

TIME TABLES

Chicago & Northwestern Railway. TRAINS AT ESCANABA. GOING SOUTH.

THE IRON PORT. ESCANABA, MICHIGAN, JAN. 3, 1890.

Our Terms—All orders from non-residents for advertising or job work must be accompanied by the cash. This rule is imperative. All job work will call for cash delivery. Legal notices must be paid for in advance.

Items of Interest.

A. W. Wilite offers a good working horse for sale. Call and see him.

Wanted, a girl, 14 or 15 years old, to assist in doing the housework of a family. Inquire at the office of the Port.

Paul Kelley receives and handles the best stock of Sour Mash Whisky in the upper peninsula, direct from Louisville, Ky. Wholesale or retail.

The lumber yard of the N. Ludington company will be in charge of John Roemer, for the winter. He can be found at the fire engine house.

I am ready to receive taxes for township of Ford River, at the office of the Ford River lumber company. OLE ERICKSON, Township Treasurer.

For Sale. N. Ludington, by their Agent, offer Lots in Blocks 48, 49, 50, 51, 52, 53, 57, 58, 59, 70, 71 and 72, cheap.

For Sale. A first rate yoke of working cattle, 7 years old, and a quantity of hay and oats, all at the farm of Peter Nelson, Bark River station.

Notice to Saloon Keepers. All persons are hereby forbidden to sell my husband, James Elliott, any spirits, intoxicating, or malt liquors. Any person doing so will be prosecuted to the full extent of the law. MARY A. ELLIOTT.

Sand. No skating or ice-boating—too much snow. RALPH ATKINSON is down with a pleurisy. Work is legal tender for subscription to the Port.

BISHOP VERTIN was in town, to visit Father Langer, on Tuesday. The masquerade put $53.45 into the treasury of the fire company. Good enough.

Mrs. J. F. ATKINSON entertained a happy party of young folks on Saturday evening last. ONLY twenty-one columns of "patient miscellany" in the last M. J. Swineford is off duty.

FELLOWS that "swore out" on New Year's day are completely desiccated by this time. The Ford River lumber company is building a stack in which to burn the refuse of the mills.

The ice is dotted with fishermen's shelters from Squaw point to the light house and beyond. FORD RIVER or Flat Rock—take your darling and your choice—the sleighing is good on either road.

JIM HANBY is recovering. It was a close thing for him, and we don't believe he will try it again. OWNERS of ore vessels demand two dollars a ton between here and Cleveland for the next season. They'll get it, too.

The railway company, on Friday (yesterday), commenced hauling material for the new ore dock. FATHER LANGNER is better — was well enough, on Monday, to give Frank Snyder a launch into the matrimonial sea.

CHARLES E. MASON, principal of the public school at Fayette, has been in town during the week, keeping the Christmas holidays. If the proceedings of the village board are stale before they reach our readers, we are not in fault. We publish the report as soon as we can get it.

The $250,000 fire at the Ph. Best brewery at Milwaukee did not interfere with the supply of beer. Stock is open for orders, just as if no fire had occurred. The prices at the masquerade were, first, for ladies, an album, and second, a portmanteau; first, for gentlemen, a box of cigars, and second, a comb and brush.

The fellow who mistook the back end of Geo. Preston's store for a hotel and an empty barrel for the luggage room can find his grip sack by applying to J. H. Hart. SWEET, Oh! S-w-e-e-p! Lyman is here again, has cleaned all the foul chimneys in town and gone for a trip to the range. Turn him loose in your flues and save your eyes.

WM. McDERMOTT, of Fond du Lac, was guest at the Tilden on Saturday night. He had been at Ford River, and was on his way to Hermansville, taking fire risks on those properties. The jail is no good, that's evident. We must have the new county buildings, and to get the vote of the eastern townships in support of the tax for that purpose, we must vote the tax for bridging the Escanaba.

We have received from J. D. West one of his typograms, which we will gladly exhibit to anyone who will call at our office. It is a convenient thing for the purpose for which it is intended, and the cost is a mere trifle. MR. GAYNOR commenced on New Year's day to pack and move, and by the time this is read, will doubtless be at Norway, or on his way thither, bag and baggage. When the new Ludington is open we propose to visit Norway.

The mill is an accomplished fact (our readers owe us a debt of gratitude that we did not say so last month), having been in operation, grinding corn and oats, for a week past. Bring along your wheat, ye grangers, and put in more acres next season. The latest thing in the way of games for home amusement is "The Blind Artist," which originated in Washington and is very funny. "The Fig Album," a neat little autograph album, with which the game is played, and which fully explains it, is sent postpaid, with an address for 30 cents, by the Buckeye Publishing Company, Minneapolis, Minn.

NORWAY is to have a newspaper. The Norwegian can't do without it. A stock company has been formed, capital $1,500, to purchase the outfit and set the paper going. Our predecessor on the PORT is named as the manager and editor. We bid the new enterprise Good speed, but we are just a trifle in doubt about its financial success. James F. Wilite will win if possible, however.

THE festival of the Presbyterian Sunday school, held at Royce's hall on Thursday evening, was among the pleasantest (if not altogether the most enjoyable) of the New Year entertainments. The house was crowded, the audience was appreciative, and the little ones were tastefully costumed and well up in their several parts. C. H. Scott, superintendent of the school, was manager, and Mrs. Atkins and Miss Selden relieved each other at the organ. The programme was as follows: Song, by the choir, "Have Mercy"; recitation, by the school, "Think on these Things"; recitation, Gary Garner, "Old Arm Chair"; song, by the school, "Passing Away"; recitation, Mrs. Cram, "Vandal's Maiden"; song, by the school, "Always Cheerful"; song, by volunteers, "Oh! Sam"; Eggleston's comedietta "Mother Goose"; with the following cast: Mother Goose, Gertie Selden; Simple Simon, Alpha Barnes; Little Boy Blue, Johnny Garner; Tom, the Piper's Son, August Erickson; Mary, Nellie Cox; Mary's Lamb, Bertie Young; The Bachelor, Charlie West; The Maid, Mamie Ellsworth; Little Old Woman, Aggie Garner; The Hen, Clifton Oliver; Man in the Moon, Bertie Ellsworth; Man in the South, Otis Ellsworth. After the drama an immense stocking descended upon the stage at Mother Goose's bid, the contents of which were speedily distributed among the happy youngsters. The school then passed a vote of thanks to E. P. Royce, Esq., for the use of the hall, and the play was over.

ODD FELLOWS' hall was crowded, on Tuesday evening, on the occasion of the "open lodge" of the Good Templars. Messrs. Thompson and Scott addressed the lodge; Mr. Hatton, Mrs. Atkins and Miss Fanny Young gave recitations or readings; Madam Atkins and Langley, Miss Ada Ephraim and Messrs. Ellsworth, Anderson, Morrill and Langley rendered "The Greeting"; "The Minute Gun at Sea," "Village Bells," "The Watch and 'Oh, Sam'" in good style. The subject of Mr. Thompson's address was "Influence," and the application was the use of the personal influence of each toward the formation of a public opinion powerful enough to compel the enforcement of the laws regulating the liquor traffic. Mr. Scott disclosed "some of the secrets of the order" in a witty vein, and spoke in favor of the local option law and Miss Willard's plan, under which the ladies have a voice in the granting of liquor licenses. Altogether the evening was a success.

PHILIP was the only bachelor of our acquaintance to accept the leap-year position—stop at home and await calls from the ladies. "Phil," however, knows the correct thing, and does it, too, without waiting for precedent. He has not yet handed us his list of calls, but from one who was there we have information that everything was comme il faut; that the refreshments were sumptuous and the arrangements elegant, though somewhat peculiar, as might well be expected in bachelor quarters. Everything was potted, from game to cheese. He probably got the notion from his biblical studies, and meant to give his friends an idea of the "fish-pots of Egypt" so longed for by the mana-fed followers of the great law giver. Had masculine calls been in order we should certainly have dropped in to take pocket watch with him.

ON Friday evening of last week, as the last train of the day approached Quinnesec, the engineer saw a man upon the bridge, and slowed down to allow him time to get off. The man, however, adopted another course, and instead of endeavoring to reach solid ground, lay down outside the track for the train to pass him, which it necessarily did, but not without hitting him. The train was moving slowly, and the blow received by the man was not sufficient to throw him from the bridge, but was sufficient to break in his skull and produce his death, which ensued at about 9 p. m. His name was Frank Leper, and he was a teamster and laborer.

JUSTICE GLASER'S children "would not know Christmas had come" if there were no Christmas tree, and that would be a condition of things "tolerable, and not to be endured"; so there was a Christmas tree, and wax candles, and the usual pretty presents, as much like what the Justice and his good fair enjoyed in the distant home in Deutschland as was possible, and the young Glasers enjoyed the light and warmth and the heimlich as much as their forbears did a quarter of a century ago, or more. May they enjoy many more Christmas eves, and keep up, when they shall have homes of their own, the customs and ways of the veteran.

The imperative call of duty (not to mention the chronic impetuosity of a country printer) forbade our attendance upon the opening festival at the opera house at Quinnesec on Tuesday evening. We learn, however, that notwithstanding our enforced absence, the affair was a success from every point of view. Over one hundred couples are said to have been present, and nothing to have been wanting that could contribute to the enjoyment of the occasion. We congratulate our Quinnesec friends on their luck, their pluck and their prospects. May the sun of their fortune never suffer an eclipse.

GILMAN finds himself constrained to give up his wood yard enterprise. He can't get transportation facilities. The C. & N. W. railway "don't want the business," won't furnish cars except as may be entirely convenient for themselves, are strict about weights and stiff in the matter of charges—in short, the company sits down on Gilman and leaves the town to look out for itself in the matter of fuel. Next year we shall have arrangements not dependent on the C. & N. W. to keep warm.

MARRIED, at the residence of the officiating clergyman, on Monday, Dec. 29, by Rev. Charles Langer, p. p. of St. Joseph's, Mr. Frank Snyder and Miss Mary A. McLaughlin, both of this village. Owing to the illness of Father Langer, the ceremony was private, and the happy couple departed on the first train thereafter for a wedding tour. A host of friends with them a long life of wedded happiness, and all the blessings inherent in the estate of holy matrimony.

Now, Mr. PORT, the Iron Herald, as the first advocate for the construction of that road, never used the phrase "to divert, if possible, the trade of that section from Escanaba," or any other inimical to the interests of your town—Iron Herald.

We quoted from the Iron Herald, not the Herald, and found no fault either with the form of expression or the purpose expressed. Our purpose was merely to stir up our own people to think for themselves in the matter of road building. Be at peace, neighbor, we carp not at your enterprise.

MRS. A. LEIGHTON, long a sufferer with ailment baffling ordinary medical skill, went, on Wednesday last, to Chicago, for treatment. That she may receive benefit is the earnest prayer of many friends.

JOHN READEY, a sailor, and for a short time employed at Royce's cedar camp, died, on Thursday morning, of hemorrhage of the lungs, at P. Duraneca's.

THERE was no end of fun at the firemen's masquerade, on New Year's eve. It commenced early, when several masquers tested the efficiency of their disguises by appearing in them on the streets, setting the hoodlums wild with curiosity and admiration, and the little ones were tastefully costumed and well up in their several parts. C. H. Scott, superintendent of the school, was manager, and Mrs. Atkins and Miss Selden relieved each other at the organ. The programme was as follows: Song, by the choir, "Have Mercy"; recitation, by the school, "Think on these Things"; recitation, Gary Garner, "Old Arm Chair"; song, by the school, "Passing Away"; recitation, Mrs. Cram, "Vandal's Maiden"; song, by the school, "Always Cheerful"; song, by volunteers, "Oh! OUR Norwegian correspondent telegraphs us via the Atlantic cable that the sovereign of that country (whose premonition is Karl) arrived at a slight misund-standling, a few days since, which came near resulting in floods of gore. The exorbitant rates charged by the cable company preclude the transmission of details, but we gather that the respective glories of the two kingdoms, past, present and prospective, were under discussion; that mead (or whatever represents in Milderud the beverage of Walhalla) flowed freely; that words grew warm and kings waxed wroth; that defiance met counter-defiance, and battles were grasped and swords loosened in their scabbards (or, in United States vernacular, each man went for his six-shooter); that—each our information gives out. We are glad to be able to say that, in some manner, bloodshed was avoided—that both the sovereigns are safe and their respective realms at peace and prospering. Thus be it ever.

Two young men, brothers, whose names have not been able to learn, came into town on foot, on Wednesday morning, from Bark River, running a good part of the way, as they wished to make some purchases here and go north on the train at 11:30. They made their purchases, among which was a small flask of whisky, and started for the depot to take the train. One of them, overcome by the exhaustion consequent on the walk from Bark River and the effect of the whisky (though it must be said he was not intoxicated), lagged behind his brother, lay down in the snow, and was very nearly chilled to death when discovered. He was unconscious, and remained so for nearly two hours, but is all right again now.

The latest advices are to the effect that the new depot for the accommodation of the group of mines about Norway and the village itself will be located near the east end of the embankment and curseway, about one fourth of mile east of Norway town.

DURING the progress of the firemen's ball the hall (Elliott's) took fire, how we do not know, but that was all. The danger was immediately discovered and averted, and so quietly that the dancers knew nothing about it.

MRS. DIXON's Sunday school class surprised her on New Year's eve, and with the aid of their elders, made a very pleasant occasion of it. They presented her with a silver pickle-caster and a cut-glass vase.

NINE lads, from 8 to 12 years of age, constituting the Sunday school class instructed by Mrs. H. W. Thompson, presented their teacher with a silver cake basket on New Year's eve.

NEW YEAR'S callers were few, in consequence of the neglect of the ladies to announce, through the PORT, their readiness to receive. They will do better next year.

JOHN ROEMER, in a friendly scuffle or wrestle, on New Year's morning, got a severe fall and a broken bone—one of two bones of the leg below the knee.

OKES BROTHERS' concert and specialty troupe will give one of its laughable entertainments at Royce's hall on Wednesday evening next.

If you have a half dollar left after New Year's take in Okes Brothers' show and concert on Wednesday evening.

MISS JENNIE HORRMAN, of Neganace, is spending some days in town as the guest of Mrs. Van Idenstein.

JOS. PATTERSON has gone to Neganace to be employed in the C. & N. W. railway station at that place.

The masquerade "paid out," whereupon we congratulate the management. L. A. KING was on hand for the masquerade.

Board of Trustees. ESCANABA, Mich., Dec. 16, 1879. Board met in regular session at the clerk's office. Present—Trustees Royce, Corcoran, McKenna and Lins. Meeting called to order, Trustee Royce in the chair. Minutes of last meeting read and approved. The following communication, signed by a number of citizens, was received and read:

We, the undersigned citizens, would respectfully ask your honorable body to offer to the citizens of the village as have purchased, or intend to purchase street lamps for the purpose of lighting the streets of the village, the necessary oil to keep the said lamps burning all night during the dark nights, as it is for the common good, and would confer a real benefit upon all citizens and property owners. Such action on the part of your honorable body will certainly meet the full approval of all your constituents.

Trustee McKenna moved that the prayer of the petition be granted, which motion was seconded by Trustee Lins, put and carried. A communication was received from Justice Glaser showing that he had paid to the treasurer the sum of one dollar, amount of fines collected since last report, which was read and ordered on file.

The committee to which was referred the matter of a steam fire engine house, by its chairman, Trustee McKenna, reports: That F. E. Hart had been employed to prepare a plan for the construction of the house. Mr. Harris, being present and called upon, said that a building of the following dimensions would, he thought, be the most acceptable to the village, viz: a two story frame, 30 by 65 feet, the first story 14 feet high and the second 12 feet. On motion Mr. Harris was instructed to prepare plans, specifications and estimates for the construction of such a building and present them to the board at its next meeting.

The committee to which was referred the resignation of President White asked for further time to report, which was granted. The following bills were presented and allowed: Emil Glaser, Justice's fees . . . $20 00 W. W. Mallinck, salary Health Officer . . . 60 00 A. W. Willis, hauling coal . . . 1 00 Peter Schreyer, limber engine for wharf . . . 4 00 Henry McFall, hauling for New . . . 1 00 N. Ludington Co., lumber for wharf . . . 4 00 Thomas White, board of prisoners . . . 25 00 On motion the board adjourned.

F. H. ATKINS, CLERK. The following is the meteorological report for the week ending Dec. 24, at Escanaba:

Table with columns: Date, Max, Min, Wind, Weather. Rows for Dec 26, 27, 28, 29, 30, 31.

We are in receipt of a rhymed communication from Fayette, which we can not use—not because of anything it contains, but on account of the author, who will thank us, when another and better is accepted, for refusing a "first attempt."

MRS. A. LEIGHTON, long a sufferer with ailment baffling ordinary medical skill, went, on Wednesday last, to Chicago, for treatment. That she may receive benefit is the earnest prayer of many friends.

JOHN READEY, a sailor, and for a short time employed at Royce's cedar camp, died, on Thursday morning, of hemorrhage of the lungs, at P. Duraneca's.

Correspondence.

ESCANABA, Dec. 29. To the Editor of the Iron Port: DEAR SIR—As it do not bother you very often, I ask you, as a friend, to publish this letter in your paper. There is lots of talk about you not publishing the school report. Some say you have a right to, whether you want to or not. If I am a judge of human nature, I think you would be the last man who would do anything against the welfare of our public schools. As for the last school report in the Mining Journal, there are lots of mistakes in it, made either by the editor or reporter, and some of our best scholars are dissatisfied, and think it is of no use to be reported without justice being done them. I hear by the larger scholars that Miss May Coffey did attend every day, and had four days of absence reported against her. Such mistakes as that ought to be corrected, if it has to be done through the IRON PORT. Please let your readers know whether you have a right to publish the school report or not.

[We can not well decline (though we should like to do it) to publish the foregoing letter. We said, two months ago, all that we thought necessary concerning the publication of the school report, so called, and then no reason now to reconsider our decision then given. We should be willing to publish a "roll of honor," but have not room for such a list as the one then brought us, nor do we think such a one at all a benefit to the scholars or the school, and shall therefore continue to decline to publish it. By the phrase "have a right to," we understand our correspondent to mean a duty—to inquire whether it is incumbent upon the proprietors of the PORT to publish the report—and we assure her, and all others, that it is a matter entirely within our own discretion, and it is within the discretion of the principal of the school whether it shall be furnished for publication. There is no law, moral or statutory, binding him or us in the matter. A report of scholars whose average standing is high we will publish, every week if desired. To have one's name in such a report would be a thing to be striven for, while the publication of some names which occurred in the report published in the Mining Journal was a punishment, and we have no wish to be a whip in the hands of any teacher.

Our columns are always open for communications in the nature of corrections.—E.]

Business Mention.

It would be a gross injustice to find that standard healing agent—Thomas' Electric Oil—with the ordinary orders, lotions and salves. They are oftentimes inflammatory and astrigent. This Oil is, on the contrary, eminently cooling and soothing when applied externally to relieve pain, and powerfully remedial when swallowed. Readers of this paper should not fail to peruse the advertisement in another column. Sold by Geo. Preston.

It is simply marvelous how quickly constipation, biliousness, and sick-headache are cured by "Sellers' Liver Pills."

Those intolerably painful and constantly recurring neuralgic pains, which trouble so many people, are soon healed by Thomas' Electric Oil—the great external remedy for physical suffering and means of relieving pain. A very small quantity achieves results of the most gratifying kind. The advertisement of this remedy should be read. Note—Electric, selected and electrized. Sold by Geo. Preston.

If you have pimples, boils, salt rheum, rough skin, &c., try "Lindsay's Blood Searcher." Sold by all druggists.

It is folly to endure unnecessary pain when an inexpensive, highly recommended and long tested remedy, like Thomas' Electric Oil, will stop it. As an outward balsam for rheumatism, abrasions and sores; or taken internally for a cough, hoarseness, or a cold on the chest, it has no peer. Our advertisement describes it more fully. Note—Electric, selected and electrized. Sold by Geo. Preston.

And I pray that de Lord take me, till I tried "Sellers' Cough Syrup," and I's nebber coughed since. How's dat for high, boss?

Montreal F. R. L. Mosely, of Montreal, Canada, writes, Sept. 27, 1879, that he had suffered terribly from dyspepsia, and was completely cured by taking Warner's Safe Bitters. He says: "My appetite is good, and I now suffer no inconvenience from eating heavy meals." These Bitters are also a specific for all skin diseases.

EXPOSITION OF 1876.—Wandering through the United States section of this truly wonderful exhibition, hyper-named and over-displayed as the most of it is, I came upon an elegant glass case, whose modesty was the more conspicuous from its neighbors' fancy, surmounted by the motto Dignis Premis and displaying, in neat packages, the medical preparations of the house of Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass.

I was aware of the world-wide reputation of this eminent firm, for the character and quality of their goods, and remember well their agents in London, Messrs. Newberry, in St. Paul's Churchyard. Having a leisure hour I determined to examine the contents of this case myself, and I was surprised to see the delicate perfection to which they have brought their household remedies. I was chagrined at the reflection that, while we have at home the most skillful and experienced, the best physicians in the world, these Yankee doctors distance us so far in the line of popular medicines for family use. They have the sharpness to take advantage of the high scientific discoveries among us, and make pills and potions as palatable as they are salutary. I was told by a leading druggist in Philadelphia, that Dr. Ayer's manufactory was the largest in America, giving employment to hundreds. I must go to Lowell and see it on my way home.

THE IRON PORT.

THIS festival of the Presbyterian Sunday school, held at Royce's hall on Thursday evening, was among the pleasantest (if not altogether the most enjoyable) of the New Year entertainments.

ODD FELLOWS' HALL was crowded on Tuesday evening, on the occasion of the "open lodge" of the Good Templars.

GREEN, who robbed Frank Murray, and McMahon, confined for resisting officer Denton, concluded, on Monday, that the county jail did not furnish quarters appropriate for gentlemen.

DANCING is pleasant amusement, but there are some of us, whose dancing days are over, who would yet enjoy an evening out.

THE Inter Ocean of Tuesday gives a list of the deaths of lake sailors which have occurred during the season of 1879, which makes the number 209.

HENRY GLASER, tramping in the woods with an axe on his shoulder, tripped or slipped and fell, and in some way managed to get the axe under, so that it cut a gash in his knee.

A. WILTSE came near being compelled to camp out on the bay Sunday night. He had crossed, and started on his return, when the weather became thick, the driving snow obliterated his track.

THE hoisting rope of one of the pile-drivers parted, one day last week, and the whole business, hammer, steam works and all, went down to the bottom of the bay.

MRS. BELLE GAFFNEY, who has been giving dramatic readings at Nequamee and other points "up north" for the benefit of her uncle, who was burned out some three months since, will pay our village a visit in the near future.

AUBREY GARDNER, son of Rev. E. W. Gardner, who is employed in a bank at Ishpeming, spent the Christmas holidays with his parents at Escanaba.

BARTH & GALLAGHER are down 38 feet with their prospect hole in the marsh. They went through thirty feet of alluvium and six or seven feet of sandstone and are now a foot in Jasper and ore.

MARRIED, at the residence of the officiating clergyman, on Monday, Dec. 29, by Rev. Charles Langner, p. p. of St. Joseph's, Mr. Frank Snyder and Miss Mary A. McLaughlin.

Now, Mr. PORT, the Iron Herald, as the first advocate for the construction of that road, never used the phrase "to divert, if possible, the trade of that section from Escanaba."

WE take the liberty of suggesting to the board of trustees that some further action is necessary in the matter of all for the street lamps, if it is really intended to furnish it as the expense of the village.

Correspondence.

OUR foreign correspondent telegraphs us via the Atlantic cable that the sovereign of that country (whose pretensions are Karl) and the monarch of the west country (Jonell L.) arrived at a slight misunderstanding, a few days since, which came near resulting in spoils of gore.

TWO young men, brothers, whose names we have not been able to learn, came into town on foot, on Wednesday morning, from Bark River, running a good part of the way, as they wished to make some purchases here and go north on the train at 11:30.

THE latest advice as to the effect that the new depot for the accommodation of the group of mines about Norway and the village itself will be located near the east end of the embankment and caseway, about one fourth of mile east of Norway town.

MRS. DIXON's Sunday school class surprised her on New Year's eve, and with the aid of their elders, made a very pleasant occasion of it. They presented her with a silver pickle-caster and a cut-glass vase.

JOHN ROEMER, in a friendly scuffle or wrestle, on New Year's morning, got a severe fall and a broken bone—one of two bones of the leg below the knee.

JOHN ROEMER, in a friendly scuffle or wrestle, on New Year's morning, got a severe fall and a broken bone—one of two bones of the leg below the knee.

OSKINS BROTHERS' concert and specialty troupe will give one of our laughable entertainments at Royce's hall on Wednesday evening next.

IF you have a half dollar left after New Year's take in Oakes Brothers' show and concert on Wednesday evening.

THE masquerade "paid out," whereupon we congratulate the management.

L. A. KING was on hand for the masquerade.
