THOUSANDS IN LINE AT GATE TO BALL PARK

WASHINGTON IS ON EDGE FOR FIRST BIG SERIES.

(By The Associated Press.) Washington, Oct. 2.—The thermometer of excitement in Washington bubbled only a few degrees below the bursting point tonight.

Excitement in the city could not have been more intense. To the news of the expulsion from the National League of the two men was coupled a statement from President Dreyfuss of the Pittsburgh Pirates that they were only the go-betweens in the scandal and another statement from President Ban Johnson of the American League that it might be advisable to call off the series.

Many Seek Seats. With this taking place thousands of Washingtonians stormed in front of the gates at Griffith Stadium clamoring for seats, and the internal revenue bureau got busy to suppress an epidemic of ticket scalping that was alleged to have broken out in the downtown section of the city.

In all the city apparently only two men retained their composure—Clark Griffith, president, and "Bucky" Harris, manager of the Senators. At the ball park this pair were as calm as if pennants were won every day.

Throughout the day baseball fans from all parts of the country began to pour into the city. With Judge Landis and President Heydler already here other officials of the game were enroute to the city, and hotels were beginning to feel the pressure of the incoming crowd.

Giants Arrive. The Giants arrived tonight and added all that was needed to make Washington the center of the baseball world. They were hurried to the Wardman Park Hotel which will be the team's headquarters.

Judge Landis today inspected the grounds of Griffith Stadium and placed his stamp of approval on the arrangements that have been made for the series. He examined the seats which have been added at every available place in the park and pronounced all to be satisfactory.

Clark Griffith made another inspection of the park later in the day to speed workmen who are putting up the grandstands.

Sokolowski States He Isn't Bankrupt

(By The Associated Press.) Detroit, Oct. 2.—Nicola Sokolowski, president of the Perpetual Endowment Society of Detroit, so-called love lottery, told Prosecuting Attorney Paul W. Voorhees today that he received offers of sufficient funds during his trip to New York to pay all debts and continue operating the organization.

During his absence from Detroit suspicions that all was not well with the society caused several of Sokolowski's clients to enter complaints of fraud, but the prosecutor declined to issue a warrant on the ground of insufficient evidence.

WORLD SERIES TO BE PLAYED, LANDIS STATES

Johnson - Dreyfuss Are Opposed To This Move

(By The Associated Press.) Washington, Oct. 2.—The 1924 world's series will go on notwithstanding that baseball was shaken to its foundations today by a whirlwind succession of developments growing out of the attempt of Jimmy O'Connell, young New York outfielder, to bribe Heinie Sand, Philadelphia shortstop, in the game that decided the National League pennant race for the Giants.

This was the declaration tonight of Kenesaw Mountain Landis, high commissioner of baseball. It was made after a hectic day during which fresh charges were flung by O'Connell, who has been banished for all time from the game together with Cozy Dolan, Giant coach, accused of instigating the bribery plot, and during which prominent baseball officials, including President Ban Johnson of the American League and President Barney Dreyfuss of the Pittsburgh club, asserted the series should be called off as a result of the scandal.

Landis Unmoved. Unmoved apparently by the day's developments, and declining to amplify the statement he issued late last night in New York disclosing the plot and debarring Dolan and O'Connell, the commissioner declared he saw no prospect of developments that would prevent the start of the championship battle Saturday between Washington's first pennant winner and the Giants.

Furthermore, the commissioner indicated he had no new evidence calculated to widen the scope of the attempted bribery deal, a possibility brought to the fore today by O'Connell's reiteration that the Giants were "all in it," and the specific mention of three veterans, George Kelly, Frank Frisch and Ross Young.

Start Play Saturday. "So far as I am concerned, no cloud now hangs over any member of the Giant team eligible to play."

The cause of his death was not determined. Officers are searching for relatives.

League Assembly Concludes Session

ADOPTION OF PROTOCOL IS CHAMPIONED

ECONOMIC PROBLEMS FEATURE ENTIRE CONFERENCE.

(By The Associated Press.) Geneva, Oct. 2.—The fifth assembly of the league of nations ended its labors today by unanimously adopting a resolution recommending that all states accept the protocol of arbitrations and security.

Apart from the elaboration of the protocol for the peaceful settlement of international disputes, the outstanding feature of the sessions was the insistence of the delegates that economic problems, popularly regarded as belonging exclusively to the domestic jurisdiction of states, must be solved on an international basis.

Erudite War Causes. The idea behind the movement, as explained to The Associated Press correspondent by the jurists tonight, is that the league of nations, having decided to outlaw all war, must logically turn its attention to all possible causes of conflict and endeavor to eradicate them.

Therefore, I, as the mayor of the City of Escanaba, suggest and urge that business houses, public buildings and the schools of the city be closed between the hours of 12 p. m. and 4 p. m. next Tuesday, so that all may witness the exhibition these major league stars.

LaFollette Hit In Addresses of General Dawes

(By The Associated Press.) Kansas City, Mo., Oct. 2.—Success of Senator LaFollette's campaign for the presidency means chaos in government, in business, in labor and on the farm, Charles G. Dawes, Republican candidate for vice-president, declared today in a series of campaign speeches enroute here to address a Republican mass meeting tonight in Convention Hall.

Crowds larger than those on any of his previous speaking tours greeted Mr. Dawes at Davenport and Muscatine, Iowa, and Trenton, Mo., where platform speeches had been scheduled and hastily assembled smaller groups heard him attack the LaFollette movement at Rock Island, Ill., Fairfield, Ia., and Princeton, Mo.

Arriving in Iowa early in the day, Mr. Dawes found almost the sole topic of discussion among Republican leaders to be the letter written by Senator Smith W. Brookhart of that state to Republican Chairman Butler, requesting that steps be taken to remove Mr. Dawes from the party national ticket. He did not mention the Brookhart letter directly in any of his Iowa speeches but at Davenport made a reference which was generally construed as pertaining to Mr. Brookhart's demand.

"I am not descending to personalities in this campaign," he said, "but I fired into a flock of political pee-wits out here and some of the wounded birds are fluttering. Perhaps you can identify them—I don't know."

U. S. MUST BUY SECURITIES OF DEBTOR POWERS

This Is Message Given Bankers at Their Closing Session.

(By The Associated Press.) Chicago, Oct. 2.—A note of confidence in the business future of the next few years, with a word of caution about the part the bankers must play in prosperity, was sounded today at the closing session of the American Bankers' Association convention by George Woodruff of Chicago in address before the clearing house section.

"Now that we are a creditor nation," said Mr. Woodruff, "the purchase of foreign investments is essentially, in order that our tariff may continue to operate to our advantage. Foreign purchasers can only repay us in gold, goods or securities. They have almost no gold, we do not care for much of their goods in competition with our home markets, so we must accept their securities so they can pay their debts to us in American dollars."

Sufferers Come Back. "After practically all of the great wars of modern times we have found that the countries that suffered the most in the war became more prosperous within a decade than the countries that suffered the least. This has been due, of course, to the fact that the countries that suffered the most have come out of the war with their costs reduced and their labor wages at a low point, while the countries that suffered the least have come out of the war with a burst of temporary prosperity and with costs and wages at a very high point."

The old order has always been a breeder of chaos, Thomas Branch McAdams of Richmond, Va., former president of the association, told the delegates.

U. S. Is Wealthy. "From a cold business standpoint," Mr. McAdams continued, "we find ourselves a nation with $10,000,000,000 of past due and unfunded accounts receivable. What chance have we to collect this principal or interest unless we assist in the rebuilding of the business of our debtors, that they may be restored both in spirit and financial strength to such an extent as will enable them to make a satisfactory settlement? Unless we so stabilize international affairs that industry abroad may again become normal?"

"The energy spent by the Dawes committee will have been wasted unless there can be created a reasonable confidence in the stability of European affairs thru the elimination of the possibility of war."

Dawes To Dawn. "Yet it is not a far cry from Dawes to dawn. The Dawes plan may become in reality the dawn of a new era if America will but take her place at the side of other nations in carrying forward the work of the world in the day now breaking."

Officials Reach Agreement; Both Well Satisfied

(By The Associated Press.) Philadelphia, Oct. 2.—Mayor W. Froeland Kendrick, and Director of Public Safety Butler cleared up their differences in a brief conference in the mayor's office at the city hall. Satisfaction with the result was expressed by both officials.

"I was greatly pleased at my conference with the mayor," Director Butler said. "He treated me just as I hope I will be strong enough soon to treat my subordinates."

DELAND WON'T ACCEPT SLATE OF NEW PARTY

Leaders Plan For Institution of Suit, Report

(By The Associated Press.) Lansing, Mich., Oct. 2.—The progressive Republican party, a new organization which today attempted to place a slate of candidates for state office on the ballots for the November election was halted by Secretary of State Charles J. Deland. He informed the leaders of the movement that they cannot legally put their candidates in the running.

The apparent object of the new party was to rejuvenate some of the candidates who were defeated in the recent primary election and who were credited with having the support of the Ku Klux Klan. Daniel W. Tussing, of Lansing, who ran for United States senator in the primary, was proposed as a candidate for governor on the new ticket. Luren D. Dickinson, who was defeated for lieutenant governor in the primary, was the choice for United States senator, and G. Elmer McArthur, said to have been the Klan candidate for lieutenant governor in the primary, was proposed again for the same office. Other candidates offered by the so-called progressive organization were: Mrs. Thomas Jameson, Wayne county, secretary of state; J. T. Hurd, Davison, state treasurer; Abner Dilley, Grand Rapids, attorney general.

The secretary of state ruled that the candidate for senator, governor and lieutenant governor, must be named in the primary to be legally qualified. All of those on the new party slate were defeated in the primary. The rest of the party slate, according to the claims of the new party, were named in a state convention in Detroit, September 30, but Deland held that there was no proof of the party organization or the state convention and decided that the department of state could not certify the candidates for the ballot.

School's Housekeeper Shackled Young Girl for Failure to Work

(By The Associated Press.) Syracuse, N. Y., Oct. 2.—Miss Madeline Stanton, 19, Astoria, Long Island, walked into the police station here this morning, her feet chained together. She said she had been put on by a housekeeper at the George Junior Republic at Freeville, today issues a statement in which she said Miss Stanton had begged for admittance to the Republic to work her way and was accepted. She did well until last Wednesday when she became "unmanageable and abusive," he said, and consequently she was taken to the girls' jail, placed in an ordinary room and shackled.

The girl said she escaped from her room last night by sliding down a rope. A motorist whom she told of her predicament brought her to the Syracuse police station.

CROWDS GIVEN MANY THRILLS AT AIR RACES

Jones Is Winner in Two of Day's Events; Gets $2,000.

(By The Associated Press.) Dayton, O., Oct. 2.—Marked by close finishes and enlivened with the antics of daring stunt fliers, the first day's program of the international air races was presented at Wilbur Field today before a crowd estimated unofficially at 12,000. Thousands of others, however, viewed the events from vantage points around the field.

Charles S. Jones, of Garden City, Long Island, was the winning pilot of the day, coming out ahead in two races, each carrying a $1,000 prize. He easily outdistanced competing planes in the Central Labor Union trophy race and was judged the winner of the "ton-to-dayton" race, scoring 239 points. In the Central Labor Union trophy event, he flew a Curtiss Oriole, maintaining an average speed of 125.65 miles an hour.

Duke Takes Feature. Of first interest, probably, among the three races on today's program was that for the Liberty engine builders trophy which brought eleven evenly matched ships into competition. All were driven by 400-horsepower Liberty motors and all wore DeHavilland specials, 45 and 41 and 41. Lieutenant R. G. Duke, keeping almost an even 130 mile an hour gait, came in first. His mark was closely followed by Lieutenant A. E. Simolin, of Moundsville, W. Va., who flew the 180-mile course at an average speed of 128 miles an hour.

J. G. Vincent, of Detroit, one of the designers of the Liberty motor, when that power unit was developed for American airplanes during the war, witnessed the race from the judges' stand.

The Liberty engine builders race was flown over a 180-mile course in 12 laps. Stunt fliers, who just before the start of the race, had laid down a smoke screen, slowed the race up a trifle by making the

Edward Breitung, Ex-Marquetter, Dead in New York

(By The Associated Press.) New York, Oct. 2.—Edward Nicholas Breitung, capitalist and mine owner, died at his home here today after an illness of nine months. He was head of the firm of E. Breitung and Company, president of the Neegaunee Bank, Neegaunee, Mich., vice president of the Marquette Savings Bank, Marquette, Mich., owner and operator of the Mary Charlotte Mining Company, the Breitung Hematite and Lucky Star mines.

Mr. Breitung was born in Marquette in 1881, and was the son of the late Edward Breitung, prominent mine owner.

Workmen Killed in Strike Zone Fight

(By The Associated Press.) Tampico, Oct. 2.—Several workmen have been killed in a clash between strikers and soldiers guarding the property of the Mexican Gulf Oil Company. The strike at this plant has been in progress for some time and a general strike has been declared.

Administration of Big Estate Handed to Security Trust

(By The Associated Press.) Detroit, Oct. 2.—Judge Arthur Webster in circuit court today appointed the Security Trust Company administrator of the $2,000,000 estate of the late Thomas W. Corby, Grosse Pointe resident. He set aside an order of Judge Edward Command of the probate court which named the Union Trust Company administrator, ruling that under Michigan law children whose parents are dead have prior rights over other heirs.

The Security Trust Company was appointed administrator on the petition of the attorney for Marie Therese Corby, five year old daughter of Mr. Corby. Judge Webster granted a 30 day stay of proceedings on his order so that it may be appealed to the supreme court. The stay was granted on motion of attorney for Charles Corby, one of the 14 claimants to the estate. Counsel for the estate in the legal battle over the portion of the estate accorded an important point today when Judge Webster refused to admit money questioning the legitimacy of the child and a certified copy of her birth certificate, showing her birth certificate showing child as the legitimate daughter of the late Thomas W. Corby.

PARTY CHIEFS ARE QUICK TO MAKE DENIALS

WANT CONGRESS TO NAME PRESIDENT, BUTLER SAYS.

(By The Associated Press.) Washington, Oct. 2.—A coalition between Democratic and LaFollette forces, particularly in western states, with the evident purpose to force the election of a president into congress, was charged here today by William M. Butler, chairman of the Republican national committee.

The logical outcome, in the event the election were thrown into congress, Mr. Butler added, would be the election of a president by the senate. For this reason, he added, he considered Charles W. Bryan, Democratic candidate for vice president, perhaps the most important opponent of President Coolidge.

At the same time the chairman predicted the decisive election of the Republican ticket on November 4.

Call On Coolidge. Mr. Butler, with Senator McCormick, of Illinois, conferred with President Coolidge at lunch today at the White House. Mr. Butler said he went over the general political situation with the president and reiterated that he did not believe Mr. Coolidge had changed his plans to remain at the White House throughout the campaign.

The chairman did not go specifically into the evidence which he said he had received of a coalition. It was more or less on the surface, he said, and was evident in the past in some sections as well as in the west.

Characterizing Mr. Bryan as a presidential candidate, Mr. Butler ranked Senator LaFollette next to the Democratic vice presidential nominee as the strongest opponent of the president and John W. Davis, Democratic nominee, last.

The committee chairman was enthusiastic over what he described as an improvement in the party's situation in some of the states in the northwest and added that there was a "marked recession noticeable in several states."

Intensify Campaign. Likewise, Mr. Butler said plans were under way to intensify the Republican campaign between now and election. The character and record of President Coolidge, he said, would be emphasized and this he declared was the major issue of the campaign along with the proposal to limit the powers of the supreme court which he said President Coolidge would not sanction.

Mr. Butler said he had rumors that if he election were thrown into the house some Republicans would vote for Davis if they saw an election there was not otherwise possible and the election of Mr. Bryan appeared likely by the senate. He gave little credence, however, to the reports of a break in the Republican ranks for Mr. Davis and insisted the election would be a definite majority of electors for Mr. Coolidge.

CHARGE "ABSURD." Chicago, Oct. 2.—Lincoln Dixon, western Democratic manager, declared charges of William M. Butler, national Republican chairman, in Washington today that there is a Democratic and LaFollette coalition to force the

ADDRESS COUNTY PROGRESSIVES

Congressman Schneider To Speak at Mass Meeting Tonight.

Congressman George J. Schneider of the ninth Wisconsin district, will be the main speaker at a mass meeting of the Independent Progressive League of Delta County to be held at the Escanaba city hall tonight.

The congressman is known throughout Wisconsin as a speaker of force and marked ability, and will prove well worth hearing. Previous to his election to congress he served for several years as the vice-president of the International Brotherhood of Paper Makers' Union, traveling throughout the United States and Canada in their interests.

The Independent Progressive League, under whose auspices the meeting is being held, is a new organization consolidating the Progressive Voters' Leagues of Gladstone and Escanaba into a county organization, in order that they might function better during the coming campaign.

Officers for this county league, elected recently are as follows: Charles Gogarr, Gladstone, chairman; John P. Henry, Escanaba, vice chairman; Henry Rose, Escanaba, secretary; and C. N. Wood, treasurer.

Show Progress. While not designed definitely to do so, today's program brought before spectators in graphic form the progress that has been made in aviation since the Wright Brothers first flew their crude affair of wires and canvas on the spot where the races are being held.

An exhibition was one of the original Wright planes, carrying a 12 horsepower motor. In comparison, the spectators, saw the great Barling bomber, capable of carrying ten or eleven tons, and weighing that much itself, plowing through the air. While they were viewing the one on the ground and the other aloft, they were told through the scores of loud speakers that an "air pullman" equipped with every luxury, had just arrived from Detroit with eight passengers, making the trip in a little over two hours.

Get Real Thrill. Spectators were given a real thrill in today's stunt program. They saw three airplanes tied together with a cord, circle the field and maneuver without breaking the cord. Captain Burt Skeel, who will fly in the Pulitzer race, did all manner of aerial gymnastics, and Lieutenant W. H. Brookley, of McCook Field, with a speedy vaught tore around almost over the heads of spectators, looping the loop and climbing back up for a bit of smoke writing.

Imbrie's Slayer Is Executed By Persian Soldiers

(By The Associated Press.) Washington, Oct. 2.—The state department was notified by cable today of the execution by a firing squad at Teheran, Persia, of a private Mortez, Persian army transport corps, convicted by court martial of having been implicated in the murder of American Vice Consul Robert W. Imbrie. The execution occurred this morning at the Kasr Kadjar barracks, just outside of Teheran, and "in the presence of the entire garrison."

An interpreter from the American legation witnessed the shooting of the soldier who was arrested soon after the attack on Consul Imbrie and tried before the special military tribunal which investigated Imbrie's death at the hands of a fanatic mob on July 18. Mortez was sentenced to death on August 8, the specific offense of which he was convicted being announced as follows:

"Having incited the mob to kill Vice Consul Imbrie, having disregarded the orders of Second Lieutenant Mustapha Kahn and the non-commissioned officer Mohamed Ali Kahn who three times ordered him to desist and pulled him out of the mob, and having nevertheless persisted in attacking."

"There is no foundation for such a statement," said Mr. Dixon. "He is in desperate circumstances and is trying to make the business men believe that LaFollette has a chance for the presidency in order to scare them to the support of Coolidge. As a matter of fact, Davis has a larger number of certain votes in the electoral college than Coolidge and Davis' chances for election are much better than President Coolidge's today. Any arrangement, direct or indirect of any coalition with LaFollette forces is not only absurd but untrue. Davis is running as the Democratic candidate and will secure the solid support of the Democratic voters."

"NO COMBINATION." Chicago, Oct. 2.—John M. Nelson, national campaign manager for the LaFollette-Wheeler ticket, denied today that any combination existed between the independent forces and the Democratic party to throw the presidential election into the house.

"This is news indeed," said Mr. Nelson upon being informed that William M. Butler, chairman of the Republican national committee, had charged that a coalition existed between the LaFollette and Davis people.

"I think somebody is consulting his fears for his facts," he continued. "Perhaps, the Republican headquarters is getting the same reports from the west that we are receiving, but we see no combination on the part of the leaders. We see the inevitable result of the fact that Wall Street has named both Republican and Democratic candidates. What is the natural consequence other than that the progressives of both parties must get together behind LaFollette and Wheeler."

"Undoubtedly, the political winds from the west are blowing our way with increasing strength, but it is a popular movement, free and spontaneous. We are concerned about throwing the election into the house. We agree with both the Democratic and Republican leaders that that at least is assured. Now the fight is on between Coolidge and LaFollette for election."

W. G. Thick Named to Library Board, Succeeds Houston

Discussions at last night's regular meeting of the city council were confined, for the most part, to general policy matters, and to the observations made previously in the day on the annual fall inspection tour of the city. Announcement was made that lighting fixtures for North 11th street have been ordered and will be erected this fall, and that several new drinking fountains to be installed on down-town corners also are on their way to Escanaba. Appointment by Mayor W. J. Hanrahan of W. G. Thick to be a member of the Carnegie library board, was confirmed by the council.

Loaned Pothier Ammunition and Pistol—Kreutz

(By The Associated Press.) Tacoma, Wash., Oct. 2.—That he loaned Roland R. Pothier his pistol and ammunition on the morning of the day Major Alexander P. Cronkrite died from a bullet wound on the Camp Lewis reservation, was the testimony of Dr. George C. Kreutz of LaCrosse, Wis., this afternoon, in the trial in federal district court here of Pothier, who is accused of slaying the major.

Dr. Elmer W. Seaburg, of Peoria, Ill., at the time of Major Cronkrite's death a 1st lieutenant with the 213th engineers, testified he reached Major Cronkrite about the time he was breathing his last. He did not attend the major personally, he said, and did not know for ten or fifteen minutes after he saw the major reclining, supported by Captain Robert Rosenbluth, that he had been shot.

Offering of the issue will be made by Kuhn, Loeb and Company tomorrow through a nation-wide syndicate.

This information was contained in apparently authentic reports from Sunkiang, normally a city of 50,000, received in Shanghai this morning. The Chekiang defense forces south of Sunkiang, entrenched and waiting for the Kiangsu attack, were said to number about 6,500.

JEWELRY STORE ROBBER TAKEN

Window Burglary Nearly Year Ago "Cleaned Up" by Police.

Peter "Fole" Ritel, a wandering woodsman, is in the county jail awaiting a preliminary examination in Judge James S. Doherty's court on a charge that he smashed the window of the Blomstrom & Peterson jewelry store, Nov. 21, 1923, and stole watches, rings and other jewelry valued at $2,100.

Ritel was arrested upon his return to this city, ignorant of the fact that the police department had been searching throughout the upper peninsula and northern Wisconsin for him for several months. He was arraigned immediately before Judge Doherty, entered a plea of not guilty, and his bonds were fixed at $5,000. He was unable to find a bondsman.

Some Jewelry Recovered.
Some of the jewelry has been recovered by the police from persons to whom Ritel sold it. Information which probably will lead to the recovery of other stolen articles is in the possession of the officials and probably will be returned.

Information that Ritel was offering for sale some of the stolen goods was given to the police last July by a man to whom Ritel admitted his part in the robbery. The police immediately started a search. The trail led through Ironwood and Hurley, back into Michigan and again across the line into Wisconsin. On several occasions members of the department, following the man, missed him by only a few hours. Learning, a week ago, that Ritel was expected to return here, the police waited for him and the arrest was the result.

Jewelry recovered has been positively identified by its owners and the purchasers, also have identified him as the man who disposed of it, according to the officers.

Other Alleged Activities.
Ritel lived for a time, last fall, at a hotel in the Chicago & North-Western railway station district, and operated for several weeks, a clever system of sneak thievery in the building, the police declare. With a small gimeter, they explain, he bored a hole through the doors so that the bolts, fastening on the inside, could be slipped back and the door opened while the occupant of the room was sleeping. In this manner, according to the officers, he perpetrated a number of robberies before the system was discovered.

Ritel, thus far, has not been questioned by the officers. He is alleged to have related to others, who will be used as witnesses, that he pushed the show-window glass in with his shoulder and carried away all the jewelry he could reach, first making certain that the patrolman on the beat was at the farthest point from the store. The police officers who have worked without a letup for nearly a year on the case, are confident that the case against Ritel is of the "open and shut" variety.

Iron Trade Review

Cleveland, Ohio, October 2.—Iron Trade Review today says: Further progress has been made in establishing new methods of quoting steel in place of a general Pittsburgh base, now abandoned by governmental order but apparently much is yet to be done before the market can be restored to a settled basis and confusion disappears. The Steel Corporation has gone ahead with its readjustment and now is following a new pricing procedure in wire products, tubular goods, sheets, tin plate and cold finished steel.

Independent companies have been feeling their way and the larger interests have been gradually conforming their quotations to the new bases adapted by Steel Corporation mills. Where plants are located in the Pittsburgh area, the former Pittsburgh base usually is named; elsewhere, a mill price is quoted in terms of Pittsburgh so that buyers have reaped little or no advantage in price reductions. Many of the smaller independent companies are expressing concern over the possibilities of injury to themselves from localized buying and ruinous competition induced by the new conditions. Should these results be borne out, the only remedy they see is by way of consolidations and some preliminary talk of this kind already is being heard.

The Steel Corporation plants apparently have been profiting from their definite price announcements and have enjoyed good bookings while independent companies, holding back to get their bearings, have experienced a falling off in tonnage. The best reports of improvement come from the Chicago district where new inquiry is declared to be the heaviest in two years. A remarkably large order for 80,000 tons of tin plate placed with the American Sheet & Tin Plate Co. will enable an immediate increase in production.

Pig iron production in September established a good gain according to preliminary reports to Iron Trade Review from companies operating more than 70 per cent of the country's capacity. These companies show a gain of 17 active furnaces and of 15.7 per cent in output over August and on this basis a production of approximately 2,085,000 tons for September is indicated. The increase of August over July was 6 per cent.

Demands for steel by the railroads still furnish the outstanding news of the market. Car orders in September exceeded 23,000, the largest month of the year excepting March. Prospects of continued heavy buying are good as 26,000 cars now are pending before western builders. The New York Central is to award 75,000 cars and 58 locomotives and the Baltimore & Ohio may place 8000 cars. The Reading distributed the past week 2000 and probably will buy 2000 more. The Wheeling & Lake Erie wants 1200. New rail orders include 62,000 for the Louisville & Nashville and the Illinois Central 15,000 tons additional.

Softness in steel prices has caused Iron Trade Review composite of fourteen leading iron and steel products to slip again this week to $38.67. This compares with $38.87 last week, $40.13 three months ago and $44.23 one year ago.

September Chilly Month, Records of Weather Man Show

The month of September was one of the coldest Septembers on record at the local weather bureau. The mean temperature for the month was 53, as compared with a normal for the month, shown by the records kept for 53 years, is 57.1. Twice, since 1871, has the thermometer maintained a lower average in the month. In 1918 the mean was 51, and in 1873, it was 52. The 53 figure has been tied three times, the Septembers of 1875, 1883, and 1899 showing the same as was shown last month.

The month had 13 clear days, 8 were partly cloudy and 9 were cloudy. Total rainfall for the month was 2.42 inches, of which 1.29 inches fell on September 21. It was accompanied by a 35 mile wind, the strongest of the month. There was rain on 8 days.

The first nine months of the year have averaged 2.2 lower daily temperatures than the 53-year normal.

Sleet was reported on the 5th, light frosts on five days and a heavy frost on one—the 30th. No killing frosts were recorded.

How many women do you know who are one hundred per cent efficient? That means every nerve and sinew of the body pulsating with life and health as nature intended. BOY WHO SPENT $300,000 IN 90 DAYS PLANS COMEBACK

CHARLES GRANT MYERS II By NEA Service

Plainfield, N. J.—He spent $300,000 in three months. He found that in 12 brief weeks he could crash the gates of society and be dining with princes and princesses.

Then, his fortune dissipated, Charles Grant Myers II, 21, disappeared. Now he has been found living here in seclusion.

How did he spend it? Very simply, if you note these items: $22,000 for a specially built automobile; $18,000 for a country car; $40,000 for a fur coat, and $36,000 for two precious stones. He entertained a millionaire party at the Saratoga races and gave a dinner in honor of the Prince and Princess of Saxe. He set himself up in one of the most expensive hotel suites.

Here, in the modest home of his sister, he waits the coming of a second fortune. He will have an income of a mere $50,000 a year from his grandmother's estate.

How does he intend to spend this? "More quietly," he says with a smile. "Not that I regret a dime of the money I spent. It was worth it. I wanted to find out about society and I did. I reached the very social peak. It was money well invested in experience. But I'm going to try to help other people get a chance, too—little charities to worthy causes. I haven't lost all my fair weather friends. I can still visit them."

My Skin

Is due to a super-clay By Edna Wallace Hopper After 40 years in the limelight—after 35 years as a stage star—I still look a girl of 19. The thousands who see me daily know that, and wonder how this came about.

The chief reason lies in a new-type clay. I started years ago with the old-type clays, crude and muddy, which so many still employ. They brought me amazing results. But I have kept in touch with scientific progress, and in 20 years it has brought me a clay which gives multiplied results.

Today I have what experts call the last word in facial clay. It is white, refined and dainty. And it embodies many new discoveries. Until I obtained this, I never knew one-tenth what clay could do.

Now I am supplying this clay to others. I call it, my White Youth Clay. All druggists and toilet counters have it—exactly the clay I use. And I am stating its results to girls who want more beauty and to women who want youth.

My White Youth Clay purges the skin of all that clogs and mars it. It draws out the causes of blackheads and blemishes. It brings the blood to the skin to nourish and revive it. The result is a rosy afterglow which amazes and delights. Many women seem to drop ten years with one application.

It firms the skin, combats all lines and wrinkles, reduces enlarged pores. No girl or woman who once enjoys its results will ever go without it. I want you to know what it does. My good fortune obtained it for me. I was famous as a beauty, so every expert sought to give me the greatest skin to beauty. Now I wish to bring like benefits to millions.

Write me for my Beauty Book and I'll send you something else to please you. Edna Wallace Hopper

L.C. STANGBY PASSES AWAY

Prominent Escanaba Druggist Dies After Year's Illness.

Lewis C. Stangby, for many years associated with the Mead Drug Company, died at 4:20 o'clock yesterday morning at the Delta-Menominee sanatorium at Powers where he had been a patient for nearly a year. His condition for the last ten days had been critical and although it was realized that the end was not realized that the end was so near. He had passed a comfortable night. Death followed a sudden sinking spell which came on without warning.

Mr. Stangby was born in Marinette 41 years ago. He entered the drug business early in life, and was first licensed as a pharmacist in his native state. About 14 years ago he came to Escanaba, entering the employ of the Mead Drug Company. Later he was made secretary-treasurer of that concern.

He was married, two years ago, to Miss Valeska C. Dike, who, with his mother, Mrs. Olivia Stangby, of Wilmar, Minn., survive. The body was brought to the Anderson Funeral Parlors in this city yesterday morning. It was taken last night to the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Voigt, 816 Lake Shore Drive, late yesterday afternoon. Funeral services will be held there at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon with the Rev. A. I. Ernest Boss, pastor of St. Stephen's Episcopal church, officiating. Knights Templar, and members of the Kiwanis club, will serve as pall bearers and honorary escort.

Burial In Oshkosh.

The body will leave at 3:30 o'clock on the Chicago & North-Western for Oshkosh. Services there will be held at the home of Judge Beglinger, 394 Merritt St., and burial will take place in an Oshkosh cemetery.

Few men in Escanaba business circles had as wide a circle of warm personal friends as "Lew" Stangby. His magnetic personality, his kindness and his radiant cheerfulness endeared him to all with whom he came in contact. News of his death was received here with expressions of the most sincere regret.

GRONDIN HURT IN ACCIDENT AT NEWBERRY

Car Turns Over Several Times On Gravel Road.

William Grondin of Seney was severely injured in an auto accident which occurred near Newberry this week.

While turning out for another machine on a gravel road near Newberry, the Grondin Buick car skidded, and overturned several times. The car was badly wrecked, and all of the occupants seriously hurt, and Grondin is reported that he suffered the loss of an eye in addition to other injuries as a result of the accident. The victims received medical attention at Newberry.

LUMBER BOAT GETS STUCK IN CHANNEL

The "J. C. Ford," outward bound, and loaded with a cargo of lumber, became stuck in the channel opposite the dock at Manistique on Wednesday, and required a shifting of the cargo before the boat was able to pull loose and proceed on its way.

The Ford was backing out, after loading in one of the slips, when she ran aground. The delay was not long, however, and a re-piling of some of the lumber enabled the vessel to get started again.

The incident recalled to older residents of Manistique the days when lumber freighter arrivals were more frequent than they are now, and a boatload of lumber stuck in the channel was a common occurrence. In those days, tugs were used to extricate the vessels that ran aground. A story is told of a large vessel, loaded with corn, that put in at Manistique to escape a storm, ran aground, and was torn to pieces in the storm. The corn was strewn along the shore line for some distance, and much of it was salvaged by local people.

VISITS HIS OLD HOME AFTER 31 YEARS' ABSENCE

Visiting his old home in Manistique after an absence of more than 30 years, George E. Lavigne of Longwood, Florida, found that many changes had taken place in this city since his departure.

Mr. Lavigne resided with Rev. Father R. Knapp, then a priest at Manistique, during his boyhood days, and left here at the age of 14. The recent trip was his first visit to the home of his boyhood in about 31 years. He left Florida on September 17, and spent two weeks with friends and relatives at Garden before coming to Manistique. In this city, he was a guest at the home of his brother, Alphonse Lavigne, and his sister, Mrs. A. Rousseau. He also called on many friends he knew in the early days.

Mr. Lavigne is engaged in truck farming at Longwood, and has a prosperous ranch, employing a large force of negro laborers. Duties on his farm prevented him from prolonging his stay in Manistique, and he left here Wednesday, with a promise to return for another visit next year.

Third Chest Clinic Held Here Thursday

For the third time this season, a chest clinic was held at the Court House in Manistique Thursday, and an additional 25 patients were examined by Dr. J. W. Towey of the Powers Sanatorium.

Previous experience had shown that the above number was all that could be taken care of in one day, and appointments were made accordingly. The third clinic was arranged by Miss Sarah Bamrick, county nurse, to accommodate those who had not been able to attend the first two clinics.

The chest clinic is one of the means for preventing the spread of tuberculosis, which is said to have 60 victims in the city of Manistique. Another may be held in the near future.

Planers to Work On Bowling Alleys

A team of bowling alley experts is expected in Manistique this week to carry out improvements at the Brault and Elks' bowling alleys.

The men are said to be adept at repairing alley surfaces, and carry equipment for planing down the bowling floors. After completing work at Brault's, the workmen will go to the Elks' club, where both alleys are to be re-surfaced before the beginning of the Elk bowling season.

MASONIC TEAM LEAVES TODAY FOR NEWBERRY

A score or more of Manistique chapter Masons will leave today for Newberry to confer the Mark Master Mason degree on a class of 15 candidates.

The work will start this afternoon, with one session put on before supper, and the second after supper. The Manistique party plans to return to the city tonight.

BALL CLUB AT MANISTIQUE IS "IN THE CLEAR"

Complete 1924 Season With All Bills Paid.

In spite of poor attendance at some of the home games, baseball came through with a clean slate at Manistique this year, and officials of the club reported yesterday that the last bill had been paid, and a small surplus remained in the treasury.

A final collection of the donations was made yesterday, with the result that every pledge made, save one, was paid over to the club by Manistique business men. Those pledges were made at the beginning of the season, and were not all collected at that time.

The club suffered some financial reverses on account of small crowds, but weathered the summer in fine style, and finished the season as a winning team, crowding the U. P. League leaders for first place.

Dr. Poole Talks On Health Week At Auditorium

Paving the way for the "Keep Well" clinic which will open at Manistique on Tuesday, Dr. Frank Poole of the Michigan department of health has been talking at clubs and schools in the city, and last night delivered an interesting lecture at the high school auditorium.

Two movie films on health topics were also shown. One was entitled: "Our Children," the other "One Scar or Many."

Next week will be "Better Health" week at Manistique, and a general clinic, similar to the one held at Escanaba this week, will be held in the court house. The staff of doctors and nurses from the state department of health who are conducting the clinic will hold one at Germfask on Monday, and will be in this city Tuesday for a four day clinic: Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday.

As has been the case in other cities, it is expected that large crowds will take advantage of these free clinics, and learn the facts regarding the condition of their health. A complete report of the examination will be submitted for each person. Children and adults alike will be admitted.

Many Records Set in 1923 World's Series in Gotham

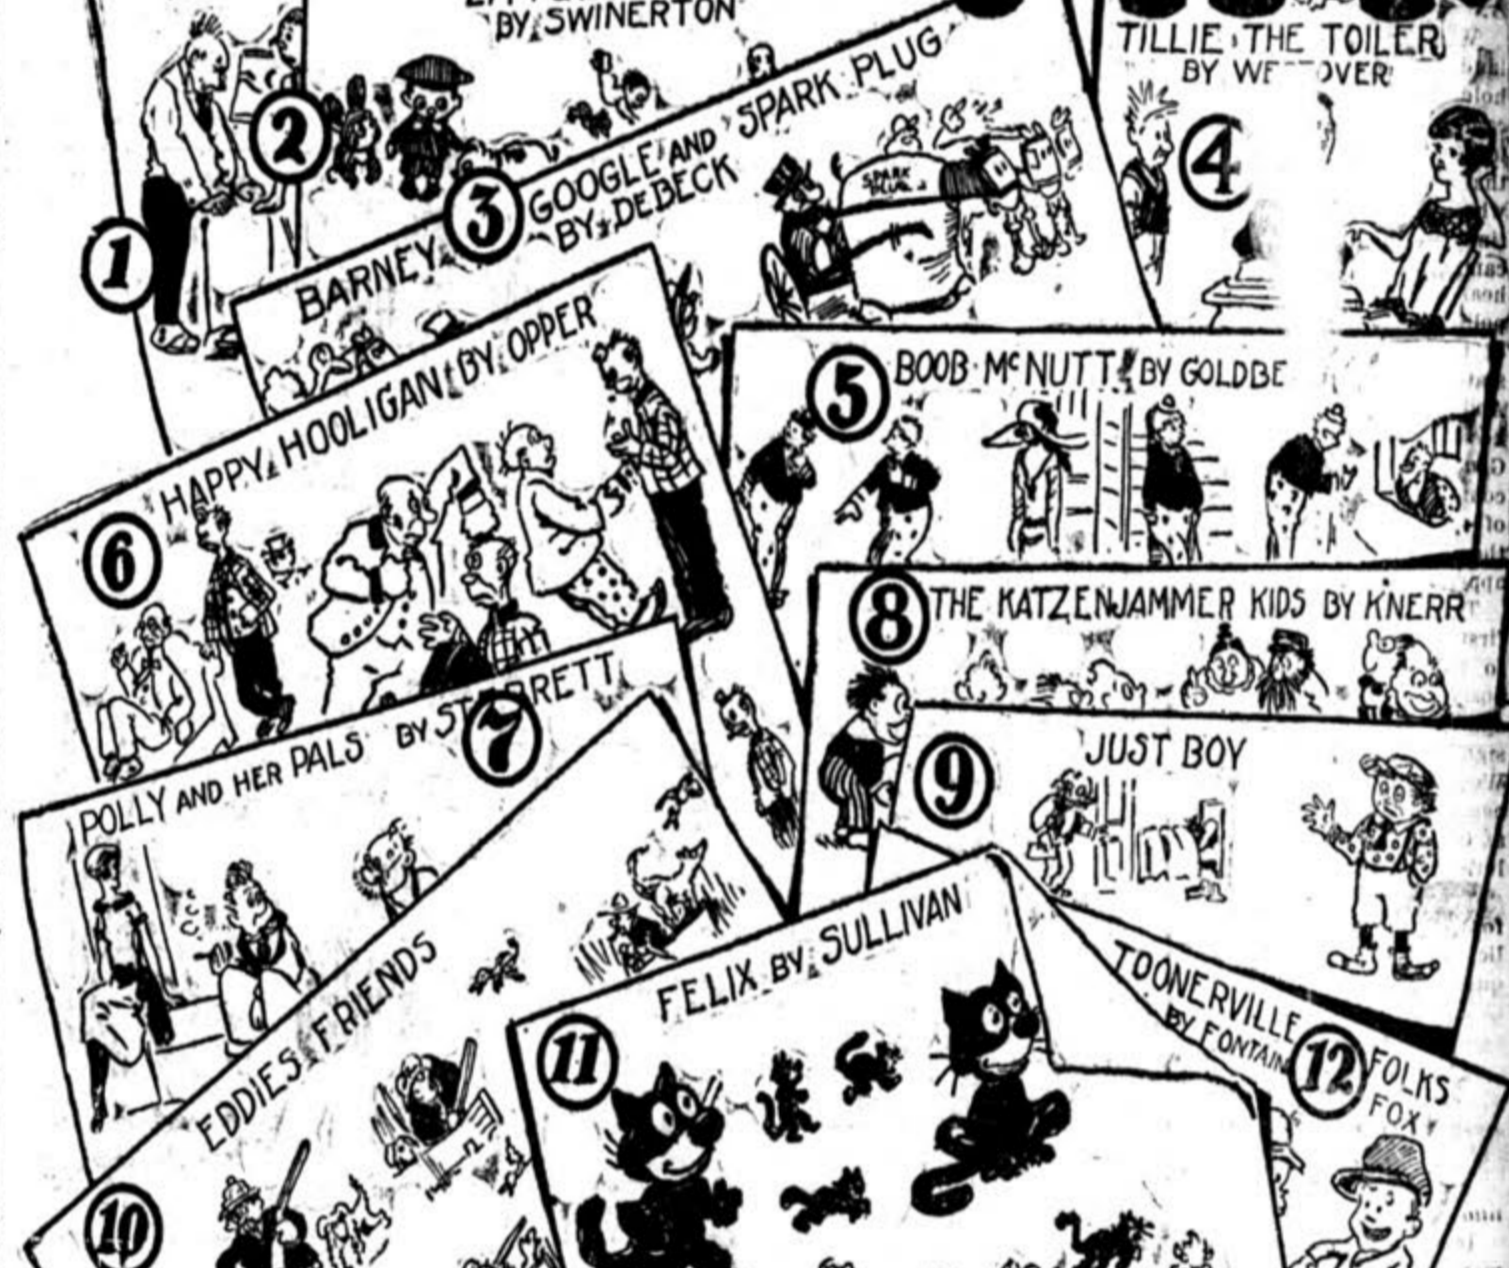

(By The Associated Press.)
New York.—Besides shattering all previous records for attendance and receipts, the world's series of 1923 also witnessed the greatest single attack on playing records of any preceding championship contest. Analysis of the record books reveals that for the period covering the series since 1903, 15 new marks were written in last fall while 12 others were tied.

Babe Ruth figured in ten of the record-breaking or record-qualling performances and now has more to his credit than any other player, holding ten marks outright and tying for five others for the six title engagements in which he has participated since 1915. But it wasn't until last year that the big slugger came into his own as a series hero after being previously somewhat of a "bust."

Ruth bagged or contributed to ward gaining five batting records when he clouted out three homers, including two in a single game, against the Giants in 1923. He now holds marks for the most homers in one series or total series, most total bases in a single series, a single series and total series. He has been passed more than any other series performer but also has fanned the most times.

One pitching record remains to Ruth's credit—a relic of his days as a moundsman with the Boston Red Sox. In the series of 1916 and 1918 with that club he twirled 29 consecutive scoreless innings. Casey Stengel, veteran Giant fielder, while he did not bag many records as Ruth, outdid Babe in spectacular batting in the fall's classic. Stengel won 16 games single-handed with 11 runs, a new record for a single series, and tying the all-time mark of J. Franklin Baker, who the latter was with the old Athletics.

July 1 showed a 19 per cent increase in registrations over that of the same date last year.

REGULATIONS PASSED BY SCHOOL BOARD

Some Teachers Must Have Experience; Condemn Use of Tobacco.

Two rulings, one on the question of smoking on school property and the other on the hiring of home town teachers without at least two years' experience, were passed Wednesday night by the Gladstone Board of Education at its regular meeting.

The first regulation, passed by the board, condemns the use of tobacco in any form on the school property, including the athletic field, which while used by others in the community, is considered school property.

After a warning, a repeated offense of this kind will mean immediate dismissal from school.

This resolution was passed by a board upon the recommendation of Supt. C. H. Teague.

The ruling in regard to teachers states that no home town teachers shall be engaged to teach until they have qualified by two years' experience elsewhere. This, it was said yesterday, has always been an unwritten regulation taken into consideration in selection of teachers followed as closely as possible.

The putting of it into the minutes of the board as a regulation to follow implicitly in the future, was taken last night after thorough discussion of the matter.

It is believed an aid to this regulation will be followed as an aid to the teacher, and the consequence an aid to the efficiency of the teaching staff, it is stated in connection with passage of the resolution. The town is the hardest place for a beginner in any line, it was stated, and this particularly in teaching where the inexperienced teacher is bound to make many mistakes. The securing of experience elsewhere where criticism is less harsh is advisable, it is believed, and this, among other considerations, it was explained, is one of the main reasons for the action taken.

Granted Release.

The board Wednesday night took up three cases in which parents have asked that children be released from the obligation of attending school. One petition, a case in which the student's help was needed, was granted. The other two were denied.

Routine matters, bills and other accounts were taken up and given attention and the meeting adjourned.

WILL MEET SUNDAY WITH CONGREGATION

The meeting of officers of the Presbyterian church with the Rev. J. L. Kennedy of Detroit, field representative of the National Mission, called for tonight, has been cancelled, it was announced yesterday.

In place of this meeting a congregational business meeting will be held Sunday evening at the close of the evening services at the church.

The Rev. Mr. Kennedy will be in charge of both morning and evening services at the Presbyterian church and will speak both in the morning and in the evening. Sunday school classes at the church will be held as usual, in charge of Mrs. Fred G. Forbes.

POURING CONCRETE ON NINTH STREET

Pouring concrete on the first part of Ninth street under construction has been started and curbs and gutters in the last two blocks are now being built by Nebel brothers, contractors.

One half of the pavement is being constructed at a time, with work now under way on the east side. This is being done to make it easier to strike off the concrete with the heavy template being used.

A crew of city workers have been busy removing poplar trees which were in the line of the curbing on the last block. It was also found necessary to move an electric pole.

The work has reached a point now here it is going ahead rapidly with every plan being used in speeding up the construction.

SCHOOLS WILL CLOSE FOR INSTITUTE

Gladstone public schools will close Thursday noon, October 9, for the annual Teachers' Institute at Marquette, which will be attended by teachers from all parts of the peninsula.

Arrangements at All Saints' parochial school in regard to the institute will be made by the Sisters of St. Joseph and will be announced today.

A 100 per cent registration this year, equalling the record set for the Gladstone schools last year was reported yesterday by Supt. C. H. Teague, and it is believed that practically every Gladstone teacher will attend the institute. Those who do not attend will be employed regularly during the two days.

The institute will open Thursday evening and will continue until Saturday noon. The making of the upper peninsula the seventh district in the state association, will give the Marquette institute the same high grade numbers as were arranged for the other districts in lower Michigan and will insure a fine program at this year's institute.

No local or county meeting will be held this year and the Marquette institute will be the only professional gathering of teachers during the year.

INSPECTION MADE HERE BY MARSHAL

City Ready to Observe Fire Prevention Week October 5 to 11.

Following the visit made here Wednesday and Thursday by Deputy Fire Marshal Hutchins of Lansing, who reported conditions in Gladstone meeting all state law requirements, the city will observe its observance of fire prevention week which begins Monday.

The proclamations by the president and the governor have already been made public and a local proclamation by Mayor I. N. Bushong, calling attention to the week, will be issued within the next few days.

The matter will be given general consideration, beginning with Sunday when the clergymen of the city, requested to take up the observance by the city administration, through City Manager F. R. Buechner, will speak on fire prevention week at their services.

The purpose of the week's observance is to eliminate, through prevention, the useless waste of life and property due to fire, 75 per cent of which are estimated as preventable.

Give Attention.

All members of organizations and all civic leaders and every other member of the community will be asked next week to focus attention of national negligence and carelessness and the means which may be taken to overcome this.

Fire prevention week is an observance of great importance and is one in which Gladstone will take part as an entire community as it has in the past.

WED 59 YEARS, WAS ALWAYS IN BY NINE

JOHN ODDO AND HIS WIFE, NINA.

By NEA Service.

New Orleans.—Introducing John Oddo, the model of all model husbands—

He's been married 59 years. And in all that time he's never been out on a solitary night after 9 o'clock—not even when he was doing the sights of "Gay Paree."

Beat that if you can! John's wife is willing to swear you can't. John is 53 now. His wife is 75.

But Mrs. Oddo's eyes twinkle as she tells you the story, as did the eyes of 16-year-old Nina Catalana when she walked to the altar with John Oddo in far-off Contessa Entellina, Sicily, the morning of Sept. 17, 1865.

Four years later, with four babies, they came to New Orleans. The journey, made on a tossing schooner, took two months.

Today the couple has five children, 28 grandchildren and 26 great-grandchildren.

Until 22 years ago, John was a grocer here. And Mrs. Oddo, besides making his home, helped out in the store. Partner and wife!

While in business, both John and "the Missus" were thrifty. So it was easy for them, when they began to get up in years, to quit working. They had enough laid by to let them live comfortably the rest of their days without turning a hand.

But to get back to John's good conduct. You'll be interested in knowing how he's done it—and in having Mrs. Oddo's recipe for keeping him at it.

Better let her talk first. Then give John a chance to get a word in.

"Make them comfortable and love them," says Mrs. Oddo.

"Make their homes so pleasant they can't find any other place half so pleasant.

"That's all there is to it.

"The wives of today—they want too much—and they don't want to give anything.

"Me, I always saw that my husband was well fed and well dressed and his home was attractive and comfortable. There wasn't any place he wanted to go to more.

"Why should he stay out late?"

INSTRUCTOR ENGAGED FOR FOURTH WARD

Miss Lyda Saari of Champion, Mich., who has been assisting this fall as critic teacher at the Northern State Normal at Marquette, has been secured to take the place of Miss Meryl Quinlan, on the teaching staff of the public schools here.

Miss Quinlan was engaged to teach here, but was unable to report because of ill health, and her place at the first and second grades of the Fourth ward school will be filled by Miss Saari.

The new instructor comes here with high recommendations. She is the holder of a life certificate and has had four years' experience in her work.

TRIES KELLOGG'S BRAN—restores health after 12 years of intense suffering

Mr. Firth writes that he suffered for 12 years from constipation and his friend for 10 years—a total of 22 years' suffering permanently relieved by Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled.

Gentlemen:

For 12 years I had been troubled with indigestion caused mostly by constipation. Until about a year ago, I would suffer from 4 to 20 weeks at a time.

I happened to see your Krumbled Bran in a store, purchased a package and got almost immediate relief. I am still eating the Krumbled Bran every day.

The most wonderful result obtained with your Krumbled Bran I will never relate. A gentleman who has been taking medicine for about 20 years for constipation could not find anything to give him relief. Three weeks ago I advised him to try Krumbled Bran, as I had told him what wonderful results I had gotten from it. The gentleman in question purchased a box, and he told me that for the first time in ten years he is regular without taking medicine.

Yours for success,

William Firth, Jr., 14 Volan St., Manhattanville, N. Y.

Eaten regularly, Kellogg's Bran is guaranteed to relieve the most chronic case of constipation, or your grocer returns your money. Eat two table-spoonfuls daily—in chronic cases, with every meal. The flavor is delicious. Try it in the recipe on every package. Made in Battle Creek. Sold by all grocers.

Too Much Furniture Destroys Feeling Of Comfort In Living Room.

Of all the rooms, the living room is most difficult to furnish because of the almost limitless choice of objects suitable for it. Yet if the fundamental purpose of this room be kept in mind, the difficulty of choosing its furniture should be reduced considerably.

That purpose is the facilitation of comfort, rest, ease, entertainment and the pleasures of social contact. Every article in the room, therefore, should help toward the fulfillment of any of these ends. If it doesn't it has no place there.

One thing that should be remembered is that the living room or any other room for that matter, unless one is built especially for the purpose, is not a museum or exhibition hall. Many living rooms of today look like one, with their antiques, bric-a-brac and curios scattered in all corners.

A touch of the antique here or there is pleasing. But not too much of it.

Not Too Much

Neither should the room be clogged with any kind of furniture. In the effort to provide comfort and ease, by adding chairs and lounges, many a housewife entirely destroys the feeling of comfort.

There is nothing so disastrous to the nerves as too much of anything in a room. Therefore, it is a good plan to be sparing in furnishing the living room. It is better to add a chair to a room, if it is needed, than to be forced to eliminate it after having spent time and money shopping for it.

Another point to remember in furnishing the living room is to allow each piece of furniture to display itself to its fullest capabilities. The more furniture you have in the room, the less is this possible. And what's the use of buying new pieces that are hidden away from view and appreciation?

Avoid One Group.

Besides, if a piece isn't needed, it is more than likely that it is rarely used also. Which is a double reason for not including it in the room's layout.

Groups of furniture lose themselves if they are joined too closely. One doesn't know where one ends and the next begins. The entire room becomes one large, unwieldy group—and the hostess has a job on her hands trying to keep her guests in that large group from becoming uneasy.

It is easier to let small groups of visitors entertain themselves than to jumble them together into one confusing crowd. That is

SPAN OF LIFE IS INCREASING

(By The Associated Press.) Louisville, Ky. — Despite a few accident death list caused automobiles the span of life is increasing, Lewis A. De Bois, Washington, Del., president of the National Safety Council, told that organization today.

Safety measures from 1907 to 1923 saved 300,000 lives, he said. At a modest valuation of $2,000 a life, the value for lives saved, non-fatal injuries prevented and property not destroyed amounts to $2,176,000,000, he declared.

"A study of the curve of the accidental death rate in the United States showed a generally declining rate from 85.4 per 100,000 of population in 1901 to 78 in 1908, which was a year of low activity following a financial depression," he continued. "The curve then rises somewhat to a new maximum of 85.3 in 1913. From 1913 on there are indications of profound changes.

"During our war years, 1916, 1917, and 1918, there is a peak reaching the high point of 87.2, but this peak seems to be supported upon a gradual decline of rate commencing in 1914 and continuing to a low mark of 68.7 in 1921. In 1922 and 1923 increases are indicated, to some slight extent due to increasing automobile fatalities. That the decrease in the mortality rate from accidental causes appears to have commended at a time shortly after the conception and organization of the Safety Movement is interesting and, perhaps, significant.

"The instinct of self preservation is essentially selfish but the instinct of self-sacrifice is essentially altruistic and the desire to save human life comes of the latter and not the former. The Safety Movement cannot progress where the actuating body is guided, consciously or unconsciously, by other than altruistic motives or is afflicted with the cancer of craving for priority, recognition and advancement. The Safety Movement is essentially an unselfish movement and could not be otherwise."

Minnesota Line Is Intact; Backfield Needs Filling Out

(By The Associated Press.) Minneapolis, Minn.—A line intact from tackle to tackle, but without the services of experienced ends, as well as star backfield men, including the great Martincau—that briefly is the situation at the University of Minnesota as Coach Hill Spaulding opens his third and final year under his present contract as football mentor.

With the 1923 machine built around Earl Martineau, flashy halfback of All-American fame, the Gopher grid chief is working out an entirely new set of plans for the heavy program of games, the most pretentious schedules in the recent history of Minnesota.

Fourteen "M" men, 13 of them veterans of the 1923 squad, and the other a 1922 casualty reported when the Big Ten practice began September 15. This in addition to some promising young material from Minnesota high schools.

Eight hard games in a row—one game a week—is the program for the 1924 Minnesota eleven. Six of these, including two scheduled Western Conference games, will be played in Minnesota's new $700,000 stadium which has a seating capacity of 55,000 persons.

Minnesota plays away-from-home games with Iowa and Wisconsin, but Michigan and Illinois will visit the new Gopher stadium which will be dedicated at the Illinois game, November 15.

North Dakota comes here October 4 for the first game, and the last game will be with Vanderbilt here November 25. Meanwhile the Gophers will sandwich in contests with Ames and the Hoekel Indians.

Malcolm Graham, youthful quarterback, who showed to good advantage last year until injured at the Michigan games placed him on the hospital list has overcome scholastic difficulties by attending summer school and Minnesota fans expect his playing to go far toward plugging the gap left by the graduation of Martincau.

BILL BRYAN ON DEFENSIVE IN ONE CAMPAIGN

Upholds Party Slate, But West Discounts His Enthusiasm.

Enroute to Salt Lake City, Oct. 2.—William Jennings Bryan, America's oldest political campaigner, who was running for the presidency 28 years ago when the men now in public life were still youths, is making what may be his last active campaign. With characteristic vigor the Commoner is travelling the West he knows so well and giving to John W. Davies an enthusiastic support which permits of no reservation or doubts. Mr. Bryan is speaking to enormous crowds. His powerful voice, his eloquence, his dynamic personality are still as fascinating as they were years ago. He is the symbol of democracy in this part of America and it is not denied even by the republicans that he has made votes for Davies. At least he has kept many wavering ones from going to LaFollette.

Say Bob Is Outsider. It's about the same speech every day but it has a telling effect as usual there are kindly words for an opponent, no assault on character but a scathing denunciation of what seems to him to be the erroneous philosophy of his opponents.

"LaFollette hasn't a chance in the electoral college," explains Mr. Bryan. "He has only a remote chance in the House. Your only way to beat Calvin Coolidge is through John W. Davis. I never called the republicans scoundrels. I know Mr. Coolidge and like him. He is clean in public and private life, of high character and as well meaning as any man who ever occupied the White House. That's his praise of a republican by a democrat. I'll go farther and let any republican go through the dictionary and pick out the best adjectives from A to Z and I'll agree they all fit Mr. Coolidge if I can add just five words—but he is a reactionary."

Praises Others. "Mr. Dawes is just as fine a man. We are good friends and practised law together in Lincoln. We enjoy visiting each other and we wish each other everything but votes. But Dawes is more reactionary than Coolidge, if such a thing is possible. They are in perfect accord. Dawes is articulate while Coolidge is silent. Cal. Dawes says what Coolidge thinks.

"I've known LaFollette for thirty years. I know Bob is Progressive and can prove it by his record. I know Wheeler too. He was originally a republican but came into the democratic ranks during my 1896 campaign and stayed there. He is still a democrat and doesn't deny it although running on another ticket.

"Mr. Davis is as well qualified for the presidency as any man who ever ran. He has had greater experience than any other bearing Jefferson. There is no greater lawyer in the country. He has been president of the American Bar Association; solicitor general for five years—and we never had a better one for law enforcement—and he represented us at the court of St. James. He is a better candidate than I ever was. He is fourteen years older and has that much more experience than I had when I started running for the presidency.

Criticize His Clients. "Why did I oppose him? It was not because of what he said or did that I opposed him but only on account of the positions which he had held and my fear that the presumption which rested on his legal relationships would handicap us in the campaign. I feared the republican papers would attack him because of his clients and try them in the campaign. Now they are doing that, criticizing his clients—not him.

"They don't tell you that he was a country lawyer twenty four years and a corporation lawyer only three or that he was on the people's side five years and on the corporation's side only three. Was he corrupted? I never said he was. I had no knowledge of his views. I know them now for I have talked with him and I know he was never corrupted. He came through fire with no smell of smoke. I talked to him and I knew he was a progressive when I came away. At heart he is with the people and can be trusted by the people.

He's On Defensive. And so the speech runs with a modest reference now and then to the brother, Governor Bryan, and his business ability. "He was not nominated for the vice presidency," remarks the commoner, "because he is my brother. Mr. Davis wanted a running mate from the agricultural West, a progressive and a dry and Governor Bryan is all of them."

There have been campaigns like 1916 when the former Secretary of State, crusading for peace, could arouse intense emotion in the West. He was most effective then. He is still the idol of thousands of democrats who think of him as a good
