MELLON INSISTS ON RECORD VOTE ON TAX BILL.

BY DAVID LAWRENCE. (Copyright 1924, by the Escanaba Press.) Washington, Feb. 2.—Out of deference to Secretary of the Treasury Mellon, the Republicans on the House Ways and Means Committee have decided to report to the House the Mellon tax plan with the changes already made.

Mr. Mellon has insisted on a record vote in the House on his proposition which is taken to mean that he will not compromise until he sees the necessity for it.

Although the bill as it will be reported to the House provides for a 25 percent surtax rate, even the Republican leaders themselves concede it can not pass the House and they anticipate a compromise at 35 per cent for the maximum surtax for incomes of $100,000 and above.

Urges 35 Per Cent. A few days ago Representative Longworth, the Republican House leader, began negotiations with the Democrats in the hope of securing enough pledges to make sure of a 35 percent surtax rate.

The Mellon Idea. When the House has voted down the 25 percent maximum surtax rate—a combination of Democrats and insurgent Republicans makes that almost a certainty—the Republican leaders will endeavor to get a 35 percent surtax through though it is probably this will be done without Mr. Mellon's sanction as he wishes to make a final effort to get the Senate to stand for the 25 percent rate.

Should it become necessary for the administration to compromise on a 35 percent rate, the chances are an effort will be made to get the application of the rate as high as possible in the upper brackets.

Secretary Disappointed. Secretary Mellon is reported to be disappointed with the action of the House Ways and Means

CITY SHAKEN BY EXPLOSION

One Man Killed and $150,000 Damage Is Done.

(By The Associated Press.) Kansas City, Mo., Feb. 2.—An explosion that shook the entire downtown district here, as thousands of office workers were hurrying to their employment today, caused one death, the injury of 8 persons, and property damage estimated at between $100,000 and $150,000.

Claude C. James of Richmond, Va., who was passing in front of the four story building of the Bailey Reynolds Chandler Company, where the explosion occurred, was killed.

Don MacDonald, 15, a messenger, was probably fatally injured and J. S. Bailey, president of the concern was slightly injured.

Two firemen were injured by a second explosion in the rear of the building, about an hour after the first.

About 50 employees were at work in the building. All were thrown to the floor by the first blast. Firemen carried many to safety while others fled down fire escapes.

Fire which followed the explosion had not been determined tonight, but it was believed a gas leak in the basement was responsible.

Declares He Can't Be Forced to Incriminate Himself.

(By The Associated Press.) Washington, Feb. 2.—Albert B. Fall declined today to testify further before the senate oil committee which seeks more light on the unpaid loans aggregating $125,000 made to him by E. L. Doheny and Harry F. Sinclair, whose oil companies obtained leases of naval oil reserves from him while he was secretary of the interior.

Hailed to the capitol over the protests of his physicians, and counsel, Mr. Fall, in a prepared statement, challenged the authority of the committee to continue the investigation and refused to answer questions on the further ground that his responses might tend to incriminate him in court proceedings authorized by congress in the Walsh anti-trust resolution.

FIRE ADDS ITS HORRORS TO AN AWFUL TRAGEDY

Seven Charred Bodies Recovered From Smoking Ruins

(By The Associated Press.) Fortville, Ind., Feb. 2.—The death toll of the wreck of two Indiana Union Traction Company trains, which collided head-on near here late today will probably reach seventeen, rescuers said tonight. Nine badly charred bodies have been removed from two cars that were destroyed by fire and seven other bodies are believed to be in the wreckage. One man injured in the wreck died later in an Anderson, Ind., hospital. Forty injured have been removed to hospitals at Anderson and Indianapolis.

The Known Dead. Dr. E. Blain Haskin, Indianapolis, of the United States department of agriculture bureau of animal industry.

John Hutchens, Indianapolis, traction company employee, died in hospital.

Two trains of the Anderson division of the Indiana Union Traction company met in a head-on collision on a curve two miles east of here late this afternoon. Fire starting after the wreck, consumed two cars and several of those who lost their lives were burned to death.

Nine badly charred bodies were removed from the wrecked cars early tonight and members of a wreck crew said they had seen three more bodies which they had been unable to extricate because of the intense heat. The cars were of wood construction and all that remained of them was a mass of smoking embers and red hot brake rods and trucks.

Each train consisted of a motor car and trailer. The motor cars were telescoped and most of the dead and injured were in these cars. Passengers in the trailers escaped with minor injuries. The first body identified was that of Dr. E. Blain Haskin of Indianapolis, inspector in charge of the United States department of agriculture, bureau of animal industry in Indianapolis.

Dies In Hospital. John Hutchens of Indianapolis, who was taken from the wreck badly injured, died tonight in a hospital at Anderson. The motor men on both trains escaped with slight injuries as they jumped before the collision.

The injured were given first aid treatment by physicians at this place and by others rushed here on a special car from Anderson. Ambulances with medical officers and enlisted men from the medical detachment at Fort Benjamin Harrison were also sent to the wreck.

Hundreds of persons were on the scene within a few minutes after the collision but were unable to help the victims pinned beneath the wreckage of the burning cars.

A number of injured were taken to Indianapolis on a work train of the New York Central Railroad whose tracks parallel those of the traction company.

The bodies that were recovered tonight were burned so that identification was almost impossible.

(By The Associated Press.) Moscow, Feb. 2.—Alexis Ivanovitch Rykoff has been chosen to succeed the late Nikolai Lenine as head of the council of commissars. Leon Trotsky is retained as commissar of war.

Alexis Ivanovitch Rykoff, who was one of Lenine's strongest supporters and assisted him in the capacity of first vice president of the council of people's commissars, has taken a prominent part in the soviet regime since it came into power. He first came into prominence as a member of the all-Russian central executive committee. He has held the posts of commissar of agriculture, president of the supreme economic council and vice president of the council of labor and defense.

BOURBONS MAY UPSET SURTAX

Democrats Claim Enough Votes to Have Their Way.

(By The Associated Press.) Washington, Feb. 2.—Democratic leaders in the house, confident they can muster enough votes to upset the surtax schedule carried in the Mellon bill, declared today they would make no concessions on the 44 percent maximum they favor. It was indicated that they might modify the normal income tax rate proposed in their substitute.

Representative Garner of Texas, ranking Democrat on the committee, announced he had asked for a new set of treasury estimates. They would apply, it was indicated, to normal tax rates and possibly the proposed earned income exemption but not to surtaxes or the recommendation for an increase in the tax exemption for both unmarried persons and heads of families.

May Shift Position. A treasury estimate that the Garner plan would mean a loss of revenue to the government of $348,000,000 annually as against $288,000,000 under the Mellon bill, is understood to have influenced some Democrats to believe that a shift in the normal rate might be advisable to cut down the total. To what extent this might be done, was not disclosed.

Confidence of the Democrats that majority of the house will not line up in favor of the 25 percent surtax maximum proposed by Mr. Mellon lay chiefly in the announcement of Representative Frear of Wisconsin, a Republican on the ways and means committee, that he and other insurgents would not go along with the Republican organization on this point.

Democratic leaders predicted that at least 30 Republicans would swing to their support when a showdown comes on surtax—enough votes, they pointed out, to insure adoption of their schedule.

Some Republicans, however, expressed the opinion that a compromise on a figure below the Democratic maximum might be agreed upon to keep enough Republicans in line to insure rejection of the Garner rates.

The ways and means committee was not in session today and probably will not meet until the latter part of the week to dispose of odds and ends before the reporting the revenue bill not later than February 11. Republican members, however, will confer Monday on some sections, including the taxes paid this year on 1923 income.

GREAT FIGHTING SPIRIT REFUSES TO SURRENDER

Aware That End Is Near But Shows No Sign Of Abandoning Cool, Calm Struggle To Keep Flickering Flame Of Life Afloat

(By The Associated Press.) (BULLETIN) Washington, Feb. 3.—The situation at the Wilson home remained unchanged at 1:05 a. m., and there was nothing to indicate any change in the condition of the former president.

Washington, Feb. 2.—Softly but with increasing swiftness, the falling tide of Woodrow Wilson's life flowed outward tonight toward the Great Deep.

Steadily through the day and into the inscrutable hours of darkness it kept its inexorable way, beyond the power of human will or human ingenuity to stay it.

Tonight the war president lay barely conscious, free of pain, and fully resigned in spirit, as if he were preparing to fall into a natural sleep in the presence of the little faithful circle at his bedside.

His stout heart, which had performed its labored duties with a strength that astonished his physicians, began at last to falter and grow faint. There were grave fears that the end was almost at hand.

Throughout the thirty-six hours that he has lain between life and death, the regular and almost normal beating of his heart has given those about him a glimmering of hope that somehow he might come through his supreme battle victorious.

But even that feeble hope flickered and all but went out when an evening consultation of his doctors revealed a declining pulse—a sign that his heart had begun to feel desperately the gradual weakening of his delicate vitality.

While he retained consciousness most of the time his heart action was growing constantly weaker and he was in a state of almost complete prostration.

President Names the Former Ohio Senator Oil Prosecutor

(By The Associated Press.) Washington, Feb. 2.—While the senate oil inquiry was brought to a temporary standstill today by the refusal of former Secretary Fall to testify, President Coolidge selected Atlee Pomerene, former Democratic senator from Ohio, in place of Thomas W. Gregory, to serve as general counsel with Siras H. Strawn in prosecuting the oil lease case.

At the same time the ground work was being laid in the department of justice for the institution of injunction suits to prevent further removal of oil from California oil reserve number one by the Pan-American Petroleum and Transport Company and from the Teapot Dome reserve in Wyoming by the Mammoth Oil Company. Whether these suits will be brought here or in the states where the reserves are located has not been disclosed.

Chicago Mayor's Wife Kept From A Filled Church

(By The Associated Press.) Chicago, Feb. 2.—Inspectors from the fire prevention bureau will be assigned to every church in Chicago tomorrow to see that the fire prevention ordinances are obeyed and particularly to keep places of worship from being over crowded. It was announced tonight. One fire inspector last Sunday refused to allow Mrs. William T. Dever, wife of Mayor Dever, to enter a church when she appeared late and found all the seats taken. It was announced today.

SANDS RUN LOW.

As each moment passed, the grim destroyer moved a little nearer; the faint spark of life flickered and fluttered, burning lower after every futile gust which blew to extinguish it.

Resigned to the inevitable and quite ready, Mr. Wilson waited patiently and bravely for the end.

How he struggled through the early hours when life reaches its low ebb—was a marvel to his physicians. They felt that his soul would float out on the great tide before today's daylight.

GREETING NEW DAWN. But sleeping lightly, breathing steadily and almost normally, Mr. Wilson weathered the dangerous hours and the light of a new bright February day streaming in through the windows of his bed chamber found the stricken war president still fighting.

When he awoke from a fitful slumber an attempt was made to have him take some light liquid nourishment. The dying man moved his head in a signal of disapproval, and, when pressed, breathed an almost inaudible "no." Likewise he rejected an attempt to have him take a few sips of water. Faintly he indicated he wanted an old negro servant to rearrange his pillows, and to be eased about in his bed.

MRS. WILSON CLOSE. Apparently more comfortable, he indicated he wanted his wife, Mrs. Wilson, coming to the bedside, took the sufferer's hand in hers and held it silently, until he drifted off into another snatch of sleep.

When Mr. Wilson roused again he thought of another friend and breathed faintly, "where's Grayson?" the friend and physician who was now conducting the last and losing round of a battle with death, which actually began before Woodrow Wilson's first term in the White House was ended, came to the bedside. That seemed to satisfy the former president, and he lapsed into quiet again.

Apparently the sick man's first thought on awakening was to satisfy himself that he had near him the only three persons whose presence he wants to feel in his last moments.

Except for the broken, fast-passing figure on the bed, the room hardly looked like a chamber of death. Careful whittens of the windows which look to the south, toward the Potomac and an indigo ridge of Virginia hills where he used to play. On the walls are some family pictures, that of the first Mr. Wilson one of them photographs of his grandchild, a young boy, looking down upon him.

In the corner stands a desk, a personal one, devoted wholly to personal affairs. Upon it personal papers and books are arranged with the orderly precision which marked his nature. Everything lies just as he left it last when Dr. Grayson ordered him to bed.

Relatives In Waiting. Downstairs a few close relatives, waited and went about with conversations in subdued tones. Telegrams and letters poured in by the hundreds and were listed and acknowledged by volunteer secretaries from among the family or friends. Calling cards by the dozen, many bearing names of national note, were silently left at the door in person by those who left their automobiles at the bottom of the hill and walked up to pay what they sorrowfully knew was a last mark of respect.

Use him constantly, holding his hand. Miss Margaret Wilson, the former president's daughter, and Joseph Wilson, of Baltimore, his brother, also were in the house but they approached the sickroom only at intervals.

Demand for an investigation of the personal income tax returns of Mr. Sinclair was made by Representative Jeffers, Democrat, Alabama, who told the house he was compiling a thorough check of the records would "uncover irregularities, graft, crookedness and corruption".

McAdoo Corrects Error. None of the former cabinet officers in the Wilson administration, who E. L. Doheny has told the committee were retained as counsel for his companies after they retired from office, has asked to be heard by the committee as yet.

Former Attorney General Gregory arrived here today from Texas but his conference with President Coolidge was deferred until tomorrow. The executive definitely made up his mind yesterday not to return Mr. Gregory, who was his first selection as Democratic nominee, because of the testimony given by Mr. Doheny that Mr. Gregory had acted as counsel for the island and other oil companies.

Validity Of Divorce Hit By Candler

(By The Associated Press.) Atlanta, Ga., Feb. 2.—The divorce decree which Mrs. Onezima De Bouchelle obtained from Adolph Roquet of New Orleans, in Reno, Nov. 9, 1921, was attacked and defended today before Judge Samuel H. Sibley in the United States district court here in the breach of promise suit for $500,000 brought against Asa G. Candler, Sr., by the New Orleans society leader.

W. D. Thompson, counsel for the Atlanta Capitalist, contended that the decree was invalid and would not have been recognized either in that state or in Georgia and that any engagement to marry was illegal and of no effect. The legality of the divorce was defended by Albert Howell, Jr., of Atlanta, and Harry Gamble of New Orleans, of counsel for Mrs. De Bouchelle.

LEWIS FORCES IN TRIUMPH

Howatt Fails Of Reinstatement After Fight.

(By The Associated Press.) Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 2.—The conservative trade unionists have scored a marked triumph over the destructive influence of "communism." International President John L. Lewis, of the United Mine Workers of America declared today after adjournment of the miners' biennial convention. He spoke of the work as a whole and of the reputation for the second time Alexander Howatt, deposed Kansas district president.

"The complete route of these radical influences," Mr. Lewis said, "demonstrates that the overwhelming majority of the membership of the United Mine Workers organization believe in constructive progress through the instrumentality of orderly procedure."

Thrilling Finish. Last minutes of the convention were filled with dramatic situations. After gaining the front of the hall while President Lewis hammered for order and demanded in his resonant voice "Alexander Howatt for what purpose do you come to this convention?" the former Kansas president proceeded to the stage approach and then to a stand three feet from the chairman.

President Lewis read the law of the organization to the delegates and then turned full on the Kansassan and with the same loud voice, exclaimed: "Alexander Howatt, you are not recognized."

Two sergeants at arms took Howatt by the arm. He struggled till they got him to the stairs and then said, "I'll go," and with that was shoved down the steps. As they laid hold of him, a rush of his adherents up the center aisle got as far as the front row of seats, but no farther. Combative West Virginians and Tennesseeans stopped them with threats of violence if they went farther.

For five minutes there was possibility of rioting and a call for police was sent out, but order was restored by President Lewis' sharp whacks of the gavel, marking the end of the convention.

Butler Plans A Spectacular Cleanup Raid

(By The Associated Press.) Philadelphia, Pa., Feb. 2.—Spectacular raids will mark the end of the city's fourth forty-eight hour drive against vice at 8 a. m. tomorrow, according to Director of Public Safety Butler. Throughout the city police today continued their efforts to locate stills and bootlegging joints, a 350 gallon still was found in operation in a two story garage. A gang warned the occupants of the place, it is believed, and no body was found there. Forty-four thousand gallons of alcohol were seized.

In announcing the impending cleanup Director Butler served notice on the politicians to keep "hands off". "Political pull won't save anybody," he said.

Committee in making the 25 per cent reduction on earned incomes apply only to persons with an income of $20,000 or under. He is said to feel that if the principle of the thing is sound—and that seems to be recognized by both parties—then there should be no penalty on brains and no restraint upon individual initiative.

As it stands now many doctors and lawyers and others who have made a success in their professions will not get the benefit of the 25 percent reduction on earned incomes. They will stand on the same footing as other individuals who do not earn their incomes but clip coupons from investment of funds inherited or accumulated by other persons for them. The professional man has an average of fifteen or twenty years within which to build a trust for his family. He can not pass his practice or ability on to another generation whereas the man with capital can bequeath that to another. As matters stand now the doctor or lawyer with an income of $30,000 a year pays exactly the same tax as the man with an estate of approximately a million dollars whose annual income from his investments is in the neighborhood of $30,000.

The Democrats have proposed a reduction of one third on all earned incomes without limit but they voted for the $20,000 maximum in committee so that unless the House itself changes the bill as reported from the Ways and Means Committee that will be the upper limit for the one fourth reduction on earned incomes.

(By The Associated Press.) Little Rock, Ark., Feb. 2.—The Arkansas penitentiary commission tonight dismissed Warden Hamp Martin, who was kidnapped yesterday by three condemned murderers and confined in the "death house" at the penitentiary and forced to drive the prisoners from the prison in his automobile.

The dismissal came after the declaration by Governor McRae that the escape of the three prisoners yesterday by three condemned murderers, Emory Connel and Eulos and Joe Sullivan, "undoubtedly was due to negligence of somebody within the prison walls." The governor asserted that an effort would be made "to determine where the responsibility lies."

8-YEAR-OLD WIZARD

ARTHUR G. OTTESMAN

By NEA Service. Atlanta, Ga.—A high school student at eight, Arthur G. Ottesman, son of an Atlanta clothing manufacturer, expects to enter Harvard at an age when most boys are still in their sixth grade in elementary school.

Yet he has none of the temperaments of a genius. He is just a "regular fellow" who likes his football as well as his books, his radio as well as his home work. When but two years old, the boy could read and write with unusual ability. The following year he was an interested reader of newspapers and now his mental feats are the subject of country-wide comment. He entered the third grade at the age of six, which is the minimum age for enrolling in Atlanta public schools.

He spent a year in the fourth grade—"a lot of time wasted," he says.

Then he buckled down to work and completed the fifth grade work in less than two weeks. He "loafed" a year in the sixth grade and now is doing high school work alongside boys eight and nine years his senior.

"We did not push him," says his grammar school principal. "We gave him the regular work but he completed that so quickly we were forced to try him on something else. His average mark was A during his grammar school career."

In a recent mental test in which the average of his classmates, about twice as old as he, was 80, Arthur's mark was 169.

But he's popular with his fellow students. He has none of that bookish air common to so many youthful prodigies. He's one of the most ardent football fans, and plays the game as well as any of his size. Conan Doyle is his favorite author, but he thinks the famous character of Sherlock Holmes is too overdrawn for real life.

"I like to go to school," he says, "but I don't think I'd like to be a school teacher."

"Harvard is a great school. I am anxious to get there and see Dr. Elliot so that I may ask him on what basis he selected his representative books."

Arthur can name the presidents of the United States, can name the states, their capitals and population; and can name the capital of practically every country on the globe.

grounds—that the original resolutions of the senate provided for the holding of hearings only until the convening of this congress and that congress in adopting the Walsh resolution had taken the matter out of the hands of the committee and placed it in the courts.

Voting to obtain a new grant of authority from the senate next Monday, the committee directed Mr. Fall to appear again next Tuesday. Should he persist in his refusal to testify at that time senators said the issue of contempt would be clearly drawn. Under the law and precedents he could be held in contempt and the fact certified to the president of the senate who would submit the matters to the district attorney of the District of Columbia whose duty it would be to bring the matter before the grand jury for their action.

Upon indictment and conviction, Mr. Fall would be liable to imprisonment in a "common jail" for not less than one month nor more than twelve months and a fine of not less than $100 and not more than $1,000.

Still another course would be open that of impeachment by the house and trial by the senate on the basis of his official acts. In the case of W. W. Belknap, secretary of war in the Grant administration, both the house and senate held that impeachment proceedings would lie, even after a cabinet officer had retired from office. Impeachment proceedings were not pressed in the Belknap case.

HIDDEN RADIO

Copyright, Harris & Ewing

By HAROLD B. MATSON Washington.—Dig a hole in your back yard—and place your radio "aerial" in it, if you would be up to date!

That's, of course, granting that Dr. James Harris Rogers, famous inventor, has proved his theory. Some time ago he started experimenting with underground antennae. Today Dr. Rogers, resuming his work after a short illness, freely predicts that underground transmission will supersede aerial transmission.

Dr. Rogers reveals that perfect communication was carried on with points 200 miles away, during experiments he conducted. Interference, he declares, is practically eliminated, difficulties of reception are reduced to a minimum and the power required for transmission is considerably less than for aerial antennae.

One of Dr. Rogers' underground sets consists of a loop antenna let down into a metal-lined and metal-covered well. He has practically abandoned his high strung aerial on the roof of his laboratory, rightly hearing foreign stations of his submerged set.

"These stations," he believes, "will be located at strategic points over the country. Reception will be clear and strong in every set, interference from so many different wave-lengths being eliminated. The stations will operate something like a telephone switch board, tuning in for the programs they desire to rebroadcast in their vicinity."

"Communication with trans-Atlantic and trans-Pacific points will be among the usual things. But all of this will come only through underground and submarine transmission," Dr. Rogers says.

Aerial Problems. While Dr. Rogers says this would eliminate the weaknesses of radio communication, other inventors are continuing their attempts to perfect aerial transmission.

One of the tasks before the Radio Division, Bureau of Standards, is to eliminate "fading" and to devise means to confine broadcasting to its particular wave-length. Once this is done the aerial should enjoy as clear and strong reception as Dr. Rogers claims for the underground apparatus.

Radio fans will remember that Dr. Rogers' first experiment with underground transmission played an important part during the war, when many enemy communications were heard on underground wireless network.

NEW ENGLAND BUSINESS IS QUITE SOUND

BABSON SEES EXPANSION FROM WATER POWERS.

(Copyright 1924, by the Escanaba Press.) Babson Park, Fla., Feb. 2.—"It is the popular thing to talk of New England in the past tense," says Roger W. Babson, statistician, who is resting here at his winter home after a ten thousand mile tour of investigation. A report of his findings in each locality will be made public as soon as his notes and studies can be organized. Today we discuss conditions in New England.

"People in other sections of the country refer to what 'was' in New England as though it had seen its best days," continued the statistician. "Statistics in the mean time indicate a steady and highly satisfactory progress for this section. Where the United States as a whole increased less than 15% in population between 1910 and 1920, all New England increased 13% and southern New England increased 16.2%. This shows that Massachusetts, Rhode Island, and Connecticut—the industrial section of New England—is gaining in population at a more rapid rate than the rest of the United States. General business throughout the country as reflected in the Babson chart is running 6% above normal while activity in New England is 8% above this general average.

Complain of Influence. "I have heard people complain that 'little Massachusetts' has more than its share of influence in Washington. These people, however, were astonished when they realized little Massachusetts is now sixth in population out of the 48 states and holds first place in the production of eight of the seventeen lines of industry listed by the lines of cotton goods, woolen goods, worsted goods, cordage and twine, linen goods, leather goods, and in certain kinds of machinery and machine tools.

"Nevertheless, it is not surprising that people wonder how New England does get on so well 'way up in that neck of the woods' with only 'rocks, bushes and some scraggly water powers as her natural resources. People are justified in wondering how cotton from the plantations of the South, leather from the prairies of the West, steel and timber from the Great Lakes region can be taken to New England, and there manufactured into products which are then carried back to the cities of the West and sold at less than they can be manufactured for where the raw materials are produced. Industrially this is almost miraculous, but nevertheless it is a fact. There are many reasons for this remarkable condition and among them may be listed the following:

Some Reasons. (1) New England has a very large number of highly skilled workers who combine intelligence, integrity, and industry to a marked degree.

(2) New England has excellent seaport facilities, being the nearest port of the United States to Europe, with excellent steamship lines, backed up by a highly developed network of railways and hard surfaced highways.

(3) New England, in density of population and wealth per capita, stands very high; its climate is healthful and tends to high efficiency; while its colleges, technical schools, private and public schools, offer splendid educational facilities to the children of both employers and wage workers. Living conditions are pleasant and not excessive in cost.

"In looking into the future, however, the one feature which makes me bullish on New England is the vast amount of available water power. Not only is coal constantly becoming more expensive, due to increased freight rates and increased labor costs at the mines, but the constantly occurring labor disturbances are a continual menace to steam operated plants. This means that those who are dependent wholly upon steam, not only are handicapped by a constantly increasing power expense, but they are always subject to shut downs due to labor disturbances. Sections of the country which are blessed with water power, however, are largely free from these two handicaps. There is no reason why hydraulic horse power should cost any more fifty years from today than it costs today. Moreover, water powers do not 'strike' for higher wages or changed working conditions. New England not only has some very large water powers, but has a very great number of small unharmed streams. These small powers are now being developed in a most interesting way. As New England was the first to put in operation the 'oneman car' on its street railways, so it is now developing 'no-man water powers.' Devices have been invented whereby water power stations and sub-stations are being automatically operated without any man in the station. These stations need only a visit for inspection purposes once in a while. Certainly this is inexpensive power, and there is nearly a million of such horse power available in New England today for development by this automatic method.

Interesting Figures. "The following figures should be of interest to those who are investors in New England enterprises. The total value of products manufactured in the United States increased 157% between 1914 and 1919. During this period the products of southern New England alone increased approximately 150%. The value to raw material added by manufacture for the entire United States increased 154% during this same period, while the increase in southern New England was 157%. During this period the capital invested for the entire United States increased 96% and in southern New England the increase was 92.6%. Taking the number of wage workers in the country as a whole, the increase for this period was 31%, with an increase in southern New England of about 24%.

"The most remarkable figures are in connection with the cotton industry, in which New England has over one half billion dollars invested, and 250,000 people employed, who draw annual wages of nearly a quarter of a billion dollars. There has been much talk of the cotton industry going South, and investors therefore assume that New England cotton mills are no longer a safe investment. If a new mill could be built in the South today at a cost comparable with these New England mills, the future of the New England mills might be questioned. The fact is, however, that the New England mills are capitalized per spindle for only one half, or perhaps one third, of what a new southern mill must be capitalized at if built and equipped today. Moreover, as New England can get her cotton by water, there is not much to fear from exorbitant freight rates. As a matter of fact, New England should more than hold her own—especially in the manufacture of the finer grades of cotton.

Labor Uncertain Factor. "Frankly, when surveying New England business conditions in a careful and unbiased manner, the labor situation is the one uncertain factor. American Labor in New England is all right. It is earning good money, giving efficient service, and enjoying good living conditions. A large group of the foreign element in New England, however, fears neither God nor man. It seems to feel that it has no responsibility to render fair service in exchange for the wages it receives. There seems to be no method of satisfying these radical workers by either high wages or short working hours. They frankly say that however high the wage or however short the hours, they still will fight for higher wages and shorter hours. Of course, such a condition cannot continue indefinitely without the wrecking of industry. Employers and wage workers are not the only ones interested in this industrial struggle; the consumers of the country are vitally interested as well.

Consumers' Strikes. "When costs get too high, consumers can strike as well as wage workers. During the past two or three years this has happened in the case of the shoe industry and certain phases of the clothing industry. In the case of the shoe industry it has had beneficial results already, as the labor unions of Lynn, Mass., have requested a reduction in wages of from 10% to 15% in order to compete with western shoe manufacturers. This, of course, is a hopeful sign, but it must be followed in many other similar instances in other industries. Furthermore, what I say regarding labor in New England applies to a large number of other cities and towns as well throughout the United States and Canada. Labor unions have their place in industry and have been a great factor in improving American conditions, but like every other good thing, labor unions can be abused. In many instances they are being misused today by certain unprincipled leaders, who are attempting to defy fundamental economic laws. Unfortunately are the communities which are suffering from such experiments. The solution, however," concluded Mr. Babson, "depends not on destroying the unions but on having these ignorant or selfish leaders replaced by intelligent, honest men, who have the good of the country as a whole at heart."

Ed. Wheeler Taken to Grand Rapids by U. S. Marshal

Matt Mitchell, deputy United States marshal, and Ed Wheeler, alleged "bak check" operator whose escapades in this region a few months ago kept a half-dozen sheriff's forces on the jump for Grand Rapids where Wheeler will be arraigned in federal court on a charge of using the mails to defraud.

Wheeler, who was awaiting trial on forgery charges in Menominee county was permitted to give himself up to the federal authorities Friday. A speedy trial of his case there is expected and in case he is not convicted he will be returned to Delta county to answer to several forgery charges against him.

Wheeler spent the night in the Delta county jail. Other than to say that the federal case against him was the result of "some business transactions" in 1919 he would not discuss the details. He expressed confidence in his ability to acquit himself at Grand Rapids.

JUSTICES CAN FORCE PRIMARY

But City Officials Hope Expense of Event Can Be Avoided.

Unless there are more than two candidates on the same party ticket for the nominations for justice of the peace, there will be no primary election in Escanaba this spring. Candidates for membership on the city council will be nominated by petition under the terms of the Escanaba city charter.

There will be three members of the council, two justices of the peace and one constable to be selected at the city election on April 7—the first city election since the present charter became operative. One of the justices will fill a full term, the other will fill the unexpired term of the late Emil Gasar.

City signatures on a petition are required to nominate a candidate for the council. The petitions must be filed not later than twenty days before the election.

To Publish Maps. The April balloting will also be the first under the new eight-precinct plan. Maps and descriptions of the various district boundaries as now constituted, will be published as soon as a practical amount of time to familiarize voters with their new voting homes.

The hope was expressed in city administration circles yesterday that the competition for justice of the peace nominations would not be sufficiently keen to force the city to go to the expense of holding a primary election.

Dr. Anderson wishes to have it known that he studied several years, rather than several months. One must be fully qualified before he can receive a diploma. At present the course is a full three-year residential course, requiring a high school education, and soon is to be of four-year course.

And you will join the legions who know this new Six, that is built by Hudson, in saying it provides ideal transportation.

It continues the well known Essex qualities of economy and reliability. It adds a smoothness of performance which heretofore was exclusively Hudson's. Both cars are alike in all details that count for long satisfactory service at small operating cost.

Steering is like guiding a bicycle. Gears shift easily. Care of the car calls for little more than keeping it lubricated. For the most part that is done with an oil can.

Fuel economy is impressive. Oil consumption is unusually low and tire mileage surprisingly high.

The New Essex is backed by a service policy that keeps maintenance down to the minimum.

Interesting Sidelights On Lives Of Former Presidents

Six presidents of the United States have died in office. Three were assassinated—Abraham Lincoln, James A. Garfield and William McKinley. Three died of natural causes—William Henry Harrison, Zachary Taylor and Warren G. Harding.

Of the 45 states, only ten have supplied presidents. Eight were born in Virginia, seven in Ohio, three each in New York and North Carolina, two each in New Jersey, Massachusetts and Vermont, and one each in New Hampshire, Pennsylvania and Kentucky. Lincoln, born in Kentucky and elected while a resident of Illinois, was our oft "western" president. All of the six presidents born in Ohio were elected since 1880.

As another coincidence consider Monday, Thursday and Friday as the fatal inauguration days for the presidents who died in office. Taylor and Lincoln were inaugurated on Monday, Harrison and McKinley on Thursday and Garfield and Harding on Friday. Other presidents have been inducted into the presidential office on Monday, Thursday and Friday.

Jefferson given the "Bird." Washington, Madison, Jackson, Polk, Pierce and Harding never had any children. President Tyler had 14, eight boys and six girls.

Woodrow Wilson was the only president to be inaugurated on Sunday. It was at the commencement of his second term and during the critical period just preceding the great World War. His term of office ended at noon on March 4. It was Sunday and rather than leave the nation technically without a chief executive for a single day he took the oath of office at the White House on Sunday afternoon, March 4, 1917.

Since the days of the blunt old John Adams, crisp and in hand, who "slid" out of the White House in the early morning dawn of March 4, 1801, to avoid extending his hated rival, Thomas Jefferson, the hospitalities of the executive mansion, there has been no break in this formality extended to the new presidents, unless there be accepted the personal misunderstanding which arose between President Johnson and General Grant which made their intercourse a rigid formality.

Thomas Jefferson was the first president to be inaugurated in Washington. George Washington took the oath in New York City, then the national capital. Delay in inauguration arrangements and the difficulty of travel from Mount Vernon, brought the inauguration on April 30. When the hour for the administration of the presidential oath arrived, it was found that no Bible had been provided and one had to be borrowed from the Masonic temple across the way.

Reverend Eastman, director of education and publicity for the board of national missions of the Presbyterian churches has resigned because, in his opinion, contributions have been spent for purposes other than those intended by the givers. It was announced tonight.

E. J. Royce was getting KGO plainly last night and listened in on several selections. He also picked up a new station, WWH, Joliet, Ill., which is not listed in the radio directories. Has anyone else been getting it?

One of the pleasant treats of last evening for local radio fans was the program broadcast by WOC, Davenport, on which Roy Olson, well known in this city, appeared. Mr. Olson was heard in quartette and duet and his many local friends were highly delighted to hear him.

Glenn Peterson, a member of the Escanaba police force, has had station KGO, the new General Electric broadcasting station at Oakland, Calif., on two different occasions, he said yesterday. Mr. Peterson has a one tube set which he assembled himself. Los Angeles and San Francisco are regular "pick-ups" with him, he said.

Another fan who has been getting KGO, Oakland, Calif., is George D. Burt of Gladstone. George has been hitting the high water mark with his radio. He writes to a local dealer the following postscript:

"I am receiving KGO at Oakland, Calif., any time they broadcast. I have heard 107 stations in the past three weeks with my Rhinears. I am more than satisfied with my outfit."

Charles Brandenberg is one of our new radio fans. The first night Charlie got his new set up he got in touch with almost every station on the line. He ought to be able to get some of the new distant stations pretty soon. All right, Charlie, lets hear from you when you do. Let us know how you are getting along.

The new broadcasting station at Oakland proved to be exceptionally popular last night. Almost every local fan trying to get in on their program. One of the successful ones was R. Sandmore, who connected up with them just before they were signing off.

TO PROSECUTE TRESPASSERS

As the result of the action of outside fishermen in setting their nets about nets already staked out by Daniel Seavey in Big Bay de Nocquet, within the one mile shore limit, fronting property owned by Mr. Seavey the former Escanaba man has been advised by the attorney that the encroaching fishermen are trespassers and will be treated as such by Mr. Seavey. Mr. Seavey, who was in the city yesterday, explained that he has 22 nets set in front of property owned by him at Garden Bluff, while outside fishermen, who are running as high as 200 nets, in spite of his warnings, have placed some of their nets about those set by the owner of the property.

Following is a written opinion received yesterday by Mr. Seavey from Atty. James C. Baker:

"Mr. Dan Seavey, 'Garden Michigan.

"Dear Sir:

"I understand you are still having trouble with other fishermen who are setting their nets near the shore of Garden Bluff, where you have your own nets. Notify these people that they must keep their gill nets outside of the one mile limit from the shore of Garden Bluff. Act No. 7640 of the Compiled Laws of 1915 provides as follows: 'It shall be unlawful for any person to place or drive any mound net, trap net, gill net, or any other species of seines or posts, or build any platform or pier, or any species of seines of continuous trap net, gill net, or one mile from the beach or shore, the low water mark at the lake straits, inlets and bays on the soil water fronting such owner or occupant's land.'

"As we own the Riparian rights around Garden Bluff, this ownership gives us the right to prevent fishing within one mile from our shore. As we are fishing ourselves, we have a double right to prevent other fishermen from interfering with our own fishing. We will have these people arrested for trespass if they do not stop, and whenever you advise that this be done, I will start necessary procedure.

"Yours very truly,

"JAMES C. BAKER."

TWO ARRESTED IN MOON RAID

Star Restaurant Visited By City-County Sponge Squad.

Two men were arrested and a half-gallon of moonshine whiskey confiscated early yesterday afternoon at the Star restaurant, 812 Stephenson avenue, when a raiding party, headed by Chief of Police John J. Tolan and Sheriff Joe Carney, and containing members of both forces, dropped in for a professional call on Geo. Gushka, the proprietor. John Chisowski, a cook in the establishment, whom police officials say is the man guilty of the sale on which the search warrant was based, also was taken into custody.

Gushka was present when the sale was made to the chief witness in the case, it was said, and made statements jointly with Chisowski in the case which includes sale and possession charges.

Cleverly Concealed. The liquor was found in a shed adjoining the building. It was cleverly concealed in what, at first glances, appeared to be an empty keg.

When arraigned before Judge C. D. McEwen, neither Gushka nor Chisowski could furnish the $500 bonds demanded, and went to the county jail.

Leap Year Brides Slow in Starting Their Proposing

Leap Year—from a marriage standpoint—promises to be a flivver. The girls simply aren't living up to expectations. Only 17 of them were granted licenses to lead their blushing grooms to the matrimonial altar during the month of January in Delta county.

During January last year 37 licenses were issued at the Delta county clerk's office. January 1922 saw 42 licenses passed out over the same counter.

"Perhaps," suggested George E. Harvey, county clerk, "the girls are just a little slow in getting started at their 1924 proposing and the succeeding months will improve the record."

Railroading in Winter

Especially in Michigan, Railroad transportation is subject to sudden periods of extreme cold and heavy snow. Such weather lowers the efficiency of steam-driven machinery, imposes severe hardships on men, and makes necessary abnormal expenditures for fuel, wages and special equipment.

To vanquish these obstacles—to accept and deliver freight and passengers in the teeth of a midwinter blizzard, when necessary—is an annual battle for each of Michigan's 24 steam Railroads.

Even in a comparatively open winter, the Railroads must always be equipped and ready. On certain northern runs, a snow plow precedes every train throughout the winter, regardless of weather.

Winter railroading in Michigan is seldom possible at a profit. Often it can be accomplished only by large financial loss. Yet, despite the handicaps of climate, the cars move, and Michigan continues warm, well fed and prosperous.

Do you appreciate the foresight, determination and fortitude which, year in and year out, make Railroad transportation so sound a reliance. The Railroads will be pleased and helped to know that you do.

A LONG TIME INVESTMENT

Every Dodge Brothers Sedan body is steel built throughout—sills, pillars, panels, frames and all.

This all-steel design—exclusively a Dodge Brothers feature—possesses certain practical advantages which recommend it most emphatically to the closed car buyer.

Paige Official Is Optimistic

Although 1923 was a record breaking year for us in every way and we showed tremendous increases in sales on Paige and Jewett Sixes, we anticipate that 1924 will show still further increases, and possibly even greater gains.

Paige and Jewett dealers have on their books more than twice as many orders for cars for spring delivery than they had a year ago. Motorists have learned that there is a spring shortage of the most desirable makes.

The new Paiges at their new prices will, we believe, be especially interesting to the public. To have all the quality of the Paiges offered during 1923 at really popular prices makes certain that Paige sales will be more than doubled during the present year.

Dundee Connected With His Manager After Prize Bone

NEW YORK, Feb. 3.—Few persons know the inside story about Johnny Dundee and his decision not to manage his business affairs any longer.

Dundee, acting as his own manager, accepted what appeared to be a perfectly harmless match with one Eddie Kid Wagner in Philadelphia last summer and was badly beaten.

Johnston got the job, and is now trying to cook up another Dundee-Leonard match.

Legion Beats Daggett Vets, Score 38 To 12. The Escanaba American Legion basketball team defeated the Daggett team in the high school gymnasium last night 38 to 12.

Coach Hills used two complete teams, the first stringers playing the first and final periods, making virtually all of the Esky points.

Daggett played a snappy and aggressive game but the visitors were weak on shooting baskets, and took many outside chances at the hoop from far down the floor.

Roman Duelists Both Injured; They "Make Up". Rome, Feb. 2.—Prince Don Mario Colonna and Tullio Giordana, editor of the Tribuna were severely wounded today in a duel.

Bill Wambagnans was recently sent to Boston as the Central figure in the deal that brought George Burns to Cleveland.

Elmer Smith was traded to Boston, later he became a member of the New York Yankees, only recently he was sent to the minors.

The three heroes passed out of the picture as far as Cleveland is concerned.

The career of the baseball star is brief. Heroes are made and fade quickly in the national pastime.

TAKE OUT YOUR PRESS POLICY WITHOUT DELAY

Get $1,000 Protection For 75 Cents a Year.

That subscribers to the Daily Press are keenly alert to the wonderful cooperation which this paper is extending them, and are not only willing but eager to take advantage of the opportunity, is evidenced by the large number of persons who come into the office every day and arrange to protect themselves and their families through the medium of a Daily Press travel accident insurance policy.

It is almost needless to say that this is the cheapest and best form of protection for the money, that is now offered to the people of this section.

Cost is So Trifling. And the cost is so trivial, so trifling that anyone can afford it. In fact, no one can afford to be without the protection at the price. For just 75 cents a year you can assure your family of $1,000 in cash in the event of your death through accident, or as a result of accident to some power driven vehicle on which you happen to be riding at the time. Death resulting within 30 days from the wrecking of the vehicle, is construed the same as instant death and the face of the policy is paid without quibbling or trouble of any kind.

There are so many splendid features about this great little policy that the limited space of one little newspaper story cannot explain them all, but full details are found in the advertising matter in the Daily Press. For instance, it is shown that for the loss of an eye, hand or foot, $500 is paid in cash. For the loss of any two members, the sum of $1,000 is paid and the same sum, of course, is paid in the event of death from accident.

The nature of accidents covered by this policy comprises a list too long to enumerate, but in a general way it may be said that all accidents while riding on trains, boats, horse drawn vehicles, motorcycles, street cars, or, in fact all of the usual styles of transportation are covered. Death and injury are ever present traveling companions. By traveling is meant, not only going somewhere for pleasure, but while traveling on business, to or from your work, anything that takes you on a power propelled vehicle of any kind.

And the interesting part about this policy is that it increases in value $100 each year until it is worth $1,500. It costs just 75 cents for a full years protection and this offer is open to any registered subscriber to the Daily Press. The Press, as has been repeatedly stated, is not in the insurance business. It is not seeking a profit on this transaction but it does want all its subscribers to have the protection because it feels that this is a special and added service of which they should avail themselves. The policy costs the Press 75 cents and it is passed right along to you at the same price without a cent of profit to this newspaper.

Every member of your family can carry a policy if between the ages of 18 and 70 years of age. But one subscription in the family is necessary to win this privilege. Nor is it necessary to pay a long period in advance for the policy. No advance payment is necessary, if the subscriber wishes to enter on that basis. You simply pay your 75 cents and get your policy. There is no red tape, no medical examination, nothing to delay or embarrass.

A Real Service. This is a real service for the subscribers of what is regarded as a real newspaper. Your policy I here for you. If you have been putting the matter off, don't do it longer—call the Press office phone 693 and a representative will come to your home and explain all about it. Or come into the office when you are downtown. If neither of these methods fit in your case, fill the coupon in the advertising matter, fill it out and send it in and your case will receive immediate and satisfactory attention.

But—DON'T DELAY. Accidents are happening all about you every day. Your turn may be next.

Get Busy Today. Remember this policy pays a weekly indemnity while you are laid up from accident, and pays it for a period of three months if you are confined to your home that long. It also pays a weekly indemnity if you are hit and injured while on the street as a pedestrian, or while riding a bicycle. There are many features which will appeal to you. Come in Monday and start the week right by protecting yourself or your family. It costs you but 75 cents and before night the family may have need of the $1,000 which would be paid in the event of your meeting with a fatal accident.

He Searched the World for Treasure — and found it at his own door step

DI GIORGIO ORCHESTRA TO PLAY HERE

Concert Will Be Given Wednesday Evening At High School.

The Di Giorgio Concert Orchestra, consisting of five artist-instrumentalists, will be heard on the Lyric theatre Tuesday, February 12, Lincoln's birthday, at a benefit performance for the Gladstone Child's Welfare Club.

The story of "The Critical Age" is well known to all who, in reading Connor's book, followed by fortunes of the dreamer who suddenly awakened when he discovered that he had a rival for his boyhood sweetheart, thrilled to the episode in which the huge dog leaps into the rapids to save the girl, and laughed with the country school scenes.

The story has been beautifully filmed under the able direction of Henry McCrea and it will present such well-known screen favorites as Pauline Garon, James Wallace and Wallace Ray.

With the exception of one member, the company has had ten years' experience together in concert work.

The individual versatility of the Di Giorgios enables them to present a wide range of musical combination. From a concert orchestra of piano, violin, clarinet, corset and trombone or alpine horn they rapidly change to a straight string organization of violin, cello, mandolin and guitar.

Both classical and popular selections make up the interesting program of the Di Giorgio Concert Orchestra which is sure to meet with enthusiastic approval.

GIRLS MAKE FINE RECORD IN CONTEST

The Gladstone high school girls' basketball team, in their defeat of the Manistique girls Friday night by a score of 6 to 2, made a good showing in their first game of the season with an outside team.

Good team work was particularly noticeable and showed the results of careful training. Grace Hood, who made one basket and Norma Johnson, who gave her team the other four points, showed up well.

The lineup started by Miss Ethel Bennett was: Christine McMillan, l. c.; Kathleen Brophy, r. c.; Lucile Budis, l. g.; Marie Caron, r. g.; Grace Hood, l. f.; Norma Johnson, r. f. Substitutions were: Betty Ward for Kathleen Brophy and Esther Johnson for Christine McMillan.

IF BACK HURTS FLUSH KIDNEYS

Drink Plenty Water and Take Glass of Salts Before Breakfast Occasionally.

When your kidneys hurt and your back feels sore, don't get scared and proceed to load your stomach with a lot of drugs that excite the kidneys and irritate the entire urinary tract. Keep your kidneys clean like you keep your bowels clean, by flushing them with a mild, harmless salt, which helps to remove the body's urinous waste and stimulate them to their normal activity.

The function of the kidneys is to filter the blood. In 24 hours they strain from it 500 grains of acid and waste, so we can readily understand the vital importance of keeping the kidneys active.

Drink lots of good water—you can't drink too much; also get from any pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts. Take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help clean and stimulate clogged kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in the system so they are no longer a source of irritation, thus often relieving bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to help keep their kidneys clean and active. Try this; also keep up the water drinking, and no doubt you will wonder what because of your kidney trouble and backache. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.

When your kidneys hurt and your back feels sore, don't get scared and proceed to load your stomach with a lot of drugs that excite the kidneys and irritate the entire urinary tract. Keep your kidneys clean like you keep your bowels clean, by flushing them with a mild, harmless salt, which helps to remove the body's urinous waste and stimulate them to their normal activity.

The function of the kidneys is to filter the blood. In 24 hours they strain from it 500 grains of acid and waste, so we can readily understand the vital importance of keeping the kidneys active.

Drink lots of good water—you can't drink too much; also get from any pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts. Take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help clean and stimulate clogged kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in the system so they are no longer a source of irritation, thus often relieving bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to help keep their kidneys clean and active. Try this; also keep up the water drinking, and no doubt you will wonder what because of your kidney trouble and backache. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.

BALLOON TIRE IS ATTRACTING MUCH ATTENTION

John Matson and Dewey Menard Are Tire Distributors

Specialization is still at large in the land, dividing and then dividing again. Now balloon tires have caused it to perform another division in the already specialized business of question answering.

A dozen or more men find steady employment in "one railroad station giving all their time to one" thing—answering questions. Not so long ago the station agent answered all questions just as a sideline while he checked baggage, sold tickets, handled mail and telegrams and kept the village urchins from annoying the live geese in the crate on the hand truck.

Now comes this latest prank of specialization in question answering. And it rolls quietly into our lives, accompanied by very little "air," on the wheels of automobiles. Information bureaus are springing up all over the land to answer the many questions which balloon tires have conjured up in the minds of automobile owners. Can I put on balloons? Do I have to change my wheels? Will they wear out faster? And so on—the number of questions being limited only by the limits of driver imagination.

Matson Local Representative. One of the big Akron tire makers, The General Tire and Rubber company, has gone so far as to designate every one of its distributor establishments as a free information bureau for all who are interested in any way in the balloon tire idea. In Gladstone John Matson represents the company. Placards and advertisements set forth that the General distributors places are balloon tire headquarters and the parent company has furnished all available information. All questions are answered intelligently and without obligation and the questioners are invited to ride in a car equipped with the big tires.

This company is particularly well fitted to furnish its distributors with authentic data because it has been developing the balloon tire idea for the past ten years. The balloon tire of today is the magnification and refinement of the Jumbo which the General company built in 1916.

A new electric sign was erected at the Charles Green Hardware store on Central avenue Saturday afternoon. The sign, one of the finest of display signs presents an attractive appearance and many favorable comments on it were heard yesterday.

SHELL SHOCK

By GENE COHN
Brooklyn, N. Y., Feb. 2.—Shell shock, the malady that played such queer tricks upon the minds of men, has visited its curse upon the brain of a dog.

And that is why Lady, dog hero of the great war, wanders somewhere about the New England coast section, her memory of master and home completely obliterated; only quadruped aphasia victim on record.

Or it may be that the bursting shells which worked an amazing transformation upon the life of a dog have caused her to meet death in a traffic crowded street.

Lady has been missing for some weeks from the home of her master, Captain Edwin J. McDonald of this city.

"Shell shock," says the captain in explaining Lady's absence. "You see Lady went over with me and saw a lot of action, was wounded at St. Mihiel and got her honor stripe. But it was at Verdun that she was shell shocked. She hasn't been quite the same since. She was attached to the 54th Regiment, Coast Artillery, over there."

Lady began to show signs of loss of memory within a short time of her return home. She would forget where she had buried a bone, for instance.

She began fast to forget the whistle of her friends, and bit by bit her memory of the location of her kennel slipped.

And her actions were anything but sane. She would bark at her own shadow.

If it should happen that Lady still lives, scientists interested in dog psychology will have an interesting problem to cope with.

Kids Invited To A Special Movie Monday

The old saying, "Boys Will Be Boys," is proved true by Wesley Barry in his latest picture, "The Printer's Devil," which has been secured by the Manistique Woman's Club Welfare committee for a special children's showing on Monday. The dime matinee will start at 4 p. m. tomorrow.

The story is a romance woven around the humdrum workings of a small town newspaper, and tells of Brick Hubbard, a young printer's devil for the Brigsville Gazette, who gets his full share of fun and enjoyment out of each day's work.

The theme deals with Brick, who is a youth thrown from his own resources, and who, in order to earn a living, works hard to fill the manifold duties of his job.

When his employer decides to close shop, he walks to the outskirts of the town wondering how he will get along in the future. Here he meets Sidney Fletcher, a young man who had been held up and robbed near the town. Brick takes him to a boarding house and befriends him, later introducing him to Vivian Baker, the pretty daughter of the local banker.

In order to stay in the town permanently, Sidney purchases the Gazette, and reinstates Brick in his old position.

Then scenes rapidly follow, showing how Brick, by his quick wit and plucky spirit, saves his employer from a great deal of hardship and unjust punishment, because Sidney is later arrested and thrown into jail on suspicion of having robbed the bank. And as this incident follows the publication of a scathing editorial against Banker Gates in his capacity as president of the local power company, things look pretty black for him.

The picture is brought to a happy conclusion by Brick who, by an ingenious scheme, brings the real robbers to justice, clears Sidney of suspicion, and is instrumental in bringing together Sidney and Vivian and is himself acclaimed the hero of the town.

"The Printer's Devil," is a Warner Brothers' classic of the screen, especially written for Wesley Barry by Julien Josephson, Harry Myers, Katherine McGuire, Louis King, George Pearce, Ray Cannon, Mary Halter and Harry Rottenburg support Wesley in the cast. William Beaudine directed the production.

FIND ANOTHER CHECK ISSUED BY ROBITAILLE

Manistique authorities learned yesterday of another check that had been issued by Edward J. Robitaille, newly-married Manistique young man, who has admitted passing and checks at Manistique and is held at the county jail here.

This discovery brings the total of bad checks written by Robitaille up to four. Three of these were for ten dollars each, the fourth for a small amount. The recipients were Sam Hankin, J. H. Van Dyck, J. R. Nelson and the A. S. Putnam West Side store. One of these, the check passed to J. R. Nelson, was made good by Robitaille, when Mr. Nelson learned that the check was worthless and protested to the writer. With the exception of the check given to Mr. Van Dyck, all the checks were signed by Robitaille himself. The Van Dyck check was signed "Antone Weber."

Robitaille was bound over to circuit court, after he had waived examination before Justice of the Peace W. A. McKinney. He was unable to secure the necessary recognizance for his appearance in circuit court, and was returned to the county jail.

LESLIE SMITH NOW LOCATED AT GILLETTE

Leslie Smith left Manistique Friday night for Gillette, Wisconsin, where he will open a Ford agency, together with Raymond Carley of Gladstone. Until recently, Mr. Smith was connected with the Norton garage at Gladstone.

The town of Gillette, while only a small place, is located in the midst of a rich farming country, and it is predicted that these live wire auto dealers will make a success of their new venture. Mrs. Smith expects to join her husband in about two weeks.

BAPTIST BOYS LOSE BASKET GAME FRIDAY

The Presbyterian boys basketball team triumphed over the Baptist boy basketball team at the high school gymnasium Friday, with a score of 6 to 4. The last minute winning basket was caged by Robert Waters.

The entire first half of the game was scoreless, both teams guarding closely. At the end of the third period the teams were tied, and it was only in the last few minutes of play that the neat pass from Hartman Forshar to Bob Waters placed the latter in a position under the basket where he could score easily. Forshar and Waters were the point getters for the Presbyterians, both getting one field basket and one free throw.

ADDING 3000 MILES TO U. S. COASTLINE

NINETEEN HUNDRED AND THIRTY-FOUR will see California boarding ships in San Francisco and Los Angeles for Chicago, Seattle, Puget Sound and Cleveland.

Completion of the Marcellus Lock, first of five similar locks to be built by the Illinois Waterway Commission, marks another big stride in the plan to give Lake Michigan and the Mississippi River ocean traffic.

And products of the midwest and coast will be loaded on ocean-going vessels along the Mississippi River and Great Lakes for all parts of the world.

This is the prediction of organizations now working on projects which will, in effect, increase the shore line of the United States 3000 miles.

Backers of these projects forecast a complete revolution in American transportation methods, lower costs of tonnage, elimination of rehandling and therefore stimulation of demand for all middle west products.

"Gulf-to-Lakes" is the plan by which the Mississippi Valley Association and the Illinois Waterway Commission seek to open the Mississippi, Missouri, Ohio and Illinois Rivers to seagoing vessels.

Fifty miles of rapids along the upper stretches of the St. Lawrence River is nature's barrier between the Great Lakes and the ocean. The projected international improvement would provide a channel 25 feet deep from the Great Lakes to salt water by a series of locks and dams around these rapids.

The cost is estimated at $222,728,000. The electric power to be developed at the dams is expected to maintain and, eventually to pay the cost. Also, it will stimulate traffic through providing cheap power for manufacturing.

At the outset, 1000 miles of railroad transportation and handling of goods in costly, congested terminals is eliminated. The route puts the vessel in tidewater at Montreal, 400 miles nearer Liverpool than is New York.

Without this improvement, a

242-foot vessel, the Back Bay, successfully made a trip from Seattle, Wash., on the Pacific Coast, to Chicago, on Lake Michigan.

The government, through the Mississippi Valley Association, is asked to spend $60,000,000 on the other features of making the Mississippi one of the world's greatest marine highways. A nine-foot channel, 200 feet wide, is sought in the Illinois and Mississippi Rivers to permit wider use of the federal barge system, by which huge trainloads of freight, loaded on barges, is moved with ease by one small steamer, at extremely low cost.

The state of Illinois is expending $20,000,000 to make the Illinois and Desplains Rivers navigable. It is also opening manufacturing possibilities through generation of electric power at these dams and locks.

A Story of Success

How Studebaker Cars became leaders

145,000 people last year paid $200,000,000 for them

THE most talked-about cars among fine cars are the Studebaker Sixes—at $975 and up.

Sales have almost tripled in the past three years. The demand for these cars, growing by leaps and bounds, has been Motordom's chief sensation.

Over $200,000,000 was last year spent for Studebaker models.

Now we wish to explain, to all who are interested, the reasons for that success.

Studebaker has always led

For 72 years the name Studebaker has stood for quality and class.

Studebaker equipages, in the carriage days, held premier place. The White House owned them in the days of Grant and Harrison.

Now we make motor cars only. But the Studebaker name, in this modern field, simply had to maintain its prestige.

We had the money, we had the incentive—we who now control. And our one ambition has been to maintain the Studebaker place.

$90,000,000 assets behind us

Studebaker assets are $90,000,000. We have $50,000,000 in modern plants and equipment.

Not old plants re-adapted. We have spent $32,000,000 in new plants in five years. We have equipped them with 12,500 up-to-date machines.

Over $8,000,000 was spent on drop forge plants alone. Another $10,000,000 on body plants, to maintain our prestige in coach building.

We believe that no other plant in the country is so well equipped to build quality cars as Studebaker.

Engineering—$500,000 yearly

We created an engineering department which costs $500,000 yearly.

There are 125 skilled men there who devote their time to studying betterments in cars. They make 500,000 tests yearly.

There is a department of Methods and Standards. They decide and fix every standard in these cars.

We spend $600,000 yearly to machine all surfaces of crank shafts, just as in Liberty Airplane Motors. That is the reason for that perfect balance, that absence of vibration.

Every Studebaker car is Timken-equipped. The Special-Six and the Big-Six have more Timken bearings than any car selling under $5,000 in America. The Light-Six more than any competitive car within $1,000 of its price.

Open cars have real leather upholstery. They cost $25 more per car than imitation leather.

Our closed cars have Chase Mohair upholstery. This is made from the soft fleece of Angora goats. And a Sedan requires from 15 to 18 yards.

Velour for this upholstery would save us up to $100 per car.

Note the finish of every detail. Mark the infinite care. They add 25% to labor cost on luxurious closed bodies.

Note the completeness of our larger closed cars. The nickel-plated bumpers, the extra disc wheels and cord tires, the steel trunk, the courtesy light, etc. Think what they would cost you, bought as extras.

Thus we have made the Studebaker the leader of quality cars. We have built a demand exceeding 145,000 cars per year.

Learn the results of these efforts, in fairness to yourself. Don't buy a car at $1,000 or over without knowing what we offer.

Compare the parts and details. Mark the advantages we offer—scores on scores. Our experience is that 95% of those who do that buy a Studebaker car.

Our factories employ 1,200 inspectors, to make 30,000 inspections on all Studebaker cars. Few flaws, few mistakes can escape them. That, we believe, is the finest organization ever devoted to motor car building.

The price of quality

On some steel alloys for vital parts we pay 15% extra to get them exact.

Outstanding Epigrams Of Mr. Wilson

There is no such thing as a man being too proud to fight. The world must be made safe for democracy. We must be impartial in thought as well as action. A steadfast concert for peace can never be maintained except by a partnership of democratic nations. There is no hate in our hearts for the German people. We have always said that we were the servants and friends of mankind. Peace must be planted on the trusted foundations of political liberty.

RYKOFF NOW SOVIET HEAD FOR RUSSIA

SUCCEEDS THE LATE NICOLAI LENINE AS LEADER.

(By The Associated Press.) Moscow, Feb. 2.—Alexis Ivanovitch Rykoff has been chosen to succeed the late Nikolai Lenine as head of the council of commissars. Leon Trotsky is retained as commissar of war. Alexis Ivanovitch Rykoff, who was one of Lenine's strongest supporters and assisted him in the capacity of first vice president of the council of people's commissars, has taken a prominent part in the soviet regime since it came into power. He first came into prominence as a member of the all-Russian central executive committee. He has held the posts of commissar of agriculture, president of the supreme economic council and vice president of the council of labor and defense. M. Rykoff is known as a "right wing" communist.

Plan Formation Of New Cabinet Over In Greece

(By The Associated Press.) Athens, Feb. 2.—M. Kafandaris, former minister of the interior, has been requested by the regent to form a cabinet to succeed the Venizelos government. Comparison today of an X-ray photograph of Venizelos' heart, just taken, with one made at Saloniki in 1917, is said to have indicated that there has been no deterioration and that there is no cause for anxiety over his condition. M. Venizelos was well enough today to take a motor ride and to receive Oscar Straus, who arrived on the Lapland.

Italy To Recognize Soviet Russians

(By The Associated Press.) Rome, Feb. 2.—The Russian government will be recognized by Italy within forty-eight hours, according to foreign office circles. Recognition will be simultaneous with the signing of a commercial treaty which has been pending for some months. It is possible that the signatures may be affixed tomorrow.

Auto License Deductible From Income Taxes

(By The Associated Press.) Chicago, Feb. 2.—Automobile registration fees, drivers licenses and personal property taxes are deductible from gross income in computing the federal income tax, according to H. M. Brown, general manager of the Chicago Motor Club. Mr. Brown said that he had been advised of this ruling of the internal revenue bureau of the United States treasury.

LIFE OF NATION'S WAR LEADER EBBS OUT AT 11:15 A. M.

(By The Associated Press.) BULLETIN.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—Woodrow Wilson, twenty-eighth president of the United States died at 11:15 o'clock this morning. He had remained barely conscious and free from pain throughout the night, but growing gradually and steadily weaker as a result of his long, hopeless fight to regain his health after the breakdown which took place in 1919 on the long tour in which he took his fight for the League of Nations to the American people. The end came while members of his immediate family were at the bedside.

The war president had realized, more than thirty-six hours before, that the end of a lost battle was near. "I am ready. You have done all you could. I am abroken machine. It is better that I should go than remain a hopeless invalid," he told his devoted wife early Friday night.

Woodrow Wilson died. He did not surrender! Born in Staunton, Va., Dec. 28, 1856, he inherited congenial traits of the fighter which marked his career to the end. His mother was Jessie Woodrow and his father Rev. Joseph R. Wilson, pastor of the Presbyterian church. In 1858 the family moved to Augusta, Ga., where, when the Civil War caused a schism in the church, Rev. Wilson joined the South Presbyterian branch. Tommy, as little Thomas Woodrow Wilson was then known, had two older sisters. The Union troops did not reach Augusta until 1865 and Tommy did not feel the effects of the war.

committee studied the situation and scholarship requirements were raised and clubs abolished. Then the rich alumnae and parents of rich students rose up against him.

The issue was complicated by the offer of a million fund by an alumnus, on condition that certain appointments be made and certain buildings erected. Wilson refused the money, saying that teachers and students, rather than fine buildings, made the college. The trustees accepted the money over Wilson's head, and from then on opposed his democratic reforms.

In 1910 Wilson was nominated for governor of New Jersey. He resigned from Princeton and stumped the state, preaching democracy. He was elected by a plurality of 50,000. His method of campaigning brought him before the eyes of the country.

Wilson carried out re-election promises, forced through the Legislature a direct primaries act, had enacted a corrupt practices election law and a workmen's compensation law.

Early in 1912 a Wilson boom was started to land him in the presidential chair. He traveled from coast to coast—in all 3000 miles—talking clean government and democracy. On the 46th ballot at the Baltimore convention Wilson was nominated.

The Republican party was split by Taft and Roosevelt and Wilson's election to the presidency resulted, on Nov. 4, 1912.

He entered the White House March 4, 1913, succeeding William Howard Taft. The most serious problem confronting him was the Mexican situation.

His policy toward Mexico was one of "watchful" waiting. He forced through the tariff revision, a graduated tax on incomes, and federal reserve bank system which solved the currency problem. Voluntary dissolutions took the place of prosecutions in handling the trusts.

Mrs. Wilson had been in poor health for some time and died August 6, 1914.

The Mexican situation was still at the boiling point when the clash of European nations flared up. Wilson undertook the gigantic task of guiding America through as a neutral.

The Mexican situation caused the president to order mobilization of forces along the border in March, 1915.

In the fall of that year his engagement to Mrs. Edith Bolling Galt of Washington was announced. They were married Dec. 18 of that year.

This was the third Wilson wedding in the White House, the president's two daughters, Jessie and Eleanor, being wedded to Francis Bowes Sayre and William G. McAdoo, secretary of the treasury, respectively.

Pershing Enters Mexico. In 1916—election year at hand—the Mexican situation reached a climax with the Villa raids across the border. Wilson sent "Black Jack" Pershing at the head of a punitive expedition into Mexico. Despite the insults suffered at the hands of Germany, President Wilson still maintained the

Democrats Claim Enough Votes to Have Their Way.

(By The Associated Press.) Washington, Feb. 2.—Democratic leaders in the house, confident they can muster enough votes to upset the surtax schedule carried in the Mellon bill, declared today they would make no concessions on the 44 per cent maximum they favor. It was indicated that they might modify the normal income tax rate proposed in their substitute. Representative Garner of Texas, ranking Democrat on the committee, announced he had asked for a new set of treasury estimates. They would apply, it was indicated, to normal tax rates and possibly the proposed earned income exemption but not to surtaxes or the recommendation for an increase in the tax exemption for both unmarried persons and heads of families.

May Shift Position.

A treasury estimate, that the Garner plan would mean a loss of revenue to the government of $243,000,000 annually as against $23,000,000 under the Mellon bill, is understood to have influenced some Democrats to believe that a shift in the normal rate might be advisable to cut down the total. To what extent this might be done, was not disclosed.

Confidence of the Democrats that majority of the house will not line up in favor of the 25 per cent surtax maximums proposed by Mr. Mellon lay chiefly in the announcement of Representative Fear of Wisconsin, a Republican on the ways and means committee, that he and other insurgents would not go along with the Republican organization on this point.

Democratic leaders predicted that at least 30 Republicans would swing to their support when a showdown comes on surtax—enough votes, they pointed

No. 13 Plays Big Part In Wilson's Life

He was re-elected in 1916 by California's pivotal electoral votes. There are 13 letters in his name. He landed at Brest Dec. 13. He was inaugurated in 1913. Thirteen governors were in line. Militia from 13 states were there. Thirteen educational institutions were represented. There are 26 articles in his League of Nations covenant—twice 13. It was completed Feb. 13. The marriage of his daughter, Jessie, to Francis B. Sayre, was the thirteenth White House wedding.

out to insure adoption of their schedule.

Some Republicans, however, expressed the opinion that a compromise on a figure below the Democratic maximum might be agreed upon to keep enough Republicans in line to insure rejection of the Garner rates.

The ways and means committee was not in session today and probably will not meet until the latter part of the week to dispose of odds and ends before the reporting the revenue bill not later than February 11. Republican members, however, will confer Monday on some sections, including the taxes paid this year on 1923 income.

M'ADDOOS ARE RACING DEATH TO CAPITAL

(By The Associated Press.) Los Angeles, Feb. 2.—William G. McAdoo and Mrs. McAdoo, daughter of Woodrow Wilson, left here today for Washington, hoping to reach the bedside of the stricken ex-president while he is still alive. Mr. McAdoo also intends to demand a hearing before the senate committee investigating oil leases.

GOBS OF KALE STARTLING TO PROHI AGENTS

(By The Associated Press.) Chicago, Feb. 2.—Prohibition agents decided after a raid on the home of Frank Seissas today that they had uncovered one of the biggest counterfeiting plants in the country. They found paper money protruding from drawers in tables, dressers, chiffoniers and other furniture. Because of the enormous amount of paper money everywhere they summoned the federal agents who found there was $16,000 hid in drawers, tables, desks and beds and that it was all good money. He was also found to have bank deposits of $25,000. Prohibition agents arrested him when they found a barrel of wine.

Chicago Mayor's Wife Kept From A Filled Church

(By The Associated Press.) Chicago, Feb. 2.—Inspectors from the fire prevention bureau will be assigned to every church in Chicago tomorrow to see that the fire prevention ordinances are obeyed and particularly to keep places of worship from being over-crowded, it was announced tonight. One fire inspector last Sunday refused to allow Mrs. William T. Dever, wife of Mayor Dever, to enter a church when she appeared late and found all the seats taken, it was announced today.

Detroit Makes A Population Gain

(By The Associated Press.) Detroit, Feb. 2.—Greater Detroit, with a population of 1,233,822, has increased by 99,337 since the 1922 city directory was issued, according to the introduction in the 1924 city directory, which has just been published. This is the fifty-third edition of the city directory.

Among the students that will graduate from Northwestern University next June is Mrs. Augusta R. McDonald of Chicago who is 48 years old and the mother of four children.

TAKE OUT YOUR PRESS POLICY WITHOUT DELAY

Get $1,000 Protection For 75 Cents a Year.

That subscribers to the Daily Press are keenly alert to the wonderful cooperation which this paper is extending them, and are not only willing but eager to take advantage of the opportunity, is evidenced by the large number of persons who came into the office every day and arrange to protect themselves and their families through the medium of a Daily Press travel accident insurance policy.

It is almost needless to say that this is the cheapest and best form of protection for the money, that is now offered to the people of this section.

Cost is So Trifling.

And the cost is so trivial, so trifling that anyone can afford it. In fact, no one can afford to be without the protection at the price. For just 75 cents a year you can assure your family of $1,000 in cash in the event of your death through accident, or as a result of accident to some power driven vehicle on which you happen to be riding at the time. Death resulting within 30 days from the wrecking of the vehicle, is considered the same as instant death and the face of the policy is paid without quibbling or trouble of any kind.

There are so many splendid features about this great little policy that the limited space of one little newspaper story cannot explain them all, but full details are found in the advertising matter in the Daily Press.

For instance, it is shown that for the loss of an eye, hand or foot, $500 is paid in cash. For the loss of any two members, the sum of $1,000 is paid and the same sum, of course, is paid in the event of death from accident.

The nature of accidents covered by this policy comprises a list too long to enumerate, but in a general way it may be said that all accidents while riding on trains, boats, horse drawn vehicles, motorcycles, street cars, or, in fact all of the usual styles of transportation are covered.

Death and injury are ever present traveling companions. By traveling is meant, not only going somewhere for pleasure, but while traveling on business, to or from your work, anything that takes you on a power propelled vehicle of any kind.

And the interesting part about this policy is that it increases in value $100 each year until it is worth $1,500. It costs just 75 cents for a full years protection and this offer is open to any registered subscriber to the Daily Press.

Every member of your family can carry a policy if between the ages of 15 and 70 years of age. But one subscription in the family is necessary to win this privilege. Nor is it necessary to pay a long period in advance for the policy. No advance payment is necessary, if the subscriber wishes to enter on that basis. You simply pay your 75 cents and get your policy. There is no red tape, no medical examination, nothing to delay or embarrass.

A Real Service. This is a real service for the subscribers of what is regarded as a real newspaper. Your policy is here for you. If you have been putting the matter off, don't do it longer—call the Press office phone 693 and a representative will come to your home and explain all about it. Or come in to the office 222-224 on Second Street. If you are in the country, fill in the advertisement and mail it out and send it in and your case will receive immediate and satisfactory attention.

But—DON'T DELAY. Accidents are happening all about you every day. Your turn may be next. Get Busy Today. Remember this policy pays a weekly indemnity while you are laid up from accident, and pays it for a period of three months if you are confined to your home that long. It also pays a weekly indemnity if you are hit and injured while on the street as a pedestrian, or while riding a bicycle. There are many features which will appeal to you. Come in Monday and start the week right by protecting yourself or your family. It costs you but 75 cents and before night the family may have need of the $1,000 which would be paid in the event of your meeting with a fatal accident.
