DOINGS ABOUT THE CITY.

GLEANED BY IRON PORT REPORTERS

In Their Wanderings about the Municipality, and Condensed for Easy Reading.—Many Other Notes Briefly Chronicled.

The Mining Journal proposes to have the good will of our Dousman street neighbor and to get it by kicking him. Whatever the outcome may be, the process will be one to be observed with some interest. It will hardly be a one-sided affair, Phil is something of a kicker himself when his blood is up, and he don't use a "Bogardus patent" either. Our loose change goes that he gets the worst of no kicking match, bar nobody.

Mr. B. Malloy, master mechanic in charge of the shops of the C. & N. W. R. Y. Co. at Chicago, died on Sunday last, of the after effects of an accidental fall to which we referred at the time of its occurrence, something like a month ago. Mrs. M. A. Burns, Mrs. Malloy's sister, went down to attend the funeral.

Thursday, Feb. 11, is to be the date of the Nye-Burbank evening here instead of the date previously given. The change was made to let Marquette have an evening without interfering with later dates. It will be just as funny on Thursday as it would have been on Wednesday. Don't miss it.

The Escanaba Iron Port has reduced its size 50 per cent. Now, if it will take a corresponding feel in its bump of self-esteem the Press will try to live peacefully with it.—Press, I apprehend. The labor would be light, but the proffered reward is insufficient.

Yes, the new passenger house will be put up at the earliest practicable day, and will be all right, just as we thought. We interviewed the engineer department but could get no particulars—the plans are not yet in hand.

Some one of our friends now in the south sends us a copy of the Mobile Commercial, a paper devoted to the material interests of that city. It is well got up, both as to matter and method and can but be influential in advancing the interests of the city.

Mr. Blom the renowned Swedish Lecturer will give a Magic-Lantern temperance exhibition same place next Monday evening at 7:30. Tickets 25 and 15 cents. Mr. and Mrs. Burns, Mrs. Conolly and the Misses McHale have been in Chicago this week, called thither to attend the funeral of their brother-in-law, Mr. Malloy.

Frank H. Atkins departed yesterday to attend the annual convocation of the Grand Chapter, R. A. M., at Detroit on the 19th.

Kratze has a word to buyers of clothing—a word worth reading. Look it up. No "dull season," at Kratze's—he won't have it.

Pastor Livedahl, from Calumet Mich., will preach in the Swedish M. E. church D. V. next Sunday morning and evening.

The Ford River Lumber company received a car-load of fine horses, for their work in the woods, last Tuesday.

Mrs. John Corcoran, who has been for some weeks at Chicago, is again at home, having arrived on Monday last.

C. E. Helmer, of Iron Mountain and H. W. Cole, of Rapid River were in town on Tuesday.

A. P. Smith, circuit court commissioner, was in town on Monday and Tuesday last.

A. B. Chambers, of the Iron Port force, goes to Chicago this evening on business.

W. C. Marsh, cashier of the Manistique bank, was at the Oliver Monday night.

Mr. Waite, of Royce & W., went to Schoolcraft county on Wednesday.

Mr. Fuller departed, on his return to Virginia, Monday evening.

Ole Erickson and wife went to Menominee Wednesday evening.

W. H. Clark has been in Chicago during the week.

As to insurance. Every one who owns property and covers it with insurance against fire feels as though the rates were exorbitant, but, high as they are, the business of underwriting is not so enormously profitable to the insurers. During the year just expired more than one hundred companies have gone out of existence, about one half of them by total failure and the others by turning over their risks to stronger companies—reinsuring—and winding up their affairs. The reinsurers were mostly stock companies and their customers got the security they paid for; those which "went to smash" were mostly of the "Mutual" sort and their customers, though they paid premiums, were never insured at all.

John L's Pedigree.
Mr. John McInnes, who conducts the Ford River Lumber Co's business in the woods, recently purchased a fine bay horse, "John L," and, as the horse has a record of 2.28, is not expected to take anybody's dust. The pedigree of "John L." goes back through four lines of descent (one on the side of the sire and three on the side of the dam) to imported Messenger, a horse whose get includes more speedy horses than that of any other stallion in America. On the side of his sire the descent is Messenger, Abdalla, Hambletonian 10, Hambletonian Prince, Hambletonian Duke, "John L," with a strain of Lexington blood at two removes. On the side of the dam, "Abbie," the sires are Messenger, Abdalla, Hambletonian 10, George Wilkes, Almont, Mambrino, and dams noted for speed and endurance. Mr. McInnes has a good horse, and we fancy that nobody knows it better than himself, unless, perhaps, it may be the gentleman who brought the pedigree to our notice, who will accept our thanks.

W. C. T. U. Notes.

The next regular meeting of the W. C. T. U. will be held on Tuesday afternoon Jan. 19th at the home of Mrs. Naugle on Ogden avenue.

The W. C. T. U. has commenced preparations for a fair to be held some time in the coming April. Committees have been appointed to canvass for articles useful and ornamental, and every lady may expect to be called upon to contribute something in her own special line of fancy work, for the coming occasion. We have a small amount already subscribed towards the building, and hope that the proceeds of the fair will add materially to our building fund. In soliciting the business men the other day for help toward our enterprise, we encountered some odd characters. One gentleman in particular whose belligerent attitude towards the W. C. T. U. was more comical than sensible, and seemed ludicrously out of proportions to the amount of injury which that well-meaning organization could have inflicted upon him. The W. C. T. U. is not a political faction—this suave gentleman to the contrary notwithstanding—and has no overweening amount of interest in affairs of state, only so far as they relate to the mental and spiritual welfare of the society and the safety of the home. Here is where her interest lies and where in spite of secret slurs or open opposition she proposes to abide and work.

The W. C. T. U. at large has and will lend its influence to the party that advocates prohibition, and its influence in the world-to-day is by no means small, and if the G. O. P. goes to the wall it is self-killed of its own iniquity, not having enough of the salt of truth in it to preserve it.

But we are pleased to add that with but one or two exceptions the business men of our city responded liberally and willingly and we take this occasion to thank them collectively for the financial encouragement and the kindly words with which they have helped along our work. We hope by the last of January to have our lot secured and paid for, and our building will be erected as soon thereafter as the weather will permit.

The ladies of the W. C. T. U. have been given space in Iron Port with the understanding that they should confine themselves to their temperance work, which they have hitherto done. But in the foregoing they try the republican party, in which we believe and to which we adhere, and convict it of "iniquity" justifying its death, and in so doing abuse the hospitality they have had at our hands. A repetition will close our columns to them.

Escanaba Turn-Verein.

Paul W. Giebel has been engaged as instructor in the athletic exercises known to the Germans as "turning" and a class has been organized. The fees are but 50 cents a month, for which pittance one can have the use of the fine outfit in Turner Hall and the benefit of Mr. Giebel's instructions on Tuesday and Friday evenings of each week. It is not necessary that we should point out the benefits of an athletic training, every one knows them, nor would it seem to be necessary that we refer to the trifling cost. Take the drill, boys and establish each for himself, the "corpore sano"—the healthy body—without which life is hardly worth the living. Forty are already enlisted and practising, but there is room and opportunity for forty more, and still still forty after that.

The Verein dances, too, and just before the beginning of the lenten season will give a Masquerade, of which further notice will be given.

From Washington, just as we go to press come dispatches to the effect that the alternative—apology the most abject and reparation ample, or war—will be given Chili at once.

The understanding is that the government of Chili is disposed to make the apology and reparation but that the Chilenos are puffed up with the successes they have achieved and mad with the virulence of their hatred towards us, and that the government can maintain itself only by falling in with the popular sentiment, and that therefore war is to be expected. The matter will be settled soon, now. No further delay will be tolerated.

G. A. R. and W. R. C. Installation.

On Wednesday evening last, at the armory of C. F. Smith Post, G. A. R. (newly fitted up and decorated by Comrade Commander Haring, and nicer than ever before) the officers elect for the ensuing year of both post and corps were publicly installed in their several offices. The surprise of the evening (the reflection served by the ladies was none—the old boys have come to expect that) was the presentation to the post, by the ladies of the corps, their representatives being two young ladies, daughters respectively of Comrades John V. Erickson and Emil Glaser, of a stand of colors for the post—"old glory" itself—which the ladies had provided at a cost of $75, and which will make the color-bearer the most prominent man in the column when the post turns out on the coming memorial day. Of course there was a refection, and (equally a matter of course) the comrades disposed of it as of old—they have lost a great deal since the days in Dixie, but have kept their appetites, mostly. The post was never in better shape than at present, and the W. R. C. is entitled to the credit thereof.

La Grippe.

As yet our city has suffered little from the gripe, but it is largely prevalent in the state and in the neighboring state of Wisconsin and we have no reason to expect exemption from it. Where it is prevalent it seems less manageable than ever before and is particularly dangerous to those advanced in years. Particular attention should be given to precautionary measures. Avoid exposure as much as possible and especially over-exposure or anything to depress the normal condition. If attacked by a cold don't fool with it, but meet it with an "alcohol sweat" (or such other remedy as a physician may prescribe) and stay in doors until fully restored to health. The gripe itself does not kill, but the pneumonia which follows its attack does; therefore beat the gripe and evade the pneumonia. Above all, avoid excesses and "keep a stuff upper lip."

Our Mr. Lew A. Cates and Mrs. Liva E. Franklin were married at 4:30 yesterday afternoon, Thursday, January 14, by the Rev. Their tour and visit will occupy the two weeks next ensuing, after which they will be at home in their residence in this city. That is, Mrs. Cates will be—Lew will be on the street and in the business houses, "hustling," in his usual style but with reinforced energy for business for the Iron Port and its printing house.

THE IRON PORT.

The Iron Port Company.

J. C. VAN DUZER, EDITOR.
LEW. A. GATES, MANAGER.

Of Caterino Garza, the Mexican who is making Gen. Stanley and our war department so much trouble just now, a Monterey correspondent of the associated press says:

The histories of Garza published so far in the United States are all wrong. He never was a soldier, nor a sewing machine agent, nor a rowdy, nor did he ever live in this city, as variously stated in the United States. He has always been either a schoolmaster or journalist of considerable talent, and though he may be defeated now by the combined efforts of the United States and Mexico, and though he may be killed, the revolution will not end. Small bands will harass the government on all sides until the election, when another stronger effort will be made, and the conservative or clerical party may take a hand. The great question where the money comes from for the Garza movement is solved by the word "preying," that is, they live off the land. Their arms are their own property, for every one residing on the frontier owns arms, accoutrements and horses, and all hate the central states.

Although Garza is intelligent and brave he is not the real leader of the movement. The leader is one of the most prominent men in that republic and he is ably seconded by very prominent military men and diplomatists, who will never tire unless killed or triumphant. What aids or rather will aid the revolution is the general depression which reigns and makes itself felt more and more every day. The prisons are full of people driven to crime by distress, and President Diaz himself understands that the situation is critical. The police are very active in the search for the leading conspirators, but are meeting with poor success.

Speaking of the scandal in the Calhoun county poor house, the Tribune says of the girl, Carrie Cahow:

"She has been a pauper from early childhood, and might, for all that is now known to the contrary, have continued to be such indefinitely. Yet she is a strong, healthy, womanly girl, capable both physically and mentally of earning a livelihood. Why, then, was she imprisoned in a poorhouse, the victim of degrading surroundings and circumstances? How does it happen that after several years in a state public school a girl graduates thence into the poor house? Are we training up a generation of professional paupers? The wards of the state should not be sent into the world incapable and unsophisticated. Is there not something wrong with a system which dooms some of them to the lecherous embraces of would-be benefactors and others to concubinage in county poorhouses?"

Time is necessary for the establishment of the tin plate industry in the United States. The delay will not be in the tinning department but in the rolling. There is no doubt of the ability to make good black plate in American mills, because it has been made, and is now being made at different places, but our mills in general have not been accustomed to this line of work, hence reasonable time must be given even under the most favorable circumstances. In all probability the manufacture of tin plate in this country will not receive its greatest impetus until after the next presidential campaign. If the elections next fall show that the American people believe the present tariff law should be fully tried, the development of the tin plate industry will surprise those who are now so ready to de-laze its establishment in this country an impossibility.—American Manufacturer.

If we admit, for the sake of the argument, the truth of the free-traders' parrot-like cry, "the tariff is a tax," the question is still open who pays it? An English trade paper says:

"One of the greatest arguments against the theory that the consumer pays the import duty is to be found in the fact that when a foreign nation increases the tariff on a British product, the establishment charges as well as the wages on this side of the water are lowered, in order to give the manufacturer or the merchant a chance to deal successfully with the change. If the consumer paid the duty there would be little cause for our exporter to grumble. But our manufacturers and work people do make sacrifices to meet the extra duty and we accordingly hear grumbling from both."

One of the demands of the farmers' organizations is legislation to prevent gambling in grain, but when Senator Washburn introduces a bill to accomplish that they begin to see that they are "between the devil (of the speculators) and the deep sea (of the millers) that should Senator Washburn's bill become law each farmer would have to carry his own grain until the millers wanted it and then take whatever price the millers saw fit to give them; and they are fiercest Senator Washburn.

To the Inter-Ocean's query, "where shall the mugwump go?" the Florida Transcript replies: "We decline to answer. This is a political, not a religious paper." Nor is Iron Port a religious paper, but it ventures the assertion that wherever they go there will be a "gnashing of teeth."

The democratic plan of campaign proposes a guerrilla warfare against protection—affairs of outposts, instead of battles on the main issue and with all arms our millions of workmen high wages, thereby insuring a home market of several times greater value than the whole world's markets combined; it keeps hundreds of millions of dollars in the country that would otherwise be sent abroad to pay for things we can raise and manufacture ourselves; it incites invention; it enables us to keep our wives at home instead of in the fields or in the mills; it enables us to educate our children; in short, it makes us the most prosperous, most contented and happiest people on the face of the earth.—American Economist, Tariff sermon.

The faction which is now on top in democratic councils is arranging a straddle on the silver issue and a fraud on the tariff. Mr. Cleveland warns them that they are playing a losing game, saying "I believe our countrymen are prepared to act on principle and are in no mood for political maneuvering. They will not waste time in studying conundrums, guessing riddles or trying to interpret doubtful phrases. They demand a plain and simple statement of political purpose." And, for once, Mr. Cleveland is right and that's why the democracy, no matter who leads it, is going to get a licking this year.

Senator Sherman's wealth is matter of comment in every silly, democratic, cross-roads hebdomadal. It is none of their business how he acquired it, for no one ever charged him with making "a crooked dollar," but it may ease the strain on some poor devil's think box to explain to him that the senator had the foresight to invest in Washington real estate when Washington was a mud-hole, and that when it came to be a city, lo, he was rich.

"We intend," said the Cobden Club ten years ago, "to break down the protecting system in the United States and substitute the British system." At an annual "hiring fair" at Berwick upon Trent, just held, men's wages were $40 to $55 per year. Do you want the "British system" established in the United States, you laborers? That is what the democratic party proposes.

The monthly earnings statement of Commissioner of Railroads Whitman shows the earnings of Michigan roads for September, 1891, to be $9,448,733; for the same period of 1890, $9,056,878, a decrease for 1891 of $441,855. The total earnings from Jan. 1 to Oct. 1, 1891 was $68,479,188, an increase for 1891 of $1,143,985.

Egan wins. He has put three of the refugees who sought shelter in the legation on board the Yorktown and so out of harm's way, and the others will follow. Now that that question is settled, the next is easier. There will be no "war with Chili." By the way, Egan stands a deal higher than he did two months ago.

Here's an honest democrat, and an outspoken one: The Vicksburg (Miss.) Herald says: "Sherman has beaten Horner. We took but little interest in the contest. It was dog eat dog from the southern standpoint." Both are republicans and, from a democratic standpoint, there was nothing to choose.

A Grand Rapids paper suggests to Secretary Blacker that he let Rowley go and put Miss Soper in his place. Good suggestion (provided always that the lady is competent), Rowley ought to follow his principal out of the capital, but wasted, he has too strong a pull.

Governor McKinley was inaugurated last Monday. Ex-governor Campbell (to give the devil his due) behaved handsomely. Gov. McKinley's inaugural showed him no less a master of state affairs than of tariff matters.

Mr. Foraker has been smothered under granddaddy's hat.—Courier-Journal.

The C.-J. might have added: "we democrats know to our sorrow just how horrible it feels. We have been there."—Inter-Ocean.

Washington dispatches are warlike in tone. The impression seems to prevail there that Chili is merely "sparring for wind"—trying to defer action until she can get her new war ships aloft.

Whether he succeeds or fails, the young Kaiser has the right notion about drunkenness—it is a crime to be repressed, instead of a misfortune worthy of compassion.

Coots, republican, takes the place of Jacob, democrat, as president of the board of aldermen of Detroit, and there will be no more jobbery, nor neglect of duty.

The Ohio legislature elected John Sherman senator of the U. S. for the term ending March 3, 1900, on Tuesday last.

Surely, "Passing on now to economic questions," said the prosy lecturer, "let us consider what would be the effect if the world's visible supply of sugar—" "What does he know about the world's visible supply of sugar?" whispered the bold youth in the dark corner of the room as he tried to pass his arm around the sweet young maiden sitting by his side.—Chicago Tribune.

BEST OF REPUBLICAN NEWSPAPERS.

Tribune for 1892.

Roswell G. Horr on the Tariff.

The republican party, triumphant in 1891, wherever national issues were at stake, renewed its energy and bravely, the fight for 1892. The New York Tribune, the ablest, most reliable, and best of republican papers, leads the way.

During 1892 Roswell G. Horr, of Michigan, the witty orator, will continue in The Tribune his remarks on the Tariff, Reciprocity, the Currency and the Currency. These topics are all understandable: the republican policy with regard to all of them is right, patriotic and impregnable, but that has been thrown in the people's eyes, and the Tariff-Reformers. The Tribune prints from one to five exceedingly entertaining articles every week explaining these questions.

Mr. Horr begins at the beginning of every subject, and makes it clear that everyone can understand and no one can answer him. Ask any neighbor what he thinks of Mr. Horr's writings. He will tell you that they are good, clear, entertaining and perfectly unanswerable. A specialty is made of answering all questions, asked in good faith, on the Tariff, Reciprocity, the Currency, and the projects of the Farmers' Alliance. The Tribune is the best national republican paper to supplement your local paper during 1892.

How to Succeed in Life.

The Tribune will also continue the series of articles to Young Men and Women, respectively, by men who, beginning life themselves with few advantages, have, nevertheless, succeeded honorably and brilliantly. It will also reply to questions as to what young men and women should do to succeed in life, under the particular circumstances in which their lot in life is cast. The replies will be written under the direction of Roswell G. Horr, whose familiarity with American life and opportunities, and whose deep and cordial sympathy with all who are struggling under adverse circumstances, promise to make the replies practical and satisfactory.

Vital Topics of the Day.

Many special contributions will be printed from men and women of distinguished reputation. Among the topics are: "Silver Coinage, the latest views;" "Proper Function of the Minority in Legislation;" to include one paper each from a Democrat and a Republican prominent in public life; "Harmful Tendencies of Trusts;" "Arid Lands of the United States;" "Millionaires of the United States;" "Free Postal Delivery in Rural Communities;" "Better Pay for Fourth-Class Postmasters;" "Importance of the Nicaragua Canal;" "Village Improvement;" "Our German Fellow Citizens in America;" and many others.

Agriculture.

In addition to the regular two pages a week of how to run a farm and make it pay, there will be, during 1892, special papers on "Hot House Lungs," "Model Farms," "Hot House Raising," "Sugar Beets," "Fancy High Prized Butter Making," "Care of Bees," "Market Gardening," "Live Stock," and a variety of other equally important branches of American farming.

For Old Soldiers.

For veterans of the war, there will be a page a week of war stories, answers to questions, news and gossip. Mrs. Annie Wittensmyer will supply an interesting column of news of the W. R. C. The Tribune's War Soldiers of the United States year have never been surpassed for thrilling interest.

For Families.

Families will value the page devoted to "Questions and Answers," "Household Decoration," "Home Interests," "Cooking," "Knitting and Crochet," "Young Folks" and the Fashions.

A great editorial page will be printed, and fiction, foreign letters, book reviews, travels, checkers and chess and fun abundantly supplied.

THE CHAMPION CUTTER

is a novelty and for comfort, convenience, safety and durability, is the most perfect sleigh yet produced. This Cutter excels all others in construction of the spring, which can be made of steel or wood, mounted like the common "Cutter," and which consists of separate halves, connected in the center by a steel axle upon which the springs are secured, allowing each half to work separately. The runners are joined in front by a cross-bar with a joint at each end allowing each runner to act independently of the other. The springs are firmly secured together in front by a solid cross-bar, and the center of the cross-bar on the springs is attached to the center of the cross-bar on the runners by a loose bolt giving freedom to the runners. The body can be either Portland or Swell body, is accurately balanced on the axle beam, and is attached to the cross-bar in front and behind by strong straps. The shoes are steel plates six inches wide, with a bit of steel extending the whole length of the bottom of the plate to prevent slipping down.

We claim superiority for the CHAMPION Cutter in the following respects:

1 Because it can be turned around in deep snow safely.

2 Because with snow two or three feet deep and roads not broken, it glides over the top like a toboggan.

3 Because of light draft.

4 Because with it two inches of snow is sufficient for good sleighing.

5 Because it does not upset in deep snow by the sinking of one runner, or by running into the ditch.

6 Because it adapts itself to an uneven road without discomfort in riding.

7 Because there is no jolting over rough roads or pavements.

8 Because the runners cannot drop into a wagon rut.

9 Because of its durability.

10 Because the chills are easily adjusted for center or side draft.

Stockholm, Jan. 11.—The crisis seems to be over. The king has been rapidly gaining during the past three days, and Dr. Bravelius, the king's favorite physician gives the best of hope.

Three hundred and sixty people emigrated to America, Dec. 27 by way of Gothenburg.

The police force of Stockholm will wear fur caps during the winter months.

A 25-year-old dog is owned by Olof Ersson, of Naeset, Jemtland.

At the end of the year 1891 $4,150,000 were deposited in the postal saving banks of the country.

Farmers of many localities in the southern part of the country were plowing as late as Dec. 15.

A number of telephone apparatus has manufactured and sent to China by the firm Ericsson & Co. of Stockholm.

A farmer in Hammaral, Jemtland is the happy owner of a monstrous calf with two heads, two tails and eight legs.

Whitefish are now being caught in great number in Lake Vettern, and deposited in the many small lakes of Smoland and Vestergotland.

A great number of what looked like mosquitoes fell recently down with a rain shower in the parish of Toras.

If all the government railroads are counted as one there are just 100 railroads in the country, for there are in all 99 lines run by private companies.

The following bold headlines appeared the Ostgöten the other day: "A republican form of government instead of a monarchial one; a free church instead of a state church—this is the final aim of our paper."

A prominent and influential newspaper said the other day: "The minister of public worship ought either to learn the demands of the times better and act accordingly, or resign, or the Riksdag ought to change the laws so that churches can have ministers of their own choice."

A wholesale merchant named Svengson, of Helsingborg, has taken out a patent on a "lung protector" invented by himself. It consists of an elastic band which is placed around the forehead and the chin for the purpose of keeping the mouth shut during the sleep. Snoring is also prevented by the same means.

At a mission house in Vermland says The North, a public meeting was called for the purpose of arousing public sentiment to the realization of the necessity of strengthening the defenses of the country. But the result was wholly unexpected. When two officers of the army had spoken, Rev. Bjorlin, the pastor of the place also spoke in favor of stronger defense, upon which a number of logmen could no longer keep quiet but expressed their astonishment at their pastor, who always used to preach peace, but now preached fortifications, war, wholesale murder. Being asked if they would not support and defend their fatherland they coolly replied that "under the circumstances, they did not see any reason why any one should ask the Swedish people to defend their country."

Dr. Otto Lund, a prominent physician of Copenhagen, is dead.

The city of Moldé will celebrate its 400th anniversary June 29th of the present year.

Three fishermen of Sirevaag, were drowned off Eekersund the other day.

Their diamond wedding was celebrated by Anders Nielsen, a ship-broker of Kragerø, and his wife.

The prominent wholesale merchant, Iraf Sundt, of Christiania, died at the age of 57 years.

At the international skating races held at Hammar a few days ago, Harold Hagen, the Norwegian champion, beat the world's record making 3 miles in 8 minutes, 46.75 seconds and 1 mile in 2 minutes 9 seconds.

It is proposed to provide the boats engaged in the codfisheries with a petroleum engine, power enough to propel the boat and haul in the nets, experiments with that end in view having been made by interested fishermen.

The money market of Christiania is very tight at present. It is thought that the large private banks, four of which have an aggregate capital of $17,000,000, will have to increase their cash balances by disposing of their merchantable securities so as to enable their customers to tide over the difficulty. Every day gilt-edged paper is refused by the banks because they have not got any money to loan. On the contrary, every effort is being made by them to draw in as many loans as possible.

The influenza is brightening everybody in Copenhagen. About 4,000 cases a week are reported.

Prof. Schurman, the well known congressman, died in Skaarup on the Fyns island. A new railroad line has been proposed between Aalborg and Hadsund.

An Advertiser's Experience.

C. H. K. Curtis, whose expenditures in newspaper advertising have been at times as much as $240,000 in one year, and who has "made it pay," says: "As an advertiser my experience has been that large advertising pays far better, in proportion for the capital expended, than small-sized announcements. I thoroughly believe in "keeping everlastingly at it," but not with small shot. Occasionally a broadside should be interspersed with small shot if the capital is limited; but I prefer the broadside all the time. If the capital is limited the field should be contracted; but whatever the size of the field it should be thoroughly cultivated. A weak and timid advertiser cannot hope for success; it takes a certain amount of nerve to face an apparent loss at the first outlay, but a determination to see the campaign through to the end is absolutely necessary for success. If an advertiser cannot make up his mind to this plan, he might as well keep out of the battle altogether."

Intelligence Concerning the Most Important Events Occurring In This Vicinity the Past Few Days Condensed.

Henry Olson went to the railway station at Menominee to see his best girl off by the train, last Saturday evening. In his overcoat pocket was a "gun" and as she got up it was pulled out and fell to the platform, was discharged, and sent its bullet through his arm and through the girl's face. He will be none the worse for the hole through his arm nor she badly disfigured, but it is safe to say he'll no longer "pack a gun."

Some one sends us "The Great Question," an interview with Senator Stanford on money," which is merely a plea, in the form of a dialogue, for the "land loan" scheme of the crazy fellows who are at the head of the "alliance." No use; the "great question" with us, just now, is how to bridge over the dull season without getting "in the hole" so that it will take us until next June to dig out.

Negaunee column of Mining Journal says: "most of our mines have increased their working forces, while explorers are out in great numbers on the mineral lands surrounding the city. As more mines are opened about here the business men and property owners are becoming more confident, and this year promises to be one of unusual activity in the building line."

The Cleveland-Aron Cliffs Co. offers a reward of $1,500 for the detection of the murderer of Gleason. This, with the $1,000 offered by the city of Ishpeming ought to put sharp detective work in operation. If, however, the murderer has sense enough to throw away the black diamonds and the watch and keep his own counsel the best detective will have a weary job.

A terrific boiler explosion took place at the North Baiter mine a few minutes before noon today which shook the entire eastern portion of the city. The hoisting plant, engine house and mine office were wrecked. One man was killed and two others were probably fatally injured.

—Ironwood dispatch, 12th.

One Henry, suspected of murder of Gleason, established an alibi by Officer Quinlan. Bad show for Quinlan and he got the bounce. Nolan promoted in consequence, and Fellow, thinking himself slighted, quit. But the murderer is not found.

Warden Malmberg gave the first broom made in the prison to the Mining Journal, which says it is a good one, and that the warden so disposed of it because he had no use for it himself, having already swept the prison clean, of republicans.

Stockholders in the rink will note the call for the annual meeting and be on hand. Its no joke—the treasurer has, really, quite a little "roll" to divide—be on hand and take your money or tell him what to do with it.

A log-train run away down the L'Anse grade and smashed a freight which was standing at L'Anse station and the bridge near it. Occurred Monday morning. Troublesome bit of road, that; eh, Phil?

Winter fishing has begun and fishermen's hats already dot the frozen surface of the bay. It's an honest dollar that the fisherman gets, but it's a chilly one, sure.

Marquette county supervisors are talking of building a county hospital and the Press wants it located at Ishpeming, naturally.

Louise, daughter of Capt. Thomas Buzzo, of the Iron Cliffs, died last Tuesday at the age of 19 years.

John W. Hagerty shook hands with old friends (and sold some goods no doubt) on Tuesday.

James Christie returned on Tuesday from his visit at Minneapolis and Chipewas Falls.

E. B. Moreneau, of Manistique, was at the Oliver on Tuesday.

J. S. Burchill, of the Soo, was in town on Tuesday.

The fall of a meteorite at Gadsden Alabama, on the 12th, shook the region like an earthquake.

"Green Goods."

Just now our city is flooded with letters, imitation of type-written communications, from a dealer in "green goods" (that is, counterfeit money) and each letter is accompanied by what appears to be a clipping from some paper, which gives upon the authority of treasury officials, statements that the government has redeemed millions of dollars' worth of duplicate coupons and bonds and other millions of greenbacks printed from stolen plates, and that such redemption was still going on, and more to the same effect with relation to the silver certificates. No paper ever printed the stuff; no such statements were ever made by any one connected with the treasury; the alleged "clipping" is a fraud, intended to back and bolster the statements in the scoundrel's letter.

We need not say to any honest man "let him alone"; an honest man does not need our advice, but to any reader who may be inclined be "crooked" we may say it. The man who falls into this trap will not get even counterfeit or stolen notes. He will get nothing more valuable than waste paper or sawdust. There's nothing in "the plant" for any man except the person who operates on the old plan of "fishing for suckers"; he assumes that "there is a fool born every minute" and that he can hit some of them with his letters and simulated clippings. Let him severely alone.

ALL KINDS OF

CINDERELLA BASKET.

A Bit of Fancy Work Which is Very Popular in England.
This new Cinderella basket, from England, is in reality even daintier than the illustration suggests, for after all that cannot show the beauty of color. A simple rattan workstand, such as may be gotten for a small sum, is the foundation for this pretty object. The lower and the upper basket and the stand itself are gilded carefully and smoothly. When this is quite dry the lower basket has an inside lining of pale pink silk and an outer drapery of pink silk with a fringe formed of different lengths of silk, tipped with gold discs. A gold cord outlines the edge of the basket. The upper basket is lined in the same way and, in addition, has a full pocket-like top that draws up with gold cord and conceals the valuables inside. The outer drapery is similar to that on the lower basket, but so many of the golden discs are not required, as at regular intervals are set the fanciful slippers that make pockets and give the name to the basket. These are made of heavy pasteboard having the toes covered with pink and gold brocade, the under part of the sole with plain pink silk, and the upper with quilted satin. Of course, fanciful slippers can be bought ready made, but the industrious needle-woman will not find it difficult to make them for her own basket, and, as it is always possible to pick up scraps of brocade at reasonable prices, they may be especially decorative. By all means get brocade wrought either with gold or silver, as your stand itself may be either silvered or gilded. In pale-blue, Nile, old-rose, lavender, or whatever may be the special color you affect, a basket like this would be dainty, and really form an effective bit of furniture in your own room.—Ladies' Home Journal.

HELPFUL AILMENTS.

Consolation for Sufferers from Dyspepsia and Chronic Rheumatism.

The value of cowpox, voluntarily induced, as a protection against smallpox, is generally recognized. The same principle has been successfully extended to some of the worst diseases among animals, and it is expected that it may yet be applied in the case of some virulent human diseases.

In England gout is a very prevalent and painful disease. In this country it is less common. Our climate inclines us to excessive mental activity. As a result of this the brain appropriates nervous force at the expense of the digestive system, and so disposes us to dyspepsia; but dyspepsia compels its victims, in spite of themselves, to indulge somewhat sparingly in rich food, in the too free eating of which gout originates.

Of the two diseases dyspepsia is to be preferred. It seldom interferes with the day's work, and, except in very obstinate cases, is almost certain to be relieved by proper diet and exercise.

Sick headache may often be counted in the class of helpful ailments, though it is a "bitter pill." There are two forms of it: one has its primary source in the brain, the other in the stomach. In both cases there is commonly some hereditary tendency to the disease, but the exciting cause is overwork; of the brain in one case, of the stomach in the other.

The headaches necessitate occasional rest, while the dread of them acts as a constant check upon tendencies which otherwise result in grave harm. Indeed, attention to diet, with a little letting down of the average cerebral activity, professional, business or domestic, will generally insure a comparative immunity from attack.

Acute rheumatism often gives rise to permanent heart trouble. Chronic rheumatism, on the contrary, may be helpful in cases of heart disease.

For instance, enlargement of the heart tends to increase until it reaches the dangerous limit. The patient's safety depends on his training himself to such habits as reduce strain on the heart, and rheumatic joints in the lower limbs are an admirable aid in this respect. The former rapid movements cease. A fatal running to meet the cars or the ferryboat is out of the question.

The rheumatism is an uncomfortable companion, no doubt, but it may help to a long life—a decade or more, perhaps, beyond the three score and ten.—Youth's Companion.

A Cheap Dentifrice.

One of the most agreeable of dentifrices is to be found in a few drops of tincture of myrrh in half a glass of water. It not only cleanses the month, making it fresh and sweet, but it is an excellent tonic for the gums and arrests decay. It also has the merit of being very inexpensive, as ten cents will buy enough to last a year.

Keeping the Hair Youthful.

To prevent hair from becoming prematurely gray, take one ounce glycerine, one ounce bay rum and one pint strong sage tea. Mix and add a few drops of the oil of bergamot.

OF GENERAL INTEREST.

—Sarah Althea Hill-Terry walked recently into the office of the United States marshal in San Francisco, showed an order from Judge Morrow and demanded the return of two self-cocking revolvers. They had been used as exhibits, but the judge's order indicated that the famous litigation in which she was interested had been closed.

—The centenary of the panorama occurs in 1892. A young Edinboro painter named Barker was thrown into prison by his creditors. From the hole in which the light from a hole in the ceiling struck the walls he evolved the idea of the panorama. The first circular panorama exhibited in 1793 in London represented the British fleet at anchor off Portsmouth.

—A Baltimore boy of ten years has acquired a morbid desire to inhale gasoline, and was found the other day by his mother unconscious with a can of gasoline on the floor by his side. In order to inhale the ether he removes the stopper from the can and inserts his nose in the hole, remaining in this position until he becomes unconscious. It is the first case of the kind known to physicians in Baltimore.

—One of the most precious ornaments of the princess of Wales is said to be a colored gold bracelet comprised of eight compartments, whose enamelled blue lids are set with diamonds. In each of the compartments is a miniature of one of her bridesmaids. The pretty article was presented to Alexandra by the eight daughters of peers who waited on her at the time of her marriage in 1863.

—Washington, Ga., has three trees of which it is vastly proud. One is a white oak, under which the commissioners began the work of laying out the town in 1783. A second is a poplar, under the shade of which in 1790 took place the first ordination of a Presbyterian minister west of the Savannah river. The third is a huge oak, under which in 1856 occurred the memorable debate between Robert Toombs and Benjamin Hill, one of the greatest intellectual contests in the history of Georgia.

—Only three golden eagles were ever shot in Maine, so far as known. The last of these was killed last week in a field a few miles east of Bangor. The eagle was discovered feasting upon a lamb by a farmer. Two foxes came along and attempted to join in the feast, but the great bird fought them off and continued its meal until the farmer put a stop to the banquet with his shotgun. The eagle, which is a splendid specimen, with wings spreading six feet, was taken to Bangor to be mounted.

—"It is a great mistake," says an architect, "to suppose that men are becoming smaller physically. When I was in Europe, in Munich, we gave a grand ball and the city authorities decided to let the artists have the use of the medieval armor stored in the museum there. There were only two suits of armor which could be worn by us. The rest, which belonged to the ordinary-sized, strong medieval soldiers, were too small for us. Would not this tend to show that we are larger than our ancestors were?"

—A flag of thirteen stripes and twelve stars, now owned by Mrs. H. R. P. Stafford, of Cottage City, Mass., is the first American flag ever saluted by any foreign nation. It was presented to John Paul Jones by the ladies of Philadelphia. Floating from the mast of the Bon Homme Richard in its engagement with the English vessel Serapis, it was shot away and fell into the water. Mr. James Stafford, father of Mrs. Stafford's husband, sprang into the water and saved it. After the war was over it was presented to him for meritorious service.

—During the nesting season the male ostrich seems to be anything but an agreeable creature, and may only be approached in safety with great precaution. He resents the intrusion of any visitors on his domain, and proves a most formidable opponent. His mode of attack is by a series of kicks. The leg is thrown forward and outward, until the foot, armed with a most formidable nail, is high in the air; it is then brought down with terrific force, serious enough to the unhappy human being or animal struck with the flat of the foot, but much worse if the victim be caught and ripped by the toe. Instances are known of men being killed outright by a single kick.

LADYLIKE.

A Term that Conveys Much that is Pleasant to Contemplate.

The Germans are justly proud of the richness of their language, their well-joined and artfully compounded words, and the beauty of their nouns formed of adjectives. They take a peculiar delight in the long, many-syllabled single substantive in which is fused such wealth of meanings that they boastfully declare that it would require a long sentence of the English language to convey it properly. Yet it was with a wistful little sigh that a German lady confessed that her mother-tongue held no such beautiful and expressive compound as ladylike. "It means so much," said she, enviously, "and is so musical and suggestive."

It was a new point of view, and, like all criticism from without, bustled the thoughts with the light thrown upon the old familiar word. Memories of early days were stirred and quickened, for almost the first instruction to a little girl in matters of conduct is conveyed in the admonition to be ladylike. It is a quality, too, which has not its accompanying defect. One can scarcely be too ladylike, unless one happens to belong to the stern sex, which occasionally produces a "Miss Nancy."

Lady has been strangely abused, and is tattered and torn by rough usage and misapplication; but ladylike is still sweet and delicate, and no true woman can object to wear the epithet as a title of honor. Indeed, it is only the truly womanly woman who is entitled to wear it, who possesses the exquisite refinement of the dainty modes of thought and gentle speech, which are embodied in the word.—Harper's Bazar.
