

CLAIM U. S. MARINES KILLED IN HONDURAS

SPEECH MAKES NEW FRIENDS FOR COOLIDGE PRESIDENT JUDGED BY MEN FROM ALL SECTIONS.

BY DAVID LAWRENCE. (Copyright 1924, by the Escanaba Press.) New York, April 25.—President Coolidge, his personality, political future and doctrines of public policy were dissected by the editors and publishers in annual convention here.

There was almost universal agreement that Mr. Coolidge lacked eloquent power in delivering his address, a circumstance induced partly by the fact that he read from a manuscript. There were those among his republican friends who thought the occasion a fitting opportunity to "sell his personality" to the editors.

Little Political Flavor. In the sense that Mr. Coolidge made his speech without dramatic efforts and in the even tones which contrast with the old time addresses of Rooseveltian punch, the president did not come up to the expectations of many of his auditors. In other words, regarded purely as a campaign speech, it did not have the political flavor or rousing appeal so characteristic of efforts on the stump.

But it would be a mistake to accept casual comments on the form of delivery or personal appeal as conclusive. Something far more significant was disclosed to this correspondent as he mingled with the editors and collected their opinions. It was that the basic doctrine now widespread approval. Editors from the south, staunch democrats, united with republicans of the north in pronouncing Mr. Coolidge's thoughts safe and sane.

Little Partisanship. Economic questions rather than political problems were in the background of most of the publishers' minds and to the extent that Mr. Coolidge showed himself concerned about tax revision and other factors that might contribute to the business welfare of the American people, his speech made a profound impression.

For, if the truth be told, there was little partisanship in the comments heard. It was not as republicans or democrats, but as persons interested in economic progress and readjustment that the visiting delegates spoke. Mr. Coolidge's conversation struck a sympathetic response on the part of those of his school of thought, irrespective of political affiliations.

Dark Secrets In Gaston Means' Files Vanish On Forged Letter

(By The Associated Press.) Washington, April 24.—The treasured records of five years of spy work, the hoard of Gaston B. Means, international sleuth and star witness for the senate Daugherty investigating committee, have vanished dream-like between two days.

WHEELER PROBE GOING SLOWLY

Washington Lawyer Says The Senator Is Innocent.

(By The Associated Press.) Washington, April 24.—Two detailed stories bearing on the Montana charges against Senator Wheeler were heard today by the special senate committee appointed to investigate his indictment.

One of the witnesses, William G. Feely, a Washington lawyer, testified that the senator had "absolutely nothing" to do with the Campbell land cases which Feely's firm handled before the interior department and in which Mr. Wheeler is charged with accepting a fee from Gordon Campbell, a Montana oil operator.

Agree Regarding Europe. Many of the early advocates of the League of Nations favored that organization largely because of a conviction that it would bring Asked "Square Deal." When Chairman Borah asked the land commissioner directly whether Senator Wheeler had "interested himself in the Campbell controversy or any other controversies before the interior department" the witness replied: "I don't remember any controversy that Senator Wheeler has been interested in."

fact that if two men bearing a letter signed with the name of Chairman Brookhart took the records from Means' Washington home, as he reported, they were not authorized to do so, and their letter of credentials was a forgery.

Senators on the committee were plainly puzzled and waiting tonight. They may have a session tomorrow to study the problem.

Black-Bound Teasers. For weeks now, the Means' records, which consist of scores of black-bound notebooks, his day-by-day diaries of his extraordinary activities, have been held back from full disclosure. Tantalizing glimpses into them have been offered at frequent intervals in the kaleidoscopic shifting of the Daugherty investigation but no complete tale of their contents has been rounded out.

It was to these records Means turned when asked to fix the times and totals of payments he took as "money carrier" for Jess W. Smith. Again, they were said to contain detailed data of how Means was assigned to ferret out the secrets of the central bootlegging machinery in New York and "get" Secretary Mellon. From topic to topic, as the skipping examinations of the committee proceeded, he verbally has sketched mere outlines, and has said always "the records" would confirm and extend his testimony.

Lots Of "Dope". One or two days the records themselves, spilling out from two bulky containers, lay in the committee rooms while its inquiry was on. Among the diary leaves were thrust the photostatic copies of letters and documents which Means said he had stolen, bought or maneuvered from their original depositories.

There was hardly a baleful secret in all the country, he intimated darkly, but had his key hidden in "the records of Means"—once German intelligence agent, later Burns detective and special agent of the department of justice and finally some sort of attaché of the intelligence section of prohibition enforcement.

A Simple Tale. Means' story to the astonished committee members today was as simple as it was doleful. To him more than three weeks ago came two men, purporting to be assistant sergeants at arms of the senate, armed with a letter which appeared to come from Chairman Brookhart, ordering the papers in to the committee's possession.

Senator Brookhart said he had written no such letter. Senator Wheeler, the committee prosecutor, after examining the missive pronounced the signature a "palpable forgery" easily detected. They both indicated, however, that the records were not absolutely necessary to the investigation; that the committee could proceed without them, and would do so.

Seneca Copper Co. To Partly Suspend

(By The Associated Press.) New York, April 24.—The Seneca Copper Corporation, which recently went into receivership, has announced that operations will be suspended after this week at its main plant in Keweenaw county, Michigan, and also on the properties of its subsidiary, the Gratiot Mining Company. High construction and operating costs were blamed for the company's financial difficulties.

VAST CROWDS ENTERTAINED LAST EVENING

ALL CITY SCHOOLS INVITED FOR THIS AFTERNOON.

Without question, last night's crowd at the Auto-Radio show at the Coliseum rink constituted the largest attendance recorded so far, either this year or the first year. The management is more than pleased with the splendid response of the public and particularly that large portion of the public which comes from the rural sections. It indicates that the spirit and purpose of the big show is becoming thoroughly understood in the out-of-town sections and that is exactly the purpose of the enterprise—to bring people here to find for themselves what kind of a town Escanaba is, what kind of hospitality she is ever dispensing toward the visitor; what marvelous stores she has and what great buying opportunities are afforded through the friendly cooperation of local merchants who have cut their prices to the bone on this occasion.

"Going Over Big." All in all, the big show is going better than had been anticipated. The nightly dancing programs between 10 and 11 o'clock are thoroughly enjoyed and the spirit of pleasure which radiates from every countenance as the crowds pass in undulant waves from booth to booth, seems to be proof positive that every one is having a splendid time. It is glad to be present and that all are strong boosters for Escanaba and Escanaba enterprise.

The afternoon programs are equally interesting and although not so largely attended, afford more time for leisurely inspection of the two score or more of magnificent cars on display, while there is also greater opportunity to inquire into the merits and operation of the various radio sets on display.

Musical Programs Please. The evening musical programs consisting of orchestra music, with special vocal and instrumental numbers by well known and popular local singers and organizations lend a keener zest to the enjoyment, while fun and frolic and repartee splash forth in gushing frothiness from the two country stores where local baseball boosters are disposing of a wonderful variety of goods donated by generous local merchants. Hams and flour, canned goods of every description, pictures, wearing apparel, auto and radio accessories and even fruit trees and bushes compose a part of the vast stock which must be gotten rid of by Friday night.

A Liberal Education. It certainly is educational in every way. Countless improvements have been made in both cars and radios within the past year, even within the last few months in the radio world, and all these things are explained at the big show by men who know because they have worked out their knowledge through experimentation and are therefore qualified to advise regarding many troubles by which amateurs are beset.

The Community Sales project which is being staged through the enterprise and cooperation of local merchants in connection with the big auto radio show is proving another strong factor in

Major Martin Still Held Up By Alaskan Gale

(By The Associated Press.) Cordova, Alaska, April 24.—Because of extreme strong northerly winds, Major Frederick L. Martin, commanding a United States army air expedition around the earth, was forced to give up his intention of departing from Kanatak, Alaska, today, according to advices received here.

FOUR BALLOONS STILL DRIFTING WITH PROSPECTS OF BAD NIGHT

Should Reach Great Lakes Region Some Time Today.

(By The Associated Press.) Kansas City, April 24.—Four of the seven balloons which took the air late Wednesday at Kelly Field, San Antonio, Texas, in the national balloon elimination race, were still up early tonight tracing their way through uncharted and in some cases, stormy paths toward the uncertain goal of the contest.

As darkness came on, the second day of the race, the four remaining contestants, approximately 1,000 miles from the starting point, were drifting northeastward with prospects of a bad night ahead.

Nearing Great Lakes. Should the pilots ride out rain storms predicted for tonight in their path in the central west, they should show up tomorrow morning in the Great Lakes region. If they are still in the air when day breaks they are almost sure to smash the American distance record.

Another hazard, according to weather officials, is that the gas bags may be becalmed during the night and forced down by drifting in an area of low pressure which is moving eastward from over Nebraska.

Those still in the race early tonight are:

Captain H. E. Honeywell, piloting the Kansas City Cooperative Club entry "Honeywell".

Merbert VonThaden, pilot of "Detroit", entry of the Detroit Aviation Society.

Ward T. VanOrman, pilot of "Goodyear Number 3".

Major Norman W. Peck, pilot of "U. S. Army Balloon Number 1".

Two Forced Down. Two of the balloons, Lieutenant Ashley McKinley's, representing the army, and Pilot E. H. Four-nier's, representing San Antonio, were forced down today in Oklahoma. Army balloon number 2 was forced down at Independence, Kansas. The pilots and their aides landed without injury.

A balloon which from available reports was leading the flight north-eastward, was sighted over Kansas City at 5:04 o'clock this afternoon and an army plane left Richard's Field in an effort to identify the bag. The aviator circled around the balloon several times but reported he was unable to make out the name.

Over Waverly, Kansas. Captain Honeywell, pilot of the Kansas City entry, drifted over Waverly, Kans., shortly before six o'clock, according to a message he dropped to the Associated Press.

One of the balloons, flying at an altitude of about 800 feet, passed over Kansas City at 7:39 o'clock.

A balloon drifting low passed over Platte City, Mo., northwest of Kansas City, shortly after 6 p. m.

Woman Kills Servant In Hunting His Master

TAKES DARE; IN HOSPITAL BADLY HURT

(By The Associated Press.) Marquette, Mich., April 24.—Accepting a dare from several boy friends, Howard Lamont, nine years old, of Big Bay, this afternoon touched a match to a dynamite cap which he held in his hand, not knowing what it was, and tonight lies in a Marquette hospital with the right of his left eye perhaps permanently lost, with three fingers on his left hand badly torn and mangled and with powder-burns on his face and chest.

Erratic Chicago Genius Now Sought By Police

(By The Associated Press.) Chicago, April 24.—A 24-year-old woman lawyer, angered at the refusal of a man with whom she became infatuated to divorce his wife and marry her, today visited the man's home in Palos Park, a suburb, shot and killed a caretaker, fired several shots at the man's wife and then raced to Chicago in an automobile accompanied by a man believed to be her husband, from whom she was separated, to continue her man-hunt.

Wanda Elaine Stopa, a near genius, who came to this country a poor immigrant and in a few years graduated from a law school and who served for a time as an assistant United States district attorney, and Ted Glasgow, who posed as her husband and whom she left a year ago, were being sought throughout the city tonight.

DETROIT TO OPEN WAR ON JIM COUZENS

(By The Associated Press.) Detroit, April 24.—Active warfare upon the candidacy of Senator James Couzens for re-nomination was forecast today by political leaders following what they termed the "negative repudiation" of the senator's record at Washington. There was speculation as to just what form the campaign to defeat Senator Couzens' re-nomination ambitions would take, with many politicians predicting that Governor Greenback would abandon whatever third term intentions he may have, and seek the toga now worn by his own appointee.

Senator Couzens was ignored in convention resolutions throughout the state, except for isolated cases. At the Genesee county convention a clause was inserted in general resolutions which read: "We recommend to Senator James Couzens the ideals of the Republican party and party loyalty, the constructive administrative policies and statesmanship of Calvin Coolidge."

ARREST GIRL AS "SCHOOL" FAKIR

She Was Making Detectives Through Mail Course.

(By The Associated Press.) Detroit, April 24.—Betty Varle, another of the faculty of the Detroit Snowcard School, was arrested on a charge of using the mails with intent to defraud, and was liberated on a $5,000 bond by Commissioner J. Stanley Hurd today. There still are two other "instructors" sought on capias in the hands of the United States marshal.

The woman is said to have been the head of the school for detectives and to have been the one to fit applicants for positions on the detective force, the secret service or the department of justice force of sleuths.

Postoffice authorities made a thorough investigation of the concern before taking any steps against it. It was found that although the school advertised that its graduates were earning large sums at home, it had not made a single graduate in the 18 months it had been operating in Detroit.

POLICE SAVE NEGRO FROM A MOB IN FLINT

(By The Associated Press.) Flint, Mich., April 24.—Police today rescued William Cleveland, Detroit, a negro, alleged to have held up a jewelry store, from an infuriated mob of workmen, and saved the prisoner from what was feared would be a lynching, after a search for the suspect for more than three hours through an automobile factory. The man was finally driven from a bake oven by flooding the building with steam. The fleeing suspect commandeered an automobile at the point of a gun, but was disarmed by Eugene Ballard, the driver, when he turned to watch the approaching of the police filer.

To the presence of mind of Ballard, who was driving along industrial avenue with his four year old son when the fleeing suspect jumped on the running board of his machine and ordered him at the point of a gun to drive away, the police attribute the capture.

Ballard in shifting gears to comply with the man's command, noticed the latter turn to look at the rapidly approaching police filer. Ballard grasped the negro's pistol with both hands and stopped the machine. According to his report to the police, Cleveland pulled the trigger of the revolver twice, but the hammer caught on Ballard's thumb.

REPORT NOT OFFICIALLY CONFIRMED

UNCLE SAM READY USE FIRM HAND NECESSARY.

(By The Associated Press.) San Salvador, April 24.—Several American marines have been killed in Honduras according to advices received here.

An attache of the American legation in Tegucigalpa said to have proceeded to La Libertad, Salvador, a station, in order to communicate with the government in Washington.

A dispatch from Amapala additional reinforcements for who are besieged in Tegucigalpa have managed to slip through revolutionary lines and enter capital.

Other dispatches are to the effect that none of the political parties in Honduras care shoulder the responsibility for intervening with Sumner Welles, representing the American government, in an endeavor to bring about peace between the discordant factions.

American marines were landed some time ago at Comba and several other places to protect American interests. Later the marines were withdrawn and blue jackets substituted. Recent rebels in Honduras have been besieging Tegucigalpa, and Wednesday dispatches from Salvador reported that rebel planes had dropped bombs in capital.

NO OFFICIAL REPORTS. Washington, April 24.—No official reports had been received tonight on the killing of American blue jackets in Honduras, reported in unofficial advices from San Salvador.

There are no American marines stationed in the republic but a force of 167 sailors is on officers from the cruise Milwaukee, at Amapala, has been at Tegucigalpa, the Honduran capital, for several weeks to protect the legation and American life and property generally as a result of revolutionary troubles.

Firm Hand Ready. Lacking direct advice, administration officials declined to discuss the situation, but there were indications that the government would deal with a firm hand with the situation in Honduras, necessity should arise.

The landing force from Tegucigalpa was dispatched to Comba under command of Commander L. D. Casey at the request of Secretary Hughes after the Honduran military had proved itself incapable of maintaining order.

Drunken soldiers of the detachment to government forces, according to official advices received here, have shot down many persons and looted mercantile houses. Property estimated at more than $400,000 in value.

The American legation in Tegucigalpa, which has been fired upon by armed mobs, composed chiefly of drunken soldiers mobilized to defend that city from the attack of united revolutionary forces.

Recent reports from Commander Casey said that members of his command had narrowly escaped injury from bombs dropped by revolutionary aircraft flying over the city. The explanation was made that the pilot probably had mistaken the blue jackets on the field and at that time at exercises, for enemy troops.

Secretary Hughes suggested to President Coolidge that Sumner Welles, American commissioner to the dominican republic, be

One pair of tortoiseshell glasses and a fountain pen constitute his loss. Einstein went to bed with his clothes on, he said, and was awakened several times during the night from what he thought was the joggling of the train. This morning he discovered some of his property was missing.

But the interesting thing is that republicans and democrats seemed to agree that economic co-operation with Europe was necessary. As the president said, to get increased export markets for agricultural and manufactured products. Mr. Coolidge was admired for his courage in continuing his espousal of the world court, notwithstanding opposition inside his party.

Few Dissenters. Dissenting expressions were largely confined to those who accepted the speech in political terms and who unconsciously were governed in their judgments by the natural divisions of party and economic creed—liberal, radical or stand-pat. On the whole, Mr. Coolidge revealed himself as the safe-and-sane type of president which the business man, be he from the north or south, likes, and the convention contained more business executives than editorial writers.

HENRY MORAS FOUND GUILTY

Henry Moras was found guilty of assault and robbery while armed, by a jury in circuit court yesterday. The verdict was returned after about three hours of deliberation.

Moras was charged with having been a companion of Carl Olson in the holdup and robbery of the C. A. Carlson gasoline filling station and grocery store on 5th Ave. S., Feb. 21. Olson previously had pleaded guilty and was used by the state as a witness against Moras.

"Life" is maximum. Jurors said, following their discharge, that there had been an agreement on Moras' guilt early in their consideration of the case. The discussions in the jury room, they said, concerned the wording of the verdict, two of which the court had instructed the jurors were possible.

The first count was "robbery while armed with intent, if resisted, to kill." The second was "robbery while armed and during the perpetration of such robbery, assaulting wounding and striking" the victim. It was this second verdict which the jury returned.

The maximum penalty for the crime of robbery while armed is life imprisonment. Prosecutor George W. Carr said yesterday. Only Criminal Trial. Moras retained the same stoic air when the verdict was read, that had characterized him throughout the trial. The expression on his face underwent no change, and evidenced no emotion.

or feeling. He was taken back to his cell to await sentence. The Moras case was the only criminal trial at this term of court. The trial of civil matters was begun immediately after the robbery matter was given to the jury.

A hardfought trial, which may require the rest of the week, in court to complete, was predicted by court officials and attorneys interested.

The following jurors are hearing the case: Ole L. Olson, I. Schram, Albert Lundahl, H. W. Blacklock, Wilmer Larson, Martin Thoren, Albert Halvorsen, William Micks, Phil Lewis and John Clapp.

GLADSTONE NEWS.

TWENTY-FIFTH BUSINESS YEAR IS OBSERVED

A silver anniversary in which Gladstone as a community will be interested will be celebrated today in the twenty-fifth anniversary of the founding of the Henry Rosenblum department store, one of Gladstone's largest business places.

The anniversary will be marked by the opening of a fifteen day sale for which elaborate preparations have been under way. Every department of the big store will be ready this morning with a birthday holiday atmosphere evidenced by attractive decorations and in addition will be filled with bargains which have been arranged for this special occasion through cooperation of jobbers and manufacturers.

The completion of the twenty-fifth year of the big department store's business in Gladstone is a source of pride and satisfaction not only to Mr. Rosenblum, but to everyone interested in the growth and betterment of the city.

The Rosenblum store was established on April 25, 1899 in the building in the Old Fellow block now occupied by the Quality bakery, with thirty square feet of space down stairs. Mr. and Mrs. Rosenblum ran the business alone. Two years later they took the entire downstairs floor, and after five years the two stories of the building. Ten years later when the space was again found to be too small, it was decided to build the building the big store occupies at the present time. The building was completed in 1910 and the Rosenblum department store has been in its present home since that time.

Thus in ten years' time the business from a small space occupied in another building has grown to its own building, occupying 14,000 square feet, upstairs and down and the force from Mr. and Mrs. Rosenblum who successfully managed the early business unaided, has grown to a staff of eighteen efficient workers, including managers, office staff and salesmen and women.

Work is Success. Hard and steady work and the investing of earnings back into the business are the reasons back of the growth of the business. Mr. Rosenblum believes.

"It has meant being on the job every minute and lots of hard work with the prospect of a lot of it to come," Mr. Rosenblum said, "but I have had the aid of an efficient organization and I look forward to a continuation of the growth that has marked the years preceding today's anniversary."

Some pronounced it gall stones, some gastritis and some intestinal inflammation. I happened to read an ad of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy and from the first dose my wife has steadily improved." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. OUR NEW CITIZENS.
Who save themselves, can save what surge of patriotic feeling and emotion swept over them...

It has meant something to them, most certainly, or they

How many of us know by

Every one of these new citizens knows it and he gives a distinct his lips go stammering over it.

Just by way of refreshing your may have "forgotten" The American's Creed, we print it herewith and suggest that it might not be a bad idea to clip it out and paste it in a convenient place where it can be seen frequently. It won't do any of us any harm to have our memories jogged occasionally.

patriots sacrificed their lives and fortunes.

"I therefore believe it is my duty to my country to love it;
to support its Constitution; to obey its laws; to respect its Flag; and to defend it against all enemies."

Those are the things we believe our new citizens will think about every time they see Old Glory.
Can all of us truthfully say that we think of the same thing as reverently, whenever we see the flag displayed? We mean it all right, but we're pretty careless about our flag-manners sometimes. Many, many times we have seen the flag, borne by vet-

"Beth, The Ambitious"

BY JANE PHELPS.

ADAIR INVITES MARY TO A MUSICALE.
Chapter XLV.
Beth seldom saw Adair. Often she remained at her second tea-room during the dinner hour. Not that she acknowledged to herself that she did so to avoid him, but meeting him DID disturb her, even though she had put him out of her life, out of her thoughts as far as she was able.
When they did meet she greeted him quietly, calmly, although at times it was an effort. Adair, taking his cue from Beth, showed simple friendliness, as far as his actions went, but often his eyes would follow her hungrily, a longing in their depths that hurt and discomfited her.
Margaret wondered what would have happened had love come to Beth before she had her business to occupy her mind? Then looking at her steadfast eyes, her sweetly serious face, she decided it would have made no difference.
Beth Manning was indubitably a virtuous woman. It was a part and parcel of her, that white soul that neither poverty nor unhappiness could change. Some of her innocence was gone, some of her ignorance of the ways of the world, but she had come through the fire clean, not purified, she was, always had been pure.
Occasionally during the first stages of her father's illness, Mary had dined at the tea-room with her mother. The change was for her good, so both Margaret and Beth thought. Her father's illness weighed upon the young girl, she confided to Margaret that she feared he would die without making things up with Beth. So the rule that she should not go to the tea-rooms had been disregarded almost like going with her father, for a time.

Beth introduced Mary to Adair.
She was glad of the opportunity, glad that he should know her children. She saw a look of admiration in his eyes as he chatted easily with Mary, as he had with Dek. And no wonder! Mary's fresh young beauty, her girlish simplicity of dress and manner, was very attractive.
"You are Dick's friend," Mary said, as her mother left them together, "he has told us about you."
"I hope I may be your friend,
also," the smile that so changed Adair's face flashed on her, "and I hope he didn't give me a bad reputation."
"Oh, no! He thinks you are wonderful!"
He smiled again at Mary's naive reply.
Beth had told him on one of their talks - now so long ago - that Mary was musical. He broached the subject, found her well informed, enthusiastic.
"I have a friend who gives a musical evening occasionally - a real treat. If your mother will allow I shall ask permission to take you. You have perhaps heard of my friend," mentioning his name.
"Oh, yes! And I am sure mother will let me go! I have heard and read so much about him."
"We'll ask her," as Beth came toward them.
Gladly she gave permission,
thanking Adair.
"There is no one with whom I would more willingly trust Mary,
no one that it could please me more to show her a bit of life. She is just a school girl yet, and goes out very little except with me."
"Thank you, B. - Mrs. Manning, I'll take good care of her, you may be sure, and I am flattered that she cares to go."
Adair little dreamed of the feeling Mary had, that she wanted her father to take her out as the fathers of other girls did, and that she thought to go with him would be disregarded almost like going with her father,

CONSERVATION DRIVE SUCCESS

Excellent Results Certain If All Workers Do Full Duty, Say Officers.

The work of the Escanaba Wild Life Conservation League has been doing the past year has made the renewal of memberships this year largely a matter of solicitation rather than salesmanship, Col. F. B. Houston, president of the organization said last night.

Solicitors for new memberships and renewals began their annual canvass of the city at noon yesterday following a meeting at the Delta hotel.

Response hearty.

"It is almost altogether a matter of reminding present members of the League that their annual dues are due, and of presenting those who have not previously been members with an opportunity to join," said Col. Houston. "Refusals have been very, very few, according to reports from the field. The League is certain to have a much larger membership this year. If all of the solicitors cover their territory assigned to them thoroughly."

On every hand, there were reports of success in the areas visited yesterday by the workers. The program of feeding birds and other game, of procuring fish for lakes and streams, of securing legislation favorable to the conservation of wild life generally, has been carried on so successfully during the year that results already are being noted, and there is little doubt that the League, next year, will have more members and more money with which to carry on a still wider program.

Memberships one dollar.

Memberships are sold at $1. It is not a sportsman's organization, being formed on the basis of conservation of wild life is good business, and of far more importance than its appeal to the hunter and the fisherman.

IMMIGRANTS LOSE FRIEND

An automobile accident in Chicago caused the death of Miss Martha M. Troeck, who was known to thousands of foreign born American citizens, by reason of her long service at the Ellis Island immigration station. Miss Troeck was for thirty years a missionary of the Woman's American Baptist Home Mission Society and for half of that period her post of duty was Ellis Island. Her unfailing patience and kindness in dealing with the puzzled, homesick wanderers made her beloved and remembered by the immigrants long after they had become settled residents of the United States. It was a frequent experience for Miss Troeck to be warmly greeted, in the street or on trains, by people whom she did not recognize but who recalled her as the friendly woman who had comforted and helped them during their first days in strange America. Her fame traveled back to the old country and it was not uncommon for immigrants to ask for her as soon as they landed at Ellis Island. During the war, when immigration almost ceased, Miss Troeck was transferred to the Baptist Missionary Training School in Chicago. Her body was taken to Brooklyn for burial.

Retailers To Put Up Large Sign In Spaulding Vicinity

Escanaba retailers will erect at Spaulding, a sign, 50 by 12 feet, to be electrically lighted four hours a day, four days of the year, calling the attention of tourists to this city's advantages as a shopping center.

"No city in Northern Michigan or Wisconsin has so many fine stores as Escanaba," the sign will read. "Excellent roads radiating in all directions, modern hotels, well equipped garages, metropolitan features of every kind. Escanaba, the Hub of Upper Michigan, 22.8 miles."

The sign will be erected as soon as arrangements can be completed.

Party for Bride-To-Be.

The Escanaba Hive, No. 531, L. O. T. M., held a very successful meeting Wednesday evening at Grenier's Hall when a large class of candidates were initiated. After the business session a party was given in honor of one of the lodge's most faithful members, Miss Madge Bonner, who is to be married in the near future.

The affair was in the nature of a pre-nuptial shower and Miss Bonner was presented with a beautiful chair. Cards were played, Mrs. Mary Keil winning the honors, which was a large basket full of sweet peas, which she in turn presented to the guest of honor with an appropriate speech. Dainty refreshments were served after the card games and everyone enjoyed the evening to the utmost.

Miss Bonner has always been a loyal member of the organization and very seldom missed a meeting.

Radio Proves Its Popularity

Radio, the infant industry which is expected soon to reach the volume of business totalled each year by the automobile industry has already proven its popularity throughout the United States.

Recently a Chicago broadcasting station conducted a special program for radio enthusiasts and offered to give away an automobile to some lucky fan who would send in a telegram. As a result there were over 50,000 messages received from every portion of the United States.

Closely following in the footsteps of this huge success the radio broadcasting station WCX, of the Detroit Free Press has announced that it will give some lucky radio fan a Jewett brougham which will telegraph the station between the hours of 10 and 1 o'clock eastern standard time, Tuesday night, April 23.

This is the night on which the Red Apple Club program is customarily broadcast by WCX. However that night, the Big Chief of the Club will turn over the honors to Edgar A. Guest, famous poet.

As a further inducement to radio fans to wire the station how distinctly Mr. Guest is heard, WCX will give an autographed volume of "Eddie" Guest's poems to the first person from each state to get a message into its office between the hours of 10 and 1 o'clock.

5 Operations—15 years suffering with constipation—Kellogg's Bran restores health

Mr. Lansing's case is typical of thousands of others. He found permanent relief from constipation in Kellogg's Bran because it is ALL bran. Nothing but ALL bran can be 100 per cent effective. Read what he says:

Dear Sir:

I have been afflicted with constipation for the past 15 years, and during that time I have been in four different hospitals and submitted to five different operations that were the result of constipation. I was getting so bad that every meal I ate caused me stomach. Two months ago I was advised to eat your Kellogg's Bran. I tried it, as I was trying everything I could hear of. From that day on I have never taken a physic. My stomach does not sour any more and my bowels move regularly morning and evening.

Yours sincerely,
Frank Lansing,
1206 Jeffries Ave., Marion, Ind.

For permanent relief, eat Kellogg's Bran regularly. Two tablespoons daily—in chronic cases, with every meal. It is guaranteed to bring results, or your grocer will return your money.

You will like the delicious nut-like flavor of Kellogg's Bran—so different from ordinary bran, which is unpalatable. Eat Kellogg's Bran with milk or cream. Sprinkle it over other cereals. Cook it with hot cereals. Try it in the recipes given on the package. Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled, is served by leading hotels and clubs in individual packages. Made in Battle Creek. Sold by all grocers.

NATIONAL FIELD SECRETARY WILL SPEAK TONIGHT

Miss Maude Kinnburg at Presbyterian Church.

Miss Maude A. Kinnburg, of New York city, and Field Secretary of the National Board of the Presbyterian church in the U. S. A., has been secured for an address to be given at the First Presbyterian church of this city tonight.

The securing of Miss Kinnburg is regarded as a most fortunate thing for the church people of this community, in that Miss Kinnburg is able to furnish first hand information concerning affairs in which the church people are interested. At present this speaker is in attendance at the Lake Superior Presbyterian, being held at Ishpeming and for this reason it was possible to secure her for an address. Miss Kinnburg is an attractive personality as well as an attractive and fluent speaker, which together with the fact that she is also an authority in her field, should make her appearance here, an event of importance in church circles. There is no charge for admission.

Volstead Law Will Be Debated by Able Speakers at Kiwanis

Modification of the federal prohibition laws will be the topic of a debate, to be held Monday night, at a regular meeting of the Kiwanis club, with the Rev. H. W. Colenso, pastor of Alice Memorial Methodist church of Gladstone, upholding the law as it now exists, and Michael J. Doyle, prominent Monominee attorney, favoring liberalization of the statute.

The debate, the club's program committee believes, will result in a highly interesting discussion of one of the leading issues of the day, by two of the most eloquent and able platform orators of this region.

In order that each speaker may have ample time to present details of his case, the weekly meeting will be held at 6:15 p. m. instead of during the noon hour.

5 Operations—15 years suffering with constipation—Kellogg's Bran restores health

Mr. Lansing's case is typical of thousands of others. He found permanent relief from constipation in Kellogg's Bran because it is ALL bran. Nothing but ALL bran can be 100 per cent effective. Read what he says:

Dear Sir:

I have been afflicted with constipation for the past 15 years, and during that time I have been in four different hospitals and submitted to five different operations that were the result of constipation. I was getting so bad that every meal I ate caused me stomach. Two months ago I was advised to eat your Kellogg's Bran. I tried it, as I was trying everything I could hear of. From that day on I have never taken a physic. My stomach does not sour any more and my bowels move regularly morning and evening.

Yours sincerely,
Frank Lansing,
1206 Jeffries Ave., Marion, Ind.

For permanent relief, eat Kellogg's Bran regularly. Two tablespoons daily—in chronic cases, with every meal. It is guaranteed to bring results, or your grocer will return your money.

You will like the delicious nut-like flavor of Kellogg's Bran—so different from ordinary bran, which is unpalatable. Eat Kellogg's Bran with milk or cream. Sprinkle it over other cereals. Cook it with hot cereals. Try it in the recipes given on the package. Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled, is served by leading hotels and clubs in individual packages. Made in Battle Creek. Sold by all grocers.

GOLDEN WEDDING ANNIVERSARY IS CELEBRATED

Surrounded by presents of almost every conceivable kind, Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Quinlan of Manistique were able yesterday to look back with happy recollections to the celebration of their Golden Wedding anniversary as one of the most memorable events in their lives.

Scores of relatives and friends from Luce, Schoolcraft, and Delta counties joined with Mr. and Mrs. Quinlan to celebrate the fiftieth anniversary of their wedded life. The presents received included $325 in gold, a tribute to the genial couple who have made Manistique their home for the past 33 years.

Mr. Quinlan is 75 years of age and celebrates his birthday every Patrick's Day. His wife, Mary, is 64. They were married at Escanaba in 1874, and started out on the sea of life together at Payette, Michigan. Nine children were born to them: Judge J. E. Quinlan of Newberry, Mrs. Quinlan of Thompson, Fred Quinlan of Essett, Wash.; Mrs. F. F. Duall, Everett; David Quinlan of Newberry; Frank Quinlan, who died in the U. S. Service during the later war and is buried at Manistique; William Quinlan, also deceased; and Lawrence Quinlan of Newberry.

Mother is 93.

Prominent among the guests at the wedding was Mrs. Quinlan's mother, Mrs. Jacob Krummey, who is 93 years of age. Other guests from out-of-town were: Mr. and Mrs. V. E. Gormley, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Murphy, Mr. and Mrs. Matt Surrall, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Mahar, Mr. and Mrs. George Neff, Mrs. Susan Green and M. Hammes, all of Newberry; Robert McDonald of Garden, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Miller of Rexton; Daniel O'Connell, Engadine.

Scores of Manistique people were present at the St. Francis church Wednesday morning, when Mr. and Mrs. Quinlan renewed the marriage vows made 50 years ago. In the evening, a wedding supper was served to 125 guests at the Quinlan home at the corner of Lake and Oak streets, followed by a reception in the K. C. Hall, which brought to a close this memorable occasion which will long be remembered by the guests and the happy couple.

Mr. and Mrs. Quinlan plan to leave Manistique on May 15, for the state of Washington to visit their son and daughter, who were the only two of their children not present at the golden wedding celebration.

Judge Quinlan Speaks.

Following is the text of a present speech delivered by Judge John E. Quinlan of Newberry at the supper Wednesday evening in tribute to his father and mother:

"My Dear Father and Mother, your children, and your children's children are gathered here today, to celebrate with you, on the occasion of the fiftieth anniversary of your wedding—fifty years—how long to look forward to, yet how what a brief period, it may be changed by the love and affection of a happy married life, the traditions which emanate from a charitable heartstone, and the daily receding memories of a busy life.

"From old Emerald Isle, you brought with you, the humorous and ready wit which softens the daily toll, and in your adopted country you reared a family which, we believe, has done honor to the noble example and admirable lessons which you set for us in our early lives.

"My Dear Mother, those of us who are now grown to maturity, realize the hardships you have undergone, to rear us to manhood and womanhood, from the time you went down into the valley shadow of the 'valley of death' to bring us into this world, up through the trials and tribulations of our infancy, and youth, until we now appreciate the great mother you have been to us. Right or wrong, you have been with us, in the depths of despair, and on the heights of victory, ever soothing our wounds, comforting our sorrows, and sharing our joys, your tears have mingled with ours, and your words of encouragement have been our greatest solace when other friends departed.

Tribute to 'Dad.'

"Dear old 'Dad,' We will never forget you, so long as there is a soul in our body. Your Sons and daughters now have children of their own, and now realize the arduous toils and hardships you must have endured. For years and years we ate the food, and wore the clothes your hard labor provided for us, giving it little thought and you less than that.

"Frequently we find our seasons with you in the wood shed, but at those meetings, you were always the chairman, you made all the motions and we were nothing but a howling audience; you gave us oceans of good advice, while we listened to it out of respect for you, immediately disregarded, but later on recalled in our mature years; your sole interest in life was in raising a family of honest, God-fearing girls and boys, and we sincerely hope you feel you have succeeded.

"My Dear Parents, you have performed your duties and done them well. To the world you have given of your very existence, that your children might be strong and hearty. To God, and your country, you have given heaven's greatest offspring, your own son, so that the sons of other fathers and mothers might be safe and in proportion may be your reward in eternal heaven.

"Your lives are indeed eloquent proof that romance and love still play an important part in our existence and may the love that is in your hearts today burn with ever increasing brightness and may happiness and prosperity attend you always.

"You know that your children love, honor and respect you for what you have done, and for what you are and always will be, but so you may have some daily reminder of this love, some tangible evidence of their reverence, for you we present you with this little gift, not for its intrinsic value, but that it may be laid up in the archives of your hearts, as a memento of our love for you. May your years be many more, and may each passing year be filled with new joys and may your pathways be strewn with roses.

Mr. and Mrs. John I. Jennings have moved to an apartment over the A. S. Putnam store, and will manage the Rutledge hospital rooms there.

TRAFFIC LAWS ARE NOW IN BOOKLET FORM

Copies of Manistique's new traffic ordinance, printed in handy pocket booklet form, are now available free of charge to all motorists who wish to be well informed on the subject of the recently adopted traffic regulations. The books may be procured from the chief of police city clerk, and Manistique people are urged to take advantage of this opportunity to "read up" on the laws now governing local traffic.

In addition to the ordinance, which is number '95 on the city records, the book contains a page of "Don'ts for Drivers," which, if observed, will prevent all accidents. The "don'ts" really cover all of the important provisions of the ordinance in a nutshell, and a driver who observes them will not make himself liable to arrest.

On the back cover of the little pocket booklet are shown the three commonly used signs for right turn, left turn, and stop, showing the approved position of the hand and arm in making these signals.

The adoption of this ordinance, which is reprinted in full in the pamphlet, repeals several of the old ordinances dealing with vehicular traffic on the city streets, including ordinance numbers, 66, 67, 73, 74, 82 and 83.

Legion Presents War Picture At The Gero Tonight

There are no sham battles or posed war scenes in the picture, "Flashes of Action," which the Manistique Legion is presenting at the Gero theater tonight. Every bit of this movie is the "real thing" as photographed by official government camera men during the World War.

A few incidents in the training camp life of the service men are shown, together with other scenes taken under war conditions, some of which were obtained at the cost of a camera man's life.

The film was released through the Legion film service, and secured by special arrangement with the Gero theater.

An advance sale of tickets is being made today under the direction of the local American Legion members.

CITY BRIEFS

Manistique Odd Fellows and Rebecca will attend special services at the Methodist church on Sunday, observing their 105th anniversary.

Mrs. E. C. Dunton Will "Cover" A Society Wedding

At the request of the Vanderbilt family, Mrs. Edith C. Dunton of Manistique is to act as special society reporter at the Vanderbilt-Cecil wedding, which takes place on the twenty-ninth of this month, according to word received by Mrs. Dunton's friends in Manistique.

Mrs. Dunton has been sojourning at Asheville, North Carolina, since the close of the social season at Ponce de Leon, St. Augustine, Florida. The Vanderbilt-Cecil nuptials, which are attracting international attention at this time, will take place at Asheville.

By request of members of the Vanderbilt family, Mrs. Dunton will remain at the North Carolina resort until after the wedding, in order to "cover" the social side of this important event, which is attracting such wide attention.

WELFARE CLUB OBSERVES ITS ANNIVERSARY

Birth Party Wednesday Night Marks Close Of Eighth Year.

An anniversary party, which in its fittingness and enjoyment, will long be a happy memory to those who were present, was given Monday evening at the Presbyterian church when the Gladstone Child's Welfare club observed the eighth anniversary of the organization of the club.

The party was the first celebration of an anniversary held by the organization whose great work has meant an accomplishment that has not been equaled anywhere in the state and the observance with the natural pleasure attendant upon an anniversary celebration but touched as well by the serious purpose of the club, was in keeping with the occasion.

An added interest was also given the observance by the presence here of Mrs. Walter Dahl of Minneapolis, a former resident of this city, the first president of the Child's Welfare club, who came to Gladstone as the guest of honor at the birthday party.

The anniversary celebration opened at 7 o'clock with the serving of a delicious supper.

Cut Flowers.

The church basement was attractively decorated in a color scheme of yellow and white. This combination was carried out in the arrangement of the tables with small Sunbonnet babies for favors and spring flowers, tulips, hyacinths, jonquils and sweet peas, as the centerpieces. At the officer's table, a large birthday cake, baked by Mrs. Margaret Jackson, formed the centerpiece, with eight lighted candles representing the eight years of the club's existence.

Singing of the Doxology opened the affair and during the supper, assembly singing of favorite songs was enjoyed, Floyd Marble leading. The birthday cake was cut by Mrs. Dahl.

At the close of the supper, Mrs. W. H. Corbett, president of the club, who returned from California where she has been spending the winter in time to be present at the anniversary party, as toastmistress, opened the speaking program with a few well chosen words of welcome.

President's Welcome.

"This is a very happy time for the officers of this club, the members of the special committee and the members, and I take this opportunity of welcoming you to this, our first celebration of an anniversary, and of expressing the hope that there will be many more such birthdays.

"The first meeting of the Child's Welfare club was held in April, 1916 with the purpose in mind to promote the welfare of the unfortunate children of our city and its vicinity. "I wish to express first of all, our gratitude toward those who have given us advice and assistance in our work both members and friends, because we feel that they, too, should share with us in the feeling of satisfaction that the Child's Welfare organization has become a part of the Community in its activities and can be depended upon.

"Many people have criticized us because they thought that we worked too quietly but we have always felt that therein was our success and that because of it we had the full confidence of the very deserving ones we wished most to help."

Mrs. Corbett then told of the accomplishment of the first ambition of the club, the placing of a school nurse, and of the appreciation of the school board placing the nurse on their staff in July, 1918. In speaking of this, the president said: "Her work in keeping the standard of good health in the schools is generally known and much admired. I wish to say that in many larger cities where I have been the past few years I have investigated the school nurse system and have found none so complete or efficient."

Accomplishments.

Mrs. Corbett then spoke of the employment of a city health nurse, Mrs. Hulda Hendrickson, the maintenance of the loan closet, the work of the sewing committee, the Christmas work, the placing of milk in the schools, the general accomplishments and the hope of securing an educational health nurse.

"As a federated club," Mrs. Corbett concluded, "we have opportunities to develop other lines of community activities but it has seemed that to make a success of one thing would be more creditable than to do a little of many things. We can help ourselves only as we give service to others and we have found that community service pays. In behalf of the club members we are deeply grateful to the officers and members in bringing the club's success to its present state."

The second speaker, Mrs. J. D. McDonald, a charter member of the club, whose ableness and efficiency have kept her in the office of secretary of the organization continuously since its founding, gave, in an interesting manner, a concise report on the general accomplishments of the Welfare club during the eight years of its existence.

"The Baby week campaign committee, with Mr. Bauman of the high school faculty as secretary," said Mrs. McDonald in opening her subject, "met in April 1916 and reorganized under the name of the Child's Welfare club. The charter members were our honored guest of this evening, Mrs. W. B. Dahl, now of Minneapolis, Mrs. W. H. Corbett, Mrs. M. J. Gleason, now of Detroit, Mrs. A. D. Bolley, Mrs. L. J. Smith, Mrs. Mary Henke, Mrs. N. B. Brown and myself. Mrs. Margaret Kanney was admitted shortly after as a charter member.

"The officers to serve the first year, Mrs. Dahl, president; Mrs. Corbett, vice president; Mrs. McDonald, secretary and Mrs. Gleason, treasurer, were elected and the club was launched as an organization, non-political, non-sectarian and with its motto, 'The Child First'."

Corner Stone.

"Steps were at once taken to have the club placed in the state federation. The constitution was written and adopted and then the membership campaign placed under way, the first applications to be balloted upon being those of Mrs. Henry Rosenblum, Mrs. J. P. Bushong, Mrs. Glenn Jackson, Mrs. Phil Hupp and Miss Ruth Beneschek. The first honorary members were Walter B. Dahl, James T. Jones, James D. McDonald and L. J. Smith.

The men are considered the corner stone of the organization. This membership from eight members has increased until now it reaches the two hundred mark.

"Mrs. Dahl served as president from April until August, 1916, resigning after the baby organization was well able to walk unaided. Mrs. S. C. Mason was then elected and served most successfully until June, 1918. Although regretting the loss of so capable a leader the members welcomed with renewed confidence the election of Mrs. G. J. Slining and the organization itself speaks of her great executive ability and the progress made under her leadership.

"When Mrs. Slining resigned after two years of service, Mrs. W. H. Corbett was elected president and has served in that capacity for three years. No words of mine are necessary to laud her wonderful accomplishments.

Slight Idea.

"In giving this report, Mrs. McDonald continued, "I am not telling you of the articles of clothing supplied, the number of pairs of shoes or the food or fuel provided but I will endeavor to give a slight idea of the work done for the betterment of the health of the child. The number of families whom we sponsor during a year from January to December averages from six to ten with from two to six children in each family.

Mrs. McDonald cited instances of work done closed with a tribute both to the workers in the club and its supporters throughout the community.

Mrs. Smith, treasurer of the Welfare club, followed with a well given report on the finances of the club, closing with the statement that through the co-operation of the public donations have been made strengthening the treasury and enabling the club to carry on its good work.

Mrs. Margaret Kanney, school nurse, told of her appreciation of being the first school nurse in Gladstone. "During the seven years of my work here," Mrs. Kanney said, "in talking with nurses and other health workers I have often been asked a question, 'To whom, besides your doctors and dentists, do you go when you find cases of destitution? It would take a great deal of time to answer that in detail but there is always one thing that I say to them and that is: 'We have no motherless children in Gladstone. There is one great community mother and that is the Child's Welfare club.'"

Observations.

"My observations of the Welfare club," said James T. Jones, and enjoyable. "It is a real treat to me to be with you to attend this party tonight," Mrs. Dahl said. "When the eight charter members met to organize, she continued after reading the proclamation by Mayor George Perry on the baby week that fostered the founding of the club, 'Little did they realize the greatness of the effort they were putting forth but the work has continued and has been accomplished in the realization that the children of today are the homemakers of tomorrow.'"

Mrs. Dahl spoke of the Washington conference of the work being done in Minneapolis under the principle, "No mother's baby is safe unless everybody's baby is safe." In closing, she expressed her appreciation of being present at the party and said, "Never will I forget the Welfare club and the slogan of eight years ago, 'Better Babies, better parents, better Gladstone.'"

Vote of Thanks.

A rising vote of thanks to the officers, the committee and the ladies of the Presbyterian church who prepared and served the supper so successfully, was led by Henry Rosenblum.

The remainder of the evening was a delightful program of games and stunts with Mrs. Fred G. Forbes, general chairman of the party, leading the fun and entertainment in a manner in which only she could.

The party was a success from start to finish and too much cannot be said in praise of Mrs. Forbes, her committee workers, and other assistants.

AMUSEMENTS AT THE DELFT Undoubtedly the greatest picture in which Jackie Coogan has been permitted to use his remarkable genius is Metro's "Long Live the King," now the feature at the Delft Theatre. Last its premier in this city was attended by a great and appreciative audience which through the evening continued to give ample evidence of the tremendous popularity which Jackie now has at his command. In fairness to him it is such beautiful and impressive productions as "Long Live the King" that enhance his popularity and make him more beloved. The story of "Long Live the King" is a familiar one to readers of American books. It is a screen version of the famous novel of the same name written several years ago by Mary Roberts Rinehart and which attained a tremendous sale. It hinges around the romantic adventures of the little Crown Prince of anarchy. It is a highly exciting romance and the producers have not only lost none of the fascination of the novel, but have added to its delight by giving it a wonderfully beautiful presentation. AT THE STRAND A new James Oliver Curwood picture, "The Broker Silence," will be shown at the Strand Theatre today and Saturday. This production gives promise of being the most elaborate and most pleasing to reach the screen thus far. The story, a fascinating tale of love and intrigue, moves from one dramatic episode to another, culminating in a tremendous climax that comes as forcefully as a thunderbolt. Zena Keefe is the featured player. Her supporting cast is more than adequate and includes some of the best screen players of the present day, among whom may be mentioned J. Barney Sherry, known for his pleasing performances in many Universal productions, Robert Elliott, star of stage and screen; Gypsy O'Brien, Roy Gordon and many others of almost equal prominence.

The Philosopher's Stone THE old alchemists—the learned men of "science"—spent their lives seeking the philosopher's stone. They sought a metal which would by contact turn any baser metal to gold.
