HALF MILLION DOLLAR LOSS IS RECORDED

FIVE STORES AND BANK SWEEP IN SALEM, OHIO.

(By The Associated Press.) Evansville, Ind., Feb. 23—The Kelsay-Burns Milling Company, formerly the Akin Erskine Milling Company, one of the largest mills of its kind in the central states was completely destroyed by fire tonight.

The loss will reach a half million dollar mark to the mill alone and the surrounding property, within a three block radius, suffered an additional $25,000 loss, through destruction and damage by water caused when firemen were forced to direct their efforts upon it to prevent the entire city being gutted.

Three Hour Fight. Firemen fought the blaze for three hours before it was placed under control. More than 30,000 persons were attracted to the blaze which could be seen for a radius of five miles. Falling walls and explosions from within the plant handicapped firemen.

BIG OHIO BLAZE. Salem, O., Feb. 24—Flames early today were sweeping almost the whole Salem business district, while fire departments from Alliance and Columbia aided the local departments.

The fire started after nine last night. At 1 o'clock this morning five stores on Broadway, in the heart of the city, had been destroyed and the First National Bank was in the path of the flames.

DISMISS SUIT FOR WASTE IN WAR TIME CAMP

(By The Associated Press.) San Antonio, Tex., Feb. 23—The government's $2,000,000 suit against Stone and Webster, involving claim for damages for alleged war time waste in building Camp Travis at San Antonio was dismissed by Federal Judge Duval West today. Dismissal was on the grounds that the government's allegations of gross negligence and waste were general in character and did not name any specific case.

Movie Actor And Wife Near Death From Sleep Dope

(By The Associated Press.) Vienna, Feb. 23—Max Linder, noted mugging picture actor, and his wife, who were found in a hotel room this morning in what was at first believed to be a drug condition from an overdose of a sleeping powder, are rapidly recovering.

Claims Fall Promised To Advertise Leases

Oklahoma Senator Flays "Dark Corner" Deal

(By The Associated Press.) Oklahoma City, Okla., Feb. 23—Albert B. Fall, former secretary of the interior, made a "definite promise" to Senator J. W. Harrell, Republican, Oklahoma, not to effect an oil lease without first giving public notice of his intention, Senator Harrell told a meeting of the Republican state committee here today. After this promise Senator Harrell said, "the deal was pulled off in a dark corner."

Senator Harrell's statement caused something of a stir because it was said to be the first public intimation that the former Secretary Fall had promised to give public notice before he contracted the Teapot Dome or any other oil lease.

Explains His Vote. The Oklahoma senator justified his action in voting for the senate resolution asking the resignation of Edwin Denby as secretary of the navy by declaring "knowing, as I did, the facts, I could not vote any other way without putting the stamp of my approval on the most crooked deal in recent American history. Denby's usefulness as a public official was at an end."

In explaining how he obtained Mr. Fall's promise, Senator Harrell said that in April, 1921, he had protested to the late President Harding against the plan of Fall and Denby to have the naval oil reserves taken from under the supervision of the navy department and transferred to the interior department.

GOT $100,000 AND $900,000 IS CONTINGENT

Resents Bringing Oil Practice Into Politics

(By The Associated Press.) Los Angeles, Cal., Feb. 23—William G. McAdoo, candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination, declared today that his law firm would have received a fee of 5,000,000 from the Doherty interests if its negotiations in the Doherty Company's Mexican affairs had been successful.

McAdoo made this statement in a telegram to the New York World, replying to a telegram from the World, in which he said it was asserted he had not been fully cross-examined at his recent appearance before the senate oil leasing investigation committee.

He pointed out that his law firm had accepted a fee of $100,000 from the Doherty interests for its work in the Mexican negotiations and expected that there would have been an additional fee of $900,000 if my firm had succeeded in getting a satisfactory settlement for the Doherty company in Mexico.

The former secretary of the treasury said that if a congressional committee would start an investigation of the private business connections of all presidential candidates he would be glad to submit himself unreservedly to such an inquiry. He assailed what he termed "a continued effort to make my private law practice a political issue," and declared:

"The matter of my employment in connection with Mexican affairs by the Doherty companies already has been covered in my testimony before the senate committee. This matter has nothing whatever to do with the naval oil leases under investigation by the senate."

Spain Resents Criticism Made By Professors

(By The Associated Press.) Madrid, Feb. 23—General Primo-Rivera, president of the military directorate, in an official note today declares that the government cannot and will not countenance any criticism by college professors made outside their classrooms. The announcement followed a warning sent by the government to Dr. Luis Jimenez de Asua, professor of penal law in the University of Madrid, against further criticism delivered by him against the conduct of the military directorate.

The note says that, while the government permits freedom of speech and the independence and sovereignty of university teachers providing they keep within the subject matter of their teachings, nevertheless the government will repress any extraneous statements with all forces at its command.

"Extraneous speech by auto-intellectuals," adds the note, "must not disturb the lives of Spanish citizens and suffocate discipline without which the nation would sink into chaos."

YANKS PAY TRIBUTE TO PORTO RICAN

(By The Associated Press.) An Juan, Feb. 23—Admiral Koonitz, Vice Admiral Wiley and 100 officers of the American navy, together with one hundred American editors and publishers, today marched from Villa Suiza, the summer home of Senator Giorgetti, where they were the guests of the government at luncheon, to the village of Baranquitas to pay tribute at the tomb of Luis Munoz-Rivera, the Porto Rican patriot. Admiral Koonitz laid a wreath on the tomb.

Munoz-Rivera died in 1916 while resident commissioner of Porto Rico at Washington. Senator Hernandez Lopez, in a eulogy at the tomb, said that the spirit of Munoz was present to witness and to join in the welcome to the officers and newspaper representatives, who could see for themselves the development of the island and the capacity of Porto Ricans to govern themselves, for which aims Munoz had struggled.

CHECKING UP ON TELEGRAMS, PHONE CALLS

BANK RECORDS ALSO TO BE SOUGHT NEXT WEEK.

(By The Associated Press.) Washington, Feb. 23—A thorough investigation as to what communication administration officials may have had with persons in the oil scandal was determined today by Democrats on the oil committee.

C. Bascom Slem, secretary to President Coolidge, who accepted an invitation today of Senator Walsh, of Montana, to appear before the committee Monday, will be the first witness in this line of inquiry.

H. F. Taff, Washington manager of the Western Union Telegraph Company, and Thomas P. Dowd, Washington manager of the Postal Telegraph Company, will be additional witnesses. Subpoenas were issued for them today.

They will be required to present copies of any telegrams which were sent from Washington to Albert B. Fall and Edward B. McLean, publisher of the Washington Post, at Palm Beach, Fla., between December 20, 1923, and January 20, 1924.

Checking Up Exchanges. Copies of telegrams sent to Fall at New Orleans also will be called for and in addition records of any long distance telephone calls made by government officials to Palm Beach while Fall and McLean were there may be sought.

It was on January 9 that Senator Walsh left Washington for the Florida resort with authority from the oil committee to question McLean as to his statement transmitted to the committee by telegraph, that he had loaned Fall $100,000. Fall then was at Palm Beach, and conferred several times with McLean.

Secretary Slem went to Palm Beach for a vacation on December 22, and returned here January 12. Some members of the committee want to know what conversations, if any, he had with either Fall or McLean during his stay and also whether he has communicated with any other persons mentioned in the oil scandal since that time.

The Doherty Conference. These committee members also desire to ascertain whether any individual members of the oil committee had any communication with the former interior secretary while he was at either Palm Beach or New Orleans, where he conferred with E. L. Doherty and learned that Doherty was coming to Washington to testify that he loaned Fall $100,000.

Although Fall had informed the committee that Fall obtained the $100,000 from him, McLean when placed under oath by Senator Walsh, testified that he had given the one-time secretary checks aggregating $100,000, but that these had been returned to him uncashed with the explanation that Fall had arranged to obtain the funds from another source.

Can't Find Stubs. The Washington publisher was unable to produce the stubs of the checks and it is to inquire further into this transaction that Senator Walsh caused subpoenas to be issued today for officials of the Federal Reserve and Commercial National Banks of Washington. McLean said the checks had been drawn on one of the other of the banks.

Charles B. Lyddane, vice president of the Federal-American and J. H. Baden, vice president of the Commercial National, will be questioned by the committee Monday, at which time the public hearings will be re-opened.

On the same day the committee plans to examine Milton E. Ailes, president of the Briggs National Bank of Washington, for whom a formal subpoena was issued today. He will be asked concerning any unusual cash transactions through that bank and which might have connection with various rumors relating to the oil scandal.

Past Commander Of G. A. R. Dies

(By The Associated Press.) Los Angeles, Feb. 23—General C. E. Adams, past commander in chief of the Grand Army of the Republic, dropped dead at his home here today. He was elected head of the G. A. R., in 1913, holding office one year.

I SHOULD WORRY

(By NEA Service.) New York, Feb. 23—Notice the lines of deep worry on the features of Harry F. Sinclair? Yes, you do! When the oil magnate, whose name has been lifted into considerable fame through the boiling over of the tempest in Teapot Dome, returned to New York from Europe he would give interviewers only grunts in answer to their questions. But for the ship news photographers he put on his best Sunday-go-to-meeth smile. It seemed to say, "What do I care if the Senate investigators call me again?"

THREE MEMBERS OF COUNCIL TO BE CANDIDATES

Hanrahan, Cotton And Burns Make Formal Announcements.

(By The Associated Press.) W. J. Hanrahan, Dr. G. A. Cotton and Clyde J. Burns, members of the Escanaba city council whose terms expire this spring, yesterday, in a joint statement, announced their decision to seek reelection.

"We are proud to rest our candidacies upon the record of achievements of the administration of which we have had the honor to be a part," the statement says. It calls attention to the fact that sufficient time has not been given the council to complete the extension and progressive program framed when the council was elected two years ago, and it pledges the same high type of service the men have given in the past.

All Are Prominent. The three councilmen are so well known to voters of Escanaba that it is not necessary to review their records in private business and public affairs. They represent three distinct lines of endeavor. Mr. Hanrahan is a successful retailer; Dr. Cotton a dentist of wide practice, and Mr. Burns a hotel proprietor who has been especially trained in accounting.

Their joint statement, addressed "To the Voters of Escanaba," follows:

"Two years ago the citizens of Escanaba voted to change from aldermanic to council-manager government and elected five commissioners, at large, who were pledged to carry modern business methods into the various municipal departments. We are fortunate enough to be members of that council.

"The council immediately embarked upon an extensive program of civic improvements and expansion. Under this program many things have been accomplished. Escanaba has progressed. Some portions of it remain to be completed, however, for it would have been impossible for any group of men to finish such a tremendous task in so limited a period of time.

"Each of the undersigned had determined, at first, to retire at the conclusion of their present terms. We did not feel that we should take from our various business activities any more of the time which the office of councilman demands. But so many men, prominent in all walks of life, have insisted that for the best interest of Escanaba and the furtherance of the program we assisted in establishing, we should consent to become candidates for reelection. Therefore, we have decided again to offer our services to the people.

Let Record Speak. "We are proud to rest our candidacies upon the record of achievements of the administration of which we have the honor to be a part. When we are returned to the council at the election, April 7, we shall continue to devote all of the energy we have, backed by the experience of the past two years, to the task of making Escanaba a bigger, better and more progressive city.

"We respectfully solicit your support.

"W. J. HANRAHAN, "G. A. COTTON, "C. J. BURNS."

What Congress Did Yesterday

(By The Associated Press.) The house defeated an excess profits tax amendment to the revenue bill.

C. Bascom Slem, secretary to President Coolidge, agreed to appear before the senate oil committee Monday.

Senator Robinson, Democrat, Arkansas, defended Republican senators who have urged the resignation of Attorney General Daugherty, and Senator Borah, Republican, Idaho, declared that he was willing to help lay the foundation for impeachment proceedings.

The senate judiciary committee ordered a favorable report on a constitutional amendment for inauguration of presidents the third Monday in January.

DAUGHERTY TO EMULATE THE TURNING WORM

FIXING TO SQUIRT POISON BACK AT HIS TRADUCERS.

(By DAVID LAWRENCE. Copyright 1924, by the Escanaba Press.) Washington, Feb. 23.—Attorney General Daugherty will not retire without a fight and perhaps before he gets through he will blast some of the reputations of the men attacking him.

Unlike Secretary Denby of the Navy Department, who withdrew without presenting his side of the case in a public hearing, the attorney general insists that it is his constitutional privilege to be heard. And in that view President Coolidge concurs just as he did in the case of Mr. Denby. The secretary of the navy, however, yielded to the persuasive arguments of his friends that he was embarrassing the president and the republican party by remaining in the cabinet.

Considerable resentment has been shown by the friends of the attorney general that Senator Lodge and Senator Pepper should be advocating a resignation without a hearing. The argument of Messrs. Lodge and Pepper, however, is that the attorney general and a hearing, simply gives the democrats the opportunity to keep the Teapot Dome controversy at the front pages of the newspapers indefinitely and thus force the republican party to the defensive.

Keen Politician. The attorney general is a keen politician himself and knows that his resignation would not end the controversy, but would simply give the democrats confirmation of their charges. He thinks it would be a confession of guilt when he insists he has done nothing wrong and that a hearing and investigation will prove he has been innocent.

If the republican leaders could persuade their democratic brethren to keep quiet after Mr. Daugherty resigns there might be a political value in his retirement, according to the attorney general's friends; but the democrats have no intention of letting the Teapot Dome scandal slumber. They intend to keep on talking about it from now until election day next November. It has become the paramount issue of the campaign.

Mr. Daugherty thinks therefore the time has come to turn on those who have been accusing him and make a fight. If he can prove he has not been connected with the oil leases and if he shows that the charges against him are baseless, he will have impaired the democratic case so far as members of the present administration are concerned, for neither Mr. Fall nor Mr. Denby are any longer responsible to the president and are not a part of the government in any sense.

President's Position. The president's part in the discussions that have arisen inside the republican party about the wisdom of calling for Mr. Daugherty's resignation, has been judicial. He feels strongly that nobody should be condemned without a hearing. He felt that way about Secretary Denby and would have preferred that the latter remain until he had presented his

Girl's Whim Is Factor In Case Of Identifying

(By The Associated Press.) Battle Creek, Mich., Feb. 23—The whim of a high school girl in permitting a young man to wear her class ring, resulted in the identification of the person who met death here shortly before noon beneath a Grand Trunk train as Max Maurer, 21, of Bellevue. The coroner found a class ring with the words "Schoolcraft H. S. '23" embossed upon it. On the inside were the initials "L. B." A deputy sheriff, Schoolcraft, found the ring to have once been the property of Lois Bates who disclosed the name of the man whom she had permitted to wear it. Identification followed.

Albanian Premier Target For Bullet Of An Assassin

(By The Associated Press.) Sofia, Feb. 23—An attempt was made today against the life of the Albanian premier. While the premier was passing through a corridor of the hall where the assembly was sitting a student shot him, according to a dispatch from Tirana. The premier is reported not to have been seriously injured.

Revenue Bill Withstands All Assaults In The House

UNIVERSITY IS REFLEX OF HOME

Prof. Burton Touches High Spots In Annual Report.

(By The Associated Press.)
 Ann Arbor, Mich., Feb. 23.—The American University of today reflects the American home; in consequence, the student of today as treated intellectually as a boy, and socially as a man.
 This was one of the emphatic points in the annual report of President Marion L. Burton to the Board of Regents of the University of Michigan today.
 "When the American home life changes, the universities will change," Dr. Burton said. "In the last analysis our universities will reflect the standards of American civilization. When the average community honors learning and scholarship, the universities will thrive. When the boys and girls come from homes where music and art and culture are among the abiding values of life, then we shall have less difficulty in finding and developing the vital factor in University life."
 "It is not the conclusions that we hammer out in hard logic that dominate life; it is our instinctive assumptions and our almost sub-conscious inferences that rule us."
 "Today in the average home in America the unquestioned motive is the amassing of money. The ideal man in America today is the powerful executive, the organizing genius, the business magnate, the dominating financier. Now America needs him and must have him. But can there not be room for the poet, the author, the scientist, the college professor, the research worker? Cannot American youths grow up understanding that these men are highly valuable to civilization and, to speak boldly, a credit to the family that rears one? When the public sends its students nurtured in a background of this kind, we shall find it more possible to develop the vital factor in University life."
 "We want this institution to be a place where students actually, for the mere joy of it, find themselves constantly at home with the best things in the world."
 "When that day comes, universities, for some of the students at least, will be completely reorganized. Strange, is it not, that our institutions of higher learning are such places of bondage? But consider our rules, regulations, requirements, limitations, fetid guards of scholarship and rigid bonds of learning. The student, by virtue of existing traditions, and perhaps because of the prevailing organization of the entire educational system in America, in reality, in spite of what we may say or aim to do, is treated intellectually as a boy and socially as a man."
 "There are American students who realize all this. They crave the privilege of attempting to be scholars. They are not talking much about it for today it is not good form. But some day we shall give a few at least, the opportunity of making a different approach to learning. We shall actually believe the groping mind is a free mind. We shall then see it working at its best and all the time."
 "We may make attendance at classes in the upper years entirely optional for those who have given proof, not merely in marks, that they have mental capacity and serious intellectual interests."

560 PRISONERS SEEK FREEDOM

Their Fate Rests Upon Report Of Two Men.

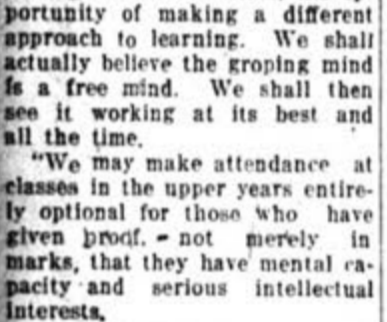

(By The Associated Press.)
 Leavenworth, Kans., Feb. 23.—The hopes for early freedom of approximately 560 military prisoners in various United States penitentiaries rests largely with Major Frank Ross and Major James Stansfield, members of the special clemency board who continued their hearing at the federal penitentiary here today. The board will make its recommendations for possible commutations and remissions of sentences direct to the war department.
 Speeding up their work, the army officers today reviewed the cases of 42 men, including the remaining 32 Houston rioters. The first seven overseas soldiers were reached late today. The hearings yesterday and today were conducted behind closed doors and no information as to the individual cases was given out.
 The work of the clemency board, it was pointed out, should not be construed as forecasting blanket clemency. Some of the military prisoners, it was said, could expect little mercy, because of the nature of their crimes or because of their prison records. Confirmed records of the majority have been excellent, prison officials said.
 The eighty-four soldiers in the federal prison here, who are serving life sentences, hope for eventual freedom through commutation of sentences to fifteen years or more. A life term under the rules, does not become eligible for parole until he has served fifteen years. Those serving a definite number of years are eligible for parole upon completion of one-third of their term. Majors Ross and Stansfield have indicated a sympathetic attitude in hearing pleas of prisoners but have asserted they would consider each case on its merits.
 One of the most noted military prisoners in the United States disciplinary barracks at Fort Leavenworth is John A. H. Gale, former publisher of a socialist magazine in New York. He was sentenced to serve ten years for desertion from the army and for use of contemptuous language against the president. He has served 2 1/2 years. Altogether the board plans to consider the cases of 223 men in the federal penitentiary here and 236 in the disciplinary barracks. Ninety cases were reviewed at Atlanta and about ten are to be heard at Fort Jay, New York.

Johnson Men In Ohio Make Second Choice Of Ickes

(By The Associated Press.)

Cleveland, O., Feb. 23.—At a meeting here today of Ohio delegates favorable to the candidacy of Senator Hiram W. Johnson, announced it was made that Harold L. Ickes, of Chicago, manager of the Johnson campaign in Illinois, was the choice after Mr. Johnson.
 The selection of Mr. Ickes was announced in compliance with the Ohio law requiring that delegates to a national political convention have a first and second choice candidate.

GOOD MANNERS

Where there is a guest of honor, like a wedding, coronation, and so on, every guest should make it a point to meet the guest of honor. It is extremely rude to have been invited to such an affair and then leave without having been introduced to the main attraction.

Senate Fight On Daugherty Is Being Backed By Bill Borah

(By The Associated Press.)

Washington, Feb. 23.—The fight to oust Attorney General Daugherty, which has proceeded in private conferences for several days among Republican leaders, today again broke openly in the senate.
 Senator Borah, Republican, Idaho, and Senator Robinson, of Arkansas, the Democratic floor leader, joined in an attack on Mr. Daugherty, agreeing that all responsibility for his remaining in the cabinet must be assumed by President Coolidge. Mr. Borah added that he was prepared to "join with anyone in laying a foundation for impeachment proceedings."
 The senate flare-up was the only open development today in the fight on the attorney general. Next Monday when the senate reconvenes the plan for a committee investigation of Mr. Daugherty and the department of justice will be renewed. The leaders agree that the resolution of inquiry of Senator Wheeler, Democrat, Montana, will ultimately be adopted but it is uncertain whether it can be brought to a vote on Monday.

 Long Discussion Probable. Immediate action on the resolution under senate rules, would require unanimous consent and this probably will be denied, causing the delay of a vote until Tuesday or even later if extensive debate should develop. Considerable discussion is regarded as not improbable, inasmuch as the friends of Mr. Daugherty are in a more combative mood since Chairman Adams of the Republican national committee gave his support publicly to the position taken by the attorney general. Controversy in senate consideration of the Wheeler resolution promises to revolve about the clause for selecting the investigating committee personnel. Virtually all Republican leaders are united in opposition to it as drawn.

Robinson Opens Ball

Senate discussion today of Mr. Daugherty was opened by Senator Robinson who criticized Chairman Adams' statement opposing the registration of the attorney general. Declaring that Mr. Adams was seeking to confuse the issue by making both the Daugherty case and the oil scandal appear to be political in character, Senator Robinson reiterated that Mr. Daugherty had lost public confidence and ought to be replaced. With thousands of federal secret service operatives at his command, Mr. Daugherty, he argued, could hamper and embarrass the proposed senate inquiry.

Senator Borah, Declared That Mr. Daugherty Should Resign Immediately "In the Public Interest"

Senator Borah, declared that Mr. Daugherty should resign immediately "in the public interest." This the Idaho senator said, required a personal sacrifice by Mr. Daugherty in order that the public might have confidence in the head of the department charged with responsibility for action not only in the oil cases but in matters relating to the veterans and other bureaus.
 Stiff Fight Seen. There are many indications today of a stiff fight in the launching of the investigation under the Wheeler resolution. Senator Wheeler and his associates were busy collecting ammunition, while the attorney general also was reported to be preparing for the expected assaults.
 Some Republican leaders hoped that action by Mr. Daugherty might at the eleventh hour avoid that open contest, under the belief that Senator Wheeler would be content to drop his resolution should Mr. Daugherty in the meantime resign. The attorney general gave no indication of any change in his position and there was no sign of further immediate developments from the White House.
 Republican senate leaders who have advised President Coolidge of their belief that in the general interest the attorney general should offer his resignation also appeared content to let the matter rest in the hands of the president and Mr. Daugherty, and allowed events to take their evident course so far as the senate is concerned.

Substitute On Michigan Quint Benches Captain

Ann Arbor, Mich., Feb. 23.—Royal "Red" Cherry is a sophomore student at the University of Michigan. He is also a basketball player. And a good one, at that. In fact, Cherry has this season pulled the unique in Maize and Blue court play.
 When Cherry reported for basketball practice last fall he didn't have much of a chance apparently to gain a regular berth. For Michigan had practically an entire team of "M" wearers. But he did size up as good second-string material. And in the pre-Big Ten games that's just what the sore-topped cager was—a substitute.
 Then came the opening of the Western Conference season. Illinois was the opposition. A tough opponent, too. In the first half of the tilt a speedy little fellow named Potter time and again broke away from the slower-footed Captain Birks of Michigan and potted the ball in the net. Frankly, the Sucker forward simply made a sucker out of the lanky leader of the Wolverines.
 And then—Coach Mather of the Wolverines sprang a huge surprise. He sent Birks to the bench and trotted out Cherry in his stead. Strangely enough, with Cherry in the battle front, the scoring proclivities of the brilliant Potter quickly stopped. One lone field goal was all that the Urbans had got during the remainder of the fracas. And all because of Cherry. Nothing else. Cherry's stellar performance earned him a regular berth on the Michigan quintet.
 As for Captain Birks—three seasons a member of Michigan court aggregations—well, he appears to be destined to watch most of the games from a seat on the bench. Harry Kipke will pilot the outfit when Birks is not on the floor.
 Many of the Scottish lochs are astonishingly deep, the depth of one Loch Maree being known to exceed 1,490 feet.

BONUS ACTION TO FOLLOW UP THE TAX BILL

(By The Associated Press.)
 Washington, Feb. 23.—Assurance was long today by Representative Longworth, the Republican leader, that the house would have an opportunity shortly to vote on a soldiers' bonus bill.
 This assurance was given to a group of house members who are former service men, when they called on the party leader to urge quick action by the ways and means committee on bonus legislation and immediate vote by the house after a bill is reported.
 Mr. Longworth said the committee, as instructed by a Republican party conference, would take up the bonus bill as soon as the house disposes of the pending tax measure. Little time, he said, should be needed for the committee to act and after a bill is reported it will be given priority on the House legislative calendar.
 After passage of the tax bill and while the ways and means committee is considering the bonus, Republican leaders plan to have the house dispose of the navy appropriation bill and legislation authorizing acceptance of Henry Ford's bid for Muscle Shoals.

FINAL VOTE TO BE TAKEN LATE IN COMING WEEK

Determined Effort To Throw Out Democratic Schedule.

(By The Associated Press.)
 Washington, Feb. 23.—The revenue bill withstood successfully all assaults in the house today, the most determined attack in the form of an amendment proposing a restoration of the excess profits tax, being defeated 157 to 74.
 A stubborn fight for the amendment which would have re-enacted the law repealed in 1921 with slightly different rates so prolonged consideration of the measure that leaders predicted a final vote on it could not now be expected before the latter part of next week.
 Representative Frear, Republican insurgent, Wisconsin, submitted the amendment and was supported in debate by Representative Oldfield, Democrat, Arkansas. Democrats divided on the question, only about half of those present voting with the Republican insurgents for it.
 The estate tax section was then taken up but with another fight impending for increase of these rates, final consideration of it was put over until Monday.
 Fight Democratic Schedule. Plans of Republican organization leaders for an attempt they contemplate to throw out the Democratic income rate schedule in the bill when it comes up for a final vote were further complicated today, by a development which it was feared might lessen the probabilities of several insurgent Republicans joining at that time with the party organization on the vote for a compromise between the Mellon and Garner plans.
 Representative Laguardia, Republican insurgent, New York, who had asked Secretary Mellon for his views on a compromise schedule providing for a forty per cent surtax rate and a normal rate of five per cent on incomes above $4,000 instead of six per cent as carried in the organization measure, was informed by the Secretary that this plan would not provide sufficient revenue for a bonus. Mr. Laguardia, who voted for the Democratic income rates, had been counted among those expected by the organization to support a compromise.

Woman Faces Imprisonment To Spare Dog From Banishment

(By The Associated Press.)
 Philadelphia, Feb. 23.—Mrs. Emma F. Ware, of this city today startled the United States district court with the announcement she had "changed her mind" regarding a verdict she had helped to return as a juror.
 Yesterday Mrs. Ware signed a verdict in a $150,000 damage suit brought by heirs of four grade crossing victims against the Pennsylvania Railroad, in favor of the railroad company.
 The verdict was reached last night by the jury and sealed, after which the jurors went home. Today when Judge J. Whitaker Thompson broke the seal, Mrs. Ware said she couldn't sleep last night because she believed she voted the wrong way. "I am sorry, but I do not agree with the verdict," she said.
 In view of Mrs. Ware's action Judge Thompson ruled that the original verdict be filed but that counsel for the plaintiffs would be allowed to file a motion to have it set aside.

Santa's Nearest Neighbors Dream of Becoming Great World Port

(By The Associated Press.)
 Washington, Feb. 23.—Point Barrow, Alaska, has its harbors open to shipping only a few weeks each year.
 But it may become a world port of great importance in the race of nations for a new continent and new trade routes over the north pole.
 It is doubtful if the navy's dirigible, "Shenandoah" clears from Point Barrow on its polar flight this summer. But the Navy Planning Board, headed by Rear Admiral Moffett, urges construction of a permanent mooring and supply station at Barrow for use in subsequent aerial trips.
 Difficulties in shipping supplies and erecting mooring masts may cause the "Shenandoah" to fly from Nome toward the pole, rather than from Point Barrow. But if the Planning Board has its way, materials for the permanent equipment may be shipped in August, and the work completed in time for use next summer.
 Point Barrow, 1117 miles from the north pole, is America's northernmost community. It is at the edge of an unexplored arctic area a million square miles in extent.
 The few white persons there—mainly school teachers, traders and missionaries—will mail orders in November, 1924, for the supplies they will use during the winter and spring of 1925-26. The veteran coast guard cutter Bear pays a brief visit as soon as ice permits in August, bringing in the supplies ordered last fall, and possibly unrozes a few weeks some tiny whalers and fur traders' schooners may visit—a big occasion up there.
 But if the government continues its explorations for undiscovered lands in the polar basin—lands of great strategic value to over-the-pole airplanes from Europe to Asia—Point Barrow will give American air expeditions a tremendous advantage. With this point as a refueling base, prolonged cruises will be an easy matter.
 Geographic conditions around Point Barrow are ideal for such a base—but the entire population, 90 per cent Eskimos, would have to be trained to moor the big dirigibles or Uncle Sam would be compelled to maintain the world's farthest north naval base.

WOMAN JUROR CHANGES MIND AFTER VERDICT

(By The Associated Press.)
 Philadelphia, Feb. 23.—Mrs. Emma F. Ware, of this city today startled the United States district court with the announcement she had "changed her mind" regarding a verdict she had helped to return as a juror.
 Yesterday Mrs. Ware signed a verdict in a $150,000 damage suit brought by heirs of four grade crossing victims against the Pennsylvania Railroad, in favor of the railroad company.
 The verdict was reached last night by the jury and sealed, after which the jurors went home. Today when Judge J. Whitaker Thompson broke the seal, Mrs. Ware said she couldn't sleep last night because she believed she voted the wrong way. "I am sorry, but I do not agree with the verdict," she said.
 In view of Mrs. Ware's action Judge Thompson ruled that the original verdict be filed but that counsel for the plaintiffs would be allowed to file a motion to have it set aside.

Blames Legislatures For Cluttering Up Statutes.

(By The Associated Press.)
 Washington, Feb. 23.—The need of the hour in the United States "is not to make law but to enforce law," Secretary Hughes said here tonight before the American Law Institute.
 "We have vindicated the right of self-government," he said. "Are we developing the competency to exercise that right? We lack nothing in initiative, skill and resourcefulness in industry and commerce, ingenuity and adaptation and facilities of communication. We fall down in government, not because we do not have the mechanism of efficient government, but because of ineptness."
 Referring to the growing mass of law and legal opinions in the United States, Mr. Hughes said that in one year there were "175,000 pages of decisions," an average of 12,000 or more statutes, and an average of 13,000 recorded decisions of the highest court.

Too Much Law

"We have liberty under law," Mr. Hughes said. "But under how much law?"
 The secretary of state intended that judges should write their opinions because "the bar knows that the best security of good and faithful work is that the judge must state his reasons."
 "For generations we have talked of the evil of multiplying laws," he said. "Lawyers decry the multiplication in meetings of bar associations and then, sitting in executive halls, do their full share to increase it."
 "The main trouble with the volume of litigation is thus not with the courts but with the legislatures. The evil resides not merely in the number of laws; it is in badly drawn laws. x x x "Perhaps the greatest need of all is the improvement in the administration of the criminal law by certainty in its definition and celerity in its administration. At this moment, when law enforcement is so difficult an adequate and competent criminal administration is more important than ever."
 "The great duty of the hour is not to make law but to enforce law, to establish the fundamentals of security of life and property, and to maintain by enforcement respect for law in our great cities."

ICE HARVEST OF JOHNSON CO. IS COMPLETED

The S. M. Johnson ice company has virtually completed the winter harvest, the usual supply for household consumption having been cut and stored, as well as the cold storage plants of many of the large industrial concerns. There remains but one company, the I. Stephenson, yet to be supplied and then the winter's work will be over. This will take three or four days.
 Mr. Johnson stated last night that the ice was of good quality this year in spite of the fact that although he had gotten a late start yet progress had been rapid and satisfactory once they got under way.

DAUGHERTY TO EMULATE THE TURNING WORM

 case, though there was an awkwardness in that situation arising from the fact that government counsel had decided to attack the validity of the leases made by Mr. Denby jointly with Mr. Fall.
 The attorney general is accused in a general way of being mixed up in the oil lease controversy, though no specific act is charged against him. He is reported to have purchased stocks but there is no proof that he did so with any knowledge obtained through government sources. At any rate, it is said he lost by his transactions and that they were relatively small.
 Fight Is Old. The fight on the attorney general began long before the oil lease irregularities were discovered. There has been a general suspicion on the part of the democrats that because of Mr. Daugherty's previous activity in politics he was not inclined to be as rough on offenders and as vigorous in prosecutions as another attorney general without a political background might have been. The democrats have sought an opportunity to get him out of office but their attack now has become general and they believe that it is to their best interest to hammer away at the administration, forcing prominent members out so that the country will lose confidence in the republican party and turn to the democrats next autumn. Mr. Daugherty thinks the time has come to fight and his determination today was to carry that fight to the senate itself, a position which the president can not very well oppose, for everybody who is accused has the right to a fair trial.
 As for his principal accuser, Senator Burton K. Wheeler of Montana, democrat, Mr. Daugherty happens to have access to the records of the Department of Justice under the democratic administration when Mr. Wheeler was United States attorney in Montana and when there was some interesting correspondence between the department of justice and Mr. Wheeler relative to the latter's alleged failure to prosecute I. W. W.'s who had been accused of anti war activity. Undoubtedly some of these records will be exposed by Mr. Daugherty in an effort to prove that prosecutions were not always followed up even by his accusers.

Foreign Trade Weak

"At all American ports foreign trade has been weak during 1923, but figures show that Southern ports have more than held their own. I am very optimistic as to the future of foreign trade possibilities of Charleston, Jacksonville, Tampa, Pensacola, Mobile, Norfolk to the north, with New Orleans and Galveston to the south and west. Heretofore, the great trade routes have been between New York and Europe. In the future we shall develop new paths for heavy international trade between the South and Europe, and in the Pacific.
 "Construction work of all kinds is very active throughout this entire section. Road building is booming, fertilizer companies are coming back to their former volume of business even though cooperative purchasing by the farmers is reducing profits. Super-power projects are spreading through the entire south as large and small industrial plants are springing up everywhere. Practically every good southern cotton mill is making money."
 "The railroads of the South are looking better than ever before. The Atlantic Coast Line system is now classed as first class. Southern Railway Bonds should be perfectly safe as investment and even the Seaboard which was headed for a receivership two years ago may now pull through."

HRUSKA ELECTED HEAD OF NAHMA LEGION POST

R. A. McClinchy will Be Adjutant for Year 1924.

Nahma, Feb. 23, (Special)—Frank J. Hruska has been elected commander of Mercier Post, American Legion, for the ensuing year. Reports from the membership campaign, presented at the annual business meeting of the Post, showed that the roster of the organization contains the names of virtually all of the former service men in Nahma and a large number from the surrounding villages.

Mr. Hruska, the new commander, has been adjutant during the past year and has proved himself to be a "live wire." Officers and members of the Post are confident that the ensuing year will be a big one for Nahma Legionnaires. Mr. Hruska will appoint his committees at a special meeting to be held Feb. 28.

Russell A. McClinchy succeeds to the position of adjutant and the other new officers follow:

Allen T. Mercier—Vice Commander.
Nelson J. Plude—Finance Officer.
Harry Olmsted—Historian.
Lawrence Wooddell—Chaplain.
Frank Kousbaugh—Sergeant-at-arms.
Russell A. McClinchy—Service Officer.
Edward Mercier—Americanization Officer.

Confidence that Delta county's quota of 20 men for the Citizens Military Training Camp at Battle Creek during August and a part of September, would be filled many weeks ahead of the "deadline" date set by the government, was expressed yesterday by A. J. Young, chairman of the county C. M. T. C. committee.

Mr. Young has named the following associate committeemen: Escanaba—J. P. Norton and W. A. Lemire.

Gladstone—Phil Hupy and J. P. Bushong.

Bark River—Carl Husa.

Rapid River—W. J. Miller.

Nahma—J. P. Cameron.

Garden—Walter Stelwagon.

The camp offers five weeks outing and military life, with all expenses including transportation, paid by the government to a limited number of men between the ages of 17 and 25. Since it is probable that there will be more applications from Delta county than can be admitted, it will be advisable for men who expect or desire to enter the camp to get in touch immediately with the nearest member of the committee. Mr. Young pointed out.

1848—Louis Philippe of France abdicated in favor of his infant grandson, the Count of Paris.

DEBATE OFFERED WEAF'S LISTENERS.

A debate on the subject, "Resolved that the Coal Miners Shall Receive More Wages," will be conducted before WEAF's microphone by Mrs. George E. Owens, President of the Government Club on the afternoon of March 3 at 2:30 p. m. It was under the same auspices that the famous Wheeler Gillett debate on "Should the Volstead Act Be Repealed" was broadcast. This interesting event elicited thousands of votes from the radio audience. Representative speakers have been invited by Mrs. Owens to conduct the second debate before the microphone.

GLEE CLUB MONDAY.

Playing under the direction of George H. Gartlan, the Friendly Sons of St. Patrick's Glee Club will offer a program to WEAF's audience from the Hotel Astor on Monday evening. The soloists are John Finnegan, tenor, and Joseph P. Donnelly, baritone, with Joseph P. Donnelly and Hector McCarthy as accompanist. A string quartet consisting of Meyer Pollock, first violin, Emanuel Moses, second violin, Andre Chambellan, viola and Oliver Edell, cello, will render the sup-

Reading a good book with a Heidelberg, the Sorbonne, or any other famous foreign university—by radio. Classes are being planned for broadcasting English and other instruction on power sufficient to transmit the lectures across the Atlantic.

ENGINEERS TO REACH ESCANABA THIS WEEK

Engineers on the staff of Hoad & Decker, Ann Arbor engineers who are to make a water and sanitary survey for the city of Escanaba, will arrive in the city sometime this week to begin their investigations. The purpose, primarily, will be to find a method of removing the unsavory creosote flavor from the city water, but the investigation also will cover the water supply and sanitary situation here in general.

OBITUARY

JACOB BERRINGER. Word of the sudden death of Jacob Berringer, 67, a well known resident of this city, who has been visiting for the past month in Chicago and Painesdale, was received by friends of the deceased here yesterday.

Berringer is well known to a great number of Escanaba people and his sudden death in Chicago Saturday morning was a great shock to them. He is a stone mason by trade and since the death of his wife several years ago has been making his home with Mr. and Mrs. John Shortz, 303 N. 18th St.

The body will be shipped to this city and is expected to arrive here Monday, and will be taken to the Allou Funeral Home. Funeral services will be conducted from St. Joseph's church Tuesday morning at 9:00 o'clock, the Rev. Fr. Bertram officiating.

Mr. Berringer is survived by two step daughters and a step son: Michael Decker of Chicago, Mrs. Joseph Dault of Rhineland and Mrs. Kate Poole of Minneapolis.

NOTICE

Evangelist A. L. Beasley will refute Sunday night, at the Seventh Day Adventist church, the seventeen "HARD NUTS" which have been circulated by Rev. Lund, pastor of the Swedish Lutheran church. The seventeen "Hard Nuts" which Evangelist Beasley will crack, and of which he declares is akin to many such tracts, published by Anti-Sabbatarians, and circulated for the purpose of "exploding" Adventism, will receive its death warrant and be consigned to the silent chambers of the tomb.

He will also disprove the unwarranted and misapprehensive remarks that Mr. Lund is circulating around. 8725-55-11

Are We Extravagant? Here are some costs on Studebaker cars— Would you have us cut them down?

WE are lavish on Studebaker cars. For some features we pay three and four times what they need cost. Here are some of those costs which affect you. Tell us—would you want any one reduced? Our prices on high-grade Sixes run from $975 to $2685. They stand at bottom in the fine-car field, despite these extra costs. All because the demand requires 150,000 cars per year. But they could be lower if we cut these costs. Would you have us do it?

Engineering—$500,000 Our engineering departments cost us $500,000 yearly. Our Department of Research and Experiment employs 125 skilled men. It spends vast sums in analyses and tests. Our Bureau of Methods and Standards fixes every formula, every requirement. It makes 500,000 tests per year to maintain our high standards.

We make 30,000 inspections on every Studebaker car during manufacture before it goes out of the factory. We employ 1,200 men to do that. Those are heavy costs. But remember how they are divided—by 150,000 cars per year. They form but a trifle per car.

$50,000,000 in plants We have invested $50,000,000 in modern plants and equipment. $8,000,000 in drop forge plants. $10,000,000 in body plants—as the only way to do Studebaker coach work. These plants are equipped with 12,500 up-to-date machines, many of them very expensive. But consider the alternative. Profits to other makers. We save up to $200 on some bodies by building them ourselves.

15% extra on steel On some steels we pay a bonus of 15% to the maker. Just to get our formulas exact. We could save that extra on "commercial runs." We machine the entire surface of crank shafts, as was done on Liberty Airplane Motors. The extra cost is $600,000 per year. But the results are that perfect balance, that absence of vibration. Every Studebaker car is Timken-equipped. The Special-Six and the Big-Six have more Timken bearings than any car selling under $5,600 in America. The Light-Six more than any competitive car within $1,200 of its price.

Don't Buy a Fine Car until you see the leaders Studebakers hold the top place in the fine-car field today. Last year, 145,000 people chose them against all rivals. They paid $200,000,000 for them. For 72 years the Studebaker name has stood for the utmost in quality. It will never stand for less. Today there are assets of $90,000,000 staked on the Studebaker cars. Don't pay $1,000 or more for a car without knowing what Studebaker offers. You will find here some scores of advantages. Learn what they mean to you.

Other costly extras Our bodies are finished with 18 operations, including 15 coats of paint and varnish. We use real leather upholstery. The cost is about $25 per car over imitation leather. That Chase Mohair upholstery in closed cars is made from the soft fleece of Angora goats. A velour or worsted upholstery would save us up to $100 per car.

The many extras on our large closed cars would cost much if you bought them. The nickel-plated bumpers, the extra disc wheels and cord tires, the steel trunk, the courtesy light, etc. We pay the highest labor scale. Then we add extras to it. Men who are with us five years or over get 10% of their year's wages in an anniversary check. Those anniversary checks last year cost us $1,300,000. After two years all employees get a week of vacation with pay. That cost us last year $225,000. Old employees who retire get pensions. Our co-operative department costs us $2,000,000 per year. All this to keep men with us while they grow more and more efficient. To make them happy, so they do their best. This is all paid by people who buy Studebaker cars. But we figure that each such dollar saves us five dollars. Don't you agree with us? The utmost in car value The object is to give you the utmost in car value. You will find we do that if you make comparisons. In any Studebaker model, you will find scores of ways in which it excels any rival car. That is why, in the fine-car field, the Studebaker leads. The demand has almost trebled in the past three years. These cars have become the sensation of Motordom. On some of these models we have never yet been able to meet the demand. We spend money lavishly. We build without regard to cost. But, in our quantity production, we still bring costs to bottom. You should learn what these things mean to you before you buy a car.

Purdue Defeats Michigan 24-20

MAIZE AND BLUE IS DEFEATED BY NARROW MARGIN

Game Is Eleven All At End Of First Half.

(By The Associated Press.)
Lafayette, Ind., Feb. 23.—Purdue defeated Michigan 24 to 20 in a western conference game here tonight and thereby got revenge for the defeat sustained at the hands of the Maize and Blue last week.

With both teams anxious to improve their positions in the conference standing, play was fast and furious throughout, and the lead alternated several times during the contest. The score was tied at 11 all at the close of the first half.

Michigan forged into the lead with a burst of speed at the start of the second half and ran up a 17 to 13 advantage. Spradling, Robbins and Taube, at this point, however, did some timely work and gave Purdue a lead which never was lost.

Michigan made desperate efforts to score in the closing minutes of the game by shooting from all parts of the court. The Bollermaker guards, however, kept the Michigan players well away from the basket and the long shots went wide.

Spradling with three field goals and four points, from the free throw, and Robbins with four field goals were the individual stars for Purdue. Haggerty led the Michigan scoring with 3 field goals and 1 free throw. The lineup and summary: Purdue (24) P Michigan (20) Spradling — RF — Haggerty Tavis — LF — Henderson Gullen — C — Doyle Robbins — RG — Deng Wellman — LG — Kipke Field Goals: Spradling 3; Robbins 4; Taube (sub for Tavis) 1; Wellman 1; Haggerty 3; Henderson 2; Doyle 2; Kipke 1. Foul Goals: Spradling 4; Taube 2; Haggerty 1; Henderson 1; Doyle 1; Kipke 1. Referee: Kearns.

Kalamazoo Offers Record Purse In Grand Circuit

(By The Associated Press.)
Kalamazoo, Mich., Feb. 23.—Kalamazoo will out-distance all other cities on the grand circuit this year offering $57,000 in early closing purses for the five day meeting at Recreation Park, July 21-25 inclusive. This amount includes the $25,000 American racing derby for 2:08 performers, which is already closed with 43 nominations. Two $10,000 purses also are offered. In addition to the $57,000 for the early closing events the local association will offer $15,000 in late closing purses bringing the total up to $72,000, which is a new record for a five day meet on the big circuit.

Lions Club Dog Races Provide Great Sport For Large Crowd

Thirty dogs engaged in six races and a couple of hundred fights yesterday afternoon in the annual Lions Club Dog Races. The event proved to be the big success that had been predicted for it and a large crowd witnessed the sport.

There were collie dogs, hound dogs, common shepherd dogs, a bull dog or two and several "too late to classify" and they furnished a lively program which was thrilling for the crowd and for the youthful drivers as well.

Girl Is Favorite. The day was ideal, the program well arranged and the course in excellent condition. The dogs were started at the corner of South First avenue and South 10th street and ran eastward two blocks to Eighth street. In the entry list were names of a number of out-of-town lads. One girl, Miss Catherine Connelly, of Escanaba, participated.

DEMPSEY HITS THE BIG TOWN WITH PLANS

Gibbons Match In June Is The First Consideration

(By The Associated Press.)
New York, Feb. 23.—Plans for the 1924 heavyweight boxing program are expected to take definite shape next week as a result of the arrival in New York today of Jack Dempsey, the title holder, accompanied by his manager, Jack Kearns. Kearns said tonight he expected to resume, early next week, conferences with Tex Rickard on the prospective return match with Tommy Gibbons, who already has accepted the promoter's terms for a match here early in June. Kearns also expects to discuss details of a return match with Luis Angel Firpo or a bout with the winner of the prospective Firpo-Harry Wills contest, which may take place in July. Providing Dempsey succeeded in dislodging Gibbons, his second match would take place in September. If it is staged, however, the Firpo-Wills encounter probably will not be promoted by the New York syndicate headed by Lew Raymond. Raymond had obtained tentative agreement of both fighters to terms involving a half million dollar purse, but his withdrawal, forecast as a result of a deadlock, with Firpo over the place of deposit of a $50,000 preliminary forfeit may take place definitely within a day or two.

TWO HOT ONES IN SERIES AT ARCADE ALLEYS

In the best three game series rolled at the Arcade for a long time, the Arcade Nationals bested the All Stars 2708 to 2614. The second game was a tie, 931 to 931 while the Nationals took the first by eight points and the last by 86. Klingor's 214 was the high mark of the series. The scoring was as follows: All Stars—2614. J. Klingor — 150 214 145 C. Driscoll — 138 182 148 B. Leach — 180 157 176 C. Sawyer — 203 191 169 W. Schuldes — 177 187 176 Totals — 878 931 805 Nationals—2708. V. Krause — 164 190 182 C. ## KAZOO TAKES DUAL TRACK MEET 56 TO 30

East Lansing, Mich., Feb. 23.—Western State Normal College of Kalamazoo defeated Michigan Aggies in a dual track meet here today 56 to 30. Mark Herdell, Aggie star sprinter, won the 40-yard dash and the 40-yard low hurdles for the only firsts taken by the M. A. C., runners, top honors in the other seven events and in the relay going to the visitors. T. Smith, middle distance ace of the Normal squad, won the quarter mile in fast time. One new track record for the M. A. C., gymnasium was set up when Klasse of Normal won the half mile in 2:08 7-10. Klasse staved off a last lap drive by Hartsuch of the Aggies which made the race one of the features of the meet, winning by a yard.

Jackson High Beats Ann Arbor

(By The Associated Press.)
Jackson, Mich., Feb. 23.—Jackson high school's swimming team won a dual meet from Ann Arbor High tonight by a score of 43 to 16. Jackson took first in six of the seven events.

NEW CHAMPION SKATER FALLS AT THE FINISH

Gorman Exhausted As He Breasts The Tape.

Lako Placid, N. Y., Feb. 23.—Canada forged to the front today in the two final events of the international amateur speed skating championships and tonight Charles Gorman of St. John, N. B., winner of both, stands elevated to the rank of champion, the first Canadian in 10 years to attain the honor.

Fatigued by the strain he had undergone to win the 440 yard race, Gorman entered the final event of the meet, the three mile grind, at a decided disadvantage. Yard by yard he gained, and finally led the field, but as he flashed down the ice for the final stretch, he was obviously weakening. And as he lurched against the tape at the finish and then broke it—the champion—he fell exhausted into the arms of the judges.

Diaplacion Jewtraw. As champion of the amateur speed skaters, Gorman displaces Charles Jewtraw of Lake Placid, who took no part in the amateur championships this year. Gorman's specialty, the 440 yard race, he won easily today from Harry Kasky of Chicago, who came in second, and Francis Allen also of Chicago, who was third. Gorman's time, 38 seconds flat, was somewhat of a disappointment in the light of the world's record of 36 3-5 which he made in winning the same event in the national championships at Saranac Lake last week.

Moore Second. In the 3-mile race, Joe Moore, of New York, came in second and Richard Donovan of Saranac Lake, third, with Gorman winning the event in 8:46 3-5. The three mile lap prizes were won in a close contest by Robert Reed of Chicago and Albert Neal of Montreal. The race was fairly slow.

Big Ten Standings

(By The Associated Press.)
Chicago, Feb. 23.—Ohio State's decisive victory over Wisconsin tonight furnished the upset in the western conference basketball race, dropping the Badgers from the leadership to a tie for third place with Ohio State and placing Purdue, which won from Michigan, in first place. Chicago by its one-point victory over Indiana went into second place. Minnesota's victory over Northwestern tonight elevated it to eighth place. The standings, including tonight's games, follow: TEAM WON LOST PCT. Purdue — 7 2 77% Chicago — 6 2 75% Wisconsin — 4 2 66% Ohio State — 6 3 66% Indiana — 6 5 54% Michigan — 4 4 50% Illinois — 3 4 43% Minnesota — 3 6 33% Iowa — 2 5 28% Northwestern — 0 8 0%

Record Crowd Sees Buckeyes Trim Badgers

(By The Associated Press.)
Columbus, O., Feb. 23.—Ohio State tonight, before the largest crowd that is believed ever to have witnessed a western conference basketball contest, defeated Wisconsin by a score of 27 to 13. The crowd numbered 8,493. The Buckeyes lead throughout the contest, the half ending with the score 16 to 11. Minor, Ohio right forward, and Elsom, Wisconsin left forward, led in the scoring, each making 8 points.

FIRM TONE IN STOCK PRICES

Washington Report Promotes Bullish Sentiment.

(By The Associated Press.)
STOCK SALES SUMMARY. Total stock sales, 366,700 shares. Twenty industrials averaged 98.46, net gain .45. High 1924, 101.34; low 94.88. Twenty railroads averaged 84.09, net gain .24. High 1924, 85.90; low 82.74.

New York, Feb. 23.—Stock prices displayed a firm tone in today's market with business on a reduced scale because of the absence of many traders, who were taking a three day holiday. Bullish sentiment was created by Washington reports of a strengthening of Republican forces on the tax bill, the decision of the French chamber of deputies to support the Poincare tax plan and favorable trade and business news.

Strength of the oil shares which were bid up from the start, indicated that speculative uneasiness over the Washington oil investigation was being allayed. Atlantic Refining moved up 4 1/2 points to 128 1/2 and Tidewater advanced 3 to 141.

Steel Shares Strong. Steel shares displayed a strong undertone in further reflection of reports that the United States Steel Corporation was operating at 94 per cent of capacity, only 3 per cent below the record and of expanding operations by the independents.

Michigan To Send 10 Star Relayers To Illinois Meet

(By The Associated Press.)
Ann Arbor, Mich., Feb. 23.—Michigan will send 10 of its crack track men to the Illinois indoor relay carnival to be held next Saturday at Urbana, Coach Farrell, said today following competitive tryouts held in the New York field house. Four indoor milers may be added to the contingent which will depart from here next Friday for the big mid-west meet, Coach Farrell added.

Michigan To Send 10 Star Relayers To Illinois Meet

The track coach was much elated over the prospects of his two mile relay team. In a tryout this afternoon three of the members ran one half mile in 1:58 3-5 while the fourth did a half mile in five seconds and a fraction slower. The University's stellar negro athlete, Dehart Hubbard, also will be seen in action at the carnival. The University of Michigan men who will represent their school at the meet follow: Wittman and Higgins in the dashes; Hubbard in the broad jump and high and low hurdles; Hulse in the high and low hurdles; McElveen, high jump; Brooked, pole vault. Two mile relay team: Captain Hattendorf; Charles Reinke; Freyburg and Roesser. M. Reinke, Bowen, Reick and Davis may compose the four mile relay team which Coach Farrell hopes to send to Urbana. Stiffly starched Eton collars are shown in Paris to be worn with the boyish tailored suits now the vogue.

CHICAGO GRAIN

Chicago, Feb. 23. Helped upward by higher quotations at Liverpool, the wheat market here accented today to the utmost prices of the week, and met with less selling pressure than has been usual on advances of late. There was a firm close at 3 1/2 to 5 1/2 net gain, with May 1 1/2 to 1 1/4, and July 1 1/2 to 2 1/4. Corn unchanged to 2 1/2 higher, oats unchanged to 1/2 up and provisions unchanged to a rise of five cents. In connection with the advance in Europe traders here showed interest regarding surmises that the work of the Dawes commission might permit Germany to become a larger purchaser of hard grain on this side of the Atlantic. Bulls continued to dwell on prospects that the import duty on wheat would be raised. With many traders looking for a decline in the volume of corn arrivals next week and thereafter, bulls had the advantage in the corn market and oats as well. Late Royals were higher owing to an upturn in the hog values.

PAIGE SETS A NEW RECORD

Detroit, Mich., Feb. 23.—The first sensational increase in production to be announced by any of the automobile companies during 1924 was that of the Paige-Detroit Motor Car Company which built more Paiges and Jewetts in January than any previous month in its history, according to an announcement last week by Harry M. Jewett, president.

The total production was 5451 Paiges and Jewetts during January, the Paige Company announced. This compares with 3949 Paiges and Jewetts built in January, 1923 and is larger than the previous record breaking month in Paige history when 5110 cars were built in May, 1923.

The opening of the new Jewett plant during January was responsible for the material increase in production, stated Mr. Jewett. He also announced a tentative schedule for production of 6,500 Paiges and Jewetts in February.

"This extraordinary January demand indicates to us that the new Paige at its new price is as successful as the Jewett," states the Paige president. "The Jewett has settled into a steady healthy growth. With 75,000 Jewetts now in the hands of owners, this six cylinder car has proven its value."

"At the new price at which we are offering the Paige it is a distinctly more attractive motor car than before. We have seen our belief in its attraction for the public in the January shipments."

NO ARRESTS IN CARLSON CASE; TO COME SOON

Although the expected arrests had not been made late last night, police officials declared that important developments in the chase of the holdup men who slugged and robbed A. C. Carlson, aged proprietor of a gasoline service station Thursday night, could be expected at any moment.

Several young men were questioned Friday night and yesterday. All were released after they had been questioned. No charges were placed against them. These incidents gave rise to reports yesterday that arrests had been made in the case.

Declining to discuss details of the case, Chief Tolson expressed the confidence that the case would be cleared up quickly but except to say that it might "happen anytime" he gave no intimation as to the direction the trail was leading.

School Head at Marinette Quits Marinette, Wis., Feb. 23.—Although no normal announcement has been made, it is understood that Superintendent of Schools Paul F. Neversman, will not return to Marinette for the 1924-25 school year. The present contract, which expires July 1, next, will not be renewed. The non-return of Mr. Neversman was brought about by the action of the school board which decided it would be for the best interests of the schools to make a change in the superintendency. Reason given by one board member are to the effect, that while the work of the schools is in excellent shape and that real educational progress has been made during the last four years, the board decided in favor of this course largely because Mr. Neversman and the board have not always agreed on executions of policy. With special diving apparatus depths of over 200 feet have been obtained, but few divers can work at 150 feet, where the pressure is 65 pounds to the square inch.

THE KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS AND "GLORIOUS GIRL" CAST The Knights of Columbus and friends are invited to a dancing party at the Arcade Hall, Tuesday, Feb. 26th, at which dance each member of the "Glorious Girl" cast and friend will be the guests. Admission of 75c per couple will be charged those not in cast. This is the last K. C. social activity before Lent. (Signed) LEONARD J. MURRAY, Lecturer, Escanaba Council.

Enjoy Florida Picnic.
An unshakable coconut, received at the Press office yesterday, carried the announcement of a picnic participated in by a group of Escanaba people, wintering at Miami, Fla., on Feb. 14. The unusual message was mailed from Cape Florida and carried the signatures of the following Escanaba people: Caroline Hamacher, Mrs. L. Tormey, Mr. and Mrs. John A. Allo, Miss Natalie Allo, Dr. and Mrs. E. D. Sheviller, Mr. and Mrs. William Andrews, Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Groce and Mr. and Mrs. G. Scott.

Escanaba Girl Runs Junior Hop.
Miss Mary Evelyn Cobb, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Cobb, 515 Lake Shore Drive, who is a student in the junior class at the Michigan State Normal College, at Ypsilanti, has been appointed general chairman of the Junior Hop Committee, the biggest social event of the year at Ypsilanti. Miss Cobb has been active in social and student affairs at the normal since entering that school in the fall of 1921.

Hard Time Party.
A new pair of overalls a new dress and a box of groceries will be given away Tuesday evening, Feb. 26th at the Unity Hall at the Hard Time Party under the auspices of the Married, People's Club.

The man wearing the most ragged costume, the lady wearing the most ragged dress and the poorest dressed married couple will be awarded the prizes.

Birthday Surprise Party.
Mrs. Susan Trueblood of Pine Ridge was the honored guest at a surprise party given at her home. The guests presented her with many pretty and useful gifts. A good time was had by all. Those present were Mrs. Dan S. Wells of Chicago, Mrs. Gust Herbst, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Hodgson, Mr. and Mrs. William Hodgson, Mrs. Mattson and Mrs. Elmer Labrosse.

Roller Races Tonight.
The attraction at the Coliseum rink tonight will be races which will be called at 10 o'clock. Ivan Beauchamp and Eddie Shimberg, two eight-year-old boys, will skate a half-mile event as the opener. The second event will be a centipede race between skate boys and the final will be a one-mile race between John Kelly and Earl Girard. Partisans of both boys claim it will be a hot race and as Girard has won two out of three, tonight's race promises to be unusually thrilling.

Yesterday afternoon the little Beauchamp boy won from Eddie Shimberg by a half foot, his time for the half mile being 2:12. There was also a race between two little girls in which Irene Martineau was the winner, with Laura Novak second.

There will also be a "Kitty" drawing tonight and at the present time preparations are being made for a masquerade skate for next Thursday evening. Ten prizes will be awarded, five for ladies and five for men.

NOTICE.
Missionary E. N. Burt, representative of the R. O. C. Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints, Onaway, Mich., to Rev. A. L. Beazley, representative of the Seventh Day Adventists Church.

The article that appeared in the columns of your paper on Feb. 2, stating when it comes to affiliating himself publicly with a representative of the notorious polygamists such as Brigham Young and Joseph Smith, the founders of the Mormon religion, he says, I draw the line.

Offering this excuse, he forgets to draw the line when it comes to making statements of opinion, and truth, he makes no distinction. The truth is that Mr. Boomer, of Wells, and E. N. Burt, of Onaway, Mich., do not represent the body that was referred to. We call attention to the fact, that there is a big difference between these two bodies. Please note court records of Lake County, state of Ohio, decision of Honorable Judge L. S. Sherman, Feb. 23, 1880, makes it clear. This church does not believe in or practice polygamy and many testimonies can be produced on this. Why does not Mr. Beazley wish to meet the issue? He places himself in a very embarrassing position.

Bishop Watson says: "Whoever is afraid of submitting any question, civil or religious to the test of free discussion, seem to me to be more in love with his own opinion than with truth." If Mr. Beazley wishes to prove that he has told the truth in his article, he will meet the issue in a fair way.

GLADSTONE'S BOOSTER CLUB!

A few nights ago Gladstone held a community meeting to talk about plans for organizing a "Booster Club."

Speaking in perfect frankness, it may be said that Gladstone has not been any more free from fallaciousness than any other town, although it didn't always appear on the surface.

These things are said in the light of experience, because Escanaba knows. And Escanaba will be delighted to see her smaller sister at the other end of the bay.

It is indicated that the club may look for a membership of 300 or more and that every man and woman in the organization will gather a new vision of civic duty, see with increased clearness the necessity of co-operation.

These interests employ, protected by Alabama laws, which prohibit more than eight hours of work for children between 14 and 16, flow across the boundary line daily into Georgia.

Escanaba can sincerely congratulate Gladstone on her most recent move to stir things up. Maybe we have had some experiences by which Gladstone can profit.

There is this to be said in commendation of the Washington oil scandal—it crowded the booze scandal off the front page for awhile.

Mexico wants to exchange a few concessions for some cash. We'll step down that way and talk to 'em just as soon as we get in touch with Washington.

That's the way it goes. Just as soon as we get a "banana belt" reputation all nicely built up, along come a couple of gunmen and transform it into a "bandit belt."

With Spring reluctantly approaching just around the corner, it begins to look as though the income tax would have to be paid in jail. It's as bad as summer, or autumn or winter.

DeWolf Hopper might have saved himself a lot of trouble by marrying his fifth wife first. Might have helped in reducing the overhead that way.

COTTON MILLS FIND EMPLOYMENT OF BOYS UNDER 14 POOR BUSINESS

By ROY J. GIBBONS.

Atlanta, Ga., Feb. 23.—Employment of children under 14 years is not good business.

Southern cotton mill owners have found that out.

They say they were taught their lesson during the time the federal child labor law, now defunct, was in force.

Yet they are opposed to a constitutional amendment, which would empower Congress to enact new child labor legislation.

Typical of this attitude is the statement by P. E. Glenn, president of the Georgia Cotton Manufacturers' Association, who says:

"There might once have been a time when the southern textile operator could have been criticized for his employment of very young children.

"But today this operator realizes that children under 14 working in his mill are not profitable investments.

"Under the federal law, which was declared unconstitutional, child workers between 14 and 16 were prohibited from working more than eight hours a day.

"But in the south our children mature much more rapidly.

"Prohibiting them from working until 14 we consider is ample protection."

Children of 14 seldom see Sun in 60-hour Cotton Mill Week.

You'll find plenty of 14-year-old boys and girls in typical southern mill towns whose only glimpse at the sun is through the window of a cotton mill.

In North Carolina armies of sallow-faced little mites are granted legal permission to work 11 hours in a single day and 60 hours a week.

They constitute the proverbial dull Jacks and listless Jills given too much work and too little play.

From cradle to grave their lot has been fixed both by precedent and environment.

They and their children and their children's children must watch and feed the droning spindles.

Sixty hours of work a week leaves an easily recognizable pallor on the mill child's cheek.

Schooling has ended for the average mill child below the fifth grade.

Georgia mill owners, however, have introduced a bill in the Legislature prohibiting employment of 12-year-old boys in textile industries.

This is a significant move. But Georgia, by reason of her weak labor laws, still attracts great numbers of child workers from the adjoining state of Alabama.

Weak State Laws Tempt Interstate Traffic in Child Mill Workers.

These interstate employes, protected by Alabama laws, which prohibit more than eight hours of work for children between 14 and 16, flow across the boundary line daily into Georgia.

Morning and night sees the bridge across the Chattahoochee River at Columbus, Ga., crowded with boy and girl cotton mill workers coming into Georgia from Alabama.

All of them are between 14 and 16. But Alabama in which they live, can do nothing to prevent such self-imposed exploitation.

In Georgia, where boys of 12 may go to work providing they are orphans or the support of widowed mothers, a 60-hour week is also legally permissible, and most of the cotton mills there are running on a 55 to 58-hour basis.

And at Rome, Ga., where the writer was arrested on the protests of a mill owner who objected to having pictures of his property taken, an instance was found where a 12-year-old boy was given employment at $5 a week, while his older brother, a lad of 18, complained of walking the streets in search of a job.

This same 12-year-old boy, by virtue of his earning power, was the sole support of his widowed mother, his 18-year-old brother and a still younger member of the family.

As yet, there is no state aid through a mother's pension for youngsters of this type in Georgia, so all the commonwealth can do to assist them is grant permission to quit school and go to work.

Generally speaking, in the principal southern cotton mill states, long hours for child workers prevail.

This condition, in addition to industrial privation, saddles further domestic hardship upon the mill boy and girl.

Living in a community built around the mill, the children receive but brief contact with the outside world.

Work in Cotton Mills Creates Caste System Denounced by Child Welfare Workers.

Such state of affairs has created a virtual caste system, vehemently denounced by Federal Child Welfare Department heads.

In the town of Rocky Mount, N. C., the writer found mill children who had never been to town, just a mile away.

Mill employes there refer to themselves as the "herrens," and to residents of the city as "the offens."

In North Carolina, fathers and children, working in the same mill on the day shift, saw their wives and mothers, working on the night shift, but once a week, when the mill closed on Saturday afternoon.

The writer was present at one of these family reunions, when husband and wife met for the first time in six days.

She came up the street swinging her lunch basket at noon. He had returned home a few hours before after the night gang "knocked off."

"Hello, ohn!" she greeted him. "How were you last week?"

"Pretty good, Nell," came his reply. "Made $14.50. What do we eat tomorrow?"

Conditions such as these find disfavour in the eyes of Frank E. Wood, commissioner of labor and industrial statistics for Louisiana.

Wood, as past president of the Association of Governmental Labor Officials of the United States and Canada, and a member of the executive committee of the same organization, favors the passage of a federal child labor law.

"It is the only thing which can do away with existing evils," he says.

"And southern manufacturers can attribute their present realization that child labor is unprofitable, to operation of the now defunct federal child labor laws.

"These laws were a blessing to the manufacturer and to the child, and should be revived."

'The Doctor's Story'

BY JANE PHELPS.

MRS. RAMSEY TELLS HORROR OF HER STORY.

Chapter XL.

I asked Nancy to accompany me when I went to pay my respects to Mrs. Hunt, as it was simply a social call.

She refused, begged me not to go, yet when I emerged from the Warwick after a short call she was waiting on the walk near the entrance.

"It would have been more dignified had you gone in with me," I said, annoyed.

"Why should I think of dignity when my husband openly visits other women?" she asked.

"But I know how long you were with her, and can guess the rest."

I had consented to treat Mrs. Ramsey's boy at home. How Nancy knew this I could only imagine, but she must have listened the day Mrs. Ramsey called.

There had been a room fitted upon the top of the house, a large and luxurious mansion on a fashionable street. It was to all intents and purposes a hospital room; neither time nor money had been spared to make things absolutely sanitary. Two nurses had been engaged, and I performed one of the most delicate operations of my career.

I acknowledged the mother's wisdom in having the operation at home. Little Forrest Ramsey would have been happy away from his mother and his wailing, but he was a peculiarly sensitive child, lovingly dependent upon the love of the two who had given themselves devotedly to him since his accident, which had happened when he was less than a year old.

I never had seen a Mr. Ramsey, never heard the father's name mentioned and naturally supposed her a widow, until one day in asking about the accident, the truth came out.

"I married when very young, a man who cared only for the fortune I brought him. For years I was unhappy—very unhappy. He drank constantly, was often ugly when in his cups," she told me.

"Then my baby came, and for a time I was happy, very, really happy in spite of him—his cruelty. But I determined to save my fortune for my boy, not to let him dissipate it as he had done—I had been too miserable to care, did anything, gave him anything to have peace. When he saw I was holding my purse strings more tightly, he turned against my boy, he asked me for money, a very large sum. I refused him. I held the baby in my arms, and he struck me, knocked me down and the baby fell heavily. I was only badly bruised, but my darling boy—it was his back, as you know. I divorced Mr. Ramsey, went through all the horrible scandal that I might save my baby from his father. That is all, but you have been so kind, give me hope that my boy will be as other boys, I think it your right to know."

I was inexpressibly shocked. That any man could possess Marion Ramsey, and lose her because of his actions seemed almost impossible to me. A cultured woman, refined, of a sweet disposition, wealthy, everything one woman could be to hold a man; and I, knowing her devotion to her little son, her sweet womanliness felt like bowing in worship before her.

I visited my little patient almost daily, and saw the love her servants had for her, her gentle consideration of the most humble in her household, and unconsciously I held her much in my thoughts, looked forward to my visits when I often had a few moments chat with her.

Thinking to interest Nancy I told her Mrs. Ramsey's sad story. But it had just the opposite effect than I intended. She was interested, yes, but only to know that Mrs. Ramsey was free, divorced.

"She probably told you all that stuff so you would know she was free," Nancy declared. "Most likely she expects you to be in love with her now you know it. It's perfectly disgraceful for you to be going there, calling on a divorcee. I'm surprised that you don't realize it will hurt your reputation," sneeringly.

I never willingly spoke of Marion Ramsey to Nancy again. I went about my work, trying to put my home life entirely out of my thoughts—so unpleasant was it. I was working very hard, but often terribly worn and tired, but never did I receive a word of understanding or sympathy. True, she would notice my exhaustion, speak of it, but only to say that if I would stay with her, give up my work, I wouldn't get so tired, so exhausted.

She was the same capable housekeeper, my home was perfectly kept, my table attractive and nourishing. She had taken more pains with her clothes since coming to New York, and was very attractive as she sat opposite me, until she commenced to complain, to find fault, then her attractiveness vanished, her expression changed, her voice became harsh.

She did not so often indulge in spasms of love making, but when she did she almost awoke me by her repetitions. The old story that if I loved her I would give up everything, do as she would, was what SHE wanted.

I had learned from bitter experience never to argue with her at these times, and usually I left the room, when she would indulge in a hysterical crying spell, careless of the maid's presence.

'The Doctor's Story'

MRS. RAMSEY TELLS HORROR OF HER STORY.

Chapter XL.

I asked Nancy to accompany me when I went to pay my respects to Mrs. Hunt, as it was simply a social call.

She refused, begged me not to go, yet when I emerged from the Warwick after a short call she was waiting on the walk near the entrance.

"It would have been more dignified had you gone in with me," I said, annoyed.

"Why should I think of dignity when my husband openly visits other women?" she asked.

"But I know how long you were with her, and can guess the rest."

I had consented to treat Mrs. Ramsey's boy at home. How Nancy knew this I could only imagine, but she must have listened the day Mrs. Ramsey called.

There had been a room fitted upon the top of the house, a large and luxurious mansion on a fashionable street. It was to all intents and purposes a hospital room; neither time nor money had been spared to make things absolutely sanitary. Two nurses had been engaged, and I performed one of the most delicate operations of my career.

I acknowledged the mother's wisdom in having the operation at home. Little Forrest Ramsey would have been happy away from his mother and his wailing, but he was a peculiarly sensitive child, lovingly dependent upon the love of the two who had given themselves devotedly to him since his accident, which had happened when he was less than a year old.

I never had seen a Mr. Ramsey, never heard the father's name mentioned and naturally supposed her a widow, until one day in asking about the accident, the truth came out.

"I married when very young, a man who cared only for the fortune I brought him. For years I was unhappy—very unhappy. He drank constantly, was often ugly when in his cups," she told me.

"Then my baby came, and for a time I was happy, very, really happy in spite of him—his cruelty. But I determined to save my fortune for my boy, not to let him dissipate it as he had done—I had been too miserable to care, did anything, gave him anything to have peace. When he saw I was holding my purse strings more tightly, he turned against my boy, he asked me for money, a very large sum. I refused him. Veteran Policewoman Urges Use Of Rod To Spare America's Youth From "Approaching Moral Disintegration"

By HARRY B. HUNT.

Washington, Feb. 23.—America's morals are slipping. The high standard of American womanhood, on which this nation's ideals and development have largely been based, is in danger of destruction.

This is a warning for woman by woman. It voices a belief, reluctantly developed through years of social service and investigation, by Mrs. Mina C. Van Winkle, chief of the Woman's Bureau, Washington metropolitan police.

As an index of the condition confronting the country morally, Mrs. Van Winkle makes the following startling statement:

"Men are no longer the pursuers; they are the pursued! The complaints of girls running with boys, and of women seducing men, today exceed by one-third the cases in which boys or men are the aggressors.

"This, police records show, is a general condition—widespread, not confined to a few towns or to the large cities. Where we used to have to watch the boys and men, we are compelled now to watch the girls.

"Not only are the girls getting worse, but they are getting worse earlier. We find them of all ages, but the vast majority under 21. Many are only in their middle teens, many in their early teens. We have had a number of cases where girls of only 8 to 12 have had to be dealt with."

Back of this alarming moral decadence, Mrs. Van Winkle finds the chief factors to be:

1. Lack of discipline in home and schools.

2. Sex emphasis and "vamp" films in the movies.

3. Slack regard for law, police regulations, social conventions.

Perhaps the most dangerous factor, she believes, is the attitude that has developed in the "best circles," the wealthy or the social elite.

"The higher we go the more lawless we find them," she declares. "The attitude in the 'better' homes is that laws were not passed for them. By their position and 'influence' they are enabled to disregard the law or escape the penalties of its infraction. This is boasted of and demonstrated in the home, from violation of the prohibition law, up and down.

"Far-reaching effect. These parents begin to get worried just a little too late. The discipline, the respect for laws and proprieties that should have been built during the child's development years, cannot be applied at once. Behind these must be character, and character is not strengthened by the atmosphere and environment of many of even our 'best' homes."

To the student of society—the social worker, the police-woman, who is interested in causes as well as effects—the decline of moral character is in no small part due to the fact that schools are no longer permitted to meet out disciplinary punishment to pupils, Mrs. Van Winkle declares.

"We can feel them slipping—we can see it, in the schools," she says. "We are having constant reports to us from the principals of the schools. But the hands of the school authorities are tied—'get the job of any teacher who should attempt to discipline one of THEIR children. It is the people of position and influence who have shorn disciplinary power from our schools."

"Yet in a large percentage of these very homes there exists a freedom that amounts almost to license. And there are some children who NEED the rod!"

DAWES KNITS, PUFFS PIPE, COMPOSES AND HE GETS RESULTS!

Chicago, Feb. 23.—Tail, thin figure; sprucely dressed; a great peak of a nose, icy blue eyes—and profanity.

Such is Charles G. Dawes, chairman of the committee of experts now in Paris investigating Germany's resources. You'll hear a lot about him in the next few months.

He puffs a pipe when he makes a speech, blows strong smoke into formal atmosphere and pounds the air like a yell leader.

Dawes, born in 1865 in Marietta, O., had completed college and a law course when he was 21. He went to Lincoln, Neb., and practiced law for seven years. While there he wrote "The Banking System of the United States," recognized as authoritative.

In Nebraska he met a young army officer named Pershing.

And when Pershing headed American troops in France he wanted business ability and appointed Dawes purchasing agent of the A. E. F.

One time a Congressional subcommittee asked Dawes' opinion of America's diplomacy.

"Damn it!" he said. "Our diplomatic system is a failure. English diplomacy is as bad as ours."

Dawes accompanied Pershing to Marshal Foch's headquarters for a conference back in the summer of 1918.

Pershing found Dawes smoking a cigar—and his unbuttoned overcoat was flopping in the wind.

"Tell General Dawes to take that cigar out of his mouth and button his overcoat," Pershing ordered General Harbord, who was standing nearby.

The order was delivered and obeyed.

"That's a fine job for a chief of staff to be doing," Dawes commented in a tone loud enough for Pershing to hear.

The Rufus F. Dawes Hotel for Destitute Men was founded in Chicago by "Hell Maria" Dawes and named for a son who died. It accommodates 500 men a night.

If a guest has money he pays a nominal sum. If broke he gets a bed and a loan. Dawes makes up the regular monthly deficit.

It's the only Dawes enterprise that doesn't show a profit.

Dawes likes to play the piano and has composed melodies used by Fritz Kreisler in concert.

And he can knit with skill. All the Dawes boys were taught by their mother the secret of "drop two, pull one."

Dawes is blessed with a youthful buoyancy and lack of officialdom.

One day when he was in the Treasury Department, a circus arrived in Washington and Dawes invited 14 small boys to attend.

Unexpectedly the president of a big New York bank arrived with important business. It was just circus time.

Dawes called to his deputy. "Tell that man from New York," ordered Dawes, "that I have an important engagement."

Los Angeles now has a harbor which makes the city easier to get into—and get out of. It gives the natives something besides the weather to lie about and makes it easier for certain movie stars to get into deep water. Tourists will be shown the port but most of them will prefer the sherry. "Our city," the Chamber of Commerce will blurb, "is so attractive that the Pacific Ocean moved over closer."

It will require the services of a federal team to remove the debris Albert Fall left behind when he left town. The cleaning will be followed by a general hand-washing. What isn't done now may be finished by the people in November.

DENTISTS TALK ON DIETS FOR LOCAL SCHOOLS

Urge Proper Foods For Combating Disease
Germs.

"Many of you are now digging your graves with your teeth," Dr. T. R. Southard told Manistique high school students Friday afternoon, addressing the assembly in the auditorium.

"The body is composed of 80 per cent alkali and 20 per cent acids," the local dentist said,
"and we should choose what we eat so as to maintain that same ratio, and the acid foods we eat turn that table the other way around: 60 per cent acid and only 20 per cent of less alkali."

The doctor pointed out that to successfully combat disease germs, which thrive only in an acid medium, an "alkali reserve" should be built up in the body.

Foods with a large percentage of alkalies, such as fruits and vegetables, should be eaten freely, so that the body tissues will not only be built up in the right proportion, but that an "alkali reserve" will be provided to combat disease.

Dr. Southard called attention to the large number of young lives that are snuffed out by pneumonia, according to government statistics. Most of these are due directly to nothing else but mal-nutrition, he declared.

Starved tissues, laden with acids, were unable to fight the disease germ, and as a result it has full sway.

"Being a dentist, I suppose you wonder what I think diet has to do with teeth," Dr. Southard concluded. "Well, it hasn't a little to do with the teeth; it has everything," and he showed how the very substance of the teeth depends on the proper balance of foods eaten.

Together with Dr. H. L. Mead, Dr. Southard also visited the Central school on Friday, where another talk on dieting was given.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Carter expect to retain their residence in Manistique, and will not move to the south, as was previously reported.

FAMOUS W. O. W.
BAND TO HOLD
MEETING TODAY

Six O'clock Dinner
Will Follow The Rehearsal

A call has been issued to members of the Manistique W.
O. W. Band by Captain George Hamill, advising them of the band's first winter meeting, to be held at the K. F. Hall at five o'clock Sunday afternoon.

The bandmen will bring their instruments, and there will be a short rehearsal, followed by a six o'clock dinner. This is the first band rehearsal since the close of the season last fall.
Others are to follow regularly, and the band expects to keep in trim for the coming season.

CITY BRIEFS

Norman Fox left Saturday morning for his home at Detroit, after a few days' visit at Manistique, his former home.

Miss Margaret Winkler left Manistique Friday to spend the week end with friends and relatives at Marquette. She expects to return to this city Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Emil Ratelle and family expect to leave the first of the week for International Falls, Minnesota, where they will reside permanently.

Paul Carlson and Norman Mc-Leod, both of Newberry, are week-end guests of friends in this city.

A son was born last week to Mr. and Mrs. Philip Clish, Arbut-tus avenue.

A. J. McLeellan attended the funeral of a railroad official held at Minneapolis yesterday.

George Brusio is expected to return Monday from a several days business trip.

Mrs. Kercher, who has been ill at the home of her daughter, Mrs. William Mueller, is reported to be improving.

Manistique Boy
Scouts Will Show
How Troop Is Run.

Manistique Boy Scouts will demonstrate to their elders just how a Scout meeting is conducted on Monday night at the Elk's temple.

The troop demonstration will be a feature of the regular weekly school of instruction for all interested in Scouting, which is now being held every Monday evening, from 7:30 to 8:30.

Every Manistique man interested in knowing what Boy Scout meetings do for the Manistique boy is urged to attend these regular weekly schools of Scouting.

It is also desired that every Scout be in attendance at troop meeting Monday night or the troop meeting demonstration.

"A Full House"
To Be Winner

Seat reservations began last night for the home talent comedy farce, "A Full House," which will be presented at the high school auditorium Tuesday evening, under the auspices of the Lady Foresters.

The play is in three acts full of action, the curtain rising at eight o'clock Friday evening.

Between acts, there will be songs by Edith Bowman. The high school orchestra will play both before and after the play.

LESSER LIGHTS SHINE DURING WEEK'S BOWLING

Bear Cats Regain First Place; Graphos Leads
The List.

High scores rolled by some of the lesser lights were outstanding features of the past week's bowling at the Elks' Club alleys.

Dan Perry, McNamara, Bolitho, Merkel and Cockram, all helped their averages somewhat, especially Perry, who averaged 165 for six games.

The Bear Cats climbed back into first place by taking three games away from the Cubs, while the Tigers took two out of three from the Giants, and the Pirates lost three straight to the Lions. The race is still a close and interesting one, as the summary shows.

George Graphos set up the high average of the week, with three pretty games of 193, 192
and 197—an average of 194, which put him back in first place for the individual averages.

The pleasing feature of the Elks league bowling this year is the strict attendance of the members and the enthusiasm manifested. There still remain five more weeks on the schedule and the championship is far from being decided as yet.

400 Horses Take Part In Monday's Picture Feature

Four hundred horses and armed riders take part in the spectacular Norma Talmadge picture, "Ashes of Vengeance," which Manistique people will see at the Gero theater Monday night.

These scenes in which hired foreign troops were sent through the streets of Paris by Charles IX to run down and slay those whom he believed to be his enemies, were re-produced with the greatest realism under Lloyd's direction.

A number of extras were hurt when the horses came galloping through the streets, trampling the bodies of those stricken down by their riders. However, there were no very serious mishaps. A whole quarter of 18th century
Paris was built, under supervision of Stephen Gosson, famous screen architect, for the scenes.

The story of "Ashes of Vengeance" is laid in the time of Charles IX of France. Forty-eight massive sets, including one 330 feet long, reproducing the Louvre Palace ballroom, and another showing an entire section of Paris in 1572, were built for this production.

Grave Question
Is Now Agitating
The City Fathers

Shall the Manistique city council sit at one long table instead of at separate desks?
That is one of the questions certain to be brought up at the next meeting of the council in the city hall Monday evening, following out a suggestion made by one of the aldermen last week.

The entire interior of the council room has been redecorated in the past week and none of the fixtures have as yet been replaced, so it is probable that the Monday meeting will be held in the room adjacent to the council room, used by the chief of police. It has been suggested by some of the aldermen that the troublesome desks be removed when the room is re-arranged, and that all members of the council be seated at one table.
This matter will undoubtedly be decided at the meeting Monday night.

shortly before noon on Saturday.

The blaze, thought to have or-burned a hole on the outside of the roof about four feet across, but was extinguished by the firemen before it had done more serious damage.

R. W. Goodwillie expected to leave last night for Chicago to attend the funeral of his brother, James G. Goodwillie, who died Thursday night at Tampa, Florida.

The deceased was a member of the firm of Goodwillie Brothers, who formerly operated a box factory at Manistique, retiring from an active interest in the firm about a year ago. He was 73 years of age, and had two sons, Arthur and Clarence. The latter is now connected with the new Goodwillie firm, known as the Goodwillie Green Box company.

Funeral services are to be held at Chicago, probably on Monday.

a message for old and young alike. The young people who are taking part have been rehearsing for some time under the able guidance of Mrs. Bolton and nothing in the matter of training has been left undone.

In addition to the pageant a service which will include hymns, introductory remarks by Miss Florence House, scripture reading, prayer, announcements and offering, anthem by a quartet of Mrs. H. W. Blackwell, Mrs. Fred Mingay, Arthur Williamson and Attorney Glenn W. Jackson, and benediction, will be held.

The public has been issued an invitation to attend the services tonight through the pastor of the church, the Rev. J. M. Bolton.

The young people who will present the pageant are:
Spirit of Service—Erna Feldt.
Church—Isabel McMillan.
Community—Juanita Fulton.
Poverty—Meroy Medill.
Need—Marie Devreux.
Immigrant—Earl Peterson.
Foreign Representatives—Irene Harrington, Hazel Pruss and Celia Crosswell.

Other members of the cast:
Kenneth Campbell, Myles McMillan, Kenneth Forbes, Robert Pare, Ross Gamble, Hazel Nell,
Florence House, Marian Day,
Jane Belanger, Grace Brown, Helen Knight, Georgia Zink, Kenneth Foster, Marion Hite, Mrs.
Francis, Charlotte Gelzer, Wade
Smith, Warren Hoffman, Wade
Beizer, Ellice Baker, Riene Reiswig and Teddy Fisher.

The Junior Christian Endeavor society will also have a part in the singing and will be assisted by the quartet.

BEETHOVEN
SONG SERVICE
HERE TONIGHT

A unique departure has been planned for the evening service at Alice Memorial Methodist Episcopal church for this evening, in a Beethoven Song Service.

The great hymns of the church that have been put to the music composed by Beethoven will be sung and will be explained by an authority on great music, combining in the service an inspiration and an education in music seldom found outside of the larger communities.

The Rev. H. W. Colenso, pastor of the church, will give a short address on the life of the late Rev. Baring-Gould, who wrote "Onward, Christian Soldiers," "Now the Day is Over,"
and other famous hymns.

A cordial invitation is extended to the public by the pastor to attend this service.

Many Attend
Benefit Dance

A good sized crowd attended the dancing party given Friday evening at Wasa hall by the Benefit Association of Railway Employees. The new Gladstone orchestra furnished a fine program of dance music and the affair proved most enjoyable.

Miss Mildred Callahan of Rapid River is spending the week end with friends here.

1923—Several members of the Prince of Wales' party were reported to have been fired upon while motoring near Delhi, India.

QUINTET IS WINNING FAVOR
ON ITS TOUR

Reports from Ishpeming and Negaunee where the Marquette Normal quintet has appeared on its tour of the upper peninsula, indicate that Gladstone people will hear a program of merit when the young men give their concert here at the high school auditorium Tuesday night.

The quintet, a group of talented young men of the Northern normal have been secured for one evening through the efforts of the high school for whose benefit the concert will be given.

Conway Peters, leader of the quintet which will appear here, is head of the music department of the Northern normal. He is a graduate of the Hillsdale college conservatory and of the University of Michigan school of music, was head of the violin department at Hillsdale for three years, played under John Phillip Sousa at the Great Lakes training station, was with the John high school at St. Paul and before becoming affiliated with the Northern normal was with the Grand Rapids high school.

The program offered by Mr.
Peters and his associates is well chosen and the Quintet has been popularly received at its appearances thus far.

Sale of tickets for the concert will be in charge of the high school students.

MINSTREL TO BE GIVEN FOR TOURNAMENT

Leonard Clapp and E. C.
Dayton Will Direct
Benefit Show.

A minstrel show with a cast of forty picked from Gladstone talent will be staged immediately following the close of the Lenten period, for the benefit of the 1924 Upper Peninsula Firemen's tournament, which will be held in Gladstone, according to plans announced yesterday.

Leonard Clapp, whose talent as a fun maker is coupled with considerable experience in the staging of minstrels and E. C.
Dayton, who is also experienced in that line, will manage and direct the show.

All proceeds from the minstrel will be given to the firemen to aid them in their entertainment of the fireman from all parts of the peninsula when they meet here for their tournament, and arrangements for the show will go ahead with the assisting of tournament plans as its object.

The minstrels will probably be held on April 30 and May 1, the dates now agreed upon at the new community building.

Forty in Cast.
A cast of forty has already been tentatively selected and plans for the show will go ahead, although actual rehearsals will not be started until a short time before the performance.

The minstrel, will undoubtedly prove attractive entertainment and will be a means of adding a considerable amount to the tournament fund.

COOTIES ARE LEADING IN POST DRIVE

While the Cooties are said to be leading the Trench Rats by a large margin in the August Mattson post legion membership campaign, a checkup on the two teams will be made Monday night at the regular meeting of the post and the results of the drive thus far made known.

In addition to the reports of the two legion teams, each of which is out to win the dinner which will be the award to the winners, a number of business matters will be taken up, and a good attendance is desired.

Considerable rivalry is being shown in the membership campaign and much interest is following the reports made by the two teams.

River visited here yesterday.

HAVE YOU TAKEN YOUR POLICY AT THE DAILY PRESS

Better Drop in and Attend To It Before Night.

For the sake of argument it is granted that you are an ordinarily thoughtful citizen; that you provide for your family, observe the laws, attend church, belong to a lodge or two and a club or two; function normally in every way and that you protect your health in bad weather, as well as carry all the life insurance you feel you can afford. That's just about what every man does who is doing as well as he can.

But how many of you go a step further and throw a little added protection about the family by carrying a form of insurance which means that, you and the family will have something coming in, should you suddenly be struck down by an accident? That is the question in which the Daily Press is deeply interested, because the Press stands ready and willing to help you take care of that further protective influence which a good many wise men think it is right to throw about the family.

A Plain Proposition
The Press has arranged with the Inter Ocean Casualty company, one of the largest and most substantial in the country, approved by the insurance department of the state of Michigan, whereby you can get a $1,000 travel accident policy for just 75 cents for the entire year's protection. The only requirement is that you be a subscriber to the Press. This is a service for Press readers and the Press wants every subscriber and every subscriber's family to have the benefit of this protection.

No medical examination is necessary. Everyone in the family between the age of 15 and 70 can have a policy. It is sold to subscribers at absolute cost—75 cents. You are not required to pay any long term in advance. It has all been simplified and made easy for you and the only essential thing is the 75 cents, a trifling sum of money that you probably fling away for some useless purpose every week.

Think Of It Today!
Today, while this thing is fresh in your mind, drop into the Press office and find out all about this insurance. It takes too much space to enumerate all its benefits here, but briefly it may be said that it takes care of you while you are going to and from your work, while you are traveling on business or pleasure in or on any kind of power driven conveyance. If you are insured it pays you ten dollars a week for a period of three months in case you are laid up that long. If you lose a hand foot or eye, it pays you $500. If you lose any two members, eyes, feet or hand and foot it pays $1,000. In the event of your death by accident, or within 30 days afterward, it pays your family $1,000 just when you are sure you need it most. The policy grows in value $100 a year for five years until it is worth $1,500.

It's Your Service
The Press is not in the insurance business. It makes no profit on this transaction. It has just added this extra service to help you. It is your service. The policies are provided for you. The Press wants you to have them. They are here for you.

If there is anything about the proposition you wish further information about, the Press will, with its usual courtesy and pleasure, tell you all about it. Phone 123 or, better still, come right into the office and get it all attended to within five minutes. There's no trouble or embarrassment about it.

The clerical force is handling about as many applicants every day as can be handled but that's what it is here for and until every Press subscriber has had ample opportunity to thoroughly understand just what wonderful protection this is, we will continue to call your attention to it.

The service is entirely for you. We will be glad to have you avail yourself of its manifold benefits at the earliest possible moment and feel that you are protected in the event of misfortune.

Taking No Chances
LITTLE BOY—I'm not going to school today 'cause we've got work to hard.

Mother—What have you got to do?

LITTLE BOY—I don't know, but teacher said that we'd have allowed thetics after today's lesson.—The Wasp.

MAH JONGG INFLUENCE
Characters of mah jongg tiles are some of the newest sweaters and are introduced about the same of sport skirts.

FUR-FULLE SCARFS
Tulle scarfs bordered with fur are an addition to the ball gown or dinner frock.

TODAY'S BIRTHDAYS.
Mr. Samuel Horace, who was Minister in the late Baldwin Cabinet in Great Britain, born 44 years ago today.

Bishop Ernest G. Richardson, the Methodist Episcopal Church, born in St. Vincent, West Indies, 59 years ago today.

John T. (Honus) Wagner, in the day one of the most celebrated professional baseball players, born at Carnegie, Pa., 55 years ago today.

This famous writer knows more about it than any living person. You'll think so too when you see her latest romance—the drama of a beautiful girl rescued from society's auction block by a young man who knew how to do it. They met on the deck of an ocean liner. Their romance flowered in gay Paree. And then they were imprisoned underground by an explosion for six glorious days.
