow just likes to have a little money on hand over Saturday and Sunday."

Police Take Hand.

Louis was taken to the Juvenile Detention Home, while a patrolman was sent to his home to investigate. Early today Louis' mother visited the Detention Home and Louis went with his mother. On entering the house he sniffed and smiled. Instinctively he made his way to the kitchen. On the table was a great steaming pot. Mother and son exchanged an understanding glance, and in a trice Louis was poisoning over his upturned mouth a fork, from which hung a dozen strands of savory macaroni.

"Look at him," said Mrs. After resignedly, "he'll eat it all day long—but he won't make it. Anyhow, I'm glad to have him back. I told him to leave home only to frighten him."

Louis got up from the table long enough to kiss his mother.

"He's a pretty good boy after all," she said.

Burke's Firm Named in Five Indictments

New York, July 30.—The grand jury which has been investigating the affairs of Kardos & Burke, bankrupt stock brokers, tonight was reported to have voted four indictments charging trading against customers' accounts and one indictment charging lashing of orders. The indictments, which it was said, involved only one person, will be returned tomorrow.

Members of the firm are Louis M. Kardos, Jr., and John Burke, formerly treasurer of the United States and three times governor of North Dakota.

Hiram's Friends Urge Candidacy

Chicago, July 30.—Letters urging Senator Hiram Johnson of California to announce his candidacy for president have been forwarded to him, it was announced tonight, by the committee of the Progressive Alliance of America. The organization is opening headquarters here and has announced that plans are being made to organize the entire United States. Steps already have been taken to perfect an organization in Indiana and Michigan.

James C. Tucker, Circuit Judge, Dies

MI. Clemens, Mich., July 30.—James C. Tucker, for many years circuit judge of McComb county and before whom Henry Ford's $1,000,000 libel suit against the Chicago Tribune was heard in 1919 died at his home here today. He was 68 years old. According to his friends, Judge Tucker was a casualty of the Ford-Tribune suit, the trial lasting three months, taxing his strength to such an extent that soon after it closed he was obliged to retire from the bench. His health has been poor since then.

Chicagoans Held in Drowning Case at Michigan Lake

Saugatuck, Mich., July 30.—Frank Scheschel and Fred Rill, both of Chicago, are held at the county jail at Allegan, pending investigation of the drowning in Kalamazoo river here last night of Miss Emma Orta, also of Chicago, who is said to have leaped into the river from a canoe she occupied with the two men, and Miss Tessie Croksa, another Chicago girl.

According to reporters who were nearby, they heard one of the women exclaim, "Stop or I'll jump in."

This was followed by a splash as both girls leaped into the water. The two men are alleged to have paddled to shore without stopping to aid the young women and are said to have been preparing to leave when arrested.

Miss Croksa was rescued. The two men are to appear before a coroner's jury today.

Detroit Municipal Street Car System Faces Strike Vote

Detroit, July 30.—Whether the Detroit municipal railway, the largest city owned transportation in the world, is to be tied up by a strike, may be decided today. The taking of a strike vote on the part of the system's platform men is believed to rest upon the answer given city officials today by Judge Edward Jeffries, judge of recorder's court and representing the employees. The judge has been asked to explain why the question of union representative has cropped out in the sessions between the city and the car men over the subject of hours of work and remuneration.

Conference between the city and men over the wage and hour questions were ended abruptly Saturday when the city refused to go on because the question of union recognition had been injected into the subject.

The men decided that a strike vote would be taken unless the conferences were resumed within a week.

RETAIL EXPERT SPEAKS TODAY AT DELTA HOTEL

G. W. Sulley, Business Expert, Speaks Under Auspices of "C.C."

Through arrangements perfected last week by the Retailers Committee of the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce, retail store employees, department heads and store managers and owners will have an opportunity to hear G. W. Sulley, widely known speaker on business topics. In a series of two "Better Business" addresses to be given at the Delta Hotel, the first at a 12:15 luncheon today for department heads, managers and owners, and the second at a 7:30 dinner for salespeople and other employees.

Mr. Sulley hails from Dayton, Ohio. He is one of the most forceful speakers on business topics in the country. He has addressed hundreds of Retailers' Conventions, Chambers of Commerce, Retail Merchants' Associations, and smaller groups of merchants in all parts of the United States and Canada.

Wherever he has spoken, merchants have been enthusiastic, and the local press has been loud in its praise of the way he has treated his subjects.

Mr. Sulley grew up on a farm in Ohio. After finishing college, he went into business for himself. For fifteen years he was connected with the educational work of one of the largest firms in the country—a company which is an acknowledged authority on business methods. He has traveled extensively and studied at first hand the causes of success and failure of thousands of merchants and salespeople in their language.

His points are illustrated with large charts and diagrams. On large pads of paper, he works out the problems he is discussing, and makes every point clear. His address is no "fairy tale." It is a straight-from-the-shoulder business talk which makes merchants THINK.

This practical "better business" talk is being given under the auspices of the Chamber of Commerce. The object is to afford merchants and business men of Escanaba an opportunity to hear the vital business questions of the day explained by one who knows. After the address, Mr. Sulley will answer questions.

Every one interested in improving his business is invited to attend. Tickets can be secured from the Chamber of Commerce or at Delta Hotel.

The Meat of the Wheat

STARCH is the "meat" of the wheat berry. It is the great energy-producing element of the grain.

But, in order to do you any good, it must be thoroughly digested, and it is right here that such a food as Grape-Nuts renders special service.

Grape-Nuts, made from wheat and malted barley, supplies the meat of the wheat in most digestible form.

That is because in the making of Grape-Nuts a large proportion of the starch is converted into dextrins and maltose—forms into which all starch elements must be changed before they can be assimilated by the system.

Grape-Nuts not only digests easily, but also aids in the digestion of other foods.

Crisp, delicious Grape-Nuts with milk or cream is a complete food. It supplies the life-essential vitamin-B; also iron, phosphorus and other important mineral elements for nerve, tooth, bone and other body structure.

The daily use of Grape-Nuts is a form of health insurance which has demonstrated its value for more than 25 years.

One Boy Finds That Honesty Is The Best Policy

Last week during the carnival a small black folder containing a 300 Line railroad pass, some receipts and other articles which were of no use to any one but the owner, were lost while some Gladstone people were attending the carnival. An ad was inserted in the Press next morning.

Monday, the owner of the folder received a letter and the lost articles were enclosed. It happened to be an honest boy who found it and in his letter he stated that his mother had always taught him to return anything which he found and he sent it at once to the man who had lost it, with a request that he let him know if he received it. O. K. The man was more than pleased to recover the folder and the pass and he immediately answered the boy's letter and enclosed a reward.

The honest boy is one of our own Escanaba boys and his name is Lawrence Hokenson, 926 Hartnett Ave.

AMUSEMENTS

AT THE DELFT.

Spellbound is the adjective descriptive of the state of mind of the audience that beheld "Brass" at its opening yesterday at the Delft theatre, where it will be shown throughout the week. The ideal combination of a good corking story and an all-star cast contributes to this especially, the acting of Monte Blue, the leading featured player, a tall strapping youth of boundless personality and superb powers.

Many came expecting an unusual treat, from the fact that "Brass" is a screen adaptation of the best seller of the same name from the pen of Charles G. Norris. Needless to say, they were not disappointed. Warner Brothers, in producing it, have kept its well-knit story, and the characters live on the silver screen with the intensity of real life. With its fascinating theme, the picture is of interest to young and old alike, to those happily married, and those who find marriage unfortunate, to people about to take the plunge as well as those who have taken it already.

"Brass" deals with marriage and divorce; Phillip and Marjorie Baldwin, the principal characters, are married but miserable. A bothersome mother-in-law helps fan the flames of discord, and soon Marjorie tires of hubby, pleases and babe, finding more pleasures in cafe life with fast friends. The climax, plus a fascinating diversity of love episodes, follows this situation.

Monte Blue as Phillip leaves nothing to be desired; the same applies to Marie Prevost as Marjorie. Others in the well-chosen cast include Harry Myers, Vera Lewis, Irene Rich, Frank Keenan, Helen Dupont, Margaret Soddon, Miss Ferguson, Edward Johnson, Harvey Clerk, Cyril Chadwick, Pat O'Malley, Gertrude Bennett and Ethel Grey Terry. The fine direction is by Sidney Franklin.

SMALL TOWN OR CITY MORE MORAL? Man From Original Main Street Picks Village

ASA WALLACE, MAN FROM THE ORIGINAL MAIN STREET

New York.—I've had a talk with the man from the original Main Street. And how he did knock the big cities!

"The small town is nicer—and it's more moral."

"That's what I found out when I talked with Asa Wallace, of Sauk Centre, Minn. Mr. Wallace is a country editor and he knows all about small towns. And Sauk Centre is the town where Sinclair Lewis came from. (Sinclair Lewis, you remember, wrote "Main Street.")

"Sauk Centre is the original Main Street, I guess," said Editor Wallace. "But there are thousands of small towns like it."

You can give Mr. Wallace the small town every time.

"And I want to tell you," he said, "I want to tell you, the people that live in the small towns are the happiest and the cleanest and the healthiest—these are. They've got a lot more morals, too—even if they are up to all the modern ideas."

"Take Sauk Centre, now. It's got 3,000 people. Any of them rich? No, of course not. There isn't a house in town that cost over $20,000. Any of 'em poor? Well, there may be a few families, but you don't see any of this grinding poverty that you see here in New York."

"Take it anyway you want—brains, health, education, pleasure—the city can't offer a man a thing that the small town can't go one better."

"Brains, reiterated Asa Wallace. "Maybe you thing Sinclair Lewis was the only smart fellow that ever came out of Sauk Centre?"

"Who else?" I demanded, reaching for "Who's Who."

"Well," said the man from Main Street, "Fred Carpenter, the first private secretary to President Taft, was a Sauk Centre boy. And there's a fellow by the name of sixteenth annual meeting of the American Home Economics Association, in session in Chicago.

By means of six broadcasting stations, connected by a wire line thirty-four hundred miles long, the words of President Harding, when he speaks this evening in the Civic Auditorium in San Francisco, will be heard throughout the United States within one-fifteenth of a second after they are spoken."

STEALING ONE FROM H. K. R.

Two quart bottles of "Johnny Walker" first quality whiskey, were taken out of St. Mary's River, the famous fishing grounds, by the big scoop of one of the dredges deepening and widening the channel here recently.

As the scoop was lowering its contents of rock and mud to the scow alongside the dredge, one of the workmen noticed two brown bottles.

After the bottles had been taken off the scow, a careful examination was made. The cork and the original seal bore the words "J. L. Walker and Sons, Distillery, Walkerville, Ontario."

To make sure the liquor was the real stuff, an analysis was made by a local chemist, who pronounced the contents of the bottle to be old time whiskey.

It is believed the bottles fell into the river during the "golden days" when liquor flowed freely between the American and Canadian Saults.

The find was not placed on exhibition. Mystery surrounds its whereabouts.—Soo News.

Now Recommends Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Washington, D. C.—"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound saved me from an operation which a physician said I would have to have for a very bad case of female trouble. My system was all run down for two years after my little girl was born. Then I read of your wonderful medicine and decided to try it. I could hardly drag one foot after the other, and after taking six bottles of the Vegetable Compound I felt like a new woman. I now do all my housework, also washing and ironing, and do not know what real trouble is. My health is fine, and I weigh 140 pounds. When I started taking I weighed 97 pounds. I gladly recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to any one who is suffering from female trouble or is run down. You may use this testimonial for I am only too glad to let suffering women know what the Vegetable Compound did for me."—Mrs. Ida Hewitt, 1529 Penna. Ave. S.E., Washington, D.C.

Such letters from women in every section of this country prove beyond question the merit of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Mr. and Mrs. Weber and son Lester of Escanaba were guests at the Foster home on Sunday last.

Albert Beardsley has rented, for a period of five years, eighty acres of cut over land owned by Robert Roberts, and adjoining his own place at Kate's Bay.

Chas. Jacqueline and Mr. Richards, with their wives and families, of Negaunee are visiting at the Jos. Boyer home.

Last week was an unusually busy time at the cancer hospital. In all, about eighty persons visited at this institution.

Magoun and H. L. Brooks of Long Lake, Wis., motored thru to Garden on Friday, arriving here about seven o'clock at night. At Rapid River, they took the wrong road and went for thirty miles toward Marquette before they were aware of their mistake. Mr. Magoun, some time ago, took a course of treatment at the cancer hospital. This trip was made in order to allow him to consult with Dr. La Motte and receive the assurance that everything was alright. He and his companion returned to Long Lake on Saturday. Jos. Bartis has already started to dig his crop of new potatoes. These he is bringing in small quantities to this village and selling at remunerative prices.

Whalebone brushes are now being made for household use.

Standing Back of Your Mousetraps

A shoe manufacturer whose store in New York City is in a rather out-of-the-way locality recently called the attention of the reading public to these familiar lines:

"If a man can write a better book, preach a better sermon, or make a better mousetrap than his neighbor, though he build his house in the woods, the world will make a beaten path to his door."

For many years people have beaten a path to this shoe manufacturer's door. He has proved the truth of this famous aphorism.

And where did he publish this quotation which he applies with such pride to his business?

Why, in an advertisement, to be sure—for this manufacturer is a consistent and regular advertiser, and when he has anything to say, he says it through his advertising. It may fairly be assumed that he would not look for a thriving business in the best of mousetraps, or shoes, if people were not told about them as people expect to be told—through advertising.

Of course, people do find out which are the best mousetraps, the best shoes, the best tires, the best breakfast foods, and buy them in preference to others.

And people today are pretty well aware that when a manufacturer put Advertising back of the thing he makes, he is telling the world that the path to his door is a broad highway.

Manistique Defeats Escanaba Club, 2 to 0

VASSAU HOLDS ESKY IN CHECK

Schoolcrafters Take Pitchers' Battle Sunday.

Manistique, July 30, 1923.—Jupe Pluvius tried to stop another ball game at Manistique on Sunday, but failed, and the Escanaba-Manistique encounter was completed in a drizzling rain, giving Debut's men a 2 to 0 shut-out their third successive win from Escanaba this year.

William "Nig" Vassau pitched a wonderful game for the locals, allowing but two hits and one walk, while he whiffed eight batters. "Wild" Smith was also effective on the slab for Escanaba, and might have held Manistique scoreless had it not been for errors of his infield teammates in the first and fifth stanzas. He allowed seven hits, two of them doubles and one a triple. Two men received passes from him, and he struck out five.

Secured in First. As is his custom, Vassau struck out the first opponent, the next one, Freddie Olmstead, was an easy out for Tebo. To Lantz was awarded the only base on balls of the game, and Nelson was thrown out at first by Welholter, who played a pretty game throughout.

Manistique scored in the first inning. Wilson, first up, was walked, then thrown out at second on a fielder's choice that got Goodwin safe to first. On account of Goodwin's bad knee, Doc Schatzman went in to run, and did a merry romping Marathon around the bases while Escanaba's infield threw wild. Hitting the dirt at each base only to get up and start off again, the lanky slabbard was nearly winded as he hit home, as his duty recently has been confined to coaching. Welholter and Burns were retired, the latter thrown out at first by Nelson.

Lantz Gets First Hits. Following Meyers' nifty single, Tebo knocked out a double to center field in the second inning, but lost a chance to score when Jack Meyers struck out and Harry Potter was robbed of a hit by Lantz. Escanaba's first hit came in the fourth, a single through short by Lantz. To even things up, Vassau struck out the next two men, while Kid Walsch was an easy out to Tebo. Walsch performed well in his "debut," however, and fans see a great future for the general first baseman—ex-empire.

Potter's hit in the fifth was the longest of the day: a triple to deep right field fence; with two men mugged. An error on Olmstead allowed Harry to score Manistique's second and final tally.

Vassau and Chas. Meyers, star slick performers of the day, walked up two more hits in the sixth. Vassau connected again on the eighth for a double, but Meyers was unable to get his

COBB'S TRADE OF EHMKE HIS BIG FLIVVER

Detroit, July 28.—Tray Cobb is unquestionably the greatest ball player the game has ever produced.

Likewise Cobb has been successful as a manager. He probably has done as well with the Tigers as any one could.

But as a trader of baseball material, Cobb is far from the David Harum class. Cobb's big deal, Ehmke and a lot of money for Collins and Pratt, which he figured would make the Tigers a pennant contender, has proved a "flivver."

Pitcher Collins, on whom Cobb banked for 20 ball games, has been a false alarm. With the season more than half over, Collins has won only three games. For nearly a month he has been out with a bad arm.

Last year Ehmke won 17 games for Detroit. This year with the tail-end Boston club he has won 13 of his 21 starts. He has been worth nearly five times as much as Collins.

If Ehmke was placed on the open market he would bring at least $50,000. The New York club probably would be willing to pay twice that sum for him right now, were it not for the fact that such sales are no longer permitted late in the season.

Pratt, figured on to play second for Detroit, has slowed up so badly that instead of being a regular, he merely fills the role of substitute. He is also hitting far below his customary gait.

BULLSEYES of BASEBALL

LONGEST SINGLE I EVER SAW

Keep your head up has long been a pet slogan in baseball. In most cases, it is a mighty fine hunch to play. You seldom go wrong working along that theory.

However, I well recall a game in which keeping the head up proved very costly. In making that statement, I am taking the "heads up" slogan literally.

A great many fast runners, once they get into their stride, run with the head tilted slightly upward. Harry Niles, one of the fastest men I have ever seen in the majors, was that type of runner.

Niles, because of his "heads up" style of running produced one of the most unusual situations I have ever seen on the ball field.

He made a home run that in reality proved to be nothing more than one of the longest singles ever recorded in the history of the game.

Niles was with the Boston club and the game was played in Washington. On the Boston club, at the time, was a recruit first sacker by the name of Danzig, who also played a part in the

BUCKEYES WIN OVER MUNISING

Gervais Allows Only Four Hits, Strikes Out Twelve.

The local Buckeye crew of wrecking artists continued their winning streak on Sunday by polishing another victory at the expense of the Munising Arcades, the score in the form of a favorite verdict for the Gervais clan standing 2 to 0. The game was a pitchers' duel between Gervais and Carrievau, the former getting the edge because of his better hurling in the pinches.

Just twenty-nine men faced the husky southpaw during his labor on the hill; twelve of these being whiffed, and only two reached second during the brawl. In the first four innings, Gervais had the arcades bunched at his mercy, only twenty-four men facing the doughy twirler. He issued no walks during the tilt, and only four bingles were garnered off his deliveries. Carrievau, who at one time was the property of the Chicago White Sox, pitched an excellent brand of ball. He struck out five batters, issued three walks, and in addition to these shared batting honors of the day by slugging a triple.

George Hiron, of Escanaba, the Buckeyes' latest acquisition, performed behind the bat for the locals, and acquitted himself favorably. He also started with the willow, obtaining half of his mate's blows. Gregory was pilfered out of a circuit clout in the contest when his long drive skimmed along the foul line over the left field fence. A beautiful routing of the field featuring the in-felding of the Buckeyes was of a high order, three double plays resulting.

The locals will journey to Hermansville next Sunday to fill an engagement with that clan. The Buckeye crew are confident of annexing another win, and are now working to that end.

If I stood too long, my back became sore and some nights I was so restless I couldn't sleep and as a result I would be tired and weak during the day. My kidneys were weak and I had to get up frequently during the night to pass the secretions which were badly colored and contained sediment. I heard of Doan's Kidney Pills and bought some at the West End Drug Store. It didn't take them long to strengthen me up. I still use Doan's occasionally when I feel in need of a kidney medicine and always get the same good results."

HARDING HAS PNEUMONIA

President's Condition "Grave" Says Bulletin Issued Early this Morning

Presidential Headquarters, Palace Hotel, July 31.—(12:30 a. m.)—(By the Associated Press)—President Harding's condition became grave tonight and an announcement was made to that effect after a consultation by physicians in attendance upon the chief executive.

The physicians declared in a statement that "definite central patches of broncho-pneumonia had developed in the right lung as indicated by the x-ray."

The bulletins, issued at 9:10 p. m., read as follows:

"Definite central patches of broncho-pneumonia in the right lung as indicated clinically and by the x-ray.

"Nourishment is being taken regularly and the abdominal symptoms are less noticeable.

"While his condition is grave he is temperamentally well adapted to make a strong fight.

"Pulse, temperature and respiration are about the same as made known in an earlier statement."

RAY LYMAN WILBUR, M. D. HUBERT WORK, M. D.
C. M. COOPER, M. D.

The development of pneumonia was the one thing which Brig. Gen. Sawyer, the president's personal physician had said less than two hours earlier that he feared almost above all else as a complication.

Secretary Work, one of the consulting physicians, left the president's room plainly disturbed by the change in the president's condition. He was joined by Secretary Hoover and with one of the physicians, Dr. Ray Lyman Wilbur, went to another floor of the hotel to talk over the situation. Dr. Wilbur's countenance was grave.

Soon after the issuance of the bulletin, Lieut. Commander Boone went out for a walk which he said might well be interpreted that no crisis was immediately expected.

Announcement was made that there would be no further consultations or bulletins issued during the night unless there was a decided change in the condition of the chief executive.

Members of the president's party, as they scanned the last bulletin issued were prompt to note the measured words of the physicians when they read the president was "temperamentally" as contrasted with "physically adapted to make a strong fight against the broncho pneumonia infection."

As a measure of precaution, oxygen tanks were brought into the hotel late tonight but physicians said the need for that administration had not appeared at that time. The oxygen would be administered, it was explained, only in case the patient showed difficulty in breathing because of congestion in his lungs.

Presidential Headquarters, Palace Hotel, San Francisco, July 30—(By the Associated Press)—President Harding's illness responded today to careful treatment and complete rest but his physicians in a statement tonight admitted for the first time that his condition was serious.

The bulletin issued tonight failed to bear out the more optimistic reports that had come from his bedside earlier in the day. It noted only a slight decrease in temperature and a rapid rise in pulse and respiration, and moreover, it said there was evidence of congestion in one lung whereas the physician's statement issued before noon had described his lungs clear.

The most encouraging feature of tonight's statement was that the chief executive had taken some nourishment and had been comfortable during the day.

OFFICIAL BULLETIN.

The bulletin, issued after an hour's consultation, was as follows:

"An official bulletin issued by the five medical officers at 3:25 p. m. today said President Harding 'except for weakness and restlessness' had been fairly comfortable during the day. 'Pulse 125.

"Respiration 44 and somewhat irregular.

"There is some cough and evidence of congestion in one lung. He has taken some nourishment. Except for weakness and restlessness he has been fairly comfortable during the day though his condition is a serious one."

(Signed) "C. E. SAWYER, M. D.
"RAY LYMAN WILBUR, M. D.
"C. M. COOPER, M. D.
"J. T. BOONE, M. D.
"HUBERT WORK, M. D."

Brig. Gen. Sawyer supplemented the night statement in a frank talk with newspaper men in which he said the word "serious" as used in the bulletin, meant not that the president's condition was "grave" but as "threatening to become dangerous."

"The storm warnings are up," said Gen. Sawyer. "That is what I mean by serious."

Resistive Powers Weak.

The president's physician showed no hesitancy in declaring "that the most threatening complication was the oedematous condition of the lung," which made its appearance during the afternoon. He announced that x-ray photographs had been taken with the aid of which he hoped to be able to ascertain in the morning or sometime tomorrow whether there might be an infiltration of a grave nature.

At the present time, Gen. Sawyer said, there was in progress a battle between the resistive forces of the patient, which he said, had been weakened as a result of the trying physical exertion which attend his travel and the attacking forces which grow out of the original ptomaine poisoning.

"We are running with a very handicapped machine," he added, meaning the president's physical being.

"The liability is the condition with which we now have to contend and the possible implication of other organs none of which is safe from attack under the circumstances."

Gen. Sawyer said that the situation might be summarized by saying that the president had the predisposition to succumb to the attacking force. Due to the existing cause (ptomaine poisoning) he now is handicapped in an effort to throw off complications which have arisen and may continue to arise.

The problem at this time, said Gen. Sawyer, is to get the machine strengthened so that it will have power to resist the attack being made upon it. He added it was impossible to state when that stage would be reached.

Will Not Be Moved.

Asked about the possibility of pneumonia resulting from the oedematous condition of the lung, the physician said that was not a liability in the case, explaining that pneumonia is a result of the activity within the body of a pneumonia germ. There might arise an inflammation which would be just as serious as pneumonia, he added.

Explaining the increased pulse noted in the bulletin tonight, Gen. Sawyer asserted that all the complications at present discovered, united in increasing the drain upon the president's heart.

"When his heart is beating above normal," he said, "it can readily be seen that the situation is serious."

Dr. Sawyer declared there was no consideration or attention being given to the removal of the president to any other city.

Hotel Well Equipped.

"We are as well equipped to take care of him here, right in this hotel and in this city as we would be anywhere in the world," he asserted.

The American woman has learned to take more care of herself, internally and externally. In grooming the natural beauties and stiffs, she surpasses the woman of every other day."

GENEVA LEAGUE HEADS FORGET U. S. ISOLATION

WORK OF BODY PROCEEDS WITH 54 MEMBERS.

BY DAVID LAWRENCE.
(Copyright, 1923, by The Escanaba Press)
Geneva, July 30.—There has been a distinct change in atmosphere here with respect to the prospect of America's taking her vacant chair in the League of Nations. The time was when the absence of the United States was keenly felt and when few people thought the League could accomplish anything without America.

Three years and a half have passed since the league was born and while no doubt the moral influence of the league would have been greater if America had joined there has been built up just the same a greater confidence in the ability of the league organization to achieve results without America.

It is much the same as an individual dependent upon a rich or powerful brother or parent being suddenly thrown on his own resources. Qualities of self reliance are developed and talents are brought out which might otherwise have remained dormant.

Turkey Will Come In.

Thirteen former allied powers composed the membership of the league when it started, but within a short time a further signature to the Versailles treaty effected the United States had joined. Then came all thirteen countries which had been neutral during the war, including Scandinavia, Holland, Spain and Switzerland. New republics born from the war applied and were admitted and finally these former enemy powers, Austria, Bulgaria and Hungary were received into the family.

There is a strong undercurrent of opinion in favor of admitting Germany if she applies. Certainly Turkey will come in next autumn as the new Lausanne treaty entrusts to the League important administrative functions of special interest to Turkey.

Fifty-two Members.

Today when the rolls are called, fifty two nations have a right to participate in the deliberations of the league. If there was for some time a danger of a rival association of nations being set up, that danger is past. Even the Washington conference on armament limitation and far eastern affairs failed to provide any permanent machinery to keep on considering and checking up on many questions and principles raised by that meeting and probably the League itself will some day be found keeping a watchful eye on the problems growing out of the Washington treaties.

With practically every nation in the world in the league and with no danger of a rival institution being created to break down the organization already formed, the league has gained momentum and strength. If America comes in, so much the better, but the nations are finding the league valuable as an international mechanism for the settlement of dozens of intricate questions. The humanitarian and health work of the league is making a deep impression on the whole world and even the United States government sent official representatives to the opium conference recently conducted under the league's auspices. Incidentally, the writer, in examining the minutes of that meeting, came across the following statement made in a speech by the Right Rev. Bishop Brent, who was President Harding's appointee to the opium conference:

"The League of Nations, with which through you we are treating this matter represents the greatest association of nations in all history, solemnly bound by agreement to think and act in terms of mankind."

Although there is an impression in America that the league is dead, it is a fact that the United States government directly and indirectly keeps touch with League work and Americans have sat on some important commissions in conferences conducted by the league.

People in the league think that ultimately America will join. They have heard President Harding say "no" but they think his voice is that of one political tactician and that that even he has turned favorably toward the greatest of the league's achievements, namely, the establishment of a permanent court of international justice. So they feel that in time American sentiment will swing to the league. It may take five or ten years, but what is that in the life of an organization whose members think it will, in time, become the greatest moral influence for the preservation of peace in all history?

Irene Castle Says She Did Not Get Divorce in Paris

NEW YORK, July 30.—Irene Castle, originator and introducer of many famous fads, today brought another one to America when she arrived here this morning with her pet goat. But she gave the large group of reporters who met her on the dock, little satisfaction. She refused to talk about herself, the goat or her husband. She did flatly contradict, however, the dispatches from Paris quoting court records to show she had obtained a divorce from Robert Treman, lithica manufacturer. She declared she hadn't been given a decree, didn't want one and didn't ask for one. As to her husband, she insisted he would arrive next Wednesday on the Majestic.

COAL MAGNATES TO SHOW COSTS

Offer Their Accounts to Federal Commission Probing Mining.

Washington, July 30.—Bituminous coal operators representing 75 per cent of the country's production, today presented a formal offer to the Federal Coal Commission, to make public complete accounting of costs, prices and wages in the industry, conducted voluntarily under government supervision. The plan was outlined at an executive conference between the commission and an operator's committee, headed by John Brydon, president of the National Coal Association, and including representatives of all the larger coal associations in the mining field.

The committee also notified the commission it had completed plans for distributing bituminous coal suitable as an anthracite substitute in the event an anthracite strike eventuated.

Mr. Brydon said later that sufficient quantities of low-volatile bituminous could be produced to take the place of anthracite in an emergency and that the operators would agree to control of prices by the government. Should the bituminous miners be called out in sympathy with anthracite workers, he declared non-union anthracite mines together with those in soft coal fields "where miners can be afforded protection existing laws allow," would be able to furnish the country an adequate supply of coal.

Both President Harding and Secretary of State Hughes have wished the league success for the sake of Europe, but have not believed it could benefit America. Time alone can tell whether the United States will benefit from the policy of aloofness.

Certainly the league is no longer thinking in terms of America, but is proceeding confidently on its way to help make the whole world progressively better in the age-long struggle between greed and higher morality.

FARMERS FLEE AS CLOUDBURST HITS MARYLAND

No Loss of Human Life Is Reported; Many Towns Under Water.

Baltimore, July 30.—A flood in Carroll county, believed to have been caused by a cloudburst, has many acres along the north banks of the Patapsco river under water. Hundreds of houses are almost completely covered with water.

One entire town, Marriotsville, is reported under water. Property damage is very heavy but no loss of life has been reported. Many towns have been cut off from other parts of the state. No word has been received from them since late this afternoon. Many pieces of furniture are floating down the river.

According to word from Sykesville and Pikesville, on the south branch of the river, these towns are also under water.

Stock Removed.

Seven miles of Baltimore & Ohio railroad tracks are submerged.

Half of a stone dam 100 yards wide, was swept away by the torrent, causing the high waters to mount seven inches higher. Barns in Carroll county side were swept away.

Farmers, however, since the waters began their rise at 3:30 p. m., had removed cattle, pigs and other live stock to high ground and these did not suffer.

Second Burst Occurs.

A second cloudburst occurred at Woodbine at 9 o'clock tonight and Elliott City, some distance away, has been warned that 10 more feet of water soon would reach that place. All light and telephones are out of commission.

Hundreds of live stock have perished. Hundreds are floating down the river.

LABOR MEN ON BOARD ATTACK PUBLIC GROUP

WHARTON ANG GRABLE ISSUE HEATED STATEMENT.

Chicago, July 30.—(By the Associated Press)—A. O. Wharton, and E. S. Brable, labor members of the United States railroad labor board, in a dissenting opinion to a decision made public today, declared that the Federated Shop Craft strike of 1922 was due probably to "the incapability of Chairman Ben W. Hooper and R. M. Barton, to understand the value placed upon trade union ethics by bona fide trade unions."

Chairman Hooper and Judge Barton are members of the public group of the board.

The statement was made in a dissenting opinion to a decision rendered by the board, ordering the wages of the Kansas City, Mexico and Orient railroad, and the Kansas City and Orient Railroad company of Texas, reduced to the wage scale that prevailed at the end of the federal control of the carriers.

"The chairman and Judge Barton, in referring to the attitude of the employees in this case in said 'that the employees had said' that the employees had admitted that the reduction should be made," and the dissenting opinion. The members of the board, in placing such an interpretation on the statement of the employees, in the opinion of the undersigned, indicates incapability of understanding of the value placed upon trade union ethics by a bona fide trade union, and probably due to this same disability may be found the answer to the suspension of work July 1, 1922, by the shop men and others, which resulted in a loss of hundreds of millions of dollars to the carriers, employees and the public."

Hooper's Reply.

"The virulent nature of the dissenting opinion would seem to indicate that its writers have momentarily lost sight that he is no longer head of the striking shopmen but is now a sworn member of a public tribunal, designed to protect the people from the sinister effects of railway strikes," declared Chairman Hooper in his supporting opinion of the decision.

Atlantic City Coal Front Quiet; Lewis Awaits "Foe" Move

Atlantic City, July 30.—All is quiet here tonight in the Atlantic City front of the United Mine Workers of America, as the union official, John L. Lewis, waited in his camp for operators or the government to point the way out of the maze of controversies in anthracite negotiations. As far as the miners are aware, the operators have given no signs they are weakening with their opposition to the checkoff union dues paying system. Nor has the United States coal commission communicated with the union leaders, although it was predicted that since the miners were the aggressor in the existing crisis, they would be the first party to approach if the government took steps to avert a strike pending on Sept. 1, unless the miners' demands were incorporated in a wage contract before that date.

Turco-American Pact Endangered

Lausanne, July 30.—The Turco-American negotiations are in an unfavorable position; it depends upon a decision of Washington whether a convention will be signed at Lausanne. Ismet Pasha took Rizza Sur Bey with him today to give him added strength in his talk with American negotiators. The first indication was left hopeful came when it was announced that Turkey will do nothing for the United States with respect to the protection of Christian populations in Turkey who were Ottoman subjects.

GREAT BRITAIN HANDED FRENCH BELGIAN NOTES

SECURITY SURROUNDS DETAILS OF ALLIED CONTROVERSY.

London, July 30.—(By the Associated Press)—The French and Belgian ambassadors today handed to Lord Curzon secretary of state for foreign affairs, the replies of their government to the British note proposing negotiations with Germany to solve the Ruhr and reparations problems.

Thus, commonplace enough, ended one chapter in the trying negotiations. Yet it is a question in the mind of the British public, whether these notes do more than open another chapter in the talks. If Premier Baldwin has brought about any note resembling finality in allied agreement he will be acclaimed as a miracle worker. But there are no signs that miracle has been worked.

Premier Baldwin and Lord Curzon plainly cherish no such optimism. Both spoke briefly in parliament today on the condition of the negotiations. Both were terse. Neither voiced any hope that Great Britain and France had drawn closer together. There will be an attempt to discuss the matter before parliament adjourns Thursday.

No hint has been received that Premier Poincare has abandoned or even modified the view which his government has held to tenaciously and at every opportunity he has reiterated the plank in his platform, that there will be no beginning of conversations with Germany until and unless Germany renounces passive resistance in the Ruhr and that there will be no withdrawal until Germany has paid all France demands.

That seems to be the deep gulf with no minor concessions that France nor Great Britain can bridge.

One outstanding feature of this latest chapter in allied dealings has been the deep secrecy that has enshrouded it. There has been no attempted revelation of details of the British note or the French and Belgian reply, except such as intelligent guesswork based on the policy of the two governments could offer.

Filipino Mission May Delay Sailing

Manila, July 30.—(By the Associated Press)—The Philippine independence mission will not leave for the United States until after the insular elections, it has been learned. It is regarded here as doubtful if either Manuel Quezon or Sergio Osmeña, will head the mission. Both are joint chairmen of the previous mission to Washington.

FITCH TO ASK FOR WARRANTS

Prosecutor's Son Will Be Made Defendant in One Case.

Ludington, Mich., July 30.—(By the Associated Press)—Balked in his effort to test Michigan's obsolete Sunday laws, Virgil A. Fitch, prosecuting attorney of Mason county announced tonight that he would continue his efforts to bring to trial his own son, Roscoe C. Fitch, H. M. Hallett, mayor of Ludington, and Palmer Hutchinson, a Detroit newspaper man, whom he charges with violating the laws by attending a dance in this vicinity Sunday night.

Armed with formal complaints against Mayor Hallett and Hutchinson, Prosecutor Fitch went to Scottville, a village near here, and asked Justice of the Peace Carl Mead to issue warrants. This the judge refused to do on the ground that such action was unwarranted.

Henry Ford Spends Birthday Quietly

Detroit, July 30.—Henry Ford celebrated his sixtieth birthday today by remaining away from his private workshop. It was understood that his plans called for a dinner with members of his family tonight. Mr. Ford successfully dodged interviewers who desired to question him concerning the business outlook, the international situation and a variety of other subjects.

Today's action follows what is described as a break between the prosecutor and Ludington city officials. The latter describes as "too severe" the former's action in invoking the Blue Laws, following the demand of club women here that Sunday dancing be prohibited. Mr. Fitch banned not only dancing but all other amusement and the conduct of any business whatsoever.

The son said he attended the dance at the mayor's request and danced with Mrs. C. K. Pratt, wife of a Chicago newspaper man.

Car Blows Tire, Runs 'Hog Wild' On 'Main Stem'

Just because one front tire on a Ford sedan went "blow" on Ludington street late yesterday afternoon, three cars are in "dry-dock" and the large plate glass window in the Stack Lumber company office at 616 Ludington street is "bad order", smashed in several dozen assorted pieces.

The Ford sedan, driven by John Kallin, was proceeding contentedly along Ludington street behind a Studebaker in which two Nahma women, Miss Calla Romington and Mrs. Schwartz were riding. Just as the Ford driver was considering turning out to pass the other car, the front tire blew out, causing the car to lurch toward the curb.

TIES OF MACARONI

Detroit.—Eating macaroni is one thing—but becoming a cog in the intricate mechanism of its manufacture is quite another.

"I will work for a grocer, run errands for a ruggist, sell fish, ice or anything else—even bananas—but I won't take macaroni."

This was the ultimatum he gave his mother Thursday night when she insisted he return to his job in a macaroni factory.

"No money, no macaroni to eat," Mrs. After warned him.

Then Louis' six-year-old sister, Jenale sided with her mother.

"Go back to work," she told Louis.

RETAIL EXPERT SPEAKS TODAY AT DELTA HOTEL

G. W. Sulley, Business Expert, Speaks Under Auspices of "C-C".

Through arrangements perfected last week by the Retailers Committee of the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce, retail store employees, department heads and store managers and owners will have an opportunity to hear G. W. Sulley, widely known speaker on business topics, in a series of two "Better Business" addresses to be given at the Delta Hotel, the first at a 12:15 luncheon today for department heads, managers and owners, and the second at a 7:30 dinner for salespeople and other employees.

Mr. Sulley hails from Dayton, Ohio. He is one of the most forceful speakers on business topics in the country.

He has addressed hundreds of Retailers' Conventions, Chambers of Commerce, Retail Merchants' Associations, and smaller groups of merchants in all parts of the United States and Canada.

Wherever he has spoken, merchants have been enthusiastic, and the local press has been loud in its praise of the way he has treated his subjects.

Mr. Sulley grew up on a farm in Ohio. After finishing college, he went into business for himself. For fifteen years he was connected with the educational work of one of the largest firms in the country—a company which is an acknowledged authority on business methods. He has traveled extensively and studied at first hand the causes of success and failure of thousands of merchants and salespeople in their language.

His points are illustrated with large charts and diagrams. On large pads of paper, he works out the problems he is discussing, and makes every point clear. His address is no "fairy tale." It is a straight-from-the-shoulder business talk which makes merchants THINK.

This practical "better business" talk is being given under the auspices of the Chamber of Commerce, merchants and business men of Escanaba an opportunity to hear the vital business questions of the day explained by one who knows. After the address, Mr. Sulley will answer questions.

Every one interested in improving his business is invited to attend. Tickets can be secured from the Chamber of Commerce or at Delta Hotel.

The Meat of the Wheat

STARCH is the "meat" of the wheat berry. It is the great energy-producing element of the grain.

But, in order to do you any good, it must be thoroughly digested, and it is right here that such a food as Grape-Nuts renders special service.

Grape-Nuts, made from wheat and malted barley, supplies the meat of the wheat in most digestible form.

That is because in the making of Grape-Nuts a large proportion of the starch is converted into dextrins and maltose—forms into which all starch elements must be changed before they can be assimilated by the system.

Grape-Nuts not only digest easily, but also aids in the digestion of other foods.

Crisp, delicious Grape-Nuts with milk or cream is a complete food. It supplies the life-essential vitamin-B; also iron, phosphorus and other important mineral elements for nerve, tooth, bone and other body structure.

The daily use of Grape-Nuts is a form of health insurance which has demonstrated its value for more than 25 years.

It's usually a sign of sick kidneys, especially if the kidney action is disordered, passages scanty or too frequent. Don't wait for more serious troubles. Begin using Doan's Kidney Pills. Read this Escanaba man's testimony. J. E. Erickson, brakeman, 321 S. 15th St., says: "In the morning my back used to get pretty lame and stiff and catches me back from my work. If I stood too long, my back became sore and some nights I was so restless I couldn't sleep and as a result I would be tired and weak during the day.
