33 Are Believed Dead In Mine Explosion At Fairmont, W. Va.

WORKERS ARE ABLAZE; LITTLE HOPE TO SAVE

IGNITED GAS FIXED AS CAUSE; WAS BOMBED, FIRST BELIEVED.

(By The Associated Press.)

Fairmont, W. Va., Mar. 17.—Thirty-three men were believed to have been killed to-night in an explosion which wrecked mine 41 of the Bethlehem Mines Corporation, three miles west of here.

The explosion occurred between 9:30 and 10 o'clock and at first it was believed all, or part of the men were alive. At midnight, however, Mine Superintendent Benton Mitchell said he believed all the men were dead and that the entire mine was on fire.

It was believed the explosion, one of the most terrific in the Fairmont mining region, was caused by ignited gas. First reports indicated that a dynamite bomb had dropped into the shaft.

(On B. & O. Read.)

The mine is located on the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad. The vein of coal at this point is 300 feet deep and is reached by two shafts, one for operating and the other an air course. It was at the bottom of the operating shaft that the explosion occurred.

The village and the mine line in the valley of Buffalo Creek, a small stream, and the headings and workings are far below the stream.

The mine has been operating for about ten years, hence its workings have extended considerable distances and in many directions. Some of the entombed miners are believed to be working nearly a mile from the scene of the explosion and because of this fact, many of them were believed to be alive.

Before modern methods of combatting mine gas were installed in the various plants of the Fairmont region, number seven was considered a dangerous mine. After the explosion there in 1916, modern precautions were taken to eliminate the dangers from gas and no further trouble from this source was experienced. The mine was well ventilated tonight that, so far as was indicated on the surface, no gas was ignited by the explosion.

LIGHT PLANT WORKING.

By midnight, the electric light plant of the mine, which was wrecked by the blast, was in operation again, one of the two main fans was in operation and a bucket was being rigged to send rescue men to the bottom.

The blast wrecked the structure above the mine, debris falling into the shaft. Rescue workers said it would be necessary to clear away this fall of timber and steel before they could penetrate to the bottom and learn definitely whether any men were dead.

Belief that the fire had spread to every part of the mine, caused the workers to virtually abandon hope of finding the miners alive. It was pointed out, however, that some of them probably were working a mile or more from the shaft and if the fire had not spread to all quarters these men might have been spared.

R. M. Lambie, chief mine inspector of West Virginia, scouted the belief that a dynamite bomb caused the explosion. The mine was operated on a non-union basis but no serious labor troubles have developed in this region recently.

RESCUE CAR SENT.

Pittsburgh, Mar. 17.—Officers of the United States Bureau of Mines announced tonight that they would start a mine rescue car to Fairmont, W. Va., within a short time. Reports to the bureau said forty men were entombed. The car will reach Fairmont around 3 or 4 o'clock in the morning, officers said.

Fairmont, W. Va., Mar. 17.—Forty or forty-five men were reported entombed in shaft mine No. 7 of the Bethlehem Mine Corporation following an explosion in the shaft about 9:30 o'clock tonight.

The force of the explosion was so terrific that it shook buildings in Fairmont, about three miles distant, and a flash of light illuminated the sky for miles around.

Fails To Press Charges Against Highway Dept.

(By The Associated Press.)

Lansing, Mich., Mar. 17.—Eugene Brown, of St. Ignace, who recently charged Highway Commissioner Frank Rogers and other officials with throwing highway contracts, failed to appear before the administrative board today. He had been invited to attend and substantiate his charges. He addressed a letter to the board saying it would cost too much to collect his witnesses and bring them to Lansing.

The board decided to have the attorney general take his testimony at St. Ignace. According to state officials, Brown is disgruntled because he was not allowed his full demands for payment on road work.

MELLON TALKS ON TAX POLICY

Declares Question Must Be Solved Outside of Politics.

(By The Associated Press.)

Richmond, Va., Mar. 17.—Secretary Mellon and Under Secretary Winston of the treasury, speaking here tonight, appealed to the country to eliminate partisan politics in consideration of tax questions.

With the subject of taxes fresh in the minds of the people from the payment of the first installment of the year's levy, the two treasury officials declared the nation must come to an understanding on the various phases of federal taxation, and that there must be "intelligent use" of the taxing power to avoid disastrous consequences in the economic life of the future.

First Southern Speech.

It was Mr. Mellon's first speech in the south and he used the occasion, a dinner of the Bankers' Club of Richmond, to point out how often the present policies of the treasury had been in accord with those of Secretaries Houston and Glass, the latter now a United States senator from this state. He declared this showed the non-partisan character of the work and Mr. Winston supplemented his remarks in this connection by quoting frequently from previous government officials, Republicans and Democrats, to illustrate the opinion that the subject should be approached from an economic viewpoint.

Sound Taxation.

Mr. Mellon said he believed the American people were rapidly coming to a full appreciation of the importance of the subject of taxation as considered aside from party politics.

Schurman Taken From Post At Peking; Made Ambassador To Berlin

(By The Associated Press.)

Washington, Mar. 17.—Nomination today by President Coolidge of Dr. Jacob Gould Schurman, now American minister at Peking, to succeed Alanson B. Houghton as ambassador to Germany and its prompt confirmation by the senate, completed the realignment of major diplomatic assignments in Europe. It appeared improbable tonight, however, that Ambassador Schurman's successor in Peking would be nominated in time for consideration at the present session of the senate.

The transfer of Dr. Schurman to Berlin is regarded by state department officials as a logical step, despite that it withdraws him from the Peking legation at a time when political and economic conditions in China and the Far East generally have given that post outstanding importance. The promotion is in line with the administration's recent policy of advancing its representatives abroad, and is an official recognition of the important services Dr. Schurman has rendered in China under trying conditions.

JAY TO ARGENTINE?

It is assumed that the same policy of promotion will be followed in filling the ambassadorship to Argentina, recently made vacant by the resignation of John W. Riddle, and indications point to the appointment of Peter Augustus Jay, who has been in the diplomatic service since 1902 and now is minister to Roumania. In their canvass of available men Mr. Jay's qualifications are understood to have forcibly impressed themselves upon administration officials and his

STATE ASYLUM AT NEWBERRY CATCHES FIRE

Cottage Burned and Main Building Ablaze; Reports Meager.

(By The Associated Press.)

Marquette, Mich., Mar. 18.—A fire which broke out about midnight has destroyed one of the cottages at the Newberry State Asylum, according to a telephone message received here at 1 a. m., and it was reported that the main building was burning.

Inmates Saved.

Because of poor telephone connections it is impossible to get more than meager details. Officials of the asylum believe, it was stated, that none of the inmates were caught in the fire and that all of them probably can be moved to places of safety.

The latest report was to the effect that the fire probably would be brought under control before it has consumed much of the institution, although it is a serious blaze.

Volunteers Out.

Every able-bodied man in Newberry is assisting the fire department in fighting the flames, it was said. The cause of the fire is not known.

At 1:30 it was reported that the flames had been practically checked after the cottage in which they had started was destroyed. Fifty-three inmates were confined in this building, but all were saved and none was injured.

The institution is made up of 18 cottages, all connected this report. Signed: Clifford Pinchot.

Shepherd Indicted For Murder Of McClintock By Grand Jury, Report

(By The Associated Press.)

Chicago, Mar. 17.—Early bills charging murder were reported to have been voted late today in the grand jury investigation of rich young William Nelson McClintock's death last December.

The twenty-three grand jurors came from the grand jury chambers late this afternoon stern faced and silent and word quickly spread that true bills had been voted.

Faiman Admits Part.

Previously, Robert E. Crowe, attorney for the defense, had announced that the jury would be kept in session until William D. Shepherd, McClintock's foster father and chief heir of his estate of approximately $1,000,000, and Dr. C. C. Faiman, former delivery wagon driver, but more recently head of a school of bacteriology, had been charged with responsibility for the McClintock death.

Dr. George Fosberg, who had reported Shepherd discussed germs and poisons with him, and J. W. Marchand, former agent for Faiman's National University of Sciences, who told of a letter Shepherd had written regarding a course in bacteriology, were yesterday's witnesses.

Pending before Jacob H. Hopkins, chief justice of the criminal courts, is a petition for a writ of habeas corpus returnable at 2 p. m. tomorrow at which time Crowe agreed to release Shepherd unless a murder indictment meanwhile had been returned.

cutor Crowe said late today in predicting the grand jury action.

Judge Olson Testifies.

The dapper little claimant of three degrees from universities which denied his pretensions, was before the grand jury one hour and forty-five minutes, more than thrice as long as any of four other witnesses questioned.

He was followed quickly by Harry Olson, municipal chief justice, who started the McClintock investigation shortly after the youth died.

U. S. RESTS IN TEAPOT TRIAL AT CHEYENNE

(By The Associated Press.)

Cheyenne, Wyo., Mar. 17.—With its battle for annulment of the Teapot Dome naval oil reserve lease completed, the government late today rested its case with the contention that it had proved the existence of a conspiracy between Albert B. Fall, former secretary of the interior, and Harry F. Sinclair, lessor of the big oil field.

ST. PAUL ROAD TO REORGANIZE

Officials Believe Reorganization Is Only Solution.

(By The Associated Press.)

New York, Mar. 17.—A readjustment of the financial structure of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul Railroad, probably through a receivership, was decided upon to-night by the board of directors.

Voluntary receivership proceedings are expected to be inaugurated at Chicago tomorrow by H. E. Byrne, president, who was reported already enroute from here to that city for this purpose.

To Protect Stockholders.

Coincident with the directors' announcement of plans for reorganization, it was disclosed that prospective committees had been formed to safeguard the stock and bond holders holding $673,000,000 of securities.

The present situation in which the St. Paul, one of the greatest transportation systems in the northwest, finds itself in the result of its inability to refund $18,000,000 in bonds maturing next June.

The decision to reorganize and the appointment of protective committees, combine to form the climax to recent heroic efforts to meet this huge obligation and to restore the road's financial health.

Kennedy Overrules.

Mr. Byrne's objection was overruled when he made the statement, in reply to a question by Federal Judge T. Blake Kennedy, that the defense would be willing to stand on the record made on the government's side of the case and take chances of the government's evidence failing to convince the court of any connection between the liberty bonds and Sinclair. Judge Kennedy overruled the motion to strike out after Mr. Lacy had made that statement.

Its result will be, according to defense attorney that no witness will be called by the Mannion Oil Company to disprove the testimony by government witnesses of the movement of liberty bonds between the Continental Trading Company and Fall. Under this plan only witnesses to disprove the government's charge that the $25,000 loaned by Sinclair to Fall late in 1923, seventeen months after the execution of the Teapot lease was given the former interior secretary for "favors" previously accorded the millionaire oil magnate.

Dope Peddlers Leaving Detroit

(By The Associated Press.)

Detroit, Mar. 17.—Many peddlers of narcotics have left Detroit due to the intensive drive conducted by narcotic agents during the last six months and the heavy penalties imposed by Judge J. W. Ross, visiting here from Jackson, Tenn., according to United States District Attorney Delos G. Smith.

He was the author of a number of pamphlets and also collected some of the material from his church pages into a book.

Mr. Booth is survived by his wife, Mrs. Clara G. Booth, with whom he celebrated a sixtieth wedding anniversary in 1918 and by five sons and four daughters.

Booth Own Many Papers.

The children are George G. Booth, publisher of the Detroit News; Ralph P. Charles H. Roland D. Mrs. C. M. Miller, Mrs. William H. Pratt and Mrs. A. C. ROCK PILE MAY BE ADVOCATED

Establishment of a rock-pile or work-house or some other institution where hard labor will take the place of the days of ease which now make up jail sentences in Delta county, will be seriously considered at early meetings of the Delta county supervisors and the Escanaba city council, it was learned yesterday.

There is a state law which prohibits the use of persons doing time for misdemeanors on public works, such as sewers, pavements and other similar jobs. There is no law, however, which prevents a city from organizing "chain gangs" of violators of its ordinances. If the rockpile or work-house idea fails to meet the approval of a majority of the members of the county board, it is likely that the city will make provisions for using its prisoners on the streets.

The county jail, at present, contains a number of men who have done numerous "jolts" there for vagrancy, drunksomeness and other minor offenses. Their board bills are being paid by the taxpayers, and in the course of a year, these bills run up into thousands of dollars.

It is believed by those who have studied the situation carefully, that thirty 12-hour days spent breaking rocks or at other hard labor, would be considerably less inviting to "vags" and "jams" than the thirty-day terms spent under the present system.

City Would Benefit,

It would be easy, it is pointed out, for the city to have the sentence served in the city jail, if such a plan was deemed advisable. Compared with the present cost of boarding prisoners, the expense of a few balls and chains would not be large.

And it is believed that the city would benefit, in many ways, by the new system.

Former Resident of Changes in 25 Years

Thomas A. Martin, of Omaha, Neb., who about 27 years ago was engaged in business in Escanaba, was a business visitor here for a few hours yesterday afternoon. Mr. Martin at present is in the live-stock commission business in Omaha.

"I've never seen a town change as much as Escanaba has," he told old friends. "And the change has been for the better too. I haven't seen the place for 25 years, and I wouldn't have known it—at least the portion between the Northwestern depot and the Delta Hotel."

His stay here was brief but busy, he said.

SOCIALSt. Anne's Musicals.

The musicals presented at St. Anne's hall Sunday afternoon and Monday evening by pupils of the music class of the Franciscan Sisters was attended by a very large number of parents and friends of the pupils as well as friends of the teachers. Every number rendered was worthy of praise and the little ones received many rounds of applause.

Surprise Party.

Mrs. Thomas Shandonay, 1523 Sheridan Road was made the unexpected hostess at a cleverly planned surprise party given her Saturday evening when 22 friends came to the home unannounced and made themselves at home.

Five hundred was played, four tables being occupied, with prizes awarded in the following guests. Mrs. John Kidd, Ed. DeMers, first; Mrs. F. Winchester and A. Weber, second. A dainty lunch was presented with a handsome gift as a momento of the occasion.

Order of Ranchers Dance.

The Order of Ranchers will give another dance at Unity Hall, Saturday, March 21. The same orchestra that furnished music for the masquerade on March 7 will play. A good time is assured.

MERE PRESUMPTION.

While it is far too early to speculate on political developments of the next two years, the great mass of voters in the Eleventh congressional district will find it hard to conceive of any combination of circumstances that will permit Chippewa county to name the next candidate for congressman from this district.

Chippewa county, in its political relations with other counties in the peninsula and of the Eleventh district, is generally recognized as the "black sheep" of the district, having pursued a consistently contrary course in according support to favorite sons of other peninsula counties who sought political preferment.

With such a record it is hard to conceive of the development of any conditions that would permit Chippewa to offer an unchallenged candidate for any district office.

Chippewa county's candidate now being urged for congressional honors, may be all that is claimed for him by his home county, but the verdict of other peninsula counties in the Eleventh district will likely be that he has been associated with some mighty poor political company.

A NEEDED BILL.

Senator William Pearson, recognized as one of the soundest "old heads" in the upper house of the Michigan legislature, has gathered a measure designed to meet Michigan's cut over land problem, and at the same time allow this state to take a long step forward in reforestation.

Senator Pearson comes from a northern county of the lower peninsula, where the necessity is recognized as fully as in the upper peninsula, for some steps being taken to prevent great stretches of land reverting to the state for non-payment of taxes.

The principle involved in Senator Pearson's bill is vital to the future prosperity of Michigan and residents of sections of the state where great stretches of cut-over lands are now to be found, will hope that it may become a law of Michigan.

We have millions of acres of land that is of small agricultural value or none at all, which might be reforested if the growing of timber could be made commercially profitable.

At present, such land is taxed at its true valuation. If young trees now growing could be saved from forest fires, its value would increase year by year, and therefore the taxes on it are actually happening all around us every day.

the owner would not get an annual return." For commercial timber is not an annual crop; it can only be reaped once in a long period of years. Taxation should fall on it not in annual periods during its growth, but at the time of harvest, when the owner has the proceeds out of which to pay the tax.

The Pearson bill as drafted by the state conservation department seems to protect the state as well as the owner. It provides for a small annual tax on the value of the bare land, such a tax as must be paid by any holder of such lands, whether he goes in for reforestation or not. It also allows a period during which trees may come into merchantable maturity, in which the timber would not be taxed, save insofar as it was cut and sold. Such a measure if passed ought to encourage private owners to attempt reforestation, and once more cover Michigan with a growth that eventually would add greatly to the wealth and prosperity of the state and to the revenue of the treasury.

WALTER CAMP.

In the passing of Walter Camp, the sport world lost the services of the man who did more than any other individual to elevate football to its present popularity.

As a critic of the game he, of course, was often the target of objection and protest. All good critics in any field have that experience. But even those who found fault most vociferously with his critical opinions—particularly his All-American teams selected for Colliers' Weekly—admired and respected his keen, well-founded judgment on matters which affected the welfare and development of the game.

Football is, without doubt, the nation's most spectacular and most popular amateur sport.

While sales of baseball equipment were falling off fifty percent, the sale of football goods increased materially. Football has not yet felt the depressing influence of professionalism.

The football rules committee will miss Camp. The vast army of Americans who read his newspaper and magazine articles will miss him.

But his influence will continue to permeate the great game of which he was known as "the father" and the nation will remember him as the man who introduced the eastern colleges and universities to share the autumn pastime with all the people.

I DON'T BELIEVE THAT!

If the author of a detective tale had utilized the prosecution's theory in the McClinton case as the motif of a murder yarn, it is probable many magazine editors would have hesitated to print the story. It would have been too fantastic to be convincing.

We are not presuming to offer an opinion on the innocence or guilt of William D. Shepherd. We are, however, citing the case as another situation in which truth may be stranger than fiction.

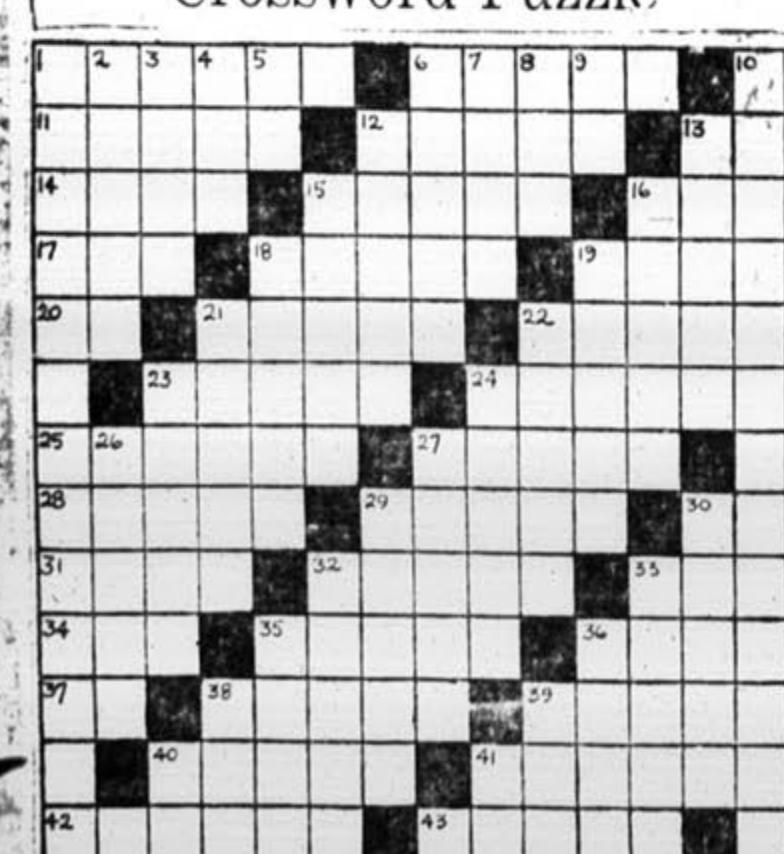

Newspapermen know how true that oft-time is. Newspaper readers, however, are often skeptical. "I don't believe that." "Just newspaper talk," and similar remarks are often heard from those who read items in their daily papers which they are reluctant to accept as plausible.

As a matter of fact, it is impossible for even the most nimble imagination to concoct "fake stuff" so fantastically and convincingly as many of the stories which are now to be found, will hope that it may become a law of Michigan.

We have millions of acres of land that is of small agricultural value or none at all, which might be reforested if the growing of timber could be made commercially profitable. At present, such land is taxed at its true valuation. If young trees now growing could be saved from forest fires, its value would increase year by year, and therefore the taxes on it are actually happening all around us every day.

FORGIVEN—BUT—

Chapter XLVI.
Can you forgive me,—Reed?" That was all Dorothy could ask, to be forgiven. She felt—because of his manner—it was all he could do.

"Forgive you? will you forgive me, Dorothy? I failed miserably to make you happy—couldn't keep you—"

"I will not let you blame yourself, Reed. I see now—see how selfish, how utterly selfish I was, how demanding. I was no help to you—ever—just a hindrance. I was running you, just as Lucile warned me I would, but I wouldn't listen. I thought only of myself. I am proud of you, Reed. With me gone you have done what you couldn't do had I stayed, what I wouldn't let you do. I tried to come back and ask you to forgive me—you will—Reed?"

Reed hardly heard Dorothy. Haltingly, sob interrupting, his thoughts were in such a—what she, what Reed had said, whirl. But the lancing in her face grew grave. "All right, but a week or a year she couldn't say it."

"Oh, Dorothy! Why didn't you will make no difference. I want

"You must eat something first." Lucile had been so sure Reed and Dorothy would come to an understanding, had made up her little dinner party hoping it would be a happy one.

"I couldn't eat. Don't ask me."

"Come and drink a cup of coffee. Keene wants to see you—just for a few moments. I haven't told him anything except that you are here. Come, a cup of hot coffee will do you good, and then he'll take you to your hotel."

Desiring Lucile's kindness, her desire to help her, Dorothy no longer refused, but followed Lucile to the dining room, and summoning her pride she met Keene Maynard quietly and tried to eat a little of the tempting dinner Lucile had provided.

"Dorothy isn't feeling very well, Keene, so I am going to send her back to the hotel. You'll take her." And in spite of Dorothy's objections, Keene insisted upon seeing her home safely.

"Goodnight, Keene." Dorothy said when they reached the hotel, "and thank you for coming with me."

"Glad to be your escort, Dorothy!" Keene replied, wondering what had occurred between her and Reed and coming very near the truth.

PLAY PLEASES LARGE CROWDS

Kathleen Mavourneen,
Seen By Two Capacity
Audiences.

Surpassing any previous affair in amateur theatrical performances the home talent play given Tuesday, March 17th, St. Patrick's Day, at the Delft Theatre was a grand success. From the time the curtain rose in the first act to the finale the audience was kept spell-bound. The Irish drama, "Kathleen Mavourneen," or "St. Patrick's Eve," was presented yesterday by an unusual cast of players. Rehearsals under the able direction of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Allo had been in progress for three weeks, and the result of the hard work, combined with the efforts of all who took part, was well rewarded in the rendition of the drama which will remain long in the memories of those who were fortunate enough to attend.

Excellent Portrayals.

Peter Genesee as the Squire, George Harvey as David O'Connor and Father Cassidy were excellent; Dr. Gordon Gleich as Terence O'More would easily be mistaken for a profession on the stage, so realistic was his work; H. J. VanVolker as Captain Clearfield, John A. Allo as Black Rock, Frank Hirn as Irby Doyle, George Hirn as Red Barney, Vaughn Belanger as Dennis, played their parts to perfection. John Finn played the part of Mr. McCubbin and his work as a jester was remarkable; Meg Maslough, the old fortune teller, was played by Miss Elizabeth O'Neill; Kitty O'Laverty by Miss Florence Shy, while Mrs. Thomas Byrne took the part of Miss Dorothy Kavanaugh. Each one did justice to the part assigned them. Miss Irene Roland took the part of Kathleen O'Connor, the title rôle, and many favorable comments were heard regarding her fine acting.

Two Packed Houses.

Soldiers were Henry Bremant, George Petty, Joseph Green and Nathan Frazee. The peasants were the Misses Ethel Gilmore, Amy Bolger, Edith Bolger, Elsie Keppe, Leone Firkus, Marvin Folio, Anthony Marley, Jr., Hugh Brotherton, Ted Genter.

The house was packed at both performances and financial results were reported as gratifying to the committee in charge.

Life of Abraham
Subject for Next
Lecture on Bible

The next lecture in the course of public lectures being given in the chapel of the First Presbyterian church will be given tonight at 7:30.

Incidents in the life of Abraham are being considered. The Bible states that God appeared to Abraham. The question naturally arises how was this done, for there is the assertion, "No man hath seen God at any time." Dreams and visions enter into this subject.

Their reality, and their interpretation and credibility will be discussed tonight. Other topics to be treated are: Why did Abraham leave Ur in the first place, his age on leaving Haran, which is in dispute, the child of the bond woman and the child of promise, the sacrifice of Isaac, his wealth and power, and the manner in which he became a worshipper of one God, when his ancestors had worshipped many gods. Interesting corroboration is given of the events in the life of Abraham by recent archaeological discoveries.

One of the most interesting subjects to be discussed tonight will be on how Sodom was destroyed.

If you can't chuckle at this stuff go chuckle at some poor millionaire worrying over his income tax.

SHOT GUNS FOR STRAY CANINES

Give Man Obeying Law Square Deal, Officials Order.

City officials, upon whom the burden of enforcing the health department's dog quarantine order has fallen, declared yesterday their patience was nearly exhausted and that the only thing they could think of to make the quarantine effective would be "shot gun warfare."

Several dog owners, complying with the order and muzzling their dogs, have complained that the muzzled animals had been bitten by unmuzzled dogs. Naturally and rightfully, the law-abiding citizen feels he is being discriminated against.

"The danger from rabies is not past," said Dr. H. J. Defnet yesterday. "The quarantine order stands. It ought to be and will be enforced, no matter what measures are necessary."

City Manager Fred R. Harris was equally emphatic. "I have instructed the police department to take whatever steps are necessary to see that the health department's order is obeyed," he said. "If a shot-gun campaign is the only means of enforcing it, they have ample authority to begin shooting."

ST. PATRICK'S DAY CELEBRATION HERE QUIET, ENJOYABLE

St. Patrick's day was celebrated here in an unusually quiet manner. There were special services yesterday morning in St. Patrick's church, and last night, many small social functions.

NOTICE.

New York, Mar. 17.—Renewal of selling pressure by bear traders and liquidation of weakly margined long accounts, coincident with another sharp break in wheat prices, unsettled today's stock market. Most of the standard industrial and railroad issues broke 1 to 4 points, with larger losses registered by some of the so-called specialties. Total sales crossed the two million mark for the first time since February 17, while the average of 20 leading railroads shared established a new low record for the year.

Many 'Excuses.'

Wall Street has found no lack of "excuses" for the recent selling. The break in wheat futures undoubtedly has compelled the liquidation of a large volume of stocks owned by speculators who trade in both markets. Several market observers see in the senate's defeat of the Warren nomination a rift in the relations congress which they consider is between the chief executive and likely to upset other administration plans, and have an adverse effect on business.

Rail Averages Low.

Although the railroad averages was at a new low, these stocks did not react as sharply as the industrials in today's market. In fact, it was the buying of the rail issues which temporarily checked the decline around mid-day.

Selling pressure in the industrial list was particularly aggressive against the so-called "Durant" stocks, United States Cast Iron Pipe, which attained a record top of 250 five weeks ago, broke 8 points to 200.

United States Steel common dropped 1% to 120, a new low on the movement and only 1% above the low for the year. Heavy selling of American Can just before the close sent that stock down nearly 7 points to 159%.

American Car and Foundry, Colorado Fuel, Commercial Solvents, issues; General Asphalt, McCrory Stores, Nash Motors, Stewart Warner Speedometer, Virginia Railway and Power, West Penn Power and Worthington Pump showed net declines of 4 to 5 points.

Call Money Drops.

Call money renewed at 4 percent and then dropped to 3% where it closed. The time money and commercial paper markets were dull with no change in rates.

Foreign exchange rates were irregular. Demand sterling ruled slightly lower around $4.77½ while French francs were moderately higher around 5.17 cents. Japanese yen were slightly ready, dropping about 5% of a cent to 41½ cents.

NURMI LOSES RACE; WASILL

Flying Finn Forced Out in K. C. Meet; Ritola Wins Match.

(By The Associated Press)
New York, Mar. 17.—Willie Paavo Nurmi's most consistent challenger for distance records defeated his ancient rival tonight in a 5,000 meter match race, the feature event of the Knights of Columbus meet in Madison Square Garden.

Nurmi quit three laps from the finish after setting a dazzling pace, leaving Ritola an undisputed victor in one of the greatest races ever run in the famous Garden.

Unable To Resume.
Four laps suddenly slackened his pace, placed his hand on his side and came to a walk. He tried to resume the race, but after completing half a lap quit the competition and left the track.

At the time of his ailment Nurmi was leading Ritola by almost a half lap and from all prospects would have chopped several seconds off the world's record.

Ritola's time for the 5,000 meters was 14:33.35, 10.25 seconds slower than his own world's record for that distance.

Nurmi suffered an acute distension of the stomach from eating meat a few hours before he took part in the race, and was unable to meet Jule Ray and Lloyd Hahn at a meal later in the evening, physicians said.

Shattered Records.
On the advice of his physician Nurmi left the Garden as quickly as he could get dressed. Nurmi argued with the doctor to get his consent to compete in the meet, but the physician said that it would only bring about a recurrence of the ailment.

Officials of the meet announced that Nurmi had shattered two world's records before his withdrawal from the race. He was clocked at the four thousand yards in 10:37, which is 10.5 seconds better than the mark made by Willie Ritola in Milwaukee on March 9.

Nurmi also shattered the world's record at four thousand meters when he negotiated the distance in 11:39.45, which is 24.45 seconds better than his own mark for that distance which he established at the Newark A. C. games in Newark, N. J., February 4.

A re-check of Nurmi's time up until the distance at which he quit revealed that he also broke the world's record for the two and one-half miles mark, negotiating the distance in 11:39.45 which is 4.5 seconds faster than Ritola's record for the mark established in Milwaukee, March 9.

The youth was born in Iron Mountain February 12, 1911.

Funeral services were held in Hermannsville and burial took place in an Iron Mountain cemetery.

Ormond Beach, Fla., Mar. 17.—Joe Kirkwood, professional, and N. B. Perkins, Louisville, Ky. amateur, tried to give Miss Glenn Collett, former national women's champion and Mrs. H. D. Sterrett of Hutchinson, Kans., Kansas champion, four strokes in 18 holes in an exhibition golf match here today but found themselves six down with five holes left to play. The men underestimated the prowess of the women stars. The men would have won only one up had the match been played without handicap.

Both Miss Collett and Mrs. Sterrett played sensational golf.

Collett, with an eight on the 18th hole, finished with $2, tying the former course record for women.

Mrs. Sterrett who held the record, lettered it by one stroke today with a 94. A pair five on the last hole would have given

Miss Collett a score of 79 but she hooked her tee shot into trouble.

Miss Collett drove a very long ball from the tee throughout, distancing Kirkwood on seven holes.

Her drive on the long ninth hole was measured and was found to have covered 264 yards with tremendous carry and a long roll.

Kirkwood played good golf, finishing with 71. He came home in 34.

Golden Wedding Celebrated by Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Ness

Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Ness of Everett, Wash., arrived in this city yesterday morning to celebrate their golden wedding. The celebration was held at the home of their daughter, Mrs. George Hebert, 811 Lake Shore Drive. Plans had been made to have the dinner served at the home of another daughter, Mrs. L. French, but late Monday afternoon, Mr. Ness was taken ill and the plans for the celebration were somewhat changed.

The dinner was served at one o'clock at the Hebert home to the immediate relatives and out-of-town visitors. This was followed by a reception in the afternoon. The guests of honor received many beautiful gifts among which were several presents of gold commemorating the event.

Mr. and Mrs. Ness were married at Marinette, Wis., March 17, 1875. They went house-keeping in a double house, half of which was occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Bowman. Mrs. Bowman came to this city to attend the wedding anniversary yesterday. They came to this city 35 years ago. Mr. Ness was employed by the C. & N. W. Ry. Co., as a car reparer and later as an inspector. Six years ago he was placed on the company's pension list, having been kept in the service two years longer than the usual time on account of the war. After being pensioned, Mr. and Mrs. Ness went to Everett, Wash., where they made their home for the past two years.

Ten children were born to them, four of which died. The six remaining are Miss Lillian Ness of Oklahoma City, Okla., where she has charge of a Rescue Home, being adjutant for the Salvation Army and was unable to come to this city for the celebration; Palmer Ness of Evans- ton, Ill.; Mrs. Leslie French, Mrs. George Hebert, city; Eskel Ness, Everett, Wash., and Miss Mabel Ness of this city were among those present.

Mr. Ness is 78 years of age, and his wife is 72. During the dinner, Miss Irene Dotsch, a

TAX REDUCTION OUTLOOK GOOD

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

Copyright 1924, by the Escanaba Press.

Washington, Mar. 17.—There is real significance in the statement just issued by Representative Green, chairman of the house ways and means committee, to the effect that the outlook was good for a reduction in taxes next year and that surtax rates would go to a 25 per cent maximum.

It is an invitation to the business men of America to expand and to investors to go ahead with their plans for the aid of productive enterprises. The statement was in substance what was carried in these dispatches a week ago but the decision to make public announcement means that the administration hopes to stimulate an unprecedented era of prosperity if possible.

Look Far Ahead.
Business men look far ahead and so do investors. They are choosing investments or analyzing proposals for expansion with an idea to what profit will accrue and what will have to be taxed. It is no secret that many propositions which might otherwise have been approved by big commercial concerns have been turned down because the ultimate profit that might accrue would have been subject to high tax rates. There are men who make out their income tax returns in advance of plus will not be so large as to necessitate a horizontal reduction. Meanwhile Representative Green and other members of the ways and means committee of the house are planning a trip to Europe to study certain provisions of the income tax laws abroad, particularly those relating to capital gains and losses on which it is believed some information can be obtained which will lead to an improvement in the American Law.

Due to better business conditions, the receipts for taxes as well as economies in government operation have brought a surplus of $100,000,000 on the fiscal year ending June 30th next. It was already estimated that on June 30, 1926, there would be a surplus of $373,000,000 so with increased receipts from taxation which are bound to follow the expansion in business this year may well be more than $400,000,000 available for a tax cut. It has been proved that a 25 per cent horizontal reduction, using the existing rates as a base, resulted in a loss to the government of only about $25,000,000.

The cut therefore may be more than 25 per cent when incomes earned during the year 1925 are taken into consideration. As for payments to be made in March 1927, the chances are that the present revenue act will have been amended in rates so that the surplus will not be so large as to necessitate a horizontal reduction. Meanwhile Representative Green and other members of the ways and means committee of the house are planning a trip to Europe to study certain provisions of the income tax laws abroad, particularly those relating to capital gains and losses on which it is believed some information can be obtained which will lead to an improvement in the American Law.
