Modern Woman Is Less Free Than Iroquois Indian Squaw

By George Britz.

Chicago—The modern woman, progressing toward freedom and dominance, may yet become a first-class squaw.

But a squaw among the Iroquois Indians was a more powerful personage than most of the emancipated women of today. The picture of the Indian woman, an Iroquois, is a picture of a woman bearing her husband's burdens and tilling the corn fields while he smoked in the shade. She was put away from the man's side by the use of the same tactics used in selecting tribal chiefs.

Such are the thoughts suggested by Dr. Fay Cooper Cole, associate professor of anthropology at the University of Chicago, after studies of matriarchal or matrilineal government among the Menangkabau of Sumatra and the Iroquois of North America. The squaw very often was the power behind the wigwam, according to Dr. Cole.

Pawns of Wives.
"Under a matriarchal system the husbands have no property rights, no rights in their children and often are political pawns of the wives," he says. "The system usually accompanies a very high type of advancement in culture. The Menangkabau are by no means a primitive people. The Iroquois in America were among the least primitive Indians."

The whole political system was built upon the family, and woman was the controlling element in the family. Usually it was the older or head woman.

Several families made up the clan. For clan leadership a man was selected, but the head woman figured prominently in the selection. In most cases either the brother or eldest son of the head woman of the most aristocratic family was chosen. Women had suffrage rights equal with those of the men. About the same tactics were used in selecting tribal chiefs.

Could Recall Chief.
Not only did the head woman of the tribe have a check on the chief's activities by controlling his election, but she also exercised the power of veto and recall. In addition to the elected leaders, there were certain "Pine Three Chiefs," who became such by virtue of their wisdom. Several such high honors went to women. Iroquois tribal law exacted a higher price for the injuring of a woman than of a man.

To reach a position in modern society equal to that of the Iroquois squaws, the emancipated modern woman would have to:

Control the national committees of the major political parties.

Go beyond the proposed "equal rights" amendment and impose civil rights exclusive to themselves and superior to men's.

Retain their maiden name after marriage and transmit it to their children.

Obtain the descent of property through daughters in preference to sons.

Arrange marriages without consulting husband or children.

Go to the office daily and earn a living for the domesticated male.

Prosperity Will Result from Plan by Dawes-Mellon

(By The Associated Press.)

New York, Sept. 2.—Prosperity will result from Europe now that the Dawes plan is in effect, Secretary of the Treasury Mellon predicted today upon his arrival from abroad aboard the White Star liner Majestic.

Mr. Mellon's statement concerning his experiences abroad were brief, however. Reaching quarantine seven hours overdue because of fogs, presaging the tag end of a hurricane traveling up coast, brought the Majestic to a standstill off shore, the secretary was met by a score of government officials and hurried to the battery aboard a revenue cutter.

Mr. Mellon's party included his brother's family, Mr. and Mrs. Richard H. Mellon and their daughter Sarah, and R. K. Mellon, the secretary's nephew. His daughter, Ailsa, remained aboard, Mr. Mellon entrained for Washington immediately upon landing, saying he was "anxious to get back to business."

He declined to discuss whether his presence with that of Secretary of State Hughes in England and France at the critical periods of the Dawes plan negotiations, had any official significance. He was certainly an unofficial visitor in Europe, he said, and went there primarily for recreation.

Man Branded With Triple K, Motive Sought by Police

(By The Associated Press.)

Waukegan, Ill., Sept. 2.—Lake county authorities were working tonight in an effort to find a motive for an attack on a man believed to be Thomas Stolp of Cudahy, Wis., who was found in a deserted cottage at Winthrop Harbor, Ill., near here, bound, gagged and blindfolded, suffering from hunger and thirst and with the letters "K K K" branded on his body.

The man, partly identified from letters found in his clothing, is in a hospital here in a critical condition. Authorities plan to communicate with Stolp's father-in-law who lives in Detroit.

Disconnected statements of the victim indicated that he had left home about a week ago and his rambling words also led to the belief that he had been attacked by several negroes while in Detroit and later thrown into a truck and driven from the city.

Local authorities said the Detroit police would be asked to question Stolp's father-in-law about an effort he is said to have made to induce his son-in-law to try to patch up a quarrel between the Detroit man and his wife.

Latin Americans Opposed To European Interference

By Charles P. Stewart.

Washington—Not all Latin Americans—probably not a majority—look with very friendly eyes on the Monroe Doctrine. True, it implies the powerful protection of the United States in a way this is all right, and appreciated. Yet the very suggestion that she feels they need her protection savors—or so it seems to Latin Americans—of patronage on the greater republic's part.

Nevertheless, put to the test, the Latin American governments have let it be known that they are a unit against European in-

Reinforcements Sent To Aid of Spanish Troops

(By The Associated Press.)

London, Sept. 2.—Reuter's Gibraltar correspondent says he learns from Spanish sources that 50,000 Spanish reinforcements have been sent to Morocco during the past fortnight. Burning shells in Morocco are visible from the heights of Gibraltar.

The correspondent adds that there appears to be little doubt regarding a rising among the Andjera and Wadras tribes in the vicinity of the foreign settlement at Tangier. These tribesmen hitherto have been friendly toward Spain.

Some apprehension, the correspondent continues, is felt that there may be attempts to overthrow the military directorate in Spain on September 13, the anniversary of its establishment, and precautions are being taken, although a majority of the Spaniards still have confidence in the Primo Rivera government.

According to Tangier advices received in Gibraltar the adherents of Raisuli, the former bandit, have joined the forces of Abd-el-Krim, the leader of the rebellion against Spain.

"Well, you might say that she does," replied the sufferer. "In addition to crocheting a cover for my safety razor and putting a pretty string of flowers down the side of my golf bag, she has just finished embroidering a posy in my button-hole."

Among the inhabitants of some of the more remote Fijian Islands in the South Pacific Ocean, ordinary money is unknown, its place being taken by plug tobacco; so many sticks being worth one pig or one wife, as the case may be.

The Significance of "Cracking"

THE Cracking Process was responsible for 1,850,000,000 gallons, or about 21% of all the gasoline produced in 1923.

A large portion of this 21% was produced by the Burton Process, developed in the laboratories of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana).

While the production of crude oil during the past ten years has trebled, the demand for gasoline has far outstripped the increased production. "The real factor in holding down the price of gasoline," says the Oil and Gas Journal, "has been the refiners who produced 6 times as much gasoline from 3 times as much crude."

"In accomplishing this result, the biggest single factor has been the use of cracking plants—and in the future, cracking will be an increasingly important factor as the most direct and immediate means of holding down the price of gasoline."

Since so much of the gasoline produced by cracking in the United States, is cracked by the Burton Process, it is obvious that the service rendered by the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is great.

Until 1913, when the first patent for the Burton Process was granted, "cracking was a lost art; an idea that had never been worked out from a chemical standpoint—that had never been developed from an apparatus standpoint—that had never been utilized from an industrial standpoint."

Of the cracked gasoline in the United States produced by other processes than the Burton, it is worth noting that none of these cracking processes had developed to the point of producing cracked gasoline in appreciable quantities before 1920, or even 1922.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has always led the oil industry in progressive development—in economy of operation—in conservation of oil—and in continually lowered cost of refining.

The result of these aggressive and constructive services is the essentially low price which motorists pay for gasoline.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is a real conservationist. It originated those processes which get more gasoline from less oil and hence keep consumers supplied at lower cost.

Every operation of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is based upon a deep regard for public welfare—upon the desire to render maximum service to the community. The Burton Cracking Process is but one of many inventions, originating with this Company, to conserve our natural resources—to render a greater service to the thirty million people of the ten Middle Western States.

Helen Lorimore's Legacy

BY JANE PERLIPS.

ROY DRAYTON VISITS HIS OLD HOME.

Helen had known when she asked Roy to visit the ranch the following evening that Wheelock would be away. He was to leave early in the morning for a distant part of the ranch and would be gone over night. She and Roy could talk without fear of interruption. As soon as Wheelock left in the morning Helen again went through her Uncle's papers, hoping she had overlooked something of importance to Roy, but found nothing. She also talked to Martha, questioned her more closely than she ever had, about the happenings at the time of the theft.

It had been not only Helen's uncle's money that had been stolen, but some that had been entrusted to him for safekeeping, and which he had had to make good. Martha did not know the exact amount, and Roy had not mentioned it when talking to Helen, but she knew from the old servant's story that it was considerable. It seemed the day never would pass. Helen told Martha she had seen Roy and that he was coming. Her delight knew no bounds, when Helen said she was to have a supper for them, she knew just what he likes. "Get it—everything you need for a nice supper, Roy, come on slowly. The last striking was a lap on her side. Miss Helen instead with..."

wavering light that had frightened the servants. "They are superstitious, especially Martha and the house boys. It must have been because of Father's death—" "And you never knew they thought it haunted before?" "No, I am sure they did not!" Roy spoke decidedly. Helen recounted what she had seen of the ghostly light, how it had plucked her and her determination to find out what made it. She told of her long and fruitless watches, of the time she saw a man there but could not see his features, could not identify him. "You say you saw a man there at night?" "Yes, it may have been nine or half-past." Then: "But I wasn't satisfied and so kept on watching. I went again, weeks later. Father had died, and I had almost forgotten my resolve to discover the secret. I hid outside, looked through the window, then through the door, and—" "What did you see? Who was the man, and what was he doing?" "Suppressed excitement was in Roy's voice. Tomorrow—Helen Tells Roy Whom She Saw.

Phillies Defeated Twice by Dodgers

(By The Associated Press.)

Murphy Has Big Day in Circuit Races; Wins Two

(By The Associated Press.)
Hartford, Conn., Sept. 2.—Tommy Murphy drove two winners and finished in front in the only heat race in the 2:10 division of the Charter Oak stakes in the Grand Circuit races at Charter Oak Park this afternoon.

Murphy won the 2:03 trot with Car Worthy and took the 2:10 pace with Baron Worthy, stepping the first heat in 2:04, to beat Sparkie, owned by James P. Berry, of this city, and driven by Bill Crozier.

Owner Candler drove Marlon C to a straight heat win in the three-year-old pace with Bootsie, a stable-mate of the winner, second.

In the lone heat in the 2:10 division of the Greater Charter Oak stake, Watts-in-Bond, owned by John A. Pilgrard, of this city, and driven by Crozier, was beaten in the step by Murphy's trotter.

ESKY VICTOR IN BOTH TILTS

Gladstone Vanquished In Pair Of Holiday Games.

Escanaba took both games of the Labor Day series from Gladstone, winning the Sabbath encounter by a score of 10 to 3, and the Monday game, 9 to 2.

Hard hitting by the "Youngsters" featured both frays. Hank Schultz, on the hill Sunday for the Escanaba team, was boss at all times. Escanaba knocked Jake Powers, southpaw, out of the box and Stan Millard finished the scrap.

Home Run Clouts by Whitman, Koencke and Kessler Featured the Labor Day Contest with Gladstone Here, the Homelings Winning the Decision, 8 to 4.

Doc Beyers pitched splendid ball for Escanaba, after the third allowing only five blows in the game, and he was well supported.

Koencke and Whitman sent the ball sailing over the fence, and Kessler's circuit clout was lost through a hole under the barrier. Two men scored ahead of the big outfielder. Koencke's smash came with a man on the paths.

Gladstone took an early lead by scoring four runs in the second and third stanzas. The first pair were gifts of the Escanaba battery, resulting from two bases on balls, a wild pitch and a passed ball. In the third a base on balls and a pair of two baggers made up the run-getting machinery.

The Escanaba team scored a run in the second, another in the third, three in the fourth and three in the eighth.

Bud Kessler's one-hand stab of Feeney's long fly against the fence in the fourth and his long running catch of White's Texas Leaguer in the eighth, were the fielding features.

Miss Hollins Is Sensation of Day

(By The Associated Press.)
Nyart, R. L. Sep. 2.—The defeat of Miss Marion Hollins, New York, metropolitan champion and former national titleholder, was the sensation of the first round of match play today in the women's national golf tournament. She lost to Mrs. Dorothy Campbell Hurd, of Philadelphia, another former champion, 4 and 3, largely through two stymies and poor putting which offset her enormous drives.

Having played excellent golf all season and defeated Miss Edith Cummings of Chicago, the national champion, in a California winter tournament, Miss Hollins had been one of the favorites for the title.

WILLIAM TILDEN IS KING OF THE AMERICAN TENNIS

Forest Hills, N. Y., Sept. 2.—William T. Tilden is still king of the American tennis. The Philadelphia racket wizard removed any doubts on the score when he swept to victory this afternoon over his veteran California rival, William M. Johnston, and won the national singles championship for the fifth successive year.

It took Tilden 53 minutes to batter his gallant, but badly beaten little opponent into submission by scores of 6-1, 9-7, 6-2 and established not only his preeminent position among American racket stars, but recognition also as the world's champion, for he emerged triumphant from one of the greatest international fields ever gathered together.

A gallery of 7,000, considerably smaller than yesterday, had come with the expectation of a keenly fought battle with "Little Bill" giving his rival a brilliant tussle. But instead the onlookers saw the super-Tilden, the champion's racket genius at its greatest heights.

Johnston Outclassed

Except for a spirited rally in the second set which he forced to deuce several times and even threatened to capture, Johnston was outtricked, outgeneralized and outclassed. It was the fifth time Tilden had vanquished Johnston in the six successive years they have met in the national championships, and although he played the Californian fewer games last year, the titleholder's victory was as convincing as any previous triumph.

When Tilden completed his triumph characteristically in the final game with two smashing placements, and a canon ball service ace, he left the crowd amid a tremendous ovation. The crowd that had come close to topping yesterday under the spectacular challenge of Richards never rested more firmly on the tall champion's head.

YOUNGMEN WIN FROM MUNISING

Eskey Takes Slugfest At Chatham Fair Yesterday.

Chatham, Sept. 3.—(Special)—In a free hitting contest Escanaba defeated Munising here this afternoon by the score of 10 to 8.

Elmer Sherbarth, Munising star, was seriously injured when the car in which he was riding to Chatham overturned. He suffered four broken ribs and severe bruises.

THOMPSON HAS FIRST MEETING WITH GRIDDERS

Thirty candidates for places on the Escanaba high school football team met with Coach Glenn C. Thompson for their initial instruction in gridiron last night. A general call for volunteers in the pickin army will bring the squad up to 65 or 70 men tonight. The squad will be held up to that strength until the eve of the first game of the season, that with St. Joseph's high, two weeks from next Saturday.

The squad includes about a dozen "letter" men, although eight regulars of last year's team were lost to the school through graduation and one—Hank Gercaux—may find it impossible to return to school. This year's team, as a result, will be made up largely of last year's second string men, plus some first string talent that is still on the ground and a moderate quantity of new material. Some of the newer fellows have lots of "beef" and if it is possible to develop these aspirants, the Orange and Black should show opponents a rather husky forward wall, but it is impossible, at this time, to make any predictions.

Coach Thompson was too busy yesterday to make predictions, and announced that until he had seen the men under fire, it would not be possible for him to forecast anything regarding the probable strength of the aggregation.

Capt. Herman Mielthe returned to the city Sunday from Danville, Ill., where he spent his summer's vacation.

New York, Sept. 2.—Stock prices saw-sawed in today's relatively dull session, closing quotations showing a curious mixture of gains and losses.

Opening prices were strong as a result of a fairly large accumulation of week-end buying orders, prompted by the progress being made in putting the Dawes plan into effect and increasing indications of a revival in trade.

One of the most interesting features of the session was the advance in the call money rate which ruled unchanged at 2 per cent since July 8, to 2 1/2 and thence to 3 per cent, where it closed.

Wife Helps Elect Hubby

"After having been in bed half the time for a year with severe pains in my right side over the appendix, stomach trouble and bloating, which the doctors seemed unable to reach with medicine, and advised operation as the only remedy, my nurse advised me to try May's Wonderful Remedy, and its results have truly been wonderful as I am now entirely well and strong and at the last election worked hard to elect my husband." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded.

SCOUT LEADERS RETURN FROM TRAINING CAMP. Miss Loretta O'Connor, Girl Scout director, and Miss Ethel Bennett returned yesterday from Camp Minnesota, one of the seven national training camps for Girl Scout leaders located throughout the country. A special feature of the camp is its extensive training in camping. This is the only camp in which the Girl Scout leaders actually make their own camp and do all outdoor cooking. Besides the regular course for leaders, instruction is given by the national forest rangers in how to put up a tent, use of the ax, map making, compass work, swimming and portaging. During the campment a two-day canoe trip was taken, the leaders canoeing and portaging their craft through six lakes to the Canadian border. Miss Agnes Maynard, a guide leader from England, and an authority on girls' programs, games and camping, and Miss Ruth Butcher, from Boston, a leader in sea scouting, were among the national visitors at the camp. The least expensive of the Lord Mayor's Day banquets given in London was that in 1916, when owing to scarcity due to the war, the menu was restricted to three courses. The most expensive was that given by Lord Mayor Domville in 1814, and which cost altogether about $125,000.

Do You Teach The Youngsters To Face The Facts? School bells ringing for the new term call tomorrow's men and women—the leaders and workers of a few years hence. Billions could not equal the wealth of this nation in its boys and girls. Added billions could not pay what school days will be worth to them. Train them to meet each test as best they can, to cheer the comrade who passes them while each does the best he can. Teach them, too, that thrift and a knowledge of how to save are big stepping-stones to success.
