URGES CHEAP FERTILIZER FOR FARMER

WALLACE WORKING OUT TWO PLANS OF ACTION.

BY DAVID LAWRENCE.

(Copyright, 1923, by The Escanaba Press) Washington, Dec. 1.—Bills are being drafted at the Department of Agriculture which if acceptable to congress and Henry Ford may mean cheap fertilizer for the American farmer at an early date.

Secretary Wallace said today that he had been studying two plans for the operation of Muscle Shoals and that one provided for government operation and the other for several amendments to the Ford offer. It is intended to introduce the amendments to the Ford proposal first in an effort to reach an agreement, failing of which, government operation is the natural alternative.

The program which has not yet been submitted to President Coolidge by the department of agriculture would provide for the separation of the Muscle Shoals proposition in two parts, the one relating to power being placed in the regular lease category under the federal water power act. The other part would provide for a contract whereby in return for certain guarantees concerning the production of fertilizer, the government would permit a cheaper rate of power to be charged. This in effect would be a subsidy to whoever operated the fertilizer plant.

Other changes. There are other changes in the plan, which Mr. Ford had, but judging by his expressions in the past, the experts here say he ought to find the amendments acceptable. The whole question turns on intent. If Henry Ford really wants to go into the fertilizer proposition in earnest, the government will be ready to meet him more than half way, notwithstanding the previous controversy.

The question of fertilizer is becoming a paramount issue. The department of agriculture was an important factor during the war in getting fertilizer for the farmer. In fact superintended its distribution. The unrest in the agricultural regions of the country is due in a large part to the high cost of farm production. Making fertilizer cheaper is expected to be one of the major items in helping the farmer back to a profitable basis.

The president indicated recently that he believed the government should help the farmer get cheaper fertilizer, even at a loss to the government, that it was in the same class as postal service or anything else now operated by the government. But no plan for government operation could successfully run the gauntlet of opposition in congress as long as any private offer remained unaccepted. A sincere effort will therefore be made to get together with Henry Ford on Muscle Shoals. Out of the whole discussion the hope is that something concrete may be worked which will give the American farmer a cheaper fertilizer.

For Lower Taxes.

Incidentally while talking with Mr. Wallace today he told this correspondent he was in sympathy with the program of taxation proposed by Secretary Mellon and that the editorials in Wallace's Farmer were not inspired by him but were an independent expression of opinion by his editors. He pointed out that the editorial in question, however, had referred only to one detail of the Mellon plan—the continuance of luxury taxes. Mr. Wallace said that when he came to Washington he made it a point to divorce himself from his farm paper so that the public would not construe its editorials as inspired or influenced by him in any way.

WANT U. S. IN MONEY PARLEY

FRANCE AND BRITAIN TO MAKE ONE MORE EFFORT

(By The Associated Press.) Paris, Dec. 1.—The unwillingness of the American government to appoint members of the reparations commission's investigating committees is a disappointment to the French government and the members of the commission, inasmuch as they feel that the lack of American participation would greatly diminish the authority and prestige with which the committees could have worked.

The American attitude was not unexpected, however, and what should be done in such circumstances has already been informally considered. The situation in Germany is such that it is felt that the expert committees, even without the aid of the United States must undertake to devise a constructive plan to restore the German government's finances and the currency.

Plan Another Effort. It is expected another effort will be made to obtain American non-official advice through the commission turning toward the

First Sentence Under New Law In Monroe, Mich

(By The Associated Press.) Monroe, Mich., Dec. 1.—Bert Borowski, 22 years old, of Toledo, convicted of homicide, in connection with the death of Francis Geyman, 17, of LaSalle township, by a jury in circuit court at Monroe this week, was sentenced to the minimum of one year in the reformatory at Ionia, by Judge Jesse H. Root, Saturday. Before sentence was pronounced, it was said Borowski had made a civil settlement outside of court with Joseph Geyman, a farmer of LaSalle township, father of the boy. The amount was not disclosed.

It was disclosed in the testimony that Borowski was under the influence of liquor when his automobile struck the Geyman boy and he failed to stop after the accident. Judge Root announced that it was the first sentence under the new homicide law of Michigan he was obliged to make.

Detroit Cops Chase After Beer Runners

(By The Associated Press.) Detroit, Dec. 1.—Seven hundred and forty bottles of beer apparently destined for Detroit consumption failed to arrive at their destination today because of vigilance of prohibition enforcement officers.

Lieutenant Burkheiser, of the Detroit police, led a chase after a boat crossing the Detroit river. The bootleggers escaped, but their launch containing 500 bottles of a Canadian brew was seized and turned over to the federal officers.

Elmer Belanger, Ecorse, was arrested on a charge of transporting 240 bottles of Canadian beer, and also with violation of the tariff law. Belanger is alleged to have camouflaged his bootlegging activity by persuading his wife and baby to accompany him on the front seat of the automobile which contained the beer. His wife and child were released by the arresting officers.

PROGRESSIVES THREATEN A FLOOR FIGHT

LOSE OUT IN FIRST TEST OF STRENGTH SATURDAY.

(By The Associated Press.) Washington, Dec. 1.—The progressive bloc made its first major attack today in its campaign of insurgency against the Republican leadership of the new congress. In the house, where its numerical strength is greatest, it openly but unsuccessfully opposed endorsement of Speaker Gillett as the Republican candidate for the speakership, and announced there were votes enough in sight to block his election unless important concessions in committee assignments and modification of house rules were made by the party organization.

On the senate side the opposition was of a passive character. When the Republican senators assembled to re-elect Senator Lodge to the majority leadership they found that not a single member of the bloc had responded to the party conference call and that Senator Borah also was numbered among the missing.

Democrats Get Busy. While the breach in the majority party thus was widening, the Democrats were consolidating their position.

DIAMOND BROS. PLANNED CRIME IN BROOKLYN

More Evidence in Murder and Robbery of Bank Clerks.

(By The Associated Press.) New York, Dec. 1.—Denials by Morris and Joseph Diamond that they actively took part in the $43,000 robbery in Brooklyn, on November 14, when two bank messengers were killed, were contradicted today by Nicholas Luciano, who was arrested as a suspect on information given by the brothers.

In a statement to district attorney Dodd, of Brooklyn, Luciano declared that Morris Diamond gave him a first hand description of the robbery and murders a few hours after the crime. Joe Heard Recital.

Joseph Diamond was with his brother when he recited details of the crime, Luciano said. "We had to give them the works," he quoted Morris Diamond as saying to him in Manhattan the night of the robbery. "In getting away, the car went so fast that the motor stalled and we had to hop out and beat it."

Whether or not the actual murderers are to be caught, district attorney Dodd said he was certain the plans for the crime were originated by Joseph Diamond and Antonio Pantano, with Morris Diamond brought in later to assist. They subsequently arranged for gunmen to do the job, the prosecutor said. Pantano and both the brothers are held for murder and police are searching for three others.

District Attorney Dodd disclosed today an anonymous letter which charged that Morris Diamond had been concerned in several suspicious fires. The letter was turned over to Fire Marshal Brophy.

3 VILLAGES IN FLOOD'S PATH SWEEPED AWAY

RED CROSS RELIEF BODY AIDS SUFFERERS.

(By The Associated Press.) Milan, Dec. 1.—The huge artificial lake at Dezzo, near Bergamo, has overflowed and broken through the dike, the waters sweeping down through the valleys, overwhelming villages, and drowning inhabitants by the scores. The number of victims is computed at three hundred or more, by some of the authorities.

The heavy rains which have been falling for the past few weeks caused the streams to overflow and filled the lake to the bursting point. Millions of cubic yards of water were let loose, and the terrific point of the flood swept everything before it. The village of Dezzo, originally containing 600 inhabitants and the adjacent villages of Menaggio and Treveno, were directly in the line of the rushing waters and were inundated. Many of the people, however, were apprised of the break in the dike, and fled, together with hundreds of other refugees, to the hills.

Red Cross relief has been organized and the government is using all efforts to aid the sufferers.

Tragic Scenes. The artificial-lake was situated in the fertile valley of Camonica, about 500 feet above sea level. The bursting of the dike was followed by tragic scenes. The whole valley of Dezzo is devastated, and eight villages at least have been obliterated. Dezzo itself was completely destroyed by the waters, which covered every house. Only the church steeple can be seen. Five generating plants were so badly damaged that the city of Bergamo is without lighting power.

The stricken people number into the thousands, and army units have been dispatched to the devastated zone to open up kitchens. Army engineers will give every possible aid in the reconstruction work.

AUTO DEMAND EXPLAINED BY ROGER BABSON

OUTPUT THIS YEAR 60 PERCENT BETTER THAN LAST.

(Copyright, 1923, by The Escanaba Press) Wellesley Hills, Mass., Nov. 30.—The outstanding features of the automobile situation are: (1) heavy but declining production, (2) declining demand, (3) fairly stable prices with downward adjustments here and there, (4) keen competition, and (5) generally good financial condition of the more important companies, according to a survey made by Roger W. Babson, the statistician, which is summed up in a statement issued today.

"The production of cars and trucks for the first ten months of this year averaged 207,635 cars and 32,925 trucks per month," says Mr. Babson, "this total output is about 60 per cent better than the output in the corresponding period of 1922. Notwithstanding this heavy rate of production stocks of new cars have apparently not accumulated to a burdensome degree. Sales during the first three-quarters of the year kept pace with production.

Unexpected Demand. Demand last spring and summer exceeded dealers' expectations and many found themselves without cars large enough to meet the needs of their customers. With this in mind dealers are now inclined to plan on liberal stocks for next year. Manufacturers apparently are also inclined to look for another heavy increase in sales and are planning on a much larger output.

"The industry has been favored not only by an unusually strong demand but also by the fact that automobiles are cheaper, relative to pre-war ideas of value, than most other commodities. By reason of the large number of concerns competing for business, and also by reason of the necessity of lower prices in order to appeal to successively lower level of purchasing power, the trend in price has been downward and there is nothing in sight that indicates a change in this trend.

"How long the industry will continue its remarkable growth is difficult to say. The changing ratio in the rate of registration increase, and the increased cost of selling, seem to indicate resistance in expanding the market. It is probable that the more alert manufacturers are continuing to plan on more cheaply made cars in the future in order that they may put prices lower and appeal to larger numbers of people. So long as this tendency proves profitable it is difficult to say when the industry will reach the point where it will primarily on a replacement basis.

PROF. BROWN SAYS IT'S FOR PAN-AMERICA

PRINCETON EDUCATOR TAKES FLING AT WILSON.

(By The Associated Press.) Philadelphia, Pa., Dec. 1.—Commemoration of the one hundredth anniversary of the Monroe Doctrine was continued here tonight when diplomatic representatives of several Latin-American countries delivered addresses at a meeting of the American Academy of Political and Social Science. Secretary of State Hughes opened centennial observance here last night when he spoke on the Monroe Doctrine under the joint auspices of the American Academy and the Philadelphia Forum.

Those who spoke tonight included Jacobo Varela, Uruguayan minister to the United States; Dr. Ricardo J. Alfaro, minister from Panama; Salvador Cordova, minister from Honduras and Professor Philip Marshall Brown, of Princeton University.

Dr. Alfaro said the Monroe Doctrine has rebounded to the benefit of the Latin-American nations, defending them from those possibilities that endanger their independent life.

Senor Cordova declared that without the Monroe Doctrine the national integrity of Honduras might have been placed under a foreign flag.

Not Private Property. The United States has a valid reason or right to arrogate to itself the sole interpretation of the Monroe doctrine, said Professor Philip Marshall Brown. "This doctrine is essentially a Pan-American principle that concerns all the nations of this hemisphere alike," he said. "The United States may at times be constrained, in an acute emergency, to take the lead in the defense of this principle but it cannot rightfully claim it as private property. The other nations of the American continent properly respect such statements as Secretary Hughes unfortunately has seen fit to quote with approval from President Wilson: 'That the Monroe Doctrine was proclaimed by the United States on her own authority. It always has been maintained and always will be maintained upon her own responsibility.'"

"From the Latin-American point of view there is no sound reason, either in the very nature of the Monroe Doctrine or in the inherent right of every nation to safeguard its interests, why the United States should claim it as private national policy. The more we explain and disclaim, the more respect other American nations respect our ulterior motives or accuse us of arrogant had

JEWEL PEDDLER LOSES $75,000 WORTH OF GEMS

(By The Associated Press.) Toledo, O., Dec. 1.—William Sterns, an independent jewelry salesman of Philadelphia, was robbed of diamonds and other precious stones worth $75,000 tonight at the Union Depot, he reported to police. Sterns set his handbag down while he purchased a ticket to Columbus and when he looked for the grip it was gone. The jewels were in it.

Sterns came to Toledo today from Detroit and called on several customers. About eight o'clock he went to the depot.

Sterns told depot detectives that the jewelry consisted of $35,000 worth of loose diamonds, and diamond set pins, rings, lavallieres and the like worth $40,000.

Sterns does not represent any jewelry concern, he said, but buys and sells diamonds and other jewels on his own account.

African Rebels And Loyalists In Skirmishes

(By The Associated Press.) Tripoli, Africa, Dec. 1.—A number of skirmishes have occurred between loyal native cavalry and rebels in the last few days some three hundred miles south of Tripoli. Native cavalry under Mohammed Ben Hag, operating southwest of Mysdam, met the rebels near Biren-Nasra, where a spirited engagement occurred. Fifty-six of the rebels were killed and 340 camels and 4,000 head of cattle were captured. The headsties among the cavalry were ten dead and twelve wounded.

Another action in the same territory routed the rebels, who lost 15 dead and 136 camels.

BLAST FURNACE DUST IS USEFUL

(By The Associated Press.)
 Detroit, Dec. 1.—Reclamation plans for the manufacture of cylinder castings from blast furnace dust have been put into operation here the Ford Motor Company announced today. The dust, which is half iron ore and half coke, is blown from the blast furnace, and is worthless in that state.

The dust is mixed with cast iron borings gathered from the various Ford plants and a gas flame of intense heat passed over the dust. The action of the coke in the mixture fuses the iron ore and makes it suitable for use.

The reclamation process was begun with a pile of dust at the River Rouge plant of the company where it is estimated at 50,000 tons. From this amount of dust, Ford engineers assert, it will be possible to obtain sufficient iron ore for 600,000 castings.

Kidnapped Baby Found in Store; Parents Frantic

Friends of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Greis, of Milwaukee, and former Escanaba residents will be surprised to hear of the fright which they had one day last week when their two year old daughter, Ruth, was kidnapped while Mrs. Greis was shopping in a store. Mrs. Greis had just stepped into the store to buy some groceries when a clerk called her attention to the fact that a woman had just taken her baby from the buggy. Running outside immediately she found no trace of the woman, who had lost no time in getting away. After three hours of diligent search in which the police helped, the little one was found in a department store where the woman had left her. The frantic parents took the child to their home on Ninth st., where great rejoicing followed. The identity of the woman is unknown.

Mrs. Greis was formerly Miss Dena Hendrickson of this city and is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Hendrickson, 1861 First avenue South. Mr. Greis was employed in this city by the American Express Company and later as a member of the local police force.

Police to Request State to Suspend Drivers' Licenses

Announcement that the Escanaba police department will ask the secretary of state to revoke or suspend drivers' licenses of all persons convicted here of reckless driving, or of driving while intoxicated, was made at police headquarters yesterday. Twenty-eight licenses, held by men and women in various parts of the state, were revoked by Secretary of State Deland Friday. North Star Society Brings Strong Man

Ricardo Nelson, the 24-year old Swedish strong man, who will exhibit next Sunday afternoon and evening, December 9th, at the Coliseum Roller Rink under the auspices of the North Star Society, goes through a program at each of his exhibitions which is very unusual for even the best at this profession. While his other feats are much more difficult, a clearer idea of his ability can be gained from one of his simpler tricks. "This is the stunt of ripping the corners from a telephone book with his powerful thumbs and forefingers and then tearing the book in two. Nichols," who has shown before wondering audiences in many cities of the East, since his arrival from Sweden less than a year ago, also easily bends inch thick steel bars, using his teeth as a fulcrum, using only a piece of leather to protect his mouth from the pressure of the bar. Bending a horseshoe into the shape of a giant corkscrew with his teeth is another of Nelson's feats and as a climax he breaks a 28-strand hemp rope tested to withstand a pressure of 4,400 pounds.

Stating that the "relations of the United States with the other nations of this hemisphere are not regulated by the Monroe Doctrine, Professor Brown said, that these relations certainly are affected by our interpretation of the doctrine as in the case of Santo Domingo or of Mexico. But the policy, for example, of withholding recognition of new governments for diplomatic purposes has no proper relation to the Monroe Doctrine. It is rather a most unfortunate instance of the offensiveness of American policy to the peoples of the other American nations, and it has been productive of unhappy results.

"The truth is that in spite of obvious difficulties of a diplomatic nature for which the United States is not entirely responsible, its relations with these countries need a fresh orientation and an invigorating spirit of broad generous statesmanship. The menace of Europe in attempting to draw them into its political system and of violating the Monroe Doctrine, if not the constant necessity of perfecting our relations with all our near neighbors, requires a true Pan-American policy."

Earlier in his address, touching on the relation of the Monroe Doctrine to European nations,

Professor Brown said that "the bloc of Latin-American nations represented in the league of nations is so strong that the European nations have been led to bid for its vote to draw these countries of the new world and more into the diplomatic game of Europe. Two years in succession the great powers have seen fit to favor the choice of representatives from this hemisphere to preside over the assembly of the league. And the suggestion has been seriously made that a special bureau of the league should be organized to deal with Pan-American affairs."

mobile situation is the tendency of buyers to exceed the safe limit of expenditure. However, so long as consumers can manipulate their budget so as to include automobile expenditure at present levels the industry will continue to expand.

"Present demand for automobiles is exceedingly good when you consider that general business as reflected on the Babson chart is running 7 per cent below normal.

"There is nothing in the action of motor stocks which suggests a different market movement from the list as a whole," continued Mr. Babson. "An average of 13 representative issues, both car and truck, sold at a high, in the spring, of 43, declined to a low last summer of 31 and have rallied to around 37; 7 motor accessory issues from a high of 76 declined to 48 and now maintain a level around 57. All issues used are New York Stock Exchange listed and represent body, wheel, carburetor and similar plants. Tires, however, are not considered. Examining the movements of individual issues in these groups one fails to find any evidence of a movement in specific issues in opposition to the trend. The apparently greater intensity of competition in the popular priced car field than in other departments of activity in the motor business might seem to suggest varying trends in the different issues. All, however, have recovered from 25 to 40 per cent or 50 per cent of their decline.

"Looking back a little further it appears that automobile stocks have very closely followed the trend of the general market since the decline in 1926. It is probably reasonable to assume that

FIVE MEN HELD FOR GRILLING; CLUES STRONG

One Case of Robbery On High Seas Is Unusual.

(By The Associated Press.)
 New York, Dec. 2.—Two mail theft plots were under investigation by New York police today, one investigating the looting of mail bags on the high seas and the other the systematic robbery of packages from Grand Central terminal postoffices.

Both jobs are believed by authorities to have been worked by "insiders." Five men are under arrest. Three of them are aboard the liner Minnekahda, and two are mail transfer supervisors at Grand Central terminal, Louis W. Wiegand, of New Canaan, Conn., and Rudolph B. Gorski, of Brooklyn.

The transfer supervisors had invented an ingenious scheme for robbing the railway mails, according to postal investigators. It is alleged they pasted new labels over the original tags denoting consignee and destination of packages of guns, routing the packages to fictitious persons in post offices in smaller cities.

The practice, say detectives, was to call at the small city post-office and claim the misdirected package.

(By The Associated Press.)
 New York, Dec. 1.—A few minutes before the departing time of the Samaria, Europe-bound, today a messenger boy dashed up the gang plank and, crushing an envelope in the hand of Captain G. Horsburg, asked "any reply?"

The master's answer was a command to his subordinates to delay the call for "cast off" and "haul away" as a number of passengers were delayed and would arrive in a few minutes. He returned the telegram to make sure it read:

"Please hold ship few minutes. Twelve others delayed. Patrick Conley."

One hour and thirty minutes later a thick-sock, boisterously laughing Irishman leisurely walked up the gang plank and was directed to the steeage for which he held a third class passage. It was fully five minutes before Captain Horsburg saw a gleam of the light. He asked the steward what the passenger's name was. "Patrick Conley," he answered.

After ordering the ship away, Captain Horsburg presented his compliments to Mr. Conley, who was unpacking his baggage. "Oh, the other twelve?" hesitated Pat when the captain inquired. "They'll be comin' next week."

"What do you mean, next week?" bellowed the captain. "I want to get to the old sod as quick as possible," answered Pat, penitently, "and I knew you wouldn't wait for wan of us, particularly as I was not wan o' them nabobs up in the cabins. So I invented the story about the twelve others."

There was no joy visible on the faces of the Samaria's seamen as she passed down the bay and Captain Horsburg strode the bridge.

NO CONSPIRACY FOUND BY JURY IN LIQUOR CASE

Famous Chicago Distribution Held As O. K.

(By The Associated Press.)
 Chicago, Dec. 1.—The federal jury trying nine defendants, including Roscoe Andrews, former prohibition director, for Illinois, on charges of conspiring to violate the prohibition laws in connection with the dissolution of the liquor firm of Grommet and Ulrich, tonight returned a verdict finding all the defendants not guilty. The jury deliberated about ten hours.

The jury had been instructed by Federal Judge Evan A. Evans to decide the case on the issue of whether the dissolution of the liquor firm constituted a conspiracy to sell liquor.

The firm dissolved about a year ago by distributing liquor stocks valued at about $250,000 to its stockholders, giving one case of liquor for each share of stock. The government contended that the dissolution was simply a ruse to sell the liquor while the defense attempted to show the distribution was carried out under authority of permits issued by former Prohibition Director Andrews and that the trucks delivering the liquor were guarded by federal prohibition officers.

FIRPO CROWNED KING OF ALIBI

South American's Stories to Homefolk Show Lack of Balance.

(By Joe Williams.)
 Luis Angel Firpo, back in his native haunts, is spraying the South American landscape with steaming invective.

Aside from the reluctant admission that Uncle Samuel's home grown currency is particularly desirable, the good senior has no remarks savoring of kindness to say for this country.

It appears that Mr. Rickard made him fight when he didn't want to; that the referee gave him a short count, and that Dempsey himself was guilty of certain unprincipled, not to say unmanly actions.

This is hardly important, and not more than passingly interesting. It stamps Firpo as just a fighter. Among other things he has developed the festive alibi to a high pitch of proficiency.

However, the reformed bottle-washer of Buenos Aires, in his belated outburst, did say something important:

"I am not going to let any American or anybody else change my style. I am coming back to America next year to fight Dempsey again and I will fight him the same way I fought before."

Firpo is Right.

Some experts will find fault with this attitude. It does suggest a vast stubbornness and a subtle trace of conceit. Yet Firpo is exactly right. Any attempt to "change him over" would be a serious mistake. In his own way he is a natural fighter, and what merits he does possess have carried him pretty close to the top in mighty short time.

Firpo is no kid. It would not be easy for him to discard all his present mannerisms and adopt an entirely new set. Firpo is not a flexible, plastic type. It would be hard for him to accustom himself to new forms of fighting, even if logic dictated such a procedure. Firpo is absolutely reasonable when he says he will remain Firpo.

Manufactured fighters make but limited headway. Remember what an awful can of tripe Carl Morris turned out to be? Jess Willard was more or less of a manufactured fighter and none will admit that the Kansas was ever more than an average battler. The attempt to manufacture Bob Martin into a fighter was anything but successful. It is much better in some cases, to let a natural fighting man make the most of his native abilities.

Let Him Alone.

Firpo has unquestioned courage and daring and he can club viciously with his right hand. Of course, he would be more formidable if he could use his left, and his habit of leading with his right is admittedly bad, but the good senior has arrived at a point where you must take him as he is or leave him.

Detroit Must Find New Market For Part Of Her Subway Bonds

(By The Associated Press.)
 Detroit, Dec. 1.—Detroit may issue additional bonds totalling $193,000,000, of which sum $84,000,000, has already been authorized for subways, according to the financial report made by the bureau of governmental research, Saturday. But to make such bond issues, the city must find a market other than New York. This report lists the city's bonded debt at $128,000,000, representing an increase in five years of $103,000,000. The interest and sinking fund charges have reached a large sum that 17 cents of each tax dollar is now used for these purposes.

The bureau's report shows also that the city cannot issue more than $31,000,000 worth of bonds in the New York market, owing to the laws of that state limiting issuance of bonds to seven per cent of the assessed valuation of the issuing community. A large part of this limitation has already been exhausted by loans and expenditures made against the bond issues. Owing to the increase in assessed valuation each year the city's limitation at New York increase approximately $15,000,000 annually, the report shows.

Kiwanians Will Clear Slate For Annual Election

KIWANIANS, at their luncheon meeting Monday, will begin the task of "clearing decks" for the annual election of officers and the completion of the present year's business. Monday's meeting will be a closed session and the program committee predicted last night that it would be one of the most interesting of the year. Included in the proceedings, it is understood, will be reports from several committees and expressions along the line of future policy by a number of the members.

speaker, but the meeting was only a formality, since the selection had been agreed upon months ago.

The Democrats of the senate, who also have settled all their differences over leadership, will hold brief conference Monday just before the sixty-eighth congress convenes.

Developments of the day indicated no disposition on the part of Republican organization leaders of the house or senate to make concessions to the insurgents. On the contrary, house leaders declared they would be a party to no negotiations and were prepared to let the progressives show what strength they could pull on the first ballot for speaker.

While organization leaders in the senate made no pronouncement they adhered to their original plan of leaving to the opposition, the initiation of any senate fight.

Lodge Ignores Them.

Also, Senator Lodge, in filling the two vacancies on the commission on committees did not give representation to the progressive bloc.

Longworth of Ohio was elected Republican leader of the house without opposition. But two candidates were nominated for speaker against Gillett Cooper, of Wisconsin, a leader of the progressive bloc, and Madden, of Illinois, chairman of the appropriations committee. Gillett received 190; Cooper 15 and Madden 8, while one vote was cast for Little, of Kansas.

With none of the insurgents present the conference of senate Republicans was brief and was described by those in attendance as perfectly harmonious. Lodge was re-elected chairman, Curtis of Kansas, vice chairman, and party whip, and Wadsworth of New York, secretary, all without contest. Present officers of the senate were also renominated without opposition, except Senator Cummins, of Iowa, president pro tem, whose re-election is regarded by the Republican leaders as unnecessary.

Blast Furnace Hits High Mark

(By The Associated Press.)
 Youngstown, O., Dec. 1.—A new world's record for production of pig iron in a month's time has been set by the blast furnace of the Trumbull Cliffs Furnace Company, near Warren, it is asserted in an announcement from company officials today. In November, according to the announcement, the furnace, using ore only, made 25,303 tons, a daily average of 840 tons. The previous record, which also is said to be held by this furnace, was 754 tons. The rated capacity of the plant is 600 tons daily.

Thomas L. Powers underwent an operation at St. Vincent hospital in Green Bay for gall stones. His wife and Mrs. William Powers accompanied him. Mrs. William Powers returned Saturday night and reported that he is resting easily.

NEED FIRST SACKER.

One of the big problems that Tris Speaker of Cleveland faces the coming season is the development of a capable first baseman. Brower was just so-so at first last year and it is understood that Speaker is figuring on someone else to cover the initial sack for the Indians. It is possible that Bob Knode, former University of Michigan star, who was carried by Cleveland last year, will fill the bill.

BRIDAL SHOWERS.
The bridal shower is a charming way for the friends of the bride to present her with inexpensive and useful gifts that would hesitate to present otherwise. Only intimate friends of the bride are present at such affairs, and the shower should always be a surprise to the bride.

There are many different kinds of showers, such as the usual kitchen shower, handkerchief shower, linen shower, miscellaneous shower, lingerie shower, etc. The ingenious hostess is capable of devising her own original method of entertaining. However, the following suggestions may help her in planning the affair.

For the kitchen shower all the articles may be wrapped in attractive packages and placed in a dish pan in front of the bride's plate. One hostess gave a hose shower in this novel way.

She handed the bride a large book, a ledger of which had been recovered in white satin and tied with white ribbon. On the cover was printed "Silk Stocking Tales," by Many More Hoofers.

In the book, sewed to each page is a pair of silk stockings, and on the page opposite an appropriate verse from the donor.

For the June bride there is no more attractive way of presenting the gifts than in a large basket in which they are all placed and covered with roses. Guests enjoy writing appropriate verses for their gifts and in hearing them all read aloud. The gifts tied to a large ribbon-covered hoop to represent a wedding ring, is a popular method. The ring is put over the bride's head. There is a much used but popular method of having a small child dressed as a Cupid appear with bow and arrows, shoot the bride-to-be and then present her with a bag or basket which contains the shower gifts.

The young lady who is honored with a shower thanks the guests verbally and afterward she may write each one of them a little note expressing her gratitude. It is necessary to do so if the affair is an elaborate one and the gifts are expensive.

Campbell-Miller.
A pretty wedding ceremony took place at St. Patrick's rectory Wednesday afternoon at five o'clock when Miss Elvira Campbell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James T. Campbell, 951 Stephenson Ave., was united in marriage to Mr. Leslie F. Miller of this city. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Fr. J. Moeckler. The attendants were Mr. and Mrs. Peter J. Powers, of Iron River, Mich., Mrs. Powers being a sister of the bride.

The bride wore a pretty gown of navy blue canton crepe which was hand embroidered and beaded and wore a hat of mauve colored embroidered chenille. The matron of honor was dressed in navy blue satin with georgette drape and wore a hat of navy blue satin. Both wore corsages of roses.

After the ceremony the parents of the bride served a six course dinner at their home to immediate relatives, covers being laid for twenty guests. The home was decorated in pink and white.

The couple left Saturday morning for a trip south after which they will make their home in this city.

The bride was educated in this city and had been teaching school at Vulcan for some time. The bridegroom was born and reared in this city and is employed as a brakeman for the C. & N. W. Ry.

They have the best wishes of a host of friends.

Beautiful Picture Today.

houses in the largest cities of the United States and drew great crowds at every show.

It portrays the home of a happily wedded couple. A man breaks this home stealing the wife and leaving the motherless boy and her soldier husband broken hearted in their western home.

The mother never actually goes wrong. She realizes her act as soon as she boards the stage coach and runs away. She has a beautiful voice and when she goes mad is cared for by a band of gypsies, later she recovers her reason and ekes out a living as a singer in the dance halls of the western country.

After years of anguish the family is reunited and well—see it and be convinced that a true woman always comes out victorious no matter how hard she is tempted.

There will be two shows this afternoon at 3 and this evening at 7:30. Every one heartily welcome.

Concert-Dance Postponed.
Large crowds of disappointed people were turned away from the North Star hall last night when they learned that Ragnar Sundquist and Eric Olzen, pianos, had been unavoidably detained and were unable to get here in time for the concert.

However, the disappointed multitudes will be glad to learn that the two artists will be here Monday and render their program at the North Star hall at 8 o'clock Monday evening.

Bazaar at St. Anne's.
The booths have been erected and decorated for the annual bazaar and sale which will be held at St. Anne's hall this week, Dec. 4th, 5th and 6th under the auspices of the married ladies and young ladies of the parish.

An unusual large assortment of fancy work and aprons will be placed on sale. There will also be a fish pond for the children.

Green Bay Holdup Man Not Connected With Robbery Here

The hope that the arrest of a man giving the name of Jack Taylor, in Green Bay, in whose possession a number of articles of jewelry was found, might help to clear up the Bloomstrom-Petersen jewelry store robbery here was given a wallop yesterday when it was learned that except for a few sheets of stationery from a local hotel, Taylor had nothing which would connect him with anything here.

Cheap earrings, imitation diamonds, an Ingersoll watch and a dozen fountain pens were among the articles the Green Bay police say Taylor had when he attempted a holdup there Wednesday night.

Several Northwestern station package locker keys, found in the man's pocket, it developed, were traced but the lockers did not hold any of the Escanaba property.

Technical French, serving of coffee, elocution and voice production, and the composition of menus are among the subjects taught at a school for waitresses recently established in London.

KANJAS PLACE YIELDS BOOZE

Onni and Bartender Held to Await Action of U. S. Grand Jury.

Onni Kanjas, proprietor of a saloon and boarding house at 115 North 15th st., and John Cedar, his bartender, were held in bonds of $500 and $1000 respectively, by C. D. McEwen, United States commissioner, yesterday, on charges of selling and possessing intoxicating liquor.

The charges are the outgrowth of sales affidavits, procured some time ago by the police, and a raid, at 3:30 yesterday afternoon in which a bottle of white mulish whiskey and other bootlegging equipment was seized. Paul Nelson, deputy federal marshal, and a squad of patrolmen, were members of the raiding party and "cracked the place" so unexpectedly that they found three men drinking moonshine at the bar. Cedar, the bartender, seized the bottle from the backbar and attempted to empty it into the sink, but was blocked by the officers. An ingenious hiding place concealed by a sliding panel at one end of the bar was located by the officers, but it was empty. Arraigned before Commissioner McEwen, both men entered no guilty pleas and were bound over to the January federal court term. Both have records. Cedar was known to the police. Kanjas paid a fine for wife-beating less than a year ago, escaped trial a short time later on a bootlegging charge in federal court on what may be described as a technicality, and on Oct. 31, pleaded guilty to a charge of disorderly conduct and paid $100 and costs. Cedar has served sentences in the Delta county jail and the Detroit house of correction for violating the liquor laws. Police intimated yesterday that they will be able to furnish evidence on a halfdozen counts in the present cases against the men.

AUXILIARY TO LEGION PLANS MILITARY BALL Christmas Holiday Event Is Being Arranged

The American Legion Auxiliary on Monday night, will complete its extensive plans for a military ball to be given Friday night, Dec. 28, at the Coliseum. Decorations will call for the elaborate use of the national colors, with a bower of pines for McCauley's orchestra, which will furnish the music, and there will be other attractive features along this line, making use of holly and other Christmas material. Programs will be distributed by pages, dressed in miniatures of the regulation army and navy uniforms. The musical program will include a generous sprinkling of old fashioned waltzes among the more modern dance numbers. More details of the plan to make the party one of the most pleasing of the season, will be announced later, it was said yesterday. The proceeds of the affair will go towards defraying expenses of the Auxiliary's relief work among disabled veterans of the world war.

Gerber Reinstated By Vote Of Big Ten Conference

MARKET NEWS

1924 SCHEDULE IS VERY HEAVY

Illinois Has Tentative Date With The Navy.

(By The Associated Press.) Chicago, Dec. 1.—E. C. Gerber, star tackle of the University of Wisconsin football team, who was disqualified before the Illinois game on charges of professionalism, was reinstated today by a vote of the Big Ten conference faculty representatives. It was charged that Gerber's coaching of a boys swimming class at LaCrosse, Wis., where he was earning his way through normal school, made him ineligible. He will be a senior at Wisconsin next fall.

MAY MEET NAVY.

Chicago, Dec. 1.—Heavy schedules of Michigan, Chicago, Ohio State and a clash between the joint Big Ten football champions of 1923—Michigan and Illinois—were announced by western conference athletic directors at the close of the schedule meeting here tonight. Only one outstanding intercollegiate game was announced, a tentative agreement for Illinois to meet the Navy eleven at Annapolis October 11, the Saturday before the battle between the two leaders of 1923. Michigan agreed to play in the new Illinois stadium both in 1924 and 1925. The two teams in 1924 will be almost the same as the 1923 joint champions, except Michigan will lose Captain Evans and Illinois will lose McLean by graduation.

Two Dedication Games.

Six conference games are on a program for Michigan, Ohio and Chicago, while Minnesota and Wisconsin were able to announce but three conference games each. Illinois, who dropped Wisconsin and Northwestern, was unable to reach an agreement with Minnesota on a late season date. Two dedication games are on the 1924 program. Illinois will stage formal ceremonies for its $2,000,000 memorial amphitheater when Michigan plays at Urbana October 18, when the stadium will be completed. Minnesota will entertain Michigan in the annual battle over the "little brown jug" typical of victory on November 1, when the new stands at Minnesota will be completed.

Northwestern, Indiana, Purdue, Iowa and Illinois arranged for four conference games each, though Illinois expects to meet the Navy on October 11.

Having completed baseball plans this afternoon and football arrangements early this evening, the coaches assembled tonight to arrange basketball and track dates. The faculty representatives held a long closed conference on rules this evening.

Interlake Yacht Association Lays Next Year's Plans

(By The Associated Press.) Sandusky, O., Dec. 1.—The Interlake Yacht Association at its annual meeting held here today elected Otto F. Barthel, Detroit Yacht Club, commodore for 1924, and chose the following officers: W. G. Alexander, Toledo Y. C., vice commodore; E. E. Knoble, Cleveland Y. C., rear commodore; Dr. W. A. Wilson, Detroit Y. C., fleet surgeon; R. A. Luedtke, Toledo Y. C., sailboat measurer; W. V. Gorton, Cleveland Y. C., powerboat measurer. Delegates chosen to represent the association at the meeting of the International Powerboat Union are: Commodore Henry Hess, Toledo, and H. A. Parsons, and W. F. Heier, of Cleveland. Commodore Barthel will be the delegate to Yacht Racing Union meet and the delegates to the American Powerboat Association meeting chosen today are: Commodore A. I. McLeod, of Detroit; H. A. Parsons, and C. B. Johnson, Cleveland. Put in Bay was selected as the place for the 1924 regatta and the date fixed is the week of July 13. Delegates from eighteen clubs were present.

Female Hockey Team To Play English Teams

(By The Associated Press.) Philadelphia, Dec. 1.—Miss Hildegrade Jacobs, of Boston, is a member of the all-United States field hockey team selected here today. The other members of the team are all Philadelphians. In the latter part of January the Americans will go to England to play a series with the best teams, concluding with competition in an international tournament in London in which many countries will be represented. Miss Ellen Parker and Miss Mary Adams, both of New York, were chosen for the second all-United States team, which may also go abroad. Other members are Miss Millicent Carey, of Baltimore, Miss Elizabeth Tuttle, of Bryn Mawr College, and Miss Katherine Snyder, of Boston.

Michigan and Illinois Will Meet Next Year

(By The Associated Press.) Chicago, Dec. 1.—Michigan and Illinois, joint holders of the 1923 Big Ten conference football championship, today signed an agreement to play at Illinois next October 18. The occasion will be made the formal dedication ceremony of the new $2,000,000 Illinois stadium, seating 65,000, which is to be completed by next fall. The two teams in the 1923 season were undefeated.

Big Ten Football Schedule Settled

(By The Associated Press.) Chicago, Dec. 1.—The 1924 Big Ten football schedule follows: October 4—Purdue at Ohio. October 11—Ohio at Iowa. October 18—Michigan at Illinois; Indiana at Chicago; Purdue at Northwestern. October 25—Wisconsin at Michigan; Minnesota at Iowa; Chicago at Ohio. November 1—Michigan at Minnesota; Iowa at Illinois; Indiana at Northwestern; Purdue at Chicago. November 8—Northwestern at Michigan; Ohio at Indiana; Illinois at Chicago. November 15—Michigan at Ohio; Wisconsin at Minnesota; Northwestern at Chicago. November 22—Iowa at Michigan; Ohio at Illinois; Indiana at Purdue; Wisconsin at Chicago.

ROCKNE TELLS ABOUT UPSET

Evans Gets Notre Dame Coach's Version of Nebraska "Spill"

(By Billy Evans.) "Hello 'Rock.' " "Glad to see you, Bill." "Merely greetings preliminary to interview." "Tough to lose that game to Nebraska?" "Was my opening wedge." "Yes, it was, but then you can't win them all and the fates ordained that we should lose that one."

The Catholic Central Squad Wins Title

(By The Associated Press.) Grand Rapids, Mich., Dec. 1.—Catholic Central was awarded the 1923 city football championship by its decisive victory over Union High school here this afternoon, defeating the west side aggregation 18 to 0. The parochials were held to two points in the first half of the contest, but their versatility proved too much in the last two periods. Using Notre Dame style of playing, they prodded a powerful offense and steadily backed the Unionist against their own goal scoring two touchdowns and another safety.

Georgia Holds Centre To Tie Score 3 To 3

(By The Associated Press.) Athens, Ga., Dec. 1.—Smarting under two successive defeats administered by Vanderbilt and Alabama, the University of Georgia fought desperately in its final game of the season and held centre to a 3 to 3 tie here today. Cleckley, Randall, Bennett and Fletcher, the latter playing at left end instead of Thomson, who was on the injured list, led the Georgia attack which netted 15 first downs to the five made by the Colonels. The brilliant Covington was able to penetrate the Georgians' defense for a good gain only once and this was a 23 yard dash around left end in the final period.

IS COVELESKI THROUGH?

Tris Speaker is not banking very strongly on Coveleski for 1924. The star spitball pitcher of the Cleveland Indians was out the final six weeks of last season with what the doctors diagnosed as rheumatism. It is a singular fact that most spitball pitchers have had similar trouble with their arms when nearing the end of their career, among them Jack Chesbro and Ed Walsh, two of the greatest in the history of the game.

STARS ON PRO ELEVEN.

Omaha's Olympics, first professional football team ever organized in Omaha, boasts Walsh, former Notre Dame; Swanson, Sherman, Shaw, Peterson and Hartley, former Nebraska; Cornhuskers, besides other stars of midwest colleges.

LEATHER NECKS ARE VICTORIOUS

Defeat Third Army Corps Third Straight Game.

(By The Associated Press.) Washington, Dec. 1.—The Quantico Marines for the third consecutive time today defeated the Third Army Corps in their annual football contest here, the score being 7 to 0. The game was attended by high officials of the government, commanding officers of the army and navy, diplomats and others prominent in the life of the capitol.

The score was made late in the fourth period after McHenry had intercepted an Army pass in midfield. He dashed to the Soldiers' 34 yard line before being downed, and a series of line smashes quickly placed the pigskin on the Army's onefoot line. Goettge, the Marine quarterback, went over for a touchdown on the next play, and then held the ball while Ryckman kicked the extra point.

Here's Team To Stop The Okawvilles

(By The Associated Press.) St. Peter, Minn., Dec. 1.—Two girl college football eleven's battled on the Gustavus Adolphus gridiron here today to a 6 to 6 tie. A smash through center for 25 yards, a 55 yard end run for a touchdown, and the longest punt kicked on the Gussie field this year featured the game, as did numerous 15 yards penalties for hair pulling.

Edmonton, Alberta, Dec. 1.

A group of high school graduates of this city, claiming the basketball championship of the world, will go to Paris next year to defend their claim against the nations of the world in the Olympic tournament. It sounds rather startling to the natives to hear their girls' team referred to as the world's best. Basketball isn't very old here, and isn't generally played. What's more, Edmonton is not especially noted as an athletic center. Chances are most of the teams against which the home girls play in the Olympic will never have heard of Edmonton.

Not so many years ago Edmonton was just a trading post on the edge of the Canadian wilderness, a bleak, drab stretch, frequented by trappers, Indians and Eskimos.

Ten years ago the same high school from which the present girls' championship team was recruited was a magnificent one-room structure, made of roughly hewn logs. What with hockey, skating and curling already in the field, basketball had a hard time getting a foothold. The Edmonton girls took it up in their junior days and formed a team that has remained pretty much intact ever since.

This probably accounts for their astonishing success.

Working together for years as a unit they have developed team skill and combination play to the highest possible pitch. A year ago they won international distinction by defeating the Cleveland Knits, holders of the world's title, and unbeaten for years. Later they defeated the Chicago Brownies, another team with a wide American reputation. The Edmonton girls' spirit of victories over Canadian teams is long and unbroken.

The team is captained by Winifred Martin, called the greatest feminine guard in the game.

Eleanor Mountfield and Mary Dunn are the other guards. Nellie Perry, Abbie Scott and Dorothy Johnson are the forwards and Connie Smith, center.

NEW COUNTING RULE MISTAKE

Old One Is Better If It Had Only Been Enforced by Referee. BY JOE WILLIAMS. You might be moved to say off hand, that the New York boxing commissioners, in ruling that a referee shall not start to count over the stricken boxer until the opposing boxer has retired to a far corner of the ring has enacted a creditable and commendable reform. In the last heavyweight battle of the summer season, for example, Jack Dempsey aroused the ire of fair-minded ringiders by crouching over Firpo after the South American had been knocked to the floor. This act made the champion liable to disqualification. There as a rule in the boxing code which demands that the conquering boxer shall retire to a far corner of the ring immediately after registering a knock-down. The referee in the Dempsey-Firpo fight did not enforce this rule. We would not have cared to see Dempsey disqualified, but he should have been warned after the first offense. The rule, as written, is a just one, and practical. If it is to remain in the code it should be enforced. New Rule All Wrong. I think it considerably better than the new one the commissioners have just drawn up—better for the reason that it contains less dynamite. Any time you give the referee the right to handle the count as he sees fit you are inviting grave and serious trouble. Ten seconds are ten seconds and should remain ten seconds. Fight referees, as a class, are honest, but the inevitable exception exists, and the new "stop-the-count" rule places a premium on trickery. It certainly gives a "sympathetic" referee all the chance in the world to prolong the count. We see no merit in a move that eliminates a minor evil and promotes a major one. Incorrect timing in the ring—whether done with a purpose or not—is criminal. A short count is as bad as a long one. Firpo claims he got a short count in the Dempsey fight. He didn't. He got a long count in the first round, when he was down for 13 seconds. A confused referee who walked clear across the ring before starting his count deprived Dempsey of a one-round knockout against Jess Willard. A crooked referee gave Johnny Wilson a long count in a Cleveland ring and robbed Bryan Downey of the middleweight championship. Short and Long Counts. Willie Jackson knocked out Lew Tendler at Philadelphia, but got no credit for the feat because it took Pop O'Brien, the referee, more than 20 seconds to count 10. These are merely a few interesting examples of what a referee can do with the count, as conditions stand now. With the new rule in force the third man in the ring will be able to get away with murder if he wants to.

I think it considerably better than the new one the commissioners have just drawn up—better for the reason that it contains less dynamite. Any time you give the referee the right to handle the count as he sees fit you are inviting grave and serious trouble. Ten seconds are ten seconds and should remain ten seconds. Fight referees, as a class, are honest, but the inevitable exception exists, and the new "stop-the-count" rule places a premium on trickery. It certainly gives a "sympathetic" referee all the chance in the world to prolong the count. We see no merit in a move that eliminates a minor evil and promotes a major one. Incorrect timing in the ring—whether done with a purpose or not—is criminal. A short count is as bad as a long one. Firpo claims he got a short count in the Dempsey fight. He didn't. He got a long count in the first round, when he was down for 13 seconds. A confused referee who walked clear across the ring before starting his count deprived Dempsey of a one-round knockout against Jess Willard. A crooked referee gave Johnny Wilson a long count in a Cleveland ring and robbed Bryan Downey of the middleweight championship. Short and Long Counts. Willie Jackson knocked out Lew Tendler at Philadelphia, but got no credit for the feat because it took Pop O'Brien, the referee, more than 20 seconds to count 10. These are merely a few interesting examples of what a referee can do with the count, as conditions stand now. With the new rule in force the third man in the ring will be able to get away with murder if he wants to.

Doc Horn Wins Feature Race In Last Day's Meet

(By The Associated Press.) San Francisco, Calif., Dec. 1.—Doc Horn, the entry of Mrs. A. F. Dayton, won the Fairmont Hotel speed handicap feature race of the closing day of the fall meeting at Tanforan, near here. Doc Horn, with Jockey Jimmy Smith up, covered the six furlongs in 1:12 2-5. Little Chief, of the Colorado Stables, was second, and Quince Garden, R. L. Baker's entry, was third. The race carried $2,000 added money.

WANT U. S. IN MONEY PARLEY

(Continued from Page One) International Chamber of Commerce of which Willis H. Booth, of New York, is president, with a request that the chamber designate an American of distinction in the financial world to serve in an advisory way. The chamber includes 32 countries and is regarded in reputation, quarters as sufficiently detached from government and partisan interests to be qualified to act. Its representatives, it is pointed out, would not be tied by instructions from any government. Mr. Booth is in Paris now but he let it be known that he preferred not to discuss the subject unless it should take a more definite form. British Also Anxious. The British were quite as anxious as the French to have the American government join in the investigation, Sir John Bradbury, British member of the British reparations commission at a meeting yesterday of the committees of experts laid great stress upon the vital necessity of American collaboration, but it is not yet known what attitude the British government will take toward continuation of the committee in view of Secretary of State Hughes' objection to joining in a limited inquiry.

CHICAGO GRAIN.

Chicago, Dec. 1.—Unsuspected smallness of deliveries on December contracts led to a sharp upturn today in the price of wheat. The market closed firm, 1 3-8 to 2 1/4. Corn finished at 5-8 to 7-8 gain, oats unchanged to 3-8 up, and provisions unchanged to 12c down. As soon as the fact became apparent that elevator interests would prefer to hold wheat rather than to make immediate deliveries, general traders were quick to take to the bull side, notably speculators who had looked for a continuance of the liquidation which in the last few days has been the chief depressing influence. Ready absorption of huge recent shipments of wheat to Europe aroused speculation that current estimates of foreign crops might prove erroneous. Furthermore domestic primary receipts for the week showed a big reduction compared with total a year ago and estimates continued to be put forward indicating a small carryover of what supplies in this country next July. Under such circumstances the upward swing of prices was not surprising, especially as rains were reported to be delaying the Argentine harvest, amounting to 100,000,000 bushels, a decrease of the U. S. visible supply total Monday. Sentiments of offerings in the corn market gave impetus to corn and oats. Provisions lacked support, despite higher quotations on hogs.

UTERITZ, BEST SINCE DAYS OF GEORGE SISLER

MANY of the western football experts regard Quarterback Uteritz of Michigan as the best pivot man in the Big Ten. Uteritz, in the game with the Marines, suffered a broken bone that ended his playing for the year. Despite the brilliancy of Uteritz on the gridiron he is regarded as an even more sensational performer on the diamond. He is picked as the best baseball prospect at Michigan since the days of Sisler. Uteritz plays shortstop. He captained the Michigan nine last summer to Big Ten honors. Ray Fisher, former big league star, now baseball coach at Michigan, says that with a little seasoning Uteritz would have a great chance to make good in the majors.

American Can Leads The List for Gains During Day.

(By The Associated Press.) STOCK SALES SUMMARY. Total stock sales 436,300 shares. Twenty industrials averaged 93.15, net gain .81. High 1923, 105.38; low 85.78. Twenty railroads averaged 83.95, net gain .13. High 1923, 90.51; low 79.53.

New York, Dec. 1.—Active operations for the advance, aided by short covering, turned stock prices up briskly in today's brief session of the market. Commodity prices also rallied in the half holiday trading.

American Can again was the pace-maker, inside buying pushing it up nearly two points to 105, a new high for the movement. The strength, however, was general, covering in addition to the usual leaders, a wide assortment of shares in the oils, tobaccos, textiles, equipments, steels and specialties. Overnight News Cheerful. Several factors contributed to today's evident feeling of optimism and traders with short accounts to cover hastily. Overnight news from abroad was more cheerful, and last night's remarks by E. H. Gary, chairman of the United States Steel Corporation, were construed as a bullish influence.

Buying of the equipments proceeded on a large scale, Baldwin moving up 2 1/2 points, and Pullman advancing two points. Motors and motor accessories also were bought rapidly. Studebaker recording a 1 1/2 point gain, while Stewart Warner gained a similar amount. There were a few individual weak spots. Hydraulic Steel preferred, for instance, losing four points, Atlantic Refinery 5-8 and Eastman Kodak 2-1-8.

After opening somewhat irregular foreign exchange rates improved in reflection, perhaps of the better accord evident between Great Britain and France over German policies. Demand sterling regained the two cents lost yesterday, being quoted at $4.35 1-16 and French francs continued yesterday's advance more than six points to 5.40 3/4 cents. The weekly clearing house statement showed an increase of $57,770,000 in loans, discounts and investments, and of $14,597,000 in the reserve of member banks in the federal reserve bank. Net demand deposits increased by $88,431,000 and time deposits gained $7,388,000. There was a slight decrease in circulation. Aggregate reserve totaled $524,744,000, leaving excess reserve of $13,005,830, an increase of $2,897,300 over the previous week.

WOMEN TO HAPPY NOW:—They tell me they are not so happy as they were. But Friedrich Wilhelm, German, is a man who is not worrying right now. He is enjoying every minute of his life. It is to see him with his fraulein, the former Crown Princess, as he happily surveys his old stamping ground at Castle of Silesia.

IN HIS HOME:—Charles L. Gray, manager of the Grand Hotel, is shown here in his comfortable New York City home. They don't seem to be worried.

STUDY, EVERYBODY THREAT:—A fellow student is not offering down a loan, or an extra dime when he is told to do so. The schoolbooks were 1 to the box, and the student is not so sure of his earnings for a while work. Many an old man is earning an extra dime on his shoe. The first of the band of Charles of Police William II, Secretary of Justice, was in the morning is not in the morning. And next to his is the first of the band of Charles.

DAVID AND GOLIATH:—Here is the long and short of it in the eighth grade in St. Baro's School in Mishawaka, Ind. Homer Hallaert, left, is only 14, but he is more than six feet tall and weighs over 200 pounds. Yet his playmate, Karl Petrov, a boy of his own age, is a diminutive little fellow. Homer is developing into quite a football player.

SERVICE:—When a coffin-maker in La Paz, capital of Bolivia, S. A., fills an order he takes it personally to his customer. Photo was taken by a recent visitor in BAC FROM QUAKE ZONE:—Those were strenuous days the American ambassador, Cyrus E. Woods, and his wife went through in Tokyo just after the great earthquake. So now that refugees are all being well cared for, the envoy and his wife have slipped home for a bit of rest. Here they are on their arrival in San Francisco.

IN BANDIT LAIR:—Dr. Russell T. Uhlis (above) of Kansas City, Mo., his wife and Miss Laura McFetridge of Morrisonville, Pa., recently were attacked by bandits in Central Armenia. Peasants rescued the Americans and burned the brigands' camp. Then the robbers attacked the village. After that, the pillagers did battle with soviet troops. Late reports said they still were at large.

"SHITTY," SAID THE COURT:—Laddie Boy has been convicted, he must go to the farm for 30 days. The prosecutor in Cleveland police court has demanded he be sent to the electric chair. But his chief witness, Ruth Brazie, 9, left, and her sister, Grace, 8, testified he was only playing when he bit that little girl.

PERFECT "M":—Miss Katherine Moore, 18-year-old beauty, won $100 and was selected as the "modest" for the New York auto show. She's a perfect 24.

DEBUTANTE:—Miss Katherine Wrenn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry L. Wrenn, will be introduced to Washington society this coming season. She is a popular member of the Junior set.

OLDEST:—Mrs. Cornelia B. Stone, 94, of Texas, is the oldest woman attending the United Daughters of the Confederacy Convention in Washington. She is honorary president general of the organization.

ON BEHALF OF W. W.:—Mrs. Woodrow Wilson received flowers on behalf of her husband, from Mrs. Ella Moss Hussey, of the United Daughters of the Confederacy.

KNICK:—Kniebers have become the garb of the Indian maidens of the Passanaguddy tribe, on the east Maine coast, near Eastport. The style was set by Princess Susan Neptune, 13 (above).

IDOL OF FRENCH TURF—EPINARD:—The question of getting the championship of the three-year-olds is getting complicated. England still thinks Zevyrus would have done much better against Zev under different circumstances. Zev, meantime, has been beaten by In Memoriam. My Own seems to be out of it. New France is to the front with Epinard, one of the greatest sprinters ever to be developed in that country. France thinks Epinard is greater than Zevyrus, the America's best and wants a match race.

SCAR:—Lena Schmidt, well-known German actress, has arrived in this country to play on Broadway.

KEEP OUT OF HER WAY, BIG GAME!—Yes, a bit scared when she saw Bruin ambling toward her and fired. And down went Mister Bear. He weighed 230 pounds.

TWO FAMOUS COUPLES ARRIVE ON THESE SHORES:—Allister, and who finally married Joan Stevens, arrived in New York the other day. This shows the happy young couple on arrival. Prince Felix Youssouf, once reputed to have been the richest man in Russia, and who was said to have had a hand in slaying the man in Russia, and who was said to have had a hand in slaying the man in Russia, has arrived in this country with his wife, the Princess Czar.

"ABANDON SHIP!":—When that cry is heard aboard the Aquatania, things move swiftly. A recent fire-drill showed the life-boats can be completely filled within a half hour. Photo shows the boats about to "pull away" from the ship during one of the drills.

An enlarged stage, an orchestra pit, and better footlight facilities will be obtained at the Manistique high school auditorium, the result of improvements which are being rushed to completion by a crew of carpenters who have been taking advantage of the Thanksgiving vacation to effect the major part of the alterations.

The addition of an orchestra pit at the auditorium fills a long felt need. Formerly, orchestra and accompanists were forced to remain on the stage when playing for an entertainment, or choose the only other alternative of locating down in front of the seats, thus obscuring the view of the stage for a part of the audience.

The new orchestra pit, for which excavations were completed yesterday, will be directly in front of the stage, and has been dropped below the floor level enough so that those in the orchestra pit will not interfere with the audience's view of the stage. In order to make space for the pit, the first row of seats were removed.

The stage proper has also been enlarged, and now extends out for a distance of about six feet, thus doing away with the need of the makeshift extension which has been in use for some time. The new stage front is square instead of rounded, and at the front edge a reflector-lined trench has been prepared for the footlights.

The addition of an orchestra pit and the enlargement of the stage will add much to the convenience of the local auditorium, and make it well equipped for the presentation of lycium numbers, the next one of which is to be given on January 9, by a company of Hawaiians.

82-YEAR-OLD MAN WAS GAME
LAW VIOLATOR

Included among those brought before Justice McKinney at Manistique for alleged violation of the game laws was an 82-year-old hunter from near Shingleton, who was arrested by game wardens Vicens and Thorsen, charged with the serious offense of operating a "set-gun" for deer.

Appearing before Justice McKinney, the aged hunter claimed a defective eye-sight, and said that he had placed the loaded piece in a tree crotch and left it there ready to shoot deer that appeared down the run-way. He also alluded to a string which he had attached to the rifle, and authorities surmised that the rifle really operated as a set-gun, discharged when the quarry came into contact with the string.

Due to the fact that witnesses who had seen the gun in operation were not available, the charge could not be pressed, and after a short investigation of the case the hunter returned to his home. The nature of the offense was such that it would have constituted a circuit court case, and convictions carry a severe penalty.

LOCAL COMPASS
STATION TO BE SOLD BY NAVY

Structure Is a Familiar
Landmark At Lake
Front.

Notice has been received at Manistique regarding the opening of bids on the radio compass station at the water front here, which will be offered for sale this month by the United States navy.

The old compass station is one of the landmarks at the beach, and has not been used for some time. Having no further use for the building, the navy decided to offer it for sale, and bids will be received on December 20. The structure is 9 by 17 feet, with a tower at one end. The property is at present in charge of W. Ottosen, of this city.

Open Harbor Helps
Early Fishermen

The desirability of Manistique as a fishing center in early spring was emphasized by a visit to this city of Capt. Hagen, formerly of Washington Island, and now located at St. Ignace. Mr. Hagen and his party of fishermen made Manistique their headquarters for a time last summer, and will return to this city early next spring to take advantage of Manistique's open harbor, which permits fishermen to begin work much earlier here than at other points along the lake.

The Hagen party plans to spend the early part of the season here, while ice still covers the harbor at St. Ignace.

Alumni Girls Plan
A Cage Schedule

Alumni girls of Manistique high school met at the gymnasium last night for their first basketball practice.

The list of those present included many of the stars of past championship girls' teams, and it is the plan of the young ladies to work out a schedule of games with other girls teams here. Their practices will be held regularly every Saturday.

The guests brought baskets of refreshments with them, and the evening was enjoyably spent. Mr. and Mrs. Halgren were present, with an electric percolator by the guests as a remembrance of the occasion.

Hugh S. Mills of Grand Rapids was a guest at the D. E. Seller home yesterday.

JUST ONE TERM FOR PRESIDENT?

Washington, Dec. 1.—Limit the president of the United States to one term!

One term, preferably of six years' duration, with no possibility of re-election.

Largely because of the death of President Harding, this proposal, which has been up before, has gathered more momentum.

And today a strong sentiment exists in the 68th congress, which is just about to convene, to amend the constitution and bring about this change in our presidential election laws.

On the basis of a referendum just completed for the Press by NEA Service, a large majority of the new Congress seem to favor the measure.

The Reasons.

Letters were written, in the Press poll, to every senator and every representative in the United States. Replies were received from 206.

And this is the result: For the one-term amendment—115. Against the amendment—68. Non-committal or undecided—23.

Various reasons have been given in behalf of this measure, among them that it would make the president independent of politics by relieving him of another campaign; that a six-year term would give the executive more time for a good job; that the unlimited right of re-election is dangerous.

Below the strain of executive responsibility, worry and a man-killing regimen, Warren Harding broke without warning. His tragic end plunged an entire nation in mourning and brought forth the question—

How shall we save our president?

So today, and because President Harding collapsed at the time plans were being made for his next campaign, it is argued that reelected presidents do worry and the strain, the politics and the health-shattering campaigning of a re-election, will leave them free to pay more attention to their real work—and their health.

Majority in Favor.

ON THE RIGHT TRACK.

In perfecting the first organization in this city on Friday for placing registered dairy cows...

National authorities on dairying who recently made a survey of the peninsula have agreed that no section of the United States is better suited to that industry...

I learn also besides that Escanaba has slipped so far down backwards that you have built several miles of new pavements during the past year...

The movement inaugurated by the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce is now wholly altruistic. The businessmen of Escanaba are merely joining with the farmers in furnishing capital for the purchase of pure blooded dairy cattle...

The French are said to have manufactured some giant guns that can bombard Dover from Calais. Another contribution to the peace of Europe.

POOR ESCANABA!

Misery Ray, Nov. 31.—(To the Editor)—Fully knowing my accustomed practice of thoroughly going to the bottomless foundation of every probe I start to investigate...

First I learned that bank deposits in Escanaba is at the highest, most top ebb in the bank of history, which to my mind is the most strikingly impressive evidence of your city's unprosperity...

Money is full of germs and microbes. These increased boys will have to count it. Suppose they would have a cut on their fingers and they would become infected with these germs and get sore hands...

It is a terrible contemplation to take a chance on for the mere sake of increasing bank deposits. You had better not be so prosperous as to have millions of people in your town with sore hands...

Your first white way was bad enough. I can remember recall that every term of circuit court you had two or three cases of fellows that claimed they had got hit on the head and robbed on your highway streets...

You have increasingly raised the sum total of electric light users and encouraged people there by to stay up later at night reading, destroying their health and visionary eyesight...

But worse of all you have been making it so uncomfortable for bootleggers that I know any number of your citizens that has gone to Detroit to make their residential home. You refuse to let a poor but honest lumberjack come in to your city and get robbed of his roll and then go staggering down your street bumping into women and children and enjoying himself...

P. S.—The school teacher says that the Escanaba school population also has growthily increased, but I do not suppose the city administration and the Chamber of Commerce was altogether entirely responsible for that.

Must August I will be seventy at seventy years of age it is not a comfortable thing to think of having your life savings that you worked hard to earn and you have no way to turn when we are young we can go to work and try our own again, but now at age I tried to provide for my old age, and I am in the hands of General Robert A. MRS. MARY A. PHILLIPS, AGED OHIO WOMAN, WHO TELLS A SAD STORY OF LOSSES IN FAKE OIL STOCKS, AND EXCERPT FROM A LETTER WRITTEN BY ANOTHER ELDERLY PERSON.

By Roy J. Gibbons, NEA Service Writer, Ft. Worth Tex., Dec. 1.—Dog That was the traditional maxim, policy and by-word in the game of the piratical promoter...

For a new "suckers" in possessions of some other pirate, a promoter would go to the limit in payment. Jantions in promoter-tenanted buildings were continually bribed to retrieve waste-basket gleanings and bring discarded envelopes containing return addresses—at prices ranging from 10 cents to $5 an envelope...

What the promoter didn't fleece the public out of, his crooked broker accomplice did. Scores of cases are incorporated in the government's evidence, where crooked brokers "sold short" to the tune of hundreds of thousands of dollars on their promoter clients.

Every train, from all points of the compass, brings witnesses into Ft. Worth. And the hotels, once filled with swank oil promoters, now shelter countless evidences of disillusioned humanity, folks who trusted and lost. To rectify all the instances of broken faith and slender savings of lifetime of labor wiped away in a single moment would fill volumes.

But I do particularly remember the tragic story of Mrs. Mary A. Phillips, 66 widow of a Civil War veteran living at Coschocton, O.

Ben't an gray, her face seamed with wrinkles and tottering with rheumatic step, on the witness stand Mrs. Phillips told how she had torn up the carpets of her home to obtain money to buy oil stock.

COUNTRY SQUIRE OF U. S. POLITICS—LOWDEN, ILLINOIS

BY GEORGE BRITT, NEA Service Writer, Oregon, Ill., Dec. 1.—Outstanding country squire among American presidential candidates, Farm management his occupation, cattle breeding his hobby and horseback riding over his own 5000-acre his favorite exercise.

Such is Frank O. Lowden, former Illinois governor, who is hailed as a real farmer even by his neighbors he has been the real "back to the soil" movement for he has returned in both residences and interest to the rustic atmosphere from which he started.

When Lowden bought the first tract of Siniissippi Farm, 25 years ago, he joined the community under the handicap of being a stranger, known as the son-in-law of the Pullman Company magnate and weaned from the soil by years of city law practice.

Practical Farmer—Lowden recognized good advice, and a never-outgrown interest in farming coupled with keen political sense have made him, to the core, a farmer.

Secretary Hoover says there are no steps for loans or other relief work in Germany that this government deems it advisable to take. The announcement brings reassurance. We hear frequent reports and see photographs of German life indicating that some individuals are suffering from lack of sufficient food.

Those who have watched Lowden's campaigning are ready to dispute his fellow townsman who says he isn't a good politician. Comes the memory of a crowded convention hall. The chairman introduced Lowden, a stocky, vigorous clean-cut man who talks clearly, ingratulatingly, with a world of punch.

Lowden first demonstrated practically the advantages of dairy farming on the river ravines, and led to the establishing of a large milk condenser here, in local charities and civic enterprises he took a large share. In county politics he attempted no dictatorship.

Lowden was born in 1861 at Sunrise City, Minn., son of the town blacksmith. It was pioneer country then, and his mother wanted to take him as a baby with her to get the cows for fear the Indians might steal him. The family moved to Hardin county, Iowa, when the boy was 7. There he grew up, teaching school to pay his way through the University of Iowa.

A Tibetan chief who had been educated in England took back a motorcycle, but this so alarmed the elders of his tribe that they demanded that it should be placed in a special shrine and worshipped so that the devils in it should be placated.

THE REVELATIONS OF A PAID COMPANION

BY JANE PHELPS.

MRS. ELLWOOD'S ILLNESS SHORTENS BARTON'S VISIT. Chapter XIX. I returned to my room assuring myself that Barton Ellwood was nothing to me, that his coming made no possible difference. Yet even as I did so, I felt a premonition that his coming meant trouble of some sort.

"You remember Miss Hall, Rita?" she said to him as I entered the room. He was sitting beside her, chatting lazily. "Indeed I do! I have always felt she was my protegee. You remember you asked my advice, and I told you to secure her if you could." He turned to me, the well-remembered cynical smile on his face, and held out his hand.

"How do you do, and are they treating you well?" he asked. "I am very happy with Mrs. Ellwood," I replied, compelled to shake hands with him, or attract Mrs. Ellwood's notice.

"That's fine!" He turned again to his aunt, leaving me free to attend to my duties. I had been needlessly upset. Mollie came to my room before dinner all excited over the advent of her cousin.

"I'll show Larry that I don't have to sit home waiting for him, now that Barton is here," she told me. "He took Nancy Loomis out again last night. I know it was because he was angry with me; but I'll get Barton to give some parties for me, and I'll show Larry that he isn't the only pebble on the beach."

With Guy I soon perceived things were different. In a way he seemed to resent Barton, although he was distantly polite. Mr. Ellwood at all, although a favorite with his aunt, whom he laid himself out to please.

OLD GLORY WAVES WHILE WAYLAND'S BATTLE RAGES

BY NEA Service, WAYLAND, Mich., Dec. 1.—Alaix J. Groesbeck, governor of Michigan, has been forced to effect a temporary truce in the miniature "civil war" which has been raging about the base of Wayland's memorial flagstaff, pride of every one of this village's 1000 inhabitants.

State troopers came to carry out the order. But Village Marshal John Devitt got there ahead of them and had an American flag streaming at the head of the staff. The troopers eyed the flag. Then very carefully they took it down and removed it to the village hall. Marshal Devitt, not to be outwitted, again procured the standard and, before the state officers had returned, again had it blowing to the wind.

Spanish Novelist, "Greater Than Ibanez," Neglected.

BY JAMES W. DEAN.

New York, Dec. 1.—Pio Baroja. I had heard of him, of course, but I had never read any of his stories. He had been acclaimed as Spain's greatest novelist, even greater than Ibanez. And I have read quite a bit, by Ibanez and quite a bit more about him.

The publishers of "Weeds," latest novel by Baroja, wrote to me lamenting the fact that the book had been off the press for weeks, but that they had sold less than 1000 copies. Here is great talent going unappreciated, going, in fact, to waste.

Now, why is Baroja so little read and so little known in America? There are two answers. The first is that Baroja in his writing is entirely unaffected. He doesn't pivot his story on some passing fad or fancy, such as, for instance, rejuvenation through flood treatment.

"Weeds is a story of dreamers, of petty artists, sculptors and writers who are always unable to achieve their dreams because they are lazy. If "Weeds" contains a moral it is that we get in this world only what we earn. But Baroja is not a moralizer. He characterizes his group of aspiring artists as having "all the eccentricities of genius except genius."

Nothing exciting about that geography, is there? Perhaps world acclaim awaits his death. Fame has a way of doing that.

Saxophones, which are now so popular with the musical public, are very sensitive instruments; a sudden draught of cold air may cause them to go flat in tone.

So Marshal Devitt continues reverently to bear the flag to its staff each morning and remove it to the village hall each evening—and says he'll always continue to do so.

Community Leaders Rally To Support Of Boy Scout Movement

PROMINENT CITIZENS TELL HOW SCOUT MOVEMENT HELPS BOYS AND ENTIRE COMMUNITY

Three Counties United In Putting Project Across

It probably isn't necessary to "sell" Scouting to the Escanaba, Gladstone and Manistique communities. Citizens here have had the opportunity to see what Scouting will do and know the great things it can accomplish. Following are some expressions of leading men of the community whose activities touch Scouting from various angles:

No Argument Needed, Says Clergyman

Boy Scouting is a national institution so well established that no lengthy argumentation is necessary to convince the average citizen of its merits. It has the endorsement of all men of prominence in religion, the professions, industries and politics. The good it has done cannot be exaggerated and its potential qualities are beyond calculation. Men who are willing to devote part of their time to fostering this great cause, are moulding characters which when fully developed, will do much for the Church, State and Nation.

RAYMOND G. JACQUES, Nov. 29, 1923.

Chamber of Commerce Point of View

Boy Scouting has incorporated in its program many factors that enter into the upbringing of a red blooded American boy, but certainly one of the most important is the bringing together of men and boys as pals.

How many men looking back can trace their first awakening to the influence of a friend? Boys as well as grown people confide in their friends and the kind of guidance they will receive in the crisis of their lives depends upon the kind of friends in whom they confide.

A boy who is a pal to a virile clean-cut man has a force in his life that is tremendous. Men need the boys' enthusiasm and forward vision; boys need the intimate personal influence of men.

Boy Scouting brings the two together.

(Signed) ORREN I. BANDEEN, Sec'y Escanaba Chamber of Commerce.

School Officials Back Scouting

The Boy Scout movement, because of its wholesome program of all around development and its appeal to all boys, is one of the most effective means yet offered to teachers to make their work count more beyond the confines of the school. The Scout program of interesting activities, the Scout oath of manliness, the Scout law of honor, loyalty, kindness, etc., the motto and slogan, all help perpetuate the ideals of citizenship in the after-school lives of the boys of America.

The Boy Scout organization is democratic, definite, and it teaches a respect for law and authority, while at the same time a distinction of training for leadership is made. All his helps the teacher very materially in her task.

The fact that Scouting offers something to every boy who cares to join one of the troops is of more importance. It reaches those to whom school seems a burden, and by demonstrating the value of an education to them, gives them a greater incentive to do better work. Those whose superabundant but misdirected energy makes them a grave problem to the teacher are interested, trained, and redirected to more worthy ambitions. The timid are made more brave. The "gangster" is allowed to remain in his "gang" to lead it if he is strong enough in character, but the gang to which the Boy Scout belongs is one from which the badness has been removed, and the merits increased.

The Escanaba Scouts have the hearty co-operation of the public schools. The question which needs answer is not "Shall we?" but "How shall we co-operate?" We wish to see the Scout movement extended in Escanaba and thereby assist in accomplishing one of our fondest hopes, that of bringing the community into closer contact with the schools.

Very truly yours, W. E. OLDS, Supt. of Schools.

What The Scoutmaster Thinks About It

I am interested in the BOY SCOUT MOVEMENT because it offers greater opportunities for the development of the boy religiously than does any other movement instituted solely for the boys. It aims to develop the boy physically, mentally and spiritually. The movement is developed on very broad lines so as to embrace all classes, and all creeds. Every boy between the ages of twelve and sixteen should become affiliated with some Boy Scout Troop. The movement is Something that should appeal to all boys as it includes instruction in Safety First, Methods, First Aid, Life Saving, Campercraft, Woodcraft, Patriotism and other subjects and this is accomplished in games and team play which is a pleasure and not work for the boy. The great aim of the Boy Scout Movement is to make every boy a better citizen.

Parents in every community should insist that their boys of scout age join a Boy Scout Troop. I have heard some parents complain that the movement was too militaristic. The organization is neither military nor antimilitary. It is true the scouts are given drills and these activities are not for military tactics. These drills help develop discipline, but are only a small part of the program. With the employment of a paid Scout Executive in this district, Scouting will be placed on a much firmer basis than heretofore and boys of scout age should lose no time in applying for admittance to one of the already organized troops.

W. MOTTEL, Scout Master, Troop 4, Gladstone, Michigan.

Why Parents Back Scout Movement

As a father I am heart and soul for the Boy Scout Organization. It develops character in the boy; Teaches him to be thrifty; Compels recognition of, and obedience to authority so essential in the home and in the citizenship of a Republic. Above all, it teaches a Scout to be reverent. A boy who is reverent will never forget his mother nor his home. In short the boy scout organization is the best I know of to assist a father in the developing of a boy into a good and useful citizen.

G. R. EMPSON.

What Movement Means to Community

If SCOUTING and all it stands for can be brought before the parents of boys of twelve years and older, I will not doubt the wisdom of the expenditure of time and money by many men of Escanaba, Manistique and Gladstone in furthering the movement. To be productive of the good we hope to accomplish among the boys we must ask and depend upon the support and co-operation of the parents.

I would ask the parents of all boys of proper age, if you do not already understand SCOUTING, to ask any Scout official for information, and if properly informed I am sure you will want your boy to join. After he joins keep up YOUR interest in the work, inquire from him what he does at the weekly meetings, see that he attends regularly, and above all notice how he practices at home the lessons taught by the Scout Law and Scout Oath. The Boy Scout Organization is not financially able to buy uniforms, books, provide the entire cost of summer camps, but endeavors to assist the boys to earn and to save for these things. We cannot provide "something for nothing" for them it would not be worth while or appreciated. We receive from local boosters a considerable sum of money each year which is expended for the good of the cause. And over a score of men give hours of time in Leadership and Instruction, with no remuneration except the satisfaction of knowing that they are working for better boyhood and better manhood.

With our new organization covering Delta and Schoolcraft Counties, a Scout Executive devoting his entire time to the work, I feel that SCOUTING will now be given an opportunity to demonstrate that it is something needed in every boy's life and an agent for good that will be felt as the years pass—not only in the life of the boy but in the life of the communities.

JAMES T. JONES, Deputy Scout Commissioner, Gladstone.

Scouting and Church Work Discussed

The Church recognizes in "Scouting" an ally, consecrated to the development of the boy, mentally, physically and spiritually. As such an organization, the Church gives to it its wholehearted support. The Scout oath is the practical application, in the life of the boy of the teaching of the Church. This application is voluntary on the part of the boy, and in its working processes he finds a keen zest and enjoyment. Herein lies the key to its success.

Efficiently-conducted "Scouting" is an asset of incalculable value to every community, yes, to the State and Nation. Voluntarily and happily training himself to be trustworthy, loyal, helpful, friendly, courteous, kind, obedient, reverent, thrifty, brave, clean, and cheerful, the boy develops into that ideal and patriotic citizen, so essential to the safety of the community and the preservation of the Nation.

REV. A. L. ERNEST BOSS, St. Stephen's Episcopal.

A Boy's Viewpoint

BY KRYL BLOOM (Troop No. 1, Escanaba)

WHEN someone asks me why I'm in the Boy Scouts I don't know what to say, I just answer, "Oh, just for the fun of it," and leave it at that. But, coming down to brass tacks, that's not the reason; I can have as much fun outside of scouting as I can in scouting and in some cases more. The real reason, however is hard to say in words. In fact I could use all the words in the dictionary to try and tell you why, and in the end you wouldn't know yet. I don't know just why I'm in it myself except for one thing and I really don't know what that one thing is.

I've gone to some troop meetings and left feeling toward scouting as a thing of the past with me. Next Tuesday I'd stay home and do as I pleased instead of going to the meeting and spending a dry evening doing nothing. The next day however I'd be feeling a little different and every day during the week I'd debate with myself on the question I'd only have Tuesday night come again, only to find me at the meeting.

All I can say as to the reason I'm still in it is that there's a feeling in me, a sort of an other fellow that makes me stick. When I fully decide not to go to the next meeting, the other fellow pops up and makes me change my mind. He convinces me it's the best thing I can do to stick, and the funny part of it is, that other fellow never leaves me, he's with me all the time, and the first break I make against the scouts, he's on my back.

And believe me, I'm glad that fellow and I are inseparable.

SCOUTING REAL "MAN BUILDER"

His Ability to Do Things Give Him Respect of the World

A Scout! He enjoys a hike through the woods more than he does a walk over city streets. He can tell north or south or east or west, by the "signs." He can tie a knot that will hold, climb a tree, swim a river, pitch a tent, mend a tear in his trousers, tell poisonous and which are not, sight nut-bearing trees from a distance, use an ear, name the stars and find his way by them, identify birds, animals and fish, and knows the ways and habits of each.

A Scout can kindle a fire in the forest on the wettest day and he seldom uses more than one match. When nomatches can be had he can still have a fire, for he knows the secret of rubbing sticks used by the Indians, and he knows how to start a blaze with only his knife blade and a piece of flint. He knows, also, the danger of forest fires, and he kindles a blaze that will not spread.

A Scout practices self-control, for he knows that men who master problems in the world must first master themselves. He keeps a close guard on his temper and never makes a silly spectacle of himself by losing his head.

A Scout is kind to everything that lives. He knows that horses, dogs and cats have their rights and he respects them. He is kind to dumb animals. A Scout prides himself upon doing "good turns" and no day in his life is complete unless he has been of aid to some person.

A Scout holds his honor to be his most precious possession, and he would die rather than have it tainted. He knows his duty and all obligations imposed by duty he fulfills of his own free will. His sense of honor is his only taskmaster and his honor he guards as jealously as did the knights of old. In this manner a Scout wins the confidence and respect of all people.

Rotarians Believe In Scout Advancement

The motto of Rotary is "Service Before Self." Rotary endeavor to exemplify this motto in Community, in Group, and in Individual Service. Rotary endorses and supports Scouting because in it lies the opportunity for the most effective service that can be rendered in the community in the right training and development of its future manhood and citizenship. Roosevelt once said: "If you are going to do anything permanent for the average man you have got to begin before he is a man. The chance of success lies in working with the boy and not with the man." No field offers a larger opportunity for service than Boy's Work, or promises greater and more far-reaching results. Scouting is intelligent and active work according to a definite program which will develop the boy into a representative citizen. Hence Rotary's hearty endorsement and support.

The Scoutmaster

BY EDGAR A. GUEST.

There isn't a day for you, you serve without reward. The boys who tramp the fields with you but little could afford, yet your pay is richer far than men who toll for gold. For in a dozen different ways your service shall be told.

You'll read it in the faces of a troop of growing boys, You'll read it in the pleasure of a dozen manly joys, And down the distant future you will surely read it then, Embellished through the service of a band of loyal men.

Five years of willing labor and of brothing a troop, Five years of trading highways, with the Indian cry and whoop, Five years of camp fires burning, not alone for pleasure's sake, But the future generation which these boys are soon to make.

They have no gold to give you, but when age comes on to you They'll give you back the splendid things you taught them how to do, They'll give you rich contentment and a thrill of honest pride, And you'll see your nation prosper, and you'll all be satisfied. SCOUT JURY GIVES VERDICT IN COURT

What, so far as memory serves, is the first jury composed entirely of Boy Scouts (or for that matter, of boys at all was recently selected by Judge Henry Brennan of Casper, Wyoming, to hear the case against three boys who had bombarded automobilists with hard candy mints which they had bought and could not eat. The Scout jury, in finding the boys guilty, urged that they be compelled to attend school and during the school year, to judge and to serve such immediate sentence as the Court saw fit. Judge Brennan thanked the Scouts for their jury service and used the incident to urge the utmost co-operation with the Movement because of its training for good citizenship.

ARCHERY CHAMPION IS HARD PRESSED BY SCOUT

In the recent Eastern States archery tournament held in Jersey City, which is said to be practically the same thing as a national tournament, as most of the national archers shoot in this tournament, a Boy Scout of Troop 1, Rome, New York, Rudolph Lagal, finished second in a contest with Dr. Elmer, national champion since 1914, and won the gold medal for the double American round. Dr. Elmer made a new Eastern States record with a total of 179 hits in a score of 1,024. Lagal made 175 hits in a score of 991. A Boy Scout from Wayne, William Palmer, won third place in the tournament. The Scouts from Rome and Wayne were the only boys in the tournament, all the rest of the entries being men. Lagal,

BY GILBERT A. COTTON. (Head of Two-County Council.)

To the people of Delta and Schoolcraft counties: The Boy Scout work has been consolidated in your counties by employing a scout executive who has direct charge of all activities in Escanaba, Manistique, Gladstone and the smaller centers of Nahma, Rapid River, Masonville, etc.

The individual scout councils of Escanaba, Manistique and Gladstone do not in any way lose their own organization. The various standing committees and executive councils have the direct management of Scout functioning in each of these communities as before.

In direct charge of the two county organization is a council consisting of twelve members—four each from Escanaba, Manistique and Gladstone. This council employs the Scout executive and approves his program.

Executive Necessary. A trained Scout executive is absolutely necessary to any progressive Scout organization and the three councils adopted unanimously the two-county idea, feeling that by so doing, a capable Scout executive could be employed to direct Scout activities.

While Scouting has been carried on in Gladstone without trained supervision, and in Manistique with but a Scout executive for summer camp, both of these cities realized that if they were to continue efficiently in Scouting some such arrangement as provided for by the Delta-Schoolcraft council would have to be constituted for none of the cities could carry the financial burden alone.

The two county council will also be helpful through the Scout executive in assisting isolated troops in the smaller places in the counties.

Gymnasiums Provides.

In Escanaba one of the main handicaps to the success of Scouting has been the lack of suitable meeting places through the efficient leadership of Mr. W. E. Olds, troop reorganization will be provided, in which the boys can play athletic games in connection with their meetings.

We have been very fortunate in having secured as our Delta-Schoolcraft executive, Mr. Gordon C. Adams, who comes to us excellently qualified in boys' work. In the short time he has been in the field, a definite program has been established, meeting places and adult leadership secured.

Scouting is not only officially recognized by the national government, but is also a part of the community obligation to boyhood. Its aim is to develop the character, body and mind of the boy during those years when he is susceptible to influences both good and bad.

Support Needed.

In soliciting the continuance of your moral and financial support, we wish to restate the fact that your local scout organization will continue to function in your own city and your support of it will be helpful to Scouting, not only in your own city but also in the Delta-Schoolcraft Council.

BOY SCOUT SURGERY SAVES WOMAN WITH ARTERY CUT

Mrs. W. E. Graves of 64 South Street, Jamaica, cut an artery in her hand the other day and was unable to get a doctor. Michael Salucka, 12, a Boy Scout, went to her rescue. Fragments of a broken glass jar had been thrown into an rubbish can, and when Mrs. Graves plunged her hand into the can the bits of glass slashed her wrist in three places, one gash being an inch long and another two inches long. Blood issued in stream. Salucka seized his handkerchief and a stick and made a tourniquet, which he twisted around the arm and held for an hour until a doctor arrived. Mrs. Graves was taken to Jamaica Hospital, where it was said that but for the prompt action of Salucka she would have bled to death.

who is said to be a phenomenal boy archer, will compete in the National Archery Tournament to be held in Chicago in August.

Presidents Back Scout Movement in United States

Scouting has the unequalled approval of the nation's statesmen. Men high in public life have urged its extension and development. Some expressions follow:

THEODORE ROOSEVELT— "The Boy Scout movement is distinctly an asset to our country for the development of efficiency, virility and good citizenship. It is essential that its leaders be men of strong, wholesome character, of unmistakable devotion to our country, its customs and ideals, as well as in soul and by law citizens thereof, whose wholehearted loyalty is given to this nation alone."

WOODROW WILSON— "I have the most sincere sympathy with the Boy Scout movement, and whenever I see a group of these boys I feel proud of their manliness and cheered by the knowledge of the fine things which their organization represents."

WARREN G. HARDING— "I am with the Boy Scout movement heart and soul. I wish every boy in our America could have the advantage and honor of being in the Boy Scout organization and of learning therein that co-operation, justice, the customs of fair play and the gentleness of good manners make for peace and growth & distinguished from the results of disorganization and selfishness and cowardice which lead to contentions and conflict."

CALVIN COOLIDGE— "I regard the work of the Scouts as an ideal mode of citizenship development and character construction. Both of my boys are scouts, and my observation of the benefits they have derived from affiliation has strengthened my conviction of the organization's usefulness."

ALVIN PARSLEY— "All America is proud of the Boy Scouts. Scout ideals of the brotherhood of man, of citizenship, of character, have won the Legion's firmest support and esteem. I believe the day is not far off when every one of the 12,000 Legion posts will sponsor all east ones out troop and thus actively participate in scouting's work for democracy, tolerance and true Americanism."

GENERAL PERSHING— "I would not introduce military discipline or training into the Boy Scout program if I could. Scouting teaches boys to be good citizens, any man who is a good citizen will make a good soldier in time of peril."

JUDGE VICTOR J. ARNOLD OF CHICAGO— "Fifty thousand boy scouts judiciously placed in this great city would put the Delinquent Department of the Juvenile Court out of business."

BY JUDGE HENRY HORNER, PROBATE COURT OF COOK COUNTY— "Every right thinking citizen is concerned in the problem of how to build a succeeding generation, imbued with a vibrant spirit of right doing and right living. Permanency in our form of government and in the American ideal requires this. Boy Scouting is helping in solving that problem."

"Scouting instills in our boys the essentials of manliness and good citizenship. It develops the boy mentally, physically, and socially. It vitalizes the hope and ambition of young America. It puts more blue in their sky, more laughter in their voices and more vitality in their character, than all the preaching they have ever heard."

"We owe this opportunity to the boyhood of America."

BOY WANTED FOR IMPORTANT POSITION

He must have a clean face and clean heart. He need not know how to roll a cigarette (pill) nor how bootleg liquor smells or tastes—and if he is not up-to-date on dirty language and stories his ignorance will be overlooked. He must be a boy who treats his mother and sister and every other boy's mother and sister with absolute respect, and he need not refer to his mother and father as the "old lady" and "old man."

He need not be brilliant at school, but he must be studious—always persevering; never a cheat or sneak; for the world hates them; always mastering each problem as he meets it. He must be prompt, obedient, truthful, industrious. His "school spirit" must be as unselfish as it is content, and he must make his employers' interests his interests.

This boy is wanted everywhere—in law, in medicine, in Municipal, State and National service—newspapers want him and merchants spend money to find him. The people who pay his salaries have plenty of room for him. The whole old calls for such a boy—CAN YOU FILL THE JOB?

AT THE DELFT.

Directing a director! It's not many directors who get such an assignment. Therefore, in "Hollywood," James Cruze stands distinctive, as Cecil B. De Mille is one of the most notable players in this unique screen novelty which discloses nearly a score of the most famous persons in filmdom.

Mr. Cruze found his director-player exceedingly easy to handle, however, for long before he became a director Cecil B. De Mille was a stage player, his last success being sixteen years ago in "The Prince Chap."

Mr. Cruze filmed Mr. De Mille playing himself, in other words signing players to a contract in his famous office in the presence of members of his staff. Thus for the first time the world will be shown the famous room in which Pola Negri, Thomas Meighan, Gloria Swanson, William S. Hart, Agnes Ayres and many others were changed in a minute from leading players to famous stars.

"Hollywood," which was written by Frank Condon and adapted for the screen by Tom Gresham, comes to the Delft theatre Monday for three days. It shows the experience of ambitious persons trying to become film players, it flashes Hollywood's boulevards on the screen, the luncheon places, Hollywood Hotel and scores of other places made famous by the most talked of city in the world. It is a James Cruze production for Paramount.

AT THE STRAND.

With characters resembling Dickens in curiousness, "Atlas The Night Wind" comes to the Strand theatre for 3 days, opening Monday. William Russell and a big surrounding cast interpret the character inventions of Varick Varaday.

The chief difference between the characters of "Atlas The Night Wind" and Dickens is that the latter operated in London, while these move life-like in a great American Metropolis.

The outstanding character is that of Bing Howard, later called "The Night Wind." He is a young man of athletic ability who is wrongfully accused of stealing $100,000 in bonds. Compelled to flee from justice, he haunts the lowest dives of humanity.

In the cast are Maude Wayne, Charles K. French, Mark Fenton, Donald McDonald, Jack Miller, Chas. Wellesley and Wade Boteler.

Robert Luce, representative in Congress of the Thirteenth Massachusetts district, born at Auburn, Mo., 61 years ago today.

1922—The 17-year-old deposed Emperor of China was married at Peking.

KNOW YOUR CITY

Escanaba's Health Department Established In Well Equipped Quarters, Is Very Busy Place

(The first of a series of articles about the various departments of the city government. The second, dealing with the municipal utilities accounting department, will appear next Sunday.)

Completion of the new sidewalk and the outside entrance to the basement of the city hall last week, gave Escanaba's municipal department of health the most spacious, best arranged and most completely equipped department of its kind in this section. The city administration believes the basement of the city hall has been remodeled to provide a waiting room, a private office, an operating room and a spacious laboratory, where formerly there was the old voting place and the break storage room.

Believing that the health of the people is one of the most important considerations of an efficient administration, the council and the officials have paid special attention to the city's "health center." The equipment used in the state-city clinic work, and the laboratory where city water, samples of the milk supply, and the other regular tests are made, is the most modern and efficient possible to procure.

Modern Equipment.
Probably no health department in a city of similar size in the entire country has a better laboratory. There are a centrifugal milk testing device of the latest design, a new model bacteria incubator, a small still for tests of water, and of liquor brought in by the health department for analysis, and dozens of other devices and "scientific machines," for sterilizing, analyzing and "disease bug" hunting.

The health department is one of the busiest branches of the city government. Its check-up of contagious diseases and supervision of quarantine; clinical work in venereal diseases; activity along infant hygiene and pre-natal clinical lines in cooperation with the federal government; the monthly tuberculosis clinics and the large amount of work leading up to these visits of Dr. I. W. Toney of the Powers sanatorium; milk and cream inspection; sanitary inspection of restaurants and the issuing of permits to work in public eating houses; street and alley inspections; fumigations; daily analysis of the water supply; treatment given in connection with the city's poor department and medical treatment to city employes, are some of the duties.

In addition, Dr. H. J. Defnet, city health commissioner, is arranging to launch a campaign against diphtheria, in cooperation with the insurance companies which issue policies on children, and is preparing to work with the school authorities in a goat eradication drive.

Some Routine Duties.
The following extracts from Dr. Defnet's monthly report for October give a sketchy idea of the wide field covered by his department:

"Communicable diseases: During the month the chief diseases and number were as follows: Diphtheria 12 cases, scarlet fever 3 cases, whooping cough two cases, chicken pox 1 case, pneumonia 1 case. This is a very limited number of cases at this season. The difficulty of quarantine and the objection to same is gradually becoming a negligible factor although in one instance during the month it was necessary to call the chief of police to administer antitoxin to three children in one family who refused to allow their family physician to do so, in spite of the fact that they had been sick for almost two weeks with diphtheria and were possibly the most severe cases to come under the care of the health department for some months. One case resulted fatally; two had uneventful recoveries.

The three cases of scarlet fever were mild cases in two instances, the other was complicated with diphtheria at the same time but uneventful recovery was made in all cases."

"The venereal disease branch of the service occupies a considerable portion of the department's time each month. Thirty cases were under treatment in October. These cases made a total of 227 office calls for males and 61 office calls for females. Two cases were hospitalized at their own expense and operative services furnished them.

Inspection Work.
"Milk and Cream Inspection: In general the grade of milk furnished by the local creameries is excellent. In the past month but a single exception to this was found and has been corrected with a warning of revocation of license on repetition. Three tests are being carried out on each sample. Fitz sedem entation, bacterial count per C. C., and a quantitative analysis."

"Sanitary Inspection: Seventy-one restaurant employes were given physical examinations and issued permits to work in restaurants and hotels. One bath house and one restaurant and boarding house were closed for 48 hours for the purpose of rendering the places sanitary."

"The first week of each month is spent in inspection of alleys, outhouses, garbage dumps, etc., with the assistance of the police department. Conditions for this month are reported as only satisfactory. Twelve outhouses were ordered cleaned and have already been finished. A survey of every outhouse in the city is under way with a view to eliminating them all, if the council will pass an ordinance to that effect.

Other Duties.
"The fumigation of nine buildings was carried out by the department during October."

"Daily analysis of city water supply was made as a check on the pumping station. Water was found to be uniformly very good. "The city poor department made a total of 36 calls on the health department for assistance and the public utilities a total of sixteen.

"One abandoned baby was cared for at the hospital and adoption arranged for on its recovery."

The report also deals with the infant hygiene and pre-natal clinics, a new branch in cooperation with the federal government which Dr. Defnet reports "is just beginning to function." Seven cases were treated during October. The tuberculosis clinics, on the first Tuesday of each month, is progressing with satisfactory results, and cooperation with the school nurse in school health matters also requires a great deal of time.

The department has recommended to the council that a campaign, in cooperation with the schools, be carried on to eliminate goitre by the administration of chocolate-iodine tablets. Since nearly half of the girls in the Escanaba schools have goitres, this campaign promises to take on considerable proportions.

The remarkable decrease in the number of diphtheria cases in the city this year, as compared with previous years, the department believes is almost entirely due to the use of preventative measures, and the vaccination drive of two years ago almost entirely abolished small pox here.

"Escanaba citizens have every reason to be proud of their municipal health department, its personnel, equipment and efficiency," said one man, high in administrative circles yesterday. "I don't think it can be surpassed in a city of similar size, anywhere in the entire country."

Opponents of the "one buck" law are pointing to the present season as an example of the failure of the restrictions to save the deer. Buck-law backers, on the other hand, declare that the limit thus placed on the kill has done a great deal towards keeping the deer population at its present level and that without the one-buck restriction, there would be a still greater shortage.

Some Other Views.
Wolves and predatory animals undoubtedly have had their effect on the number of deer. So have forest fires in some parts of the peninsula.

There is to be found, also, a large number of veterans who believe that the deer supply really is not diminishing and that the season "just happened to be a bad one."

Time, perhaps, aided by the arguments about the stoves this winter, may solve the problem. Profiteers were charging so hard when the armistice was signed they haven't been able to stop yet.

DEER LICENSES FOR SALE CHEAP

Season Not a Record Breaker in This Part of Peninsula.

FOR SALE—Second hand deer license, good as new, used very little. Might consider trade for venison steak or what have you?

It wasn't a successful deer season for most of the hunters in this part of the country. Fewer deer were killed, old time woodsmen say, than have been taken for many years. When it closed at midnight Friday, there opened an argument about the causes—direct and contributory—for the shortage, which promises to last all winter.

Opinions Vary Widely.
The state department of conservation declares that there are more deer in Michigan than ever. The department's views are not shared, however, by a large group of men in close touch with the game situation. These men assert that the upper peninsula's venison stores are rapidly being depleted and that steps for a closed season will have to be taken if deer are not entirely wiped out within a few years.
