

F. L. BALDWIN DROPS DEAD NEAR HOME

PRESIDENT IS HANDICAPPED IN CANDIDACY

CONTROVERSY OVER CABINET MEMBERS IS HARMFUL.

BY DAVID LAWRENCE.

Washington, Feb. 12.—Today finds the party founded by Lincoln split in twain. President Coolidge can not command a majority of the United States senate on an issue as close to his administration as the retention of a member of his cabinet.

The coalition of insurgent Republicans and Democrats was sufficient to pass the resolution requesting the resignation of Edwin D. By, secretary of the navy, and it will be sufficient to pass other measures embarrassing to Mr. Coolidge's leadership.

Although the president has steadfastly maintained that he had nothing to do with the Teapot Dome controversy, and could not be held responsible for what happened, even though he was an unofficial member of the Harding cabinet and heard, as presiding officer of the senate, the debates on the oil leases, he is today involved in the affair from a political viewpoint.

The Democrats and insurgent Republicans have put him into the thing and henceforth he is on the defensive.

Mr. Coolidge is keenly aware that this attitude in suspending judgment till he has completed a thorough investigation may have an effect on his political fortunes, for in his statement commenting on the senate resolution the president says: "I do not propose to sacrifice any innocent man for my own welfare nor do I propose to retain in office any unfit man for my own welfare."

Capital Stunned By Disclosures In Oil Inquiry

25 PERSONS SLIGHTLY INJURED IN HEAD-ON COLLISION NEAR POWERS EARLY LAST EVENING

Passenger Engine Telescopes "Freighter" To Cab.

Approximately 25 persons were injured, none of them seriously, in a head-on collision between southbound Chicago & Northwestern passenger train No. 224 and northbound freight No. 25, at Kloman, two miles south of Powers, at 6 o'clock last night.

The passenger train was going about 35 miles an hour, it was estimated, when it entered the sharp curve at Kloman. The freight was proceeding slowly and virtually was stopped before the crash came. Matt Sullivan, engineer on the freight train and his fireman jumped, escaping without injury. The fireman on the passenger train also per train remained in an upright to a snowbank.

Engineer James Green, of the passenger, stuck to his post, applying the air when he saw the other train facing him on the track and was probably the most severely injured man in the entire mixup. He had a badly cut eyelid, several stitches being required to close the wound.

Locomotives Telescoped. The impact completely telescoped the passenger locomotive into the freight engine, the former plowing an upward course nearly to the "freighters" cab. All of the coaches on the passenger in all directions, over the backs position.

The sudden application of the air to the passenger train and the crash when the locomotives collided, sent passengers flying, continued on their journey of seats, under the seats and down the aisles. The coaches were all of steel construction, a fact which probably was responsible for the absence of major injuries. Brakeman McPeck of the passenger train was reported to have suffered a fractured breast bone. There were numerous fractured ribs and many cuts and bruises, none of which were regarded as serious.

An extra engine, rushed to the scene, picked up the rear coach of the passenger train, and brought the passengers to Powers, where they were given first aid by Dr. C. F. Whiteshield, assisted by Mrs. Emma Christensen, a nurse from Green Bay, who happened to be on the passenger train and who was herself bruised and scratched, but who insisted on assisting all others before having her own hurts dressed.

None of the injured were taken to hospitals and nearly all of them continued on their journeys although several Escanabans were brought back to this city on train No. 121, which was delayed several hours the other side of the wreck.

Cause Not Determined. Local officials of the road said the cause of the accident had not been determined. The wrecker was sent to the scene to clear the track and it was estimated that it would be 4 or 5 o'clock this morning before other trains would be able to pass.

SALE OF MARION STAR BY HARDING ENTERS QUIZ.

(By The Associated Press.)

Philadelphia, Pa., Feb. 13.—Senator Frank B. Willis, of Ohio, defended here tonight the late President Harding in the circumstances surrounding the sale of the Marion Star. The senator dismissed as an untruth any suggestion of dishonesty in the sale of the newspaper.

Washington, Feb. 13.—Developments in the oil scandal tumbled over each other so rapidly today and went so far afield that when night came the national capital had not recovered from the shock.

President Harding's name and the circumstances surrounding the sale of his newspaper, the Marion Star, were brought in by Frank A. Vanderlip, New York banker, who promptly was subpoenaed by the oil committee to appear tomorrow morning and tell what he may know.

Bainbridge Colby, a former secretary of state and one time law partner of President Wilson for a brief period, was mentioned in information brought to the committee in connection with a vast array of lawyers retained by various oil interests.

President Coolidge, informed by Republican senators that neither Silas H. Strawn nor Alcee Pomeroy could be confirmed as special government counsel in the oil cases, made preparations to withdraw their nominations.

Considers Garfield. James R. Garfield, secretary of the interior under President Roosevelt, was considered for appointment as one of the government attorneys, but investigation showed that Mr. Garfield's firm had had legal connection with the Doherty interests in Mexico.

Without a record vote the senate adopted a resolution by Senator Dill, Democrat, Washington, of the oil committee, calling on the state department for all diplomatic correspondence relating to the Colombian treaty.

RAPID RIVER BANK CLOSED BY CASHIER

(By The Associated Press.)

The Farmers and Merchants Bank of Rapid River a private bank closed its doors yesterday morning, when it was learned by James C. Otsby, owner of the institution, had made an assignment for the benefit of creditors at Miller, Ia.

The bank will remain closed, it was announced, until some further action is taken.

The news of Mr. Otsby's action came as a surprise to Mr. Arquist, who had not known that his employer's financial difficulties in any way involved the Rapid River institution. The news of the assignment was brought to this city by T. J. Enright, an attorney of Forest City, Ia., who went to Rapid River Tuesday and checked over the books of the institution there.

The books, he said, were in excellent clerical condition. The liabilities would be paid somewhere between 75 and 100 per cent.

Mr. Enright informed Mr. Arquist that Mr. Otsby's Iowa liabilities are $60,000.00 but that it has been impossible to date to get an accurate estimate of the Iowa assets. However, it is believed that the Iowa bank will not pay more than thirty-five per cent.

NOTED EDITOR OF U. P. FALLS GOING TO WORK

EXPIRES BEFORE MEDICAL AID CAN ARRIVE.

(By The Associated Press.)

P. L. Baldwin, 52, editor and publisher of the Escanaba Journal, died suddenly about 5:15 o'clock yesterday morning, when he was stricken with a heart attack while he was walking from his home to his office. He was able to summon help, but had fallen unconscious, before medical assistance could reach him, or before he could be removed to his home.

Mr. Baldwin left his home shortly after 2 o'clock, and walked down South Fourth street a distance of about a block, in front of the home of R. R. Kessel, at the corner of Fourth street and Second avenue south, he paused and asked the little child of Mr. and Mrs. Kessel to call his mother. Mrs. Kessel appeared in the doorway and Mr. Baldwin requested her to summon a physician. When Mrs. Kessel returned, Mr. Baldwin had collapsed. Police headquarters were immediately alerted for an ambulance and Assistant Chief Michael Ettenhoefer and Martin Nygaard, rushed to the scene in a service automobile. Mr. Baldwin was unconscious when they arrived. Neighbors had covered him with a blanket and had made him as comfortable as possible. He was breathing feebly.

Died On Way Home. The men placed him in the department's automobile and took him home. Life was extinct when he was taken from the machine. Mr. Baldwin was suffering from heart disease for some time. For several days, in particular, he had not been feeling well, but there were no outward intimations that his condition was grave. He had maintained his usual working schedule, and had maintained his interest and participation in his large field of activities.

DEMOCRATS TO BACK GARNER

Will Stand As Unit For The Garner Tax Measure.

(By The Associated Press.) Washington, Feb. 13—Democrats of the house bound themselves tonight by a party caucus vote to stand as a unit for the tax revision by a party caucus vote to stand as a unit for the tax revision program proposed by Representative Garner, Democrat, Texas, as a substitute for the Mellon plan.

Nearly Unanimous. Of 166 Democrats at the caucus, 164 approved the action to bind the members. Rules of the membership provide that if two-thirds of the party membership approves of such an action it will be binding on the entire party unless a member shows that he had made a pledge to his constituents prior to election which would be violated by carrying out the party edict.

Representatives Deal of Virginia, was the only member excused on this ground. Seven others were granted permission to vote for any amendments to the revenue bill which would provide for higher surtax rates than the Garner plan, but if these were not accepted they were bound then to support the Democratic program.

The Mellon income tax rates placed in the bill in committee provide for a twenty-five percent cut in the normal taxes and for a maximum surtax rate of 25 percent.

div into all phases of departmental affairs. The resolution was laid on the table at its sponsor's request and may not be called up for several days.

Denies War Fraud Charge. Earlier in the day, Mr. Daugherty had sent a response to the senate resolution introduced by Senator Norris, Republican Nebraska, denying emphatically that immunity from criminal prosecution had been promised in the settlement of any war fraud cases provided the civil liability involved was met.

The attorney general said that while many cases had been settled without criminal prosecution these involved in the main overpayments by the government through mistake of law or facts. He added that plain warning had been given by departmental officers in all cases that if criminal liability was developed, not only what the defendants did but what they said would be used against them in prosecutions.

Writes to President. In a letter to the president Mr. Daugherty expressed satisfaction at the work of the department's war transactions sections in disposing of the many cases, that have come before it. The letter embraced a voluminous report from heads of the various divisions of the war transactions section, preparation of which was begun last November 22.

The president was advised by the attorney general that there are claims by the government under consideration in which negotiations for settlement are pending involving $41,000,000, while court action is under way in other claims involving approximately $62,000,000. The government had recovered to February 1, more than $4,500,000. Mr. Daugherty's letter explained, and added that more rigid work was impossible because of congested conditions existing in every federal court in the land.

will not be completed until members of the family, in other cities have arrived here, probably early this morning.

Native of Michigan. Francis L. Baldwin was born Feb. 7, 1872, in Dexter, Mich. His boyhood was spent in the Lower Peninsula. He entered a printing plant at Howard City as an apprentice at the age of 15 and less than three years later he was publishing a newspaper at Au Train. Later he went to Munising where he founded the Munising Republican, a pioneer newspaper in that part of the Upper Peninsula.

Mr. Baldwin purchased the Journal in 1906 and at that time he became a citizen of Escanaba. Always a fierce and uncompromising foe of the traffic in intoxicants, Mr. Baldwin found an immediate field for his forceful pen in this city. There were nearly 100 saloons in Escanaba. Virtually every field of activity—social as well as political—fell to some extent under their domination. His fight for prohibition never wavered. His pen, wielded with a hand of unusual courage and energy, and guided by strong convictions, made the Journal editor's presence felt throughout the remainder of his life.

He lived to see many of the reforms he long had advocated, become realities.

Staunch Republican. Politically he was a staunch Republican, although he was not by any means, a "regular" when he found himself facing conditions of which he could not approve.

Recently, Mr. Baldwin had given considerable attention to the proposals for reforms in county government, and was a member of a state committee which was organized to further a movement to bring the commission form of rule into the county buildings of the state.

This problem, he attacked with all of his vigor which characterized his entire career, and his work along that line was bringing widespread attention to his newspaper.

Mr. Baldwin was married, 29 years ago, to Ella Sanderson, of Coral, Michigan, her father, a Methodist minister, performing the ceremony. Mrs. Baldwin and six children—four of them in colleges and universities—survive. They are: Miss Esther, who is a teacher in the Gladstone public schools; Frederick, a student in Michigan Agricultural College at East Lansing; Paul who is a student in the Chicago College of Osteopathy; Richard and Robert who are in the University of Chicago, and Francis, at home.

There are four surviving brothers and one sister: Fred and George Baldwin of Munising; Charles Baldwin of Coral, Eugene Baldwin of Sault Ste. Marie, and Mrs. Mae King of Coral. The deceased was a life-long and devout member of the Methodist Episcopal church. For a number of years he had been superintendent of the First M. E. Sunday school. He was an active member of the Knights of Pythias, and other fraternal organizations.

VANDERLIP IS HELD TRADUCER OF THE DEAD

(By The Associated Press.)

Washington, Feb. 13—President Harding's private secretary, George B. Christian, Jr., declared in a statement here tonight that Frank A. Vanderlip was "an unconscionable traducer of the memory of the dead."

"Even when hysteria is the order of the day," Mr. Christian said, "the suggestion that the sale of Mr. Harding's private property has any connection, near or remote, with the lease of government oil lands, is so wantonly inexcusable that adequate comment is hardly possible. Mr. Vanderlip has the choice of proving that he has been misquoted or standing the most contemptible of men."

MINERS FACE WORKLESS ERA

(By The Associated Press.)

Jacksonville, Fla., Feb. 13—Members of the joint wage conference of miners and operators here tonight said that thousands of soft coal miners in America face elimination from the industry, regardless of what wage agreement is signed, nor can any wage agreement save hundreds of miners and little mining hamlets over the country from gradual dissolution, they declared.

"Elimination has commenced," a spokesman for the operators said, "and will stop only when economic conditions require. There are 700 bituminous shipping mines in the country. About half of them must go, and with them more than 200,000 miners. Every delay in reaching an agreement will stave off the elimination, but only for a time. There is no escape from it."

This was the spirit evidenced by miners and operators' leaders as they emerged from today's session of the sub-committee, entrusted with the drafting of a wage proposal for the central competitive field. The session was spent largely in "sparring for position." A great diversity of opinion, it was said, was voiced by operator members, and for sake of argument, a formal proposal was made that the miners amend their demands and ask a one year contract instead of one for four years.

creditors under an assignment for the benefit of creditors. If there should be any surplus in either statesthis of course would be turned over to the creditors of the other state, if needed.

Mr. Enright suggested that he would request the Iowa court to release the Michigan property and administration. Mr. Arquist is very anxious to see that the local creditors are taken care of. He came here about a year ago and has worked earnestly and carefully to build up the business at Rapid River and has acquired many friends there. The troubles of the Rapid River institution are due of course to the financial failure of the proprietor, Mr. Otisby, whose fall, it is said, is due to the drop in land values in Iowa. Mr. Otisby has sent paper here from Iowa and borrowed the funds of this bank to the extent of approximately Seven Thousand Dollars.

Meeting Saturday. Mr. Arquist has retained Glenn W. Jackson for the purpose of looking after the interest of the Rapid River creditors and has called a meeting to be held at the bank Saturday night at 8 o'clock, to which meeting he invited all of the creditors of the bank. The situation will then be discussed with them frankly and Mr. Arquist will gladly furnish any information which he has in regard to the matter. It is the desire of the creditors at Miller, Iowa, to avoid bankruptcy proceedings for the reason that the matter can be handled more expeditiously there under their assignment law. Bankruptcy would also affect the Rapid River situation unfavorably for the reason that the assets of both banks and all of the administration would have to be handled from Iowa, which is the residence of Mr. Otisby.

No Others Involved. None of the other banks in Delta County, in the slightest manner are involved in the affairs of Farmers and Merchants Bank of Rapid River.

Some steps had been taken by Mr. Otisby looking to the establishment of a State Bank at Rapid River but the necessary capital had not been raised to finance the organization of the State Bank. It is possible that at this time the residents of Rapid River will organize a State Bank and take over the fixtures and equipment of the present institution.

Detailed schedules of creditors and detailed schedules of assets of the local institution are being prepared, so that proper proceedings may be taken to close up the situation. In the event that a release is secured from the Iowa Court as to the Michigan property, a Delta county banker connected with one of the National or State institutions will undoubtedly be appointed assignee with power to wind up the affairs of the bank as soon as possible and distribute the proceeds under a State Assignment law act. The meeting to be held Saturday night is for the purpose of explaining the exact situation to the creditors and advising them as to the best methods to pursue.

Mr. Arquist has no further interest in the matter, except to see that the depositors and people of Rapid River and vicinity with whom he has dealt during the past year receive a fair deal and get one hundred cents on the dollar for their obligations, if possible.

ratified by the senate after Secretary Fall had urged that it was necessary to protect American oil interests in Columbia.

Then the senate adopted another resolution by Senator Dill calling for similar correspondence with Great Britain and eight other countries relating to oil concessions.

Laying Foundation. Ground work for a sweeping investigation of the administration of Attorney General Daugherty, particularly his failure to act in the oil scandal and on other matters, was laid in a resolution presented by Senator Wheeler, Democrat, Montana.

Steps were taken by the oil committee to question, probably tomorrow, Oscar Sutor, counsel for the Standard Oil Company of California, regarding his statement that his and other oil companies refrained from bidding on the Fall oil leases because they considered the leasing policy to be without authority in law.

A subpoena was issued for Karl C. Schuyler, a Denver attorney, to produce correspondence relative to Teapot Dome which was described to the committee as sensational.

Sinclair Slated. J. Leo Stack, a Denver oil operator, followed up previous testimony of an understanding between Harry F. Sinclair and Standard Oil interests by testifying that he had been informed a week beforehand by officials of the Pioneer Oil Company that Sinclair would get Teapot Dome.

Repeating on the senate floor to President Coolidge's statement on Secretary Denby, Democratic leader Robinson declared that eventually the president would have to put out of his administration all of those connected with the Fall leasing program.

Some senators professed to have definite information that both Secretary Denby and Attorney General Daugherty soon would retire from the cabinet, but there were no outward developments either at the White House or the navy or justice departments to indicate that the resignation of either was impending.

Harding Incident Sustained. The injection of President Harding's name into the oil muddle created a sensation of scarcely less magnitude than did E. L. Doheny's unexpected testimony of two weeks ago that he had made an unpaid loan of $100,000 to Albert B. Fall.

News of the speech delivered by Mr. Vanderlip last night at Oosting, N. Y., asking for investigation of the source of the $550,000 paid to Mr. Harding for the STAR just before his death travelled like wild fire through the senate cloak rooms and throughout official Washington.

There were hurried conferences between Chairman Lenroot and other members of the oil committee with an apparently unanimous agreement that Vanderlip should be summoned immediately. An air of almost feverish tension pervaded the senate chamber and spread throughout the administration.

Discuss Latest Shift. Senators gathered in groups on the floor (in the cloakrooms and the marble room discussing the latest shift in the storm of charges and suspicions enveloping the capitol. Until they saw the actual dispatches on the Vanderlip speech they were too astounded to comprehend that a man of Mr. Vanderlip's recognized standing had publicly challenged an investigation into the financial affairs of Warren Harding.

On all sides it was agreed that the publication of such grave charges made it imperative that the oil investigation should be pursued to the fullest possible length irrespective to what it might lead. Some senators pointed out that suspicion had become so wide-spread that no one could consider himself immune from it, making it essential to the public interest that the guilty should be separated from the innocent as speedily as possible.

Appears Today. Senator Lenroot had the separate sergeant-at-arms communicate by telephone with Mr. Vanderlip who expressed readiness to appear before the committee tomorrow morning.

The New York financier will be questioned not only with reference to his statements about the sale of the Marion STAR, but also about his charge that the oil committee did not go further in investigating Fall because the former secretary was ready to "peach" and what he would have said would have gone into "high places."

SIMMONS TO ORGANIZE A NEW SOCIETY

(By The Associated Press.)

Savannah, Ga., Feb. 12—Colonel Joseph Simmons, founder of the Ku Klux Klan, who relinquished his office in that body following the payment of royalties he held, will organize the "Knights of the Flaming Sword" in Atlanta on February 26, the date set for their first Georgia gathering, according to Homer F. PRESIDENT IS HANDICAPPED IN CANDIDACY

Fall. The senate believes Mr. Denby innocent but incompetent. That's what the majority vote meant. That Mr. Denby should have permitted his name to be signed to the transfer of the oil reserves to the Department of Interior is the premise on which the question of competency to hold office is based.

The president has taken Secretary Denby into his bosom. Months, possibly a whole year, will elapse before the special counsel appointed to investigate the case can possibly form their conclusions. Meanwhile, the political opposition to Mr. Coolidge will point out that he retains in his cabinet men who, in the opinion of a majority of the United States senate, failed to do their duty by the government.

No longer is it a legal issue or a personal affair against Mr. Denby, for he is personally well liked and popular.

A Political Issue. It has become, instead, a political issue and in this the Democrats with the help of the insurgent Republicans, have outmaneuvered Mr. Coolidge. The president is on the defensive now and must find some way to prove that what Secretary Denby did was justified or else call for the resignation of that official.

Rumor has it that when the Teapot Dome excitement has quieted down and the investigation is going along quietly, Mr. Denby will hand in his resignation and will at the same time receive a general white-washing so far as integrity and competency is concerned, but that Mr. Coolidge will enter the 1924 campaign, after his prospective nomination in June, with the handicap of a cabinet officer in whom the senate of the United States has expressed a lack of confidence.

Such a vote in any other parliamentary body would mean the immediate resignation of the cabinet officer, but in the United States the cabinet places are not constitutional offices. Indeed, there is no express provision in the federal constitution for a presidential cabinet.

Power of Congress. Congress has created by law the executive department and congress could at any time in passing an appropriation bill, refuse to permit the funds to be used if a certain officer is in charge of a particular department. Congress could also pass the pending plan for the reorganization of the government departments which calls for a consolidation of the war and navy departments under the head of the Department of National Defense.

The power of congress to embarrass the president when his cabinet is not popular is well established, but in practice there is no precedent for the compulsory removal of a cabinet officer by order of either the house or senate, or both.

The political opponents of the president are just as well satisfied, for it gives them something to talk about from now until election—Denby; and the cabinet of which Albert Fall was a member is issue enough for the party on the outside that wants to get on the inside.

103 MIDDIES FAIL TO PASS THEIR EXAMS

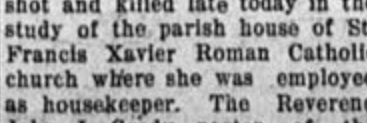

(By The Associated Press.)

Annapolis, Md., Feb. 13—One hundred and three midshipmen will be compelled to resign from the naval academy because of failures in mid-semester examinations, academy authorities announced today. Most of those found deficient belonged to the fourth, or lowest class, 77 members of which will have to leave the school. Detroit, Feb. 13—To help in reducing the number of street accidents and the daily casualty list from speeding autos that ruthlessly run down persons waiting for street cars, Police Commissioner Frank H. The white-washed zones of the "marker" type are obliterated easily by dirt and snow and difficult to see at night, Commissioner Croul contends.

'49 ROUND UP OPENS TONIGHT

Legion Plans Elaborate and Novel Entertainment at Coliseum.

Crowds at the Coliseum tonight will step backward three-quarters of a century to the rough and rugged "Days of '49." Cloverland Post, American Legion, at 8 o'clock, will open the doors on its "Slippery Gulch" round up. The denaturalizing process, which 75 years of civilization have carried on, will not be materially interfered with, however, and the greatest of care has been taken by the veterans to see that the entertainment to be provided is clean and wholesome. The Round Up will continue to occupy the remaining nights of the week at the Coliseum.

There will be dancing with excellent music each night, and a plentiful supply of girl partners for "tenderfoot" patrons; there will be music, games, some athletic entertainment; plenty to eat, plenty of drinks—soft ones, of course—and a lengthy program of other diversions. The affair is certain to be a decidedly novel one, and there should be a world of fun awaiting visitors.

IF RHEUMATIC EAT NO SWEETS

Says glass of Salts helps to overcome Rheumatism acid.

Rheumatism is easier to avoid than to cure, states a well-known authority. We are advised to dress warmly, keep the feet dry, avoid exposure, and above all, drink plenty of good water and avoid eating sweets of all kind. Rheumatism is caused by body waste and acids resulting from food fermentation. It is the function of the kidneys to filter this poison from the blood and cast it out in the urine; the pores of the skin are also a means of freeing the blood of this impurity. In damp and chilly cold weather the skin pores are closed, thus forcing the kidneys to do double work; they become weak and sluggish and fail to eliminate this waste and acids, which keeps accumulating and circulating through the system, eventually settling in the joints and muscles, causing stiffness, soreness and pain, called rheumatism. At the first twinge of rheumatism get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts; put a tablespoonful in a glass of water and drink before breakfast every morning for a week. This is helpful to neutralize acidity, remove waste matter, also to stimulate the kidneys, thus often ridding the blood of rheumatic poison. Jad Salts is inexpensive, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is used with excellent results by thousands of folks who are subject to rheumatism. Adv.

A HEATED ARGUMENT TOOK PLACE IN FRONT OF THE DRUG STORE THIS MORNING WHEN CASS TRIMBLE RETURNED THE NEW THERMOMETER, AND DEMANDED HIS MONEY BACK

"The Doctor's Story"

BY JANE PHELPS.

THE NEW OFFICE A STORM CENTER.

Chapter XXX. For two or three days Nancy scarcely spoke to me, but went about with red, swollen eyes, and an abused air. I made no excuses, no explanations. I had made my decision at last, made it knowing I should have a miserable, unhappy life as far as domestic comfort was concerned. I would achieve my ambition, be a successful surgeon if it were in me to be one. I counted the cost, and the outlook made me shiver. I was young, I loved Nancy in spite of all she had done to destroy that love. But as I gazed into the future I saw nothing but a sort of hopeless misery for both of us.

went to her and taking her arm led her into my private office. Patients might come in at any moment.

For an hour those who came had to wait. Nancy gave way to the most horrible accusations, became hysterical, and finally I took her out of the side door, and home. I had telephoned Jessie and she was there when we arrived. I left Nancy with her, and returned to my office.

"You think it best for me to remain?" Nina asked when at last we were alone.

"By all means. It would make little difference whom I employed. Mrs. Hayden is of a jealous disposition, can't understand much that I am obliged to do if I am to get on."

"I will do just as you say, but if at any time you feel I better go, please do not consider me."

Nancy not only did not give up her visits to the office because of Nina's presence there, but she came earlier and remained until I left on my rounds of calls. She rose an hour earlier than usual, did her work, then came down, took her seat in the office and watched. She did not speak to Nina, not even to return her pleasant "good morning of good afternoon." But her actions were causing comment. Patients first wondered, then whispered, then gossiped.

"What are you doing here?" "I am acting as nurse for Doctor Hayden." Nina's quiet tones were in contrast to Nancy's excited manner. The patient looked curiously at them, and passed on.

"I thought I discharged you!" Nancy said, her eyes blazing. "I left your house because I could not stay in a home where I was so misunderstood, so unwelcome. But this is different. It is Doctor Hayden's business office. Unless he tells me to go I shall remain."

Carl Bjork, of Gwin, Mich., came here on Thursday, and returned to his home immediately with his wife who has been taking treatment at the cancer hospital.

Mrs. Gunther, of Detroit Harbor, Wis., returned to her home on Thursday after taking treatment at the cancer hospital. Peter Lemire left here on Thursday for Negaunee after taking treatments at the cancer hospital.

Joseph Revolta and daughter, of Iron Mountain, arrived here last Thursday. Mr. Revolta is remaining to take treatment at the cancer hospital. His daughter remained with him until Saturday, when she returned again to her home.

Paul Caldwell, of the Soo, arrived in town on Saturday and is visiting with his friend, David Horning.

James Watchorn and wife passed through here on Saturday on their way to Escanaba to attend the funeral of the latter's mother, the late Mrs. Harry Robertson.

Residents of Garden and Fairbanks townships heard last week end with intense sorrow, of the death of the late Mrs. Harry Robertson of Escanaba. Deceased was especially well known in the southern part of the Garden Peninsula, where she enjoyed the esteem and respect of all who knew her.

She was especially well known and loved in the little village of Fairport where she with her family spent several years of her life. Always interested in any good movement, and especially in the work of the church, she had not been long in Fairport before she saw the urgent need of a Sunday school.

She gave herself loyally to the work and before long such an institution was organized there. It was only natural that she should be unanimously elected as Superintendent, a position which she loyally filled during her residence in the village.

Under her efficient leadership, the school not only became self supporting but actually did a large missionary work, sending out cheer and inspiration through this state. Sunday school leaders in the little work, after visiting this little school and noting the conditions under which they have worked have remarked about the exceptional zeal and devotion of those responsible.

It was a lasting work, and though she has been away from the district some years her influence is still at work and the work she commenced is still being ably carried on by Miss Leida Gerke.

From reports received here, it was while on her way to a meeting of one of her church organizations in the city that she was stricken, while actually engaged about her Master's business.

Fairport could ill afford to lose such a loyal Christian worker, but, while we mourn with the members of the bereaved family, on account of her passing, we rejoice with them for the fragrant memory of a holy life which she has left as our heritage.

Luella Walsh of Van's Harbor was here on Saturday for the funeral of her brother, August Sverstrom, of Isabella.

William LeFevre returned on Saturday to his home at Escanaba after visiting at the home of his brother, Solbey LeFevre, and wife.

Noah Deloria went to Escanaba on Saturday. His wife has a recent issue of this paper daughter for several weeks past. They expect to return to Garden very soon.

Charles Snow, of Isabella, came over to Garden on Thursday, returning home the day following. While there he purchased a horse from John Ferdinandez.

Mrs. John Steffin, niece of Pete Reese of Camp nine went to Escanaba on Friday, returning home on Saturday. She went in order to see her brother, who has sustained an accident to his hand.

Both parties without any after reported a "battle" raging between Garden fishermen and the owners of the Bluff. We are glad to report that so far as we have been able to ascertain, the battle is a peaceful one.

According to the statement of one fisherman concerned, and whom we believe to be a spokesman for his companions, they are just awaiting word from state authorities. In the event that they find such information favorable to the owners of the Bluff, said the person

Instinct Asserts Itself Many Times Every Day.

Maybe you don't believe in accident insurance, but you disprove it a hundred times a day in one way and another. You just THINK you don't believe in it. For instance, when you step gingerly out on a piece of ice without putting your entire weight on it—just testing it out—you are practicing accident insurance.

Protection is instinctive. So, too, there is instinct within the breast of every man of family, or every unmarried man whose earnings go to help support the family, a sense of obligation.

But it is to the great body of the public that the Daily Press addresses itself in calling attention to the travel accident policy for $1,000 which is made available to every subscriber to this paper.

At Actual Cost. The policy is purchased by the Press for 75 cents and it is passed right along by the Press for the same price—not a cent of profit in the transaction, because the Press isn't in the insurance business for profit, just as it went to the expense of installing a leased wire telegraph service so that they might get all the news while it is news and be posted right up to the last minute on world happenings.

CITY COUNCIL MAY SIT AT A LARGE TABLE

Alderman Proposes To Do Away With Unsanitary Desks

The first renovating work at the Manistique City Hall was begun yesterday when a sand-papering machine was put to work on the floor of the council chamber.

Walls, floors, woodwork, and fixtures are to be newly finished, and furniture is to be re-arranged. When completed, the repairs authorized by the city council will make the city hall much more presentable than it has been for some time.

Several different seating arrangements for the council are being considered. One suggestion, made by Alderman Charles Isackson, is that the troublesome desks be done away with altogether, and the aldermen be seated, with the mayor, clerk, and city attorney, around a large table much the same as a board of directors. It is believed that this arrangement would be a convenient one, and the suggestion is meeting with some favor among the aldermen.

Fair Delegates Gather Here For Annual Meeting

County fair officials from various parts of the Upper Peninsula will gather at Manistique today, for the annual meeting of the U. P. Association of county fairs.

In addition to the regular business of the meeting, which will include the fixing of dates for the various county fairs this fall, an interesting program has been prepared by the local fair officials for the entertainment of the visitors.

In the evening, there will be a get-together banquet at the Hotel Ossie, to which members of the county board and press representatives have been invited. The banquet will be at seven.

Men who are taking a prominent part in the agricultural development of the upper peninsula will be present today, at the meeting, and will give short talks.

DAGGET TEAM IS SIGNED UP FOR MONDAY

They've Won Ten of Their Twelve Tilts This Season

"Dagget versus Manistique," is the Legion basketball attraction for next Monday evening at the local gymnasium. It was announced by P. G. Lundin, manager of the Manistique steers.

From all available dope, it is cleaned that Dagget will give Lundin's men just the kind of a battle that Manistique crowds crave to see. They will come here with a record of 12 games played, out of which they lost but two, one to Menominee and one to Escanaba. In the latter game, the Dagget squad was handicapped by the loss of three regulars.

Arrangements are also under way for a game with the basketball team from Waupac, Wisconsin, champions of central Wisconsin, to be played on the Manistique floor at a date not yet fixed.

East Meets West At Manistique

East meets west in "The Tents of Allah," showing at the Gero theater tonight. Besides unfolding a colorful and dashing romance, most of the action of which is laid in Morocco, "The Tents of Allah," is declared to be one of the most lavish spectacles which has been screened for a long time.

Throughout it breathes the atmosphere of the tropics and of that alluring region "where East meets West." The picture was filmed at the E. A. MacManus studios in Porto Rico, where sets in keeping with the locale represented were erected, with the assistance of architectural experts from Morocco. So faithfully was the work performed, according to persons who have had a preview that "The Tents of Allah" is said to be strongly suggestive of an art production.

Mary Thurman, Sally Crute, Frank Currier, Macey Harlam, Martin Faust and others are importantly cast in support of Monte Blue and Mary Alden. Thousands of extras were used in the picture, also a detachment of U. S. Marines and ten men from the famous Porto Rico National Guard. Associated Exhibitors presents "The Tents of Allah" as an Encore Picture.

Frank Morey, who has been in the employ of the People's Auto and Tractor Company, has gone to Detroit, where he will take a three months' course in auto mechanics.

The funeral services of Miss Mildred Sadler were held Wednesday morning at St. Francis de Sales church, with interment in the Lakeview cemetery at Manistique.

TWO MEETINGS TONIGHT AT HIGH SCHOOL

Scout Gathering Is Combined With Boys' Conference

Reorganization of the Boy Scout Association, with election of officers and consideration of the annual report for the year 1923, plans for the new year and a talk by Executive Gordon C. Adams will feature the annual meeting of the Scout organization tonight at the Gladstone high school.

The Scout meeting, the annual meeting, will be a gathering of all who have aided Scouting or who are interested in the work. The report for the year, recently given out by Commissioner James T. Jones will be discussed following election of officers and Executive Adams will give a talk.

Both meetings deserve the attention of everyone in Gladstone interested in the welfare of the boys of the city and both meetings should be attended by a big crowd of citizens.

MANY WILL BE AT BANQUET, INDICATION

Two hundred and fifty is the estimate of the attendance of the Community Booster club banquet which will be held at the new community building February 19, according to a check-up on the sale of tickets. This number, however, is not definite, in view of the fact that the sale of tickets will continue during the few days remaining before the banquet.

Attorney G. Raymond Empson was yesterday announced a chairman of the banquet, an announcement that will be received with satisfaction by those who appreciate Attorney Empson's ability in leadership.

Sermons on community or civic spirit will be given by pastors of all churches of the city Sunday morning in connection with the booster club banquet Tuesday night.

HUGHES POINTS A FEW FLAWS

Talks About Japanese Immigration Restrictions.

(By The Associated Press.) Washington, Feb. 13.—Sections of the immigration restriction measure, pending in the house, would operate to exclude Japanese from the country and such exclusion would be "inconsistent" with treaty obligations with Japan.

ing between the two governments under which Japan undertakes to prevent immigration of laborers to the United States, adding that the Japanese government regulates immigration to territory contiguous to the United States with the object of preventing the departure from Japan of persons who are likely to obtain surreptitious entry into this country.

Against "General Bar." Such an arrangement, the secretary added, would "accomplish a much more effective regulation of unassimilable and undesirable classes of Japanese immigrants" that would be possible by attempting to establish a general bar against Japanese subjects without cooperation of the Japanese government.

In connection with his opposition to the Japanese exclusion features of the bill, Secretary Hughes said: "The Japanese are sensitive people and unquestionably would regard such a legislative enactment as fixing a stigma upon them."

I regret to be compelled to say that I believe such legislative action would largely undo the work of the Washington conference on limitation of armaments, which so greatly improved our relations with Japan.

SHIPPING BODY PROBE WELCOME

Chairman of Board Eager That Public Get Facts.

(By The Associated Press.) Washington, Feb. 13.—Investigation of the administration of the shipping board, called for in a resolution introduced by Representative Davis, Democrat, Tennessee, "will be welcomed by me and I believe all other members of the board."

Regarding a published report that the seven 502-foot steamers recently sold by the board to the Dollar Steamship Company brought a price of only $5.24 a ton, Mr. O'Connor said: "This statement is such a manifest perversion of fact that it calls for prompt correction."

"The sale price of the seven ships was $3,850,000," he said. "Their total deadweight was 91,372 tons and their average gross tonnage was 10,533. The sale price, therefore, works out at approximately $42.14 per dead weight ton or $52.22 per gross ton."

"It is proper to add that the Dollar Steamship Company has agreed as part of the contract of sale to operate these vessels on a round-the-world service for a period of five years, constituting not alone the first round-the-world passenger steamship service under the American flag but the only round-the-world passenger service under any flag."
