SHANGHAI AGAIN THREATENED BY KIANGSU'S MEN

Defenders Are Rushing Reinforcements To Aid of Losers.

Shanghai, Oct. 8.—The Chekiang province armies today were threatened with loss of the city of Shanghai for the second time within a month, and were rushing reinforcements southward to check the latest aggression of their Kiangsu armies.

Situation Serious. It was admitted, however, that the situation around Sunk Kiang where the combined Kiangsu-Anhui-Fukien forces have almost surrounded the city, was serious. It was also admitted that reserves were being rushed toward Sunk Kiang to check the encircling movement of the enemy.

An official statement from Lungwha declared that the Kiangsu troops around Sunk Kiang were handicapped by lack of ammunition, because Wu Pei-fu, military commander in chief of the central government at Peking, to which the three provinces of Kiangsu, Anhui and Fukien owe allegiance, had ordered the munitions stream from Danyang (Tough province) arsenal diverted to the north, where he is fighting General Chang Tso-Lin of Manchuria.

Copper Interests' Hearing Scheduled for Today, Report

Lansing, Mich., Oct. 7.—A hearing on the contention of the upper peninsula copper interests that intra-state rates are excessive and unjust is scheduled for Wednesday before the state public utilities commission. According to a petition for an investigation and revision of tariffs on all Michigan railroads carrying copper, the upper peninsula industry is severely handicapped in attempting to meet outside competition in the markets of its own state.

Extra Highway Is Added to Program

Lansing, Mich., Oct. 7.—The state administrative board today placed a 15-mile stretch on M-55, between West Branch and Houghton Lake, on the 1925 highway program. The road will be improved with gravel, and will forge a link in what eventually will be a short route across the state to Menistee. Contracts were awarded for the paving of two small gaps on M-23 near Coldwater, for two-thirds of a mile of concrete in Cassopolis and for four miles of concrete on M-11 in Benzie county. Two stretches of gravel, about four miles each, were authorized on M-28 in Baraga county, the contracts going to Clifford Bridges and John Bacco.

Gains Will Head State Unitarians

Jackson, Mich., Oct. 7.—Michigan Unitarian conference here today elected the following officers: President, Ralph H. Gains. Deacons: vice president, Judge Charles E. SHENANDOAH IS ON TRIAL TRIP; EVERYTHING O. K.

Danville, Va., Sept. 7.—The Naval dirigible Shenandoah passed over this city at 8:07 o'clock tonight apparently not more than 1,500 feet high and traveling at an estimated speed of fifty miles an hour. The ship was heading due south and the roar of the engines were plainly heard by spectators on the streets.

Spartanburg, S. C., Oct. 7.—The Shenandoah passed over Thomasville, N. C., at 10:10 tonight at a speed of 30 miles an hour, according to information received by the local Southern Railway dispatchers.

Columbia, S. C., Oct. 7.—Messages picked up by the Shenandoah late tonight by a local receiving station said that all on board were enjoying the cruise and everything was well.

Greenville, S. C., Oct. 7.—The Shenandoah passed Spencer, N. C., 44 miles from Charlotte at 10:57 o'clock, according to a message picked up by the Southern Railway Company.

Charlotte, N. C., Oct. 7.—The Shenandoah passed over Dallas, N. C., more than 25 miles southwest of Charlotte at 12:36, according to reports to the Southern Railway office here, having passed some 20 miles to the northwest of Charlotte.

Spartanburg, S. C., Oct. 8.—The Shenandoah passed Gastonia, N. C., at 12:30 o'clock this morning, according to a report received by Southern Railway officers here.

WEATHER FINE. Aboard Shenandoah, 9 P. M., Oct. 7.—Ideal air sailing weather prevailed through the first 12 hours of the 9,000 mile voyage of the big navy dirigible from coast to coast. Winds which were not felt on the surface, were met in the upper level of the sky between 1,000 and 3,000 feet.

Delta County Gets $2,501 From State on Apportionment

Lansing, Mich., Oct. 7.—Automobile license receipts for the quarter ending October 1 were $730,243, a report completed today by the department of state shows. Of this amount $365,121 will be apportioned back to the counties. Ionia county will receive $2,909; Otsego, $1,578; Bay, $4,501; Calhoun, $7,408; Chippewa, $1,881; Delta, $2,501; Dickinson, $2,957; Genesee, $14,936; Gogebic, $2,993; Hillsdale, $2,229; Huron, $2,543; Houghton, $3,084; Iron, $1,464; Jackson, $6,557; Kalamazoo, $7,033; Kent, $17,595; Lenawee, $4,179; Marquette, $2,894; Mason, $1,549; Menominee, $2,158; Monroe, $3,573; Muskegon, $5,059; Oakland, $14,783; Saginaw, $9,974; St. Clair, $5,515; Shiawassee, $3,776; Washtenaw, $6,957; Wayne, $131,931. The tiny principality of Monoc, best known as the seat of the famous gambling resort of Monte Carlo, is seeking admission to the League of Nations.

LA FOLLETTE TO DEMAND PROBE OF SLUSH FUND

Thinks GOPS Are Raising Big Sums To Use in Their Campaign.

Scranton, Pa., Oct. 7.—Senator Robert M. LaFollette announced in an address here tonight that he had demanded an immediate and searching investigation by the senate campaign expenditure committee to determine whether the Republican national committee is raising "an enormous slush fund" to be expended "in buying the election in doubtful states."

In a telegram sent today to Senator Borah, Republican, Idaho, chairman of the committee, the independent presidential candidate said he had urged him to issue subpoenas for William M. Butler, chairman of the Republican national committee; W. T. Mellon, brother of the secretary of the treasury; Edward T. Stotesburg, a business associate of J. P. Morgan; Joseph R. Grundy, president of the Pennsylvania Manufacturers' Association; Samuel M. Vauclain, of the Baldwin Locomotive Works, and S. D. Warriner, a Pennsylvania anthracite operator.

Senator LaFollette told the senate committee chairman that he had reason to believe a "slush fund" of four or five million dollars was being sought and that the campaign to raise the money was based "on the circulation of malicious slander and libel."

Large Difference Is Noted in Win-Lose Ends

New York, Oct. 7.—Washington and New York players will divide a fund of $248,319.38, it was announced today after the fourth world's series game, the last from which the players receive a share of the receipts. The winners will get $148,991.63 and the losers $99,327.75. The Giants have twenty-six eligible men, the Senators only 23. Exact figures for each man cannot be computed now because of the practice of donating lump sums to certain ineligible players and attaches, but the approximate shares follow:

Each Washington player will receive about $6,447 if the team wins the series, but only $4,319 if it loses. If the Giants win, each player will be entitled to about $5,731 but the amount will be cut to $3,821 if McGraw's team falls. Brooklyn and New York, second place clubs in the two leagues, will each receive $24,831.93 to be divided among its eligible players. Detroit and Pittsburgh, finishing third, will each receive $16,554.61 to split. The total players' fund for 1923, the record year, was $362,783.04. Each winning Yankee received $6,530 and each losing Giant was given $4,463. The Senators, because only 23 men are eligible to divide the smaller fund of this year, will nevertheless approach the record Yankee figure if Harris' team win the series.

The defection of O'Connell and Dolan, who were removed from the Giant eligible list on the eve of the series after having been adjudged guilty of attempted bribery, has not only deprived the two men of a share of the proceeds, but will add $400 in the winning share of each Giant now eligible and $300 to the losing share.

Stump Is Razed. "That is the man who, it appears, is likely to be selected to handle this huge slush fund to buy the election for Calvin Coolidge. The White House—the official home of all the great presidents of the United States, the symbol of the nation's government—is to be drawn into this huge conspiracy to corrupt a nation."

Why is Stump to be selected to handle this slush fund? I will tell you. He has had wide experience in rounding up delegates to the Republican national campaign. Everybody knows that there has not been a Republican national convention in a general election where the purchase and sale of southern delegates.

'GOOSE' GOSLIN'S HOMER IN THIRD GIVES SOLONS START; MOGRIDGE YANKED IN EIGHTH

WASHINGTON'S STAR MOUNDSDMAN TO HAVE CHANCE AT NEHF TODAY; CROWD WITH VISITORS.

(By The Associated Press.) New York, Oct. 7.—The "Goose" hangs high in Washington tonight for Leon Goslin, slugging pride of the Senators and favorite of their fans, clubbed the New York Giants into defeat today almost single-handed and put the American League champions back in the thick of one of baseball's greatest championship battles. Another record breaking crowd, exceeding 50,000 all told, stormed the Polo Grounds and cheered the Senators as they pulled themselves together in spite of a make-shift infield caused by the loss of Peckinpaugh, battered three Giant pitchers and captured the fourth game of the 1924 world's series by a score of 7 to 4, the most decisive verdict of any game so far.

The series now stands at two-all and the fifth game, which is likely

Attendance Figures. Figures for the four games played are: Fourth Game Total Attendance (Paid) 104,843 168,533 Gross receipts $191,677.00 $649,201.00 Players share $97,755.30 $331,192.51 Clubs share $60,701.15 $220,028.34 Advisory Council $28,215.55 $97,380.15 to witness a repetition of the opening struggle between Walter Johnson, the Senators' wonderful right-hand veteran, and Art Nehf, brilliant Giant southpaw, will be played tomorrow at the Polo Grounds. The battle will shift back to Washington on Thursday, for the sixth game is now assured with a likelihood the series will go the limit of seven games.

Five of the Senators' runs today, alone enough to clinch the game, were accounted for by "Goose" Goslin, who hammered out four hits in as many times at bat, including his second homer of the series which scored two runners ahead of him in the third inning and gave Washington a lead which it never relinquished.

While the slow southpaw curves of George Mogridge and the relief pitching of Fred "Firpo" Marberry, again successful in his favorite role, kept the Giants in check, the Senators bunched their attack in three innings and Goslin was the dominating figure each time.

The offerings of Virgil Barnes, who retired after being bombarded for five innings, and Wayland Dean, who finished the game after Howard Baldwin had got through two innings unscathed, proved particularly relishing "sauces" for Goslin. In addition to his homer, a terrific drive that sailed on a line far into the field stands in the fifth after a wild pitch had let in McGraw, and started another two-run rally in the eighth with his fourth hit, scoring ahead of Joe Judge on Oscar Bluege's third safe blow of the game.

The "Goose's" spectacular slugging made him not only the hero of the day, but the idol of the crowd which, after his circuit clout, gave him an ovation scarcely less vociferous than that of his own followers after his first homer, a potent factor in Washington's triumph on Sunday.

The crowd as yesterday, was "with" the fighting Senators and their youthful pilot, Stanley Harris, who also was a scintillating figure at bat and aloft today. The Giants came in for their share of cheering, particularly when in a fashion which has become typical of the series they rallied in the closing innings, but the crowd's noisier sympathies were with Washington and Goslin. There was another din of cheering for the "Goose" when he came out to the field after his homer, and displayed his versatility by making a circus catch of a long drive off Wilson's bat.

Meanwhile the Giants were buffeted by the southpaw shoots of Moogridge, former New York Yankee moundsmen, who silenced the heaviest New York artillery with a puzzling change in pace and a tantalizing slow ball. For seven innings, the McGraw men gathered but three hits off Mogridge and two runs, one of which was due to an error and the other to a two-base blow by George Kelly, but in the eighth, the southpaw developed a sudden stroke of wildness, and despite a seven-run lead, was hastily withdrawn by Harris after the first two men to face him had walked.

Into this critical situation strode "Firpo" Marberry, hero in a relief role in the second game but a "bust" yesterday when he started

Washington's devastating attack, in which 13 solid blows were combined from the offerings of McGraw's three moundsmen, made up for flaws in the defense of the Senators, due chiefly to the loss of Peckinpaugh, still on the side lines as a result of a "charley horse" or pulled tendon and the consequent breaking up of their brilliant infield combination. Two of the team's three errors paved the way for Giant runs.

"Bucky" Harris, baseball's latest "miracle manager," shared with Goslin and Marberry the day's spotlight. Pulling his men together after yesterday's disastrous setback the young leader scintillated on the defense, besides scoring two runs and figuring largely in the attack which also saw Oscar Bluege and Earl McNeely regain their batting eyes for the first time in the series. Singles by McNeely and Harris were the opening shots in two of Washington's barrages, while Bluege's smash brought across two tallies in the eighth.

A NEW RECORD HUNG UP HERE

Cleveland and St. Louis Stage Fast Exhibition Game; Big Crowd.

In the fastest baseball game ever staged on any diamond in the peninsula the St. Louis Browns yesterday defeated the Cleveland Indians, 4 to 2, before a crowd of 2500 people at the South Park ball grounds.

As a baseball exhibition, yesterday's game could not have been surpassed. The fielding of Ken Williams, Jacobson and Robertson and the pitching of Dave Danforth of the Browns, furnished to followers of the game, used to witnessing a mediocre brand of baseball, a spectacle that will not soon be forgotten.

As in the battle in the American League throughout the season, St. Louis yesterday showed greater class than the Indians, playing a brand of finished baseball such as that which made them serious contenders for the American League until the closing two weeks of the season, when their hopes were wrecked in the final series with the New York Yankees.

A smiling sky and a sun tempered breeze made conditions ideal for the staging of yesterday's exhibition game and resulted in an attendance record that will closely approach the peak record of the local park. In the big crowd there was scattered the greatest number of boys ever to witness a baseball game of any kind in this city and the playing of the big leaguers proved a revelation to the youngsters, as well as to many adult fans.

Jacobson Batting Star.

Four successive walkoffs after two were out in the fourth, inning gave St. Louis their quartet of tallies. Robertson singled, McManus lofted to McNulty and Williams grounded to Gardner who tossed to Sewell, nipping Robertson. Jacobson doubled scoring Williams. Severeid singled scoring Jacobson. Collins got a blow which put Severeid on third and two more runs were marked up when Gerber doubled.

STRENGTH SHOWN BY IRON RIVER, SAULT ELEVENS

Marquette High Finds Itself in Newberry Tilt.

With the high school football season in the Upper Peninsula far enough advanced to cast some shadows of speculation on coming events, a comparison of last week's results may prove interesting.

The dope shows impressive strength in the camps of Iron River and Sault Ste. Marie, an increasing scoring power in the Marquette machine, and places both Escanaba high schools well in the front of the parade. It also demonstrates that Menominee high is not the weakling which many early-season prognosticators were inclined to believe.

Sault Ste. Marie defeated a team made up of its own alumni 6 to 0 Saturday afternoon. The graduate aggregation contained such performers as Campbell, Potvin, Harper, White, Madigan and LaPrabrie, all footballers whose prowess is well known to followers of the sport in this section.

Marquette's sensational comeback in the last two periods of the contest with Newberry demonstrated that the Queen City eleven—made up for the most part of light, inexperienced youngsters—is likely to prove bothersome to the other teams which have places on its schedule. Marquette had lost to Ishpeming and Negaunee in its first two games, trailing 40 to 6 at the end of the first half.

Menominee No Weakling. Stephenson's victory over Menominee Sept. 29 by a score of 12 to 9 was the biggest upset thus far this year. But when it is learned that Stephenson made only one first down during the game, and did its scoring as a result of unusual breaks, the fact looms up that Menominee, perhaps, may be expected to show plenty of stuff before the season is over.

Ironwood, up to the present time, has played only one Michigan team—Waukegan. The Red Devils won 22 to 0. Ironwood means Hurley next Saturday.

Escanaba's victories over Newberry and Gladstone by decisive scores and the tie with St. Joseph, along with the latter's defeat of Munising, in the light of comparisons, are impressive for both local prep aggregations.

Escanaba high plays Marquette here next Saturday; the Saints go to Manistique.

Good Tackles Are Sought by Coaches of Michigan Team

(By The Associated Press.)

Ann Arbor, Mich., Oct. 7.—The problems of the coaching staff at the Michigan football camp took a queer twist today when, after converting all possible prospects into ends, it was realized that only a few really forceful tackles had been developed in the process of training.

Tom Edwards and George Babcock seem slated to occupy the regular berths at tackle. The Michigan system, however, is not only to develop 11 men for a team but also a powerful reserve, capable of taking the reins at any time.

Smale Repentant Following Night in Albion's Jail

(By The Associated Press.)

Albion, Mich., Oct. 7.—Lawrence Albert Smale, of Flint, who was expelled last week from Albion College after circulating his radical magazine, "The Maelstrom," in which he attacked the traditions of the college viciously, today was in a subdued and repentant mood.

After having spent the night in the Albion city jail young Smale this morning had his hearing in the justice court of L. T. Wright to answer to the charge of "disturbing literature of an immoral nature." After the young man signed a formal statement repudiating his attacks against the college and prosecutor C. C. Cortright, of Marshall, the charge was withdrawn and the young man set at liberty.

Class Continues in Grand Circuit

(By The Associated Press.)

Lexington, Ky., Oct. 7.—High class racing was continued at the Grand Circuit meeting here today when four races featured by the LaFayette for 2:09 pacers were given. The LaFayette was won by P. F. Fox's LaPaloma, driven by Clair Wolverton. The two miles in 2:02 1/4; and 2:01 3/4 were each better than the previous record for the stake.

The 2:07 trot was hard fought before going to Trampabitt. Trampabitt, Dr. White and Emma Harvester got into a jam at the head of the stretch in which Drivers Cox and Dickerson were thrown. None of the horses or drivers was injured.

Aggies Work Hard For Contest With Michigan Saturday

(By The Associated Press.)

Lansing, Mich., Oct. 7.—The Michigan Aggies, working zealously to bolster their strength against the invasion of Michigan next Saturday, went through a stiff scrimmage this afternoon.

Coach Ralph Young, who scouted Michigan over the week end, brought back reports of imposing strength in the Ann Arbor eleven. The Aggies are not polished in the offensive department and the tutors are turning all their energies to getting more drive behind the men who must carry the ball.

TRACE OF GIANT METEOR FOUND NEAR FLAGSTAFF

COOLIDGE HAS DECIDED EDGE IN NEBRASKA

Substantial Republican Majority Too Large to Tumble.

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
(Copyright 1924, by the Escanaba Press.)
Omaha, Neb., Oct. 7.—President Coolidge has the edge in Nebraska.

This will be disputed most vigorously at the moment by the La Follette forces, who feel, not without some foundation, that they have an even chance to win; but the factors which make a Coolidge victory probable are calculable, and here they are:

First, Senator Norris, who like Senator LaFollette, voted against American entry into the war and who is just as much a member of the insurgent group as is Brookhart of Iowa, is not attacking Coolidge. It is true that he is not out campaigning for the president but just the same a truce prevails between him and the regulars to such an extent that the Republican management is perfectly content with the status quo. Senator Howell, who has a following among the radicals is openly campaigning for Mr. Coolidge.

Second, the regular Republican vote in 1920 was 247,498 and the Democratic total was 119,608. Mr. Coolidge could afford to lose forty per cent of the Harding vote which would give him a total of 148,499 votes and still carry the state because if this defection is given to LaFollette, namely, 98,999 votes, and if the third party candidate also draws forty per cent of the Democratic vote of 1920 which would be 47,843 votes, the total would be only 148,842. This would mean a plurality for Mr. Coolidge of less than 2,000 votes.

The result may be as close as that here, but it is more likely to be a 15,000 plurality.

Bryan is confident. Now, with the foregoing figures as a basis, no Democratic leader with whom the writer talked would admit for a minute that forty per cent of the Democratic vote of 1920 would go to LaFollette. On the contrary the presence of Governor Bryan on the national ticket is confidently expected to hold the Democratic vote if indeed no gains are made.

No Republican with whom the writer talked would privately concede a forty per cent loss and many well informed men were canvassed in Lincoln as well as Omaha, who honestly tried to assess the situation.

The big, uncertain factor in Nebraska, of course, is the German vote. If all the men with whom this correspondent discussed this problem could have agreed on one essential fact, namely: how did the Germans vote before the war issue arose, then there would be no difficulty in coming to a conclusion on what is going to happen. The Republicans who believe the German vote has always been Democratic because the Democrats used to be "wet", and most of the Germans voted "wet", are not worrying about the drift of the German vote to LaFollette.

The Democrats who insist the Germans have recently been Republican think the loss to Coolidge will be so great when the Germans vote for LaFollette that Davis will come to the front with a small plurality and capture Nebraska's electoral vote.

Results of 1920-22. It is true that among the Germans about 100,000 of them voted as a block in 1920 on the Republican ticket, but many of them turned around in 1922 and helped Governor Bryan carry the state by 50,000 in the very same election that these Germans administered a defeat to Senator Hitchcock, Democrat, for being faithful to Wilson.

Talking on the train with August Kock, of Norfolk, Nebraska, who was returning from a convention of the Lutheran synod of Nebraska, the writer heard expressed what may well be called a typical German view. He talked politics before Kock knew the writer was making a political survey.

"Most of the Lutheran ministers and delegates," said Kock, "told me they were for LaFollette and so am I. In 1912 and before that I was a Democrat, but in 1916 I voted against Wilson and I voted for Harding in 1920."

"Why will you support LaFollette?" was the question that suggested itself immediately.

"Well, he was against the war" was the reply, "most of us who had relatives in Germany didn't want the war. Now if the Germans had come over to this country and attacked us, we would have fought them, for this is our country, but as it was, we should have stayed on this side and let Europe alone."

"Did most of the delegates say they would vote for LaFollette?"

"Most of those with whom I talked said so; there were some who claimed we would have had times if we voted for LaFollette but I don't believe it."

Yet in this last sentence may be read the key to the situation. It is the strongest weapon of attack that has yet been employed among the Germans—the scare about "bad business conditions."

It will make more Germans hesitate about voting for LaFollette than anything else.

Several influential Germans like Val Peters, editor of a German newspaper, and leader of the German-American alliance before the war, are openly campaigning for President Coolidge.

Some indication of the importance which the Republican management attributes to the German vote may be obtained by watching the careful distribution throughout the state of the argument that LaFollette's idea of having congress override the supreme court of the United States would, in the end work hardship on the Germans and other minorities. This state passed a drastic measure in war time prohibiting the teaching of any but the English language in the grade schools. The law was declared unconstitutional by the supreme court. So, also was the Oregon law which would have wiped out parochial schools.

But this is a long and technical argument and will not be easy to use with the German who knows it is a far cry between a proposal of a constitutional amendment and a two-thirds vote of both houses of congress plus action by three-fourths of the states, which would almost lose their sovereignty by making congress supreme.

Prosperity Counts. What really counts with the German voter is the old fashioned argument about prosperity, hard times and all the results that are supposed to be imminent, if the election is thrown into the house of representatives.

Many business men, Germans and others, have become apprehenside that a vote for LaFollette means confusion, so many of them are deserting Davis to make sure that Coolidge will win Nebraska's vote. Evidently the statement of Clem Shaver, Democratic national chairman, to the effect that the election was likely to be thrown into the house of representatives for decision has had just the opposite effect from that which he intended.

Instead of winning votes for Davis, many conservative Democrats have been turned toward Coolidge. Whatever the defection of Germans is toward LaFollette, and unquestionably it will be large, there will be acquisitions to make up for it.

The German vote probably will not be cast as a single block this time. It will be split up because President Coolidge is not associated with the argument over the entry of the United States into the war and because economic issues, especially the improvement in agricultural conditions, will tend to hold many German Republicans in line. If Mr. Coolidge holds sixty per cent of the German vote he will carry the state easily. If he acquires Poles, Bohemians and other foreign-born voters to offset his losses to LaFollette, he will still carry the state. The situation appears to favor the president.

Japan Acquires Its First Woman Flier
(By The Associated Press.)
Tokyo.—Japan's first aviatrix, Miss Shigeno Kibe, 22 years old, will complete her course of training at the Munesato Aviation School near Tokio within a few weeks. She expects to take part this autumn in the aerial competition to be held by the Imperial Aviation Association, and then, according to an agreement recently entered into, she will go to Mukden to join the air forces of Marshal Chang Tso-Lin, military governor of Manchuria. Miss Kibe's father is a contractor, furnishing supplies to the Manchurian warlord.

AN INDEPENDENT TICKET?

Tussing, MacArthur and Dickinson, candidates defeated in the recent Republican primary are, we are told, going to seek the courts for a ruling that will permit them to run on an independent ticket. It seems to be the consensus of legal opinion that they will fail; if they win it will appear that, unless the law is amended, the official ballot will be open at all times to any coteries of disgruntled candidates who want to meet together after their defeat and say they have organized a party. And that, it will be agreed, would not be a desirable condition.

It will make little difference with the result in Michigan this year whether the Tussing-McArthur-Dickinson coalition meets with success in its plans. Its probable strength, assuming that the Klan is back of it, is the combined vote cast for Perry and Hamilton, or something less than 200,000. Much of this vote is lost to the Republicans, anyway, and will, failing an independent ticket, go to the Democratic nominees, so the Republicans can afford to view the situation with equanimity.

This is a Republican year in Michigan, and the issue will doubtless prove that it is a big Republican year. The state ticket will be elected by overwhelming majorities, and Couzens will run well up with it. For president the vote for Davis promises to be negligible. La Follette is going to be well supported, but much of his strength will come from the Democrats. The state, it is generally conceded, will give a smashing majority for Coolidge.

O FATAL DAY!

The expected blow has fallen. Brookhart is bolted. Whereas previously he had confined his denunciation to General Dawes, he now spreads it out to include President Coolidge. The tablets of history will record that on the third day of October, in the Year of Our Lord 1924, in the city of Emmetsburg and the state of Iowa, South Wildman Brookhart read Calvin Coolidge out of the Republican Party.

Vermont, which is the President's natal state, and Massachusetts, which is the state of his residence, will drape their highways in black crepe. Let the White House be banked with call lilies. It is a time of mourning. Brookhart has spoken, and Calvin Coolidge is no more.

Merely as a matter of post-mortem interest, let us inquire into the reasons which have impelled the great one of Iowa to utter this irreparable, irrevocable and irremediable decree of political death.

Mr. Brookhart was for the McNary-Haugen bill. The President's influence defeated it. Moreover, "I was in favor of repealing the Esch-Cummins railroad law, and the President opposed it repeal. I favored the old soldiers' pension bill, and the President vetoed them, and I voted to pass them over the veto. They failed. I favored the soldiers' bonus bill. The President vetoed it, and I voted to pass it over the veto. It succeeded. I favored the postal employees' bill. It was vetoed, and I will vote to pass it over the veto. On all taxation I favor high taxes on excess profits and large incomes and estates. The President favors the Mellon plan, which taxes the poor. I belong to the Farm Bloc. The President belongs to the Wall Street Bloc."

Now then, such being the President's high crimes and misdemeanors, sentence is duly imposed by Smith Wildman Brookhart. The learned judge is in favor of subsidizing the farmers by means of a costly and complex machinery for dumping farm products abroad. He is in favor of japping the United States treasury and watching the beautiful metal shoot out in a golden stream.

Such is the pleasure of the learned judge whose solemn voice now frights the land. And because such is not the pleasure

The Piffle Hook

ARTFUL AND ARTLESS PREFACING every motion picture of more than one scene with a directory of the industry, beginning with the author and alphabetizing along to the zealot who writes the hand-me-down reviews has been perfected to such an astounding degree that it is now possible for the most impressionable usherette to find, in the first few flickers, the names of a score or more of pertinent personages of whose existence she was hitherto breathlessly unaware.

Stars and their satellites, their dress makers and manicurists, their directors, assistant directors, manipulators, pluggers, producers, distributors, leasers, releasers, censors, and guardians ad litem, the baker of the biscuits in the banquet scene and the concocter of the climatic crash outside, find their names, pseudonyms, non-declines and aliases pieced in perpetuating permanency.

The single omission—one that sinks deep into the consciousness of every person who believes in making the anthology of the screen complete—is the failure of Will Hays or somebody to see that the patrons can identify the pulsating personality of the ardent alliterative whose artistry is reflected in such succulent salvas as these:

"And as the sun settled in a fathomless sea of Senegalese seaweed atop the frozen abyss, there came the crescendo cackle of a cynical chiroprist cackling his mate."

"Once to every woman's heart-strings there comes the soulful summons to love, to hate, to have, to hold, to cherish; it's virulent, vibrant voice transcending all, concealing all."

"Great God Fortune, whose rumbling, raucous, reverberating tones temper the tedium of an interminable day, utters his euphonious ukase bidding Benjamin to lift his limp liver to loftier levels."

"Stretched before his elated eyes, endlessly eddying, lay the primeval prairies, singing a sinuous summons and Ethelbert's voice pierced into their egress."

art titles, we ask you, "I have to live for" The boys and girls who write them, as Henry Louis Mencken said, of Nicholas Murray Butler, "are birds if his got to be handed to."

IN NEW YORK

New York, Oct. 7.—A shot rang out in Esthonia, a little country on the Gulf of Finland.

The man who had been fired at complained to authorities. At a hearing next day false witnesses made it appear that the man who had been shot at was the one who fired the shot. Years of unfair imprisonment would follow.

A few years of toil hatched the nest egg of money that brought his family from across the sea.

Today his eldest daughter is a buyer for one of the largest department stores on the Pacific Coast—a San Francisco establishment.

It is customary for her to spend $60,000 a month.

She is Miss Aulick. Daily she goes into the market places of New York, choosing merchandise for her store at the other side of the country.

Her salary is more than that of executives of many important organizations. She is known as one of the shrewdest buyers in a highly competitive market.

Starting her work at the age of 15, Miss Aulick had scant opportunity to attend school. Yet she is exceptionally well read, associates with intellectuals and is a constant devotee of the opera.

Her brothers and sisters all have gone to college. Just at present the youngest is a member of the football squad of an eastern university. Yet none of them has been as successful as this young woman who educated herself.

Cross-word puzzle workers take their hobby seriously. But at a recent tournament for puzzle enthusiasts the fight had narrowed down to two persons, a man and a woman. All afternoon they had been fighting for the victory in the final match.

The man, a few words ahead in the solving of his cross patch medley of words, looked at the clock, started, then grabbed his hat and coat and rushed for the door.

Just as he was skipping away, he shouted, "sorry to leave, but I've got to catch the 6:03 train for home."

The woman won by default and the large rally was dumfounded.—STEPHEN HANNAGAN.

VIRA FINDS OLD HABITS CLING. Chapter XVIII. In his talk, Holland had shown a familiarity with San Francisco that led Vira to consult him as to where she should stay. "Do you want a gay, down-town hotel?" he asked her. "No, I should prefer a small, quiet place," Vira replied, remembering her resolve to curb her extravagance. "I may be there some time." "And I suppose you have letters to people who will make it gay for you," Holland insinuated. But as Vira made no reply, she hardly knew what he meant, he gave her the names of two or three small but good hotels. "Thank you so much," as he wrote them on a card for her. "I am sure I shall find them just what I want."

READINESS TO SERVE, COSTLY

Elaborate Machinery Is Ready at Call of Utility Consumer.

If you are unfortunate enough to have a fire, and the city's fire department puts it out, you don't expect to receive a bill, after all the smoke has blown away, for so many gallons of water pumped and so many hours time required by the firemen.

Or, if you receive a midnight visitor who dropped in to relieve you of the burden of caring for the family silver, watches, jewels, and you call the police, and they escort him to prison and return your valuables, you would think it strange if a bill came from the police department on the first of the month something like this:

30 hours skilled sleuthing at $3.00 $90.00
12 bullets fired at 10c per shot 1.20

Two per cent discount for payment within ten days.

Every citizen pays regularly in advance for police and fire protection in the form of taxes. said Fred R. Harris, city manager, discussing certain phases of his exhibits to the public during Open House Week. "This kind of protection is also included in rates for public utility service."

Gas Also Ready. Men identified with public services call this readiness to serve. It means that certain investments have been made in equipment which must be maintained and operated and kept ready for immediate use by one customer or several hundred any moment.

Consider the preparation for a dinner as a parallel to a fire alarm. Mr. Harris continued. "When you want fire service you send for it and it comes as quickly as possible. It is all prepared and at your disposal at the shortest possible notice. Trained men, organized for the task you assign to them, come instantly at your call."

When you start the potatoes and coffee and roast for dinner, or the week's washing, you turn a lit valve or a switch. That is your "fire alarm" to us. We have, back of that switch, an organization and elaborate machinery ready at your call. It is even more prompt than the fire and police department for it is waiting right inside your own home for you to make a demand. This is what we are demonstrating during Open House Week."

Mr. Harris pointed out that this constant readiness to render service appears in the customer's rates as definitely as the other items which represent taxes, interest, materials and labor. Public service must be always available, he said.

Some forms of rates single out the element of readiness to serve and tell just what it amounts to in cents per cubic foot of gas and in kilowatt hours. But whether this is done or not, it is there and it represents the cost of what is felt by many public utility operators to be the most important part of their duty."

Scores of interested citizens have accepted the invitation of the municipal government, to inspect the city-owned water, gas and electric service, since "Open House Week" opened Monday.

The crowds during the remainder of the week are expected to be much larger. Competent guides, who explain all phases of the manufacture of gas and the distribution of that commodity as well as electricity and water, are on hand at the plants to conduct visitors through.

Calif Sense. A farmer boy had spent a sultry half-hour, hauling and driving a new calf toward the barn. A steer dashed by, headed for the pasture, and the calf followed.

"Go to thunder, you darn fool!" muttered the boy. "You'll know the difference when supper time comes."—From Everybody's Magazine for October.

ality in a hearing. Leopold and Loeb were each 19 when sentenced. Grant was 20 and Krauser 19 when they were sentenced.

The motive of the robbery, according to Krauser, was to get some money for Christmas. The motive for the murder of "Bobby" Franks was a desire for a thrill and for the $10,000 of the two plotters hoped to extort from the boy's millionaire father.

Grant and Krauser each had less than the eight grades of common school education, while Leopold and Loeb were university graduates. Grant and Krauser lived in rented frame houses "back o' the yards"; Leopold and Loeb, in fashionable Hyde Park mansions.

Krauser was represented at the trial by a lawyer serving without pay by appointment of the court. Grant had a lawyer retained at a cost of $1700, all the family could scrape together. Leopold and Loeb had Clarence Darrow and the Bachrach brothers.

Krauser's family testified he was "queer," following a blow on his head from a brick when he was 8 years old, but the evidence carried little weight. Expert alienists at a day built up for Leopold and Loeb their elaborate psychiatric mitigation theory of "emotional deficiency."

And today Leopold and Loeb are safe in Joliet Penitentiary. Grant is under sentence to be hanged on Oct. 17, and Krauser is awaiting the action of the Supreme Court upon his verdict which imposed likewise a death sentence.

Such are the facts, if one cares to arrange them side by side. "My mother is going down to see the governor," says young Grant, contemplating a future which at present promises less than one month of life.

"I am ready for anything, but I hope some good may come of her visit."

Karl Rathfon Off On Cruise

According to a Tacoma, Wash., newspaper, Karl Rathfon, son of Samuel B. Rathfon, formerly owner of Rathfon Brothers stores in this city, has left Tacoma, for Honolulu with two companions, aboard a 40 foot boat, designed and constructed by the former Escanaba young man.

The Tacoma newspaper says of the adventure: "Setting sail today there Tacoma men started on a 2200-mile trans-Pacific cruise in a 40-foot boat. They plan to visit Honolulu."

"The craft, planned and built by Karl Rathfon in his spare time during the last two years, is technically a power ketch, equipped with a ten-horsepower, two-cylinder engine. The deck measures 37 feet with a twelve-foot jib boom and a 32-foot aft-mast.

"For ballast over the rougher seas, the ship carries three tons of steel borings and two tons of mortar. The fresh water tank holds 150 gallons, an allowance of five quarts a day, the skipper figures.

"Wendell Brown, 18, well known Tacoma boy, and Edward Amende, football star of the College of Puget Sound, will share the adventurous cruise with Rathfon.

Hewing to the Line

WITH the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) industry begins with service and ends with profits. Service and profits are fundamentally two aspects of the same thing. The one contains the other.

A fair profit to the stockholders, a fair price to the consumers, a just industrial program for the workers, a clean attitude toward competitors and service for everybody, all the time, are merely different ways of saying: here is an industrial corporation which is successful.

Distinguished service medals are not awarded bankrupts. If an organization cannot make a profit, it cannot remain in business. If industry is made to suffer the wrongs of unnecessary investigations, fixed profits, fixed wages or any other fixed workings of business, the business will eventually be forced into bankruptcy, and the result will be a summary ending of its service to society.

Business is a living, growing, changing organism. It cannot be "fixed." You cannot amaze by law. You can only restrain. And unwise restraint tends to lessen and limit production.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is carrying on with scientific efficiency. Its service to society, as a whole, is an inseparable part of its successful existence.

The Lamar, Missouri, Democrat says: "Every great and successful business does more to make happy homes, raise living standards, and place comforts and even luxuries at the doors of myriads, than all of the spouting declaimers that ever dwell in the iridescent realms of fancy."

"Good wages could never be paid without creative genius to organize and carry on a successful business. And the secret of every big business success is to be able to sell things cheaper instead of higher."

"Our greatest benefactors are seldom recognized for what they are. If you'd tell the average man, for example, that the Standard Oil Company had done more for the human race than all of the riposting sorts of discontent that ever tortured the air with their raucous clamor, he'd probably say you were joking."

The success of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is enduring only because its existence is profitable and serviceable to all with whom it comes in contact.

Yankee's Battle To Supremacy in 1923 Phenomenal

(By The Associated Press.) New York--From a spectacular viewpoint, the world's series of 1923 in which the New York Yankees turned back the New York Giants and climbed the championship peak after two previously successful battles with the McGraw men, eclipsed any on record but the palm for the hardest fought title struggle goes to the famous series between the Giants and Boston Red Sox in 1912.

prevailing, eight games were required before Cincinnati took the measure of the Chicago White Sox in 1919 and the Giants downed the Yankees in 1921, while Cleveland and Brooklyn met seven times in 1920 before the Indians triumphed. The seven-game rule has been in effect again since 1921.

GOSLIN'S HOMER IN GIVES SOLONS 'ART; MGRIDGE YANKED IN EIGHTH

WASHINGTON'S STAR MOUND MAN TO HAVE CHANCE AT NEHF TODAY; CROWD WITH VISITORS.

Washington, Oct. 7.—The "Goose" Goslin, slugging pride of the Senators and favorite of their fans, slugged today almost single-handedly and put the American League champions back in the third of one of baseball's greatest championship battles.

After a record breaking crowd, exceeding 40,000 all told, stormed the Polo Grounds and cheered the Senators as they pulled themselves together in spite of a makeshift infield caused by the loss of Peckinpaugh, battered three Giant pitchers and captured the fourth game of the 1931 world's series by a score of 7 to 4, the most decisive verdict of any game so far.

The series now stands at two-all and the fifth game, which is likely to witness a repetition of the opening struggle between Walter Johnson, the Senators' wonderful right-hand pitcher, and Art Nehf, brilliant Giant southpaw, will be played tomorrow at the Polo Grounds.

The battle will shift back to Washington on Thursday, for the sixth game is now assured with a likelihood the series will go the limit of seven games.

Five of the Senators' runs today, almost enough to clinch the game, were accounted for by "Goose" Goslin, who hammered out four hits in as many times at bat, including his second homer of the series which scored two runners ahead of him in the third inning and gave Washington a lead which it never relinquished.

With the slow southpaw curves of George Mogridge and the relief pitching of Fred "Fripo" Marberry, which was successful in checking the Senators' bunched attack in three innings and Goslin was the dominating figure each time.

The offerings of Virgil Barnes, who retired after being bombarded five innings, and Wayland Dean, who bailed the game after Howard Bell's bad got through two innings unscathed, proved particularly telling in "Goose" Goslin's addition to his homer, a terrific drive that sailed on a line far into the right field stands, the "Goose" slugging Harris across in the fifth inning, a wild pitch had let in McGraw, who started another two-run rally in the eighth with his fourth hit, scoring ahead of Joe Judge on Oscar Bluege's third safe blow of the game.

noon. On the first of these plays, Harris ripped Gowdy after banging his hot shot over second base, while a few moments later he raced behind first to get Frisch's ground dinger and nail his man at first.

The Giants, on the other hand, failed at any time to wheel their attacking machinery into formidable position. Collecting only six hits altogether off Mogridge and Marberry, they registered no more than one in any inning before the ninth when "Fripo" checked their best scoring opportunity.

Today's record crowd represented a paid attendance of 40,345 and receipts of $191,677. This eclipsed the previous high figures of 47,687 and $188,572 for the Polo Grounds, set in yesterday's game.

FANS HOPEFUL. Washington, Oct. 7.—Capital city baseball fans today climbed back to their perches on top of the baseball world as a result of the Senators tying the count with the New York Giants in the world series standing. Fans tonight are "downright sure" nothing can keep "Bucky" Harris' gang from winning out—at least so long as "Goose" Goslin remains in the batting order.

The city turned out in the afternoon for its usual storeboard-radio picnic, with the number listening in on the game the largest ever. Mrs. Coolidge again was among the number sitting in front of the radio at the White House.

Out at Griffith Stadium where two games already have been fought and where another will be staged Thursday, baseball fans and the marine corps gave a play-by-play pantomime of the contest in New York.

Marines representing the Giants came in for a good share of razzing by the largest crowd that watched the pantomime while the gobs frequently received a lusty applause as if the actual players were on the field.

FIRST INNING. SENATORS—Jackson threw out McNeely. Harris struck out, taking a third called strike. Frisch came in fast and took Rice's high hopper and tossed him out. No runs, no hits, no errors.

GIANTS—Lindstrom was given a base on balls. Harris threw out Frisch. Lindstrom going to second. Lindstrom's grounder became Bluege took Young's screamer and threw wildly past first base. Young halted at first. McNeely took in Kelly's long fly and Young went to second on the catch. Meusel walked. Harris took Wilson's weak splash and threw him out. One run, no hits, one error.

Shiras Talks at State Meeting of Conservation Fans

Grand Rapids, Mich., Oct. 7.—Appeal for state game refuges and public shooting grounds was made before the Michigan Congress of Game Associations tonight by George Shiras III of Marquette, introduced to the congress as "the father of the migratory bird act."

After reciting experiences as a member of the Boone and Crockett Club, formed by Theodore Roosevelt, during Mr. Roosevelt's lifetime, Mr. Shiras said: "When I was a boy northern Michigan and Wisconsin was the greatest range of white-tailed deer in America."

"In 1881 we had an inventory taken; 804,000 deer were killed that year. Step by step we have fought to protect the deer; but today conditions are better in the upper peninsula than they were when I was a boy. They have better food opportunities and our country could readily support 1,000,000 deer."

"By use of game refuges, Pennsylvania has increased its supply of game and now they have splendid hunting there. This state can buy thousands of acres in northern Michigan for as little as $250 an acre and it should do so."

John B. Burnham, president of the American Game Protective Association, paid tribute to Mr. Shiras as "the most versatile man in game protection that this country has produced. He is our greatest game photographer, has the finest collection of wild life photos of any man in this country. To him must go credit for the basic idea from which came the migratory bird act that has saved our wild fowl and migrating game birds from extinction."

SEVENTH INNING. SENATORS—Mogridge struck out for the third time. McNeely got a two base hit into left. Harris sent out a long fly to Wilson and McNeely went to third on the catch. Rice flied out to Meusel. No runs, one hit, no errors.

GIANTS—Harris robbed Gowdy of a hit, taking a ball behind second base and getting his man by a quick throw. Southworth batting for Baldwin. Southworth bunted and made first when Miller juggled the ball. Lindstrom forced Southworth. Miller to Harris. Harris took a hit off Frisch with a one hand stop and a quick toss to first. No runs, no hits, one error.

EIGHTH INNING. SENATORS—Dean went into the box for New York. Goslin singled into left center, his fourth hit. Judge singled into left and when Meusel juggled the ball, Goslin went to third and Judge to second. Goslin and Judge scored on Bluege's single to center and on the throw in. Bluege went to second. Ruel fouled to Kelly. Miller sent up a high fly to Frisch. Mogridge fanned for the fourth time. Two runs, three hits, one error.

Smale Repentant Following Night in Albion's Jail

(By The Associated Press.)
Albion, Mich., Oct. 7.—Lawrence Albert Smale, of Flint, who was expelled last week from Albion College after circulating his radical magazine, "The Messenger," in which he attacked the traditions of the college viciously, today was in a subdued and repentant mood.
After having spent the night in the Albion city jail, young Smale this morning had his hearing in the justice court of L. T. Wright, to answer to the charge of "contributing literature of an immoral nature." After the young man signed a formal statement regarding his attacks against the college, on recommendation of Dr. V. L. Weston, president of the college and Prosecutor C. C. Carrington, of Marshall, the charge was withdrawn and the young man set at liberty.
Smale promised that he would make no attempt to issue any further copies of "The Messenger" or to stir up trouble. He said that certain paragraphs which he had not meant to give them and he withdrew completely all his charges against the students. Smale stated after his hearing that he expected to leave Albion and to find some opening in journalism work.

A NEW RECORD HUNG UP HERE

Cleveland and St. Louis Stage Fast Exhibition Game; Big Crowd.

In the fastest baseball game ever staged on any diamond in the peninsula the St. Louis Browns yesterday defeated the Cleveland Indians, 4 to 3, before a crowd of 15,000 people at the South Park ball grounds. The game was played in 87 minutes, establishing a new record for the local grounds and it is believed for any ball park in the peninsula.
As a baseball exhibition, yesterday's game could not have been surpassed. The fielding of Ken Williams, Jacobson and Robertson and the pitching of Dave Danforth, of the Browns, furnished to followers of the game, used to witnessing a mediocre brand of baseball, a spectacle that will not soon be forgotten. The game was played by the members of both teams with a vim and a dash that constituted a whole course of education on how the great American game should be played.

Browns Are Brilliant.
As in the battle in the American League throughout the season, St. Louis yesterday showed greater class than the Indians, playing a brand of finished baseball such as that which made them serious contenders for the American League until the closing two weeks of the season, when their hopes were wrecked in the final series with the New York Yankees.
A smiling sky and a sun tempered breeze made conditions ideal for the staging of yesterday's exhibition game and resulted in an attendance record that will closely approach the peak record of the local park. In the big crowd there was scattered the greatest number of boys ever to witness a baseball game of any kind in this city and the playing of the big leaguers proved a revelation to the youngsters, as well as to many adult fans.

Jacobson Batting Star.
Four successive walkups after two were out in the fourth inning gave St. Louis their quartet of tallies. Robertson singled, McManus lofted to McNulty and Williams grounded to Gardner who tossed to Sewell, nipping Robertson. Jacobson doubled scoring Williams. Severeid singled scoring Jacobson. Collins got a blow which put Severeid on third and two more runs were marked up when Gerber doubled. Danforth held the Indians hitless until the eighth. Rego's home run, with Sewell on second, gave the Indians their two scores.

STRENGTH SHOWN BY IRON RIVER, SAULT ELEVENS

Marquette High Finds Itself in Newberry Tilt.

With the high school football season in the upper peninsula far enough advanced to cast some shadows of speculation on coming events, a comparison of last week's results may prove interesting.
The dope shows impressive strength in the camps of Iron River and Sault Ste. Marie, an increasing scoring power in the Marquette machine, and places both Escanaba high schools well in the front of the parade. It also demonstrates that Menominee high is not the weakling which many early-season prognosticators were inclined to believe.
Iron River, opening the season by trouncing Bessemer 12 to 0, and then holding Menominee to zero ties, whipped Crystal Falls last week 27 to 0. It was the first time the Falls' goal line had been crossed this year.

Sault Ste. Marie defeated a team made up of its own alumni 6 to 0 Saturday afternoon. The graduate aggregation contained such performers as Campbell, Peavin, Harper, White, Madigan and LaPrairie, all footballers whose prowess is well known to followers of the sport in this section. Previously, Sault had trimmed Chibougamau 20 to 0 and Manistique 43 to 6.

Marquette's sensational comeback in the last two periods of the contest with Newberry demonstrated that the Queen City eleven—made up for the most part of light, inexperienced youngsters—is likely to prove both to the other teams which have places on its schedule. Marquette had lost to Ishpeming and Negaunee in its first two games. Trailing 40 to 6 at the end of the first half, Coach Fred Rydholm's lads, Saturday, put over two more touchdowns before the game ended, losing the battle 45 to 20. Had Marquette opened its aerial attack earlier in the game, fans agreed, the score might have been different.

Menominee No Weakening.
Stephenson's victory over Menominee Sept. 20 by a score of 12 to 7 was the biggest upset thus far this year. But when it is learned that Stephenson made only one first down during the game, and did its scoring as a result of unusual breaks, the fact looms up that Menominee, perhaps, may be expected to show plenty of stuff before the season is over. The state-liners' tie with Iron River undoubtedly indicates an improvement. Iron River has a lot of stuff.

Ironwood, up to the present time, has played only one Michigan team—Wakeland. The Red Devils won 23 to 0. Ironwood means Hurley next Saturday.

Escanaba's victories over Newberry and Gladstone by decisive scores and the tie with St. Joseph, along with the latter's defeat of Munising, in the light of comparisons, are impressive for both local prep aggregations.

Aggies Work Hard For Contest With Michigan Saturday

(By The Associated Press.)
Lansing, Mich., Oct. 7.—The Michigan Aggies, working valiantly to bolster their strength against the invasion of Michigan next Saturday, went through a stiff scrimmage this afternoon.
The Farmers came out of their tilt last week in good shape, according to the coaches, and the same veteran outfit that has started their games so far this season will probably take the field. "Stub" Kips, an end, injured his leg, but is expected to be in shape by Saturday.

Coch R. P. Young, who scouted Michigan over the week end, brought back reports of imposing strength in the Ann Arbor eleven. The Aggies are not polished in the offensive department and the tutors are turning all their energies to getting more drive behind the men who must carry the ball.

The seat sale for the game has virtually closed, with everything but standing room gone. Hundreds of alumni are expected back and a huge crowd, for this section of Michigan, will be attracted by the tilt and the exercises surrounding the dedication of the new stadium.

TRACE OF GIANT METEOR FOUND NEAR FLAGSTAFF

Prescott, Ariz.—Mining men for months have been drilling in the vicinity of Meteor mountain, near Flagstaff, in this state, with the hopes of reaching a giant meteor which, in its fall from heavens centuries ago, is supposed to have caused a tremendous crater where the drills are located. They recently struck the surface of the meteor at a depth of 1,403 feet, they declare, and the surface being so hard that the drill was ground to pieces and the derrick partly wrecked.

Legend and speculation, romance and theory have long been woven into the discussions of Meteor mountain. Scientists have disputed over the origin of the crater at its base, where the drills are set. Some contend the depression was caused by the diagonal fall of a huge meteor which gouged the earth into a continuous bank around the place where it penetrated the ground; others assert, as positively that the whole thing was caused by a blowout of gas.

OUT OUR WAY

By Williams

IN NEW YORK

New York, Oct. 7.—A shot rang out in Eschonia, a little country on the Gulf of Finland. The man who had been fired at complained to authorities. At a hearing next day, false witnesses made it appear that the man who had been shot at was the one who fired the shot.
