

STILL HOPE TO SAVE LEOPOLD AND LOEB

CAMPAIGNS TO BE DIRECTED FROM CAPITAL

WASHINGTON BIG POLITICAL HUB.

BY DAVID LAWRENCE (Copyright 1924, by the Escanaba Press.) Washington, July 26.—Washington is to be the grand political headquarters of the presidential campaign.

Nominally the republicans are to call Chicago their headquarters but President Coolidge, the candidate and chief asset of the party, will remain in Washington until election time and will naturally be the central figure in constant political consultations.

The democrats are to establish their headquarters here with branches in New York and Chicago, and possibly in Denver and San Francisco. The democrats have just contracted for twenty five rooms in one of the newest office buildings in the capital.

This is the most pretentious "headquartering" the followers of Jackson and Jefferson have attempted in many a long year and indicates the prosperity they expect to hover around the old war chest these next few months.

Bob Haining Big Chest. The LaFollette-Wheeler outfit, which has not yet selected an official name for itself, will also make headquarters in Washington. Its campaign executive committee has been selected and will function as the national committees do in the older parties.

Thus far the campaign committee of the independents is known only as a joint committee representing the conference for progressive political action and the LaFollette presidential committee.

U. S. Views With Concern Indignities Suffered By Mrs. Imbrie.

(By The Associated Press.) Washington, July 26.—A blunt statement that the Washington government views with grave concern indignities suffered at Teheran by Mrs. Katherine G. Imbrie, widow of the American vice consul, who was murdered by a mob in that city, is to be presented to the Persian government.

COOLIDGE WORKS ON HIS ADDRESS OF ACCEPTANCE

(By The Associated Press.) Washington, July 26.—The Saturday half holiday in the governmental establishment was utilized by President Coolidge today in work upon the address he will deliver at the ceremonies here August 14 when he will be notified of his nomination by the Republican national convention.

The break in the heat wave and caused him to decide against his customary cruise on the Mayflower. The lower temperature made the White House quite comfortable and he concluded he could get more work done by remaining there than by a trip down the Potomac.

A BAPTIST LECTURER IS KILLED

(By The Associated Press.) San Antonio, Texas, July 26. K. L. Culppeper, 65, a Baptist lecturer and a worker for the Better Government Ticket in the local primary campaign, was shot and instantly killed at Harlandale Box late this afternoon.

NO LIVES LOST CHECK OF LIST SO FAR SHOWS

SEVERAL PERSONS ARE TAKEN TO HOSPITAL.

(By The Associated Press.) Norfolk, Va., July 26.—The excursion steamer Gratitude, with 288 employes of the Texas Oil Company and members of their families on board, sank off Craney Island in Norfolk Harbor early tonight when she struck a sunken barge. So far as it was possible to check the passengers list late tonight, no lives were lost, though three persons, two women and a man, were taken to a hospital badly hurt.

The navy tug Wytomito arrived at the Portsmouth navy yard at 11:30 o'clock tonight with 150 of the excursionists rescued from the sunken vessel. The Gratitude was not completely submerged and her passengers were taken off in small boats sent from the New York, Philadelphia and Norfolk railroad steamer, Pennsylvania and several harbor vessels and launches which picked up the distress signals from the Gratitude and hastened to the scene.

Wild Confusion. Scenes of the wildest confusion were enacted on board the stricken vessel when her passengers realized she was about to go down. Many persons including women and children jumped overboard, apparently fearing they would be sucked under when the vessel settled in the water. Others were hurled overboard by the force of the impact.

Some of those who leaped into the blackness of the harbor below the sinking vessel found they were standing in water only knee deep, having landed on the submerged barge. Others were submerged to their necks and many hasty rescues were effected at the very side of the sinking craft. But for the fact the ship had been held firm by the barge which sank her, she would have gone to the bottom, with heavy loss of life.

More Confusion. When the first boat load of the rescued reached the Pennsylvania wharf and were landed, confusion again reigned, because families had been separated in the dark. Mothers were screaming in the agony of separation from their children, and men were frantic in their search for missing wives and relatives.

New Oil Prices Being Quoted

(By The Associated Press.) Dallas, Tex., July 26.—Prices offered for crude oil of the higher gravity were reduced in new quotations effective today and posted by the Magnolia Petroleum Company, of Kansas, Oklahoma, and Texas. All oil above specific gravity 33, is quoted at $1.25 a barrel at the well.

The hottest region on the earth is the southeastern part of Persia, where it borders the gulf. For 40 consecutive days in July and August the temperature has been known not to fall lower than 100 degrees night or day.

COOLIDGE IS JUST AMERICAN

Explains Himself On "Defense Day" Controversy.

(By The Associated Press.) Washington, July 26.—The controversy over the government's proposal for observance of September 12 as "defense day" was brought to a climax today by declaration of President Coolidge that the proposed celebration was designed purely and solely to remind the American people of their relations to and dependence upon the nation's defense establishment.

CAPTAIN TUFTS PASSES AWAY

(By The Associated Press.) Ludington, Mich., July 26.—Captain Charles Tufts, three times member of the state house of representatives from Mason county and the twenty-sixth senatorial district, passed away at his farm home near here today after a long illness. His sickness dated from early in 1923 when he was stricken while serving as sergeant at arms of the senate.

Jim Watson Wants To Retire When Things Are Cleared Up

(By The Associated Press.) Washington, July 26.—Secretary Mellon's enforcement of prohibition is to be investigated, coincident with the national campaign, but the sudden decision of the senate committee charged with the task to go ahead brought out formal statements today from Senators Watson, Indiana, and Couzens, Michigan, Republicans, explaining their conception of events leading up to it.

Senator Couzens was elected during the day as chairman of the committee in place of Senator Watson who indicated his desire to retire, but not until he had concluded a two hour interview with President Coolidge. Senator Watson then went to the White House and later the two senators made public their statements.

TAKE THEIR TIME OVER WEEK END

(By The Associated Press.) London, July 26.—Most of the allied plenipotentiaries and experts, including the American official and unofficial observers and advisers and the visiting bankers, today left the problems of the inter-allied conference to the soothing influence of England's leisurely week-end, while they themselves sought relaxation from the reparations parley away from the British capital.

St. Louis To Get Terminal Warehouse

(By The Associated Press.) Indianapolis, Ind., July 26.—The National Terminals Corporation announced today at its executive headquarters here that plans are being made for the construction in St. Louis of a terminal warehouse to cost $25,000,000. The structure will be the largest of its kind in the world, according to A. B. Efronson of Cleveland vice president of the corporation, who was in this city today.

Robertson Is Ahead In Texas

(By The Associated Press.) Dallas, Tex., July 26.—Judge Felix Robertson of Dallas, with the endorsement of the Ku Klux Klan as a Democratic candidate for governor, was leading his eight opponents in incomplete returns from sixty one counties of the 252 in Texas early today. Reports to the Texas election bureau gave him 7,438 votes. Lynch Davidson, an anti-Klan candidate was second with 6,531 votes.

FOURTEEN MEN ARE INJURED

(By The Associated Press.) Uniontown, Pa., July 26.—Fourteen men were injured, seven seriously, in a fall slate in the Lamont mine of the H. C. Frick Coke Company, three miles north of here, tonight. Three of the men suffered fractured backs and their condition at the Uniontown hospital is said to be critical.

TO FIX DEGREE YOUTHS WERE RESPONSIBLE

DEFENSE TO PLEAD A MENTAL CONDITION TO SAVE THEM.

(By The Associated Press.) Chicago, July 26.—Hope of saving Nathan Leopold, Jr., and Richard Loeb from the gallows centered tonight in the plans of their counsel to demonstrate a degree of mental irresponsibility for their crime, due to "diseased minds." "The defense will contend," said Clarence Darrow, chief attorney for the youthful slayers of young Robert Franks, "that the boys have diseased minds and that they were not responsible for their acts."

An index of the line of defense was afforded by the appearance in court today of Dr. William J. Healy of Boston, and Dr. Benjamin Glueck of New York, a staff of five Chicago alienists selected by the defense to present the story of the young men's mental debility to Judge John R. Caverly, chief justice of the criminal court of Cook county who must fix the penalty for the defendants.

One of the grounds on which the defense will base its plea for mercy will be the youth of Leopold and Loeb. Neither is twenty years of age. Almost simultaneously, after the week-end and adjournment of the penalty advisory hearing, State Attorney Robert E. Crowe, in charge of the prosecution, declared in reference to the state's plea for the death penalty:

"I think we have made out an iron clad case." Mr. Crowe had touched bottom in the pit which for four days had supplied seemingly endless material for "the mountain of evidence" which he said would place the wealthy young college students in the shadow of the hangman's noose. He expects to scrape the bottom clean Monday.

Mr. Darrow and his colleagues in the defense, Benjamin and Walter Bachrach, struck back at the testimony of a state witness today for the first time. Mr. Darrow attacked as a falsehood the story of Detective Sergeant James J. Gortland that Leopold, brilliant student of law and ornithology, who believed he had "important work to do for the world," had told the officer after his confession that when he determined to seek life imprisonment instead of death as his punishment he would plead guilty before "friendly judge."

Gortland maintained the truth as his remark. It was the first attempt of the defense to break down the testimony of a state witness. It consumed virtually the entire afternoon session today. "Now, Mr. Officer," said Mr. Darrow, after more than an hour's outburst cross examination, "don't you know that this conversation about a 'friendly judge' was pure fabrication, concocted for the purpose of intimidating this court?" "No sir, it was not," the witness replied.

Mr. Darrow led up to his accusation without revealing his purpose. He asked the witness first about his record in the police department and brought out that Gortland 12 years experience had worked chiefly as a police stenographer and clerk. The witness described his habit of making either shorthand or long hand notes of conversation with prisoners and taking down the formal statements by direct dictation on the typewriter. He said he had made numerous notes of conversations with Leopold and produced them consciently. Mr. Darrow had the witness point out of the summary headings of "confessions," "sorrow for crime," "motives," and other subjects which Gortland had tried to draw out Leopold's thoughts. He also brought out that on June 16 Gortland started writing out a full report of his activities in the case to the superintendent of the city police department. The cross examiner developed that the detective and Leopold were alone when the alleged remark about a "friendly judge" was made, although the other conversation were generally before witnesses. "Going back to the report, Mr. Darrow asked if it contained any reference to the remark. "I am not sure," said Gortland. "Search and see," said the attorney.

STEAL CAR TO SEE THE WORLD

Boys, Aged 9 And 11, Get As Far As Marinette Yesterday.

Melvin, aged 11, and George, aged 9—whose last names are to remain "on the hook" as far as this article is concerned—wanted to see the more or less vast and prosperous territory that lies between this city and Racine. So they went to Paulson Brothers' garage sometime between 3 a. m. and 7 a. m., yesterday, jimmied the hasp off a door, seized an automobile and sped away to the south.

They got as far as Marinette. The police of that city, on the lookout for the car which had been reported missing from Escanaba, stopped them and held them until members of the local police department arrived. The boys were returned to Escanaba last night.

The youngsters packed a large supply of clothing before they started. They had thirty-eight cents when they left, but they spent five cents, enroute, for a package of "Crackerjack." And they were glad enough to return home with the officers. They were tired of traveling.

Blame "Fat Man."
Both insisted that a "fat man" had persuaded them to steal the car, and had even helped them to open the garage door. Officers were unable to shake this part of their story and are inclined to put more than a little credence in it, since they believe it would have been very difficult for the boys to break in, unaided.

Marriage Licenses.
Frank Sudac and Rose Radman, both of Escanaba, have been granted a marriage license at the office of the county clerk.

Terrace Gardens.
The Corhay's California Naval Band will finish up their engagement at Terrace Gardens tonight. "This band of entertainers have met with the hearty approval of the dancing public, and it is with deep regret that their engagement terminates this evening," stated Mr. Wickert, manager of the Terrace Gardens. "They are high class musicians and have put me under heavy expense, but I am determined to give the public only first class music, regardless of expense." Beginning next Tuesday Heys orchestra will hold the stage and this band of entertainers also come very highly recommended, having played in a number of metropolitan gardens to delighted audiences.

Rev. C. A. Lund And Family Leave On Vacation Trip

The Rev. C. A. Lund and family will leave Monday for a three weeks' camping and motor trip through Wisconsin and Minnesota. They will use a camping trailer stopping for a day or two wherever scenic spots enroute look inviting and the fishing looks promising. They will meet Linnea Lund, returning from Denver where she has been employed, at Minneapolis.

Idea For Escanaba's Newest Industry Had Origin In Mud Road And Wooden Rain Barrel

A day's drive several years ago, through the deep, black, corn-growing mud of the state of Iowa, completely ruined a new set of fabric transmission linings on John W. Kelsey's Ford automobile. It was the third set the mud pulling had ruined that week for Mr. Kelsey and he grew somewhat weary of the constant changing, and the accompanying expense.

Beside the garage door an old wooden barrel, into which the water, from the room, was dripping. There was born an idea. Mr. Kelsey took a hoop from the barrel, whittled it to size, bent it in boiling water, baked it in the oven of a kitchen stove and substituted it for the frayed fabric on the little old flivver. The bands remained on the car for more than three years. When they were removed they bore little or no evidence of their successful battle against the mud.

That Was the Start.
And that the beginning of Kelsey's wood transmission lining for Fords, now being manufactured in Escanaba at the rate of 600 sets a day.

The factory, located in the old Escanaba Drawing building on Lake Shore Drive, south of the city, is equipped with machinery for making the bands, and three men are employed there, at present. Others are to be added in the near future, for the demand for the product is increasing by leaps and bounds.

Mr. Kelsey came to Escanaba, and attempted to interest local manufacturers in the bands, while he kept busy at other work. After a long delay, he decided to try to form his own company to manufacture and market the invention. Loell Is Interested.

On May 31, he and his brother-in-law, Oscar Johnson, interviewed John L. Loell, local attorney. Mr. Loell was interested and undertook the task of handling the legal formalities connected with the organization, including the patent-right protection.

The three men then, very quietly, set about to make a sufficient number of the bands to insure a thorough trial. The trucks of the Escanaba Steam Laundry and the Delta Hardware Company were equipped with the bands. So were a number of other automobiles. The users were delighted. Several garages began to handle them in a small way. The satisfaction given by the product continued. The Delta Hardware company became the jobber of the bands for Upper Michigan and Northern Wisconsin.

Production, yesterday, reached the 600-sets a day mark and this schedule will be increased rapidly, according to present indications.

In Sets of Three.
The bands are made of gray elm and are sold in sets of three, one for "low," one for "reverse" and one for "service break." They are packed in neat cartons, are easily and quickly installed and are covered by a convincing guarantee.

Fabric bands of all sorts have been tried out by other manufacturers. Some are asbestos treated. Others have inserts of cork. Some are more cotton. None of them will stand the wear.

The Kelsey linings are guaranteed not to grate or chatter, not to clog the oil pipes, and not to release ravelings at the magneto posts. The set, complete with rivets, sells for $2.50. "Repeat" orders have been coming in, thick and fast, from virtually every garage repair shop that has tried them.

Has Much Promise.
The opinions of all experts who have examined the bands and the manner in which they "take hold" are agreed that the product is in a class by itself. One enthusiastic endorser is L. K. Edwards, pioneer in the automobile business, who made a careful study of the samples and then remarked, with an approving smile:

"It looks like another one of the things that everybody else forgot. It looks mighty good to me."

It looks mighty good to everybody else who is familiar with it. Best of all, it looks like the Kelsey Manufacturing Company is a new and prosperous industry for Escanaba.

AUTO CLUB MAY ASSIST POLICE

Awakening Of Motorists To Be Urged By Leaders.

An awakening of the Escanaba Automobile club, for the purpose of leading a "rules of the road" educational campaign for pedestrians and motorists, and co-operating with the police department in the enforcement of traffic laws, is being discussed by men who were prominent in the organization of the club, started late last winter.

The men are unanimous in their praise of the steps taken by the police department to call attention to the through street stop signs, but they express regret that such steps should have been necessary.

All Traffic Coos.
"Many motorists," said one leader yesterday, "through thoughtlessness or ignorance, are endangering their own lives, the lives of their passengers, the lives of pedestrians and the lives of other motorists every time they take their automobiles out of the garage. If warnings and explanations fail to correct these evils, then it is up to the safe same drivers to assist the police in every way possible."

"If reckless drivers knew that two or three hundred other auto owners, using the streets and highways constantly, were pledged to report any violations of the law to the proper officials immediately, and were determined not only to make a report, but to appear as witnesses if necessary, the work of the police would be made very much easier."

Meeting Is Planned.
"The abuse of the road has grown to such proportions that some such procedure as this is necessary."

Others declared that regular bulletins, sent to members, outlining changes in regulations and calling attention to regulations and calling "innocent" violations, would be helpful.

There were indications that a meeting might be called this week to consider steps which members of the club may deem advisable.

Fraternal Column

M. B. A. Meeting.
Modern Brotherhood of America will hold their regular meeting Monday evening at 8:30 o'clock at North Star Hall. Several members will be initiated. After the regular meeting Johnson's Orchestra will furnish the music for the dancing, after which a lunch will be served. All members are invited to attend.

Special Meeting.

The Phoebe Rebekah lodge will hold a special meeting at the Odd Fellows' Hall Friday evening, August 1, when Mrs. Lottie Mekeel, president of the Rebekah Assembly of Michigan will be in the city in the interests of the order. All members are urged to be present at this meeting which is of great importance.

PERSONALS

Ed Folio of Crosby, Minnesota, is visiting with relatives in the city. He will remain here for about a week.

Mr. and Mrs. George Helander and Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Benet and family will motor to Iron Mountain today to attend the annual outing of the managers of the A. and P. Stores.

Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Townsend, son, Theodore, and daughter, Flora, of Evanson, Ill., and Mrs. A. M. Stephenson of Joliet, Ill., are guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Eastwood, Ogden avenue.

Three Persons Held For Bootlegging

Emil Vanders and Nathila, his wife, of Kipling, and Matt Harju, of Maple Ridge township, were held yesterday, for trial in circuit court on charges of having violated the prohibition laws. Judge James S. Doherty fixed their bonds at $500 each. All of the cases were the results of investigations and raids by members of the sheriff's department.

Police Hunting for Man Selling Alleged Religious Magazine

Reports to the Chamber of Commerce office, yesterday, that solicitors are attempting to sell subscriptions to a religious publication by methods which do not have the approval of the clergy of the denomination for which it purports to speak, led police to start a hunt for the "sheet writers."

All sorts of untruthful selling arguments are said to have been employed by the agents, in their calls at the homes of persons who are worshippers in certain denominations.

While the Chamber of Commerce solicitation agreement does not affect salesmen representing bona fide and legitimate publications, it is felt that solicitors canvassing subscriptions to church publications should confine themselves to legitimate methods which can be approved by the clergy of the denomination sponsoring the publication.

Citizens approached by canvassers in the class mentioned are asked to communicate at once with police headquarters.

"SCHOOLCRAFT DAY" IN SCHOOLS SUGGESTED BY STATE CURATOR AT HISTORICAL SOCIETY MEETING

With the possible exception of one meeting at Lansing, the annual convention of the Pioneer Historical Societies held in Manistique last week was adjudged the most successful ever held in the upper peninsula, according to a statement made by Mrs. M. B. Ferrey of Lansing, curator of the State Pioneer Museum.

Every number on the program was carried out exactly according to schedule. The only deviation was the omission of an address of welcome by Mayor Harry Eriksen, on account of the mayor's inability to attend.

The convention closed Friday evening with the most enthusiastic and best attended session of the entire meeting. A vocal solo by W. F. Kefauver, accompanied by Miss Helen Kefauver, opened the evening meeting. Rev. Wm. F. Gagnier, S. J. of the Soo, was next on the program. Preceding his interesting talk on Indian lore, Rev. Gagnier gave a musical prologue, singing songs to his own piano accompaniment. Mrs. E. W. Miller of Manistique was also on the evening program, and gave reminiscences of her pioneering experiences in this vicinity.

Mrs. Carl Thorborg of the local society composed a song for the occasion, to the tune of "America." Printed copies of it were distributed through the audience, and all joined in singing, making a fitting close to a harmonious and profitable historical gathering.

Plans for carrying out the work of a county historical society, and ways and means of gathering the data were outlined by Prof. L. A. Chase, head of the history department at Northern State Normal, Marquette, in an address to the gathering Friday afternoon. Newspapers, diaries, old letters and the pioneers themselves, were named as sources of information on pioneer history. He suggested that school pupils be utilized for the gathering of this information, and described a questionnaire that had been used successfully by him in Marquette county. These blanks are filled out by students in personal interviews with the old pioneers and in that way serve to interest the younger people in the past histories of their own communities.

The officers needed in a county historical organization, and their duties, were also enumerated by Prof. Chase. With dues placed at $1 per membership, and the authorized appropriation from a county board, such societies are given sufficient working capital to accomplish much in the way of preserving local history. In addition to this, they may mark places of historical interest with tablets or other suitable markers. This has been done to some extent by the Marquette county society, Prof. Chase said.

A picture of Henry Schoolcraft after whom this county was named, was presented to the local public library by Mrs. Ferrey, who also suggested that a "Schoolcraft Day" be inaugurated in the public schools of the city and county. A vote of thanks was extended to her, to Mrs. Thorborg, and to E. W. Miller, president of the local society, for their efforts to make the meeting a success. Mrs. Thorborg was presented with a shield of the state of Michigan by Mrs. Ferrey, as a token of personal appreciation.

Pictures were taken of the entire assemblage on Friday, and this will be placed among the archives of the pioneer museum at Lansing. An auto trip to points of historical interest in the county was one of the enjoyable features of the day. At the Indian burying ground, Indian Lake, Mrs. Ferrey picked up a relic which will be exhibited at the Lansing museum. Copies of all the addresses given at the Manistique meeting were also taken by Mrs. Ferrey on her return to Lansing. They will be published in the local newspaper.

ESCANABA DUE FOR A BEATING

League Leaders Play Manistique At Fair Grounds Today.

Can Escanaba beat Manistique again? To this question, Manistique fans answer as with one voice: "It can't be done!"

The Escanaba team, leader of the U. P. Baseball League, comes to Manistique today, returning the visit paid them last Sunday by the locals. Escanaba has won every start against Manistique this year, but on small margins. Last Sunday's game went 15 innings to a 3 to 2 victory for Escanaba. A win for Manistique this afternoon will put the locals back on their feet again, and stop their toboggan to the foot of the list. On the other hand, Escanaba wants to win badly also, to clinch her lead in the percentage column.

Bill Johnson is booked for her mound duty today. He pitched a fine game last Sunday, and will win this afternoon if the "breaks" and support are right.

HAVE HEARING HERE ON CASE OF C. ACKLEY

A hearing was held at the court house yesterday in the case of Charles Ackley of Germfask, who died last fall as a result of burns received when a steam engine which he was operating for Alex Macklin in road work exploded.

The hearing was held for the purpose of determining the liability for the accident, and was conducted by Samuel G. Heattie, deputy industrial commissioner.

The engine operated by Mr. Ackley when the accident occurred was owned by Mr. McIntyre of Germfask, and had been secured by Mr. Macklin for use on a county road job near that place.

Kentucky Resident Recalls Events of Happy Vacation.

Memories of a vacation spent at Manistique and Indian Lake are recalled by Jessie C. W. Stiemler of Newport, Ky., in a letter to Mrs. Gordon Fitch, Indian Lake. The writer praises the hospitality of Manistique people, and describes her visit here as the most pleasant experience of her summer's tour.

The letter says:
"Now that vacation is over and we are back in the harness of every day life again, I have time to take stock of my 'wanderings' this year and no matter how bright some spot stands out from another or what pleasures are connected with some special place or camp, or people that we met, some how or other Manistique always seems to be first."

Filled With Loneliness.
"I thought when I heard you express yourself 'I Love It' that it was a native's pride in their town's accomplishments, which would be more than permissible I am sure, but since I have left Manistique and Indian Lake, I think I know the deep feeling that your words even failed to convey for 'I also 'Love It'."

"While I have lived in this locality all my life and like it for what it is and what memories it holds, the few hours spent at camp on Indian Lake has filled me with a longing that nothing at home seems to satisfy. I seem to live over every hour of the time. I long for the quiet restfulness of the big trees, the sighing of the wind through the leaves (even the sand) and for the big openness of the plains where everything seems to be at peace with its Maker."

Memories Treasured.
"The folk we met seemed to have but one thought, namely, to make the guest within their gates feel at home. At no place were we treated with such cordiality and open-heartedness and open-handed earnestness (and we surely have no cause for complaint no where) as at Manistique. From the lumberman who told me and showed me the various kinds of trees, the fish warden who explained his duties, the various home-guard campers who never tired of answering my questions, (and they were many) regarding their lives and customs, their pleasures and work, your father, Mr. Fitch, who was hospitality personified, your husband, and your own gracious self, who endeavored to make every one feel as if each obligation asked was a pleasure to perform."

"To one and all I extend my heartfelt thanks for the most pleasant of times, with memories that I will always treasure."

"My most earnest wish for Manistique and its citizens is continued prosperity and good health."

BIG CROWD AT THE MASONIC- STAR PICNIC

Masons and Eastern Stars of Manistique, about 100 in number, enjoyed a fine picnic at the LeRoy cottage, Indian Lake, Friday evening.

A monster bonfire built by P. G. Lundin, was one of the pleasing features of the evening. Baseball, dancing, card playing and singing furnished the entertainment. As the immense bonfire died out, the party adjourned to the LeRoy home for the remainder of the evening.

Miss Dorothy Mueller of Chicago arrived Saturday morning to spend a vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Mueller, River Street. Miss Esther Pfundt of Chicago is also a guest at the Mueller home.

SERENADE SNAKES.
London.—Snakes were unresponsive to the music of a jazz band that was imported into the London Zoological Gardens recently in the interests of science. Among the reptiles, only a few of the lizards and the Chinese alligator so much as moved a tail when the band began to play.

PINK SIDEWALKS.
London.—Pink sidewalks have been laid near Herne Bay to do away with the sun glare from ordinary stone walks. The new walks not only are more restful to the eyes, but cooler beneath the feet, it is claimed.

BIG CIRCULATION CAMPAIGN ENDS NEXT SATURDAY NIGHT

Candidates Are Urged to Go After "Second Payments" and Long Term Subscriptions Now—Will Count Like Gold Nuggets During This, the Final Period of the Campaign—Last Count of Votes by Campaign Manager Will Be Made Wednesday—Be Sure That Your Name Is Well Up in the List—Closing Rules of Campaign Will Be Published in Tuesday's Paper.

THE LAST HONOR ROLL

Up to 4 p. m. Saturday.
District No. 1.
MISS HELEN MEIER,
Escanaba Michigan.
District No. 2.
MRS. JAMES LAVELLE,
Gladstone, Michigan.

Now is the time for candidates to go after the "second payments" and the long term subscriptions in The Daily Press Circulation Campaign.

The campaign ends for good at 10:00 o'clock next Saturday night, August 2, and the candidates are thundering down the home stretch in the hardest fought and most exciting subscription contest this section has ever seen.

Awaiting the winners next Saturday night is an array of prizes that would gladden the hearts of any candidate anywhere. At the very top of the list is a brand new 1924 model Buick "6" sport touring car. After the Buick come the Jewett Brougham and the two Chevrolet touring cars—one for each of the two districts. After the autos come the many cash awards. Then, last, but not least, comes the 10 per cent cash commission to those who fail to win one of the regularly listed prizes.

Second Payments Count Big.
Second payments and long-term subscriptions are now the best bet for the candidates to go after. Go back to every person who has given you a short-term subscription and obtain a second payment to lengthen that subscription. Go to every person that has promised to "give you a lift" at the finish, "if you have a chance to win," and get a big subscription or a second payment.

If the first payment was obtained during the "first period" of the campaign, then you will still get "first period" votes on this second payment. Second

BRAZIL AND BRAZILIANS

Slavery was not totally abolished in Brazil until 1850.

The National Library in Rio de Janeiro is the largest south of the Equator.

The area of Brazil is equal to the whole of that of the United States with half of Alaska added.

Brazil has been called the "land of diamonds," and her mines are among the richest in the world.

Some of the pineapples produced in the Pernambuco region of Brazil weigh as much as 15 pounds each.

Rio de Janeiro, the capital of Brazil, means "River of January," a name given to it in the year 1549.

The Avenida Branca in Rio de Janeiro is considered by many to be the most beautiful street in the world.

Brazil occupies three-sevenths of South America and one-fifth of the entire land surface of the globe.

The population of Rio de Janeiro, capital of Brazil, is three times that of Washington, the capital city of the United States.

The great coffee region of Sao Paulo, Brazil, supplies more than two-thirds of the beverage used every morning by the people of North America.

The Atlantic coast line of Brazil is equal in length to the distance from the most northern extremity of Maine to the coast of Venezuela.

Brazil was originally called the country of Brazilwood which, yielding a dye needed in Europe, appealed to Americo Vesputi, the explorer in the sixteenth century, as the chief thing of value.

In 1507 the royal family of Portugal fled to Brazil to escape an uprising in their own country. Brazil became a colony of Portugal and in 1515 was declared a kingdom. Portuguese emperors ruled over it until 1822, when Dom Pedro III, was dethroned and a republic set up.

Not far from Sao Paulo there exists a flourishing colony of American farmers, who emigrated to Brazil from the southern part of the United States at the termination of the civil war. They occupy a fertile tract about ten miles south of the village of Santa Barbara, which is their nearest railway station.

The Braganza, one of the largest diamonds in the world, was found by three criminals, who had been sent into exile among the cannibal tribes and wild beasts in the Brazilian interior. They took the stone to a priest, who turned it over to the government. The gem became the glory of the crown jewels of Portugal, and the king, in gratitude, pardoned the exiles.

BATTING LEAD IS UNCHANGED

Ruth And Hornsby Still Retain Lead In Majors.

(By The Associated Press.)
Chicago, July 26.—If anyone of Babe Ruth's rivals in the American league had any idea of overtaking the Bambino for 1924 home run honors, those particular clouters probably have had a change of heart. Hitting his 29th homer to the open spaces, Ruth today is so far in the lead that even Ken Williams of the Browns has almost given up in desperation. Williams is trailing ten homers on the wrong side of the ledger.

Ruth, although dropping five points, still is the main individual in batting, leading the procession with an average of .379, with Falk of Chicago remaining second with .365. Goslin of Washington is batting third with .356 followed by Ty Cobb of the Tigers with .346. Next in the list is Jameson of Cleveland with .344, while Earl Sheely of the White Sox is sixth with .342. The averages include games of Wednesday.

Jacobson of St. Louis, and Harry Heilmann of Detroit, 1923 batting champion, are not far away, but it is strange to record Heilmann's percentage at this time of the year below .320. However, it must be taken into consideration that Heilmann has been on the hospital list a good share of the time this season.

Capt. Eddie Collins of the White Sox has not slowed up on the bases, setting a dizzy race with twenty-six.

standing feature among the batters of the National League. While George Kelly of the Giants was gathering six homers in a week, Hartnett collected five. As a result, Hartnett passed the Giant's slugger, and is trailing Jack Fournier of the Dodgers for the home run honors.

Hartnett's homers were made in three consecutive days, although not in consecutive games. Twice he made two in one game. His total is fifteen, which is one better than Kelly, and seven behind Fournier, who is leading with twenty-two.

There has been little variance among the batting leaders. Rogers Hornsby, the Cardinal star, is comfortably lodged in first place with .412. His nearest competitor is Zack Wheat of Brooklyn who is hitting .380, a gain of five points over his mark a week ago. Hornsby however, gained 11 points.

Max Carey, of the Pirates, continues to make the base stealers worry with a total of twenty-four. Other leading batters: Fournier, Dodger .352; Roush, Cincinnati .351; Snyder, New York .348; Young, New York .347.

Take Full Advantage of the Delightful Summer and Fall Seasons Offered in This Section.

A Summer Home is A Constant Source of Pleasure as Well As Health Insurance

Without a cottage or a shack, erected in the midst of Nature's wonderland, you are denying yourself and your family some of the pleasures and some of the benefits that can easily be yours. We have a number of choice lots, both along the south shore, near old Ford River, and at Whitefish Lake, the frontier's last stand in Cloverland.

If you wish a summer home close to the city, where you can attend to your business each day, take luncheon with your family and keep your regular business hours, there is no more delightful shore-line in the northwest than that south of Escanaba.

If you want a home off the beaten path—in the midst of a virgin forest that skirts one of the most delightful lakes that lies out of doors—Whitefish Lake awaits you and we can sell you a building lot at any point on nearly six miles of lake frontage.

If you are interested in either a South Shore lot or a location on wonderful Whitefish Lake, write or see

LET THE Escanaba Steam Laundry & Dye Works Do Your Summer Clothes

MOST everybody wears white in the "good old summer time." And whites, as you know, soil easily—hence larger washings at this season of the year.

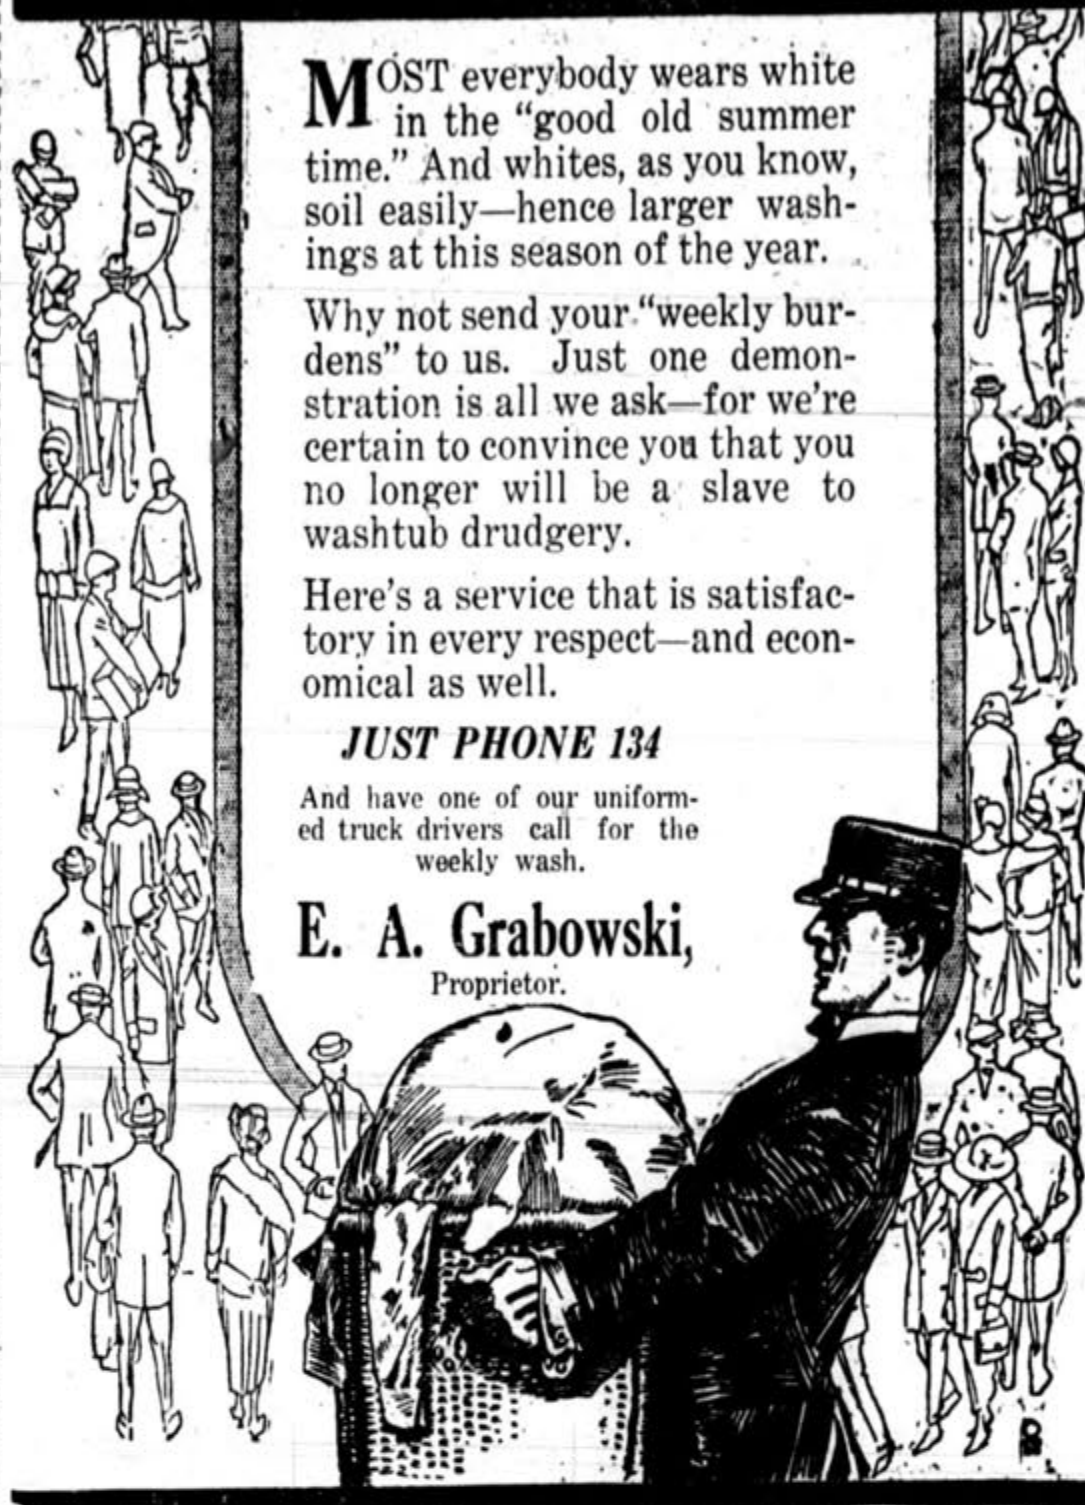

Why not send your "weekly burdens" to us. Just one demonstration is all we ask—for we're certain to convince you that you no longer will be a slave to washtub drudgery.

Here's a service that is satisfactory in every respect—and economical as well.

JUST PHONE 134

And have one of our uniformed truck drivers call for the weekly wash.

NOT TRAINING TROUBLES AT MICHIGAN U. Candidates Train Without Being Told.

(By The Associated Press.) Ann Arbor, Mich., Training at the University of Michigan, except for treatment of bruises and injuries, virtually takes care of itself.

"Last fall's football team was almost too good a bunch," was the unusual statement of Hoyt, "few of the men smoked either in or out of session. About the only thing they were told was to get eight hours sleep, and the hard work of the practice field combined with their youth made this rule easy of application.

"There are no hard and fast rules for Michigan's football men. If a man disputes, it will show in his work and he fails to make the squad or the team."

Weinman was more specific about members of the squad, as far as smoking was concerned.

"Ripke and Hoyt, the two All-Americans on the team, never have smoked in their lives," he said, "Steele, Herstein, Sieger and Slaughter also do not smoke. Murhead and Marion smoke occasionally, but not as regular thing. There are a number of other men whom I have never seen smoke, and I do not believe they have the habit. Ulritz smoked in the off season."

Basketball also showed a clean slate as far as smoking was concerned. Baseball and track were not discussed, although outside indications point to little breaking of the general training rules.

Gladstone Beats Rapid River, 4-2. Gladstone, July 26.—(Special)—The Gladstone baseball team defeated the Rapid River team here this afternoon by the score of 4 to 2.

WILL BRAVE ATLANTIC IN THIS—The "Carrie," 12 feet long with a three-foot beam, and built entirely of steel, in which Wm. Oldham, its designer, Warrington, England, will seek to cross the Atlantic Ocean in 40 days. He planned such a trip several years ago but was forbidden to start by the mayor of Liverpool.

DAVIS ENTERTAINS—John W. Davis, Democratic nominee, pauses in the preparation of his acceptance speech, to read to Lucy Nancy Post. She is a granddaughter of Charles Dana Gibson, the artist, at whose summer estate at Dark Harbor, Me., Davis is preparing for the campaign.

THEY SEE DOUBLE IN THIS NEIGHBORHOOD—Six sets of twins, all from the same neighborhood in Atlanta, Ga., and playmates at the play ground. They are Candace Wilbur and Hilbert McDaniel, aged 14; Alma and Ardelle Cox, 11, and Harry and Harold Barrett, 11. Bottom row are Hubert and Howard Myers, 6; Paul and Robert Chitt, 4, and Harry and Harold Jones, 8.

JAPANESE GET LATEST PLANES—Much has been said about the Japanese keeping up to the minute in military matters, and here is a picture showing officers inspecting newly arrived French planes of latest model. They are the all-metal monoplane variety, built for scouting and fighting. Facing the group is Lieut.-Gen. Ozawa who is explaining the new planes.

CALIFORNIA FOREST FIRE

THE PRICE OF A CARELESSNESS—Fighting a forest fire is hard, hot, dirty work. These men are clearing a lane through the woods which the raging fire cannot jump. They use fire to fight fire, burning the barren strip through the timber.

PONY HERO SAVED FROM DISGRACE—Rex, world's greatest pony hero, has not been forgotten in his time of need. His five owners, members of a rescue party that freed him from his prison in the New mine near Bicknell, Ind., a year ago, succeeded in borrowing enough money to pay his board bill just before he was to have been sold at auction to satisfy the debt. For four days the warmth of his body kept his human companions alive at the bottom of the shaft after they had been imprisoned by a fall of earth.

THE "WEDDING" OF TWO CITIES—Bluefield, W. Va., a city of 25,000, and Graham, Va., a town of 8000, just across the state line, have become one. An actual wedding, symbolical of the union of the two municipalities, was staged on the boundary. For the first time in history the governors of the two Virginia participated in a joint celebration. Governor E. F. Morgan of West Virginia is seen at the left of the bridal couple, and Governor E. Lee Trinkle of Virginia at the right. The combined towns now are known as Bluefield, W. Va.-Va.

After the holocaust, acre after acre of fine old trees are left a tangle of charred and broken timber—because some careless camper left a fire burning or a smoker threw a burning match into the brush.

IT'S NEVER BEEN CLIMBED—No man ever has reached the summit of Mount Geikie, a jagged mountain in the Canadian Rockies. It is only 10,604 feet high, but has defied every attempt to attain its peak. Now the feat is being tried by C. G. Wates of Edmonton, Alberta; H. D. Goddies of Toronto, and Val E. Flynn of St. Louis. They intend to make four different assaults on the mountain.

QUEEN OF ETHIOPIA—One of the few photographs for which the Queen of Ethiopia has posed, with her advisors and maids of honor surrounding her. She is the wife of Ras Tafari, the picturesque monarch of Abyssinia and Ethiopia, who now is touring in Europe and later will come to America.

IT WAS A PEACEFUL ELECTION—Tanks patrolled the streets of Mexico City the day the voters went to the polls to elect a new president. But no serious disorders were reported. All in all, it was a quiet election for Mexico. So far, though, nobody knows, who was elected, General Calles and General Flores, the rival candidates, both are claiming victory. The national Congress probably will have to decide which of them will wear the mantle Alvaro Obregon is discarding.

THEY MAY LOSE COMPENSATION—W. H. Lasley of Omaha, former army lieutenant, was too ill to sign his bonus application just before he died July 2. His widow and children therefore may lose the compensation to which they are entitled. The Omaha post of the American Legion and prominent physicians have taken the matter up with the government. From left to right in this picture are: Ruth, 6; Wanda, 21 months; Mrs. Lasley; Willa, 9 months; Bertha, 7, and Josephine, 3.

CALIFORNIA FOREST FIRE

THE PRICE OF A CARELESSNESS—Fighting a forest fire is hard, hot, dirty work. These men are clearing a lane through the woods which the raging fire cannot jump. They use fire to fight fire, burning the barren strip through the timber.

PONY HERO SAVED FROM DISGRACE—Rex, world's greatest pony hero, has not been forgotten in his time of need. His five owners, members of a rescue party that freed him from his prison in the New mine near Hickell, Ind., a year ago, succeeded in borrowing enough money to pay his board bill just before he was to have been sold at auction to satisfy the debt. For four days the warmth of his body kept his human companions alive at the bottom of the shaft after they had been imprisoned by a fall of earth.

THE "WEDDING" OF TWO CITIES—Bluesfield, W. Va., a city of 25,000, and Graham, Va., a town of 8000, just across the state line, have become one. An actual wedding, symbolical of the union of the two municipalities, was staged on the boundary. For the first time in history the governors of the two Virginia participated in a joint celebration. Governor E. F. Morgan of West Virginia is seen at the left of the bride couple, and Governor E. Lee Trinkle of Virginia at the right. The combined towns now are known as Bluesfield, W. Va.-Va.

IT WAS A PEACEFUL ELECTION!—Tanks patrolled the streets of Mexico City the day the voters went to the polls to elect a new president. But no serious disorders were reported. All in all, it was a quiet election for Mexico. So far, though, nobody knows, who was elected, General Calles and General Flores, the rival candidates, both are claiming victory. The national Congress probably will have to decide which of them will wear the mantle Alvaro Obregon is discarding.

THEY MAY LOSE COMPENSATION—W. H. Lasley of Omaha, former army lieutenant, was too ill to sign his bonus application just before he died July 2. His widow and children therefore may lose the compensation to which they are entitled. The Omaha post of the American Legion and prominent physicians have taken the matter up with the government. A STORY WITHOUT WORDS

FOX FARM AT FLAT ROCK IS FINE INDUSTRY

Delta Silver Fox Ranch Achieves Success First Year.

There are many people in this vicinity who have not discovered that there has been established in Delta county one of America's most profitable industries.

Frank W. Andrew, a native of Prince Edward Island, Can., visited relatives in Gladstone during the summer of 1923 and being favorably impressed with this locality, and the adaptability for fur farming interested H. F. Timmons and J. P. Bushong which resulted in the establishing a silver fox ranch and in the fall of 1923 he brought from his Canadian ranch twenty pairs of Grade "A" Standard breed.

registered silver black foxes, and established his ranch on the Flat Rock road, which will in all probability develop into one of the biggest industries of Delta county.

The raising of fur bearing animals in captivity is destined to become a new and important industry. This new industry received great impetus in recent years as the result of the high prices for furs and the fact that fur animals in their native state are rapidly becoming extremely scarce if not extinct. The Delta Silver Fox Ranch near Gladstone is an example of the strides that have already been made in this new industry. But a few years ago experts regarded the breeding and raising of these animals in captivity as impossible.

Success is Sure. Not only has the Delta concern made a success of its venture from a scientific and business standpoint, but already in various parts of the United States enterprises are being undertaken to raise other varieties of fur animals in captivity. There are Beaver farms, muskrat farms and rabbit farms. The biological survey of the interior is much interested in this pioneer work to establish an industry from domesticated or captivated fur bearing animals. Already the government is giving advice and assistance to those desiring to embark in the industry. U. S. Government Bulletin No. 1151 states as follows: "Silver fox farming has attracted wide attention, chiefly because of the enormous profits derived from the sale of pelts and breeding stock. As a fur animal propagated in captivity the Silver Fox has no rival, and both live foxes and their pelts are in demand. Probably no other live stock enterprise pays larger returns for the money invested." Research, observation and experiments have been made by government experts and that data is available to the public. Hunters and trappers have just about cleaned out the fur. At the same time, the world is demanding more fur than ever before. If the market is to be supplied the furs must be grown from animals in captivity.

Must Raise Fur.

The passing of the forest, the destruction of wild life, drove the fur dealer to various expedients to supply the demand. The humble rabbit skin, skillfully prepared, took its place on the counter, under fancy names, in close contact with the aristocrats of the fur-bearing world. Rats, cats, dogs and ponies likewise contributed their pelts without stemming the ever increasing demand for furs. But substitution would not satisfy.

The Silver Fox is one of the few animals that can be bred successfully in confinement. Canada now has several hundred fox farms and are meeting with success. The idea originated in Prince Edward Island in the 70's. The man who proposed it was afterwards derisively called "Col. Blackfox." He failed, but the idea did not die. A man called Lamb captured a pair of silver fox cubs and sold them to Ben Haywood; he failed to bring the foxes to maturity.

Sir Charles Dailon next tried his skill in company with R. T. Oulton. They built the first fox pens in 1894. They succeeded, not only in growing silver foxes in confinement, but by careful selection in breeding developed a more desirable skin than those of the wild animals.

Island Home of Industry. In 1910, there were in the world, six concerns, all located in Prince Edward Island, engaged in breeding foxes. Thus the industry got its start—and thus it has grown from year to year, until today we see fox-farming as an established industry, particularly throughout the North American continent, for this region is particularly adapted to the industry. In fact, exports place the upper peninsula of Michigan on a par with Canada for its adaptability to the fox-farming industry—and there is no better nor more convincing recommendation than that.

The Delta Silver Fox Farm is a well-developed proposition, with a sound financial backing and a record of breeding and production which compares favorably with any project of its size and kind throughout the country. Established in 1923, by Frank W. Andrew, a native of Prince Edward Island, Canada, the ranch has already achieved a noteworthy place among breeders of the silver black fox.

Mr. Andrew is a man of wide experience in this work, having for twelve years been actually connected with it in Canada and still maintains a Canadian ranch. He is familiar with every phase of the industry, and that fact has been adequately proven in the results already achieved. During the first year of operation the Delta ranch produced litters of from two to seven pups from the original pair of foxes. The Delta Silver Fox Ranch extends to the public a very cordial invitation to visit their ranch, and Mr. Andrew will be pleased to explain everything in detail in connection with this new industry.

DISCOVER NEW T. B. VACCINE

Has Proved Successful In Experiments On Animals And Children.

BY MILTON BRONNER

Paris—French medical men are hoping the name of Dr. Albert Calmette will be added to the galaxy of immortal scientists, by reason of a vaccine for tuberculosis with which he and his collaborators have been experimenting for some years.

Following the modest doctor's own injunctions, and not desiring to raise any false hopes among the world's suffering masses, they are all qualifying what they say and write about the Calmette vaccine with a very big "if."

Calmette, vice director of the Pasteur Institute here, has communicated the results of his experiments to the conservative Academy of Medicine, where his modest remarks have been received with unusual applause.

Briefly, Calmette has worked out a living culture of tubercular bacilli, so attenuated by laboratory processes that it will not give any animal tuberculosis. On the other hand, his experiments lead him to believe that if it administered to a young animal, up to now immune from tuberculosis, the vaccine will confer upon it complete immunity.

This wonder worker has briefly been named "B. C. G."

Calmette began his experiments with animals subject to tuberculosis. He inoculated young calves born of tubercular cattle.

They were unharmed by the vaccine and were thereafter revaccinated once a year. One hundred and twenty-seven underwent the treatment, thanks to the intelligent co-operation of French farmers. All these animals have remained in good health.

The tests seemed to establish the vaccine was inoffensive and efficacious.

Calmette then experimented with anthropoid apes whose reactions to microbes and toxins resemble those of man. The same success attended these trials.

Emboldened by this and with the consent of the parents, he then vaccinated 247 nursing children. All are in good health, although many of them live in localities where children are liable to tuberculosis.

What Will Happen In Election If—

Suppose, at the polls, neither Calvin Coolidge, John W. Davis nor Robert M. LaFollette gets enough votes to give him a majority in the electoral college.

One of the three will get a plurality, but none may get a "majority over all," which is necessary to elect.

Indeed, this is what the Progressives really are fighting for. Of course they HOPE LaFollette will get a majority. Some even say they THINK he will do so. But what they honestly do believe to be among the reasonable possibilities is that he will prevent anybody from getting a majority, that maybe he will get a plurality.

In such an event, as frequently has been mentioned, it will be up to the House to choose a president from among the three highest candidates.

But the House, too, may easily be deadlocked. The Progressives hold the balance of power there. They can prevent the election of the Republican candidate or the Democratic but they can't elect the Progressive, and there is no probability that either the Republicans or the Democrats will help them.

If, by the next inauguration day, the House has made no presidential selection, the winning vice presidential candidate will become president.

Now, if no presidential candidate has a majority in the electoral college, it is most improbable that any vice presidential candidate will be made by the Senate. But the Senate does not vote on the three highest candidates. It votes on only two.

Ordinarily, then, the Senate can't deadlock, for if there is a tie, then the presiding officer, that is to say, the vice president, casts the deciding vote.

In the Senate, as in the House, the balance of power is the Progressives'. If the two leading vice presidential candidates happened to be the Progressive and the Republican, it's conceivable that the Democrats would prefer a Progressive to a Republican and so elect the former.

Or, since there are a good many conservative Democrats as well as Republicans, these two groups might combine and elect the Republican.

If the two leaders should be a Progressive and a Democrat, it isn't so certain that the conservative Republicans would join the conservative Democrats, for Chas. W. Bryan has something of a reputation as a progressive himself.

This might slightly increase the Progressive candidate's chances on the theory that the Republicans would prefer a progressive Democrat to a progressive Democrat. But the probabilities are they wouldn't—that they'd prefer almost anything to a Progressive.

Finally, in case the two leaders should be a Republican and a Democrat, the assumption is that the Progressives would prefer the more or less progressive Charles W. Bryan to the avowedly conservative Charles G. Dawes, and as the balance of power is the Progressives', that would mean Bryan's election.

On the whole, should there be a deadlock in the electoral college and the House of Representatives, politicians are generally of the opinion that Bryan would have a little edge on his rival candidate.

There is, in this instance, a bare possibility of a tie in the Senate, for the reason that there's no vice president to cast the deciding vote, Calvin Coolidge having been elevated to the presidency by Warren G. Harding's death.

Authorities differ as to whom the president would be if the Senate should deadlock. Some say he would be Albert B. Cummins, president pro-tempore of the Senate. Some say he would be Secretary of State Hughes.

But the Senate probably won't deadlock.

Never before was a car so wisely engineered and so carefully built to assure maximum safety and long life. This is true even to the tires. Designing from the ground up for balloon tires, with pivotal steering, special spring suspension and extra wide fenders, Chrysler engineers working with the tire makers have now evolved a special six-ply, high-speed balloon tire that will stand up and wear as long as your cord tires, and still contribute all the resiliency of ordinary balloon types.

LET'S VOTE FOR HERB BAKER.

A few days ago, Mayor Jezewski of Hamtramck, was given a more or less clean bill of health by Governor Groesbeck.

The mayor of the Detroit suburb had been convicted—virtually—of having many of the twisty characteristics of a corkscrew. But he was the mayor by virtue of that fact there seems to have been a lot of "under cover" stuff...

"In domestic architecture the Americans are far ahead of us in beauty, comfort, and convenience. Our wage earners might well envy the working people in the United States."

That man is Herbert F. Baker. Baker may have, at times, been regarded as a "radical" but that term is purely political. Those who have opposed him have applied it in the hope that it carried with it something of derision...

They worked it for several years and because of the complicated conditions when Baker ran for U. S. Senator, the idea was sold to enough people to defeat him.

That there is a new understanding, a new feeling, a new sense of the eternal rightness of things which, we believe, will make Herbert F. Baker the next governor of this state.

They call him a "bearcat." That, of course, is largely political, but we rather like to envision him as a man of that stamp—one of the kind who stands toe to toe with political evils and looking them squarely in the eye, swaps punches without a wimper.

WE GET CREDIT. Sir Auckland Geddes, back home in England after spending three years in Washington as British ambassador, has much to say in praise of America's beautiful buildings and educational and industrial methods...

Statistician Say s Traction Stocks Will Soon Come Back

Babson Park, Mass., July 26.—Roger W. Babson's survey of public utilities made public recently has caused much interest among the holders of depressed traction issues. The statistician reaffirms his belief and defends his position in a more detailed statement, today.

"All tractions were supposed to be good a few years ago," says Mr. Babson. "Bankers and investors bought them readily because they were tractions as all tax exempt issues have been gobbled up recently just because they are tax exempt."

"Many tractions were financed and built during the traction boom that should never have been organized,—that served no public necessity, but many others were sound and are still sound because they render a necessary public service. Fortunes will be lost and made on tractions during the next few years."

"In many of our cities congestion in automobile traffic is already a serious problem. This congestion will increase and the electric lines will become more necessary than ever. I know many business men who deserted the electric lines years ago to drive to work by motor who today are going back to the electric lines as the most convenient transportation offered in our congested centers."

Truckers Know It. "The truckers are already aware of these facts. I have discussed the matter with one man who has been in the hauling business for twenty years. He is operating over fifty trucks in half a dozen states. He has kept accurate records and he says that he is ready to turn over all his longer hauls to the electric lines, in fact, has approached one or two of them in his territory to arrange a co-operation basis."

"All tractions, of course, are not situated so that they can take advantage of this new development. With business somewhat depressed,—general activity as reflected on the Babson chart is now 11 per cent below normal—many of them will have to close up and junk their properties. I am firmly convinced, however, that others, suffering now with the group, will find a larger and more profitable field in electric freight, than they have ever enjoyed as passenger lines."

Very naturally there was restraint in the relations between Wheelock and Helen, following his admission that he desired her friendship, and her refusal. Neither of them mentioned the matter again, nor was there one of his men left to guard her.

HOLD STATE LEGION MEET AT MUSKOGON Landis and Quinn To Be Convention Speakers.

(By The Associated Press.) Muskogon, Mich. — Muskogon is pointing toward the biggest and most important convention in its history—that of the state department of the American Legion, to be held here September 1, 2 and 3.

missioner, who is an ardent legion supporter; National Commander Quinn of the American Legion, who is not expected to attend any other state convention this year; and the Great Lakes Fleet, consisting of about 500 naval reservists and men from the Great Lakes III, training station, who will ride up to the local docks in their warships and enter into the festivities.

signed to please the former doughboys and sailors. The meeting will be called to order at noon, September 1. Following a brief session the annual parade will be held. Local Legionnaires are planning to make the parade a five-mile affair. After this, the visitors will go to a local park where National Commander Quinn will speak. There will be a barbecue and a pavilion dance in the evening. That same evening the grand programme of the "Forty and Eight" will take place at the armory. Tuesday morning and afternoon will be devoted to business sessions. Judge Landis will speak during the afternoon. The grand ball will be held in the evening. A business session the forenoon of Wednesday, September 3, concludes the convention. A convention fund of more than $6,000 is to be expended. A recent survey of the housing situation here showed Muskogon to be well equipped to take care of the convention crowds.
