We welcome to our columns this week a new Correspondent from the Jackson Furnace. Gossip, will always be welcome when dished up by "Gossip."

The Menominee Herald, tenders us its 127th issue that mean "list," or hand? We accept as the latter, and hope that we shall always live in harmony with this our nearest neighbor.

We have received a bottle of "Peerless Goss," for Ladies and Children's Shoes from Asa Dodge, and can recommend it as being first-class.

The Skit of the Village, has been having a gay time on the Marsh back of town, and our div. thinks that a young legal practitioner wore his skates on the wrong part of his body.

F. D. Clark has just received a large Stock of Trunks, Valises, Harness, Leather, Shawl Straps, Sleigh Bells &c. From one of the most sober, reliable and industrious young men we have ever met, and is prospering as he deserves.

We have received from a friend, several numbers of the "Dayfield Press," a lively little six-column paper, evidently started in the interests of that place as a terminus of the N. P. R. R. Fight it out gentlemen, but remember that the road will touch the head of Chagwamagon Bay, thence south through the Penokee Iron Range, thence eastwardly, opening up the immense lumber fields and mineral deposits of Northern Wisconsin and the Upper Peninsula, through the Menominee Iron Range to Escanaba, where its eastern terminus will eventually be made.

Prof. Rhodes agrees to forfeit almost any amount, if he cannot in a short time, make a good penman out of the Editor of this paper, and we think no farther proof of his ability for teaching that very important branch of education, will be needed by those conversant with the manner in which the aforesaid editor "dishes ink."

N. & K. English Esq., was in town on Thursday, and reports all ready for operations on the Stage Line, as soon as navigation closes. The Stage will start from the Tilden House, stop at Cedar River for dinner, at the Saxon House, Menominee, over night, and at the Richard's House, Oconto, for dinner the 2nd day.

What beautiful weather we are having, clear, bright, healthful and invigorating; no ice on the bay, no snow on the land, no signs of navigation closing or of business falling off, and we think that from present appearances we may look for steamers until Christmas.

A Conductor by the name of Thomas White, went outside during the week, totally blind. He has been troubled with inflammation for the past six months, but not until recently was it believed that he would lose his sight entirely. His R. R. friends presented him with a purse of $200.00 as a token of their esteem.

Lost, Strayed, or Stolen, one small-sized, curly-headed pointer. His employer, landlord and washerwoman are all anxious concerning him, and the fair ladies of Marquette, are hereby warned that he won't get another furlough in a hurry.

Thanksgiving, was a beautiful, bright, sunny day, such an one as constrains even the most selfish to be thankful, and as we watched the merry lads and lassies at their sports, and on their way to and from the skating grounds, we could not help but think that the greatest blessing we poor mortals here below have to acknowledge is health. The day was very generally observed here, most of the places of business being closed at least a portion of the day.

Rev. Mr. Pierson delivered a Thanksgiving Sermon at the Presbyterian Church in the evening, the only services held in the Village.

CHAPTER OF ACCIDENTS.—Two brothers by the name of Anderson, led here on Sunday morning last for the Gulls, a fishing station on one of the straits connecting Green Bay and Lake Michigan, a dingy to receive the evening, and in a very heavy sea. While coming about for the purpose of making the harbor, the boat was capsized and before assistance could reach them, both were drowned. They were Swedes and without families.

A man by the name of John Peters employed on the Fox Dock, slipped from the top of a cart into a chute, then to the deck of a vessel. If he had been running at the time, death would have been almost almost inevitable, as it was he escaped with some severe bruises.

A boy of 13, by the name of Louis Edwards, was passed down upon the ice, at the Marsh, a few evenings since, and his collar bone broken.

FORD RIVER ITEMS.

In addition to the items from the above place given by our worthy assistant last week, we learn that a mill with a capacity of from fifteen to twenty million feet per annum is projected for next summer, and that a large body of pine land is will change hands soon, in preparation for that event.

A new and commodious warehouse and three new dwellings have been erected during the summer, with the intention we believe, of gradually obtaining steady, responsible, married men for their work in place of the shifting, unreliable fellows, usually found in the vicinity of lumbering locations.

They have three camps, locate 1 33, 46 and 75 miles from the mouth of the river, an expect to cut ten million feet of logs.

The Co. have made a splendid start in this direction with a road that it is a pleasure to drive over, and have proved that the saw-dust and refuse from the mill forms an excellent covering for the sand. It now remains for the Highway Commissioners to meet them in the same spirit, and we shall have an eight mile drive along the Bay shore that will not only be useful in a business point of view, but will be an attraction to pleasure seekers, both at home and abroad. In road matters, there are no other things, do we find the force of the maxim, that "whatever is worth doing at all is worth doing well," and if we cannot have but one mile in the year, let that be done substantially. The Ford River people will complete the work for much less than the actual cost, and would like to at least be allowed to expend their own Highway Tax in that manner.

First Race of the Season.

GREAT TROT 'GAINST TIME.

TREMENDOUS EXCITEMENT

SPORTING CIRCLES.

The first trot of the season came off on Wednesday last, in which Wm. Bellows' horse John, (called Jack for short), went for a purse of $1000.015.00, (and didn't get it), in double harness with running mate. The time was 34 minutes, and track the first mile this side of the Flat Rock Mills; David Oliver, Umpire and Judge; C. C. Royce, Stakeholder and Starter. At half past 10 a. m. the horse came gallantly to the starting point, and got away in good style, amid the cheers from the spectators in general, and applause from the ladies in the balcony in particular. A tremendous crowd followed on foot, to see that the horse was not allowed to break, but kept down to his work, and another crowd headed by the Umpire, also on foot, preceded the team, to keep the track clear. The race was to be a trot, but owing to the lack of the necessary training, the horse would occasionally break from a trot to a rack, thence to a gallop, and then to a kind of hop skip and jump, a conglomeration of all three of the other gates. The track was chained off by two very reliable young men engaged expressly for the occasion, and barring the fact that there were several stumps in the road and a right smart sprinkling of sand, it was in good condition. To be sure there were some slight irregularities, such as using a 50 feet chain and calling it three rods, and putting the County Treasurer through a two mile heat on the double-quick, more exercise than he has taken before since he used to practice the same step down south, but as a general rule, the proceedings were according to Hoyle. The colt made his time in 3.52, losing the purse by 22 seconds "just," and we are willing to bet our old boots that, everything considered, Dexter could not have done much better. Various reasons were assigned for his want of success by John's owner and driver, but as we were present and weighed the matter thoroughly, we believe that his principal cause of defeat was that he did not go fast enough.

There will undoubtedly be quite a number of these lively little trots during the winter, and as we have about exhausted ourselves in the above effort, we should like to hire a first-class reporter, who is willing to work cheap, board himself, saw wood and work press between the races. To avoid confusion, applicants will pass down Ludington Street from west to east.

Fayette, Nov. 23, 1870.

EDITOR TRIBUNE:

But little material for news of interest to any of your readers is likely to arise from this quarter, and yet we desire not to be forgotten as a part and parcel of the human family of that account.

The business of the Farmery is unimpaired, and every department connected therewith moves in perfect harmony for the good of the whole.—Schr. S. H. Kimball, loaded with supplies arrived in good style and now is being laden with eggs for the lower market. We raise a large number of these hardy "critters" over here, though not near enough to suit the east river stomachs of the greedy Buckeyes, or perhaps the more ravenous consumers of Pennsylvania.

More crafts are yet expected this month to relieve the stock piles of their present surplus of the aforesaid commodity.

A superabundance of health is not complained of on this side of the Bay just now. Typhoid fever prevails extensively for the number of inhabitants among us. A number of cases can be seen at Sag Bay as well as at other points in this vicinity. Quite a remarkable case in the person of Charles Hall of Garden Bay presented itself to our new doctor a few days since, remarkable that he should have survived so long. He has been ill for three months, the last two of which confined to his bed from an enormous distension of bowels and chest, presenting a frightful appearance, and suffering excruciatingly. An operation was at once resorted to by which twenty three pounds of water by actual weight was taken from the unfortunate sufferer, and he left in hopeful anticipation of a night's rest which he has not experienced for more than a month. The National Thanksgiving Proclamation has reached our side and unmeaning disrespect to President Grant or any other man, we will have to respectively decline compliance therewith on account of having no pumpkins wherewith to imitate our good Old Puritanical fathers. Who I ask could get up anything but a sham thanksgiving without pumpkin pies? Echo answer: "no body," and so do we uns. As well might one rationally anticipate a skating rink without ice; an apple paring without girls or apples, or an old fashioned husking bee without corn or cider. A dish of "chawd" fish is our best "hoit," and that being no rarity cannot be expected to excite more than a faint shadow of heart felt thankfulness. We have, however, no disposition to deny our good feeling in common with all other loyal citizens for our Ship of State not yet being water-logged, and our Government liabilities not repudiated, and by the time it shall have emerged from its national debt, we will promise our friends on the other side that we will have an abundance of pumpkins and a magnificent church to which to invite all who wish to make a public demonstration of their gratitude of politics we have but little to say being an alien to our last election. We can however confidently advise all aspirants to high position in Delta County to beware of one whose initials are E. P. Barras, and not commit in the future a large territory to his pastoral care for, of a certainty, he is a mighty worker for one of his reticent disposition and physical proportions. In the language of Artemus; he is a "cuss," and bound to win, as the last election most truthfully avers. Though navigation must soon close in upon us for a season, we fully expect our postal, commercial, and social relations, with the good people of Escanaba will nearly as soon be resumed over ice and woodland, which by the way is no mean medium of visiting our neighbors when our appreciated Sailors have all gone "where the wood-bine twines."

If perchance or premeditation any of us, or any part of us, should see fit to take a peep in upon your incorporated body on or about New Years we shall hope to be respectfully notified in proportion to our prepronance of electric influence for inasmuch as you do it unto the least of us, you do it unto us all, as in the future we propose to be a unit on this side of the raging deep.

Yours verily, Gossip.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

NOTICE.—All persons are hereby notified that the lands of the N. Ludington or Escanaba Companies under the extreme penalty of the Law.

Special Notice.—Having found upon my boat a few more than I care to have, I give the names to the public as a favor of course. I shall serve all obligations in the same manner after to-morrow day. I have sold out my business and am going to my home.

The Five Dollar Sewing Machine published by the Standard Sewing Machine Co. is the best in the world. It is simple, durable, and always ready to sew. These kinds of things will use them with the new improvements and very much pleased. Do not let me find out what you will do.

The safe, steady and rapid growth of the city of ESCANABA, is the best guarantee of its advancement, and we feel assured that its increase in future will be even greater than it has been in the past.

The extension of the U. S. N. W. R. R. to Escanaba, in the early building of a Railroad westward to the Menominee Iron Range, and the erection of ore and other factories, Mills, Planing Mills, &c. all point with a strong inducement to an increase of business, and a population in the village.

We have on hand business and building tools, cutlery, and carpenter shops, two Barbers, one Baker, one Photographer, one Printing Office, and several Saloons, besides the R. R. Co's Round-house, Machine Shop, &c. There are also Presbyterian and Catholic Churches, a good School, and a considerable amount of literary culture for a place so young. In this and many other respects it challenges comparison, and it can be said here.

To all therefore who are in search of a good business point, a rapidly growing village and one that is certain to continue so, we say come on and we will welcome you with open hands to hospitable homes.
