WHEN THE GIANTS GOT THE BREAKS IN THE THIRD GAME

It was in the second inning of the third game of the world series that the Giants got their best breaks. This play here occurred in that frame. It was a bit complicated, to be sure. Terry singled. Wilson fanned. Jackson hit to Bluege, who tried for a forceout at second, but Harris dropped the ball and both runners were safe. After Gowdy singled and Terry scored, Jackson came home safely on a wild pitch. Here you see him sliding over the plate as Marberry, Washington pitcher, is knocked from his feet as he took Ruel's throw. Umpire Dinneen is standing over the plate and Kelly, Giant outfielder, is looking over his shoulder.

Heavy Fine and Jail for Drunken Driver

John H. Olson was fined $100 and costs and sentenced to serve 30 days in the county jail, when he was found guilty, yesterday by Judge James S. Doherty, on a charge of driving a motor vehicle while under the influence of liquor. Olson was driving an automobile up Ludington street. The car crashed into a bakery wagon in which there were a number of children. Fortunately none of the youngsters was injured. Olson was immediately arrested and demanded a trial, which was granted.

Work of Tearing Down No. 3 Ore Dock Under Way With 90 Workmen Already on the Job

Many of the long, white pine timbers in the old No. 3 ore dock, which workmen are tearing down, are in excellent condition, despite 27 years of service and exposure, and can be used in the new dock which will replace the present No. 6, it was said yesterday at the headquarters of the operations of the Peppard and Burrill Company, contractors.

Motorbike Rider Is Injured in Crash With Ford Machine

Wilbert Lindstrom who was injured late Wednesday when the motorcycle he was riding collided with a Ford car driven by Jerry Reno of Garden, at the corner of First Ave. So., and 13th St., is not in a serious condition, but probably will be laid up for a while, it was said yesterday. No responsibility for the crash was fixed by the police in their investigation. It was described yesterday, at headquarters, as an "unavoidable accident."

Mr. Reno was driving his car northward on 13th St. Lindstrom on his motorbike, was proceeding east on First Avenue. Lindstrom was thrown over the handlebars of the bike, and onto the car. He was carried into a nearby residence where first aid was administered and he was removed to St. Francis hospital. Neither the auto nor the motorcycle was badly damaged.

How Skinny Kids Can Grow Robust

Weak, undernourished, underweight boys and girls who are peevish, fretful and sickly need McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Tablets. Cod Liver Oil would do just as well, but what parent would so cruel as to give them the horrible nasty tasting, ill smelling stuff, when sugar coated Cod Liver oil tablets made by McCoy's Laboratories of New York are as easy to take as candy and won't upset their delicate stomachs.

There's more vitamins of the first class in cod liver oil than in anything else and for that reason, thin, scraggly, sickly children commence to live up and take on good healthy flesh after McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Tablets have been taken for just a few days.

Be sure and ask Mead Drug Co., Hill Drug Co., or any good druggist for McCoy's, the original and genuine Cod Liver Oil Tablets, if you want your delicate children to become strong, robust and active.

For grown-ups they are just as wonderful—one woman gained 15 pounds in five weeks. 60 tablets 60 cents and if they don't put 5 pounds of good firm flesh on any thin man or woman in 30 days, get your money back. Adv.

GIRL RETURNS STOLEN JEWELS

Local Jewelers Identify Goods Recovered in Kenosha, Wis.

A green gold mesh bag, a wrist watch, a gold ring, a string of pearls and a Rosary in a leather case, were returned to the Escanaba police yesterday by the chief of police at Kenosha, Wis. The jewelry, a part of that stolen from the Blomstrom & Petersen store window a year ago, was surrendered to the Kenosha officers by Polly Sylak, a waitress, to whom Mike Koski, held in jail to answer charges of receiving stolen property, gave it at Crystal Falls several months ago.

Police believe that it was Koski's liberality in the bestowing of the goods on Miss Sylak which led to the quarrel in the window-smashing gang and the subsequent confession of George Vetoski, who with Peter Ritel is charged with the crime of robbery.

Property Identified. "The girl insists that this is all she had and we believe she is telling the truth," Chief T. W. Logan of Kenosha, wrote to Chief Tolun yesterday. "Since one of the rings returned had not been the local jewelers' property, Chief Logan's conclusion evidently was accurate. All of the other articles were identified by the Escanaba firm."

It is doubtful whether the girl will be brought back here to testify, as Koski, in a sworn statement, admits that he gave her the jewels.

AMUSEMENTS

AT THE DELFT.

"The Confidence Man," Thomas Meighan's latest production now pleasing large crowds at the Delft.

The story is a crook melodrama with touches of genuine comedy throughout.

Meighan has always made successes, and among the latter ones we will always find this type of story. "The Confidence Man" was just such a picture.

Virginia Valli is leading woman in "The Confidence Man" which is an adaptation by Paul Sloane of the story by L. Y. Erskine and Robert H. Davis. Victor Heerman directed.

Meighan plays Dan Corvan, fake oil stock salesman; Laurence Wheat is Larry Maddox, his lieutenant. Charles Dow Clark has the role of Godfrey Queritt, wealthy and miserly old man whom Corvan is trying to get to buy some worthless International Oil.

Helen Lindroth, Jimmie Lapsley, Margaret Seddon and many others are in the strong supporting cast.

There's romance and a regeneration theme in this story—comedy, pathos and wholesomeness. And the dramatic suspense work-up in the final climax is terrific. It's Meighan's best to date.

AT THE STRAND.

There were two endings to this picture story. When Rudyard Kipling wrote "The Light That Failed," it proved unpopular because of its tragic conclusion.

Thereupon Mr. Kipling wrote a second ending which gave the story what is known as a "happy sadness." The author could not give the hero back his sight but he could and did restore his sweetheart.

Robert Casemore Suffers Stroke

Robert Casemore of Manistique was reported to be in an unconscious condition yesterday, as a result of a severe stroke which he suffered early Thursday morning.

Mr. Casemore experienced a partial stroke on Saturday, from which he recovered sufficiently to be about his home, but complained of a slight headache. He was again stricken Thursday morning, the recurrence of the stroke rendering him unconscious.

The local man was one of a party of 20 or 25 Masons from this city who enjoyed a trip to Nowberry last Friday, where they put on degree work for a class of 15 candidates, and attended an evening banquet. At that time he was apparently in the best of health. His many friends are hoping for a speedy recovery.

PLAY AT HOME ON SATURDAY

Manistique Eleven to Do Battle with St. Joe.

Football fans of Manistique will have their first opportunity of the season to see a home game tomorrow afternoon.

Manistique high and St. Joseph's high of Escanaba are the teams booked to battle here at the Saturday matinee, and the scrap promises to be a good one.

The Manistique eleven has lost three games but has not yet been shut out, and was able to score during the Soo high aggregation, regarded as one of the two strongest high school teams in the upper peninsula. St. Joe has one tie and one victory to her credit, the latter against the strong Munising team.

Win or lose, the first game of the season at the fair grounds promises to be an interesting event, and a good-sized attendance of rooters is anticipated.

It's Anniversary Of Chicago Fire

Some facts regarding the origin and purposes of fire prevention week are submitted by C. E. Underwood, Manistique fire chief:

1. Fire Prevention Week is a recent national development from Fire Prevention Day which is annually observed on October 9th in commemoration of the great Chicago fire in 1871. This catastrophe killed 200 persons and destroyed 17,000 buildings with a loss of $190,000,000.
2. Within recent years it has become a custom for the President of the United States to proclaim October 9th as Fire Prevention Day. State governors and mayors of cities and towns generally issue similar proclamations.
3. The object of Fire Prevention Week is to impress upon the community at large the necessity of conserving the resources of the nation by preventing fires.
4. Various activities such as press publicity, addresses in schools and before club meetings, inspections, demonstrations and window displays are often undertaken. In a number of cities Fire Prevention Week is used as a means of securing certain urgent improvements.
5. It is hoped Fire Prevention Week will become the starting point for permanent fire prevention campaigns in all municipalities.

Charges Seney Settler Smashed His Spectacles

L. D. Milligan of Seney was arraigned before Justice W. A. McKinney at Manistique Thursday morning, on an assault and battery charge, made by Albert Nelson of Seney.

The complainant claimed that Milligan had struck him a blow that broke his glasses and gave him a cut above the eye. Milligan declared that he had merely pushed Nelson back, in self-defense, as the latter climbed into his car and threatened him with a club. The glasses were broken by the club in Nelson's own hands, he stated. He expressed a willingness to arrange for a settlement, but refused to plead guilty, and on motion of his attorney, J. J. Herbert, a plea of nole contendere was entered.

Let Red Crown Save Your Car

The High-Grade Gasoline

THE batteries and starting motor of your car are the headquarters of its emotional system. A heavy engine wears out the batteries, just as it would wear out your patience and your strength should you try to turn it over with a crank.

It is not so far-fetched as it may seem, to compare engine mechanism with human mechanism. Every one who drives has remarked the individuality and responsiveness or lack of it, in the car he handles.

Red Crown Gasoline increases engine responsiveness. It vaporizes at a low temperature and burns completely to the end of the piston stroke.

It relieves the strain on your starting motor and batteries. This is one of the many economy features in Red Crown. Red Crown makes batteries last longer and give better service.

The "satisfaction" service of Red Crown lies in your thrill at the ready response when you touch the starting motor—at the flexibility of your engine and the steady flow of sustained pulling power.

Satisfaction Plus Economy—in this unusual combination lies the true reason for Red Crown popularity. And remember this: permanent satisfaction in a gasoline lies in never changing. Use Red Crown all the time. It's easy to do so, for Red Crown distribution is nearly 100% perfect. You can find it everywhere and everywhere the same.

NAGEL REOPENS BATTLE BEFORE SUPREME COURT

Claims Dismissal from City Job by Martin Was Not Legal.

(By The Associated Press.)
 Lansing, Mich., Oct. 9.—The contention of William J. Nagel, that he was illegally dismissed as city controller of Detroit by former Acting Mayor Joseph A. Martin, was argued in the state supreme court today.

Nagel was dismissed by Martin last April 25.

Mayor Frank E. Doremus left the hospital April 25 and came to Martin's office and it was the contention of Nagel that Doremus then advised Martin not to dismiss him. After ousting Nagel, Martin appointed Richard W. Reading city controller. Nagel went to the Wayne court and secured an ex parte injunction prohibiting Reading from exercising the duties of the office, but on a hearing Judge Joseph A. Moynihan dismissed the injunction and left Reading and Martin in command of the field. Nagel then brought the case to the high court, asking that the lower court's dissolution of the injunction be set aside.

Kelly Argues.
 George A. Kelley, counsel for Martin and Reading, told the court today that Martin was within his rights as acting mayor when he discharged Nagel. He asserted that Martin filled all the duties of the office and became in fact mayor because of Mayor Doremus' long illness and absence. The question involved was whether the city charter gives an acting mayor the right to dismiss appointive officials and Kelley quoted the charter as saying "the acting mayor shall be vested with all the powers and perform all the duties" of the office. Kelley declared that Doremus made no protest when Nagel was let out.

If Martin did not have the power of a mayor, the attorney argued, then his tenure of office was a nullity.

Richard Lawson, attorney for Nagel, declared that Doremus was able to perform the duties of his office as long as he was mayor and that his illness did not prevent him from functioning. Doremus had the power to retain Nagel in office, he contended.

Could Retain Officials.
 "He had the right to retain in office those officers he appointed and in whom he had confidence to carry out the policies he inaugurated."

Doremus protested against Nagel's dismissal, he asserted, and the acting mayor had no right to oust him over the mayor's protest. "The protest ever so feeble." The plaintiff's attorney charged that Martin usurped power and declared that when he and Doremus met April 25, all the powers and prerogatives of the mayor's office immediately fell on Doremus' shoulders.

"It was impudent on the acting mayor's part to then challenge the competency of the mayor," Lawson said.

Nagel's counsel challenged the right of Martin to take the action he did under the city charter, averring that the office of mayor was never declared vacant by the common council, that Doremus retained his control and that the interests of the public did not demand Nagel's dismissal.

Shooting Suspect Is Arrested After Two Years' Search

(By The Associated Press.)
 Detroit, Oct. 9.—George Cornell, 27 years old, sought for nearly two years for investigation in connection with the slaying of Sol Conrad in front of George Goldberg's sugar warehouse at Oakland and West Minister Avenues, was arrested today in a restaurant here.

Conrad, sitting in front of the warehouse with Goldberg and leader Cantor, was shot and killed by four men who drove past in an automobile. The shooting, said to have been the result of an underworld bootleg feud, has caused the death of four men and the wounding of many others.

Cornell, suspected of being one of the men in the automobile, was sought for some time, but probably will not be charged with Conrad's slaying because of the failure to make a case against Tony Ruggierillo, who recently was dismissed when Goldberg, chief witness against him failed to remember anything of the shooting that night. Goldberg, the police suspect, had been threatened with death if he testified.

Cornell is now charged with robbery armed, growing out of his suspected connection with the holdup of Patrolman Herman Silcock, of central station, a year ago. Silcock was robbed of his revolver and handcuffs by three men who formed the guard for a liquor truck.

John Wuokkula, employed as a bartender in the Oni Kansas place, 115 North 15th St., pleaded guilty in Judge Bohery's court yesterday to a charge of disorderly conduct and paid a fine of $100 and costs. It was doubtful, officials said, whether the evidence against Wuokkula was sufficient to justify the filing of a charge of possession of liquor. A small quantity of moonshine was found when the officers entered the place for a sanitary inspection under the municipal beverage shop ordinance.

Fink told her, he declared, that he had "been forced into it" and called Senator Wheeler, who, he said, persuaded Miss Stinson to go with them to Washington.

On the trip to Washington, Fink said, Senator Wheeler spent much time talking with Miss Stinson, going to the smoking compartment once to tell Stern and Fink that "this woman doesn't know anything; I can't get her to loosen up."

Senator Wheeler, according to the affidavit, instructed Fink to obtain some liquor at Pittsburgh, where the party took dinner during a stopover. This was served at the dinner and after continued persuasion of Miss Stinson, said the affidavit, Senator Wheeler finally informed Stern and Fink that he had better get her before the committee at once.

Columbus, O., Oct. 9.—"A ridiculous fabrication of lies" was the characterization of Miss Roxie Stinson, of the alleged affidavit of A. L. Fink, read tonight at Burlington, Iowa, by Daniel F. Steick, Democratic senatorial candidate in a campaign speech.

"It is positively so absurd that I would not think of bothering to answer any of the statements," Miss Stinson said, when informed of the contents.

"With one or two exceptions, the alleged affidavit is false," she said, "and those exceptions relate to one or two dates mentioned in it. Otherwise, there is scarcely a word of truth in it."

Miss Stinson added, however, that "in justice to Senator Wheeler," the senator represented to her when he came to Columbus with

STRAIGHT LINES PREVAIL IN OVERCOATS

Straight lines and ease prevail in overcoats for fall and winter. The drape is straight from the wider shoulders to the bottom of the coat. New styles depend much for their attractiveness on rich fabrics, fine tailoring and simple lines, rather than any decorations or unflattering fabrics.

A great many young men will wear the straight, narrow coat, sometimes spoken of as "the tube coat." Others, of conservative tastes, will prefer a semi-box body in a little roomier coat, while many will insist on the full box body. Half belts maintain their popularity.

Rich, imported fabrics from Scotland and France are more in demand than ever. The importations of overcoatings show many new patterns and colors; with the darker shades of blue seeming to have the call for this season.

WASHINGTON COPS 12-FRAME FINAL

McNEELY'S DOUBLE SENDS RUEL ACROSS PLACE WITH RUN THAT MEANT VICTORY

(By The Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10.—Washington won the world's baseball championship today, defeating the New York Giants, four time National League champions, 4 to 3 in the twelfth inning of the seventh and deciding game, one of the most spectacular ever played.

McNeely, young outfielder drove in Ruel with the winning run with a double to left field in the twelfth after one was out. The credit for the final victory went to Walter Johnson, great veteran who went in as a relief pitcher with the score tied in the ninth inning and held the Giants scoreless for the rest of the game. The wildest, most frenzied demonstration that ever followed a world's series victory came with the winning run. Most of the east crowd of 35,000 which included President Coolidge, swept down on the field in a joy mad outburst of enthusiasm over the climax to Washington's first pennant victory—her first world title.

Around the dugout where the Senators, themselves wild with delight over one of the greatest achievements of baseball, the crowd swarmed and milled, throwing hats, cushions and spirits to the winds in their frenzy.

Peckinpaugh was not in uniform this afternoon when the team arrived on the field and it was learned that examination of the injury to his right leg had shown several torn muscles, not pulled tendons or "charley horse" as had been thought at first. He was able to walk around but will not be able to do anything strenuous for some time.

Pitching problems faced both managers who had exhausted the services of most of their regulars and faced uncertain quantities for the box.

Before the president and his party arrived the two teams with the umpires lined up before the presidential box. President Coolidge with his wife and party entered the stand shortly thereafter and took their places.

The Senators and Giants the umpires grouped themselves in front of the presidential box and the president his party arose while a battery of cameramen and moving picture operators went into action.

Shenandoah Gets Away on Second Leg of Long Trip

(By The Associated Press.) Fort Worth, Texas, Oct. 9.—The navy's giant of the air, the Shenandoah, tonight was sailing over the broad expanse of western Texas on the second leg of its transcontinental voyage, leaving Fort Worth at 9:45 a. m. central standard time.

The start was delayed here 46 minutes because of the "heaviness" of the air, according to Lieutenant Commander Zachary Lansdowne, in command of the dirigible, and reports from Eastland, where it passed at 12:50 p. m., indicated that the ship was running behind schedule, due to a strong wind from the south.

The course of the Shenandoah across Texas to El Paso is along the Texas and Pacific road. From El Paso the Southern Pacific Railroad route will be followed to San Diego, Calif., the ship's next port of call.

Aboard Shenandoah, Oct. 9.—The Shenandoah finished her journey above the plains of Texas tonight. The Pecos River was crossed at 7:50 and the long steady climb over the Rocky Mountains started. This is expected to be the severest test of the 3,000 mile cruise.

As the dirigible approached El Paso and the Mexican border, it was recalculated Tuscon, Ariz., would be reached around dawn tomorrow.

The course was charted by Lieutenant Commander Zachary Lansdowne, skipper of the ship of the skies, who is steering straight as the crow flies from Tucson to Yuma. If wind and weather conditions are good the Shenandoah will continue straight over the mountains.

Investigation Is Demanded by Good

(By The Associated Press.) Washington, Oct. 9.—An immediate meeting of the senate campaign contributions committee to hear Senator LaFollette, independent presidential candidate on his charge of a Republican "slush fund" was demanded today by James M. Good, former representative from Iowa and pre-convention western campaign manager for President Coolidge.

Mr. Good made such a declaration today at the White House after a brief conference with President Coolidge in which he discussed political conditions in the west.

While several visitors were received today by the president, he did not discuss at any length the political situation otherwise. Nor has he made any comment on the statement of Senator LaFollette. It was reported to the president early this week, the party campaign fund was running low.

Half Million Is Sought By Mabel Normand in Suit

(By The Associated Press.) Los Angeles, Oct. 9.—Mabel Normand, motion picture actress, filed a libel complaint in superior court here today seeking $500,000 damages from Georgia W. Church, estranged wife of Norman W. Church.

The action was based on allegations that Mrs. Church, in a divorce complaint against her reputedly wealthy husband mentioned Miss Normand in a libelous manner, and thereby damaged the film star's earning capacity in motion pictures.

Excerpts from the divorce petition of Mrs. Church, which the actress asserts damaged her reputation, charge that Miss Normand and Church became friendly while both were patients at a Los Angeles hospital in July, 1923.

She became a patient in the hospital last year and a divorce was granted her in August, 1923. She is now living with him there and that she sent him flowers.

Claiming an annual income of more than $150,000 before the divorce action was brought in September, 1923, the actress alleges that as a result of the charges, which are completely denied, her reputation has been damaged to such an extent that she can no longer proceed with the profitable production of pictures.

No cloud has a silver lining as long as you stay on the outside.

WHEN THE GIANTS GOT THE BREAKS IN THE THIRD GAME

It was in second inning of the third game of the world series that the Giants got their best breaks. This play here occurred in that frame was a bit complicated, to be sure. Terry singled. Wilson fanned. Jackson hit to Bluege, who tried for a forceout at second, but Harris dropped the ball and both runners were safe. A fier Gowdy singled and Terry scored, Jackson came home safely on a wild pitch. Here you see him sliding over the plate as Marberry, Washington pitcher, is knocked from his feet as he took Ruel's throw. Umpire Dineen is standing over the plate and Kelly, Giant outfielder, is looking over his shoulder.

HARRIS DRIVES IN PAIR OF RUNS WITH SLASHING CLOUT TO RIGHT IN FIFTH INNING

PECKINPAUGH INJURED IN NINTH INNING; WILL NOT APPEAR IN LINEUP TODAY; BARNES-OGDEN ON MOUND TODAY?

(By The Associated Press.) Washington, Oct. 9.—Launching a spectacular come-back just when their hopes seemed to be at their lowest ebb, Washington's battling Senators captured the sixth game of the 1924 world's series today from the New York Giants, 2 to 1, and forced baseball's championship struggle to the limit for the third time in history and the first time since 1912.

President Coolidge, establishing himself as a dyed-in-the-wool fan by watching his second game of the series, joined in the tumultuous enthusiasm of a victory-frenzied crowd of 35,000 that saw "Bucky" Harris, the sly, dark-haired young manager of the Senators, come through with a pinch hit that clinched one of the most thrilling triumphs of the series.

Harris, with two out and the count two strikes and three balls, slashed a single to right in the fifth inning that scored Peckinpaugh and McNeely with the Senators' only runs and broke up a sensational southpaw battle between Art Nehf, Giant ace who had won the first game, and "Old Tom" Zachary, who came through with his second triumph of the series.

Is Costly Victory. It was a costly victory for the Senators, however, for in a dramatic ninth inning when the Giants threatened to rally, two stars of the Washington infield were injured on the same play and Roger Peckinpaugh again was lost to the team and will not be able to play in the seventh and deciding game at Griffith Stadium tomorrow.

Peckinpaugh, veteran shortstop, whose return to the game today for the first time since last year had plugged the gaping hole in the Senators' inner defense and put new life into the entire team, aggravated a leg injury in the Meusel's hot smash over second base. He made the stop and threw to Harris that forced Kelly checked the Giant rally but was a fresh cry of alarm in the stands when Joe Judge was hit in the groin by Harris' low throw and fell to the ground in pain.

Peck Carried Out. Peck pulled up limping and finally had to be half carried from the field but Judge recovered sufficiently to continue the game and Taylor, substitute infielder who himself is just recovering from an injury to his throwing hand, which was swathed in bandages, went to third base to finish the game for Bluege, who moved over to Peck's place at short.

The fresh injury to Peckinpaugh, aggravating the pulled tendon or "charley horse," which forced him out of the series last Monday, was particularly tragic, not only for Washington's championship hopes, but for Peck himself who celebrated his return today by playing in spectacular fashion. The veteran fielded brilliantly, starting a double play that stopped the Giants in the fourth besides helping to quell the final charge of the McGraw men in the ninth, while he had perfect day at bat, starting the winning rally and scoring the first Senator run.

Means Big Handicap. His absence, already keenly felt in the defeats which the Senators sustained in two out of the three games at New York, will severely handicap Washington's final bid tomorrow for the club's first world title.

The Senators were outhit today, seven to four, but they made them count and won because of the never-say-die spirit, instilled by Harris, that has kept them in the thick of one of the game's most sensational championship battles.

Undiscounted by the second straight defeat of their great end the game. Nehf impregnable. Except for their fifth inning rally, when they bunched two of their four hits, the Senators found Nehf impregnable. Nehf left the game in the eighth in favor of a pinch hitter and "Rosy" Ryan, a right hander, got through the eighth without damage.

Washington missed a fine chance to score in the first inning, however. It was due chiefly to a bad bit of base running by Harris, but the young manager fully redeemed himself for this fault, in the eyes of the fans, when he came through with his winning blow in the fifth. McNeely walked on four straight balls to start the first and was forced by Harris, who started to steal second before Nehf's windup and was caught easily at second base. Rice followed with a long single to right and Goslin was safe when Kelly kicked his bonder around, a play on which Harris would have been able to score, but Judge closed the inning by striking out.

Peckinpaugh singled in the second, but was stranded, while with two out in the sixth, Bluege walked, stole second and Peckinpaugh was purposely passed, only to have "Muddy" Ruel, who has been the batting "bust" of the series, again fall in the pinch.

FIRST INNING. GIANTS—Bluege took Lindstrom's bunt and threw him out. Frisch got a two base hit to right by hard running. Zachary took Young's splash and Frisch was run down. Zachary to Bluege to Harris. Young went to second on the run down. Kelly singled to center. Young scoring. Rice leaped up in the air and took Meusel's long drive that was headed into the bleachers with his gloved hand. One run, two hits. No errors.

SENATORS—McNeely was given a base on balls. Harris forced McNeely. Lindstrom to Frisch. Harris was caught off first, the play being Nehf to Jackson. Rice sent a line single into right. Kelly mused up Goslin's grounder and the hitter was safe. Rice going to second. It was an error for Kelly. Judge fanned. No runs. One hit. One error.

Detroit, Oct. 9.—A knife wound in the chest, inflicted by an unidentified woman during a quarrel over a penny box of matches, may cause the death today of Herman Kuhle, 21 years old.
