

SURRENDER OF SHANGHAI IS PROBABLE

James A. Drain Of Washington Will Head American Legion

DEFENDERS OF CITY CONTINUE LOSING BATTLE

OVERWHELMING VOTE IS CAST IN HIS FAVOR

REHABILITATION IS TO CONTINUE IN FOREFRONT.

(By The Associated Press.) St. Paul, Minn., Sept. 19.—Prominent in the work of the American Legion since its inception, James A. Drain, of Washington, D. C., was chosen national commander of that organization at the concluding session of its sixth annual convention here today.

Besides electing overwhelmingly the new commander, the convention chose five vice commanders unanimously and named Father Joseph Lonergan, of Durand, Ill., a Catholic priest, national chaplain. Omaha previously had been selected for the 1925 convention.

A man whose close study and practice of military problems brought him, through special commission, a place in the American expeditionary forces despite a tremendous physical handicap, will lead the Legion for the next year.

Loss of his right hand in a hunting accident when he was 30 years old, has made "Jim" Drain at 54, unusually interested in the Legion's work to aid disabled soldiers, his friends said tonight, explaining that he had devoted more than half his time the past three years to this work.

And in a statement to newspapermen tonight the new commander emphasized that it is the rehabilitation work that will receive much of his attention—that and the child welfare program of the Legion. His interest in children is natural, he says, for he has six.

"For God and country," epitomizes Commander Drain's thought on the purpose and aims of the Legion, and in carrying out this purpose he said, "there will be no trades, no friendship favors, no politics" in his administration.

"Without partisanship in policies, without intolerance in religion, making as we always make, the care of our disabled comrades our first concern," he repeated tonight, adding that he planned the Legion "a business-like administration."

For the greater part of the first six months of his administration, the new commander will give close attention to the work of the organization's headquarters at Indianapolis, where he will establish his residence within 10 days.

He will sever his connection with his Washington law firm at once.

"Jim" Drain, who was born in Warren county, Illinois, in 1870, was 16 years old and living on a farm near Lincoln, Neb., when he decided a college education was not worth while, despite his father's insistence.

But a few years later, when he was employed as private secretary to a railroad president in the state of Washington, he studied and read law 20 hours a week for two years, working in his room at midnight, until he was able to pass the bar examination.

PERPETRATORS OF GLADSTONE ROBBERY HELD

Authorities Have A Strong Case, Belief

Gladstone, Sept. 19 (Special)—Merrick Cartwright, 45, his two sons, Irving, 19, and Clarence, 17, and Clarence McKimmond, a roomer at the Cartwright home, were placed under arrest tonight on warrants naming them in connection with the robbery a few weeks ago of clothing valued at over $100 from the Hub Clothing store here. A search of the Cartwright home revealed most of the stolen articles.

Merrick and Irving Cartwright and Clarence McKimmond were taken to the county jail in Escanaba, while Clarence Cartwright was lodged in the city lockup. The Cartwrights were arrested here while McKimmond was taken into custody at a lumber camp owned by the father of Merrick Cartwright, located about seven miles northwest of Gladstone, where McKimmond was supposed to be employed.

The arrests hinged upon the pairing of the tops of women's hose cut off and left near the George Nebel car which had been stolen and abandoned in the woods near Brampton two weeks before the robbery and the remainder of the stockings which the boys were wearing when placed under arrest.

First clues of the operations of the youthful marauders were obtained by the police when they found the car owned by George Nebel, which had been stolen, in the woods a few miles from Brampton. The car had been stripped of tires, flash light, speedometer, spotlight. Near it were found the tops of silk hosiery, some of them hidden under a log.

The police began their investigation, their operations placing the Cartwright boys who have been traveling in a Ford and later in a Dorr car with an Escanaba license number, under suspicion. The car had disappeared during the past several days but when it made its appearance again today, it was followed and stopped. One of the younger members of the family in the machine at the time was wearing the stolen hosiery, minus the tops. Pairs of kid gloves were also found in the car.

Based on this, a search warrant to search the home was issued. Search disclosed other members of the family were wearing the same kind of stockings. Various other pairs were found scattered through the house. In a back room were found the missing parts of the Nebel car. Gloves were hidden in a cupboard. The father of the family, wearing a pair of the shoes missing declared he knew nothing about the matter.

A trunk said by the Cartwrights to belong to Clarence McKimmond, a roomer at the home who is now working in the woods, was seized by the police when a Cartwright plane nose dives; passengers unhurt.

(By The Associated Press.) Marquette, Mich., Sept. 19.—Flying over Munising Bay this morning the seaplane "Via Air Number 2," owned by Paul Strasburg, of Detroit, went into a nose dive at a low altitude and struck the water. C. F. Ziegler, of Detroit, and three Munising passengers were not injured and were rescued by the steamer Grand Island which was lying at anchor in the bay. The seaplane was badly damaged. Ziegler had been doing commercial flying at Marquette and the Huron Mountain club during the last week.

and which will be classified by scientists at the Carnegie Institute at Washington, D. C. He said that Eskimos beyond the Arctic Circle are rapidly adopting civilization and the white man's ways.

A newspaper made up of news of the world obtained by radio, the explorer said, was of inestimable value to the members of the little expedition in the schooner, Bowdoin, frozen in the ice at Refuge Harbor, northern Greenland.

It was 7:43 p. m., standard time when the Bowdoin dropped anchor in the harbor here. In addition to many friends and relatives of the explorer, and his party, nearly all of the 135 residents of the island, which is only a mile wide and two and one-half miles long, were in boats in the harbor. These were joined by a hundred summer residents from the mainland.

BOB HAS HARD BATTLE AHEAD IN OWN STATE

LA FOLLETTE HASN'T BADGER VOTES SEWED UP.

(Copyright 1924 by the Escanaba Press.) Milwaukee, Wis., Sept. 19.—Any one who simply crosses Wisconsin off the new political map of doubtful states with the confident assertion that Senator LaFollette will get the electoral vote is missing much of what is happening in these parts.

For there are two factors which, when the ballots are counted, will tend to reduce the votes cast for Robert LaFollette in his home state. One is the Democratic party which mysteriously enough is displaying more activity than is customary and the other is the fact that under the Republican eagle where thousands of voters have marked their ballots traditionally they will no longer find LaFollette as of yore.

Straight Republican Sentiment. The senior senator from Wisconsin has been running for office in this state for a generation. He has always been a Republican. His enormous vote two years ago was due to the fact that he won the republican primaries and there were thousands of regular republicans who disliked LaFollette but voted the straight Republican ticket. Also in those primaries there were thousands of Democrats and Socialists who helped LaFollette capture the machinery of the Republican party.

But today the voter faces a different situation. The regular Republican has Coolidge and Dawes. Many voters who are not particularly perturbed about LaFollette's radicalism and who at the same time have the lifelong habit of voting a Republican ticket, will vote for Coolidge.

Unquestionably Senator LaFollette will poll less of a Republican vote by a good deal than he did two years ago.

To offset his losses he hopes for some acquisitions as he will have Socialists and Democrats too. Indeed it is difficult to conceive that there were many voters who failed to vote for LaFollette two years ago who would vote for him this year. He reached his maximum in 1922 and undoubtedly has lost some since then.

Democrats Active. As if in confirmation of this, these Democrats have taken on hope and behave as if they think they had a chance. For the first time in a long while they have nominated complete tickets that is significant. Their strategy evidently is to hold the Democratic vote in line and to regain much of it that has been in the habit of assisting LaFollette. The question is whether such tactics will help Davis or Coolidge. It surely doesn't help LaFollette and it cannot be of much aid to the Democratic national ticket for by subtracting from LaFollette's vote, the chances of President Coolidge carrying the state are improved.

The Democrats have not been polling enough votes to assure them of anything but third place in a three-cornered race such as the presidential contest this year. If, therefore, they make an active campaign they will take away votes from LaFollette.

Republicans Optimistic. Republicans who are happy over what the Democrats are doing. The regulars are not well organized and they have division in their own ranks, but they have little influence with the large independent body of voters which has been the main pillar of LaFollette's strength and if the Democrats can tempt them so much the better for Coolidge prospects.

Wisconsin presents a unique situation. The Republican state machinery is in the hands of LaFollette. The Republican state convention has just fulfilled the promise of the LaFollette managers that they would play fair by leaving the Republican label to Coolidge and by seeing to it that the requirements of the statute were met in selecting electors who are really Coolidge men. For a time it was thought the LaFollette group might take advantage of the situation and change the issue by sticking to the Republican label. But as if to make matters worse, the LaFollette managers have selected

This Year's Fair Set New Record for Daily and Total Attendance

Fliers To Carry Passengers This Morning, Is Plan

Cameron and Williams, the aviators who were at the Northern Michigan fair yesterday and the day before, announced last night that they would fly from their landing field just west of Lakeview cemetery this morning until 10 o'clock, carrying passengers.

Yesterday being children's day at the fair, they decided not to fly from the fair grounds as there was too much danger of an accident occurring with so many youngsters present. The fact that a number of local residents had expressed a desire to take a trip as passengers led to the decision of the pair to stay in Escanaba a few hours this morning to accommodate any persons who wish to try aeroplaning.

AIRMEN REACH DALLAS SAFELY

El Paso Is Set As Stop for Tonight; Will Follow Railway.

(By The Associated Press.) Love Field, Dallas, Texas, Sept. 19.—A lap of 225 miles was taken from the ever reducing total that will mark the completion of the round-the-world flight of the three army planes, when Lieutenant Lowell H. Smith, commanding officer, and pilot of the Chicago plane, landed at 4:20 p. m. today, safely and with the jump Muskego.

The flight from Muskego, Dallas was made in three hours and 54 minutes, a hop of 225 miles. This was considerably less than the average speed maintained in other jumps of the flight, the lengthened time being caused by a strong head wind which the fliers were forced to battle with almost constantly from Muskego to Dallas.

Lieutenant Smith announced tonight that the fliers would follow the right of way of the Texas and Pacific Railroad from Dallas to El Paso, the next overnight stop, tomorrow.

The flight to El Paso will depend upon the weather reports that will be supplied by the Associated Press. Once again, Lieutenant Smith thanked the Associated Press, for this bit of courtesy, declaring that it had in no little way contributed to the success of the flight over the United States.

The contemplated itinerary of the fliers from El Paso, with a stop over in each of the towns named, is: El Paso to Tucson, Ariz.; to Rockwell Field, San Diego, Cal.; to Clover Field, Los Angeles; to Crissey Field, San Francisco; to Eugene, Ore.; to Seattle, Wash., the last milestone in the journey.

British Press Disapproves Pact Entered Into By Nation At Meet

(By The Associated Press.) London, Sept. 19.—The British press is waiting against the proposal aired at Geneva to have the British fleet put at the service of the league of nations when an aggression has to be met or sanctions imposed upon a misbehaving nation. Every one of the literary weeklies takes the position that the proposal is unthinkable and Lord Parmore, credited with being the father of the scheme is criticized and laughed at by the editorial writers.

Oddly enough the British now find themselves using the same arguments about Articles 10 and 16 of the league of nations covenant that so often were heard in Washington when the senate was making up its mind to stand out of the league. Most of the journals point out that neither Lord Parmore nor his government nor any other British government has the power to place

School Children of City Pack Grounds All Day

The biggest Northern Michigan Fair in the history of the county closed yesterday with another record-breaking crowd. It was school day and youngsters and their parents from all parts of the county, taking advantage of the suspension of school work for the day, were present.

Definite figures on the attendance for the day and the fair as a whole were not available last night. Secretary Oscar Kraus expected to make a statement along this line some time today. It was estimated, however, that the attendance this year would be at least twenty per cent larger than for any previous year.

Week of Ideal Weather. Ideal weather throughout the week, the excellence of the program and the exhibits and the increasing interest, throughout this region in agricultural matters, are given the credit for the increase.

The great crowd of youngsters enjoyed themselves immensely. Lepinsky's Dogs and Adair & Adair, the acrobats, have offerings which are ideal for children's day crowd. The airplane man paused in his busy afternoon of passenger carrying long enough to stage some aerial thrills and Eli Rice, of Terrace Gardens, again sang a number of songs with the Escanaba Municipal band. Joe Beckman's "rube" act, with the hand also went across in the circus.

Horse Furnishes Thrill. Wooster's horses again drew enthusiastic outbursts of applause, and then handed the crowd an unprogrammed thrill when one of the animals ran away at the end of the three-mile relay race. He circled the track twice, with his girl rider battling every yard of the way to hold him on the track. Finally Mr. Wooster leaped on one of the horses and after a quarter-mile chase managed to get hold of the reins. The horse dashed another quarter-mile before his owner and the girl, tugging together, were able to halt him.

Mr. Wooster's attraction has proven one of the most popular ever booked for the fair here and he and the members of his party made many friends during their two weeks' stay.

Snow Is Reported Through Northwest

(By The Associated Press.) Laramie, Wyo., Sept. 19.—R. U. Harmon, a forest assistant on the Medicine Bow national forest today reported a four inch fall of snow at Sand Lake, the weather being so cold that running water froze.

Butte, Mont., Sept. 19.—The first snow of the season began to fall in Butte at 1:30 this afternoon.

Idaho Falls, Idaho, Sept. 19.—A light snow fell here this morning. Certain sections of the city were blanketed with white and the thermometer dropped with a cold wind blowing from the north.

At Poacello the high hills in that district were covered with snow for the first time this year.

AGRICULTURAL SITUATION IS DAWES' TOPIC

LA FOLLETTE IS HIT BY CANDIDATE IN ADDRESS.

(By The Associated Press.) Sioux Falls, S. D., Sept. 19.—An appeal for "common sense consideration" of the agricultural problem free from "political poison" was combined with an attack on the LaFollette independent candidacy in an address made at a Republican state rally here tonight by Charles G. Dawes, the Republican candidate for vice president. Advised by Republican leaders of the state at a series of conferences during the day that the LaFollette independent candidacy represented the principal barrier to Republican success in South Dakota in November, Mr. Dawes at the beginning of his address temporarily cast aside his prepared speech on agriculture and launched an attack on Senator LaFollette.

He declared Senator LaFollette by his advocacy of congressional veto of judicial decisions had raised a great issue, "the greatest issue that can come to any country, the issue of the constitution of the United States."

Destroy Government. The LaFollette movement, he added, would "by one blow destroy a government of balanced power and give us a government by congress," and would place in the hands of congress the safety of the inalienable rights of every citizen.

W. H. McMaster, governor of South Dakota, and the Republican candidate for the United States Senate, occupied the platform with Mr. Dawes, and in a brief address preceding the vice presidential nominee, declared he expected to support the Coolidge-Dawes ticket. Governor McMaster's attitude toward the Republican ticket as against the LaFollette candidacy had been without definition since the Republican national convention but he began his address tonight by saying:

"I want to say to my friends in the state that I want to make my position clear on all questions. There is one on which I desire to state my position tonight, and that is that I expect to support the Republican congress and the entire state ticket."

Recalls Oil Probe. Governor McMaster recalled that he had called the attention of President Coolidge to the gasoline situation.

Several Killed in Missouri Tornado

(By The Associated Press.) St. Louis, Sept. 19.—Several persons were reported to have been killed and a number injured at Annapolis, Mo., during a tornado which swept over southeast Missouri this evening, causing a heavy property damage. According to the meager telephone reports available here, the storm centered around Annapolis and Ellington. The storm-swept region is about 150 miles southwest of this city.

Caruso's Daughter Gets Half-Sister

(By The Associated Press.) New York, Sept. 19.—Gloria Caruso, daughter of the late Enrico Caruso, has a half sister, Jacqueline Dorothy Ingram.

Jacqueline was born to Mrs. Dorothy Ingram at a private hospital in Madison Avenue late last night.

Pershing's Letter Of Farewell Made Public

(By The Associated Press.) Washington, Sept. 19.—General Pershing's formal farewell to the army, written in the form of the last general order he signed on his birthday, September 13, which will be read to every army organization by the officer commanding at the first parade formation after it is received, was made public today at the war department. It is addressed to "my comrades" and bears the simple signature, John J. Pershing, without other indication of his rank than the heading at the top, "General of the armies."

"No words seem adequate to express to you the conflicting emotions that I feel upon reaching the date which officially marks the termination of my active service," General Pershing wrote. "Our experiences together have been varied. We have withstood the same hardships and shared the same pleasures. We have faced discouragements and rejoiced of victories. Today the recollections that I swiftly pass in review all my heart with a deep sense of gratitude for the loyal service, and warm appreciation of the sincere devotion to the country of the patriotic officers and men with whom it has been my good fortune to be associated during the fleeting years of my army life.

CONVENTION OF CHURCH SOCIETY HAS COMMENCED

Pope's Letter Read To Delegates In Morning

(By The Associated Press.) Washington, Sept. 19.—Thousands of Holy Name Society delegates and visitors here for their annual convention took part in imposing celebrations today expressing the spiritual and patriotic objects of the confraternity. The reading of the pope's letter to the convention and an address by Cardinal O'Connell, extraordinary papal legate, in the morning, were followed in the afternoon by a pilgrimage to Arlington, where a moving ceremony took place at the tomb of the Unknown Soldier.

A letter from Cardinal Bogliani, protector of all Holy Name Societies, also was read after which Cardinal O'Connell delivered his speech. The cardinal dwelt particularly on the pope's love for America and his recognition of the United States' efforts towards world peace and international welfare. He also stressed the success of the Holy Name Societies in rearing men who, due to their beliefs, he said, formed the nation's "bulwark" against anarchy, disloyalty and disorder, and urged the confraternity to send avowals of loyalty and obedience to the pope and to the president of the United States.

O'Connell Talks. Cardinal O'Connell, at the end of his address, led the convention in three cheers for the pope, three thousand men joined in the demonstration, after which they paid a similar tribute to the cardinal himself. He then retired and the delegates turned to the convention business of the day. Recommendations to the diocesan Holy Name Union were adopted providing for a national board of advisors on matters pertaining to the confraternity's activities, for regulations in ceremonial and liturgy, for annual Holy Name retreats for prayer and meditation, and for the formation of Junior Holy Name Societies.

At the end of the tomb, flanked by soldiers in uniform, in the presence of Cardinal O'Connell, the Very Reverend Ignatius Smith of the Dominican order delivered an address glorifying the dead "whom we have come to honor in peace just as we supported in war."

Father Smith Talks. Father Smith dwelt in his speech upon the purely spiritual purposes of the organization. "We aim to take Christ seriously," he said, "and to have our seriousness demonstrated to our

New General Motor Stock Goes on Sale

(By The Associated Press.) New York, Sept. 19.—General Motors new stock made its bow on the Stock Exchange today although it gave precedence on the tape to a block of 10,000 shares of the old shares at 154. Five hundred shares of the new stock constituted its initial appearance on the ticker, the price being 61 3/8. As the largest holder of General Motors, the Dupont Company will benefit to a greater extent than its fellow stockholders and response to this fact was found in the demand for that stock.

Probe of Murder Case Continuing

(By The Associated Press.) Mount Vernon, Ill., Sept. 19.—County officials, backed by a coroner's verdict and some circumstantial evidence, continue their efforts today to find more about the Reverend L. M. Hight in the investigation of the death of his wife, Anna, and a member of his congregation, Wilford Sweeting, in Ina, 12 miles south of here. In the meantime down in Metropolis, men were engaged with the exhumation of the body of the clergyman's wife by order of the prosecuting attorney to examine the body more thoroughly for traces of poison.

"It is my proud privilege, in parting, to say of the men of all ranks who have borne arms under the flag that none has more earnestly wished peace, yet in defense of right; none has ever been imbued with loftier purposes nor more completely consecrated to the maintenance of our ideals. "My esteem for them and my admiration for their achievements continue to increase with the passing of time. The inspiration of their exalted conception of citizenship and their fulfillment of its obligations should ever assure the preservation of our institutions. The glorious example to their duty and courage will be remembered by those who come after us. "It is with abiding gratitude for our national fortunes and with assurance of my lasting interest in the welfare of I bid you affectionate farewell."

Valuable Information Gathered By Explorer

(By The Associated Press.) Wicasset, Maine, Sept. 19.—Information which will be of great value to navigators, of the world over, was obtained by the MacMillan expedition into the far north, Captain Donald B. MacMillan, explorer, said on his arrival tonight at Monagan Island, 32 miles from his home port.

Every object of the fifteen months' voyage which carried him and his 7 companions six hundred miles north of the magnetic pole was attained, with one exception only, the explorer said tonight. Ice conditions and lack of food, he said, prevented his wintering at Ellesmer Land, according to earlier plans.

Tells Of Observations. MacMillan told of many observations of terrestrial magnetism, atmospheric electricity and static which were made in the far north

FRANKLIN GIRL "SPELL" CHAMP

Miss Margaret Hewett Takes City Honors; Gladstone Girl Wins.

Margaret Hewett, of the Franklin building, won the city grade school spelling championship at the Northern Michigan Fair yesterday.

Superintendent Kinney, of the Schaefer schools, pronounced the words for the large groups of spellers and the competition was spirited.

Eden Gallagher, of St. Joseph's school, placed second in the city contest. She missed the word "descriptive."

Miss Miller Best Writer. In the rural contest, Margaret Olson of Bay View was second and Clara Noel of Oler, was third.

Words which the youngsters found difficult to spell included: character, saddle, difficulty, necessary, discussion, estimate and distribute.

In the rural school penmanship contest, the youngsters of the preamble of the federal constitution, Lucille Miller won.

Large Gallery. Rose Gorenchen was first in the city penmanship contest, and no record was available of the youngsters who won second and third places.

Wilbur in Capital; Will Confer Today With Mr. Coolidge

Washington, Sept. 19.—Secretary of the Navy Curtis D. Wilbur arrived in Washington tonight and made arrangements to confer with President Coolidge early tomorrow.

The return of Mr. Wilbur ends, at least a week ahead of schedule, a tour of naval stations on the west coast which already had occupied more than a month.

Unusual importance was attached to the termination of the trip when Mr. Wilbur announced that he had been requested by President Coolidge to return for important conferences, and jumped by airplane to a junction point where he could overtake a transcontinental train.

In the White House statement, it was declared the budget as it affected the navy, was the subject upon which Mr. Wilbur's views were sought, but substantially this was elaborated by a statement from a spokesman for the president who said other matters of importance concerning the navy would be taken up.

Sweeping Reforms Are Not Planned

Lansing, Mich., Sept. 19.—Dr. Keyson Butterfield, new president of the Michigan Agricultural College, promised that he will introduce no sweeping reforms and that he plans to retain the staff about as it is, in his first meeting with the faculty and officers of the college this afternoon.

"I want to assure you that I shall make haste slowly," he said. "I have no pet schemes to put over and no favorite policy to push. I hope that I shall have some ideas and some leadership, but I have not come in as a reformer or breaker of idols."

The president urged loyalty and cooperation and asserted that the administration of the college is going to be extremely democratic.

ation last February, that Coolidge ordered an investigation that "sent a chill down the backs of the oil combine," and that Mr. Coolidge by that action had assisted the people of South Dakota in getting cheaper gasoline.

Senator Norbeck, who like Governor McMaster, supported Senator Johnson of California in the presidential primary, presided at the meeting and also declared his support of President Coolidge.

Mr. Dawes, in discussing the agricultural problem, declared it to be such a serious nature, "that by common consent there is a turning away from political quack doctors." The only practicable solution, he asserted, could come through the appointment of a non-partisan, non-political commission such as proposed by President Coolidge.

girl claimed that McKimmond had given her the stockings. Opened at the police station it was found to contain a suit of clothing and other missing articles.

Chief Lindahl left at once for the lumber camp and brought McKimmond here for questioning but the latter refused to talk and was taken to the county lockup by Sheriff J. P. Carney.

The search was conducted by Chief Lindahl with Manly Buchner who, seeing the car in the afternoon, had run it down, questioning the driver about a matter of no bearing on the robbery, and upon his suspicious sounding answers, notified the authorities.

The robbery of the Hub store occurred about a month ago, when robbers ran a Ford car up to the back of the store, cut the panel of the back door and loaded clothing into the car, escaping with goods valued at over $300.

Widow of Officer Will Not Object to Commutation

(By The Associated Press.)

Chicago, Sept. 19.—Bernard Grant, 20 years old, whose hair has turned white since he was sentenced to be hanged October 17 for the murder of Ralph Souders, a policeman, during a tea store holdup, will find no opposition from the policeman's widow in seeking a commutation to life imprisonment by Governor Small.

While letters urging commutation and offering assistance continued to pour into Thomas E. Swanson, Grant's attorney, Mr. Swanson said that money or the lack of it may be the determining factor in saving Grant's life.

He said that Grant did not expect fees, but that Grant's aged mother had spent all her money and mortgaged her home during the trial and now there is no money to take witnesses to Springfield to testify before the pardon board and Governor Small, Krauser, who involved Grant in the slaying, but has since made a confession in which he said Grant was not present, has offered to go to Springfield and tell his story, Mr. Swanson said.

To Examine Girl's Stomach Once More

(By The Associated Press.)

Saginaw, Mich., Sept. 19.—Local surgeons decided Friday to delay their X-ray examination of the 15-year-old girl whose stomach, during a recent operation, yielded approximately 1,200 metal and glass objects.

The examination has been planned in an effort to determine whether the girl had swallowed several safety pins which mysteriously disappeared from her bandages the day after the operation.

The girl appears to be gaining in strength and within a few days is expected to be able to withstand the strain of being moved from her bed to the hospital X-ray room for examination. Attending physicians said that if the girl had swallowed the pins, no ill effects were apparent.

Motorists Unable to Pay Fines, Take Jail Sentences

Charles Hukkinen, proprietor of a Ludington street saloon, has an automobile but he was unable to dig up cash enough to pay a $16.50 fine yesterday, and took the 20-day jail sentence as an alternative.

He was driving his car 30 miles an hour through heavy traffic on Stephenson avenue, police said.

Peter Niemi, of Trout Creek, who was arrested Thursday for driving an automobile while intoxicated, could not raise $100 to pay his fine, and joined his friend, Hukkinen, in the county jail. Peter will remain there 60 days.

Andrew Jensen, one of Niemi's intoxicated passengers, paid a fine of $10 and costs for drunkenness, while Sancelotti, another celebrator in the same machine, was forced to take a five-day jail "jolt."

One other traffic fine was collected in Judge Doherty's court yesterday. Harvey Gauthier pleaded guilty to a charge of speeding. It cost him $16.50.

Both Sides Claim An Advantage In Honduran Revolt

(By The Associated Press.)

San Salvador, Republic of San Salvador, Sept. 19.—Contradictory news concerning the revolution in Honduras is being received here, both the government and the leaders of the revolt claiming victories.

The rebels asserted that San Pedro has fallen into their hands and that La Cereba and Tela have surrendered. General Ferrera, leader of the revolution, is said to be menacing the principal towns on the Atlantic coast, while General Joseph Penasco, another rebel chief, and General Manuel Antonio Del Cidar are menacing La Paz and Comayagua. Puerto Cortes has been captured by the revolutionaries.

Official dispatches, on the other hand, announce General Ferrera's position is becoming more and more difficult through continuous defeats and which he has suffered. The government announces that it is starting a campaign to recapture the places taken by the rebels in western Honduras.

The national has joined the government headed by provisionals.

Ruthenberg Files Brief Protesting Against Seizures

(By The Associated Press.)

Lansing, Mich., Sept. 19.—Contending that his arrest and the seizure of documents which were used in evidence against him were illegal, Charles E. Ruthenberg, Communist Party of America leader, today filed a brief in the state supreme court asking that his conviction for violation of the Michigan syndicalism law be set aside.

Ruthenberg, with sixteen others, was arrested in a raid on a Communist convention in Berrien county in August, 1922. He was convicted in the Berrien circuit court.

The state, in warrants sworn out for Ruthenberg, those who were with him, and sixty others who were indicted in connection with the convention, charged the Communists advocated sabotage and violence to bring about political and industrial reforms. Ruthenberg and William Z. Foster were the only two tried. The jury in Foster's case disagreed, and it is expected that further litigation will be held up pending a decision by the supreme court on Ruthenberg's conviction.

Judge Overrules Forbes Demurrer

(By The Associated Press.)

Chicago, Sept. 19.—United States Judge George A. Carpenter today overruled the demurrers of Colonel Charles R. Forbes, former director of the veterans' bureau, and John W. Thompson, Chicago and St. Louis contractor, to indictments charging them with conspiracy to defraud the government and to commit bribery.

At the request of the defense he deferred until October 14 disposition of a motion of the government for consolidation of the conspiracy cases, but declared "the inclination of the court is, unless I am advised to the contrary, that if we can try this in one case it is better than to do it twice."

The date for trial will also be set October 14.

Duke States He Is Russian Emperor

(By The Associated Press.)

London, Sept. 19.—Grand Duke Cyril, cousin of the former Czar of Russia, has signed a proclamation declaring himself "Emperor of all the Russians," says a Berlin dispatch to the Daily Mail. The proclamation, it was said, will be published Sunday in a Russian newspaper issued at Belgrade. It will require that Grand Duke Cyril is to devote himself to liberating Russia from the communist yoke and that while sworn to observe the orthodox faith, he will allow complete religious liberty.

Grand Duke Cyril's son, Vladimir, who is 7 years of age, is to be proclaimed heir to the throne.

During the Spanish American war, General Drain volunteered for active service and was commissioned a captain of infantry, but did not get to the front. It was his long military experience that enabled him to "set into the big fight," despite the handicap of having only one hand.

He was an ordnance officer of the first division and later held a similar post in the tank corps. For two years he was American member of the Anglo-American tank commission. His decorations for war service include the Distinguished Service Medal, the Cross of the Legion of Honor, and the Cross of the King of Italy.

General Drain was a member of the original caucus in Paris that formulated the general plan for the American Legion; he served two terms as department commander of the District of Washington and has been a member of the national executive committee.

While Commander Drain was opposed by E. E. Spafford of New York and John R. McQuigg of Cleveland, he received 715 votes on the first and only ballot and his election was then made unanimous.

Coolidge To Talk at Radio Banquet

(By The Associated Press.)

Pittsburgh, Sept. 19.—President Coolidge will be among the speakers to address a "radio banquet" of employees of the H. J. Heinz Company to be held simultaneously in 62 cities in the United States, Canada, England and Scotland, Saturday, October 11, Howard Heinz, president of the company, announced tonight.

It was estimated that 10,000 employees would attend the banquet.

The various banquet halls will be linked together by the special radio equipment, with the broadcasting through KDA, the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company's station.

The banquet will be held following the unveiling of a memorial here to H. J. Heinz, founder of the company.

Return To U. S. From Conference Held at Geneva

(By The Associated Press.)

New York, Sept. 19.—Three distinguished supporters of the league of nations—General Tasker H. Bliss, David Hunter Miller and Dr. Manly O. Hudson—returned from Geneva on the Berengaria today.

General Bliss and Mr. Miller went to Geneva to submit a plan proposed as a substitute for the repudiated mutual assistance program and Dr. Hudson spent the summer dealing with legal questions affecting the United States.

General Bliss advocated the admittance of Germany and Russia to the league, and said he favored America's proposed membership, "provided that she can go into the league under conditions that would not manifestly work against her."

Butcher Gives Good Advice As She Cuts Meats

(By The Associated Press.)

San Francisco.—The hand that rocks the cradle may find secondary occupation with a butcherman's cleaver.

Mrs. Frances Kerr of this city has entered the field of meat dispensers, hitherto considered peculiarly masculine, with result that her shop is the last word in neighborhood popularity.

"Why? Because I have added the feminine touch," declares Mrs. Kerr.

"At first I thought any but the butcher's would be a field for womankind. But do you know, women are most badly needed there."

"Men just slice and wrap according to direction. But I, who have a home of my own and three children to feed, understand the problems of the housewife who comes to purchase. Consequently I add advice in the scales—and I find they like it."

They do. Imagine the frantic wife who unexpectedly finds she must be hostess to last-minute guests. Her perturbation may well subside as she reaches the phone, for Mrs. Kerr, used to prescribing for such gastronomic furies, solves her difficulties in a moment.

Advice With Meat. Then there's hubby, instructed in general manner by wife to "bring something home" on his way from the office.

"Well, let's see," Mrs. Kerr will tell you as he considers his purchase. "Last night you had veal, and the night before, chicken. I would suggest a roast of beef tonight."

Or to the bride, neophyte in culinary arts: "Here's a little steak, an excellent dish for two. Cook it slowly with salt. Its own juices will keep it from sticking to the pan or burning. No grease is necessary. Cook about 15 minutes on each side. And what do you intend to do with this end?"

"Waste it, I guess," replies the bride. "It's too tough to eat."

"Well, I'll grind it up for you," Mrs. Kerr answers, "and it'll be just the thing for your lunch tomorrow."

"It is instinctive in women to like economy," Mrs. Kerr explains. "Too often, shopkeepers, unheeding of the trait, urge women to purchase beyond their means or beyond their budgets."

"I work on the opposite theory, partly, I suppose, because I am a New Zealander with consequent hatred of waste, partly because I am a woman with an instinctive trait, and partly because I know the problems of the housewife, being one myself."

Reduces Budgets. "If I can suggest a cheaper cut which will yet be as satisfactory as the one requested, I do so."

"I always mention what may be done with left-overs from the cuts."

"Without telling my plan, I've tried to keep track of every woman's expenditures in the shop—and to reduce them. Imagine the delight of the women when they find they're running under their budgets, or under their former monthly expenses for meat."

Best proof of the response is in the fact that women moving from the neighborhood do not change butchers. They are willing to go farther for service and economy.

Success Predicted For Efforts Made at Geneva Sessions

(By The Associated Press.)

Geneva, Sept. 19.—After three weeks of tense labor success looms hopefully over Geneva tonight as crowning the efforts of the representatives of the fifty nations who are striving to put an end to all war through arbitration, security and a reduction in armaments.

A protocol on arbitration and security has virtually been agreed upon, and so confident do the leading statesmen feel it will be ratified that the so-called "big twelve" of the present assembly of the league of nations decided today to recommend the convocation of a great international conference on reduction of armaments in Geneva on June 15, 1925.

The United States and all other countries not now members of the league of nations will be invited to participate in the conference. As soon as the league's assembly ratifies the protocol and the league experts will buckle down to the work of preparing the program for the conference, which must be forwarded to all governments at least two months before the time set for the opening sessions.

Quake Shocks Are Still Being Felt

(By The Associated Press.)

Constantinople, Sept. 19.—Of forty-nine villages on the banks of the River Aras, in Armenia, 37 have been destroyed by the recent earthquake. Details of the casualties and of the material damage done by the shocks still are lacking here. Shocks continue in the Erzerum region. In numerous places large fissures in the ground have developed.

Shocks also are being felt in the neighborhood of Kars.

Berlenbach Trims Toronto Fighter

(By The Associated Press.)

New York, Sept. 19.—Paul Berlenbach, New York light heavyweight, knocked out Jack Reddick, of Toronto, Canada, in the eighth round of a 12-round match at Madison Square Garden tonight.

The end came after one minute and 24 seconds of fighting in the concluding round when one of Berlenbach's heavy rights landed solidly on Reddick's body and the Canadian lay crumpled in a battered heap in his corner.

Reddick had Berlenbach almost out in the sixth round with a series of right-hand punches. But Berlenbach gamely rallied, came back strong in the seventh round and started his drive that eventually brought about the finishing blow.

Berlenbach weighed 169½; Reddick, 168½.

Jury Recommends Homicide Charge

(By The Associated Press.)

Detroit, Sept. 19.—Prosecution for negligible homicide against Patrolman George E. McCarthy, of the River Rouge police force, was recommended by a coroner's jury here today.

The jury completed the investigation of the slaying of Rudolph Krohn, killed August 8th, with today's report. Krohn was killed when McCarthy, according to the decision of the jury, fired two shots into the back of an auto when it failed to stop on his order.

COOKS NEWS

Mr. and Mrs. Angus McEachern and Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Leveille were callers at the Lovelle farm Sunday.

Mrs. James Ward and children, of Newberry, returned home last Saturday. Her son Harold motored down here Saturday morning for them.

Mr. and Mrs. Jemo Leveille, and Mrs. Spielmaecher and niece, Viva McCormick, called on Mrs. Joseph Lovelle Friday evening.

The threshing machine is busy threshing this week along Decauter's road.

Mrs. Bishop and daughter, Bessie, and children, left for the latter's home in Chicago Monday night.

John Leveille made a business trip to Manistique last Friday.

Mrs. Charles Ware and daughter, Betty Jane, were callers at the Lovelle farm last Thursday.

Albert Potvin and wife, of Chicago, visited relatives in Cooks last Friday.

The dance given by the Parent-Teachers' association last Friday at the school house was a success. All reported a good time.

Mr. and Mrs. William McEachern were called to the bedside of Mr. McEachern's brother, who died on that day from cancer.

They remained until after the funeral of the deceased.

Mrs. Spielmaecher and son, Leo, made a business trip to Manistique Monday.

Rev. Fr. Savageau held services at the Nahma Catholic church on Sunday.

ONLY 3 STARS ARE MISSING FROM ILLINI

Urbana, Ill.—Illinois field is again alive with football players, candidates for the University of Illinois football team.

Coach Bob Zuppke has 60 men out for drill.

Scanning the list of names shows 14 of the 19 Illini letter men of last season. Only three of the regulars who helped the Illini tie for the Big Ten title will be missing. They are Jim McMillen, guard; Viv Green, center, and Ted Richards, end.

With the return of Captain Frank E. Rokusek and Stub Muhl, Richards' loss will not be as keenly felt as that of the other two. Muhl played the wing position nearly as much as did Richards and will probably succeed him.

C. E. Kassel and Shields of last year's freshmen squad are the most promising of the other candidates.

Mush Crawford and Dick Hall, tackles, and Roy Miller, guard, are the other regular linemen who are back. Chuck Brown, a regular until he hurt his ankle in the Iowa game last fall; L. F. Sillmuer, L. J. Umbus and G. J. Roberts, who earned their letters, will be back to fill in the line. Bernie Shively was a member of last year's freshman squad and looks best to fill McMillen's place.

The Illini will have their entire backfield of last year intact. Harry Hall, quarterback; Earl Britton, fullback, and Harold Grange and Wallie McIlwain, halfbacks. Red Grange has been heaving ice in his home town, Wheaton, Ill., all summer and reports that he is in the best of condition. He will be watched by thousands—all wondering as to whether or not he can repeat his sensational record of last year.

Coolidge electors and handed them to the regular Republican party—a humiliating situation in politics. The electors chosen are Coolidge men all right, but their very names will only make some of the LaFollette voters, especially some of the German, some names will make controversies that otherwise might have been glossed over had the Republicans been able to select their own electors.

The speech of Charles G. Dawes may have created a good deal of comment outside of Wisconsin but in Milwaukee it didn't fit. The people here are not receptive to talk about the horrors of Socialism especially after they have just reelected by an overwhelming majority a Socialist mayor. Socialism is popular with a large element in Wisconsin. Hence attacks on it in more or less general terms are not so very effective. Nor has the Dawes plan been received by as yet as anything but a new burden for Germany.

Senator LaFollette will get a big vote in Milwaukee as usual and present indications are he surely will carry the state but by a reduced plurality over previous years.

CONVENTION OF CHURCH SOCIETY HAS COMMENCED

Following citizens. "We are here not to preach religion but to honor the dead. We do not seek to capitalize this sacred occasion for propaganda."

"We come here to recognize every man who died in any one of our wars, who died for the principles that we Holy Name men in America recognize, not only as the protection of democracy, but also as the foundations of our belief. We are not here to display our strength. We are here in complete oblivion of every political or business affiliation."

Tomb is Blessed. The tomb was solemnly blessed by Cardinal O'Connell, and the ceremony ended with the reading of records showing the number of Holy Name men enrolled in the war and the number from each diocese, and archdiocese among the dead.

As the figures of each diocese were read, a marine private in full uniform smartly stepped to the tomb and deposited at its base a parchment containing the record. When the reading, attended with profound silence on the part of the throng of listeners, was finished, a great wreath was placed on the tomb while a military bugler sounded taps. The Holy Name pledge was then recited aloud, and the Star Spangled Banner was sung to the accompaniment of a military band.

Being popular doesn't leave you much time for making real friends.

Fall Clothes Higher Says Representative

G. S. Schwartz, representing a Chicago tailoring firm, was in the city yesterday on business. Mr. Schwartz stated that clothing will be considerably higher for fall.

"Suits cannot be made for less than $100," stated Mr. Schwartz, "owing to the high cost of materials which go to make good clothes. The outlook for fall looks very promising and factories and shops are employing larger forces than ever, which points to a greater increase of business."

Officials Probing Reported Robbery

(By The Associated Press.)

Lansing, Mich., Sept. 19.—State police, today started an investigation of the robbery, two or three nights ago, of the Lansing headquarters of the Ku Klux Klan. According to the report to the state police between $400 and $500 was taken. Whether any documents were stolen was not learned.

No report of the incident was made to the local police.

ROY-MCLAUGHLIN.
St. Patrick's church was the scene of a pretty but quiet marriage ceremony Monday morning, Sept. 15th at six o'clock, when Miss Josephine Roy became the bride of Bernard McLaughlin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Barney McLaughlin, 418 So. 13th st. Rev. Fr. Raymond Bergeron performed the ceremony and was the celebrant at the nuptial mass.

The attendants were Miss Alice Heilgenenthal and Arnon Post. The bride wore a gown of white tulle with tulle veil and wreath and carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley and roses. The bridesmaid wore a dress of light green tulle with hat to match and carried a bouquet of roses.

Both the bride and bridegroom were born and reared in this city and have a host of friends who wish them happiness. Mr. McLaughlin is an employe of the C. & N. W. Ry. and after a wedding trip to various points they will return to this city to make their home at 1600 Third Ave. S.

Nolden-Nitz.
Word was received in the city of the marriage of Miss Kathryn Nolden, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Nolden of this city to Mr. Irvin Nitz of Detroit.

The wedding took place at Cleveland, Ohio, on August 16 in the presence of a few close friends and relatives. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Fr. Murphy of St. Agne's church. The attendants were Miss Francis Shatusky of Detroit, a close friend of the bride, and Oakley Thompson of Milwaukee.

After the ceremony the bridal party motored to Lakewood, Ohio, to the popular Rainbow Gardens where a sumptuous wedding dinner was served. Mr. and Mrs. Harry Sell of Detroit were among the guests at the party.

After an extended lake trip the couple are making their home at 2536 North La Salle Gardens, Detroit.

The bride was formerly a resident of this city and has many friends who wish her a long married life of happiness and prosperity. The groom is a popular young salesman for the R. T. French's Company.

STATE PLEADS FOR ATTENTION TO HEALTH RULE
Lecturers to Arrive in Escanaba Next Week

It is the age of prevention rather than cure. Too long has man allowed destiny to be his guide. The hour has struck when we must divorce ourselves from following the lines of least resistance says Dr. R. M. Olin, Michigan Commissioner of Health. "There is no excuse for chronic sickness and suffering in these days of health achievement."

This is the spirit of the Michigan Health Institute which visits Escanaba the last week of September. Two lecturers precede the clinic and endeavor to place before people diverse health advice pertaining to proper living methods and the better care of children, particularly the preschool child. The youngsters are the citizens of tomorrow and they are the ones to work on in the new age of disease prevention. These points are brought out by Dr. Frank A. Poole and Miss Melita G. Hutzler in their lectures next week.

The clinic is composed of three distinct units. One doctor will examine all well adults. Another conducts the school children's clinic while a third is prepared to examine 20 to 30 babies each day. All three doctors have their attending nurses and the work of the clinic staff consists entirely of examination. When an individual is found to require medical care, he is referred to his family physician immediately. The work of the doctors is in accordance with the much advocated periodic physical examinations.

General Inspection of Garbage Cans to Be Started at Once

A general inspection of garbage cans, public and semi-public toilets and other things about the city which demand sanitary supervision for public health reasons, will be instituted at once by the police and health departments. It was announced yesterday at the city hall.

Complaints about garbage cans have been numerous. The ordinance requires that all garbage be placed in fly-tight metal containers. It is said that many persons are using boxes, barrels and other unsanitary receptacles which do not comply with the ordinance. Garbage crews will be instructed to collect garbage placed in cans which do not measure up to the legal requirements. Notices will be served on the owners, who will be given a reasonable time to supply themselves with the proper containers. Unless the order is obeyed, arrests and prosecutions will follow.

There have been numerous complaints about certain public toilets in various parts of the downtown district. These will be checked up thoroughly and a watch kept on them, it was said.

Drinking Fountains on 3 Busy Corners

Three public drinking fountains are to be installed on Ludington street corners in the near future. The city manager has been instructed by the council to make the installations as soon as possible. The corners have not been selected. If the fountains prove popular, others will be installed later, it was said.

TAG!
Good Will Farm Supporters to Raise Funds Here Today.

WILL YOU do your bit to make today a lucky day for hundreds of unfortunate children? For today comes Good Will Farm for help in time of need, and confident that like all good neighbors Escanaba will respond splendidly to that need. This is no far off benevolence, no unknown charity, beyond the possibility of your acquaintance, but just next door, doing a work for your neighbors' children and within reach of your actual knowledge of methods means, aims and accomplishment.

Through the kindly help of those women and young ladies who are generously giving of their time, effort and interest today, you will be asked for a gift in return, for the tag which shows that you have done your part as a good neighbor.

The field of activities of Good Will Farm lies within the limits of the Upper Peninsula, and he your gift little or great it goes to help a neighbor in the most fundamental way, to administer the "ounce of prevention which is worth a pound of cure," to save his children from evil and help to give them a fair start along the highway of life.

"To these communities Good Will Farm stands in a position of trust to so administer this constructive charity that the greatest good may be achieved through the gifts received, and that all needing our help may receive their just share.

"It is realized that there is the foundation of all social endeavor and that as more and better work is done for the child the less need there will be for industrial schools and prisons."

City to Continue Lighting Policy

Boulevard lighting systems will be placed, early next summer, on all streets paved this year, it was announced yesterday at the city hall. The city council has instructed Manager Fred R. Harris to submit estimates of the cost of the improvement. This includes First Ave., So.; Third Avenue North, North 14th, South 3rd, and South 7th streets. Streets paved last summer are being lighted with boulevard systems this year.

Council Arranging Inspection Tour

The city council has decided to take its annual inspection tour of the city on Thursday, Oct. 2. It is hoped that any persons who have complaints, suggestions or topics of any sort which they wish to talk over "on the ground" will arrange to meet the party. Arrangements for meetings of this kind anywhere in the city can be made by telephoning City Manager Fred R. Harris, or any member of the council.

SISTER MARY'S KITCHEN

Tested By Sister Mary.
Breakfast—Cooked wheat cereal with chopped dates, thin cream, liver and bacon, creamed potatoes, toasted rye bread, corn muffins, coffee, milk.
Luncheon—Broiled meat patty, baked potato, baked apple with top milk, whole wheat bread and butter sandwich.
Dinner—Baked bluefish, baked sweet potatoes, scalloped tomatoes, lettuce salad with Thousand Island dressing, chocolate bread pudding with whipped cream, milk, coffee.
Members of the family who are less than 6 years of age will not indulge in the liver, muffins or coffee suggested in the breakfast menu. Crisp bacon and the potatoes may be given to the 4-year old child.
This luncheon was planned particularly for the children under school age when the older children carry their luncheon to school.
Serve the lettuce without the dressing to children under 8. And if you stuff your fish for baking, of course the juniors will be better off without the highly seasoned stuffing.

TABLE LINEN.
Table linen should be ironed in a single thickness until it is perfectly dry, then it may be folded and pressed.
USE POTATO SLICES.
If the fat gets too hot before you are ready to use it for deep frying, put in a few slices of raw sliced potatoes to bring down the temperature.

KEROSENE AND BORAX

The addition of a small quantity of kerosene and borax to the soapy water in which clothes are soaked loosens the dirt and makes them much whiter.

TOMATO SEASON

Baked or fried tomatoes should be served frequently during the season when tomatoes are plentiful and cheap.

WEIGHTS FOR CURTAINS

Weights such as tailors used in coats are good to insert in the hems of curtains to keep them flat.

ADD FRENCH DRESSING

All vegetable, meat and fish salads are improved by standing in French dressing for an hour or more.

WASHING PAINTED FLOOR

When washing a painted floor scrub only a small section at a time.

FOR GUEST ROOM

It is well to see that pins, sewing materials, books, stationery, ink, pens and a wastebasket are kept in the guest room.

Menus for a Family

Breakfast—Grapes, steamed hominy with thin cream, toasted bran bread, quince honey, waffles, milk, coffee.
Luncheon—Corn a la Creole, stewed carrots, baked potatoes, rice pudding, whole wheat bread, butter, cocoa, tea.
Dinner—Broiled halibut steak, baked cauliflower, mashed sweet potatoes, celery and cabbage salad, compote of fruit, sponge cake, bread and butter, milk, coffee.

A good rule to keep in mind is that "no friend food should be given to a child under eight years." Of course, this means no waffles for breakfast.

Home-made jellies and jams are excellent food for small people and make up for the lack of father's pie in many instances. The pure juice of fruit has a tonic effect when combined with sugar in a jelly that is quite beneficial. A piece of bread and butter thinly spread with jelly often answers as dessert when one is less than 10.

Before preparing the cauliflower for baking remove enough for the younger members of the family. Mash with a fork and season with salt, butter and a tiny bit of paprika for a child under six years of age.

After one is four years old, hominy makes a change from breakfast cereal.
Steamed Hominy.
One cup of fine hominy, 1 1/2 teaspoons salt, 4 cups boiling water. Put salt in boiling water and slowly add hominy. Cook 10 minutes directly over the fire. Cook one hour or longer over hot water.

Quince Honey.
Four large quinces, 3 pounds sugar, 4 cups water.
Pare and grate fruit. Put water and fruit in preserving kettle and boil ten minutes. Add sugar, sifting it in slowly and boil 20 minutes longer. Pour into sterilized cans and seal while hot.

Corn a la Creole.
Six ears corn, 1 small onion, 2 green peppers, 3 tomatoes, 2 table-spoons butter, salt and pepper.
Cut corn from cob. Mince onion. Remove seeds and white fibre from peppers and chop or shred peppers. Peel tomatoes and cut in quarters. Melt butter in frying pan, add vegetables and cook 20 minutes. Sea### son with salt and pepper and serve on hot buttered toast.

This concoction is planned to please the growing members of the family. The children should make their luncheon of baked potatoes, stewed carrots, whole wheat bread and butter, milk and rice pudding.

Rice Pudding.
One-half cup rice, 4 cups milk, 1/2 cup sugar, 1 scant teaspoon salt, 1/2 nutmeg.
Wash rice through many waters. Cover with cold water and let stand over night. In the morning drain. Put milk in a buttered baking dish and add rice. The milk should be used cold. Put in a cool oven and bake an hour, stirring every 20 minutes.

Add sugar, salt and nutmeg grated and stir until sugar is dissolved. Bake in a slow oven two or more hours longer, stirring frequently to prevent the rice from settling to the bottom of the dish. As the scum forms over the top of the milk, loosen it and turn it into the body of the pudding.

When the pudding is done it should be of a creamy consistency, the rice and milk perfectly blended and smooth. More milk may be needed during the baking. It is stirred in cold.

CLEAN IN SOAPSCUDS.

If you use the old-fashioned irons, clean them occasionally by washing in strong soapuds. This will keep them smooth.

BEATING RUGS.

If possible, beat rugs and carpets over a set of bed springs. This is one of the methods of cleaning used by professionals.

STABILIZES VASES.

Keep a little sand or a handful of small shot in vases that are so shaped that they are easily tipped. It will prevent much breakage.

TURPENTINE IN BOILER.

Put a little turpentine in the wash boiler when you wash clothes and you will find it has a decidedly whitening effect.

BREAD AND BISCUITS.

If bread or biscuits have become hard, dip them in cold water for a few minutes, then place in a moderately hot oven until well heated. They will taste perfectly fresh.

STRONG FINISH BY DETROITERS DOWNS YANKS

(By The Associated Press.)
 Detroit, Sept. 19.—A smashing finish that drove Sam Jones from the box in the eighth and brought the winning run home in the ninth on a single of Hoyt resulted in the defeat of the New York Yankees 6 to 5 today by Detroit. The defeat dropped New York into second place.

With the score tied, Cobb started the winning rally in the last of the ninth, grounding to Dugan. The Tiger manager went all the way to third when Dugan overthrew first base. Heimann and Rigney were purposely passed and then Haney, who entered the game in the eighth to run for Pratt, singled Cob home with the deciding counter.

Cobb made one hit during the game, bringing his season's total to 199. He needs one more to break the record he now holds jointly with Willie Keeler of having made 200 or more hits in eight seasons. The score: NEW YORK AB R H O A E

Murphy Sets New Record in Toledo Race with Gelding

(By The Associated Press.)
 Toledo, O., Sept. 19.—When Tommy Murphy drove Czar Worthy around Fort Miami in 2:01 1/2 here today another world's record was smashed, for this was the fastest mile ever traveled by a gelding in a race. This record mile was trotted in the second heat of the Stedman trot, purse $5,000, feature event in the closing Grand Circuit card. Murphy won the event easily with Czar Worthy winning the first heat in 2:03 1/2 and the third in 2:02. These three heats were the fastest three heats ever traveled by a gelding in a race.

Lapalom, with Wolverton driving, won the 2:04 pace taking the final heat after Richard Hal, with Mallow up, had won the first mile. The 2:18 trot went to Jeritza, Ackerman up, and the 2:10 pace was taken by Dickerman, Erskine in the sulky, in straight heats.

The average time of the ten miles raced in the afternoon program was 2:04 1/2.

Cincinnati Back in First Division

(By The Associated Press.)
 Philadelphia, Sept. 19.—Cincinnati again went into fourth place today by beating Philadelphia, 9 to 5, while the Giants were defeating the Cubs. "Rube" Benton started the game for the Reds but was relieved after the third inning when the locals scored three runs and took the lead. Dibut pitched the remainder of the game and held the Phillies to three hits. The visitors rallied behind his excellent curving and won out easily.

Score: R. H. E.
 Cincinnati, 102 030 030—9 13 1
 Philadelphia 013 000 091—5 9 3

Benton, Dibut and Hargrave; Glomzer, Betts, Oeschger, Bishop, Weinert and Wilson, Wendell.

ESKY HIGH TO BATTLE SAINTS

First Tests of Strength for Thompson and Carr Elevens.

Old Man Football, exhaled cyclops of the realm of out door sports, will arouse himself from nine months of rip-van-winkling, wiggle through his daily dozen to bricated steel spinal column and stalk upon the South Park gridiron this afternoon for his first public appearance of the year. He'll be greeted by hundreds of roaring, rah-rahing fanatics whose heads will remain bowed before his shrine until Thanksgiving time.

As a special event at the welcoming celebration, the ancient monarch will be given a demonstration of the game he invented. Participants will be Escanaba high school and Saint Joseph's parochial high, neighboring rivals, friendly enemies, fellow townsmen who—for the afternoon—will convert themselves into opposing armies of hand-to-hand battlers.

Not a Book Battle.
 It isn't at all in the books that a season should be opened with a slam-bang battle, but the "set-up" tradition has been cast aside by the coaches for both teams. Today's game isn't going to be any more of a "set up" than was the Battle of Waterloo.

Backers of the Saints see, in the situation, the best chance they've had to bump off the Hill-toppers since 1912, when the parochials defeated E. H. S. and tied Menominee. Coach Carr has nine veterans—most of them wearing three service stripes—in his ranks. His backfield has remained unbroken for three years. His line is husky and heady. His team has been pointed for this battle. He knows he has a real team and he is confident the score at the end of the combat will prove it.

Across the way in the Orange & Black camp Coach Thompson only knows that he has 11 men. He knows that because he has counted them—a center, a quarterback, a fullback, two half backs, two guards, two tackles and two ends. But he doesn't know, yet, whether he has a football team. He won't know that until sometime this afternoon. One of the lads in the forward wall—Vandenboom—and two of them in the backfield—Miethe and Andrews—are the only survivors of last year's snappy outfit. Some of the recruits who have filled the gaps have considerable promise. It is true, but in order to beat the Saints, something more than promise will be needed. Partisans of the E. H. S. team are confident their warriors will deliver. Thompson is making no predictions.

Hope It Yourself.
 Coach Carr has been assisted this week by Dr. E. M. (Eddie) Hirm, former western conference and professional luminary. It is Saint Joe's big battle. The parochials may be expected to lift the lid from a spacious trunk full of stuff.

Thompson, on the other hand, with a rookie squad, has been forced to devote so much time to the fundamentals that he is not expected to employ anything but the straightest* of straight football.

So there you are. Records for the last 10 years favor Escanaba high to cop. "Paper" comparisons of the experience of the players favor the Saints. The game will start at 2:30 o'clock. W. B. McClintock of Marquette Normal will referee it. Gene Dayton of Gladstone will umpire.

There is certain to be a monster crowd.

SENATORS TAKE HECTIC BATTLE FROM ST. LOUIS

(By The Associated Press.)
 St. Louis, Sept. 19.—By hitting six Browns' pitchers freely and taking advantage of four lucky breaks, the Washington team took today's game here, 15 to 9, and thus regained the undisputed lead of the American League, due to the Yankees' defeat by Detroit.

The Senators started the game in hard hitting fashion, batting Dixie Davis and Vangilder from the box before the side was retired in the opening inning in which they scored nine runs.

Three more runs were added in the fifth inning on successive singles by McNeely, Rice, Harris and Goslin, a walk and a hit batsman. One more score in the seventh, on a pass, a double and a sacrifice, and two more in the eighth on two singles and a double ended the visitors' scoring.

The Browns counted four of their runs in the fourth inning, when McGrigge was driven from the box and relieved by Marberry. Singles by Robertson, Sisler, Williams and McManus and Gerber's double produced the four scores. One each in the fifth and eighth and three in the seventh finished the Browns' run of scoring.

In all, the visiting team collected 18 hits off the six Brown pitchers. Score: WASHINGTON AB R H O A E

Ironwood high will entertain Duluth Central at Ironwood, while Sault Ste. Marie goes to Cheboygan for its first battle.

GIANTS GAIN AS BROOKLYN LOSES

(By The Associated Press.)
 New York, Sept. 19.—The New York Nationals again increased their lead to one and a half games here today, defeating Chicago by a score of 10 to 4, while Pittsburgh was defeating Brooklyn. The Giants got off to an early five run lead in the second inning, when they knocked Blake out of the box. After Blake retired Gowdy and Neft with the bases full on hits by Groh and Frisch, a pass to Young and another hit by Kelly, New York continued to hit hard and knocked out five more runs at the expense of Wheeler, Blake's successor.

Groh injured his right knee in the eighth inning, when he slid into second base. While Groh was carried off the field, it is not believed the injury is serious. Score: CHICAGO AB R H O A E

ARTHUR DILLON DODGERS BEATEN TRIMS LOCALS BY PIRATES, 4-2

(By The Associated Press.)
 Arthur Dillon, of lone pacing fame and in spite of years of campaigning, yesterday romped away with the chief honors in the Delta county free for all, comparatively upsetting all of the dope that had been cooked for an event in which only Delta county horses were eligible for entry, in the final racing program of the Northern Michigan Fair.

June Custer, owned by A. R. Wood of Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., who showed her heels to a big bunch of starters on Wednesday, came back yesterday and romped away with three straight heats in the regular free for all of the card.

Not On The Card.
 That Arthur Dillon was not considered as a serious contender in the race was shown by the fact that his entry did not appear on the printed score cards, but when his name was written in he went out and took three straight heats. It was confidently expected by the dopsters that the battle in that race would be between the entries of Atty. H. J. Rushton, Charles Elmer and Joseph Hirm. The Rushton entry was of color yesterday and was not started, leaving what was believed to be a clear field for After Helen, owned by Elmer and MacDewey owned by Hirm to fight it out for the major honors. But the lone pacer, driving in harness, was never headed after he got away to a flying start in the first heat, with second money going to Mac Dewey and third to After Helen.

Glria Takes Second.
 Glria, owned by Bud Nola, checked, of Mantowoc, Wis., was also another outsider to get inside the money yesterday, finally winning second place with Cigarette, owned by Louis Saam, of Luxemburg, Wis., third, and forcing the veteran, Harvey, K., owned by Michael Gillespie of the Soo, to be content with fourth money.

Races Are Success.
 Yesterday's races closed by far the most successful racing program ever to feature a county fair here. The manner in which Jim Marcott handled his post as starting judge won the admiration of the big crowds that watched the races each of the three days. Marcott has served as starting judge at races here for many years and is conceded by horsemen, as well as race horse followers, to be one of the fairest and most efficient starting judges ever to hold the flag in a stand in the northwest.

The summary of the races of yesterday, follows:

CHANGES MADE IN GRID RULES

(By The Associated Press.)
 New York, Sept. 18.—A change in the football rules for 1924 which permits the receiving eleven to be behind a line ten yards in front of the point from which the kickoff is made, no matter what yard line is chosen by the kicking team, was announced today by Chairman E. K. Hall, of the American Intercollegiate Football rules committee.

The following clause is added to section 3, rule 8, and is effective immediately:
 "In case the kickoff is made from a point behind the middle of the field the opponents shall be behind a line ten yards in front of the spot from which the kick is made."

In 1923 and for several years previous, the rules provided that a team should kickoff from "its own 40-yard line at a point equidistant from the side lines." At the meeting of the rules committee last February the kicking point was placed at midfield, artificial tees was abolished and the opposing eleven was restrained on its own 40-yard line.

"Tee" Ruling Changed.
 It was then suggested that on a muddy field it might be difficult to get away a good kick without the use of an artificial tee and accordingly the rule was changed to provide that the kickoff might be made from the middle of the field or "any point directly back of it," thus making it possible to go back such distance as might be necessary to get a firm spot for the kick.

Immediately coaches and officials foresaw a result that might cause some serious gridiron situations this fall, the rules were studied closely and it was learned that while the opposing team was restrained on its forty-yard line the kicking eleven might retreat to any part of its territory, directly behind the center of the middle line, making a short kick and recover the ball itself at midfield, the kicking team being permitted to recover after the ball has travelled ten yards.

A telegraphic poll of the rule-committee members was taken and the situation was relieved legally by lifting the 40-yard line restriction on the receiving eleven. The receivers may now range ten yards from the point of kickoff at all times.

LEGION GRID MEN TO PLAY AT STAMBO SUNDAY

The Escanaba Legion football team will make their initial debut of the season at Stambaugh Sunday when it will meet the Stambaugh All-Stars. The local squad will leave here at 9 a. m. Sunday morning and all fans having room for players in their cars are asked to be at the Legion headquarters at 8:45 in order that transportation may be furnished the team without a too heavy expense account.

The Stambaugh All-Stars are one of the strongest teams in the peninsula and the showing that is made by the local squad tomorrow will be watched with interest by U. P. grid dopsters. It is predicted that a large number of local fans will make the trip to Stambaugh.

The lineup announced for Sunday's contest is as follows: Groh and Judson, ends; Cook and Olson, tackles; Spears and Anderson, guards; Henderson, center; Pearl, Goulet, O'Brien and F. H. Baldwin, backfield; North, Fisher, sub-tackles; Earl Casey, P. E. Baldwin, guards.

The following Sunday, September 28th, the local eleven will play at Iron Mountain.

Zivic Suspended by Boxing Commission

(By The Associated Press.)
 New York, Sept. 19.—Jack Zivic, Pittsburgh lightweight, was suspended for 90 days by the New York state athletic commission today for going in on weight for his match with Archie Walker, of Brooklyn, at the Norstrand A. C. last Tuesday night. Jimmy Bronson and Lew Brown, managers of Zivic, and their entire stable of boxers were placed under a similar ban.

Zivic was to weigh-in at 138 pounds, but he went in at 141 1/2. He knocked Walker out in the first round.

Classic Plays Of The Gridiron

How an Alert Brain and a Lion's Heart Enabled Martineau to Save the Day for Minnesota

(By W. H. SPAULDING, University of Minnesota Coach.)
 MINNESOTA and Wisconsin were playing a stand off game in mud when the break came that produced one of the greatest plays I have ever seen on a football field.

Martineau, Minnesota's elusive halfback, had punted far to the left and nearly out of bounds. So nearly, in fact, that Eklund, Minnesota left end, thought that Rolfe Williams, Wisconsin back, had stepped out of bounds in picking up the ball and allowed him to get away.

Williams had a clear field, and three interferences to take out Martineau, the only man blocking the path to a touchdown. And the score at the time was 6-0.

Things looked blue for Minnesota, as Williams was running close to his interferences and there seemed to be no chance for Martineau to sift through. Nor did it seem possible for him to go around the mass of men; meanwhile Williams could use any one of his three interferences as a dodging popt.

Down the field swept the flying Badgers. Martineau was moving out to meet them. They were about to brush him aside. And then—he left his feet. Not around or through the interference, did Martineau attempt to go, but over the top. And down came Williams, an astonished man, 15 yards from a touchdown.

No one expected Martineau to make that play. Less great players would have been swept aside. But Martineau had the courage and resourcefulness to face the obstacle that was apparently unsurmountable—and conquer. And there's just the difference between greatness and mediocrity, in football or out. The heart for greatness recognizes no defeat.

AMATEURS WILL PLAY FOR GOLF CHAMPIONSHIP

(By The Associated Press.)
 Ardmore, Pa., Sept. 19.—A week's international battle for the United States amateur golf championship begins tomorrow at the Merion Cricket Club with 165 entrants of proved ability to average in the twenties for a round.

Seventy-one British subjects, including 10 members of the Walker Cup team, are entered. Among them stand out the mighty-lifting "C" J. H. Tolley; Eustace F. Storey, Cambridge University captain, and the Honorable Michael Scott, who has held various Australian titles and defeated the New York star Jess Sweetser, in the Walker Cup series.

There are four Canadian competitors, including the dominion champion, Frank Thompson of Toronto, William I. Hunter, former British amateur champion, who in recent years has lived in Los Angeles, is among the other dangers to home-bred amateurs. The champion of Panama, Edmund L. Koperski, also is entered.

At his home club, which now numbers among its members both the women's and the men's amateur champions, Max Marston will defend the title he won at Flossmore, last year with sensational triumphs over Bobby Jones, Francis Ogimet and Jess Sweetser. Marston's game this season has been worthy of a champion, but few titleholders have been able to repeat, especially in successive seasons.

The field, the largest ever entered, is so extensive that there will be two days of play in the qualifying round. Everybody will do 18 holes tomorrow, rest or practice Sunday, and play 18 more Monday. The 32 returning the lowest medal scores will remain in tournament. ## ROTARIANS ARE THRILLED BY FINE ADDRESS

Atty. A. H. Ryall Appeals for Defense of the Constitution.

Members of the Rotary Clubs of Manistique, Gladstone and Escanaba last night heard what was considered one of the most masterly expositions of the tenets of the constitution of the United States ever given before any organization, when Atty. A. H. Ryall addressed a joint meeting of the three clubs, following a dinner, at the Gladstone Community House. Atty. Ryall's address served as the principal feature of the observance of Constitution Week by the members of the three clubs, with their wives and guests and when the speaker had concluded a most eloquent appeal for the preservation of the fundamental principles of government conceived by the framers of the constitution of the United States, he was accorded an ovation such as has been given few speakers before an audience in this section. In his address, Atty. Ryall traced through history to prove that the constitution of the United States was the first governmental instrument founded upon the principle of individual rights, ever placed in effect in the history of the world. He showed the fundamental principles of the governments of Europe and the old world and of the Indian tribes, first inhabitants of this land, to be based solely upon the principle of selfishness, set up and maintained by the select few, established in power without regard for the rights and the wishes of the many. He told of the framing of the Constitution of the United States when representatives of every faction and interest gathered and formulated an instrument that recognized the rights of all, guaranteeing a freedom such as had never before been known in the history of the world and which has remained the envy of the peoples of all nations. Danger in Bloc Government. Atty. Ryall pointed to the dangers threatening the constitution today in the development of bloc government in national affairs, through which a minority is seeking to take from the majority the rights guaranteed under the fundamental principles of the nation's plan of government. The speaker strongly and openly condemned the principles upon which the Ku Klux Klan is founded, calling the organization thoroughly un-American and asserted that the United States had never yet found it necessary to settle any of her problems under the cover of a bed sheet and pillow case. He urged that internal questions be settled today as were the monumental problems faced by the framers of the constitution, in open discussion with the right of the majority being constantly maintained for the preservation of the sacred and inalienable rights of all.

Pastor Upholds Motto. Rev. R. S. Sidebotham of Manistique, in a brief address that opened the speaking program of the evening, in discussing the subject "Service Above Self," asserted that Rotary's motto was not framed by a businessman, an attorney or a doctor, but by a simple carpenter of Nazareth, the Master of us all. Rev. Sidebotham asserted that the organization who lives true to the organization's motto must live clean, be helpful and considerate of others, patriotic and be able to place conscience above hypocrisy. He asserted that it is upon such citizens the nation must depend in defending its constitution from foes who would break down its sacred tenets for the service of selfish ends.

Bushong Is Toastmaster. I. N. Bushong, of Gladstone, served as toastmaster of the evening and in that capacity urged the necessity of heeding the pleas made by the two speakers of the evening. Last night's function, staged in Gladstone's magnificent Community building, opened with the serving of a dinner at 6:30 o'clock at which the Rotarians of the three cities were treated with their wives and guests. An un-scheduled and greatly appreciated number was contributed during the serving of the dinner, by Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Pond, of Chicago, who are guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Allen in this city. Mr. Pond, who is a vocalist of marked ability, presented two numbers, accompanied by Mrs. Pond, that were thoroughly appreciated by the big company of banquets.

Following the serving of the dinner, a dancing program was enjoyed by the members of the company.

Report Epidemic Of Diphtheria In Garden Township

Garden, Mich., Sept. 19—(Special)—An epidemic of diphtheria is sweeping the Garden peninsula, ten cases of illness and one death having already been reported. As a result the township board met tonight and ordered all schools in the townships to be indefinitely closed. The Garden village board also met and took similar, though more stringent action, closing all school churches, movies, pool rooms and other public places in the village indefinitely. The epidemic is not serious, it was asserted, and the precautions are being taken to prevent the spread of the disease.

The Piffle Hook

THESE MAJESTIC LINES FROM THE PIFFLE HOOK, SEPT. 18, 1918, ARE REPRINTED AT THE URGENT REQUEST OF (1) ONE (1) PERSON.

If I saw a jaybird spooning with a crimson crocodile, Or a cross-eyed hoot-owl wearing B. V. D's, I could calmly trudge on homeward without parting with a smile, I have seen a sight that's queerer far than these.

If I saw a yellow raven do a Grecian classic dance, Or a soft-shelled turtle writing in a book, Do you think it would astonish me? It wouldn't have a chance! I'd not even pause to take a second look.

Oh, nothing, boys, would move me now to show surprise or fright, Or cause an upward movement of my hair, I know you won't believe me, but today the sun shone bright For an hour on the Delta county fair!

TRULY, history repeats itself, So, occasionally does the Piffle Hook. —H. K. R.

AMUSEMENTS

AT THE DELFT. "Painted People," featuring Colleen Moore and directed by Clarence Badger, which is now playing at the Delft theatre, is declared to be one of the most humorous photoplays ever seen on the local screens. It is from the pen of Richard Connell, noted humorist, and was published serially in Collier's Weekly, where it appeared under the title of "The Swamp Angel."

Director Badger has retained all of the inimitable humor of the original story, and has assembled a cast that gets every laugh possible out of the amusing situations provided by the author. Taking as his theme the invisible line of demarcation between the poorer class of a small town and the "aristocracy," Mr. Connell provided vivid contrasts that make "Painted People" a rollicking comedy drama.

Miss Moore is seen as the "tomboy" daughter of humble parents, who can play baseball as good as any "kid" in the neighborhood, and who is in great demand for the big games. It is a difficult role for any actress, but Miss Moore carries it off with honors, even if, during the rehearsals and the actual filming, she split a couple of finger nails and was nearly knocked out by a pitched ball.

Playing opposite Miss Moore is Ben Lyon, who was seen lately in "Potash and Perlmutter," and the remainder of the cast is an exceptionally brilliant one.

AT THE STRAND. Step right this way, ladies and gentlemen, for the biggest and best show in town, with the biggest and best comedian of the screen!

Walter Hiers in his new Paramount picture, "Fair Week" will be seen at the Strand again today.

The story, by Walter Woods, is a small town comedy with touches of melodrama. It's a rapid-fire action picture with big scenes galore.

We wouldn't even attempt to describe the balloon rescue and parachute drop by the star and little Mary Jane Irving.

And when Hiers gets that fake clergyman in the belfry of the church—!

But why limit ourselves to one or two scenes? The entire production is just punch after punch after punch, the fist fights included.

Constance Wilson has the leading woman's role. It is the first time we have seen her on the screen, although she played a minor role in "The Covered Wagon" with her more prominent sister, Lois.

St. Joseph's Auditorium will throw open its doors to the patrons of movie pictures when the opening show of the fall season will be given Sunday afternoon and evening at the usual hours.

The manager, Rev. Fr. Daniel Linfert, has booked some of the very best pictures available for the fall and winter season and promises the patrons very good clean entertainment for several months to come.

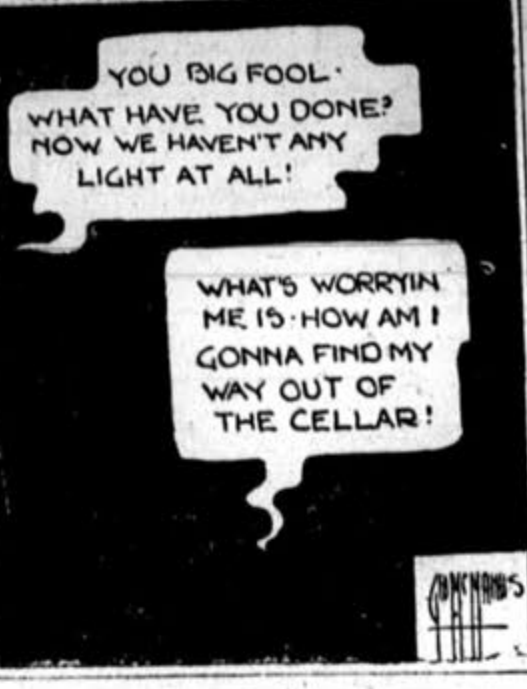

The first picture shown will be on Sunday, Sept. 21st, when Fred Thompson will be seen in "North of Nevada."

The scene is laid in the west and the story contains many thrills, a love romance and a very fine climax. There is a good display of horsemanship, also the rescue of a girl from the back of a runaway steed, the plunging of the horse into seeming destruction and many other thrills, worth while seeing. The public is heartily welcome. The afternoon show is at 3 o'clock and the evening at 7:30.

CHECKS AND PLAIDS. Large checks and plaids are used for street dresses and because of their simple cut and absence of trimming they are not unpleasantly conspicuous or noticeable.

FASHIONABLE SCENES. The most fashionable are not so large or so elaborate as they were during the summer and are most for the season so as to form a new style.

THE NORTHERN MICHIGAN FAIR.

Each year the Northern Michigan Fair comes closer to justifying its name. When approximately 15,000 people in a single day will pay their admission fees to attend any fair, that fair becomes more than a county fair. It at least approaches a territorial event and that has been the aim of officers of the Delta County Agricultural Society since the organization of the present fair society.

The officers of the society who have labored in season and out of season for many years can well be proud of the record that has been established this season in staging what proved to be by far the most successful fair ever held in the upper peninsula of Michigan. When the attendance records of Wednesday and yesterday are added to that of the unprecedented Thursday crowd, a mark will have been hung up for other counties to shoot at for many years to come.

While the fair, in itself, as carried out this year proved to be bigger and better than ever, it was a kindly weatherman who made ultimate success possible. No fair ever held in this county has been favored with more ideal weather conditions than the brand which prevailed throughout this week.

In allowing Delta county's annual agricultural and industrial show to emerge from the ordinary county fair class and attain a distinction that does not belie its name the succeeding groups of county fair officers have had the support of as loyal a group of businessmen as ever backed any similar project. Manufacturers and retailers of Escanaba and Gladstone, year after year, have arranged exhibits that have proven an important element in boosting the undertaking over the hump and to these sterling businessmen the society owes a tremendous debt.

No better example of that support could be offered than in the exhibit annually arranged by the I. Stephenson Co. Trustees farm department. That company and that particular department has little or nothing to sell locally, but as a means of encouraging the fair, the company each year has staged an exhibit that would take class with any state fair display.

The company may be fortunate in having at the head of its farm department a man who is unusually adapted for arranging a more than attractive exhibit for no man is more capable than Tom Jones of taking a foot square feet of sod, numberless pumpkins, apples, tomatoes, cabbage, and flowers and working out an exhibit that would form the central feature for any fair. It is the boosting spirit of the officers of the company in sanctioning the exhibit that reflects the measure of support being accorded Delta county's annual show.

The fair has hung up a proud record this year but the officers of the fair society will not be content to rest upon laurels already won. For the splendid attendance accorded cannot but serve to encourage them in making a more determined effort next year to allow the fair of 1925 to eclipse even this season's handsome record.

A SMILE THAT WON'T COME OFF.

The Kansas City Reserve Bank reports that in the three weeks prior to September first, 2,391 farmers' notes, aggregating $3,990,053, were paid off before maturity. Farmers of the Middle West are seizing upon the excellent conditions now prevailing to get themselves out of debt. They are filled with optimism and are going to vote to continue in power the political party under whose policies their condition has improved.

NARROW BANDING.

Narrow bandings of fur seem to be preferred to wide ones on the newest street dresses and coats.

MISS—OR MRS.

BY JANE PHELPS.

DRUCILLA IS KIND BUT SEVERE. Chapter III. There was a broad common down the center of the main street of Mentone, shaded by famous old elms where the young people of the village lingered to talk or play. Benches were placed at intervals, and often they were occupied by girls and boys chatting and laughing together. Alvira was forbidden to enter this common or park. When she went on an errand she must keep strictly to the sidewalk, do her errand, then return directly home. At times she met and walked with one of the girls of her own age who would urge her to stay with them. "Aunt Drucilla doesn't allow me to go into the park," she would say regretfully. "But there isn't anything wrong about sitting on a bench." "Aunt Drucilla won't let me." That ended it as far as Alvira was concerned. When Alvira was 14 the school were to have a straw-ride on the last Saturday before vacation. The entire school hummed with anticipation. Eagerly Alvira told her aunt: "Everybody is going, Aunt Drucilla. I may go too, can't I?" Trembling, she waited for the answer. "You mean boys and girls are going in the same wagons?" "Yes, each class has their own wagon. Oh, do say I may go!" "No, Alvira, you can't go. It isn't fitting or proper for such big boys and girls to be together in that way. I can't give my approval what she should do to educate her mind and soul. Amusement had no part in her Aunt Drucilla's curriculum. A missionary meeting, an occasional social gathering at the church, the calls of neighbors had always satisfied her; they satisfy Alvira. Alvira was an omnivorous reader, but all her reading was strictly censored. History, biography, essays, and for lighter reading, Polyantha stories, and certain news sheets. Next to her reading, the kitchen garden was Alvira's greatest delight. Even Drucilla saw the flowers seemed to know she loved them, and grew more beautiful for her. And Alvira never had outgrown her babyish habit of talking to them. The velvety pansies were her favorites, she named them—choosing names from books she had read, adapting them to the pansies as she thought of them as serious. The yellow ones were always the gay children, the deep purple ones the dignified, serious children. She had one plant, a dark brownish pansy that she called Drucilla, but she never told her aunt. Some of Alvira's pansies were boys, the straight, sturdy ones; she named these from characters in history. She had a Washington, a Lincoln; and then, almost whispering the name as if fearful when the soft wind might hear, she called one of them after a boy she followed with an engaging face. Alvira never had spoken to him but once or twice, but she liked him, wished she could talk and laugh with him as the other girls did. Tomorrow—Sweet Sixteen. HIGH TRIMMING. One mark of distinction to the fall hats is their high trimming. There is apt to be a bow, stick-up or feather across the front that gives height and dash.

ROCK MAN'S EASY WINNER

Herman Kohtala Takes Day's Events in Horse-shoe Tourney.

Of all the novelties and features marking this year's county fair, none achieved greater popularity in the public mind than the first annual horse-shoe tournament which came to a close last evening.

The greatest credit is due Chairman W. H. Needham and other members of the committee in charge of this event, particularly P. J. Groos, J. B. Wilkinson, W. J. Schmit, John J. Bartella and John A. Allo, who worked so hard to bring public attention to the big affair, as well as to provide a suitable regulation course and provide for keeping the proper scores.

Mr. Groos, the chief judge, was busy last night in checking up the scores for the week and expects to be able during this forenoon to announce the winner of the tournament prizes, both men and women. It is estimated that more than 600 games of 48 shoes each were pitched during the tournament but at this time the number of players has not been figured and Mr. Groos desires to again check all his scores before making final announcement and awarding the grand prizes for the tourney.

There is every reason to believe that every farm home will have a regulation course staked out for the remainder of the fall and that the game will be played in strict accordance with the National Horseshoe Association rules which governed the tournament here, so that next year a great new crop of experts may be looked for in the keenest kind of competition for larger prizes than it was possible to offer this year.

No one event at the fair has a warmer place in the hearts of attendants, and the committee as well as the fair management feels highly gratified at the result of the first effort made here to establish horse-shoe pitching as a regular attraction at the fair.

The names of the winners of the four tournament prizes will be announced in The Press tomorrow morning.

HERMANVILLE ITEMS.

Frank Nolden, representing the Delta Hardware Co. of Escanaba was here on business Wednesday.

Several Hermansville people attended the show in Powers Wednesday evening.

Mrs. Delore Lombard, who has been confined to her bed for the past month, with gall stones, was taken to St. Francis Hospital of Escanaba on Thursday.

Miss Agnes Richer, who teaches here, spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Richer of Escanaba.

Misses Elsie O'Hilla and Mabel Maceo of this place, were Pow's visitors on Wednesday.

The following announcement was received by many Hermansville people: Mr. and Mrs. Provaucher announce the marriage of their daughter Ethel Rawlings to Harold Allen, at the Methodist Episcopal church of Menominee, Mich.

Mrs. Lottie Boltman and son, Leroy, attended the Escanaba Fair Thursday.

Mrs. Rodgers Moras spent Thursday in Marinette.

The Royal Neighbors of Hermansville gave a "pot luck" lunch at the Lodge room, Thursday evening. They initiated several new members.

Walter Mavens Morgan Rawlings, Ray Carney and Harold Stecker, were among the people from Hermansville who motored to Escanaba to attend the Fair.

Mrs. Fred Lohf, received word today from Oswego, Mich., announcing the death of her sister who resided in that city.

POLICEMAN AND PRINCESS

Dreams Do Come True—So LEO Fair Tale of Old "Smiling Jack McIntyre" One of "The Finest" Will Tour Europe With His Wife as Royalty's Guest.

ALL ABOARD! POLICEMAN JACK MCINTYRE AND HIS WIFE PACK FOR THEIR TRIP TO EUROPE WHERE THEY WILL BE THE GUESTS OF PRINCESS XENIA. POLICEMAN JACK HAS BEEN STATIONED AT THE DOCK (RIGHT) WHERE HE HAS MET MEN AND WOMEN OF HIGH RANK ON THEIR WAY TO AND FROM EUROPE.

BY GENE COHN
NEA Service Writer.
New York.—Policeman Jack McIntyre has smiled his way into the hearts of the people of this city. He is a veritable human answer to the question "Who's Who." He knows practically everyone who travels.

And upon them all he has smiled, either congenially, humorously or sympathetically. "You see," he explains, "they're all human. Their names may sound big, but I've noticed that they like to get out of role, as they say on the stage. They like to relax. I've heard some of the biggest men and women burst into a slang and even use bad English juts to relax from the parts they have to play in holding their positions or stations. Underneath they're pretty much all alike. You've got to meet them though to appreciate it."

And "Smiling Jack" has met them all. He has given them a handshake and a smile. When a boat arrived or left, he has chatted with them congenially and he has made many friends.

Such social intercourse has resulted in a simple philosophy based upon congeniality. Policeman McIntyre's residence is decorated with little signs reading "Keep Smiling." There is one on the mirror, another faces the bed, and there are more on the trunks than he and the Mrs. will take with them. He has written it on his face as he stood at the gangplank. But had you told him he would one day be climbing the plank, his wife on his arm, for a six weeks' European jaunt with a princess as his hostess he would have searched your hip pocket.

Goodbye, America!

Yet that's just what happened. For several years he has met young Leeds as the millionaire came and went from Europe. A mutual liking resulted and when Leeds and his bride, the former Princess Xenia, returned from abroad an invitation was issued the policeman and his wife to be their guests on a tour of Europe.

"And it couldn't have come at a better time," smiles the officer. "You see the wife hasn't been in very good health and needs a sea trip. Things come out this way somehow."

"The Princess is a very wonderful woman," he continued. "She has the reserve and dignity of her aristocratic past, but once you meet her she is very pleasant. As I've said, they're all human. Only she seems so delicate you hate to shake hands for fear of breaking something."

So its palaces and playgrounds for "Smiling Jack" and his misadventures in this modern fairy tale.

maiden's haunted him. He soon connected it with the Sacred Cenote, the cavernous mouth of the subterranean river at which the ancient Itzaes founded their capital. He confided his belief to the scientists, but he met discouragement, even ridicule. Then he decided to investigate for himself.

With the aid of a Greek sponge diver, he mastered the diver's art. Every night for months he would descend to the rocky bottom of the pit through forty feet of water and thirty feet of mud.

Work will go on. Almost his very first efforts were rewarded. Before long, he had gathered ample proof of his theory. His patron came to the attention of a patron of science who provided him with dredging apparatus. Under the auspices of the Peabody Museum he continued dredging until 1917.

Thompson is planning a more thorough-going search of the Cenote for Carnegie Institution, but all of the reclaimed treasure will be turned over to the Mexican Government. He hopes to make startling fresh discoveries.

Yesterday, we walked together over the Sacred Road, and stood once more on the tree-encircled rim of the 200 foot chasm. The motionless pool lay at the base of the stark white perpendicular walls like a slab of jade. Over it, seemed to hang a triple veil of mystery, tragedy and fatality.

"It's always been my private opinion," said the veteran archaeologist, "that down there, imbedded in the silt of the centuries, we'll find the Maya Rosetta stone."

HAD TO LET HOUSEWORK GO
So My Husband had to do the Work. Completely Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

South Bend, Indiana.—"I was all run-down, tired out, and had pains in my back and bearing-down pains. I was so sore I could hardly drag myself around and was not able to do a bit of housework. My husband worked all day in the shop, and then came home and helped me at night. The doctor said I had female weakness, and there was no help but to be operated upon, and of course that would cost a great deal. My husband heard about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at the factory and one night he stopped at the drug store and bought me a bottle of it. I had begun to think there was no help for me, but I took three bottles of it and now I feel like myself once more. The price for three bottles wasn't so much as the doctor had charged. I cannot praise Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound enough."—Mrs. DORA OSBORNE, 439 Sherman Ave., South Bend, Indiana.

Women troubled with female weakness should give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a fair trial.

Iron Trade Review

Cleveland, Ohio, Sept. 19.—Iron Trade Review yesterday said:

Moderate recovery which is progressing in a gradual way still characterizes business conditions in steel. The expansion of the market is yet to reach a point where it warrants wide employment of works capacity or the establishment of a level of prices which could be pronounced as satisfactory. Producers are waiting for the momentum to be given the market by the backing up of orders and are taking encouragement from the way in which the volume of buying is increasing. Business entered by the mills for the first half of September is well ahead of that for the corresponding period in August.

Six or eight more blast furnaces have been blown in or are scheduled for early resumption. Steel ingot production is unchanged at 55 to 60 per cent of capacity.

Lack of a stabilization of steel prices manifestly is causing many buyers of steel to hold back on the placing of larger tonnages to cover their needs for the next few months or for stocking purposes. This situation is especially observable among manufacturing users of steel, many of whom desire to close if they could be convinced that prices are at bottom. In the Chicago market steel prices seem tender but at other points, weakness or shading persists. Cold-rolled steel was reduced this week $2 per ton to $2.70 Pittsburgh. Hoops are $1 to $2 lower. The plate market remains weak.

Iron Trade Review composite of fourteen leading iron and steel products shows another decline this week to $38.95 against $39.15 last week. Weakness in steel prices still is the cause.

Nothing definite has yet been announced as to the final policy the Steel corporation will adopt with regard to quoting steel prices in the future on a Pittsburgh base. The time for appeal of the cease-and-desist order issued to the Corporation by the federal trade commission expires within the week.

Railroad buying still commands first attention in the marketplace and the new inquiries being put out. The 6200 cars placed by the Illinois Central (the past week brings the total of car orders in September in excess of 20,000 or the largest month ever since 1912).

The Illinois Central order will require 65,000 tons of rolled steel which will go largely to Chicago mills. New car inquiries for the Southern and 2,500 for the Gulf Coast increasing the pending total to over 15,000. The Illinois Central has placed 60,000 tons and at least 3,000 tons is in sight before the mills in the Reading, 24,000 tons for the Virginian and an unstated quantity for the Chesapeake & Ohio.

Although shipments are growing, recent price advances by some makers of pig iron have not been uniformly followed, giving less firmness. These conditions doubtless are due to the abnormally large stocks which are shrinking very slowly. Birmingham reports a sale of 50,000 tons to one interest and of 12,500 tons to another.

SHENANDOAH FEARED COLD

Why Big Dirigible Didn't Make Her Flight Across the Pole.

BY CHARLES P. STEWART, NEA Service Writer.

Washington.—At the north pole and thereabouts the summer temperature on one side of a man's nose may be up to 90 and on the other side below freezing.

One of his cheeks may be wet with perspiration while icicles gather in his beard on the other side.

The sunny side of his nose may burn until it blisters, at the same time the shady side is being frosted.

Ditto at the south pole.

This is no joke or exaggeration. It's mentioned in the records of many explorers.

The summer sun's rays are most intense at and around both poles. But out of the sun—in shady places—the cold is equally intense.

Flight Was Postponed.

This fact though known, never was appreciated at its full value until the idea was advanced of sending the navy dirigible Shenandoah on a flight across the north pole.

Naval officers liked this suggestion. The flight undoubtedly would have been undertaken—and in all probability that would have been the last of the Shenandoah—if somebody had not happened to raise the point of the contraction of the airship's framework that might fairly be expected in the cold of the arctic regions.

Then it came out that, in all likelihood, it wouldn't be contraction alone the explorers would have to reckon with—at the same time one side was contracting, the other side might be expanding.

That sort of thing, it was recognized, would be apt to rack the Shenandoah to pieces.

Another thing, it developed that the material of the ship's cover hardens and becomes brittle in extreme cold. Obviously this wasn't going to do, either.

That's why the trip hasn't been undertaken yet.

Experts Studying It.

It hasn't been abandoned, however. Experts are calculating now just what structural modifications must be made in the vessel's framework to enable it to withstand the peculiar climatic conditions it must experience. They are experimenting with various sorts of material for a dependable envelope.

The problem is an intricate one, but entire confidence is expressed by the Navy Department that a satisfactory answer will be found.

Naval officers are not the only ones interested in the flight. Meteorologists believe its results may be very valuable.

There appears to be an alternate expansion and shrinking of the north polar ice and some scientists believe there are even times when the polar sea actually is open. They surmise, too, that there is a certain amount of periodicity in these changes, and if this can be established it may have an important bearing on future weather conditions.

Enthusiasts are hopeful that within a few years, at least semi-annual flights across the north pole will be made for observation purposes.

The next thing, hints the Navy Department, will be establishment of a similar system of flights across the south pole.

This will be more difficult than the northern flight, both because the distance from base to base will be much greater and because the flying will have to be considerably higher, due to the altitude of parts of the antarctic continent.

IN THE DAY'S NEWS

Dr. George Ellery Hale, who is building a private astronomical observatory in Pasadena to carry on his investigations of the sun, is regarded by many as America's leading solar physicist. As an astronomer and author of books on natural scientific subjects, he has an international reputation. He is a native of Chicago and received his collegiate education in Massachusetts Institute of Technology. For ten years he was connected with the Yerkes Observatory of the University of Chicago as faculty member and director. From 1907 until his retirement two years ago he was in charge of the Mt. Wilson Observatory, near Pasadena, which he helped to establish. In recognition of his work in studying solar phenomena Dr. Hale has received the Actonian prize of the Royal Institution of Great Britain, the Janssen medal of the Astronomical Society of France, and honors from other scientific societies both at home and abroad.

ANNA HELD, THE YOUNGER, AT WORK IN HER BEAUTY SHOP. INSERTS, TOP TO BOTTOM, KITTY GORDON, MABEL TALIAFERRO AND FANNY BRICE, ALL OF THEM SUCCESSFUL BUSINESS WOMEN AS WELL AS ACTRESSES.

BY HORTENSE SAUNDERS, NEA Service Writer.

New York.—Society debs and matrons are invading the stage in such numbers that they may be responsible for driving actresses into business.

Many names that used to blaze out in electric lights and contribute to the glitter of the Gay White Way now appear on shop doors and windows in the business sections of New York.

Fair ones who used to look so alluring back of the footlights are getting behind the counters and will sell you hats, gowns or furniture, decorate your home, remove your wrinkles or serve you tea.

Anna Held, daughter of the famous French actress, is one of the latest recruits in business. Once seen in vaudeville and in comic opera, she now has a beauty parlor where she sells lingerie, trinkets and cosmetics made from the formula of her famous mother.

Her shop is directly across the street from where the diminutive Mabel Taliaferro sells antiques and early American furniture. These two celebrities are great friends and borrow back and forth like two neighbors on Main street.

Kitty Gordon, whose faultless back brought her fame, now operates a very elegant and exclusive beauty shop in the fashionable Madison avenue section of New York. Her daughter, who appeared on the stage and in pictures with her mother, is the first assistant.

Flora Zabelle, musical comedy star, is no less successful as style expert for a large wholesale dress concern than she was as a musical comedy star. And Fannie Brice, without giving up the stage, once conducted a successful dress shop.

"Going into business does not at all mean that an actress renounces the stage," said Anna Held, Jr., "because once an actress, you can never tell when you will break out again with the fever for applause. It makes you free to take such parts as you like instead of taking what you can get."

"Having a business doesn't detract from your ability as a performer and it gives you experience and a practical view of life that many actresses never acquire."

"After all it's doing something and putting it over that counts, whether you do it on the stage or in the shop."

LUMBER DEMAND IS SATISFACTORY

Demand for lumber is holding up satisfactorily and the market has shown little change during the last fortnight, says the American Lumberman, Chicago.

Southern pine mills report that buying so far this month has been slower than in August, and is more scattered; but the volume remains good, approximately on a par with production.

The noteworthy development is that most of the current business is coming from the smaller towns and country districts, where building and repair operations are tending upward while those in the larger cities are declining.

The outlook is reassuring, but the mills are taking a conservative view of the situation, and are in some instances curtailing their output. The heavy demand of thirty days ago having subsided, prices have also receded somewhat, but are now generally firm with no further material decline in prospect.

Manufacturers are not exerting any great pressure for new business, and are often turning away business that is offered at what they regard as too low prices.

Douglas fir manufacturers report that country yards are buying in good volume and are the backbone of the present demand. While city requirements are still sizable, they have shown some recent decline. Some railroad business is being booked, but most of this apparently is being held in abeyance until after the presidential election.

The foreign markets are in good shape and promising. Recent investigators in Japan report that no large stocks are being held in that country, and exporters believe that it is ready to buy heavily this fall. It is indeed the expectation that fall selling to Japan will considerably exceed that for the corresponding period of 1923.

California is gradually becoming more active. More lumber is being sold in that State than for some time and the outlook is described as much better.

Trade in hardwoods holds up remarkably well. It is reported that automobile interests are on the market on a larger scale than they have been for months, while furniture makers are buying more freely as a result of the encouraging reports returned by their salesmen, now canvassing the trade in following up the leads furnished by the midsummer shows. Demand from flooring, sash and door and interior trim manufacturers holds up on approximately its former high level, while the box and crating class plants furnish a steady outlet for lower grades. Miscellaneous domestic consumers are well represented in the market, and some attractive foreign business is constantly coming thru. Hardwood prices are firm, without much change.
