

SENATOR GREENE IN SERIOUS CONDITION

M'ADOO WILL GET VOTE OF CONFIDENCE

PUTS HIS FRIENDS IN A POLITICAL HOLE.

BY DAVID LAWRENCE. Washington, Feb. 16.—The extraordinary maneuver by which William Gibbs McAdoo has placed himself in the hands of his friends and supporters who are to decide whether he should continue to be a candidate for the Democratic nomination for the presidency will end in a decision to support him.

Mr. McAdoo was ready, it is said, to withdraw his name from the race when his advisors insisted that the question was one for the McAdoo supporters to decide. And there are several reasons why they will not let go of Mr. McAdoo even though there may be convincing arguments as to the injury done his candidacy by the recent disclosure that he was counsel for E. L. Dooney, oil magnate, in Mexican matters.

One reason is that the withdrawal of Mr. McAdoo would leave up in the air all the supporters who had become attached to his boom and would play into the hands of the anti-McAdoo forces in the Democratic party.

The friction inside the party is far more significant than the personality of the candidate. It is a difference on fundamentals, and resembles very much the condition of affairs which preceded the Baltimore convention of 1912 when the progressives and reactionaries were battling for control of the party.

Old Fight Continues. Not a few of the anti-McAdoo influences are of the boss-ridden kind who fought Woodrow Wilson not only at Baltimore but later on. The McAdoo men are determined that if their leader is not nominated they will control the nomination of someone who is in harmony with the McAdoo-Wilson wing of the party.

Even if Mr. McAdoo's candidacy were unwise—and most of his friends are not yet ready to believe that an honest record is anything to be ashamed of, there is every likelihood that the momentum of the McAdoo boom is too important to the progressive elements in the Democratic party to let it be dissipated by the recent disclosures.

On the other hand, if Mr. McAdoo survives the next few weeks of political bombardment and the oil controversy takes on a turn more damaging to the Republican administration there is no telling what effect the whole affair will have on the McAdoo boom.

Acc in the Hole. Rumors are of course floating about to the effect that the Senatorial investigating committee purposely avoided an extensive interrogation of Mr. McAdoo, particularly concerning his practice for clients before the Treasury Department soon after he resigned and when the Democratic administration was still in power.

The fact that the Republicans preferred to interrogate Mr. McAdoo after he had been nominated for the presidency on the Democratic ticket than to eliminate him from the race at this stage of the game.

Although these inferences that anything is wrong are undoubtedly unjust, still politics doesn't split hairs on matters of that kind and seeks always to put the opposition in an unfavorable light. There is nothing illegal or corrupt in practicing before federal departments or accepting fees from corporations as a private citizen.

Witnesses for the prosecution, including Roy's widow, testified that the argument started when Kulling threw a morsel of meat to the dog. Roy became angry and told Kulling he, Kulling, was "worse than a cur."

Senate Confirms Pomerene After Long Debate

Oil Interests Tried To Reach President Wilson

(By The Associated Press.) NEW YORK, Feb. 16.—Bainbridge Colby, former secretary of state, declined to comment today on a Washington dispatch to the Evening World which asserted that Harry F. Sinclair, the oil magnate, had approached Mr. Colby as a law partner of the late Woodrow Wilson in the spring of 1922, with a proposal that his firm represent the Sinclair interests in any litigation that might result from the Teapot Dome lease.

The story declared that when the proposal was made, Mr. Colby referred it to Mr. Wilson, who immediately decided that it could not be accepted. In this decision Mr. Colby acquiesced, the dispatch added.

Mr. Sinclair's offer, the dispatch declared, was made after Senator Kendrick and Senator LaFollette had offered resolutions for an investigation of the oil lease.

MICHIGAN IS LEADING NOW

BABSON FINDS WOLVERINE STATE BUSINESS OF SECTION.

(Copyright 1924, by the Escanaba Press.) Babson Park, Fla., Feb. 16.—"The East Central section is more active and is distinctly in a better position business-wise than either New England or the North Atlantic group," according to Roger W. Babson, statistician. The third section of his detailed report on business conditions in the United States and Canada, issued today, gives his findings in the six states comprising this group.

"Michigan is leading," says Mr. Babson, "with a gain of 23% as compared with business a year ago. Kentucky comes second in the group showing a gain of 17%.

The fact that Michigan is leading in this section, with Illinois trailing may possibly be due to the fact that Michigan manufactures the greatest number of automobiles and Illinois purchases the greatest number of new cars.

Today Illinois has the cars and Michigan has the money. It is too early to decide which is the better off, this will depend, of course, upon the use to which cars and money is put.

Conservative bankers in the meantime are favoring Illinois because of its diversified sources of income. "Twenty-five years ago this section was almost entirely agricultural. But since that time I have been more and more impressed on each visit with the increasing diversity of interest and the changes that have taken place."

Third Baseman Bockel Of The Braves, Killed

(By The Associated Press.) San Diego, Calif., Feb. 16.—Norman D. Bockel, star third baseman of the Boston National League baseball team, died this afternoon from injuries which he received in an automobile accident here yesterday.

The accident occurred yesterday near the top of the Torrey Pines grade when three automobiles collided. Bob Albright, Los Angeles, theatrical man, who was driving the car, and Bob Meusel of the New York Yankees, a passenger, escaped with slight injuries.

Bockel was removed to a hospital where it was found he was suffering from a fractured pelvis and a puncture of the bladder.

Late today no arrangements had been made to remove the body from the hospital. It was announced that arrangements would have to await the action of the coroner.

J. P. NOLDEN CLOTHING STORE PRACTICALLY RUINED BY FIRE WHICH RAGES FOR THREE HOURS

Fire, of an unknown origin, starting in the basement of the J. P. Nolden clothing store at 1215 Ludington street shortly before 11 o'clock last night resulted in the heaviest fire damage sustained by an Escanaba merchant in several years. Mr. Nolden's entire stock, estimated at between $15,000 and $20,000 is believed to be almost a total loss.

The fire was one of the most stubborn with which the department has had to contend in a long time. When the firemen arrived, it was virtually impossible for them to enter the building because of the dense clouds of smoke which choked and drove them back.

Play Three Streams. Three streams of water were played into the basement where the furnace is located and it was a half hour before men were able to enter, and then only with smoke masks which permitted them to work only a short time.

The fire ate its way up between the walls and filled the clothing store with smoke and flame, while at the same time filling the second story of the building, occupied by the office of Dr. G. C. Bartley, and other offices. Heavy smoke damage was also done to those offices.

Stock Virtually Ruined. Down stairs in the Nolden store proper, the stock was soaked with water and impregnated with smoke and at 2 o'clock this morning, with water still being played in between the burning walls it looked as though the loss might be total.

The basement was flooded with water and for the first time since the new pumper has been installed, a fire of sufficient duration was fought to make it necessary to return to the station for a new supply of gasoline.

Partial Insurance. It is understood that Mr. Nolden carried only about $4,000 insurance, but this could not be verified last night.

Street cars were held up for about three hours while the fire was being fought.

More accurate estimates of the damage will not be available before Monday, it was stated. Nor will it be possible to make an examination which may develop the cause of the fire until the water has been cleared from the basement. Fire Chief Johnson would not risk a guess early this morning. Two firemen were nearly overcome by gas while in the basement, but managed to make their way out in time to avoid collapse.

FALL ARRIVES AT EL PASO; WIFE IS ILL

(By The Associated Press.) El Paso, Texas, Feb. 16.—Albert B. Fall, former secretary of the interior, arrived here today and was taken to the home of his son-in-law, C. C. Chase, collector of customs of the El Paso port where Mrs. Fall is ill.

Mr. Fall was accompanied by former Governor George Curry of New Mexico, and Mrs. Jack Fall, his daughter-in-law.

Only a few immediate friends were at the station. After the former secretary had alighted from the train unaided, he walked through the station with Mrs. Jack Fall and Mrs. Chase. He seemed but little changed and walked with a firm step.

Drops Plan To Have Congress Boost Flight

(By The Associated Press.) Washington, Feb. 16.—Representative Rogers, Republican, Massachusetts, announced tonight he had dropped his plan to have congress go on record in favor of having the dirigible Shenandoah make a flight this summer into the Arctic region.

After consultations with house and senate leaders the Massachusetts member said he had come to the conclusion that his resolution could not be passed in time to enable the navy to make adequate preparations.

WARREN HAS ANOTHER TALK WITH COOLIDGE

(By The Associated Press.) Washington, Feb. 16.—Charles B. Warren of Detroit, who is being urged to reconsider his declining to become ambassador to Mexico, had another conference today with President Coolidge.

After the conference Mr. Warren described the situation as unchanged. It is believed he will give the president a definite answer tomorrow.

COOLIDGE IS CRITICIZED FOR CHOICE

CLAIM NEED IS FOR AN OUTSTANDING LAWYER.

(By The Associated Press.) Washington, Feb. 16.—Over the vigorous opposition of Senator Walsh, Democrat, Montana, the senate confirmed tonight the nomination of Atlee Pomerene, a former senator from Ohio, to act as special government counsel in the oil lease cases. The vote was 69 to 13.

Consideration of the nomination of Owen J. Roberts, Philadelphia, to be Mr. Pomerene's associate, was deferred until Monday, but confirmation was forecast.

After Hot Debate. Approval of the nomination of Mr. Pomerene came after more than six hours of debate. For nearly two hours the senate fought over the question of whether the nomination should be considered in executive session, as is the usual custom, then it voted 69 to 13 to discuss them in the open.

Senators Fess, of Ohio, and Norbeck, of South Dakota, Republicans, voted in the negative.

Before the senate met, the house, without discussion or a record vote, adopted the Walsh resolution directing that proceedings be instituted for the recovery of sections 16 and 36 within the confines of naval reserve in number one in California now operated by the Standard Oil Company of California under a grant from the state.

Only Concrete Action. These were the only concrete developments today in the oil matter. The oil committee is in recess until February 25 and Chairman Lenroot said no subpoenas for additional witnesses would be issued in the meantime. Government auditors will continue their work on the books of stock brokerage firms in an effort to determine whether government officials traded in oil stocks about the time of or subsequent to the Fall oil leases.

There was a sharp controversy in the senate both in open and executive session over the proposition as to whether the nominations of special counsel should be considered in open or executive session, but once the issue had been settled, the debate proceeded with little of the fervor that usually characterizes senate discussions.

President Coolidge was assailed from both the Republican and Democratic sides of the chamber for his failure to consult beforehand with Senator Walsh regarding the counsel he selected, and there were suggestions that he also should have conferred with Senators LaFollette, of Wisconsin, leader of the Republican insurgents, and Kendrick, Democrat, Wyoming, pioneer in the oil investigation.

Details of Selection. In the course of this discussion intimate details of the manner of the selections of both Mr. Pomerene and Mr. Roberts were given to the senate by Senators Walsh, Pepper, Republican, Pennsylvania, who proposed Mr. Roberts, and Curtis, of Kansas, the assistant Republican leader.

Practically the only objection raised to Mr. Pomerene was that he lacked experience and ability to handle the cases at issue. All senators attested to his honesty and integrity, his courage and fidelity, while a number of senators, Republicans, as well as Democrats, contended that he had ample ability and the necessary experience to handle the cases.

Senator Walsh, who was praised on all sides as the one man who had made possible the disclosures in the oil inquiry, told the senate there were just two qualifications necessary to special counsel—honesty and capability.

Questions Experience. "Senator Pomerene answers the first," he declared. "No one dares to question it. I am opposed to Senator Pomerene because I don't think he has had the experience or training as a lawyer to fit him for this tremendous task ahead of us. I

HE'S NOMINATED WILLIAM J. WALLACE.

Newark, N. J., Feb. 16.—The first presidential nominee for the 1924 race has stolen a lap on the field.

He is William J. Wallace, named as the standard bearer of the Commonwealth Land Party, formerly the Single Tax Party. His running mate is J. C. Lincoln of Cleveland, selected for the vice presidency without any opposition.

NEW WAR NEAR IN HERRIN, ILL.

Both Sides Said To Be Going "Heeled" Heavily.

(By The Associated Press.) Herrin, Ill., Feb. 16.—Hostilities broke out anew here tonight and only the quick interference of a national guardsman on sentry duty prevented possible trouble.

The flare-up was the result of a meeting between Ora Thomas, whose name has been mentioned in connection with various disorders here, and John Ford, chief of police. Ford is an admitted Klansman and the other a Klan foe.

Bitter Enemies. The two men, bitter enemies, met in front of the city hall and witnesses said Thomas proffered his hand in greeting, offering to "let by-gones be by-gones." Chief Ford, suspicious of Thomas, reached for a pistol and Thomas dropped a hand to his overcoat.

Ferrera Heads Honduran Army; Names President

(By The Associated Press.) San Salvador, Republic of San Salvador, Feb. 16.—General Gregorio Ferrera, leading a revolt against Rafael Lopez Gutierrez, whose term as president of Honduras expired February 1, but who is retaining the office, inasmuch as congress failed to elect a new president, today proclaimed Policarpo Bonilla as president of the country. Reports reaching here from Honduras say that the army of General Ferrera is well trained and well equipped.

Merchant Prince Of London Takes His Mother Home

(By The Associated Press.) New York, Feb. 16.—Gordon Selfridge, London merchant, his mother, Madame Louis Selfridge, known as one of the most prominent women of the English capital, and his daughter Beatrice, left today on the Beronaria for home. Selfridge, when he arrived here recently, chartered a special train to Washington where his mother was ill. Madame Selfridge, much improved, was taken to the ship in an ambulance, armed.

KEEPS FAITH OF THE G. O. P

IOWA WAR GOVERNOR HITS SLACKERS HARD.

(By The Associated Press.) Jackson, Mich., Feb. 16.—"I am not going to lose my faith in the Republican party because Fall fell and got drowned in oil," said W. L. Harding, war governor of Iowa, this evening before six hundred persons at the Masonic Temple, the occasion being the thirtieth annual banquet of the Jackson county Lincoln Club.

The Iowan pictured the prosperity of the farmers of the country today which he attributed to the tariff act passed by the Republican party. He paid a high tribute to Lincoln, denounced the reds, ridiculed the league of nations, lauded the G. O. P., urged his hearers to bring up their children to be Republicans, rapped the Democrats, defended high tariff at length, condemned socialism, claimed for the Republican party the entire credit for the national budget system, advocated the Mellon plan without any reference to the soldiers' bonus, and in closing advised against painting a dark picture of political opponents.

J. Adam Bede Talks. "I am ashamed of the whole Republican outfit in Minnesota," said J. Adam Bede of that state, and continued:

"We wrecked our party ourselves and not only that, but destroyed the Democratic party." He paid a high tribute to Abraham Lincoln, who was "kindness incarnate," whose fact was a "map of mercy," who was "kissed by eternal good," and whose memory is "a sweet incense." He said "if you have any hate, get it out of your hearts." A gathering in memory of Lincoln, he added, is no place for a partisan speech. "Lincoln stood for mankind and belongs to no party."

Minnesota Situation. Mr. Bede analyzed the Minnesota situation, declared the necessity of a new party.

What Congress Did Yesterday

(By The Associated Press.) The prohibition enforcement situation in Washington again became a matter of controversy as a result of the shooting of Senator Greene of Vermont.

The house adopted the Walsh resolution directing the beginning of proceedings to recover sections 16 and 36 within naval oil reserve number one in California.

The senate confirmed the nomination of Atlee Pomerene of Ohio as special government counsel, in the oil leasing cases but deferred until Monday a vote on Owen J. Roberts, of Pennsylvania.

The senate adopted a resolution directing the federal trade commission to conduct a nationwide inquiry into the milling and banking industries.

Objection to confirmation of the nomination of George B. Christian, Jr., to be a member of the federal trade commission was raised by Senator LaFollette of Wisconsin.

Organization and Insurgent Republican leaders of the house at compromise agreement on the two conferences failed to reach a compromise agreement on the pending surtax schedule in the tax revision bill.

PORT WORK IN ENGLAND HELD UP BY STRIKE

Now 120,000 Men Out And Million More Affected.

(By The Associated Press.) London, Feb. 16.—A strike involving 120,000 well organized dockmen, which started automatically at noon today, will arrest the port work of the whole nation and it is estimated for any considerable time, may also make idle another million or more men concerned in auxiliary work and dependent trades and industries.

This dockers' walkout is likely to prove much more inconvenient to the public than the recent railway strike, in that any prolonged cessation of work at the docks would prevent the unloading of incoming food and raw materials—a matter almost impossible for even the most willing government to remedy.

Employers Obdurate. The minister of labor tried his hardest to prevent the strike materializing but owing to the obduracy of the employers especially those connected with the port of London, without success.

Premier MacDonald is spending the week end in the country at Chevening to get a much needed rest, but it is hoped that next week he may take some step in an endeavor to find a solution of the difficulty.

Having had ample notice of the strike, the port authorities have been able to speed up the unloading of vessels and make other arrangements to meet the situation, so there is not likely to be any immediate shortage of food. But inevitably there will be heavy losses from perishable goods should the strike last very long and there is certain to be a steady rise in the necessities of life.

Men Are Suspicious. Some people consider that the employers' offer to submit the dispute to arbitration ought to have been accepted but according to a long history recorded tonight by Edwin Bevin, secretary of the Dock Workers' Union, the men seem suspicious of the offer of arbitration mainly because throughout the dispute, which already has lasted several months, the employers always have acted in the most arbitrary manner and refused any reference of disputed points to third parties. Moreover, the refusal of the employers to yield on the question of demoralization makes the men determined not to yield on the question of wages.

Part of London employers have announced tonight that the wages of all men employed on London docks will from Monday be raised by one shilling daily together with the restoration of the same piece work rates as were current in July 1923, and that work is offered to men on this basis.

Owing to this attempt of the London employers to break the strike, Mr. Bevin announced that his union will make elaborate picketing arrangements.

It is believed that some port employers in the province are less unsympathetic than those in London and there may be attempts next week on the part of the strike leaders to start separate negotiations with employers in different ports with a view to making sectional bargains and thus bring pressure to bear on employers generally.

A statement issued tonight in behalf of the employers generally gives as one reason for withholding the full advance of two shillings the "disastrous effect it would have upon other trades in the country, as indeed we fear the shilling also may have."

SPLINTERS OF BONE REMOVED FROM HIS HEAD

LIQUOR PHASES OF INCIDENT STIR PRESIDENT.

(By The Associated Press.) Washington, Feb. 16.—The condition of Senator Greene of Vermont, was said by attending physicians to be "very serious," after a consultation shortly before midnight tonight.

Some unfavorable symptoms had developed during the evening, it was stated, but at the same time the physicians declared, they were optimistic, although it was impossible to make any definite forecast of development in the case.

Physicians participating in the consultation were Dr. Thomas Linville, Daniel U. Darden and Charles S. White. They issued no formal bulletin.

Washington, Feb. 16.—An operation described as successful was performed late today upon Senator Frank L. Greene, of Vermont who was wounded in the head by a pistol bullet last night during a battle between alleged bootleggers and prohibition agents and police almost within the shadow of the capitol.

Splinters of bone which were driven into his head by the bullet were removed, about one and one-half square inches of bone being taken out. Afterward attending surgeons said the senator was "resting as comfortably as possible" and that "the prognosis is good provided no complication set in." The operation was performed under a local anesthetic.

Capital is Stirred. The reverberations from the incident in the capital were almost as instantaneous and sharp as the battle itself, the entire prohibition enforcement situation which for months has been the center of criticism and controversy being again projected into the forefront of decision, with indications that the whole question will be aired in congress.

President Coolidge evidenced his personal interest in the situation by inquiring at the hospital concerning Mr. Greene's condition. At the same time some White House officials inquired of police what action was being taken against those responsible and were informed that the case of three men held in connection with the shooting was under consideration in the district attorney's office.

The police refrained from disclosure.

$200,000 Pookhru Out in Los Angeles

(By The Associated Press.) Los Angeles, Calif., Feb. 16.—Diamonds, jewelry, watches and other valuables valued at $200,000 were stolen from the President Loan Association here on February 9 and about $20,000 in cash and checks, it has been known here today when a private detective agency posted a $5,000 reward for the return of the property. The extent of the robbery is borne out by a list describing more than 400 articles, made up for the most part of diamonds and diamond set jewelry.

Joie Pau Senor Another Triumph

(By The Associated Press.) New York, Feb. 16.—Joie Ray, Chicago distance star, scored a brilliant triumph tonight in capturing the 3,000 meter Olympic special, outstanding event of the Nival A. A. track and field carnival at the Thirtieth Regiment Armory, but fell in a valiant attempt to lower his own world's record for the distance. Ray broke the time 43 yards in front of Verne Booth, of Johns Hopkins, interscolastic cross-country champion, with Johnny Romie of Penn State, third.

Ray opened up a big gap on his six rivals early in the race and was never seriously threatened, despite surts by Romie, Booth, and Abel Kiviat, rival of Ray's ten years ago who was forced to quit. The doughy little western flier, was not up to record-breaking form, slowing up considerably in the last half mile and being checked in 8:28.45, seven and three-fifths seconds behind the world's mark he set in the same race a year ago.

Republican Insurgents Want 40 Per Cent Surtax Maximum

RE DESTROYS COUNTRY HOME

Flames Spread Rapidly And Consume Residence.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. S. Flat Rock was completely destroyed by fire Friday afternoon.

The fire, which started at about 1:15 in the afternoon on the roof of the kitchen addition, near the chimney, spread rapidly and within three quarters of an hour nothing was left of the building but a mass of smoldering ruins.

Because of the rapidity of the spread of the flames, it was impossible to save any of the furniture on the second floor of the building, the first floor furniture being rescued from the fire. The intensity of the flames was so great that even the potatoes kept in a bin in the cellar were destroyed.

A barn and shed nearby also caught fire, but after a determined effort, they were saved.

The house was a two-story structure, and as a result the value of the building will be an almost total loss.

SPEAKER'S EYE BEST-SHOCKER

Never Known to Go After Bad Ball; Others Have Weaknesses.

BY BILLY EVANS.

Who has the most critical pair of batting eyes in the American League?

Last summer at different times I put that question to a score of the leading pitchers of the American League.

The consensus of the pitchers was that this Speaker, Ty Cobb, Harry Heilmann, Eddie Collins, Babe Ruth and Johnny Tobin were six super-batters who were extremely critical when it came to looking over the offerings of the pitchers.

I know of no pitcher in the American League who works with greater care on his batters than Urban Shocker of the Browns. Shocker is a pitcher who performs without a bit of wasted effort. There is no wasted effort, for it is only in the pinch that he puts everything on the ball.

Shocker's observations as to my query were decidedly interesting. His viewpoint in every case was based on sound logic and offered a convincing proof, for the success that usually attends his efforts on the rubber stamp him as a smart pitcher.

Pitch To Weakness.

"I have found that every good batter has certain troublesome features," said Shocker. "I try to stay away from them. Likewise a majority of the good hitters have a certain ball that is less in favor with them than others. For instance, I know of one really great batter who simply hates a fast ball, inside, letter high. His peculiar stance at the plate makes such a delivery hard for him to hit. He stands flat-footed, with his feet rather wide apart, and there is no shift. I make it a point to dwell on a batter's weakness, if he has one."

"Speaker is a troublesome batter for me," continued Shocker. "I always feel better when he is out of the way. In my opinion there is a certain style ball that I don't think Speaker likes. Don't misunderstand me, I wouldn't call it a weakness, yet Speaker, I think prefers other styles of delivery better. Working along that theory I have had fair success against Speaker, yet I can recall two occasions last year when he broke up a ball game when he broke up a pitcher at what I regard as his weak spot."

"Speaker looks them over with a keen eye. It is foolish to hope that he will go after a badly pitched ball. He makes you pitch, and in a pinch can take a pitch that is only a few inches shy of the plate without being the least interested. He can hit to all fields and has the knack of shifting his position after the ball is on the way."

Ruth Harder to Fool.

"Eddie Collins has a wonderful eye. Collins goes after no bad balls and is always trying to get the pitcher in the hole. He does on picking on the cripples. If Collins has the edge it is foolish for a pitcher to slip him anything soft."

"Ruth is getting harder to fool all the time. Two years ago he was quicker for bad balls in his eagerness to swing. Last year he waited the pitcher out and picked the ball he wanted to hit. And he hit it. My success varies against Ruth, but I like nothing better than to match wits and ability with the big fellow."

"Heilmann has the habit of sending you up. That is what

Armed Thugs Secure Nearly $8,000 In Cash And Loot

(By The Associated Press.)

Detroit, Feb. 16.—Armed thugs obtained nearly $8,000 in cash and loot in two daring daylight robberies today. Scores of pedestrians were intimidated by the robbers' pistols.

Raw furs estimated to be worth $5,000 were taken from storage by five men driving a black touring car at the store of the Samuel Kuretsky Fur Company while the proprietor and Miss Catherine Mae Windsor, a clerk were forced to lie prone on the floor.

Two of the outlaws remained in the touring car in front of the Kuretsky store while three, with drawn revolvers, entered. The raw furs taken were of assorted varieties.

Although pedestrians realized the robbery was in progress, no one attempted to interfere. Warning from the two men who remained outside was all that was necessary to keep them moving.

A large black touring car, with four armed men, also figured in the robbery of two bookkeepers for the Gordon-Pagel Baking Company, who were relieved of $2,766 in cash and a number of checks which they were taking to the bank.

The victims were Charles Gunn, and William Boucher. Their automobile on the way from the bakery to the bank, was intercepted by the robbers' car at Gratiot Avenue and Riverd.

The wild scenes of the frontier town in the days of '49 when men, mad with the lust for gold, spent weary months clawing it out of the earth and then came to town and blew the whole wad at the bar and the gaming table; when men who had seen no human being for weeks and months came to town and danced and drank and played until day came again—such were the scenes that were reenacted at the Coliseum last night—the third and last day of the big American Legion Roundup.

Everything there. The old-time dancehall with plenty of pretty girls, and the old time bar-room with plenty to drink, with the games and the booths wide open, with men flashing roles of thousands and thousands of dollars, risking their fortunes on the turn of the wheel, such were the scenes reenacted last night.

Men dressed in the fantastic garb of the cowboy and the gold digger were everywhere. Song and music, the bright lights and all the pleasures of the days of '49, all were there.

There wasn't a dull moment throughout the evening. The Coliseum was packed and the fun was fast and furious, never abating for a single moment. The count was again in session and innumerable cases were heard, charges of every nature being made against the breakers of the law. Entertainments of every kind and description were to be found, and each one who was present was enthusiastic in his praise of the round-up, sponsored by the local Legion in order to raise money to pay the expenses of the Legion convention to be held here this summer.

HALF-A-DOZEN ALL-AMERICANS LEAVE MICHIGAN

Graduation Time To Scatter Famous Stars.

Ann Arbor, Mich., Feb. 15.—Five of the University of Michigan All-American men are to leave the Wolverine institution this season. They are: Angus Goetz, Ernie Vick, Harry Kipke, Irwin Uteritz and Jack Blott. Goetz and Vick have been taking special courses while the other three are seniors.

Goetz made the All-American team in 1920 as a tackle. He was captain of the Maize and Blue during the 1919 and 1920 campaigns and is one of the few Michigan footballers to gain such a distinction, two-time leader in the same sport being more or less tabooed at Ann Arbor.

Great Performer. Vick was named All-American center in 1921. Outside of the great "Germany" Schultz of the 1904-05-07-08 aggregations he was the best pivot player Yost has ever had. As a defensive man, Vick had few equals.

The other trio, Kipke, Blott and Uteritz, were members of the Wolverines in 1922 and 1923. Kipke and Uteritz played on the 1921 outfit. Kipke was an All-American choice in 1922, getting a backfield position on the first team, while Uteritz was quarterback on the third eleven. Incidentally, Uteritz ranks as the only Michigan signal caller to obtain such an honor. Blott was selected as All-American center last fall.

Diamond Talent. Besides being stars at the grid-iron game, Vick, Kipke, Uteritz and Blott have also shone as baseball players. Uteritz, according to Michigan officials, is the best baseball prospect since the days of George Stier. Kipke, in a way, has outdone his four mates performing in basketball as well as in football and baseball.

It makes him a great batter. He may look foolish on a curve. Yet if you happen to come back with another in the same place he hits it a mile.

"I work on the theory that every player in the opposing lineup is a good batter, including the pitcher, and find it a safety-first system that gets good results."

THREATEN TO BLOCK ACTION IF DEFEATED

Further Efforts Being Made For A Compromise.

(By The Associated Press.)

Washington, Feb. 16.—Republican insurgents, who hold the balance of power in the house tax fight, offered today to compromise with organization leaders on a 40 per cent surtax maximum provided normal income tax rates are cut in half.

The offer, which remains unaccepted after two conferences, was accompanied by a threat that if turned down, the insurgent bloc would support the Democratic platform for a 44 per cent surtax maximum.

This, leaders agreed, would give the Garner plan a majority when a vote comes next week on the income tax provisions of the Mellon bill.

To Try Further. Efforts of the Republican organization to reach a compromise with the insurgents will be resumed Monday, although some of those who took part in today's negotiations see little prospect of an agreement.

The stumbling block appears to be the insistence of the insurgents that the present normal income tax rate of eight and four per cent be cut in half, a provision also carried in the Garner plan.

Representative Longworth, the Republican leader who initiated today's get-together with the insurgents, declared later he was flatly opposed to such a decrease. He contended it would alter fundamental principles of the Mellon bill, which calls for a 25 per cent reduction in normal rates and a maximum surtax of 25 per cent.

General Debate. As the negotiations between the two Republican groups proceeded, the house devoted a third day to general debate on the revenue bill. After seven hours discussion marked at times by sharp exchanges between Democrats and Republicans, a dinner recess was taken after which the house plunged into a night meeting, the first of the session.

Decision of the Republican organization leaders to bid for insurgent aid was prompted, it was admitted, by a realization that without such assistance enough votes might not be mustered to insure success of the 35 per cent surtax compromise agreed upon as a substitute for the Mellon figure which, it is generally believed, would have no chance in a house vote.

Frear's Statement. At the first of today's conferences Representative Frear, of Wisconsin, an insurgent on the ways and means committee, who has proposed a tax plan of his own which provides for no reduction in surtaxes, was not present. He attended the second meeting and advanced the offer of his group, which several weeks ago was rejected by the Republican members of the ways and means committee.

Tonight Mr. Frear issued this statement: "Mr. Longworth invited to an informal conference several members of the Republican group that compelled a modification of the rules which will now enable us to amend the tax bill reported by the committee."

"Notwithstanding the last congress repealed the excess profits tax and reduced the high surtaxes from 65 per cent to 50 per cent with an annual reduction of $500,000,000 largely to favored interests we endeavored to affect a compromise in tax rates when the bill was before the committee. A proposal to cut normal taxes one half and to reduce surtaxes from 50 per cent to 40 per cent was then urged by me as a plan that would help small taxpayers far more than the Mellon plan and would not deplete the treasury surplus so as to create a deficit. That offer was summarily refused by eleven members of the committee who then reported the Mellon bill as submitted by the treasury."

Ninety-four Republicans of the house voted for the 50 per cent surtax last session. An interest of compromise I submitted the same plan today as that offered by the committee. When the proposal that was once refused and is still open is understood I am certain that our action will be sustained by public sentiment."

"The Garner plan with 44 per cent maximum rates is the only alternative suggested."

Present at today's conferences in addition to Mr. Longworth and Mr. Frear were Speaker Gillette, members of the Republican steering committee, Representative Beggs of Ohio, who has been polling the Republicans for their views on tax reduction, half a dozen insurgents and several others known to be unsympathetic toward the administration's tax program.

Among those in attendance were Representatives Nelson, Wisconsin, leader of the insurgent bloc; Cooper, Wisconsin; Clague, Minnesota; Legardina, New York; James, Michigan; Reid, Illinois; and Simmons and Sears, Nebraska. Debate followed the general line of argument already propounded by advocates of the Mellon and Garner income tax reduction plans but was interspersed with two party wrangles involving the leaders on both sides. They resulted from Republican jobs at the Democratic caucus action in hindering the party to vote for the Garner program.

Representative Longworth initiated the outburst by asking Democratic speakers what Representatives Hawes, Democrat, Missouri, meant yesterday by stating that if he were at liberty to vote as he desired he would support the Mellon rates. Mr. Longworth replied to his own question by declaring Mr. Hawes had been bound by a party caucus.

Finally Mr. Hawes took the floor and said he had agreed to the party caucus action but had preferred the Mellon rates until his party majority overruled him, charging at the same time that Republican leaders in the house had deserted the Mellon program "under fire."

"A month ago Mr. Longworth said the Mellon plan could yet be passed," Mr. Hawes said, "and two weeks ago, Mr. Greene, chairman of the ways and means committee, which framed the revenue bill, advocated higher surtax rates. Your own Republican leaders murdered the program of your president, your party head. I stood by that plan which I considered scientific but I now obey my party leaders who with the other members have agreed to support the Garner plan."

Chairman Greene replied that he had never been for the Mellon plan as far as surtax rates were concerned and that he owed allegiance to no party leader.

Three Republican insurgents, Representatives Legardina, of New York; Browne, of Wisconsin; and Woodruff, of Michigan, in speeches outlined their views for higher surtaxes than contained in the bill for increased inheritance taxes but did not touch on the compromise discussed in the conference today.

Before the operation, Senator Greene was given an X-ray examination, which showed that the bullet was not lodged in the head. The missile had evidently struck a glancing blow, shattering the frontal bone over the left eye, and driving splinters inward.

Eight or ten pieces of bone were extracted and the surgeons said that having complications, the patient should recover, as he had stood the operation well.

Each-Cummings Law. "When in Washington recently I spent considerable time studying the prospects for railroad legislation by the present Congress. I am convinced of two things in this connection: First, that the Each-Cummings Act will not be repealed as the railroads need more rather than less credit at the present time. In the second place, freight rates on farm products are too high compared with manufactured goods and some readjustment will be made. With the farmers getting only pre-war prices for their products and being obliged to pay about 70% higher freight rates, it is fairly certain that an adjustment is due and that freight rates on farm products will probably be lowered while the freight rates on manufactured goods will be slightly increased as far as this section of the country is concerned. Such a readjustment should help the business interests of these states in two ways. First, by saving the farmers a part of the money that would otherwise go out of the East Central states in form of higher freight rates. Secondly, by giving the manufacturers of this section even more protection than they now enjoy in the form of high freight rates on manufactured goods, which effectively handicaps outside competition. Such a change in railroad tariffs will do much to build up the industrial centers of the middle west, the Mississippi Valley, and the Pacific Coast."

Mr. Babson also noted the fact that the six states comprising this East Central section contain the three economic centers of the United States.

"The center of population," he says, "is today located in southwestern Indiana, the center of manufactures is located in western Ohio, while the center of agriculture will fall in the southern parts of Illinois."

"With general business in the United States running at about 1% below normal as indicated by the index figure of the Babson chart, the six states comprising this East Central section certainly enjoy an unusual advantage."

"I once liked America very much," she said, "but you men, with all the things you write and say, make me like it now much less. The newspaper men have spoiled everything. In Europe they do not act or behave as you do here. They do not ask questions of a man or woman's private life. They do not intrude where that is all the newspaper men do."

THREE-YEAR WAGE CONTRACT IS LIKELY TO BE SIGNED MONDAY

Illinois Mine Operators Clear Way For Agreement.

(By The Associated Press.)

Jacksonville, Fla., Feb. 16.—Prospect of an agreement on a three year wage contract for bituminous coal miners of the central competitive field early next week, was bright tonight. Operators of Illinois, who hitherto have been uncompromising in their attitude they would fall in line with the other operators, but that they would first demand the privilege of extending machine mining in Illinois.

This attitude was taken as clearing the way so all operators might unite Monday in offering to sign a three year instead of a four year contract, as demanded by the miners.

In that event the Monday session will likely adjourn early so the miners may hold a separate conference and decide what they will answer.

Think Miners Will Agree. It was believed tonight that there will be no great objection to the miners' part in agreeing to the compromise and it was the belief of representative operators, that President Lewis will not insist upon referring back internal differences to the individual districts, and will also agree to the operators' request for extension of machine mining in Illinois.

With the term of years agreed, the contract will soon be ready for signatures. The miners' committee is not authorized to accept the contract until a referendum vote of the half million members of the union have been taken, but there is no doubt that the membership will give an overwhelming majority to anything their scale committee approves.

Adjournment of the conference, it was believed tonight, may come about Monday or Tuesday.

Each-Cummings Law. "When in Washington recently I spent considerable time studying the prospects for railroad legislation by the present Congress. MICHIGAN IS LEADING NOW

place in the sources of purchasing power. Today we find income derived from the following sources:

Illinois, manufactures 61%, crops 27%, mineral products 7%, live stock products 5%. Indiana, manufactures 52%, crops 35%, mineral products 6%, live stock products 7%. Ohio, manufactures 69%, crops 19%, mineral products 7%, live stock products 5%. Kentucky, manufactures 24%, crops 62%, mineral products 16%, live stock products 8%. Wisconsin, manufactures 52%, crops 32%, mineral products 1%, live stock products 15%. Michigan, manufactures 71%, crops 18%, mineral products 6%, live stock products 5%.

What Statistics Show. These statistics show that 55% of the income of these six states is industrial rather than agricultural. The crops of course are still important and it is interesting to compare returns on this source of income with last year. Indiana, for instance, shows a gain of 16% in 1923-1924 crops over 1922-1923. Illinois, shows an increase of 11% in return; Ohio, 45% gain; Kentucky, 5% gain; Michigan 13% gain; Kentucky, 5% gain; and Wisconsin a 3% gain.

Wisconsin, however, is doing exceedingly well with its dairy interests. During the downward swing of business which began in 1920, one of the most relative strength of the dairying regions. It was shown not only statistically, but by personal observation, that business in the dairying sections remained relatively good even when sales were at their worst in other agricultural territories. The resistance which the dairy regions shows to business is worth bearing in mind, although it may be dangerous to go entirely on precedent. It is probable that certain business men who find farming regions an unfavorable market may do relatively well by concentrating their sales efforts in the dairying localities of Wisconsin, Ohio, Illinois and Michigan.

Failures Decrease. "In all of these East Central states, with the exception of Indiana and Ohio, I find a distinct decrease in failures, running from a 40% decline in Kentucky to around a 50% decrease in Illinois, Michigan and Wisconsin. Further, a diversified interest represented in this section regardless of what may happen to other sections of the country. If business, for instance, slackens in certain manufacturing centers during 1924 it should pick up in the agricultural regions. What will be lost in one field for these states will be gained in another. In addition I feel that the manufacturing interests of the central west are in a stronger position than those of the east because they are 'protected' both from foreign and home competition by high freight rates."

Each-Cummings Law. "When in Washington recently I spent considerable time studying the prospects for railroad legislation by the present Congress. I am convinced of two things in this connection: First, that the Each-Cummings Act will not be repealed as the railroads need more rather than less credit at the present time. At the Deltt—"Mothers-in-Law" feature of the "Old Nest" type, which has been praised enthusiastically by critics everywhere. Mrs. Lemira Goodhue, mother-in-law of President Coolidge described it as "a wonderful tribute to a deserving loving class of women."

At the Strand—"Held to Answer", a story by Peter Clark MacFarlane, directed by Harold Shaw and featuring House Peters, James Morrison, Bull Montana and Grace Carlyle. Such a combination should be a winner.

DELFT MONDAY.

"Adam's Rib," Cecil B. DeMille's latest and probably his most pretentious screen production, will come to the Deltt Monday, for a three-day stay.

In the cast are Milton Sills, El-Hot Dexter, Theodore Kosloff, Anna Q. Nilson, Pauline Garon, Julia Faye, Clarence Geldart, Geo. Field, Robert Drower and Clarence Burton.

The theme is the untangling of the affairs of a husband and wife by their young daughter, a typical example of the sensible type of modern girl.

Mr. DeMille has inserted a sort of "vision" scene similar to the noted "baconal" scene in "Man-slaughter," showing the life of primitive man as compared to that of present day beings. It is said to be the biggest out-door scene ever "camerated."

STRAND MONDAY.

There can be no question about Leah Baird being supported by an all-star cast in her screen version of the exciting comedy drama, "The Destroying Angel," from the popular novel by Louis Joseph Vance, when it comes to the Strand theatre Monday. The star has selected players who have starred and appeared in some of the greatest productions of the day. Noah Beery and Mitchell Lewis are certainly celebrated as photoplay villains, warranted to furnish enough shivers for any audience, while John Bowers as the handsome hero fights and makes love in exactly the most approved style that every woman likes. Ford Sterling may always be depended on to keep an audience roaring with laughter.

SNOW PLOWING WORK PLEASES

Time and Money Saved for Merchants, Housewives; Health Better.

Delivery costs for the merchants of Escanaba have been reduced very materially by the city's snow plowing activities. It was stated by business men yesterday who were asked for their opinions of the new policy.

"It has almost been impossible during the months of January and February, in the past, to operate delivery trucks on many of the city's streets," one man pointed out. "Generally the horse and wagon system has had to be employed because the trucks had difficulty in negotiating the snow banks in various streets. The city has been doing good work."

North 4th and North 5th avenues, South 17th, South 18th and South 19th streets between Ludington street and South 8th avenue, were sighted as examples.

School attendance, the records show have been better; there have been fewer colds and a decided falling off in the number of contagious diseases which generally appear this time of the year; the plowing has added to fire protection in this city and housewives have been given delivery service by the merchants which otherwise would have been impossible.

The city administration, when the policy was adopted, was doubtful whether it could be carried out successfully. The doubt was removed, long ago by the enthusiastic endorsement of all who have had occasion to use the streets this winter.

Second Man Of Hold-Up Trio Is Convicted

(By The Associated Press.)
Detroit, Mich., Feb. 16.—Lawrence Thorp, charged with robbery armed in connection with the $3,000 payroll holdup of Rodney E. Arms, superintendent of a Detroit Creamery Company's branch plant, August 1, was convicted by a jury in Judge Harry B. Keidan's court today. Thorp was remanded for sentence.

Thorp is the second of the hold-up trio convicted. Alfred Smead, 23 years old, pleaded guilty to the robbery before Judge Faust, in recorder's court, and is now serving a term of from 10 to 20 years in Jackson state prison for the crime.

Arrested with Thorp and Smead at Cleveland, Ohio, after a dramatic chase through several states by police was Bruce Tyrrell, the last named was acquitted by a jury.

A fad among the women of Paris this winter is the lapdog visiting card. French bulls and top models that go visiting with their mistresses have their own tiny pastebords tucked away in little pockets of their outdoor coats. Such dogs have two sets of cards, which are duly left for the dogs at the houses where they are called by their mistresses. One card gives the dog's pet name and pedigree, and the other the name of its mistress.

WHY SOB OVER STANLEY KETCHEL? THIS GREB GUY ISN'T A FOUL BALL

By JOE WILLIAMS.
At the risk of being summarily ejected from the premises by blue-coated sentinels of the United Order of Old-Timer Idolizers we herewith nominate Harry Greb of Pittsburg as one of the greatest middleweights of all time.

A middleweight who doesn't rank many degrees back of the three immortals, Bob Fitzsimmons, Tommy Ryan and Stanley Ketchel.

Greb lacks Ryan's science, Fitzsimmons' hitting power and Ketchel's all-round ability, yet he is a remarkable battler—remarkable in many ways. He can train down to 160 pounds and be at his best. He can build up to 175 pounds and be just as fast and skillful.

At these weights he won, respectively, middleweight and light-heavyweight titles.

The world knows that Greb is not an orthodox fighter; he doesn't maneuver about on his feet in the dolt manner of a Leonard, nor does he play for openings and set himself to punch in the manner of a Dempsey. He maintains a terrific pace all the way, swarms all over an opponent and hits from all angles.

Greb punches opponents. You would not call Greb's style particularly interesting, yet it is effective. He rarely ever knocks out an opponent because his whirl-wind tactics seldom leave him in a position to hit solidly with his body power behind the blow. Nevertheless his opponents are cruelly punished and usually decisively beaten.

Few of the old middleweights built up a better record than Greb owns. A number of them who were called great had worse records. Greb gave Tommy Gibbons a scandalous pasting in fifteen rounds. At the time the St. Paul man was the outstanding choice for a title match with Dempsey. Later he got the match, fought courageously and stayed the limit. Dempsey didn't do much better against him than Greb.

Ketchel, holding the middleweight title, fought and was knocked out by Jack Johnson. Dempsey rates higher than Johnson did as heavyweight champion. Gibbons went the limit with Dempsey. Greb beat Gibbons. Figure that one out yourself.

Tex Rickard tells us Firpo is the best natural fighter since Jeffries. Firpo couldn't knock out Homer Smith. Greb did knock him out. Figure that one out, too.

Greb has whipped a flock of heavyweights, good, bad and indifferent ones. Some of his victims are Billy Miske, Bartley Madden, Battling Levinsky, Bob Roper, Charley Weinert, Kid Norfolk, Jack Dillon and Gunboat Smith.

Greb won the light heavyweight championship by beating Gene Tunney. Later he lost it to the same gent on a questionable decision.

WOLVERINES WHIP PURDUE QUITE EASILY

Michigan's Passing Game Is One Of Features

(By The Associated Press.)
Ann Arbor, Mich., Feb. 16.—Michigan defeated Purdue here tonight in a western conference basketball game 34 to 20. The Wolverines completely outclassed the visitors in the first half, until Doyle was put out of the game on personal fouls. Spradling made the only field goal for Purdue during the first half and the score stood 17 to 8 when the period ended.

Michigan made ten out of twelve tries on fouls while Purdue made 8 out of 16. Michigan's passing game around the baskets was one of the features, and the Wolverines showed up in this better than ever before this season. Haggerty, with seven field goals, set a record for the new Yost field house floor.

The lineup and summary: Michigan (34) P Spradling Haggerty HP Tavis Doyle C Gullion Kipke LG Wellman Kipke RG Robbins Scoring: Field goals—Haggerty 7, Henderson 2, Kipke 1, McWood (sub for Doyle) 2, Spradling 2, Gullion 3, Robbins 1. Foul goals—Henderson 5, Haggerty 3, Doyle 2, Gullion 3, Robbins 3, Taubo (sub for Tavis) 2.

Canada Takes Skating Honor

German Wins Championship At Saranac Lake

(By The Associated Press.)
Saranac Lake, N. Y., Feb. 16.—The American National Amateur speed skating championship passed into Canadian hands today. Charles Gorman of St. John, N. B., captured the title when he flashed to victory in the world's record time of 36 3-5 seconds in the 440 yard dash. The Canadian flier scored 90 points. Harry Kaskey of Chicago, the defending champion, was fourth in the final point score with forty.

Paul Forsman of New York and Francis Allen of Chicago, finished second in a tie for second honors with sixty points each. The victory of Allen in the grueling three mile test, coupled with his equally unexpected victory yesterday in the three quarter mile event, marked the unheralded Chicagoan as one of the best distance skaters in the country. Foreman, despite a gallant effort to retain his lead established yesterday, today finished third in the 440 yard event.

In Top Form.
The St. John star, a veteran who represented Canada in the Olympics this year and was a heavy point scorer, was at the top of his form today. The veteran speedster equaled the world's amateur record in the semi-final heat. Then the committee in charge of the races offered a special prize if the world's record would be broken, and Gorman, keyed up to his highest pitch, got away from the tape at the starting gun at a terrific clip, which he maintained marvelously to the finishing line. He won easily. His time was two fifths of a second lower than the world's professional record at that distance established on the same rink last year by Arthur Staff of Chicago.

The finish of the three mile race, in which two score skaters started, was exciting and close. Allen was always with the leaders of the pack and had stamina to match the furious rush of Gorman at the end. The Canadian fell as he crossed the mark only a shade ahead of Eddie Murphy of Chicago. Frank Garnett of St. John, N. B., won a prize as leader in the largest number of laps in this event.

The three mile race proved a severe trial to the contestants. With the thermometer registering six degrees below zero it developed into an endurance test. Most of the skaters dropped out before it ended.

The sinking mercury later in the afternoon when the chilled meet was run off, thinned the gathering's enthusiasm and many of the crowd failed to see one of the most thrilling finishes of the meet in the longest race on the program.

Kirkwood Wins Texas Open Golf Championship

(By The Associated Press.)
San Antonio, Tex., Feb. 16.—Joe Kirkwood, Rockwood Hall, N. Y., professional, won the Texas' open golf championship here today with a score of 279 for the 72 holes, seven strokes ahead of James Ockeden, French open champion and George Kerrigan of Long Beach, Cal., who were tied for second place.

Kirkwood, in finishing ahead of one of the fastest fields ever assembled in a southern tournament, shot par golf and better throughout. During the four rounds of medal play he shot a par 72, a 71 and 63 twice.

Ockeden, who leading Kirkwood by two strokes at the beginning of the final 36 holes today, fell down in his putting and finished with a 286, as did Kerrigan.

venture to say that no one of the 96 senators in this chamber, if this property worth millions had been taken away from him, would select Senator Pomerene to represent him. I am certain the president of the United States would not.

Senator Walsh said Mr. Pomerene had practiced only in his own home town of Canton, Ohio, and adjoining counties and never had had a case of any kind in a federal court. He added that at least one of the government counsel should be thoroughly experienced in public land laws, but that both of counsel had told the oil committee that the legal phases of the public land question were "a sealed book to them."

"If it were not for the political consideration involved," Senator Walsh declared, "I cannot see how the president of the United States could have appointed Senator Pomerene."

Voicing his opposition to Mr. Roberts, Senator Walsh declared that what was needed was a lawyer of outstanding reputation and that yet not a single member of the oil committee ever heard of Mr. Roberts until his appointment was made.

Chairman Lenroot, of the oil committee defended the appointments, declaring that both Mr. Pomerene and Mr. Roberts were men of ability and fully capable of handling the cases. He contended that the real questions involved were the legality of the contracts and whether there was executive authority for the transfer of the control of naval oil reserves from the navy to the interior department.

Land laws, he argued, involved only incidental questions such as whether there was a conspiracy by which the Standard Oil interests were to give Harry F. Sinclair a clear field to obtain the lease of Teapot Dome.

Interrupted by Senator Norris, Republican, Nebraska, Senator Lenroot agreed that the land law was the real question involved in the proposal to receive sections 16 and 36 in California.

Opposing the nomination, Senator Wheeler, Democrat, Montana, declared the thing that "nauseated" him was "that the president in his selections has given no apparent thought to the qualifications of the men."

"First the president appointed Mr. Gregory without inquiring as to his oil interest" the Senator said. "Then he appointed Mr. Strawn. Now he has named a man from the Democratic party knowing it would be difficult for many of this side to vote against him. Apparently the only recommendation for Mr. Roberts was the endorsement of the senator Senator (Pepper) from Pennsylvania."

Senators Pittman, Nevada, and Jones, New Mexico, Democrats, in explaining beforehand why they would vote for Mr. Pomerene, declared they were weary of delay and that in any event there was no assurance that the president would appoint men of greater ability than the last two he had selected.

KIDS PREPARE FOR DOG RACE

Big Entry List for Annual Lions' Club Event Next Week.

With the date for the Lions' club's annual dog races nearing, boys and girls of the city and county are completing the equipment for their "purrs" and preparing to make a stubborn effort to carry off the honors.

The races will be held on Wells avenue east from Tenth street next Saturday afternoon. There will be three events, one race for larger dogs; one race for smaller dogs and a sweepstakes open to the winners in the two classes. The sweepstakes prize will be $7 and there will be prizes of $5 and $3 for first and second places, respectively, in each of the classes.

The list of officials and other details of the races will be announced during the week. E. M. Williams, chairman of the club's committee announced yesterday.

The entry list has been large. Almost every variety of dog large enough to pull a sled will be represented. There are collies, spaniels, bulldogs, Airdales—and the usual number of nondescripts.

To Put Course in Shape.
The course over which the races will be run will be placed in first class condition and fenced off, so that all the racers will have a chance to get all the speed possible out of their dogs. The dogs will be muzzled to guard against "bloodshed," it has been ruled.

While most of the drivers will be boys, a number of girls also will compete, and there will be several starters from Wells, Gladstone, Kipling and other points outside the city.

There is no entry fee. All that is expected along that line is the filling out of the entry blank on this page, which should be mailed or handed to Mr. Williams.

GERMAN WINS CHAMPIONSHIP AT SARANAC LAKE

German Wins Championship At Saranac Lake

(By The Associated Press.)
Saranac Lake, N. Y., Feb. 16.—The American National Amateur speed skating championship passed into Canadian hands today. Charles Gorman of St. John, N. B., captured the title when he flashed to victory in the world's record time of 36 3-5 seconds in the 440 yard dash. The Canadian flier scored 90 points. Harry Kaskey of Chicago, the defending champion, was fourth in the final point score with forty.

Paul Forsman of New York and Francis Allen of Chicago, finished second in a tie for second honors with sixty points each. The victory of Allen in the grueling three mile test, coupled with his equally unexpected victory yesterday in the three quarter mile event, marked the unheralded Chicagoan as one of the best distance skaters in the country. Foreman, despite a gallant effort to retain his lead established yesterday, today finished third in the 440 yard event.

In Top Form.
The St. John star, a veteran who represented Canada in the Olympics this year and was a heavy point scorer, was at the top of his form today. The veteran speedster equaled the world's amateur record in the semi-final heat. Then the committee in charge of the races offered a special prize if the world's record would be broken, and Gorman, keyed up to his highest pitch, got away from the tape at the starting gun at a terrific clip, which he maintained marvelously to the finishing line. He won easily. His time was two fifths of a second lower than the world's professional record at that distance established on the same rink last year by Arthur Staff of Chicago.

The finish of the three mile race, in which two score skaters started, was exciting and close. Allen was always with the leaders of the pack and had stamina to match the furious rush of Gorman at the end. The Canadian fell as he crossed the mark only a shade ahead of Eddie Murphy of Chicago. Frank Garnett of St. John, N. B., won a prize as leader in the largest number of laps in this event.

The three mile race proved a severe trial to the contestants. With the thermometer registering six degrees below zero it developed into an endurance test. Most of the skaters dropped out before it ended.

The sinking mercury later in the afternoon when the chilled meet was run off, thinned the gathering's enthusiasm and many of the crowd failed to see one of the most thrilling finishes of the meet in the longest race on the program.

TWO RECORDS SHATTERED IN INDOOR MEET

(By The Associated Press.)
New York, Feb. 16.—The world's indoor record for the 80-yard hurdles twice was broken tonight in successive preliminary heats of the event, one of the features of the Wilco A. A. games at the Thirteenth Regiment Armory. Cadet Charles R. Barkes, of West Point, set a new standard at 10 3/4 seconds in winning the second heat after Tom Farrell, Newark A. C., had set a mark of 10 4-5 in capturing the first heat.

Barkes shattered a mark that had been on the record books for thirty-seven years. The old record, 11 1/4 seconds, was established in 1887 by A. A. Jordan, of New York City.

HALF HOLIDAY SESSION BUSY

Prices Make Impressive Recovery from Former Weakness.

(By The Associated Press.)
STOCK SALES SUMMARY.
Total stock sales 755,400 shares.
Twenty industrials averaged 98.89, net gain 1.65.
High 1924, 191.24; low, 94.88.
Twenty railroads averaged 83.73; net gain .58.
High 1924, 85.90, low $2.74.

New York, Feb. 16.—Stock prices made impressive recovery from yesterday's extreme weakness in today's brief sessions of the stock market. Sales exceeded 700,000 shares, making it one of the busiest half holiday sessions in months.

Strong financial interests, who permitted yesterday's reaction to run its course are said to have placed substantial supporting orders to the market overnight with the result that the general list headed upward from the start. Shorts, who had sold stocks freely yesterday, hastened to cover, giving impetus to the advance, which ran from one to nearly six points in active issues.

Constructive trade news was given more attention. Copper shares made a quick response to another increase in the price of red metal and stocks reflected the reports of increased bookings and expanding mill activity.

Steel closes higher.
United States Steel common closed 1-3/8 higher at 104 3/8 after having touched 105. Baldwin snapped back 2 1/2 points to 123 and American Can registered a similar gain, closing at 115 1-8. Studebaker climbed from par to 101 5-8. Lorillard Tobacco climbed nearly six points. Oils and sugars gave good exhibitions of group strength, net gains of two or more points being recorded by American Beet Sugar, Cuba Cane, Punta Alegre Sugar, Pacific Oil and Houston. Other strong spots in the industrial and specialty lists included General Electric, Corn Products, National Lead, May Department Stores and Chandler Motor, all up three points or more.

Rails, which offered more resistance to pressure yesterday, made more moderate gains although several issues, notably New York Central, Southern, Chesapeake and Ohio, St. Louis, Southern Seaboard Air Line preferred and New Orleans, Texas and Mexico showed net gains of a point or more.

Foreign Exchanges were reactionary on heavy selling of all European bills apparently based on the British dock workers' strike. Demand sterling dropped a cent to $4.28 3/4 and French francs broke 8 points to 4.36 1/2 cents, or less than ten points above the extreme low record. Other rates yielded in sympathy.

The weekly clearing house statement showed increases in most principal items. Loans, discounts and investments advanced $3,456,000; reserve of member banks in the Federal Reserve Bank gained $1,485,000 and reserve in depositaries increased $245,000. Net demand deposits dropped $2,192,000 and time deposits $372,000. Aggregate reserve totaled $557,350,000, leaving excess reserve of $43,685,750, an increase of $1,204,140 over last week.

WHEN CANADIAN GIRL WEDDED PRINCE—This picture shows the climax of a modern-day fairy tale, the wedding of Prince Erik of Denmark to Miss Lois Frances Booth of Ottawa. The prince is a cousin of the Danish and English kings, but he came to America to learn agriculture. Falling in love with Miss Booth, daughter of a millionaire Canadian lumberman, the prince renounced his title. After a honeymoon, the pair plan to conduct an orange grove in California. Photograph shows the bridal pair, with the Church of All Saints, where they were married, as the background.

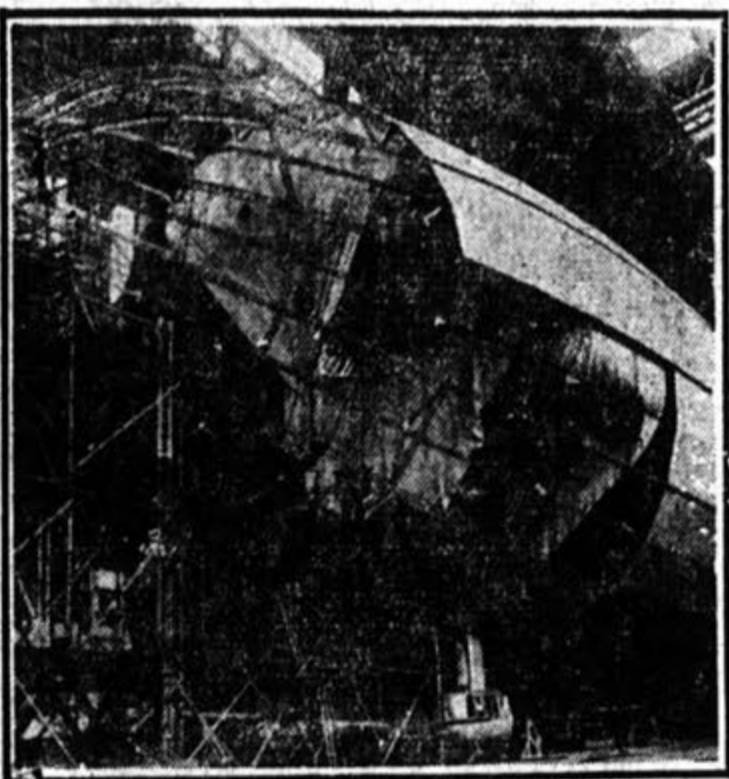

HER ONLY STARRING PICTURE—Lou Lawson. She would not have had to change that name if she had become a star in the movies—and that was the dream in her heart as she left Walnut Springs, Texas, for Broadway. A few bits as extra in films now and then did not serve to lift her from obscurity. Then one day a light brighter than any that screams a name along the Butterfly Way projected her name before millions of eyes. Lou Lawson was found dead in her apartment. There was mystery in her death, even as there had been mystery in her life. And after the death the "start" photos of Lou Lawson find the place that Lou would have had for them in life.

While there is no objection to wearing it while you listen to your favorite band or a lecture, it is intended for the ballroom or the opera. It comes in silver or gold, to suit your taste.

TO CARRY HONORS—Marion Wolff (above) of the Washington (D. C.) Seminary, will represent her school at a beauty contest to be held soon. The other contestants will have to be pretty good to win, won't they?

QUEEN ON THE ICE!—Gladys Robinson, champion woman skater of Canada, recently broke record for 100 yards at Onota Lake. This unusual action picture shows her at a difficult angle.

PRINCESS—She looks like a doll but is a real princess. Her name is Antoinette and she is the daughter of Princess Charlotte of Monaco.

NEW OFFICERS—Lieut. Com. Bruce G. Leighton (left) newly appointed engineer officer of the Shenandoah and Lieut. Com. Zachary Lansdowne, who succeeds Commander McCrary, are shown photographed at Navy Department in Washington.

Marine Sergeant Morris Fisher, stationed in Washington, D. C., is the champion rifle shot of the world. He also is a start with the violin. An unusual combination.

Sophie Cherneski and L. Bamrick Get State Awards.

Four state awards in boys and girls club work—two firsts and two seconds—were won by Schoolcraft county young people in competition with club members from all over the State of Michigan.

Following are the four winners, whose ability in club work brought them state honors: Sophie Cherneski, First Prize, State Canning Champion.

Elmer Anderson, Second place, Potatoes.
Millard Quinlan, First, Place, Poultry, First year.
Lawrence Bamrick, second prize, second year poultry.

With the exception of Willard Quinlan, whose home is at Thompson all of the winners are from Manistique. Lawrence Bamrick, the poultry champion, resides in this city. Elmer Anderson and Miss Cherneski live on Route One.

Another interesting fact in connection with Boys and Girls club work is pointed out by County Agent T. R. Shane, and that is, that two of the state cups awarded during the M. A. C. fair were won by boys and girls club members, competing with many older contestants.

The past year has been a very successful one for club work in Manistique, and club workers hope for more Schoolcraft victories in 1924.

Candler's Domestic Debacle Laid To Pursuit Of Twilight Romance

By CARL TAYLOR
Atlanta, Ga., Feb. 16.—The spirit of the chevalier flourishes in the old heart of Asa Candler. Those near to him will tell you that is why tragedy broods over the closing years of his life.

Seventy-three years have passed Candler by. He has accumulated millions upon millions in the manufacture of Coca-Cola. No man gains millions without contact with the stern realities of life. Few such men escape the world's cynicism, its hard-boiledness. Yet romance glows in the twilight for old Asa. Having lived his three-score and ten he still believed the Grand Passion possible for him.

But the glow in the twilight seems to have been only a will-o'-the-wisp.
Just a scant week after the Coca-Cola king sat in federal court and heard his love letters to Mrs. Onesima DeBouché who was suing him for $500,000 damages for alleged breach of promise, read to an eager public, his bride of less than a year was arrested by the police of Atlanta and charged with being an "occupant of a dive."

She was found in company with W. J. ("Bill") Stoddard, prominent Atlanta man, and president of the National Dry Cleaners Association, and another man, in an apartment on the fashionable north side residential district of Atlanta. A whisky bottle, nearly empty, was found on the table beside them, police declare.

"We were only having a little party, what's wrong in that?" And, besides, there are other people besides the Candler in Atlanta," Mrs. Candler is quoted as saying after the police broke in.

And now the wags of Atlanta are whispering that the old man once more is going to be left alone with his millions in his mansion in the city's most exclusive residential subdivision—that he shortly will begin divorce proceedings against the pretty stenographer he married last June.

Whether he intends to bring a divorce suit against his wife, he will not say.

HEIR TO $75,000,000 KEEPS ON MAKING HIS OWN LAMB STEW IN HUMBLE HOME

By STEVE HANNAGAN.
Coyteville, N. J., Feb. 16.—Sitting by a kitchen stove placidly stirring a pan of lamb stew, Joseph Lanoville, 54-year-old heir to a $75,000,000 legacy in France, seemed to be little concerned with his new-found fortune.

"I'll give most of it to the poor," he said, "not through recognized organizations, but to the people I find in need as I travel about."

Born in New York state, Lanoville struck the trail that led to his gold while he was in France during the war, as an officer in the United States Army.

Told of a French legend of an enormous legacy awaiting the heirs of Count Anthony Lanoville of French Revolution days, Joseph Lanoville began an investigation.

It culminated a few days ago when a French attorney appeared at Lanoville's humble but comfortable home in this village in Jersey, 36 minutes by trolley off the beaten path of the world's mad rush.

"$10,000,000 Fortune Grew to Be $75,000,000."
The French barrister assured Lanoville that his claim to the fortune is well founded.

For five generations—174 years—the $10,000,000 estate bequeathed by Count Lanoville to his only son has been doubling and trebling in value as the interest was compounded and the search for the heir went on.

Count Lanoville's son was kidnapped, brought to America and later married an Indian girl. Now, after five generations, Joseph Lanoville is believed to be the eldest living heir.

To him goes the fortune. He leaves for France to collect the legacy as soon as the weather breaks.

"I'm in no hurry," he said, "I got along without it before I knew about it, and I'll live in comfort if I never get it."

Lanoville has had several offers from Wall Street syndicates to buy out his birthright for immediate cash, he declared. But he has—and will—refuse all such advances.

Wife Helps Him in Business.
Lanoville has been known by the christian name of Denis, said to be the name of the sea-going man who kidnapped Count Lanoville's son, in public life—but his personal papers, bank books and the like, have always been made out in the name of Lanoville, he exhibited.

He is one of a family of 16 children and the father of 14 children, only three of which are living. He has been twice married and his present wife, whom he wed five years ago, assists him in conducting the manufacture and sale of a silver polish in New York City.

"I've been very contented," crowned Lanoville to the tune of a large spoon paddling the stew of lamb in the large pan, "and the money won't change me—but who wouldn't be glad to get it?"

STEAL SMOKES AT POOL ROOM

Thieves Enter Andy's Place On Deer Street.

Thieves entered the pool and soft drink establishment of Andrew Houghton on Deer street last week and took a quantity of cigarettes and other goods, according to a report given to the police.

Clues showed that entrance to the billiard parlor had been made at the rear of the building, but nothing definite has been learned as yet regarding the identity of the amateur burglars.

Thompson Men Are First To Oust Scrubs

Maps Show Progress Of Better Sire Contest

Two Thompson township dairymen took first honors in the pure bred sire contest for Schoolcraft county last week, when they reported that their scrub bulls had been replaced by pure-breds.

The Thompson men, Ole Olson and Erick Erickson, are the first in the county to report the replacement of scrub with pure-bred, and place Thompson township at the head of the list in the sire contest.

As a result of the accomplishment of the Thompson dairymen, two silver pins now replace two black ones on the maps on display here, marking the progress of the scrub sire elimination campaign.

The maps were prepared by County Agent T. R. Shane, and have pins representing every known sire in the county. Black-headed pins represent the scrub sires, red pins the pure-breds and silver pins will replace each of the black ones where quality stock takes the place of the scrub.

PAST MASTERS ARE HONORED AT BANQUET

Presentation of Jewel to Dr. Miller Followed By Degree Work.

With an attendance of over one hundred Gladstone and visiting Masons, members of Gladstone lodge, No. 326, F. & A. M., Friday night at the Masonic hall held their annual observance of Past Masters' night.

The affair opened with the serving of a Past Masters' banquet at 7 o'clock, at which the resident past masters of the lodge were the guests of honor. The banquet was a well prepared and ably served by the members of the Eastern Star society.

The invocation which marked the beginning of the evening was given by the Rev. H. W. Coleman, pastor of Alice Memorial Methodist church and chaplain of the lodge.

Following the banquet toasts were given, John D. Staple, W. M., acting as toastmaster.

Presentation of the past master's jewel to Dr. A. H. Miller, the latest past master, was made by Dr. James Mitchell, his predecessor.

In presenting the jewel Dr. Mitchell gave a short address to which Dr. Miller responded in a few well chosen words.

Degree Work
At the close of the presentation, work in the master mason degree was conducted, bringing the past masters' observance to an end.

Music during the banquet was furnished by an orchestra made up of Gladstone young people, Blanche Olson, Earl Potter, Arthur Williamson and Edwin Mathieson.

All resident past masters of the lodge were present with the exception of J. S. Stephenson, who is ill, and T. D. Springer, who was out of the city. They were Henry Rosenblum, J. E. Lalinaw, C. E. Hawkins, James T. Jones, Harley E. Rawson, George P. Tostenon, Dr. Mitchell and Dr. Miller, in addition, A. C. Peterson, of this city, past master of another lodge, and officers of the Escanaba lodge attended.

Every arrangement for past masters' night was successfully carried out and the annual observance will remain as an event of the Masonic activities for the year.

Heavy Storms Hit Industry

The northern and eastern sections of the country has been slowed down considerably by the recent heavy snowfall and storm, says the American Lumberman, Chicago.

Demand remains fair, and the market holds remarkably firm. Transit cars naturally have entered consumption less rapidly during the last few days, and are often sold at concessions when threatened by demurrage charges; but there are no indications of mills departing from lists recently in effect, and better prices on some popular items are in fact demanded by many.

In the South the weather has shown no improvement, with the result that logging and lumber manufacturing are severely curtailed. While the larger mills are encountering many difficulties, such as shortage of logs, impassable roads and inability to season their stocks, so a great many of them are shut down.

Both orders and shipments of southern pine have for several weeks exceeded output by a good margin, and the stock situation remains unfavorable. The poor assortments at the mills often make it difficult to place orders, especially if they call for more than usual assortments.

The Douglas fir market has shown no reportable change. The Japanese and California markets remain depressed, though both are expected to revive before spring; but the Atlantic seaboard is an active buyer. Railroad business is still lacking in board is an active buyer. Railroad in yard and shed items showed a steady growth into a sizable volume until the recent snowstorms, and is sure soon to resume its upward trend. Fir prices meanwhile occupy the same relative position as a fortnight ago. Though not plentiful and decreasing in supply, slash grain uppers are still weak, with a considerable spread between quotations by different mills; but the general market is firm.

Hardwoods, both northern and southern, remain in good demand and many popular items are scarce. The automobile, furniture, flooring, interior trim and box makers are the largest consuming factors, but demand from wholesalers and miscellaneous buyers also totals a sizable volume. Prices are firm, and such sought-after items as sap gum, birch and maple and Nos. 1 and 2 common oak, still tend upward.

Iron Trade Review

Cleveland, Ohio, Feb. 14.—Iron Trade Review today says: Announcements of awards and requirements involving large tonnages of steel have fairly crowded the market during the past week. At no time since the recent upswing of business two months ago, has any period brought forth so many or so diversified a list of newly-created demands of major size. Mill bookings sustained at a heavy rate and for many producers are well in excess of shipments. Chicago and its deliveries are filling up and their deliveries are receding. This condition is reflected by sales of small lots of steel bars into Chicago territory by outside mills at the Pittsburgh base price. Production though already high still is moving up. The Carnegie Steel Co. has put in another blast furnace and is operating 48 out of 59 as well as 92 per cent of ingot capacity. The Illinois Steel Co. has added one furnace, is about to re-light another and is operating at 93 per cent. The Jones & Laughlin Steel Corporation has all steel capacity engaged.

Recovery of steel ingot production in January after four months of losses was at an even more rapid rate than in pig iron. The January output, increased 17.3 per cent while gain in pig iron production was 3.5 per cent. In January the country was producing steel ingots at the annual rate of 41,450,000 tons which represented 88.4 per cent of the high record point reached last April.

Orders for railroad cars just placed or on the verge of being closed run into large figures. Those closed or near at hand, it is estimated, will call for $25,000 tons of steel.

Iron Trade Review composite of fourteen leading iron and steel products is a shade higher this week at $43.53 against $43.49 last week.

Invasion of foreign iron and steel on the Atlantic Coast continues. At Boston 1,000 tons of Belgian reinforcing bars has been sold at 2.25c or $3 to $10 under the American mill price. French structural shapes have been offered at the same figure at Boston. French billets have been sold to Portland, Me. buyers. At Providence foreign foundry iron has been sold at $21.75 paid and other sales have been made in Philadelphia and New York territory. It develops that the sale of 4,000 tons of French shapes is for delivery at Norfolk and is for the electrification of the Virginia railway. French foundries have secured about 3,000 tons of additional cast iron pipe business on the Pacific Coast.

MAKE FEBRUARY NO FIRE MONTH, CHIEF URGES

Only One Chimney Call for First Half Establishes Record.

Over half of the month of February, one of the bad fire months of the year, has gone by, with only one chimney call in Gladstone during the entire time, a record to be proud of, in the opinion of Fire Chief A. E. Raddant.

In expressing his satisfaction for the record for the first half of the month, Chief Raddant, without doubt to the fire prevention measures taken by Gladstone's property owners, Chief Raddant urged that this record be maintained for the entire month.

"We can keep this month's record down to one call," said the fire chief, "if everyone continues to be as careful as he has in the past. The immediate response of Gladstone to fire prevention methods should be a source of satisfaction to everyone in the community and it most certainly is to the members of the fire department."

"This month and the one following, in my estimation are the bad fire months of the year. This is due to the fact that near the close of the winter pipes and chimneys are becoming clogged and stuffed. Another cause is the firing up which always results when warm spells are followed by a cold wave."

"However, judging from the record for the past few months, the precautions which are being taken by Gladstone people are going to change things considerably and with continued care, make these usually bad months, record months for the year."

VALENTINE PARTY IS ENJOYABLE

Girls of Camp Fire Circles Are Guests.

Among the pleasant Valentine parties given during the past few days was that held Friday evening at the Junior high auditorium by the Camp Fire girls of the Gladstone circles.

The party was featured by a Valentine post office, games, dancing and a program, followed by the serving of lunch. A charade, the opening number of the program, given by the girls of the circles directed by Miss Roberta Davis and Miss Ruth Beneshak, was particularly clever. Piano solos which were thoroughly enjoyed were given by the Misses Alberta Pettit, Charlotte Marble and Grace Johnston, while Miss Helen LeFaver gave a reading in a most pleasing manner.

The Valentine post office provided much fun and merriment, such of the guests receiving a Valentine.

The party was in charge of the guardians, the Misses Roberta Davis, Marion Cameron, Eva Baker, Avis Johnson and Ruth Beneshak.

Mrs. Frank Kobilska, who was called to Detroit by the illness of her sister, has returned to her home here. Her sister's condition is much improved.

LUCKY ESCANABA YOUNGSTERS.

Only more the Escanaba youth pioneering bobs up serenely stamp the public schools of its city as among the most progressive in the nation.

The foregoing refers specifically to the inauguration of one designed to be an annual declamation contest between various grammar schools of the city.

Ability to stand on one's feet for an audience and give expression to the thoughts that me tumbling pell mell over each other in the mind of the man and woman who can think eat thoughts but cannot express them vocally before an audience.

And, in a measure, this declamation contest will help youngsters for just such rough places in their later life.

Yes, the boys and girls in the grammar grades are fortunate in having their lot cast among instructors who have the vision and wisdom to drive the importance of these things home while the mind is open and eager and capable of becoming saturated with the spirit of public speaking.

CONFIDENCE IN HERRIN.

They are taking the troops out of Herring, Ill., explaining that as people have arrived at a solution of their differences and are able to control the situation, they are leaving a battalion "co-operate" with the authorities in the enforcement of safe conditions.

Which rather makes it appear that the state of Illinois is willing that Herring's word for things, Herring doesn't ask the state of Illinois to believe it.

After reading that the latest sensational claim in the oil industry is that a million dollar fund was on tap in Washington, it is just simply impossible to resist the temptation to bring that good old stock one about the wicked standing in lippy places.

Every community has a large number of people who believe the leaders should get something for their services which they rendered their country. They think that they down in Boston. Five thousand of the enthusiasts got together recently and gave three cheers in appreciation of the service rendered.

BOYS OF 5 GO TO WORK AT 4 A. M. IN GULF STATE OYSTER CAMPS

By ROY J. GIBBONS. Biloxi, Miss., Feb. 16.—Hush! It is the children's hour.

Between 3 and 4 each morning it comes ushered in here as regularly as clockwork to the accompanying tumult of a hundred factory sirens, which proclaim the event for Biloxi's tiny workers in the shrimp and oyster canning factories.

Mingling their wall with the roar of the sea, these blaring sirens call into the cold hours before dawn an army of boys, girls and women, bidding them haste to work lest daylight steal in and find them unoccupied.

Tots, 5 or 6 Years Old, Work with Mothers Over Steam-Ing Oysters. Most children who work in the oyster canning factories are tiny tots. From 5 to 14 their ages run.

When he had been placated, the head "straw boss" of the factory explained the reason back of all this flurry.

"Federal Child Labor Law Caused Us Trouble, But It's Knocked Out" "These kids ain't old enough to work," he said.

Perhaps they never learned till now that the whistles were calling to little ones to announce the children's hour.

"The Doctor's Story"

BY JANE PHELPS.

HORACE MOVES TO BACHELOR QUARTERS. Chapter XXXIII. "Luncheon is ready!" Nancy called. "Come right out. I've smothered chicken."

I sat down opposite her and tried to eat, but the chicken had a bitter taste, and gulping my tea, I left it on my plate, unable to swallow.

"You'll excuse me, I have work to do." Without waiting for a reply I went into my bedroom, dragged out my bags, and packed my clothes.

Then I went to the telephone and called a taxi. Until it came Nancy evidently had no inkling of what I was doing, but clearing away the luncheon.

Then the storm burst! She wept, she raved, she threatened. "Don't you know what you are doing is ground for a divorce?"

"I know," I replied, trying to loosen her hold on my sleeve, hoping she would promise not to visit the office when she saw I was determined.

Heavy as was my heart I held her, and leaving her sobbing hysterically I jumped into the taxi and was driven off.

Putting a stern control upon my emotions I disengaged her arms, rose, said "goodnight" and started for the door.

"Home," I said it deliberately. "But this is your home." "Not until you decide to make it a real home by being what wife should be, not until you desist from your interference in my work."

Without looking back I went out, followed by a long, sobbing cry. I steered my heart, stopped at the office for a book in which I should make me follow in his footsteps, NOTHING! I visited the hospital, some private patients, then at five was in my office.

"Mrs. Hayden had telephoned several times," Nina told me, to tell you to phone if you came in before five."

I glanced at my watch. It was just five, and without replying to Nina I entered my private office, prepared for my patients.

I showed the first one out, and there sat Nancy, white as a sheet. I gave no evidence that I had seen her, saw my patients as usual, then went out of the side door, to my new apartment.

We dined at 7 o'clock. For a time I hesitated. Should I go home. I would hear what Nancy had to say, and if she was still persistent, would warn her I would not appear again.

ABNER DEMANDS INVESTIGATION FOR MISERY BAY.

Misery Bay, Feb. 16 (To the editor) Old Man Skags bought a second-hand horse under the Wilsonian administration for $11.

The next morning Nancy appeared at the office as was her habit. That day I took both lunch and dinner at a restaurant.

"You mean you are killing yourself. I must go, Nancy. I am due at the office." "When are you coming home?"

"Never, unless you make it possible by giving me your word you will stay away from the office." "I won't come any more. You can't stand it! My love for you is killing me."

"Yes, anything, if you'll come back to me." I called a taxi, sent her home. "I'll be up to dinner," I called cheerily.

I knew my action in moving to the bachelor's building had caused gossip, that people were still and more severely, criticizing Nancy's actions.

"I see your wife isn't here today," a woman remarked as she came in the office. "No, Mrs. Hayden is much alone. She had been lonely, so took to staying here as long as it was a novelty."

That evening I spent at home with Nancy, listening to her protestations of love, her accusations against me.

"If you hadn't done that, Miss Baker would not feel so grateful and be so in love with you." The evening was a harrowing one, first love-making, then vituperation, the usual actions of an abnormally jealous woman.

Thoroughly worn out I retired early, knowing my problems were by no means settled because of Nancy's surrender.

NOT DELAY IN GETTING A PRESS POLICY

You Can't Afford To Be Laid Up Without An Income.

The provision of a travel accident insurance policy for $1,000 every subscriber of the Escanaba Daily Press has struck a popular chord in the public mind, and the immediate and most overwhelming response which has virtually swamped the editorial force for several days, is the most convincing evidence of its fact.

This article is not written so much with the idea of hurrying you in to get your policy today. It is to keep you informed of what other people think of the proposition and to keep your attention fixed on the fact that you have one of these policies. You cannot consider that yourself or your family has been fully protected.

Sold at Actual Cost. These policies cost the Press exactly 75 cents and that is exactly what you get them for. Not a cent of profit is made in the transaction and the Press sees no profit because this is simply a little added service which the Press is rendering its subscribers.

It is making this wonderful protection available to them if they desire it. And most thoughtful-sighted people do desire it. The cost is so small as to be really trifling and yet it protects you for an entire year. All members of any family between the ages of 15 and 70 may have a policy by the simple payment of the registration fee of 75 cents each. If one subscription of the Press is carried in that family.

Inquire About Benefits. The policy pays a weekly indemnity and lump sums from $500 to $1,000 for various kinds of injuries and death as the result of accident. It increases in value $100 each year for five years until it is worth $1,500 and you don't even have to take a medical examination to take out a policy.

The benefits of this policy are too numerous to be mentioned in detail this morning, but a phone call to 693, the Daily Press, will give you full and complete information. Or you can drop into the office any day and find out all about it.

Attend To It Now. Don't put it off until you are injured. It's too late then. A better way will be just to attend to it within the next few days and know that you are protected for a full year. Hardly an issue of the paper reaches you that doesn't contain one or more stories detailing accidents to folks who never expected them to happen. Probably you will find one or two such stories in this morning's Press. They ought to carry the significance of proper protection most forcefully to your mind.

The policies are here for you, its year service. The Press wants you to have a policy and all you have to do is to come and get it.

500,000 TESTS MADE ANNUALLY BY STUDEBAKER

New Features Rigorously Tried Before Adopted.

One hundred and twenty-five Studebaker engineers, metallurgists, chemists and mechanics today devote their time and thought to the development and tests of new ideas in motor car design, construction, operation and equipment.

These men play a vital part in the introduction of new models, such as the 1924 Studebakers; in better manufacturing methods, and in constantly guarding the high standards in current production that have long made Studebaker a leader in big-volume manufacture of high-quality, six-cylinder cars.

The laboratories in which these men work are designed, constructed and equipped at great cost to provide proper facilities for the intricate and painstaking work that must be handled.

Many thousands of dollars have been spent by Studebaker to equip these laboratories with the finest testing devices, gauges and machinery. Hundreds of these are so finely constructed that they detect imperfections that only the powerful microscope would otherwise disclose.

Laboratory experts are given unlimited freedom in Studebaker's vast plants. They enter into every activity in their search for the ultimate in fine six-cylinder motor car creation and construction.

Some select and test steel, iron, brass, wood, leather, glass and other raw materials and special equipment picked at random from the stream that flows incessantly into the various mammoth departments. Still others of these one hundred and twenty-five men work out the correct design and check the finished product for satisfactory performance. Each year more than 500,000 such tests are made in Studebaker laboratories. Guesswork in materials, methods, construction, operation and performance are thus eliminated.

In the manufacture of the three six-cylinder Studebaker models, 1120 mechanical operations are accurate to one-thousandth of an inch, 360 to one-half thousandth of an inch and many others to one-tenth-thousandth of an inch, or ten times thinner than a cigarette paper. Such accuracy, while costly, makes possible the construction of motor cars that give enduring, economical and dependable service.

But Studebaker goes far beyond the unusual work of its testing laboratories to safeguard the interests of Studebaker car owners. One thousand skilled inspectors guard against imperfection in manufacture and assembly. These men make 30,000 inspections during manufacture before the cars are passed through for final delivery.

A Business Story

Rich in meaning to every motor car buyer
How Studebaker reached the heights

THE story of Studebaker has been told by many men in many ways. Now let us tell it to you. Studebaker growth has in late years been Motordom's sensation. Sales have mounted until last year 145,000 buyers of quality cars selected Studebakers. They paid over $200,000,000 for them. All must realize that a new situation has arisen in high-grade cars. You who are interested should now analyze the reasons.

72-year traditions The Studebaker principles have become traditions in their 72 years of existence. They have never wavered. In all changing conditions they have brought new luster to that name.

Men come and go, but a name like this becomes a heritage to foster and enhance. That's what we've done—we who have that name in keeping for a time.

Studebaker has always been a leader. For two generations it led in horse-drawn vehicles, now products of the past.

Most of you remember Studebaker carriages—queens of their time. They were used by multitudes of people who loved quality and style. When motor cars succeeded them, Studebaker became the logical leader in that field. Any other place would have been an anomaly.

The only way to the top A concern of this age has one fact ingrafted in its fiber. The only way to leadership is through super-service.

The leader must excel in all you seek—in quality, in beauty and in value. There is no other way to the top. Every stretch of the road is strewn with wrecks of those who tried another.

What others say—not what you say—determines your place in the long run. In every field of endeavor one must accept that fact.

We had the money, the plants, the prestige. We had the incentive of Studebaker traditions. In time we secured the men.

We told those men to build for us the utmost in fine motor cars, regardless of all costs. We pledged them our good faith and our resources.

The cost was $50,000,000 We built new factories—modern plants. We fitted them with new equipment—12,500 up-to-date machines. Of the $50,000,000 in our plants and equipment, $32,000,000 has been invested in the past five years. So it represents the last word in efficient manufacture.

We established a Department of Methods and Standards, to fix for every Studebaker detail the maximum of quality.

We created a Bureau of Research and Experiment, employing 125 skilled men. They make 500,000 tests per year to maintain our supremacy.

They fixed countless standards, including 35 separate formulas for steels. Then on the most important steels we offered makers a bonus of 15% to conform to those standards exactly.

We invested $8,000,000 in a drop forge plant to make all our own drop forgings. $10,000,000 in body plants, to build all bodies to our standards.

We employed 1,200 skilled inspectors to see that all standards were fulfilled. There are 30,000 inspections on Studebaker cars during manufacture, before they go out from the factory.

That's the whole story That's about the whole story. We simply followed the never-changing Studebaker principles. We gave to our buyers the utmost—values they could not match. Then they turned by tens of thousands to Studebaker cars.

Over 750,000 of those cars have gone out. Their performance has developed a demand for 150,000 per year.

Every increase in sales brought a lowered cost, which we promptly gave our buyers. Today these fine cars are offering values which no rival can approach. They have made us the world's largest builders of quality cars.

We deserve a hearing Now we deserve a hearing. All who consider a car at $1,000 or over should learn what Studebaker offers. That in fairness to yourself and us. Check one by one the advantages we offer. You'll find them by the score.

Remember that 145,000 who did that last year chose a Studebaker car. There are nine chances in ten that you'll do it.

Consider our record, our accomplishments, our policies and principles. Consider that we have $90,000,000 at stake on satisfying men like you. Don't buy a car in this high-grade class without seeing what we give.

Find Out Why

People paid over $200,000,000 last year for Studebaker cars.

The result is now a demand for 150,000 per year.

Over $50,000,000 in modern plants and equipment to build the finest of fine cars.

One of these cars, built in 1918, has run 475,000 miles. That means 80 years of ordinary service. In December this car made the trip from coast to coast.
