REICHSTAG IS PREPARED FOR FINAL BALLOT

MAJORITIES TO BE FORTHCOMING, BELIEF.

(By The Associated Press.) Berlin, Aug. 28.—Seven hours of acrimonious and partisan debate in the reichstag concluded the third reading of the bills relating to the London reparation agreement today after which it was decided to take the final vote at noon Friday.

The government is assured of the ordinary majority for the banking and industrial debenture bills, which suffices for both these measures, and it is believed that the necessary two-thirds majority for the railway bill is also assured.

American Aviators Won't Leave Today; Storms Are Cause

(By The Associated Press.) On Board The USS Richmond At Ice Tickle, Labrador, Aug. 28.—Postponement of the flight of the American air world fliers from Iqviut, Greenland, to Indian Harbor, Labrador, until Saturday, was definitely decided today because of the continuing stormy weather.

The gale which had raged throughout Wednesday off Ice Tickle, had decreased this morning and the rising barometer seemed to promise a possibility of the fliers continuing their air voyage from Iqviut to Labrador tomorrow in accordance with the pre-arranged schedule.

During the day, however, the cruiser, Milwaukee, which is stationed off Iqviut, reported that the storm which had been moving up the coast for several days, affecting the Labrador side of Davis Straits, had reached the Greenland shore during the night and that the wind was blowing with some severity.

Negro Murderer Is Shot Down by Posse in Battle

(By The Associated Press.) Shreveport, La., Aug. 28.—Johnny Williams, negro, 18, slayer of Deputy Sheriff Tom Gentry, was killed by a posse of several hundred men at Kurthwood, La., scene of the shooting of the officer, at 7:30 o'clock tonight when he emerged from his hiding place, pistol in hand, and started firing at the crowd of pursuers.

The posse returned the fire and Williams fell dead. Williams shot Deputy Sheriff Gentry last night when the officer attempted to arrest him on a charge of shooting with intent to kill. Gentry died of his wounds in a hospital at Alexandria, La., today.

The mother of the negro was killed by a bullet fired by Gentry after he had fallen, fatally wounded. The woman got in front of her son to shield him from the shot. Williams escaped.

Fahy Transferred to Woodstock Jail

(By The Associated Press.) Chicago, Aug. 28.—William Fahy, postal inspector, held under $50,000 bond on a warrant charging complicity in the $2,000,000 mail robbery at Rondout, Ill., recently, was transferred from the Geneva jail to the county jail at Woodstock, Ill., late today.

The former "ace" of the Chicago force of inspectors asserted that every action noted as suspicious by the inspectors who brought about his arrest had been a step toward solving the Rondout robbery.

William J. Roberts, deputy United States marshal, was ordered confined to his office temporarily late today while his alleged-part in assisting Mrs. Fahy in leaving her residence yesterday, was investigated. It was said that he had been identified as the man who was with Mrs. Fahy when she left her home with a package of papers. Her whereabouts is unknown.

Love Will Not Support Woman In Texas Race

(By The Associated Press.) Dallas, Tex., Aug. 28.—Announcement that he would not support the candidacy of Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson, of Temple, for the governorship of Texas, and that he had forwarded his resignation as Democratic national executive committee member for Texas to Clem L. Shaver, the national chairman, was made here this afternoon by Thomas B. Love, of Dallas. Mr. Love was elected national committee member at the state Democratic convention held in Waco recently.

PLAN TO PROBE CASE OF FIRPO

Violation Of Immigration Laws Charged By Rev. Chase.

(By The Associated Press.) Washington, Aug. 28.—Commissioner Curran of Immigration at the port of New York was ordered by the labor department today to investigate charges that Luis Angel Firpo, Argentine heavyweight, had violated the immigration laws a year ago in connection with the entry into the United States of Miss Blacka Picart.

The order was sent after Reverend William Sheafe Chase of New York had presented affidavits to the immigration bureau in support of his charges against Firpo involving the immigration law.

Commissioner Curran was instructed to ask for a warrant for Firpo's arrest in case his investigations showed the charges to be well founded.

Arrested Recently. Firpo was recently arrested in New York on a warrant issued at the request of the Rev. Mr. Chase charging perjury in connection with his recent entry into this country. The charge was made that Miss Picart was being brought here by Firpo at that time in violation of the immigration laws but Firpo, in answer to questions of immigration inspectors, denied having known Miss Picart in any but a casual way.

The charges which Canon Chase, who is president of the New York Civic League, submitted to Secretary Davis, relate to the presence in this country of Miss Picart during Firpo's visit here last year for his championship fight with Jack Dempsey. The young woman also arrived on the steamship which brought Firpo to this country several weeks ago for his fight with Harry Wills next month, but did not enter the country. She was said to have taken a steamer for Cuba.

Shortage Found in Grand Rapids Bank

Grand Rapids, Mich., Aug. 28.—State bank examiners today continued their examination into the shortage uncovered at the Division Avenue branch of the Commercial Savings Bank. They will complete their work in about a week and their report will determine the action bank officials will take. The manager and teller have been suspended pending the investigation.

CORONER WILL CONDUCT PROBE IN JAIL BLAST

New Order Is Issued By Commissioner On Storing Liquor.

(By The Associated Press.) Detroit, Aug. 28.—As a result of his investigation into the rum blast in the Vinewood Avenue police station which cost two lives and seriously injured 10 others, Police Commissioner Frank Croul today issued an order forbidding the storing of confiscated liquor and other inflammable liquids in police stations.

The commissioner ordered that each day's confiscated liquor be taken daily to the nearest city dump, and there destroyed by men appointed from the force for that purpose.

Dr. James E. Burgess, coroner, declared he will demand an instant and thorough investigation into the explosion. He will hold an inquest early next week, giving time for his investigators to turn in their reports.

Statements were made to the police commissioner by Patrolmen H. E. Murrill and Simon Houlahan, who were in charge of dumping the liquor. They stated that neither of them was smoking. Lieutenant Charles Frulip, of the Vinewood station, was in the rear yard when the explosion took place and broke in the rear windows trying to wrench the bars out of place to free the prisoners trapped in the flames.

In his report to Commissioner Croul, Detective George W. Smith of the arson squad declared that he believed that a match or a lighted cigar or cigarette was the cause of the explosion.

Witnesses Do Not Tell Same Stories

(By The Associated Press.) Detroit, Aug. 28.—Conflicting evidence of witnesses for the prosecution in the blind pig cases being heard in Magistrate W. E. Gundy's court in Windsor, Ont., caused Magistrate Gundy to agree today to the suggestion of J. C. Makins, special crown prosecutor, that the court be adjourned for a week pending instructions from William F. Nickle, attorney general of Ontario, as to the remainder of the cases to be heard.

The cases are a part of the 100 resulting from raids on alleged blind pigs in the border cities. Only one conviction has been obtained in the 20 cases already tried. That one will be appealed, it is said.

Senator Glass Is Confined to Bed

Lynchburg, Va., Aug. 28.—Senator Carter Glass is confined to his bed at his country home, Montview Farms, near here, suffering with erysipelas. His physician stated today that it would be several weeks before he would be able to attend to any business or political matters. Recently, the Virginia senator was advised to take a complete rest at his home, but it was said at the time he would require seclusion for only a few weeks, and that he would be able to assume an active speaking part for the Democratic party in the presidential campaign.

Pere Marquette Road Enters Merger

NICKEL PLATE CONSOLIDATION TAKING SHAPE

SYSTEM WILL HAVE HUGE TRACKAGE TOTAL SOON.

(By The Associated Press.) Cleveland, O., Aug. 28.—A greater Nickel Plate Railway system with 9,000 miles of roadway connecting tidewater and Great Lakes and reaching into Canada and as far southwest as St. Louis, was made possible today by approval of the Pere Marquette Railway directors of the merger with Nickel Plate and affiliated lines. The various properties are estimated to exceed an investment of $1,051,000,000.

This, the second large consolidation effected by O. P. and M. J. Van Sweringen, of Cleveland, since they acquired control of the Nickel Plate in 1916, is the first great grouping of rail lines to approach the scope of such systems as have been suggested under the recommendations of the transportation act of 1920. It constitutes the greatest realignment of railroads in more than two decades according to the Van Sweringens associates.

The action of the Pere Marquette directors closely follows similar action by the Erie and provides for a system with a total trackage, including sidings, of 16,000 miles. Through the Pere Marquette, the greater system will extend 337 miles into Canada.

Early Consolidation. Last year the Van Sweringens consolidated the Nickel Plate, Toledo, St. Louis and Western (Cleveland) and Lake Erie and Western, shortly afterward acquiring control of the Chesapeake and Ohio and its subsidiary, the Hocking Valley.

This new system has the shortest route between Buffalo and Chicago, south of Lake Erie, and thrusts its laterals into such productive territory as Ohio, Indiana, Michigan, Kentucky and West Virginia.

The consolidated lines traverse highly developed inland industrial territory, bituminous mining sections, and connect at the western gateways with 30 important railroads.

Associates of the Van Sweringens forecast plans of conservative capitalization through the unified control and operation of the lines merged. They point out that the capitalization in their previous consolidated Nickel Plate was reduced $13,196,000 as compared with the aggregate par value of the stock of the constituent roads formerly outstanding.

COMPLETION NEAR. New York, Aug. 28.—Completion of the $1,500,000,000 "Nickel Plate" railroad merger, engineered by O. P. and M. J. Van Sweringen of Cleveland, was asserted today when directors of the Pere Marquette Railway Company ratified a proposal to enter the new system with four other roads, which already had approved the plan. Lines of the Pere Marquette and Ohio and Hocking Valley in one of the greatest consolidations in railroad history, creating a new eastern trunk line with more than 14,000 miles of track.

Machinery to obtain the approval of stockholders and authorization of the interstate commerce commission will be set in motion (Continued on Page Two.)

COOLIDGES ARE ENROUTE BACK TO WASHINGTON

President Finishes His Rest Period Prior to Campaign.

(By The Associated Press.) Plymouth, Vt., Aug. 28.—President Coolidge turned toward Washington and the cares of office and a campaign tonight, refreshed and rested from the two weeks' vacation with his father and family in his boyhood home. The baggage was packed early and this afternoon Mr. Coolidge sat with the family on the tiny front porch of the home, receiving the farewell visits of old friends and neighbors.

The annual services of the Pinney family, of which he is a descendant, in the one-room Union Church across the road, were clearly audible.

Their first thought on arriving was their last in leaving, and the president, Mrs. Coolidge and their son, John, stopped on the way to Ludlow tonight, where they boarded the train for Washington, to pay a final visit to the cemetery in which is buried the president's son, Calvin, Jr.

Preparing again to resume in full swing the work of his office, Mr. Coolidge, as on previous days this week, visited the temporary business offices for some time this morning, going over the mail and the daily reports from the white house.

Train-Auto Crash Is Fatal to Seven

(By The Associated Press.) Toledo, O., Aug. 28.—Seven persons were killed and one child seriously injured early tonight when a Baltimore & Ohio train struck an automobile on a grade crossing at the southern limits of Perryshurb, a village in Wood county, Ohio, twelve miles south of this city on the Dixie highway.

The dead are: Cyrus Updegraff, 74; his wife, Mrs. Hattie Updegraff, 67; Jesse Updegraff, 40; and his wife, Mrs. Bertha Updegraff, 33; and three of their four children—Helen, 13, Alfred 3, and Fern, an infant.

Cyrus Updegraff, 9, son of Jesse and Bertha Updegraff was seriously injured. He was taken to a hospital.

The accident occurred about six o'clock when a northbound Baltimore and Ohio passenger train, running about 40 miles an hour, struck the Updegraff machine.

The crossing is said to be obstructed to the view of motorists, but that road signs warn extreme caution must be used in crossing.

All the killed lived in Six Points, Wood county.

Fords Will Learn Old-Time Dances

(By The Associated Press.) Hudson, Mass., Aug. 28.—Believing that proficiency in the old New England "square" dances is necessary to the host and hostess of the Wayside Inn, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ford, of Detroit, have invited Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin B. Lovett, of this town, to be guests at the Ford home early in September to instruct the automobile magnate and his family in the arts and graces of the quadrille, lancers, caprice and mazourkas.

The Lovetts received the invitation today and accepted. They came to Mr. Ford's attention recently when friends in Sudbury told him of their prowess in the old time dances.

Mr. Lovett has been a teacher of dancing for more than 20 years. After a conference with the Lovetts at the Inn, Mr. Ford decided to obtain their services in anticipation of social events to come later at the old hostelry.

After a week in Detroit, the Lovetts will return to instruct some of the Fords' friends in the east who are to be guests at social affairs at the Inn.

DISPUTE OVER BOUNDARY OF STATES IS UP

DELEGATION WILL STUDY CLAIMS THOROUGHLY.

(By The Associated Press.) Menominee, Mich., Aug. 28.—At the Michigan-Wisconsin boundary dispute, accompanied by Conway Elder, commissioner appointed to take depositions in the case, left today for Washington Island, off Door county, Wisconsin, to take testimony from pioneers and old lake pilots concerning early Green Bay channels which may in part determine the controversy involving a Michigan property claim estimated at $12,000,000.

The dispute involves the entire Michigan-Wisconsin boundary claim of jurisdiction over hundreds of islands and may mean a change in the established surveyed boundary between Hurley, Wis., and the Montreal river, to Lake Vieux Desert, throwing the town of Hurley into Michigan jurisdiction if the claims of Michigan are sustained by the supreme court of the United States on November 10.

The islands in dispute in Green Bay, but now belonging to Wisconsin, include Rock, Washington, Detroit, Hog, the Strawberry group, and Chalmers Island.

CLAIMS CONTRADICTORY.

Milwaukee, Wis., Aug. 28.—The Wisconsin claims in the dispute are based on the first established bay channel, claiming all islands to the right of that channel, including those mentioned, to be the property of Wisconsin. Michigan, on the other hand, claims by later usual route channel cutting between the islands named and the head of Door county peninsula, that the islands belong to her.

Michigan claims never to have accepted the government survey and award in the established surveyed boundary between the Montreal river and Lake Vieux Desert, and therefore is not bound to recognize the survey. Michigan contends that she is entitled to the claim to a boundary from the west branch of the Montreal river to Lake Isle, which would run in a straight line considerably south of the present line.

May Take Years. The final portion of the disputed area from the head of the Brule river to Green Bay may involve difficulties that may take years of survey work to determine the center of the established and present channels on which the high court must finally decide.

According to R. M. Reiser, Wisconsin's legal representative, and A. L. Sawyer, Michigan's attorney, the whole commercial history of upper Michigan will figure in the case. Late yesterday an agreement of attorneys was entered into whereby it was agreed that more than 200 Wisconsin and 100 Michigan exhibits would be admitted. These include maps, some of them going back to the 17th century, accounts of ship logs, and writings of early traders, river men and pioneers.

LABOR HAS NOT SWALLOWED ALL BOB'S DOCTRINE

Federationist Attacks LaFollette Fundamental Principles.

(By DAVID LAWRENCE. Copyright 1924, by the Escanaba Press.) Washington, Aug. 28.—The American Federation of Labor is not swallowing Senator Robert M. LaFollette or radicalism. Although an endorsement has been given the third party nominees as individuals, the "Federationist," the official organ of the American Federation of Labor, will say in its editorial in the September number shortly to be issued some important things which can not be construed as a fundamental objection to certain principles for which LaFollette stands.

The American Federation of Labor frankly disagrees with LaFollette on the subject of trusts and monopolies, government ownership and demands that the Sherman anti-trust law be repealed. The "Federationist" expresses a friendship for trusts as a means of conserving labor and thinks the LaFollette program of trying to cure monopoly by political regulation is wrong.

Wonder at Endorsement. After reading the editorial, one can not help wonder how the American Federation of Labor could endorse LaFollette at all for on principle they are far apart. Would the Wisconsin senator subscribe to what the "Federationist" says? Anyone who knows the Wisconsin leader can answer the question by studying the forthcoming editorial which says in part:

"Privately owned monopoly as a political issue is bound to play a part in the present political campaign. It compels attention, directly or indirectly, in the political platforms. The democratic party demands strict enforcement of the Sherman anti-trust law. The LaFollette platforms call for use of the power of government to crush private monopoly, rather than foster it. The republican platform propounds the good old doctrine of laissez faire, or leave things about as they are.

"No political platform meets the thought of labor on this great question of monopoly, and labor, in considering platforms, could not and did not make its analysis on that issue alone. There are many issues but this one is well worth special consideration at the outset in order that labor's future course may be as clear as has been its past record.

Demand Repeal of Act. "The American Federation of Labor has demanded and will continue to demand the repeal of (Continued On Page Two.)

McCoy's Attorneys Request Dismissal

(By The Associated Press.) Los Angeles, Cal., Aug. 28.—The motion of attorneys of Kid McCoy to quash the indictments against him charging murder, robbery and assault, with intent to commit murder in connection with the shooting of Mrs. Theresa Mors, August 12, were denied in the supreme court today. The motions were based on errors in the preparation of the indictments.

Another Hurricane Is Coming; Ships Warned

(By The Associated Press.) New York, Aug. 28.—As ten gale-battered ships made port today with their storm-wearied passengers and crews, wireless messages were warning all ships in this part of the Atlantic to be on the lookout for another hurricane which, from present indications, threatens to blow up as lusty a sea as that which recently wrought such heavy havoc to shipping.

Tropical disturbance of considerable intensity is now central, 60 miles southwest of St. Kitt's Island, the West Indies, and is moving rapidly west-northwestward, read a weather bureau storm warning. Further advices were promised for early tomorrow.

Shipping officials now fear a number of big liners in the central and north Atlantic sea lanes may run squarely into the new storm giant gathering its strength in the South Atlantic. Most of the ships several days out of this port are the Leviathan, Majestic, Cederic, United States, American Banker, Orduna, Ohio and President Roosevelt. From South American ports still others, much smaller, and therefore in greater danger, are on the way.

Of the half a dozen ships to make port today, the Danish freighter Nordfar, was the worst sufferer. Her captain was swept overboard by a huge wave. The steamer was badly battered in her 36-hour fight with the gale off Hatteras.

Probably the most fortunate of the arriving vessels was the Hamburg-American liner, Westphalia, with 236 passengers. Today's other arrivals included the Cristobal, San Pablo, Indian Prince, San Jose, Corsican Prince and the Commodore Rollins.

Reports from Halifax were that at least four vessels had been wrecked and seven lives were believed to have been lost.

YOUTHS' FATE TO BE KNOWN SEPTEMBER 10

COURT CANNOT BE INTIMIDATED, IS ASSERTION.

(By The Associated Press.) Chicago, Aug. 28.—John R. Caverly, retiring chief justice of the criminal courts of Cook county, took full charge today of the fate of Nathan F. Leopold, Jr., and Richard Loeb, student sons of millionaire fathers and confessed kidnapers and murderers of Robert Franks.

He set September 10 as the date on which he will announce the building that they had struck out as "a cowardly attack upon this court," and five more "a strong court," remarking that "at the close of" fast up by Robert Franks.

Replies. Mr. Crowe Jerby last a reply. Clarence S. B. for the def. in the earth, neat appointment by James, in brown tached. I that I escarp plea judge.

"ses' Hose honor be black only. observed Mr. t. 25c defendants ana. 28c attorneys with on. 35c tions—and he is 35c sits in sack cloth. Mr. Leopold, who is entire sympathy of all—with the honorable exception, everybody connected with the case has laughed and sneered and jeered. If the defendant Leopold did not say he would plead guilty before a friendly judge, his actions have demonstrated that he thinks he has one."

Statement Riles Judge. Mr. Darrow objected to this statement at once and the Judge's eyes blazed but he ordered the court reporters to write in into the record.

It was not until the state had formally rested and the defense and prosecution had agreed upon the brief formalities which were used to put the kidnaping case in the official record that the Judge spoke.

Then he ordered stricken from the record the closing remarks of the state's attorney as "a cowardly and dastardly assault upon the integrity of this court."

Mr. Crowe's jaw dropped and he paled. The words hit the crowded courtroom with a force that smothered every murmur. Then the prosecutor found his voice.

"It was not so intended, your honor," he said. "And it could be used for no other purpose," continued the judge sternly, "than to incite a mob and try to intimidate this court."

"If your honor, please," beseeched the startled state's attorney, "I merely wanted to put my personal feelings plainly before the court. I had no other intention."

"The state's attorney knew," went on the inexorable tones of the court, "that it would be heeded all over this country and all over the world, and he knows, too, that the court had opportunity to do only what he did."

The judicial voice came up sharply as he added: "This court will not be intimidated by anybody, at any time or any place, as long as he occupies this position."

Then, scarcely changing his tone, Judge Caverly started reading a prepared statement, in which he flayed critics who have aired their views in public prints or in letters and telegrams to the judge. He said this criticism came "from many well-meaning people who know no better; some from those who should have known better."

Opening of Detroit Schools Postponed

(By The Associated Press.) Detroit, Aug. 28.—In accordance with a suggestion from Dr. Henry F. LES ANXIOUS TO REACH PORT

Boiler Room Takes Part Of Day.

(By The Associated Press.)

On board the S. S. Berengaria, the Prince of Wales, exercises in the Berengaria gymnasium, donned overalls and made a tour of inspection of the engine and boiler rooms of the steamer which is taking him to the first stages of his holiday in the United States and Canada.

The prince showed particular interest in the apparatus for warming the boiler room. He talked with many of the men who were at work beneath decks, answering their questions and listening with a show of appreciation to their replies.

There was a boxing exhibition in the deck this afternoon but the prince was too busy with his preparation for landing in New York tomorrow afternoon to take more than a passing look at several of the bouts. The heir to the British throne is welcoming the prospect of reaching New York and getting to Long Island for the polo match. He also is looking forward to his meeting with President Coolidge and the consumption of his holiday in the freedom of his country.

It is learned today that the prince profited considerably by the teaching of Mason, who is in charge of the ship's gymnasium. The prince has his left hand in the game and has urged snappy play. Today Wales carried off the victory by cutting the lip of the opponent with a good jab. The prince's considerable power was evident in a slight trifle with the prince's hands and spolia.

Kingdom Of "King Ben" Now "Isle Of Mystery"

(By The Associated Press.)

Charlevoix, Mich. — Future strangers appear occasionally along the northern shore line of Lake Michigan and gaze longingly out over the glistening expanse of water. It is not inspiration from the majesty of the lake, nor solace from the whisper of the waves that they seek, however. Their visions carry them to an imaginary rainbow arching to a pot of gold hidden in the wooded fastnesses of High Island.

The island is a possession of the kingdom ruled over by Benjamin Purnell, Michigan's most famous fugitive from justice. Inhabited by a few isolated members of the House of David colony and a few natives and fishermen, its naked shores surround, to many persons, untold mystery.

Purnell, the "king" of the House of David cult, disappeared nearly two years ago, when attacks upon his organization were launched by the state. Later warrants charging him with criminal assault upon a girl inmate of the colony, were sworn out. They have never been served because the self-styled king is as completely missing as though he were dead. Perhaps he is, but the state has conducted almost a world-wide search for him, believing that he has secreted himself until the storm blows over.

The belief that Purnell may be hiding on his island is not uncommon. Rewards for his capture, totalling $4,000 have been hung up, and who the visitors ask, would not like to collect that amount of money. Mostly, however, they come and look the situation over and flit away. A few of them may get to the island and search for the bearded cult leader, but if they have none has discovered anything to induce the belief that he is hiding there. State police and representatives of the attorney general's department have investigated the theory that Purnell may be hiding on High Island, and have concluded that he is not there.

In the meantime, the colony inmates of the barren island go stolidly about their business. Frequently they come to the mainland for supplies. They say nothing. Unperturbed they come and go, the whereabouts of their missing leader apparently farthest from their thoughts.

The hub-bub and furore that has surrounded the litigation and allegations against the colony has caused no storm on High Island. The colonists appear to be as devoted in their allegiance to their king and his teachings as they were when he was a ruler in person as well as in name. The belief that Purnell is not far from the Benton Harbor headquarters of the cult has been engendered by the fact that the affairs of the organization are running smoothly, apparently guided by the master hand that has accumulated hundreds of acres of rich soil and vast wealth in money and holdings. But the version of those who have watched the affairs of the colony for years is not that he is on his island fastness in Lake Michigan. They believe that he realizes that there would be the first place searched. The opinion most generally held is that "King" Benjamin has perhaps cut off his flowing beard and shortened his hair and is in Chicago or some other large city, where it would be comparatively easy to conceal his identity; that he has flown to the protection of similar colonies in Australia or Canada; that he may even be sequestered in a hidden room at the colony in Benton Harbor, or that he is dead. If the king is dead, it is pointed out, no one would know. It is the belief of the colonists that death comes only to those who sin. If Purnell died, his body probably would have been disposed of without letting it become public knowledge, it is claimed.

The natives of the island, unconnected with the cult, assert that the "king" is not there. They know every foot of the wilderness, and believe that it would be impossible for Purnell to secrete himself. They are given to strange whisperings of this kind, endeavoring to weave mystery into their stories of happenings on the island, but none has seen or heard of the missing leader since he fled before the attacks of the state.

Pere Marquette Directors Vote To Join Merger

The action of directors of the "Nickel Plate", Chesapeake and Ohio, Hocking Valley, Erie and Pere Marquette in approving the Van Sweringen proposal for the unified control and operation of these roads paves the way for the passage of the transportation act of 1920. It is the first grouping to approach the size and scope of some of the larger systems contemplated in the broad recommendations of the transportation act for railway reorganization and outlined in the tentative plans promulgated by the interstate commerce commission.

This grouping, which is voluntary on the part of all five carriers, represents the third largest system in the east. With over 9,000 miles of actual roadway, it ranks next in size to the New York Central and Pennsylvania railroads. Properties embracing more than 14,000 miles of tracks and sidings are included, while the actual investment in road and equipment exceeds $1,081,000,000. The value of leases and other assets brings the total up to a billion and a half dollars.

The Sherman anti-trust act. It can not hold with the republicans that nothing needs to be done but it would prefer the status quo to a tinkering process that would result in strengthening the anti-trust act or in creating new political machinery with which to burden labor and industry without bringing real benefit to either.

"Let it be set forth definitely here that labor and industry are indivisible and inseparable. Labor as such may have interests that seem to clash with the interests of other factors in industry but as a part of the great world of industry, labor, management, science, all share in the responsibility for the productivity and general well-being of industry and they are all bound up in its fate.

"Labor can not go with the democratic demand for strict and stern application of the Sherman law. The only strict and stern enforcement that act has yet had has been against labor—and labor confessedly and absolutely has had enough.

Labor Not Commodity.

"Labor has protested from time out of mind against being classed with dead, dull merchandise. Labor is not a commodity. The democratic platform declares that labor is not a commodity, but it cancels this lip service by demanding enforcement of a law which almost more than any other has served to place labor before the courts in the category of commodities.

"Neither can American labor approve the demand for what is often termed government repression of monopoly. Labor's fight is not against combination in industry as such, but is against the evil influences which control great combinations and which are all too often exerted in our political, judicial and economic life.

"Labor declares that the question of controlling monopoly and conserving the public welfare against abuses by monopoly can not be solved by the political state and almost every attempt so to solve it will lead to more abuse than remedy.

"Consider this vital fact: Government stands as the guarantor of the rights of private property. We shall have the institution of private property as long as our present form of government stands. Democracy rests upon the private ownership of property as much as upon any other basis.

Monopoly Is Defended.

"The basis of monopoly, and of all large ownership, is in the institution of private property. There is no going back of that fact. It stands and all theorists will do well to remember it.

"Starting on this basis, ownership submits to natural forces at work in the field of industry. These natural forces make for constantly enlarging units of production and constantly enlarging organizations for production and distribution. Some of this enlargement is undoubtedly devised also to enlarge profits. But basically it is, all so far as it is sound and lasting, in accord with changing methods of production and devised to secure economy of production, volume of production and facility of distribution. It is economically sound. It is in response to normal and natural demand for methods that fit the requirements of men and machinery.

"The United States Steel Corporation is called a trust. It is a production machine of tremendous worth to the people of America. It was built to work and it does work. The supreme court, wiser than platform builders, found a way to allow it to live. It was good strategy, too, for it saved the government the humiliation of an unenforceable decree.

Ford Is Example.

"Henry Ford, in a national advertising campaign, is frankly telling all America of his great combination of production units—a horizontal trust, including mines, forests, mills, smelters, railroads, ship lines and factories. Here is a machine which came into being in response to a natural demand. It is a wonderful economic machine for economical production. Ford knows this and he is doubtless advertising the explanation of its sound merits in order to build up a public understanding that will be too wise to attack it destructively.

"What ever platform builders may say, it is too late in the economic day to go out with a broom to sweep back the tide. The tide was started when steam power was discovered, hastened when steam was harnessed to machine pulleys, accelerated when Ben Franklin flew his kite into electricity and fame, and given irresistible force when the modern factory system stood forth in full flower. On this tide we go down to destruction.

opening move in a suit which may result in the establishment of a new boundary between the commonwealths.

Testimony of Captain B. O. Pedersen, 52, and Fred Richter, 62, was taken before Special United States Commissioner Conway Elder, of St. Louis, Mo., Captain Pedersen, 54 years a sailor, testified that he used extensively a Green Bay passage, leaving west of Chambers Island, east of Green Island, on through the Deaths Door at the head of Door County, Wisconsin peninsula, thereby corroborating a contention of Michigan that the usual court of lake travel cut off islands claimed by that state and formed the dividing line between the two states.

The witness was unable to say how much traffic was diverted to Rock Passage channel to the north of Deaths Door, claimed by Wisconsin to be the established boundary line.

hearing he maintained, and pointed to the fact that the college youths were arrested ten days after the murder, indicted promptly and brought to trial within six weeks of that happening.

"So it cannot be truthfully said," added the statement, "that wealth or poverty has anything to do with delay in this case, because there was no delay."

The judge said he considered ten days about the proper time in which to consider his finding because he had "practically 2,000 pages of exhibits to study."

Only illness will prevent the judge from ruling on the selected date, he announced, and there was a continuation of his judicial firmness as he added that if such a contingency arose he "would notify the authorities and the press at least three days in advance."

Pair Unconcerned.

While the public is showing itself unusually interested in the question of the penalty to be meted out to Loeb and Leopold, the two who should be most concerned maintain the blasé, bored air that has characterized them since the beginning of the trial.

In their cells at the county jail tonight "Babe" and "Dickie" were as cheerful as if they had been taking part in a campus social affair.

The former even joked about the possibility of being hanged.

"If I am hanged," Leopold said, "it will be a rare occasion. Clarence Darrow's Roman holiday" will be completely eclipsed. I will arrange to have a good jazz band on hand and plenty of hard punch. I am planning the last supreme shock for the world in the form of my farewell speech. I may be overrating myself, but I really think I can make it worth anyone's while who is fortunate enough to obtain an invitation."

Loeb said: "I am glad the trial is over. I will have more opportunity to make a name for myself in the jail baseball league."

Hardy Pear From Siberia Is Sought For South Dakota

(By The Associated Press.)

Brookings, S. D.—N. E. Hansen, South Dakota's "agricultural explorer," whose trips to Asiatic countries in quest of fruits and plants adaptable to the climate of the northwest have paid dividends of inestimable extent to farmers of the Dakotas, is embarking upon his sixth trip to the Siberian steppes, this time in quest of a pear hardy enough to withstand the extremes of South Dakota climate.

Dr. Hansen is on a way westward to embark for a visit to Stockholm, financed by a $20,000 appropriation of the South Dakota legislature.

Already the contributor of the Cossack alfalfa and of the hardy Hansen hybrid plum, which has been developed to mature in Dakota's short summers, Dr. Hansen declared that the cold fastnesses of northern Siberia hold various other fruits and agricultural species which may be adapted to this climate. His five previous journeys of exploration have resulted in the introduction to the northwest of the Turkistan, Siberian and other alfalfa breeds; a host of hybridizations of orchard fruits, and several varieties of hardy roses. And when he returned from Siberia in 1913 he brought a product outside his specific province, a Siberian "fat-rumped" sheep, which has shown itself capable of surviving the rigors of South Dakota winters.

Cossack alfalfa, which is regarded as Dr. Hansen's masterpiece, now widely grown in the northwest, was developed from a spoonful of seed in 1906 to more than a thousand bushels of seed in 1916 and its culture is spreading as rapidly as seed is available.

Dr. Hansen is certain his present quest for a hardy pear, adaptable to Dakota climate, will be successful. "I know it is there," he said, "it is only a question of finding good specimens of a variety known to exist, and of developing them to resist blight. South Dakota has failed to raise pears chiefly because of this blight. It kills the trees."

RESULTS OF 12 OUR DAY ARE SATISFACTORY

(By The Associated Press.)

(New York)—The partial elimination of the twelve-hour working day in the steel industry has brought results so generally satisfactory that neither manufacturers nor employees in the areas affected would consider a return to the longer hours prevailing prior to August 16, 1923. Nevertheless, a large proportion of the men engaged upon basic steel processes still work more than ten hours a day, while the eight-hour men generally work seven days a week, said a survey of steel labor conditions by S. Adele Shaw, made public today by the Cabot Fund. This fund has financed numerous independent researches in industrial problems, notably Prof. H. B. Drury's study of the twelve-hour day in steel made in 1920.

The seven-day week in mills where continuous operation is the rule, which was partly eliminated during the depression of 1921, was re-established when the eight-hour day replaced the twelve-hour day in many of these works, the report asserted. Moreover, there are many companies that in May, 1924, had failed to do away with the twelve-hour shift; independents had not made the change in eastern Pennsylvania and the Birmingham district independents had not completely installed the eight-hour day, said the report.

Emphasizing the fact that the industry "has by no means gone to an eight-hour day and a six-day week," the survey quotes compilations of the Federal Department of Labor for the pay period January 16 to 31, to the effect that on blast furnaces less than eight per cent of the men work 46 hours or less a week, six per cent work 54 hours a week, and 32 per cent 60 hours. In the open hearth departments, according to the same authority, only four per cent work 42 hours a week or less, while in the Bessemer Converters more than half the men work 48 hours a week.

As to increases in labor required, steel executives were unwilling to give specific figures on the ground that the data covered too short a period to be conclusive; but the report submitted various facts indicating that the increase in production cost as a result of the reduction in working hours would be relatively small.

In the rolling mills, where ten-hour shifts superseded twelve-hour shifts, with payment on a tonnage basis, there has been no increase in the number of employees, the same output being obtained from 20 hours' labor on the shorter shift as was obtained from 24 hours' labor when the men worked 12 hours. For the same reason, the report stated, the one-shift plants that reduced the working

U. of M. Football Training Begins September 15th

(By The Associated Press.)

Ann Arbor, Mich.—A wealth of guards is the outstanding characteristic of the squad of 53 men called back to initiate the football training season September 15 at the University of Michigan. The squad the largest ever invited for early training, probably will have about five candidates for each guard position, and more may be added as additional men join the training camp. The wealth of material is so great that there is a possibility that Slaughter will be shifted from guard to center.

Next to guards, half back and end candidates are most numerous, with nine trying for the two backfield places and the same number seeking places on the flanks. Six are listed in the field of full back aspirants.

A preliminary survey shows that the prospective candidates for the various positions include: Centers — Brown, Coventry, Madden, McIntyre, McMullan, Guards — Dewey, Hall, Hawklips, Keller, Kilpatrick, Kerstein, Slaughter, Somers, Steele, Ullman, White.

Tackles — Babeck Edwards, Flora, Goebel, Heyn, Kunow, McCaffrey, Sampson.

Ends — Ferenz, Koplin, Languth, Marion, Muzz, Palmer, Ryrholm, Shaiz, Witherspoon.

Half backs — Brackenbury, Froemke, Friedman, Grabe, Herrstein, Parker, Stagg, Stegors, Smith.

Quarterbacks — Baker, Davis, Demhoff, Hoffman, Rockwell.

Full backs — Beam, Heath, Miller, Lovette, Piekarski, Staman.

Started Fires in Bush to Get Job

(By The Associated Press.)

Lead, S. D., Aug. 28.—George Woodard, a 19 year old ranch hand of Hill City, is alleged by authorities to have confessed that he started three forest fires in the Black Hills reservation Tuesday in order that he might obtain lucrative employment fighting them.

He was arraigned today before United States Commissioner Moore who remanded him to jail when he was unable to furnish $1,000 bond.

Suspicion was aroused by the frequency of the fires in the district and the similarity of their origin.

Detroit Is Given Life Imprisonment

(By The Associated Press.)

Detroit, Aug. 28.—John Lee Johnson, Detroit, was found guilty of murder in the first degree and sentenced to life imprisonment at Marquette in recorder's court here today. He was charged with the shooting of Charles Millinder and George Johnston, May 16, this year. Carrie Reece, 14 years old, common law wife of Johnson, who was present at the time of the shooting which occurred in her mother's home, was a witness for the prosecution. She declared Johnson was actuated by jealousy. He pleaded self defense. The girl declared he killed the men while they were seated at a game of cards.

Millinder was the girl's stepfather, and Johnston a roomer in the Millinder home.

Movies For Wall Flowers at Dance

Two Rivers, Wis.—Dance hall proprietors in the guise of good Samaritans have at last evolved a boon for the wall flower and partial relief for the poor swain who has picked a corn trodding girl. The latest innovation is a combination moving picture and dance. While the orchestra blares jazzy fox trots or croons dreamy waltzes, moving pictures, preferably comedies, will be thrown on a screen. Seeing the villain receive a severe trouncing at the hands of the handsome hero is expected to quell the disturbing thoughts of the wall flowers as well as furnish temporary relief for the aching pedals of the young man who finds he has picked the wrong girl.

BANDIT GANG GETS HEARING IN SEPTEMBER

September 5 has been set for the hearing of Claude 'Red' Conant, ace of the bandit gang, which burglarized and beat a seventy-year-old farmer on an isolated farm near Ladysmith, Wis., on the evening of July 29.

With the capture of Harvey in Iron Mountain Wednesday, the entire bandit crew has now been apprehended, and await their preliminary hearing.

Kessel, Pierce and Conant were the trio that have evaded the officers by their extensive journeys through the eastern and western sections of the country, until their capture a few days ago.

In view of the fact that Harvey was thoroughly conversant with the surroundings in virtue of his residence in that locality, plans for the assault were made from his study.

Both the latter men are sons of respectable families in that city, and parents of the youth bandits are deeply grieved over the wrong doing of their sons.

WHAT IS THE DEFENSE TEST?
A physical demonstration of the new army of the United States as it exists at the present time.

2. A test of the plans already made by the War Department for expanding to full strength our skeleton army created by the National Defense Act, which was passed by Congress in 1916.

3. An opportunity for well informed speakers to explain to the public what the national defense policy of the United States is—in other words to tell how Congress planned to provide for our country's protection when it passed the National Defense Act, a further opportunity to tell the people of each community what they will be called upon to contribute, as a community in men, services and material to do their part in defending their country in so far as this can be foreseen at this time.

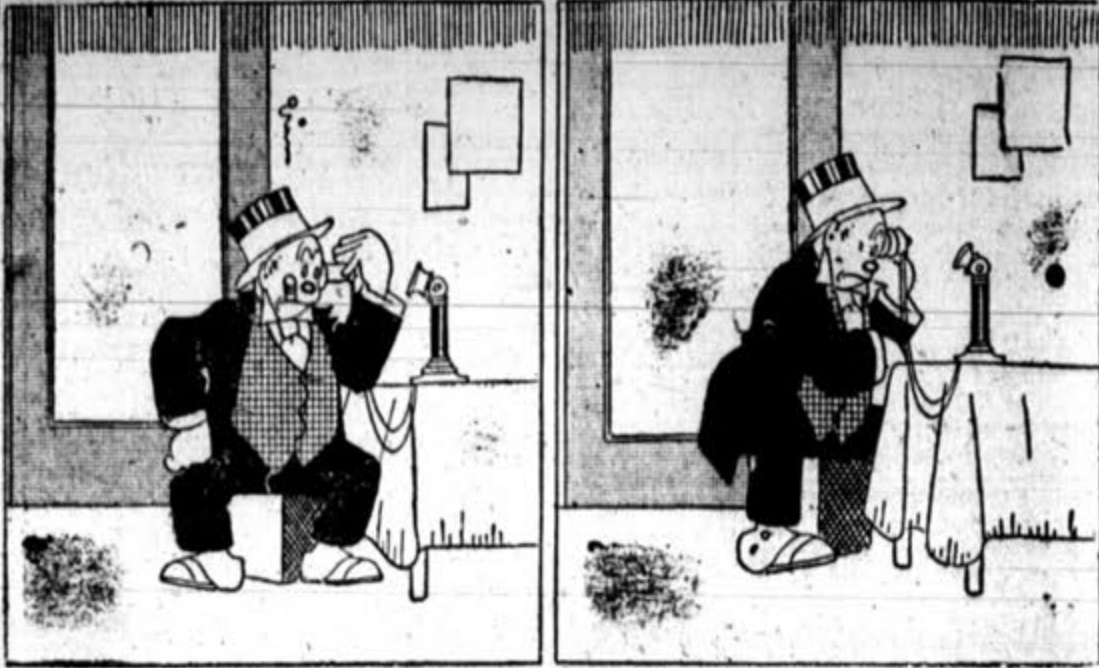

4. An opportunity for patriotic citizens and patriotic societies to show their support of the plans of the United States government, to protect and defend the people of the United States whenever the need for such protection and defense arises. These plans now being put to the first test were prepared by the War Department in carrying out the instructions given by Congress in the National Defense Act.

THE TOURIST CAMP PAYS.
Chippewa Falls, Wisconsin, finds that tourists using the free auto camp spent on an average of $166.50 with the merchants in the city, or a monthly total (for July) of $4,060.70. Commenting on these figures the Milwaukee Journal says that they prove the camp more than pays its way, and adds:

The free tourist camp was founded a few years ago in a wave of enthusiasm at the rising tide of motor traffic. Every city was going to attract the travelers. Then the cities found that there was abuse of the privileges offered—by the tramp tourist and the careless tourist. So people began to advocate the closing of these camps. That, we believe, would be a serious mistake; a city will see if it takes the trouble to check up as Chippewa Falls is doing.

In fact, cities should not be thinking of doing less for tourists, but more. Far too few places offer rest rooms within the town itself. Yet a rest room in the city hall or the court house, clean and well appointed, is a mark of courtesy that never fails to be appreciated by the traveler.

Helen Lorimore's Legacy

BY JANE PRELPS.

WHEELLOCK ACCUSES EDWARD LEE. Chapter XL.

Once again Helen tethered her pony beside the silvery stream where she had first met Edward Lee. Hope of ever seeing him again had almost left her. He had promised not to go away without seeing her, and Helen believed him implicitly. Something had happened to him—either that, shot or something else.

"I thought you were—that something had happened to you," Helen lifted her tear-stained face to him, trying in vain to find her handkerchief to wipe her eyes. As he had done once before, Lee gravely gave her his; and with an effort dried her eyes and ceased sobbing.

"Because I am waiting. He will be punished some day for that and—other things. To know that I have caused you pain, anxiety, is all that troubles me now. You forgive me?" "There is nothing to forgive now that I know you are all right," Helen's lip trembled and her face was flushed.

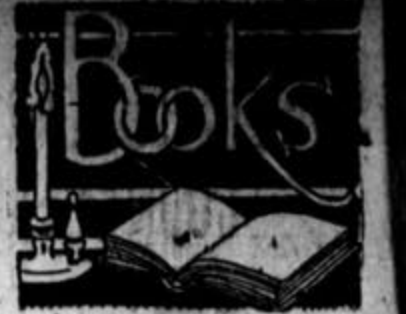

OUT OUR WAY

A LOAD OFF HIS HORSE'S FEET IS ALSO A LOAD OFF WASH FUNKS HANDS.

BOOKS—EDIT PAGE BY THE NEA PLAY JURY.
New York—'The Scandals of 1924,' staged and produced by George White, will succeed in New York mainly because the audience that attends a high-priced musical revue here is vulgar in every sense of the word.

This juror has attended many shows of all kinds, but never has heard an alleged joke as smutty, as dirty, as filthy, as hopelessly indecent as one heard in the Scandals' third act performance. It is impossible to repeat it here because of postal regulations. This remarkable bit of wit provoked a gale of laughter, despite the fact that the "joke" was as old as the hills. It was one of those kind that some men tell each other when women aren't present.

But that isn't all. The show opens with a song by the Williams Sisters called "Just Missed the Opening Chorus." It is a clever device to fool some of the late comers, but in reality it is intended only to occupy such time as required to seat all.

Then the real opening chorus comes on, and the audience is in for its first shock. New York critics are used to seeing thinly clad choruses in revues, but the first chorus in the Scandals shocked any previous efforts. The girls wore white costumes, with the skirts slit from the hips. It is a bald attempt to appeal to the physical. Decent women in the audience hid their faces until they could get used to the spectacle. One couple left the theater, though the curtain had been up but a few minutes and the seats cost $4.40 each excluding speculator's rake-off.

The Scandals would do well if it takes the road, to revise the show somewhat or stay away from such cities where the morals of the community are on a higher level than those in New York. If the show as it opened here were played in some communities, it would be closed speedily and run out of town. As it is, this juror predicts the New York police, if they ever get wise, will force the management to tone down some of the lines and put more clothes on the girls.

The sad thing about the Scandals is the undeniable fact that the cast must contain some girls whose natures revolt against the orders of George White. White knows his New York audience. And apparently he has no scruples against appealing to their licentious appetites. But what would the mothers and fathers of some of the girls say if they were to see their daughters in such a disgusting display?

The show isn't all vulgar. It has some really funny and beautiful skits. It has a world of beautiful girls, the music is beautiful and the dancing, especially by the Williams Sisters, is excellent. One girl particularly seems out of place. She is Winnie Lightner, a winsome, clean-cut, wholesome young woman who knows how to put a song over.

But all of this can't cover up nor blot out its disgusting, vulgar and licentious features.

NEW FEATURE SECURED FOR COUNTY FAIR

Woosters Running And Circus Horses to Appear Here Next Month.

Plans for the Northern Michigan fair of this year, which will open at the Delta County fair grounds on Sept. 16, are more elaborate than ever before and it is believed that the program here is on a scale equally as elaborate as for any county fair held in the northwest.

Officials of the Delta County Agricultural Society have spared neither expense nor effort to allow the county fair of this fall to surpass in its every department any former county fair effort here.

Woosters Horses Coming. The most elaborate of the many new entertainment features secured by the association for this year will be Allie T. Woosters' running thoroughbreds and circus features which up to this time has played only the larger state fairs in the country, including many return engagements at both the Detroit and Minneapolis fairs.

The feature consists of, short dashes with both women and men jockeys, a derby race, a nine mile relay race, in which only women riders take part, Roman standing races and many other stunts of like nature.

Hoist Regular Races. This, taken with the regular program of harness races, which will not be curtailed in any way, will assure the fair patrons of a solid afternoon of entertainment at the track without the disagreeable wait between races, which is a tiresome but necessary feature when no other entertainment can be provided.

LOCAL OFFICE GETS NOTICE IN MAGAZINE

An item of timely interest, and one that concerns Escanaba residents chiefly, because it involves a local concern, appears in the September issue of Popular Mechanics. It is a proposition offered by the A. J. Kirstin Company, and regards its latest production, the Kirstin Fil-Gage for Ford automobiles, no matter what the model or type.

According to A. J. Kirstin, general manager of the company, the new article is attracting considerable attention from the outside, and orders pour in daily from various parts of the country, as well as from foreign dominions. The latest orders to come in are from New Zealand and Port Elizabeth, South Africa.

Since the establishment of the new article on the market approximately 50,000 gages have been sold. The company operates its own offices in New York, Dallas, Oakland and Bangor, and other logical distributing points.

The local management is now working on a plan, whereby various territories throughout the country will be concentrated into exclusive agencies, one man securing exclusive hold in such territories. These dealers will be protected by the new copy right law.

The article reads: "This concern makes the Kirstin Fil-Gage for filling Ford automobile gasoline tanks under the seat without need of removing the cushions. It has an indicating gauge in plain sight of the driver at all times and is attached to the tank opening in place of the cap. The Fil-Gage is made of black-finished sheet metal. Our factory operates in large production, and for any accepted improvements not yet tried out or developed which will increase the efficiency of this filler and gauge and decrease manufacturing costs, we will pay the sum of $1,000. Or, we will pay this amount for any suggested changes, satisfactory to us which will reduce the production cost 20 cents on each article. No theoretical suggestions will be considered. To qualify, entrants must have actually tried their improvements in operation on one of the devices and have proved it practical and workable. The Fil-Gage containing the improvement must be sent to us by registered mail for testing and upon acceptance and the assigning to us of patentable rights, we shall pay the amount stated to the entrant whose ideas we adopt. This offer expires May 1, 1925. Address, A. J. Kirstin, General Manager, A. J. Kirstin Company, Kirstin Bldg., Escanaba, Michigan."

He Is Looking 'Em Over Again. "Eight years of stomach and liver trouble reduced me to a walking skeleton. My skin was dried up and as yellow as a twenty-dollar gold piece. I was filled with gas and had severe pains in my right side. I could not think and had lost all ambition to do anything. Doctor's medicine did not touch me. My cousin advised Mayr's Wonderful Remedy, which snatched me from the grave. I have gained sixty pounds, eat like a hired man and am looking 'em over again." TROOPERS IN RAID OF LAKE LINDEN SHOPS

State troopers, under the direction of U. S. Marshal Paul Nelson, and Leo Grove, upper peninsula enforcement officer, conducted several raids last night in the city, and Lake Linden with the result, that Angelo Tabarracci, Lake and Quincy streets, Paul Dehtrich, Quincy street. The Matucci place across from Lincoln hall, Evan Payne at the anal and Adelard LaFrenier, Lake Linden, were arrested charged with violating the prohibition laws.

The raids were conducted shortly after 6 o'clock. In the Tabarracci place it is alleged the officers found several bottles of wine and a quantity of moonshine. Matucci was the unfortunate one, he had purchased his stand the day before and had just opened for business yesterday.

At the Dehtrich place the officers seized it is said a quantity of liquor and went up stairs where they experienced some difficulty. A woman aware of what was going on, broke a gallon jar, of moonshine on the floor.

Payne and Matucci were before Judge Little this morning and furnished a bond for a hearing on September 8.

The others were before the judge last night and will be given a hearing around the same date as the aforementioned.

Wind-Shield Is An Innovation

The Oakland Motor Car company has just adopted a new one piece windshield for its four closed models - undoubtedly the most revolutionary advancement in windshield construction since the early days of the automobile industry when motorists used rubber aprons over their laps.

This "VV" type windshield has been evolved by the Fisher Body corporation, which builds all Oakland bodies. The new windshield does not tip to give ventilation, but slides upwards in felt-lined channels, much in the same manner as the side windows of the closed body type of motor car. It is easily and mechanically operated by a crank located above the windshield and does not rattle. All the new windshields are fitted with automatic windshield cleaners.

One-half turn of the regulator handle raises the shield from its base one inch, opening a section approximately 45 inches long and one inch high, to outside air pressure. The air rushes unobstructed through this ventilator the entire length of the shield and is conducted into the body, forward and down to the floor. This type of windshield eliminates the cowl ventilator.

If more air is desired, two and one half turns of the regulator handle raises the glass three inches above the instrument board, opening a section approximately 135 square inches, thru which the air rushes directly into the driving compartment. Quick ventilation and thorough change of air are obtained by opening one of the doors, or one of the rear quarter windows.

Larger Parcel Window Planned

Plans and specifications have been received by Postmaster John A. Semer, from the post office department at Washington, for the remodeling of the parcel post window section at the Escanaba post office. Up to the present time, a single window has served as a stamp window, general delivery and for the receipt and delivery of parcel post packages. The development of parcel post business has proven the window opening too small for the requirements of the service and a new window, four and a half feet in width, with a suitable counter, is to be installed. The work will be let by contract after bids have been received by the postmaster.

A smart new touch is to have a tube frock button directly under each arm and have a close row of buttons clear to the hemline.

ANNUAL LOSS FROM DISEASE OVER MILLION

Every man, woman and child in the United States suffers an annual economic loss of $18.00 through preventable disease and death, or a total of $1,800,000,000, according to an estimate of Secretary Hoover's special committee.

"Michigan's share of this is over $65,000,000—preventable loss," declares Theo. J. Werle, executive secretary of the Michigan Tuberculosis Association. "Fully one-half of this loss is chargeable to tuberculosis. Frequently three to five years elapse, before the disease is recognized.

"During this period the efficiency of the employee is greatly decreased, and in addition he is spreading germs of tuberculosis. With his earning power decreasing, his expense increasing, he is gradually changed from an asset to the community, with money to spend, to an expense,—a direct tax and a burden. The producers of wealth must pay the bill.

"Michigan needs more sanatoria; more and better places to care for those who are victims of tuberculosis, that they may have a chance to recover and at the same time will not be allowed to spread their affliction to all those with whom they come into contact.

"There is not a county sanatorium in the southern peninsula nor sanatorium can be said to be doing its full duty. "We need state aid for building a few smaller sanatoria in the state, jointly with counties, as in Minnesota and other states."

UPPER HOSE COMING HERE FOR 3 GAMES

Winning three games in succession, from Escanaba, Ishpeming and Gladstone, has injected enthusiasm into the Manistique baseball team. The absence of Cateher-Manager Harry Potter failed to disrupt the Manistique machine on Wednesday, and they worked like a clock in their shut out victory over Gladstone. The visitors threatened to score in the ninth inning, their first chance of the game. With a man on third, the ball was lifted to Bauman in center field, who got under it for a put-out, and with a wonderful peg to Catcher McDonald snatched the runner from third for the last out, preventing a score.

More Examined in Clinic Held Here Thursday

Dr. J. W. Towey of Powers and his assisting nurses had all the persons they could examine at the second Manistique chest clinic, held in the court house yesterday. About 25 patients were examined at each of Dr. Towey's visits. This number is the limit that can be taken care of in one day. Most of the examinations yesterday were by appointment, so that all could be efficiently taken care of without crowding, and none of the people were forced to wait at the Court House for their turn.

Dr. Towey and his nurses motored up from Powers, returning at the conclusion of their work at 5:00 o'clock in the afternoon.

Lois Wilson Has Greatest Role in Film

One of the greatest roles she has ever had! That is what Lois Wilson has in James Cruze's production of "The Covered Wagon," a new Paramount picture which will be shown at the Community theatre Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. The picture is said to be one of the finest ever screened.

Molly Wingate—if you have read Emerson Hough's novel, you'll never forget her. Pretty Molly! A daughter of the pioneer days—forced to face the terrible struggle against the wilderness and its untutored inhabitants when the West was still unwon.

Miss Wilson is ideally cast. She is Molly Wingate to the life in temperament, appearance and character, and her portrayal will be hailed as one of the real artistic achievements of the screen.

Strongheart, the wonderful police dog who sprang into such prominence as a motion picture star in "The Silent Call" has made another picture which is coming to the Lyric for an engagement of two days beginning today. It is a Laurence Trimble-Jane Murlin production entitled "Brawn of the North," a First National attraction.

The story is most unusual from the standpoint of thrilling action and tense emotional scenes. It is a story of a dog's faithfulness and loyalty to his mistress, a loyalty that surmounts all his natural instincts.

SCREAMS AND SHOTS SCARE NIGHT PROWLER

The screams of thirteen year old Ida Zimmel, who had been followed to the door of her home, and two shots fired by the police, previously called by Mrs. Paul Zimmel, the mother, when she heard someone attempting to enter her home, put an end to the operations of a night prowler in the vicinity of Montana and Fifth street Wednesday night.

The man escaped in the under brush near the home but police have a good description of him and are confident that he will be placed under arrest within a short time.

Mrs. Zimmel who was alone in the house with three small children, was awaiting the return of Ida, who had gone to the show with a playmate, when she first heard someone in the yard. She locked the door. A few minutes later the door knob was turned and an attempt was made to open a window. Mrs. Zimmel, thoroughly frightened, went to the phone and called the police.

A few minutes later, she heard the screams of her daughter at the back door and opened the door to admit the terrified child and to see the prowler, who had followed her into the yard, disappear in the brush. Officers Kellerson and Stephanic who arrived at the home almost at the same time, made a thorough search of the yard, firing two shots to frighten the man from his hiding place, but they were unable to find him.

Have Description.

A description of the prowler, who, it is said, had been annoying people in the neighborhood for some time, was given the police and immediate steps will be taken to prevent a recurrence of anything of this sort.

Dr. and Mrs. Fred Stellwagen, Miss Elsie Wolfe of this city, and Miss Ruth Schneider of New York, Miss Wolfe's guest, have returned from a camping trip at Osse's Beach near Indian Lake.

PARTIES ARE GIVEN AS FAREWELL

Miss Beatrice Barry entertained a few friends at her home in Kipling Wednesday night in honor of Miss Ellen Williamson who will leave Sunday night for Minneapolis where she will attend school. The evening was spent in dancing after which delicious refreshments were served by the hostess.

Another party for Miss Williamson was given Friday night when forty of her friends surprised her at her home on Court street. The affair was arranged by Miss Nettie Anderson without Miss Williamson's knowledge and her surprise was complete when the young people walked into the home.

Dancing and games were enjoyed after which refreshments were served.

Carnival Dance Saturday Night

A big Carnival dance will be given at Isabella Saturday night. Music will be furnished by the Gladstone six piece orchestra. Everyone is invited to attend.

Immediately after the ceremony the happy couple left for an extended honeymoon in the east where they will visit the bride's parents.

Mrs. White is one of the prominent members of the younger set of Charlottetown, while Mr. White is one of Gladstone's popular young business men.

DAUGHTER BELONGS TO OTHER FAMILY

If it ever happens again that Mrs. Louis Kircher of this city is a patient at the St. Francis hospital at the same time that a daughter is born to Mr. and Mrs. Louis Kircher of Masonville, the Gladstone Mr. Kircher, is going to have a supply of cigars on hand ahead of time.

Ever since the announcement of the birth of a daughter to the Masonville family, Mr. Kircher has been receiving congratulations.

He has been accepting these and providing cigars but he said yesterday that after he had made three or four trips to the hospital and failed to locate that daughter, he thought it about time to explain matters.

Dr. and Mrs. Fred Stellwagen, Miss Elsie Wolfe of this city, and Miss Ruth Schneider of New York, Miss Wolfe's guest, have returned from a camping trip at Osse's Beach near Indian Lake.

BABE RUTH GETS TWO HOME RUNS

Eighth Inning Rally By Washington Pulls Yankees Down.

(By The Associated Press.)
New York, Aug. 28.—Washington took the lead from the New York Yankees here today as the result of an eighth inning rally which netted eight runs, six of them after two were out. The score was 11 to 6. Ruth hit his first and second home runs, and apparently had piled up a safe lead for New York when Pennock weakened in the eighth. The entire New York club collapsed shortly after that. A fumble by Dugan let in the second run of the inning.

With two out and New York still ahead, Goslin drove a liner to left field, but the sun blinded the fielder as he was set for the catch. He went for a three base hit, scoring three runs. Three more runs followed two after Dugan prolonged in the inning with a second fumble.

Washington drove out eighteen hits. Rice hit two doubles and three singles and Goslin hit a home run, a triple, a double and a single and drew one base on balls. Score: WASHINGTON A B R H O A E

VETS SLATED TO PLAY ESKY YOUNGSTERS

If reports circulated about the city yesterday have an semblance of truth, baseball fans of Escanaba are billed for an excellent treat on September 11, when the "old timers" past heroes of the Esky club, clash with the present youngsters representing the local colors. Much could be expected of the veteran material, and their nine would be one that should occasion plenty of trouble for the yearlings now on the pay role.

Forest Hills, N. Y., Aug. 28.—Another young American tennis star rose to heroic heights of international triumph today when John Hennessy, of Indianapolis, accomplished the downfall of Jean Borotra, champion of Europe and captain of the French Davis cup forces, in a spectacular battle featuring the third day of the national singles championship.

Hennessy not only scored the most startling upset yet recorded in a tournament already marked by an astonishing number of reversals among favorites, but eliminated his famous opponent, winner of this year's Wimbledon championship, in decisive fashion. The 19-year old American played a dashing, aggressive game, withstood the most fiery net attacks of Borotra and conquered the Frenchman in four sets, 8-6, 7-6, 3-6, 6-2.

Tilden, who advanced to the fourth round by overwhelming Luden Williams, of Chicago, former intercollegiate champion, with the loss of only three games, headed the ranks of surviving Americans, which also included William (Little Bill) Johnson, Tilden's Davis cup partner, and Vincent Richards, young Olympic champion.

HOLIDAY HOLDS TRADING DOWN

Chain Stores Gain Early But Lose Majority Toward End.
(By The Associated Press.)
New York, Aug. 28.—Extreme dullness characterized today's stock market, which opened with a firm undertone and then turned reactionary when professional traders directed selling pressure against the standard industrials. Total sales, which fell below 550,000 shares, were the smallest of any full session since the middle of June and reflected the absence of many large operators on the Labor Day holiday.

Speculators for the decline succeeded in uncovering a number of weak spots among the specialties. International Telephone, which was bid up briskly yesterday by the announcement that the company had obtained a contract to reorganize the Spanish Telephone system, fell back two points in profit taking.

Excellent buying developed in the chain store issues in response to reports of an increase in retail trade, but the early gains were substantially reduced in the late wave of selling. S. S. Kresge's Department Stores fell from 5 1/4 to 5 1/8, up half. Woolworth also closed half higher at 11 1/4. McCrory Stores showed a net gain of two points at 95.

Railroad shares failed to respond to reports that car loadings for the week ended August 16 were the highest of any week this year. July earnings, which are running ten per cent below those of last year, probably restricted trading in the carrier issues.

GROESBECK AT JACKSON MEET

(By The Associated Press.)

Jackson, Mich., Aug. 23.—"Michigan is forging to the front. We are not a cheap people, nor a hard-up people, and we are not slow in commercial activities. The state government has been trying to keep pace," said Governor Alex Groesbeck this evening at a dinner given by the Jackson Exchange Club. He said among other things:

"Only nine cents out of every dollar you pay in taxes goes to the state.

"The public has demanded that many things be done and we've been trying to cut the corners. We have reduced the per capita cost of maintaining state wards to $1 per day. Every mile of road built by the state has cost less than the lowest bid received. Don't be so downhearted. Don't let it bother you so much. Wayne county is paying 45 per cent of the state taxes. You voted fifty million dollars for roads and thirty million dollars for a soldiers' bonus and these have to be paid off.

Things "Not So Bad."

"Things are not so bad as they seem. It is not the amount of taxes collected that is important but what we are doing with the tax money. When I entered office in 1921, the annual state tax was $21,500,000; these figures have been reduced to $14,500,000. Among the many demands of the people was the one that we take care of the great university, which had been neglected for 25 or 30 years.

"For 15 or 20 years women prisoners had been sent to the old, badly kept institution, the Detroit house of correction, and the women's clubs demanded that a new prison be built for women. The senate favored a $700,000 appropriation but the house refused it. Women are still being sent to Detroit. This shows how careful the legislature has been about appropriations.

Talks On Roads.

Coming to the subject of road building by the state, the governor said in part:

"I did not want it said that any lobby could come to Lansing and dictate road legislation and the amount we should spend."

The governor told about the Grand Blanc road built by the state to replace one that a few years ago had cost $226,000, and had worn out. He said that Jackson and Ionia convicts were used and 9 1/2 inches thickness was laid on top of the old road bed. This road, he said, cost $28,000 a mile, not $46,000 as had been said by critics. The road was built at a lower cost than the lowest bid of private contractors—30 cents per square yard under the lowest bid.

Coming to the criticism levelled in connection with the state hospital at Ann Arbor, he said the board of regents has full control and authority for expenditures. The governor said:

"The story being circulated that the hospital is dangerous, is an outrageous slander. It is built of concrete, steel and brick and will be standing 200 years from now. The critics probably found a few cracks in some of the veneer. That is all."
