Benes' Report On Draft Protocol Is Accepted

DISARMAMENT CONFERENCE SCHEDULED FOR JUNE 15 IF SIGNATURES ARE OBTAINED

INTERPRETATION IS INTERESTING TO NON-MEMBERS.

(By The Associated Press.) Geneva, Sept. 27.—The disarmament commission of the league of nations assembly to-night adopted the Benes report on the draft protocol of arbitration and security.

The commission decided that the world-wide disarmament conference be held June 15, 1925, if by May 1 a majority of the states represented in the league council and ten others shall have ratified the protocol.

Should this happen, the signatory states would be obliged to apply sanctions against the non-member states, as provided for in the league covenant and emphasized by the protocol now under discussion.

No Dissent Evident. When Dr. Benes gave this interpretation, the question came up before the disarmament commission while it was taking a final glance over the various clauses of the protocol. It was raised by M. Boncour, of France, who remarked that Article XVII of the covenant stipulated that in the event of a dispute between a member of the league and a non-member state, the league council must undertake the same procedure of conciliation and mediation as existed for conflicts between members.

M. Boncour said the question of relations with a non-member state was grave from the standpoint of security and it was most important that it should be clearly understood that under the covenant as adjusted by the protocol a country which never was a member of the league or signatory of the protocol and refused to accept arbitration or conform to the measures obtained by the council would be subject to sanctions.

Dr. Benes explained that one article of the protocol had adopted the rule of the covenant concerning non-member states involved in disputes with members. And M. Boncour was right, declared Dr. Benes. The system was extremely simple. A country which was neither signatory of the protocol nor a member of the league would be invited by the council to accept the procedure of arbitration, and if that state refused to war in disregard of this procedure, then it would be considered to have violated the protocol and would be subject to sanctions.

EAGERLY AWAIT FLIERS ARRIVAL

Fitting Reception Is Planned By Seattle Citizenry Today.

(By The Associated Press.) Seattle, Wash., Sept. 27.—When the American army aviators arrive here tomorrow, officially completing the first flight around the world, they will find awaiting them a reception which will be in keeping with their historic achievement.

In addition to 40,000 or more spectators expected to be on hand, there will be representatives of the civil and military governments of the United States and Canada to extend formal greetings and congratulations.

Major General Charles G. Morton, commanding the ninth corps area, will represent President Coolidge and Secretary of War Weeks, and Rear Admiral J. A. Hoegewerf will represent the navy department.

Upon arrival at the Sand Point aviation field, the fliers will be officially greeted and then escorted to Volunteer Park, the center of the city of Seattle, where the civic reception will be held. It is here that gifts raised by public subscription will be presented.

The reception of the fliers will be taken to a hotel which will be their home while in Seattle. On Monday the aviators will be guests at a luncheon and it is planned to have them unveil a shaft commemorating the beginning of the famous flight.

EPINARD LOSES RACE BY NOSE; LADKIN WINNER

French Horse Cut Off by Chief American Rivals at Turn.

(By The Associated Press.) Aqueduct Race Track, New York, Sept. 27.—In one of the most thrilling races of American turf history, Ladkin, Major August Belmont's brilliant three year old, ridden by Clarence Kummer, today won the second international special at a mile before a crowd of 40,000. The time was 1:36 2/5 and the value to the winner, $28,750.

Epineard, continental champion, again finished second, this time by a nose and coming fast, a length ahead of Wise Counsellor, Kentucky colt which conquered the French crack by a narrow margin on Labor Day in the first special at six furlongs.

The Belmont colt flashed to the wire with just enough to win from the flying Frenchman, which had gained two lengths in the final 50 yards and, it seemed, would have won in another stride.

Epineard had broken away from his field and was off like a certain winner in the first sixteenth. At the far turn, Wise Counsellor and Ladkin came up, and in passing, crowded Pierre Werthelmer's colt to the fence. From there they went on, with Epineard struggling, three lengths behind, to regain his stride.

The contest went on without its star, which floundered among the secondary group. Neck-and-neck, the scarlet blouse of Kummer and the white and red of O'Donnell bobbed on their straining mounts, two lengths ahead of the field, which already began to string out in the finishing order.

Ladkin struck his head in front at the last furlong post, but the alert O'Donnell on Wise Counsellor picked up the distance and brought his own horse into the lead. Wise Counsellor cracked at the final sixteenth and Ladkin gasped to continue, almost ridden into the ground. Then, from the outside, came another chestnut colt, running like a moving statue, in perfect rhythm.

"Epineard wins! Epineard wins!" the cheering stands shouted as a steady flow of speed, increasing at every bound, brought him even with the faltering Wise Counsellor and onto the tail, then the flank of the tiring Ladkin. To the shoulders of his opponent Epineard crept and with another leap would have passed; but Haynes had delayed his spurt a fraction too long and the French colt, acknowledged great, was beaten for the second time in America under conditions regarded as far from establishing his true worth.

When the horses were brought back to the judges' stand, it was Epineard that received the greater tribute of the crowd, although the splendid Ladkin was heartily cheered. Pierre Werthelmer, owner of the French champion, went to Major Belmont's box to congratulate the veteran horseman.

In the stands and around the enclosure buzzed protests regarding the incident at the quarter. Everett Haynes, the American jockey who rode Epineard today and upon his triumphant days, denied interference by O'Donnell, and declared that he had intentionally pulled up his mount when he found that he was setting too fast a pace. Horseman ridiculed his statement and also criticized the jockey for failure to start his final challenge until too late, declaring that the French colt was undoubtedly the best in the race, but that Haynes had been victimized by sharper American jockeys.

"I did not think any American jockey would cut off my horse that way," Werthelmer commented.

Big Area In Texas Is Affected By Discovery of Hoof-Mouth Disease

Movement of Livestock Into or Out of Region Is Absolutely Halted; Strict Guard Maintained

(By The Associated Press.) Houston, Tex., Sept. 27.—A second outbreak of the foot and mouth disease was discovered late today in the six thousand acre area near here which is under strict guard to prevent spread of the malady.

Announcement of the new outbreak was made by Dr. W. E. Cotton, government expert from Washington, who said he had definitely diagnosed the disease among cattle on the Perry-McFadden ranch, near Webster, Texas.

This ranch is slightly north of the ranch of the Reverend William States Jacobs, where the epidemic first was discovered in a herd of Brahma cattle.

The state livestock and sanitary commission issued an official quarantine today on all of Harris and Galveston counties and all that part of Fort Bend and Brazoria counties east of the Brazos river, prohibiting the movement of livestock either within these Livestock already in transit on railroads was not affected by the order. The quarantine was extended to dressed carcasses of all ruminants and their hides or wool as well as to all products of the soil, including hay, grain, biological products manufactured in the quarantined territory, trees, grass, shrubs, flowers and greenhouse plants.

The quarantine first was extended to dairy products but was modified during the day to permit their shipment after they had been sterilized and placed in containers approved by an inspector attached to the commission.

During the day Governor Pat M. Neff was notified of the progress being made to check the disease. It was recognized that the struggle would entail the expenditure of a large sum of money and the governor agreed to come to Houston tomorrow for a conference.

Trenches were dug today by a steam shovel for the burial of the infected cattle which are scheduled to be destroyed Monday, according to present plans. Probably one half of the Jacobs herd will be sacrificed, it was stated. Poison bait was scattered today to kill any dog, wolf or other animal that might wander on the ranch. All automobile traffic between Galveston and Houston was stopped except over a detour.

While these precautions were being taken, Dr. Marion Imes was summoned from his home in California, which recently was the center of an infection. He will take charge of the bureau of animal industry forces in Texas during the fight to eradicate the disease.

Plans to conserve the Fort Worth livestock market, the largest in the state, were made and included permission to ship cattle from outside the infected area if they were unloaded in daylight and properly inspected.

There have been several theories regarding the origin of the disease in this state. The theory that the disease had developed through contact with a number of Brahma bulls imported from Mexico found little support from J. E. Boogscott of Fort Worth, chairman of the state livestock and sanitary commission, who said they had been submitted to blood tests by the federal government before becoming attached to the herd.

It was possible, Boogscott said, that they might be "carriers" of the disease in the same sense that a person might be a carrier of typhoid fever germs. "We are looking for the source of the infection in every part of the United States," Boogscott said today. He indicated it was possible it might have come through the port of Galveston and been due to the operation of bootleggers. This theory extended to the probability that germs of the foot and mouth disease might easily have become attached to the material used in packing liquors from foreign countries and smuggled into Texas. A number of dismantled packing cases which had the appearance of having held liquor of a foreign brand have been found on the infected ranch.

Government operatives said tonight they expected soon to have two men, described as leaders in the wine ring, under arrest. These men will be charged, the operatives asserted, with conspiracy to illegally withdraw hundreds of thousands of gallons of wines, with impersonation of rabbis, with forgery of official documents and with attempting to corrupt prohibition agents.

Another theory, which Boogscott was careful to say was merely one of the possibilities, was that the germs had come from Japan through the port of Vancouver in seed shipped to a nursery conducted by Japanese within a few hundred feet of the

SENATORS HAVE TWO GAME LEAD OVER NEW YORK

Giants Are Assured of Place in World's Series by Win.

New York, Sept. 27.—While the New York Giants clinched their fourth straight pennant today and their tenth under the magnetic leadership of John McGraw within a score of years, Washington advanced a step nearer the Senators' first flag triumph by defeating Boston, while the New York Yankees lost to Philadelphia.

Washington, with a two-game lead, now can get no worse than a tie in the junior circuit for the rival contenders each have two remaining games, scheduled for Monday and Tuesday. A victory for the Senators in only one will assure them the pennant, even if the Yankees take both of their remaining contests.

By taking his fourth straight pennant, McGraw gained one of his most cherished goals and set a major league record. Back in the '70s in the old National Association, Boston won four straight pennants, while in the American Association, a decade later, St. Louis won four straight, but no American or National League club ever has won more than three in a row.

Except for a brief interval when Brooklyn, the dark horse of the race, gained the top, the Giants have set the pace all season. Their triumph, however, was gained by the closest margin of any machine McGraw has led to the front. They held a margin of two and a half games tonight, with two games yet to play with Philadelphia, while Brooklyn has but one more with Boston.

The standings: National League. Club Won Lost Pct. to play New York ... 93 59 612 2 Philadelphia ... 91 62 596 1 Brooklyn ... 91 62 596 1 American League. Club Won Lost Pct. to play Washington ... 91 61 599 2 New York ... 98 63 586 2

Mrs. LaFollette Wants To Deliver Campaign Speech

(By The Associated Press.) Washington, Sept. 27.—LaFollette campaign headquarters here announced tonight it had been advised that a determined effort was being made to prevent Mrs. Robert M. LaFollette, wife of the independent presidential candidate, from delivering a political address tomorrow at Mountain Lake Park, Maryland.

Mrs. LaFollette went to the Mountain resort today, prepared to discuss campaign issues in the chautauqua auditorium which had been engaged for tomorrow's meeting.

After Mrs. LaFollette's arrival at Mountain Lake Park, Miss Isabelle Kendig, one of those arranging for the rally, sent word to headquarters that the management of the auditorium had just announced that it could not be used. Miss Kendig said that the explanation was that the auditorium was not available for a political meeting on Sunday, and that it had just been discovered that Mrs. LaFollette intended to talk politics to a Sunday gathering.

Miss Kendig declared that she and her colleagues were going ahead with arrangements for the meeting, determined to have Mrs. LaFollette speak in the auditorium despite the ultimatum of the management.

area where the infection was first found. Tonight the members of the state livestock sanitary commission, the federal forces, and the state and county officials, viewed with satisfaction the steps that had been taken to prevent a spread of the disease. The swift action with which plans have been executed, moved them to hope that the struggle might not be of as long duration as preceding outbreaks in other states.

THIRD OUTBREAK. Houston, Tex., Sept. 27.—A third outbreak of disease among cattle in Harris county was diagnosed Saturday night by Dr. W. E. Cotton, government expert, as foot and mouth disease. The outbreak is on the ranch of Thomas Dunn, across the road from the Jacobs ranch, where the first infection was discovered. Dunn has about 1,500 cattle on his ranch. Preparations for shooting all of the infected cattle are under way.

TRIO TO FINISH JOURNEY TODAY

Two Hour Trip Separates Army Airmen from Seattle Goal.

(By The Associated Press.) Eugene, Ore., Sept. 27.—America's around the world aviators tonight were within a two hours flight of the official end of their long journey.

They flew here from Crissy Field, San Francisco, in a little more than five hours today and expect to complete the circumnavigation of the globe in Seattle at noon tomorrow. If weather conditions are favorable they plan to take off here at 10 a. m.

Lieutenant Lowell H. Smith, commander of the flight, who was the first to leave Crissy Field, from which he took off at 9 a. m., also was the first to land here, his plane coming down at 2:17:35 p. m. The other two pilots, Lieutenants Leigh Wade and Erik Nelson, followed within three minutes.

They were welcomed by Governor Walter M. Pierce, of Oregon, Mayor E. B. Parks, of Eugene, army officers and a reception committee which included a number of persons prominent in the state.

The fliers were to attend a banquet in their honor at a local hotel this evening.

ACT ON REQUEST

Chicago, Sept. 27.—The investigation by the federal trade commission into margins and profits of terminal grain middlemen was requested by the Illinois Agricultural Association because of the valuable data and information such an investigation will produce.

George Fox of Sycamore, Ill., secretary of the Illinois Agricultural Association, said tonight: "The agricultural association for some time has been investigating the Grain Marketing Company, a merger of several large grain companies which it is planned eventually to make farmer-controlled and operated. Mr. Fox said the federal trade commission had made a study of the terminal grain middlemen in Chicago and had published information which extended up to 1920 but is not up to date."

Mr. Fox, explaining that the federal trade commission's findings on the situation, when brought up to date, may have an important bearing on whether the Illinois Agricultural Association endorses or rejects the Grain Marketing Company project.

IN "CHALLENGE." Kankakee, Ill., Sept. 27.—"The Grain Marketing Company is agriculture's challenge to industry," said Gray Silver, its president, in an address here tonight. "A few years ago, when we were setting up laws, industry told us that we could not get congress to enact laws that would permit co-operative marketing organizations to function and be successful."

"The Grain Marketing Company is one of the farmers' answers to industry. They have no quarrel with industry, but they do intend to handle grain at cost to the producer-member of the company and see that only service economically rendered is paid for. The company has been functioning only since August 1, and yet it has been credited with advancing the price of grain 5 to 8 cents per bushel, doing on some days 70 per cent of the export business and 40 per cent of the business transacted in Chicago."

Kemal Pasha Statue Ordered by Turkey

(By The Associated Press.) New York, Sept. 25.—Turkey has defied a Moslem prohibition of 13 centuries standing by ordering from Gutson Borglum a huge, made-in-America Egyptian bronze statue of Mustafa Kemal Pasha, head of the Turkish republic.

Since early in the Christian era the Turk has been a destroyer rather than a builder of statues. They violated his Moslem precepts and aroused his religious ire. But strange things are said to be happening in the land of Mosques, fumes and harems, under the reign of the popular Kemal Pasha.

The statue will be 30 feet high of cast bronze, will cost approximately $200,000 when erected in Ankara, and probably will require two years for completion.

Woman Confesses Poisoning Mate to Wed Another

By The Associated Press. Mrs. M. H. Tarr, 30, of Escanaba, Mich., Sept. 27.—Confession she had poisoned her former husband, Joseph L. Herring, in a plot with Robert Jones, who married last Tuesday after Herring's death, was made today by Mrs. Tarr in the Escanaba county jail here. Herring was placed in a cup of peas at the home of Mrs. Tarr, who was the cause of his illness, and a teaspoonful of a half-ounce of arsenic was placed in a glass of buttermilk which was the final cause of his death. Mrs. Tarr asserted that she had poisoned the peas and she was the final cause of his death. She was a former boarder at the Herring home, late to be continued in the denial of a confession. The couple was arrested at West Frankfort shortly after last midnight. In her original confession made at the jail at West Frankfort, Mrs. Tarr placed all the blame on Tarr.

Widespread Liquor Ring Is Uncovered

By The Associated Press. Chicago, Sept. 27.—Evidence of widespread liquor ring, operating in Chicago, New York, Pittsburgh and Washington, which dealt in so-called "imported" liquors to be sold to wealthy customers, were disclosed today by police and federal officers investigating the shooting of Henry J. Callan. Officers searching the effects of a man at a luxuriously furnished apartment, found letters and records divulging the names of scores of customers and giving details of various deals entered into by them. Tarr was accused by Callan, who tonight lay near death from bullet wounds, of shooting him as the result of a dispute involving the division of profits in a liquor deal. The dead lands of the west side and other known rendezvous are being combed by police and prohibition agents for Tarr and his two companions who met Callan last night and after the shooting, disappeared. BOBBY JONES IS AMATEUR CHAMP

By The Associated Press. Ardmore, Pa., Sept. 27.—Robert Tyre Jones, Jr., of Atlanta, came to man's estate, today acquired the honor he sought in vain for eight years of his youth—the national amateur golf championship. In the final round of the annual tournament he defeated George Von Elm of Los Angeles, by the unprecedented score of 9 and 8 for the concluding match of the week's competition. Every inch a champion and probably a great figure in championship competition in 36 hole match play that wearied other stars this week, Bobby, as they still call him, except a few Atlanta friends who have taken off the last syllable, shot his usual machine-like golf today. His game was a bit inferior to the great heights he reached in his semi-final match with Francis Ouimet, but he was better than Von Elm in every branch and was never down after the second hole. Von Elm attracted attention all the week by the lowness of his medal scores and the decisive margins of most of his victories before the final round. Though outclassed today, he joined Miss Mary K. Browne in winning honors for Los Angeles as one of the years' finalists in national golf competition. She, too, lost in the last round. Jones won 12 holes of the match, of which seven were in the morning round of 18 holes. Von Elm took three holes, all in the morning, going to lunch 4 down. As national champion, Jones succeeds Max R. Marston of Philadelphia, who was dethroned by Von Elm in the semi-finals round. Jones' victory thus breaks Philadelphia's monopoly on amateur golf trophies. Two of them remain here, however. The women's title was won this year by Mrs. Dorothy Campbell Hurd of Merion, and the public links championship by Joseph Coble. A paid gallery of about 10,000 watched today's match.

POOR TACKLING GIVES DETROIT 19-13 VICTORY

By The Associated Press. Detroit, Sept. 27.—Inability to tackle by Alma allowed Detroit to make three touchdowns. Inability of the locals to stop the forward passes of the visitors gave them two touchdowns. The final score was, Detroit 19; Alma 13. Detroit had a lead of 19 points when the fourth quarter opened and had missed another touchdown by a narrow margin. With the game hopelessly lost the Alma team uncovered a forward pass and found the locals unable to solve the play. They passed the ball from the center of the field to the five-yard line and three plunges took it across. Following the kickoff, the Alma team passed the ball down the field again for another score. With six minutes to play, Detroit decided to receive the kickoff and managed to hold the ball until the final whistle blew. Russel Catherwood and McDonald did the passing for Alma with McDonald frequently on the receiving end. Thornton and Phillipart were best of the Detroit team in carrying the ball, being variously aided by the poor tackling of Alma.

One Favorite Wins on Grand Circuit

By The Associated Press. Columbus, O., Sept. 27.—Oscawanna was the only favorite to come through with a clean cut victory on today's Grand Circuit card made up of four class races. Oscawanna was easily the best in the first division of the 2:08 trot, trotting the first two heats in 2:05 1/4 with ease. Making his second start of the week, Peter A. Montgomery, the favorite, was unable to connect in the 2:19 trot, finishing second to Laughter in each heat. Luella, first choice in the 2:10 trot for three year olds, finished third in each of the first two heats and second in the third one, while Boltaire was winning in straight heats. The second division of the 2:08 trot was the most stubborn race of the afternoon. Jean Axworthy won the first heat, Freddie Bond the second and Frederick F. the fourth heat. The race was won by Bessie Bond. ### U. S. FOREIGN SERVICE NOW SINGLE CORPS

(By The Associated Press.)

Washington.—The United States foreign service, including consular and diplomatic officials in a single, interchangeable corps, is now functioning. State Department machinery having been completely overhauled and reorganized to put into effect the reorganization law passed at the last session of congress.

A vast amount of detail work has been required, but now only one step remains—inauguration of the Foreign Service Training School within the department, authorized by the law—to ensure that future American diplomatic secretaries and consular officers are well equipped for the jobs to which they are assigned.

The first step in the reorganization, effected by executive order, was the creation of the Foreign Service Personnel Board to examine and report on the "character, ability, efficiency and general availability of all secretaries in the diplomatic service, consuls-general, consuls, vice-consuls of career, consular assistants, interpreters and student interpreters." The report was completed by July 1 and the actual interweaving of the consular and diplomatic services has been in progress on that basis.

Out of Politics.
A primary object of the reorganization, as explained during debates in congress on the bill, was to take the foreign service out of politics so far as possible. The personnel board machinery was designed to relieve the White House of the task of selecting for appointment any foreign service official, except those ambassadors and ministers who are not taken from the career groups in the State Department.

There are indications already that the White House has taken immediate advantage of the relief thus afforded. So far as known, selections for appointment to embassies, legations and consulates are being left entirely to the State Department.

The personnel board also regulates retirement under the 65-year age-limit, pensions being drawn from a fund built up by retaining 5 percent from the salaries of all State Department personnel. One member of the diplomatic corps and 31 from the consular service already have been retired.

Work Not Ended.
The work of the personnel board has by no means ended. Records of all officials have to be continually overhauled and kept up to date; individual performances studied to determine in what particular field each individual is most proficient; special qualifications and limitations recorded for future reference. The board has also the power to recommend dismissal of officials whose efficiency rating is low. So far no dismissals have occurred, but some offenders have been demoted and warned that unless improvement is shown they will be dropped.

The Foreign Service School will come into full effect after the fall diplomatic examinations. Successful candidates will attend courses of lectures on all aspects of consular and diplomatic work, including also its subtler sides such as the trickeries most prevalent abroad for evading American regulations and obtaining passports under false pretenses. Actual work in the divisions of the State Department will be intermixed with the lectures. After one year of schooling, department officials believe, the students' talents will have shown themselves clearly enough to determine their qualifications for the diplomatic or consular branches.

Transfers Allowed.
Under the bill, transfer from one branch of the service to the other is allowed, but that practice will not be usual or frequent, department officials say. The interchange was made possible mainly because occasions arise where the relations of the United States with certain countries might make the presence of a diplomat, rather than a consul, advisable, though no ambassador or minister is formally accredited to protect American interests in that particular place.

Expense allowances for ambassadors and ministers are contemplated in the bill, and to estimate these expenses the State Department is compiling data as to the minimum with which each mission abroad can keep up in proper style. The results will be submitted to congress next session.

Department officials describe the new plan as already having had a stimulating influence on the personnel.

Registration of Voters Progressing

Registration of new voters, who expect to vote in the November general election, is progressing at the city hall. More than 100 names have been added to the poll lists since the primary election.

Registration is required only of new voters—those whose names were not on the books at the time of the September primary.

Those who have changed their place of residence within the city, since the primary, also must have their registration transferred.

The final date for re-registration for the election is Oct. 18.

HIGH OFFICER IS COMING HERE

Fred S. Atwood, of Minneapolis, supreme prelate of the Knights of Pythias in the United States, will be the guest of honor of the Escanaba lodge on the night of Oct. 25, according to plans announced yesterday. Mr. Atwood is a most eloquent speaker, having served on the Lyceum stage for several years and his coming to Escanaba is considered a mark of honor that is thoroughly appreciated by the officers and members of the Escanaba lodge. Mr. Atwood has been totally blind for 18 years and that fact has made him a first line drawing card on the lyceum stage.

Beavers repaired a dam near Bellefonte, Pennsylvania, that was two hundred feet wide and from four to ten feet deep. Farmers and fishermen had considered repairing it but had been deterred because of the expense involved.

SOCIAL

Parent-Teacher Council.
The first meeting of the Escanaba Council of Parent-Teacher Associations will be held in the Franklin School, in Mrs. Semer's room on Monday, Sept. 29, at 2:20 p. m. There are so many things of interest and importance to be considered at this meeting that every one who can possibly do so is urged to attend. All of the officers from each of the local associations are particularly requested to attend.

Post-Nuptial Party.
A miscellaneous shower was given for Mrs. Harold Cook, who was formerly Miss Ethel Olson at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gust Olson, First Ave. North. The affair was a complete surprise to the young bride who was the recipient of many pretty and useful gifts. A delicious lunch was served and all enjoyed the evening to the utmost.

Activities at Perronville.
Monday, Sept. 29th, the feast of St. Michael will be celebrated at Perronville by members of St. Michael's Parish of which Rev. Fr. Thomas Drengencz is pastor. The program of the day will begin with a solemn high mass at nine thirty o'clock at which several visiting priests will be present and special music will be rendered.

In the evening a concert will be given by members of St. Joseph's high school orchestra, with musical instrumental and vocal by talent from this city including Mrs. J. Kress, Mrs. G. Casey, Leonard Moreau and character impersonations by "Bill" Petry. After the program, lunch will be served. A small admission fee will be charged and lunch will be extra. The public is cordially invited to attend as a good time is assured.

Changes Made in C. N. W. Schedule

Changes of schedule of C. & N. W. trains arriving in this city that became effective this week are as follows:

Train No. 216, formerly arriving at 10:50 a. m., will get in here at 10:35 and leave at 10:45. It will reach Green Bay at 2:55 p. m., instead of 3:05.

Train No. 224, formerly arriving here at 3:30 p. m., will now get here at 3:20, getting in to Green Bay at 4:45 instead of 5:15.

Train No. 113, formerly arriving here at 8:25 now arrives at 8:15. Several other changes are also in force but they do not affect Escanaba trains.

Sailor On Missing Boat, Said to Be from Esiky, Unknown

ROLLAND WRITT, seaman on the whaleback freighter Clifton, who is listed, in the records of the Progress Steamship Company, as a resident of Escanaba, is unknown here, as far as the city directory and similar sources of identification go. No one could be found yesterday who ever had heard of him.

The Clifton, with a crew of 23, left Sturgeon Bay last Saturday, laden with stone. She passed Mackinaw Sunday morning just before a 55-mile gale swept Lake Huron.

Hope for her safety has been abandoned by her owners and marine officials.

Oxford and Cambridge universities are embarrassed by the great number of wealthy young Americans who are applying for admission in October. For the most part these young graduates are sons of wealthy parents who desire to spend a few months in Europe and have no serious intentions of studying. However, these universities welcome gladly those Americans who wish to follow the regular degree courses and who will study hard to win their degrees.

Snakes Important Item in Business

Tokio—More than two hundred snake dealers in Tokio supply the city's demand for snakes as food and medicine, according to figures gathered by the Jiji Shimpo, one of Tokio's leading newspapers.

Tokio citizens consume about 40,000 snakes each month, says this paper. Snakes, mostly of the viper family or garter snakes, are either eaten by invalids needing the nourishing factor which science has labelled vitamin A, in which these reptiles are supposed to be rich, or they are consumed as a drink, made by burning them and dissolving the ashes in spirits. Such consumption of snakes is due to old superstitions and does not have medical endorsement.

KELSEY BANDS PLEASE FORDERS

Hundreds of Testimonials Are Received by Local Company.

The states of Wisconsin, Illinois, Michigan and Minnesota now know all about the Kelsey Manufacturing company's wooden transmission lining for Ford automobiles. Sales agents in these four states are ordering enough of the bands to keep the local plant running at capacity speed, the sales department said yesterday.

Best of all, testimonials from delighted users, all unsolicited, are piling up at the company's offices. One salesman in Illinois, who is moving to California, yesterday wired that he was coming to Escanaba first in an effort to induce the company to give him the state agency on the west coast.

Scores of concerns operating fleets of trucks—large and small—in all parts of the states covered are among the best boosters for the product of this city's youngest manufacturing industry.

A little country girl went shopping in the city with her mother and saw an elevator for the first time.

"How did you like it?" asked the father on her return.

The body of Mrs. Elizabeth Sarasin arrived from Princeton, Mich., last night via C. & N. W. Ry., and was taken to the Allo Funeral Home where funeral services will be held this afternoon at 1:30 o'clock. The Rev. R. C. G. Williams, pastor of the First Methodist church, will officiate at the services.

Mrs. Sarasin, who was the first white girl born at Flat Rock, 74 years ago, was widely known in this city especially among the old settlers. Burial will be in the family lot in Lakeview cemetery.

REGIS BEAUCHAMP.
The body of Regis Beauchamp, prominent resident of this city and of Flat Rock, where he lived for 25 years, was removed from the Allo Funeral Home Saturday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock to the home of his daughter, Mrs. Vale Bedard, 226 N. 11th Street, where it will remain until the hour of the funeral services which will be held Monday morning at 9:00 o'clock at St. Anne's church. Rev. Father R. G. Jacques, pastor of the parish, will be the celebrant at the solemn requiem high mass. Rev. Fr. A. Pellier will be deacon and Rev. Fr. Daniel Linfert will be sub-deacon.

The pall bearers will be six nephews of the deceased: Joseph A. Beauchamp, Mose Beauchamp, Thomas St. Jacques, William Sullivan and Archie Campbell of Escanaba, and Joseph Beauchamp of Flat Rock.

ETHEL MARION TONKIN.
St. Joseph's church was the scene of a sad but impressive funeral service Saturday morning at 9 o'clock when the last sad rites were performed over the body of little Ethel Marion Tonkin, 8-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Tonkin, 904 South 14th Street.

Entering the church the funeral procession was headed by six little girls, friends of the deceased who were dressed in white and wore wreaths of aident hair fern and lilies of the valley each one carrying an arm bouquet of beautiful flowers. The girls were Mary Lou Leppla, Charlotte Cass, Jane Anderson, Evelyn Cass, Ines Nelson and Margaret Olds.

The boys chosen from the neighborhood where the family makes their home and who carried the white casket with its precious burden to and from the funeral car were Joseph Meier, Hubert Lahala, Walter Flath, Leonard Lahala, Russell Carlson and Stanley Begg.

A special car carried the many beautiful floral tributes to the cemetery where the entire grave was lined with flowers and cedar boughs.

Rev. Fr. Albert Pellier was the celebrant at the requiem high mass at which Mrs. Wm. Shepeck sang, "O Meritum Passionis," and Miss Alice Kidd sang the "Benedictus." Miss Eva Cossette presided at the organ.

Burial was in the family lot in St. Joseph's cemetery.

The out-of-town relatives who came here for the funeral were Mrs. E. A. Peterson of Detroit, Mich.; Mrs. M. J. Lynch, Chicago, Ill., and Mrs. Ed Wickling, Gary, Ind. Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Winn, Manistique, Mich., Earl Winn, Manistique, Mich., and Mrs. Ed White, Menominee, Mich.

A RECORD JUMP.
An Irishman came running down to a pier just as the steamer was starting. The boat had moved off some half dozen yards, so he took a flying leap and landed on the steamer head first. He lay stunned for two or three minutes, and when he came to, the boat had gone nearly a quarter of a mile. Raising his head and looking back, he said: "Jehosophat, what a jump!"—Everybody's Magazine.

Rabbi Taub Takes Charge of Services During Holidays

Rabbi Nathan Taub of Philadelphia, one of the most noted Cantors of the East, arrived in Escanaba yesterday and will take charge of the services for the New Year's holidays, remaining in the city for ten days or two weeks. The services will begin Sunday evening at 6 o'clock at the North Star hall and will continue through the high holidays. The Jewish people of this vicinity are to be considered very fortunate in securing his services, and it is expected that large numbers will avail themselves of the opportunity of hearing Rabbi Taub.

Giants Win National League Flag

PHILADELPHIANS DEFEATED, 5 TO 1

(By The Associated Press.)
New York, Sept. 27.—The Giants today broke a precedent of 49 years and won the National League championship for the fourth time in succession by defeating Philadelphia here today, 5 to 1, while Brooklyn was losing to Boston.

No other National or American League team ever has won four successive pennants. Manager McGraw, of New York, was thwarted in his ambition for four straight pennant winners, when the Boston club beat out his Giants in a September finish 10 days ago.

The championship is McGraw's tenth, twice as many as were won by any other National League manager.

Bentley found the Philadelphia's easing picking and held the visitors to four hits. A muff by Jackson gave Philadelphia its only run in the first inning.

The Giants bunched hits on Ring and scored their runs one at a time. Ring was driven out of the box in the sixth inning. Holke was spiked by Terry and was obliged to retire. Score:

Michigan Aggies Have Easy Game

(By The Associated Press.)
East Lansing, Mich., Sept. 27.—Unexpected weakness of Northwestern College of Napervilleville gave the Michigan Agricultural College football team a track meet here today, the locals running over the visitors to win 5 to 0. Coach Ralph Young sent a veteran team into the field all the starters having appeared in last year's lineup. He also sent a second eleven into the game in the final quarter, most of whom had seen service on the college team.

Schmyzer was the particular offensive star of the game, making five touchdowns. The forward pass game also worked well. Seven thousand people watched the game, including several thousand Boy Scouts.

ESKY HIGH BEATS NEWBERRY 32-14

22 Orange and Black Men Get Into Grid Battle Yesterday.

Newberry, Mich., Sept. 27 (Special)—Taking a decisive lead in the first quarter and losing it by two points in the second, Escanaba came back strong in the final half and decisively defeated the Newberry high gridsters this afternoon by the score of 32 to 14.

Escanaba scored first, a blocked punt near the Newberry goal line accounting for the first marker. Try for goal failed. Later in the same quarter a fumble by the locals gave Escanaba the ball and six more points were added after a 35-yard run. The first quarter ended with the score 12 to nothing in favor of the Thompsons.

In the second quarter Newberry advanced to the lead, scoring two touchdowns, the first on an Escanaba fumble and the second on a long forward pass which put the ball in a position favorable for scoring. Both tries for goal were successful and the score stood 14 to 12 in favor of the locals when the half ended.

An intercepted pass and a 60-yard run by Melthe in the first part of the second half put the visitors in the lead once more, which position they held unchallenged until the final whistle. Two more Orange and Black touchdowns by Melthe, gained in scrimmage through 25 and 35-yard end runs, one in the third quarter and the other in the final period, completed the scoring.

Jack Berrigan and Vandebloom were the defensive stars for Escanaba. On the offense Andrews and Melthe were responsible for most of the gains for the visitors. Erickson, 190-pound Newberry fullback, was the mainspring of the local offensive attack.

Coach Thompson put 22 men in play. Dumphy being the only man to play the full game. Melthe and Andrews who have been on the "sick list" for the past week, are "recovered" and played a good game.

Newberry put up an excellent aerial game, more than half a dozen passes being successfully completed. Escanaba depended to a greater extent on end runs and tried but few passes, none of which were successfully completed.

The Foster City and Hardwood baseball teams will wind up their seasons today in the third battle of a three-game series. Each team has won two games. ## WILD PITCH BY BUSH IS COSTLY

(By The Associated Press.)
Philadelphia, Sept. 27.—A wild pitch by Joe Bush in the seventh inning of today's fray with the Athletics cost the New York Yankees the game, 4 to 3, and made their chances of overcoming the Senators' lead practically nil.

The bad pitch came with Jimmy Dykes on second and before the husky "Wally" Schang could scramble across the plate with the fourth, and what proved to be the winning tally.

Rommel pitched a strong game from start to finish although he weakened in the ninth, when he was solved for three hits.

Bush's shaky start in the first inning when he was pestered for five singles and three runs proved that inning on his allowed but three more hits, one by Hauser in the sixth and two by Lamar and Miller in the eighth. Rommel struck out but one batter, but he singled out Ruth for this doubtful honor and the "Babe" was resting his bat on his shoulder when he was called out.

When Ruth realized the significance of the umpire's decision he tossed his bat high in the air to demonstrate his disgust and then paused at the plate to make a few remarks to Umpire Holmes.

The capacity crowd that completely filled the stands and bleachers cheered vociferously as the game finished and left out still a louder whoop when the Senators' 7 to 5 victory was hung up on the score board.

Second Baseman Dykes was presented with an automobile after Philadelphia sporting writers had decided he was the most valuable player on the Philadelphia team.

PINCH HITTER AIDS SENATORS TO WIN, 7 TO 5

(By The Associated Press.)
Boston, Sept. 27.—Pinch Hitter Wade Luder's double to right field with the bases full in the fifth inning let Washington score three runs and eventually gave the Senators a 7 to 5 victory over the Red Sox this afternoon. The Philadelphia team was beating the Yanks at the same time.

A crowd of 22,000 saw the game today and it was the case yesterday, cheered steadily for Washington victory, even though Howard Elmke, the best of the Boston pitchers, started in the box.

Mogridge started pitching for the Senators. After the Washington team made two runs on doubles by Rice and Goslin and Judge's triple in the first, the Sox scored four runs in their half of the opening inning on Wambagans' single, Boone's single, a pass to J. Harris, Ezell's single off Peckinpaugh's glove, Lee's single and a successful double steal.

In the fifth Goslin singled, Judge beat out a bunt, Bluece sacrificed, Peckinpaugh fanned for the third straight time, but the bases were filled after Elmke hit Ruel. Luder came in as a pinch hitter. His double off Ferguson yesterday scored the single Senator run of that game. He sent a liner to right which Boone did not hold and all three runners scored.

With Russell pitching in the fifth Boone tripled and scored on Ezell's timely single over second, tying the score at five all.

In the sixth Washington scored twice. Liebold walked. Stan Harris bunted towards Elmke, who took the ball, failed to throw to second and then made a bad peg to and beyond first base which Wambagans did not cover. The ball went to the pavilion fence in right field foul territory, with Liebold scoring and the batter reaching third base, from where he later scored on Goslin's clean single to right. The score:

SAINTS DEFEAT MUNISING 19-6

Wurley Is Star of Parochial High's Victory Over Algerites.

Saint Joseph's high school football team decisively defeated Munising high at South Park yesterday afternoon by a score of 19 to 6. The Munising team, although behind in the scoring virtually all the way, put up a game hard fight and the Saints were forced to battle every inch of the way.

One touchdown in the second period and two in the third, one of them followed by a place kick, summarizes the parochial's scoring, while the Algerites came through in the last period with a series of forward passes, and some exceptional line plunging, which drove the ball over the goal for their lonesome marker.

Bud Wurley, Saint Joe's galloping right halfback, was the outstanding star of the game. He carried the ball 41 times for gains which totaled 223 yards. Only once was he dumped for a loss. O'Brien also turned in some nice gains for the locals. Burnelle's line plunging was all that could be desired and Blomstrom worked well at quarterback. On the defense, Nolden at center and Henshaw at end, showed to best advantage, although Saint Joe's entire line played good football.

Captain Alexander, fullback, and his halfback mates, Norton and Bowerman, easily were the visitors' stellar performers, offensively and defensively.

Saint Joe made 21 first downs during the game; Munising made 11.

Saint Joe started off by downing Norton, who received the kickoff, on his own

Muskegon Is Planning Big Boulevard System

(By The Associated Press.)
Muskegon, Mich., Sept. 27.—Muskegon within the next few years is to have an external boulevard system 90 miles long, with 60 miles of the route within sight of water, giving seven distinct approaches to a developed lake Michigan shore.

The projected boulevard system has been made possible thru the recent gift to the city by the Pere Marquette Railway of 113 acres of sand dune land bordering Lake Michigan. The system will link together one of the finest park systems in the United States. Its sponsors assert: At least two or three years will be required to complete the route, but much of it already has been finished. Of the 90 miles, 68 are covered by paved roads.

Develops Shore.
The improvement will give Muskegon a lake shore development seven miles long, five miles of which will be on Lake Michigan. Four other large lakes in the county will be made easily accessible.

The most important feature of the boulevard system, however, will be the making of Michigan Dunes park accessible. This is an 855 acre tract of sand dune land described by geologists and botanists as destined to be one of the outdoor show places of America. The park, which is only a 20 minute automobile ride from downtown Muskegon, and which adjoins the land recently donated to the city by the Pere Marquette, contains some of the highest sand dunes on the continent. It is the only park in the country where are located side by side the permanent, or wooded, and shifting types of sand dunes.

The dunes have been forming for centuries, still are forming, in fact, as sand from the bottom of Lake Michigan is scooped up particle by particle, washed ashore and then, after drying, is moved inland by the wind. For uncounted generations this sand movement has been going on. The wind has piled the sand in great heaps, some of them more than 300 feet high, and located several hundred feet from the shore of the lake.

Rare Contrast.
The dunes in Michigan Dunes Park provide a contrast in nature that is rarely encountered. Except in sheltered places the shifting dunes are as barren of plant life as a desert, only a few of the more hardy creeping vines and grasses finding sustenance in the sandy wastes.

Within a stone's throw of the sand wilderness are the permanent dunes, originally heaps of barren sand like their neighbors, but their tops and sides are encrusted with a deep layer of rich mold, the remains of thousands of plant generations. Here virtually every tree, shrub and plant known to this climate grows in profusion. Trees that all but top the nearby sand piles jut into the sky. Below the ground is carpeted with flowering plants. Wild animals make their homes in this veritable jungle. An occasional tree stump, reminder of the passing of the woods as in earlier days, and a few trails over which the more daring motorists travel, are the only changes that have taken place since the coming of the white man.

Study in Nature.
Here in the dunes may be studied the two giant forces of nature — destruction and reconstruction. Bit by bit, year after year, the sand from the desert spaces moves toward the forests. Grain on grain it creeps forward, restlessly driven by winter gale and summer breezes. It swirls through ravines and over open plains until at last it finds a resting place against the tangled forest growth, then shifts into the wooded areas over growing things, strangling, crushing, burying.

The pile against the door of the forest grows a little larger every year. Each season the sand moves a step further into the woodland. Where today is a patch of flowering plants, next year will have been added to the wastes. A century hence, today's forests may have been trampled into blackened trunks and branches by the combined weight of countless sand grains.

Destroy To Create.
While nature, using as her agency the sand, is blotting out forests and crushing creeping vines into lifeless mold, she is busy in the waste spaces, creating new cases to take the places of those she is destroying. Tiny spots in the shifting dunes that are sheltered from the wind receive the seeds of desert grasses. These take root and spread quickly over a considerable territory. The grasses protect the sand from the wind action, and another year brings new plant life. The plants live out their span and die, leaving their remains to enrich the sand. As the years pass the soil becomes fertile, trees take root and flourish. A new permanent dune has been built while another forest a hundred feet away has been smothered by the sand. Thus, endlessly, the fight for existence goes on.

The ultimate fate of the now growing forests is written in the sands that creep relentlessly forward. From the tops of some of the barren dunes protrude blackened and all but petrified snags. These are the remains of what once were mighty trees which in their prime thrust leafy branches into the heavens. Long since they were reared in their tombs of sand—and that moved a grain at a time.

Fete Awaits Plants.
The same fate of being buried alive awaits many of the growing plants, shrubs and trees in the woodlands. The scenes change constantly. Here a forest is being submerged. A little way removed, Nature is choosing the site of a new beauty spot which in turn is to be swallowed up while the forces of reconstruction are building elsewhere.

Despite its beauty, the contrast of desert and verdant loveliness found in this spot, the spirit of impending doom hangs over the woodland. The same wind that sighs in the treetops and causes the wild flowers to nod their heads is bringing nearer the agency that is to blot out the growing things.

In the permanent dunes are 95 per cent of the species of plant life common to the north central states. In the sand grow cactus and other varieties found only in desert places. The opportunities for studying, at close hand, the mighty forces that are changing the earth are making the park a meeting place for botanists, geologists, scientists of many classes.

View Is Inspiring.
Standing atop the dunes, the visitor commands an inspiring view. On one hand he glimpses portions of Muskegon Lake, with Muskegon's smoke belching stacks in the far distance. On the other hand is the broad expanse of Lake Michigan.

A sunset viewed from the dunes is an experience never forgotten; The sun sinks below the horizon across Lake Michigan, leaving a shower of fiery sparks streaking the water. A mighty painter dips his brush and paints the western sky in vivid crimson and gold. The valleys at the bottom of the dunes are plunged in shadow as the light falls. A whip-poor-will begins its sad refrain in a nearby thicket. As softly as the night comes, the wind dies. For a few hours the sand will halt its march of destruction. Peace has come to the Land of the Dunes.

The state of Michigan plans to build cement boulevards in the park and to set apart a small portion of the tract for use as a tourist camp. In other respects, it is to be left in its natural state. Nature is to be permitted to go on with her building and destruction throughout the ages.

Slayer of Mother in Law at Large

(By The Associated Press.)
Cincinnati, O., Sept. 27.—Vinton Perin, gray haired slayer of Mrs. Frances D. Rawson, his 77-year-old mother-in-law and widow of Warren Rawson, prominent pork packer, apparently has escaped the elaborate net which police of Cincinnati and surrounding cities spread immediately after the killing became known last night.

Detectives working on the case reported no new developments.

Miss Nina Rawson, 40, daughter of the dead woman, who was shot three times by Perin, was recovering from her wounds at a hospital tonight. Her condition is considered serious although not dangerous. Miss Josephine Rawson who became hysterical immediately following the shooting, was more composed today as arrangements were being made to bury her mother.

Independent Names Can't Be Put Upon Louisiana Ballots

(By The Associated Press.)
New Orleans, Sept. 27.—The names of LaFollette and Wheeler, presidential electors, will not go on the official ballot in Louisiana in the November election unless the courts overrule the action today of Thomas Killen, registrar of voters, who refused to certify to the list of names attached to a petition submitted by J. J. Finerman, head of the independent forces.

Mr. Killen announced that his refusal to certify to the names was based on a ruling by the attorney general's office that persons registered as affiliated with either of the dominant parties could not sign the LaFollette nomination papers. The registrar stated the last contained the names of many voters who had registered as Democrats. Finerman declared he would bring mandamus proceedings in an effort to have the names placed on the ballot.

THE WAY OF YOUTH.

"Yes, if you only had money."
"It would be so simple then. We could go ahead and do everything. But, darn it, I'm little better than a pauper."
"Oh, don't say that, Godfrey. Even if you haven't money, you have just loads of things to make up for it."
"Well, maybe, but they don't buy groceries."
"No-o-o, but they bring you other things."
"Yes, but what good does that do if I can't keep the other things?"
"Oh, Godfrey, you make everything seem so terrible. Couldn't we just go ahead, anyway?"
"And starve?"
"Why, we wouldn't have to do that, would we, George?"
"Unless we could find some other way to do without food."
"But we have to have food, Godfrey."
"I know it."
"Wouldn't we have enough to pay for groceries?"
"Not with everything else."
"What else, Godfrey?"
"Oh, clothes and rent and gas and lights and all kinds of things."
"Yes, there would be other things, wouldn't there?"
"Yes, it's just hopeless."
"Yes, Godfrey, I guess it is."

Detroit Woman Is Dead Following Drinking Party

(By The Associated Press.)
Detroit, Sept. 27.—Police today slowly were working out the details of the death of Mrs. Martha Callahan here last night as they were able to find the champions of a night's drinking party. The body of Mrs. Callahan was returned to her home late last night, thrown on her bed, her companions then taking flight.

Gordon Perry and Everett Fraiser are in jail tonight, both having surrendered during the day. Perry had admitted pushing the woman from the running board of his machine as the climax of a quarrel following a drinking bout. Fraiser is held as a witness.

Perry is a son of the woman with whom Mrs. Callahan has made her home. The police are looking for another man and two women, members of the party.

General Calles To Be Mex President; Deputies Approve

(By The Associated Press.)
Mexico City, Sept. 27.—Sitting as an electoral college, the chamber of deputies today approved the report of the presidential electoral committee pronouncing General P. Elias Calles, president-elect of Mexico for the four year term beginning next December 1.

The majority in the senate and chamber are overwhelmingly in favor of Calles, although his adherents in the lower house already have split into opposing factions, with the radical, agrarian and laborite elements opposed to the more moderate socialistic bloc.

The official returns show that General Angel Flores, who opposed Calles in the July 6th elections, received a majority vote only in his home state of Sinaloa, where he won two to one, and in Lower California where he had a majority of a few hundred.

Supply of Furs Plentiful; Price Advance Is Made

(By The Associated Press.)
Leipzig.—Wild fur bearing animals throughout Europe fared fairly well during the war, according to Leipzig fur dealers, but there are no present indications that prices for women's garments in skins are to be cheaper. In fact, dealers say prices will be measurably advanced.

While great tracts of forests and uncultivated lands inhabited by game were devastated or swept clear time and again by the marching armies, the animals often sought shelter in swamps and other areas beyond the range of guns and came through safely. The soldiers, when attacking, or during a retreat, were mostly too concerned with the military maneuvers at hand to think much of sport, and seldom had time to shoot unless it was for the purpose of killing meat for food.

On the plains of Poland and Russia, along which the German and Russian armies clashed and held positions extending at one time nearly 1,000 miles, there are enormous districts covered with timber and here game was quite safe. The bison of Poland, however, which roamed the wilds northeast of Warsaw, were nearly exterminated by German soldiers who killed them by the thousand for food.

Reports from Russia are to the effect that ermine, sable and other species of fur are quite plentiful this year, and fur dealers predict a good harvest in the fall.

SHADED EFFECTS

Paris modistes show great preference for shaded effects. Shaded crepe frocks, shaded fringes and even shaded furs are seen.

No Trace Is Found of Missing Vessel

(By The Associated Press.)
Cleveland, O., Sept. 27.—With no word from the whaleback steamer Clifton, stone-laden from Sturgeon Bay for Detroit, in several days, vessel men believe the boat has gone to the bottom of Lake Huron with its crew of 28 men.

All other vessels up and down the lakes have kept constant watch for the missing boat, but have discovered no trace of it. Hydroplanes have also flown over the lake and close to both shores without result.

Splinters of white wood that may have been wreckage of the Clifton were seen today 24 miles northeast by east off Point Aux Barques. The lake was too rough, however, to permit this wreckage being picked up.

Moral Tone Shows Improvement, Claim

Manila—Bishop John W. Robinson of the Methodist Episcopal church, with headquarters in Bombay, India, thinks the moral tone of the United States is improving and that it is becoming a better place in which to live. He is returning to India after spending several months in the United States. He has lived more than thirty years in the far east.

"Greater charities are being announced," said the bishop, "mankind is more thoughtful of his neighbor, and more hospitals are being erected to care for the sick, making the United States a better place to live in. I visited all of the larger cities of the country, north, south, east and west and saw no drunken men. Christianity is strong throughout the country, and more progress is being made."

INTAKE PIPE DREDGING JOB WELL STARTED

Dredging on the waterworks intake pipe job construction on which was placed under way by Sam Mills, contractor, is progressing at the rate of from thirty to forty feet a day, with Herbert Webber, to whom the contract for dredging was sublet, in charge.

While the dredging is being done Mr. Mills is now busily engaged in supervising the work of connecting the steel pipe with the bolted sleeve joints which form the connecting links for the thirty foot lengths of pipe.

It is planned to connect the entire length of pipe on the ground surface and to lower the portion of the pipe which extends from the shore line out in one operation. This will replace 250 feet of wood pipe on the shore end damaged by wind and ice action, and 250 feet of fourteen inch pipe which is too small for present and future needs, making with the fifty feet of cast iron suction pipe near the pumping station, 590 feet in all.

Six links of the intake pipe have already been connected and it is believed by the contractor that enough would be completed by the end of the week to permit lowering the pipe. The union of the wood stave and the new pipe and the connection at the pumping house, the final step in the work, will be made later. A diver will make the final joints and will inspect the pipe at the same time.

Graded.

The pipe will be graded after it is lowered to and apparatus that will wash in sand in places where the dredging has been too

Leonard, directed, is just as different from "Fashion Row" as the latter is from her previous pictures.

HOLY NAME CONVENTION. GREAT EVENT

The national Holy Name society gathering at Washington, D. C., at which the Rev. Father Sebastian Maier represented the Gladstone Holy Name society...

The convention opened with the Pontifical High Mass, the calling of the convention to order, an address by the Most Reverend Michael J. Curley, Archbishop of Baltimore...

The patriotic pilgrimage to Mount Vernon was made Saturday and Sunday was featured by the grade rally parade and the final grand act at the foot of Washington Monument...

Concerning the big parade, the following description from the Baltimore Sun, was given out by the pastor:

"In a down-pour of rain, which chilled marchers and observers, Washington saw today its largest parade, when more than 100,000 members of the Holy Name society passed up Pennsylvania avenue."

"Drenched hours before the starting time the marchers, who had been arriving since dawn, splashed through mud and water with indifference."

"Many parades have moved up Pennsylvania avenue, but none quite like this one. Parade of honor and glory and address wound their way north that thoroughfare—parades in which the rattle of artillery and the tramp of many feet have symbolized a nation's glory.

"But today's parade was a march of spiritual joy with no material purpose except to symbolize the honor and glory of truth and clean speech."

A delegates' report on the convention will be prepared by the Rev. Father Maier for the next Holy Name meeting and the pastor will also speak of the convention at the services this morning.

GRAVEL WILL BE PUT ON SAND STREETS

A crew of city workmen are busy grading a few of the worst sections of Superior avenue and Third avenue.

It is the plan of the administration to move the crushed rock which is being excavated from Ninth street, and with this material, fill in sections of the streets which are now almost impassable.

The rock will be placed within 1000 feet of the excavating where it may be taken without overhaul charge.

DUPLEX — a new name — for a new type car you have never seen before!

A closed and open car combined — the advantages of both at an open car price!

STANDARD SIX DUPLEX-PHAETON $1145. No other car in its price-range has this combination of features: New Duplex Body. Real Balloon Tires. Inclined valve engine. Crankshaft and connecting rods machined on all surfaces for vibrationless balance. Genuine chrome tanned Spanish leather. All the usual equipment—plus a high grade clock, a dash gas gauge, automatic windshield wiper and lighting switch on steering wheel.

ONE minute the DUPLEX is a comfortable, weather-tight closed car—deeply cushioned and richly appointed. In less than thirty seconds it becomes a delightful open car, with all the unhindered freedom every motorist likes and enjoys. Its double utility satisfied a most urgent need—it is as revolutionary as the self-starter and electric lights. And the price is the same as that of the open car—with advantages in finish, fittings, room and comfort no open car could ever give! Framed and shaped in steel, the upper part of the Duplex Body is built integrally with the lower part—it functions perfectly with the lower part—it is permanently beautiful. But even without the "double-value" of the Duplex Body the new Standard Six would still be the same great Studebaker success. For its introduction marks the beginning of an era in the automobile industry when fine cars of real quality, plenty of room and comfort, impressive appearance, splendid power and performance may be had at a price the average buyer can afford to pay.

Surpassing mechanical superiority is obvious in every mile you drive it. Power, smoothness, silence you expect in any good six-cylinder car; but in this great car your expectations will be exceeded. The result of continued and heated arguments has been the dividing of the town into two distinct factions. In the mean-time Iron Mountain, as a city, is the sufferer and sister cities of the peninsula whose people have learned the valuable lesson of co-operation...

IT WOULD COME HIGH.

If a majority of the voters of Michigan went to the polls in November and approved the amendment calling for the closing of the parochial schools they would put the state in the way of settling a good, round bill and of adding several millions annually to the cost of conducting its school system.

committing an unjustifiable wrong. Figures obtained from the state department of public instruction place the value of the parochial schools, Protestant and Catholic, in Michigan at $171,000,000. This figure seems high, but it is one now current in many state newspapers.

The average per capita cost of educating a child in the Michigan public schools is placed at $75.72. If the public schools had to absorb these 105,000 children, and if there was no reduction in the per capita cost, the increase in the annual expenditure for the public schools would be somewhat in excess of $8,000,000 a year.

Just what it would cost to provide facilities for caring for these children can not be accurately stated, but it is clear that the amount would run high in the tens of millions. Existing public school facilities are now taxed to capacity practically everywhere.

The 105,000 pupils now being educated in the parochial schools who would be thrown on the public schools, are now being cared for by fees paid by parents and guardians. These schools don't get a dollar of public money. The children are, furthermore, being educated in schools that, by the terms of a state law, are, as far as matters of lay education are concerned, under the supervision of the state superintendent of public instruction.

It is infinitely stronger case could be made for the amendment than can possibly be made it appears that the financial consequences that would certainly flow from its adoption might well bid the voter, with regard to it, pause.

MICHIGAN'S DAIRY SITUATION SURVEYED.

One third of all the dairy cows in the state of Michigan are losing money, a third are making up for what the first third is losing, and the other third are reaping profits for their owners, according to a survey of the state dairy situation, just completed by the Blue Valley Creamery Institute. Better feeding and better breeding is the solution of this problem, the Institute experts declare. "The State of Michigan," continues the report of the Institute, "has dairy cows in milk on 85 per cent of her farms. In 1880 the state had 3.09 per cent of all the dairy cows in the United States; in 1924—4.08 per cent. In 1910 the state had 123 heads of all kinds of cattle per one thousand acres of improved land. Now in 1924, it has only 117 head. A few head more or less matters little. Have they improved in fourteen years? What will they be fourteen years from now? These are the questions on which the Institute's experts will enlighten the farmers.

"Farmers want happiness and contentment. To get it they must make money. There are two ways of doing this—get more money for what they produce or lower cost of production. A quarter saved in the grain cost of producing a hundred pounds of milk by feeding better milk making grain rations, a dime saved per one hundred pounds of pork, or dozen eggs, is money ahead for the farmer. We don't need more cows, hogs or hens. We need better ones. More efficient animals mean lowered cost of manufacturing one hundred pounds of milk, pork, poultry, beef, mutton and eggs.

"The average cow in Michigan makes only 3,965 pounds of milk and only 3.7 per cent of all the dairy cattle in the state are purebred. Better feeding will raise production and lower costs per hundred pounds of milk. The daughters of good cows, sired by purebred bulls, will increase that production and further lower costs of production. The same is true with other animals. In 1919, the peak year, only 11 per cent of the entire state's income went to farmers. That is not enough," the Institute's experts point out.

There has been a rising tide of popularity in intensive farming. As agriculture is brought face to face with higher costs of production and farmers find that they cannot get by on highest priced land, it has been necessary to turn to diversification. Deflation has made every banker and farm leader see these things.

MISS—OR MRS.

BY JANE PHELPS.

ALVIRA CUTS LOOSE.

Chapter X. When her Aunt Drucilla's will had been read Alvira was astonished to find herself the possessor of a few thousand dollars, as well as the house in which she had lived all her life. Alvira had not dreamed her aunt was so well off; she had always contributed a share of her small salary to the expenses of the home, although not asked to.

"What use was money in a place like Mentone?" Alvira spoke her thoughts aloud as she stood at the window. It was vacation time. She had nothing to do but think. Perhaps in the fall she would teach again.

The summer residents had taken possession of their great, showy homes for the summer, among them many young people; but Alvira was a villager, knew none of them. Girls no younger than she went by swinging tennis rackets and golf clubs, accompanied by attractive young men in white flannels; their gay laughter mocking her loneliness.

Alvira was almost as firmly rooted in the soil of her native town as were the great hundred-year-old elms. She knew of other people. A trip to Springfield, when three times to Springfield, when her Aunt Drucilla had thought it necessary to attend to some business had been the extent of Alvira's travels. Where could she go, what do?

But thoughts, like weeds, grow even though they have nothing to water them; and the thought of going away persisted, obtruded itself, until three months after her aunt was laid away, Alvira Anderson came to a decision. She would go, would burn all her bridges behind her.

"I'll fix things so I can't come back," she declared. "I'll sell the house and everything in it." To say Alvira was astonished at the sorrow expressed by the village people when her plans became known, would be putting it mildly. The undertaker said he would miss her, that she was one of them and it would seem like losing one of his family. The clerk in the general store laid aside his detective story long enough to tell her he regretted she was leaving, and to warn her against the perils of the world filled with wicked people who would try to get her money. The bass singer bemoaned her going, never would they get a soprano who could fill her place in the choir. The postmaster recalled the years her aunt had kept the same box in the postoffice; he declared he should miss handling the many magazines and so forth, to which, at Alvira's urgent entreaties, Drucilla had subscribed. He showed her a bit of sentiment in his make-up by declaring he would not rent her box until he was obliged to.

"I don't know what your aunt would say if she knew you were selling the old homestead," the neighbors said. "It's enough to make her rise from the grave." "There's no use keeping it when I don't intend to live here," Alvira defended herself, "anyway I couldn't afford to." Alvira packed away a few keepsakes, stored them, sold the house for less than it was worth, and left Mentone. With her she carried only her trunk, the good wishes of those who gathered at the station to bid her goodbye, and a new bag, the gift of the choir members. Alvira felt no elation, neither was she depressed. She had made no plans, save that she would go to San Francisco. There would be time enough now to decide what to do. The future was all before her. The thought of a long journey across the country soothed her for the present.

She would stay in New York two days buy some clothes, a traveling suit and hat, some shoes and stockings such as the girls from the city wore when they stayed at their summer homes in Mentone.

Tomorrow—Alvira Leaves Mentone.

CHAPTER XI. Selma Lagerlof has told her own story, and with that sensitivity to beauty and a simplicity and charm of style that make it one of the most delightful of autobiographies.

It is called "Marbacka," after the Lagerlof homestead at Varmland, Sweden, and is published by Doubleday, Page Co. No more wistful picture exists in modern day literature than is painted in the early portion of the book with the crippled child in pathetic relief. There are a half dozen amazingly real people running through the idyllic story, particularly the kindly, swaggering Lieut. Lagerlof and his inevitable schemes. This is truly the autobiography of the soul of Selma Lagerlof, who already holds a Nobel prize for literature, and who sits back now in her 65th year to tell of her childhood.

Just south of Yellowstone Park, in the shadow of the Teton mountains, Struthers Burt lives a considerable portion of the year in his cabin. When the tourist season is on he converts it into a "dude ranch," as such resorts are called in Wyoming, Montana and the environs. Burt has chosen this as a meat ticket that he may not be dependent upon writing. In this place foregather of Summer days such notorious trout pursuers as Henry Van Dyke. Anyway Burt has done a very amusing and well written book about it: "The Diary of a Dude Wrangler." (Chas. Scribner Sons) in which are combined such philosophy, anecdote and incident as furnish interesting commentary on our civilization.

not pretensions enough to be worthy of the name "revue." The latest to join the ranks is Hassard Short's "Ritz Revue." One might say it is last, but not least. It is a complete spectacle, with high-calibered performers, witty lines, catchy tunes, spectacular settings and beautiful girls.

Take a look at the list: Ziegfeld Follies, Passing Show of 1924, Greenwich Village Follies, Scandals, Vanities, Grand Street Follies, Kid Boots, Artists and Models, Music Box, and Ritz Revue.

The difference between a "revue" and a "musical comedy" is considerable. A normal week's gross receipts for the "Follies" is $42,000. The average weekly box office receipts of an ordinary musical comedy is $10,000.

Hassard Short in his "Ritz Revue" has accomplished that thing that all producers strive for, but seldom attain. That is a warmth of feeling, a tie of friendship between audience and stage. The Tired but Bald-Headed Business Man knows that $4.40 has been eased from his pocket, but he doesn't mind it. He gets the same pleasure as he would at a big house party. He feels at home.

And small wonder. The cast includes Charlotte Greenwood, Raymond Hitchcock, Myrtle Schauf, Flora Le Breton, (above) English girl, will make her debut on Broadway in a "Savage Play," "Lass o' Laughter." Miss Le Breton is a favorite on the English stage and in the movies over there.

Madeline Fairbanks (one of the twins), Lella Ricard, Stanley Rogers, Jay Brennan, Eddie Conrad, Tom Burke, William Ladd and a young and beautiful girl named Jackie Harbert.

There isn't a show on Broadway that can beat that cast. And no show can even tie it for quality of singing voices.

So by all means put the "Ritz Revue" on your list when you next take a trip to little N'Yawk. You'll thank us for the tip.

The Greenwich Village Follies opened this week, too. It isn't possible to give it as high praise as the "Ritz." Something was wrong with the first and second night performances, which probably will be ironed out later.

There is too much dancing, and not quite enough humor. The dancing is of a high order and what humor there is, is worth laughing at. But the two are not properly mixed.

You can't very well go wrong at this revue either, though. For with the Dolly Sisters, Vincent Lopez's band and that inimitable pair of black faced comedians, Moran and Mack, in the cast—there could hardly be room for criticism so put that on your list, too.

Others to open this week were: "Schemers," by Dr. William Irving Shrovin; "My Son," a drama by Martha Stanley; and "Iszy," a play based on the movie adventures of Iszy Isakovich, central character in the stories of George Randolph and Lillian Chester.

Everybody is looking forward to Billie Burke's re-appearance on the New York stage in "Annabelle," a musical comedy which her husband, Flo Ziegfeld, will open in Baltimore on Oct. 6. It has a long cast, including such names as Ernest Truex, May Vokes and Bobby Watson.

Next week "Able's Irish Rose," will have passed its 1000th performance in New York City. Only one other play—"Lightnin'"—

BY THE NEA PLAY JURY.

New York, Sept. 27.—Something must be done about it. The Amalgamated Order of Tired but Bald-Headed Business Men has captured Broadway. They're hypnotized the producers. They're being catered to.

No fewer than ten, big, expensive, spectacular revues now are on the boards. And this does not include "Charlot's Revue" which is now taking to the road. Nor does it include a young army of musical comedies which are not pretensions enough to be worthy of the name "revue." The latest to join the ranks is Hassard Short's "Ritz Revue." One might say it is last, but not least. It is a complete spectacle, with high-calibered performers, witty lines, catchy tunes, spectacular settings and beautiful girls.

Babson Warns Against Too Much Highway Improvement

Babson Park, Mass., Sept. 27.—Whether or not State, County, City and Town bonds will continue to be issued as tax exempt securities, only the future can tell; but unless their rate of issue is curtailed, taxes necessary to pay interest and retire them will bankrupt the farmers of this country," said Roger W. Babson in an exclusive interview today.

"The present increase in taxes which results from the demand for these non-taxable bonds is raising havoc with land values, the cost of farm products and rural conditions in general," says the statistician. "Thus far tax exempt municipal bonds have had the best record of any class of securities; but wise investors are now purposely putting a portion of their funds into taxable corporation bonds. They believe that if this wild issuing of state, county and municipal securities continues, tax payers will ultimately revolt and defaults will follow. It's an old proverb 'trees do not grow to the skies.' For the same reason taxes cannot continue to increase indefinitely without causing trouble.

"The real cause of this recent increase in such taxes," continued Mr. Babson, "is the great increase in road building; due, of course, to automobiles. Automobiles are all right and the industry is here to stay; but we must not go too far. If we do we will kill the goose that is laying the golden eggs. Considering that all roads were rough and muddy only a few years ago, we should be satisfied with a reasonable improvement from year to year. We will have all concrete, asphalt, brick and other hard surfaced roads in due time; but let us have them with moderation. It might be well to 'measure our cloth' before we form too many road districts and blindly sell bond issues which are to be a burden on our children and grandchildren. There is no sense in struggling and economizing to save money for our children with one hand, while we burden them with debt with the other.

"In deciding whether or not to issue bonds, a community should not be content to consider merely the amount of the bond issue. The first cost of a white linen suit may be less than that of a dark thin worsted; but at the end of a few years, after the laundry bills are paid, it will be found that the 'cheap linen suit' may have cost $100! The same principle applies to the spending of money for public improvements. A county may well afford to spend $10,000 to eliminate a dangerous railroad crossing, which when built is done forever. The same county may, however, not be justified in spending money for surfacing a road if a continual annual expense will be required to maintain this road after it is built. The original cost of a highway is like the $2 which the colored gentleman gave the minister for marrying him. It was only the 'fast cost.' I believe in good roads the same as I believe in good churches, good schools and other good things. But there can be too many churches and too many schools. The great need of life is for us to have all things in their proper proportion according to our income and requirements. Moreover, we should use special care when spending borrowed money. Debts can ruin communities as well as individuals.

"All of this means" concluded Mr. Babson, "that we should more carefully consider our state, county and municipal expenditures. There is only so much money in the country and this can be used either for paying taxes or for building houses and buying clothing for the children. It is well enough to go in debt to a limited amount for certain things; but let us not mortgage our future just to supply rich men with non-taxable bonds. Prosperity comes with a proper distribution of our labor and purchases. Let us begin to give less money to the tax collector and give more to the local merchants who are the backbone of American prosperity. Then the Babsonchart should reflect an improvement in general business activity which is now running at 9% below normal.

Cecil DeMille Returns To Society Drama In "Triumph" Coming to Delft on Monday

TODAY'S PROGRAMS. At the Delft—The Rex Stock Company in its closing performance of a week's engagement. The play, matinee and night, will be "Madeline of the Movies," a new comedy which Geo. M. Cohan wrote for his daughter, Georgette. Miss Zana Vaughn will be seen in the title role.

At the Strand—"The Fool's Awakening," a mystery drama, with a cast which includes Edith Bennett, Alan Francis, Harrison Ford, Mary Alden, Edward Connelly and John Sainpolis.

At St. Joseph's—Dereys Perdue in "Entamed Youth." The star has the support of Lloyd Hughes, Ralph Lewis, Emily Fitzroy, Joseph Dowling, Tom O'Brien and other screen notables.

In his newest motion picture, "Triumph," coming to the Delft theatre Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, Cecil B. DeMille returns to the type of society drama in which he scored his earlier and more decided successes.

"Triumph" is the story of a girl (Leatrice Joy) and two men who love her. The girl starts as a STAND PROGRAMS. "Wild Oranges," a story by Joseph Mergensheimer, directed by King Vidor and starring Frank Mayo and Virginia Valli, opens the week at the Strand Theatre remaining there Monday and Tuesday. It is said to have all the elements of a good picture—suspense, villain, action and romance. John Farrar, noted critic and editor of "The Bookman" said: "I more think of 'Wild Oranges' the better picture I think it is." The distinguished novelist who wrote the story said: "Give every body in the production of 'Wild Oranges' my endless thanks. I am quite speechless with delight."

David Belasco's stage success "The Governor's Lady," came to a movie by William Fox, comes to the Strand Wednesday and Thursday. It is a political play with many tense moments, a splendid cast and a record of successes in the larger cities.

"The Dawn of a Tomorrow," Jacqueline Logan, David Torrence, Raymond Griffith, and other well known players will be the star feature Friday and Saturday, along with additional chapters of the serial, "The Fortieth Door." The latter has acquired a large following here.

ST. JOSEPH'S TODAY. "Entamed Youth," with the beautiful Delys Perdue in the leading role, is the attraction at St. Joseph's auditorium this afternoon and tonight. It is a tense drama with an all-star cast and remarkable photoplay. The story includes a cyclone which is said to be unusually graphically portrayed by the camera. The cast includes Lloyd Hughes, Ralph Lewis, Emily Fitzroy, Joseph Swickard, Joseph Dowling, Tom O'Brien and Micky McCann. The picture has been successful in the large cities and critics, almost without exception, have praised it. The picture now is the true forerunner of a better record.

"Able" became a success without the help of New York dramatic critics. They panned it with vim and vigor when it opened, which proves nothing at all.

JEWISH HOLY SEASON OPENS

New Years Begins at Sun-down Today; Other Festivals Follow.

"Rosh Hashana" or the Jewish New Year, will begin at sundown today. It marks the opening of the high holy season of the Jews throughout the world, being followed by "Yom Kippur" or the Day of Atonement on Oct. 8, and Succoth, or the Feast of the Tabernacles, on Oct. 13.

Rosh Hashana marks the beginning of the year 5685 from the creation of the world, according to the traditional Biblical reckoning. This religious calendar begins with the new moon each month, and is used only to estimate the feasts and fasts of the Jewish year, just as is done with the various movable feasts of the Christian church for all ordinary purposes the civil calendar is used.

In the modern synagogue the day is observed by special prayers, including some beautiful poetic compositions and unusual elaborate musical settings; by the reading of special portions from the Bible; and by the blowing of the ram's horn or Shofar. The Biblical readings are from the life of Abraham, especially the story of his sacrifice of Isaac.

The New Year festival has a profound religious meaning, and is with such a wealth of historic associations. It is known as the Day of Memorial, a day of memory and searching the heart. The pious Jew, in his house of worship, confesses before God his sins of the past year, and turns over a new leaf for the year to come. It is also known as the day of judgment, for this confession brings forgiveness on the day of atonement, ten days after.

Radio is becoming popular in Russia, and it doesn't matter, but many a whisker will get hung in the wires.

Immoral Songs of Balfie-Bunn, Make Opera Ever New

Although the "Bohemian Girl" was first presented at the Drury Lane Theatre, London, in 1843, and has had hundreds of runs the world over, and although its many songs have been hummed for at least two full generations, it still has a universal appeal. Each coming generation pays tribute to its melodies and it is moved by its beautiful sentimentality. This fact is due not alone to the music by Bunn, but to the words by Bunn, who wrote the libretto.

As an opera the plot is very simple, merely a sort of thread on which to string a number of beautiful musical pearls. Phonograph records well worn indicate that the wide appeal of the songs is a continuous tribute to the genius of both Balfie and Bunn and it is said that close upon the heels of the Boston-English Opera Co. Artists, who are touring the country in this opera, jazz is being supplanted by some of the swinging, haunting choruses in "Bohemian Girl." "The Heart Bowed Down" "The Fair Land of Poland." "Oh, what full Delight." "I dream That I Dwell in Marble Halls." "Then You'll Remember Me." and "If a Gypsy's Life you Lead," will doubtless continue to please the masses so long as music lasts. It would be impossible to obtain a census of the tears shed over "Then You'll Remember Me," since absent lovers first begin to carry the words and music in their memories, or of the countless thousands who have returned to "The Heart Bowed Down" in moments of bitter grief.

Woman Aged 38, Mother of 18 Children, Names One Of Her Day Old Twins For Coolidge ARRIVAL, early Thursday morning at St. Francis hospital, of twin boys in the family of Mrs. Henry Brunette, of Flat Rock, were the seventeenth and eighteenth children born to a mother 38 years of age.

The boys were named Henry, for their father, and Calvin Coolidge, for the president of the United States.

The family lives at Flat Rock. Mr. Brunette is 42 years of age, the owner of a farm, and he does all of the housework about the place. Mrs. Brunette never had a housemaid. She does all of the family washings, ironings, broomings, housework, ministers to the family, milks four cows and takes care of a flock of 52 chickens.

Mrs. Brunette was married, first, at the age of 14. At the age of 19 she was a widow with three small children, her husband having been accidentally killed in the woods. A year later she was married to Mr. Brunette. To this union, 15 children have been born, the last two being the twins.

Fourteen of the children are living. They are: Moses, 23, and Emil, 22, born of the first marriage; Lawrence, 18, Althea, 14, Ella, 13, Leo, 12, Myrtle, 10, Gordon, 8, Thomas, 6, Charles, 5, Iona, 2, Regina, 13 months and Henry and Calvin, three days old. Considerable interest in the clinics has been evidenced here and the three days the party will remain in this city are expected to be busy ones. Accompanying the party will be two lecturers who will appear before local clubs and other organizations, and it is probable that special "health" movies will be shown at one of the local theatres.

Iron Trade Review

Cleveland, O., Sept. 25.—Iron Trade Review today says: General uncertainty and confusion have marked the first few days of readjustment of the steel market to the new condition created by the expressed agreement of the Steel corporation to abandon the Pittsburgh plus system of determining steel prices, in compliance with the cease-and-desist order issued by the federal trade commission.

In such modification of the price system as has been put into effect the contracting principle appears to be that material is to be sold where made plus the actual cost of delivery to the point where it is to be used.

The small change in the general price situation is reflected by Iron Trade Review composite of fourteen leading iron and steel products which has receded only from $38.95 to $38.87 in the week. One month ago it was $39.35, three months ago, $40.55 and one year ago, $44.47.

Selling Everything Auction Sale At Louis Dault Farm TUESDAY, SEPT. 30

IRON TRADE REVIEW. The effect of the naming of mill or delivered prices, it is believed, will tend to localize competition. Such a situation would be favorable to the Steel corporation because of its numerous and well distributed plants and already there is considerable comment that the trade commission's order may turn out to be of material benefit to the largest producer in a competitive way.
