

AMAZING TALE IN DAUGHERTY INQUIRY

COOLIDGE AND CONGRESS NOW FACE A CRISIS

PUBLIC WANTS INCOME TAX REDUCTION THIS YEAR.

BY DAVID LAWRENCE.

Washington, March 12.—The administration is face to face with a critical situation in congress. The principal recommendations made by President Coolidge in his December address have not been acted upon.

The utter ineffectiveness of the legislative branch of the government at this time is the subject of widespread complaint judging by the letters pouring in here from different parts of the country.

U. S. SEIZES A BRITISH LINER

CONFISCATE LIQUOR AND NARCOTICS WORTH $10,000.

Perhaps the most flagrant case of congressional lassitude is the record of both democrats and the republicans on the proposal to give the tax-payers of America the benefit on March 15th of this year of a reduction on the 1923 income taxes.

Throughout the United States, citizens have been making out their returns in the hope that before Saturday of this week when the first income tax payments are due, congress might get into action and pass the necessary legislation.

If congress wanted to make the reduction immediately effective, it could be done. Joint resolutions have been known to pass without even the formality of a roll call and in war-times congress frequently broke its own records in passing needed legislation.

Congress To Blame.

The responsibility for the delay in making the 1923 income tax reductions effective at once is not upon the White House or the Treasury Department, for both have urged action of some kind at once so that uncertainty would be removed.

The proposal originated with Chairman Green of the House Ways and Means Committee who made it part of the general revenue bill. The democrats promptly suggested separate legislation by means of a joint resolution so that the latter might go through without waiting for the inevitable debate on the main revenue law affecting 1924 incomes.

The democrats also proposed that the Garner rates apply to 1923. The ways and means committee had the power to report out to the house a separate resolution affecting 1923 incomes but did not do so and there is much gossip as to whether some administration leaders used their influence to keep the measure in the committee or to force the proposal out. There have been some, for instance, who thought the provision affecting 1923 incomes might be used as leverage to force quick action on the main revenue bill and that the tax-payers could not be injured by the delay because a rebate could always be given or else the tax-payers permitted to file one of the quarterly installments on the fifteenth of June, September or December.

Only a few days remain before the first payments are due. If the house wished, it could report and vote on a measure in 24 hours and the resolution sent to the senate where it is doubtful if any democrat or republican would care to take the responsibility of blocking an immediate cut in taxes. But congress is unaware of the pressure of public opinion, something about which, however, President Coolidge may find it desirable, in the next 24 hours, to remind congress.

MAN SOUGHT THREE DAYS NEAR DEATH

(By The Associated Press.)

Petoskey, Mich., March 12.—"Only the mild weather stood between me and death" said Louis Kovlak of Pellston today as he was slowly recovering from a trying experience at the University of Michigan engineering camp on Douglas Lake, near Pellston, where he came near freezing to death.

Kovlak became tired while attempting to walk from Pellston to Cheboygan and entered one of the buildings at the camp to rest. He became sleepy in the cold and when awakened was too much frozen to move. He was found after three days, his hands, feet and face badly frozen. Doctors say he will recover.

U. S. SEIZES A BRITISH LINER

CONFISCATE LIQUOR AND NARCOTICS WORTH $10,000.

(By The Associated Press.)

New York, March 12.—Upholding the seizure today, of the British liner Orduña by the government, after a raid in which liquor and narcotics worth $10,000 were seized, United States District Attorney William Hayward tonight charged that virtually every foreign ship entering New York harbor allows traffic in liquor and narcotics.

"On every ship they sneer and jeer at the United States and openly defy our government with arrogance," said Colonel Hayward, who personally led the raid which resulted in the issuance of an order in Washington by Secretary of the Treasury Mellon for the seizure of the Orduña. Eight members of the Orduña's crew were arrested in the raid.

Lack of Discipline?

"Either there is the lowest state of discipline on the ships which is a constant menace to passengers," said Colonel Hayward, "or the board of officers themselves or possibly the lines themselves, are in collusion and sharing in profits.

"The government of the United States through the treasury department did everything in its power to prevent annoyance or serious interference with the routine of the ships, permitting liquor to be carried as medical supplies."

What Congress Did Yesterday

(By The Associated Press.)

The senate ordered an inquiry into the administration of the bureau of internal revenue. Former Senator W. S. Kenyon of Iowa, it was disclosed, is under consideration for secretary of the navy.

House leaders refused to bring up the resolution providing for a 25 per cent cut in taxes this year.

The senate Daugherty investigating committee opened its hearings with Roxie Stinson, of Columbus, Ohio, as the first witness.

The house ways and means sub-committee made public its plans for insurance policies as a feature of the bonus bill.

The suspension of section 28 of the merchant marine act was lifted by the interstate commerce commission, effective May 20.

Secretary Mellon told the senate finance committee that the revenue bill passed by the house must be revised to prevent a treasury deficit.

128TH BODY IS FOUND IN MINE

Fires Are Controlled And Grim Search Is Kept Up.

(By The Associated Press.)

Castle Gate, Utah, March 12.—Small fires which hampered rescue crews in mine number two, Utah Fuel Company, today have been extinguished and the grim task of searching for bodies of the entombed miners has been resumed.

The body of the 128th victim was recovered this afternoon, leaving 45 to be accounted for.

Lower recesses of the mine are filled with water, with pumps damaged, but steps are being taken to have them repaired.

Thirty-four bodies were taken to Helper and Price, Utah, for interment. Several also were shipped to other Utah points and to Nevada towns.

Funeral services for many of the miners who resided here were to be held today. Full military services will be accorded the twenty veterans of the world war, who lost their lives in the disaster.

Because of the large number of funerals only short services will be held at the graves for the victims, but a monster public memorial service is planned for later. But three bodies were removed.

Lowered Rates Ordered On All Fireproof Rooms

(By The Associated Press.)

Lansing, Mich., Mar. 12.—The Michigan inspection bureau has ordered insurance rate reductions averaging about 12 per cent on fire proof buildings, according to word received today by L. T. Hands, state insurance commissioner.

The insurance law passed by the 1923 legislature, requiring the bureau to expose its schedules to the insurance department, was partly responsible for the cut. It was said. On apartments and fire proof dwellings the rates will be reduced in some cases as much as forty per cent. Mr. Hands said, while on other fire proof structures the reduction will be noticeable.

Senator Moses Says Result Is "Just The Same"

(By The Associated Press.)

Washington, Mar. 12.—In a statement commenting upon the results of the New Hampshire primary in which he was defeated for delegate-at-large to the Republican national convention, Senator Moses said today: "Naturally I am sorry that I cannot vote for Mr. Coolidge in June as well as in November but the main thing demonstrated by our primary in New Hampshire is for Coolidge."

Snow-Freighted Hurricane Does Heavy Damage at Sea

(By The Associated Press.)

New York, March 12.—The Ward Line freighter Santiago, the captain and 24 of his men are believed tonight to have been lost with their vessel in the snow-freighted hurricane which last night swept the Atlantic coast, taking eight lives in New York City alone.

After raging at 80 miles an hour along the eastern seaboard from Cape Hatteras, where the Santiago went down, to Eastport, Maine, the gale appeared tonight to have spent its fury. Its path on land and sea was marked by scores of disabled craft, enormous property damage and a long list of dead and injured.

Transportation, power distributing systems and lines of communication were most seriously crippled. The storm inflicted upon Brooklyn a complete tieup of its rapid transit lines, stranding hundreds of thousands of commuters this morning.

Radio Tells Disaster. Ten men were reported rescued and 25 were missing from the freighter Santiago, news of whose sinking sixty miles south of Cape Hatteras was carried in a radio message intercepted today by the Charleston (S. C.) navy yards station.

How the Santiago sank was not told. The first message, signed by the captain of the Norwegian steamship Clisy, simply said: "Picked up life boat containing six sailors, three firemen, one carpenter, from the steamer Santiago, which sank sixty miles south of Hatteras. No other life boats seen, proceeding Baltimore."

The resolution calls on Attorney General Daugherty to furnish the house information which last week he refused to disclose.

SAYS HE WAS TRYING TO AID AN OLD FRIEND

FALL ASKED HIM TO SAY LOAN WAS MADE IN CASH.

(By The Associated Press.)

Washington, March 12.—Edward B. McLean, publisher of the Washington Post, told the oil committee today that he had been drawn unwittingly into the oil scandal through a well intentioned effort to aid his trusted friend, Albert B. Fall.

He insisted that the true story of his $100,000 loan to the former secretary was that which he told Senator Walsh, of Montana, at Palm Beach in January; that he had given Fall checks for that amount in November, 1921, and that they had been returned to him uncashed.

His precious statement that the loan had been in cash, he said, was made because Fall requested at a conference in Atlantic City last December that he make that explanation if it became necessary.

He testified Fall, ill and broken, had assured him that his worries and embarrassments had "nothing to do with Sinclair or Teapot Dome."

The Doheny Loan. It was not until after he had testified in Palm Beach, McLean declared, that Fall told him he had obtained $100,000 from Edward L. Doheny on November 30, 1921.

Declaring he had had no other connection with the whole subject under investigation; did not know either Sinclair or Doheny; and never owned stock in any of their oil companies, the publisher summed up his situation thus: "I was trying to go down the line as far as I could for a friend. I have never done a dishonest thing in my life financially. I have never had anything to do with this damned Teapot-Dome thing. That is really the truth. You can decode telegrams, you can look through them for the next year, and you can never find anything dishonest I have done."

Sheds Little Light. Although hailed as one of the more important of the witnesses in the inquiry, McLean shed little additional light on the situation, and his testimony was anything but thrilling. Despite this his every word was followed with tense interest by the crowd which jammed the committee room and overflowed into the ante-chamber.

The publisher was direct in his answers and was not subjected to vigorous cross examination. Time and again he told the committee he wanted to be frank with it and tell it all he knew. The only variation from his Palm Beach testimony was that he fixed the time of giving Fall the checks as the last week in November, 1921, instead of in the last week of December of that year.

Employees Are Quizzed. McLean followed to the stand several White House and Washington Post employees. His attorneys, Wilton J. Lambert and William Leach, accompanied him into the committee room and remained seated nearby him throughout his stay on the stand and when the committee had finished its examination, Mr. Lambert questioned his client briefly to emphasize certain points of his testimony.

McLean emphatically declared that he had had no connection with any slush fund, rumors of which have reached the committee. He was unable to aid the committee materially in translating some of the still mysterious telegrams, explaining that he could not recall details as he had received and sent hundreds of them while at Palm Beach.

Can't Remember. In view of the conflicting statements made to the committee heretofore, McLean said he could not be certain what person was meant in the celebrated "principal" telegram; that he had thought it was either Attorney General Daugherty or Senator Curtis of Kansas, and that he did not think that President Coolidge was referred to.

The publisher said he had been made a secret agent of the department of justice "a month or so" after President Harding had been inaugurated. He said he was given a code, "a little card, and a

NAVAL SECRETARYSHIP OFFERED TO FEDERAL JUDGE W. S. KENYON

Former Iowa Senator Will "Think It Over".

(By The Associated Press.)

Washington, March 12.—William S. Kenyon, former senator from Iowa and now a federal circuit judge, has been offered the naval secretaryship by President Coolidge. He will give his answer to the president probably tomorrow.

Considered first by the president for the post of attorney general in the event of the retirement of Harry M. Daugherty, Judge Kenyon was asked to come to Washington and, arriving last night, went direct to the White House. During a two hour conference with Mr. Coolidge, he was tendered the navy department leadership and is understood to have asked that he be given until tomorrow to think it over.

Can't Discuss It. Whether the former Iowa senator and farm bloc leader will accept the appointment appeared tonight to be a question which he alone could answer and he declined to do it. When asked directly whether he had been offered a place in President Coolidge's official family he made this reply: "Well you know it is one of the ethics of the bench that the judge cannot talk—can discuss nothing."

President Coolidge is known to be very desirous that Judge Kenyon take the place, which was vacated by Edwin Denby last Monday and believes that the experience of the Iowa man as assistant to the attorney general in the Taft administration, as United States senator for eleven years, and as federal circuit judge since January, 1922, would make him an admirable head for the navy department.

Some of Judge Kenyon's close friends in Washington have advised him against accepting the office, pointing out that administration of naval affairs would be out of line with his natural inclinations toward legal matters and agricultural questions. Judge Kenyon, himself, has several times told friends here that his work as a member of the United States court for the eighth circuit, and some of his friends on being asked to advise him have inquired of him why he should desire to give up a life on the bench to take a cabinet place with a tenure that might be limited to a single year.

POMERENE AND ROBERTS READY TO START CASE

(By The Associated Press.)

Cheyenne, Wyo., Mar. 12.—Alice Pomerene and Owen J. Roberts, special government counsel, arrived here at 2:15 o'clock this afternoon for the preliminary hearing tomorrow on the government's suit for annulment of the lease of Teapot Dome oil reserve to the Mammoth Oil Company.

Mr. Roberts declared shortly after his arrival that no action in connection with the reported annulment proceedings would be taken today.

Mr. Roberts also announced that he and Mr. Pomerene would confer this afternoon with A. D. Walton, United States district attorney for Wyoming. He added that no statement concerning the procedure to be followed would be made until after this conference.

MURDER RESULT OF INSANE BET

Chicago Woman Gives Details of Crime During Debauch.

(By The Associated Press.)

Chicago, Mar. 12.—A bizarre wager, by which the loss of a coin was to determine which of two persons would have first shot at the other was described to a coroner's jury today by Mrs. Bell Gaertner, divorcee, and resulted in a recommendation that she be held for murder in connection with the death of Walter R. Law, automobile salesman.

Law was found today slumped over the wheel of Mrs. Gaertner's automobile with a bullet through his head. Two blocks away the police found Mrs. Gaertner pacing the floor of her apartment and sobbing hysterically. The jury decided that Law, married and father of a baby was killed by a bullet fired by Mrs. Gaertner.

Insane Bargain. According to her story, Law and she had been to a cabaret on the way home argued about their marksmanship. Mrs. Gaertner said she had a pistol and they agreed to toss a coin, the winner to have one shot at the other. If they missed, the loser then was to take one shot, the process to be continued until a hit was scored.

Mrs. Gaertner admitted she was intoxicated and said she did not remember what happened after this. She declared she saw blood on Law's face then fled to her home in terror. She said that some one else may have shot him. Mrs. Gaertner was badly scratched and bruised and her gloves were blood-stained, but she was unable to explain how she was injured. Her pistol with one chamber exploded, was found on the floor of her automobile with an empty tin bottle.

Mrs. Gaertner was formerly a cabaret singer and had been twice divorced from Wm. Gaertner, wealthy manufacturer.

Gaertner told the police today he was arranging to marry the woman for the third time.

STORMY SCENE AS ATTORNEY STRIKE FEELS

WOMAN WITNESS TELLS OF ALLEGED STOCK DEALS.

(By The Associated Press.)

Washington, March 12.—With an amazing tale, replete with insinuations, inferences and charges, the senate committee investigation of Attorney General Daugherty got under way today with a cyclonic start.

Roxie Stinson, of Columbus, Ohio, divorced wife of Jesse W. Smith of Washington Court House, "bum and friend" and confidant of the attorney general, who committed suicide in the city's apartments here a year ago, was the first and only witness.

From behind the crumpled folds of a tear-soaked handkerchief, she sobbed and murmured a sensational story that ran from stock transactions to a Carpentier-Dempsey prize fight, all of which she insisted were connected with profits for her late husband, the attorney general.

In all the account of his "ins" in Washington, which she contended against all cross examination that when Smith said "war" he meant himself and Daugherty and that when she said "they" she meant the two men.

Fight Pictures. Specifically, Miss Stinson testified that Smith had given her 25 shares of White Motors stock which was a part of what "they" had obtained without any "cost" that Smith told her "we" looked forward to profits approximately $180,000 if it could be arranged to exhibit the motion pictures of the Carpentier-Dempsey fight that Smith had come into possession of an amount of the stock of the Pure Oil Company of Ohio and that Smith, proprietor of a small town store in Ohio, worth approximately $75,000 when he came to Washington in 1923 soon increased his fortune to approximately $250,000.

All this, Miss Stinson said, was done by "we" and "they" and she persisted that the second man of the combination always was Attorney General Daugherty because, she declared that in all their confidences, Smith never meant anybody else, and that furthermore when he did, she mentioned the person specifically by name.

Regular Barrage. Having gone two nights without sleep, Mrs. Stinson said she had exacted a promise from Senator Wheeler, Democrat, of Montana, who committee president, to keep her on the stand only an hour today. She will return and finish her story, if possible, tomorrow. She was getting down to questioning about "a mysterious greenhouse" when the committee let her off.

But in the short time she occupied the witness chair the events of the session resembled a carload of ammunition going off. Senator Wheeler had a row with Paul Howland, Mr. Daugherty's chief counsel; sparks flew from both sides of the table, and Senator Wheeler launched into a machine gun fusillade of questioning in which the questions and the answers flew so fast and covered so wide a ground, that a room full of veteran newspaper correspondents, hardened to the rattle and fire of congressional investigation, simply couldn't keep up with the proceedings.

Smith told her, Miss Stinson said, of many transactions in which Mr. Daugherty was joined although, she said, Mr. Daugherty's name was not mentioned specifically. She professed inability to state from whom or for what service such stock was received but promised tomorrow upon arrival of papers from Ohio, to support her testimony with documentary evidence. The committee also subpoenaed Columbus stock brokers' records and telegrams to and from Smith.

Stormy Scene. When Mr. Howland sought to intervene in Miss Stinson's examination, Senator Wheeler rushed to the limits of the committee table declaring he would not be "bulldozed." There was another stormy scene over presentation of a prepared statement by the attorney general. It finally was received but only after the committee twice, by a vote of 2 to 2 and with Senator Brookhart of Iowa, insurgent Republican, voting with the Democrats.

The government loans for all times during the war, Senator Shipstead recalled that J. P. Morgan and Company's $400,000,000 loan to France was assumed by United States just after the war entered the war, and added that it would be interesting to know if it is true that the flag had on our entrance into the war for democracy. It will be interesting to know what effect this to the imperial government will have in getting into the next war.

BONUS TERMS
AGREED UPON

Will Try For Action On Measure Next Monday.

(By The Associated Press.)
Washington, Mar. 12.—Terms of the new soldier bonus bill, providing paid-up life insurance policies, were agreed upon today by a sub-committee of the House ways and means committee and will be taken before that body for decision tomorrow.
Chairman Green announced he would attempt to have the measure acted upon next Monday by the House under suspension of the rules which would limit debate, prevent amendments, and permit a vote in one day.
The insurance policy, it was decided, would be 20-year endowment and valued on the basis of length of service of each veteran, with $1 allowed for each day of home service and $1.25 for each day of overseas service, but with the first sixty days excluded. To this total would be added 25 per cent and the face value of the policy then would be determined by computing the total amount of adjusted service credit plus the 20 years of compounded four per cent interest.
Service Credits.
In figuring the adjusted service credit, a maximum of $500 would be allowed for home service and $625 for overseas service. It was estimated then that the maximum face value of any certificate would be about $1,400 for a veteran who served full time at home or $1,900 for one who served the full time overseas.
Under previous agreement all veterans up to the rank of captain in the army and marine corps, and lieutenant senior grade in the navy would be eligible to the policies. It also was decided to include the dependents of all veterans who have died since the close of the war. Cash payments would be made to all veterans not entitled to more than $50.
Loan Provisions.
The policies would be made effective next January 1 and after two years, loans could be asked at state and federal banks on ninety per cent of the cash value of the policy at the time.
The dependents of those who have died since the war who would be eligible to receive payments from the government would be fathers and mothers and children under 18 years of age. The amounts due them would be figured strictly on the basis of a $1 a day for home service and $1.25 a day for overseas service of the deceased. This sum would be paid out in ten annual installments to the dependents.
The total cost of the bill, it was estimated would be about $2,000,000,000, and not more than $90,000,000 would have to be expended by the government in any one year. It was estimated that $16,000,000 would be expended immediately in payments to those not entitled to more than $50 and that cash payments to dependents of deceased veterans would amount to about $125,000,000. The insurance policies, it was said, would cost $1,831,000,000 spread over a period of twenty years.

Alleged Piggers
Held On Stories
Of Debauchery

Detroit, March 12.—Three warrants charging alleged blind pig operators with contributing to the delinquency of children and other serious charges were issued today by Judge Jeffries as a result of the stories of drinking and debauchery told by school children to investigators from the Wayne county prosecutor's office.
Those accused are Emmanuel Caoteute, Sherman Belleville and Albert Meizer. The complaint against Caoteute was made by Evelyn Nell, 14 years old, naming 2461 Park Boulevard as the scene of a three day "party" which began February 22.
Carl Folles, 16, and Bryant Mitchell, 16, testified against the other two men. The place named is 2818 Grand River Avenue. The cases were put over until tomorrow to enable them to get witnesses.

Hired Man Not
Held Responsible
For Heart Balm

(By The Associated Press.)
Corrunna, Mich., Mar. 12.—After deliberating five hours, a circuit court jury here today returned a verdict of no cause for action in the $3,500 suit of Mrs. Edna Brock, 55 years old, of Rush township, against Jacob J. Meyer, 31 years old, her former hired man, for alleged breach of promise.
Meyer worked on the Brock farm from 1914 to 1919, when he bought a farm of his own. While working on the Brock farm, he lived in Mrs. Brock's home. She charged that in 1914 he proposed marriage to her.
He admits this, saying, "People are talking about the way we are living here and we must be married or I must go on my way."
But he adds that she said: "I don't give a—what people think, we will go on the way we are," and refused to marry him. Mrs. Brock claimed their engagement lasted until February, 1923, when, she says, Meyer broke it to marry Esther Bliss, a school teacher. He said that after 1914 nothing was ever said about marriage.

Potter. The charges were filed recently with Governor Grosbeck by Henry J. Kaesp, district deputy fire warden. The governor ordered Argall to appear and show cause why he should not be removed from office.
The fire warden alleges that the coroner made no effort to identify the bodies of the Big Bay fire victims and that he made false statements that identification was impossible in order to collect fees paid by the state to coroners when they hold inquests over bodies of unknown dead.

WON'T REOPEN
FUND DISPUTE

Release Of Aggie Extension Fund To Stand.

(By The Associated Press.)
Lansing, Mich., March 12.—The state administration apparently has decided not to re-open the case won by the state board of agriculture, when the supreme court issued a mandamus to compel the administrative board to release the $150,000 appropriation for extension work at the Michigan Agricultural College. The forty day limit for filing a petition for rehearing expired today. Auditor General O. B. Fuller stated that the money will be turned over to the agricultural board as soon as he receives authorization from the attorney general.
The agricultural board made formal demand for the money shortly after the court made its ruling. At that time the auditor general refused to release it, stating that there was a chance that the administrative board would appeal.
The evident decision of the administrative board not to re-institute the case is generally taken to mean that the controversy between the two boards, which simmered and boiled for months, will be permitted to die out. The court action was the culmination of a dispute which started when Dr. David Friday was forced out as president of M. A. C., by the agricultural board, and against the wishes of the governor. Following this incident the administrative board attacking the county agent system at the college and refused to release the extension appropriation until it was revised. The agricultural board challenged the administrative board to make it revise the county agent system and went into court and obtained an order compelling the release of the appropriation.

bers, had turned down requests of defense attorneys.
Miss Stinson said Smith and she had secret trading accounts, known respectively as William R. A. Hayes, Numbers 2 and 3, with Samuel Ungerleider and Company, a Columbus brokerage firm whose records were today subpoenaed. The White Motor stock, 25 shares, was sold under orders from Smith, she said to "put it on the market quickly and quietly."
In telling her of his plans for a cessation to display the prize fight pictures, Miss Stinson said Smith told her that "we had a big thing." Asked who "we" referred to, she answered: "We never discussed anybody else but Mr. Daugherty."
"There might have been others in it," she added, "but whenever we discussed anything of that sort it referred to Mr. Daugherty."
White Motor Stock.
When Senator Wheeler led up to the White Motor stock transaction, Miss Stinson said the shares were made out in blank and that Smith told her, when ordering its sale "quickly and quietly" that it "didn't cost them anything." Asked again who was referred to, the witness said: "The topic of conversation, Mr. Daugherty."
In giving her 22 shares of Pure Oil stock later, Miss Stinson said Smith told her that "they" had made another deal. Again the query of identity came and she replied: "I assume Harry Daugherty."
Pressed further by Senator Jones, Republican, Washington, Miss Stinson said she couldn't say whether Mr. Daugherty's name was or was not mentioned specifically, but added: "It was clear in my mind who he (Smith) meant."
All of the transactions mentioned, Miss Stinson said, were some time after Smith had come to Washington with Mr. Daugherty after President Harding took office. Although divorced from Smith only a year and a half after their marriage in 1908, Miss Stinson said that her relations subsequently with Smith were "most friendly" although "perfectly conventional." He wrote or telegraphed her almost daily and visited her frequently at her home at Washington Court House, Ohio, where Smith's body now lies.
At the Sawyer "San."
The names of President Harding and Edward M. McLean, Washington publisher, who has been a prominent figure in the oil investigation, were mentioned in the woman's recital. She said that Mr. Harding was her partner at a Christmas dinner party at the sanitarium of Dr. Sawyer, Mr. Harding's physician.
The name of Mr. McLean, she added, was mentioned by Smith in discussing the "deals" he told her of having, as she understood, with Mr. Daugherty. She also said Smith had told her that when the attorney general and he first came to Washington they occupied McLean's home here rent-free. Senator Ashurst, Democrat, Arizona, drew from her the statement that she knew of a "green house on K street" where Mr. Daugherty, Smith and others were said to have gathered for discussions.
Smith a Martyr.
"Jesse Smith gave his life for Harry Daugherty," she said. "He absolutely adored him. I would not have come here voluntarily; yet I have always told Mal Daugherty (the attorney general's brother) I would come if ever sent for. I told him months ago before this thing was started, because I knew it would have to come, when I knew what Jesse was going through for months."
What do you mean "what he was going through?" persisted Senator Wheeler.
"Tortures of pressure being brought on him by different people to try to betray Harry Daugherty, which he would not do," was the answer. "He wanted to shield him in every possible way. He lived for him; he loved him. He had not been here in Washington for three or four months until he said: 'I'm not made for this. This intrigue is setting me crazy. If I could just come home, but I am in now and I have to stand by Harry.' That is what he always said."
Prepares for End.
Some time before he killed himself Smith told her Miss Stinson continued, he feared "being closed down upon." Smith told her in detail, she added, "what not to tell, what not to do and what to destroy."
Trouble over Smith's estate was disclosed by Miss Stinson. His will left her, the attorney general and Mal Daugherty $25,000 each, with a large residuary estate to the attorney general. Before shooting himself, Miss Stinson related, Smith wrote a holographic will "making more provision for her, but she said no attempt at its probate was made because Mal Daugherty told her that it was invalid because un-witnessed.
A stock account in Columbus of over $11,000 was taken over for the estate by Mal Daugherty, she added. He is a Washington Court House banker in whose bank, the Midland National, Smith told her, he had on deposit $175,000 of "eastern money." The senate committee issued a subpoena for the head book-keeper of the bank together with his records.
Before taking the witness stand, news photographers sought photographs of Miss Stinson and the committee but Senator Wheeler said she objected

STORY DENIED.
Columbus, O., Mar. 12.—Denial that a "William R. A. Hayes Number 2" account was carried by Jesse Smith with his firm was made tonight by W. Rufus A. Hayes, manager of the Columbus branch of Ungerleider and Company, following testimony today of Roxie Stinson, former wife of Jesse Smith, personal friend of Attorney General Daugherty.
"The William R. A. Hayes Number 2 account," said Mr. Hayes, "was in no way related to either Jesse Smith or Mrs. Roxie Stinson Smith. It is very probable that Mrs. Smith knowing that the account maintained for her by Mr. Smith was known as William R. A. Hayes Number 2 jumped to the conclusion that there must be a number 2 account. Nothing like that is true.
The only account we ever had with Mr. Smith was the one carried in his own name and which was closed two years ago."
This account, Mr. Hayes said, was opened with company in May, 1920, and carried until late in 1921 or early in 1922.
"The William R. A. Hayes number 3 account," Mr. Hayes stated, "was opened by Mr. Smith for the benefit of his divorced wife. Jesse came into the office and told us he wanted to open an account for Roxie. I told him we did not like to carry accounts for women, but at his insistence we finally opened it. Mr. Smith then transferred securities to us from London, Vercoe and Company, another local brokerage house, to the amount of approximately $5,000."
Base of Suit.
"This account was carried by us until it was closed on the order of Mr. Smith's executor. At that time as nearly as I can recall, it amounted to about $11,400. This account is now the basis of a suit in Fayette county Ohio. Mr. Smith's home in which Mrs. Stinson is suing the executor of her former husband's es-

A Nicer Way

To clean teeth—It fights film
You owe it to yourself

This is to you who still brush teeth in old ways. There is a newer, nicer way. It means new safety, new beauty, new delights. Millions now employ it. The whiter teeth seen everywhere show you one of its effects.

Ask your dealer now for this ten-day test and learn what benefits may come to you and yours.

That coat is film
That viscous coat you feel on teeth is film. Under old methods, much of it clings and stays. It becomes discolored, then forms dingy spots. That is how teeth lose their beauty.

Film is the great tooth enemy. It holds food substance which ferments and forms acid. It holds the acid in contact with the teeth to cause decay. Germs breed by millions in it. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea.

Film-caused troubles were, in old days, almost universal.

New ways found
Dental science has in late years found two ways to fight that film. One disintegrates the film at all stages of formation. One removes it without harmful scouring.

These methods have proved effective. A new-type tooth paste has been created to apply them daily. The name is Pepsodent. That is fast bringing a new dental era. Careful people of some 50 nations use Pepsodent today.

Fights acid too
Pepsodent also multiplies the alkalinity of the saliva, which is there to neutralize mouth acids. It multiplies the starch digestant in saliva. That is there to digest starch deposits which may otherwise ferment and form acids. The use of Pepsodent brings these constant new protections, and they are found to be essential.

No one can doubt
A few days will convince you that Pepsodent is the tooth paste for your home.

Present the coupon for a 10-Day Tube. Note how clean the teeth feel after using. Mark the absence of the viscous film. See how teeth become whiter as the film-coats disappear.

You will be glad you tried it. Cut out coupon now.

Protect the Enamel
Pepsodent disintegrates the film, then removes it with an agent far softer than enamel. Never use a film combantant which contains harsh grit.

WHAT DO WE OFFER? There is no royal road to industrial expansion. Every city has one or more stages that no other city has. And out what one or more advantageous factors your city has. Then hammer them home with trip-hammer intelligence. Beware of advertising the initial poverty of your city by begging bonuses in any form to industry. There are, roughly, the four factors upon which Mark Fenton put his advice to this city most enlightening, encouraging and instructive Chamber of Commerce forum talk Tuesday night. Fenton put into words the rights which many Escanabans have held, and he gave exhortation to ideals to which most sincere well wishers of the city have subscribed for many years. Any real and lasting success in achieving is worth striving mightily. Cities must fight their way up the ladder round by round just as individuals do. Occasionally a man from the outside comes along and finds something the city that the city did not know it had—but that isn't the rule is that the city finds exactly what it has to offer. To one, but to many lines of industry. It classifies all these and weighs them judicially, weighs them up and if it hasn't what a manufacturer wants, he waits until he finds what he desires in the way of a location. Should he be persuaded to locate against his judgment but because of some bonus inducement, never becomes a strong factor in the civic life because the things that are fundamentally necessary to his business did not exist in the first place and they might be produced artificially. It's only a matter of time until the industry "blows" and the resulting discouragement, lack of confidence and more damaging to the city morale than the manufacturer had never located. There is much meat in Mr. Fenton's suggestion. He is not a magician or wonder worker. He deals with the everyday facts of community life. He believes that intelligence and hard work will sell a city just as it will sell merchandise or any commodity. He believes that Escanaba, like any other city, has advantages peculiar to itself and he believes that the men of this city can so capitalize these advantages that Escanaba will grow and prosper in exact measure as she responds to the dictates of common sense and hard work. We cannot consistently hope that any fair prince is going to slip any cut glass slippers on our toddlers—we've got to keep picking 'em up and setting 'em down in a general forward direction. That's about the gist of Fenton's talk. A survey of the community's resources, advantages, handicaps, all set down in order and classified with reference to various industries, ought to constitute the bulk of the charge with which the industrial shotgun is loaded, so that when it is fired point blank at a prospective industry, there will be some hope of bringing down the game. It certainly is worth a trial. The men, material and means are at hand to do it. Let's Go!

FRECKLES AND HIS FRIENDS

THE OLD HOME TOWN

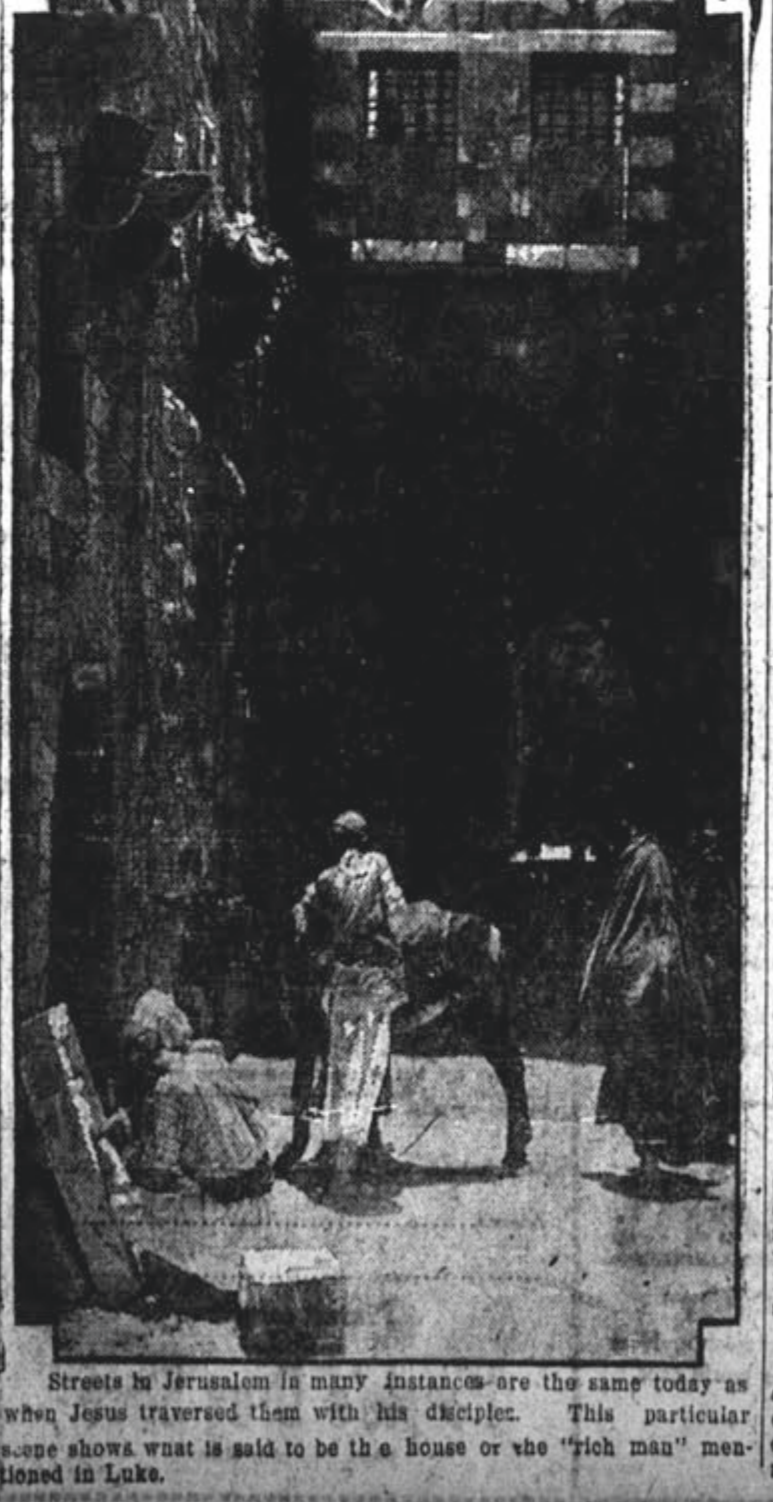

"Beth, The Ambitious"

BY JANE PHELPS. JOHN BROWNING REMAINS FRIENDLY. Chapter III. John Browning took his refusal as he had taken all blows—standing. "I'm still your friend, Beth. And if ever you need anything I hope you will remember it. I am very sorry you couldn't care for me. It was too much to expect perhaps. But don't let me lose sight of you, and congratulate that young man for me. I wonder if he will appreciate you as I would. How old is he, Beth?" "Twenty-eight." Browning sighed. Twenty-eight and sixty! No wonder he had failed. In a month Beth and Harter were quietly married. Only Beth's people, her father, mother, and two younger sisters, and Jane and Lester Normand, were at the quiet wedding. Harter had no family. A half sister much older than he had practically brought him up, and she lived in the far west. "You won't have any relatives to meddle, Beth," Jane said, "and believe me, that's more of a comfort than you imagine." Jane's husband had what she called a "flock" of them, and some of them were inclined to interfere. Harter's salary was small, living costs high, and Beth proposed she keep right on at the office. "No, dear! No wife of mine works outside her home," Harter said. "But for a time anyway, Harter. We could have so many pretty things for the house with my salary." "I said no, and I mean no! The place for a woman, a wife, you have worked so long in the same position. If you worked a little harder, pushed yourself a little, wouldn't they give you a better job?" "I don't know, I'll see what I can do." In spite of Harter's refusal to let her work, and in spite of the little she had to do with, Beth was fairly happy. Harter was completely so, because she made him comfortable. And as Jane said, "Comfort is Harter's middle name." They went out but little, an occasional picture show, on Sunday a walk in one of the parks or a visit to Jane Normand's bright little apartment. Lester Normand was Harter's opposite in every way. The same age, Lester had been advanced step by step by the manufacturing firm for which he worked, until now he held a responsible position with a generous salary. "I wish Harter was, as ambitious as Lester," Beth invariably said to herself after one of these visits. Tomorrow—A Woman's Place Is In The Home. Fellowship of Prayer Daily Lenten Bible reading and meditation prepared for Commission on Evangelism of Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America. THURSDAY Power in Prayer Read Mt. 7:7-14 Text: 7:7. Ask, and it shall be given you seek, and ye shall find; knock, and it shall be opened for you. "All the varied years of human life are calculated to develop enlarging capacity for praying. The long history of life in the earth shows that God has been wanting men to find out the laws of the physical and psychic world and to learn how to work with Him in the use of physical and psychic force for "the common good." MEDITATION: IN urging his disciples to seek God, Jesus assured them that they would receive that which their souls needed most. This is not saying but what the search may be long and the seeking multiplied and the knocking continued until we are prepared to make the greatest use of that which God has in store for us. PERSONAL QUESTION: Have I grown this year through prayer? PRAYER—O merciful God, help us to believe that if we lose sight of thee it is because we turn our eyes from thee. Save us from being easily discouraged in seeking thee. Let us feel about us the inspiration of thy presence. Amen. (Copyright, 1924—F. L. Fagely)

GARDEN PAGE NEW FEATURE IN THE PRESS

Will Be Given Readers Of This Paper One Day
Each Week.

Commencing with this issue, we are introducing a new feature in the columns of the Press. Instead of publishing local matter several times during the week as heretofore, this will be reserved for the Thursday issue of the paper and will constitute what will be in fact, a Garden issue of the Press. This plan has a number of features to commend it to our readers and from the opinions expressed by a number of subscribers previous to making the decision we believe that it will be much preferable to the old time way.

We wish to express our sense of appreciation to the local business men who have helped us to set off our page of the first issue in such an attractive manner and venture to express the hope that the venture will be remunerative to them. We wish also to thank those who have in the past contributed to our news columns. We regret that occasionally, your news has been miscarried somewhere on its trip from your pen to the newspaper page but we feel safe in assuring our friends that in the future, under the new arrangements, all matter will find its way promptly in the Garden page which will appear every Thursday. Will contributors please note that it will be necessary for the writer to receive all news matter by Monday night in order to give it a place in the current weeks news. We are very anxious to get all your news matter. In this way you will cooperate in making the Garden page in particular, and the whole paper in general, more interesting.

We hope that our efforts to improve the paper has been appreciated. We believe that it is especially when we remember that we are retaining practically all of our old readers and adding new readers. We are proud when we hear so many nice things said about the paper generally and feel that the slogan of our publishers "A better paper every day" is actually being carried out. Our readers tell us that it is and they are the judge and jury.

We try to give service. We want to boost Garden and Fairbank. We want to bring more business here. We want it to be a class place morally and such that we have no apology whatever to make for any of the conditions existing.

For service, and in the interests of a better, cleaner, happier, healthier Garden.

H. Heafield.

Ice-Cutting Work in Bay Completed

Fred Rost and sons of Van's Harbor started to cut their supply of ice last Friday. They were not long in finding that the ice was so full of grit and dirt as to render it unfit for their use. This condition was caused by the heavy winds just previous to freezing up last fall. The sand was worked up from the bed of the bay and whirled around and around in the waves, not having time to settle before it was frozen in with the ice. It was not a difficult matter however to find clean ice further out in the bay.

Program On Its Way Round World Heard in Garden

Many of those who were listening in with their radiophones last Friday had quite a thrill. At a dinner given at the Waldorf Astoria by the Alumni of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, it was stated that a novel experiment was being tried out. The entire program was being relayed by a number of broadcasting stations and in this way was carried around the globe. The stations participating in this novel and interesting scheme were New York, Schenectady, Pittsburg, Hastings, Nebraska, Oakland, California, Honolulu, London and Constantinople. That the plan was successfully carried out was proved by the fact that within an hour from the commencement of the program, a cablegram was received from London, England, stating that the program was coming in fine. In just a few minutes more, another message came from Manchester, England with substantially the same message. Other telegrams poured in from every corner of the States telling the same story. It was a wonderful experience to sit and listen to a program which was being listened to simultaneously by spell bound audiences all over the globe. What next?

The big crowd enjoyed themselves thoroughly and all expressed the wish that they, with Mrs. McPhee would be spared to see many more such gatherings.

BETTER SERVICE.

We regret that several of the above items are a little old. In some way or other these items were waylaid on their journey to the columns of this paper. Devotion Readings
Should Be Perused

The attention of our readers is called to the series of devotional readings being published daily by this paper. A few minutes spent each day in reading this and engaging in quiet meditation will leave one all the stronger and better able to do the tasks of life. Anyone wishing to possess the whole of the readings in booklet form, may do so by making early application to the writer. It is an indication that the world is growing better when newspaper editors all over the country, realize that amid all the trash that is put in a city or country newspaper, there is a desire on the part of readers, to get the better quality of reading such as that above referred to. We hope that our readers will make the best possible use of these "daily meditations."

Citizens Training Camp Data Arrive

Walter Stellwagen has just received a quantity of literature in reference to the Citizens' Training Camp being operated by the Government at Camp Custer during the month of August. Our young men may not be aware that Uncle Sam pays all travelling expenses to and from the camp, furnishes food and even a uniform while there. This course of training is an excellent thing for any young man. The discipline afforded would be a wholesome factor for any youth.

Pig Is Taken to Town Hall, Given Away as a Prize

Quite a little merriment was caused on Tuesday night last at the Town Hall when it became known that a real live, wee pig had been brought to the gathering being held there by members of the local Catholic church. The little porker was only around three weeks old and was really too tiny to be taken away from the home nest. But nevertheless he was duly placed on exhibition in the hall and announced to be one of the prizes to be given on the evening's program of entertainment. Mrs. Eunice Ward of Van's Harbor was substantially declared to be the winner of the pig. She readily assented to the suggestion that it be taken home again there to grow a little larger and stronger before being assigned to its solitary and future home from whence it will not emerge until it meets the cruel knife which will transform it from a mere hog into Christmas pork. Henry LaVigne was the donor of the pig.

SUGGEST CAMP SITE INSIDE CITY LIMITS

Recent discussions among Manistique business men regarding tourist accommodations at this place have shown a strong sentiment in favor of an improved camping site, with lights, shower baths, and other facilities, located inside the city limits for the convenience of the summer auto traveler.

The present Schoolcraft county camp site, while unbeatable from a standpoint of beauty, bathing facilities and fishing, is said to have proven unsatisfactory to some of the transient tourists who desire a safe place to park their cars or set up their tents, where every convenience is offered for washing off the traces of travel, and where they can conveniently buy their supplies for further trips, making this city their headquarters.

Such a place can only be provided inside the city limits, and an available site is offered at the fair grounds, where there are buildings available for shelter and cooking. This site was used to some extent last year, though there were no efforts made to attract the tourist there. The place was not advertised, and there were no special accommodations offered other than a mere free parking and camping space.

FENTON TELLS HOW TO LAND AN INDUSTRY

Manistique Should Take Stock of Its Assets, Says Expert.

"There is no more equity in giving a bonus or bribe to get a new industry into your city than there would be in the giving to any of you gentlemen a bonus to stay here," declared Mark Fenton, industrial expert, of Youngstown, O., addressing a joint gathering of Manistique business men at the Elks Temple Wednesday noon.

About 70 men were in attendance at the meeting, which was arranged jointly by the Manistique Civic Club and Rotary Club. Mr. Fenton coming here from Escanaba, where he spoke at a meeting of the Chamber of Commerce.

"City Needs C. of C." Mr. Fenton's talk was along the line of industrial development, and he embodied in it two suggestions for his listeners, in connection with the securing of new industries, he suggested that this city organize, first, a chamber of commerce. Such an organization, he showed, was the only recognized medium for a city of this size, when an organization is needed to look after the industrial development.

NEW ORDINANCE MAY LIMIT THE AUTO PARKINGS

Included in the provisions of Manistique's new traffic ordinance, which is now being drafted by a committee of three from the city council, will be a provision to limit parking in the downtown business section, thus doing away with the traffic congestion which is prevalent every Saturday night during the summer months.

According to the plan which the members of the committee are now considering, parking on Cedar street in the business section will be prohibited between the hours of seven and ten p. m. on Saturday nights, which is the time the greatest congestion usually occurs.

Because of the narrowness of Cedar street, a solid line of cars parked on both sides of the street so narrows the traffic channel as to hinder through traffic, and there is always the danger of collisions to be reckoned with. Normally, without cars parked along the sidewalk, the street is of sufficient width to accommodate all traffic safely.

It is also proposed to eliminate left turns on certain corners, though this matter has not been definitely worked out as yet.

The main provision of the new ordinance, which is to be presented at the next meeting of the city council, is the establishing of an arterial street system, giving the right-of-way to traffic on Maple, Cedar, River and Deer streets.

The proposed ordinance calls for the erection of the usual "stop" signs at all intersections of the designated "arterial" streets with side streets.

Another poor New York working girl has been robbed of all her jewels and $12,000 in clothes.

MARION DAVIES IS STARRED IN OPENING FILM

Marion Davies will have a role entirely different from anything in which she has heretofore appeared and one exactly suited to her appealing personality when she appears as Patricia O'Day in "Little Old New York" at the community theatre on Monday for three days. The rough, mischievous traits of Princess Mary Tudor, played by Miss Davis in "When Knighthood Was in Flower," are found in little Patricia, but there is also a quality of wistful pathos which shows a new side of Miss Davies' dramatic ability.

The role of Patricia has something of the character of Maude Adam's "Peter Pan" or of "Little Lord Fauntleroy" about it. Miss Davies appears most of the time as a young boy, having donned this disguise in order to inherit a fortune.

One of the most dramatic scenes in the picture and one which gives Miss Davies a wonderful opportunity for expressing emotion is on shipboard when Patricia's brother is buried at sea. The star spent several days and nights on the ocean in an old-fashioned schooner while these scenes were being made.

Those who saw her as Princess Mary Tudor will recall the poignant appeal made by her helpless grief when she thought Charles Bradon was to be executed. The ship scene in "Little Old New York," where little Patricia sees a body of her beloved brother lowered over the side of the ship into the heaving ocean rivals it in emotional depths.

"Little Old New York" was adopted to the screen by Luther Reed from the stage play by Rida Johnson Young which had a most successful run on Broadway. Joseph Urban designed the settings which recreate the quaint charm of New York as it was a century ago. Sidney Olcott directed the picture. A cast which even surpasses that of "When Knighthood Was in Flower" in which Miss Davies scored such a tremendous success, adds lustre to "Little Old New York." One set which was made in the Twenty-third Regiment armory in Brooklyn because no studio was large enough, is the largest set ever filmed in motion pictures and covered 650 square feet of floor space.

Harrison Ford, Courtesy Foote, Mahlon Hamilton, Norval Keedwell, George Barrard, Sam Hardy and Andrew Dillon portray members of the first family of the Vanderbilts, Astors, Brevoorts and others, not forgetting Robert Fulton who ran the first steamboat up the Hudson, also Washington Irving. Others in the cast include Louis Wolheim, J. M. Kerrigan, Spencer Charters, Harry Watson, Gypsy O'Brien, Elizabeth Murray, Mary Kennedy and Charles Judels.

MATERIAL FOR NEW LIGHTS IS ORDERED

Work on Continuation of Central Avenue System To Start Soon.

Orders for all material needed for the placing of lights on Central avenue from Wisconsin avenue to Lake street, a continuation of the Central avenue lighting system, were placed yesterday by the city administration.

The decision to continue the lighting system which is now in use on the first two blocks of Central avenue going south from Delta, was made by the city commission a short time ago and final details connected with the installation of the lights were arranged at Monday night's meeting.

The lights to be installed will be similar to those now on Central avenue. Twenty-one lights will be installed in all, four to a block, staggered.

The estimated cost, according to figures given out yesterday is $2,853. This amount will include the cost of all material needed as well as the cost of installation, which will cover all labor.

Modern System

The continuation of the Central avenue lighting system to the end of the street, will give Gladstone a fine modern boulevard lighting system on two of its principal thoroughfares and will mean the accomplishment of a splendid improvement on the 1924 program.

MANY ENJOY WAGGONER PROGRAM

A good sized audience heard an enjoyable program last night at the Gladstone Junior High school auditorium when Miss Helen Waggoner, lyceum entertainer, appeared here on the winter course program.

Miss Waggoner featured her program with a one act play, "Mrs. Pat and the Law," which amused and delighted her hearers. Other numbers of clever character sketching in which the artist's ability as a dramatist were equally pleasing.

Miss Waggoner not only showed herself the possessor of considerable talent but also the owner of a personality which immediately won her hearers and established her as a favorite among entertainers.

Ralph Bingham, who will be here March 19 and the play, "Smiling Through" the big feature of the course, will close the lyceum program for this year.

Shorty Russick Wins Dog Derby

NEW RECORDS SET FOR WEARY ARCTIC MUSH

Two Hundred Mile Trip Made In 23 Hours 46 Minutes.

(By The Associated Press.)
The Pas, Man., March 12.—"Shorty" Russick, of The Pas, and his six hybrid huskies from the Arctic, today mushed through to a record victory at the end of the long LePas trail.

Shorty and his half-caste wolf hounds thus become the world's champion six-dog outfit. They forged into a new record of 23 hours and 46 minutes for the 200 mile non-stop The Pas dog derby, annexed three trophies and won $2,500 in prize money.

Of the ten teams to break the barrier at 11:06 a. m. yesterday, at the Hudson Bay Railway bridge across the Saskatchewan river, Allan McDonald drove into The Pas second and Bill Grayson, mushing Tom Creighton's famous husky, a close third.

Shorty thrust the gee-pole of his sled across the finish line at 10:55 this morning. The other racers were strung out far behind.

Fifteen hundred persons witnessed the finish. Tonight the drivers and their teams were guests of The Pas at a banquet and ceremonial where Shorty was presented his trophies and winnings.

RAILWAY FATE IN HANDS OF THE OWNERS

(By The Associated Press.)
Chicago, March 12.—The fate of the American railways lies in the hands of their owners, and the future of transportation will depend largely upon "the sagacity, justice, and statesmanship" of those who administer the properties, Sir Henry Thornton, chairman of the Canadian National Railway system declared tonight, addressing the twenty fifth annual banquet of the American Railway Engineering Association. More than 700 rail chiefs were guests.

"The need of the hour is self discipline in honest thought, and this applies with special emphasis to those in high places of political trust charged with responsibility of regulating our common carrier system," he said.

Joe. Thill and wife of Fayette were business callers in town on Tuesday.

Word has been received in town that Harry Bailey of Nahma, formerly of Garden has had the misfortune to break his thumb.

Several members of the Wm. Clifton family of Fayette observed a flock of twenty nine geese pass over their farm on Feb. 29th, which is exceptionally early for these birds to be going north. Mr. Clifton, who has seen many a flock of such birds migrating and returning, thinks this is a sure sign of an unusually early spring.

Bernie Pizalls and wife of Sae Bay made a business trip to Garden on Thursday.

Lila Winters returned from Cooks on Thursday. She had been visiting at the home of Mrs. Mildred Fisher.

Little Priscilla Farley, four year old daughter of George Farley and wife entertained about fifteen of her little friends on the occasion of her birthday anniversary on Friday last. The afternoon was pleasantly spent in playing various games after which a beautiful lunch, including ice cream, was served to the youngsters. All thoroughly enjoyed the party and wished that birthday came a little oftener.

Mrs. Doris Ralph was suddenly taken with a sick spell on Friday morning. Dr. Foots was called immediately to render assistance.

E. J. Deloria of Cooks returned to his home Monday morning after attending the funeral of the late Thom O'Connor of Perkins.

Theodore Hazen returned from Chicago on Tuesday. He visited at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Walter McGavin. He is feeling much better in health as a result of his vacation.

Wm. Stratton and his brother Henry, both of Fayette made a business trip to Garden on Friday.

Emmagine Johnson of Manistique came over here on Saturday and spent the week end at the home of her mother.

Elsie Boudreau, daughter of Mose Boudreau and wife left here on Monday for Muskegon, where she expects to make her future home. Her parents will follow at an early date.

A number of young people assembled at the Congregational parsonage and listened to an exceptionally fine sacred concert broadcasted from Zion City. Most of those present at the parsonage attended the evening service previously held in the church.

AMUSEMENTS

AT THE DELFT

There must be several dozen children of more or less prominence in the motion picture field, but every once in a while public fancy becomes so centered around a particular child player that it is heralded as a star.

The producers, quick to grasp this sentiment, immediately capitalize it, to the satisfaction of the motion picture public. For the public has undoubtedly its favorites among child players as well as among grown-ups and insists on seeing them in feature roles.

This demand on the part of the public, it would appear, has brought about the transfer of Baby Peggy, heroine of Century comedies to the starring role in a Universal-Jewel production, "The Darling of New York," which opens today at the Delft Theatre.

AT THE STRAND

Supported by an excellent cast, Tom Mix made his first appearance in "Ladies to Board" at the Strand Theatre last night. The picture proved to be another laugh provoker on a par with "Soft Boiled" with plenty of action and Mixian thrills.

"Ladies to Board" will be shown at the Strand again today.

badge". Stating that he had performed "no service of any very brilliant character", the witness said the principal purpose was to enable him through use of the badge to get through police lines in strange cities when he was traveling with Mr. Harding.

Those questioned by the committee before McLean took the stand were E. W. Smithers, chief of communications at the White House; E. W. Startling, of the presidential secret service detail; P. E. McKenna, doorkeeper of the executive offices, and J. V. Fitzgerald, former city editor of the Post.

Smithers Asks For Job

Smithers testified he had asked for the job of managing McLean's private telegraph wire to Palm Beach because he needed the extra money, and that there was nothing improper in this employment; Startling said the message sent by him to McLean and resurrected by the committee subpoena had referred to the employment of one of his friends in the publisher's household; McKenna told the committee that he merely had telegraphed McLean at the latter's request about the time of the departure of Secretary Stimp for Florida.

From Fitzgerald the committee sought an explanation of a code message which he sent to McLean advising him that Senator Walsh had possession of two stories, one of which McLean was too ill to testify and the other that he was playing golf in Florida.

The witness testified that it was his idea to suggest to the publisher that he see his doctor and have the doctor tell the committee that he could not come to Washington at the time because of sinus trouble from which McLean then was and still is suffering.

Two New Phases

Having concluded at last its investigation into the meaning of the McLean telegrams the committee tomorrow will turn to two new phases of the inquiry—reports on the examination of the books of stock brokerage firms, and the sending of marines to Teapot Dome to clear it of alleged squatters.

Louis D. Bond, an expert accountant of the federal trade commission, will testify as to the brokerage books and his examination will be brief since the audit failed to disclose any information about stock dealing by government officials that has not already been made public.

Theodore Roosevelt, assistant secretary of the navy, and Major General John A. LeJeune, commandant of the marine corps, will be the witnesses on the other subject.

Trouble looks bigger coming than going, but opportunity looks bigger going than coming.

RICKARD STILL HOPEFUL OF GO

Will Make Dempsey Definite Offer Shortly.

(By The Associated Press.)

New York, March 12.—Despite increasing indications that the proposed return match in the Metropolitan district early in June between Jack Dempsey and Tom Gibbons would be shelved, Tex Rickard declared tonight he was still in the field for the match and would make a definite offer within a few days to Jack Kearns, the champion's manager.

Faced with the statements of Dempsey and Kearns that the title holder's next bout and only 1924 battle probably would be against Luis Firpo in September, Rickard reiterated that he is going ahead with the Dempsey-Gibbons plans. The promoter already has obtained Gibbons' consent to terms.

Kearns, while admitting that an attractive enough offer would influence him to alter his plans, admitted that he does not expect Dempsey to risk his crown again until around Labor Day.

READS LIKE CHAPTER OUT OF A NOVEL

(By The Associated Press.)

Ann Arbor, Mich., March 12.—Gold coin estimated at approximately $100,000 was found secreted in a secret panel in the wall of a dwelling house here, according to Adrian Lever, head of a house wrecking firm which is tearing down the structure. According to the house wrecker, the coin was "all that one man could carry."

The house was built in 1860 by the late Jackson D. Knight, at one time president of the First National Bank and was owned by him and later by his daughter, Clara. Both Knight and his wife have been dead for about 30 years, and the daughter is dead.

The three secret panels were found in the house according to Lever. Papers said to have been found in the panel with the gold indicated that it had been opened the last time in 1878. Contents of the other panels have not been divulged by those wrecking the house but it reported that currency was found in other places.

POLISH EDICT ISSUED AGAINST SILK STOCKINGS

(By The Associated Press.)

Warsaw, Mar. 12.—An edict against the wearing of silk stockings and other finery by women employees of the war department has just been issued by General Sikorski, minister of war.

The department had gained a reputation for being a good marriage mart, most of the stenographers leaving to be married after a year's service. General Sikorski heard of it, reviewed the staff and, finding the women dressed in elaborate clothes, he issued an order that they wear dark, high collared dresses, high shoes and cotton or wool stockings.

(By The Associated Press.)

New York, March 12.—Michael McTighe, president of the Newark baseball club, must post $25,000 by next Saturday noon as a guarantee that he will operate and fulfill all obligations of the club or the franchise will be revoked by the International League and will revert back to its former owners, William Ashton and Bernard Moan of Baltimore. This was the ultimatum issued today by the clubowners of the International League in a special session here.

McTighe said after the meeting that he would post the guarantee. In the event McTighe fails to make good this guarantee the league managers were assured by Moan and Ashton that they would take back the franchise and operate the club during the 1924 season.

After the meeting Edward Gray, of Newark, and Howard P. McConnell, mayor of Montclair, N. J., announced they stood ready to make a cash offer of $60,000 for the Newark franchise.

TRADING AGAIN HIT AND MISS

Prices Continue in Narrow Area of Past Month.

(By The Associated Press.)

STOCK SALES SUMMARY.

Total stock sales $76,200 shares.

Twenty industrials averaged 97.98, net loss .09.
Twenty railroads averaged 33.82, net gain .12.
High 1924, $5.90, low $2.74.

New York, Mar. 12.—Desultory trading again characterized today's stock market, neither bear nor bull operators apparently being able or willing to break prices out of the narrow area in which they have been floundering for nearly a month. Lack of a definite trend is generally attributed to the indisposition of professional traders to extend their commitments until after the March 15 tax payments have been disposed of.

Heavy buying of the railroad shares, based on a continuation of record breaking carloadings and speculative expectation of favorable February earnings statements, on inauguration of dividends on Southern Railway common tomorrow, imparted a firm tone to the early dealings. Net losses in the active issues, however, were held to a point or less.

New 1924 Highs.

Southern Railway and Norfolk and Western were the features of the rail group, establishing new 1924 highs at 52 1/2 and 121 3/8, respectively. In the late selling Southern sold down to 51 1/8, where it was up one point on the day and Norfolk and Western closed at 118 7/8, a net loss of 5-8. Some of the strong spots in that group included the Erie issues, Seaboard Air Line preferred and New Orleans, Texas and Mexico.

Chain Store stocks again attracted attention when Woolworth established a record high for all time at 331. No sales of Kresge have taken place this week, but the announcement that the company had taken over a large department store in Washington, D. C., boosted the quotation to 330 bid and 350 asked. Loose-Wiles Biscuit spurted 5 1/2 points to 61 in response to the recent payment of accumulated dividends on the preferred.

CHICAGO GRAIN.

Chicago, March 12.—Produced setbacks in the value of grain resulted today from liquidating sales on the part of holders of wheat. Lowest prices in several days were registered in the early market and the closing was heavy at 2 3/8 to 2 3/4 at 2 7/8 cents net decline. May 1924 at 78 to 106 7/8 and July 1924 at 107 1/4 to 110 1/4. Corn, 1 1/2 to 1 1/4, down, net 7/8 to 1/2 off, and provisions showing 7/8 to 2/8 drop.

Legion Post Plans Big Meeting Tonight

Cleveland Post, American Legion, will hold its regular meeting in its club rooms tonight. The business meeting will be followed by a social session, with a lunch, smoker and short addresses, including a talk by Fred R. Harris. The legion recently established a business office in its club rooms, and is preparing to launch its program of preparations for the annual convention of the Upper Peninsula Legion Posts, to be held here next year. Tonight's meeting is expected to be a lively and well attended one.

Mrs. John Geroux returned to Perkins after a visit at the home of Mrs. Mary Moreau, Second Ave. So.

PETITION TIME NEARING CLOSE

One known candidate for justice of the peace, and all six of the men who have signified their intention of running for the three seats in the city council, were still outside the office of City Clerk Carl E. Anderson, last night.

The petitions must be filed before March 18, under the provision of the charter requiring that they be in the city clerk's hands twenty days before election. Consequently, next Monday will be the last day since Tuesday, March 18, is the twentieth day.

Petitions already have been filed by James S. Doherty and O. V. Linden, who will be candidates for the justice vacancy created by the death of Emil Glaser; C. D. McEwen, who seeks re-election to a full term as justice, and Owen Gallagher, who aspires to the same office. Samuel Stonehouse is expected to file petitions in a day or two, placing his name on the ballot as a candidate for one of the justice jobs.

Six For Council.

The three members of the council whose terms expire—G. A. Cotton, W. J. Hanrahan, and C. J. Burns—are candidates for reelection and are expected to file their petitions within a day or two. So are W. H. Needham, Charles N. Wood and J. F. Fry, who are aspiring to the council positions.

With the time for filing drawing to a close, it now appears probable that the field of council candidates will be limited to six.

RHEUMATISM LEAVES YOU FOREVER

Deep Seated Uric Acid Deposits Are Dissolved and the Rheumatic Poison Starts to Leave the System Within Twenty-four Hours.

Every Druggist in this county is authorized to say to every rheumatic sufferer that if a full pint bottle of Allenbur's, the sure conqueror of rheumatism, does not show the way to stop the agony, reduce swollen joints and do away with even the slightest twinge of rheumatic pain, he will gladly return your money without comment.

Allenbur's has been tried and tested for years, and really marvelous results have been accomplished in the most severe cases where the suffering and agony was intense and pitious and where the patient was helpless.

Mr. James H. Allen, the discoverer of Allenbur's, who for many years suffered the torments of acute rheumatism, desires all sufferers to know that he does not want a cent of anyone's money unless Allenbur's decisively conquers this worst of all diseases. He has instructed druggists to guarantee it as above in every instance. People's Drug Store can supply you.

Supper and Sale Success.

The supper and sale of fancy work held at the Wells Club House last evening was a decided success from start to finish. The club house was decorated and a number of booths partitioned off. Among these were the fish pond, the candy booth and fancy work booth, and a number of others. Supper was served between five and eight o'clock to a large number of people. The affair was under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid of the Wells church. They were assisted with the serving by the Girl Scouts of the Wells troop. The little children of the kindergarten also assisted in the decorations.

Ladies' Aid Meets.

The Ladies' Aid of the Swedish Lutheran church will hold their regular meeting this afternoon at 3:00 o'clock in the church parlors. Mrs. Charles Olson of Eighth Ave. South and Mrs. Charles Nystrom of Ninth Ave. south will act as hostesses. A cordial invitation is extended to the general public to be present.

Kindergarten Kids To Put On Circus

Kindergarten pupils at the Washington school, in charge of Miss Margaret Rigby, will present an unusually novel "Winter Circus" at their school rooms on Friday, March 14, beginning promptly at 10 o'clock in the forenoon. Seven performances will be given. Proceeds of the affair will be used for the purchase of additional equipment which is needed.

The entire circus is being staged by the children, working from their own ideas and with the minimum of assistance. The show will include in its list of features such standard attractions as "wild animals," clowns, dancers, jazz band music, Indians, Wild West show, and many others. "Candy Butchers" will dispense circus lemonade and similar refreshments, with all the conventional "trimmings" throughout the show.

The idea of the circus originated with the children themselves and their work in building all of their "props" and rounding up the "Animals" has proven very interesting and instructive. The support of parents and the general public is desired by the children. The admission charge has been set almost as low as the traditional five pins.

SCHOOL LETTER MEN WILL GIVE PICTURE SHOW

"Letter" men of Escanaba high school's athletic teams are planning an intensive ticket sales campaign for the Wesley Barry picture, "Country Kid to President," which will be shown at the Delft Theater a week from next Friday night. Profits from the show will go into the school's sweater fund and will be used to help purchase sweaters for all men who earn "Es" in football, basketball, track and any other line of athletic endeavor.

The school is not permitted to award sweaters, because of a rule of the Upper Peninsula Athletic association. The letter men themselves, however, are staging the show with the sanction of school authorities.

In addition to the feature picture, Lawrence Hartwig and Gunnar Back will give a vaudeville act that is certain to be splendid entertainment.

You wouldn't wash clothes in dirty water—

Why have them dry cleaned in dirty naphtha?

DeLaval Continuous Clarification keeps our cleansing fluid clean at all times.

De Laval Continuous Clarification is generally considered the greatest advance in dry cleaning methods made in the past decade. It keeps our cleansing fluid clean all the time and so immeasurably improves the quality of our work.

HOUSEWIVES who have the washing done at home can best appreciate the advantage of the new system of dry cleaning now in operation at our plant.

Suppose that all of the time the clothes were being washed a stream of fresh, clean water were fed into the top of the tub or washing machine, while from the bottom was drawn a stream of dirty water containing all of the impurities washed from the clothes. Wouldn't they come out whiter and cleaner?

That is exactly the way we now dry clean your clothes, except that pure, dry naphtha takes the place of water as a cleansing fluid.

We have connected our cleaning machines in such a way that the fluid drawn from the bottom of them is delivered to a high-speed centrifugal clarifier which instantaneously removes the dirt washed from the clothing. From this clarifier, the fluid goes back into the cleaning machine as fresh and sweet as when new.

caution is continued in this way all of the time that clothes are being cleaned. As compared with wet washing the effect is the same as though the clothes were alternately washed and rinsed six times.

This process is everywhere hailed as the greatest advance made in the art of dry cleaning during the past ten years. Let us prove to you what wonderfully satisfactory results it gives.
