

COOLIDGE-M'ADOO WIN SOUTH DAKOTA

A NEW LINEUP ONLY WAY OUT FOR CONGRESS

CONSERVATIVES TO UNITE AGAINST RADICALS.

BY DAVID LAWRENCE. (Copyright, 1923, by The Escanaba Press) Washington, Dec. 4.—Coalition government—a new lineup of conservatives from the republican and democratic parties as against the radical groups—is the only possible way out of the chaos in which congress finds itself today.

The legislative program will either be a fizzle due to deadlocks and insurgency or else a temporary fusion of democrats and republicans will be made necessary on major questions. Congress has before it a number of important tasks which ordinarily would occupy the attention of both houses for more than a year. Obviously much of the program will not even be touched but it is too early to be sure of what will be given priority.

At present writing the following would seem to be the principal items on the program: First: The usual appropriation bills. These will provoke many controversies especially since an effort will be made to cut even further the estimates of expenditures by the executive departments.

Second: Tax revision. There is unanimity on the proposal to reduce the taxes of persons of incomes below $10,000. This can not be done, however, without providing revenue to take the place of the amounts lost by reducing smaller incomes. To obtain the new revenue, the Treasury declares surtaxes should be cut. The radicals think surtaxes should be retained at the present scale and other levies made besides such as excess profits taxes. There is a disposition to increase the rate on inheritance taxes.

Treaties Before Senate. Third: Treaties before the senate. The general and special claims conventions negotiated with Mexico will encounter little opposition but already there are evidences that a one-third bloc will endeavor to prevent the ratification of the proposed rum pact with Great Britain whereby British ships can bring into American ports liquor under seal and American coast guard vessels can pursue rum runners flying the British flag for twelve miles out. The "wets" will line up against this treaty as will many senators who think the American Merchant Marine will be put at a disadvantage. Then there are also the senators who think the constitution can not be superseded by a treaty of this kind and that the decision of the supreme court of the United States recently announced would be contradicted by the treaty. It is a legal point on which authorities differ. The total opponents may be sufficient to block ratification as two thirds are necessary to adopt the pact. There may be a fight also over the proposed treaty with Turkey negotiated at Lausanne, as the sympathizers with the Greeks are lining up against it.

Fourth: The World Court proposal may never come out of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee but if it does it will start a lengthy fight. Senator Lodge, republican leader, would like to bury it in committee. He may succeed, unless the democrats make a motion to discharge the committee.

Transportation Act. Fifth: Efforts will be made to amend the Transportation Act to obtain the repeal of the so-called "guarantee" clause but the chances at present are that the move will not succeed as the combination of conservatives can prevent it.

Sixth: Immigration legislation is always on the calendar though this time there will be pressure both from the people who want the law amended to admit more aliens and those who want it restricted and measures taken ahead to keep undesirable from emigrating. This is not a party question but it is liable to be lost in the shuffle of partisan disputes.

House Deadlock On Speaker Broken By Agreement

FACES TRIAL

Soon the country again will see the spectacle of a governor of one of its states being arraigned for trial in a criminal court. This time, it is Indiana's chief executive, Warren T. McCray, who's "in Dutch." Eight separate indictments charging him with embezzlement, forgery, larceny, issuing of fraudulent check and false pretenses have been returned against him by the Marion County grand jury at Indianapolis.

MARX FACING HARDEST TASK

TELLS GERMANY CABINET IS FOR UNITY OF NATION.

Berlin, Dec. 4.—One of the many obstacles to the government's proposed "authorization law" was removed this evening when the socialists, from whom chief opposition was expected in the Reichstag, resolved, after a long party debate, not to obstruct the bill, which would empower the Reich government to carry out such financial, economic and social measures as it deems essential and urgent. The vote was 74 to 75, but it carried with it the provision that approval of the Reichstag's standing committee must be secured before hand.

The Reichstag had a large attendance today on the occasion of the initial appearance before it of Wilhelm Marx, the new chancellor, and his cabinet. During the chancellor's address he received only a few interruptions from the opposition. For Unity Alone. In introducing his government, the chancellor said it was neither against the right nor the left, but that it was against all who wished to rob the German people of what remained to it, namely, the unity of the nation. In the domain of finance the chancellor declared the government faced a task unparalleled in the history of the world and the German people must realize that if it was not to sink into a hopeless whirlpool of destruction the hour had come to make the greatest sacrifices.

HALF MILLION TO BE SPENT ON NORMAL HALL

Lansing, Mich., Dec. 4.—The state administrative board today tentatively approved the construction next spring of a half million dollar normal training building for the Michigan State Normal College at Ypsilanti. The 1921 legislature made an appropriation of $754,000 for the structure. The project has been held up for two years on account of high building costs. Today upon the recommendation of Superintendent of Public Instruction Thomas E. Johnson, the board authorized the state building department to prepare estimates and tentatively approved plans to acquire building materials this winter so that work can be started early in the spring. The building will probably be erected for less than the appropriation, Mr. Johnson said.

THREE BILLS GO IN HOPPER AS AN OPENER

SPECIAL SESSION OF LEGISLATURE GETS UNDER WAY.

(By The Associated Press.) Lansing, Mich., Dec. 4.—The 52nd legislature convened here this afternoon in special session, to consider reapportionment of the state's legislative districts. It was in session only long enough to listen to a message from the governor urging the members to obey the constitutional mandate which requires reapportionment this year, and to record the introduction of three measures in the house and one in the senate.

The disposition of the assembly was made apparent within a few minutes after it convened. Many of the outstate members are frankly indifferent to reapportionment. They will be satisfied, they admitted, if no bill is passed. Members of the strong outstate bloc which stood behind the gasoline tax and other measures which were opposed by the Wayne delegation in the regular session, let it be known that they would be willing to go home without reapportionment and wait until 1926, when a constitutional convention may be held. The present system of apportionment they argue, is wrong. They hope to secure amendments to the constitution if a convention is held, which would place apportionment on a citizenship basis, rather than a population basis, and limit the representation of a single county might gain no matter how great its citizenship.

Wayne Out to Fight. On the other hand, the Wayne members are out to secure added representation for their county. But many of them admit that the senate will never pass a measure giving Wayne its official quota, and express doubts that a constitutional measure can be enacted in the house. The situation appears to be running true to predictions made before the session convened, that the assembly either will not change the apportionment or will enact a measure giving Wayne probably 18 or 20 more representatives and seven senators, which in the belief of members and state officials would be declared invalid if it reached the courts. The expected flood of bills did not materialize, members said, because they are willing to stand by and wait for the apportionment committee to report out compromise measures which might pass. The outstater are supremely indifferent whether they pass or not.

Representative Charles Evans, of Lenawee, one of the leaders of the gasoline tax in its regular session, is among those who believe that the constitution should be altered to make citizenship the basis for apportionment. Three Bills Offered. Two of the bills in the lower branch today, and the one submitted in the senate, were conceded little chance of consideration. One of the house bills was by Representative John B. Corliss, of Detroit. It suggested that the membership be cut from 100 to 64, and rearrange the counties accordingly. Another was by Representative William O. Lee, of St. Clair. It provided 23 representatives for Wayne, but split the rest of the state up in a manner in which even Wayne members admitted would nullify the act, if it were passed. The third, by Representative Rolle L. Lewis, of Charlevoix, was generally accepted as about the type of bill that will be adopted, if any is accepted by the assembly. It provided 18 for Wayne, five for Kent, Genesee (Continued On Page Seven.)

More Than 600 Bills Already In The Hopper

(By The Associated Press.) Washington, Dec. 4.—Bills continued to flow into the house of representatives' hopper today although they cannot be introduced and printed until organization is completed. Most of the more than 600 which had been listed tonight were measures which had failed of action last session and about half were private in nature. Five bills dealing with proposed new immigration laws or amendments were filed.

STOCK THEFT OF BIG PROPORTION COMES TO LIGHT

Ajax Rubber Co. Victim of Former Secretary.

(By The Associated Press.) New York, Dec. 4.—William J. Jackson, former secretary of the Ajax Rubber company, was indicted late today charged with the theft of 25,000 shares of stock in the company, valued at $175,000. Police of San Antonio, Tex., have been asked to arrest him.

Theft of the stock, for which other indictments also are being sought, was discovered today when 5,000 shares, bearing the forged signatures of two company officials, were presented for transfer to a Wall Street firm. The indictment charges that Jackson sent the 5,000 shares from San Antonio to the offices of Simmons and Company, brokers, to negotiate a loan. Share Book Disappears. Jackson was secretary of the company until last August when he resigned because of friction with other officials. It was charged that soon after he left the company, it was learned that a book of shares of the company had been stolen, but the theft was not made public until today.

When Simmons and Company received the shares from San Antonio they took them to the Central Union Trust Company, the transfer agent. There it was discovered that the signature "E. W. Berry," on behalf of the transfer agent, apparently was a forgery. An investigation developed that while no certificates of stock of the Ajax Rubber Company, which had been regularly issued, contained numbers above 14,000, the lowest number on the stock certificates sent from San Antonio was 16,314. Officers of the company noticed that not only the signature of the transfer agent but also signatures of officers of the company were forgeries.

20,000 Shares Missing. It was learned that among the witnesses who appeared against Jackson before the grand jury today was E. W. Berry, of the Central Union Trust Company, who declared he did not sign the certificates. "What has become of the other 20,000 shares that were stolen is not known, but it is believed some of them may have been deposited with other bankers as collateral for loans. Theft of the stock was declared to be the first operation of any magnitude against the financial district since last summer's sensational attempt to flood the market with fake buying orders for several well known stocks. This effort caused a considerable flurry among the stocks affected.

GONE TO MEXICO.

San Antonio, Tex., Dec. 4.—William J. Jackson, former secretary of the Ajax Rubber Company of Akron, Ohio, indicted by a grand jury in New York and charged with the theft of 25,000 shares of Ajax Rubber Stock, valued at $175,000, was last seen in San Antonio Saturday night, according to city detectives. New York has asked the local officials to apprehend Jackson. No trace of the fugitive has been found by local officers. They are working on the theory that he went to Mexico, it being found that he made a trip there several weeks ago.

Section Men On Ford Railroad Start Rioting

(By The Associated Press.) Detroit, Dec. 4.—The police of Springwells, a suburb, armed with sawed-off shotguns and riot guns, were called to disperse a crowd of 150 section workers of the Detroit, Toledo and Ironton Railroad, at the Ford River Rouge blast plant, today when the laborers refused to go to work after a disagreement with officials over their time. The men gathered in front of the office and many angry voices were raised. Some one started to throw stones and within a twinkling of an eye a general barrage of stones was directed at the office. A shot call was sent in to the Springwells police. When six officers arrived they found the men appeased by company officials and willing to return to their homes.

GILLETT WILL BE REELECTED WITHOUT ROW

WAY IS PAVED FOR ADDRESS TO CONGRESS.

(By The Associated Press.) Washington, Dec. 4.—An arduous under which the sixty-eighth congress may be organized tomorrow was agreed upon tonight by leaders of the Republican insurgent and regular organizations in the house. Under this agreement, Gillett, of Massachusetts, whose re-election as speaker has been blocked for two days by the insurgents, is to be returned to office. This would clear the way for President Coolidge to deliver his first annual message to congress on Thursday.

Announcement of the agreement came late tonight after a conference between Representative Longworth, of Ohio, the organization leader, and Representative Nelson, of Wisconsin; Representative Woodruff of Michigan, and Representative LaGuardia, of New York. Mr. Nelson and his colleagues said they could not speak for the progressive bloc but would recommend its abandonment of the fight on Gillett. In the voting today there was no wavering by insurgents, regulars or Democrats. The ballot stood: Garrett 198; Gillett 197; Cooper 17; Madden 5. The first ballot yesterday showed: Gillett 198; Garrett 195; Cooper 17; Madden 5.

While the house continued its fight, the senate could only twiddle its thumbs. It met at noon, heard the invocation and adjourned. The session lasted three minutes. Signs of Armistice. The first signs of armistice negotiations between Republican regulars and insurgents in the senate came in a statement issued by Representative Longworth, of Ohio, the majority leader immediately after adjournment. He made the declaration that "the house will have complete opportunity to adopt such rules as the majority may desire."

The demand of the insurgents has been that the house have this opportunity. After this statement had been published, leaders of the progressive bloc announced that they had arranged for a conference with Mr. Longworth on his statement "at least until after any possible ambiguities have been removed."

A statement on the rules situation also was issued on behalf of the Democrats. Representative Garrett of Tennessee, their leader, declared that when the time came for consideration of the rules by which the house is to be governed, "we shall have some definite concrete proposals by way of amendments." With the speaker's chair still vacant, and Clerk William Tyler Peck presiding at the reading desk, the house resumed its battle of ballots shortly after it convened at noon. The galleries again were crowded, but as the (Continued on page seven)

Southern Bishop At Death's Door

(By The Associated Press.) Little Rock, Ark., Dec. 4.—Hope for the recovery of Bishop James Atkins of the Methodist Episcopal church, south, who was stricken with paralysis last night, was abandoned late today when the attending physician stated the end might be expected at any time.

Fisher Body Co. To Build Glass Works

(By The Associated Press.) Detroit, Dec. 4.—Building of two new plate glass manufacturing plants, which are expected to result in the Fisher Body Company being able to supply its own demands for this material, was announced tonight by Charles T. Fisher, vice president of the corporation.

Preferred Stock Offered Today

(By The Associated Press.) New York, Dec. 4.—An offering of 5,000 shares of East Pennsylvania Electric Company first preferred 7 per cent cumulative stock will be made tomorrow. The stock will be sold at $33.50 per share and accrued dividends to yield about 7.50 per cent.

New York Comes To Bat With The Usual Number Of Crimes

(By The Associated Press.) New York, Dec. 4.—Two mysterious slayings, one bearing evidence of vengeance wrought by members of a black hand society, the other a tragedy of the hazardous bootlegging game, were high spots today in a period of criminal activity in which rum runners, high jackers, holdup men, pick pockets, burglars and forgers took part.

Detroit Girl Weds Saturday; Widow Today

(By The Associated Press.) Detroit, Dec. 4.—The marriage of Marguerite Isman to Horace P. Belden, in the sun parlor of a local hospital where Belden was confined because of illness, ended today when Mrs. Belden took the body of her husband to Hamilton, Ontario, for burial. Belden, who was married while confined to his bed last Saturday, died at noon today, less than 72 hours after he had been married.

DELAY ACTION UNTIL DEC. 21

Walton Criminal Trials To Start Just Before Christmas.

(By The Associated Press.) Oklahoma City, Okla., Dec. 4.—Criminal proceedings against former Governor J. C. Walton for alleged offenses during his tenure of office were delayed in district court here today until December 21. The court set that date for hearing Walton's motion to quash the six indictments in which he is charged with diverting state funds to his own use and prohibiting an assembly of the state legislature.

Representative Guy H. Sigler of Ardmore, was ordered to trial by the lower house of the legislature today after the house had accepted a report of its investigating committee charging Sigler with bartering in executive clemency and asking his expulsion from the assembly. The trial will start tomorrow. In the committee resolution he is charged with using his official influence to obtain pardons and paroles for which he accepted large fees.

Klan Issue Up.

With consideration of anti-Ku Klux Klan legislation made a special order of business tomorrow, Sigler's trial is expected to share interest with the Klan issue. Charges upon which Charles H. Ruth, supreme court commissioner, was impeached by the lower house were thrown out today when the senate court of impeachment held that the house had no authority to impeach him. Ruth also had been charged with bartering in executive clemency. The impeachment court sustained his contention that it had no jurisdiction he is not an elective official.

Amundsen Satisfied With Maud's Drift

(By The Associated Press.) Christiana, Dec. 4.—Commenting today on a message received from the Arctic exploration ship Maud, giving the position of the vessel on December 1, Roald Amundsen, the noted explorer, said he was quite satisfied with the vessel's drift. He believed it was moving swifter and that it would drift straight toward the North Pole when it reached the New Siberian Islands.

Man Thought Dead Decides To Live

(By The Associated Press.) New York, Dec. 4.—George Homan who police believed had set out in an open boat to meet his death on the high seas because of domestic difficulties, was found muddled walking along the beach at Rockaway Point tonight. He was taken home.

Chess League Head Dies In New York

(By The Associated Press.) Brentwood, N. Y., Dec. 4.—William M. Dovesier, president of the Metropolitan Chess League and for years prominent in national chess circles, died today. When you get your feet wet buy a handkerchief.

Johnson and Henry Ford Run Second

BOTH PARTIES GET IDEA OF SENTIMENT.

(By The Associated Press.) Pierre, S. D., Dec. 4.—President Calvin Coolidge tonight was given the preference for the Republican presidential primary by the South Dakota Republican proposal convention, winning over Senator Hiram Johnson of California by a vote of 50,379 to 27,340. Later, on a rising vote the endorsement was made unanimous. Coolidge and Johnson were the only names before the convention. Senator Arthur Capper, of Kansas, was unanimously endorsed for vice president. A tumult of applause and prolonged cheering greeted the announcement of the vote on the presidential poll. Lauds Farmer Boy. President Coolidge was characterized as "the farmer boy who had done everything in his power for the farmer, largely the result of his practical experience in that profession," Dr. S. H. Elrod of Clark county, in submitting the president's name said: "This sunshine state" which four years ago first named President Coolidge as its vice presidential candidate should show its gratitude for and confidence in his endeavors by endorsing him as its standard bearer in 1924."

Senator Capper was likened to President Coolidge as a "big brother of the farmers, who should make an excellent running mate for our esteemed executive." Senator Capper's name was suggested by Elmer Anderson, of Clark county. Endorse McMaster. Governor William F. McMaster won the majority senatorial endorsement by a vote of 40,207 against 37,827 for Senator Thomas Sterling, incumbent. Prior to the poll the Republican convention had approved a platform plank endorsing Governor McMaster's state administration and approving his gasoline price war.

The McMaster endorsement after the Coolidge selection, came as a great surprise to political observers. McMaster, in declaring for the senatorial race, had publicly endorsed the candidacy of Hiram Johnson and was generally regarded as the leader of Johnson forces. While Senator Sterling had never declared his presidential choice, he was regarded as a Coolidge supporter. Lieutenant Governor Carl Gusterson received the majority Republican nomination for governor by a vote of 62,264 over Nicholas E. Knight of Hamilton county, who obtained 17,199 votes.

Senator Sterling will file either as an independent or Minority Republican senatorial candidate regardless of the majority nomination given Gov. McMaster, according to S. W. Clark, of Redfield, Senator Sterling's campaign manager. Mr. Clark said he had not yet been in touch with Senator Sterling but that it was understood prior to the convention that such action would be taken in the event the proposal men gave the ticket place to McMaster.

End Arguments In Eleven Million Dollar Ford Case

(By The Associated Press.) New Orleans, La., Dec. 4.—Arguments were concluded today before the United States circuit court of appeals in a number of technicalities arising out of the $11,000,000 damage suit brought against Henry Ford by Edward S. Huff of Miami, Fla., former employe of the Ford Motor Company, and inventor of the fly-wheel magnet, used on automobiles produced by the Ford Company. The court took the case under advisement, and is expected to announce its decision within two weeks. The suit was filed in the federal district court at Miami last year. The appellate court was asked to decide whether Ford had paid the plaintiff all that is due him for the invention and whether the case should be tried by jury. It was not called upon to try the case on its merits.

(By The Associated Press.) Lakehurst, N. J., Dec. 4.—Complete confidence that the giant navy dirigible Shenandoah, if selected to make the proposed flight to the North Pole, would be able to make the trip successfully, was expressed at the United States naval station here today when it was learned that President Coolidge had approved an aerial naval expedition.

Girl Frustrates Detroit Bank Robbery

GUNMEN MAKE ESCAPE WITH $600 IN CASH

Take Employes and Patrons Quite By Surprise

(By The Associated Press.) Detroit, Dec. 4.—Five armed bandits were thwarted partly in an attempt to rob a branch of the Detroit Savings Bank at Oakland and Woodland streets late today, when a young woman employe stepped on the burglar alarm. The men scooped up $600 in cash from the counters and were about to enter the vault when they were frightened by the noise of the alarm.

At the first clang of the alarm the men rushed to a waiting automobile and escaped. The bandits are believed by police to be members of the same gang who yesterday afternoon held up the First National Bank of Hamtramck, a suburb, and obtained $5,000. Police expressed the belief that both robberies were accomplished by "imported" gunmen.

Ready to Close. The bank was about to close its doors when an automobile drove up. Four men jumped from the running board to the curb before the car had come to a complete stop and ran into the lobby. The fifth man remained in the machine with his hands on the wheel and the engine running.

Three employes in the bank and two patrons were taken completely by surprise. Before they could recover their wits they had been herded against a wall with their hands in the air.

Two of the desperadoes kept their revolvers leveled at the persons and employes while the other two leaped over a railing and began scooping currency from drawers behind the cashiers' cage. One of them started for the vault when Miss Olivia Powell, clerk in the bank, put her foot on an electric button connected with an alarm.

Scared By Alarm. At the first clang the holdup men made a dash for the door. They ran across the pavement and leaped into the waiting car. A moment later the machine had disappeared.

When police officers responded to the alarm a short time afterwards, officers were unable to find a trace of the thugs.

Descriptions given by the victims tallied with the descriptions of the bank robbers who perpetrated the Hamtramck robbery Monday and who are suspected of having staged various other recent robberies that have been marked by daring.

Bootlegger King And Gang Guilty

(By The Associated Press.) New York, Dec. 4.—Emanuel "Bennie" Kessler, king of the bootleggers and six co-defendants were found guilty late today by a federal judge of conspiring to violate the national prohibition laws, of conspiring to obstruct the internal revenue laws and of illegally removing alcoholic beverages from a bonded warehouse.

Those found guilty on all three counts were: Kessler; Morris Greenwood, said to be Kessler's partner; Murray E. Birnbaum; Morris M. Becker; Joseph Fox; Irving Aron; and Millard Friedman. Albert Block, Jack Goldman, Tom Katz and John R. Maxwell were found guilty on one count, being Garrison, Abe Topitz and Lowell A. Saver, former prohibition agents, were acquitted.

Two Students At M. A. C. "Canned" For Liquoring Up

(By The Associated Press.) Lansing, Mich., Dec. 4.—Two students of the Michigan Agricultural College were expelled from their college society because of alleged drunkenness at a recent dancing party, it was reported today. The students, it was said, created a disturbance at the party and it was ended an hour ahead of time because of their presence. The faculty of the college, according to members of the society, has not taken action in connection with the occurrence, but there is the possibility that it will be referred to President B. S. Shaw, who is out of the city, when he returns.

FLOORING CO. QUIZ NEAR END

Judge Sessions Points Out Controlling Factors.

(By The Associated Press.) Grand Rapids, Mich., Dec. 4.—Judge C. W. Sessions in United States district court today in a short message to attorneys on both sides in the hearing of the motion for the dissolution of the Maple Flooring Manufacturers' Association, outlined the two questions which he said might be controlling in the decision of the case.

In opening his remarks the judge said that the ultimate question of fact in the case is the question as to whether or not the contracts consisting of the articles of association and amendments thereto or the practices and methods of the association resulted in a restraint of interstate trade.

There are two questions which seem to me are not only important, but may be controlling in the decision of this case," said Judge Sessions. "One question relates to the extent and sufficiency of the profits and the other relates to the extent of the restraint, if any, which may be granted."

"If the court should find for the government it will be the duty of the court to decree a dissolution of this association, or will it be the duty of the court to declare that certain practices of the association are illegal and enjoin such practices? I think those two questions are really the controlling questions in this case."

This message was delivered by the judge after the attorneys voiced the opinion that the hearing would be brought to an end sometime tomorrow. Arguments are expected to start by noon, there being but one witness remaining to be called by the defense.

It will in all probability be some time before Judge Sessions will be able to make known his decision in the matter. The mass of evidence offered is ponderous and a review of it will take weeks.

Vancouver Teacher Kidnapped and Held

(By The Associated Press.) Vancouver, B. C., Dec. 3.—Neil Austin, Seattle school teacher, today recovered consciousness in a hospital here sufficiently to talk, and declared that when she vanished Sunday evening after leaving her home to sing in a church choir, she was kidnapped by two men.

The following statement was given out as having been dictated by Miss Austin to police officials and to her sisters, Misses Lila and Georgia Austin, who came here when she was found in a suburb Wednesday night.

"I left home at 6:30 Sunday night for church and on my way, within two blocks of the church, two men rushed after me and

NO FOREIGN CARDINALS TO BE CREATED

(By The Associated Press.) Rome, Dec. 3.—Pope Pius has decided to create no foreign cardinals at the forthcoming consistory, it was made known in a semi-official statement today. The decision brought disappointment in some circles and surprise among those who believed he would satisfy the desire expressed by King Alfonso of Spain for the elevation of Spaniards and South Americans. There was a tendency to call into question in this connection the procedure followed by the pope without submitting it before him, as is customary.

Immediate compliance with such a request, made earlier in the consistory, was out of the question, it is declared, so rather than offend the Spanish monarch by granting other foreign cardinals and leaving out these he had asked for, the pope applied the same rule to all at this time.

Those most affected by the decision are the prelates in the United States already mentioned for the cardinalate, Arch-Bishop Hayes of New York and Arch-Bishop Mundelein of Chicago. It is asserted on good authority that both will be elevated to the purple at the consistory following the present one, but it is recalled that the same statement was made after the 1921 consistory, when they were not included.

CEMENT PLANT MAY BE BOUGHT FOR THE STATE

(By The Associated Press.) Lansing, Mich., Dec. 4.—A state cement plant to meet the requirements of highway construction work next year, may be acquired by the state as the result of action taken today by the state administrative board.

Members of the board expressed their approval of a proposal from the Potter-Estate to secure a cement plant near Chelsea. By the terms of the proposal the state could lease the plant at an annual rental of $75,000, or purchase for $500,000. The rental would apply on the purchase price if the plant is bought with board withheld final action until tomorrow, but indicated their willingness, if a year to year lease can be secured, to take the plant on the rental basis, and purchase if the experiment proves successful.

Compensation Law May Be Amended

(By The Associated Press.) Lansing, Mich., Dec. 4.—The legislature in its special session, may be asked to amend the workmen's compensation law to relieve the state from participation in the state accident fund, Governor Greenock indicated today.

The state, under the present law, is required to participate in the fund for compensation, but is unable to get hospital and medical attention for employes. The governor told the administrative board that the matter should be laid before the legislature if sufficient headway is made with re-employment to permit of the consideration of other matters. If the law is amended the state will probably carry its own compensation and accident liability.

Detroit Follows Escanaba Lead On Gas Tax Measure

Detroit, Dec. 4.—The Detroit council tonight went on record as opposed to any gasoline tax law being enacted by the special legislature now in session in Lansing unless such a law carries a provision for the distribution of a portion of the revenue derived from that source among the cities of the state.

The resolution authorizing a petition to Governor Greenock, setting forth the city's case, was introduced by Councilman John C. Nagel and adopted unanimously.

FOLLIES GIRL WINS ACTION

One Hundred Thousand Heart Balm Suit Settled.

(By The Associated Press.) Chicago, Dec. 4.—The $100,000 breach of promise suit of Mary Lygo, former Follies girl against Gordon C. Thorne, wealthy clubman, and for a similar amount against Mrs. Katherine Thorne Camp, Thorne's mother and divorced wife of William "Billy" Camp, for libel, were settled out of court today just as the suit against Thorne was ready to go on trial.

One report was that the settlement was for $75,000. Thorne himself said that he paid Miss Lygo $8,000 of which $5,000 was to drop the breach of promise suit and $3,000 to dismiss the action against his mother. He declared this was cheaper than attorney's fees. Charles Erstein, attorney for Miss Lygo denied this, but refused to reveal the terms of settlement.

Miss Lygo, who twice tried to commit suicide, first by breaking with Thorne, two years ago, charged that the son of the former vice president of a Chicago mail order house had refused to marry her after having promised to do so and that he had been dissuaded from doing so by his mother, Mrs. Camp, she declared, had called her a "ramp." These charges were the basis for the suits.

The settlement was announced after the jury had been selected and while it was waiting for Miss Lygo to take the stand. Miss Lygo announced her satisfaction with the settlement. As she left the court room she and Thorne met face to face.

"Hello, Mary, it's all over, isn't it?" he said.

"Yes, and I'm glad," she replied, as she passed on.

Odd Fellows Here Entertain Brother from Foreign Land

Escanaba Odd Fellows, a few days ago, had the pleasure to entertain a member of the order from far-away Sweden, when Gunnar Bohman of Helmia Lodge, Stockholm, attended a meeting of Impallant Lodge. Mr. Bohman is at present giving a series of concerts in the United States. In his home country he is one of the most popular chautauqua entertainers, which are there and sent throughout the country for the education of the population. During his stay here, Mr. Bohman expressed himself as much pleased with this country and the fraternal spirit evidenced in American cities. Sweden has, at the present time, about 15,000 Odd Fellows and lodges in all of the principal cities.

Financiers Pay Tribute To Pal

Syracuse, N. Y., Dec. 4.—Men prominent in the financial and industrial districts of New York and Chicago paid tribute to the memory of Charles M. Warner, head of the Warner Sugar Refining Company of New York, from whom funeral services were conducted here today. Special cars carried mourners from the east, and the west.

All of the New York offices of the sugar trade were closed early today, as a mark of respect to Mr. Warner.

MRS. ARTHUR SIGNS UP FOR GRAND OPERA

Mrs. Lillian Arthur, Fond du Lac Coloratura soprano, has signed a contract with the American Grand Opera company of Chicago, to appear in operatic recitals during the coming year, according to a Fond du Lac special to the Marquette Eagle Star.

Mrs. Arthur is quite well known locally and is a sister of Edward and Benjamin Leroy, of Marinette, both of whom are well known in Escanaba.

Vittorio Trevisan, a member of the Chicago Grand Opera company, has been coaching Mrs. Arthur since last May. Trevisan is known as the greatest buffo basso on the American stage and is now appearing in "Madame Chenier" in Chicago. Mrs. Arthur spent last summer studying under Herman DeVries of the Chicago Grand Opera Company, who is at present the critic of the American Opera Company.

T. B. Clinic Gives Health Advice to Escanaba Citizens

Dr. J. W. Towey, superintendent of the Delta-Menominee tuberculosis sanatorium at Powers, conducting the monthly tuberculosis clinic at the office of Dr. H. J. Detnet, city health commissioner, at the city hall, had a busy afternoon yesterday. A large number of applicants for examinations was given, the patients being referred to their family physicians for treatment.

Dr. Towey was assisted in the clinic by nurses from the sanatorium.

The next clinic will be held on Tuesday, January 7.

SLEEPERS TO BE DESIGNED FOR AIRCRAFT

(By The Associated Press.) New York, Dec. 4.—Aerial sleepers, in which passengers will slumber peacefully as they travel from one city to another between dusk and dawn, will provide the de luxe transportation of the not far distant future, the American Society of Mechanical Engineers' convention was told today by Archibald and Donald R. Black, aeronautical engineers of Garden City, New York.

Berths for airplanes have not been designed because there has been no need for them, as yet, they said. But the rapid development of commercial flying ultimately will necessitate their construction, they added. Possibly within the next ten years, they said, at least fifty airplanes will fly to and from New York and Chicago daily.

In immediate prospect, the Blacks reported, was a night message carrying system, in connection with telegraphic night letters. An airplane carrying only 450 pounds of mail, less than one fourth its capacity, could carry a night letter between New York and Chicago at a cost of .01188 cents.

To this must be added, the report concluded, "the cost of messenger service and the two-cent postage stamp demanded by the government. On this basis, the air line could carry signed letters of perhaps 1,000 words from New York to Chicago for thirty-four cents, using messenger delivery, or twenty-two cents using postoffice delivery system.

Passenger fares on airplanes, it was brought out, will continue high until large numbers of airplanes ply given routes. The Blacks declared a well-established air line profitably could now transport passengers from New York to Cleveland for a few cents less than $37.

1823—THE MONROE DOCTRINE—1923.

Just one hundred years ago the United States boldly, almost defiantly, traced with the point of the sword the western limit of future European imperialism, declaring that "we would consider any attempt on their part to extend their system to any portion of this hemisphere as dangerous to our peace and safety." That is the essence of the Monroe Doctrine, a principle which has no sanction in international law but which is dependent solely upon the might of the United States for the respect in which it is held.

At the time that doctrine was promulgated we were a nation of about ten million inhabitants possessed of an army of but 6,200 men including seven regiments of infantry and four regiments of artillery, while our navy personnel was but 3,500 men, the navy consisting of eight battleships, nine frigates first and second class, and a number of miscellaneous small vessels, the naval appropriation for 1823 totaling less than $3,000,000. Thus accounted we challenged the aggression, despotism, and pugnance of Spain, Russia, France, Great Britain, and in the background, Austria and Prussia, and for a century that challenge has failed to evoke the last resort of nations.

Most of us are familiar with the wording of the Monroe Doctrine. All of us should be. It is quite brief and should be as indelibly fixed in the minds of Americans as Washington's Farewell Address which it reaffirms in principle. Of it Amelio Mitre, son of one of the founding fathers of Argentina, and himself a statesman of ability, has said: "The American President in formulating this doctrine decreed peace between Europe and America which seemed destined, the former to assault always for conquest, the latter to fight always to defend its frontiers. In short, the Monroe Doctrine has been the veto on war between Europe and America. In its shadow these youthful nations have grown up; today they are sufficiently strong to proclaim the same doctrine as the emblem of their shield. . . . America for Americans is a formula, as I understand it, which meant the final consecration of the independence of the Americans nations."

In addition to opposing the extension of the European political system to the western hemisphere the doctrine declares that the American continents "are henceforth not to be considered as subjects for future colonization by any European powers." The doctrine has exercised a permanent influence on this continent.

In a recent address before the American Bar Association Secretary Hughes declared, first, "the Monroe Doctrine is now a policy of aggression; it is a policy of self-defense," second, "the Government of the United States reserves to itself its definition, interpretation, and application;" third, "the policy does not infringe upon the independence and sovereignty of other American States . . . The Monroe Doctrine does not attempt to establish a protectorate over Latin American States;" fourth, "so far as the region of the Caribbean Seas concerned, it may be said that if we had no Monroe Doctrine we should have to create one;" and, finally, "it should be observed that the Monroe Doctrine is not an obstacle to a wider international cooperation, beyond the limits of Pan American aims and interests, whenever that cooperation is congenial to American institutions." In importance the doctrine may be ranked third through the great principles of America, following the Declaration of Independence and the Federal Constitution. That is why this is a sacred centennial.

CONSCIENCE THRU GUIDE.
Speaker Gillett asserts that in his entire four years as Speaker he has never had reason to suspect any members of the house was influenced in his vote by

The Piffle Hook

WHEN a New York doctor, the other day, wrote a piece for his home paper revealing that the telephone directories of that glib metropolis are filled with death-peddling microbes and things, he opened our soulful eyes to one of the reasons for the horror with which so many business men view lists of users of the device which made Dr. A. Graham Bell infamous. The directory-shunner, and his name is more or less legion, exhibits every evidence of having made a solemn vow that he will consult one of the informative little tomes as infrequently as possible and generally he refers to it less frequently than that. Desiring that liaison between himself and a person in the hurried world outside his own throne-room, he begins by asking everyone within the range of his broadcasting apparatus whether anyone remembers the number. Failing to get the information he craves in that manner he makes a rough—very rough—guess. Quite naturally he doesn't get the party he wants so he mutters something about central giving him the wrong number and querulously demands "Information." While the obliging maid in the exchange is searching her records for the elusive combination of figures, he sits restlessly at his desk drawing pictures on the back cover of the directory. Of course, at times, when he thinks he's very busy, he commands his stenographer to consult the book, and summons the desired personage to the other end of the wire. Thus a poor, innocent, over-worked, underpaid girl is forced to brave the dangers of contamination and possible death.

Old George Malven, the Minnesota black bass champion, used to say that when a fisherman dies Heaven takes a half-day off to celebrate the arrival of a regular guy. Some day when we are printing an edition on asbestos parchment we're going to ask George what happens when a game-hog goes west.

FRANKNESS often is commendable but we fear it was carried to something of an extremity when a neighboring newspaper put them in the headlines as "Reformed Episcopalians."

"If a formal motion is in order at this time," remarked the other parliamentarian on the opposite side of the table. "I move that the word 'studie' when used in connection with the word 'party' be spelled 'stewdie'."

LUTHER WITZKE, the last German spy held in this country, has been sent back home. Witzke could have avoided the banishment and retained his comfortable, steam-heated apartment in Leavenworth, by maintaining that he was merely a conscientious objector.

Mlle. Marta Dobrovich has Paris considerably excited over her new "Mystery Dance." Her costume, as pictured in the newspapers, explains the title. The mystery is how a classic dancer can wear as many clothes as Marta and excite Paris.

corrupt motives. Neither does anybody else, familiar with the business of the House, entertain such a suspicion. Most members are guided in their actions by what they conceive to be the wishes of the people who elected them, while some take it upon themselves to disregard those wishes when their judgment dictates otherwise. Each Congressman has political enemies who would be quick to take advantage of any dishonest act and proceed against the offending member with a view to ousting him from his seat. The fact that such proceedings have been unknown in recent years substantiates Speaker Gillett's statement.

CHRONIC CYNICS.
Some groups in Congress seem to take the position that anything not of their own authorship is not worthy of support. On no other ground can their opposition to the Mellon tax reduction plan be explained. Even the more substantial Democrats admit its virtues, the chief criticism appearing to come from adroit blocs which are chronically cynical.

MOLLIE MEETS WITH AN ACCIDENT.
Chapter XXII.

That night, shuddering as I thought of Mollie's tone when she asked if Guy were making love to me, I stiffened my determination never to accept an attention from him or Barton Ellwood. "They're only amusing themselves," I said aloud, "neither would ever think of marrying me—and I wouldn't have them if they did!" I added with a toss of my head.

I had all the young girl's usual romantic notions. Sometimes a great love would come to me, if it did not I never would marry. I had achieved what to me seemed a wonderful place in the world, that so short a time before had looked so hopeless to me. I was content to wait for what else might be in store for me.

My thoughts were rambling on, when Anna rushed in. "Mrs. Ellwood is worse. Come quick!" I hurried to the invalid's room, feeling sure it had been Mollie's refusal to remain with her that had upset her mother. She lay gasping on her pillows, no whit better than her face.

"May I come in?" I arose, switched on the light, and gasped in fright. Mollie was white as death, her beautiful dancing frock torn into tatters, a streak of blood adried on her cheek.

"What had happened?" I closed the door. "Are you hurt?" "No—yes, a little," she swayed, then dropped into a chair. "I bathed her face, finding a bad bruise, and a painful cut. Then I helped her undress. And although her breath told me she had been drinking, I did not hesitate when she asked me to go to the dining room and bring her some brandy."

After she drank it, she pulled herself together. "Mum's the word, Rita, I'll have to stay in my room for a day or two, or find some way to account for this." She touched her face gingerly.

"What happened?" "We had a spill. Larry's new roadster is in splinters. Ran into a truck." She shuddered. "Is Larry hurt?" "Not badly—we fared about alike. It was one glorious ride until the smash. I guess it was worth it."

Dance at Garden.
The dance which was given at Garden Thanksgiving night by a number of young people from that village was a grand success. This was the largest crowd ever recorded at a dance at Garden and those in charge of the affair were deserving of much praise for the manner in which the dance was conducted. Williams and his musical wards rendered an excellent program of dance music and their singing of new and up-to-date songs made a great hit with the dancers. This feature of the program added much pep to the musical numbers.

The same committee is planning on another dance in the near future. Many persons from Naima, Ishella, Gladstone and this city attended the dance.

St. Anne's Bazaar.
The opening night of the bazaar which is being held at St. Anne's hall under the auspices of the married ladies and young ladies of the parish was very successful. Fancy work and domestic hand work were disposed of although there is still a large selection from which to choose.

Refreshments will be served today and Thursday. The bazaar is opened afternoons and evenings. Every one is heartily welcome.

Ladies Aid Meeting.
The Ladies Aid of the Methodist Episcopal church will hold their regular meeting Thursday afternoon at 2:30 in the basement of the church. After a short business session a program will be given under the direction of Mrs. Baldwin. Mrs. Clarence Rose will act as hostess.

On December 12th, the ladies will hold their annual supper and sale of fancy work.

Lemay-Emmond Nuptials.
Announcements were received in this city of the wedding at Detroit of Miss Emma Lemay, daughter of Mrs. Joseph Lemay, 423 So. 15th St. of this city and Mr. William A. Emmond of Sudbury Ont. which took place at St. Charles' Church at Detroit, Mich. Thanksgiving Day, Nov. 29. The attendants were Mrs. Joseph Lemay Jr. who was formerly Miss Edith DuBois of this city and Mr. Clarence Haquand. The bride is well known in this city having been born and reared here attended the local schools. They have the best wishes of a large number of friends.

Turkey Supper and Sale.
This afternoon the ladies of the First Presbyterian Church will hold their annual sale of fancy work at the church parlors. A beautiful assortment of fancy work will be offered for sale. There will also be a turkey supper served from five to seven o'clock at the church parlors. The patronage of the public is solicited.

The menu is as follows: Roast Turkey and Dressing, Cranberry Sauce, Mashed Turnips and Potatoes, Presbytery Salad, Pickles, Home Made Rolls, Coffee, Ice Cream.

Oyster Supper at Wells.
The members of the Sunday Glass at Wells are planning an oyster supper which will be given at Wells Community House Tuesday evening Dec. 11th from five to eight. An excellent menu is being prepared and the public is cordially invited. The proceeds are for the Christmas fund of the Sunday School. The affair is worthy of the patronage of the generous public.

Marriage Licenses.
Marriage licenses were issued at the court house yesterday to Lester Johnson and Louise Ayotte, both of this city; to Earl Norton of Masonville and Carrie Norton of Gould City. The Nortons were divorced here last May.

Social Devotions This Week.
Saturday, December 8, being a holy day of obligation there will be communion at St. Joseph's church at the 6 and 8 o'clock masses. There will be a high mass at 9 followed by Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament.

Confessions will be heard Thursday afternoon and evening for the first Friday and Friday afternoon and evening for Saturday.

ago. A number of captains were chosen to keep ten members at very meeting for three months' time. Everyone worked hard to keep his record as high as possible. Last evening every captain had his eye on the door expecting that each time the door opened, would bring his mark up one higher. A greater interest among the members was never felt. But like everything else, only one can win, and we are proud to announce that Miss Helga Nelson won the prize, which was a handsome set of community silverware. Everyone congratulated Miss Nelson on her splendid work, also the other captains who worked so hard to urge their members to attend. The members were then thanked by the captains for having been so faithful in their attendance. It certainly put pep in our members and we hope they will continue to attend. A large class of candidates were then initiated. The resignation of Miss Emily Nault was accepted. We are sorry to lose such a faithful member as Miss Nault. She has been our treasurer for the past year, and her work has been very satisfactory. Miss Nault is moving to Iron Mountain. They also have a splendid council over there and we are sure she will like it with her Iron Mountain brothers and sisters in the F. R. A. We wish her good luck in her new home. The Escanaba council was again honored last evening for being a booster council. Each council is to have one hundred dollars for our convention in Menominee in 1924, and already we have ours nearly made. A number of letters were read that had been received from all different councils also from the head office, on the splendid way things were being carried out here. We are proud of council and expect to keep it always alive and merry. A committee was elected last evening to make arrangements for something very special at our next meeting and we feel sure that said committee are capable of giving us a pleasant surprise. It is to be in the form of a Xmas dancing party. After the meeting, a dainty luncheon was served and afterwards they danced. Everyone enjoyed the evening.

The political campaign in Great Britain closes today, preliminary to the holding of the general parliamentary elections tomorrow.

Others Are Contemplated.
The Malo "padlock" case is the first of what may develop into a long series of similar actions to be started by the city administration here against bootleggers and the owners of the property they occupy. The Malo place has been in the criminal court limelight frequently during the last two or three years, and City Attorney Thomas J. Riley, who is representing the city, has expressed confidence that the court record will be sufficient, in themselves to warrant the application of the legal "padlock" to the place.

City officials were not prepared yesterday, to state where the injunction lightning might strike next, but asserted that they were prepared to proceed in a similar manner in a number of cases, some of which may be heard by Judge Flannigan at the January term of circuit court here.

PADLOCK ASKED ON MALO PLACE

City Attorney Will Request Injunction in Marquette Today.

Judge Richard C. Flannigan, in Marquette county circuit court, today will hear the petition of the City of Escanaba for an injunction against Frank Malo, Escanaba saloon keeper now serving a lengthy term in the Detroit house of correction, and Louis Grolmich, owner of the building, 1929 Sheridan Road, asking that the building be closed for all purposes for the period of one year.

It will be the first time that the "padlock law" has been invoked here against violators of the prohibition law, although the statute was used in several instances two or three years ago by former County Prosecutor T. E. Strom, in closing disorderly houses in this city.

New York, Dec. 4.—Stock prices made irregular recovery from recent heaviness in today's market with volume of business reduced, due to the unwillingness of traders to extend their commitments owing to the deadlock over the election of a speaker of the house of representatives.

MASONS HONOR PAST MASTERS

Fred A. Jeffers of Painesdale Speaker at Annual Banquet.

Memories of the past are the only sure and safe foundations of the present and inspiration of the future. Fred A. Jeffers, of Painesdale, told 300 Masons, gathered last night to honor the Past Masters of Delta Lodge, No. 195. Mr. Jeffers' address was the climax of an eventful evening in Masonic circles. A sumptuous dinner was served by the ladies of the Eastern Star. R. R. Kessel led in "community" songs which ranged from "Barney Google" and the familiar plaint about the current banana shortage, to the National Hymn.

Handeen Talks "Peptomism." O. I. Handeen, secretary of the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce, talked on "Peptomism" and H. J. Robertson paid an eloquent tribute to the youngest Past Master, George Haberle, in presenting him with a jewel commemorating the service he had given the order. Mr. Haberle's acceptance was a tribute to the lodge for the cooperation the members had given their officers in the years of his activity in the organization. There also were short addresses by Theodore Farrell, dean of the dozen or more Past Masters present, Albert J. Young and Harry J. Brackett, who announced that past masters of the lodge had organized a "Past Masters' Society."

In order to assist more effectively the work of the order. Monuments To Memories. A ten-piece Masonic orchestra, one of the best organizations of its kind heard here in a long time, provided music and E. C. Voght was a capable toastmaster. The great Pyramids of Egypt are monuments to the reign and the achievements of an ancient monarch; the mounds in the Ohio river valley which scientists say were constructed by a prehistoric race are meaningless, because there is no present knowledge of the reasons for their construction. Mr. Jeffers told his audience. It is the memory of the great deeds of the past which has made the progress of civilization possible, he declared.

The past, however, does not hold all of the progress of civilization, according to Mr. Jeffers. Man has conquered the surface of the earth, the sea and the air. Every quarter of the globe has been visited and explored. The world of force and energy has been mastered. Another World To Conquer. The race must now complete its conquest of its own emotions. In this world, he declared, man has far to go. Selfishness, the will to idleness, distrust, envy and anger must be conquered. The past, he said, with its records of the battles mankind has won against tremendous odds, points the way to the new era in which man will learn to dominate his own spirit. Past Master's nights, he declared, are one of the means of keeping the memories of past achievements fresh in the memories of the present and future generations.

New Officers Elected.

Members of St. John's Berchman's Acolythical Society held a meeting Tuesday afternoon at which they elected officers for the ensuing year. The following are the officers elected: President, Victor Blomstrom, Jr.; Vice president, Paul Novak; Secretary, Lyle Tonne; Treasurer, Eugene Roemer.

The Ladies' Auxiliary of the A. O. H. will hold their annual election of officers, Thursday evening at 8 p. m., at St. Patrick's Hall.

Progressive Voters Chairman Is Visitor

Eugene Brock, of Detroit, state chairman of the Progressive Voters League, was a visitor here yesterday, conferring with friends and political associates. Mr. Brock is well known in the Upper Peninsula. He delivered the annual Labor Day address here last year, and his work with the Progressive Voters as well as with one of the railway workers' unions, has enabled him to make a great many friends.

COUNCIL WILL CHECK UP WORK

Busy Session Expected At City Hall This Evening.

Clearing the slate of the more than 130 suggestions made during the year by members of the city council, will be one of the principal items of business when that body meets for a regular session tonight. Suggestions for street and alley improvements, utilities extensions, improvements of various departments of the city's affairs, and a wide range of other matters, have been filed from time to time with the city manager, by members of the council. Each suggestion was numbered and referred to the manager for action. The manager, tonight, will check over these suggestions, sell which have been carried out, which have been partially completed, and which have not been taken up, with his reasons for the failure to complete them.

The council also is expected to take up again, its discussion of the paving program for next year, and other projects to be placed on the 1924 "work list"; take action on the proposals for establishment of a municipal ice rink, and handle a large grist of routine matters. Reports of several of the various city departments this month are expected to prove exceptionally interesting.

Escanaba Harbor Is Passed Up by U. S. Commission

In his annual report, submitted to congress Monday, the chief of engineers of the United States army failed to include the Escanaba harbor in his recommendations for expenditures during the 1924 period. Escanaba citizens had asked that a breakwater be constructed in the harbor here, and federal engineers held a hearing on the matter last summer.

The chief engineer's recommendations for the Duluth district call for expenditures of $310,500, the largest single project being $167,500 for the proposed work in the Keweenaw waterway. Marquette is given a total of $35,500 for improvement work. Other recommendations for the Duluth district include: Harbor at Grand Marais, Minn., $11,000; harbor at Agate Bay, Minn., $2,000; harbor at Duluth, Minn., and Superior, Wis., $52,500; harbor at Port Wisconsin, Wis., $5,000; harbor at Ashland, Wis., $11,000; harbor at Ontonagon, Mich., $1,000; harbor of refuge at Grand Marais, Mich., $20,000; Warrand harbor and River, Minn., $4,000; Zippel Bay, Lake of the Woods, Minn., $1,500.

C. S. Magoon Given Railroad Promotion

C. J. Magoon, formerly of Gladstone, has been appointed night chief train dispatcher of the Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic railway company, at Marquette, according to word received in this city yesterday. Mr. Magoon was a train dispatcher for the Soo Line in Gladstone from 1908 to 1917 and has been in Marquette as a dispatcher for the D. S. S. & A. since that time. He is widely known in Delta county railway circles. He will succeed H. F. Schmidt, who has been named chief dispatcher for the South Shore.

Silver Wedding Is Celebrated at Home of Local Fire Chief

Fire Chief and Mrs. Arvid Johnson celebrated their silver wedding at their home, 1219 First Ave. North Monday evening when twenty-five couples attended the affair. The evening was spent in playing Five Hundred, with a social hour after the warding of the prizes which were won by Mrs. John Carlson and William Meyer. A sumptuous supper was served and every one wished the couple a continuance of their happy married life. They were presented with a purse of silver and several other useful gifts from their many friends. The out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Iverson of Ford River.
