

THE IRON PORT

TWENTY-FOURTH YEAR.

ESCANABA, MICH., SATURDAY EVENING, JULY 15, 1893.

NUMBER TWENTY EIGHT.

THE POSTOFFICE ROBBED

A "PROFESSIONAL" JOB, BUT THE REWARD WAS SMALL.

Burglars Drill and Blow the Safe in the Postoffice But are Scared Away Without the Cash—Registered Mail Robbed.

During the night of Tuesday last the postoffice was entered, the safe drilled just over the lock and a charge of some explosive put in and fired. The result of the explosion was the demoralization of the lock to such an extent that the bolts could be thrown but at the same time it so jammed the doors that some force was required to get them open and that, in all probability saved the cash. For some reason, which the circumstances do not point out, the operators left the job at that point and without reaching the money, some five hundred dollars, contained in the safe. They did however, go through the mail matter in the office, opening fourteen registered packages and doubling getting some money, but how much is not known. Marshal Ehnerd has suspicions, but as the thieves took nothing capable of identification (the jewelry in the registered packages was left), the chances of getting his hands on the crooks are very slight.

There were a couple of suspicious-looking chaps in town when the postoffice was robbed and Marshal Ehnerd had them in the sweat-box for a time, but there was no evidence to connect them with the robbery, nor did they appear like men capable of a job like that, and he let them go.

A Doubt Suggested.

The I. Stephenson Co. desires it understood that it is public-spirited and desirous of advancing in any manner practicable the interests of this city; that it is ready at all times to give of its lands to forward "any legitimate enterprise." This, taken in connection with the fact that the company did not give of its lands to secure the location here of the Bischoff iron works, suggests a doubt in the minds of the gentlemen composing that company whether the Bischoff concern is "legitimate enterprise," and we make the statement and point out the inference only to call attention to the conditions of payment of the bonus to that concern. Apart from the ten acres to be given for site, the Bischoff concern is to get nothing except as earned, and unless it is a "legitimate enterprise" it can reap no advantage from the bonus paid. The I. Stephenson Co. is entitled to its doubt, of course, and to be guided in its action by the opinion of its members; its conduct of its own affairs is not matter for public discussion or newspaper criticism, but we could not give its declaration, with its unavoidable inference, without putting ourselves on record as entertaining no such doubt.

Our Public Schools.

Now that the Board of Education has secured a principal acceptable not only to the majority of that body but to the body as a whole, as was made evident by the action of the minority in making his election unanimous, we hope for an end of the wrangling that has made the board a laughing stock during the year just ended. If the board will allow Mr. Beggs to be principal in fact as well as in name, will back him in his endeavors to elevate the character of the schools and aid him in every way it can, instead of thwarting him and entertaining and making much of every frivolous complaint against him, we shall have good schools and the board will deserve well of its constituents and will receive their commendation.

These Were Berries.

Our neighbor Danforth, to show us that the berries of which we made mention last week were but the "run of the vines," placed a selected box on our table last Monday. The box was full, the top layer of berries projecting half their diameter above its edge, but there were only twenty-two of them. The largest berry measured 1 1/2 inches in diameter and it exceeded the others in size only a trifle. They were in every respect as fine as those formerly spoken of and remarkable only for their great size. There's big money in "small fruits" for our cultivators, sure.

That Injuring Fakir.

The man who furnishes the Detroit Tribune with news from the upper peninsula, in reporting the wreck at Bagley, calls the engineer Charles Cook and, kills him, makes Wallace instead of Bagley the scene of the wreck and overlooks the death of Scott Fox, entirely. Yet the Tribune pays for such misinformation.

Escanaba or the Soo.

A dispatch from Lansing says that Escanaba and Sault Ste. Marie are the only localities which have filed a proposition with the board, and Secretary Morris announces that all propositions must be filed with him by Aug. 1st. It refers to the location of the insane asylum to be erected in the upper peninsula, and that only the two towns named have made offers in a surprise to us. Unless other towns compete the asylum will come here; the Soo is out of the question, too far from the center of population and accessible by but one road.

Trains Wrecked. Life Lost.

As train number 23 (fast freight), Akerly conductor, was passing Bagley station last Saturday evening a steer which had been leading by the side of the track attempted to cross and was caught and run over, derailing the locomotive and fourteen cars. On the engine were Harrington, the engineer, his fireman and the head brakeman, Scott Fox. When the engine left the rails Fox and the fireman jumped from it, the fireman escaping with bruises only, but Fox was caught under the car which followed and instantly killed. Engineer Tom Harrington remained on the locomotive until it landed in the ditch, escaping without injury other than a badly wrenched shoulder, with which he will be laid up for a few days. His fireman, Tom Tolan, is suffering with several cuts and bruises about the head. Fox's funeral was held in the Presbyterian church on Wednesday.

Odd Fellows Go to Gladstone.

On Wednesday evening last the members of Escanaba Lodge, I. O. O. F., and of the affiliated lodge of "Rebekahs" to the number of forty or more visited Gladstone and publicly installed the officers of Gladstone Lodge, I. O. O. F. After the installation the Gladstone Rebekahs set out a reception and in all possible ways made it pleasant for their Escanaba brethren and sisters until the small hours. Next week the order of things will be reversed—the brethren from Gladstone will come hither and install the officers of Escanaba lodge, and our Odd Fellows and Rebekahs will play host and hostess. That they will do it to the satisfaction of their Gladstone guests goes without saying—it's a way they have.

Business, Always Business.

A note from our former fellow citizen, A. J. Hughtitt, now located at Genoa, British Columbia, contained (besides the cash for a year's subscription) a newspaper clipping which we reproduce:

"The largest lumber cargo ever shipped by a single vessel from a Pacific coast port has just been completed by Robert Ward & Co. of Victoria, per Hawaiian ship John Eno, loading at Hughtitt & McIntyre's mill, Cowichan. The cargo consists of 39,287 pieces, measuring 2,580,797 feet. The Eno sails for Port Pirie about the end of the present week."

Mr. Hughtitt did not exchange a residence here for one under the Union Jack "as a sanitary measure." It is "business" there as here.

A New Industry.

Messrs. Henry & Lind's new wagon and carriage manufactory on Elmore street bids fair to blossom into a concern of some importance. Although the projectors are beginning in a small way, they propose to increase their plant and number of workmen as rapidly as their business demands. Mr. Henry is a wagon maker whose work is known throughout Delta county, while Mr. Lind, who has charge of the blacksmithing department, is an excellent mechanic and has turned out some good work since he came to Escanaba three years ago. The new firm does all kinds of repairing, horseshoeing, etc., and people who patronize them will not be dissatisfied.

It is Hartnett.

The question of who shall handle our correspondence and sell us postage stamps for the four years to come may be considered settled. Mr. Hartnett has received notice of his appointment and has replied, accepting, and (we understand) has filled and forwarded his bond. At any rate, enough has been done to make it certain that he is the person selected for the place and duty, and we congratulate him. The new man must be a democrat and John is that; he should be a business man and he is that; he should give the office his personal attention, and he will do that. "The field" loses.

Honor to Braastad.

Hon. Fred Braastad is a large shareholder in the Winthrop Mining Co., and when that company decided to suspend work because of the condition of the market for ore, he thought of the five hundred men who would be thrown out of employment and understood, in his own behalf, the responsibility from which the company shrank. He will operate the mine and provide for the employees until such time as the company can sell its ore and resume the management of the property. No wonder he is popular.

It Fights the Quarantine.

The Michigan State Board of Health has been cited to appear at Marquette on July 15th, before Judge Severens, of the United States court, to show cause why an injunction should not issue restraining the board from interfering with the emigrant traffic of the Minneapolis, St. Paul, and Sault Ste. Marie Railroad Company, at Sault Ste. Marie. The company insists that it is complying strictly with the National regulations, and that the board, in insisting upon state regulations, is discriminating to its prejudice.

STOVE WORKS COMING

LAND SECURED. CONTRACT SIGNED, AND PEOPLE APPEALED TO.

Mass Meeting Called for Monday Evening Next to Hear Particulars and Make Response to Appeal. Turn Out, All.

The Escanaba Metal Manufacturing Company is the style adopted by the gentlemen who propose to establish a manufactory here, and the enterprise is now fairly on foot. The land, a hundred and sixty acres owned by C. D. Johnson and lying in the southwest part of the city, has been secured and the parties purchasing it will give to the Escanaba Metal Manufacturing Co., ten acres for a site for their works. Then they will plat the rest and offer lots for sale (having first contracted with the Escanaba Metal Manufacturing Co. to erect buildings and employ men, a work entrusted to M. N. Jones and now in progress), and from the proceeds of such sales will pay to the Escanaba Metal Manufacturing Co., the bonus agreed upon and recoup themselves. Mayor Erickson will call a mass meeting at an early day (probably on Monday or Tuesday evening next) in order that the promoters of the plan may have an opportunity to explain it, in extenso, and the people a chance to ask questions, and pledge their support if they are satisfied. We have no doubt of the success of the plan; none that the proposed enterprise will prove a bonanza for the city; none that the people of the city will take the lots at the upset price; none that such purchases will prove good investments. Three hundred laborers in the new shops means an addition of not less than a thousand to the population of Escanaba; means a new suburb around the works; means other industries to follow this. Watch for the Mayor's call and be on hand; let us all pull together and make of Escanaba something else than a mere "railroad town;" it is time. Mr. Jones returned from Chicago day before yesterday having come to an agreement (with the parties there. The mass meeting is called for Monday evening next and if the public is content with the showing then made, and will take the lots, the deal goes. We regard it as a safe prediction to say that it will go.

A War Cloud.

Dispatches from St. Johns, Newfoundland, July 11, forecast a collision between a French warship and an English one on the west coast of that island. The trouble grows out of the refusal of the French fishermen of the west coast to pay duties on goods imported and the seizure by the colonial government of such goods and the sale thereof at auction. The commander of the French ship demanded the return of the goods and, that being refused, broke off friendly relations and sailed from St. Johns for Bonne Bay, where the goods were followed by the English ship. The French occupation of the west shore has long been a source of irritation and much anxiety is felt at St. Johns.

Manitou County Sued.

The county of Manitou, made up of the Beaver, Fox, Manitou and other islands, issued bonds to the amount of $2,500 six years ago to pay the county's operating expenses, which had fallen in arrears. The bonds were negotiated at Potoskey, and the bondholders thus far have been totally unable to gain any satisfaction, either on principal or interest, the scanty population proving total inability to pay. The bondholders have now begun suit in the United States court at Grand Rapids to collect. The suit is the only one of the kind ever brought against a Michigan county, and the trial will be highly interesting.

Brown, the Theosophist.

To-morrow evening the theosophist and mind reader who proposes to go underground for a month or so, just to prove that a Yankee can do anything which any mortal can, will give a lecture upon—well, we don't know what the lecture will be—and make an exhibition of his powers as a mind reader at Peterson's opera house. Those who have a taste for the occult and take a pleasure in being puzzled and astonished will do well to be there. Mr. Brown is a "mahatma," whatever that is, and may enter into "airvanna" from the stage.

They Want a School.

An effort is being made by the home-steaders in the northeastern part of the county to establish a school district, build a school house and employ a teacher. Nine sections in Nahma and Garden form the district, three in the former and six in the latter township. There are ten settlers within a radius of five miles, and fifteen children of school age.

Pay Your Dog Tax.

Marshal Ehnerd puts in his spare time, now-a-days, in gathering up dogs not properly ornamented, and when he has dealt with such dogs what remains is only fit for manures, he extracts the bark, and the frisk, and the wag of the tail; so that as dogs they are of no sort of account. Pay your tax and decorate Ponto with the city badge and he will be all right; neglect to do so and you'll lose him, sure.

Hoke-smith After the Veterans.

A score or more veterans of this vicinity, we need not name them, will be interested in the following announcement by the ex-rebel whom Grover has placed where he could do the most harm: "The pension bureau has notified pensioners throughout the entire country who are drawing pensions under the act of June 27th, 1890, known as the dependent pension act, that payment of their pensions will be suspended for sixty days, during which time they are required to show cause why they should continue to draw pensions. The testimony necessary to prevent their being dropped from the rolls is the certificate of a reputable physician, attested by two witnesses, to the effect that the pensioner is precluded from active labor owing to injuries or disabilities not the result of his own vicious habits.

In case no attention is paid to the department notification within sixty days the pensioner will be dropped from the rolls. On the other hand, should the necessary certificate, properly drawn and signed, be forwarded to the pension bureau, the pensioner will be requested to appear before the local board of medical examiners for examination as to his condition."

It comes to this; that the pensioner is to be got rid of, or if he makes an effort to save the pittance he has heretofore received, he is to be put to all the trouble possible. "Local boards" will be so constituted and so ruled that the chance for any pensioner under the "dependent" act will be reduced to a minimum. Oh, Hoke-smith is doing the work for which he was chosen.

The New Comet.

We do not suppose the comet now blazing in the northern heavens will wreck the earth but it may be well to "keep an eye on it" for comets don't run on any known time card. To do so it is necessary to find it and to that end one should look for it just below "the big dipper."

With an opera glass or even with the unaided eye, if it be a good one, it can be quite easily found, presenting the appearance of a hazy star to the naked eye, midway between the two pair of small stars under the dipper. An ordinary opera glass shows a pronounced nucleus, the bright envelope surrounding the nucleus and a tail three degrees long. The tail is straight and points towards the dipper.

Held For Trial.

From the Mining Journal of yesterday we clip the following:

"Casper C. Stephenson, until June 30 postmaster at Escanaba, was arraigned on a charge of embezzling postal funds. He pleaded not guilty and his case went over for the term under $3,000 bail. Mr. Stephenson denies that he was short and says that he had every dollar due the government and that every dollar was immediately paid over."

The business looks like persecution. As Cap. says, the U. S. has its money, every nickel; the postoffice is in other hands, and what wrong can be righted by this action it is hard to see.

Maguire Sherblow, Jr.

On Thursday last, after a long fight for life, Maguire Sherblow, Jr., who had grown from boyhood to manhood in our city, having come here with his parents when a lad of eight years (twenty-seven years ago), and who had among Escanaba only friends and in the world not an enemy, succumbed to the inevitable and passed to the world of shadows, at the age of almost thirty-five years. The funeral services were held at 9:00 this morning in St. Joseph's church, of which he was a member, and were numerous attended.

Special Excursion Rates.

The C. & N.W. Ry. company will sell special excursion tickets, Escanaba to Chicago and return, for $13.75 as follows: On Mondays, July 17th, 24th, 31st and August 7th. Tickets good to return only on first and second Fridays after the day of sale. Good in coaches and chair car but not in sleepers. 32

The Crop Report.

The crop report compiled in the office of the secretary of state shows the wheat crop to be, approximately, 21,000,000 bushels, a small yield. Corn is nearly a full crop, as also potatoes. Grass is in fine condition except in the northern counties. Apples only half a crop.

Police Court.

On Saturday last two more "Gose women" were brought before Justice Glaser and one, Tillie Johnson, was fined $28.70 and the other, Della Brown, was let off for $13.70. Keep 'em up, Mr. Marshal; it is good work. They will fit if they are fined often enough.

Cheap Books.

John B. Alden, 57 Rose St., New York, sends us a copy of his cheap edition of Uncle Tom's Cabin. He publishes none but good books—no trash—and he sells them, direct, at one fifth the ordinary prices. Send to him for a catalogue.

DEATH ON EITHER HAND

A DEATH TRAP AT THE WHITE CITY COSTS A SCORE OR MORE LIVES.

The Cold Storage Building Burns Monday and Twelve Firemen and as Many Guards and Employes Loss Their Lives.

At two p. m. on Monday last the building erected by the Hercules Iron Works Co., of Aurora, in the southwest corner of the White City and used as a skating rink and a cold storage warehouse was seen to be on fire. It had been on fire more than once before, and Fire Marshal Murphy had reported it unsafe and the underwriters had canceled their risks on it, but Murphy and his men thought they could save it, as they had on previous occasions, and went at the task. The building was of frame covered with staff, 150 by 255 feet in area, at each corner was what the guide book calls an "imposing tower," and in the center was another tower, 191 feet in height. This tower was used as a smoke stack, and in it the fire originated.

Upon reaching the scene Marshal Murphy at once had a ladder run up the side of the building, and he and his men were on the roof in an instant. He apprehended no trouble in extinguishing the fire, as a similar one had broken out in the same place about a month ago and was easily smothered. But this fire was different from that. It spread with alarming rapidity. It started in the tower near the top, and Marshal Murphy's version of the cause is the generally accepted one. It is that of a defective chimney. As he reached the roof, Marshal Murphy turned to his assistant, Captain Fitzpatrick, and said:

"Jim, go up to the tower with the men and take a hose with you. If anything happens, remember there are lifelines hanging on the west side of the tower."

"Pshaw" answered Captain Fitzpatrick. "we'll put it out just as we did the last one."

So up the ladder to the tower he went with thirteen men, little dreaming of the awful fate which awaited them.

Reaching a balcony a hundred feet above the roof of the building they went about their work and Capt. Fitzpatrick had just called to Marshal Murphy, who was on the roof below directing matters, to turn on 125-pound pressure, when, without a second's warning, a deafening explosion of the ammonia pipes was heard, the west side of the tower was blown out, and flames shot out in every direction.

It was the first premonition of danger the firemen had, and in less time than it takes to tell it the tower was a mass of flames, the doomed men huddled close together on the east ledge, with death of a most horrible kind staring them in the face.

A second later and a score of men had jumped from the tower to the roof below, a distance of 100 feet, only to crash through the burning timbers into a fiery pit beneath or to be mangled and bleeding on the sharp ledges of the roof. There was no possibility of escape by the lifelines, as they had caught fire and burned away as soon as the explosion occurred. It was a choice between death by jumping or death by burning, and the firemen chose the former. But the culminating agony was yet to come. While there were still one or two on the tower it commenced to totter. It broke in two as it settled, the top portion falling over toward the southwest, carrying down with it those poor fellows who remained, while the lower half came over in the opposite direction, hung a few moments and fell in, burying such of those who jumped as had not been dragged to the edge of the building by their companions.

The dead are Capt. James Fitzpatrick, Capt. James A. Garvey, Lt. Moulter, Lt. Friedman, Capt. Bert Page, Lt. Charles Parvis, John McBride, John Cahill, Paul Schroeder, Philip Breen, W. Denning, John A. Smith, R. A. Drummond, B. Murphy, John Campbell, and four Columbia guards whose names are not yet known.

It was a reckless thing to send the men upon that tower, not knowing where the fire was, and knowing, as Murphy did, that the building, and especially the tower, was a fire-trap, likely to be ablaze at any time and so flimsily put up that it would go like a paper structure as soon as the flames got hold of it.

Fire-chief Swenke says of it: "I never examined the building myself, but Marshal Murphy went all over it once or twice. It was all right with the exception of the chimney. This was built in the center of the tower in order evidently to make that as high as possible. The fatal defect about the chimney was that the woodwork of the tower was not adequately protected. The chimney should have been bricked up, but instead was left without any covering but wood. About the middle of June a fire started in about the same place as the one that did such destruction to-day. Then Marshal Murphy made a thorough inspection, and made a diagram of it which showed me that it was fatally defective. His report was sent to the department of works of the exposition with the request that the tower be adequately protected against fire. With that, of course, we had done all we could to remedy the defect. It is said that an insurance agent who had placed some insurance on the building, when he learned of the flimsy construction of the tower, canceled the policy at once."

The Insane Asylum.

The following communication needs no comment; it delivers its own message; we need but say that to get the institution we must be ready, when the board comes, to make a better showing than any other town:

*LANSING, July 7, 1893.—Dear Sir:—As you are aware, the legislature of 1893 provided for an asylum for the insane in the upper peninsula. The law provides, in a general way, as follows:

The State Board of Corrections and Charities was constituted a commission for selecting a site for such asylum. This commission was authorized to purchase or receive by donation, within six months, "in a healthy, easily accessible part of the upper peninsula of the state, as a site for the asylum, a tract of land containing not less than four hundred acres, which shall be capable of being easily supplied with a sufficient quantity of living water for all the purposes of such institution, and also to furnish proper facilities for drainage." After the selection and purchase of such site "the governor shall appoint five persons, who shall constitute a board of building commissioners, whose duty it shall be to procure and adopt plans, specifications and estimates for an asylum, and to erect and construct the same." The asylum must be built on the "cottage plan," and the entire cost, "when completely finished, roads, fences and out-buildings, shall not exceed the sum of $75,000," and for the purpose of carrying out the provisions of the act such sum ($75,000) was appropriated.

The boards receive no compensation for their services under this act, only their actual traveling expenses.

At a meeting of the Board of Corrections and Charities, held at its office in Lansing, July 6, it was determined to visit the upper peninsula for the purpose of selecting a site for this new asylum the second week in August. As yet only the cities of Sault Ste. Marie and Escanaba have filed applications for the institution, and the board has notified the county seats of each county that all places desiring to apply for the site must file a written application at its office in Lansing not later than August 1, 1893. As this law, and the action of this board thus far under it, are of particular interest to your people, the board has advised you at once, that you may impart the information, as you may deem best, through the columns of your valuable paper.

Very respectfully,
L. C. STORMS, Secretary.

Religion at the Polls.

We clip from the Menominee Herald: "Never in the history of Menominee was there ever witnessed such an intense interest in school matters as at the annual meeting this year. The meeting was called to take place at the High School building on Liberty street, but owing to the immense gathering of people it was deemed advisable to hold the meeting in Turner opera house in order to accommodate everybody. The building was filled. The immense attendance was occasioned by dragging religion into our common school affairs, and both Protestants and Catholics turned out en masse. Two directors were to be chosen in place of J. H. Walton and B. S. Waite whose terms expired on the day of the meeting. The Protestants renominated Walton and Waite, while the Catholics named John Heus and A. F. McGillis as their candidates, and the fight was on.

The polls opened promptly on time and remained in operation until 10:00 p. m. when the ballot-boxes were sealed and delivered into the hands of a committee of trustees who locked them up in a vault. The voting stood adjourned again until 9 o'clock yesterday morning when it was again resumed. The first day's votes numbered 1,488, and yesterday there were 1,464 more polled, making a total of 2,947. The polls closed at 10:30 last night, and it took until after 12 o'clock to canvass the vote. James H. Walton was re-elected by a majority of 183, and Byron S. Waite by a majority of 182."

To the credit of the Menominites it may be said that there was but little wrangling and an scrapping, a fact which was made possible by the presence and participation of the ladies; all the same it is to be regretted that the lines were drawn as they were. Mischief will come of it, sooner or later.

Never Heard of Him.

Dick Trevellick knows all about it, of course, and his plan is the old "land bank" scheme, exploded a century ago. Dick may never have heard of John Law, but he is punching John Law's old fallacy.

CAYLOR'S BALL GOSSIP.

An Exciting Summer Fight For the Pennant Predicted.

HOW THE COLLEGE PITCHERS FAIL.

A Season Against Professional Batemen Usually Brings a Reputation Won on the Campus—Twirlers Carter of the Yale and Winters of the Boston League Clubs.

The League season is quite young yet, and the common baseball saying goes, but there is promise of one of the most interesting all summer fights for the pennant ever known in the history of that body.

I have seen Anson and his men play, and I am convinced that his boasting is not entirely empty. He may not reach the front by the end of the season, but he is bound to cause many anxious looks over the shoulder of the part of the leaders in the race before the dog days come.

In the hands of any other captain the present Chicago team would remain near the tail end. As a team general Anson has no equal on the ball field, and there is no other captain who, professionally, is fit to tie his shoestrings.

Anson's handicap has been a failure of pitchers. Hutchison, his mainstay of late years, was just about ruined by those five added feet, and new "twirlers" had to be selected. It took time and cost money to round up a couple of pitchers who could do satisfactory work.

Anson is a fighter from Fightstown, and every man on his team must root and dig from "Ply ball" to "Game." In his mind a game is never lost till the last man goes out and is never won, even if 30 runs have been scored to the other side's 1.

They call him a kicker and all that, but I cannot suppress the feeling of admiration for him professionally that arises in me every time I see him directing his team in a game and watching every point of play as it arises.

As he entered the Polo grounds before his first game in New York I met Anson and said: "I have only one question to ask you, Mr. Anson, and you will kindly answer it with all the sincerity you give your answers in the catechism. Are you going to win the championship this year?"

Hutchison, by the way, is one of the few college pitchers who after graduation became prominent professionally. The Bostonians at one time under Harry Wright's management brought out a college phenomenon of the field name of "Josephs"—his real name being Borden, and, for all I know, a relative of the famous woman recently tried for murder at New Bedford.

Every inducement in the way of money was held out from time to time to such noted college pitchers as Avery, Ernest, Bickham and Staggs to fetch them into League teams, but none of them surrendered to the temptation of "big money" to play professionally, and it is not at all certain that they acted unwisely in staying out of the professional ranks.

At this time Carter of Yale is the pitching hero of the college teams. If he would consent to play professionally, he would command his own field salary for the summer season. The Bostonians would give him a bundle of money to join their pitching department. The New Yorks have just signed a college pitcher—a young man named Seth Sigby—who has done remarkably good work. It is said, for the Union college team. He's only 19 years old, but is a young giant in stature.

The Southern league is turning out some good players for the National league. Anson got his standby, Manck, from that section and has recently secured another pitcher, Sam Shaw, from the same place. His trip among the cities of the Southern circuit last spring gave him a chance to notice the good points of the various players of the southern teams.

Speaking of the Southern league suggests the thought that the rather violent way in which umpires were treated down there in the early spring has settled down into a more peaceable style, and the wave of madness seems to have swept northward. The National league "audiences" are becoming bolterous and in some cases demonstrative.

This spirit almost assumed the form of mob law in New York during the second New York-Chicago game recently. Umpire Hurst made several unfortunate decisions which affected both sides, and the 5,000 spectators began to abuse him from their places in the stand. After the game they broke over the inclosures into the field, surrounded him as he was going to the clubhouse and began to pelt him with various missiles. Finally the more respectable part of the crowd interfered, and Hurst escaped with a bruised mouth.

The statement that the Louisville club is willing to exchange Pfeffer for other players or to sell his release is a sensation in baseball circles. Pfeffer is dissatisfied, and the club could do no worse without him.

One of the largest horses to attain any degree of prominence lately is the Kansas bred stallion, Patsy Curtis, 2:16 1/2. As a 3-year-old he measured 16 1/2 hands over the withers and 17 1/2 hands over the hips. When measured as a 4-year-old, he was found to be 17 3/4 hands over the withers and 17 1/2 over the hips.

THE DETROIT ATHLETIC CLUB NINE.

An Amateur Ball Team That Plays a Very Strong Game.

One of the best baseball teams in America is the nine representing the Detroit Athletic club, and it most deservedly possesses a national reputation. In 1890 the Detroit club defeated all 4 teams in its section, winning the championship of the west, and then met and worsted the New Jersey Athletic club's nine, the eastern champions, in a stubborn contest for the championship of America.

JOSEPH WALSH.

In 1891 the Detroitists again won the western championship from the Michigan Athletic association and the Cleveland Athletic club. The New Jerseys also won the eastern, and on account of a quarrel the union championship went to the New Jerseys by default.

The regular players who occupy the "points" for Detroit are Codd and Walsh. Codd is equally at home as pitcher and outfielder, but he is particularly effective as a twirler. Cateber Walsh is a lawyer, and he makes out as good a case behind the bat as he does before the bar.

The Cup Defender Colonels. The Colonia is the first of the four would be Yankee cup defenders to be completed, and if she is the first to cross the line in her races with her three rivals she will be the yacht chosen to meet Lord Dunraven's Valkyrie and defend the America's cup.

The Colonia is the largest keel sloop ever built in America. She carries 50 tons of lead on her keel and will spread even a larger amount of sail than the Navahoe. She is said to quite closely resemble the Navahoe and the swift Wasp and will without doubt give a very good account of herself.

THE COLONIA.

The recent defeat John Roberts, the English billiard champion, received at the hands of Frank C. Ives, the American champion, has made Roberts more anxious to meet Americans and retrieve his fortunes. He is eager to get another match with Ives, and he will play Pool Champion De Oro a half English half American game in New York in July or October for $2,500 a side and half the gate money.

She Judges Dogs of High Degree. What Miss A. H. Whitney does not know about dogs would not fill a very large book. The American Manufacturer calls attention to some results of the proposed suspension of silver purchases not generally taken into consideration, and suggests: "For all practical uses except the simple one of paying a foreign adverse trade balance the silver dollar is to-day as good as the gold dollar. Would it not be wise then instead of blotting out the dollar to see first if we can't blot out the adverse trade balance? Wouldn't it be more to the credit and advancement of the nation to get rid of the adverse trade balance and secure a favorable one so that gold would flow to us instead of away from our shores? We could easily suggest a way to accomplish this. Don't buy so much abroad. Use more of our own products. There is a relation between this monetary question and the tariff that has been but little appreciated. We do not mean that silver and tariff are correlated but we do mean that the lack of confidence in the country and the disturbance of our monetary matters is largely due to the fear of a reduced tariff and an impending increase of an adverse trade balance." In this suggestion it hits the nail squarely on the head, too.

The midsummer Cosmopolitan, the first at the new price of 12 1/2 cents per copy, though unchanged in size, excels any other issue of that magazine in the number of its distinguished contributors, in the interest of its contents and in its overflowing illustrations by famous artists. Francois Coppee, William Dean Howells, Camille Flammarion, Andrew Lang, Frank Dempster Sherman, H. H. Boyesen, Charles DeKay, Thomas A. Janvier, Colonel Tillman, Agnes Repplier, and Gilbert Parker are a few of the names which appear on its title page. Three frontispieces, all by famous artists, furnish an unusual feature, and among the artists who contribute to the 119 illustrations adorning its pages, are Laurens, Reinhart, Penn, Toussaint, Stevens, Saunier, Fitter, Meaulle and Franzen. The midsummer number is intended to set the pace for the magazine at its new price of 12 1/2 cents a copy, or $1.50 a year. The magazine remains unchanged in size and each issue will be an advance upon its predecessors. Literally, every known country is being ransacked for material in the hope to bring The Cosmopolitan forward as the leading magazine in the world.

The gentlemen who compose the 53d congress, soon to assemble in special session, should understand that it is not so much "the silver question" that is disturbing the country as the fear of what they may do with the tariff. The platform of the democratic party declares the whole plan of protection unlawful, and the fear that the democratic congress will legislate in conformity with that declaration is what has paralyzed the industries of the country; that, and nothing else, has depressed the price of wool; that, and nothing else, has shut up the vaults of the banks and contracted the circulation of the country. If the 53d congress is wise enough to admit that all the "free-trade" talk of the campaign was but "for buncombe," the "hard times" will be over in a week. That, and only that, will give the country confidence and start again the currents of trade.

In many ways the United States have educated the world in politics, says London Truth, and I, for one, do not hesitate to say that their scheme of government is the best that has ever been established by a nation. But in nothing do we owe more to the Americans than for their having afforded us the great object-lesson of a state pursuing the even current of its way without that meddling in the affairs of other states which has been the bane of European powers. Here we have a country rich, powerful, industrial and commercial, yet never troubling itself with what happens outside its frontiers; or annexing foreign lands on the plea of philanthropy, or on the ground that in some centuries its area will be too small for its population, or in order to create markets for its goods. And what is the result? No one dreams of attacking the United States, or of picking a quarrel with them.

To be an American does not merely mean to be a citizen of one of the strongest, most productive, most potential and most prosperous of nations; above these things it means that one belongs to this one country of the earth that stands for the highest understanding of human liberty, the loftiest idea of religious freedom, the equal right of all men to achieve the best things of which they are capable; and it means also the spirit of chivalry that has enthroned woman the coequal heir of the age with man, and is opening such avenues of light and wisdom for human progress that America may be declared to be the gateway of the true and long dreamed of civilization.—American Economist.

It is an open question whether the 177

of South Carolina, which makes a state monopoly of the trade in liquors is not an effective temperance measure. We incline to the belief that it will prove such. It provides, in the first place, for the use of pure liquors only, it does away with "saloons" and "treaties," and yet provides that liquor for all proper or necessary purposes can be obtained readily, and in any desired quantity from half a pint to five gallons in a package. This is a strong, clear, and it may be a practicable way of dealing with drunkenness and inebriety.

An article in the July Scribner, on "The Prevention of Pauperism," does not mince words in commenting on the policy of European countries in regard to their human exports to the United States. "It is difficult," he says, "for Americans, in their magnanimity, to realize or fully believe, however realistic may be the story, that governments and other agencies in Europe have deliberately and successfully conducted their diseased, filthy, vicious, and criminal dregs of society, by ocean steamers as sewers, into cesspools made of the ports and towns of the United States. But such is the fact established by evidence convincing and cumulative." The worst of it all is that the stream America-ward shows no sign of drying up. Where is the Geary for this work?

Senator Chandler having said that the "distrust and apprehension" of the people arises not from the operation of the Sherman law "but solely and entirely from the election of Grover Cleveland and a majority of the two Houses of Congress upon a platform and a pledge that the McKinley act shall be repealed, and that all laws for the protection of American industries against foreign competition shall be deemed unconstitutional and be revoked and annulled," the Free Press has no better reply than to say that the senator was drunk. That's about the style of democratic argument, though.

President Curry, of the Metropolitan L. & I. Co., explains that its mining operation are suspended not because they could not sell ore, but simply because they could not realize of it when they had sold it. It has always been the custom to sell ore on twelve months paper and in former years our mining companies have always been able to negotiate the paper and use the money to continue operations, but the present stringency has made it impossible to negotiate the finest gilt edged paper in the land.

Nobody will find fault with Hokesmith for bouncing a fraud if he finds one; what we kick at is his cool assumption that all (republican) pensioners are frauds and his high-handed acts based on that assumption. It is a wasted kick, though; he knows why he was made secretary of the interior, and he is but earning his stipend. The invalid at Gray Gables is the responsible party.

If the crazy populists who, in convention at Denver, threatened another rebellion and the establishment of a "Western Empire," have any idea that their vapors carry weight, with anybody, we can tell them that their "trolley's off." They are but an insignificant fraction of the U. S. and if they make too much fuss, and insist on being spanked, Uncle Sam will have to spank 'em.

The society of Christian Endeavor held convention in Montreal last week. Out of the mass of verbiage then and there voided we pick this nugget of the gold of truth: "Christians in every town are divided into a dozen feeble sects, struggling often not so much against sin as against each other."

Among the deaths by typhoid fever at Ironwood was that of W. H. Knight, the father of J. B. Knight, of the Norway Current, at the age of sixty-nine years. He had been a resident of this peninsula forty-three years.

John Sherman is hot. Of one Platt, who accuses him of fraud in the passage of the act of 1873 by which the coinage of the silver dollar was suspended he says: "That man ought to be hanged; he knows he is lying."

New plans for making a dollar are not needed; the old plan, putting a dollar's worth of gold or a dollar's worth of silver into each metallic dollar, is all that we need; the paper tokens will take care of themselves.

The Free Press calls Don M. "unquestionably the greatest lawyer in Michigan," which is rough on such democrats as Lathrop, and others who were eminent lawyers before Don M. was heard of.

The tale is now told that Prince George, of England, was already a husband, and the father of two children when he was married, last week, to the Princess May. Nice lot, those Guelphs.

The prospect of the repeal of the "Sherman law" is not as bright as it was. The free-silver men are over their scare and will make a big fight.

Gen. Alger is out with a contradiction. He did not say that the administration was "all right" on the pension business. Talking is all done and the arbitrators have the full case of the seal business before them.

JOHN P. ALTGELD.

He was born in Germany but came to our country in 1848, when only a year old. He was sixteen years old when he enlisted in the Union Army. Afterwards he worked on farms in Kansas and Missouri. He all this time steadily pushed his studies and was admitted to the bar in 1872 and soon became a successful lawyer, and finally was elected one of the judges of the superior court a position he resigned to devote himself to his large interests in real estate. Governor Altgeld's action in pardoning the Chicago anarchists, convicted of complicity in the Haymarket riot, has evoked universal astonishment. It is asserted by many that that pardon is the outcome of an ante-election deal.

Groceries. In Unity is Strength

First class groceries, fresh, at low prices, combined with an increasing trade, speaks the voice of the people. Pleased with our goods? Certainly. Why not? They come direct from the factories, vineyard, plantation and farm. Procrastination is the thief of time. Do not delay. Come at once and see what I have to offer in the way of bananas from the tropics; lemons from the shores of the Mediterranean; oranges from California's sunny clime; teas that are strictly oriental, and most delicious; and coffees, that beverage which makes the morning meal a delightful repast, I have a fine assortment. Failures are on every hand, ruining thousands. Be sure you give our bank, Merrill's grocery, a sixty day run. It will be impossible for you to fail. We have a generous supply, enough to supply all elements.

Frank H. Atkins & Co. The Old and Reliable GROCERY HOUSE.

FRANK H. ATKINS & CO. 402-404 Ludington Street, Escanaba.

We wish to announce to our many patrons that we are prepared to give closer prices and better values than any other grocery firm in Escanaba. All we ask is that you call and see what we can do for you.

TEAS: We handle all grades, and offer special prices in five and ten pound lots. A trial will convince you that our teas are exactly as represented.

COFFEES: The market has ruled strong and shows a marked advance over last weeks. But we purchased large lots when prices ruled much lower than at present and consequently can make prices that will suit. We propose to give our patrons the benefit of our foresightedness, and will do it.

SUGARS: We do not sell below cost and make good the loss by overcharging you for some other article, but we get only a living profit, and you get 16 oz. to the pound.

SPICES: In this line we handle the best goods that money will buy and sell them at prices you generally pay for inferior grades. Every housekeeper should try them.

CANNED GOODS are to be found in great variety. Our stock is unquestionably the best in the city, taking quality into account. Having purchased a large stock of Standard canned corn and tomatoes we have special drives to offer, and invite you to get prices.

BARGAINS In every department. We have just received a large invoice of shore mess mackerel at 12 1-2 cents each. Other dealers ask 20 cents for similar quality. We offer many other goods too numerous to mention at equally low prices. . . .

People who are in the habit of sending outside for goods would prefer to leave their money at home, we know, could they do as well. Come and see us with the cash, and buy in the same quantity and we will match price and quality.

Frank H. Atkins & Co.

FRANK H. ATKINS & CO. Grocery and China Department.

Never was our China and Crockery Department so complete as now. It will pay you to see what we have to offer before you buy an article elsewhere. We extend a cordial invitation to all to call and look over our stock. We are only too willing to show good and quote prices.

...We Make Better Prices...

Taking quality into consideration, than can be had in Chicago or Milwaukee. These are facts susceptible of the fullest demonstration. We buy direct and make our own importations, and positively sell at less profit.

That Branch to Connect Us With the Soo Road Under Consideration. Excursion From Garden. Bus Men Fighting.

The Welcome proposes an excursion, Garden to Escanaba, soon-date not yet fixed, but probably about the 23d-arriving on her usual time and lying here until six p. m. The "Jag Cure" Law Repealed. The following communication is evidence, to the point, that the law enacted by our last legislature providing the alternative of "treatment" or imprisonment for drunkards finds no more favor in the respectable "cures" than in this office.

EDITOR IRON PORT, Escanaba, Mich. Dear Sir-My attention has been called to your comment in issue of July 8th on the so-called "jag cure" law of this state. In justice to all concerned I wish to state that I think the views expressed by you in that and former articles on the subject, entirely correct. It is a fact well known to us that we cannot effect good results on a person who is forced by any other reason than self-respect to take treatment for the disease.

It is not expected in other diseases, then why in this? Ours is a medical treatment and must have the aid of the patient to effect a perfect cure. That I have opposed the law from its inception is a fact well known to many people in this and other states. Not only on the grounds named by you but also from the belief which has been gained by nearly two years experience in the work, that there is no worthy person who sincerely desires to be cured of the disease but the way will be opened to them without the aid of public charity or criminal laws. And as an earnest wish to be cured is the first requisite of success toward the attainment of restored manhood, I believe all legislation in the direction indicated to be based on selfish motives rather than public good. In proof of this I will state that the chief influence exerted toward the passage of the law was by a state senator who was and I believe is now a

RAPID RIVER.

We have still three citizens who are keeping pools for the propagation of cholera. Health Officer H. W. Cole in his gentlemanly way has several times called their attention to these nuisances and it must be that the proud owners of these stench-holes have extremely thick skulls and defective noses or else they cannot read the columns of The Iron Port. You need not leave the sidewalk any still evening to scent out these interesting centers.

Dr. H. F. Ames, formerly of this place but for the past two years of Crystal Falls, visited here Saturday and Sunday. He has just been spending a couple of months on the Mesaba range and says the Crystal Fall mines can never possibly open again owing to low grade of ores and expensive mining. The doctor contemplates removing to Rapid River. He says our outlook is as bright as any of 'em.

ping in price had some at a time when the wool dealers had no large stocks on hand upon which to suffer serious shrinkage in value. The losses were, therefore, not as great as they might have been had the depression come at any other season. While the removal of the duty upon wool would not in the present condition of the market effect so serious a change as it might have done earlier, still in its after result it could not do otherwise than put an end to the raising of sheep for their wool on our great Western plains. There would undoubtedly be, of course, a demand for mutton, but the revenue from that source is of very little account as taken in comparison with the present magnitude of the sheep-growing industry throughout the West. With the cheaper Australian, South American, and African wools admitted free of duty, our farmers could not hope to compete, and their business must practically cease. The outlook is, therefore, far from encouraging for them.

Resolution of Condolence.

At the regular meeting of the Woman's Relief Corps, No. 224, held in the G. A. R. We, the members of the Woman's Relief Corps, having learned that our sister and fellow member, Mrs. Solomon Greenhoot, has been called to pass through deep waters of affliction in losing her darling boy, desire to express our heartfelt sympathy with her in this sore trial, and we hasten to assure her that the bond which unites us as fellow workers, draws our hearts around her in this hour of affliction. We trust that her fortitude is unshaken and her faith in the Divine wisdom her unfeeling support.

stockholder in one of the so-called cures in this state. As I have earnestly opposed this law as before stated, believing it to be an injury to the cause of practical temperance as well as ourselves, I wish to protest against any share of the odium that is justly attached to its passage or attempted enforcement. I have foreseen from the first that such a law would do great harm rather than good, as I believe there is nothing more visionary and mistaken than the attempt to legislate a person once diseased into habits of temperance; and I have also believed that it would be an injury to ourselves as well as the public good, as it would alienate the friendship of many who are now firm friends to the fallen as well as to our work.

In conclusion I wish to state that we do not desire the patronage of any person who is forced by legal methods, against his wishes, to be cured as the result can only be of no benefit to himself but a loss to the public and a source of discouragement to thousands who desire to lead a better life and are deterred by the example of those who have no such ambition.

Trusting that you will kindly publish this in your highly esteemed paper, that our position may be clearly understood, I am, with kind regards,

A member of one of the oldest wool houses in Boston, speaking of the depression in the wool trade, says: "The price of American wools to-day is practically upon a free-wool basis. There has been a very marked drop because the wool growers found themselves unable to sell. This was due primarily to the falling off in the demands of the woolen manufacturers, because of the uncertainty concerning the action of Congress on the tariff, but now the difficulty is the stringency in the money market. With that removed by the repeal of the silver act and the stopping of the further purchase of bullion the existing depression will be relieved materially."

He did not look for any disastrous failure in the trade; first, because the business here had been conducted very conservatively and second, because the dep-

The ladies of the National Mary Washington Memorial Association have awarded the contract for the beautiful monument which they intend erecting over the grave of the mother of George Washington at Fredericksburg, Va. A model of the monument is now on exhibition in the Women's building at the World's fair, where it was the first exhibit installed.

The monument is to be a granite monolith 40 feet in height upon a base 10 feet high, making an extreme elevation of 50 feet. Upon the rising ground where the grave is situated this will be a very conspicuous object, and it cannot any too soon take the place of the mass of broken stone which is all that remains of the marble monument begun half a century ago, which is today rather a monument of blasted hope and fruitless endeavor than the memorial it was intended to be.

THE COLUMBIAN PIER.

Many people think that the best place from which to get a general view of the World's fair is the Columbian pier, which stretches out for half a mile into the lake directly in front of the Casino.

THE PIER AS SEEN FROM THE PERISTYLE.

For instance, as seen from the top of the peristyle, whence a birdseye view gives one a better idea of its magnificent proportions, and it is a delightfully cool place in hot weather. In the foreground, as seen from the pier, are the great Manufacturers and Liberal Arts building, Music hall, the peristyle and the Casino, Agricultural hall and the Forestry building.

The pier itself is a great curiosity. Especially curious is the moving sidewalk built upon flat cars, forming an endless train 4,800 feet long and propelled by 10 ordinary electric car motors, the wires and trolleys being under the track.

Bare marbles and other stones are here too. An elaborately carved shrine of colored marble in the central court is one of the first things to attract attention. Buddha is generally in the stereotyped cross-legged attitude supposed to represent contemplation and Krishna seated on the entwined bodies of his milkmaids.

There is a complete collection of the arms and armor of every nation in India—target, battle-axe, swords and knives—and in one corner is an antique breech-loading cannon from Hyderabad, said to be 400 years old.

THE SIGHTS OF CHICAGO.

Points of Interest to Visitors in the World's Fair City.

Most people who have never before visited Chicago will find that one of the most interesting World's fair exhibits is the city in which the fair is held. Chicago is celebrated for tall buildings, and they will probably first attract the attention of the tourist. The Masonic temple, at the corner of State and Randolph streets, is perhaps the best for a birdseye view of the city, though from the tower of the Auditorium a good view of the city can be had, and on a clear day the Indiana and Michigan shores can be seen across the lake.

WOMAN'S TEMPLE.

The Woman's temple, too, the home of the National W. C. T. U., at La Salle and Monroe streets, ought to be visited, and the new Art institute of course everybody must see, since it is a sort of adjunct to the fair. It will be found on the lake front at the foot of Adams street and is a magnificent stone structure. It cost something like $600,000. Then there is the Armour institute, of which Chicago is very proud, and the Chicago university.

But the parks are what most people want to know about and what everybody should make an effort to see. Lincoln park, the oldest of them all and the most interesting, if we forget Jackson park and the White City for awhile, stretches along the lake front 2 1/2 miles on the north side of the city. It contains about 250 acres, and most of the fine statuary that Chicago has to display has been located there.

Jackson and Washington parks are on the South Side, and on the West Side is Garfield park. Douglas and Humboldt parks are located southwest and northwest respectively. The parks are connected by five boulevards. The lake shore drive on the north side is probably the grandest of the lot, but the Ashland boulevard on the West Side and the Michigan on the South Side are surpassingly beautiful residence avenues, though the Drexel and Grand boulevards have better arbor displays.

World's Fair Factions.

Fakirs of every description have pitched their tents outside the gates of Jackson park and do a flourishing business beguiling gold from the pockets of the unsophisticated. One of the most brazen schemes that has been put into operation is called "running through the battery."
