COALITION IS LATEST THING AT CAPITAL IT'S WORKING OUT BUT UNDER DIFFERENT NAME.

BY DAVID LAWRENCE. (Copyright, 1933, by The Escanaba Press) Washington, Dec. 14.—Coalition government may be too formal a name but in actual practice there is developing in the senate and house an informal combination of conservative votes from the republican and democratic parties which is for the moment blocking the radicals.

Back of the fight in the senate is an anticipated struggle on the famous section "15-A" of the Transportation Act which Mr. Cummins sponsored and which the radicals wish to see repealed. The railroads of the United States want that section of the law retained as do many of the investors who hold railroad earnings annually and make it necessary for the interstate commerce commission in making freight rates to take into account this legal limit of earnings.

Special Session Is Expected To End By Tuesday

MESSAGE FROM GOVERNOR IS UNLIKELY NOW

Wayne County Still Hope for Apportionment Bill.

(By The Associated Press.) Lansing, Mich., Dec. 14—Governor Grousbeck said today that no special message opening the way to the consideration of highway finance will be submitted to the legislature when it reconvenes Monday night. He refused to state definitely whether a message will be offered later.

Apparently the assembly will come back next week no nearer the solution of the only issue before it—apportionment—than it is now. Many members believe last Monday night's session will be the last of the session because of the absence of many members, and that Tuesday the legislature will end its special session and go home. If this course is followed the assembly will finish with the record of having failed to enact anything. It is not, the only other course open appears to be for the members to again tie themselves into the apportionment knot.

House May Weaken.
Wayne members profess to see a slight weakening in the lower branch, and claim to detect signs of a disposition to reopen the apportionment matter and at that time to bring a constitutional bill before the house. The outstate members, however, generally do not share this belief, and the majority opinion is that no representative apportionment bill will be passed. There is a move on foot in the lower branch to support a substitute senate bill, giving Wayne eight members. It is not believed, however, that sufficient members will back the plan to secure passage. Even if they do, it will be with no idea of effecting a senate bill. The substitutes who are in favor of the idea admit that they want to "pass the buck" back to the senate.

The senate passed a bill providing seven senators for Wayne, they assert, "and sent it over to us. The idea was that the senate would keep its skirts clean by passing a measure that the house was supposed to kill. It is almost certain that if we pass a bill in the house giving Wayne eight, the outstate senators will never agree to it. So we can send such a bill back to the upper branch and let them do their own slaughtering."

Interest Dwindles.
Interest in the session has dwindled among the farmer members. Most of them have about given up hope of a supplemental message from the governor permitting them to consider highway finance. With them, highway finance was the major issue, and if it is removed they are ready to adjourn. Some of them still cling to the hope that a message will be received. Wayne members declare none will be offered unless apportionment bills are passed. Governor Grousbeck expressed the hope today that the assembly would again seriously take up the consideration of apportionment next week. Apparently the chance of getting highway finance are about as good as getting apportionment. Neither is bright and the session appears about to close in an unproductive deadlock.

The house and senate met today, but according to an agreement, nothing was done. There was not a quorum in the senate. The house simply met and adjourned.

Discovers New Process To Make Maltose Sugar

(By The Associated Press.) Washington, Dec. 14—A new process of making crystalline maltose sugar from corn starch, has been developed by H. C. Gore, a department of agriculture chemist. Cost of production is as low or lower than cane sugar, officials stated today in announcing the new process, which is simple and involves no unusual equipment. The process has not yet been industrialized, they stated, and it is too early to predict its bearing on the utilization of corn.

BOOM WELSH FOR GOVERNOR

His Def in Lower House Makes Many Friends.

(By The Associated Press.) Lansing, Mich., Dec. 14—A steadily growing pile of telegrams and letters is swamping the desk of Speaker George Welsh, of the state house of representatives, congratulating him for his stand against the members who attempted his impeachment Wednesday. Many of them urge him to enter the race for the Republican gubernatorial nomination, and promise him the support of influential individuals and organizations. The messages have been pouring in ever since the speaker took the floor of the house to acknowledge an interview he gave to a newspaper man and to amplify, rather than detract from, the statements attributed to him. He admitted and emphasized that he had charged the members who voted down the apportionment with "brazen defiance of the constitution," and accepted full responsibility for his quoted assertion that if the members were justified, the bootleggers and highway robbers are justified.

for the plan of committee organization announced last week which is based on the ratio of republicans and democrats elected to the house. The willingness on the part of the democrats to accept procedure even when sponsored by the republicans is in conformity with precedent and insures republican support some day if the democrats should have a slender majority and encounter insurgency in their own ranks.

When the debate on rules comes up, the fight for committee places will be over, the house will have been completely organized and the liberalization of rules will be considered on its merits. Thus the democrats are aiding their republican brethren in steering an even keel in a sea of radicals.

3 INDICTED IN MYSTERY DEATH

Murder of Child Contains Many Unusual Elements.

(By The Associated Press.) Catskill, N. Y., Dec. 14—Three indictments charging first degree murder in connection with the slaying of seven-year-old Howard Rothenberg in Windham, on August 29, one of them against the boy's mother, were returned this afternoon by the grand jury, which has conducted an extended investigation into the tragedy. In addition to Mrs. Charles Rothenberg, of Newark, N. Y., mother of Howard, those indicted are Mrs. Esther Litt, of Brooklyn, his aunt, and Burtell Branaugh, son of the proprietor of the boarding house in which the Rothenbergs and Mrs. Litt were spending their vacation at the time of the murder.

The boy's body was found behind an old barn on the outskirts of Windham, a little mountain village west of here. Stuffed in the mouth were articles of clothing, indicating strangulation as the cause of death, while beside the body lay the fishing rods with which Howard had left the Branaugh home a short time before.

His mother, one of the first persons called to the scene, is said to have cried out as she saw the body, "I know who did it," but under questioning during the recent investigation she stoutly denied having made such a statement.

Then suspicion pointed to Anna Sobin, 16, nurse for the Rothenberg boy, and she was held at the home of Sheriff Albert Pierce as a "guest" pending presentation of her testimony before the grand jury. Threded through the case have also been a series of family misfortunes for the Rothenbergs. While on his way to Windham to view the body of his son, Charles Rothenberg, driving an automobile, struck and killed a traffic policeman. He recently was reported to have lost his position with his brother's firm in Newark, and involuntary bankruptcy proceedings were started against him.

British Paying War Debts With Liberty Bonds

(By The Associated Press.) New York, Dec. 14—American liberty bonds, chiefly of the second and fourth issues, valued at $2,000,000, were deposited with the federal reserve bank of New York today by J. P. Morgan and Company, fiscal agents for the British government to cover the amount due the United States government tomorrow on account of interest and principal on the English war debt.

While no official information could be obtained as to the actual saving effected by the British government through the use of liberty bonds, which are acceptable at par, bankers estimated the saving was not less than $1,800,000.

RIVER ROUGE MAYOR RILED RIGHT SMART

(By The Associated Press.) Lansing, Mich., Dec. 14—The threat of River Rouge officials to call out the local police, if necessary, to protect and keep in operation a motor bus line, drew a sharp statement today from Peter Fagan, secretary of the state public utilities commission. The mayor of River Rouge was quoted as saying that a bus line will be operated regardless of the utilities commission and that local police will be called out to meet state police if an attempt is made to halt the transportation service.

Says Politics Must Recognize The Dry Issue

(By The Associated Press.) Chicago, Dec. 14—The political party that shows itself uncertain on the prohibition issue "will be licked next November," Dr. Fred B. Smith, chairman of the committee of church councils of America, declared today in speaking before a local enforcement meeting.

At that gathering plans were shaped to put into effect the political organization that will have for its object the defeat of candidates whose stand on the wet-and-dry question is hostile to the prohibition cause, Dr. Smith announced.

FAKERS USING VETERAN PLEA

Legion Head Issues Caution Against Being Bilked.

(By The Associated Press.) New York, Dec. 14—Taking advantage of the spirit of Christmas, hundreds of fakers, using the guise of World War veterans are luring the public of thousands of dollars, John R. Quinn, national commander of the American Legion, declared today. Mr. Quinn issued a nationwide warning against such alleged fraudulent schemes. The American former service men, he said, ask the cooperation of all citizens in stamping out such practices.

Gold Brickers Working.
According to Commander Quinn, men calling themselves veterans are selling cheaply purchased packages of pencils for exorbitant prices, alleging the money is to be used to help the disabled. Publishers of so-called "veteran" magazines and their salesmen are reaping a harvest from a sympathetic public, he added. "The American Legion has earnestly sought to stop this fraud on the public, but needs the help of all citizens. No reputable veteran publication is hawked upon the street and no recognized ex-service men's organization sells pencils. So the public is safe in refusing all pleas made on street corners, subways and theaters."

FALLS NINE STORIES TO MEET DEATH

Police Hold Drinking Friends in Peculiar Case

(By The Associated Press.) Philadelphia, Pa., Dec. 14—A score of homeward bound shoppers and workers watched in horror, Charles W. Nevin, 2nd, member of a socially prominent Philadelphia family, plunged to his death tonight from a window on the ninth floor of the St. James Hotel. His body crashed through the heavy glass of the Porte-Cochere, at the entrance and dropped at the feet of several guests on the hotel steps. He died instantly.

Police arrested Frank H. Nicholson of Brooklyn, N. Y., on a charge of manslaughter, and William F. O'Ferral, Jr., of Port Kennedy, Pa., as a material witness and accessory. Nevin, a graduate of Princeton in 1917, served in the ambulance corps and later in the fourth infantry, regular army, was wounded twice in action in France and had been in business here since his return.

Detectives believe Nevin was pushed through the window, but whether deliberately or accidentally they were not able to say. W. J. Harold, house detective at St. James, declared the three young men had been drinking in a nearby saloon in the afternoon.

OUT.
"This is the finishing touch," remarked the imprudent but generous man as he loaned a friend his last dollar.

MIGHT UNITE ON COUZENS

Insurgents Determined to Make Real Fight in Senate.

(By The Associated Press.) Washington, Dec. 14—A row over the makeup of the committee which directs the legislative program, prevented house ratification today of the personnel of its standing committees, at the same time, another effort to break the senate deadlock over the election of chairman of the interstate commerce committee, failed and the situation there apparently was exactly where it was when the senate quit balloting last Wednesday.

Opposition by both Republican insurgents and Democrats of the house to the plan of Republican organization leaders to have eight of their number on the rules committee, employed to such an extent that it was decided not to present the committee list to the house for approval as had been planned. Whether there is to be any change in the fixed ratio of eight majority and four minority members will be discussed at a Republican conference called for tomorrow. The Democrats will hold a caucus Monday to consider the question. Although there appeared for a time today a possibility of the breaking of the senate deadlock when balloting resumed Monday, this virtually was dissipated by a formal announcement on behalf of the group of seven who have been supporting Senator LaFollette, of Wisconsin, the insurgent leader, that on Monday they expected to vote for Senator Howell, Republican, Nebraska, for the interstate commerce committee chairmanship.

The announcement, which was issued by Senator Norris, Republican, Nebraska, said that if Senator Couzens, Republican, Michigan was more satisfactory to other Republican senators than Senator Howell the insurgents would "be glad to unite on him." Republican leaders said Senator Cummins, Republican, Iowa, had been endorsed for the chairmanship by a regular party conference and that they would continue to vote for him until the conference had formally decided on some other senator.

While the new football stadiums are wonderful if filled several times during the season, they become quite a burden if the eleven has a bad year and fails to draw. Can't Make Wolf Believe Nails Are Porcupine Quills

(By The Associated Press.) Port Arthur, Ont., Dec. 14.—Patrice Pardue, French-Canadian settler, arrived here to claim $80 bounty on two large timber wolves he killed with a club. FORD BOOSTERS STILL INSIST

No Open Overtures To Farm-Labor Party.

(By The Associated Press.) Detroit, Dec. 14—No overtures will be made to the Farmer-Labor party to have it align itself with the national Ford-for-president movement, but its effort to throw its force behind the Ford boom will not be depreciated, Robert R. Pointer, a member of the executive committee declared today.

Mr. Pointer made this statement in connection with the announcement that he had received telegrams from the leaders of the progressive parties in Idaho and Missouri and from the chairman of the Farmer-Labor party of Colorado. The telegrams urged the handful of Ford supporters here to draft Henry Ford for president.

escape in the confusion. Weather conditions also are causing anxiety among the smugglers. The winters in this north country are usually severe, and deep snow clogs the highways for months, making fast traveling out of the question.

So far the weather has been remarkably mild and the snowfall has been inconsequential. But these ideal conditions for smuggling are not likely to continue much longer. Last winter the smugglers used sleighs, but these were easily caught by the black horse troopers, whose sturdy steeds have an uncanny way of speeding through deep snow. The brawny, sagacious police dogs of the state troopers are invariably used in winter weather and this year the officers plan to use them more than ever.

HI-JACKERS ARE BUSY.
Reports that "hi-jackers" had been operating against the bootleggers were confirmed today when two alleged highwaymen, one an Indian, were taken to the county jail at Gaston to await the grand jury's action. The men were caught near Helena. A third "hi-jacker" who was in the holdup party, and who is said to be among the leaders of his ilk, was being sought tonight and the troopers said they hoped to have him behind bars soon.

Many of the hi-jackers are mere youths, the authorities say, and some of them are born abroad and a number have known criminal records. All of them were at one time engaged in the "legitimate" bootleg profession, but were declared outcasts because they squealed or double-crossed their agents.

The authorities say that much of the liquor is confiscated, recently contains denatured alcohol. The labels are faked in many cases. Even the supposed "real" beer and ale is etherized, in many instances.

CHURCH COUNCIL URGES ACTION

Get In League Or Spring Something Better.

(By The Associated Press.)

Columbus, O., Dec. 14—The executive committee of the Federal Council of Churches today urged that the United States either enter the League of Nations or propose "some more effective substitute."

The recommendation was made in a "declaration of ideals and principles" adopted by the committee at its annual meeting after a day of discussion of international affairs. In a resolution, adopted previously, the committee had expressed its thanks to President Coolidge for his advocacy of entrance in the wrong court in his message to congress. The resolution also urged that the senate take speedy and favorable action on the president's recommendation.

The meeting closed tonight with a public gathering addressed by Bishop Wm. F. McDowell, of Washington, and Dr. Robert E. Speer, president of the council.

Garden Bay News

Word has been received here of the death of Donald Lyon in a Buffalo hospital. Mr. Lyon had spent much of his time in this district and was well known and highly respected by many Garden and Kate's Bay people.

The remains of Donald Lyon were removed to the City of Menominee, the home of his parents. They were present at the death bed and accompanied the body to their home.

Deceased was born on Sept. 1, 1891 at Ironwood, Mich. Nineteen years ago he moved with his parents to Menominee. He was graduated from the Menominee high school with the class of '13 subsequently attending Lawrence College and also the Michigan Agricultural College. After completing his course and graduating from the latter institution he accepted a position in the bacteriology department in the State laboratory at Lansing. Later he accepted a similar appointment at Waterbury, Conn.

On Sept. 3, 1921 he was married in Bridgeport, Conn., to Miss Edna Wallace Wright of that city. As recently as last September he accepted a position which placed him in charge of the serological work at the Buffalo City Hospital, where he was employed up to the time of his death. He was stricken with the fatal sickness shortly before Thanksgiving and passed away on Sunday, Dec. 2nd.

Besides his wife, who was unable to make the trip to Menominee, he is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Lyon of Menominee, three sisters, Mrs. James N. Dyer of Davenport, Ia., Mrs. Dayton Beardsley of Kate's Bay, Mich. and Miss Abigail Lyon of Brookings, S. D. He had one other sister who died in 1907.

Sees His Brother First Time In Quarter Century

Louis Folio returned Tuesday from a ten-weeks' trip to the state of Washington, where he spent most of the time in Seattle and Everett. Mr. Folio had a wonderful trip and one of the best parts of it was the fact that he saw and had a long visit with his brother, Peter Folio, whom he had not seen in the last 25 years. Incidentally, Mr. Folio gained nearly 10 pounds, while on the trip, and his health is excellent considering the length of the journey at his age.

Johnny Shugrue Gets Decision

CHILEAN BOY SOME SOCKER

Battle Extremely Fast and Fierce From Start.

(By The Associated Press.)
New York, Dec. 14.—Johnny Shugrue, of Waterbury, Conn., tonight administered to Luis Vicentini, the Chilean lightweight, the first defeat he has suffered since coming to this country. Shugrue was given the judges' decision after their 12-round bout in Madison Square Garden tonight.

The Chilean led on points until the twelfth round when Shugrue made a sensational rally and brought to an end the string of American victims that Vicentini had gathered since coming here. His three victories all were knockouts.

It was the Connecticut fighter's ability to rally after severe punishment that most surprised fans at the ringside. In the seventh Vicentini had his opponent on the verge of a knockout with blood flowing from his mouth and nose, but he couldn't get the devastating punch over.

Vicentini was eager to take the lead, but Shugrue beat him to it. In the first six rounds Johnny's experience and his resourcefulness offset the Chilean's harder hitting, but after that Vicentini's sustained attack kept Shugrue more on the defensive. Had Vicentini the skill, it was the opinion that he might have knocked out Shugrue in any of the latter rounds except the last.

Promoter Tex Rickard said the defeat would not interfere with the program he has mapped out for the Chilean. In his opinion, Vicentini at least should have received a draw. "I'm tickled to death with his showing, nevertheless," said Rickard. "He showed he could take everything Shugrue had and will not be stopped by this defeat. He is a remarkable fighter, and I look for great things from him."

CORNELL LEADER LEADS EASTERN POINT SCORERS

Captain George Penn of Cornell is the leading point-scorer in the east.

When he made two touchdowns in the Pennsylvania game on Thanksgiving Day, enabling Cornell to win, 14 to 7, Penn made certain the eastern scoring honors.

Penn, who by his great work as player and captain has done much to retain Cornell's prestige on the gridiron, made 15 touchdowns during the season just closed and added eight more points by kicking goals after touchdowns.

This makes Penn's total points for the season 88. Tryon of Colgate ranks second in the matter of touchdowns, with 14 to his credit, a total of 84 points. Hazel Rutgers leads Tryon in the matter of points by two, having scored nine touchdowns and kicked 23 goals after touchdowns for that number of points.

Aggie Quint To Tilt Lid Today

(By The Associated Press.)
East Lansing, Mich., Dec. 14.—Michigan Aggies will pry the lid off the basketball season here Saturday, meeting Adrian College in a game officially listed as a "pre-season affair."

Adrian is reported as strong this year, and Coach Fred Walker's charges are prepared for a real battle. Should the game permit, it is considered probable, however, that practically every man on the varsity squad will be given a chance to show his wares before the final whistle.

Breker To Manage Kalamazoo Team

(By The Associated Press.)
Kalamazoo, Mich., Dec. 14.—Marty Breker, manager of the Kalamazoo Mint League, today affixed his signature to an agreement which provides for his return to the club next season at an increased salary.

GRANGE IS VERSATILE.
Some of the football experts in the west argue that Grange of Illinois does not deserve All-America honors because he is not a triple-threat man. That is wrong. Grange is a fine punter, but Britton, the Illinois fullback, is a better one. Grange can pass as well as receive, but his great speed caused Coach Zuppke to use him almost entirely in a running game.

WON'T BATTLE GENARO.
Pancho Villa's manager denies that he has a pledge with the New York buying commission by which the flyweight champion is bound to box Frankie Genaro, the American champion. Villa's pilot says Villa will not defend his title against a flyweight until next March. Genaro has previously beaten Villa.

WON 2 TITLES, NOW HE'S OUT

Bryan Downey's Record Is One of the Ring's Freaks.

(By Joe Williams.)
Bryan Downey, fighting as a welterweight, dropped Jack Britton, then the champion, in a Canton (O.) ring several years back, dropped him clean with a solid punch.

The referee counted nine, and then he counted some more. At any rate Britton was down longer than 10 seconds, considerably longer according to experts at the ringside.

Finally, Britton got up, stalled his way through the period of turbulence, and survived the fight, still champion.

Hard luck for Downey. With a more careful, less agitated count he would have won the welterweight championship.

Some years later Downey, fighting now as a middleweight, battered his way to a knockout victory over Johnny Wilson, then holder of the championship, only to be declared the loser on a ghostly foul which was apparent to no one except the referee, Jimmy Gardner, hand-picked by Wilson.

More hard luck for Downey. Had fair play ruled he would have been crowned champion of the middleweights that day.

More recently, Downey came out of retirement to meet Harry Greb, present holder of the middleweight title. Downey knocked Greb up against the ropes in the early part of the fight and appeared to have the champion going, but the Pittsburgher rallied, regained the aggressive, and came on to win decisively.

He Was Outclassed.
Downey left the ring severely beaten and outclassed. Now he has dropped naturally into the realm of second-raters. His days as a potential champion are gone. Here and there he may find an unknown or an unskilled puncher whom he can handle. He is tough and rugged and can keep on taking licks for several years yet—but the championship spark is dead.

The experts won't mention Downey's name any more when they sit down to write about fighters who deserve a crack at the title.

And that's a rather tough break for a man who had both the welterweight and the middleweight titles taken from him.

Pinkey Mitchell Given Decision Because Of Foul

(By The Associated Press.)
Milwaukee, Wis., Dec. 14.—Pinkey Mitchell, junior welterweight champion, of Milwaukee, won by a foul from Nate Goddard of Philadelphia, in the fourth round of a scheduled ten round bout here tonight. There had been little action up to the fourth round, and both fighters had expressed dissatisfaction of the other's methods. The referee had warned Goddard for hitting low.

PITTSBURGH WINS.

BILL EVANS SAYS

The college makes the football player far more often than the football star brings his college into national prominence. This truth is proved each fall when the experts start making their annual All-America selections. There are 200 colleges in the United States who boast a football team worthy of more than passing mention. On every eleven there is at least one outstanding star, yet only eleven men can be selected for a first All-America team.

Under such existing conditions it is only natural that many a star worthy of recognition will be overlooked in the shuffle. Invariably it is the small college star who gets the worst of the ratings.

One of the best quarterbacks of the year is Richeson of Yale. Down at New Haven they insist he is the best quarterback that has directed a Yale eleven since the days of Tad Jones. Richeson came to Yale from Tulane University at New Orleans. Prior to his entry into eastern college football, Richeson had starred at Tulane. In all probability the Richeson of Tulane was just as good a football player as the Richeson of Yale. Yet Richeson, while at the southern institution, never broke into the headlines of the leading metropolitan dailies. However, the moment he entered Yale, and showed unusual ability, he began to be a much-talked-about athlete.

The world series games in baseball are no better than any other ball game played during the regular season, yet from a sporting spectacle they demand national attention and play to capacity crowds. It is the prominence of the event that attracts.

The same truth holds good in football. When Yale met Harvard or Princeton, the prominence of these institutions makes the event one of national importance. If a certain player makes a remarkable showing in one of these big games he immediately becomes a nation-wide hero because of the prominence given his deeds. In a meeting between two small college teams, some certain player possessing unusual ability might star to even greater advantage than the big-game hero, yet have his efforts go practically unnoticed.

Milstead of Yale is rated as one of the greatest tackles of the year; he is sure to get much consideration as an All-America candidate. Milstead has been a rover. He began his career at dear old Wabash. The little Indiana college always turns out great teams. While at Wabash, Milstead no doubt performed as brilliantly as he has at Yale, yet Milstead would never have received the columns of praise that he has slipped to Milstead of Yale.

In a majority of cases the college makes for the prominence of the player who possesses unusual ability. Seldom is a small college star placed on a first All-America team, because in a sense his identity is lost in his surroundings. That is one reason why most All-America selections are not a fair rating of the country's best players.

MAJOR LEAGUE OPENS APRIL 15

Magnates Decide Date As One of Final Acts.

(By The Associated Press.)
Chicago, Dec. 14.—One of the final acts of the baseball magnates who have spent the week here in business meetings and player trades, was the agreement of the major league representatives on the opening date of April 15. Last year the leagues opened on different dates.

President Barney Dreyfuss of the Pittsburgh Nationals said that the opening date was virtually the only thing agreed upon, but that the task of the schedule committees of each league next February were considerably smoothed by this arrangement.

Dreyfuss, President John A. Heydler and a few of the minor league magnates who are members of the National Association of the minors were the last to leave tonight.

The American Association today adopted a schedule of 168 games, also opening April 15, the Western clubs opening in the eastern cities as usual.

A large number of comparatively small salary claims were up before the national board of arbitration of the minors. The minor league club owners were unanimous in their dissatisfaction with the results of the Chicago meeting, as the minors joint sessions took up so much of the time of league presidents that the leagues were able to do but little real business of their own.

FEW MAJOR GRID TEAMS ESCAPED WITHOUT DEFEAT

Cornell, West Virginia, Yale, Michigan, Illinois and California are the only undefeated major eleven in the season just closed. Four of them, namely, Cornell, West Virginia, Michigan and California, were also unbeaten in 1922.

Vanderbilt, Princeton and Iowa, three teams with clean slates a year ago, fell by the wayside this campaign. For Vanderbilt and Iowa it was the first time in three seasons that defeats had been encountered. Notre Dame was trimmed but twice in the last two years. Both times by Nebraska.

California's record was slightly marred by being held to a 0 to 0 tie by Nevada. California, however, trimmed teams that defeated Nevada.

Vanderbilt's 3 to 0 defeat by Michigan was not unexpected, as Yost's team is one of the best in years. The 16 to 0 trimming handed Vandy by Texas was an upset.

For Princeton it was a terrible one. Unbeaten last season, the Tigers lost to Notre Dame, Harvard, Yale, and were held to a tie by the Navy.

Johnny Curtin Wins On A Foul

(By The Associated Press.)
New York, Dec. 14.—Irish Johnny Curtin, Jersey City bantamweight, won on a foul from Joe Ryder, of Brooklyn, tonight in the fifth round of a 12-round match, at Madison Square Garden, which shared the feature place on the card with the Vicentini-Shugrue contest. Ryder was disqualified for hitting low, after he had gained a decisive margin on points over his opponent in the first four rounds.

Yost Cautions Against The Pro.

(By The Associated Press.)
Berea, Ohio, Dec. 14.—An appeal for the protection of college athletics against the inroads of professionalism was made by Fielding H. Yost, veteran coach of the University of Michigan, here tonight. Mr. Yost was the principal speaker at the annual football banquet of Baldwin-Wallace College.

Mr. Yost also told of the increasing demand upon members of the coaching profession.

WORKS HARDEST ON RUTH.

Urban Shocker, star pitcher of the St. Louis Browns, says that he pitches harder on Babe Ruth than any other player in the American League. Shocker says there are any number of reasons. First, the desire he has to keep the big fellow from hitting, and secondly, if you don't work carefully on him each time at the bat you are liable to be asking the umpire for a new ball as the one in play soars over the fence. Shocker says a slow ball, properly pitched, is the most effective against Ruth, but if you get it in his "groove," he will make a fast one out of your slow one.

LYNCH STRONG AT 122.

When Joe Lynch, bantamweight champion, knocked out Eddie Conlon of New Orleans in the third round recently, he weighed 122 pounds, the old featherweight limit. At this weight Lynch looked great and fought in long-time form. Whether he will continue to look great when he scales it at the bantamweight limit is another thing.

MARKET NEWS

PRICES ARE IN MUCH CONFLICT

Industrials Move Up While Rails Start Downward.

(By The Associated Press.)

STOCK SALES SUMMARY.

Total stock sales, 1,284,000 shares.
Twenty industrials averaged 94.95; net gain .26.
High 1923, 105.38; low 85.75.
Twenty railroads averaged 83.32; net loss .76.
High 1923, 90.51; low 79.53.

New York, Dec. 14.—Conflicting price movements took place in today's stock market, industrials pushing upward in a vigorous fashion until checked by the usual week-end realizing movement just before the close, while railroad shares continued to fall back on a renewal of selling pressure against the northwestern carriers. Total sales, which again exceeded one and one-quarter million shares, testified to increased public participation.

Large buying orders were placed in the market at the opening as a result of the favorable showing made in the November foreign trade statement and the growing belief that the further reduction in crude oil output, coincident with an increase on certain Texan and Pennsylvania grades, foreshadowed a definite turn for the better in the oil industry.

Oils Seek Higher Level.
Oils moved to higher ground in active trading under the leadership of such issues as Producers and Refiners, Pan-American A and B, Condon, Marland, Houston and Pacific, all of which closed a point or more higher on the day although early gains were not entirely maintained. Sugars were heavily bought in the early dealings but they, too, fell back in the heavy realizing movement of the afternoon.

The so-called pivotal shares also became active at higher prices but with the exception of American Can, which closed nearly a point higher, they forfeited all of their gains and closed either unchanged or fractionally lower.

United Cigar Stores Jump.
The chief individual feature was United Cigar Stores which jumped 18 points to 205 and then slipped back to 200. United States Cast Iron Pipe jumped more than four points to 65, a new 1923 top, and then eased to 63 1/2. Some of the other strong spots were Corn Products, United States Alcohol, Republic Steel, Hayes Wheel, American Waterworks and Herman Corporation. Considerable interest was aroused by the activity of American Telephone, which touched 128 1/2, and closed at 127 5/8 for a net gain of nearly a point.

Willys Overland preferred, one of the recent strong spots, dropped back 2 5/8 to 78 1/8; Dupont dropped 2 1/2 and Jones Brothers Tea closed 2 points lower after establishing a new low record for the year.

Call money opened at 4 1/2 per cent but dropped to 4 1/4 before the close. Trading in the time money market was again quiet with short term loans arranged at five and the longer maturities at 5 1/4. The commercial paper market was moderately active with the best names commanding 4 1/2 per cent.

Principal foreign exchange rates were slightly reactionary. Uncertainty over the British political situation caused a further drop of a half cent on the rate of demand sterling, which was quoted around $4.85 1/2, while French francs eased about 2 points to 5.30 cents.

CHICAGO LIVESTOCK.

Chicago, Dec. 14.—Cattle receipts 5,000; steers marketed 4,200; few fat calves marketed steady at 7.25 to 8.50; heavily matured steers 9.00; best yearlings 10.00; light calves 11.00; calves 2.25 to 2.50; light hogs 11.00; hogs 4.50 and below; new grade hogs steady to unevenly lower; others steady; mixed hogs 11.25; bulk hogs 11.00; calves to packers 8.75 to 9.50; light calves inactive; well bred feeders in moderate demand.

Hogs, receipts 29,000; 25c higher; closed extremely slow; good and choice 22 1/2 to 300 pound hogs 7.15 to 7.25; top 7.25; choice 7.15 to 7.25; heavy 6.50 to 7.00; 7.10; packing sows 5.50 to 6.50; slaughter pigs 2 1/2 higher; strong hogs 6.25 to 6.50; estimated holdover 11,000.

Sheep, receipts 1,000; lambs steady to 25c lower; sheep and feeding lambs steady; fat lambs 12.50 to 12.90; top 12.90; all lambs 12.00 to 12.50; choice wethers 12.50 to 13.00; choice medium weight fat ewes 7.00; good feeding lambs 7.00 to 11.00; light weights 11.75.

CHICAGO GRAIN.

Chicago, Dec. 14.—Lively selling in the corn market led to price breaks today both for corn and wheat. Predictions were current that receipts of corn would soon become larger. Wheat closed heavy at 2-4 to 2-4 1/2 to decline. May 1.88 1/2 to 1.98 1/2 and July 1.06 1/2 to 1.06 1/2. Corn finished 3-4 to 1 1/2 down, oats 1/2 to 5-8 to 1/2 off and provisions varying from unchanged to 10 to 12c less.

It was well along toward the day's end before wheat displayed any pronounced weakness. The market soon pointed upward most of the time, influenced somewhat by reports of heavy rains embolizing the Argentine harvest. More news came in from the west, reports of Washington developments favorable to plans for advancing supplies of food grain to Germany.

On the other hand, reports that a bumper crop of Canadian wheat were arriving daily at Minneapolis tended to weaken confidence on the part of holders here, and to make the wheat market responsive to other bearish factors.

With weather conditions such as bears have been counting on for an increase of the crop movement, selling in the corn market was much more energetic than for some time past, and aggressive support was lacking. Oats, like wheat, declined with corn.

Grain weakness depressed prices at the last, despite strength of hog market.

The Piffle Hook

AN AMERICAN girl is reported to have broken one of the banks at Monte Carlo. She probably married it.

"Of course the constitution is not sacrosanct," admits Albert J. Beveridge. Wait until the National Security League hears that!

The Hon. Albert may be correct. Perhaps he considered carefully the effect his words would have upon a large number of his constituents in Indiana. But it was an Indiana woman, you remember, who objected to the revised version of the New Testament, some years ago, because she said she wanted the Good Book "just as God wrote it," and that's the way they take their constitution down there.

FEDERAL OFFICERS in Detroit are said to be anxious to engage the services of four men who never had tasted beer. The throng of eligible applicants, it is reported, almost fills a telephone booth.

SENATOR MAGNUS JOHNSON is said to be very fond of music. The most musical thing in the world to Magnus is the sound of his own voice.

ORGANIZATION of a cement bloc is reported in the lower house of congress. From the neck down, its members are almost exactly like other human beings.

The other civic responsibility on the opposite side of the table expects to make a fortune next year. "They'll be nominating presidential candidates," sezze, "and I'm asking for copyright protection on that original phrase of mine: 'The Man Who.' Thing of the royalties I'm going to collect!"

POLA NEGRI says "marriage is of secondary importance" to her. It is to most women but few of them brag about it.

yond the expense of administration. The South may therefore be expected to work for greater leniency to the delinquent buyers of irrigated lands and then turn around and point to these losses as an argument for spending $60,000,000 for draining southern swamp lands. In the meantime, what about the owner of naturally drained arable land in the rain belt? Will he be enthusiastic over additional government expenditures to open new lands to compete with his acres?

Thirty years ago Grover Cleveland said: "Paternalism has no place in a democracy." Since Cleveland's time paternalism has made a place for itself in this democracy and is a menace to the very existence of the government.

The country prefers a sphinx in the White House to a straddler.

WRITE IT "CHRISTMAS."

A man designated only as "a stickler for form" is quoted in a lower state newspaper as declaring that it is about time that someone started a campaign against the activities of folks too lazy to write "Christmas" and who therefore abbreviate it "X-mas."
 He is quoted as saying: "I don't know where that 'X-mas' stuff ever originated, and I care less, but what I do know is that abbreviating the word 'Christmas' is an abominable practice. Abbreviation generally may be called that. Out in California all the native sons and daughters have for years made desperate and persistent efforts to make people write out the name of the state. In other commonwealths the same thing has been done. Occasionally such efforts have been successful. On this 'X-mas' matter I am certainly a crank, if that is what you care to call it."
 Many not only consider it in bad taste but extremely irreverent to so abbreviate the name of Christ.
 There is quite probably some excuse for the abbreviation in some of the large holiday advertisements, but even there the word could be used less often and in full without great trouble, and this, we believe, would add to the effectiveness and pulling power of the copy.

TAXES, TAXES, MORE TAXES.

State, municipal and other minor taxing authorities have increased our tax burdens since the war at an astounding rate. Thirty-four states reporting for 1921 showed an increase of 75 per cent in two years.
 While the federal government is striving to reduce taxes, others are steadily increasing them. In 1920, $6,112,243,000 was required for federal governmental expenditures. In 1921 that was reduced to $4,849,708,000. But in the same period in which federal expenditures were thus cut $1,242,535,000, state and local expenditures were increased from $3,808,523,000 to $4,523,887,000, and they're still going up.
 Federal taxation since the war has been reduced from more than three-fifths of the nation's total to approximately one-half. In the same period local taxes have increased even more rapidly, and the people of this country this year probably will pay considerably more taxes than they paid in 1920. Local governments are on spending spree. Bonds issued by states, municipalities and other taxing sub-divisions, which jumped from a total of $736,000,000 in 1917 to $2,020,000,000 in 1921, promise to show a similar increase in 1923. There seems to be no check on local taxation. It ought to be studied and corrected as much as federal taxation. The proposed conference would provide an opportunity to that end.

TARIFF AND SHOE PRICES.

A pair of shoes can be bought in Canada for $9 that cannot be duplicated on Broadway in New York for less than $15. If shoes, hides and leather were on the free list in Canada, while a tariff was laid upon them in the United States there isn't a free trader in the world who would not positively know that the iniquitous high tariff was responsible for the difference in the price. But it just happens that shoes, hides and leather are admitted into the United States free of duty, while Canada levies a duty upon them of 30 per cent ad valorem! How is the free trader to explain such an absurd situation as that? For the matter of that, how is anybody else to explain it?

SOUTHERN PORK BARREL.

A campaign has begun to induce Congress to appropriate a large sum for the reclamation of swamp lands in the South. The claim is put forward that the irrigation law is certain to result in a considerable loss to the federal treasury, although it was framed on the theory that reclamation would cost nothing but

AN ENLIGHTENING TALK WITH MR. ELLWOOD.

Chapter XXXII.
 That spring the doctor advised that Mrs. Ellwood be taken to the country earlier than usual. Mr. Ellwood rented a lovely old house on the shore of the lake, and we moved in. We were quite isolated, yet near enough the country club and other summer residents so that Mollie would have plenty of social activity. She had helped her father choose the place, and had assured herself of congenial society.

"There's tennis and golf at the club, and I shall ride of course," she told me.
 "Larry and other men I know spend a good deal of time at the club which is a very gay one. If it gets too slow I can always run into town."

Guy seemed pleased with the change. He was not quite so moose, not as sulky. I had not yet found an opening to make my request to tell Rush Millbank of my illness, its cause, and therefore the reason of his idleness. I could not quite fathom the family's dislike to have it mentioned, as I knew many of the returned soldiers were similarly affected. I kept out of his way as much as possible, and when being where he was unavoidable I treated him in a sly manner that gave him no excuse to find fault with me, nor to attempt to make love to me. I never risked being alone with him, however, not at all sure he would then restrain himself.

Rush Millbank was still to have charge of Mrs. Ellwood, and had planned to spend his weekends in the vicinity, taking his vacation in this way. Barton Ellwood also had taken up his residence at the country club, going to and from the city when necessary or he desired. Mr. Ellwood would commute. It seemed to me he was the only one to whom the move to the country would entail any hardship; but he was so glad to do anything that held out hope for a better condition for his wife that I do not believe he for one moment considered himself at all.

By the middle of May we were settled, and it seemed to me I never could have an unhappy moment in such a beautiful place. I took the greatest delight in describing its beauties to Mrs. Ellwood, telling her of the plants and flowers, the view from the terraces, the silver lake. She declared she could see everything through my eyes, that she knew she could walk about unassisted were she stronger, even though she could not see at all.

And now she could only distinguish between daylight and dark. Objects were just indistinct shadows. It was pitiful. She had not been as well as usual all day, and after the nurse took charge for the night I wandered out on to the lawn, intending to walk to the lake. A little ways from the house I ran across Mr. Ellwood, standing with his hands locked behind him, staring down the maple avenue, toward the lake that was his terminus. As I saw the last rays of the fading sunlight falling on his upward-flung head, I experienced a feeling of reverence, of wanting to help him.

Henrietta: "My husband is never at home nights."
 Harriet: "Do tell me how you manage it."

NEVER-SWEATS' LOSE A MATCH AT ELKS CLUB

Jack Quick Leads List of Individual Averages

Living up to their title, the players on the invincible team took two games out of three from the Never-sweats at the Elks' Temple alleys Thursday night, and thus took their first step toward the special challenge championship, the loser of which will be forced to pay the $5,000 forfeit or give a banquet supper to the winners.

Unusual and unexpected high scores rolled by H. L. Head and others on the invincible team brought them a substantial margin of pins, though they lost the first game. Head was high man, with a score of 195 in one game.

With a fine crowd of Boy Scouts, prospective scouts and their leaders, but with a marked absence of the "Dads," who were given a special invitation to attend, the first big scout rally arranged here in some time was held Thursday night at the Gladstone Junior high school auditorium. Over one hundred Scouts were present.

The meeting was featured by enthusiasm and interest throughout. Deputy Commissioner James T. Jones, who was chairman of the rally, aiding considerably in that respect. Stunts by the various Gladstone troops, which were well planned and carried out, were a part of the program as well as singing by the entire assembly, lead by Attorney G. R. Empeon.

JUNIOR PLAY SCORES A HIT

"A Tailor Made Man," Proves Excellent Vehicle for Students.

"Clothes do not make a man," said a savant of other days. Perhaps he was right; perhaps he wasn't.

Clothes, however, are a powerful assistant man-maker at times, although when they are borrowed clothes—especially clothes borrowed without a rightful owner's consent—there sometimes are complications. As in "A Tailor Made Man," to H. P. Bart, "understudy" to H. J. James Smith's comedy, "The Tailor Made Man."

New York successes aren't always hits when presented by amateurs. In the hands of a cast of Juniors, who had chosen it as their annual play, the Smith comedy scored a big hit last night. Due to the care which had been given to the settings, the details with which the costumes and properties had been worked out, and above all, the efficient direction of Miss Emily Cripps, the piece ran its course with verve and polish seldom seen in school productions.

Whole Cast Exceptional. It was an evening of outstanding performance. The cast had been happily chosen and each member of it exhibited evidences of careful study and more-than-average ability. To mention the stars of the evening is to print a list of the folks who had parts in the play. They were:

Thaxter Shaw, John Baird, Anthony Manley, Gerrard Belanger, Kenneth Hodson, Ruth Sanderson, Orville Murphy, Frank Nead, Helen O'Leary, Irene Dotsch, Waldo Kester, Morris Alperwitz, Frank DeCaire, Chester Ericson, Alice Kram, Wellington Huss, Irene Roland, Gladys Hendrickson, William Lemite, Robert Gessner, Cecelia Pepin and James Campbell.

Orchestra Pleases. A feature of the evening was the music by the 16-piece high school orchestra, under direction of Leonard Shanklin. The orchestra has been developed rapidly during the school year, and its work last night proved to be a musical organization of real merit. Miss Lorraine Kemp gave a pleasing dance specialty between the second and third act.

The financial success of the affair is due, to a large extent, to the efficient work of Herman Miethe, chairman of the ticket sales committee.

The class will give $100 of the proceeds to the athletic field fund being raised by the school.

It is said that in prehistoric times the Incas of Peru built roads of asphalt rock that are almost in as good condition today as when laid down.

In a recent murder trial in Montreal the jury was sworn in, the case presented, and a verdict not guilty returned, all within a period of ten minutes.

AMUSEMENTS

AT THE DELFT.

Rex Beach's story of the Klondike gold rush, "The Spoilers," appearing for the last time today has lost none of its glamor, none of its vividness and none of its drama in the years that have passed since it was written—and that have passed since it was first put upon the screen ten years ago by Colonel Selig. The new version, produced by Jesse D. Hampson, with Lambert Hillier directing, was shown last night at the Delft theatre and it held the big audience completely in its grasp. The production is on a bigger and more spectacular scale than was the original as was to be expected, seeing how rapid the progress and technique of making pictures has been, and the great light staged between the hero and the villain surpasses that of a decade ago.

"The Spoilers" is a true picture of life in the Klondike gold rush and the attempt of certain unprincipled adventurers to jump the claims of the early miners. Its story has a peculiar fascination for the minds of red-blooded Americans. The picture is one of the best made in recent years and there is no doubt that it will repeat the big success of its first screen incarnation.

The cast is certainly one of the most notable that has ever been seen in any one photoplay. It reads like a "Who's Who" of the screen—Milton Sills, Barbara Bedford, Anna Q. Nilsson, Noah Beery, Robert Edeson, Mitchell Lewis, Wallace MacDonald, Ford Sterling, Robert McKim, Sam de Grasse, John Elliott, Louis Fazenda, Kate Price, Rockcliffe Fellows, Gordon Russell, Albert Roscoe, Tom McGuire and Jack Curtis.

The fight between Milton Sills, who is the Roy Glennister, and Noah Beery, impersonating the villainous Alex McNamara, is without a doubt the greatest screen fight ever filmed. It is stated that it required five days to film this fight scene. Both men are excellent fighters as well as excellent actors and they really fought. Barbara Bedford and Anna Q. Nilsson share honors in feminine leads. It would be hard to improve upon the casting of the acting of this production.

BING, BANG, BOOM! David Butler, the eminent comedian, knocks a "Babe Ruth" for you in his newest production, "Bing Bang Boom," which rollicking comedy-drama will be shown at St. Joseph's Auditorium Sunday, Dec. 16. Whimsy humor and the ever-necessary "punch" are delightfully blended with romance in this picture, and wherever it has been shown, David Butler has acquired a host of new admirers and has endeared himself to his followers. He plays the role of a poor, meek and lowly shoe-cleek, yet ambition is awakened in him and despite tremendous odds against him by grim determination and assiduous application to duty he finally meets with the goal of every business man—real success.

Politics as they are played in a small town, form an important part of the plot, revolving around a satirically truthful drama.

Doris Pawn, playing opposite Butler is a winsome, beautiful young lady of appealing personality, and has played important

MORE PADLOCKS WILL BE ASKED

City Prepares to Petition Court for Additional Closing Orders.

While Sheriff J. P. Carney and Chief of Police John J. Tolan were in North Escanaba yesterday, boarding up the windows and doors and placing the legal padlocks on the "Malo" building, owned by Louis Grdinovich, which was temporary restraining order handed down under the state abatement act, steps were being taken down town to ask the court immediately to take similar action against four more buildings.

These buildings are: The Northwestern Hotel, 1801 Third avenue north. The "Kell" saloon, 1803 Third avenue north, operated by Charles Ellingson. The Burnell hotel, 514 Ludington street, of which Olaf Hanson is the proprietor. The Oni Kanjas place, 115 North Fifteenth street.

All of these places have been raided within the last two or three weeks, the search warrants having been based on charges of selling liquor. In most of them, previous tenants have been convicted of violating the prohibition laws.

One Year "Close-up." The city will ask, in its injunction petitions, that the buildings be "padlocked" for all purposes for the period of one year. Restraining orders under the padlock law will be asked against the property-owners as rapidly as bootlegging cases are developed. It was made clear several weeks ago by the city council and more than 50 landowners of the city were served with formal notices of the administration's intention.

The Malo place in North Escanaba was the first to be closed under the injunction campaign. It was not known, yesterday, when the four additional cases would be presented to Judge Flannigan.

roles with the Fox, Universal and other large picture companies. Butler's work in this production clearly stamps him as a forceful actor worthy of a foremost place in the ranks of the screen's most popular stars.

TOM SIMS SAYS

Oh, what do the cold waves say? Oh, they say, "Where's the coal?" What could be worse than being given the mumps for Christmas? Will you need a gift for an enemy of yours? Give him cheap cigars. If you don't like some neighbor you can give his little boy a drum.

The kids like skates, but they are hard on the seats of their pants. What will you give father? Give him asbestos gloves to be worn while opening Christmas bills.

A hot-water bottle makes a swell gift for a wife, and besides it will keep her feet warm at night. Give her an imported hair brush if she wears imported hair. Umbrellas make good gifts because you can borrow them back.

In giving a watch you can write "It's your time now," or "Hope you have a good time."

A nice telephone stand for a Christmas gift may help some friend stand her telephone. Candles make good Christmas gifts. The big, heavy kind are better for chasing burglars.

A rug as a gift makes a room as snug as a bug in a rug. The boy will get mad if there is no sawdust in sister's doll. Give daughter a razor so she will not sharpen pencils with yours.

The lighter electric irons do not damage the wall or knock a husband out like the heavy ones. On marking up a price tag always be sure the person who receives the gift will not exchange it.

STATE HUNTERS' WORK REVIEWED

Ligon Reports on Records Made Since System's Adoption.

A total of 2,400 predatory animals, 7,576 porcupines, 938 woodchucks and 6,212 birds of prey and crows were killed from the time the state and government hunters succeeded the bounty trappers in April, 1921, until October 31, 1923, according to J. Stokley Ligon, predatory animal inspector in Michigan.

Statistics maintained since the warden trapper system went into effect show that 217 wolves, 82 coyotes, 115 bobcats and 1,215 foxes were either trapped or shot, and of this number 68 timber wolves, 134 coyotes and 114 foxes were young.

"Deputy game and fire warden killed 10 timber wolves, 32 coyotes, 9 bobcats and 267 foxes of the total numbers, while state and government men accounted for the balance of the animals," said Mr. Ligon in his report.

"The figures," he explained, "as given do not take into consideration the great number of animals stolen from traps of the hunters nor those killed by use of poison and not found."

The report was supplemented by the statement that during the period given, 323 weasels were also killed.

Hides of all predatory animals are sent by warden trappers to the department of conservation at Lansing where they are

JOHNSON BODY NOT LOCATED

Brother of Missing Man Has Returned from Detroit.

Ernest Johnson, 1205 Seventh avenue south, has returned from Detroit where he went last week to assist in the investigation of the death of his brother, Bert Johnson, formerly of this city, who jumped from a pier into the Detroit river.

Bert Johnson's body has not been found. The Detroit harbor-master advised against the employment of a diver, declaring that such an attempt would be useless and expressed the belief that the body would come to the surface within a short time. Ernest Johnson talked with those who were near his brother at the time of the tragedy, and probably will be appointed temporary administrator of the estate when the three months, required by law in such cases, has expired.

No Doubt of Identity. There is no question as to the identity of the man who plunged from a pier into the stream, the Escanaba man said, in spite of the fact that no one saw him jump. The bank books, show-

Two Patients Go to State Hospital

Two patients committed by the probate court to the state hospital for mental defectives at Newberry, were taken to that institution yesterday by Undersheriff Elmer Swanson and Deputy Sheriff Clement Tordeur.

The "okapi," to secure a specimen of which an American expedition is now on its way to Africa, is very rare animal, first discovered in Uganda by the explorer Sir Harry Johnston. The animal is about the size of a large ox. The coloration is, perhaps, unique among mammals. The body is of a reddish color, the hair is sort of a cream color and striped like those of the zebra.

MAYOR SUED BY CITY EMPLOYEES

Ironwood Libel-Slander Case Asks Damages of $20,000.

Ironwood, Dec. 14.—A slander libel suit for $20,000, in which Walter W. Woodward, mayor of Ironwood, is named the defendant, was filed this afternoon by E. W. Massie, attorney for Mrs. Swea Johnson. The first count alleges slander and the second libel. The suit is the result of statements Mayor Woodward is alleged to have made involving Mrs. Johnson, stenographer of the city health office, and Hal Hansen, director of physical training at the Memorial building.

Asked for a statement early this afternoon, Mayor Woodward said a representative of the Daily Globe that "this is the first I have heard about it." Knowing nothing of the charges in the slander suit, he made no statement regarding it.

Mattee Is Charged.

In the declaration the plaintiff charges that "on divers days in the month of November and December, 1923, the defendant (Mayor Woodward) maliciously intending to injure the plaintiff in her good name, fame and credit, and to bring her into public scandal, ridicule, contempt and disgrace, and to cause it to be suspected by her neighbors and fellow citizens that she had been guilty of unfaithfulness to her husband, did falsely and maliciously speak and declare of and concerning the plaintiff in the presence and hearing of divers persons, false, scandalous and defamatory words."

Among the statements the mayor is alleged to have made are:

"Swea Johnson and Hal Hansen, the physical director at the Memorial building, have had numerous petting and spooning parties."

"Mrs. Johnson has admitted to me that there is a serious love affair between her and Mr. Hansen.

Wished They Were Single.

"She told me that the affair between them has even gone so far that they wished they were single."

The declaration further states "that the defendant meant thereby that the plaintiff had been carrying on a clandestine love affair with the said Hal Hansen, a married man, and that the plaintiff was unchaste and unfaithful to her husband, Roger E. Johnson."

"That the said statements were false and untrue and were made by the defendant with the intent of imputing unchastity to the plaintiff, and that she was unfaithful to her husband, Roger E. Johnson, and were so understood by the persons who heard them."

"That by reason of the speaking of said words, the plaintiff has been greatly injured in her good name, fame and credit, and has suffered great mental disgrace, all to her damage $20,000."

Count Charges Libel.

The second count, which is one of libel, speaks of the eleventh day of December as the specific day on which the cause for action took place. It involves the showing of several statements to aldermen during a meeting of the council as a committee of the whole Tuesday night.

STATE BEHEADS 26 GAME COPS

Many Employes Let Go Because of Fund Shortage, Baird Says.

The pruning knife has cut deep into the affairs of the state conservation department. Twenty-six old employes, all game wardens in the field, will be discharged from service December 15. The state operated game farm located near Mason was ordered abandoned and the raising of pheasants discontinued.

Must Economize.

"Economy is our watchword," said Director John Baird in asking the commission to approve of these orders. "The state can not carry on its payroll more than 100 game and fish wardens. We haven't money enough, and for this reason it is necessary to let some of our field men go. These men are needed, but we have no alternative."

Eight counties in the upper peninsula and eighteen below the straits will be affected by this charge.

The list includes Warden Belanger, of Baraga county; Bolleau, of Bob Lo Island; Gibson, Norm and Ojala, of Houghton county; Gould, of Iron county; Libby, of Marquette county and John Peck, a traveling deputy, whose home is in Sidway.

"As to the game farm," continued Baird, "there have been numerous complaints by farmers throughout the state as to the crop destroying proclivities of the Chinese ringnecked pheasant that we have been propagating and distributing from Mason and the sportsmen demand that we spend our money upon the preservation of the ruffed grouse and rearing of quail and prairie chicken instead of the pheasant. For these reasons the game farm operations will be discontinued at once."

Decline Park Offer.

The commission was offered 1,650 acres of virgin timber land adjacent to the Fort Wilkins state park site in Keweenaw county by Leon Esthavant, of Paris, France, for $48,000. The timber value upon this land, as fixed by local cruisers, is approximately $110,000. "This offer was refused for as Fred Z. Pantind, of Grand Rapids, one of the commissioners, remarked, "The legislature has not given us funds for the purchase of land for park purposes and as desirable as this property may be, we can take no action."

NOTICE.

Notice is hereby given that any person who cuts Christmas trees on property on the south shore, will be prosecuted to the fullest extent of the law.

Signed, H. O. Brotherton, 8064-345-51.

SCHOOL BOYS HELP OUT WITH PART TIME WORK

Services of boys for "odd" jobs which can be performed before and after school hours and on Saturdays, very often can be procured by means of a telephone inquiry at the office of R. E. Cheney, principal of the Escanaba high school, it was made known yesterday, and a number of citizens have made frequent use of this bit of service. Several boys at the school are "working their way," wholly or in part, and the principal's office has been used as a sort of clearing house to connect the work and the worker.

"Very often," said Mr. Cheney, "we are able to find boys for spare time jobs—not fellows who are looking for favors, but who are willing to do any kind of work that can be done outside of school hours and on Saturdays."

Police Have Clews in Robbery Case

Police yesterday were following up several clews which promised to solve the burglary at the Schram Hide House Thursday night, in which thieves got away with furs and pelts valued at about $400. No announcement was made concerning the direction which the investigation was taking.

SELL TAGS FOR "T. B." STAMPS

Woman's Club to Conduct Sales on Street Today.

Members of the Escanaba Woman's club will conduct a "tag day" here today, for the purpose of extending the sales of Red Cross Christmas seals.

These little stamps, which have been the means of saving hundreds of lives, every year, in the fight against tuberculosis, are to be offered to the public on the streets and in various store lobbies. In this way, it is believed, many citizens who really will be glad to assist in the financing of the work, but who have not yet been reached by the sales forces of the organization, will have the opportunity to make an investment in the cause of health.

Extends Interest.

In addition to the money which will be raised by means of the "tag day" plan it is felt that the number of contributors will be materially increased. This feature, the members of the club regard as a highly important one, for it carries the objects and purposes of the anti-tuberculosis drive a little closer to the folks who have a financial investment in it.
