Late President's Widow Succumbs After Lengthy Illness

BODY WILL BE LAID IN TOMB WITH HUSBAND

FUNERAL SERVICES SET FOR MONDAY AFTERNOON.

(By The Associated Press.) Marlon, O., Nov. 21.—A little tombstone in Marlon cemetery next Monday evening will be the scene of the final meeting to part no more of Mr. and Mrs. Warren G. Harding.

Mrs. WARREN G. HARDING.

She had been critically ill for several weeks at White Oaks Farm, the Sawyer home, where she had been living. Next Monday her body will be placed in the tomb in Marlon cemetery beside that of her husband. The end came peacefully to the widow of the late president of the United States at 8:55 o'clock this morning while a brother and close friends stood by. She did not recognize them as in early evening before she had lapsed into the death coma.

Talked To Guard. Four weeks ago today, Mrs. Harding entered the tomb and talked personally with every member of the military guard which has been on duty there during the months of waiting for her final visit.

Next Monday afternoon that little handful of men will be drawn at present arms by Lieutenant Walter Lee Sherkey while the body of Mrs. Harding is placed beside that of her husband. Taps then will be sounded and the little military band of 23 men of the 10th United States Infantry, Fort Thomas, Ky., will assume the double duty of guarding the eternal sleep of a former president and his wife.

Funeral Monday. Rev. Jesse Swank, who conducted the funeral services for President Harding will conduct similar rites for Mrs. Harding in the Epworth Methodist Episcopal church of which he is the pastor and in which Mrs. Harding held membership since girlhood, at 2 o'clock Monday afternoon. Assisting the Rev. Mr. Swank will be Rev. George M. Landis, pastor of Trinity Baptist Church of which Mr. Harding was a member, and who also aided the Rev. Mr. Swank in conducting the funeral services for the late president.

Chronic nephritis, a form of kidney trouble, with myocarditis and hydronephritis as contributing factors was the chief cause of Mrs. Harding's death, a statement by Dr. Sawyer said. She suffered a severe attack which almost proved fatal while she was mistress of the White House. The fatal illness developed about three weeks ago, necessitating an operation two weeks ago to give her temporary relief from the severe pain which she was suffering. Since the operation her condition had varied from day to day, but a general giving away growing more apparent, developed as the days wore on.

STEPS TO CUT WORLD ARMIES UP TO EUROPE

Coolidge Not in Position to Call Conference Now.

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

(Copyright 1924, by The Escanaba Press.) Washington, Nov. 20.—Although the United States government is deeply interested in every move that may reduce the cost of armaments to the civilized world and lessen the chances of war, the Coolidge administration expects the initiative in respect of land armament reduction to come from European powers.

Senator Borah and others who feel the American government should call another arms conference are of that opinion largely because they think that unless the United States takes a hand in the land armament question as was the case with naval armaments. Little will come of her talk of reduced armament.

Little Chance of Success. If, on the other hand, the United States government felt that the mere call of an arms conference was an assurance of success President Coolidge would call over night. That however, isn't the case and unfortunately, there are some factors which make it appear the American government can only help fully advise and cannot compel reductions even by force of opinion as occurred with the naval conference. At that time America came forward at the very outset and proclaimed a program of sacrifice.

U. S. Army Already Small. With land armament the whole question changes. The United States has one of the smallest standing armies in the world. Just enough for police protection and probably not as much as European powers with the same length of boundaries would think was safe. For the United States to announce her willingness to cut her army would have no effect on European powers and the administration knows that all too well.

Deeply Sympathetic. The American government is deeply sympathetic—that is about all that can be said at the moment. Should a conference be called, America would accept an invitation to be present and would lend a helping hand at every turn to make the conference a success but a nation which

CHEMIST MAKES REPORT TO LONG

Says Woman Was Dead Before Body Was Thrust Into Furnace

(By The Associated Press.) Columbus, O., Nov. 21.—Mrs. Addie Sheatsley, 50, found practically cremated in the furnace of the parsonage of Christ Lutheran Church, in Bexley, a suburb, Monday, was dead before her body was placed in the fire vault, it was disclosed in a preliminary report submitted to County Prosecutor John R. King, by Chemist T. C. Long, here shortly before midnight tonight.

Mr. Long said that no trace of carbon-monoxide poisoning was found in "three ounces of good blood" taken from the lungs of the victim. Practically all known tests were made in attempts to find trace of poisoning, he said. Intense congestion was noted in each of the lungs, he stated. Had Mrs. Sheatsley breathed after she entered the furnace, her lungs immediately would have become filled with the carbon-monoxide gas which would have been absorbed at once by the blood, Mr. King declared.

King Retires. The Rev. C. V. Sheatsley, husband of the victim, told Prosecutor King on Wednesday that he was convinced she had committed suicide. During his examination on Tuesday, however, he told authorities he believed his wife had been murdered.

Prosecutor King, who returned from Canton tonight, refused to discuss the findings, other than to say that it bears out his previous belief that Mrs. Sheatsley did not cast herself into the furnace. Detective Harry Carson, of Columbus, and the prosecutor examined a number of relatives of the victim while in Canton. Vital organs of the victim were turned over to Dr. H. M. Brundage of Columbus, for pathological examination late today.

Further search for a bottle of poison which has turned up missing from the medicine cabinet of the Sheatsley home will be abandoned, as a result of the chemist's report, Mr. King said. Mr. Long said that his examination of a section of the esophagus and a small bit of the stomach wall failed to disclose any trace of poison.

HANDS OFF TO BE COOLIDGE'S HOUSE POLICY

Will Not Participate in Meeting of Party Friday

(By The Associated Press.) Washington, Nov. 21.—President Coolidge, it was stated officially at the White House today will take no part in the contests for Republican leadership in congress, the senate and of which will come to a head at a party conference next Friday.

Mr. Coolidge feels, it was said, that it is not his power to dictate or to suggest in such decisions and that he believes such a choice as is made by the memberships will be satisfactory to the administration. A formal call was sent out today by Senator Curtis of Kansas, the Republican whip, for the party conference next Friday when a senate leader will be selected and other party organization problems will be settled. The notices were sent to senators listed as Republicans, including Senator LaFollette of Wisconsin.

Mass-Whistle Senator Warren of Wyoming, who is in line to succeed the late Senator Lodge of Massachusetts as senate Republican leader under the senate rule, hitherto unbroken, maintained silence on his attitude toward accepting the post.

Wabash Turns in Fair Income for Month of October

New York, Nov. 21.—J. E. Tausig, president of the Wabash Railway, estimated the road's 1924 net income at $4,600,000 which would be equivalent to $6.61 a share on the five per cent preferred A shares. Net operating income for October would show a gain over October last year, he said, but gross would be lower.

Unknown Man Near Death At St. Francis Hospital; Auto Victim

An unknown man, aged about 52 years, standing approximately five feet 8 1/2 inches, with reddish hair and dressed in the general gear of a lumberjack, was picked up unconscious on Stephenson avenue at an early hour last night and rushed to St. Francis hospital for treatment for injuries incurred when run down by an automobile, the driver of which is not known as yet. Dr. J. J. Welch, who examined and treated the injured man, asserts that the skull is fractured, and a scalp wound of six inches was inflicted together with a cut over the right eye in the crash. On findings of the chemists will depend, to a large extent, Mr. King has announced, what future course he will pursue in his investigation. He has said that it is found Mrs.

PACTS ARE NOT TO BE RATIFIED

Baldwin Government Not To Continue Negotiations With Soviet.

(By The Associated Press.) London, Nov. 21.—The new government has shown its hand as regards its policy toward Russia by publishing communications addressed to M. Rakovsky, soviet representative in London, in continuance of the correspondence on the famous Zinovieff letter, so suddenly interrupted, by the downfall of the MacDonald administration.

Most important is the somewhat curt notification, that the British government does not intend to ratify the treaties concluded with the soviet government by the MacDonald ministry. A suggestion was made in Russian quarters for the renewal or reopening of the negotiations, but apparently from the tone of the correspondence, this is a closed chapter so far as the Baldwin government is concerned, and any further initiative in this direction must come from the soviet government. It is assumed, however, that there is no indication of going back on recognition of the soviet, accorded by the MacDonald administration.

Opium Conference Session Put Over

(By The Associated Press.) Geneva, Nov. 21.—Today's session of the International Opium Conference was postponed until tomorrow because the business committee was unable to agree on a program for the conference. Seven projects are now before the delegates, one Dutch, one British, two French, two American and one elaborated by the league of nations permanent opium commission. One American plan was drawn up by Edwin Neville, one of the American delegates, and the other, which is the more official project, was presented by the American delegation.

PROFIT TAKING IS TOO HEAVY; PRICES TUMBLE

Few Gains Are Returned on General List

(By The Associated Press.) Low price and total sales exceeded two million shares for the ninth time since election day. Low price and total sales exceeded two million shares for the ninth time since election day.

Sixty-one stocks, of which 29 were rails, eclipsed their previous 1924 high records before reactionary tendencies gained dominance late in the day. Despite heavy selling pressure directed against the industrial stocks throughout the day, United States Steel common reached a new top price at 117 1/2, the highest since 1918, but fell back for a loss of about a point on the day. Alternating rallies and reactions occurred in a score of other leading issues, most of which were driven down at the close.

CRUISER YACHT IS STOPPED BY COAST GUARDS

New Yorker Plans Appeal to Washington as Result.

(By The Associated Press.) Miami, Fla., Nov. 21.—The cruiser yacht 'Cocoon' with the owner M. M. Belding, wealthy New York silk manufacturer was fired on by coast guard patrol boats shortly after dusk tonight two miles off Miami and boarded and searched, Mr. Belding reported here tonight.

Shots from two one-pounders were fired on the 'Cocoon' as the craft, with a party of Mr. Belding's friends returning from a fishing trip, headed toward the government cut and Biscayne Bay, Mr. Belding said. After boarding the 'Cocoon', guns drawn, and making a search of the vessel, coast guard officers expressed regret at the incident, he said.

The first shot heard by the party on the yacht was not recognized as such, but a second shot, which followed was answered by blasts from the 'Cocoon's' whistle to come alongside. When the patrol boat drew near, the 'Cocoon' threw its searchlights on the government craft and was greeted with violent language, according to those on the yacht.

Boat Is Searched. The 'Cocoon', guarded by patrol boats, steamed into the government cut where it stopped and was boarded, the manufacturer said. Mr. Belding said tonight he was convinced that the coast guard boats knew the identity of the 'Cocoon'. The yacht was lighted from stem to stern, the manufacturer said.

Mr. Belding will protest to Washington, he said, and demand that a complete investigation be made of the incident. The silk man said that he believed that one shot struck the yacht, but cannot be certain until morning. He and his friends, who included W. H. Stillhammer, his secretary; Dr. George M. Smith, Mount Clemens, Mich., and Captain E. T. Zimmerman and a crew of three, said tonight they feel they barely escaped being sunk.

Passage of Bills Is Urged Strongly 'By Association'

(By The Associated Press.) Evansville, Ind., Nov. 21.—Enactment into law of the rivers and harbors bill which would provide funds for completing all river improvements that have been approved, within five years from the date of passage and the Porter bill that would provide for $204,000,000 to complete all of the pending river improvement projects were urged in resolutions adopted by the Mississippi Valley Association in convention aboard the steamer Altou on the Ohio River today.

Another resolution urged the application of $5,000,000 for the United States Indian Waterways Corporation, operating the Mississippi and Warrior Rivers Barge Line, so that it may extend its service and expand its facilities to a degree that will accommodate the freight that is available along its route. Legalization of the right to divert sufficient freight from Lake Michigan for navigation purposes in the Illinois river was urged as was the adoption by congress of the Great Lakes to the Gulf Waterway project.

Cut in Wages Is Not Warranted, Is Coolidge Belief

(By The Associated Press.) Washington, Nov. 21.—President Coolidge feels that if a reduction of freight rates is made at this time it should be accomplished through reduction in operating costs rather than at the expense of wages of railroads employees.

Present conditions in the opinion of the president, do not warrant a reduction in wages, whereas he does believe sufficient economies can be made in operating expenses to permit a reduction in freight rates if such is found feasible. The president's views on railroad wages were made known to visitors today when he did not discuss any plans he may have for railroad legislation at the short session of congress, nor did he go into detail in speaking of a possible reduction at this time.

QUICK ACTION MAY PREVENT SPECULATION

MORGAN COMPANY HEADING U. S. EN OF TRANSACTION

(By The Associated Press.) Paris, Nov. 21.—The senate chamber tonight passed a loan bill under which $100,000,000 are to be advanced to France American financial interests, led by J. P. Morgan and Company. The bill passed the chamber deputies by a vote of 535 to 100. In the senate the vote was 290 to 10.

The Herriot government was to rush the loan bill through houses of parliament in a matter of hours. The bill authorizes the borrowing of the $100,000,000 in term of 25 years at seven per cent interest. The issue price of loan will be 94.

Little Opposition. There was much discussion the measure, but opposition was confined to the finance committee of both chambers. The debate on the bill on the floor of the senate and the chamber came and subsided. The 29 cast against the bill in the end came from communist bloc.

He is prepared to furnish from four to fifteen pieces for any occasion for which an orchestra is required.

UTILITIES SHOW CITY'S GROWTH

Books of the Escanaba Municipal Utilities were increased by 502 consumer's accounts during a twelve-month period ending Oct. 31. City Manager Fred R. Harris told the city council, in his monthly utilities report last night. The city has 201 more light consumers, 181 more water consumers and 120 more gas consumers than it had a year ago.

Estimates of consumption and revenue for the first ten months of the year are running along normally in the gas and electric divisions, but the sales of city water have been less than the Jan. 1 estimate. This is due, Mr. Harris explained, to the fact that there was virtually no lawn sprinkling this year. Several other factors, including the North-Western dock fire, served greatly to increase the amount of water used for which no meter revenue was coming in. "The increase in the number of utilities accounts," Mr. Harris told the council, "is positive evidence that Escanaba is growing and prospering. The figures speak for themselves."

"Spifflication" Record Broken by Automobile Driver

"The drunkest man ever carried into this office," the distinction members of the sheriff's department confer upon Stanley Gould, of Gladstone, arrested Wednesday night, after he had driven his automobile into a car driven by Joseph Roleau, also of Gladstone, on the up-bay road, with considerable damage to both machines.

Gould was found laying across the steering wheel of his machine. Deputies at first thought he was dead. He was brought to Escanaba and carried into the county jail. A physician worked for more than two hours in an unsuccessful attempt to revive him. He slept until 6 o'clock yesterday morning where awoke, ate breakfast at the jail and was well enough to go before Judge C. D. McEwen, plead guilty to driving a car while intoxicated and take a 90-day sentence.

The department was investigating unconfirmed reports that Gould had several young men and women, all of them intoxicated, in his car when the accident occurred.

Bright Lights On Autos Down Town Cause Complaint

Police officers have been instructed to use whatever means are necessary, in the future, to put a stop to the practice of some motorists of using bright lights on Ludington street and some of the other thoroughfares of the city. The complaints about the practice have been numerous and warnings have been issued by the officers to many offenders.

"We will continue the warning practice for a few days," it was said at police headquarters. "After that, if there isn't a change in the attitude of the offenders, we'll have to take more drastic steps. The Escanaba streets are well enough lighted to make the use of 'brights' unnecessary. We are inclined to blame the trouble onto carelessness, and we hope that it will not be necessary to arrest anyone for failure to heed the warnings."

School Asks Report on Its Ex-Students

Letters asking for reports on the work being done in colleges and universities by men and women who were graduated from Escanaba high school in 1923 and 1924, are being sent out by Principal R. E. Cheney. The replies will enable the school to check up on the work done here and let the local school officials know what kind of students it is turning out, it was explained.

Louis Smith of Milwaukee was a visitor here yesterday.

FUNERAL SERVICES SET FOR MONDAY AFTERNOON.

(By The Associated Press.) Marion, O., Nov. 21.—A little tombstone in Marion cemetery next Monday evening will be the scene of the final meeting to part no more of Mr. and Mrs. Warren G. Harding.

WARREN G. HARDING

She had been critically ill for several weeks at White Dake Farm, the Sawyer home, where she had been living. Next Monday her body will be placed in the tomb in Marion cemetery beside that of her husband.

Four weeks ago today, Mrs. Harding entered the tomb and talked personally with every member of the military guard which has been on duty there during the months of waiting for her final visit.

Rev. Jesse Swank, who conducted the funeral services for President Harding will conduct similar rites for Mrs. Harding in the Epworth Methodist Episcopal church of which he is the pastor and in which Mrs. Harding held membership since girlhood, at 2 o'clock Monday afternoon.

Chronic nephritis, a form of kidney trouble, with myocarditis and hydronephritis as contributing factors was the chief cause of Mrs. Harding's death, a statement by Dr. Sawyer said.

Columbus, O., Nov. 21.—Mrs. Addie Sheatsley, 50, found practically cremated in the furnace of the parsonage of Christ Lutheran Church, in Bexley, a suburb, Monday, was dead before her body was placed in the fire vault. It was disclosed in a preliminary report submitted to County Prosecutor John R. King, by Chemist T. C. Long, here shortly before midnight tonight.

Mr. Long said that no trace of carbon-monoxide poisoning was found in "three ounces of good blood" taken from the lungs of the victim. Practically all known tests were made in attempts to find trace of poisoning, he said. Lung congestion was noted in each of the lungs, he stated.

The Rev. C. V. Sheatsley, husband of the victim, told Prosecutor King on Wednesday that he was convinced she had committed suicide. During his examination on Tuesday, however, he told authorities he believed his wife had been murdered.

To Work Overtime.

Owing to the unusually large volume of business, transacted within the last week, several of the largest commission houses have notified their clerks that they will be required to work Saturday afternoon and Sunday in order to catch up with the unprecedented amount of business. New York, Nov. 21.—The stock market today faltered before an onslaught of profit taking, although trading was maintained at a feverish pace and total sales exceeded two million shares for the ninth time since election day. STACK FUNERAL SET FOR TODAY BY GEN. HAKING

(By The Associated Press.)

Cairo, Egypt, Nov. 21.—Orders for the funeral tomorrow of Major General Sir Lee Stack, governor general of the Sudan and Sirdar of the Egyptian army, who died Thursday night from wounds he received at the hands of assassins the day before, have been issued by Lieutenant General Sir Richard Haking, in command of the British troops in Egypt.

There will be a great military display, troops of all arms lining the route of the funeral cortege, with batteries firing salutes at minute intervals.

Today large crowds filed reverently past the coffin in All Saints church. The casket was covered with the Union Jack while the Sirdar's helmet and sword rested on the lid.

The Egyptian government and press express the view that just and reasonable satisfaction will be given the British government for the assassination of General Stack, but declare that should the British demands "exceed the limits of equity and make the crime a shield for realization of imperialistic aims," neither Premier Zagoual nor any other Egyptian premier can satisfy them, and a grave crisis might arise.

Anderson Will Be Rearrested After He Leaves Prison

(By The Associated Press.) New York, Nov. 21.—Officials of the district attorney's office announced tonight that William H. Anderson, former superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League in New York, will be re-arrested on one of the four untried indictments still pending against him, as he leaves Sing Sing prison on parole.

Although District Attorney Banton would not discuss the course he intends to pursue in Anderson's case other prosecution officials said that Anderson would probably be brought to New York on December 24 and released either on bail or on his own recognizance.

Mr. Banton said today that he had not decided whether he would press the other indictments, but Assistant District Attorney Pecora said that the third degree forgery indictment on which the former dry chieftain was convicted, was by far the strongest of the state's cases against him.

Germans Will Not Protest Action of French Court Yet

Berlin, Nov. 21.—The German government will make no protest nor will it demand the immediate release of General Von Nathusius until it has examined the official protocol of the French court martial which convicted and sentenced the general to a year's imprisonment for confiscation of private property while he was stationed near Roubaix.

Meanwhile, official quarters do not conceal indignation over the episode which, it is indirectly admitted, presents diplomatic complexities in addition to the widespread resentment voiced in the German press.

The German government sought to assist him by subpoenaing widely scattered witnesses who are attached to his war-time staff.

Frozen Desserts

Favorite desserts come and go according to the season, but none is more popular regardless of the time of the year as do the frozen desserts. Most of us do not consider a party menu complete without a frozen dish of some sort, and one of us feel like the little girl who after playing a few games with the other children, not being any signs of ice cream and she, asked in a loud whisper when the party was to begin.

Frozen desserts deserve their popularity, for they are among the most nourishing and easily digested of all desserts. Children who live to be coaxed to drink a quart of milk a day are always glad to get a portion of it in the form of ice cream or milk sherbert.

The members of most families are particularly fond of frozen desserts of all kinds. It is not difficult to please them and there is quite a wide variety from which to choose. The plain, everyday vanilla ice cream may be varied in so many ways by putting different flavors of fruits into the mixture just before freezing, serving it with sauces or crushed fruit, really making a new dessert of it, or at least one that seems new.

Besides the popular ice creams there are other frozen desserts that are very easily made.

Assuming that you have a little freezer of your own, that your family is quite fond of all kinds of frozen desserts, and do not care to depend entirely on the corner drug store for these desserts, I believe you will be interested in some of these home-made frozen desserts.

One of the tin freezers that can be bought for a dollar or less are light in weight, easily handled and work beautifully. And wherever you can obtain these desserts can be made—most of them require less time to prepare than a pie, a pudding or some other cooked dessert. A mixture of ice and salt, of course, always used for freezing ice cream and ices in the home.

The salt causes the ice to melt and in melting it gives off cold which causes anything coming in contact with the melting ice to freeze. The ice should be crushed into small pieces, using a heavy muslin, burlap or canvas cloth to hold the ice while pounding it. The ice should be crushed quite fine and packed in alternate layers, or mixed together in alternate layers, or mixed together before being packed around the freezer. Here is an important thing to remember: One part salt to three parts ice, by measure, is the best proportion to use. Coarse dairy salt or granulated rock salt is used for freezing. There is a special ice cream salt on the market which is just the thing and is inexpensive.

In making frozen desserts, remember that flavor freezes out of the mixture, so it must be flavored more highly than if it were to be served unfrozen.

Instead of using the sugar to sweeten, use a syrup—it will greatly improve the texture of the finished ice cream.

If you are going to add fruit to the ice cream, crush the fruit roughly and then do not add all until the mixture is partly frozen. If the pieces of fruit are too large there will be lumps of fruit that are difficult to eat. And, if the fruit is added before the mixture before it is partly frozen—the milk or cream may curdle and the fruit may settle to the bottom.

Scalding the cream (not boiling) will give a finer grain to the cream. Don't fill the freezer more than three-fourths full. Allow room for swelling.

Turn the freezer slowly at first, then more rapidly after it has started freezing.

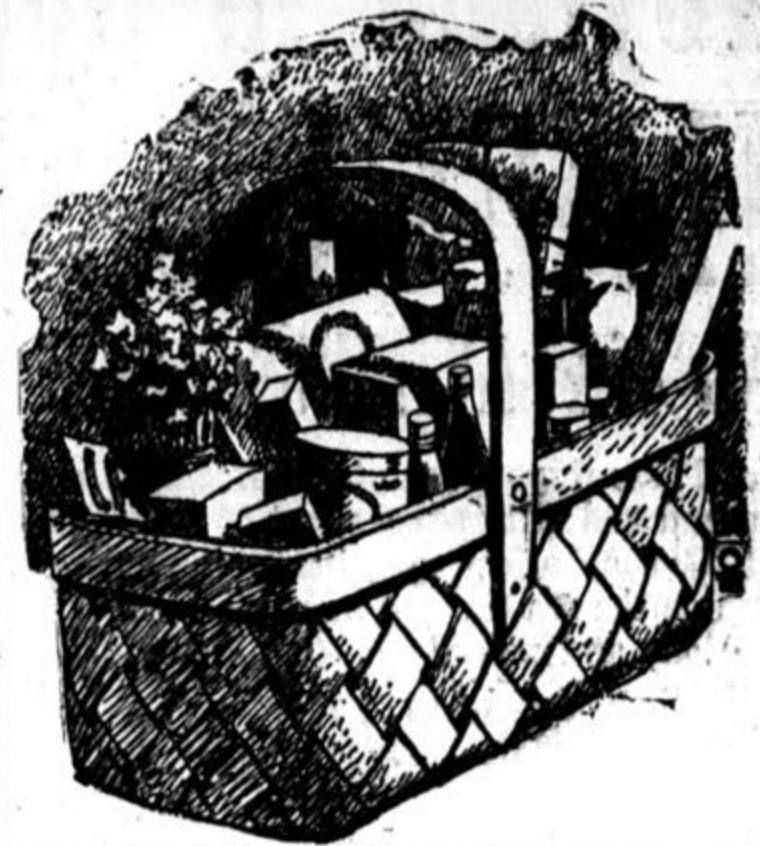

From twelve to twenty minutes are required for freezing ice cream. Sherberts take a little longer, from twenty to thirty minutes.

Ice cream, too, should be made far enough in advance so it can be packed and allowed to stand for two or three hours.

When you are ready to pack the ice cream, simply drain off the brine and pack the can on coarse cracked ice and salt mixture, using one part salt to four of ice. Put the freezer in a cool place and let stand to ripen.

If the mixture has been frozen too rapidly it will be coarse and have a rough mixture. A slower freezing really improves the texture, and the amount of stirring or whipping that takes place during the freezing has something to do with the fineness of texture.

If you are going to color your ice cream, remember only a small amount of the coloring should be used. A very delicate tint is all that is necessary.

There are two kinds of ice cream—cooked and uncooked. The plain, or Philadelphia ice cream, which is an uncooked mixture of cream, or cream diluted with milk, sweetened, flavored and frozen. Crushed nuts or fruits may of course be added to give variety.

TO HOLD GRAVY.
Gravy will not soak through the bottom crust of meat pies if you brush over the bottom crust with the white of an egg.

The fruit juice instead of water. A frappe is a partly frozen water ice.

A punch is a water ice frozen to a mush with some highly spiced fruit juice or other flavoring added.

ELEGANT GOWN.
Very elegant looking gowns of black chiffon or georgette crepe are made on very simple lines and decorated with rhinestones used as borders or dotted over the entire costume.

Then we have the French and American ice creams, which are cooked custards, made with cream, milk, egg and sugar and frozen.

Other frozen desserts are Mousse, Parfaits, Water Ices, Sherberts, Frappes and Punches.

A mouse is whipped cream, sweetened, flavored and packed and frozen without stirring. Gelatine is often used to give stiffness. Maple, coffee or fruit are very popular flavors.

A parfait is made by pouring a hot thick syrup over beaten egg yolks or whites—then whipped cream added, and packed in the salt and ice mixture. It is also frozen without stirring.

A plain ice is a sweetened fruit juice which may or may not be diluted with water.

A sherbert is a plain ice with egg whites, and sometimes gelatine. In milk sherberts, milk is used with

A child under school age will find a breakfast of orange juice, the cereal, toasted corn bread with butter and jelly and a glass of milk most satisfactory. But kiddies of school age need the heartier meal suggested.

Pea Soufflé.
Three tablespoons butter, 2 tablespoons flour, 1 cup milk, 1 cup peas rubbed through strainer, 2 eggs, 1 teaspoon salt, 1-8 teaspoon pepper, 1/2 tablespoon minced parsley.

Rinse peas under running water and rub through a sieve. There should be one cup. Melt butter, stir in flour and slowly add milk, stirring constantly. Add pea pulp to cause. Beat yolks of eggs until thick and lemon colored and add to first mixture. Season with salt and pepper and parsley. Add whites of eggs beaten until stiff and dry. Do not add the whites with a stirring motion but rather with a lifting and folding motion. Turn into a well buttered baking dish and bake in a moderate oven until firm to the touch. It will take from thirty to forty minutes to bake the soufflé. Serve at once as the soufflé will fall.

Cranberry Whip.
Two cups cranberries, 1 cup sugar, 2 tablespoons lemon juice, 2 tablespoons granulated gelatin, 1/4 cup cold water, 2 eggs (whites).
Soften gelatin in cold water. Put 1 1/2 cups water and cranberries into a sauce pan and cook until cranberries are tender, about twenty minutes. Rub through a fine sieve. Add sugar and bring to the boiling point. Remove from the fire and add softened gelatin. Stir until gelatin is dissolved. Cool and add lemon juice. Let stand until the mixture thickens. Beat whites of eggs until stiff and dry and fold into gelatin mixture. Let stand until the whole thickens and then beat with a Dover beater until light. Turn into mould to chill and become firm.

Riced Potatoes With Cheese.
Three cups riced potatoes, 1 cup milk, 1/2 cup cheese, 1 egg, 1 teaspoon salt, 1-8 teaspoon pepper, dash mustard.

Beat milk into hot potatoes and season with salt and pepper. Beat yolk of egg until thick and add to potato mixture. Add cheese and mustard and keep hot. Beat white of egg until stiff and dry and fold into mixture. Turn into a buttered baking dish and bake twenty minutes in a hot oven.

This is an ideal way to serve potatoes when the meat is light. It makes meat unnecessary for young children as the cheese and egg provide a substitute.

The temperature of a beehive in winter is about 14 degrees Centigrade.

IRONWOOD OUT FOR WIDE CARD

Gogebic Rangers Trying to Book Best Schedule Possible.

BY W. C. JANSON. (In the Ironwood Globe) WE DO NOT wish to prolong any arguments about settling Upper Peninsula High school football championships, but all the while that we are bringing up the subject, we are pleading for a chance for Ironwood to book elevens in the Upper Peninsula, rather than to go into Wisconsin and even into Minnesota for its games, Ironwood, situated at the extreme western point of the Peninsula, is more or less isolated from the rest of the Michigan schoolers, and for the last five or six years has had difficulty in booking Michigan games.

HANCOCK IS the only team that Ironwood could book outside of its little circle on the Gogebic range, as far as Michigan teams are concerned. Stambaugh was scheduled to play here but canceled the game because some of the members of the team were not in first class condition.

WANTS WIDE SCHEDULE "APPLYING THE same principle to the Upper Peninsula territory," says Hal Rammel in the Escanaba Press, mentioning that the Big Ten Conference no longer plays for the title but each team arranges a representative schedule—"we fall to see why any High school team should be asked to do more than play a representative schedule. If it does that and completes it well it has done enough."

RAMMEL hits the point exactly. What Ironwood has been striving for is a representative schedule and next year it hopes to book as far south as Menominee and Marinette. In fact, both teams have been offered dates after expressing a desire to meet the Ironwood eleven.

For a number of years, however, Ironwood has been unable to procure a representative schedule in the Upper Peninsula.

Sectional Plan. WE ARE YET to be convinced that dividing the Peninsula into sections and conducting elimination contests will not bring about the desired results. The Big Ten conference is given as an example why the Peninsula should not worry about championships. If the conference is to be taken as an example, we might cite a part of the schedule to show what the conference thinks about traveling:

Ohio State traveled to Iowa City and Urbana. Iowa went to Urbana, Madison and Saturday goes to Ann Arbor. Chicago went to Columbus. Wisconsin went to Ann Arbor and will go to Chicago. Michigan went to East Lansing, Urbana, Minneapolis, Columbus. Minnesota traveled to Madison, Iowa City. Illinois traveled to Jacksonville, Lincoln and Minneapolis.

THINKS THEY'D PAY. WHY NOT AN exchange of games between Hancock and Escanaba, for instance, Negaunee and Ironwood, Stambaugh and Escanaba and so forth?

The old cry that expenses can't be paid is a bear story, we believe. We have had occasion to watch sports in three or four Upper Peninsula cities and we found that a game that settled the supremacy of two sections of the Peninsula, almost invariably drew a large crowd. Hancock, for instance, drew 2,500 persons to the game when Ironwood went to the Copper Country, simply because Ironwood was undefeated and Hancock was the big team of the north.

Concerning SWEATERS. IT IS SAID the Upper Peninsula board of athletic control will consider a number of things soon. There is one more thing we hope to see abolished unless some good reason can be given for maintaining it. And that is the rule regarding the purchase of sweaters for the team by the athletic association of a school. We want to know a good reason why the team should not be rewarded with sweaters and letters when the season is ended. Football is the major sport and it should get the major consideration.

Record Crowds Will Witness Western Games

(By The Associated Press.) Chicago, Nov. 21.—Capacity crowds will witness the closing games of the western conference football season tomorrow. The Big Ten fields have sold tickets for 218,000 spectators.

The 33,000 tickets for the Chicago-Wisconsin game were exhausted three weeks ago. The 40,000 seats for the Notre Dame-Northwestern game were sold in one day. Michigan has sold all the 45,000 tickets available at Ferry Field for the Iowa game. Illinois may not fill the new stadium seating 67,000 for the bitter struggle anticipated with Ohio but at least 40,000 are expected. Indiana and Purdue should easily sell twice their ticket capacity at LaFayette for their annual classic. The Vanderbilt intersectional clash at Minneapolis will be played before 35,000. Clear and cold weather is forecast for the "Big Ten" region to-morrow, except in Michigan, where snow or rain is likely.

When the Santa Ana (Calif.) high school eleven plays, there is one player always in a white sweater. That one is Elliott Best and he wears the white sweater so that the coach knows him from his brother, Edward. Conversation is a great thing. It is never so good as talking to a

BIG GAMES ON PROGRAM TODAY

(By The Associated Press.) Chicago, Nov. 21.—A sensational football season will reach its climax in the western conference tomorrow when Chicago, undefeated in the championship race, meets Wisconsin on Stagg Field in the most important contest of the day. In other games, either of which may scramble the championship, Michigan will face Iowa at Ann Arbor, while Illinois will battle Ohio State at Champaign.

Northwestern, definitely out of the championship, will furnish the opposition for Notre Dame at Chicago, with Minnesota meeting Vanderbilt at Minneapolis. Purdue and Indiana will battle for the Indiana championship at LaFayette.

Expect Big Fight. The Chicago-Wisconsin contest probably will result in one of the greatest battles of the season.

Even though Notre Dame rolled over Wisconsin by a top-sided score and the Badgers have failed to win a conference game this season, there is plenty of apprehension in the Maroon camp.

Michigan has not lost a game since the disastrous defeat by Illinois and with Illinois beaten and Chicago having a tough barrier to hurdle, Coach Yost of the Wolverines plans to turn his warriors loose on the Hawkeyes with instructions to win at all costs. If Wisconsin should upset Chicago, Michigan will have a chance at the championship honors, in spite of the Illinois defeat.

Iowa has displayed plenty of power recently and figures on giving the Wolverines a desperate battle. Illinois runs up against its jinx team, Ohio State. The Illinois forced out of the Big Ten championship as a result of the Minnesota upset, will meet a formidable opponent in the Buckeye eleven, which displayed surprising strength against Michigan.

Irish To Chicago. Knute Rockne and his Notre Dame players, will descend upon Chicago in their first invasion in four years, meeting Northwestern in the new Grant Park stadium on Chicago's lake front.

Northwestern is not conceded much chance to win but expects to make the game interesting, especially if the Purple players display the stiff game they showed against Chicago a week ago in forcing the Maroons to win by the narrow margin of a field goal.

The Indiana-Purdue will open the stadium at LaFayette. Indiana rushed into prominence with victories over Ohio State and Wabash but Purdue had the advantage of a rest in which to prepare for the contest, rated as the hardest on the Purdue schedule.

Minnesota, in the limelight since the upset of Illinois last Saturday, will face strong opposition in meeting Vanderbilt at Minneapolis. The eleven from Tennessee is rated as one of the strongest aggregations in the south but the Gophers are favorites to win.

Champley Elected Senior Cage "Cap"

Howard Champley has been elected captain of the Senior class basketball team at Escanaba high school. Champley is a football letter man, and will have a squad which ought to make a strong bid for class honors. The Class of 1925 won the championship in its sophomore year.

BEST TWINS!

They Certainly Are for That Happens to Be Their Name.

FLINT HIGH TO MEET BAY CITY ELEVEN TODAY

(By The Associated Press.) Bay City, Mich., Nov. 21.—Two football teams that have moved steadily toward their opponents and accumulating with each victory the interest of football fans, not only of their respective communities but the enthusiasm of other fans in the state, cross paths tomorrow in a game which will eliminate one of three contenders for the state interscholastic title.

Trained and drilled to a high degree throughout the past week, both Flint and Bay City elevens, who have won eight of their games and lost none, will meet on comparatively even terms with the past records of both teams pointing to a game filled with hard playing and a close score.

Flint Has Edge. Leading in points scored, Flint Central starts the game tomorrow with a slight edge over its local opponent. However, Coach Nevitt's policy of withdrawing his regulars from the game when victory was practically assured, for Bay City, further places the outcome of the game in doubt.

Flint looks to their flashy back, Brazill, to grab a pass for a possible score, or in case of a defensive game to get off his long twisting punts which have featured his kicking throughout the season.

On the kicking side Bay City shows bright hopes of contending for honors, with Captain Anderson's toe ready to kick from the field three points which may win the game; Anderson's droppicking ability has proved valuable in every game this year, and it was his droppick last year that defeated Flint.

Local supporters are interested to see if Flint's line will hold against the attack of Bay City forwards and allow Flint's fast and threatening backs, including Captain Young, Brazill, Willis and Hughes, to step out for consistent gains. A weakness in Flint's forward wall has slowed down the fast back field.

Bay City is preparing for the greatest football spectacle it has yet witnessed with one unfortunate circumstance to mar the feature contest. Energetic efforts to secure bleachers from nearby cities failed, and the crowds expected tomorrow will find crowded accommodations for but 1,500 persons at the field.

Whatever the outcome the fans look with interest toward the probable game in East Lansing between the victor in tomorrow's classic and the strong Grand Rapids South eleven, the third state eleven to have advanced throughout the season without defeat, for the interscholastic football crown for 1924.

Bay City's probable lineup follows: Pembroke, lb; Simons, lt; Flajole, lg; Peets, c; Howard, rg; Harris, rt; Richter, re; Anderson, qb; Schweinsberg, rb; Presser, lhb; Lefter, fb.

The probable Flint lineup: Shaft, lb; Decker, lt; Edgerton, lg; Rice, c; Lavioie, rg; Conger, rt; Stanard, re; Hughes, qb; Brazill, lhb; Willis, rhb; Young, fb.

FIRST BATTLES FOR DUNDEE'S TITLE FOUGHT

(By The Associated Press.) New York, Nov. 21.—Louis (Kid) Kaplan, of Meriden, Conn., won the decision tonight over Bobby Garcia, of Camp Holabird, Md., in the first ten-round bout of the featherweight championship tournament at Madison Square Garden to determine the successor to the crown surrendered by Johnny Dundee.

Dick Curley, manager of Mike Dundee, of Rock Island, Ill., attacked Referee Patry Heley and was escorted from the hall by police when Danny Kramer, of Philadelphia, was awarded the decision over his boxer. According to many newspapermen Dundee led throughout the bout. The crowd was in an uproar for several minutes.

Jose Lombardo, of Panama, gained the decision over Lou Paisdo, of Salt Lake City, in the final bout. Lombardo was never in trouble.

At a meeting of the state athletic commission during the final bout, it was voted to bar Manager Curley from this state forever.

It was announced that five men will appear in the remainder of the tournaments, Babe Herman of New York, and Billy Defoe of St. Paul, joining tonight's winners.

Report Submitted by Special Board

(By The Associated Press.) Washington, Nov. 21.—The special naval board appointed by Secretary Wilbur at the suggestion of President Coolidge to formulate a policy regarding aviation in the fleet submitted a preliminary report today to the secretary stating that it had completed its work except for a study of "tasks in connection with the battleship Washington." These are now in progress of the Virginia Capes. The report contained no reference to findings which may have been reached.

YALE FAVORED OVER HARVARD

(By The Associated Press.) New Haven, Conn., Nov. 21.—With the chant, "We'll beat Yale," as sung by 2,000 Harvard graduates still ringing in their ears, nearly 80 gridiron warriors and their coaches and trainers arrived here today for the annual Yale-Harvard football classic at Yale Bowl tomorrow. Despite a season spotted by defeats by Dartmouth, Brown and Princeton, the Crimson squad shows little signs of abated morale.

The Harvard squad went immediately to the bowl for two hours' practice. They spent the night at a hotel in Derby. A special orchestra was engaged to provide music at each meal, including breakfast tomorrow.

The Harvard lineup was still a matter of conjecture this afternoon. New York, Nov. 21.—Harvard and Yale will come to grips tomorrow in the bowl at New Haven, with the Blue a top heavy favorite among critics to capture the 43rd battle between these ancient rivals.

But while the Ells are overwhelmingly favored to win, the "Big Three" title, by downing the Crimson and finish their second straight season undefeated, the vast and colorful crowd of 80,000 that will fill the big amphitheater to its outer fringes expects a typically hard fought struggle.

Tomorrow unfolds a wealth of gridiron tradition, for besides the Harvard-Yale encounter, the only other outstanding eastern game involving long rivalries at Syracuse, Chick Meehan's Orange eleven, topped recently by West Virginia Wesleyan, from its undefeated perch, tackles Colgate, beaten by Nebraska and West Virginia in the Maroon's biggest games with prospects of a closely waged battle for upstate gridiron supremacy.

Renew Old Struggle. At Easton, Pa., LaFayette and Lehigh renew a struggle inaugurated 40 years ago with the Leopards striving to come back, while Lehigh battles to keep her place among the major unbeaten teams in the east.

Only three of these teams fighting for eastern tie honors will be seen in action. Besides Yale and Lehigh the powerful Rutgers outfit, with one of the best records of all, will close its season at Philadelphia with Uncle Moran's Bucknell eleven which conquered the Navy a week ago. Of the other unbeaten outfits, Pennsylvania has no game scheduled in order to concentrate on preparations for the annual game with Cornell Thanksgiving Day, while Dartmouth has rested her case with a record of seven victories and a tie with Yale.

Harvard, despite one of the most disappointing seasons in years, has been shaping its whole course for the Yale game. Beaten by Dartmouth, Princeton and Brown, the Crimson has an added incentive to win its final game, for not since 1889 has the Cambridge eleven lost the same year to both the Bull Dog and Tiger.

Wet Field Liable To Hamper Squads in Final Combat

(By The Associated Press.) Ann Arbor, Mich., Nov. 21.—With the possibility of a conference championship hinging on the outcome and a six-year record to be upheld, Michigan and Iowa meet tomorrow in a football contest which is expected to turn into one of the season's stiffest battles.

Coach Little's men have lost no time during the past week working up a defense against the flashy Hawkeye backs and in addition have been drilling their offensive running, and aerial attacks.

Reports from the Iowa camp during the week indicate Coach Ingwersen's squad has spent no less a rigorous week of preparation with particular stress laid on a defense for the Michigan overhead game which has brought the Wolverine triumphs in all but one of their games.

The Iowa squad arrived today after practicing in the Grant Park Stadium in Chicago and took brief limbering up sessions at Ferry Field.

Whether the wet field caused by today's rain will hinder Michigan's attack is problematical. If such is the case it is expected likewise to halt the attack of fast Iowa backs.

Lawyer-Fighter Is Winner of Fight

Detroit, Nov. 21.—Bob Sage, Detroit lawyer-fighter, won the judges' decision over Billy Britton, New York middleweight, in a 10-round bout. Sage was credited with seven of the ten rounds. K. O. Jeakle, Toledo lightweight won the judges' decision over Red Herrington Bilozi Miss., in a 10-round bout on the same card.

Kalamazoo Loses To Albion, 24-7

Albion, Mich., Nov. 21.—By defeating Kalamazoo college here this afternoon 24 to 7, Albion took undisputed possession of second place in the Michigan interscholastic athletic association 1924 football championship race.

POINTING DAYS ARE SLIPPING

Evans Discusses Minnesota's Surprising Upset of Last Week.

By BILLY EVANS The days of "pointing" a football team for one particular game are gone. Except for the first two games of the season a modern football eleven ought to be at the very height of its form.

It was possible to "point" for a big foe in the days gone by when early games were unimportant. It is hard to tell nowadays when a supposedly weak team will turn out to be a giant firecracker with a tendency to explode right in your face.

As a well-known eastern coach said to me the other day: "The teams we meet now that aren't tough are tougher." Did Gophers "Point"? Some critics are explaining the victory of Minnesota over Red Grange and his Illinois supporters by saying the Northern Lights had "pointed" all year for Zuppke.

Unquestionably Minnesota was ready for Illinois. The result of the game showed that. But it is hardly reasonable to believe Spaulding's team neglected any of its early season responsibilities for the single purpose of showing up Grange and his team mates.

As a matter of truth, Minnesota has played good football all year. It just happened, in the main, that the team was not getting the breaks.

A football team has to get the breaks, or at least a fair percentage of them, to win these days, when the difference between victory and defeat is often measured by a dropped pass, or a held pass.

The whole Minnesota team functioned perfectly against Illinois. And to make its performance all the more impressive the team got the advantage of whatever breaks the battle developed. Grange Off Color.

Whether Grange, against Minnesota, was the same Grange that ran wild against Michigan and Chicago, is questionable. With all due credit to the Minnesota defense, it is quite possible the brilliant Red was several shades off color.

A football player is only human, he can stand just so much. Grange has been the motive power behind Zuppke's team all year. Whenever a pinch developed it was up to Grange to deliver. And until the Minnesota game he never failed.

Large Field Will Take Field Today in Cross Country

(By The Associated Press.) Ann Arbor, Mich., Nov. 21.—One of the largest fields to start in a cross country race of the western conference is slated to take the field tomorrow morning in the annual hill and dale race. Late tonight all of the Big Ten teams excepting Purdue, were expected to start with Iowa State College, Marquette, Notre Dame, Michigan Aggies, Oberlin and Ohio Wesleyan as non-conference entries.

The usual starting field includes 10 or 11 teams of six men each. Ohio State and Wisconsin were being given equal consideration for first honors with Iowa State (Ames) probably the strongest outside competitor. The Wesleyan team won second in the Missouri Valley meet a week ago.

Almost as much interest as in the team winner is manifested in what Shimek of Marquette will be able to do against conference running. He has not been beaten this year but has not met runners of the class of Phelps of Iowa, last year's winner; Wikoff of Ohio State; Melher of Illinois; Bourke of Chicago, and the Badger stars, Kubly and Piper.

STAGG ELEVEN IS NEAR TITLE OF CONFERENCE

(By The Associated Press.) Chicago, Nov. 21.—A Big Ten conference football championship is almost within the grasp tonight of sixty-two-year-old Amos Alonzo Stagg, dean of football coaches in America, for the first time in 11 years.

Tomorrow the Maroons meet Wisconsin, with a clear title in sight for Chicago if they defeat or tie Wisconsin.

Stagg has completed 32 years as coach at Chicago but since 1913 one defeat or one tie has kept the Maroons just back of the leaders. Chicago has two ties this season on record, with Ohio State and Illinois, but thus far is the only undefeated team in the conference.

Fulton's Trial Is Set for Wednesday

(By The Associated Press.) Los Angeles, Nov. 21.—Fred Fulton, plasterer-pupilist of Minneapolis, Minn., whose taking the count in 35 seconds last Monday night when he met Tony Fuente, Mexican heavyweight, resulted in a storm of "fake" accusations, today appeared in court with his manager, Jack Reddy, when both faced charges of violating the state law against prize fighting.

The trial of the pair was set for Nov. 26, the same date that Fuente and his manager, Fred Winsor, will be tried on similar charges.

Heydler Unopposed for Presidency of National League

(By The Associated Press.) New York, Nov. 21.—If Heydler, whose three-year term expires this year, Charles A. Ham, president of the New Giants, declared today he has heard of it.

Taking cognizance of the fact that at least one club in the circuit was preparing to make a move to replace the president, Heydler will be a candidate in the annual meet here December 3. I have heard other candidates and feel sure will be none at this late date. Asked to state his own position, Ham indicated the National League champions would support Heydler.

SCANT VALUE IN SCOUTING

(By BILLY EVANS.) Scouting rival teams is as much a part of college football as coaching. Every college has its corps of scouts who look over rival teams and report on the weakness and strength of the opposition.

If a team has a certain deceptive play that proves a big groundgainer, the scouts diagram the position of each player, so as to be able to work out a defense for the strategy.

The value of scouting is a question. In a sense the information that can be gained depends entirely on the nature of the game.

Seek to Hold Lead. If a team through the breaks of a game suddenly assumes a commanding lead, it immediately seeks to hold that lead by playing a defensive game, with kicking as one best bet.

In such a game there is no necessity of a team opening up putting its so-called gridiron strategy on display.

The coach realizes that there are scouts in the stand watching the play of his club closely, eager to grasp some intricate piece of strategy, that needs special preparation if it is to be stopped.

It is not unusual for the coach himself to look over a rival team, provided his eleven is playing some easy team and his direction is not needed.

Breaks Change Play. Prior to the Illinois game, Iowa was one of the most feared teams in the Big Ten. It is not telling any secret when I say that Coach Zuppke of Illinois was fearful as to the outcome of the Iowa clash.

City Title Still Remains Undecided

(By The Associated Press.) Detroit, Nov. 21.—The city school football championship remained undecided when western and northern football teams failed to score on a soaked field here today. His seven years standing, neither could put over the necessary inch punch. Northwestern, thrice within scoring, thrice in attempted field goals. No failed to kick a goal from the field for the three points and the championship. Victories for eastern and western in tomorrow games will end the local season as a four-team tie.

played that it had little opportunity to open up.

Trip Was in Vain. As a result, Coach Ryan Wisconsin, who had come a line on Iowa, didn't get of worthwhile information, of the time Iowa was on the fence, badly beaten.

In a closely contested with either team always running, the football scout chance to pick up some staff as to the play of the on the field.

It is in such games the coach very often opens up pulls his best bits of strategy. Otherwise the scout does much of a chance to get on the opposition.

Smith Is Inducted as Detroit Mayor After Hard Battle
(By The Associated Press.)
Detroit, Nov. 21.—John W. Smith became mayor of Detroit this afternoon after a brief induction ceremony, terminating one of the most bitterly contested elections the city of Detroit has ever witnessed.
Smith was sworn in by Chief Deputy City Clerk J. W. Eisman, and was presented his certificate of office by Acting Mayor John C. Lodge.
A writ of prohibition preventing the election commission from issuing a certificate of election was not dissolved until late this afternoon in the circuit court.
Charles Bowles, "sticker" candidate for mayor, who had entered mandamus and prohibition proceedings, included an order restraining the commission from certifying the election of Smith, today abandoned his fight for the office. His supporters had claimed that of the votes cast out by canvassers because of errors, Bowles had received sufficient number to assure his election, despite a 14,173 plurality credited to Smith.

BANK OBSERVES 20TH BIRTHDAY
State Savings Greets Hundreds of Visitors to "Open House" Friday
The State Savings Bank observed its 20th "birthday" yesterday. There were no formalities. "Open house" was kept throughout the day. The beautiful building was decorated with ferns, potted plants and cut flowers. Officers and directors were on hand to extend a welcome. Flowers were given, as souvenirs of the occasion, to all callers.
Many of the visitors were men whose savings were listed in the $29,754.15 which was on deposit Nov. 21, 1904, when the institution opened for business. They felt a special pride in the anniversary for the growth of their own personal resources had been for a fifth of a century, a part of the growth of their bank, which on Nov. 1, of this year, had deposits of $1,958,379.12 and total resources of $2,323,946.58.
Congratulations were numerous, enthusiastic and earnest. There were many reminiscences. Altogether it was a most enjoyable and successful occasion.

IN NEW YORK
New York, Nov. 21.—For the first time in this country a Chinese restaurant, that is, one for which Chinese are wholly responsible, has gone into bankruptcy. It is the Bamboo Gardens, a basement chop suey cafe in the Broadway bright light district.
This Chinese venture might not have gone on the rocks if its celestial backers hadn't aped American methods. The restaurant accommodates 1000 diners, and $88,000 was spent on decorating it when it opened recently.
The first move made by the received was to greatly reduce the number of employes, although many of the Chinese waiters were investors in the venture.
For several years a blind youth has fared very well along Times Square by beating a staccato tattoo on the sidewalk with his cane.
His is not a casual tapping of the cane like that of a blind man feeling his way. There is something as insistent about it as the morning alarm. Pedestrians do not just get out of his way. Most of them stop to put coins in his hat.
I saw this fellow selling newspapers the other night. So many other blind pencil-peddlers have copied his novel method of cane tapping that he gave up the field to them.
Street fakery are increasing in number daily. They are fellows who have roamed the country during the summer months, but with the coming of winter they head into New York to pick up a few easy dimes on the sidewalks. With one eye for the cops and one eye for business they generally can sell enough gimcracks to buy bed and meals. If a cop heaves into view they pick up their paraphernalia and disappear as though the earth had swallowed them.

Americanization of Mexico Under Way
Hamburg.—Mexico is becoming rapidly "Americanized," in the opinion of Dr. Karl Sapper, geographer of the University of Wuerzburg, who has recently returned from a tour of Central America, Columbia and Venezuela. The tour was undertaken at the request of the Geographical Society of Hamburg.
Prof. Sapper had not been in Mexico since 1902. The outstanding impression gained was that of the infiltration of United States ideas and methods into Mexico. While the German, Spanish and English contingents in Mexico seemed to him to be about the same as in 1902, and the increase in the French colony was only slight, the North Americans are playing a much greater role than formerly.
Despite the hatred of Yankee which Dr. Sapper says he found among a part of the native population, "the process of Americanization is in full swing," he declared.
Another change which struck the German scientist was the spread of bolshevist ideas throughout Mexico.
An odd point of English law which is of interest and importance to every woman who goes shopping is that an article displayed and priced in a shop window may be bought, however much the shopkeeper may object to upsetting his window display by its withdrawal. But the purchaser must tender the exact amount for it; she cannot ask for change, she may not even ask that it be wrapped up, and she must be very certain beforehand that it is priced.

BRINGING UP FATHER

AMUSEMENTS

AT THE DELFT.
The general public can see a spot a former life-time when he appears on the stage. There seems to be a smooth and finish to their work that not always come with a work alone.
But there is one actor that the public fooled. Sam Grasse, who plays the "Robin Hood" in J. K. McDonald's latest National release, "A Self-Failure," now showing at Delft theatre, got his training as a villain by presiding over dentist's chair.
Eleven years ago he was California's as a tourist came interested in motion pictures because a relative by name was starring in a series of films.
De Grasse's rise has been most spectacular and he is in a great demand for "the roles. The player's interpretation of the role of "Prince John" in "Robin Hood" has been rated as one of the most realistic pieces of acting the stage has ever known.
His work in "Courage," duced three years ago for National release, gave him a prominence among screen actors placing him upon a sound footing as a finished actor of different roles.
The cast of "A Self-Made Man" includes: Ben Alexander, Lloyd Hamilton, Matt Patsy, Ruth Miller, Mary Sam DeGrasse, "Chuck" Rice, Victor Potel, Dan Mason, Todd, Alta Allen, Priscilla, Joe McCray and "Car" the bull terrier of "Penrod Sam" fame.

THE STADIUM LEASE.

The city council and the board of education have reached an agreement which will lead to the development of the property, opposite the tourist park, for athletic purposes. The schools will have exclusive use of the property during the spring, summer and autumn months; the city will use it during the winter months for the promotion of winter sports.

It is an arrangement which should prove satisfactory. There is in the fund raised by students, a sum of nearly $4,000. This will be available, to begin improvements as soon as the lease is actually signed.

That should mean an immediate start of fencing, turfing and other improvement activities. Whether the field can be made ready for use next fall remains to be determined, but the public is assured that an earnest effort to accomplish that, will be made.

IT'S UP TO US.
The Escanaba post office force is preparing for its annual Christmas rush. Its objective will be "the best holiday service in the city's history." But all of the preparations of the postal force will mean nothing unless the public cooperates. Don't wait until Dec. 24 to mail your Christmas gifts.

THE MOTHER GOOSE LADY.

Heartiest congratulations and thanks are due to the Parent-Teachers associations for bringing Mrs. Helen B. Paulson, "the Mother Goose Lady" to Escanaba for a series of lectures. However, mere congratulations and thanks are not sufficient. Citizens in general and parents in particular owe to the children and themselves the privilege of learning from the noted specialist, the lessons she is bringing. Few persons in America understand children as well as Mrs. Paulson; none is more proficient in imparting her knowledge to others. Her stay in this city should be an event of major importance in the lives of Escanaba's children. That's exactly what it will be if parents take the interest in her lectures that the lectures deserve.

OVERCOMING A HANDICAP.

A girl, it is reported from London, who has been blind from birth has just completed the remarkable feat of taking down in Braille shorthand a book of 40,000 words and correctly transcribing it. The work was done in her spare time after her day's work in the National Institute for the Blind.

This record puts to shame that of thousands of normal persons who start from scratch and yet accomplish little or nothing because they bewail the fancied slight of fortune in not giving them wealth, position or whatnot. It should also be an inspiration to other handicapped persons.

EYE TESTS FOR MOTORISTS.

Faulty eyesight of motorists, the Eyesight Conservation Council of America believes, is one of the leading causes of automobile accidents and should have more attention from state authorities than it generally is receiving. Only four states—Delaware, Minnesota, Oregon and Pennsylvania—make statutory reference to operators' vision, the report indicates, in spite of the fact that mishaps are increasing at an alarming rate. There are but five states—Maryland, New Hampshire, New Jersey, Ohio and Rhode Island—that test the eyesight of applicants in the granting of licenses.
It has remained for Roanoke, Va., to specify a certain percentage of vision necessary to obtain a permit, one half normal vision being the requirement. If the applicant is below this, the applicant is asked to consult an oculist, and if his vision cannot be brought to the set standard the permit is refused. Of 4,496 applicants, 124 needed glasses and the vision of two could not be brought to standard.
The example of Roanoke might be followed to the advantage of every state.

"HER RIGHT TO LIVE"

BY JANE PHELPS.

TOM TRIES TO SIDESTEP THE QUESTION.
Chapter III.
As the days passed and Tom said nothing more about money, Tris became impatient, then angry. Tom should understand that she couldn't ask for every cent she needed—should appreciate that she had given up her financial independence for him, make it easier for her by apportioning what he earned so she would not have to beg for money. The $10 was gone. One copper cent looked in vain for company in Tris's purse.
"Dinner ready?" Tom's voice boomed as he kissed her.
"We'll have to go out for dinner," Tris spoke evenly, coldly.
"Go out! I'm hot and tired. What's the idea?"
"I had no money to buy any food." "Why didn't you tell me this morning?" Tom questioned impatiently.
"Because, Tom, I never shall ask you for money. I earn my share by keeping house for you and I want to be paid regularly, just as if I were working in an office."
"Whoever heard of paying a wife for keeping house? I told you to ask when you needed money. My mother always did—"
"I'm not your mother, Tom," Tris replied, "and she never knew what it meant to have her own pay envelope, her independence. I have. It degrades me to ask for money; I can't. I won't do it. Tell me how much you will give me each week, then give it to me, and I'll try to live on it. But don't expect me to ask you for money because I never shall."
Tris's voice trembled now. She felt hurt that Tom should put her in such a position, such a necessary for her to ask for what should have been proffered.

"Tell me, set on your hat, I'll fix you up when we get home," Tom's friend disappeared when they reached the street. "I know a jolly little restaurant, we'll have dinner there."
"Anywhere you like," Tris felt at once very tired, discouraged. Tom was so irresponsible, took life so easily. She knew he would pay enough for their dinner to keep them two or three days, and not begrudge it either.
Suddenly this problem, the division of the money Tom earned, seemed the one important thing in Tris's life. She felt it threatened their happiness, their love, even. She would insist that it be settled before she slept.
The restaurant was attractive, the dinner good. Tris had suggested they take the table d'hotel but Tom had insisted upon ordering special dishes, cooked as he liked them. Their check was a large one and Tom gave the waiter a generous tip, gave it with an air of carelessness that made Tris flush resentfully. He could tip a waiter—they didn't have to ask him, but his wife—she—
"Mighty good dinner, Tris! Shall we take in a movie?" Tom asked.
"No, I want to go home," Tris was determined to talk this matter of an allowance over with Tom.
"Just as you say! Thought perhaps you'd like to go. Come on in here a minute, I want some smokes."
Tris's wailed while Tom bought a dollar's worth of cigars. She never had thought of begrudging him his smokes; but tonight she remembered what he spent so casually while she had only a penny to her name.

It is planned to provide warming rooms of adequate size and install other conveniences necessary to a first class rink.

POLICE CHIEF GETS REWARD

Jewelers' Security Alliance Pays $100 for Convictions of Two Men.

Chief of Police John J. Tolan has received from the Jewelers' Security Alliance, a check for $100—the reward offered for the arrest and conviction of the persons who robbed the Blomstrom & Petersen Jewelry store here late in Nov. 1923, by breaking a show window.

John Vitowski and Peter Ritel, two woodmen, were convicted of the robbery at the October term of court and sentenced to lengthy prison terms. It was ten months before a clue to the identity of the robbers was found by the department. Finding some of the stolen property, the officers, who never had ceased work on the case, immediately arrested Vitowski and Ritel and charged them with the crime.

Check On Display. The payment made yesterday, through the Blomstrom & Petersen Company, was accompanied by a letter congratulating the police department upon its effective work in bringing the crooks to justice. The check, payable to Chief Tolan, is on display in the window which was broke by the burglars.

Mrs. E. West Is Called By Death

The sad announcement of the death of Mrs. Elizabeth West, mother of Supreme Commander of the Women's Benefit Association, Miss Bina M. West was received by members of Delta Review W. B. A. of this city. Mrs. West passed away at her home "West Haven" at Port Huron, Sunday Nov. 9th, after a brief illness due to an infection of the heart. Out of loving respect for the beloved mother of the chief executive of the organization, the local review of the order will drape their charter in black in memoriam of one who was loved by all. Mrs. West was active until a few days before her death. Her daughter who was the founder of the Women's Benefit Association which is the largest fraternal organization for women has the sympathy of many friends in her loss. The mother saw the order grow from a small band of women fraternally joined to protect their home and families with insurance to its great membership, and she was always a source of inspiration to her daughter who founded the order.

Iron Trade Review

Cleveland, Ohio, Nov. 20th
Iron Trade Review today says:
Price advances in numerous lines of iron and steel have been the market's outstanding development of the week. These advances have served to register the strong confidence in the further expansion of buying now entertained by producers and in a measure, the backlog of orders that has been accumulating in recent weeks. So far as finished steel is concerned, considerable tonnage was driven in by the mills prior to the raising of prices but, apparently, it is the strength of expectations of future business, rather than orders immediately in hand, that has been the predominating influence. The possible exception to this condition, is furnished by Chicago where the mill capacity now is well booked in heavy materials, for several months ahead.

Steelworks operations show a betterment this week after a more or less static condition for the past month. Chicago is 5 per cent higher.
In rolled steel, advances by leading makers have represented $2 per ton in steel bars, structural shapes, plates, hot rolled strip, spikes and track bolts and $3 in cold rolled strip and plates. More independent sheet mills have followed the lead of one of their number a week ago in bringing up their schedules to $2 to $3 per ton.
The sharpest rise since March 1923 appears this week in Iron Trade Review composite of fourteen leading iron and steel products. The index has gone to $39.21 as against $38.79 one week and $38.56 two weeks ago.
In pig iron something of a reverse of the steel situation has taken place for further advances of prices which have been numerous, have followed the closing by producers of a heavy tonnage at correspondingly higher levels. More than 1,000,000 tons of iron it is well established, have been sold in the present buying movement extending over three weeks. Total sales by merchant producers now are sufficient to take up present production to April 1.
Addition of 25,000 tons of bridge work for the Santa Fe for 1925 delivery and of 3500 tons for the Pennsylvania have swollen the total of pending structural steel projects. Easily over 100,000 tons of new work is active largely for spring delivery.
Railroad car orders the first two weeks in November have exceeded 10,000 or more than double the total for all October. Orders the past week were more than 6,000.
Shipbuilding exhibits more activity. The Isthamian line, subsidiary of the Steel Corporation, is negotiating for five large tankships and the Matson line for a passenger boat. One lake ore freighter has been placed, with two others, one of which is for the Steel Corporation, being figured.

Twin Girls Are Born Wednesday
Mr. and Mrs. James Van Effen, 117 North 19th street, are rejoicing over the arrival of twin girls who were born Wednesday evening at St. Francis hospital. The little girls are doing nicely, one weighed nine and one-half pounds and the other eight and one-half pounds. Records at the local hospital show they are the largest pair of twins ever born at St. Francis.

When the mother was asked what the babes would be called she answered, "Well, really I have no name picked out yet, as I never expected a girl; the first three children are boys, and when two of them came I forgot all the names I had planned to give the new baby."

Mrs. Van Effen was formerly Miss Mayme McMonagle. Reports around town are that James "Daddy" Van Effen is walking on air these days.

CAPITOL CITY HAS LANDLORD, TENANT FIGHT

Housing Shortage Has Struck Washington Since War.

BY CHARLES P. STEWART
NEA Service Writer
Washington.—Washington is having a frightful time with its housing shortage.
The city has grown tremendously since the war began. There was almost no building while the conflict raged. Since then so many apartment houses of the very expensive type have been put up that the increase in population has been overtaken. Of living accommodations at moderate rentals, however, the scarcity is terrible.
The landlords have taken advantage of the situation. They have an airtight organization which treats the tenants of high-priced habitations with consideration, since there are not enough of them to go around, but practices the most unheard of extortions upon occupants of the cheaper ones.
On an average a $30 pre-war apartment now costs $100 and the tendency still is upward.

Government Employees Hit.
The condition is particularly hard on the large number of families of government employees who, with standards which make dwelling in slums and hovels almost impossible, have, for the times, extremely small incomes.
Congress, during the war, met this difficulty by creating a rent commission for the capital, to hold the landlords in check. The landlords continued to try to raise the rents but if the tenants refused to stand the increases, the landlords had to get the commission's authority to evict them. This wasn't always granted.

At that, there were 15,799 eviction actions during the year ended May 31, 1921; 17,935 for 1922; 19,932 during 1923, and 21,828 during the year ended May 31, 1924.
Commission Abolished.
And now the federal court has abolished the rent commission, declaring it was an emergency organization and that the emergency is past.
The immediate sequel was a perfect epidemic of evictions.
Figures are not obtainable yet but they promise to exceed, in a fortnight, those for any of the four last years.
In some instances tenants of buildings in which general rent increases have been decreed have held protest meetings in halls and lobbies and in retaliation notices have been generally posted by the

HELPED HER IN EVERY WAY

So Writes Mrs. Trombley of Sharon, Vt., Concerning Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Sharon, Vermont.—"I was weak and run-down, had a tired feeling and bearing-down pains. I saw an advertisement in the newspaper about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and began taking it. It has stopped these bearing-down pains and other bad feelings, and has helped me in every way. I have so much faith in the Vegetable Compound that I keep it on hand all of the time and recommend it whenever I have the opportunity."—Mrs. LEWIS TROMBLEY, Sharon, Vermont.

Glad to Help Others
"I had pains in my back and sides for many months, and my work would have to be left undone at those times. My sister told me what good Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was doing her, so I tried it, and from the third bottle I was well and every one thought I looked better. I am glad to help others regain their health, and you may use my testimonial."—MABEL HARTMANN, 1824 Greene Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y. You must believe that a medicine that has helped other women will help you.

THE BUREAU OF MINES, (Washington, D. C.) places the domestic consumption of gasoline for August, 1924, at 819,467,892 gallons, an increase over July consumption of 22,001,302 gallons and the highest monthly consumption of gasoline ever reached in the United States.

New High Gasoline Consumption Record

Notwithstanding this unusual demand, the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has been able to keep the motorists of the Middle West constantly supplied with gasoline. This is the direct result of strict economy in production and the uninterrupted operation of a modern system of distribution.

The new high gasoline consumption record of August tells of hundreds of small business organizations made efficient by means of the automobile and an abundance of standard quality gasoline. It tells of thousands of families who have enjoyed healthful outings at minimum cost. It tells of hundreds of thousands of city children benefited by country air, because motor transportation carried them into open spaces at a trifling charge.

Giving people what they want, at a price they easily can afford to pay, is in itself a valuable service. This service is rendered to society by the Standard Oil Company (Indiana).

Few of the hundreds of thousands of people who profit daily by the abundance and the wide distribution of gasoline, consider the intricate industrial problems solved before this service could be rendered. They are apt to think of gasoline as yielded freely by nature; a generous, unceasing gift to man.

On the contrary, no matter how freely crude oil is produced by nature, without the aid of science it does not yield the tremendous quantities of gasoline needed to supply the demand.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) by originating processes which vastly increase the percentage of gasoline recovered from crude oil, serves mankind by helping to keep the supply equal to the demand. By devising a comprehensive distribution system and maintaining it in the face of every obstacle, this Company is able to make gasoline available to millions who could not afford to have the fuel shipped to them individually. Gasoline is as accessible to the farmers of the Middle West as it is to the city dweller.

LUMBER TRADE

The lumber market is daily gathering additional strength. Demand is brisk, production and supplies have become reduced, and prices are advancing, says the American Lumberman, Chicago. Southern pine is leading in activity. Orders for this wood have greatly exceeded the cut since last September, and unsold stock has decreased to such an extent that distributors often find difficulty in securing needed stock. If this situation continues shipments may be expected to slow up considerably. A feature has been the increase in country business in the middle West since the national election. Trade in the northern industrial centers also has quickened, while that in the East and South, which has been good throughout the last few months, remains steady. The number of transit cars has been much reduced and some speculative buying is again being done. Prospects are for a continued good trade until bad weather checks outdoor work, when there probably will be a lull in buying until after the first of the year.

The mills meanwhile are in many cases booked ahead thirty to sixty days, and none of them show eagerness for new business. The situation is considerably strengthened by the fact that great numbers of small mills throughout the South, whose usual production is a large proportion of the total, are shut down due to drought. The entire southern pine list is higher than a fortnight ago, the advances on inch common, dimension and E&B flooring being the most noticeable.

Douglas fir also is strong and advancing in price. Domestic demand for fir has not developed to the same proportions as that for southern pine, but export trade has been very good lately, and the two factors combined have been sufficient to absorb offerings. Production is severely limited, for while the larger mills are maintaining normal or above-normal outputs, most of the smaller operations have been forced to close down by snow and excessive rains, which have also curtailed logging and are sure to affect sawmill operations if long continued. The mills in any event plan an early shutdown for the holidays, for a period determined by market conditions at that time.

Domestic demand for hardwoods is relatively slow, due in large measure to the continued absence of automotive interests from the market. Buying by other large consumers, however, has been moderately heavy, while export trade with Europe is about normal, though some popular items such as red gum and oak are scarce. Northern species are in fair supply in upper grades, but very scarce in lower. The price level is unchanged, but there is a distinct upward tendency on those items in lowest supply.
