> become a martyr to the cause. John J. Sourwine, chairman of the democratic county committee, called the convention to order at 10:15 and read the call, which provided for the nomination of a county ticket to consist of a judge of probate, county clerk and register of deeds, county treasurer, prosecuting attorney, two circuit court commissioners, county surveyor and two coroners, and such other business as might properly come before the meeting.

name was the nominee for surveyor.

The first official act of the convention was the selection of John M. Millar of this city as temporary chairman, and upon his taking the chair J. H. LeClaire of Rapid River was chosen as temporary secretary. A motion was put and carried authorizing the chair to appoint the customary three committees, and Mr. Millar named the following gentlemen to serve: Committee on credentials: George Hodges, J. H. Le Claire and Joseph Paulin; Permanent organization and order of business, Daniel Kelly, John Sullivan and Phil Labre; Resolutions, Peter Semer, I. G. Champion and J. H. Clancy. At the conclusion of these appointments the convention adjourned until 2 p. m. in order to give the committees an opportunity to prepare their reports. The afternoon session opened promply at 2 o'clock, and the first Are almost giving away. Just ousiness attended to was the hearing of the reports of the various committake a peep at their show wintees. The report of the committee dow and see how nice a shoe on oredentials, read by Chairman George Hodges, was as follows:

as tellers and the administration of the oath of office to the organization by City Attorney J. H. Clancy, after which Chairman Millar announced that the convention was ready to proceed with the nominations. That everything pertaining to the convention had been "cut and dried" previously was evidenced from the very start. Every nomination that was made had been provided for by the caucus of local delegates on the night before and the convention itself was simply a matter of form. The call for candidates for the office of Judge of Probate elicited the name of John P. McColl, presented by John Semer. With his mind evidently 564 patients were enrolled at the fixed upon the slate, Chairman Millar at once arose to his feet and put the nomination before the convention, with the result that it was railroaded through before there was any possible chance for the presentation. of any other possible candidates. C. D. McEwen arose from his seat in the audience to object to the form of Mr McColl's nomination, whereupon a motion was put and carried authorizing the secretary to cast the entire vote of the convention for the nominee, which was done.

The next nomination was for sheriff and the only name presented was that of Gust Johnson of Gladstone. In offering Mr. Johnson, I. G. Champion, of the same city, took occasion to dwell at some length upon the nationality of the candidate as an important consideration in view of the hope which his party had of influencing the Scandinavian voters of the county to support their ticket on his account. August Beestrom seconded the nomination in a few words of praise for the candidate and for a second time the secretary was authorized to cast the vote.

The first contest of the convention came with the selection of a man for county clerk and register of deeds. The name of Joseph Wickert was presented by Daniel Kelly and that of J. J. Cooney by Fred Hess. However; Mr. Cooney's attempt to break the combination was a weak one and it was plainly evident that he had not been a member of Sunday night's caucus. The informal ballot gave Wickert 13, Cooney 3 and 1 blank vote. Bradley of Gladstone came in at this point with a proposition to cut Cooney out by casting the entire vote for Wickert, but it failed, and a econd ballot was taken, resulting in Wickert being nominated by a vote of 15 to Cooney's 2.

000 addition to the south end of tai at that time. e main structure and on November is) the twelve private wards in this wing will be ready for occupancy, thus giving the institution a capacity of from 65 to 75 patients, and having two operating rooms equipped with the most modern surgical and hygenic appliances. The advance in the price of tickets from $5 to $7 at the begining of last year gave the bospital something like $2,500 additional for operating expenses and thus overcome the deficit which heretofore has averaged between $1,500 $2,000 annually. During the year just ended a total of hospital, being an increase of 37 over the number treated during the preceeding twelve months. Many applications for private rooms were relected during the year owing to the ack of accommodations, and thus quite an amount of revenue was lost. This however will not be the case in the succeeding year, as the addition of the twelve private rooms just completed will, it is believed, supply all demands made upon the institution during the next four years at least and the money received from these rooms will soon place the hospital beyond the pale of want and eventually give it a neat little surplus to fall back on in case of need. With the new addition, the bospital now comprises five public wards, eighteen private rooms, two operating rooms, morgue, two dining rooms, kitchen, laundry, cold storage, dry room, sewing room, an elevator, and the private apartments of the sisters, occupying the entire third floor and consisting of a chapel and six sleeping rooms. Occupying an entire block, facing on Fannie street from Fourth to Fifth, the hospital has a broad expanse of lawn that is well supplied with shade trees and adds much to the home-likeness of the institution. The use of what is known as "special request" envelopes, on which the postoflice department prints the purchaser's return address free of charge, has increased over 15 per cent over the previous year, the total number issued being nearly 450,000,000. The use of the stamped envelopes is confined largely to business concerns, and the immense increase is especially significant of the increase of business correspondence.

Never before in the history of presidential campaigns have the supporters of a candidate been asked to believe that the platform means the reverse of what it says. The demo crats argue that Bryan will not do Bryan's plan of dealing with trusts, anything to advance the cause of silver, as he has promised to do. They are also being convinced that he Philippines as he has promised. Such an anomalous condition should not beget confidence.

Gus Johnston, with whom the democrats hope to get the Scandinavian vote of the county for their ticket, will find when the ballots are counted on the evening of November 6th, that his popularity among his countrymen is of a somewhat different nature than he supposed.

The democratic campaign managers should not figure on carrying Masonville township for their ticket simply because they have a party newspaper located there. In 1896 Bryan received only thirty of the four hundred votes cast in that township.

Let us see. A few months ago, speaking at the Chicago antitrust conference, Mr. Bryan said: "I believe Congress has, or should have, the power to place restrictions and limitations, even to the point of prohibition, upon any corporation organized in one State that wants to do business outside of the State. I am in favor of an amendment to the Constitution that will give to Con gress power to destroy every trust

"To lodge in Congress the power to define, regulate, control, prohibit or would not retire the army from the dissolve trusts, monopolies or combinations."

THE NEW HIGH SCHOOL.

The Addition to Franklin Building Now Fully Completed.

The new addition to the Franklin school building was opened to the classes for whose accommodation it was built last Monday. It consists of five rooms, four of which are now being used, and the fitth, a basement of Ishpeming, was celebrated at St. Mrs. John Barras. Joseph's church Wednesday morning Thomas and Larry Tormey, bro-at 7 o'clock, in the presence of a there of Mrs. William Dillon, the latbuildings of its kind in this portion

The estimated cost of the addition together, with its furnishings, is $14,000 and with from $2,000 to $2,500 for the improvements upon the old building makes a total of between $16,000 and $17,000 which has been put upon this one school during the past summer. The principal room in the new addition is that on the second floor devoted to the high-school. combined purpose of school room and assembly hall, where school entertainments and lectures may be given when so desired. It has a large seat-Mr. and Mrs. John McGuire are ing capacity and at the south end is provided with a commodious stage, which is also used as a recitation room. The room is lighted by eight large double windows aside from those on the stage, and its walls, like those throughout the new addition, are plastered with adamanta

The first-floor of the new addition is divided into two class rooms and the necessary halls and coat rooms, while on the basement floor is the Dr. O. E. Youngquist returned superintendent's office, book-keeping Thursday from a week's visit at Grand | and stenography recitation room and Rapids, where his aged father is lying the one unused room previously menpuite low as the result of a slight tioned. Another improvement which has been made in the basement is theaddition of a second boiler for heating purposes which may be used jointly with the old boiler or each separately as occasion demands. Throughout the halls of the old entire building new hardwood floors have been laid, a new roof replaces the old one and the outer walls have all been painted and new cement walks are being laid

The present arrangement of the Franklin or high school, as it is commonly called, gives two recitation and tained the Escanaba Octette and a one spare room in the basement, six small party of friends at their home junior class rooms on the first floor and the high school with four other Ed. now wander helpless and hopeless until strength fails and the jackal finds his swful feast. The outlook for the next few months is gloomy. Rains have come three weeks late. Many farmers are without seed. Their work cattle have perished. The men themselves, enfected by starvation, cannot properly prepare the soil. The au-tumn harvest will be inferior. Till these are gathered there can be no essential improvement in the situation. Clothing and shelter are urgently needed. Tens of thousands of orphaned deserted children must be cared for. Yet the situation is not without favorable conditions. The greater part of India has been blest with rain, and the fields have yielded plentifully. Consequently there is a supply of the cheap, nutritious food grains on which the common people subsist, and those grains are poured into the famine district like a mighty river. Since last October more than three billion pounds of millet and rice and kindred grains have come in by way of Bombay alone, and not a bushel of wheat ex-ported. Changing of Name, Makes No Difference to Scandinavians,

MEMBER SAY IT'S POPPY-GOGK

If Re-organization is Not Effecte Before Election It Will be Done Later in Order to Join the League.

The political tricksters who have been at work during the present campaign, stirring up dissensions in the ranks of the republican party, succeeded by a ruse in changing the name of the Scandinavian Republi can club to that of the Scandinayian Independent club at its meeting in North Star hall last Sunday_afternoon.

The local democratic newspaper and some of the leaders of that party are pretending to feel jubliant over this change of name, claiming that it bespeaks a concerted movement on the part of the Swedish republicans of the city to bolt the county ticket and support the democratic nominees. The facts of the matter are that the change of its name does not make one iota of difference in either the politics or purpose of the club, except that in its present form it can not hope to become affiliated with the upper peninsula league of Scandinavian republican clubs as had been intended by its organizers.

The change of name was accomplished by a handful of disgrunted members, who, by keeping their intentions secret, were enabled to secure a majority and carry the meeting by storm. In speaking of the meeting to a representative of The Iron Port, Secretary Igglestrom said: "It is all poppy-cock. The changing of the name was accomplished by a few hotheads who took us by surprise and the only thing they have accomplished is to prevent our joining the Upper Peninsula Scandinavian Republican League. We are still republicans and if the club's name is not again changed before election, you can say that it will be reorganized immediately after as a republican club so we can become identified with

This statement expresses the sentiment of a large majority of the Scandinavian voters of the city. By nature they are republicans and while it can not be denied that there are some hard feelings over the defeat of their candidate in the county convention, and that there will probably be some scratching of tickets as a result, still the Scandinavians of Escanaba are republicant in this campaign as in all others and few, if any of them, will fail to vote the ticket straight when they go to the poles on November 6.

The explanation for this rather peculiar condition of affairs is given by County School Commissioner Legg as follows: The Godin district is not a thickly settled one, but the people residing therein do not want to lose their school and in order to keep the organization perfect, prefer to spend the $30 month rather than to have the one scholar sent away and thus be forced to abandon their school. The present term is an exception to the rule, even in the Godin district, as there are usually from four to six, and even more pupils in the district.
