FARM AND FIRE INSURANCE

—Feed twelve pounds of buttermilk to a thrifty pig weighing about twenty, and it will increase his weight one pound.

—To wash woolen goods nicely, use each pail of water used, add one tablespoonful of ammonia and one of beef-gall, wash out quickly and rinse thoroughly in warm water, with a very little beef-gall added.

—Experience of the farmers and owners who use wood in the rough for posts, ties, etc., unite in the opinion that timber cut in summer, while the bark will yet peel freely, is much more durable than that felled during winter.

—An experienced farmer recommends that oats be soaked sufficiently to swell them before feeding to stock.

—A farmer who has been successful in raising such troublesome insects as live through the winter, and for the deposit of eggs of others ready to hatch in early spring, prepared the following means:

—Fence corners with their mass of brush and weeds afford secure retreats for such troublesome insects as live through the winter, and for the deposit of eggs of others ready to hatch in early spring, prepared the following means:

—To make chocolate macaroons, melt slowly and carefully three ounces of chocolate, and stir in gradually until a thick paste is made one pound of pulverized sugar and the whites of three eggs, well beaten; then spread as smooth as possible to a sheet about a quarter of an inch thick.

—A highly satisfactory stuffing for a duck, whether canvas-back or red-head, is made by grating enough bread to fill the bird.

—Indian meal crackers are good with coffee; to make them pour one and a half teaspoons of boiling milk over two teaspoons of sifted Indian meal; stir it vigorously; when it is cool add two cups of wheat flour, one cup of butter (or two-thirds of a cup if you do not care to have them rich), one cup of a half of sugar, three eggs, two teaspoonfuls of baking powder, and a teaspoonful of nutmeg or cinnamon.

Care of Horses in Winter.

It is always a mistake to care of horses as much more important than any other season of the year and more important than is required by other farm stock. In spring, summer and fall, when horses are worked every day, they are fed regularly, liberally watered and cleaned at regular intervals, and the labor in the open air tends to keep them healthy and vigorous.

The effort made, notwithstanding the difficulties, to solve this great and interesting problem by means of this pair of transit is not unworthy of the scientific spirit of the age.

—Coffee! coffee! Did you ask if I would have coffee? replied a guest at a Cleveland hotel the other day.

—The farmer of Arkansas is now away to the advantage of cooperation. One thousand of them living in a region round about De Arzo have formed a cooperative organization and are advertising for bids on their undivided tract.

The Problem Solved.

Prof. Robinson, of Rochester, in the New York Examiner, gives a rough outline of the problem sought to be solved in the recent observations on the transit of Venus.

—A man who has always been called the stoniest man in Michigan, and many stories are told about his breaking crackers in two and taking out pinches of flour to make exact weights.

—The Dead Cannot Be Raised, nor if your lungs be badly wasted away can you be cured by the use of Dr. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery."

—When your friend or neighbor is laboring under bodily affliction, indigestion, biliousness, constipation, caused by impurity of blood, or disorders of the kidneys or liver.

—A woman who has always been called the stoniest man in Michigan, and many stories are told about his breaking crackers in two and taking out pinches of flour to make exact weights.

—The limits of this paper do not allow a statement even of the different modes of determining the position of the paths traced by Venus across the sun as seen at different stations.

—The difficulties of the problem do not appear in the outline as indicated above. The actual angle which the astronomers are seeking to determine, known as the parallax of the sun, would be represented by inverting the lines which we have supposed, and letting them diverge from a point on the sun, so that the distance between them here should be equal to the radius of the earth.

—A NICE LITTLE BOY.—An Austin lady, who had company to tea, reproved her little son several times, speaking, however, very gently.

—"I was troubled for many years with Kidney Complaint, Gravel, etc.; my blood became thin; I was dull and inactive; could hardly crawl about; was an old worn out man all over; could do nothing to help me, until I got Hop Bitters, and now I am a boy again."

—A FLEDGLING CALLED AT A Philadelphia house the other day, and asked to see the head of the family.

—"Coffee! coffee! Did you ask if I would have coffee?" replied a guest at a Cleveland hotel the other day.

—The farmer of Arkansas is now away to the advantage of cooperation. One thousand of them living in a region round about De Arzo have formed a cooperative organization and are advertising for bids on their undivided tract.

As Age of Suspicion.

Truly, this is an age of suspicion. Nevertheless, Captain J. M. Hovine, of the steamer William Grant, Merchants' & Miners' Transportation Line between Boston and Baltimore, who suffered severely from rheumatism, caused by the exposure incident to his profession, was cured by St. Jacobs Oil.

—A man who has always been called the stoniest man in Michigan, and many stories are told about his breaking crackers in two and taking out pinches of flour to make exact weights.

—If you are seeking health, strength and vigor, we earnestly request you to give Dr. Guyton's Yellow Dock and Sarsaparilla a good trial.

THE MILWAUKEE FIRE HORROR. The Newhall House at Milwaukee destroyed by fire—A Large Number of Persons Burned to Death or Killed by Jumping from the Building—Terrible Scenes of Agony and Death.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., January 9. The Newhall House, the six-story brick building, corner of Michigan street and Broadway, burned to the ground this forenoon.

The fire was discovered at four a. m. In less than half an hour the whole building, long designated as a death-trap, was enveloped in flames.

The employees of the hotel, which accommodated 600 guests, some of whom were mostly lodged in the sixth story, fled by the way of the roof as cut off by the fire.

At five o'clock this morning the doomed hotel presented a sight which will never be forgotten by those who beheld it.

From that time the fire had its undisputed way inside the bare walls, and toward six o'clock the buildings on that east side, fronting on Water street, began to burn.

The fire was extinguished at 9:15 a. m. Nearly one hundred lives are thought to be lost.

The Fire Department fought the fire heroically, but all they could do was to prevent its spread to the surrounding business blocks.

At the morgue a horrid sight was beheld. The two small bladders were soon filled with bodies, tightly packed, and then the bodies of girls, women, men and water-boys were laid promiscuously on the stone slabs.

Edward Pollock, of Lancaster, Wis., was a guest at the house. He occupied a room on the fourth floor of the Broadway front, nearly over the balcony.

At one time, by letting himself down at arms-length from a fifth-story window, he got through the window below and safety.

Another man jumped from the fifth-story window, struck the telegraph wires on Michigan street, bounded up, and came down a tangled mass of flesh and bones.

At San Bernardino, Cal., a few days ago Burton Hummer, a lad of nine years, poured coal-oil from a can into a stove.

A Thrilling Scene—Narrow Escape from Death by Fire.

New York, January 9. A fire broke out in the five-story brick tenement at No. 38 Hester street at an early hour this morning, which was accompanied with extraordinary scenes.

The building was tenanted by eighteen families. Last night all the tenants of the place except three families residing on the top floor, were at a wedding.

The fire was discovered at four a. m. In less than half an hour the whole building, long designated as a death-trap, was enveloped in flames.

The employees of the hotel, which accommodated 600 guests, some of whom were mostly lodged in the sixth story, fled by the way of the roof as cut off by the fire.

MISCELLANEOUS.

An Alabama Judge decided that a man who puts his school on a seat on the cars reserves that seat—unless the man whomoves it is bigger than he is.

There are apparently intelligent people in Ohio who do not know that Oliver P. Morton, the great war Governor of Indiana, and one of the most conspicuous men who ever sat in the United States Senate, is dead.

The Ragby colony, in Tennessee, has taken a new lease of life. A great deal of land has been sold recently for fruit-raising purposes, a large canning factory is being built, new settlers are constantly coming in, the schools are flourishing, new business houses are being erected, and everything points toward the future success of the colony.

The Augusta, Ga., Chronicle says: "We notice, from time to time, that large tracts of Southern land are being sold to Northern capitalists for very small sums. The patrimony of the South is rapidly passing into alien hands. Perhaps the native proprietors were not worthy of their inheritance or have been cunningly deprived of it."

The other day Mr. M. L. Erghott obtained a verdict of $25,000 damages against the city of New York for injuries received nearly two years ago by driving into a ditch which was carelessly left open and unguarded at night.

A young woman in Brooklyn, happening to wake from her first sleep, the other night, and to reach out her arm in order to lay a shawl on a chair at her bedside, found her hand in contact with a curly pate.

A mine near El Dorado, Cal., was recently leased, and the mill was stopped for a clean-up. One of the plates being found loose it was taken up, when it was discovered that more or less sediment had found its way under the plate, and closer investigation showed that a large percentage of it was gold.

A Philadelphian, detained by business, spent a recent Sunday in Baltimore. In the evening he went into a saloon and took a drink, several men who were present drinking with him.

The following is the incident in the school-life of a teacher, as related by herself. She had charge of a school in a country town early in her career, and among the pupils was a boy named John, fourteen years old, who cared very little about study, and showed no interest in anything connected with the school.

—W. W. Cavan returned from his visit at the south on Sunday and comes back looking better than he went away.

—Capt. Williams, formerly of the Norway mine (we don't know what good work he is at now) was at Hanley's on Monday.

—J. Curt. Lewis was in town over Sunday, which reminds us that the "History of the Upper Peninsula" does not mention his name. Nice "history" that is, eh?

—A. C. Richard, of Manistique visited Mrs. Richard, who is at Milwaukee for treatment of her eyes, passing south on Monday and returning on Thursday.

—Mrs. Atkinson, widow of Judge James F. Atkinson, of the Florence News, was in town on Tuesday and Wednesday of this week. We understand that she desires to dispose of the News.

—Louis Stegmiller started on Tuesday for Washington to—well, we don't know what all. He'll eat steamed oysters at Harvey's and drink a bottle of wine or so at Barney Hart's—he'll go down to Mt. Vernon and up to the dome of the capitol; and if he should chance in company with a congressman he'll "buzz" him about the O. & B. R. steal, sure.

Range Items.

—The Florence News comes to us this week with the name of "A. F. A. Atkinson" (widow of the former proprietor, James F. Atkinson) as publisher.

—The Custer mining company was organized at Quinnesec on the 16th. The officers are John McKenna, president; James H. Malloy, secretary and treasurer, and Capt. Gray, superintendent. The purpose of the organization is to work a property just east of the Hancock.

—One of the most valuable finds of the year is that of Messrs. Peter and J. B. Connors on section 17, 41-31, near the state line, about four miles from Florence. The ore is a soft hematite of a reddish hue, and judging by the specimens shown the writer, which were gathered at random, is very rich in metallic iron. They have penetrated the deposit to a depth of four feet, the ore becoming clearer at every foot.—News, 13th.

—Mr. Shields, the gentleman who is in charge of the explorations on the Stephenson mine property, adjoining the Norway and Perkins, struck, the ore on Friday morning last, about 50 feet from the surface in a shaft sunk on the ridge about 800 feet north of the old workings, and of the limestone formation—which should explode the theory often expressed by scientific men and thus far apparently borne out by the facts, that on the Mesoniminee range the ore cannot be found north of the limestone. At this writing the bottom of the shaft is all in the very finest quality of blue ore, similar, we believe, to that found in the old mine, but of course the extent of the deposit cannot as yet even be surmised. A diamond drill will shortly be placed in operation upon the property midway between the new shaft and the old mine, in the hope of striking the ore there also.—Norway Iron Chronicle.

—Capt. Rogers, of the Norway mine, died on Tuesday. Camilla Urso will appear at Baell's opera house, Quinnesec, on the 26th. W. H. Sweet, foreman of the Chapin mine saw-mill was severely injured and came near losing an arm on Saturday. A maximum temperature of 31° below zero is reported in southern Wisconsin but the maximum at Iron Mountain has been barely 22° below [only for the fear of being called capricious and spenetic, the FORT would suggest "minimum"]. The new pump and engine house at the Chapin mine nears completion. Mr. McDonald denies placing scrip on the Mc. Kinnon property—positively. Thos. H. Walters and Celia Rundel, daughter of Capt. T. B. Rundel, were married on Wednesday.—Range 13th.

Where to Buy.

—Fresh Butter at Jo. Embs. 8ct

—Budweiser—popular as ever—at the Parlor.

—Dixon & Cook offer boys' Skates at 25 cents per pair.

—Do you want an Organ or Piano? Call at Burns' Bazar.

—Atkins & Mc Naughtan, grocers, carry the finest line of Tobacco and Cigars in town.

—Save your Eyesight by using only the best illuminating oil, such as you find at Geo. Preston's.

—Godley carries a fine line of Cigars, Tobaccos and smokers' articles, and it is beginning to be found out.

—Wardrobes, Cupboards, Bread-boards, Flour-chests, Ironing boards, in fact for anything in that line call on D. A. Oliver.

—That '67 whiskey, at the Parlor, is as good as a temperance pledge. Taste it once and you'll never drink bad or common stuff again.

—Gagnon took a big lot of goods when he went to the woods ten days ago, but there are still plenty in the store and Matt Serwe is there to show them.

—Wolcott has been rather quiet of late, as to advertising, but he keeps on improving his outfit and doing better work as the result. If a really good photo. is wanted go to his gallery in the Richards block for it.

—The visits of Dr. Towns do not interfere with the regular practice of the local profession as they are confined to chronic diseases which local physicians gladly surrender to those who by constant study and long practice can treat them with success. Dr. Towns, by years of experience, understands the peculiar needs of such and the best remedies required to cure them. The afflicted should avail themselves of the skill of Dr. Towns, who will be at the Oliver house, Escanaba, Tuesday, Jan. 23, and remain one week only. The doctor's agent, W. H. Orth, will be in Escanaba Jan. 15, to distribute his bills. Please read and send to your sick friend.
