INTEGRITY IN GOVERNMENT A REAL ISSUE

TURN LIMELIGHT ON MOTIVES OF PUBLIC MEN.

BY DAVID LAWRENCE.

(Copyright 1924, by the Escanaba Press.)

Washington, Feb. 8.—The integrity of government—a theme which only rarely in American history has been projected into the realm of controversy—stands today as the issue overshadowing all else in the national capitol.

The calm that has been enforced by the adjournment of all activities out of respect to the memory of Woodrow Wilson is but the stillness that precedes the storm. The limelight will play fiercely in the next few weeks on the motives of public men and their influence in governmental action in and out of office.

Reputations are at stake, political advantages and disadvantages are bound to accrue, innocent acts will be subject to misconstruction—its all part of the confusion that has developed out of one of the worst scandals of the present generation.

True enough a presidential campaign is on but there are disinterested men in congress who deplore the whole oil mess as a possible reflection on the competency of public officials and as encouragement for those who would do away with both the old political parties and start afresh a third party today as in 1912.

Drama of Selfishness. The lobbyists of the past, the highly paid lawyers who were hired because of their "influence" with the administrations in power, the making of contracts for government property without public bids, the removal of resources from government control without regard to the needs of the government itself—the whole discloses a drama of selfishness and materialism which will have a profound effect in the conduct of affairs here.

The passing of bribes to get favorable governmental action has long since become obsolete. The extension of "loans" to public officials is but one of a number of devices whereby an individual conscience is assuaged but which nevertheless has accomplished the purpose for which it was given.

Again and again it has been apparent that promises of positions in commercial life to men who would resign after handling favorably a case between the government and a private concern are numerous. The government itself has paid its high grade men relatively low salaries compared with the income given for the same class of work in commercial life. The temptations of position and income outside the government have been dangled before officials. Indeed not a few men have actually gone into the government service with the ultimate purpose of meeting business people who in later years would help them make a favorable connection. The turnover in personnel in recent years in certain departments of the government has been amazing.

Become Lobbyists. Even members of congress whose salaries are insufficient for their needs have maintained connections with law firms that have engaged in practice before government departments. Many former members of congress have settled down to practice here. Most of them are doing a legitimate business asking for no more than any other lawyers or agents would ask and simply using their intimate knowledge of the conduct of public business and red tape in particular to aid their clients.

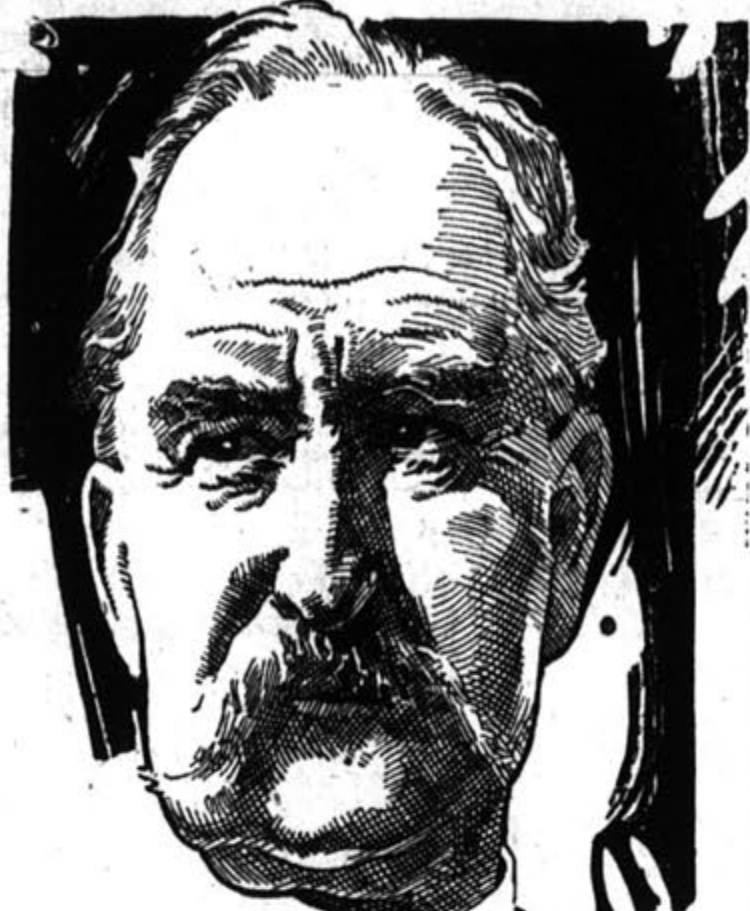

Some have become simply legislative lobbyists endeavoring constantly to influence the course of legislation for the interests they represent and which pay them for that effort.

How long after an official has been removed shall he be prohibited from practicing before government departments? What business connections should be retained by men in office? These are questions of ethics largely, but congress will no doubt revive proposals hitherto made that a sharp line of demarcation be made so that men in positions of responsibility shall not be subject to the influence and temptations which constantly surround them.

Scandal Not New. The Teapot Dome scandal is of no recent origin. Murmurs were uttered about it when Secretary Fall made the leases. Whispers were heard then that something was wrong but so deep-seated was the faith in President Harding's integrity that what he approved was regarded at the time as necessarily all right. The chances are he never knew the details of the oil controversy. He always relied on the memoranda given him by his cabinet officers and he

The former secretary of the Interior has apparently won his contention that he cannot be compelled to incriminate himself in the naval oil reserve lease scandal by testifying, but he has not removed himself from the field of prosecution in the event that legal wrongdoing on his part is established through the investigation.

DRIFT MANY HOURS IN DARKNESS UPON CAKES OF BREAKING ICE

NEW WRINKLE IN BOOZE LAW

(By The Associated Press.) Philadelphia, Pa., Feb. 8.—Twenty-six indictments against alleged purchasers and vendors of liquor in a "mail order" distribution scheme said to have been devised by Isaac Bullfant, of this city, were returned by the federal grand jury today.

Twenty-seven men were named in the indictments, each of which charged conspiracy to violate the prohibition law.

The indictments are believed to be the first ever returned naming persons as buyers of illegal beverages since passage of the prohibition laws. Each alleged purchaser was indicted on two counts, conviction for which would carry a maximum penalty of four years' imprisonment and $20,000 fine.

BUCK PASSED TO WIEDEFELT ABOUT FLAG

Berlin, Feb. 8.—The foreign office refuses to discuss the report of the possible resignation of Ambassador Wiedefeldt as a result of the Washington flag incident, although in official and semi-official circles the position is taken that the instructions sent to the ambassador by the foreign office two days before Mr. Wilson's death empowered him to place the embassy flag at half staff if he thought it advisable.

It seems to be the intention of the German foreign office to shift the responsibility to Mr. Wiedefeldt and as it is known that he desires to return to his old post with the Krupp concern, it would cause no surprise if he took this occasion to leave the diplomatic service which he entered unwillingly.

NEW ANGLE IN TEAPOT DOME OIL INQUIRY

M'ADOO HEARING DEFERRED UNTIL NEXT MONDAY.

(By The Associated Press.)

Washington, Feb. 8.—A new turn was taken today in the senate oil investigation with the testimony of Frederick G. Bonfils, publisher of the Denver (Colo.) Post, that Harry F. Sinclair had entered into a contract to pay him and his associates $1,000,000 in settlement of claims growing out of rights asserted in the Teapot Dome naval oil reserve. Senator Walsh, Democrat, Montana, has told the senate that every vestige of these rights had been denied by the federal government.

According to Mr. Bonfils' testimony, the contract was entered into at Kansas City after he had sent a reporter of his paper to the home of Albert B. Fall in New Mexico to investigate rumors regarding the leasing of Teapot Dome to Mr. Sinclair by Mr. Fall as secretary of the interior and after the publication of one article in the Denver Post attacking the lease by "analysis and theory." The contract was signed, he said, after two conferences between Mr. Sinclair and Mr. Bonfils, his partner, H. H. Tammann, John Leo Slack, a Denver oil man, and H. H. Schwartz, their attorneys.

The opening up of this unexpected line of investigation made it necessary for the committee to

What Congress Did Yesterday

(By The Associated Press.) Indian Commissioner Burke advocated legislation to protect the Oklahoma Indians.

The house defeated the constitutional amendment to prohibit the issuance of tax exempt securities.

The cruiser Rochester was ordered to Lacedba, Honduras, in response to an appeal from American residents who fear revolutionary developments.

Senator Hiram Johnson in a formal statement said the Republican party must clean house or the people will do it for them.

The senate resumed debate on the resolution seeking the resignation of Secretary Denby.

Decision was reached by the senate oil committee to hear William G. McAdoo on Monday.

Frederick G. Bonfils, of Denver, testified before the senate oil committee on the Teapot Dome leases.

The names of Silas H. Strawn and Attee Pomerene were sent to the senate for confirmation as special oil council.

Senator La Follette, Republican, Wisconsin, asked an investigation of circumstances by which the Honolulu Consolidated Oil Company obtained extensive tracts in California.

CHINAMAN DIES BY LETHAL GAS

First Execution Of Kind In The United States.

(By The Associated Press.)

Carson City, Nev., Feb. 8.—In the first lethal gas execution of record in the United States at the state prison here, Gee Jon, tong murderer, officially was pronounced dead two hours and forty five minutes after a spray of liquid hydrocyanic acid was turned into the stone death chamber of the prison yard.

Official physicians estimated that the Chinese lapsed into unconsciousness after his first breath of the vaporized acid. Death, they said, came virtually instantly, although the condemned man's head continued to move up and down for six minutes. This movement of the head, they explained, probably was muscular reaction after death. Three doctors who officiated were agreed that the condemned man did not suffer.

Take Great Precautions. Warden Denver S. Dickerson, taking every precaution to guard others from the effect of the gas, held the death chamber sealed from 9:40 a. m., the moment the acid was admitted, until 12:23 p. m. When guards, physicians and newspapermen, entered the chamber the odor of gas was still pronounced. The physicians warned the knot of men to step back, saying that it was not safe to enter.

A few minutes later, guards went in and removed the body to the prison building, where physicians made an examination.

Major D. A. Turner, U. S. A., medical reserve corps, who was one of the official physicians had announced before the execution that he would, in the interest of science, attempt to revive Gee Jon after the death chamber had been opened. Warden Dickerson had offered no objection to this, but the gas was left in the chamber so long, Major Turner explained, that rigor mortis had set in and it was useless to attempt to restore life.

Could Restore Life?

The major still contended that if he had been able to enter the chamber within fifteen or twenty minutes after the gas was turned on, there would have been an "even chance" of restoring life.

Such recalculation, he said, had been accomplished often in cases of men exposed to the same and other harmful gases.

The warden announced that no one had claimed the body of Gee Jon and that he would be given Christian burial in the prison cemetery tomorrow.

(By The Associated Press.)

HOUSE DEFEATS RESOLUTION TO PROHIBIT THE ISSUANCE OF TAX EXEMPT SECURITIES IN THE U. S.

All But 17 Republicans Vote For The Resolution.

(By The Associated Press.)

Washington, Feb. 8.—The house today defeated a resolution proposing a constitutional amendment to prohibit issuance of tax exempt securities.

The vote, which came after two days of debate, was 247 to 133, 7 less than the required two thirds.

Republicans, with seventeen exceptions, voted for the resolution. Before the final vote the house rejected 208 to 167, a motion by Representative Steagall, Democrat, Alabama, to recommit the measure for an amendment which would have deprived states of the right to tax bonds issued by the federal farm loan board.

The amendment adopted was one by Representative Moore, Democrat, Virginia, to require ratification by states within seven years.

Recommend by Coolidge. Although the amendment was asked by President Coolidge and Secretary Mellon, it was not taken into consideration in the tax revision program recommended by the treasury and its defeat will have no effect on the tax bill already reported by the ways and means committee.

Mr. Mellon had estimated there was approximately $11,000,000,000 outstanding in tax-exempt securities.

The measure was attacked in debate by many Republican leaders and supported by some Democrats. Representative Bacharach, of New Jersey, a member of the ways and means committee, and Representatives Beggs, Ohio, and Graham, Pennsylvania, were among the Republicans who spoke against the amendment.

Representative Longworth, of Ohio, Republican floor leader, charged in the debate that opposition to the amendment was political, pointing out it had passed the house last year by a substantial majority.

Democratic Inconsistency.

"Next week you Democrats will be voting for prohibitive surtax rates," Mr. Longworth declared, "but today you will vote to maintain a situation which offers escape to those who would have to pay those high rates."

Representatives Garrett, of Tennessee, and Oldfield, of Arkansas, Democratic floor leader and whip, respectively, denounced the resolution.

The holdup men drove away in an automobile, which Hamtramck police believe to have been stolen.

Dembowki's cries brought customers to his aid. He notified the police, giving a detailed description of the gunmen.

FILM ACTRESS FOUND SLAIN

Wealthy and Influential Men Being Questioned.

(By The Associated Press.)

New York, Feb. 8.—Miss Louise Lawson former motion picture actress, was found strangled to death in her fashionable studio apartment on West 77th Street facing Central Park today and police have divided their time in a search for two men who entered her rooms early this morning and in questioning those believed to have known details of the girl's life and her friends along Broadway.

The theory has been advanced by the police that the murderers were bootleggers who had visited the apartment before and had been attracted by the jewels Miss Lawson wore and others they had seen in her room. A quantity of liquor was found in the ice box of the apartment. Police cast aside all motives other than robbery, for a platinum bracelet, said to be worth $8,000, and other valuable jewels were gone. All jewel boxes were open and the apartment was in disorder, indicating the girl had fought hard to save her life and her valuables.

Interesting Career. In their probe of Miss Lawson's life, police learned she was the daughter of a prominent

Federal Trade Body To Start Gasoline Quiz

(By The Associated Press.)

Washington, Feb. 8.—Notice of an immediate investigation by the federal trade commission of the causes for increasing gasoline prices in South Dakota was transmitted to President Coolidge today by the commission.

Houston Thompson, chairman of the commission sent this letter to the president: "Your letter of February 7, transmitting wire of February 6 from the Governor of South Dakota asking that the commission make an immediate investigation of the gasoline situation was received this morning and presented to the commission.

"In reply, I have been requested to say that the commission will make an immediate investigation of conditions described by Governor McMaster."

Mr. Coolidge also delegated the department of justice to inquire into the charges of Governor McMaster that interests allied with the Standard Oil Company had cornered the oil supply and thereby were increasing prices without justification.

The troops ordered out were company I of Salem, K of Cairo, L of Mount Vernon, and H of Carbondale, all of the 130th infantry. They will be under command of Colonel A. L. Culbertson of Delavan, already on the scene. The Carbondale company, eighteen miles from Herrin have been ordered to mobilize immediately and go to Herrin by truck.

KILLING BEGINS.

Marion, Ill., Feb. 8.—Constable Caesar Cagle, reputed leader of Williamson county's dry raid forces was shot and killed tonight. Deputy Sheriff John Layman was seriously wounded and three of Herrin's policemen, including Chief John Ford were kidnapped late this evening, as a result of the tension between the so-called wet and dry elements of the county, according to word received here tonight.

According to Sheriff Galligan, three police officers of Herrin were placed under arrest and taken from the county. Colonel Culbertson arrived in Herrin today in order to carry on an investigation into conditions existing in the county, where frequent liquor raids have been conducted by S. Glenn Young, volunteer dry worker, and members of a secret organization.

A month ago the state militia was called out to protect the county from alleged disturbances, arising from the liquor raids.

Fears Serious Outbreak. Sheriff John Galligan late this evening requested that troops be called out to cope with the situation which, it is generally feared will become serious. One company of militia were ordered mobilized late this evening and ordered to proceed from Carbondale to Herrin in trucks.

Colonel A. L. Culbertson of the state militia, who has been in Williamson county for several days investigating rumors that trouble was approaching, has been ordered by Adjutant General Black to take charge of the troops.

Anti-Saloon Leader Sentenced To Prison

CLAIM BREWER BLOCKS PROBE

Treasury Officials Want What He Calls "Evidence".

(By The Associated Press.) Washington, Feb. 8.—Treasury officials went into court today to demand that Charles B. Brewer, a department of justice attorney, be made accessible to them the securities he holds and on which are based charges of duplicating in government bonds.

The action took the form of a motion in the District of Columbia supreme court, in which Brewer is asked that the treasury be permitted to interfere with the possession of the securities, and that he be made accessible to the treasury for the purposes of his investigation of alleged irregularities in the issuing bureau.

Brewer's move in court followed a request by the treasury that the return of the securities to the treasury agents who were examining a report made by him in connection with the securities be delayed. Brewer's attorneys declared they had proceeded with their checkup on Brewer's charges of duplicating without examination of the securities held.

Claim Probe Delayed. United States District Attorney Gordon in filing the motion in the district court restated the treasury's difficulties in obtaining the securities and requested the court to direct Brewer to deposit with the court, in that way, the securities which he had in his possession.

Mr. Coolidge was said to be at a loss to know why Brewer, through his court action, was obstructing other branches of the government in ascertaining the truth of falsity of the accusations of irregularities in the engraving bureau.

Secretary Mellon, earlier in the day, had declared claims by Brewer that the style and font of type used in numbering some of the bonds was proof of irregularities could not be substantiated in his belief.

The affidavits filed today carried on a letter from Mr. Mellon to the attorney general requesting return of the securities. It was dated February 1. Brewer's appeal to the court for the restraining order was made three days later. He charged in the petition for the restraining order that the treasury wanted to obtain the "evidence" he had and destroy it, as is the procedure with other redeemed securities.

defer until next Monday the hearing of William G. McAdoo, former secretary of the treasury, which Mr. McAdoo has requested in a letter sent to Chairman Lenroot last night and read into the committee record today. The committee first decided to hear him tomorrow, but changed his decision when it was found that the examination of Mr. Bonfils could not be completed today.

The field of the oil investigation was further broadened today by the adoption by the senate of a resolution by Senator LaFollette, Republican, Wisconsin, directing the oil committee to inquire into and report upon the claims of the Honolulu Consolidated Oil Company to oil lands situated within naval reserve number two in California.

Senator Dill, Democrat, Washington, a member of the oil committee, proposed that the senate go even further by inquiring into what part Mr. Fall had in efforts to obtain oil fields in Colombia, Mesopotamia, Palestine, Persia and other foreign countries.

Coolidge Signs Resolution. President Coolidge signed the Walsh oil lease amendment resolution, but he attached a memorandum in which he took exception to the language in the preamble which declares the leases were made in violation of the law and under circumstances indicating fraud and corruption.

The president also sent to the senate the nominations of Silas H. Strawn and Atlee Pomerene, special government counsel in the oil committee where a fight on them is forecast.

The reference of the nominations was made at the conclusion of an all-day debate in the senate on the Denby resignation resolution, in which addresses were delivered by Senators Walsh, of Montana, and Heflin, of Alabama, Democrats, in support of the measure and by Senator Borah, Republican, Idaho, in opposition to it.

The United Farm Women of Alberta in convention at Edmonton voted down a resolution to provide uniforms for high school girls and have an official ban placed on the use of cosmetics and the wearing of silk stockings.

House Defeats Resolution To Tax Securities

ed the resolution as an invasion of states' rights and unfair to states and cities planning public improvements in that their bonds would be taxed whereas similar improvements in the past had been made on tax-free securities.

The vote today in the opinion of leaders, effectually kills the amendment so far as this session is concerned. Break Among Republicans. The break among Republican members of the ways and means committee on the maximum surtax rate of 25 per cent reported by the committee was characterized today by criticism of those who supported the rate of the form of the majority report on the bill. The report as drawn by Chairman Green, some claimed, failed to present strongly arguments for the rate voted by the committee. Mr. Green has openly supported a higher surtax. It was understood by some of the Republicans that a higher rate might be made to include their arguments for the Mellon surtax rates.

Informal canvassing of the Republican delegations to develop the trend of opinion in the majority ranks on the surtax rates, considered the center of difference in the party on the tax bill, developed an unanimous stand by New Jersey Republicans for the 25 per cent surtax rate. The twenty-one New York Republicans failed to agree unanimously on this rate but it was reported they would support low surtaxes. Supporters of the Mellon surtax rate announced they would seek to have the house put on record, at least, by a vote on those rates, although saying privately there was little hope of a maximum surtax lower than 35 per cent.

ANDERSON GETS NOT MORE THAN TWO-YEAR TERM

Impassioned Plea For Clemency Doesn't Affect Court.

(By The Associated Press.) New York, Feb. 8.—William H. Anderson must go to Sing Sing prison from one to two years for forgery in falsifying the books of the state Anti-Saloon League of which he is superintendent, unless his conviction by a jury on January 29 is reversed on appeal. In imposing sentence today Supreme Court Justice Tompkins said "this crime was deliberately committed" and aggravated "by some of his testimony, which was obviously untrue."

The sentence followed an impassioned plea for clemency by Former Governor Charles S. Whitman, Anderson's chief counsel, and an appeal by Ferdinand Pecora, assistant district attorney, that the punishment "be such as to satisfy the public that justice has been done and that the law is no respecter of persons."

Under $5,000 Bond. Anderson was freed in $5,000 bail on a stay of execution to permit Mr. Whitman to seek a certificate of reasonable doubt which the trial court refused to grant. Arguments for a certificate will be heard by the court on February 15.

As he left the courtroom Anderson was served with papers in a $105,000 libel suit brought against the league, of which he still is superintendent, by Francis Cortwright of Corning, N. Y., who has accused the league of having libelled him in literature distributed throughout the district in which he was a candidate for the state assembly in 1923. Justice Tompkins recalled that Anderson was found guilty of forgery in the third degree on an indictment alleging he had falsified the books of the league by transferring the sum of $4,000 to Bertall Phillips, a fund collector, to Phillips' expense account. At the outset the court remarked that a suspended sentence was customary where a defendant had confessed and said he was sorry, and when boys committed crimes.

FARMERS FAVOR TWO-CENT GAS TAX FOR BUILDING OF HIGHWAYS

(By The Associated Press.) East Lansing, Mich., Feb. 8.—Farmers week for 1924 passed in history here today with a few scattered meetings, the annual election of directors of the Farm Bureau, an active session of the Michigan Press Association and a sale of blooded shorthorns. While the week's attendance was slightly below that of a year ago, due to inclement weather for the early days the meetings of individual associations were well attended.

The resolutions of the farm bureau reaffirmed many of the former stands of the organization, this being especially true of the measures pressed by the farmer interest before the legislative session. The principal planks of their platform adopted at today's session was for two cent gasoline tax, to be used for the building of state highways, and a license tax to take care of other highway contingencies. It was proposed in one of the resolutions today that the counties be given the collection of the license tax, turning the state's share over to the state treasurer and keeping the county share.

Two Years Behind. In the discussion over this measure, which was adopted by an unanimous rising vote, the sponsors of the measure pointed out that some of the counties were two years behind in their state awards and with this plan in operation, it would be possible for some money to come to the counties each year. The auto is property, contended the sponsors of the measure and the tax for it should be paid in the county where it is owned.

merchant of Walnut Springs, Texas; that she had played small parts in motion pictures, but for two years or more had been unemployed, living in her luxurious apartment which still was filled with the fragrance of fresh cut flowers when her body was found.

They learned she had been a member of the gay party that ended in the death of Angier B. Duke, wealthy tobacco manufacturer at Greenwich, Conn., last September. Pictures of an army lieutenant and of a middle-aged man were on dressing table. The middle-aged man, it was learned, was Gerhard M. Dahl, chairman of the executive board of the Brooklyn-Manhattan Transit Company, vice president of the Chase National Bank, and a member of the brokerage firm of Hayden Stone and Company. On the back of the photograph was inscribed "Gerry Doll."

Mr. Dahl was communicated with by telephone and he arranged a conference with the police. What happened there was told by Fred Landek, a New York lawyer, who said he had been a friend of Dahl since they were class-mates at the University of Wisconsin.

Interested in Music. "Gerry phoned me that he understood that police wanted to question him. I met him and Barron Collier, special deputy police commissioner, at the apartment of Max Haerring. Gerry said he had nothing to hide and wanted to get a clean slate. He knew Miss Lawson and her parents and was interested in her musical education. I think that Mrs. Dahl also knew Miss Lawson."

Warner Jones, a New York business man, and a member of the party at which Duke met his death, gave further testimony of friendly interest that Dahl had in Miss Lawson. He said that on Wednesday evening of this week, with Dahl and a girl whose first name was Edna, but whose last name he refused to divulge, he had visited the apartment of Miss Lawson.

"We played mah jongg all evening," he said, "there was also considerable discussion about a robbery which had occurred at the home of Mr. Max Milliken on the floor above last Friday."

Mrs. Milliken, who came here from Detroit in January with her husband, said at 5:30 o'clock last Friday morning a man had entered the room with a pass key, snatched a purse and ran. It was the first night she had been alone in the apartment, as her husband had been called out of the city.

Dahl, gray haired and about 50 years old, answered the description furnished by Thomas Kane, elevator operator at the apartment house, of the one person who frequently visited Miss Lawson's apartment. He was said to have been seen leaving the building Wednesday morning.

Police had little information to work on in their search for the murderers. The elevator boy was the only person who had seen the two men and it was from his descriptions that police hoped they might be able to identify the men.

FORBES PROBE TO BE RESUMED VERY SHORTLY

(By The Associated Press.) Chicago, Feb. 8.—Examination of witnesses connected with the transfer of the Excelsior Springs, Mo., hospital site to the Veterans' Bureau, probably will be a part of the grand jury inquiry into the conduct of the bureau under Director Charles R. Forbes in the near future.

Inquiry into details of the purchase, which involved $116,000, was forecast by the announcement that additional witnesses would be summoned before the grand jury within a few days.

ASK HEFLIN TO DECLARE KLUX IDEAS

(By The Associated Press.) Washington, Feb. 8.—A challenge to Senator Heflin, Democrat, Alabama, to declare publicly whether he is affiliated with the Ku Klux Klan, was sent to the senator tonight by R. B. Greager, Republican national committeeman for Texas.

In a letter replying to Senator Heflin's recent attack on him, Mr. Greager declared that his accuser was either a member of the Klan or a propagandist for it, and called on him "to declare on the floor of the senate your past and present Klan affiliations."

Which they said was consigned to Miss Lawson from the American Railway Express. Kane said they went directly to Miss Lawson's apartment and were admitted by the occupant. Twenty minutes later, one of them returned. Lillian Harvey, a negro maid, entered the apartment at ten o'clock and found the girl lying dead—face down on the bed, hands tied to the bed with a dog leash; feet bound with silk stockings and a towel, held by adhesive tape, jammed into her mouth. The body was still warm. Police believed the robbers did not intend murder. Furniture was broken and the silk robe which was the girl's only apparel was torn.

But neighbors heard no signs of struggle and a pet wire-haired terrier made no disturbance. The fact that the men evidently knew where Miss Lawson's apartment was situated; that she admitted them and that the dog gave no alarm led police to believe their visit was expected. Two bottles of champagne, numerous cigarette stubs and an incense burner were found in the apartment.

Think Visitors Expected. Kane said the men entered the apartment about eight o'clock this morning carrying a bundle.

Mr. Whitman said he based his petition on Anderson's last good reputation, "unblemished for forty years," and pointed out that Anderson "is head of a movement believed in by millions of our citizens."

"I also call the attention of the court to the fact that nothing has been established here to show he did anything that was of any harm to any cause or to any person," continued Mr. Whitman. "There was no injury to anyone. No loss, no fraud was committed through which anyone suffered, and I venture to go further and say that nothing was established by which anyone can suffer or be wronged."

Mr. Pecora said Anderson had been tried by a jury of his own choosing, that the court had been scrupulous in safeguarding the defendants' rights and that Anderson's position as head of the prohibition movement had nothing to do with his position before the court.

"I think the verdict must be accepted by this court as amply justified by the evidence," added the prosecutor. "I think it is also a fair inference from the evidence that this defendant committed grand larceny in the first degree by unlawfully taking $24,700 from the league. It must also be evident that perjury was committed by this defendant on his trial."

DRIFTING MANY HOURS IN DARK ON ICE FLOES

As evening came on they shouted for help and signalled with matches and a flashlight. Once a ferry boat crossed within 20 feet of them. Four hours passed and the tide turned. As the five were planning a last desperate attempt at escape, a large piece of the pan broke off, marooning one of the women. The others, jumping, reached her and then leaped again to the next cake. There they remained until long after dark.

"The new noticed we were not moving any more," said Philip Couture in describing the venture. "I flashed a light and saw the ice jammed on shore. We had reached the Atkinson Yards. Christopher Columbus had nothing on us when we saw land."

Asked why they had not informed the rescue parties of their safety, Couture said he and his companions were "so nervous," they simply went home to bed.

COMMENCEMENT FOR RURAL 8TH GRADERS, PLAN

School Commissioner Also Announces Contest

Graduation exercises for eighth graders of the rural schools of Delta county will be held June 14 in the Escanaba high school auditorium. It was announced yesterday by C. U. Woolpert, county school commissioner. Diplomas will be presented to all eighth graders who successfully complete their examinations in May. "Included in the plan," says a bulletin to teachers issued from Mr. Woolpert's office, "is a declamatory contest which will be conducted under the rules of the Michigan Oratorical Association. Selections for the declamation must be chosen from the list of approved declamations which will be sent to the teachers who have pupils to enter the contest. Three judges will be chosen from disinterested schools to decide the winner. Any eighth grader who took the state examination is eligible to enter the contest, provided that not more than five may enter from each school. If more than five pupils are eager to enter and have the approval of the teacher, however, some means of trying them out will have to be devised." The day also may include a field day at the Delta county fair grounds.

GARDEN FISHING BATTLE RAGING

Net Owners Across Bay Quote Some Law On Their Own Account

Garden, Feb. 8. (Special)—Garden people are watching with special interest a case which is now awaiting the decision of the Supreme Court.

According to a report published in the Sunday Feb. 3 issue of this paper, it would appear that a number of Garden fishermen are encroaching on rights owned by others. Local fishermen wish it to be pointed out that they are not "trespassers."

Referring to the present owners of Garden Bluff, the said article states: "As we own the riparian rights around Garden Bluff this ownership gives us the right to prevent fishing within one mile from our shore."

It is a fact that local men have a number of nets in the disputed waters and upon these nets they depend in large measure for their livelihood. They point out the fact that in 1921 the legislature passed an act which cancelled riparian rights to owners of shore land. If this act of 1921 is declared by the Supreme Court as unconstitutional, then Garden fishermen will be compelled to abide by the decision. But until then they feel that they have an absolute right to fish within the "prohibited" waters.

Court Ruling Quoted.

We are asked to publish the following article which appeared in the February issue of the "Michigan Fisherman":

"Our attention has been directed to what is believed to be the first case to reach the Michigan Supreme Court in which is involved the act of the 1921 Legislature by which riparian rights were lost to owners of shore land. The case is that of Anna Dorothea Brown versus Louis Trudell and is at present pending before the Supreme Court, arguments having been presented last week.

Mrs. Brown's husband now deceased, had rented Mr. Trudell some property in Iosco County and also leased him the fishing rights in the waters adjacent to the property. After the 1921 act became effective Mr. Trudell refused to pay further rent claiming that the act had divested all water rights from the property and was not subject to private ownership and disposition. The Brown estate sued, claiming that the 1921 act was unconstitutional and also that it did not repeal a local statute, enacted in 1915, giving property owners in Iosco and one or two other counties, riparian rights.

Baird Asks Intervention.

Until the Supreme Court has rendered its decision the merit to this controversy must remain in doubt. It is significant however, on the phase as to whether the 1921 act was unconstitutional. So alarmed has John Baird, Commissioner of Conservation become, that he has requested the attorney general's department to intervene in the case and file a supporting brief urging the constitutionality of the law. Many of those affected by the law have done so and it is believed that undoubtedly a case will arise wherein the Supreme Court will be called upon squarely to decide that question, inasmuch as the case now before it will probably be decided on the basis of the local statute involved.

It is to be hoped that local contending parties will be able to arrive at some mutual understanding pending the decision of the Supreme Court.

NOTICE.

The Director of the Glorious Girl will arrive Saturday afternoon and rehearsals will commence Sunday. All persons asked to take part are kindly requested to report at the K. of C. Club rooms, Sunday, February 10, 1924, at 2 p. m.

MRS. ROBERTSON DIES SUDDENLY

Passes Away While At Meeting of Church Society.

Mrs. Harry Robertson of this city, died quite suddenly yesterday afternoon following a heart seizure just as she, in company with Mrs. W. D. Hughes, had entered the L. G. Sawdy home to attend a meeting of the Home Missionary Society of the Methodist church.

Mrs. Hughes and Mrs. Robertson had been down town shopping and then had gone to Laing hospital where Mr. Hughes is under treatment. After spending a short time at the hospital they started for the Sawdy home. When a short distance from the house, Mrs. Robertson was seized by an attack but managed to make her way to the Sawdy home, where she passed away within 15 minutes, and just a few minutes after the arrival of a physician who had been hurriedly summoned.

Mrs. Robertson was 50 years of age. For many years she had made her home in and around Fairport and Fayette, but the family has lived in Escanaba for several years. She was a noble, Christian woman and an ardent church worker and was widely known in this section of the country.

The body was taken to the Anderson Undertaking Parlor to be prepared for burial but funeral arrangements had not been completed last evening.

Mrs. Robertson leaves two daughters, Mrs. Joseph Cich of this city and Mrs. James Watchorn of Fayette. She is also survived by one son, Meade Robertson. Her husband also survives her. The family lives on Lake Shore Drive.

COUNTY NEEDS BUNCH OF NEW HIGHWAY SIGNS

Hills, Intersections, Etc., Are To Be Newly Marked.

The renewal of state highway marking signs throughout Chippewa county will be an important item in the 1924 highway maintenance program, as was shown by W. Martin, of the state highway commission, who was in Manistique yesterday.

Together with J. E. McCarthy, local road engineer, Mr. Martin looked over the sign needs of this county, in preparation for the contemplated renewal of the markers, which will probably be in this summer.

Mr. Martin had just come from Chippewa and Mackinac counties, where he also checked up on the number of new signs needed. In Chippewa county, he found that there would be about 170 of the little markers required. In Mackinac county the number was slightly less. About 140 will be needed there. It is estimated that there will be about 150 needed in Schoolcraft county, showing that the insignificant little road markers become a big item when taken collectively.

Chas. Cook Stages A Varied Program At High School

"Prof." Charles Cook and his assistants were featured performers for Thursday afternoon's assembly program at Manistique high school.

Starting with a Jewish impersonation, the versatile Cook branched into a magician act, and completed his program with a blackface program.

At the close of his program, "Prof." Cook called a group of high school teachers up onto the platform to receive a prize package of candy, which later proved to be a sack of paper scraps.

W. P. Mock, director of the "Minstrel Frolic" to be given here Monday and Tuesday under the auspices of the American Legion, was also present with one of the show end-men, and furnished a short entertainment while Cooks minstrels were preparing for the next act.

SUFFERED SINCE YOUNG GIRL

Words Failed to Express Benefit Received from Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Greenville, Texas.—"Words can not express how much good Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me.

Every month I would have cramps and headache, and I felt like I was freezing to death. I suffered in this way from the time I was a young girl, and all the doctors said was "operation."

For months I had a tired, sleepy feeling all day, and when night would come I would be so nervous I couldn't stay in bed. Our druggist recommended the Vegetable Compound to my husband and he bought four bottles. I have taken every one and I think I have a right to praise your medicine."

—Mrs. J. B. HOLLEMAN, 224 E. Marshall St., Greenville, Texas.

For fifty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been used by women from girlhood through middle age.

It is a dependable medicine for troubles common to women. Such symptoms as Mrs. Holleman had are relieved by correcting the cause of the trouble. For sale by druggists everywhere.

REGISTER NOW IN DOG DERBY, CLUB ADVISES

Entries Wanted Before Prize List Is Arranged

Entries will now be accepted at the Daily Press office for the Manistique Civic Club dog derby which will be held on Saturday, afternoon, February 16.

It is desired that the entries be made as soon as possible, in order that those in charge of the race may group the dogs in their proper class, as to size and age, and arrange the list of prizes for winners of the race in each class.

If possible, the race will be held on Cedar Street in the main business block, so that it will be convenient for spectators. This is the first event of the kind ever attempted at Manistique, and is sufficient interest is shown, it will undoubtedly be repeated.

Indications so far are that there will be plenty of entries. Among those who will probably enter their dogs are: Lyle Wilson, John Girvin, Richmond Stewart, and the Manistique fire department. Capable dog drivers will handle all of these dogs in the race.

"Make your dog entries at once at the office of the Daily Press," is the advice of the derby committee.

Doggone! Get busy, fellows.

Don't Fuss With Mustard Plasters!

There's no sense in mixing a mess of mustard, flour and water when you can easily relieve pain, soreness or stiffness with a little clean, white Musterole.

Musterole is made of pure oil of mustard and other helpful ingredients, combined in the form of the present white ointment. It takes the place of mustard plasters, and will not blister.

Musterole usually gives prompt relief from sore throat, bronchitis, tonsillitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, headache, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frost-bite, colds of the chest (it may prevent pneumonia).

To Mothers: Musterole is now made in milder form for babies and small children. Ask for Children's Musterole.

ALLSTARS WIN PIN TILT AT ELKS' ALLEYS

Bays, Perry and Forshar Step Into Lime-light.

Zach Bays, Dan Perry and John Forshar were the Elks' bowlers who stepped into the spotlight during the past week of league pin-spilling on the club alleys.

George Graphos, who leads the league with a 173 average in 25 games.

Bays and Perry rolled with the Pirates, and pulled their team out of a hole by bowling averages of 173 and 171, respectively. In one game, Perry passed the 200 mark. Forshar's score for the week was also a notable one. Rolling with three different teams, the Lions, Giants, and Tigers, his lowest game averaged 168, and the other two were 176 and 187. He also topped the high score of the week, with 225.

A summary of the team standings shows that Hentschell's Bears have again started to climb toward the top. Last week they were in third place; this week they nosed out the Tigers and took second. The Cubs also stepped up one notch, and left the Lions in the cellar.

All-Stars Win Supper.

In the final games of the special prize challenge match, rolled Thursday evening, the All-Stars emerged victorious by 140 pins, giving them a total margin of 199 pins over the Invincibles for the nine games. According to the provisions of the challenge match, the Invincibles must now stage a banquet for the winners, the date to be selected later.

EQUIP CHURCH BASEMENT FOR BASKET BALL

May Organize Scout Troop at Metho- dist Church

Equipment for playing basketball, indoor baseball, and other sports, are to be installed in the new recreation rooms at the recently remodeled Methodist church.

A basketball court has already been laid out in the large basement room, and baskets have been ordered. As soon as they are installed the place will be ready for the use of the young people. An indoor baseball diamond is also to be laid out very soon.

On Monday evening, a meeting of boys is to be called in these rooms for the purpose of organizing another Boy Scout troop. All boys of Scout age who do not now belong to a troop, and who live on the west side or in the vicinity of the Methodist Church, will be urged to attend the meeting, which is called for 7 p. m. Monday.

Birthday Social Is Annual Event

Members of the Methodist Ladies' Aid and their guests will enjoy a "birthday social" in the church recreation rooms this afternoon.

The birthday social is an annual event with the Methodist ladies. The Aid keeps what is known as a birthday box, and as each member has a birthday, they put in coins corresponding to the number of years old they are. After a year has elapsed, the box is opened, and this is the occasion for the "birthday social." Last year, the box was not opened. So that the coins to be found in the box this afternoon will represent the accumulation of two years.

Tables have been arranged in the church dining room, which has been decorated for the occasion, and a real good time is anticipated. Members of the Aid were given the privilege of inviting one guest, and it is expected that there will be about 60 ladies present.

"Pick-up" Teams Hit Maples Hard

Two "pick-up" teams of Manistique bowlers rolled an interesting series of three games at Braut's alleys Thursday night.

The winning team was composed of Thirreault, Malloy, Pray, Nelson and Wilson, and they were victors over the other five-man team by 47 pins, bowling 903 in one game when Pray and Nelson hit 203 and 207, respectively.

The other team led by 89 pins at the end of the first two games, but fell down when one or two of their men weathered some hard luck. One member of the losing team, Hastings, stepped into the 200 class for one game. On this team were: Matthews, Braut, Hastings, Brown and Rubin.

MEMBERSHIP IN LEGION MEANS HELP

"One of the first proofs of the Legion's sincerity," said an officer of August Mattson post yesterday, in urging every ex-service man to become a member of the Legion during the membership campaign now being conducted here, "is the word it has done for the comrades who have needed its help.

"In scope and extent this task has been much larger than even the most enthusiastic Legionnaires realize. And it has been available not only to members of the Legion but to every veteran of the World War with an honorable discharge.

"Let us say that a man is diseased or disabled because of his war service; or that trouble with his war risk insurance, or that he is in need of help in collecting the adjusted compensation which so many states have voted; or that he wants to obtain citizenship papers or that he wishes to enter vocational training—

"The Legion will help him!

"It must be remembered that the people of the United States want to do the square thing by the veteran, but there are thousands of tragic mistakes and it is a simple truth to say that a veteran who wants a settlement in many cases must fight for it. In Michigan he is fortunate in having the Legion ready and willing to make a thorough, skilled and determined fight for him.

"This is one of the big reasons why every service man should be a member of the legion and why August Mattson post is company with others in the state in campaigning for a membership that, it is hoped, will include every eligible man."

WILL START LEVYING FOR PERSONAL TAX

Levy in all cases of delinquent personal taxes in which no definite promise of payment has been given, will be started the first of the week by the administration committee in charge.

Collection of the delinquent taxes, several hundred dollars worth of which were outstanding was started two weeks ago under the direction of City Treasurer Otto Haberman and a little over $200 was paid at that time.

There is still an amount on the books, however, and property owners who have refused to give the matter attention will find themselves forced to when the levying begins.

DO NOT DELAY LONGER AS TO YOUR POLICY

Get a Press $1,000 Accident Policy At Cost Today.

Forward looking men and women are not concerned so much with the present, except to make it produce for the future. The man who wants a drink doesn't usually start digging his well for that one particular drink—he digs his well because he knows he's going to need the water at a future time. And that ought to be the way folks look at accident insurance protection—as a safeguard and an assurance that they will be protected when accident does come. Industrial concerns do not install first-aid kits in their plants every time a man is injured—they put them in first so that when accidents do come, the means for meeting them is at hand.

Attend To It Today. And that is exactly what the Daily Press is asking its subscribers to do—get one of the Daily Press travel accident insurance policies for $1,000 now, while you are well and uninjured, so that if your turn in the accident column comes, you will feel that you have something coming in the form of protection both for yourself and your family. It was with this thought in mind that the Daily Press arranged with the Inter Ocean Casualty company to provide every subscriber of the Press with a sound, safe and dependable policy which costs virtually nothing and which means that compensation is paid in the event of misfortune. The Press has done this as an addition to its service to you. The Press, as has been repeatedly stated, is not in the insurance business. It makes no profit and seeks none on these insurance policies. It gives them to you at the actual cost of 75 cents for a full year. Every member of the family of the subscriber between the ages of 15 and 70 may have a policy merely by paying the 75 cents which covers the cost of registration and other details.

No Red Tape. You are not required to pay a long period in advance for your paper, nor is there any red tape about securing this policy, such as medical examinations and other time-consuming features.

Possession of one of these policies means that if you are injured while riding to or from your work, while crossing the streets as a pedestrian, while riding a bicycle, auto, street car, train, steam boat—in fact any sort of power propelled vehicle—you will be paid. It is even provided that should you be injured as the result of an accident to a horse drawn vehicle, you will be paid.

There is a weekly payment of $10 a week for a period of 13 weeks if you are laid up that long. There are lump sum payments of $500 for the loss of an eye, a hand, a foot; a lump sum payment of $1,000 for the loss of any two members, and $1,000 for the loss of life through a travel accident. There are many more splendid features about the policy which cannot be fully explained in this limited space, but one of them is the fact that it increases in value $100 a year until it is worth $1500 and its cost 75 cents for a full year's protection. No family should be without one or more of these policies, particularly if the family is dependent upon the weekly earnings of its members.

Everybody "Travels." Most people ride in autos, either their own or with friends, either on business or for pleasure, either in going to or from work. The same is true of street cars, horse drawn vehicles, motorcycles, etc. As a matter of fact no one with the responsibility of a family can well afford to be without one of these policies at the very trifling cost of 75 cents a year. Everyone wastes more than that amount certainly every month, but it would pay for your protection for a full year.

If you are not one of the great army now being protected by this policy, join at once. Call the Daily Press office, phone 693 or come to the office in person and have it explained. If you want, a representative will call on you and explain it all in detail. But you should have one and have it immediately. You will need it more and more as the spring season approaches when traffic becomes more pronounced but you can get hurt at any time. Don't delay this little matter but look after it today and then feel at ease in your mind.

AMUSEMENTS

ST. JOSEPH'S AUDITORIUM. If Jack Livingston, the talented young screen actor to be seen at St. Joseph's auditorium Sunday, Feb. 11th in "The Range Patrol," had commended a pension for all old horses, and let them graze away their lives in peaceful valleys and on sun-kissed hillsides.

Livingston, who is one of the best known Western stars on the screen, has lived with horses all his life, and is never seen in a picture without one of his beautiful animals. His favorite, "Buster," named by the star because the horse always broke him, he cost so much money to get a beautiful black silky animal, is known throughout the land as one of the most talented animals on the screen.

Always the friend of every horse, Livingston is said to have an almost human affection for this beautiful creature, who shares so many hazards with the star.

In "The Range Patrol" Livingston and Buster are seen doing some of the most thrilling stunts of their careers.

Livingston is supported by Mary Wynn, in the role of Nellie Fairleigh, the daughter of his ranch who has mortgaged his ranch to Zeb Stringer a miserly banker without knowing that it contains rich gold deposits. Al Ferguson, as "Hutch" Winters, the head of a gang of cattle rustlers, is said to be a splendid villain.

AT THE STRAND.

"The Cub Reporter," which is the attraction at the Strand Theatre again today, was built for thrills. Richard Talmadge, in the part of a San Francisco newspaper man, in a chase for a "sacred jewel of Buddha" has a "stunt" part that calls for dives through skylights, fights, exciting chases over roofs and a number of other hair-raising. The cast is adequate and the photography excellent.

AT THE DELFT.

The Paramount picturization of Samuel Shipman's stage play, "Lawful Larceny," is certain to prove a popular offering at the Delft theatre.

The story is most colorful. Hope Hampton, has the role of Marion Dorsey, a young wife who frequents the gambling house of Vivian Hepburn, in quest of an I. O. U. given by her husband to the woman after he had been victimized. Marion enlists the aid of Guy Tarlow, Vivian's right hand man, and the pair rob the safe, Marion retrieving her husband's I. O. U. Vivian follows the girl to her home with two detectives, but upon learning that Marion's act is legal ventures no prosecution. Marion explains matters to her husband and with the entrance of the junior member of the family, the trio happily face the future.

Playing in support of the principal players is a cast of prominent screen artists, including Russel Griffin, in a juvenile role, Yvonne Hughes, Dolores Costello and others.

Powder Puff Jack; Meet Perfume Pete

When the police, last week, found a powder puff in the pocket of an intoxicated lumberjack, they thought they had attained the height of something or other. They were mistaken. Yesterday, Abe Gardner, another woods worker was brought to the station and handed over for safe-keeping, a small bottle of high-grade perfume. Abe was too much "under the weather" to explain the presence of the beauty helper in his pocket. "I'm expecting a lip-attack every minute," said Chief Tolan.
