

M'ADOO LOSES 179 VOTES LAST NIGHT

SMASHING RAIDS UPON HIS STRENGTH PUT HIM SECOND TO SMITH FOR FIRST TIME

(By The Associated Press.)
 Madison Square Garden, New York, July 7.—Charging down on the McAdoo lines with a new ferocity the coalition forces in the Democratic convention tonight swept the McAdoo votes down to their lowest point.

Governor Smith, for the first time took the lead over Mr. McAdoo and reduced his opponent to a point where he had lost his power of a one-third veto over the selection of a candidate.

Then when the coalition forces were riding on the crest of the wave, they got an adjournment of the convention until tomorrow morning at 10:30 o'clock.

Adjoins in sympathy.
 The convention actually adjourned as a mark of sympathy and respect for President and Mrs. Coolidge in the death of their son, but before the word of the president's son's death was received the managers of the coalition forces had planned the adjournment at high water mark.

Ballots Indicate Slippage

(By The Associated Press.)

This was a loss of 29.5 for McAdoo; a loss of three for Smith; a gain of 62 for Ralston; a loss of 6 1/2 for Davis and a loss of 3 1/2 for Glass.

On the 84th ballot Michigan gave Ralston 20 and Smith 10.

EIGHTY-FIFTH BALLOT.

The result showed a loss of 27 for McAdoo; of three for Smith; two and a half for Davis and a gain of five each for Ralston and Glass.

The Michigan delegate who voted for McAdoo went back to Ralston on the eighty-sixth ballot and the state's vote stood Ralston 20; Smith 10.

This was a loss of twenty for McAdoo and a loss of one and a half for Glass. It was a gain of one and a half for Davis and a gain of one for Ralston.

On a forced poll of the Kansas delegation tonight it went under the unit rule to Governor J. M. Davis and out of the McAdoo column.

Michigan gave one vote to McAdoo on the 87th, 19 to Ralston and 10 to Smith.

Ralston "in Good".

Senator Ralston, after having formally withdrawn his name from the convention last Friday, found himself in the best position of all the fourteen minority candidates as the result of today's balloting. On the 81st and 82nd he had received only 24 votes but on the two succeeding ballots he totaled up 93 votes, only four less than his high mark of last Thursday.

Governor Gives Elks Welcome In Boston Meeting

(By The Associated Press.)
 Boston, July 7.—Addresses of welcome by Governor Channing H. Cox, United States Senator David I. Walsh, Mayor Curley and Grand Exalted Ruler James G. McFarland of Watertown, S. D., marked the formal opening here tonight of the sixtieth annual convention of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, which will continue throughout the week. The grand lodge of the order was scheduled to begin its executive session tomorrow.

The fraternal salutation—"Hello, Bill!"—haunting on banners everywhere, greeted the delegates.

During the night's session Taggart and Senator Harrison had maintained "compromise candidate headquarters in an office just off the convention auditorium, where they saw many leaders."

The main purpose of the Taggart-Harrison combination tonight was to run the McAdoo vote down under the Smith vote, and hold it there to determine the future of McAdoo remaining in the race. This, they believed, would force conferences which would accrue to the benefit of Ralston, or any dark horse who might be selected in his stead.

Dr. Jaynes Tells Escanabans Why And How Cities Grow

Addresses by Dr. Frank Emerson Jaynes, educational director of the American City Bureau, before a joint Rotary-Kiwanis meeting at noon yesterday, and before the Escanaba Trades & Labor Council last night, started the Chamber of Commerce "Carry On" campaign through what has been designated as Education Week.

Dr. Jaynes will remain in Escanaba throughout the week. He will address the Escanaba Lions club at noon today. At noon tomorrow he will speak at a luncheon meeting of the city and in the afternoon he will speak to the Escanaba Women's Club, at the K. of C. Club. Thursday night he will appear before the American Legion. Friday night there will be band concert and speaking program in Ludington park, under auspices of the campaign executive committee. Saturday night at 8:15, Dr. Jaynes will meet with the commercial travelers of the city at the Ludington hotel.

W. R. Smith, of the Delta Hardware Company, has been elected chairman of the committee of twenty in charge of the "Carry On" campaign. The election of Mr. Smith, which was unanimous, took place at a meeting of the committee held early yesterday afternoon at campaign headquarters in the Chamber of Commerce offices.

Why Cities Grow.
 "Cities grow," Dr. Jaynes told his luncheon club audience, "only when a group of their citizens band themselves together to think, to plan and to work together. Some cities, in spite of themselves, but the period, in which that sort of growth was possible, has passed. Definite laws govern the increase in wealth, and population, and opportunity and happy living and contentment. Communities, by obeying these laws, build greatness for themselves."

America has changed from a suburban nation, Dr. Jaynes said. Most of the population of the United States now lives in cities. The nation, consequently, he asserted, has taken the vices and the virtues, and the ideals of the city.

The problem which has resulted from this cityward movement, Dr. Jaynes declared, is the most vital one confronting the nation. Cities provide a strange contrast in virtue and vices, beauties and beastialities, high ideals and debasing and selfish graft and immorality.

Ford Renews His Loan To Detroit
 (By The Associated Press.)
 Detroit, July 7.—Henry Ford's loan of $5,000,000 to the city of Detroit was renewed today with interest at 3 per cent. Richard W. Reading, city controller, announced. The former rate of interest was 4 per cent.

Reading also announced that the banks had reduced the rate for short term loans from 4 1/2 to 3 1/2 per cent. The lowering of the interest rate on the Ford loan will represent a saving of $50,000 annually and it is estimated the saving on the bank loans will be about the same amount.

Moroccans Slay Half A Garrison

 Madrid, July 7.—Native tribesmen killed or wounded half of the Spanish garrison at Kobadarsa, Morocco, during a seven days' siege which was broken only by the arrival yesterday of fresh troops, according to an official note issued today. The note fails to give the size of the garrison, but states that the relieving forces lost fewer than 100 men while the vicinity of the relieved fort was strewn with bodies of the rebellious Moors.

YOUTH FIGHTS BRAVELY FOR BOON OF LIFE

DISEASE SAPS RESERVE FORCE OF HIS FRAIL BODY.
 (By The Associated Press.)
 Washington, July 7.—Calvin Coolidge, Jr., son of the president, died tonight at Walter Reed Hospital of blood poisoning.

The end came after the boy had battled with the utmost bravery and fortitude for five days against a disease which had racked his body with pain and sapped the reserve strength of his frail constitution.

President and Mrs. Coolidge, who had maintained constant vigil at the hospital were at his bedside, hopeful and cheering and comforting their son to the last.

Dies At 10:30 O'clock.
 A sinking spell, the fourth he had suffered in 24 hours, brought death. Notwithstanding the use of oxygen and other restoratives, the courage which had withstood crisis after crisis and had beaten death off repeatedly was unable to meet the final attack. The collapse began at 5:30 o'clock and he gradually sank into eternity. He died at 10:30 o'clock.

Every resource of medical science was brought into play in the vain effort to have young Calvin's life. An operation was performed on the left leg last Saturday night to drain off the poison and blood transfusions and oxygen were resorted to in the later days of his illness. The natural strength of a boy of 16, however, which was counted on as the most powerful resisting force to the creeping poison was unable to meet the issue, and after having fought a brave but always losing fight, he succumbed.

Final Complication.
 One of the final complications and the one which the physicians were unable to meet was the formation of gas on the stomach. The organ was washed out repeatedly in an effort to put it in condition to retain nourishment, but the effort was unsuccessful.

Young Calvin was removed to the hospital Saturday and an operation on the same night revealed inflammation of the bone marrow on the left leg, where the infection first localized. On Sunday night his condition grew so serious that blood transfusion and oxygen administration were resorted to.

Three Sinking Spells.
 Three sinking spells Sunday night brought him to the point of death. A slight rally Monday gave slight hope, but soon thereafter he began again to lose ground and he never rallied again.

The infection developed from a broken blister on the right foot sustained during a tennis match with his brother, John, on the White House courts last Monday. At first paying no attention to it, the youth developed an alarming condition by Wednesday night and physicians were summoned.

The poison, however, once started had spread so rapidly that medical skill was without avail. A number of specialists were called to act with White House physicians on the case and a desperate fight for life was made by the boy, who struggled in great pain and with high fever.

President and Mrs. Coolidge bore up bravely. Soon after the death they went to the White House, where the older brother, John was awaiting them.

The spark of life, flickering only faintly, still persisted, ready to be extinguished at any minute but the will to live was very strong and death was held off when those at the bedside had long since abandoned hope.

E. T. Clark, the president's personal secretary, emerging from the sickroom at 10 o'clock, told those waiting outside that the patient was sinking but that his stamina was resisting at every backward step.

Neither President Coolidge nor Mrs. Coolidge came out and the physicians remained to minister to the suffering boy's last minutes.

LAWRENCE SEES NEW CONVENTION ANGLE

SMITH MERELY WANTS TO LEAD McADOO TO END

Willing To Retire If McAdoo Stays In Third Place

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
 (Copyright 1924, by the Escanaba Press.)
 New York, July 7.—Governor Al Smith of New York passed William Gibbs McAdoo in the balloting tonight and the convention adjourned on the eighty-seventh ballot with the McAdoo forces confident that the overnight telegrams would change the situation in the morning's session.

The McAdoo leaders agreed to the adjournment because they wanted the country to see how much strength a "wet" had developed in the convention. They are hopeful that the fact that a "wet" has the lead will drive all the "drys" together and will demonstrate the necessity of nominating a "dry" whether he is McAdoo or any one else.

McAdoo Lines Broken.
 The strategy of the evening session was the climax of two weeks of effort on the part of the anti-McAdoo forces who finally succeeded in weaning away from the McAdoo crowd enough votes to help various favorite sons and put McAdoo in second place. While the drive for Ralston and Glass did not show any signs of succeeding, the slow drip in the McAdoo vote sent the crowds into spasms of joy, for the galleries favor Smith.

The friends of the New York governor have taken on renewed life. They feel that with the McAdoo lines broken and with Smith holding his own, the consequences of further balloting, will be the gradual reduction of McAdoo to the status of the minor candidate, and that the persistence of Smith as the outstanding candidate will bring victory.

Predicts Smith Withdrawal.
 The feeling against Smith in many delegations, however, is so strong that if the New York governor really becomes a dangerous contender, certain delegations will swing back to McAdoo. There were reports tonight that Governor Smith simply asked his friends to make it possible for him to retire in second place at the end of the convention, with McAdoo third, and when the session adjourned for the night, rumors were current that the governor would tomorrow announce his withdrawal from the race and make an appeal for a compromise candidate.

Gem Fortune SOCIALISTS SWING INTO THIRD PARTY

(By The Associated Press.)
 Cleveland, O., July 7.—The national convention of the socialist party of America tonight formally enlisted under the LaFollette presidential banner. It adopted a report offered by a majority of a committee of 15, recommending that the convention concur in the action of the conference for progressive action in endorsing the LaFollette candidacy on its platform.

The vote on this report was 10 to 17.

Six Hour Debate.

The action came after a six hour debate in which 32 of the 13 delegates in the convention took part. It was conducted under strict rules, each side being given 15 minutes to state and finish its discussion and miscellaneous delegates being allowed five minutes each. Two exceptions only were made to this, Alex Cahn, editor of a Jewish newspaper, and Daniel Hoan, mayor of Milwaukee, being given double time.

Eight of the speakers argue for a minority report which would have resulted in a separate socialist national ticket and platform, and three spoke for a substitute which would have accepted the majority idea with reservations as to the vice presidency.

By adopting the majority report, the convention concurred not only in LaFollette's endorsement but also in last week's conference decision to postpone a vice presidential nomination until after the Democratic convention. It pledged itself to cooperate with the conference in the national elections and in such state and local elections as may be endorsed by the smaller units of the socialist party.

Asks More Power.

The convention asked increased representation on the national committee of the conference, agreed to send full representation to the new party organization convention next January and instructed its delegates to work for the formation of a complete new party based upon a platform containing as a minimum the planks adopted by the conference on July 6.

One of the strong influences in favor of the majority report was a telegram sent by Eugene V. Debs from a sanitarium in Elmhurst, Ill. It was explained by Mrs. Martha Hale White, executive secretary of the party, that this message was written after she had sent to the old socialist leader the full organization report adopted by the conference.

"I think it wise," said the telegram, "for our party to make no nominations under the circumstances, but at the same time to hold the socialist party intact, adhere rigidly to its principles and keep the red flag flying. The socialist party is the party of the working class and faces the future with absolute confidence and without fear."

Debs Sentiment.
 The Debs sentiment echoed the opinions expressed in the debate by such party leaders as Morris Hillquit, New York; Victor Berger, Wisconsin congressman; Mayor Daniel Hoan, Milwaukee; Cameron King, San Francisco; Gustav A. Hoeh, St. Louis; William Karlin, New York; John Collins, Illinois; Albert Weisbord, Massachusetts; and Alfred Baker Lewis, Pennsylvania.

Much of the opposition came from the Pennsylvania delegation, which was divided on the question, but William F. Quick, candidate for governor of Wisconsin, Warren Atkinson, New York, and William A. Toole, Maryland, joined them.

Their general agreement was that LaFollette had been a long Republican and they refused to accept him as a disciple of socialist doctrines. Mr. Toole warned the convention it "ought not to decent and maintain establishments" and Mr. Quick announced the Wisconsin senator a foe of the party.

Mayor Hoan answered that a fiery speech in which he expounded his views on the capitalist system and the value of its products.

HERRIOT IS A FAST WORKER

"Puts One Over" On Poincare And Other Opponents.

(By The Associated Press.)
 Paris, July 7.—The swift maneuver of Premier Herriot of France in getting Prime Minister Macdonald of England to come to Paris tomorrow, thus forestalling former Premier Poincare and his other opponents in the senate, who are prepared to put him on the gridiron, has upset all calculations in political and parliamentary circles.

The conviction that the Herriot cabinet was in danger had penetrated even government circles. Postponement of the debate, necessitated by the visit of the British prime minister, makes little change in the situation, but it gives M. Herriot time to make a further effort to come to an agreement with the British premier before he is interpellated in the upper house.

Big Difference.
 It is admitted that it will make an enormous difference if the premier is able when the debate comes up, probably on Thursday, to tell the senators that France and Great Britain are finally in complete accord as to how the Dawes plan should be put into effect.

The opposition is skeptical as to the possibility of M. Herriot's inducing Mr. Macdonald to give up his alleged determination to get rid of the reparations commission.

COMMONS UPSET.
 London, July 7.—Prime Minister Macdonald surprised the house of commons today by the announcement that misunderstandings which had arisen with the French government over the invitations to the interallied conference at London had caused him to decide to accept the suggestion of Premier Herriot of France to smooth out the difficulties.

Members Uneasy.
 The members of the house were evidently uneasy and mystified. Both former Premier Herbert H. Asquith and former Premier Stanley Baldwin, leaders respectively of the liberals and conservatives, confessed themselves perplexed by Mr. Macdonald's statement. Mr. Asquith declaring himself "bewildered regarding what has happened and what is going to happen." Both called for immediate publication of the terms of the memorandum included in the invitations to the allied powers to attend the proposed conference.

Uniform State Laws.

A national conference on uniform state laws, meeting in session with the sectional meeting of the Bar Association, took up the question of uniform marriage laws, today.

Reports of American cases, Williams said, exceeded in those of all other courts world combined.

In its membership are found vaudeville artists who have made records for phonographs, who have sung and played for radio broadcasting stations, and there is the famous singing Hollywood trio, in the organization.

Escanaba dance and music lovers are to be offered something distinctly new and interesting in the combination of instrumental music and singing.

Two Pay Fines for Disorderly Conduct Over the Week End

William McKenzie, of Munsing, was fined $75 and costs yesterday on charges of disorderly conduct. McKenzie was arrested after complaints had been received about his use of his automobile as drinking headquarters for a group of his friends. McKenzie paid his fine.

Frank Schimberg, proprietor of an east Ludington street restaurant, was fined $50 and costs on his plea of guilty to disorderly charges. Schimberg was alleged to have participated in a street fight, and officers who arrested him say that when he saw them approaching, he tossed a bottle into the gutter.

Schimberg, who pleaded guilty to "second offense" charges involving prohibition violations, is under parole to Sheriff J. P. Carney. Information concerning his latest escapade will be placed in the hands of Judge R. C. Flannigan when circuit court opens.

Re-register Early, Anderson's Advice to Voters of City

More than 300 Escanaba men and women had re-registered as voters when City Clerk Carl E. Anderson closed his office last night, and the record showed a steady increase in the number of daily registrations during the last ten days. All persons must re-register if they are permitted to vote in the coming state primary and presidential election. The last date for receiving registrations is August 16.

Mr. Anderson is anxious that voters register early. "We will be prepared, of course, to handle registrations up to the final date, no matter how rapidly they come in," he said, "but it will make the work much easier, and be a safeguard against errors which invariably creep into rush work, if folks will do their registering as early as they can do so, conveniently."

"There is certain to be a last-minute rush, and a lot of people can avoid the unpleasantness and discomfort of standing in line—perhaps for several hours—by getting their names on the books well in advance of the rush period."

Gust Anderson reported that his paint shop had lost a bag of brushes, valued at something more than $30, but the cash drawer remained undisturbed.

BRINGING UP FATHER

The Piffle Hook

PIFFLE HOOK We're going to study the mental reactions of the fans. The plan is an excellent one, provided the object is to study the abnormal. There are no normal human beings in the bleachers at a baseball park. Analyzing the mental gymnastics of a man whose home team loses will be similar to procuring an interview about the importance of the automobile to transportation from a man who has just been run down by a speeding taxicab.

Baseball, we believe, more than any other thing, brings out the poor sportsmanship and cowardice of the average man. The little runt who hasn't the courage to elbow his way onto a crowded street car platform sits on the bleachers and boldly hurls epithets at umpires and players that he wouldn't think of using on the street, face to face with the object of his displeasure. And the game, to nine out of ten fans, is a good game only if the home team wins.

The laboratory work of the young students will not require a considerable quantity of concentration or conjecture. Bleachers are exactly what they are thinking.

CONCERNING our absence from our wonted rendezvous, we shall say nothing this morning, to case you hadn't missed us, this will advise you that the Piffle Hook was not among those present Saturday and Sunday mornings, and that we are back on the job today.

A clergyman who has been missing from Lake Orion for several days is believed to be a victim of amnesia. The fact that a clergyman was seen in the vicinity of Lake Orion, it seems, should be a convincing symptom of his forgetfulness.

THE OTHER shell fish on the opposite side of the table says he greatly prefers the nominating methods of the Republicans, who, he points out, pick their presidential nominee before the conventions start.

SIR: Down by the North-Western passenger station Friday I saw a fat man run after a departing train, then come perspiring and panting back to the waiting room to meet the question: "Did you miss your train?" The man shook his head solemnly and replied: "Not at all, not at all. I got tired of seeing the darn thing hanging around here so I chased it out of town."

Why Should Even a Feeble Little Train Be Afraid of a Fat Man?

H. L. MENCKEN says that the Democratic national convention is "simply a colossal futility and almost as vain and idiotic as a golf tournament or a disarmament conference." What has the Baltimore Sage against disarmament conferences?

What has become of the old-fashioned candidate who would "rather be right than president?"

NATION MUST HAVE SCHOOLS—COOLIDGE—Headline.

What in the world ever put such a queer idea as that into Cal's head?

A ST. LOUIS woman shot her husband because he refused to get out of bed to answer the telephone. And it probably was the wrong number, anyway.

SIR: Have your visits to the Ludington Park bathing beach altered your opinion of the alleged relation between dimples and bow legs? If you are still looking for the exception to prove the rule, you will be interested in the fact that I take a plunge every morning at 7. Cheerfully.

EDITORIAL

FORM A CONTRADICTION IN TERMS

The rank insincerity of the platform makers is shown by the conflicting character of some of their planks. In desperate effort to get some of the issues to hot and cold at the same time the New York convention adopted well founded planks. One of its planks the Democratic platform charges the Republican Party with extravagance in one paragraph and with parsimony in another. While posing as advocates of economy, the Democrats advocate government ownership and control of the merchant marine, although government operation is always more expensive than private operation. It is in regard to bureaucracy that the Democratic platform shows one of its most marked inconsistencies. The platform denounces bureaucracy in general and yet points with approval to the Democratic bureaucracy created in the past and proposes further extension of government activities along the same lines: Government operation of the coal industry; stipulation by every proper governmental activity of the program of the cooperative marketing movement and the establishment of an export marketing corporation or commission in order that exportable surplus may not depress the price of the whole; Federal supervision of labor; establishment of a preserves and government protection of wild life; Federal regulation regarding fraudulent sales; government regulation of corporations controlling necessities of life; Government operation of Muscle Shoals fertilizer production; campaign publicity at public expense.

Those Democratic proposals for permanent bureaucratic activities in addition to what the government is doing now. Along with these proposed permanent activities incident to proposed new legislation, the Democratic platform proposes a referendum on League of Nations which, of course, will require the maintenance of a temporary bureau to handle the correspondence, the distribution of ballots, the supervision of elections, the receipt and tabulation of returns, etc. Thus it will be seen that although the Democratic platform pledges economy and less bureaucracy it also pledges the establishment of new bureaus and extension of government activity, which will necessitate new and larger payrolls, and larger expenditures.

Those Democratic delegates act as though they were really nominating a president.

DORA TELLS LOIS OF A NEW DUTY.
 Chapter XLIX.

The time passed swiftly. Never had Lois been so occupied, so busy—not even in the old days when she worked from dawn until dark. Visits to the shops, her riding lessons, golf, and so on, gave her not a moment to think, so she said. And at night she was so tired she slept like a child.

The improvement in her looks surprised even Dora. She was fresh, rosy, full of suppressed excitement that showed in her glowing eyes and smiles.

"You must have Dora visit you often," Alan said. "She has done you a world of good."

"I'll come as often as Mr. Lester will spare me," Dora returned, "but not because Lois really needs me. She's not the leaning kind, Alan. All she needs is understanding." It was the nearest she had come to hinting that he hadn't been quite fair to Lois, and she waited rather anxiously for his answer.

"People are beginning to understand her," he said, man-like not taking Dora's remark to himself. "And I think it has been partly her own fault—she held herself too much aloof."

"One of her dispositions would. By the way, Alan, I haven't ridden with you yet. Haven't you a mount for me? If you have, or can get one, I love to ride in the morning."

"I'll see what I can do, but I've an engagement to ride with Mrs. Shannon. You won't mind her being along?"

"No, indeed, the more the merrier. Didn't you ever ride as a girl, Lois?" she asked so innocently. Lois had had work to do to do, she thought, Alan's work.

can ride with him, leaving him no excuse to go with others while you sit at home. He loves golf. Very well. The days women are admitted to the links you golf too, either with him or someone else. He admires women who can entertain, who are gracious and accomplished hostesses—you can compel that admiration also. He notices when a woman is tastefully and becomingly dressed—he will notice you. Don't you see, my dear, how easy it is? You shut yourself up and draw into your shell, as he says, and let other women entertain him, attract him."

"Someway, Dora, it seems almost beneath one to cater to a man to hold his love—a man one has been married to so long."

"You catered to him constantly when you were poor, why not now that you are rich, in different circumstances? And, Lois, you owe it to yourself as well as to him. And more than all, to the boys. They are growing older and coming to know what is expected of a woman of your position. You don't want them to feel that you are different from the mothers of other boys in their class?"

"When you were poor they played with poor boys, you lived in a plain little house. It was all right then for you to cook, wash, and iron, to wear cheap clothes, and all that. But it is very different now. Boys have an inordinate desire to be proud of their parents, their mothers especially. Oh, a woman owes a duty to a rich husband, just as surely as she does to a poor one. Lord, how I preach!" she ended with a laugh in which Lois did not join. She was thinking.

"I believe you are right, Dora. I have been blind. I allowed myself to think of the old days instead of living in the new ones. And Alan rather frightened me at times," she laughed nervously, "he was so much, the elegant gentleman."

AMUSEMENTS

AT THE DELFT.

Of more than passing interest is the motion picture, "The Common Law," which is a screen adaptation of Robert W. Chambers' famous novel of the same name. Co-starred are Corinne Griffin, Conway Tearle and Elliot Dexter, while an exceptional supporting cast includes Doris May, Hobart Bosworth, Miss du Pont, Bryant Washburn, Phyllis Haver, Harry Myers and Wally Van. The story of "The Common Law" is really that of Valerie West, a sweet and rather unsophisticated young girl who, suddenly thrown upon her own resources, sets out to earn living, but with no tangible idea as to what she is better fitted to undertake. During her search for work she calls at the studio of Louis Neville, an artist who, seeing her great possibilities as a model, persuades her to pose for him in the nude.

She achieves great success as a model but retains her sweetness and charm in spite of her environment. Neville falls desperately in love with Valerie and she finally returns his love. But the artist's family is furious at what they deem an undesirable union and influence Valerie to give him up by convincing her that the marriage will wreck his career. She tries desperately to kill his love and nearly succeeds but in the end their attachment is too strong and Valerie finally offers to live with him as his common law wife. Neville first refuses but is finally on the point of accepting Valerie's sacrifice of honor when unexpected forces intervene which rush the story to its interesting and dramatic climax.

"The Common Law" opened a three days' engagement at the Delft Theatre yesterday.

ments for the market. Any farmer who is interested in the market project, whether his name is on the city's mailing list or not, is invited and urged to attend the meeting.

AT THE STRAND.

A new face has arisen on the screen horizon—Mabel Forrest. Remember that name for it will be one to conjure with. For Miss Forrest we predict great things are long—even greater than her excellent rendition of the role of Constance Rives, in "Mine to Keep." It is the current attraction at the Strand.

Bryant Washburn plays the male lead with his usual unction and skill. There is no pleasanter figure than that of Bryant Washburn. He has the smile that seems to say, "Hello, old fellow, I'm glad to meet you."

Wheeler Oakman is the heavy and is excellent. The others are all big leaguers and the picture is filled to repletion with thrills, suspense, comedy situations and pathos. Indeed, it seems to fill every requirement of high class entertainment. The settings are admirable, the production seems to evidence the freedom from financial worries.

THE KEY TO SUCCESS!

GET YOUR WINNING VOTES Via The "Second Period" Route Largest Remaining Vote Offer of the Campaign Is Now On---Lasts Until Saturday July 19

BE DETERMINED!

There is an old adage, "It is only the live fish that swims upstream." Applied to the Salesmanship Club Campaign, we could easily transpose it to read, "It is only the live member who will be able to swim through the sea of votes to a capital award." There remains less than four weeks of the campaign and every day—yes, and every hour—either brings you closer or puts you further from the desired awards. You members who have done well in the past periods of the campaign must realize that this is your critical time and that you will have to work hard to hold your advantage.

Go after big subscriptions. Take shorter ones if you must, but try first for the long ones. Look over your receipts and get your friends who in the early part of the campaign gave you short term subscriptions, to give you a "second payment" and thus extend the time of their subscription. The second payment plan is a rapid way of securing votes. Mark all such remittances, "Second payment."

If, when you last saw some of your friends, they were taking another paper and did not want two at one time, go back at them and tell them you are in the up-and-running class and have them give you a subscription to The Daily Press the delivery of the Press to commence when their present subscription to the other paper expires. Mark such subscriptions on your remittance sheet, "Future Subscriptions."

Do you get excited—or wistful—or just plain determined when you think of the exceptional value of the awards for which you are working? It is well to keep in mind that you are working for something which is of real value, that the first award is worth $1,895. Naturally it means a great deal to the members to secure one, but the best frame of mind for success is just a willingness to work hard for it. You have just as good an opportunity as any other member and in any event you will be well rewarded for your work. But, whatever you do, put up a real fight during the remaining days of the campaign and make it a desperate fight to the finish. The other members will have to do the same and it will be no easier for them than it is for you.

A report of their findings yesterday will be transmitted to the highway department in Lansing, and upon the receipt of a communication from that department in approximately two weeks, bids will be announced for the construction of that road.

FIRE CHIEF RADDANT IN EARLY PLANS

Letters from various Fire Departments of the Upper Peninsula to Fire Chief Raddant of Gladstone, indicate that approximately two hundred and fifty fire fighters will invade this city on July 30, for the annual Firemen's tournament.

The local chief has already received word from the departments in Wakefield, Ishpeming, Ironwood and Houghton in response to his inquiries concerning the number of delegates to be sent here, and these have assured the Gladstone chief of deputation at least fifteen men from each department.

With such a large ingress into the city for the three day convale, the question of housing accommodations becomes acute, and to date, it is understood that about 120 men have been placed. More accommodations are necessary, and the committees are losing no time in making the required preparations.

According to Chairman Bush-one of the Steering Committee, the Escanaba Municipal band has been engaged to furnish the music for the three day event, while the Gladstone ball club will play hosts to some neighboring hostiles in a three game series.

Fire Chief Raddant has sent a detailed program to members of the Volunteers' Firemen Association, and this program contains all the events as outlined by the local committees. Events that have been carried on in past tournaments, with their different prize moneys, will be held again at this year's convale, in addition to these, there will be several more interesting events added.

Gladstone will be the mecca and the cynosire of eyes during the coming tournament, judging from the attendance of the past. Practically every Volunteer Fire Department of the Upper Peninsula will be represented, and these accompanied by large delegations of non-associates, will tend to stir activities during that period.

The city will show its hospitality on these days in order to eclipse past performances, and with this end in view, the various committees in charge are bending every effort to make the event a grand success.

The program as outlined calls for intense activity, so that with the departure of delegates at the expiration of the convale, all can leave the city, feeling that Gladstone had played the host in an admirable manner.

The Misses Josephine Seifek and Frances Nushart of Chicago visited here yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Miller and Mr. and Mrs. Mort Miller, who have been visiting at the home of Mrs. H. Jordana, have returned to their homes at Rexton.

POLICE FORCE KEPT BUSY ON THE SABBATH

Gladstone's police force and County Cop Breatt formed a posse Sunday evening that gave chase to a band of Gypsies, attempting to make a night's stand in this community.

Driving a trio of high powered and well known machines, the swarthy hued and dark eyed descendants of Cleopatra, descended the North Hill, and made their course to a local filling station. Scouting the advance of the local minions of the law, the Gyps proceeded on their way towards Terrace Gardens, where they met County Cop Breatt.

They reversed their course, were then showed on towards Kipling, where they camped, for the night. Tourists passing in that direction were alarmed momentarily at the presence of the recalcitrant natives and gazed in bewilderment at their nocturnal activities; they left from that vicinity at an early hour yesterday morning.

CITY SOLONS IN MEETING MONDAY EVE.

At a regular meeting of the city commission held last evening at City Hall, City Manager Beuchner submitted plans and estimates relative to the proposed extension to the Minnetonka avenue cement-concrete pavement.

Mr. Beuchner, in an interview yesterday, stated that no action could be taken in the performance of the work, until local sewer owners install a house sewer lateral to the main sewerage system. This was recommended by the city manager at the meeting last evening, and the purpose, obviously, is to preclude such installation after the completion of the road, as this would tend to the disruption of the pavement.

Manager Beuchner places the total estimate of construction at $14,572.20. Of this amount, $13,525.55 will be leyed by special assessment, according to a statement given out by Mr. Beuchner. Figures would indicate, therefore, that the work of constructing the pavement from 11th to 14th streets, the width thirty feet, will cost Gladstone $6.04 per front foot, or a total cost of $169.12 for a twenty-eight foot lot.

With the completion of this pavement, much of the traffic now restricted to Delta avenue will be diverted to Minnetonka avenue, thus making for efficiency in this department, and to the general improvement of the city. The price established in the estimate, incidentally, is consistent with the price paid in Escanaba for similar work.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Miller and Mr. and Mrs. Mort Miller, who have been visiting at the home of Mrs. H. Jordana, have returned to their homes at Rexton.

Locals Take 3rd From Munising

ESKY VICTOR IN SWATFEST

Locals Pound Out 16 To 9 Win Over Munising In Sunday Game.

Burning hits to take the maximum advantage of passes and errors, Escanaba clouted out a 16 to 9 victory over Munising in the third game of the Fourth of July series, yesterday at South Park.

It was a terrible day for the pitchers on both sides. It was on the other hand, a great day for the batters. Baseballs flew to all corners of the lot in every inning. Jones, who started for Munising, was driven from the hill in the third stanza, in which Escanaba scored six runs. Schultz, who had pitched the Saturday game, tried to regain and was lambasted for 3 1/2 frames, finally giving way to Sherbarth, who also was freely clouded. Joe Petka started on the mound for Escanaba. He survived a two-inning bombardment. Hank Beyers was called in from center field and although he yielded a flock of hits, he was tighter in the pinches and was given better support than the visiting heavers. On two occasions he whiffed the third man of the inning, with men on bases, and although he was constantly in trouble, he was able to deny counts when clouts would have meant a flock of runs. Munising had a four-run lead in the first half of the third. Escanaba came from behind in the last half of that frame with a collection of six tallies. After that the locals were never headed.

Escanaba plays at Gladstone next Saturday afternoon and next Sunday the Royal Giants return here for a battle.

RED SOX LOSE DOUBLE HEADER

Athletics Have Little Difficulty In Getting Away With It.

(By The Associated Press.)
Philadelphia, July 7.—The Boston Red Sox lost both ends of a double header to Philadelphia today by the scores of 6 to 2 and 6 to 3. Quinn, generally an engine for the Athletics to solve, was hit hard and often in the opening contest although errors paved the way for a couple of the tallies charged against him. Ferguson gave way to Ross in the seventh inning of the second game after the locals had scored a total of five runs. A Red Sox rally in the ninth inning of the second game scored two runs but was three shy of the tying tally. Scores:

First game: R. H. E. Boston—020 000 000—2 7 3 Philadelphia 21 020 000—5 10 0
Batteries: Quinn, Workman and Picinch; B. Harris and Perkins.

Second game: R. H. E. Boston—000 100 002—3 10 1 Philadelphia 300 011 100—6 10 1
Batteries: Ferguson, Ross and O'Neil; Heimach and Perkins.

ESKY Pro Sets A New Record

Oscar Williwelt, professional for the Escanaba Golf club, hung up a new record for the Memorial course when he visited that place a week ago, with a mark of 76 for the 18 holes. The previous low record for the course was 78 and just to prove that the record was not a flash in the pan, the Escanaba professional again in covered the 18 holes and made a 77.

Mixing business with pleasure is a lot of fun if you don't run out of business.

CARDS POUND WAY TO WIN OVER THE CUBS

Pirates Trim Robins By Tapping Mr. Grimes.

(By The Associated Press.)
Pittsburgh, July 7.—Slugging Keen and Blake almost at will, the Cardinals took the series from the Chicago Cubs by winning the fifth and final game today 15 to 3. Bottomley was knocked unconscious and lost two teeth when he ran into a grand stand wall after catching a foul in the fifth. He is expected to be back in the lineup tomorrow.

The score: R. H. E. Chicago 000 110 010—3 9 1 St. Louis 110 122 62x—15 20 0
Batteries: Keen, Blake and Hartnett; Cherry; Stuart and Gonzales; Vick.

New York, July 7.—Railroad shares today superceded the industrials as leaders of the upward movement in the stock market. Trading slowed down somewhat because of political uncertainties but the recent increase in public interest revived pool activities, particularly in a number of specialties in which favorable developments are pending.

"Big Four" was the individual feature of the railroad group, soaring 10 points to 129 in reflection of the publication of a report showing 1923 earnings at the rate of $23.65 a share against 14.95 the previous year.

New Peak Priced.

In all eleven rails established new peak prices for the year, including "Nickel Plate", Southern Railway, Great Northern preferred, Northern Pacific, Chicago & North Western, Seaboard Airline common and preferred, the net gains in these issues ranging from small fractions to 2 1/2 points.

Public utilities also developed exceptional strength with American Waterworks common touching another record high at 98 3/4.

Steel Common Heavy.

United States Steel common was heavy in anticipation of another unfavorable tonnage report on Thursday, closing at par for a net loss of half a point. Other industrial leaders also were a bit sluggish. Oils held relatively firm in the face of cuts in Pennsylvania and central western crude prices.

Call money opened at 2 1/2 percent and then dropped to 2 where it closed. The time money and commercial paper markets were quiet with no change in rates.

The feature of the foreign exchange market was a rally in French francs which advanced 1 1/2 points to 5.11, retaining ground lost on Saturday. Demand sterling advanced 1/3 of a cent to $4.32 1/2. Canadian exchange touched a new high for the year at 92.25 cents. Brazilian exchange was heavy on reports of revolutionary disturbance in Sao Paulo.

CHICAGO GRAIN.

Chicago, July 7.—Rapid progress of harvest in the United States together with the rain in Canada had much to do with the falling off of lower prices for wheat today. Closing quotations on wheat were heavy at 2 to 2 1/2 cent decline, September 1 1/4 to 1 1/2 3/4 and December 1 3/4 to 1 3/8 1/2. Corn finished 1/8 at 1 1/4 to 1 1/4 1/2, 1/2 to 2 cent off, and provisions advanced 1/2 to 1 1/2 higher.

The downward course of the wheat market was interrupted today by good rates, they were only transient, and final dealings were at the day's lowest level. The subsequent temporary advance in wheat values was based on a forecast of a smaller crop.

Bigger receipts of new wheat piling up in the southwest, proved more than a counterbalance to the favorable conditions in the north.

Beaver receipts from Kansas showed somewhat better yields per acre than had been expected, and hedging sales were said to have broadened out considerably. Data points felt the effect of improved prospects for the crop.

Provisions were firmer owing to the action of hog values.

How to Make Delicious Strawberry Jam in 15 Minutes

"Looks Better, Tastes Better and Actually Costs Less than when Made by Old Boiling-down Method—Ann Proctor"

You can do it easily—with never a failure. And the result will be the most delicious strawberry jam you ever tasted—at less cost per glass than ever before.

A nationally-known jelly maker has found the way to extract pectin, a substance found in some fruits in varying amounts which makes the juice "jelly" or set when boiled with sugar, and then to refine and concentrate it for convenient use in every home. So wonderful is this product, called CERTO (Surejell) that in only three years' time over five million women have adopted its use.

All jam and jelly making with everybody loves strawberry jam. No CERTO is as simple as "two and two make four." Anyone who will follow a simple CERTO recipe can now make any kind of jam and jelly in a few minutes at minimum expense. No more long hours over a hot stove to boil-down your jelly—no more spoiled batches of fruit and sugar because your jelly will not "jell." Tears and disappointments, a common experience at jelly making time, are now changed to smiles and enthusiasm. The new CERTO method eliminates all the worry and all the failures, takes less work and gives superior quality.

The illustrations show how easy it is—just three simple steps. Note that you boil the fruit and juice only one minute with CERTO—not the long, boiling-down method formerly used. Jelly is therefore made of the juice that used to be boiled away. That's why CERTO makes one-half more jam or jelly with the same amount of fruit or at less expense per glass. That is also why your jam and jelly made with CERTO has a superior color and flavor. More sugar is used in the CERTO method simply to make jam or jelly of the fruit and flavor that used to be boiled away. The amount of sugar in each glass is the same in both methods. Make a lot of jam and jelly for your family this year. Start in now with strawberries. Ever-

STRAWBERRY JAM

Crush about 2 quarts ripe berries in separate portions, so that each berry is mashed. This allows fruit to quickly absorb the sugar during the short boil. Measure 4 level cups (2 lbs.) crushed berries into large kettle, add 7 level cups (3 lbs.) sugar and mix well. Use hottest fire and stir constantly before and while boiling. Boil hard for one full minute, remove from fire and stir in 1/2 bottle (scant 1/2 cup) CERTO. From time jam is taken off fire allow to stand not over 5 minutes by the clock, before pouring. In the meantime, skim, and stir occasionally to cool slightly. Then pour quickly.

Use same recipe for Raspberry, Blackberry or Dewberry Jam.

Remember CERTO is pure fruit pectin—the concentrated pectin so highly endorsed by magazine and newspaper cooking editors, government authorities and food experts. CERTO contains no gelatine or preservative, and jam or jelly made with it keeps indefinitely. Any grocer will supply you with CERTO and a recipe book attached. Get some now while strawberries are plentiful. You'll be happy when you use CERTO.
