RE: Relocation of Newspaper Office

Northern's American Indian newspaper, The Nishnawbe News, must find new quarters in the near future. Its budget has been substantially cut, and there no longer are funds to pay rent on its present offices in the University Center.

I have been Advisor for the paper from its beginning 10 years ago, and have found it to be an extremely valuable media for the Indian people throughout the Great Lakes Region and in much of the U. S. and Canada. It also helps provide journalistic experience for our Native American students.

I strongly urge that space soon to become available in Euther West Science Building or the Service Building, be assigned to the newspaper.
