MELLON PLAN NOT WRITTEN IN TAX BILL

EARNED INCOMES IDEA NOT MADE PART OF MEASURE

BY DAVID LAWRENCE.

Washington, Mar. 26.—The Mellon plan has not been inserted in the revenue bill by the Senate Finance Committee as was stated in some published reports last night. Instead, one of the principal recommendations made by the secretary of the treasury has been temporarily, at least, turned down. It relates to earned incomes and affects more individuals than the other parts of the Mellon plan which were proved.

What the senate finance committee did by a vote of 3 to 7 was to adopt the Mellon rates on the surtaxes approving a 25 per cent schedule as a maximum instead of the Longworth bill passed by the house providing for a 37 1/2 percent maximum.

But the Mellon plan itself as originally recommended was a carefully balanced scheme. Wealth was to be given certain reductions but coupled with those were reductions to the taxpayers of small income. The senate finance committee has given the wealthy investor the reductions wanted but has deprived the man of small income who earns his livelihood without capital and with only the energy of his hands or his mind, the concessions proposed by Secretary Mellon.

Earned Income Section.

The House ignored the Mellon recommendation for a flat 25 per cent reduction on all earned incomes and said it should apply only to incomes below $20,000 a year. The senate finance committee, despite Mr. Mellon's advice, has cut it still further to $10,000.

There is, of course, absolutely no reason," Mr. Mellon told the senate finance committee for a $20,000 limitation on earned income. If the distinction between unearned income and earned income is good, it is good in every bracket. If the tax on unearned incomes in excess of $20,000 is at the proper rate then the same rate is too high for earned incomes.

Stated in another way what Mr. Mellon meant was that a man who earned $20,000 as a doctor, lawyer, salesman, business executive, music composer, inventor or any profession in which brains are the sole capital used, he should not be in the same position as a man of inherited or accumulated capital who clips investment coupons and gets an income of $20,000. People in the latter class for instance have approximately $350,000 of capital, which at six percent earns for them about $21,000 a year. They pay the same rate of taxes as the professional man yet when he is sick his income stops and when he dies he can not bequeath his law practice or his medical ability to another though the man with the capital can go away from his place of business and spend a life of leisure and still draw the same income. He can bequeath it to another person when he dies. Technically he doesn't earn his income in the same sense as the person who works with his mind or his hands.

The Mellon Idea. Mr. Mellon says that if the senate thinks "the rate of taxation for a man of $20,000 income"

St. Louis Boy Denies A Part In Murder Plot

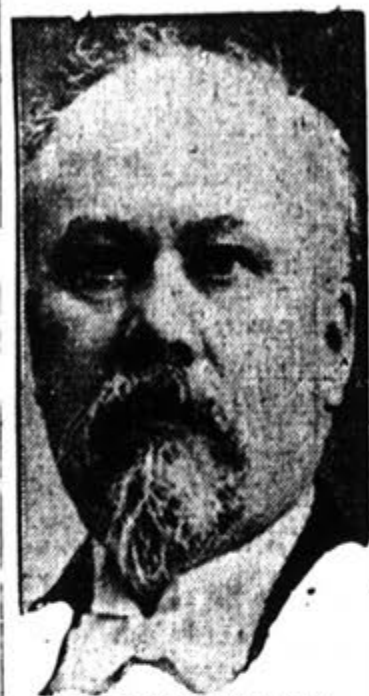

Lansing, Mich., March 26.—Martin Woehler, 19 year old St. Louis, Mo., youth, denied that he had any part in the robbery plot which resulted in the murder of Peter Hall, theatre owner, here last December, when he took the witness stand in his own defense today. Woehler is charged with first degree murder, it being alleged that he was an accomplice of William Baumgartner, his cousin, who, according to the police, shot Hall and then killed himself.

Woehler asserted that he knew nothing of Baumgartner's plan until he saw his cousin, as they were leaving the theatre, snatch a cash box from Hall's arms, and shoot the theatre manager when he started in pursuit. Woehler ran, he testified, because he was frightened. He was captured by a policeman, while Baumgartner escaped in an automobile, which he drove a few miles into the country and shot himself.

PREMIER POINCARE

Strong Pressure To Bring About Change Of Mind.

(By The Associated Press.)

Paris, March 26.—Premier Raymond Poincare, with his entire cabinet, resigned from office today and when he announced his resignation he declared that his decision was final.

But tonight there is every reason to believe that he will acquiesce tomorrow in President Millerand's request that he resume office at the head of the ministry. M. Poincare's acceptance in principle of the president's earnest plea that he continue to direct French public affairs virtually ends the ministerial crisis, which broke over comparatively serene conditions. M. Poincare's official foregoers are regarded as the vast majority of those identified with French political affairs.

G. O. P. LEADERS PROMISE SPEED

Predict Bonus And Tax Bill Action Within Two Weeks.

(By The Associated Press.)

Washington, Mar. 26.—Prediction that the revenue and soldier bonus bills would be reported to the senate by the finance committee within two weeks and that action on the measures would be speedily forthcoming, was made today by Republican leaders, as the committee proceeded with a study of both bills.

With the floor fight approaching, Democrats worked over the income tax schedule which they will offer as a substitute for the Mellon rates, leaders indicating some modifications would be made in the Garner scheme supported by the house Democrats.

Some intimated the maximum surtax rate of 44 per cent in the Garner plan would be cut to 40 per cent, with a general revision of the brackets to which the various rates would apply.

Center on Bonus.

The immediate action of the committee was centered again today on the variance in estimates as to the cost of the house soldier bonus bill. The American Legion presented an estimate of $3,300,000,000 as the probable cost of the measure in comparison to the $4,850,000,000 estimate of Joseph McCoy, treasury attorney, and the estimate of $2,119,000,000 made by the house on the basis of a report of the veterans' bureau actuary, H. P. Brown.

The committee has called up on army and navy officials to present data on the exact number of veterans who would be entitled to the bonus of paid-up life insurance policies and on the average length of service of veterans, on which the actuary's disburse.

Arriving at Cost.

The other main point of difference between the actuary as to whether the government will have to account for interest on

(By The Associated Press.)

ROXIE AGAIN PUTS IN DAY ON THE STAND

M'LEAN SOLICITOUS ABOUT DAUGHTER-HEALTH.

(By The Associated Press.)

Washington, March 26.—Senate investigation into the administration of Attorney General Daugherty was continued today at another public session with a bare mention of $33,000,000 made in a few days by "five men" unnamed, through "a stock market deal in Sinclair oil," as the most salient feature.

As before, Roxie Stinson, the divorced wife of Jess W. Smith, who shot himself in the attorney general's apartment last summer, was the star witness. Her story, replete with mentions of considerable sums of money passed to her by the dead man during the two year of his association with Mr. Daugherty, was filled out by the introduction of scores of telegrams, taken by the committee from files in Washington, Palm Beach and Washington Courthouse, Ohio, and a few letters from Smith to her.

The wire messages, some of them trivial and others obscure in terms and references, were signed by persons whose names in some cases have been heard, and in others unheard, during the previous progress of the committee's record.

Roxie Is Reluctant.

Of the $33,000,000 deal, Miss Stinson said she had been told by Jess Smith before his death, to whom she ascribed the statement that he and Daugherty were "sore" because they were

HIRAM NOSES COOLIDGE OUT IN "STRETCH"

GOVERNOR M'MASTER DEFEATS STERLING FOR SENATOR.

(By The Associated Press.)

Sioux Falls, S.D., March 26.—Senator Hiram Johnson of California, nosed into the lead over President Coolidge as additional returns came in tonight from Tuesday's Republican presidential primary in South Dakota.

During the day the president had held a narrow margin but coming down the stretch tonight the Californian gradually lessened the Coolidge advantage going in the lead when 1,315 of the state's 1,825 precincts had reported.

Johnson's margin in those precincts, according to unofficial figures, was a scant 126 vote and in the next two precincts reports he added six more to his majority, the vote giving Coolidge 34,945 and Johnson 35,977.

Johnson's majority was further increased in the next five precincts to report, his lead growing to 495 when returns from 1,365 precincts gave him 35,918 to 35,423 polled by the president.

With 1,299 precincts reported on the Republican senatorial contest, the count was McMaster 37,557 and Sterling 38,859.

Strong in Country. Rural returns from the central part of the state, coupled with earlier complete reports from some of the Johnson strongholds in the northeastern section, brought the senator to the front.

Watching the trend of the returns tonight, state headquarters for the Johnson campaign declared he would win by a 12,000 to 15,000 majority.

Meanwhile the Coolidge state leaders held to their original statement that returns compiled by them "indicated a Coolidge majority of 3,500 to 4,000."

Twenty-five of the state's unofficial returns when Johnson moved ahead of Coolidge.

McMaster for Senator. While Senator Johnson was overcoming the Coolidge lead Governor W. H. McMaster, whom he had "teamed" has increased his majority over Senator Thomas Sterling for the Republican senatorial nomination.

RUTHENBERG TO GET NEW CHANCE

Given More Time To File Bill Of Exceptions.

(By The Associated Press.)
Lansing, Mich., March 26.—An extension of the time limit for filing a bill of exceptions with the state supreme court in connection with the appeal of Charles E. Ruthenberg, alleged violator of the Michigan anti-syndicatum act, will be granted by the attorney general's department, Counsel for Ruthenberg, it was pointed out by O. L. Smith, assistant attorney general, who handled the case against the alleged communists, has already tentatively fulfilled its part of the appeal. A proposed bill of exceptions has been prepared on behalf of Ruthenberg, but it cannot be filed in the supreme court until the state has had an opportunity to insert amendments. It will take several days to do this, Mr. Smith said, and it will be necessary for the state to hold up filing probably until after April 1, the time limit originally set.
It is understood that in his proposed bill Ruthenberg takes 37 exceptions to the circuit court verdict. He was tried in the Berrien county courts after the trial of Wm. Z. Foster, also an alleged radical leader, had resulted in a disagreement. The indictments of Ruthenberg and Foster grew out of a raid on a secret convention of the communist party of America at Bridgman, in 1921. A number of other alleged radicals are named in charges, but whether they are tried will probably depend upon the supreme court opinion in the Ruthenberg case.
Dispatches from Benton Harbor today were to the effect that the prosecutor of Berrien county will not grant an extension of time to Ruthenberg, but will offer no objection if the extension is desired by the attorney general's office.

ROXIE AGAIN PUTS IN DAY ON THE STAND

not "in on it." When she professed unwillingness to tell of it further, or to name the men Smith declared to have made the profit, there was a moment of committee conference and an announcement by Chairman Brookhart that a decision as to whether the inquiry into that question would be pressed must await the committee's executive consideration.
Summed up, Miss Stinson's account, drawn out by senators, was that Smith came to Washington worth perhaps $140,000; that he gave her "several thousand dollars," that he "lost heavily" in stock market transactions; that he paid his half share of $50,000 per year in living with Attorney General Daugherty; and that he died with $214,000 in assets listed by the probate court.
Whether he had more at his death, she said, she did not know.
All through her examination which brought her to the stand the third time, Paul Howland and former Senator Chamberlain, Mr. Daugherty's attorneys, sat waiting for an opportunity to cross examine. Their opportunity would come tomorrow, the chairman said, when Senator Wheeler, Montana, desiring the presentation of evidence, might be expected to return after an indisposition which had delayed the proceedings for several days.
Miss Stinson some times smiled and sometimes wept as she read the letters sent her by Smith during the late years before his death, some of which she said, had contained checks, some drafts, and some $500 bills. He was, she said, "nice about money" and his communications with her were personal and often affectionate. The telegraphic files revealed also that Smith, during two years, had given her a complete record of the attorney general's uncertain and sometimes gravely affected health. During February and March, 1923, E. B. McLean, the Washington publisher, it was revealed by messages produced at the hearing, had sent many telegraphic inquiries to Smith on the subject of the attorney general's health.

Wheeler Defended As To Patriotism

(By The Associated Press.)
New York, March 26.—Senator Wheeler, of Montana, prosecutor of the Daugherty investigating committee, was defended by the American Civil Liberties Union in a statement today answering criticism yesterday by the Republican national committee news bureau.
Referring to the charge that Montana "became the hotbed of treason and sedition" while Mr. Wheeler was United States district attorney, the statement declared the committee news bureau was "either ignorant of the facts or wilfully distorting them for partisan purposes."
"Mr. Wheeler should be commended," the statement said, "for his activities in behalf of the American rights of free speech, freedom of the press and freedom of assemblage."

PHONE COMPANY ROTATES BILLS

The Michigan Bell Telephone Company will put into effect April 1 a new "rotation billing" plan for the rendering of statements to subscribers, under which dates of sending out many of the bills will be changed and making it possible to bring all accounts up to the date of billing.
The term "Rotation Billing" may not be familiar, but the general plan is well known to most people, for it has been used for some years by gas companies, and power and light companies. The local Manager Sundquist said yesterday, "It simply means that the work of sending out a huge number of bills is divided into parts which are completed at different dates, thus leveling out a load which is particularly heavy when the entire job must be completed at one time."
"As applied to the Escanaba area, it means that our monthly bills will be issued in four groups, dated the 1st, 6th, 21st and 26th, and will be mailed as soon as ready after these dates. All subscribers in the Escanaba exchange will have the same billing date each month—the first.
All Will Benefit.
"The new plan will tend to keep expenses and administration problems at a reasonable point. All subscribers will benefit from the fact that under rotation billing, bills will carry all charges and credits up to the date they bear and will reach them very shortly after that date, so enabling easier understanding and checking of the bills. While in the past the company has attempted to apply all credits up to the date of the bills, we will be able to extend that time and frequently apply credits for two days after the date of the bills. Charges for toll messages have been billed up to the 20th of the preceding month, but under rotation billing, these charges will be for the month ending at the date of the bill. As the accounts will be closer up to date they will be clearer to the subscribers, and our business office will benefit because fewer explanations will be requested.
"The change from our present billing plan to the new plan presents an undesirable, although unavoidable, feature by requiring that about half of the subscribers receive two bills in the first month," continued Manager Sundquist. "Bills will be rendered April 1 to all subscribers, and a second April bill will be required for the future billing date."
"The second and final step in bringing the arrears charges for tolls up to date, and resulting in bills for some groups covering more than the normal period. Locally, with the future billing date the 1st of the month, the bill dated April 1st will carry exchange service charges for the usual period of one month in advance and toll charges for the period from March 20th through March 31st. The next month's bill will then be on the normal basis, covering advance charges for exchange service for the month following the date of the bill, and arrears charges for tolls for the month up to the date of the bill. Unpaid balances will be entered on the bills; the accounting department will post payments received up to as late a date as possible, however, before mailing the bills."

BEAVER MAN IS HELD AS A "SHINER"

William Hammersmith, living north of Beaver, was brought in to Escanaba yesterday afternoon by the sheriff's department, following a raid conducted earlier in the day, during which the officers found ample evidence that Hammersmith has been engaged in the business of moonshining on a commercial scale for some time, it is asserted.
One bottle of liquid fire was found in his possession, and this, with several charges of sale, will form the basis of the charge on which he will be arraigned before United States Court Commissioner C. D. McEwen today.
Officers claim Hammersmith has been one of the most persistent violators in the Beaver section and it has been difficult to get sufficient evidence upon which his conviction might be assured. He offered no resistance when approached by the officers.

False Alarm Takes Firemen to Docks

A fire alarm was sent to the First Avenue station from No. 4 Chicago & North-Western ore dock early yesterday afternoon, but the department was unable to find any evidences of a blaze or the persons who had turned in the call. The North-western whistles helped to attract a large crowd to the yards, and caused a report to be circulated that one of the docks was burning.

If You Need A Medicine You Should Have the Best

Have you ever stopped to reason why it is that so many products that are extensively advertised, all at once drop out of sight and are soon forgotten? The reason is plain—the article does not fulfill the promises of the manufacturer. This applies more particularly to a medicine. A medicinal preparation that has real curative value almost sells itself, as like an endless chain system the remedy is recommended by those who have been benefited, to those who are in need of it.
A prominent druggist says "Take for example Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, a preparation I have sold for many years and never hesitate to recommend, for in almost every case it shows excellent results, as many of my customers testify. No other kidney remedy has so large a sale."
According to sworn statements and verified testimony of thousands who have used the preparation, the success of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is due to the fact, as many people claim, that it fulfills almost every wish in over-crowded kidney, liver and bladder ailments corrects urinary troubles and neutralizes the uric acid which causes rheumatism.
You may receive a sample bottle of Swamp-Root by Parcel Post. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., and enclose ten cents; also mention this paper. Large and medium size bottles for sale at all drug stores.

ANOTHER STEP FOR CARDINALS

(By The Associated Press.)
Rome, March 26.—Cardinals Andelein and Hayes today advanced another step toward the final stage of their elevation as members of the highest council of the Roman Catholic Church.
The occasion was late this afternoon, when Pope Pius, in all the solemnity of the ritual, draped round their shoulders the rich velvet and silk capes called "mozzos," and placed on their heads the four cornered silk headpieces as "birettas".
The deeply impressive ceremony took place in the famous consistory hall of the vatican, where scarcely three days ago the two American prelates were nominated as cardinals at a secret consistory. There was only a small gathering to witness the investiture. They were specially invited guests and mostly American.
The final ceremonies in the elevation of the American churchmen to the purple will take place tomorrow morning in the right transept of the basilica of Saint Peter's, where they will receive at the hands of the pontiff, the red hats, symbolic of their new rank.
The principal feature of this afternoon's ceremony was the delivery by Pope Pius of a twenty-minute eulogy of America, in which he declared that America's miracle of charity saved millions from starvation, just as the entry of the United States into the world war, aided the fate of Europe and the world.

Get Sore Heads During Raid On Sagola Shiners

(By The Associated Press.)
Iron Mountain, Mich., March 26.—An alleged rendezvous of moonshiners operated by William and Mike Milkowitz, at Sagola, near here, was raided by Sheriff Cleveland and two deputies today. The raid by Cleveland came after Chester Carey, of Sagola, sworn in late Tuesday as a deputy sheriff, had been beaten into insensibility when he made an arrest on charges of liquor law violation. Carey lies in a hospital at Sagola in a serious condition.
In the county jail, William Milkowitz is nursing a bruised head. He was felled by Cleveland with a blow with a heavy flashlight when he failed to heed the sheriff's orders to stick up his hands. Pete Muskins, bartender, who also failed to heed Cleveland's orders, was struck with the sheriff's heavy revolver. His left eye is badly swollen and there is a deep cut above his eye.

New York, Mar. 26.—Bishop Manning of the Protestant Episcopal diocese of New York today informed the Reverend Dr. William Norman Guthrie, rector of St. Mark's-in-the-Bowery, that his church would remain "without Episcopal visitation or ministrations" for its rector's refusal to discontinue eurythmic dancing in connection with the services at the church.

COMMON LETS WORRY!

Despite the terrific uproar coming from Washington, we of Escanaba seem to be able to go serenely on our untroubled way, doing the day's work, sleeping well at night, figuring on the morrow, doing those day-by-day things that make up the circle of our existence. The spring approaches much as has been its wont for centuries, the sap still springs in the trees and little by little we are approaching that glorious season of summer when everybody in this part of the country will be happy.

Here and there we hear a business man lament that politics is ruining business, destroying confidence, wrecking the country. On the other hand, there seems to be a great unnumbered multitude who seem inclined to the belief that business, so-called big business, has just about ruined some of our politicians. The old quarrel waxes afresh.

They have "teapotted" since the days of the revolution! Army contractors were accused of graft in Washington's day. Senator William Blount of Tennessee was impeached in 1797, though acquitted.

Justice Samuel Chase of the Federal Supreme court, also acquitted, had 13 votes of guilty cast against him in an impeachment trial in 1804.

Back in the 70's the United States had an outbreak of scandals. In the Grant administration, in 1872, there was lots of trouble. The government was financing the building of the Union Pacific. A company called the Credit Mobilier was formed to sell equipment, material and supplies to the road, charging ridiculously high prices and taking in payment Union Pacific stock and bonds at prices ridiculously low. The split had to go in many directions. Exposure came. It involved the vice president, the speaker of the house, three senators, several representatives and scores of departmental heads.

But the country kept on growing.

In 1872 a particularly bold raid on the treasury was attempted by the voting of stiff salary raises to congressmen not only for the future but for the two years previous. A howl went up and the next year the act was rescinded, but the money had been drawn and the government never got it back.

And the country kept on growing.

In 1874 it was found that western distilleries had defrauded the government of enormous sums. The secretary of the treasury knew it but couldn't stop it because the grafters had representatives in every department where they needed them, and the grafters laughed at Secretary Bristow. However, 240 indictments followed including the chief clerk of the treasury and the secretary to the president.

Still the country kept growing.

In 1876 Secretary of War Belknap was caught selling government appointments and signing government contracts for his personal gain. He resigned before being thrown out.

Meantime the country waggled along and kept growing.

The "Star Route" scandal broke in 1881.

The "embalmed beef" scandal came with the Spanish-American War.

Just yesterday it seems, during the Taft administration, the Ballinger scandal, involving Interior Department grants of Alaska mineral rights to private interests, was upon us.

And yet we weathered it all.

Now we have the oil scandal, which seems to be about 50 per cent politics and 10 percent viciousness.

And we'll come through that too.

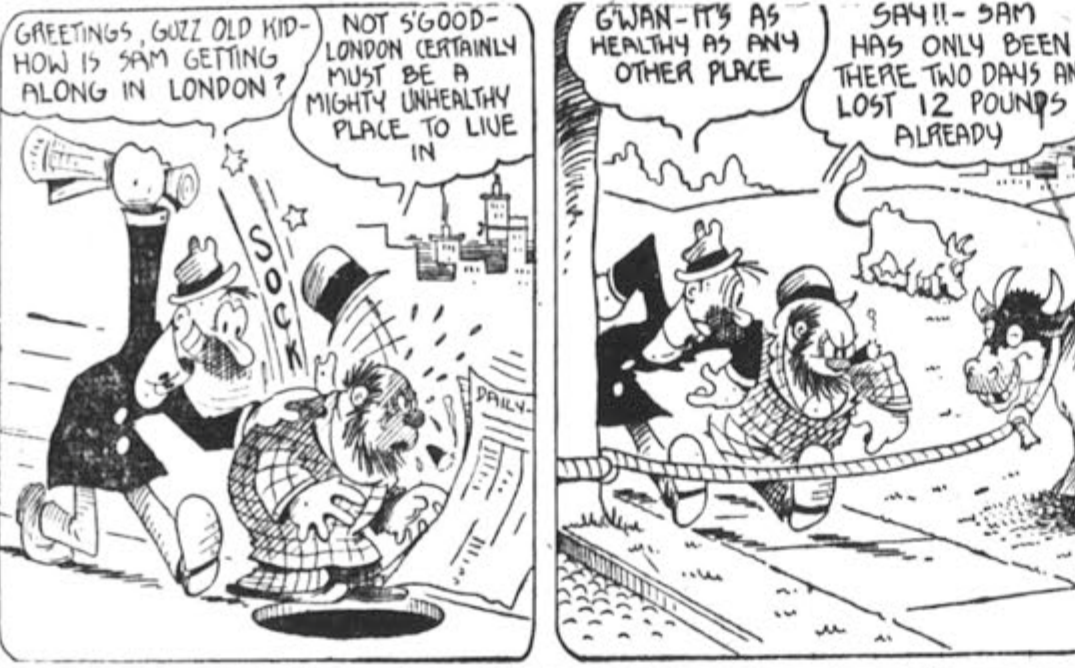

Yes, Escanaba will have just as many tourists, her air will be just as invigorating and her happiness just as complete, regardless of what eventuates in Washington.

We wouldn't be a bit surprised to see the sun come up in the same old place.

FRECKLES AND HIS FRIENDS

"Beth, The Ambitious"

BY JANE PHELPS.

BETH OPENS HER TEA-ROOM. Beth had made her position as clear as she could to Mary and Dick. But she worried about little Howard. Mrs. Hill would be kind, but he was only eight and would miss his mother. Yet even thoughts of him could not make her regret what she had done. She found a room not far from the house—the children could come to her there, then hurried down to her tea room.

"It's mine! All mine! And I'll make good!" Beth exulted as she stood in the front of the long room admiring the tables, the neat maids in caps and aprons ready to serve.

In the kitchen the cooks, all colored, greeted her, everything ready. All conveniences installed. Slowly a few people drifted in, curious about the new place. But after they were served she heard many remarks about the food, the delicious waffles and real maple syrup, the coffee, the other things.

Beth was everywhere at once. A cash register allowed a young woman to attend to the checks, another young woman helped her to seat the people. Not that it was necessary that day, but most of her early morning hours would be devoted to buying, supplies, and the waitresses would need someone to overlook them.

For luncheon Beth had quite a respectable crowd. They all seemed pleased, they would come again. Her head at times felt dizzy as she thought of how soon she could be out of debt if she could bring in the people. Almost she forgot Harter, that she had been driven from home. The playing before the house as she went down town. Every day she grew more enthusiastic, in spite of mistakes, of discouragements. The management of her help was the hardest problem. She never had kept help, and they required careful handling. Feeling her own lack of ability in this direction she engaged a capable woman and turned that branch of the business over to her. Thereafter things went more smoothly. All the buying, the planning of menus, and the like she attended to herself.

At the end of the first month she was an assured success. Each day saw an increase in her clientele. The faces of her first customers, as well as the new ones, made her sure they were satisfied. They would not keep coming if they weren't. But always she tried to improve, to make her tea room more perfect in its food service, all its surroundings.

Had it not been for her right-hand talks with Dick, she could not have endured her absence from the children. Mary came too, and told how she missed her, that Mrs. Hill was all right, but wasn't HER. But no sign came from Harter.

"He'll come around some day," Dick told her, thinking to comfort. But Beth, remembering his stubbornness, doubted. Then, as always, the unexpected happened. Tomorrow—Howard Sick, Harter Sends For Beth

Fellowship of Prayer

Daily Lenten Bible reading and meditation prepared for Commission on Evangelism of Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America.

THURSDAY Entering the Kingdom.

Read Mt. 7:13-23. Text: 7:21. Not every one that saith unto me, Lord, Lord, shall enter into the kingdom of heaven; but he that doeth the will of my Father who is in heaven.

"Salvation means being saved from a daily life of growing selfishness to a daily life of growing unselfishness and its inevitable enlargement of life. It involves a deepening acquaintance with God, to know whom is eternal life."

MEDITATION: "Dong the will of the Father"—there is nothing higher in heaven or in earth than to be sharers of the divine will. When one is committed wholeheartedly to the great enterprise of making God's will supreme, he has united his life with the ongoing life of God, which union will continue through the long reaches of the life to come.

PERSONAL QUESTION: Have I the courage of high profession knowing that it means making good or acknowledging hypocrisy?

PRAYER: Eternal God, help us to do some service for thee today. Let our daily work bring blessings to others. May we be at one with thee in the deepest places of our lives, that thy purposes may be our ideals. May we begin this day with a close feeling of the infinite and con-

The Piffle Hook

M. R. J. P. MORGAN, who according to partially confirmed reports is running the town bank in New York, has sent a couple of his messenger boys over to Paris to hand the French people a suit case full of money. Mr. Morgan's charitable and unselfish demonstration of the interest (don't slide over that word "interest") America hopes to have in the well being of Vilvela and Warriden and Davanetter and all the other better known cities of our late noble ally, should water-bottle the patriotic temperature of every true American. His philanthropic project should be given the moral and material support of all of us. When he passes the hat we expect to drop in a couple of slightly used dimes on our own account and we shall encourage both of our readers to be even more generous.

More specifically, we regret that Dr. Fitzsimmons has, persuaded M'seer Georges Carpentier to visit this great and glorious commonwealth of our'n, to be bruised and battered and torn assunder by the devastating knuckles of Col. Thomas Gibbons, the well known Minnesota exponent of the art of assault and battery. M'seer Carpentier fought. He bled. He won the war which put an end forever to all wars and made the world safe for democracy and things like that. He comes to our shores again to fight for his beloved country, to die, if need be for France—and a hundred thousand dollars.

M'seer Carpentier visited our land on one previous occasion. He carried with him the hopes and the confidence of the French nation. When the bets were paid, the exchange value of the franc dropped from the sublime to the ridiculous. Mr. J. P. Morgan, by slipping Old Ray Poincare a couple of dollars till payday, will succeed in putting the franc back to a semblance of any of the lower forms of life, say an amoeba or a crooked cabinet officer. Mr. Fitzsimmons proposes to deflate the dawg-gone thing until three slices of a franc will be thinner than a woman's reason excuse for bobbing her hair.

In the language of Senator Jim Reed's famous reply to the proffer of Oliver Cromwell: "It's all wrong."

GARDEN NEEDS FARM MARKETS

Peninsula Citizens Interested in Canning Project in Escanaba.

Garden and Fairbanks residents are greatly interested in the statement made in a recent issue of the Press, that there is a possibility of the Michigan Fruit Packing Corporation establishing a canning factory for fruit and vegetables in the city of Escanaba.

It is doubtful, if such a factory, situated so far away from here would be of any service to Garden and Fairbanks farmers in general. Very few of our people raise such products on a scale large enough to make it worth while to make regular trips up to the County seat. We have no doubt but that we have the soil and the climate and every other condition to raise the best of fruit and vegetables and it is quite likely that when the plant is started, there will be a considerable increase in acreage of small fruits and produce. But the better plan would be to have a receiving station right here.

Need Station Here. Farmers are growing tired of raising hay and grain and shipping outside. They are fast learning to consume these products on their own farms and ship out the finished product. But the canning factory opens up a new field of industry to those near enough to be able to take advantage of it.

Angus McDonald, temporal rural letter carrier from the Fayette Post Office, will go to Manistique on Saturday March 29th where he will take the examination that is being held in that city to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Joseph Thill. Mr. McDonald seems to be the only aspirant for this position.

Maurice Bennett and family who have operated the E. A. Laux farm south of Fayette for the past year have rented the Lewis Mercier farm for a term of three years. Mr. Bennett and family have already taken possession of the place and are busily engaged in starting the spring work.

Emil Anderson and family have moved out of the Fred Beach property on the Dayton Beardsley place at Kate's Bay.

Snow is disappearing here very rapidly. With no snow fall or rain for a period of several weeks, there is at present no danger of a repetition of the flood excitement witnessed a year ago.

Lloyd McNally was quite sick at the home of Mrs. McLeod last week end. His father came down on Saturday and took him home.

Mrs. Fred Rost of Van's Harbor is quite sick. Dr. Foote was called in to her.

Ed. A. Laux and family have moved on to their farm home at Fayette. They are all delighted beyond measure to be "at home" again.

Mrs. McCasum has been suffering with foot trouble so that she has been unable to get out for several days.

Everette Thibault is suffering with a bad attack of the gripe. Harry Greene spent Monday disking out local roads.

The three year old son of Stanley Bains, who was taken sick some time ago with pneumonia, died last Friday. Burial was in the Catholic cemetery on Monday with Rev. Fr. Morin officiating.

Mrs. Eustache Thibault has been sick at her home north of town with a bad attack of the gripe.

Dr. Foote has been in great demand during the past two weeks. In a number of families, practically every member has been down for a few days.

R. S. Santino returned to his home at the Sun on Monday morning after taking a course of treatment at the cancer hospital.

Ed. Bureau states that he has been instructed by the Ekstrom Lumber Co. of Manistique to open up their place of business here on Monday next. Mr. Bureau will still continue to take care of their Garden and Fair banks interests. They will continue to carry a complete line of roofings, and builders material generally. The local office has been closed during the winter months.

PERSONALS

Fred Van Rehtoriel, radio enthusiast of Fayette has recently taken much pleasure in tuning in on Station WHE, Kansas City with their 13 1/2 hour Broadcasting Program of the International church movement. He enjoyed it so much and stayed at it so long that he got so sleepy, he could stand it no longer. This is unusual. Listeners to church programs generally go to sleep for other reasons. Truly the radio is a wonderful invention.

A shower was given at the Geo. Jogue home on Friday night last for Henry Gauthier and family. It will be remembered that their home and a large part of its contents burned down two weeks ago. As a result of the practical thoughtfulness of those attending, a nice variety of useful dishes was added to the family stock which was at the time very limited as a result of the fire. A very pleasant evening was spent by those present.

Lila Winters is employed as cook at the cancer hospital.

Mrs. Bert Healy has just returned from Manistique where she has undergone an operation. Adelle Mercier is assisting with the housework.

Wm. Winkle of Cooks has purchased one of the school buildings of the Inwood township. He is moving this to his farm property and intends to fix it over for a residence. Fred Winters of Garden is assisting him.

Garden State Savings Bank is the latest on the sick list. Mrs. Arthur Armstrong and little son of Escanaba are visiting at the home of her sister, Mrs. Sylvester Lewis of Puffy Creek. The immediate reason of the visit is the sickness of Margaret, the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis. Last reports state that there is no change in the condition of the infant.

Our attention has been called to the fact that it was just a little bit unfair to report in the caucus proceedings, the jailing of one solitary individual who had been drinking and "carrying on" during the actual proceedings of the caucus and then omit to report the scenes which were enacted in the village at the close of the caucus. We admit that the criticism is just but the writer, like a good Christian hurried straight home to his family rather than prowl around unquestionable places in order to see what scum he could report to a city newspaper, and to the world. We apologize Mr. unfortunate but at the time we thought that everyone else were behaving like gentlemen, and good American citizens but it appears that the powers of evil subsequently broke loose and expressed themselves in a manner enough to cause a blush of shame to come over good citizens.

A son was born to George Boudreau and wife early on Wednesday morning. Dr. Foote was in attendance. Mother and child are reported to be doing nicely.

Grace and Lawrence Anderson are both on the sick list. Joseph Kadow, in charge of the mason work on the new hospital building has arrived and is already at work. A few days of favorable weather will see the roof in position. Work will be hurried so as to have the place occupied as soon as possible.

Mrs. Octave Boudreau is very sick. Dr. Foote has been in attendance.

John Christensen is having his share of ill luck. His son is getting around on crutches as a result of a fall down the Town Hall stairs a week ago. Mrs. Christensen was taken sick last week and now the little son Harold is down.

Jos. Thill of Fayette was in town on business on Friday. Edward J. Purtil returned from Escanaba on Saturday. He had been there during the greater part of the week.

Wm. Laux, the Rawleigh man, was in town on Monday. Leaving here on Tuesday, he made his way into the Cooks district.

Hullie Dalgord of Fayette made a business trip to town on Friday. Clifford Gauthier returned from Flint last week. He is undecided as to what will be the next move.

J. B. Rosola, one of Garden's oldest residents is feeling so much better that he is able to get out a little.

Henry Deloria has been making changes and improvements in the interior of the store here in town. He is the most accommodating man. When a customer attempted to take away a dab of paint on his clothes, Mr. Deloria would arrest them and invite them to help themselves to the contents of a can of gasoline which was standing in readiness.

We are glad to know that the Press is rendering valuable service to a number of former residents who, in their new homes, consider it almost like a daily letter from home.

Hynes Getting Out Good Lumber Supply

Jos. Hynes is getting out a good supply of lumber, yellow birch and maple which will be used for building sleighs. He expects to be quite busy between now and next winter in this line of work. The State law, passed five years ago, standardizing widths of sleighs comes into effect soon and all sleighs must by that time comply with State regulations. This will make lots of work for local blacksmiths. Mr. Hynes, assisted by Harry Greene, is getting his lumber from several farms east of town in the Polish settlement. It is being taken to the Jas. Adams sawmill which is just across the way from the Jack La Motte farm.

FAIRPORT GIRL SEES DISASTER

Miss Imogene DeVet, Teaching in Utah, Had Thrilling Experience.

Frank Devet and wife of Fairport have been privileged to receive a little first hand information about the big mine disaster out in Utah. This came from their daughter Imogene who is employed as a school teacher in the Holper Public Schools which is only a distance of four miles from the scene of the explosion. By a strange coincidence Miss DeVet, together with her school principal, another teacher and other school officers had previously planned to make a visit to the mines on the same day that the explosion occurred. Miss DeVet and her friend left their home about 8:30 a. m. and met the other members of the party at Hiawatha. It was at this point that she heard of the disaster. The whole of the party then hurried to the Castle Gate coal mine but before they reached the place the roads were so crowded with rescue teams, anxious relatives and sight seers that the party were compelled to leave their automobiles and walk a mile. Very frequently during this walk, they were compelled to stop on account of blinding sandstorms. Finally reaching the mine, they found heart-rending scenes. Guards, armed with axe handles were on duty at the pit mouth, to keep away, almost demented wives and mothers. Some families had as many as three and four members working in the mine at the time. It may give a little idea of the force of the explosion when it is said that pieces of iron were hurled for a distance of one thousand feet.

Never Can Forget. Miss DeVet spent such a day that she will never forget and according to her statement, has seen enough of coal mines that she never will be persuaded to go and see another. Besides the scenes witnessed at Castle Gate, her memories will be still more vivid when she thinks of her sore feet, her worn out shoes, her blue suit dyed to a tan and her face, about the same color as the faces of those who daily emerge from those places of darkness and death.

We are indebted to Mr. and Mrs. DeVet for the above description of their daughter's experience.

Keep 'em Guessing Is Bank Slogan in Its Novel Contest

Last week we announced that there would be a new feature appearing in the Garden page of the Press. We had hoped to be able to present a completed plan at this time but this is impossible. However we are able to state that the Garden State Savings Bank is staging a novel Guessing Contest. We have reason to believe that by the time this issue is in the hands of our readers that everything will be in readiness. Everybody may enter the contest, getting a little clean fun, and the possibility of a valuable prize. Details may be had on application at the bank or watch the next issue of the Garden page for further particulars. A well known matrimonial expert, and writer for the big magazines, in giving advice to wives on how to retain the affections of the husbands, keep them where they belong, says "Keep them guessing." Our local bank, in staging this contest, believes that a little guessing will not come amiss to Press readers.

A Striking Value - at $295. Considering the improved appearance of the new Ford Touring Car, one would naturally expect a proportionate advance in price. Larger scale production, however, has made it possible to incorporate in this new type touring car a number of decided improvements without increasing its cost to the purchaser. A comparison extending over a long period of years will reveal the fact that the present price is actually the lowest at which the five-passenger open car has ever been sold. The Ford Touring Car stands today, as it always has, a most remarkable value in the motor car field.

Needham, president of the association, following a meeting of the board of directors held at noon yesterday. The roads will be open by that time, and there is every indication that the show will attract tremendous crowds. The directors are now engaged in the work of completing an elaborate program of attractions which will keep the entertainment features moving at top speed every minute. The exhibits will include more than a score of varieties of automobiles and a dozen types of radio machines, it was expected yesterday.

Many Inquiries.
 Inquiries from Gladstone, Manistique and other cities have been received by officers of the association, and it seems probable, attracted large crowds which enjoyed every minute of their stay in the big building. This year the roads will be in good shape, the show will be an established and more widely advertised institution and its success is certain to be even greater, directors predicted.

LIVELY LAKE SEASON SEEN

One of the liveliest early ore shipping seasons in recent years is forecasted by shipping men in Duluth, Cleveland and other major lake ports. With lower lake smelters rapidly diminishing iron ore stocks, shipping men see great activity ahead for the ore ports when navigation opens. This usually is around May 1. Ninety-six percent of the smelters have been consuming ore at a promising rate of speed, according to word received here, indicating that there will be a rush of cating that there will be a rush of ore from the Lake Superior district when the breaking of the freeze, the huge fleet of tugboats, Stock pile at the underground mines are sufficient to take care of the movement to the docks until the great open pit properties resume operations, mining experts declare.

Cargoes Coming Back.
 As the Lake fleet will be engaged in taking ore and grain down lakes, there will be a large number of bottoms available to bring coal from the lower lake docks, dock operators explain On Mar. 1st 1,924 there were approximately 4,400,000 tons of soft coal on the rocks with 2,800,000 tons contracted for, leaving a surplus of 1,600,000 tons.

HARTWIG NEARS END OF CAREER

Lawrence Hartwig, captain of the Escanaba negative debating team, will make his last appearance on a local platform as a representative in a contest of Escanaba high school, when his team meets the Sault Ste. Marie affirmatives here Friday night. It will be the eighth public speaking contest in which Hartwig has worn the colors of Escanaba high school. He has been a leader in debating and oratory for three years. Other dates on the school's speaking schedule will take Hartwig out of town. The annual district oratorical contest will be held in Menominee. Hartwig, who won the district honors last year and took second place in the state meet, is certain to be a leading contender for the district gold medal this year and many believe he has better than an even chance of bringing the state championship to Escanaba for the second time in three years. Wendell Lund was state champion in 1922.

Cases Rebuilt.
 The arrangement which sends the affirmative teams of the competing schools on the road this week will give Escanaba a chance to hear the home team uphold the negative of the ship subsidy question. The Sault team, Friday night's "honorable opponents" of the Orange & Black has a strong and successful team, which is certain to provide more lively opposition than the locals encountered in the Menominee contest. Both the negative and affirmative cases have been rebuilt by Coach Lemmer's speakers during the last two weeks.
