

MRS. FERGISSON ENTITLED TO MAKE RUN

YOUNGSTER TO MATCH MINDS WITH M'GRAW

SOLONS SUCCESSFUL IN EFFORT TO BEAT YANKS.

(By The Associated Press.) New York, Sept. 29.—Washington today clinched the first pennant it has had since breaking into big league baseball exactly 40 years ago, and as the flag bearer of the American League, will fight it out with the New York Giants, four times National League champions, in the first game of the world series starting next Saturday at the capital city.

By defeating the Boston Red Sox this afternoon, the Senators brought to a triumphant climax one of the most spectacular diamond campaigns in history and achieved the downfall of the New York Yankees, once proud world champions, who tonight repose in second place, two and a half games behind the leaders.

Yanks Distanced. The Yankees have two games to play with Philadelphia tomorrow while Washington has one more with the Red Sox, but regardless of the outcome of these, Miller Huggins must step off the American League throne after a 3-year reign. He does so in favor of Stanley Harris, pilot of the Senators, and the youngest manager who ever led a major league club to victory.

Washington's rise this year under the aggressive leadership of the 28-year-old Harris, a major leaguer only five years and experiencing his first managerial test, is one of the most dramatic achievements in baseball annals. This fighting youngster will meet one of the greatest strategists of the game when he takes the field against John McGraw, gray-haired "master mind" of the Giants.

Johnson Mainstay. Those sharing the glory of Washington's triumph with Harris are Walter Johnson, one of the greatest pitchers of all time, and Clark Griffith, now president and former manager of the club. In his 18th season, Johnson has been the mainstay of the team's twirling corps and now will realize a lifelong ambition to pitch in a world's series.

Washington's first flag in the 24 seasons the club has been in the American League was won after a terrific closing fight in which Harris and his men came through to victory on foreign fields. It is taking no credit from the Senators' victory, however, to say that they were friendly fields. Nearly everywhere Washington has appeared in its final drive, fans, eager for the overthrow of New York, cheered the Senators on. In Boston spectators today accorded the victors an ovation of only slightly less volume than that which might have been expected in their home city.

Though the club showed it possessed consistent strength throughout the last part of the campaign, Washington nevertheless is one of the "darkest horses" to triumph since the Boston Braves leaped to the front a decade ago. New York had been generally picked to repeat on the basis of its brilliant world's series exhibition, with Detroit, Cleveland and Philadelphia "doped" as the most menacing opposition. The Tigers hung on until near the finish and dealt what proved the knockout blow to the Yankees when they took three in a row from the champions on the last western trip.

Washington had clubs in four leagues since 1884, but never had been able to finish higher than second. A year in the Union Association, two in the American As-

BOB PLACED ON SOCIALIST LIST IN CALIFORNIA

Supreme Court Decision Will Not Help Chances of Badger Senator.

(By The Associated Press.) San Francisco, Cal., Sept. 29.—The decision of the state supreme court here which denies Senator LaFollette a place in the independent column and in effect compels his supporters to mark their ballots under the Socialist banner will hurt the cause of the Wisconsin leader and help the chances of President Coolidge.

Judging from the expressions of bitterness which are coming from the LaFollette managers here no other inference is possible except that their opportunities for vote getting have been impaired. The Socialists, conforming to the requirements of the statute, have kept their electoral list open out of friendship for the LaFollette forces and now will name LaFollette electors.

But the question may well be asked "why did the LaFollette men want to remain aloof from the Socialists whose column they now embrace?" The answer undoubtedly is that the LaFollette strategists thought the word "Independent" a better advertisement than the word "Socialist."

Label Hurts Chances. Many of the California voters share the same feeling that the term "Socialist" carries with it a certain opprobrium. They may like LaFollette—and some of the near-Socialists would not care whether he was listed under the flaming torch—but nevertheless many other voters do not care to affiliate even for one election with the Socialist party.

The cry that the supreme court has denied the LaFollette electors a place on the ballot is not altogether accurate for it is still possible for any voter to write in the names of the LaFollette electors and slips could be furnished at the polls by the LaFollette managers to keep the voter from forgetting the thirteen names.

But writing in the names or dragging a reluctant number of voters into the Socialist column is not as simple a matter as being able to campaign under an "Independent progressive" banner. In order to fix the LaFollette status firmly in the minds of the voters, the Socialist label will be used.

Turn Wanderers Back. Whatever Senator LaFollette may be classed as in other states, here in California he is to be a Socialist. The effect in other states on the liberal voter may be to turn wavering votes back to Davis and Coolidge. So long as the Wisconsin leader appeared as a "progressive" or "independent republican," many voters have felt they were not really doing much more than a large number of voters did in 1912.

But socialism is looked upon quite generally in America as involving radical departures in the American economic system and it will be interesting to see whether in California, Senator LaFollette will feel compelled to renounce some of the tenets of the very party which carries him under its emblem on the ballot. Speaking of what happened in 1912 reminds the disinterested observer that California had a controversy then whereby the Taft electors were at the mercy of the Roosevelt progressive re-

FOUR DAYLIGHT HOLDUPS OCCUR IN METROPOLIS

New Gang Active, Is Belief Of Officers

(By The Associated Press.) Detroit, Sept. 29.—Four daring and whirlwind robberies, in which gunmen obtained $5,500, started police on a hunt tonight for members of what they believe to be a new band of desperadoes who have risen to take the place of the various gangs recently broken up.

Earl Cook, manager of the Ferryside Theater and Wallace Inkton, his assistant, were on their way to the bank with the week-end receipts, amounting to $2,000. Cook had the money in a satchel. When a few doers from the bank, he and Inkton saw three men approach them from an automobile, with guns in their hands. At the point of revolvers, Cook and Inkton were forced into the machine.

The robbers drove for two miles and then threw their victims from the car and made their escape with the money. Carry Away Safe. Earlier in the day three gunmen forced two employes in a restaurant into the basement and carried away a safe containing approximately $1,000. The safe was loaded into a truck waiting in the alley nearby.

At about the same hour four thugs bound and gagged James Scott, watchman at the Grand Trunk Market and broke open a safe believed to have contained at least $500. Scott was struck on the head by one of the men. He was unable to free himself until three hours after the holdup.

Two negroes held up a drug store, forcing the proprietor and two clerks to open a safe containing $1,000. Frank Droelie, proprietor, also was forced to give up a diamond ring which he valued at $1,500.

Find Youth's Body at Bottom of Slip

(By The Associated Press.) Cheboygan, Mich., Sept. 29.—The body of 12-year-old Richard Phillips, who has been missing since Saturday, was found at noon today at the bottom of a lumber slip, where it lodged in a deep hole. The boy had gone fishing Saturday with brother Ivan, and a friend, Vernon Swaman, 15, and remained fishing while his companions went home for dinner. When they returned he had disappeared.

It is believed that the boy slipped from the raft from which he was fishing and, falling into the rough water, was unable to save himself.

Decrease in the number of shares will facilitate market operations in it. General Motors is now preparing for the annual offering of stock to employees. The date has not yet been decided upon.

Hanlin informed a bonding company earlier today that he was returning from Chicago with the money. The train was met at Albany by Springfield police and Hanlin was arrested.

SEARCHERS PICK UP CABIN DOOR OF ILL-FATED STEAMER 'CLIFTON' OFF THUNDER BAY, REPORT SAYS

(By The Associated Press.) Cleveland, O., Sept. 29.—A cabin door bearing the name Clifton was picked up by a tug in the vicinity of Thunder Bay, A. E. R. Schneider, general manager of the Progress Steamship Company, Cleveland owners of the missing whale-back freighter Clifton, was notified tonight.

The message from the captain of the steamer Fontana, which has been searching the vicinity east by southeast of Thunder Bay, was the only word received by the owners today.

The freighter went down with its crew a week ago while transporting stone from Sturgeon Bay to Detroit.

OWNERSHIP OF UTILITIES BY U. S. OPPOSED

Hoover Assails Program Advocated by Senator LaFollette.

(By The Associated Press.) Washington, Sept. 29.—Government ownership of public utilities would mean rewriting of the constitution and loss to the American people of most of their democracy, Secretary Hoover declared tonight in an address radio-cast from 14 stations throughout the country.

"What Senator LaFollette proposes," Secretary Hoover said, "is far more than a transitory experiment of government in business—it is a change in our social, economic and political principles that will react to revolutionize our government itself."

Details Are Given. Government ownership plans of LaFollette's adherents, the secretary asserted, call for the government's purchase and operation of railroads, electrical, and other utilities valued by official commissions at 40 billions of dollars with 2,700,000 employes, requiring two billions of dollars annually for bond interest with an operating budget of ten billions of dollars a year.

Mr. Hoover pointed to the present system of public control as one under which all public utilities have enjoyed enormous growth and constantly improving efficiency and service. He has, he said, through stabilizing rates, reduced the cost of capital by increasing the security for the savings of the people. The enterprises, he pointed out, are no longer owned by the few, citing that one great service corporation has nearly 400,000 stockholders, while another has more than 200,000.

Going into the political aspects of government ownership, the secretary declared that the purpose of the government would be changed from preservation of basic human liberties to that of making money.

Either congress must be the billion of directors for the forty billion dollar business, or the project divided and placed under non-partisan commissions or government corporations, "somehow free from politics and the dead hand of bureaucracy," he declared. Neither alternative, the secretary said, will work.

"If we were to set up such agencies, so free from restraint of the congress and legislatures as to accomplish these objects," he added, "we would have created gigantic despotisms controlling the well-being of our whole people—and incidentally controlling the very election of our officials. As a matter of fact, we are to maintain a democracy."

LAFOLLETTE'S CANDIDACY NOT LEGAL—DELAND

No Action Will Be Taken By State, However

(By The Associated Press.) Lansing, Mich., Sept. 29.—Senator Robert M. LaFollette's candidacy for the presidency is illegal in Michigan in the opinion of Secretary of State Charles J. Deland. He does not, however, contemplate any immediate action to bar him from the ballots.

"The law provides that any political party, to function legally in its conventions and elsewhere must have formed its central committee and organization in the old year. According to this, the Independent Progressive party, which is supporting LaFollette, should have been organized in 1923 in order to legally name electors for LaFollette to go on the November ballot. This was not done," the secretary stated.

Deland asserted that the state has accepted the certification of electors submitted by the Independent party. There is no move on foot to oust the LaFollette ticket, so far as he knows. He pointed out, however, that if a county clerk should refuse to put the LaFollette electors on the ballots the state would probably be powerless to compel him to, and the dispute might be thrown into the courts.

"Old Year" Violated. The Independent Progressive party was organized, a convention was held and electors named after it was discovered that the Michigan law requires such action. The clause in the statute that demands the party organization be completed in the old, or preceding year, was pointed out, but the leaders in the LaFollette movement secured an opinion from the attorney general which apparently convinced them that if they went ahead and named their electors, formed a state central committee and held their convention the legal barriers to LaFollette's candidacy would be overcome.

At the attorney general's office it was said that the law has not been strictly complied with, but that no move is contemplated at present, and that unless some election official refuses to accept the ticket, or the question is raised elsewhere or thrown into litigation, the LaFollette ticket will probably be submitted to the voters.

Auto Bandit Trio Obtains Big Sum From Postmaster

(By The Associated Press.) Crystal Falls, Mo., Sept. 29.—Three bandits, using an automobile, disarmed Postmaster R. B. Houghton of this city who was returning from the railroad station to the postoffice late this afternoon and escaped with a pouch containing $60,000, mostly currency.

The money had arrived on a train a few minutes before six o'clock, having been sent to the Crystal City State Bank by the First National Bank in St. Louis and was to meet the semi-monthly payroll of the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company which has a large plant here.

The 1,500 employes of the company will be forced to wait at least another day for their pay. It was said.

(By The Associated Press.) Los Angeles, Calif., Sept. 29.—While nearly 100 horrified worshippers looked on, Solomon Ostraw, 35, walked into the Zion Synagogue, during Jewish festivities here today shot and killed his business enemy, Harry Denny, 55, and wounded a man and a woman in the struggle that followed with the members of the congregation for possession of the gun.

Escaping the throng of angry worshippers who badly beat him and threatened to lynch him, Ostraw later was arrested by police.

JAPS FAVORED BY SWINGING OF SENTIMENT

Committee Is Selected to Look Into Question Brought Up.

(By The Associated Press.) Geneva, Sept. 29.—The swing of sentiment to Japan was the outstanding feature of the critical situation in Geneva tonight. After laboring without cessation throughout the entire day the leaders had to confess that they had not yet discovered the miraculous formula, which, while satisfying the aspirations of the Japanese, would keep the proposed protocol of arbitration and security strong enough to win not only the support of the delegations assembled at Geneva, but, what is more important, the ratifications of the world parliaments.

While no solutions were found, various channels of settlement have been explored and prominent delegates said tonight that there was an earnest expectation of reaching some accord. There is, however, no weakening in evidence among the Japanese, who say they have unequivocal directions from Tokio to maintain their attitude of opposition to any protocol plan which would make Japan an aggressor if she failed to abide by a world court decision based on the interpretation of matters supposed to be within the exclusive jurisdiction of the other party to the dispute.

Jap Viewpoint Given. The entire Japanese difficulty was threshed out today at a private meeting of the league council, when Viscount Ishi, at the request of the council, made a frank exposition of the Japanese viewpoint. This council examination was followed throughout the day by repeated private conferences, all desperately striving to find light on the issue raised by Japan.

Eventually the problem was entrusted to the study of three men, Sir Cecil Hurst, of England, M. Loucheur, Franco, and Signor Scialoja, Italy, the first and last named being celebrated international jurists, and M. Loucheur being one of the most prominent industrialists of France, owner of newspapers and a former cabinet minister. This committee will meet tomorrow morning.

"Almed At No One." M. Loucheur said tonight: "We are all assuming that this Japanese amendment is not aimed at America or the British dominions. If we thought so, we would have voted against it immediately."

In the meantime, the English delegation did not have an easy day with the representatives of the British dominions. The dominion statesmen held four conferences and discussed the possible effect of the Japanese amendment to cancel the clause of the aggressor article in the protocol, which forbids nations from going to war in contempt of world court decisions. Their attitude was distinctly that of urging a stiff stand against the Japanese demand.

The last word tonight was that the British and French viewpoints are absolutely in accord.

Crabtree Will Made Public; Estate Goes To Charity Entirely

(By The Associated Press.) Boston, Sept. 29.—The $1,000,000 estate of Miss Lotta Crabtree, acquired in a colorful career of song and dance, real estate investment and theatre operation, goes to charity under the terms of her will which was filed today—and half of the sum goes to form a trust fund for World War disabled and their dependents. Setting aside only nominal sums for relatives, the actress left hundreds of thousands for dumb animals, needy actors and actresses, hospitals and discharged convicts, and the residue to graduates of Massachusetts Agricultural College.

The will establishes a trust fund of $2,000,000 for those men and women in the service of the United States during the World War who were disabled, maimed, wounded or sick, and extends assistance also to their dependents.

The "Lotta theatrical fund" of $100,000 is set aside to help these men and women through sickness or misfortune, through assistance, part of the income of this fund to be used for the education of young women in the theatrical profession.

Christmas gifts of clothing, food, coal, medicine or small donations in cash to needy persons are provided for in a fund of $100,000 established in the name of Miss Lotta Crabtree.

Judge Allows Him To File Appeal As Pauper

(By The Associated Press.) New York, Sept. 29.—Gaston B. Means, who recently told a federal court jury that hundreds of thousands of dollars has passed through his hands in nationwide bootlegging operations, asked Federal Judge Foster today to grant him a three months' stay in which to file an appeal from his recent conviction for bootlegging, pleading that he was "too broke" to produce the $300 necessary for a copy of the stenographic record of the testimony at the trial.

His plea was denied, but Judge Foster gave Means until Friday to appeal to the circuit court of appeals for an order in forma pauperis, which would permit him to appeal in the guise of a pauper.

Means was his one-time secretary, Elmer W. Jarnecke, were convicted of conspiracy to violate the national prohibition law. The former department of justice agent was sentenced to serve a two year term in the federal penitentiary and pay a $10,000 fine. Jarnecke's sentence was a two year term in the same penitentiary and a $5,000 fine.

Testimony Recall. Means gave much sensational testimony at the trial. One of his witness stand tales was that the late President Harding had commissioned the late Jess Smith, friend of Harry Daugherty, to make a nation wide prohibition investigation.

There were rumors around the federal building today that Jarnecke had opened up and told the real story of the gigantic conspiracy to a department of justice agent, Clifford H. Burns. He and Burns had held conferences lasting for hours every day for a week. It was learned. Neither would discuss what the conferences were about. Jarnecke and Means, with their attorney, Thomas B. Felder, await trial on charges of having collected $65,000 from officials of the Creager System convicted of having used the means in stock defrauding operation, on the representation that they would use the money in bribing the then Attorney General Daugherty to use his influence in their behalf.

Work of paving M-17 west of Jackson, which had been suspended awaiting this conference, will begin again Tuesday morning, according to Governor Groesbeck's orders. The tracks will not be moved until next spring, Mr. Collins announced. The change will eliminate two dangerous crossings.

Coolidge Spends Day Confering With Chieftains

(By The Associated Press.) Washington, Sept. 29.—A busy program occupied President Coolidge today and included discussions of the political situation with various party leaders as well as attention to government business.

It was said later at the White House the suggestion has been made that Mr. Coolidge speak in New York City on this date which also is the birthday of the late President Roosevelt.

No decision has been reached on this point, however.

Republicans Did Not Have LaFollette Kept off California Ballot

(By The Associated Press.) New York, Sept. 29.—William M. Butler, Republican national chairman, who reached New York today from Chicago, issued a statement explaining that his party had no hand in pressing the case which resulted in the ruling of the California supreme court, refusing the LaFollette electors a place on the ballot as independents.

"If I had discovered that any member of our official group had originated or participated in the agitation, I would have disavowed the act," said Mr. Butler. In a conversation with newspaper correspondents, the chairman added that he thought the decision would "make no particular difference" in the California vote in the election.

DONA SHY DIES SUNDAY NIGHT
Head of Local Dray-Transfer Business for Last 20 Years.

Dona J. Shy, 37, proprietor for the last 20 years of the Shy dray and transfer line, died at the home of her mother, Mrs. Mary Evelyn Shy, 427 South 12th St., at 10:30 o'clock Sunday night. Death was due to a kidney disorder from which she had suffered for some time, and to which were added a number of serious complications which developed in the last few days.

Mr. Shy was first stricken Sept. 20, the closing day of the Northern Michigan Fair, when, after a strenuous week's work, he was ordered to bed by his doctor. He improved somewhat the middle of last week, and Thursday he walked down-town to a barber shop. Upon his return home he was seized with a chill, and his condition, after that, was regarded as critical.

Native Of Canada. Mr. Shy was born in Rexton Falls, Ont., but came to Escanaba with his parents when he was seven months old. His boyhood was spent here. When he was 17, his father died and he immediately took over the dray line which his father had operated for many years. He was the active head of that business until his death.

He was married about five years ago, but death robbed him of his wife and baby a little more than a year later, and since that time he had made his home with his mother, who, with one brother and four sisters, survives. The others of the family are Albert Shy, Mrs. Fred Boddy, Mrs. Oliver Dorouin, and Miss Florence Shy, of Escanaba, and Mrs. Eugene Canfield of Chicago.

Mr. Shy was a member of the B. P. O. Elks and the Canadian Artisans. His circle of personal friends, which extended throughout Delta and adjoining counties, knew him as an honest, industrious, generous man—one worthy of every trust and confidence reposed in him. These qualities naturally won extensive patronage for the business of which he was the head.

Funeral services will be held Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock in St. Anne's Church, the Rev. Fr. Raymond G. Jacques officiating, and burial will take place in St. Anne's cemetery.

TODAY'S BIRTHDAYS.
James A. Drain, the new national commander of the American Legion, born in Warren county, Illinois, 54 years ago today.

Wilton Lackaye, long a prominent actor of the American stage, born in Loudoun county, Va., 60 years ago today.

Dr. John Henry MacCracken, president of Lafayette College, born at Rochester, Vt., 49 years ago today.

Allen F. Moore, representative in Congress of the Nineteenth Illinois district, born at St. Charles, Ill., 55 years ago today.

It is easier to get the children to bed, now that they have their lessons to study.

Dear Mother

"I know George and Alice both need Cod Liver Oil, and need it badly as all thin, puny, run down kids do. But it gives me the most horrible shivers just to think of them taking the horrible stuff."

"Instead of the nasty tasting, vile smelling oil itself why don't you be up to date and give them McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Tablets? It's the new way to take Cod Liver Oil—they are as easy to take as candy—won't upset their stomachs and surely do help sick, ailing people to get well again."

"Have pity on the poor kids, mother, and take my advice—you can get the original and genuine McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Tablets at Mead Drug Co., Hill Drug Co. or any real drug store—and 60 tablets cost only 60 cents. Be sure and get McCoy's, mother—everyone says they do help the sick kiddies to grow strong and robust."

Love to all; hastily—
Adv. Jeannette.

Alleged Sneak Thief Is Arrested Sunday

Fred LaPorte, alleged boarding house sneak thief, for whom the sheriff's deputies and police headquarters had been searching for several months, drifted back into town Sunday, and found himself, soon afterward, in a cell. He is charged with having stolen a suit of clothes, valued at about $50, from the room of R. Michéau of Rapid River last June. He will be arraigned on the charge early today. It may be reduced to petit larceny, however, to permit justice court to dispose of the case.

Mrs. John Carlson, 415 S. 15th St., says: "My back ached and was often lame, causing me annoyance. Work about the house became burdensome and when I attempted to straighten after stooping, sharp pains caught me through my back. I was run down and often felt nervous and depressed. I was dizzy and headaches were troublesome. My kidneys were weak so I used Doan's Pills from the City Drug Store and they cured me."

Frank Schraeder, Chicago, was best man. The bride's gown was of pink georgette heavily beaded. She carried a shower bouquet of Columbia roses and lilies of the valley and wore a wreath of silver leaves in her hair.

ARE YOU GOING TO VOTE?
Danger! Peril! Whether or not the United States is to continue as a government by the majority, or decay into government by minority, will be determined by the approaching presidential election.

There is nothing partisan about the movement to "Get Out the Vote." It is quite separate from HOW they should vote. The goal is to preserve America as a government by majority rule.

Back yonder in history, it was a rare man who failed to exercise his power to ballot. About 50 years ago, a few began to neglect to vote, probably figuring that "My vote doesn't count much among so many millions."

The number who failed to vote increased steadily until in the 1920 election over 25 millions neglected to vote, compared with less than 27 millions who did vote.

If this chronic half-century tendency continues, this year the nation will pass the danger line and become a government by a minority.

Your vote can help ward that off. It can. It should. It must.

FITCHER WALTER JOHNSON.

If baseball fans had anything to say about it, Walter Johnson would be the hero of the world series in baseball and today be "sitting on top of the world" as far as the baseball season is concerned.

Johnson is of the old school of baseball, yet he is an example of how a human machine can be taken care of and go on and on almost endlessly in the king of sports that wears a man down so rapidly, especially a pitcher.

Johnson is a forceful example of the old story that clean living makes a champion. Eighteen years as a pitcher in the major leagues is something to be proud of, something that may never be equalled again and something that points to Johnson's training.

Johnson could not have been a "rounder" and remained in the league, pitching as good baseball today as he did ten or twelve years ago.

You can hardly blame fans for wanting to see Washington win the American League pennant and the world's series. But there is still another reason—aside from the prowess of the ever popular Walter Johnson. In Manager Harris, Washington has the youngest pilot in the leagues and it is the most natural thing in the world to want to see a youngster "come through." Even if he failed to win, Harris certainly has "come through."

RANKS SOLIDIFIED.

It is worthy of note that some of the best-known leaders of the Progressive Party as it was organized by Theodore Roosevelt in 1912 are working shoulder to shoulder with their fellow Republicans just as Roosevelt himself would be if he were alive.

During the last year of his life, Col. Roosevelt held a number of conferences with other leading Republicans in Washington and New York with a view to bringing into close harmony again the ranks that were so broken in 1912. The movement then started produced good results, as evidenced by the solidity of the Republican forces in 1920. On the advisory committee in the present campaign are such Roosevelt Progressives as Raymond Robins of Chicago, Governor and former Senator Joseph M. Dixon, of Montana, and Senator Howell of Nebraska. It is a pretty general rule throughout the United States that the former supporters of Col. Roosevelt are now supporters of Coolidge and Dawes.

Delta county has a 38 year old woman who is the mother of 13 children. Between times she milks four cows daily, cooks, scrubs, washes and mends. For diversion she probably does a few of the chores around the barn. Few will envy her an almost annual hospital vacation.

The Clear Makers' International is celebrating its anniversary this year.

BRINGING UP FATHER

The Piffle Hook

THE SUBTLE art of poisoning, which reached its zenith during the hey-day of the late Mr. Nero, is coming back into its own. And why not? Shooting a husband requires more or less target practice and is apt to leave unsightly blood stains on the parlor rug. Throat-cutting also is messy. Beating a husband to death with a club is an operation which demands more or less useless physical exertion. Poisoning demands only a knowledge of the most elementary chemistry. Even lacking that, a very neat and effective job can be done with insect powder or tooth-ache drops. Nor can the husbands offer any valid objections. The corpse of a man who has been cleverly poisoned has a greatly superior appearance to one that has been mutilated with a shotgun, a razor or an axe. Although, as the assistant sergeant-at-arms of the Window Club remarks the other day, "a married man is afraid to eat for fear of poison—and afraid not to, for his wife will shoot him because she thinks he doesn't like her cooking."

Immortal Songs of Baff-Bunn Make Opera Ever New," declared a headline in the Press Sunday morning. Of course, the fact that "immortal" was intended, is now entirely beside the point. Opera-lovers will see the performance anyway, and if others get the idea it was written for Sophie Tucker or Al Jolson, the box office should gain materially. Proof-readers and composers, however, should be forced by the printers' union, to explain to irate sponsors, the omission of that significant letter "t."

SIR: You are a New England blue-nose. You are going to vote for "Ol' Cel Culligan" for president. If you aren't that kind of a homo, I'd be interested in seeing an explanation of your refusal to write a column for the Sunday morning Press.

SIR: Is there any truth in the rumor that the Rotary club golfers have offered to play, blindfolded, in the next match, while the Kiwanis players, in full possession of their faculties, keep both sets of scores?

No. The Kiwanis Club Insists on Playing the Next Match on the Arcade Alleys.

PERHAPS we shouldn't mention it at this time, but we can help wondering whether it might be possible to flavor the city water, next winter, with oil of cloves instead of creosote.

ALVIRA LEAVES MENTONE. Chapter XI. During the weeks Alvira spent in preparing to leave the old life, the only life she had ever known, she often thought of things her aunt had said to her; thought how shocked Drucilla would be did she know what she planned to do. Occasionally in the years past Alvira had expressed a wish to go away, to see something of the world outside of the little town. Always her aunt had argued: "It isn't fitting, Alvira, it isn't right for a single girl to go traipsing around alone. People, especially men, would think her queer, bold, lacking in a sense of what was due herself and those who brought her up." And with a sigh Alvira had put away the idea for the time being, only to return to it again with the same result. "Only married women and widows have any freedom," Alvira told herself as she planned to leave Mentone. She said it bitterly remembering no one had asked her to be a wife. Would people look askance at her, think her queer, say unkind things about her in the new life she planned for herself—nepulous plans that were, going so far as to first than gaining her freedom from the "every-day monotony she hated. But habits, early and constant teachings, aren't cast aside easily. Alvira shuddered at the thought of being misunderstood, criticized, her motives questioned. If Aunt Drucilla were right, and of course she was, her freedom might cost her her good name. "No one will care," some inner voice whispered. "But I would know and I couldn't endure it," another inner voice answered. She must find a way. Alvira had gone about her preparations in a half dazed, dreamy state that her friends believed due to her grief over her aunt's death. Alvira did grieve for Drucilla, sincerely, honestly; but Aunt Drucilla was gone, she could not bring her back, and it was not her grief which made Alvira so unlike herself; it was her feeling that what she was about to do might not bring her the happiness she craved. Alvira had been so retiring, so dependent upon her aunt who always made her decisions for her. Well educated, even Alvira's reading had been supervised, her pleasures inhibited, her hours set by the stern, puritanical woman with whom she lived. But her aunt had loved her, that Alvira knew. She had done her best—what she considered her best had put into Alvira's hands, without inhibitions, the means for her to do the very things she had so opposed in life. Neighbors, people who had know her all her life, argued with Alvira. They told her she would regret leaving Mentone, selling the old home that had been in the family so many, many years. They questioned her mercilessly, meaning only kindness, but driving her to a stubborn silence. "I shall travel, see the world," she all she told them. It was all she COULD tell them. Then one morning, after a sleepless night, Alvira awoke about humming a little song she had taught the children to sing. She wrote a letter, a peculiar smile on her face, took it to the postoffice, planning so she would arrive just as the mail was being put in the bag to send to the station. Her dazed dreaminess was gone. Her lips were pressed together in an unnatural, thin line as she replied to the greetings of the villagers she met. "You are going soon?" the postmaster asked, something very like condemnation in his voice. "Very soon now, in a few days." "I hope you aren't making a mistake, Alvira, I hope not," he replied dubiously. "If I am no one will suffer for it but myself," said in a way foreign to the gentle girl the postmaster had always known. When Alvira left he stared after her, shaking his head. How she had changed since her aunt died, and not for the better. Tomorrow—New York Bewilders Alvira.

PREVENT FIRE, GOVERNOR ASKS

Fire prevention week is to be observed in Michigan October 5 to 11.

The proclamation of Governor Grosbeck, calling upon all citizens to do their part in prevention of fires, by using care with lighted matches and cigarettes, and cleaning rubbish from basements and attics, has been received in Sault Ste. Marie by various persons and institutions, including the local fire department. It follows:

A PROCLAMATION

By The Governor

Year by year the national destruction of life and property by fire has been mounting until the total loss of material now approximates the enormous sum of $506,540,000.00. This means the wiping out of needed resources at the rate of about $1,387,700.00 daily.

More than 15,000 lives are lost each year by fire. Most of the victims are women and little children. Safeguard your family and your home by being careful.

Fires occur in American homes at the rate of 353 every 24 hours—a fresh outbreak every four minutes. At least three out of four need not start for they are due to public carelessness and ignorance—both correctable.

Careless smokers cause many fires. Be careful with your lighted match and cigarette.

Since most fires are preventable, the regrettable devastation by burning that takes place day after day is largely unnecessary. It goes without saying that every effort should be made to relieve the people of the self-imposed burden represented by preventable fire.

Therefore, I, Alexander J. Grosbeck, Governor of the state of Michigan, by authority in me vested, do designate and proclaim the period from October 5 to 11, 1924 as FIRE PREVENTION WEEK.

And I earnestly request that the proper city departments, cooperating with Chambers of Commerce and other civic organizations, shall arrange interesting and educational exercises that will impress the importance of fire prevention upon the public mind. I hope that every resident of the state will actively take part in the observance and that they will remove rubbish and litter and other hazards about their homes and places of business; that they will inaugurate the personal habit of carefulness. I ask that our churches by means of ballads and addresses, and the newspapers by editorial mention shall help to spread the doctrine of carefulness; that our boys and girls scouts will lend their assistance in inspections and cooperation with their local fire chief and that our schools shall adopt systematic instruction in fire prevention to the end that our State may be made a safer and better place in which to live.

ALEX. J. GROSBECK, Governor.

FINE TALKS MARK MEETINGS OF ROTARIANS

Excellent Program Carried Out Before Club

Two excellent scheduled addresses and one impromptu address featured the regular weekly meeting of the Escanaba Rotary Club at the Delta Hotel at noon yesterday. In addition to addresses by Dr. C. H. Poole, of the Michigan Department of Health and F. W. Andrew of the Delta Silver Fox Farm, Col. F. Aitken, of London, Eng., who was the guest of George C. Craver, of the Delta Chemical and Iron Company, addressed the club briefly.

Col Aitken expressed his admiration for the spirit of America's workmen that has allowed industry in this country to remain actively functioning, in sharp contrast to industrial conditions in England and the rest of Europe. Col. Aitken said he visited the United States annually and asserted that it was the wonder of Europe, the manner in which business in the United States had withstood the shock of depression following the World War. He said that industrial conditions were slowly improving in England and throughout the continent and expressed the fervent hope that the acceptance of the Dawes plan will result in the establishment of healthy business conditions in the old world, although he insisted that Europe's industrial recovery will of necessity be very slow.

Mr. Andrew, of the Delta Fox Farm, in the first scheduled address, reviewed the history of the fox farming industry, while Dr. Poole, who followed, stressed the importance of frequent examinations of man's physical machinery, as a means of preventing early bodily break-downs.

Tells Fox Farm History

Mr. Andrew told of the founding of the fox farming industry on Prince Edward's Island in 1887 and of the strides made in that business in recent years. He told of his entry into the business 12 years ago and following a visit with relatives in Gladstone a year ago and finding conditions in this section so ideal for the rearing of foxes, he moved his animals here from Prince Edward's Island and established the Delta Fox Farm at Flat Rock. Mr. Andrew said that after a year he had found conditions here all that he had hoped for and his company is closing a most successful first year's operations. He told of the equipment necessary, as well as methods used in caring for the animals, insisting that there was little to the industry that could not be carried out by any individual possessed of ordinary common sense. Mr. Andrew's address was filled with interesting information and when he had concluded he was roundly applauded.

Compares Body to Machine

In his address before the Rotary Club, Dr. Poole compared the body to a machine and insisted a thorough examination, at frequent intervals, of the body is as necessary to keep it properly functioning, as regular inspection of the motor in an automobile. He told of the work being performed by the state board of health's clinic, in going about the state in an effort to awaken the interest of the people in general not only to the desirability but the necessity, for frequently consulting a physician, that minor ailments may be discovered and corrected before gaining a foothold that cannot be broken.

He told of the revelations made by the selective service law during the World War when it was found that 47 per cent of the men called to the colors were unfit for first line service and of that number 21 per cent were unfit for service of any nature. Dr. Poole strongly urged members of the Rotary Club to visit the clinic, now being conducted in the city, with their families thus taking the first steps toward regular physical examinations.

Three Wanderers Are Requested to Depart From City

Morgan Culpepper, of Nashville, Tenn., Jack Bogler of Natchez, Miss., and Paul Cohen of San Francisco—at least those were the addresses they gave to the police—were drunken on Sunday night in a piked condition and charged with drunkenness and vagrancy. Yesterday morning they were given an opportunity to leave the city, permanently, or serve jail sentences. They departed. Culpepper declared that "he had been in 39 of the 48 states of the union and had never rode on a passenger train in his life." All three were typical specimens of the hobo family.

Raincoats made from waterproof paper are now on the market. The garments may be folded and carried in the pocket for emergency use, and as they are made to sell as low as twenty-five cents each they are not expected to last long.

Constipation can ruin your health— get permanent relief with Kellogg's Bran

When clean and clear, the intestine is converting wholesome food into vigorous health. But when clogged by constipation, it generates poisons from the obstructed food that can lead to many serious diseases.

Kellogg's Bran sweeps, cleans and purifies the intestine. It has a natural, healthy action. It works exactly as nature acts. If eaten regularly, it is guaranteed to relieve permanently the most chronic case of constipation, or your grocer will return your money.

Results with Kellogg's Bran are sure, for Kellogg's is ALL bran. Nothing but ALL bran can be 100 per cent effective. That is why Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled, is endorsed by doctors everywhere. Eat it and you need never take another habit-forming drug or pill.

GAME CLUBS PLAN MEETING OCTOBER 7TH

Conservation To Be Keynote of Grand Rapids Meeting

Grand Rapids, Mich., Sept. 29.—Perhaps the most important gathering of sportsmen in Michigan will occur here Tuesday, Oct. 7th, when the annual convention of the Michigan Game Protective Association is called to order in the Panslind Hotel.

Headlined by the personal appearance of John B. Burnham, of New York, president of the American Game Protective Association, the congress sessions are being planned to be the most interesting and at the same time the most beneficial in the brief history of the association.

Chief among the things to be discussed by the 500 or more delegates and sportsmen who are expected to attend will be a general revision of the Michigan game laws, providing more protection for certain species of fish and small game. The congress, it is planned, will take steps to increase non-resident and alien hunting and fishing licenses. Also a discussion of proposals for lowering the bag limit on all species of bass and pike to five in a day, is expected to result in some concerted action towards further preserving the stock of these fish in the state.

Lower Limit On Trout

Lowering the big limit on all species of trout, a feasible tag system for protection of partridge, a closed season for brown and black bear, the prohibition of spears, and general prohibition of all kinds of fishing from April 1 to June 14, are other suggestions that will be brought before the Grand Rapids meeting.

Mr. Burnham, the distinguished visitor to the convention, is making his first public appearance in the state at this function. He will address the sportsmen at a banquet to be tendered the delegates and sportsmen at the hotel during the evening. Other speakers of state importance in sportsman circles will be on the program.

The plans now being made by the entertaining body, the West Michigan Game and Fish Protec-

CITY OFFICERS RETURN MONDAY

Harris and Burns Attend International Pow Wow in Canada.

Fred R. Harris, city manager, and Clyde J. Burns, of the city council, returned to Escanaba yesterday from Montreal where they attended the annual convention of the International City Managers' Association. City managers and other municipal officials from the United States, Canada, England, Scotland and Australia were in attendance at the gathering.

Mr. Harris was chairman of one of the round-table discussions which made up the lengthy program. His group discussed "Depreciation of City Property," and Mr. Harris read a paper on the subject. Clifford W. Ham, former city controller here and later city manager of Gladstone, conducted another discussion on "Training for the Profession of City Managers." Mr. Ham is now city manager at Pontiac.

Grand Rapids, Mich., was selected as the place for the 1925 convention, and C. W. Coyner, of Pasadena, Calif., was elected international president.

On their way back to Escanaba, Mr. Harris and Mr. Burns stopped at Lansing, Saturday, where Mr. Harris, as president, conducted a meeting of the executive board of the League of Michigan Municipalities.

ST. ANNE'S PUPILS GIVE FAREWELL PARTY FOR FR. PELISSIER

The pupils of St. Anne's school staged a very prettily arranged farewell program Monday morning at the school in honor of Rev. Fr. A. Pelissier who left yesterday for Munising enroute to his new pastorate at Chassell.

A program was rendered in which the little ones took part and after kind and cheerful words from their beloved pastor the little children bade him a fond farewell.

Monday afternoon male members of the parish, assembled at St. Anne's hall where they invited Fr. Pelissier and where they expressed their sincere regret at his departure. Fr. Pelissier was presented with a substantial purse of money from the men and thanked them for their expressions of friendship and for the gift which he greatly appreciated.

Washington Clinches A. L. Title

WINS WAY INTO WORLD'S SERIES

(By The Associated Press.)
Boston, Sept. 29.—Washington won its first American League pennant by defeating the Red Sox, here today, 4 to 2, and earned the right to meet the New York Giants in the world's series which is to open in Washington Saturday. When the last Boston player was out in the sixth inning and the victory of the Senators was assured, a crowd of 15,000 Boston fans cheered the visiting team as it came from the field. Clark Griffith, the veteran owner, Stanley Harris, the "boy manager," and Walter Johnson, famous pitcher, are who will take part in his first world's series after 18 years in the big leagues, were applauded in turn.

Fred Marberry, relief pitcher of the Senators, who held Boston scoreless for the last six innings today, will be named the hero of this deciding game. He has acted as relief pitcher in all three games played here in this series and has worked in 50 games for Washington this season. Left Hander Zachary was none too effective in the first three innings, but Marberry stopped the Red Sox.

Senators Start Early.
Washington made its bid early for the victory that would give it the pennant regardless of what the New York Yankees do in their double header against Philadelphia tomorrow. Off Curtis Fullerton in the first with two out, Rice singled through short, stole second and went all the way home when O'Neill's wild throw caromed off Lee's glove. In the second the Senators made two runs. Peck singled and scored on singles by Ruel and Zachary. Ruel scored on a third on Liebold's single to left. These three runs off Fullerton were enough, as the event proved, but the Senators added a fourth, off John Quinn in the eighth. Stanley Harris doubled against the left field fence and hit home on a clean single by Rice.

Boston had all its chances early in the game.
Singles by Williams and Wambly led the former home in the first. Veach scored in the third. He singled, Ruel was hit and Lee Harris bunted. Ruel's hard grounder of Zachary's glove let Veach score.

Throughout the game Peck and Stanley Harris played wonderful ball. In the last half of the ninth with one out and pinch hitter Clark on first, Harris picked up Williams' bunt, tagged second and with a quick throw and throw, almost without looking, got the ball to Judge in time to double up the batter and retire the side.

MOUNTAINEERS BEAT ESCANABA ELEVAN, 26-0

The Escanaba Legion football team was defeated, 26 to 0, Sunday afternoon at Iron Mountain by the fast and husky Ford City eleven. Wide end runs, which the locals were unable to check, were responsible for most of the Iron Mountain points, while the Escanaba team showed lack of coordination and team work, which failed to permit the individual football ability of its members to be utilized to good advantage.

A good-sized crowd of Escanaba fans saw the game, which was rough and not unduly spectacular. Local Escanaba tackle, received four broken ribs, while several other players received minor sprains, bruises and injuries which may force some changes in the lineup.
Escanaba plays at Crystal Falls next Sunday.

Michigan Varsity Holds First Secret Practice of Year

(By The Associated Press.)
Ann Arbor, Mich., Sept. 29.—Heavy gates swung shut in the faces of the curious and interested today as Michigan's football squad went into its first secret practice. Only one more glimpse of the buckles in action will be available before Saturday.

Wednesday the bars will be let down in order to allow spectators to witness a scrimmage between the varsity and the reserves.

The "Blues" and "Reds," strong rivals in previous scrimmages, today buried the hatchet and became members of the same unit of the Michigan varsity football squad. Likewise, the two factions forgot the temporary signals which guided their plays during the past and today were given their introduction to a more complete set that will direct their aggressive operations against the season's opponents.

Hornsby Has Set Two New Records

(By The Associated Press.)
St. Louis, Mo., Sept. 29.—Rogers Hornsby, Cardinal second baseman, today took a place beside the greatest hitters in baseball history. In the season closed here yesterday, Hornsby established two new records, one in batting average and the other in leading his league for the fifth consecutive season.

Hornsby finished with 227 hits in 142 games, making a season's average of .4351, four points above George Sisler's mark of two years ago. Sisler had an approximate .420 average, which tied Ty Cobb's record set in 1911, the high water mark of modern baseball.

FOSTER CITY IS VICTOR IN FINAL BATTLE

Foster City made it three straight from Hardwood Sunday afternoon, by winning the final baseball game of the season, 12 to 7. Effective pitching by Jake Bink, and hard hitting by Frank Nault, were the major factors in Foster City's victory. Four scratch hits in the first inning produced four Hardwood runs. After that Bink allowed only three blows and he struck out 15 batters. For Hardwood, Chellette and Steve Charlevoix were the stars.

YOUNGSTER TO MATCH MINDS WITH M'GRAW

association, and 12 in the National League preceded the city's entry into the American League in 1901, a year after that circuit was launched. Under Clark Griffith, now part owner and president, the club did its best work in 1912 and 1913, when it finished second, behind Boston and Philadelphia, respectively. Otherwise Washington has been a chronic tailender, getting out of the second division in only four other seasons, outside of 1924, and all told, finishing 11 times in last place and nine times in next to last position.

CAPITAL CELEBRATES

Washington, Sept. 29.—Debonair Washington celebrated tonight in main-street fashion its first American League pennant.
A driving rain could not drown out enthusiasm. Water-soaked street urchins were no more excited than dignified governmental officials.
A pouring rain throughout the afternoon found the usual crowds in front of the half-dozen scoreboards. Muffled in rain coats or from under umbrellas, the Washington fans, thousands of them, forgot the wet and rooted like college boys.
A wild outburst of cheering and shouting greeted the flash that told of Washington's victory over Boston—and the pennant. Umbrellas were tossed in the air, traffic cops stopped traffic, and the White House forgot the wheels of government to send a telegram of congratulations to the Washington team.
All over the city tonight baseball talk was humming. Cigar stores, hotel lobbies, fashionable cabarets—everywhere it was baseball.
Washington, excited and happy, gurgled like a two-year-old over his first toy.

Waited Long Time.

Since the day when Ban Johnson organized the American League a score of years ago, the capital city has waited and hoped for today. And now that the long coveted pennant has been won, Washington, after its first outburst of cheering, has also heaved a sigh of relief—the 1924 season with its close finish, was a nerve frizzling season for the Washington fans.
Word of today's victory few over the city. Mrs. Coolidge was one of the first to hear it at the White House and gave the tidings to the president.
The telegram, from the executive mansion which was signed by C. Bascom Slemm, secretary to the president, and addressed to Manager Harris, read:
"Heartiest congratulations to you and your team for your great work in bringing Washington its first pennant. We of Washington are proud of you and behind you. On to the world's championship."
Plans are being pushed to add the finishing touches to the welcome the city will give the team when it returns Wednesday.

GREAT WORK.

With a view to guiding the cook to selection of a quilter summer hat than she had worn the previous summer, Mrs. Smith spoke of some violets she had seen in a milliner's window.
"They're almost exactly like those in our garden, Mary," she said. "You've seen those often."
"Indeed I have, mum," returned Mary. "I was after waterin' them this very mornin'." Ain't it wonderful, how natural the Lord can make them?"—Continental.

MOVE FOR NEW PARTY HALTED

Can't Get Names Printed on Ballot for November Election.

(By The Associated Press.)
Lansing, Mich., Sept. 29.—A reported new party movement, to place some of the candidates who were defeated in the recent primary in the field in the November election, came to light today and immediately apparently collapsed when Daniel W. Tussing, who visited the secretary of state's office to find out whether a slate of candidates could be printed on the November ballots was informed that it could not.

Little official information was available. Tussing, who ran in the primary for the Republican nomination for United States Senator, and who was credited with having the backing of the Ku Klux Klan, refused to comment.

From other sources, it was rumored that semi-official county conventions or conferences have been held in various places and that Mr. Tussing might have seen the proposed new organization's senatorial candidate, that G. E. McArthur's name might have been suggested for secretary of state and that James Hamilton or Frederick W. Perry might have been the gubernatorial nominee.
Whether any dry organizations or Republican leaders were affiliated was undetermined.
Whether any further attempt to organize is not known. Neither could any one be found in a position to state whether any or all of these candidates might enter the November election on sticker campaigns.

Party Illegal.

In other words it would have been necessary for the proposed new organization to have completed its state central committee and named a chairman in 1923, in order to hold a convention and nominate candidates this year. The department also ruled that it would be impossible for a convention, even if held now, to nominate candidates chosen in the primary. In the case of vacancies left by the primary it is up to the state central committee to fill in a name, and this committee, to name a candidate, must have been formed in 1923.

Democrats Meet in Grand Rapids Next Wednesday

(By The Associated Press.)
Lansing, Mich., Sept. 29.—Michigan Democrats will meet in Grand Rapids Wednesday to complete their slate of candidates for the November election and adopt a platform. The convention will probably be preceded by conferences Tuesday night and perhaps a general pre-convention meeting to be addressed by some nationally known speaker.
There are better than the usual prospects of fights in the Democratic gathering. The Wayne county delegation is on record as favoring a moist plank. The Democrats have Dean Mortimer E. Cooley as their candidate for United States Senator, and he has been tentatively accepted by the drys while the Republican candidate has been styled a wet. If Democrats are to introduce their wet proposal, the party leaders will immediately view the move with alarm, because it might hurt the chances of landing a Democratic senator in Washington with the aid of some Republican dry votes. The wet plank, if it is suggested, will be met with stern resistance. There is little likelihood that it will be adopted but it may provide a battleground.
Klan Issue Feared.
The Ku Klux Klan issue that disrupted the party's national convention, is also a bug-a-boo for the leaders. They hope it will not bob up, but admit that an effort may be made by the Anti-Klan forces to have it condemned.
The convention is to choose four candidates—secretary of state, attorney general, auditor general and state treasurer. Choices for the nominations were endorsed in the party's pre-primary conference last spring, but only two of the four are now definitely in a position to accept. They are Frank W. Merriek, of Huron county, former state treasurer, as the nominee for that office, and M. N. Kennedy, of Kalamazoo, for auditor general. Harry White, of Grand Rapids, who was endorsed for secretary of state, is running for congress, so some one else will have to be chosen. The names suggested include Alva Cummins, of Lansing and James Balch, of Kalamazoo, and there is some sentiment for a woman candidate. Howard W. Cavanaugh, of Battle Creek, surrendered his endorsement for attorney general when he got into the race for the congressional nomination. He was beaten in the congressional race, and may again be chosen as the party's candidate for attorney general.

SOME JUMP.

A man came running down the pier just as the steamer was starting. The boat having moved off, he leaped eight feet, he took a flying leap and landed on the steamer head first. He lay stunned for two or three minutes, and when he came to the boat had gone nearly a quarter of a mile. Raising his head and looking back, he exclaimed: "What a jump!"—Washington Star.

ONE THING CHEAP.

Every mile of road built and maintained by the government and the various states costs each of us only .0015 part of a cent annually, say government statisticians.

A seven to five bet—
When you pay five dollars for a Gordon hat you get the long end of the bet.

STATE'S CROPS ARE IRREGULAR

Detroit — Michigan's "good" crops this year, a late September survey of the State Board of Agriculture shows, are spring wheat, oats, barley, buckwheat, hay and grapes. The "bad" crops include sugar beets, corn, potatoes, beans and several others.

The condition of corn is rated at 20 percent below last year and 17 percent below the 10 year average. A crop not in excess of 30,000,000 bushels is regarded as a conservative estimate.
Michigan's spring wheat production is estimated at 138,000 bushels, 18,000 more than a year ago. The state has produced an excellent crop of oats this year, aggregating 58,825,000 bushels. This is about 10,000,000 bushels greater than last year's crop.

Barley Better.

The barley crop has averaged 13 percent better than a year ago, with an estimated production of 4,018,000. The condition of buckwheat is six percent above that reported a year ago at this time and three percent above the 10 year average.

Blight and Anthracnose Prevalent.

The blight and anthracnose became prevalent in the bean crop following the August report, inflicting marked injury. The prospects are for a crop of a million bushels under for a year ago. The crop has matured slowly.
Hay will run 150,000 tons more than a year ago, with an estimated crop of 4,052,000 tons.

Field Peas "Good."

Conditions have been favorable for field peas, with the crop running 19 bushels to the acre for a total crop of 494,000 bushels. The condition of sugar beets dropped to 33 percent, now being equal to a year ago. A large growth of tops has been the rule, with the roots below normal size.
Forty-six percent of a full crop of apples is predicted, a heavy windstorm in August sweeping Allegan, Berrien and Van Buren counties, doing much damage. The peach crop is about 29 percent of normal, while pears are also light. Plums are somewhat better than a year ago, with grapes showing an excellent outlook for quantity and quality, although very late in maturing. A yield of 105,089,000 pounds is estimated.
