DOUBLE PLAYS WON PENNANT

Peckinpaugh and Harris Best Keystone Combination Evans Ever Saw.

BY BILLY EVANS.
Washington has literally double-played itself into a pennant. The great Walter Johnson, with a fine brand of pitching, has done his part.

That remarkable mite of a catcher, Muddy Ruel, has been a big factor in the Senators' success. The wizardry of Manager Stanley Harris, whose clever direction got the most out of his team, was a great help.

However, old Mr. Double Play proved to be the deciding factor in 1924's hectic struggle for the American League championship.

Harris to Peckinpaugh to Judge. Peckinpaugh to Harris to Judge.

Bludge to Harris to Judge. Judge to Peckinpaugh. Many Double-Play Combinations.

There you have just a few of the double-play combinations that made a championship club out of a team that looked just ordinary at the start of the season.

"Peckinpaugh and Harris form the greatest keystone combination that has ever played in the major leagues. Their work around second base is simply uncanny."

So spoke Johnny Evers of the Chicago White Sox after Washington had taken three straight games in the final series in that city. Some compliment coming from Evers of the Tinker to Evers to Chance trio.

In winning that series of three games Washington made a dozen double plays, five of them in one game, equalling the major league record.

Harris Wonder at Pivoting. In every game one or more remarkable double plays shut off Chicago runs that would have changed the result of the game.

Most of the pivoting on double plays is done by the second baseman. Manager Harris of Washington is a wonder at it.

Harris can pivot quickly after taking a fast throw and get more on the ball than any second sacker I have ever seen in action, with the possible exception of Eddie Collins.

Yes, sir! In passing out the glory for Washington's great showing don't overlook Mr. Double Play.

Republican Gains Still Are Reported

(By The Associated Press.)
Washington, Oct. 3.—President Coolidge received several visitors today bearing further messages of Republican gains in the campaign.

The president has held several discussions with leaders during the week, including a conference yesterday with William M. Butler, chairman of the National Republican Committee.

However, he is reported to devote his attention to outside activities. A noon he will deliver an address dedicating the monument to the first division of the A. E. F. Later in the day he will throw out the first ball at the opening game of the world's series.

A Story That We Should Tell To Others

BY WM. E. GIBROY, D. D., Editor-in-Chief of The Congressionalist.

WHERE should we go for the best story of the life of Jesus? Nowhere but to the New Testament itself. Here, in what we call the "Gospels," is at once the simplest, most authoritative, and most beautiful story of all. There may be helps in the

SCANDAL GIVES WAY TO PLAYING OF FIRST GAME

take the field tomorrow was a source of keen speculation.

It was conceivable to observers tonight that the whole outcome of the championship fight might turn on the popular attitude taken tomorrow, for the Giants, though they seemed to have regained their confidence and poise as they went through their final drill today, go into the fray keyed to a high nervous pitch.

The giant morale, it is believed, has been shaken, although the players, after their brisk work-out in the Senator's park declared they would take the field ready to cast aside all thought of the scandal and fight, unhampered for the game's major crown.

Little To Choose. There is little to choose between the two teams. Washington, credited with a more powerful pitching staff, a speedy and versatile attack, will be an aggressive foe under the brilliant leadership of Harris, while the Giants, possessing probably a stronger attack and pitching that may be unexpectedly strong, will rely on the veteran strategy of their leader, McGraw, who this year gained his tenth pennant victory since 1904.

Washington has in Johnson the outstanding moundsman of either club, a pitcher, who, in his 18th successive season with the Senators, has hung up one of his best records. If Johnson is victorious tomorrow in the opening encounter, when he will, it is expected, either F. McQuillan, right hander, or Nehf, southpaw, as an opponent, Washington's prospect of triumph will loom especially bright. The Senators' ace is prepared to pitch two and possibly three games and the club's hopes revolve largely around his ability to muster the stamina for his greatest test.

REPORT SELL OUT. New York, Oct. 3.—A virtual sell out of reserved seat tickets for the world series baseball games was reported at the offices of the New York Giants today, despite the present scandal which resulted in the ousting of Jimmy O'Connell, outfielder and Coach Cozy Dolan of the Giants.

Dolan asserted he would prove his innocence, but O'Connell and his wife prepared to return to the home in San Francisco given them by enthusiastic Coast League fans after the Giants paid $75,000 for the young player.

Charles S. Doolin, a former manager of the Philadelphia Nationals, today also retold his story of an attempt to bribe him in 1908, before the days of Commissioner Landis rule. He asserted he refused a bribe of $40,000 laid in his lap in cash by a player for the Giants if he would be absent from the games the latter part of the season.

reading of that story. Also the Gospel records do not give the complete story of Jesus, for that story will never be completed until the love and power of the Great Redeemer have fulfilled their purpose in earth and heaven.

An eminent English preacher has called the life of Jesus "the incomplete biography," and every story of the divine influence as the life of Jesus is made manifest in the hearts of men, and in what they accomplish through the living Christ, is a chapter in that incomplete, and continuing biography.

That is a fine thought. But none the less we begin the earthly life of Jesus in the New Testament, and it is with the simple story in the Gospels that we shall end.

So these lessons of the quarter begin for us the most wonderful of all biographies. To know Jesus is the most important thing in the world, and there is no better way of knowing Jesus than to go about with Him as he goes about doing good, and to listen to His teachings as they fall from His lips.

We shall not pay so much attention then to what people say about Him, for we shall know Him for ourselves.

Nobody can read the marvelous story of the Gospels day after day without having his life made nobler, and without feeling that all of life itself has been made richer for the coming of the Babe of Bethlehem.

How beautifully the stories of the lessons of the past quarter fit into all the experiences of life! Birth-pangs, poverty, trial and temptation, have all been sanctified in human experience through the story of Jesus of Nazareth.

Here, too, we have the story of the first disciples. It tells us how we too may become disciples, by just putting Jesus first in our lives—for that is really what it means to "leave all and follow Him."

To some who put Jesus first He gave the privilege of actually going about with Him, but others He told to go back home and live among their neighbors and friends the new life that they had found.

Often that is harder to do than to go on a pilgrimage or a mission. Here in these lessons is the story of those who succeeded, and of those who failed. Nicodemus, the learned and liberal-minded Pharisee, apparently went away unconvinced after his night's visit with Jesus, for we hear no more about him for almost two years.

But the Samaritan woman, with an evil reputation and in some respects a bad character, apparently at once believed, and she went off and brought out to the men of the city who told Jesus that they believed, not because of what the woman had said but because they had seen and heard Him for themselves.

That is a fine teaching of these lessons—they tell how nobody can really find Jesus of Nazareth and know Him as He is without wanting to go out and tell about Him to others.

This is what we need more than anything else today—to become so impressed with this Gospel story that we shall simply be compelled to go and tell it to others. If we have not felt this as we have studied the quarter's lessons their deepest meaning has been missed.

M. A. C. Freshmen Prove Very "Dumb"

(By The Associated Press.)
Lansing, Mich., Oct. 3.—The virtues of a higher education were demonstrated in a series of intelligence tests given freshmen students by the English department of the Michigan Agricultural College, the results of which were made public today.

According to the answers offered by the yearling students, Irvin S. Cobb is a great baseball player, the battle of Lexington was fought in 1620, madras is a pre-Volsteadian drink, a cutlass is a cannon, and an oyster bed is an acre of diamonds. Four years from now, members of the faculty declare, students will answer the same questions easily, just like that.

Engineer Killed; Several Injured In Train Wreck

(By The Associated Press.)
Vincennes, Ind., Oct. 3.—G. Van Almann, engineer, was killed and several passengers injured when B. and O. passenger train number 12, eastbound, was wrecked near Breece, Illinois, late tonight, according to a report received here.

Attorney Charges Mismanagement of Estate of Goulds

(By The Associated Press.)

New York, Oct. 3.—Walter J. Walker, attorney for Frank J. Gould in the accounting hearing of the $2,000,000 Gould estate before Referee James A. O'Gorman, today charged that George J. Gould, a deceased executor, destroyed his personal records and accounts in 1912, making it impossible to trace the estate moneys and securities which had gone into his personal accounts.

He also charged that George Gould and his brother, Edwin, another executor and trustee, had entered into a secret pact whereby Edwin was left in control of the St. Louis and Southwestern Railroad and George got the Missouri Pacific Railroad.

"They played a game in which greed and gain, power and ambition were the determining factors," Mr. Walker asserted.

Mr. Walker made these statements in opening his argument for the restoration of more than $60,000,000 to the estate, contending that mismanagement of the fortune and violations of the will of Jay Gould cost the estate that sum.

Mr. Walker also spoke for Anna Gould, now the Duchess DeTalleyrand.

Frank Gould and the Duchesses were minors at the time of their father's death in 1892, and their charges of mismanagement of the estate also are directed against another brother, Howard, and a sister, Mrs. Helen Shepard, both of whom are joint trustees and executors with George, Jay and Edwin.

More Judgeships Are Advocated by Federal Circuit

(By The Associated Press.)

Washington, Oct. 3.—The condition of business in the federal courts throughout the country requires the creation of additional judgeships, in the opinion of federal circuit judges who have been in conference here three days with Chief Justice Taft.

After a careful review of the dockets in each of the district courts, it was the decision of the conference today that the congestion in the federal courts could only be relieved by additional judges.

The conference found that in the large cities and in other districts where conditions lead to many violations of the Volstead act, the congestion in the criminal business has increased, notwithstanding the recent increase in the number of district judges.

It was also found by the conference that the increased volume in civil business could not be adequately handled by the present force of judges. The conference declared that the present volume of business of all kinds was more than sufficient to demand the attention of all federal judges now available.

Negro Trio Hanged for Slaying Sheriff

(By The Associated Press.)

Jonesboro, La., Oct. 3.—Three negroes who attributed their downfall to whiskey and "running around," were hanged simultaneously here today on a triple gallows for the murder August 22 of Sheriff E. M. Rantz of Jackson Parish. The widow of the slain officer was admitted to the jail yard a few minutes before the men, Booker Boone, Willie Washington and Freeman Coleman, mounted the gallows. She witnessed the execution.

None of the condemned men knew that a last minute attempt had been made by Shreveport attorneys to obtain a reprieve for Boone and Washington on the ground that they were handcuffed to Coleman at the time of the murder and that Coleman actually killed the officer.

The men were composed as they mounted the gallows platform.

Chang Says Planes Are Very Effective

(By The Associated Press.)

Tokio, Oct. 3.—A communique issued by Chang Tso-Lin in Mukden says his airplanes raided the Peking government army's line between Shanhai-kwan on the Manchurian-Chihli border, and Changli, a town on the Peking-Mukden railway south of the border, causing serious losses. It is claimed by the communique, says the Mukden correspondent of the Kokusai news agency, that the airplanes bombed barracks and military trains.

Mukden, Manchuria, Oct. 3.—Chang Tso-Lin's headquarters claims that Manchurian troops have occupied Chihfeng in the course of their advance on Jehol, from which the Chihli troops, supporting the Peking government's cause, are said to be retreating.

(Chifeng is about 100 miles north, northeast of Jehol and the latter city is an equal distance northeast of Peking.)

North Carolina To Print Ballots

(By The Associated Press.)

Raleigh, N. C., Oct. 3.—Reversing its previous ruling the state board of elections late today decided to print and distribute in 81 counties the ballots for the LaFollette-Wheeler independent ticket. In the other 19 counties of the state the Australian ballot system is used and the counties print their own ballots.

The board previously had ruled the tickets for the independent party electors would have to be printed at the party's expense.

Shanghai, Oct. 4.—Major Pedro Zanni, the Argentine round-the-world aviator, has postponed his departure for Japan until tomorrow (Sunday) because of rain.

Much Space Added To Michigan "U"; Built in Summer

(By The Associated Press.)

Ann Arbor, Mich.—Michigan has added more than 600,000 square feet of floor space for educational work in the year since the 1923 students took up their residence here last September. Part of this additional floor space was available for some time during the last school year, but none was available before the end of the first semester. In addition to the 616,150 feet of teaching space the Law Club is adding to the university 35,000 feet, giving a total of 751,150 square feet of additional space at the beginning of the present school year.

The Literary building, the most pretentious structure now on what is known as the old campus, accounts for a third of the classroom space. This building with its four floors running from in front of the Museum past University Hall until it almost touches one end of the law school, has 128,650 square feet of floor space. Some offices will be in the building, but the large percentage of the space will be used for classroom work only.

The other large building—East Engineering Hall, with 200,000 square feet of floor space, is off the old campus. It was occupied for about two months last spring and during the summer session.

Big High School. University High School, the first building south of the old engineering building, has 120,000 square feet of floor space, all given over to the training of teachers and the use of high school students. It was used during the second semester last year by the Literary College.

With all this additional teaching room at the University, one building devoted to teaching disappeared in the last year—old West Hall. Its place was partly filled by the taking over of the old Catholic chapel.

Barn Dance. One of the largest crowds of the season attended the Jaeger barn dance Thursday evening, five miles out on the Ford River road. The barn was well lighted throughout and decorations symbolic of autumn adorned the walls and ceiling. The Michigan Warblers rendered a good program of dance music which was given numerous rounds of applause. The barn is 36x62 and is well ventilated. The barn was lighted temporarily through the courtesy of a lighting plant of Escanaba. An enjoyable time was had by all who attended.

Ford Motor Sells Big Piece of Land

(By The Associated Press.)

Detroit, Oct. 3.—A 42-acre tract opposite the Ford Motor Company's Highland Park plant on Woodward Avenue was sold by the Ford Motor Company today to Morris Fredberg, Detroit jeweler. It is to be resold in small portions for residential and commercial purposes.

The property has a frontage of about four blocks on Woodward Avenue. For some years it had been the only tract of any size on Detroit's main thoroughfare which has remained unoccupied.

WHERE TO MARKET

Menus for Family

Breakfast—Baked pears, boiled rice with thin cream, French toast, maple syrup, creamed potatoes, broiled bacon, toasted muffins, milk, coffee.

Luncheon—Mock oyster soup, whole wheat bread and butter, cottage cheese, red raspberry jelly, oatmeal cookies, milk, tea.

Dinner—Broiled hamburger steak, baked potatoes, creamed cauliflower, stuffed pepper salad, whole wheat rolls, jelly roll cake, milk, tea.

Of course, the youngest of the juniors will not indulge in the pepper salad for dinner and perhaps he will forego the French toast for breakfast. As for the rest he will eat his way through the day's menu with the family.

Mock Oyster Soup.
One bunch salsify, 1 half-inch slice bread, 1 1/2 cups water, 1 1/2 cups milk, 2 tablespoons butter, 1 teaspoon salt, 1/4 teaspoon pepper.

Wash and scrape salsify. Cut in quarter-inch slices and put in kettle with water. Cook slowly for an hour, adding water if necessary.

Add bread to milk and bring to the boiling point but do not let boil. Add to cooked salsify, season with salt, pepper and butter and simmer below the boiling point for ten minutes.

Stuffed Pepper Salad.
Four medium-sized peppers, 1 cucumber, 2 hearts celery, 2 teaspoons minced parsley, 1/4 cup nut meats.

Cut a slice from stem end of peppers. Remove seeds and white fiber. Parboil for five minutes.

Chill. Dice cucumber and celery. Add nuts and parsley and combine with enough boiled dressing to make moist. Fill peppers with mixture and serve on a bed of lettuce.

Jelly Roll Cake.
Two eggs, 1 cup sugar, 2 1/2 cups milk, 1 1/2 cups flour, 2 teaspoons baking powder, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon vanilla.

Beat eggs well. Beat in sugar. Mix and sift flour, baking powder and salt. Add alternately with milk to egg mixture. Add vanilla and pour into a buttered and floured dripping pan.

Bake in a moderate oven for 15 minutes or until the edges shrink from the pan. Remove from pan onto a dampened towel. Trim off edges with a sharp knife, spread with jelly and roll. Cover with towel to keep the shape and serve warm.

Breakfast—Oranges, cooked wheat cereal, creamed eggs on toast, corn meal muffins, honey, milk, coffee.

Luncheon—Cream of potato soup, brown bread and butter, chocolate pudding, tea.

Dinner—Lamb pie, potatoes au gratin, creamed lima beans, stuffed tomato salad, sliced peaches, sponge cake, whole wheat bread and milk, coffee.

The four-year-old child can make his dinner of lima beans, mashed with a fork, bread and milk, half a ripe peach and a small piece of sponge cake.

No milk is suggested for the luncheon as the dessert and soup are both made with milk.

This cream of potato soup is a bit different from the ordinary variety and more nourishing.

Cream of Potato Soup.
Two cups sliced potatoes, 1/2 cup diced celery, 1 small onion, 2 tablespoons butter, boiling water, 1 1/2 cups milk, 1 egg, 1 teaspoon salt.

Melt butter in saucepan, add onion peeled and cut in thin slices and cook over a low fire for five minutes. All potatoes and celery and boiling water to cover. Simmer until potatoes are tender.

Season with salt and pepper and add milk. Heat to the scalding point but do not let boil. Add egg and stir over the fire until egg is cooked. Do not let soup boil after egg is added.

Chocolate Pudding.
One and one-half cups scalded milk, 4 tablespoons cornstarch, 6 tablespoons sugar, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 1/4 cup cold water, 1 square bitter chocolate, 1/2 teaspoon vanilla, 1 egg white.

Mix cornstarch, sugar and salt with cold water. Shave chocolate and add to milk while it is scald-

ing. Add first mixture to hot milk and cook over hot water for 10 minutes, stirring constantly. The mixture should be thick and smooth. Cook 10 minutes longer, stirring occasionally. Remove from heat and pour slowly into the white of egg beaten until stiff and dry. All vanilla, pour into mold and let stand on ice until cold and firm.

Lamb Pie.
Eighteen small white onions, 1 1/2 cups diced cold roast lamb, 3 medium sized tomatoes, 1 teaspoon salt, 1/4 teaspoon pepper, 1 tablespoon butter, 1 tablespoon flour, baking powder biscuit dough.

Peel onions and cook in boiling salted water to cover until tender but not broken. Drain and put in a buttered baking dish. Remove meat from bone. Cover bone with cold water and simmer half an hour. There should be one-half cup broth. Add meat to onions in baking dish, cover with tomatoes pared and cut in slices.

Rub butter and flour together and sprinkle over tomatoes. Pour over lamb broth. Sprinkle with salt and pepper, cover with dough and bake half an hour in a hot oven.

Breakfast—Grapes, creamed potatoes, broiled lamp chops, whole wheat pop-overs, milk, coffee.

Luncheon—Cream of tomato soup, toasted crackers, brown betty, cocoa, tea.

Dinner—Ham baked in milk, candied sweet potatoes, spinach, apple-celery nut salad, cheese cups, peach cottage pudding, milk, coffee.

The dinner for the four-year-old child should consist of a whole wheat cooked cereal with thin cream, spinach, whole wheat bread and butter, milk and a baked apple. He has had meat for his breakfast and meat once a day is enough.

This breakfast is planned particularly for the child of school age, whether he carries his luncheon, buys it at the school cafeteria or hurries home. A growing mind and body needs food, more food than the mature mind and body and a hearty, leisurely breakfast is imperative.

Few children relax during the noon hour long enough to eat their luncheon and digest it. For this reason it's very necessary that the foods served be easily digested and quickly assimilated. It is essential that each meal be well balanced and complete, the luncheon must have meat or its equivalent, a vegetable to supply the mineral salts as well as starch and bulk, and a sweet.

This menu is suggested for the lunch box:
Hard boiled egg and lettuce sandwich, celery, prunes stuffed with peanut butter, orange, cocoa in thermos bottle.

If lettuce is used in sandwiches whenever possible, it prevents the bread from absorbing the filling as well as doing its bit toward increasing the vitamins.

The luncheon of soup, brown betty and cocoa is planned for the stay-at-homes but will be acceptable to the "hurry-homes" if an egg or cheese sandwich is added.

Brown Betty.
Two cups chopped apples, 1 1/2 cups soft bread crumbs, 1 cup sugar and 4 tablespoons water, 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon, 1/4 teaspoon cloves, butter.

Pare and core apples and cut in tiny dice or very thin slices. Butter and dot with butter. Cover with a thin layer of crumbs, add half the apples, sprinkle with spices and pour over half the syrup. Cover with half of the crumbs and dot with bits of butter. Add remaining apples and spices. Cover with crumbs, dot with butter and pour over remaining syrup. Cover and bake forty minutes in a moderate oven, remove cover and brown top quickly. Serve with sugar and cream.

Ham Baked in Milk.
One slice ham cut 1 inch thick, 2 tablespoons brown sugar, 1/2 teaspoon cloves, 2 cups milk.

Mix sugar and cloves and rub well into both sides of ham. Cover with cold water and let stand three hours. Wipe dry and put in a baking dish, pour over milk and bake slowly for 1 hour.

Breakfast—Stewed prunes, rolled oats, thin cream, broiled salt mackerel, whole wheat toast, orange marmalade, milk, coffee.

Luncheon—Creamed kohlrabi, brown bread and butter, rice peach dumplings, cocoa, tea.

Dinner—Leg of lamb, mint jelly, twice baked potatoes, pear salad, floating island, nut cookies, milk, coffee.

The youngest member of the family should not be given the fish for his breakfast.

Many four-year-old children need a mid-morning lunch. A glass of orange juice and one or two pieces of crisp toast is ideal for this meal. If you are not able to get oranges, four tablespoons strained, slightly sweetened tomato juice is quite as beneficial.

Creamed Kohlrabi.
Two cups diced kohlrabi, 3 tablespoons butter, 1 1/2 tablespoons flour, 1 cup milk, 1 egg yolk, 1/4 teaspoon salt, few grains pepper.

Pare kohlrabi and cut in half-inch dice. Cook in boiling salted water until tender. Drain and add 1/4 teaspoon butter. Shake over the fire until well coated with butter. Melt remaining butter, stir in flour and cook and stir until smooth. Add milk slowly, stirring constantly. Season with salt and pepper and bring to the boiling point. Add yolk of egg slightly beaten and remove from fire. Pour over kohlrabi and serve.

Rice Peach Dumplings.
One-half cup rice, 2 cups boiling water, 1 cup milk, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 4 large peaches, 4 tablespoons sugar, butter, 4 preserved cherries.

Wash rice and drop in boiling water to which salt has been added. Cook until water is absorbed. Add milk and cook over hot water until kernels are soft. Pare peaches and remove stones. Put a cherry in the cavity left from the stone. Cut four squares of cheesecloth and dip in boiling water. Spread with rice, making the layer about three-fourths of an inch thick.

Put a peach in the center of each square, sprinkle with sugar and dot with butter. Pull corners of cloth together and tie. Steam from 30 to 40 minutes. Remove from cloths and serve with sugar and cream.

This is simple nourishing dessert that is as pleasing to grownups as children.

Breakfast—Stewed dried apricots, codfish balls, milk toast, cocoa, coffee.

Luncheon—Potato and cheese soup, whole wheat bread and butter, apple charlotte, milk, tea.

Dinner—Tomato bisque, baked haddock, scalloped potatoes, fried peppers, cabbage-apple and celery salad, steamed graham pudding, milk, coffee, hot rolls, butter, honey, oatmeal bread for children.

Dried apricots should be washed through many waters and soaked over night in cold water to more than cover. This water should be drained off and the fruit should be simmered in boiling water "to cover" until tender. Of course, if it's more convenient you can "soak" the apricots for six to eight hours during the day and simmer them for two hours while you are getting dinner. But dried apricots must be allowed to stand in water for several hours to remove the preparation used to prevent discoloration during drying.

Potato and Cheese Soup.
Two cups milk, 1 small onion, 1 cup mashed potato, 2 tablespoons butter, 1 tablespoon flour, 1 teaspoon salt, 1/4 teaspoon paprika, 4 tablespoons grated cheese.

Peel and slice onions and scald with milk. Strain to remove onion. Add mashed potato and salt and pepper to milk. Melt butter and stir in flour. Add hot milk mixture slowly, stirring constantly. Cook five minutes. Add cheese and keep over hot stove until cheese is melted.

Apple Charlotte.
Three cups thinly sliced apples, 1 cup sugar, 1 tablespoon butter, 1 teaspoon cinnamon, currant jelly, thin slices bread.

Pare, core and slice apples. Put a little water in saucepan, add apples, cover and cook until tender. Add sugar and butter and cook a few minutes longer, stirring constantly. Remove crusts from bread and spread both sides lightly with butter. Line the bottom and sides of a brick-shaped pan with bread, sprinkle with cinnamon and cover with a layer of prepared apples. Spread apples with jelly and continue layer for layer until all is used. Cover with buttered bread and bake in a hot oven until brown. Turn out on a platter and allow to serve.

Fried Peppers.
Four green sweet peppers, 6 tablespoons grated cheese, 6 tablespoons bread crumbs from soft part of loaf, 1 teaspoon minced onion, 1/2 teaspoon salt, milk, 1 egg, dried bread crumbs, 1 cup stewed tomatoes.

Cut slice from stem end of peppers, remove seeds and white fiber and parboil five minutes. Rub off thin skin. Mix cheese, onion, bread crumbs and salt with enough milk to hold mixture together. Fill peppers with mixture. Roll in dried crumbs, dip in egg slightly beaten with 1 tablespoon cold water, roll again in crumbs and fry in a frying pan. Serve on a platter surrounded with stewed tomatoes.

POWDERED BATHBRICK
Always keep powdered bathbricks on hand for scouring steel knives.

Record Crowd To See Tuesday Game

HEAVY DEMAND FOR TICKETS

Indians and Browns to Show Off Before Immense Throng.

All details were completed yesterday for the staging of an exhibition game at South Park on Tuesday afternoon of next week between the Cleveland Indians and the St. Louis Browns of the American League, when with fair weather conditions prevailing, it is confidently expected that the greatest crowd of people ever attracted to witness a baseball game in the peninsula, will be gathered here.

A proclamation issued by Mayor W. J. Harahan yesterday morning, calling upon the merchants of the city to close their stores on Tuesday from noon to 4 o'clock met with a hearty response yesterday and indications last night were that business Escanaba will be closed up tight during the hours of the game.

Wills Schools to Close.

Members of the board of education of District No. 2, at Wells, composed of C. J. McCauley, R. E. Allingham and A. A. Strahl met in special session at noon yesterday and voted to close all of the schools in that district on Tuesday afternoon, to allow the pupils there to attend the game. From every nearby point in the peninsula yesterday morning came calls for tickets in large blocks, while ticket canvassers in the city found it more of a task of making the tickets allotted to them cover the districts assigned than to sell the pasteboards. Last night sufficient tickets had already been sold and the money paid in to insure the financial success of the undertaking.

To Divide Surplus.

Through an agreement reached by the promoters of the undertaking, after the stipulated amount due the barn-storming players has been paid, any surplus that remains will be used first to pay off a deficit of $230 in the treasury of the Escanaba baseball club for the past season and any additional amount will be divided equally between the high school athletic stadium fund and the baseball treasury.

Seat Sections Marked.

The work of marking out the grand stand and bleachers at the park into seating sections was practically completed yesterday and that work will insure every purchaser securing the seat that he buys from a chart.

Block of grand stand seats, directly back of home plate, were allotted to Gladstone and Manistique, assuring fans from those cities the very best seats in the park.

General admission tickets are being sold at $1 and an additional charge of $1 is made for reserved seats in either the grand stand or bleachers. Children under 14 years of age may purchase admission tickets for 15 cents. No automobiles will be allowed inside the fence at the park on the day of the game, all of the space within the park being utilized as standing room for any over-flow crowd that may be attracted.

Czar Worthy Easy Winner in Feature

Columbus, O., Oct. 3.—Favorites swept the card in the final day's racing of the fall Grand Circuit meeting. The feature event of the afternoon, the free-for-all trot, proved the best race for the day. Czar Worthy, prohibitive favorite, won the first heat in impressive fashion, but Ethel India won the second by trotting the second half of the mile in 1:00 and overcoming Czar Worthy's big lead. Cox tried the same tactics with Ethel India in the third heat, but could not reach Czar Worthy.

HARD GAMES ON UPSTATE'S PREPS SCHEDULE TODAY

High School Elevens To Engage in Stiff Tilts

The Escanaba high school football team will play Gladstone on the upbay gridiron this afternoon. The meeting of these teams last year was a sensational affair, won by the locals by one touchdown, scored early in the first period. Memories of that scrap should prove a real box-office magnet today. A big crowd of Orange & Black rooters will follow the team.

Manistique high goes to Munising today. Coach George Carr, of Saint Joseph high, will be able to get something of a line on his opposition for the following week. His team defeated Munising last Saturday, 19 to 6, and the Saints' next opponents will be Manistique. The parochials are idle this afternoon.

Menominee Idle.

Harry Potter's Crystal Falls team, undefeated thus far this year, will play another unbeaten eleven, Iron River. Crystal Falls beat Iron Mountain and tied Norway. Iron River has beaten Boesemer and tied Menominee.

Marquette high will play Newberry, Negaunee will play Ishpeming. Soo high will play a team of its alumni and Menominee and Ironwood will be idle.

SOX IN LEAD IN CHICAGO'S CITY SERIES BY WIN

Chicago, Oct. 3.—The White Sox made it two straight from their Cub rivals today by winning the third game, 6 to 3. "Red" Faber, star spitball twirler of the American Leaguers, had his opponents baffled most of the way, and only in the late innings did he become unsteady.

The White Sox got the jump on their foe in the sixth frame after two were out. Collins worked Jacobs for a pass and Sheely drove the ball to right field. It struck the fence and rolled under the stand for a home run.

This unnerfed Jacobs and Falk followed with a hit. Kamm walked. Barret smashed one for two bases and two more runs were scored.

Two more runs were added to the White Sox total at the expense of Vic Keen. He hit Schalk and waked Hooper and both scored on Collins' triple.

Grigsby started the rally for the Cubs in the eighth when he netted three runs. He singled and Hollocher, who came from his home in St. Louis to help his mates after being absent because of illness most of the season, batted for R. Barret and walked. Cotter shot a double to center sending two runs home and registered later on Adams' hit to center.

Saints Will Play Stephenson, Oct. 18

Stephenson high school and St. Joseph's parochial high will meet here October 18, Coach George W. Carr, of the Saints, announced last night. Stephenson defeated Menominee in the opening game of the season. The following Saturday—October 25—the Saints will play Harry Potter's Crystal Falls eleven, at Crystal Falls. Both of these games were booked yesterday. Saint Joseph's is idle today. On Oct. 11, the team plays at Manistique.

Careless drying of clothes before a fire and throwing aside of lighted cigar ends and matches are the commonest causes of house fires in this country.

CROOKEDNESS IN WORLD'S SERIES TRIED LONG AGO

Chicago, Oct. 3.—President Dan Johnson of the American League tonight made public a hitherto secret affidavit revealing that crookedness was attempted in the first world series ever played, when in 1903, Lou Criger, famous catcher with the Boston Red Sox, contesting with the Pirates, was offered $12,000 to throw games.

The affidavit relates that the attempted bribe was made by a professional gambler, introduced to Criger two years previous in the presence of John J. McGraw, manager of the New York Giants, and Wilbur Robinson, pilot of the Brooklyn Nationals.

Made While "Dying."

President Johnson said the affidavit was made by Criger in February, 1923, at a time when the famous catcher, rapidly failing in health, was starting for the west, abandoning all hope of living longer than a few weeks.

"It was a statement of a man going west to die," President Johnson said. "Fortunately, Criger is alive today, however, living in Nevada."

Criger in his affidavit declared he was introduced to a professional gambler of the name of Anderson, whose first name he does not recall, by Robinson in Baltimore in 1901, and that in the company of McGraw and Robinson, he spent the afternoon with Anderson at a country bowling club located near Baltimore. Criger said Anderson left the impression that his business was that of a professional gambler.

Offered $12,000.

According to Criger's affidavit, he did not see Anderson again until 1903, when he met him in the Monongahela Hotel in Pittsburgh, when the Boston and Pittsburgh clubs were contesting in the first world's series played after the settlement of the war between the American and National Leagues.

Anderson, the affidavit relates, called Criger aside in the lobby of the hotel and offered him $12,000 in cash to throw the games so that Pittsburgh would win. He declared that he had inveigled a millionaire oil man to wager $50,000 on Boston and that Anderson desired to bet on Pittsburgh.

"Why did you single me out for this crooked proposition?" Criger asked Anderson, according to his affidavit.

"Because you are the only one capable of turning the trick," Anderson replied.

Anderson, Criger's affidavit said, told him he could "feather your nest for life," but the famous catcher refused to have anything to do with the proposal.

Blank Orioles in Second of Series

Baltimore, Md., Oct. 3.—Helpless before the sweeping southpaw curves of Howard Merritt, of St. Paul, the Baltimore Orioles were whitewashed in the second game of the little world series here this afternoon by the score of 6 to 0.

Only three Orioles hit safely and after the first inning when an error and a walk put two men on bases with the out, the Birds had no real chance to score. This game makes the series stand one all.

Dressen of the Saints, was the batting star of the game. He drove in St. Paul's four runs, getting a single in the fourth inning, a homer with one on in the sixth and a single in the eighth. Bobue drove in the final two runs in the ninth.

The score: R. H. E. St. Paul... 000 012 6-12 2 Baltimore... 000 000 0-0 3 Merritt and Dixon; Ogden, Tomlin and McCarthy, Freitag.

E. H. S. TO MEET UPBAYS TODAY

Furious Battle Expected on the Gladstone Gridiron.

Escanaba vs Gladstone. That's the frumpet that always carries a wallop. The first meeting of interscholastic athletic teams representing the two cities, will be staged in Gladstone this afternoon. The principals will be the Escanaba and Gladstone high school football teams.

The dope, although it favors Escanaba slightly, is not sufficiently top-heavy to make the outcome a foregone conclusion, and a real battle is confidently expected by the followers of both elevens.

Both are made up, in the main, of men playing their first year of football, and the last week's development of the youngsters making up the rival teams will have an important bearing on the afternoon's performance.

The Escanaba team will line up as follows: Vandenboom, jr.; Dunn, jr.; Arnold, Johnson or W. Johnston, jr.; J. Berrigan, C. Bonamer or Oberly; Curran or Lenke, R. Dumphy, G. Miethe (capt.); Andrews and E. Berrigh, lb.; Folio, fb.

Whether Johnson and Curran, injured last Saturday, would be able to play had not been decided last night. If Johnson, who does the team's punting, is on the shelf, Folio's toe will be utilized.

Kalamazoo College Wins Opening Game

Kalamazoo, Mich., Oct. 3.—Kalamazoo College won the first game of the season here today, defeating Grand Rapids Junior College, 25 to 9. The local team played ragged football at the start and was particularly lame on its aerial attack but towards the close the team took a brace and put over three touchdowns by plunging through the line. The visitors scored on drop kicks by Raber, full-back.

Normal Grid Squad Passes Through City

The Marquette Normal college football team, headed by Coach C. R. Hedgecock and Assistant Coach Howard Pearl, passed through Escanaba yesterday, enroute to Oshkosh. The trip is being made in a large passenger motorbus. The team stopped last night at Green Bay.

ALL CONFERENCE TEAMS TO PLAY

Chicago, Oct. 3.—The Western Conference football lid will be knocked completely off tomorrow, when every team in the Big Ten will get into action. Although Purdue and Ohio State clash at Columbus in the only Big Ten game affecting the championship race, all other elevens will take the field against outside schools.

The two feature games find Illinois clashing with Nebraska at Lincoln and Missouri battling Chicago in another inter-sectional contest at Stag Field.

Nothing to do but kick or pass, so Dartmouth fell into kick formation with Robertson back but the ball didn't go to Robertson. Instead, one of the halfbacks took the ball close behind center and started on a wide swing around end. Kicking had been eliminated as a possibility. Georgia's task now was to prevent completion of a pass or gain from a run.

Normally the Georgia system of pass defense was to rush the passer, but this time the defenders fell back to cover the eligible receivers. Meanwhile the ball was still moving with the runner toward the sideline, but it never went out of bounds, for Robertson, after failing to kick, had paralleled the course of the backs with the ball. Now he received it on a pass back, just as the halfback was about to be tackled, threw it 60 yards to Lynch, who passed the safety man and scored the game's only touchdown.

Ohio Wesleyan To Meet U. D. Eleven

Detroit, Oct. 3.—Ohio Wesleyan, the sensation of Ohio conference football for the past two seasons, whose teams are the light, speedy, brainy type so essential to the modern game, appears at Dinan Field tomorrow against the University of Detroit.

In previous years, Ohio Wesleyan has appeared in the city for basketball and track contests, but Saturday's game marks the Red and Black's football debut. It is the first time in the Delaware school's history that it has been on the University of Detroit schedule.

CLASSIC PLAYS OF GRIDIRON

Famous Coaches Tell of Greatest Thrills.

ONLY 26 seconds of the first Dartmouth game of 1921, so it seemed a foregone conclusion that the intermission would come and go with the two teams still deadlocked in a scoreless tie. But in those 26 seconds Dartmouth scored a touchdown, won the game as it proved later and gave one of the greatest thrills of my football experience.

Dartmouth had the ball on its own 20-yard line. Three forward passes were grounded and on the fourth down Dartmouth punted. It should have been Georgia's ball on Dartmouth's 20-yard line, for the punt went directly out of bounds, but a Georgia end was off side and it was again Dartmouth's ball with six seconds left to play.

Nothing to do but kick or pass, so Dartmouth fell into kick formation with Robertson back but the ball didn't go to Robertson. Instead, one of the halfbacks took the ball close behind center and started on a wide swing around end. Kicking had been eliminated as a possibility. Georgia's task now was to prevent completion of a pass or gain from a run.

Normally the Georgia system of pass defense was to rush the passer, but this time the defenders fell back to cover the eligible receivers. Meanwhile the ball was still moving with the runner toward the sideline, but it never went out of bounds, for Robertson, after failing to kick, had paralleled the course of the backs with the ball. Now he received it on a pass back, just as the halfback was about to be tackled, threw it 60 yards to Lynch, who passed the safety man and scored the game's only touchdown.

The best play conceived can be a fizzle if poorly executed and, conversely, very ordinary plays can be made to produce thrills and touchdowns if smoothly pulled off.

Before the play I have described was too far under way, Georgia knew it had a pass to contend with, yet it was completed, for a touchdown.

Dartmouth didn't need the aid of the element of surprise. It had perfect execution. That was enough.

Michigan Battles With Miami Today

Ann Arbor, Mich., Oct. 3.—The curtain raiser on the football season is due tomorrow when Michigan will start its schedule against Miami, strong school of the Ohio Conference.

The Miami youths arrived here early this evening, a strong and fast team, light but well trained. Their attack tomorrow afternoon is expected to show what can be expected of the Wolverines this season.

Incidentally the game is slated as the farthest opening contest in 10 years, for not since 1914 when Case came up with a phenomenal team that held Michigan to a tie, has Michigan had any difficulty in the opener. The game fits the schedule for this year. Coach Yost is taking on the most difficult series of games he has tackled since the days immediately preceding the war.

Aggies Are Ready for Olivet Game

East Lansing, Mich., Oct. 3.—Practice in the Michigan Aggie football camp today consisted only of punting back punts, kicking, passing and drilling on plays.

From the last phase of the workout it was concluded that the men who will start against Olivet tomorrow will be the same eleven who were chosen to start against Northwestern last Saturday.

Although it is probable that the number of men getting into the Olivet game will be large, it is expected that substitutions will be made individually and that Coach Young will not withdraw one full team and send in another as he did against the Illinois College last week.

WITHDRAWAL OF LIMIT ON MILL TAX IS SOUGHT

Burton Tells Kiwanis This Will Be Plea to Legislature.

(By The Associated Press.)
 Ann Arbor, Mich., Oct. 3.—Opportunity to follow avenues of finance arranged for it several years ago, which will give the University of Michigan ample funds to do the work expected of it, will be the keynote of the university's appeal to the state at the coming session of the legislature, Dr. Marion LeRoy Burton, president, told the Michigan Kiwanians here tonight, addressing the seventh annual state convention of Kiwanis. His discussion was based upon the leadership of mentality and the training the mind should receive in its preparation for life. The specific request to the legislature will be to fail to enact the limiting clause placed upon the mill tax at the last session, Dr. Burton said.

Measure in Effect.
 The legislature at the last session, with the approval of the school authorities, passed a special measure limiting the amount of money the university might receive from the mill tax to $1,500,000. Back of the action was the belief of the state board of equalization that the state valuation should be increased above the $5,000,000 at which it had been held for several years. The board held that an increase in the valuation made it an appropriating body, if the mill tax was not limited. Under Michigan's constitution, appropriation is limited to the legislature.

Staff Inadequate.
 Increase in Michigan's mill tax to the amount available under the increased valuation will allow the university to add to its instructional staff so it will be able to care for the vast increase in students that have entered the school in the years the school has been busy with its building program, or in other words, to fulfill its real function as a university.

"The real function of the university," the president told his audience, "is to give adequate instruction in various fields. To achieve this it is necessary to have a sufficient number of teachers, adequately trained and receiving a compensation which will reward them for the years of preparation and continued investigation of their subjects. The revenue from the mill tax, which was expected to grow with the state, will admit of the university reaching this ideal."

Speaker Lauds Bob LaFollette In Talk Here

Congressman George J. Schneider, of Appleton, speaking last night at the city hall before a crowd of members of the Independent Progressive party, denounced the present major parties as corrupt and unreliable, and upheld Robert M. LaFollette as the only candidate who could lead the nation on a progressive course to stability. Mr. Schneider's address was enthusiastically received by his audience.
 It was the first public meeting under the auspices of the county organization of the party which is sponsoring the LaFollette candidacy in Michigan.
 Mr. Schneider is making an organization tour of the upper peninsula.

Unforgivable.
 He: "What do you consider man's greatest fault?"
 She: "Being so scarce."

A VOTE FOR LAFOLLETTE IS A VOTE FOR BRYAN.

Voters who are fundamentally Republicans, but who are being misled by sugar coated, but blackly false LaFollette doctrine...

Even the most rabid LaFollette follower will not seriously claim that the Wisconsin senator has even a semblance of a chance to receive enough votes to insure his election as president.

Under the constitution, should no candidate have a majority of the votes in the electoral college, it is provided that the names of the THREE candidates receiving the greatest number of votes for president shall be certified to the national House of Representatives.

The constitution also provides that should no candidate for vice president have a majority of the votes in the electoral college, the names of the TWO candidates having received the greatest number of votes shall be certified to the United States senate and that body shall proceed to the election of a vice president.

The constitution further provides that in the event that the national house of representatives is unable to name a president before the fourth day of March, next following, then the individual named as vice president by the senate, shall become the president of the United States.

A combination of Democrats and LaFollette followers could easily compass the election of Bryan as vice president and with the deadlock, existing in the house over the selection of a president, Bryan would certainly become president of the United States.

The section of the constitution under which such a result would be almost inevitable, follows and readers of the Press are urged to clip it out and study it carefully and determine for themselves, whether or not a vote for LaFollette at the November election is a vote for Bryan, for president of the United States:

(Sec. 3, Art. 2) "Method of Electing President and Vice President. The electors shall meet in their respective states and vote by ballot for President and Vice President, one of whom, at least, shall not be an inhabitant of the same state with themselves; they shall name in their ballots the person voted for as president, and in distinct ballots the person voted for as vice president, and for all persons voted for as vice president, and of the number of votes for each, which lists they shall sign and certify, and transmit sealed to the seat of government of the United States, directed to the President of the Senate.

MISS - OR MRS.

BY JANE PHELPS.

MRS. ANDERSON, WIDOW, LEAVES FOR SAN FRANCISCO. Chapter XV. Mrs. Vira Anderson bought the flimsy, lacey underthings she had so admired, the things Aunt Drucilla would never have dreamed Alvirra Anderson could wear. Another negligee; an evening dress, low necked and sleeveless, a cloak of palest blue brocade, completed her purchases, and depleted her purse, but worried her not at all. The beauty parlor was Alvirra's next objective. A shampoo, a manœuvre, then the hair dresser appeared.

"Will madame have her hair dressed as she always wears it? If so please direct me," the smiling woman said. "Dress as you like, make it becoming if you can." "That is easy, Madame has wonderful hair. It is a treat to see and dress such hair in these days."

Vira leaned back comfortably while the woman worked. "Will madame see if she approves?" the attendant asked Alvirra a glass. A gratified smile broke over her face. Her hair softly done, drawn down just to hide the top of her ears, fluffed a bit about her face made such a change in her appearance that Alvirra scarcely recognized herself.

OUT OUR WAY

In the dining car the steward seated her opposite a good looking man who spoke to her in an impersonal manner, as travelers do. But Alvirra thought she detected curiosity in his glance and flushed. Suppose he should question her! She must make up her mind if she were wife or widow. If she were wife she would have to concoct some story about her phantom husband; what he did, why he wasn't with her, and other details. Alvirra hated to lie—the one lie had been necessary—so she decided she would be a widow. People hesitated to touch upon another's sorrows, she would avoid lying and embarrassment. Had she made a mistake in not dressing as a widow? That would have meant a late bereavement, kept people from her. No, she had lost Mr. Anderson two years before. That was all she would say—the only lie she would tell. Surely she would hurt no one, even herself, by being Mrs. Anderson, a widow of two years, traveling to the coast. She had no relatives, no one to question her movements. By morning Alvirra was firmly decided as to her future course. She was a widow of small but sufficient means, spending a year in travel. Her husband, she would call him John, had died two years before. She was alone in the world, had no one to live with her, so had given up her home. Surely that simple story would satisfy the most curious, and Alvirra didn't believe anyone would be curious. Tomorrow—Vira Discovers She Has A Dual Personality.

R.P.S. GATHER IN CONFERENCE AT MANISTIQUE

Republican leaders from all parts of the Upper Peninsula will meet at Manistique today for one of the biggest conferences held in this section. The confab was called by the Michigan State Central Committee and the main purpose of the meeting will be to perfect an organization of Republican women in the Upper Peninsula.

James C. Wood, local attorney, state committee man from the district, has been in charge of the local arrangements for the gathering, and has communicated with party leaders in other sections of the district. Numerous responses have been received indicating a good-sized gathering here today.

Teaching Force For Night School Is Announced

Miss Carrie Moore and Miss Mabel Mattison, are the teachers selected for the force of the Manistique night school. The school will open for enrollment on Tuesday evening. As was the case last year, Miss Moore will teach the beginners' course, composed largely of people foreign born who desire to become more familiar with the American language, customs and government.

Miss Mattison, who is the instructor in commercial subjects at the high school, will have the advanced pupils, and other teachers will be added to the night school force as the need arises. Classes will be started in any subject desired if there are sufficient number of people interested. Supt. A. F. Hall announced yesterday that six people would be sufficient to start a new class in any subject desired. Additional teachers will be assigned to teach such classes. The regular night school course free, but for the special courses there will be a charge of $5 for ten weeks, of which $2.50 will be refunded at the end of the term. It is hoped to organize a class in French, to be taught by the regular high school French teacher.

Night school will open Tuesday evening, and will be in session every Tuesday and Thursday.

A lively crowd of Manistique residents and their guests gathered at the Elks' Temple last night for the first dance of the autumn season. Music for the occasion was furnished by Hammill's orchestra. The next social event sponsored by the Elks is a Halloween carnival dance.

CITY BRIEFS

A new plate glass window was installed at the People's Store yesterday, replacing one that was shattered in a recent wind storm that visited Manistique.

A new floor of linoleum is being laid at the Liberty Cafe this week. The work is being done by Julius Chapman, and is arranged so as not to interfere with customers.

Improvements have recently been made at the Braut Studio and bowling alley, and the two departments are now conveniently connected with an entrance door, doing away with the need of a separate entrance for the bowling alley and photo shop.

Employees of the Manistique Telephone Company have been at work this week completing the new line between Manistique and Fitch.

Mrs. William Roberts of Manistique was called to Detroit Thursday by the serious illness of her daughter, who has been employed at Detroit for the past two or three years.

Mrs. Kenneth Nicholson has returned from a brief visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Selden, Stambaugh, Michigan.

Mrs. Tucker, who has been visiting her son, Dr. A. R. Tucker, plans to leave next week for a brief visit at Detroit before returning to her home at Portland, Oregon.

Popich Examination Postponed, Monday

The examination of Tony Popich, scheduled for Friday morning in Justice W. A. McKinney's court, has been postponed, and will be held on Monday morning instead.

The Popich home on North Cedar Street, was raided Wednesday, after information had been furnished local authorities by Marvin Condon of Cooks, who claimed to have purchased two bottles of liquor from Tony at $1 a bottle. Condon will be required to appear as a witness in the examination.

TRIED 14 YEARS TO GET RELIEF

Then Mrs. Zwart Found Tanlac—Pleased With Results.

"Nothing ever helped me until I began taking Tanlac and that is saying a great deal, for I had been trying for fourteen years to regain my health," is the striking statement of Mrs. J. Zwart, 628 Jefferson St., Muskegon Heights, Mich.

"During those fourteen years I suffered constantly from the formation of gas on my stomach, nausea and headaches. I could eat and digest so little that I always felt run-down and in a poor state of health.

"Tanalac is undoubtedly the greatest, if not the only, stomach medicine. I now eat everything I want and all signs of indigestion and headaches are gone. The result is I look, as well as I feel, the wonderful change that has come over me. I would not be without Tanlac. I take it myself and also give it to my children when necessary. It makes me eat better, sleep better and feel better."

Tanalac is for sale by all good druggists. Accept no substitute. Over 40 Million bottles sold.

STAGE RALLY TONIGHT FOR 'FIGHTIN' BOB'

Manistique Progressives will gather tonight at the Odd Fellows' Hall for a LaFollette-Wheeler rally, according to an announcement made yesterday.

The meeting will open at 7:30 p. m., and the general public is invited to attend. Progressive speakers will be present, and steps will be taken to boost the candidacy of "Fightin' Bob."

This is the first LaFollette meeting to be held in Manistique, and the local party leaders are expecting a big turn-out at the meeting.

Lyceum Course At Manistique Opens on Next Thursday

A fine musical treat is in store for Manistique people who hear the Cleveland Symphonic Quintet at the high school next Thursday, as the opening number of the 1924-25 Lyceum course at the auditorium.

Paul V. Vernon, director, is a violinist of real artistic ability. He began his study at an early age and quickly manifested unusual talents. At the age of 21, he was head of the Violin department of the Gray College of Music, Bloomington, Ill. This position he left to enter the U. S. Navy, and the young sailor was detailed for special musical service at Great Lakes and at Newport Training Stations. After his discharge he taught in the Cosmopolitan School of Music, Chicago, as head of the violin department and in 1921 was awarded the honor of a position in the Cleveland Symphony Orchestra.

William Carver Williams, Jr., cellist, is the gifted son of Day Williams, well-known Chicago master of this instrument. He is a young artist of exceptional talents and has enjoyed concert appearances successfully in and about the Chicago territory.

William Cheeseman, who plays the viola, is a pupil of the Conservatory of Oberlin, Ohio, which has produced many eminent musicians. He also studied in Boston and in Germany. He is especially a student of Chamber Music, which group forms a delightful feature of the program.

Lloyd Da Costa Jones, second violinist, is a pupil of the world-famous master, Eugene Yesay, and played as a member of the Cincinnati Symphony Orchestra under his baton. He has taught and concertized extensively. He possesses and plays a Viola d'Amour, a rare and antique instrument, now practically obsolete, but of beautiful harmony.

Blanche Webber Vernon, pianist and organist, studied with Henry Parpout Eames and with Beryl Rubinstein, two of the finest teachers in America. She is a soloist of no mean ability and an experienced accompanist.

The program of the company includes ensemble orchestral numbers, solos for the various instruments, duets, trios and quartets, as well as vocal numbers by Mr. Vernon, who has a lovely tenor voice. Their selections are from the best composers and represent the finest type of music.

BUSINESS WILL BE RESUMED AT RIVERSIDE YARD

Business is to be resumed at the Riverside Coal Company yards in the near future, according to the announcement of John I. Bellaire, receiver.

William Strahl, one of the stockholders of the dissolved company, will be in charge of the yards, and a supply of coal has already been ordered. The property and equipment have been leased by Mr. Strahl, who has been closely connected with the coal business for several years.

Mrs. Alice Reilly and Henry Hargreaves returned this week from Mantua, Ohio, where they visited their sister, Mrs. D. S. Finch, who was seriously ill, but is now reported to be improving.

Albert Nelson is ill at his home on Michigan avenue with a dental trouble that keeps his jaw partially locked. The ailment is said to emanate from the roots of a tooth.

Thackeray lifted his hat every time he passed the house in which he wrote "Vanity Fair."

LUMBER TO BE LUXURY SOON, SAYS COCHRAN

Conservation of natural resources was described as a "moral, economic and religious obligation," by Edward Cochran, secretary of the Michigan Department of Conservation, in a talk to the Manistique Rotary Club Thursday noon.

Mr. Cochran explained to the club members the present organization of the Conservation Department, which now includes the three divisions of fish, game, and forestry under one head. He did not criticize the former method of three separate departments, but pointed out the efficiency of the present system.

In a discussion of Michigan's fast diminishing timber supply, the speaker brought out the following points:

Three-quarters of the Michigan timber supply is now exhausted. At the present rate of cutting, lumber will be a luxury in 15 years.

For each 1,000 feet taken out, only 225 is replaced by current growth.

The Department of Conservation plans to re-forest 10,000 acres of pine annually.

Lumber is now being hauled an average of 565 miles, and this average is always on the increase.

Fish and game decrease in proportion to the timber supply. The preservation of our forests is a moral, economic, and religious problem and obligation.

Mr. Cochran also called attention to the work of the department in determining what can best be done with the vast area of cut-over land in this state.

His talk was intensely interesting, and was much appreciated by the club members.

W. W. Pray Leaves Brown Lumber Co.

Severing his connection with the Brown Lumber Company, with which he has been connected since the concern first came to Manistique, W. W. Pray, 117 Arbutus avenue, plans to move from this city in the near future, and will establish a home at Highland Park, where he has accepted a position with a contracting firm.

Mr. Pray was manager of a plant for the Brown Lumber Company at Traverse City before coming to Manistique, and was put in charge of the construction of the local plant. When the mill started operations, he was made plant manager here, a position he held up to the time of his resignation.

High School Plays At Munising Today

Munising high will furnish the opposition for the Manistique football team today, and the locals will leave this morning for the Alger county seat to play their third game of the season.

A rigid training schedule has been followed by the local grid squad, and they hope to compensate for their two defeats this season by beating the Munising eleven.

Next week's game will be the first home game for Coach Vic Crittenden and his men. They will play St. Joseph's of Escanaba at the fair grounds on that date.

NOTICE TO PUBLIC.

Anyone having old linen and wishing to donate it to the missionary cause will please leave it at the home of Mrs. Hugh McMillan, 1102 Wisconsin Ave. G705-277-3t

NOTICE. All those having articles to donate for the rummage sale which will be held October 11, 13 and 14 by the ladies of the Episcopal church, at the Huber building, 708 Delta avenue are asked to call Mrs. Leonard Clapp, or Mrs. Charles Slining. 703-275-7t.

OLD RIVALS WILL CLASH HERE TODAY

Every football fan in Gladstone and in Escanaba will be out this afternoon when Escanaba and Gladstone line up for the big game of the season, the annual scrap between the two neighbors.

Both teams are out for a win and while the Esky contenders are expected to have the edge on the Gladstone men, the home squad is going into it today with its usual fighting spirit and the game is bound to be a real battle.

Excitement over the game is running high, especially among the student fans. The ticket selling contest which is being staged by classes is so far the senior's with the sophomores second.

The line-up for the game today is being withheld by Coach Gordon. Radical changes have been made this week in the positions and Coach Gordon was not ready to announce what shifts had been made yesterday. Goodman will be out because of an injured shoulder and Peterson will take his place.

Megaphones will be sold on the field.

A pep mass meeting was held yesterday afternoon with talks by members of the public speaking class, Helen Erickson, Dorothy Johnson, Wallace Cameron and Soren Johnson, captain of the team. A new football song was introduced for the occasion.

At 2:30 o'clock.

"Jab" Murray, widely known official, and referee of last year's Gladstone-Esky game, will referee today's battle. "Jab" will come here from Marinette and will bring his umpire with him. The game is called for 2:30 o'clock.

CITY BRIEFS

M. J. Pellitier of New York was here on business yesterday.

Mrs. L. J. Smith and daughter, Miss Grace, who have been visiting relatives at Rockford, Ill., for the past few weeks, are expected to return to their home here today. They are making the trip by motor.

Mrs. Henry Rosenblum has returned from Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., where she has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. Leon Winkelman.

Mr. and Mrs. Marcellus Bourbonville of Green Bay are visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Caron.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Murray who have been visiting at Newberry have returned to their home here.

Mrs. Buckman of Appleton, Wis., is spending the week end here with her daughter, Miss Myra Buckman. Miss Buckman is an English instructor on the Gladstone high school faculty.

Miss Violet Glenfield has returned from a week's vacation visit at Sault Ste. Marie, Mich.

Carrier Boys Entitled To Consideration

A slight show of consideration is being asked in behalf of the carrier boys from those, who leaving their homes early in the morning, pick up a paper along the way and keep it over.

Borrowing someone else's paper and forgetting to return it seems a small matter. But here are some things to think over.

The Press carrier boys are in business for themselves. When a paper is taken it means that the boy loses the money he paid for that paper. A complaint generally follows that means again, the loss of a fifty cent bonus, a reward for no complaints during the week.

There have been complaints especially from down-town business places, but it is believed, that with an explanation of how much delivery of a paper means to the carrier, these will stop.

RUNEBERG LODGE GIVES PARTY TONIGHT

All plans have been completed by the Order of Runeberg for the party at which it will entertain tonight at Wasa hall.

The affair will open with flower and pie auction sales by means of which it is hoped to raise funds to aid a member who is in need of help.

Following the sales a dancing party will be held with accordion music played by a Gladstone young woman who is extremely talented in this line. Refreshments will also be served.

The public has been cordially invited to attend the party.

Prizes Increase Interest in Work

Since the winning of prizes at the fair by three pupils of All Saints' Catholic school, Dorothy Murphy who took first in spelling, Lucille Miller who won first in writing and Viola Olive who came in third in the writing contest, added interest is being taken by pupils in these subjects.

Friendly competition has developed among the pupils and the Sisters of St. Joseph report that exceptionally fine work is being done.

DECEMBER TAX TO BE LOWER THIS YEAR

The December tax assessment will be in the neighborhood of two per cent less than it was last year, according to the estimates of Eric M. Johnson, city assessor, who is working at the city hall, spreading the school tax roll.

The state assessment this year, Mr. Johnson said yesterday, will be about $1,000 less than while county assessments have not yet been received, assuming that they are the same as last year's, the tax will be lowered by at least two per cent.

The school tax total this year will be lowered. The amount will be $84,525 as compared with $119,500 in 1923. This brings the assessment to $39.29 per $1,000 of property valuation, a figure much lower than the rate of $56 last year. The actual decrease in the school assessment rate amounts to $16.50.

Collection of the second installment of the taxes, the state county and school taxes, will begin December 10 with the period of collection extending to January 10. The delinquent four per cent fee will be charged after January 10.

MARKET WILL BE OPEN HERE THIS MORNING

Market day will be held in Gladstone as usual today, opening this morning at 8 o'clock at the regular market place, Seventh street from Minnesota to Superior avenues.

Farmers from nearby places will line up their cars, trucks and wagons in the market place as they did the previous Saturday and the farm produce will be on display for the selection of the buyers.

Last Saturday's market was reported by the Woman's club, in charge, a big success, and those backing the movement are confident that it will be made a permanent Gladstone institution.

Girl Waitress Causes Split in Alleged Gang of Robbers.

Mike Koski, alleged by the police to be the sales agent for the gang of burglars who smashed the Blomstrom & Petersen store window last November and made their getaway with jewelry valued at $2,100, is in a cell at the county jail awaiting a hearing on a charge of receiving stolen property.

John Wickowski, believed to be another member of the gang, is also in custody and will be arraigned on a charge of burglary today.

Peter "Pole" Ritel already has been held in custody, charged with burglary.

Bonds in all three cases have been set at $5,000. Ritel and Koski have been bound over to circuit court.

Gave It to Girl.

A pretty Crystal Falls waitress was the wedge upon which the alleged triangular partnership was split, the police say. Koski was given a number of watches, a bracelet, several rings and a pearl necklace to dispose of. Instead of selling the goods and dividing the money, officers declare that he gave most of the articles to the girl. Decker in her finery, so the story runs, she "threw Koski down" and went to Kenosha.

In the meantime, Ritel was arrested here and Koski was picked up in Watermeet. The latter had one of the stolen watches in his possession. He declared Ritel gave it to him to sell. Ritel, when confronted by Koski, declared that Wickowski was the real robber and had passed the stolen goods to him.

Has Not Been Questioned.

Wickowski was arrested in Iron Mountain yesterday afternoon. Officers engaged in a footrace with him, up and down several alleys and across a number of vacant lots before they caught him. He was not questioned last night, but probably will be given an opportunity to speak in the presence of his accusers today.

Yesterday's developments will probably lead to the recovery of an additional quantity of the stolen goods.

AMUSEMENTS

AT THE DELFT.

"Thank goodness," said Norma Talmadge, when working in "The Song of Love," now playing at the Delft theatre, "that this picture is to have a Sahara desert setting. Now I'll be able to don some fluffy costumes."

"The Song of Love" is a drama of the Algerian Sahara. It was directed by Chester Franklin for release by Producer Joseph M. Schenck through First National. Norma has the role of an Ouled Nail dancing girl. Joseph Schildkraut, idol of feminine theatregoers of two continents, heads the supporting cast, which also includes Arthur Edmund Carewe, the "Svengali" of "Tribly"; Maude Wheat, Hector V. Sarno, Laurence Wheat, Mario Carillo, James Cooley, Albert Prisco and Earl Schenck.

AT THE STRAND.

Paramount promised us, and George Melford in his latest production, "The Dawn of Tomorrow," which opened at the Strand yesterday, has given us an even greater success than both "The Light That Failed" and "Flaming Barriers."

He has produced the picture with an all-star cast, headed by Jacqueline Logan and including David Torrence, brother of Ernest; Raymond Griffith, leading man; Guy Oliver popular character actor, and Marguerite Clayton, one of the most beautiful blondes in pictures. Miss Logan Torrence and Griffith have featured roles.

The story is a love melodrama by Frances Hodgson Burnett—a popular novel and successful stage play. The settings are the drawing rooms of London society, behind the scenes in British politics, London on a foggy night, the Limehouse river front, the slums of Cheapside.

It's human and wholesome, with many melodramatic high-spots, one of the most interesting films we have ever seen.

And Jacqueline Logan—she just reaches right into the hearts of her people in her characterization of Glad.

SOCIAL

St. Joseph's Church.

Today, Saturday, there will take place at St. Joseph's church the celebration of the Feast of St. Francis of Assisi, the founder of the great Franciscan Order. There will be a high mass at 8 o'clock and benediction with Blessed Sacrament.

Father Bertrand, the beloved pastor of St. Joseph's, has returned from his trip to the Holy Name convention at Washington, D. C.,

Friday morning. At the next Holy Name meeting on Thursday night, Father Bertrand will give a vivid description of this great convention and also of the great Holy Name parade there, which proved to be the greatest religious celebration ever held in this country.

On Sunday, October 5th, the Guardian Angels' Feast will be celebrated at St. Joseph's church. In the afternoon at 2:30, the parents are requested to bring all their children for this celebration, at which time also, all the little ones will receive the special blessing of the church.

During the whole month of October which is "Rosary" month, there will be special services at St. Joseph's church every morning, consisting of a high mass, the Rosary devotion, and benediction. The faithful are kindly requested to take part in these special services.

On Wednesday evening, October 5th, the Married Ladies' Altar Society will give a card party at St. Joseph's clubrooms, to which all are kindly invited.

On Sunday, October 12th, the Young Ladies' Sodality and the children will give the great Palmer photoplay, "Judgment of the Storm," at St. Joseph's auditorium for the benefit of the church. The wonderful news reel portraying the Holy Name convention and monster parade of 100,000 men recently held at Washington, D. C., will be featured at St. Joseph's auditorium on Tuesday, October 19th.

Matinee at Rink Today. The Coliseum Roller Rink will as usual be open this afternoon for the special Saturday matinee. It is expected that a large number of roller rink enthusiasts will be present to take advantage of the bargain matinee prices.

Large crowds of fans filled the rink during both the evening and afternoon openings Thursday.

Sophomores Elect Officers. The Sophomore class of St. Joseph high school held an interesting election of officers on Friday, Oct. 3, which resulted as follows: President—Hilary Larson. Vice President and Secretary—Clifford Frasher. Treasurer—Bessie Paquet. Reporters—Jessica Gross, Ross DeMars.

Pantry Sale Today. It is expected that a large patronage will be accorded a pantry sale to be held today at the Needham Electric Company's store, when the proceeds of the undertaking will be given to Louis LeDuc, who was injured in a boating accident two weeks ago. A large assortment of baked goods will be offered at today's sale.

Enjoy Chicken Supper. A gathering of young ladies, employees of the Boston Store, enjoyed supper last evening at Peterson's Tea Room. The occasion was in honor of Miss Irene Moore, who is soon to become a bride.

A delicious chicken supper was served. The cozy tea room was decorated beautifully with cut flowers and plants. The evening was thoroughly enjoyed amid the wishes of the bride-to-be.

RAG MAN SAVES $20,000. New Haven, Conn.—A $20,000 fortune in junk was revealed when police recovered a safe stolen from the dingy Myrtle street apartment of Levi Staring, 72, a rag picker.

Staring had been nicknamed "the Midas of Myrtle street." The old recluse had amassed the $20,000 from valuables found in the public dumps.

DISSENSION IS APT TO RESULT IN BIG BATTLE

Landis' Move Criticized by Ban Johnson and Barney Dreyfuss

Washington, Oct. 3.—Factional strife involving baseball's highest officials may grow out of the O'Connell-Dolan bribery deal that has thrown the diamond world into turmoil.

Johnson, Dreyfuss Rebel. Culminating factors in this situation today were the announcement of Ban Johnson, president of the American League, that he would not attend the series because of the suspicion surrounding the Giants, and a statement by Barney Dreyfuss, Pittsburgh club owner, which was viewed here as a challenge to the decision of Commissioner Landis which placed the guilt for the bribery scheme upon Dolan and O'Connell alone among the Giant players.

U. S. INTERESTS WIN MANGANESE FIELD CONTRACT

Georgia Concession Was Much Sought After, Report

(By The Associated Press.) Moscow, Oct. 2.—After a lively battle for several months between American, British, German, French and Dutch interests for possession of the rich manganese fields in the Chokotai district of Georgia, the largest and most productive in the world, the Americans, as represented by the banking house of W. A. Harriman and Company, of New York, carried off the laurels. Both the Georgian and Russian governments have accepted their offer in principle, and it remains only to draw up the details of the contract, involving several million dollars and covering a period of 25 years.

A VOTE FOR LAFOLLETTE IS A VOTE FOR BRYAN.

Yoters who are fundamentally Republicans, but who are being misled by sugar coated, but blackly false LaFollette doctrine...

Even the most rabid LaFollette follower will not seriously claim that the Wisconsin senator has even a semblance of a chance to receive enough votes to insure his election as president.

Under the constitution, should no candidate have a majority of the votes in the electoral college, it is provided that the names of the THREE candidates receiving the greatest number of votes for president shall be certified to the national House of Representatives.

The constitution also provides that should no candidate for vice president have a majority of the votes in the electoral college, the names of the TWO candidates having received the greatest number of votes, shall be certified to the United States senate and that body shall proceed to the election of a vice president.

The constitution further provides that in the event that the national house of representatives is unable to name a president before the fourth day of March, next following, then the individual named as vice president by the senate, shall become the president of the United States.

The section of the constitution under which such a result would be almost inevitable, follows and readers of the Press are urged to clip it out and study it carefully to determine for themselves, whether or not a vote for LaFollette at the November election is a vote for Bryan, for president of the United States.

(Sec. 3, Art. 2) "Method of Electing President and Vice President. The electors shall meet in their respective states and vote by ballot for President and Vice President, one of whom, at least, shall not be an inhabitant of the same state with themselves; they shall name in their ballots the person voted for as president, and in distinct ballots the person voted for as vice president and for all persons voted for as vice president, and the number of votes for each, which lists they shall sign and certify, and transmit sealed to the seat of government of the United States, directed to the President of the Senate."

The president of the senate shall, in the presence of the Senate and the House of Representatives, open all the certificates and the votes shall then be counted. The person having the greatest number of votes for President shall be the President, if a majority of the whole number of electors in any state has voted for him, and if no person has a majority, then from the two highest numbers on the list, the Senate shall choose the Vice President; a quorum for the purpose shall consist of a majority of the whole number of electors in any state."

Mount Everest is nearly as high as the combined heights of Mount Cook, the highest mountain in New Zealand; Fairbank, the highest in Alaska, and San Geronimo, the highest in Texas.

BRINGING UP FATHER

By George McManus

The Pifle Hook

The movie camera whets his shears. And delves by prominent legs. He cuts and cuts like an assassin. To save the morals of the nation. No yarn is safe from his steady hand. Here's how he slices his scenes: whacks!

LITTLE RED RIDING HOOD. Cut out little girl carrying basket containing wine. It is a violation of the prohibition amendment. Cut out girl's conversation with wolf. Not true to life. Cut out girl talking with woodman. Nice girls do not stop in forest to converse with strange men. Cut out grandmother in bed. Bedroom scenes prohibited by Rule 497885. Cut out wolf eating aged woman. Too gross some.

MERCHANDISE OF VENICE. Change title. It is misleading. Make Shylock a German spy. Hearing before judge should be changed to trial by jury. Eliminate all reference to pound of flesh. Cut out elopement which teaches disregard for parental authority. Cut out scene showing Portia disguised as a man. This is against the law.

WASHINGTON TUBBS II

RIP VAN WINKLE

Places too much emphasis on idleness. Make Rip foreman of a shirt factory. Eliminate all quarrels between Rip and wife. Cut out drinking scenes in mountains. Against the law. Cut out sleeping for twenty years. Too improbable.

A THOUGHT

This people draweth nigh unto me with their mouth, and honoreth me with their lips; but their heart is far from me.—Matt. 15:8. Hypocrisy is the necessary burden of villainy.—Johnson. GARLIC SMELL COSTLY. Drivers of "pedicabs" cycle successors of the rickshaw in China, must avoid eating garlic. The smell of this vegetable costs each a fine of $100. GAS TAX GROWING. More than $50,000,000 is collected annually as gasoline taxes in the 35 states that require this revenue. The average tax is two cents, 12 states getting one cent a gallon, and one, Arkansas, levying four cents. REPLACING SCARF. Furs tied about the throat like cravats are very swagger and are taking the place of the silk scarf.

MISS—OR MRS.

BY JANE PHELPS. MRS. ANDERSON, WIDOW, LEAVES FOR SAN FRANCISCO. Chapter XV. Mrs. Alvirra Anderson bought the shiny, lacy underthings she had so admired, the things Aunt Drucilla would never have dreamed Alvirra Anderson could wear. Another negligee; an evening dress, low necked and sleeveless, a cloak of palest blue brocade, completed her purchases, and depleted her purse, but worried her not at all. The beauty parlor was Alvirra's next objective. A shampoo, a manicure, then the hair dresser appeared. "Will madame have her hair dressed as she always wears it? If so please direct me," the smiling woman said. "Dress as you like, make it becoming if you can." "That is easy. Madame has wonderful hair. It is a treat to see and dress such hair in these days." Alvirra leaned back comfortably while the woman worked. "Will madame see if she approves?" the attendant passed Alvirra a glass. A gratified smile broke over her face. Her hair softly done, drawn down just to hide the top of her ears, suited her face and made such a change in her appearance that Alvirra scarcely recognized herself. "You're wonderfully well," she said, approvingly tipping the girl. "I hope so. It's this way hereafter." Alvirra was too weary to do anything but eat her dinner and go to bed.
