Franks Murderers Start Serving Their Sentences

AUTOMOBILE CONVEYING PAIR TO JOLIET PENITENTIARY IS NEARLY WRECKED IN ACCIDENT

"NOT SUCH A BAD PLACE", LOEB ASSERTS.

(By The Associated Press.) Joliet, Ill., Sept. 11.—Nathan F. Leopold, Jr., and Richard Loeb arrived at the state penitentiary here tonight at 7:58 o'clock, central standard time, in the custody of the sheriff of Cook county and deputies to begin sentences of 99 years and life for the kidnapping and slaying of young Bobby Franks.

Chicago, Sept. 11.—Nathan Leopold, Jr., and Richard Loeb were started on their way to Joliet penitentiary at 6:57 o'clock tonight.

The two youthful murderers of Bobby Franks, both nattily dressed, were bundled into one of their waiting automobiles and whisked away on the forty mile trip which will take them to the prison. In the same car were five armed deputy sheriffs.

Heading the procession was Sheriff Peter M. Hoffman, with a half dozen other deputies, in another closed car. The deputies were armed with rifles and shot guns. The third automobile contained newspapermen.

Leopold and Loeb passed through the lines of waiting newspapermen, smiling but silent. Neither would talk except to mumble a goodbye. As they entered the car, flashlights boomed. Both were visibly startled.

NARROWLY MISS DEATH. Penitentiary, Joliet, Ill., Sept. 11.—Nathan F. Leopold, Jr., and Richard Loeb, who killed 14-year old Robert Franks for a thrill, narrowly missed possible death on their motor trip to prison tonight, the climax of their separation from society for the remainder of their natural life.

At the center of a five car convoy, travelling about 35 miles an hour, the powerful automobile carrying the two boys and deputy sheriffs, was seen to swerve abruptly to the right, dive into the unballasted tracks of the electric railway, suddenly right itself and bounce fifty yards down the center of the right of way before it stopped.

The brakes on the car ahead of the boys had burned and stuck, bringing it to an immediate stop. To avoid smashing into it, the driver of the Loeb-Leopold car gambled with death, and steered at a right angle into the rails and ties.

To his coolness and judgment many officers of the party attributed the averted of a more serious result.

Leopold and Loeb were unhurt, though badly jarred.

Inspect Auto. Deputy sheriffs shouldering shot guns, and quickly leveling them at the principal car of the convoy, ordered a quick halt to the procession for an inspection.

An electric car which came into view was halted and its glaring searchlight focused upon the prisoners' car.

"Did you get a thrill out of that, Nathan?" a newspaper man shouted into the car. Leopold squirmed and laughed. He said nothing.

"How about you, Dickie?" was the next query.

"I can't say anything," he replied.

The trip was quickly resumed, but at considerably reduced speed.

At the main prison gate, the car containing the prisoners was surrounded by a cordon of armed deputies, the heavy gates opened wide enough to admit a man's body and in less than half a minute, the two young intellectuals were within the walls of the penitentiary with doors closed behind them.

Taken To "Solitary." None of the Chicago escort, gave Sheriff Peter Hoffmann and his deputies were admitted. The prisoners were hustled through another iron gate, into the lower courtyard and thence to the "court solitary" where all prisoners must spend their first night in solitary confinement.

Entering the prison building cheerfully, Loeb, who was ahead of his companion in the march through the yard, surveyed the dull grey room smilingly. A gleam of genuine interest shone in his features.

"Well," he chirped flippantly to his companion, "this is not such a bad place."

Leopold responded with a quick, vanishing smile. He remained silent.

J., announced he had accepted terms offered by Promoter Herman Taylor for a title match with Dave Shade, of California, at Philadelphia. Walker said he had been assured a guarantee of thirty-seven and one-half per cent of the receipts for the match. The date is to be agreed on later.

NAVY QUESTION IS BROUGHT UP

Great Britain Startles Conference With Her Demand.

(By The Associated Press.) Geneva, Sept. 11.—Great Britain dramatically dropped a naval bomb into the Geneva conference today and the new Anglo-French entente was appraised by many as approaching the character of an out and out alliance, when Sir Cecil Hurst, eminent jurist and British delegate, declared Great Britain's readiness to accept compulsory arbitration, provided she would not be brought into court because of some act of her navy performed in attempting to maintain or restore peace.

This declaration has set Geneva agog more than anything since Premier MacDonald and Herriot committed themselves in principle to the settlement of any and all disputes by obligatory arbitration by some world tribunal or tribunals.

Interpretation Made. The English reservation was interpreted as meaning that once the British navy begins to operate, her right of search and capture, which formed the subject of controversy between the United States and England before the United States entered the great war, cannot be questioned juridically.

The British statement is being given special attention because of the announced intention of the American government to adhere to the world court of justice, whose compulsory arbitration clause is under consideration.

Sir Cecil declared that the British reservation suggestion was not a machievellian subterfuge. In times past there had existed an idea that Great Britain was the tyrant of the seas. Yet, he said, the British delegation was only seeking to discover some method whereby the great cause of organized peace and security could be advanced on terms insuring general progress.

DAWES ASSAILS LA FOLLETTE IN HIS STRONGHOLD

Auditorium Is Packed To Hear Candidate Discuss Race.

(By The Associated Press.) Milwaukee, Wis., Sept. 11.—Senator LaFollette, independent candidate for president, was assailed as the "master demagogue" and the LaFollette independent candidacy was attacked as the "quintessence of demagogism" here in Milwaukee, a LaFollette stronghold, tonight by Charles G. Dawes, Republican vice-presidential nominee.

Mr. Dawes flayed LaFollette and attacked his candidacy before an audience that filled the Milwaukee auditorium, a structure seating 9,000 people.

The relation of the LaFollette movement to the constitution was the general theme of Mr. Dawes, who declared that the candidacy of the Wisconsin senator not only represented "the quintessence of demagogism," but a demagogism "animated by the vicious purpose of undermining the constitutional foundation of the republic."

Dawes is Cheered. The Republican nominee began his address with a sentence starting: "The attack made by Robert M. LaFollette upon the constitution of the United States." Before he could go further there were cheers for the mention of Senator LaFollette's name but the next time he was interrupted the cheers were less and before he had spoken five minutes the audience was quiet except to break into applause at the throat of Mr. LaFollette.

The nominee was greeted at the station when he arrived half an hour before the auditorium meeting began with red fire and bands.

Future Loeb's Are Not To Have Time To Follow Dickie

(By The Associated Press.) Charlevoix, Mich., Sept. 11.—Richard Loeb, convicted slayer of Robert Franks, will be the last of the Loeb's to lead a life of idleness.

Never again, his parents have determined, shall the family include a member of "the idle rich" and it became known to the public that they already have carried out this determination to the point of placing their youngest son, Thomas, 12 years old, at work on their 1,500 acre estate here.

Too much idle time, they believe, put "Dickie" behind the bars of Joliet state penitentiary and the schedule of work laid out for Thomas is as harsh as that enforced upon the son of the poorest farmer.

Thomas, under the new plan, must rise at dawn and report at the model dairy, where, before breakfast, he must carry milk to the churnery and do whatever other tasks the superintendent may assign. This work done, he goes to breakfast and then reports to the farm, where he works with the other hands, digging potatoes, husking corn, pitching hay or doing whatever may be required.

His older brother, Ernest, has been given the management of the farm and spends his entire day directing the work on it.

Clarence Darrow, chief of the defense counsel, who is retiring from active legal practice, arrived with Allen Loeb, the oldest son. It is understood he will remain here for some time.

Nathan Leopold, Sr., and Foreman Leopold also are guests here.

DID PRINCE OF WALES ATTEND BOXING MATCH?

Whereabouts of Heir to Throne Last Night Unknown

(By The Associated Press.) Syosset, N. Y., Sept. 11.—While there were rumors that the Prince of Wales would go cognito to witness the Willis-Firpo fight in Jersey City tonight, the prince and all the members of his staff left the James Burden house shortly before six o'clock without revealing their destination. Captain A. F. Lascelles and David Boyle, secretaries to the prince, have stated several times that the prince would not attend the fight. Major E. D. Metcalfe, an enquirer, went to the Jersey City match.

The vigorous constitution of the future British king, which has borne a constant strain of strenuous exercise and an exhausting round of dinner and dancing parties, almost constantly for eleven days, showed its first sign of fatigue today. The prince left the polo field at the end of the sixth period, telling Major Metcalfe he was tired.

When His Royal Highness lay down for a long delayed sleep at the Burden house early this afternoon he had gone through an excitingly active twenty-eight hours without more than ninety minutes sleep. It was a record so far as his Long Island visit is concerned.

Clue Is Obtained On Cosden Jewel Robbery, Report

(By The Associated Press.) New York, Sept. 11.—Detectives representing insurance companies interested in the $125,000 jewel robbery last Tuesday in the Port Washington home of J. S. Cosden, today reported progress in their investigation and prophesied a "break" in the case within 48 hours.

Gerard Lual, president of the Lual Investigation Company, representing Lloyd's, who made the announcement, said that about forty servants employed on the 300 acre estate where the Prince of Wales was twice a guest, were questioned separately during the afternoon.

It was learned that a man had been seen on the premises the night of the robbery. A guard is said to have called to him, but refrained from shooting when he received no answer because he was afraid it might be some one from the house.

Jewels worth about $110,000 were stolen from Mrs. Cosden and Lady Mountbatten lost rings and bracelets valued at about $15,000.

Program Is Short; Exercises At High School

Escanaba will be in holiday attire today. The city, late yesterday, began the task of hanging out the flags and other patriotic trimmings in the downtown streets. Mayor W. J. Hanrahan, in a proclamation issued last night, requested "a general display of our country's flag," in residential as well as in the business houses, and urged that "our people in spirit and in deed reaffirm their loyalty to our government."

The formal observance of the day will be brief and non-militaristic. There will be a parade, forming at the corner of Ludington and Sixth streets, in which all men of the community are urged to participate. The line will be headed by a color squad of Legion men in uniform, and the Escanaba Municipal Band in uniform. Capt. T. R. Kessler, commanding headquarters of the 382nd engineers, will be in charge. Then will follow the officers of other reserve units here—Col. Charles Good of Nahma, commanding the 382nd, Capt. L. D. Goddard, adjutant of that unit, and Capt. H. J. Defnet, commanding the medical detachment and Capt. Harry Compher, of the 337th infantry company assigned to this city.

Among the hills around lying in the latter repton the Chekiang army is launching its chief offensive, driving towards the Shanghai-Nanking railway and the grand canal where they would sever the lines over which the Kiangsu armies are receiving their supplies and reinforcements.

Wounded Arriving. The arrival of wounded at Kanning, Chekiang, from the Tai Lake front, indicates that the fighting been of some severity. According to the Chekiang headquarters the offensive is progressing favorably.

The Kiangsu army made another attempt today to drive the Chekiang force back from Hwangtu on the Shanghai-Nanking railway, but were unsuccessful, and while reeling under the shock of its defeat was counter-attacked. The Chekiang leaders now hope to push westward on this wing as far as Anting, five miles from Hwangtu.

At Hwangtu on the Yangtze river, where the country is flooded, there has been little fighting for several days.

Troops Held Own. With the Chekiang troops apparently more than holding their own in the battles for Shanghai, thus lessening the possibility of the fighting reaching the city, great calm prevails, although the vigilance of the men landed from the warships for the protection of foreign interests has not been lessened.

The local volunteers also are ready for emergencies. Meanwhile the destroyers and river gunboats are being sent to other towns along the Yangtze river, where there are large foreign interests and many foreign residents, to afford these the same protection that Shanghai now has.

Rumors of action on the part of Wu Pei Fu of Chihli to help Kiangsu, and of Chang Tso Lin, of Manchuria, and Dr. Sun Yat Sen, of the southern republic, to come to the assistance of Chekiang, are rife, but they all lack confirmation.

WOULD USE ROAD. Tokio, Sept. 12.—The Mukden correspondent of the Tokio Asahi telegraphs that General Chang Tso Lin, the Manchurian military leader who has declared war against Wu Pei Fu, the military leader of the central Chinese government, has lodged a request with the Japanese consul-general at Mukden for permission to use the south Manchurian railway for the movement of his troops. The request has been referred to the Japanese government or general of the Kwantung leased territory.

In best informed circles in Tokio it is believed that the request will be refused.

Troops Reach Mukden. The Asahi's correspondent reports that troops are arriving in Mukden from both Kirin to the north and Antung in the southwest. The Mukden regiments are ready to move on short notice. It is expected that passenger traffic on the Peking-Mukden railway will be suspended as soon as a general movement begins.

Commerce at Changchun, an important railway junction west of Kirin, is practically suspended, according to the correspondent, owing to military activity. Chang, it is said, intends to accompany his troops to the front.

The Nichi Nichi's Mukden correspondent says two field artillery regiments are already en route to Shanghaiwan, on the Peking-Mukden railway near the Chihli-Manchurian border.

MAJOR BATTLE IS IMPENDING IN CIVIL WAR

Chekiang Troops Seek To Cut Off Kiangsu Source Of Supply.

(By The Associated Press.) Shanghai, Sept. 12.—A continued downpour of rain has converted the entire fighting area west of this city into a morass, halting the fighting between the Chekiang and Kiangsu armies. However, both sides are busy bringing up reinforcements and ammunition where this is possible.

Shanghai, Sept. 12.—The center of interest in the Chinese civil war, active fighting in which thus far has been confined to the armies of the Tsuchens of Chekiang and Kiangsu, was transferred today from the sector immediately west of this city, referred to as the "eastern front," to the Tai Lake district to the southwest.

FIRPO'S FAMOUS RIGHT NO MYSTERY TO NEGRO; PRESS GIVES LATTER EVERY ROUND

Gasoline Price Drop Is Ordered By Standard Oil

(By The Associated Press.) Detroit, Sept. 11.—Gasoline at Standard Oil Company stations will drop three cents a gallon, to 15 1/2 cents, when the stations open for business tomorrow morning. The reduction was ordered by the general offices of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) in Chicago late today.

Edward P. Schlee, of the Wayco Oil Company, said that his company would make the same cut and predicted that the new price would be general throughout the city, it having been the rule in the past for all independent companies to follow the Standard company's schedule.

ARGENTINE BOXER'S PUNCHES LACK STEAM.

(By The Associated Press.) Jersey City, Sept. 11.—Harry Wills battered his way to a smashing one-sided victory tonight over Luis Angel Firpo in a grueling 12-round battle before a throng estimated at 75,000 in Boyle's Thirty Acres.

Dominating the fight from start to finish with an exhibition of ring craft that completely spiked Firpo's heaviest gun, his famous right, Wills beat the giant Argentine into decisive defeat with a bruising, relentless attack to the head and body.

Firpo Goes Down. Firpo was knocked down for a count of four in the second round, staggered in several others by lightning like thrusts to his jaw and subjected to a succession of savage, weakening drives to the body. Shorn of his chief and only potent weapon, the Argentine fought a losing battle all the way. His keenness carried through the terrific punishment his negro rival administered but he had not the boxing skill, speed or versatility of attack to cope with the crafty, resourceful and relentless campaign of his opponent.

No official decision was rendered, as none is permitted under New Jersey ring laws, but there was no question of the outcome. Firpo, in the opinion of some critics, barely held his own in one round, the third, while the big majority of newspaper critics gave every round to the big negro.

The crowd which filled the big bowl close to capacity had come in an expectation of a knock-out, with opinion about evenly divided as to which of the two ring giants would score it. But, instead, they saw Wills, the ring master and wily veteran, batter and wrestle his way to a convincing but unexciting victory.

Firpo Not "Wild." The "Brown Panther" was at his best, employing all his strategy to completely baffle his opponent, but Firpo was not the "Wild Bull" he had been in his other battles. Shorn of the mighty smash that sent Jack Dempsey flying out of the ring a year ago, the South American's attack was impotent and his defense was too crude to avoid the continual barrage of Wills' blows.

Wills employed all the tricks of his trade to stand off Firpo's charges. The big negro continually held Firpo with his long left, and wrestled the Argentine about while he administered terrific punishment with short right jolts to the head and body. At the close, Firpo was bewildered, helpless and at times handled like a child by his dusky rival.

Several times during the fight Firpo complained of Wills' tactics. His handlers, too, protested to Referee Danny Sullivan that Wills was unfair, but Sullivan refused to heed them, pointing out that they had agreed to fight in the clinches as long as one hand was free.

Helps Wills Greatly. This agreement, as the fight progressed toward an apparently inevitable end became of increasing advantage to Wills. Faster and shifter, the big negro dug rights and lefts into Firpo's body at close quarters, occasionally stung the Argentine with rapier-like shots to the head and raised red blotches on the South American's left side with powerful overhand punches.

Firpo, on the other hand, was too slow, too ungainly in his maneuvering, to profit from the ruling that covered their close range mixing.

Firpo's knockdown in the second round, the only one of the fight, came as the fighters were separating from a clinch and aroused an outburst of disapproval from the crowd. Firpo at the break, unsuspectingly dropped his arms, and as he did so, Wills whipped over a smashing right to the jaw that sent the Argentine toppling over backwards. Firpo climbed to one knee as the referee started to count and he backed to the fram after the count of four.

Firpo Unsteady. Firpo gamely withstood a shower of blows until the referee rang and he walked unsteadily to his corner. That was the closest he came to a knock-out stage of the fight. He staggered in at least two rounds, the third, ninth, from similar blows to the head but he remained steady. Wills, although he seldom took changes through the rounds, was a steady fighter.

TEST

ment Has ... Years De ... oping Them.

(By The Associated Press.) Washington, Sept. 11.—War department officials put last touches today in the defense test plans that will culminate tomorrow in a nation-wide demonstration of the de-militarized defense machinery set up since the national defense act of 1920 was written.

They were confident that the exceedingly limited test which alone is possible in peace times of a system planned and intended for actual use only in the event of a grave war emergency with hostility immediately impending, will show that their conception of the problem has been correct and that basically the defense system they have worked out under the law is sound and workable. They expect also that many aspects of the test will disclose weaknesses requiring modification of plans.

Few Changes Made. In an informal statement today, issued on the eve of the first test of all the planning in the last four years, Secretary Weeks indicated that he found encouragement in the fact that it has been necessary during the year in which plans for the test have been maturing, to make very few changes in the original prospect.

A summary of reports from the nine corps area commanders who are the channels of communication between the war department and the state and municipal authorities and the citizens engaged in carrying out the defense test project showed that in the aggregate a very large number of persons favored the project.

In his statement, Secretary Weeks pointed out that actual mobilization plans of the department, of which the test tomorrow is a sort of "televised" condensation, contemplated a period of months to be taken up in the raising of the full three field army strength, enrollment, assembly, equipment and training of the troops to proceed by different progressive stages. For purposes of the test, however, and dealing of it with personnel questions and with any matters of supply, equipment, housing or training, he added, the progressive stages had been consolidated into a single day.

Government officials including President Coolidge, Secretary Weeks and General Pershing, will play a part in the Washington city defense test program, reviewing on the parade of troops and volunteers back of the White House.

Both Secretary Weeks and General Pershing will talk over the radio tomorrow night, co-operation of the telephone and radio companies making it possible for 20,000,000 or more people to hear what is said.

But she carried her shorn tresses in the shape of an exquisite picture of Maca harbor, embroidered on silk with her own hair, working on the picture while on board ship. The necessary relief in the picture was obtained by the use of white hair, for which one of the stewards sacrificed a lock of his "pompadour."

Firpo Is Badly Beaten By Wills At Jersey City

of the battle he was wary of Firpo's right, but when he finally became convinced that he had this blocked, he became more aggressive. The negro tried hard at times in the closing rounds to score a knockout. Opening up his drive as Firpo weakened and was slowed up under a relentless onslaught, Wills bent Firpo almost double at times with his sweeping right handers to the body, mixed with swift jabs to the head, but his heaviest blows were not strong enough to bring the Argentine down.

Firpo First In Ring. Firpo was the first to climb into the ring. He wore his famous checkered bath robe and limbered up in his corner during the few minutes interval before Wills climbed into the ring. Both were the target of a battery of camera men while their gloves were fastened on. Firpo was accompanied by Dan Washington, his veteran negro trainer and Bill Tate, while Paddy Mullins, manager of Wills, headed a group of Wills' handiers.

Firpo scowled at his dusky rival as they took position in a corner for the benefit of a photographer, together with Referee Danny Sullivan, Mickey Walker, welterweight champion, Young Stribling and Paul Berlenbach were among notables presented to the crowd.

Preliminaries. Charles McKenna, of Greenwich Village, outboxed Miguel Ferrera, Argentine sparring partner of Firpo, in the first preliminary to the Wills-Firpo program. The crowd saw considerable action but little science in the four rounds. Carl Johnson and Joe Silvan, lightweights, fought a draw, in the opinion of critics, in the second four-round preliminary. Both took considerable punishment but were going strong at the finish. They hail from New York.

Bill Tate, Negro heavyweight and sparring partner of Firpo, knocked out John Gasanova after two minutes of the first round had elapsed in the third preliminary. Tate had the advantage in weight, scaling over 50 pounds more than Casanova.

Jim Maloney, of Boston, despite disadvantages in weight and reach, outpunched Joe Stoessel of New York, former amateur heavyweight star, in the fourth and last preliminary. Maloney floored his opponent for a count of six in the last round and had the New Yorker badly beaten.

ROUND ONE. They met in a clinch in the center of the ring and wrestled to Wills' corner. They clinched again in the center of the ring, the referee prying them apart. Wills staggered Firpo with a right to the jaw. They exchanged blows at close quarters. Wills got in three heavy blows without a return. There was much wrestling. Firpo staggered Wills with his heavy right, first to the body and then to the jaw but the negro was unhurt. Firpo landed a right upper cut, but the negro only smiled. Firpo missed a right and Wills rushed him across to the ropes with a panther-like leap. They were fighting furiously at the bell.

ROUND TWO. Firpo landed four rights to the jaw as they met in the center of the ring. He staggered the negro with a body punch. Firpo was landing his right consistently to all parts of Wills' body and head. They clinched. Wills knocked Firpo down with a left to the jaw but he was up at the count of three, apparently unhurt. Firpo fell into a clinch when he got up. Firpo was wild with his right. Wills missed a right. They continued to clinch.

ROUND THREE. Firpo landed his right solidly to Wills' head as the bell rang. Firpo rushed out of his corner with a characteristic leap but Wills immediately fell into a clinch. They exchanged blows at close quarters, Wills tying up the Argentine whenever possible. Firpo landed to the head and body with his right and took a right to the body in exchange. Wills landed effectively to Firpo's body when the Argentine attempted to hang on. Firpo landed a beautiful uppercut to Wills' jaw, but the negro countered with a barrage of body blows. Firpo missed a lunging right just as the bell sounded.

ROUND FOUR. They fell into a clinch at the bell. Firpo's right found Wills' body and the negro immediately clinched. The referee used his knee to pry the two apart. The referee warned Wills for holding on. Both landed pretty uppercuts. Firpo was wild with his right. Wills staggered Firpo with a right flush on the face but the negro did not follow up his advantage. It was the best blow of the fight. Firpo uppercutted with his right. Firpo missed a right and got a right uppercut to the jaw in return. They were in a clinch at the bell.

ROUND FIVE. Wills' left staggered Firpo and the Argentine clinched. Both landed to the body. They clinched. They wrestled around the ring, pulling and hauling at each other. Firpo landed twice to the head. Wills was blocked beautifully. Firpo could not get set for a blow. Wills hammered Firpo's kidneys. Wills' right stung Firpo, the Argentine countering with another right to the head in return. They were sparring for an opening at the bell.

ROUND SIX. They exchanged rights and lefts to the head. There was plenty of body punching at close quarters. Firpo landed weakly to Wills' head. The negro smiled as he blocked Firpo's leaps. Firpo rushed half way across the ring to evade one of Wills' rushes. They continued their wrestling tactics. Wills' right found Firpo's jaw again but the South American got in a sweet uppercut which sent Wills' head backward, just as the bell rang.

ROUND SEVEN. They fell into their usual clinch as they met in the center of the ring. Firpo danced away from the ring. The Argentine's plunging rushes were missing. Wills doubled Firpo with a left to the body. They pulled and hauled at each other around the ring, hitting with their free hands at any opening available. Firpo got in a right and left to the head which Wills could not block, but no damage was done. Wills jabbed with his left and crossed with his right, staggering Firpo in his corner. The negro was hitting harder than his opponent. A right to the jaw made Firpo groggy. Two heavy body blows followed but the bell stopped them from following up further.

ROUND EIGHT. Wills' left found Firpo's body and his right went to the jaw as they met in the center of the ring. Firpo jabbed weakly with his left but Wills blocked a right cross which followed. A straight right sent Firpo's head backward. The negro was boxing superbly. Wills landed effectively to the body in a clinch. Wills' punches were carrying more steam than his rival's. Firpo was short with a right uppercut. The negro landed twice to Firpo's body. They broke from a clinch as the bell ended the round.

ROUND NINE. The negro tied Firpo up when he started one of his rushes. Firpo led with his right and fell into a clinch. They exchanged body blows at close quarters. The negro's reach was bothering Firpo. Wills stood off and pepered Firpo at long range, landing effectively six times without absolute return. Firpo was going away as Wills right struck his jaw. The negro was gaining confidence. Firpo led with his right but Wills cleverly blocked the blow and caught Firpo on the side of the head coming in. Firpo's right hit Wills hard on the head but the negro only smiled. The bell stopped the fight in the middle of a clinch.

ROUND TEN. They exchanged body blows. Firpo protested to the referee for hitting in the clinches. Wills' right was finding Firpo's body consistently. Wills landed a one-two punch to Firpo's head and the Argentine clinched. Wills landed to Firpo's body but took a stiff one in his wind in return. Firpo danced away from a right and then clinched. Firpo landed weakly to Wills' jaw and followed with a right to the body which stung the negro. Wills took a beautiful right on the jaw as the bell rang.

ROUND ELEVEN. Wills rushed to meet Firpo but the Argentine clinched. Wills hooked his right to Firpo's jaw as the referee attempted to part them. Firpo landed his right to Wills' jaw and followed with a right to the body, but the blow lacked steam. There was much wrestling and hanging on by both principals. Firpo stung his right to Wills' jaw twice in rapid succession but the negro kept concentrating to Firpo's body which was pink from the heavy battery of blows which he had absorbed. Firpo was getting his set over better but also taking plenty of body punishing. They were tied tight at the bell.

ROUND TWELVE. They shook hands. They immediately clinched, Firpo hanging on desperately. Wills was opening up trying frantically to put over a finishing blow. He continued his relentless body attack. Firpo was hanging on savagely. Wills missed a right but landed two successive rights to the head a moment later. Firpo landed his right straight to Wills' face but the negro continued to smile. They continued their clinching and wrestling tactics. Firpo getting the worst of the exchanges which followed. They were clinched at the bell.

Round-the-World Planes Are Ready To Resume Flight (By The Associated Press.) Washington, Sept. 11.—The Chicago, New Orleans and Boston II, trim and sparkling from a last rub-down by the air service mechanics at Bolling Field, late today were declared ready for the resumption Saturday of the transcontinental leg of the world flight.

A service test will be given all three planes tomorrow when they are driven by Lieutenants Smith, Nelson and Wade in an exhibition tour over Washington as a feature of the Defense Day test, but as far as engineering skill and caution could determine, preparation of the "buses" as they are described in the service, was completed today. Every strut and brace was examined minutely and tightened and the engines were put through their paces.

The world pilots called today upon General Ershing and other bureau chiefs at the war department, and later personally expressed their thanks to the headquarters staff of the air service who had charge of the clerical end of the flight. There were no social activities booked for the fliers tonight, and except for the short flight tomorrow, they are under orders to rest in preparation for the jump Saturday to Dayton, Ohio.

Chilean women have already distinguished themselves themselves considerably in medicine, in dentistry, and in literature.

NO VICTORY IS DARROW CLAIM

Leopold-Loeb Counsel Asserts Pair Are Some "Wrong"

(By The Associated Press.) Charlevoix, Mich., Sept. 11.—Clarence Darrow does not believe it was a victory for him to send two young boys to the penitentiary for life. This was the statement today of the veteran attorney who pleaded the case of Richard Loeb and Nathan F. Leopold, Jr., as they began serving life sentences at the Joliet, Ill., penitentiary for the kidnaping and murder of Bobbie Franks.

Darrow arrived here this morning for a week's rest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Loeb, parents of "Dickie" Loeb. Darrow said that time will prove the statements he made at the trial. Sitting in a room of the palatial Loeb home, overlooking an inland lake, he made a gesture that took in the elegant and beautiful furnishings of the place and asked: "Don't you think Dick's mind is not right when he gives this up for an iron-barred cell at Joliet?"

Mr. and Mrs. Loeb remain in seclusion and would not see newspapermen. Dr. Robert B. Armstrong, family physician, who testified at the trial as to Dick Loeb's injuries in an automobile accident several years ago, said he would not allow either of the parents to be disturbed.

EDUCATION

It's Only Cure For Crime, Uen Chaplain Says.

FATHER KELLY

By NEA Service. Columbus, O.—Most men in prison today are there because they never had a chance. In youth, they were denied the advantages of schooling. And now society is making them pay for its own negligence. Such is the philosophy of Rev. F. L. Kelly, retiring chaplain of the Ohio penitentiary. For 29 years the state prison here has been Father Kelly's parish.

But he is leaving with the knowledge that it was through his efforts that the present school system in the penitentiary was established. And that should comfort him.

Education of the criminal was his passion during all those years. Session after session, he fought before the state legislature before he succeeded in having his plan for educating the men in prison adopted.

"Education is the real antidote for crime," says Father Kelly. "It will accomplish far more than all the laws our legislators can enact. Our prisons are not crowded with college graduates, as some folks would have us believe. Why, 99 per cent of all our convicts are illiterate. Nine out of every ten of them here either never had a chance to attend school or wouldn't go when they got the chance. Hundreds of them have come in here unable to read or write. They came in here discouraged. And, in the old days, they grew more so as the years rolled on. Idleness sent them out with bitterness in their hearts. Many of them, though, have learned to read and write here. And the little learning they did set took the sting out of their hearts. And that alone makes me feel my work is done."

OBITUARY

MRS. CHARLES LARSON. The body of Mrs. Charles Larson arrived from Terre Haute, Ind., Thursday morning accompanied by her husband, her son, Arthur Larson, of Laramy, Wyo., and her daughter, Mrs. Ellen Trickey, of Tulsa, Okla., and was taken to the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Starline, 1402 First Ave. South. Mrs. Starline is a niece of the deceased. The floral tributes were many and the casket was entirely covered with flowers, tokens of esteem from her many friends. Mrs. Larson was a former resident of this city and hosts of friends called at the Starrine home to pay their respects to their departed friend. Rev. Hubbard, of Iron River, officiated at the services which were held at the home at two o'clock and at the First Presbyterian church at two-thirty. The edifice was filled with sorrowing relatives and friends. Mrs. F. M. Fernstrom presided at the organ and Mrs. Robert Rose and Miss Aida Robb sang two beautiful duets, "Beautiful Isle of Somewhere" and "Coming Home." The close friends who carried the casket to and from the funeral car were Messrs. John Moe, John Kahlow, Gust Anderson, Neils Ahlquist, Mike Gunter and O. V. Linden. Members of the Morning Star

Society and the Ladies' Auxiliary to the Order of Railway Conductors attended the funeral in a body. Interment was in Lakeview cemetery in the family lot. Out-of-town relatives who came here to attend the obsequies were Oscar Noland, Mrs. John Haley, Duluth, Minn., Mrs. Conrad Jorgensen, Mrs. Axel Johnson, Minneapolis, Minn., Mrs. Walter Soder Gladstone. Mayor and Mrs. W. J. Hanrahan and Mr. and Mrs. James Hanrahan yesterday attended the funeral at Marinette, of Howard Hanrahan, formerly a resident of Escanaba and known to many people in this city. Mr. Hanrahan was employed at Rathfon Brothers' department store, when that company opened a new building in this city and later was engaged at the Fair

Store. For many years he was employed as a traveling salesman for the Carpenter Cook Company of Menominee and became one of the best known grocery salesmen of the peninsula. For several years he had served as manager for the Carpenter Cook Company's branch at Ishpeming and held that position when his health gave way, resulting in his death. Besides his wife, Mr. Hanrahan is survived by his father, J. H. Hanrahan, of Pentago, together with two sisters, Mrs. Henry Rasmussen, of Marinette and Miss Gladys Hanrahan, of Chicago. WOOSTER GIVES STRING DRILL

Thoroughbreds Shown Delta Race Track For First Time.

Allie T. Wooster, head of the "Wooster Attractions," which are to be featured at the Northern State Fair next week, gave his horses a workout on the local track yesterday and found them fit. A complete program was staged during the rehearsal-workout, including: The three girl riders put the 18 horses through their paces in the Roman standing race and the relay and the lone runner turned a fast half mile against an automobile. The spirit and speed of the animals surprised all who saw the workout, and the keen rivalry between the various riders insures some real racing next week. The riders are really riding to win, if possible. Mr. Wooster will give the horses another workout Saturday morning. Many Horses Entered. So many horses are being entered for the regular harness program that Secretary Oscar Kraus, of the Fair Association, telegraphed yesterday for a large tent to house about 20 of the speedsters. The racing program is certain to be one of the best ever arranged here, and when the Wooster entertainment is added, will make tremendously big value for the money patrons will spend.

JUDGE YELLAND THANKS VOTERS FOR CONFIDENCE

Probate Judge Judd Yelland yesterday issued the following statement thanking the voters of Delta county for their support of his candidacy for the Republican nomination of the office he now holds: "I am sincerely thankful to the people throughout the county who voted for me or supported me in any way at the primary election. I believe that the people who voted for me did so in appreciation of the way I have conducted the business of the probate office and the service I have given the people of the whole county. I realize that many people of the city of Escanaba voted against me because they were influenced by false propaganda circulated which had nothing to do with the probate office of my candidacy for the office, and I feel sure that the time will come when most of them will realize their mistake. I have not the slightest ill feeling against any person who voted against me and I want all the people to feel free to go to the probate office and call upon me for any service I am able to give them. After fifteen years of service to the people I feel that I am justly proud of the splendid endorsement given me. When I think of the overwhelming majorities given me by the city of Gladstone and the townships, where no false propaganda was circulated, which was nearly unanimous, it strengthens my belief that the people can be depended upon to do the right thing. "JUDD YELLAND."

Mr. Power is a former resident of Escanaba. Details of the robbery were not included in Capt. SENATORS WIN SERIES FINALE

Homer By Harris Clinches Game For Washington In Ninth Inning.

(By The Associated Press.)
Philadelphia, Sept. 11.—Washington made it three out of four in its series with Philadelphia by taking today's game, 7 to 4. For seven innings Marberry and Rommel engaged in a hurling duel with the former having slightly the best of it, but Rommel weakened in the eighth and the Senators scored two more runs. A homer by Buck Harris, with two on in the ninth, made victory sure. Marberry eased up in the closing innings, allowing the locals to score a run in the eighth and two in the ninth. DOG TURNS GRAY.
Galveston, Tex.—Fright has made a gray-haired dog of Mutt, a black and tan Alreadale. Mutt was chained to the running board of his master's car when the machine struck a rat and turned over three times. Afterward the dog was found cowering under a house, and when he finally was enticed out, his head was covered with gray hairs.

ORANGE & BLACK SQUAD IS GIVEN FIRST "SCRIM"

Great Student Crowd Is On Hand To See It

Five hundred Escanaba high school students saw Coach Glenn Thompson's Orange and Black gridiron warriors in their first scrimmage of the season at South Park last night. The four classes marched in groups, considerable rivalry being exhibited by the various delegations. The sidelines showed lots of spirit and pep. Thompson's squad had an interesting 20-minute set-to, with a large number of the candidates for positions getting the opportunity to show their stuff. Very little was unworked by either the "varsity" or the scrubs, but both showed up well in the fundamentals, the early status of the season considered. There is room for marked improvement, however, and there undoubtedly will be material improvement by the time he teams line up, a week from Saturday, in the opening game with St. Joseph's parochial high.

American Tennis Stars Are Victors Over Australians

(By The Associated Press.)
Germantown Cricket Club, Philadelphia, Sept. 11.—In clear-cut tennis the United States lawn tennis team won the first two matches of the challenge round of the Davis Cup competition today on the courts of the Germantown Cricket Club and gained a commanding lead over Australia.

William T. Tilden II, of Philadelphia, the American champion, completely outplayed Australia's greatest player, Gerald L. Patterson, in the first match in straight sets by scores of 6-4, 6-2, 6-2.

Vincent Richards, youthful New Yorker, who replaced the veteran William M. Johnston, of California, on the American team, justified his selection by the mastery manner in which he won his first match in the Davis Cup singles play.

Gauging the game of the Australian veteran, Pat O'Hara Wood, Richards, by a superlative display of volleying, raced through the match in straight sets to America's second win. The scores were 6-3, 6-2, 6-4.

The double victory makes the retention of the Davis Cup a certainty, experts believe. Tomorrow Tilden and Johnston will meet Patterson and Wood in doubles.

REVIVE COOKING ART
Chicago—The fine art of cooking—lost for a generation—is being rescued by the American schools, according to Miss Anna E. Phelan, high secretary of the Women's Catholic Order of Foresters. "Our grandmothers taught their daughters to cook," she says. "But now it's up to the schools. The present-day mothers themselves can't cook."

SLIPPER SLIPS.
London—Wedding bells rang in the wake of a flying slipper from a chorus girl's foot in a London musical show. Miss Belle Hopkins, chorus girl, and Chief of Police Joe Koppers of Niglund, Germany, were married through an acquaintance that began when the girl's slipper flew over the footlights and struck Koppers in the face. The police chief carried the slipper to her after the show.

Famous Westminster Hospital, in London, was founded in 1715, when four philanthropists met in a Fleet street coffee shop to discuss a means of caring for the sick.

The sound of a bell which can be heard 4,200 feet through the water can be heard through the air only 450 feet.

Trouble with a political job is your feelings get hurt when you lose it and have to go to work.

BOOSTER GAME NEXT SUNDAY

Local Management Hopes To Wipe Out Deficit In That Manner.

The Escanaba-Ishpeming baseball game at South Park next Sunday afternoon will be a "booster" affair. In the hope of being able to close the season without a deficit, the management has proclaimed a "Booster Day" and adult tickets will be sold for $1. If there is a large crowd, the books can be wiped clean in this way, it was stated last night.

Fans are assured of a high class baseball game to close the year. Ishpeming has been playing a stellar brand of the national game, and is certain to put up a great fight. Hank Bayers, slub ace of the peninsula, will hurt for the homeboys.

The Escanaba club has clinched the Upper Peninsula championship in this territory in many years. Old timers declare it is the best ball ever assembled under the local colors, and there is every reason why the boys should be given a rousing send-off Sunday afternoon.

Paddock Sets New 175 Yard Record; Timers Are Mixed

(By The Associated Press.)
Cleveland, Sept. 11.—Charlie Paddock, world's champion sprinter, today established a new world's record for 175 yards, equaling the mark for 100 yards, and thinking he was dashing 140 yards did 125 yards in 1-3-5 seconds faster than the mark for 130 yards.

Paddock ran over the turf at Dunn Field as the headliner in a benefit sport carnival for farmers who suffered loss in the Lorain tornado June 28. The other records, it is said, were made over cinder tracks.

Paced by Cleveland sprinters, Paddock ran the 175 yards in 17-4-5 seconds, over a track with a slight curve at the finish. This is 3-5 of a second faster than the record of 18-2-5 seconds made by Huben, in Berlin on a straight track earlier in the year.

Paddock was timed by five A. U. timers. Two caught the time at 17-3-5, two at 17-4-5 and one at 18 seconds. They were complimented by giving him a mark of 17-4-5. The mark for 100 yards, which Paddock equalled was 9-4-5 seconds, held by himself.

Assistant Coach Shrank refereed the scrimmage in a manner which indicated his thorough competence.

Not Exactly Popular.

JONES' SINGLE PUTS WINNING TALLY ACROSS

Detroit Takes Two Of Three Game Series From White Sox.

(By The Associated Press.)
Detroit, Sept. 11.—O'Rourke's double, followed by a sacrifice, an infield out and Jones' single, brought the run in the tenth inning which enabled Detroit to make two out of three in the series with Chicago, the Tigers winning, 5 to 4. Detroit had previously tied the score in the eighth when two walks and Wingo's double brought two runs.

Detroit's first two runs came in the third inning which opened with Jones' single. Manush forced him, went to third on Cobb's single, Cobb going to second on the throw. Manush scored and Cobb went to third on a wild pitch, and Cobb scored on Hellmann's long fly.

Two singles and a sacrifice gave Chicago a run in the third while a triple, a single, a stolen base and a sacrifice brought two runs in the fourth. The other Chicago run was counted in the eighth when Kamm drove the first ball pitched over the fence for a home run.

New York, Sept. 11.—Rallying tendencies characterized today's stock market. Selling pressure was applied soon after the opening against some of the graners and a few industrial specialties, but it failed to bring out much long stock and eventually was lifted with the result that prices moved irregularly higher.

The scarcity in the floating supply of popular stocks at current price levels generally was construed as an indication that stocks were in strong hands after the recent sharp reaction.

Trading in United States Steel common was unusually light although the stock closed 1/8 higher at 107 1/2. Its top price of the day, Baldwin, American Can, Dupont, General Electric, Allis Chalmers, Allied Chemical, Davison Chemical, Mack Trucks, National Lead, Tobacco Products and Union Tank Car showed net gains of 1 to 2 1/2 points.

Active selling of Great Northern preferred, which broke 3/4, pointed to 60 1/2, undoubtedly reflected speculative disappointment over the semi-annual earnings, but good buying support was provided and the stocks rallied to 62 1/2.

Another attempt to depress the St. Paul issues failed to make much headway, the net losses being limited to small fractions. Call money was unchanged at 2 per cent. Time money rates showed an easier tone, but business was quiet. Commercial paper held steady.

Foreign exchange rates pointed upward with some short covering reported as a result of the extension of the Morgan $100,000,000 credit to the Bank of France. Demand sterling ruled about a cent higher around $4.44 1/4 and French francs were active around 5 1-3 cents.

There's a fly in the ointment.

Things over in Iron Mountain are far from as ideal as the general public has been led to believe. It now appears that what has been widely advertised as the upper peninsula's "Ford City" is everything else but.

Because the people of Iron Mountain insisted upon the election of an anti-Ford mayor and council and steadfastly refused to clean house in their municipal policies, Mr. Ford established his plant and erected a village outside of Iron Mountain's city limits. Now Iron Mountain is forced to provide extensive public improvements because of the development of an industrial center outside her borders, where it cannot be taxed to aid in paying for city improvements.

The village of Kingsford has politely declined to be annexed to the city of Iron Mountain, and accordingly to resolutions adopted by the village council will have nothing to do with her parent city.

The annexation movement was started by the Iron Mountain Chamber of Commerce. It was prompted by the fact that Iron Mountain together with Kingsford would make a very sizeable city from every point of view. Kingsford has grown in population and assessed valuation. Since the advent of Ford into Dickinson county, Iron Mountain, too, has grown in population and assessed valuation, but nothing as compared with what would be the case if Ford had established himself in Iron Mountain proper instead of starting a new community of his own.

Here are some of the reasons given by residents of Kingsford for opposing annexation:

"If Iron Mountain wanted this district it should have spoken before the village was organized. We have a business-like form of government and we're getting along tolerably well, so why change? When it comes to public improvements, such as water and streets, we're just as well off as Iron Mountain. We haven't anything to gain by annexation just now except higher taxes."

Pretty good reasons, too. No one wants higher taxes. Yet it cannot be denied that Iron Mountain is taking a step in the right direction in seeking annexation. It needs all the tax money it can obtain for civic improvements and since these improvements are necessitated by Ford's establishment, it is natural that Iron Mountain people would want Ford to help pay for them.

How accurate the story is, we do not know, but it is said that had Kingsford been elected mayor of Iron Mountain instead of Henze, Ford would have located his plant in the Dickinson county seat. But Henze beat Kingsford, and Ford, fearful of the results of Henze's administration, decided to set up his own municipality. And Hank's just the chap who can do those things, and he did it, much to the disappointment of Iron Mountain people.

The story sounds logical, and has been stated and re-stated for the truth in many quarters in the Upper Peninsula.

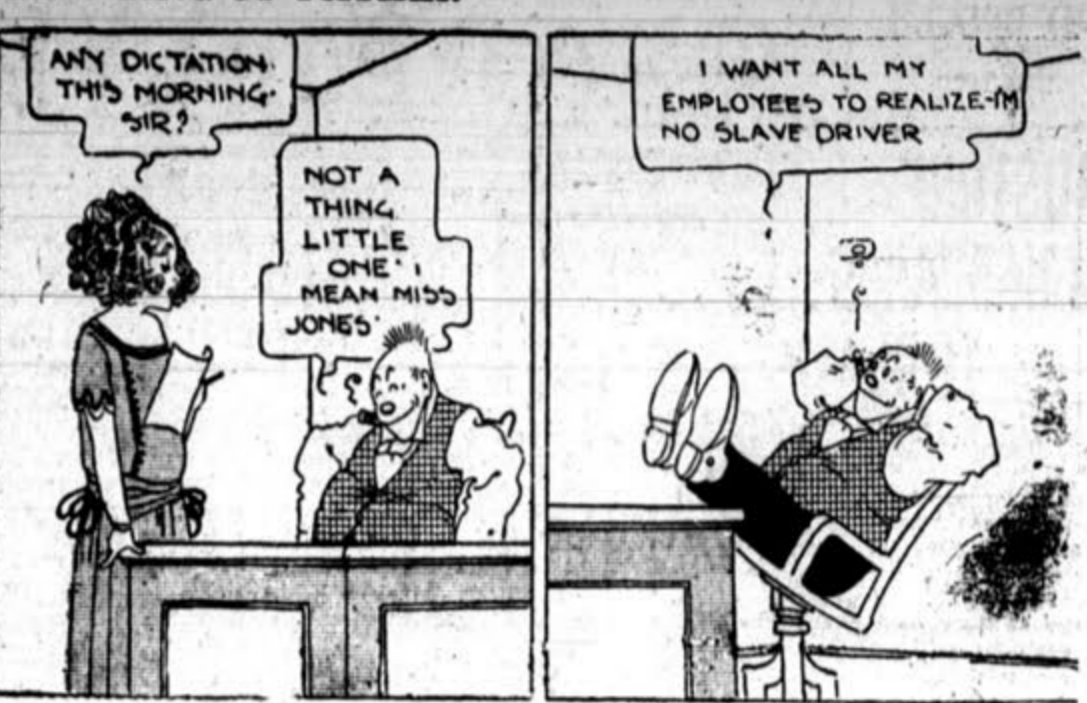

The production of cane sugar and allied products increased 55.6 per cent in the United States, comparing 1923 with 1921, according to the Census Bureau. Don't forget that there is a protective tariff on sugar.

A country that can close its year with a Treasury balance of more than $400,000,000, that can collect $1,185,000,000 in taxes in one year, and that can reduce its public debt by $5,250,000,000 in five years is not fertile soil for the growth of pessimism. The U. S. A. is O. K.

With three bankers on the directorate of the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce the organization's cash is certain of every degree of protection.

Today's the day when the put-pat boys see how near they can come to breaking their necks without really accomplishing it.

HELEN DISCUSSES RANCHING FOR WOMEN.

HELEN DISCUSSES RANCHING FOR WOMEN. Chapter LI. Helen had learned one invaluable lesson—to pity those who, having experienced a disappointment like hers, had no outlet for the emotions which might ruin their lives. Work proved an alleviation of her spiritual pain, softened her nature. Helen felt often that life might have been fuller, richer, if destiny had not stepped in and robbed her of the happiness she would have had if her love for Roy had been returned. Yet even so, she held no quarrel with life as a whole. At times she thought she would be content, ask nothing more, if she could see him occasionally, talk with him in the old, friendly way. She wondered what he was doing in the far-away city. Was he happy there after all his years in the open country? Was he successful? Had he met someone he loved? Even though alone, Helen had insisted upon a certain formality of living. She invariably dressed for dinner and had it served daintily in the dining room. She would allow no laxness in the little amenities of refinement, realizing how easy it is to fall into slipshod ways. So dinner was still a sort of function, although she took her breakfast and luncheons either in her room or on the porch. Helen had grown a little stouter as she bloomed into womanhood, but had lost none of her lighthness, and her beauty had a deeper, more appealing quality, despite the added strength showing in her face—a strength gained by buffeting with big problems, a strength of renunciation. Far and wide she was known as "the lovely mistress of the L.M. Ranch," a clever, business woman who could hold her own, yet who was liked and respected by all with whom she came in contact. "I wonder more women don't take up ranching," she said to Martha one day. She had been reading a magazine article telling of an author who had taken up governmental land, lived on her claim and made a success of it in every way, gaining health and money. "There ain't many got the guts to work a big ranch," Martha said plainly, looking admiringly at her young mistress. "After one learns—and everyone has to learn the thing they do, if they are to do it well—it ain't any more difficult than many other things women do. And the difference! Cooped up in an office all day, riding in subways, or crowded street cars, living in restricted quarters—why it ain't comparable to life in the open. If I were obliged to I would do as this woman I have been reading about has done—take up land and make it my own." "She must have had pretty hard times, Miss Helen. Your uncle did, and he was a man. It ain't all easy when one starts ranching." "It isn't easy when one inherits a ranch, Martha, but is anything that is worth doing easy? Would we care to do it if it were? The joy is in the battle, more than in the result." "There ain't many like you, Miss Lorimore," Martha said, only partly understanding, yet pleased that Helen talked with her seriously. It flattered her to think her mistress thought her capable of entering into her thoughts. Helen stood on the porch watching the sun go down in a sea of glory, red, orange, purple, where it sank below the distant mountain peaks. She never tired of the wonderful sunsets, each one seeming more gloriously beautiful than the last. "Dinner is served," the house-boy interrupted Helen's musings. The daintily laid table, softly lighted with candles in quaint old copper candlesticks, seemed to bid her welcome as she took her place. She was in a strangely softened mood, as she looked about the room, and a smile played about her lips. "My home," she murmured. The boy served her soup. Unaccustomed noises on the porch, in the hall caught her attention. Some rancher perhaps, heeled and had dropped in; if so she would have company for dinner. Helen laid down her spoon and waited. Martha or the boy would let her know. "She's at dinner," Helen Martha speaking, but with a rink of gladness in her she scarcely recognized her guest. The door opened. On it stood a man, his face, guishable in the faintly lighted hall. Tomorrow—The Reclams Roy SEAU The world's 1st station is being built near Rugby,

FOLLO DENIES "KLUX" RUMOR USED TUESDAY

Congratulates Harvey on Cleanness of Fight.

Charles O. Follo, who lost the nomination for county clerk at Tuesday's primary election, in a formal statement yesterday, congratulated George E. Harvey who won the contest and vigorously denied rumors which had connected him with the Ku Klux Klan.

Mr. Follo's statement follows: "I wish publicly to congratulate Mr. George Harvey upon his nomination for county clerk. His was a clean, well earned victory. I have always had a high regard for Mr. Harvey, having grown up with him, since boyhood and I am satisfied that it was not a disgrace to be defeated by so able a politician and official as he. As far as Mr. Harvey is concerned, I know that he attempted to make his campaign a clean one. But I do wish to protest against some of the methods employed by a few of his over-zealous supporters, who made me the target for some of the lowest type of politics.

"First, I was accused of being in sympathy with the anti-parochial school amendment. Most of my Catholic and Lutheran friends know that I am vigorously opposed to the proposal to abolish the parochial schools. I have often said I believed the amendment to be an American and, from a taxpayer's standpoint, sheer folly.

"When they learned that they could not make that lie stick, they circulated the rumor that I was the leader of the Ku Klux Klan in the peninsula, that I had joined the Klan in Milwaukee and that I was instrumental in organizing the branch of the Klan in Manistique.

"I know nothing whatever about the Klan as an organization, its purposes or its teachings, except what I have read in the daily newspapers. I have never attended a Klan meeting, nor have I ever seen a klanman that I know of. As for my joining in Milwaukee, I wish to state that I have not been in Milwaukee since June, 1919, and that I have been in Manistique four times in the last two years; three times to attend ball games and the other—in June of this year—to attend the convention of the Upper Peninsula Pythian League which was held at the fair grounds, remaining in that city only a few hours on each occasion.

"I never have believed in the attempts of the Klan to stir up religious intolerance, but such lying propaganda on the part of the Klan's opponents as that used against me, I believe, is the cause of the organization's existence.

"I am not in the least 'sore' over my defeat. I am proud that I received as many votes as were accorded to me, as it was practically impossible for me to do any work outside of the city and very little of the city.

"I want to thank my friends who stuck by me in the face of almost certain defeat, and who helped to counteract the nasty rumors which were in circulation.

"I will greatly appreciate any information concerning the origin of these rumors, so that the perpetrators may be brought to justice.

(Signed) "CHARLES O. FOLLO."

BROWN LAWSUIT OPENS AT 500

Former Escanaba Pastor Asking Damages For Alleged Slander.

Sault Ste. Marie, Sept. 11—Anderson McClelland, defendant in a $10,000 damage suit brought by the Rev. R. Stanley Brown, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, was the first witness called to the stand by the counsel for the plaintiff for cross examination, when trial of this case was begun.

McClelland identified the letter he had written to Mr. Sidebotham relative to Mr. Brown. Durin the course of the questioning Mr. McClelland said his motive for writing the letter was not to have Mr. Brown removed from office. However, further on in his testimony he said he was in sympathy with those who favored Mr. Brown's removal from the church.

When asked by Francis T. McDonald, counsel for the plaintiff, in regard to interviewing a representative from a Dubuque, Ia., church who came to the Sault in regard to the possible appointment of Mr. Brown to his church, McClelland stated he saw him, and said he encouraged him to take Mr. Brown.

The Rev. R. S. Sidebotham, of Manistique was the star witness for the plaintiff.

The suit involves certain allegations made by Mr. McClelland, former trustee of the church, in a letter to Mr. Sidebotham, stated clerk of the Lake Superior Presbytery, about Mr. Brown.

It is charged by the plaintiff that defendant "falsely, wickedly and maliciously" wrote a letter to the stated clerk of the presbytery concerning him and his relations with the church here. Certain statements, the pastor charges,

"CHARLES O. FOLLO."

HOLY NAME RALLY.

A most impressive Holy Name rally took place Sunday, Sept. 7th, at the Sacred Heart church of Schaeffer, where the Holy Name Societies of Bark River, Foster City, Perronville and Schaeffer gathered for a public demonstration. Practically the whole membership of this society from the above-named Catholic churches, 250 men, marched in procession from the church through the village, carrying Holy Name banners and pennants, preceded by the American flag.

After the procession, the members gathered in the Sacred Heart church, where their respective pastors addressed them. Fr. Juras spoke in French, Fr. Drengez in Polish, and Fr. Broulet in English. Following these addresses, Solemn Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament was held, with the Rev. T. Drengez, of Foster City, as celebrant, the Rev. D. Jos. Broulet, of Bark River, as deacon, and the Rev. Philip Juras as sub-deacon.

AMUSEMENTS

AT THE DELFT Booth Tarkington's drama, written an original story for the screen—and for Thomas Meighan at that. It's "Pied Piper Malone," which opened at the Delft Theatre yesterday, a comedy-drama with the star in the role of Jack Malone third mate of the S. S. Langland, Captain Clarke in command. George Fawcett plays the Captain. Malone is a regular "Pied Piper" to all the kiddies in town. He is "Uncle Jack" to all.

In this case there's not a girl in every port, only in Oldport, Jack's home town, and that's Patty Thomas the mayor's daughter. Lois Wilson has this part. Charlie Grooby (Cryll Ring), second officer of the Langland, has always claimed Patty as his girl. There is great rivalry between the two men.

Malone is unjustly accused of the responsibility for the loss of the Langland while under the influence of liquor when on duty. Only his parents, Patty and the children, believe in him. He beats up Charlie Crosby, when he finds him urging Captain Clarke to "have another" on him in Oldport's only blind tiger. He brings Clarke back into the good graces of the community, the latter in turn sets Jack aright with the townfolk. Malone gets another vessel for Clarke and sails himself as first officer. Patty is on the dock to see them off. She will be waiting—for Jack when they return.

Alfred Green directed the production which Tom Geraghty adapted. Charles Stevenson, Joe Burke and others in the cast.

AT THE STRAND "Watch Him Step." Richard Talmadge's new feature, which will be shown at the Strand Theatre today, was inspired by the old, old story of a boy and girl in love and an irate determined father trying to keep them apart. But—Dick introduces some entirely new ways and means of overcoming parental objections, which we would suggest the average individual do not try.

Ethel Shannon plays the leading feminine role opposite Mr. Talmadge and the cast is further augmented by Al W. Filson, Nellie Peck Saunders, Colin Kenny and Hugh Saxon.

NEW CHAPTER PLAY Realistic, vivid, impressionistic—teeming with romance and color—that is the description given Cairo, Egypt, where many important scenes in the ten-chapter Patheserial, "The Fortieth Door," which features Allene Ray, are laid. This production is the screen version of the romantic and adventurous novel of the same name written by Mary Hastings Bradley. Departing from the "costume" pictures which so generally prevail at present in filmdom, "The Fortieth Door," is a story of the Egypt of today.

A most interesting plot is presented in the screen version of "The Fortieth Door." It will no doubt be a welcome relief from the ordinary run of motion pictures. Allene Ray and Bruce Gordon are seen in the two leading roles, with a supporting cast that includes Anna May Wong, Frank Lackett, David Dunbar, Frankie Mann, Lillian Gale and White Horse. George B. Seitz directed this Patheserial.

In line with their policy of presenting only the foremost pictures, the management of the Strand theatre has announced that episode No. One of "The Fortieth Door" will be shown Friday and Saturday.

SOUNDS THAT WAY. The two famous surgeons were standing over the sufferer's bed. "Shall we open him this morning?" asked the first.

"I don't think it would be advisable," said the second. "I don't like his flush."

"Say, what do you think this is?" interrupted the patient weakly. "A poker game?"

BUT NOW—Her: "Before you married me you told me you were well off."

Him: "I was, but I didn't know it."

TO THE POINT. Hokus: "Have you ever seen the way our efficiency expert sharpens a pencil with a razor blade?"

Pokus: "You bet. He applies shaving cream to the end of the pencil to get the best results."

First thing you know it won't be very long before Christmas again.

5 Operations—15 years suffering with constipation—Kolllogg's Bran restores health

Mr. Lansing's case is typical of thousands of others. He found permanent relief from constipation in Kolllogg's Bran because it is ALL bran. Nothing but ALL bran can be 100 per cent effective. Read what he says: Dear Sir: I have been afflicted with constipation for the past 15 years, and during that time I have been in four different hospitals and submitted to five different operations that were the result of constipation. I was getting so bad that every meal I ate caused me to vomit. Two months ago I was advised to eat your Kolllogg's Bran. I tried it, and I was trying everything I could hear of. From that day on I have never taken a physic. My stomach does not sour any more and my bowels move regularly morning and evening. Yours sincerely, Frank Lansing, 1206 Jetties Ave., Marion, Ind.

Best Evinc'd In Tourney At Delta Fair.

The trail of the noble equine across the inter-sections of the agile feline has produced much merriment in the world. By and large the horse has contributed mightily to the arts and sciences and sports of this nation. He's going to be on the job again at the Northern Michigan Fair next week, entertaining the public, and he has never gone so far as to donate his shoes for a pastime that now promises to be the most popular event of the big annual show—the horse shoe tournament.

Since the information has been broadcast that the horseshoe tournament is to be conducted on a rather large scale, and since men and women have come to talk about the forthcoming event, it develops that there is deep and keen interest in all parts of the country; that many persons will be seen pitching, who a few weeks ago thought nothing about it.

A "Grudge" Match.
The addition of daily prizes to the original list has stimulated interest and there is now a strong probability that the crowds will be regaled with a special contest between Col. Nalopez, Joshaway LaFino of Gladstone and County Highway Engineer R. P. Mason. Col. LaFino was the undisputed cock-on-a-rock champion of the upper peninsula back in '22, while Mr. Mason was a professional horseshoe pitcher under the name of L. C. McFee during his younger days. This contest promises to be thrilling, as it is understood that it is to be a "grudge match."

The placing of clay on the courses was completed yesterday under the supervision of P. J. Gross and J. R. Wilkinson, both of whom have become experts in the art through their winters in Florida. Two courses have been prepared for the ladies and four for the men. Space has been reserved for additional alleys if they are needed.

For the information of those who intend playing, the following rules have been taken from the rules for all contests in the National Horseshoe Association. It will be well to read them over, clip them out, paste them on the barn door and get busy practicing.

General Rules.
Official Horseshoe Pitching rules of the National Horseshoe Pitching Association of the United States shall govern this tournament.

In case of any dispute the committee shall have full power and final jurisdiction.

No contestant during the progress of a game shall coach, molest or interfere with a pitcher in any manner.

Regulation horseshoes provided by the city of Escanaba will be used only.

Forty-eight shoes delivered shall be considered a game.

Scoring Rules.
Any shoe that does not remain within six (6) inches of the stake shall not be scored or counted.

All shoes within six inches of the stake shall score one point.

A ringer shall score three points; a triple, nine points, etc.

Any shoe to be scored as a ringer shall encircle the stake far enough to permit a straight edge to touch both heel calks and clear the stake.

Any shoe leaning against the stake shall be considered as one point.

Man Cuts Both Feet Peeling Ties In Woods

George Yonowski met with a painful accident while at work for a jobber near Hunt's Spur when he cut his two feet across the instep while peeling cedar ties. He was rushed to St. Francis hospital where he was doing nicely yesterday, although the cuts were very painful and several stitches had to be taken in the wounds.

LADIES.
Excited Lally: "I want six ounces of sulphuric acid."
Clerk: "Yes, ma'am. Are you going to drink it or throw it in another lady's face?"—American Legion Weekly.

In Hard Lines
"I could not work at all and had to take to my bed with a high fever due to intestinal indigestion, gases in my stomach and pain in my right side. I had spent my last cent for doctors and medicine, which gave me no relief. I was in despair. A lodge brother gave me a bottle of May's Wonderful Remedy, and the first dose relieved me. Thanks to this medicine I am now in the best of health." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. For sale by druggists everywhere. Adv.

Just That.
Whiz Bang: "What's the difference between the jingle of the American dollar and the Chinese yen?"
Sky Rocket: "One is the chink of the coin and the other is the coin of the Chink."

A LIGHT BLOW.
He: "If you don't marry me I'll blow out my brains."
She: "Well, take my advice and use an eye dropper."

Young Man Cuts Calf of Leg At Hunting Camp

Emil Perow, 1314 First Ave. South, lies at St. Francis hospital suffering from painful injuries when he cut his leg while cutting wood at Northland where he and a companion were preparing their hunting camp for the opening of the season. The young man had planned to go to the woods and get the camp in readiness when Mr. Perow cut the calf of his leg very deeply with an axe. His companion rushed him to Northland where he was placed in a faster car and taken to this city.

He was very weak from loss of blood after driving over the rough roads to the village of Northland which was some distance away. Yesterday he was resting easily but will be laid up for some time.
