Chapter XLVII.

For hours Reed Harding walked the streets, not knowing nor caring whether Dorothy back—and she still loved him—and God help him—he loved her. Reed knew it now—knew that he had loved her all along—that he didn't love Margaret Cramer; he had only turned to her because of his loneliness, her helpfulness. But—

He had led Margaret to think he would marry her—somehow—he had more than once spoken of it—divorcing Dorothy—oh, why hadn't he been more patient with his child wife in those days when she was with him? Reed's conflicting thoughts were unnerving him.

Mrs. Maynard didn't like her, didn't approve of her friendship with Reed, her going out with him. Margaret sensed this intuitively although Reed never had mentioned Lucile to her.

BRITAIN BUILDS ATTACK-PROOF DREADNAUGHTS

U. S. Prevented from Competing In Building.

BY CHARLES P. STEWART, N.Y. Service Writer. Washington—The airplane-attackproof battleship is England's answer to the aviation threat.

Like waterproof raiment, fireproof construction and foolproof devices of all sorts, the new British "capital-fighting vessels," the Nelson and the Rodney, of course may not prove to be 100 per cent proof against bombardment from the sky.

But that was their designers' idea, and from all United States "naval intelligence" can learn, it will take more formidable aeronautics than are known at present to harm them much.

By the terms of the naval armament limitation agreement between the United States, Great Britain, Japan, France and Italy, the United States undertook to scrap the new battleships she had under construction when the pact was signed. She kept five which were newly finished at the time, seven of less up to date design, and six relics of a decade or more ago, while the British were permitted to retain 22 craft then in commission and to complete two she was building, with the understanding that four of the older ones were to be scrapped as soon as these two were ready for sea.

This probably will be some time during 1925. Armaments Well Forward. Enough, however, is known here now concerning the two newest British ships—the Nelson and Rodney—to give American naval experts something of a shock.

To say the new boats will make all earlier capital fighting ships obsolete, as some accounts have it, may be going a little too far, the experts agree, but all admit they promise completely to modify future naval construction.

There has been considerable talk in this country in the effort that, with aviation's present development, the battleship's days are past. The British evidently think not.

In the Nelson and the Rodney's design they prove that they give due weight to the value of planes as a "naval arm" for use against others, but in the same design they prove that they feel ample confidence of their ability to defend their surface vessels against enemy plane attacks.

The Nelson and the Rodney are of 35,000 tons each and each is armed with nine 16-inch guns. The treaty limits capital ships to 35,000 tons and guns to 16 inches, so the British have taken their full allowance in both respects and in the case of both craft.

The peculiar feature of the vessel, as "naval intelligence" gets the news, is that their heavy armament is all well forward, in three turrets. Just aft of it, it is taken for granted, is the fire control tower, and aft of the fire control tower the deck is said to be entirely clear of funnels, superstructure, everything, to enable aeroplanes to take off and land.

FLAPPER FANNY says

The guns are distributed three to a turret. Deck armor is tremendously strong, to resist damage by aerial bombs. Maxazines and engines also are in the fore part of the two ships, protected by turrets and the thick, tough steel deck, and at the sides by the extra heavy side armor from bow to about to 'mid-ships.

Decks Left Clear for Planes. Turrets, fire control, magazines and engines always are especially subject to attack in a fight and by concentrating them, the size of the enemy's target is reduced. Furthermore, as less damage is done by a shot striking that part of a vessel occupied only by living quarters, the side armor of the after portion of the two new ships presumably is lighter than elsewhere, permitting it to be piled on in still greater weight on deck and toward the bow.

Smoke funes from the ships' boilers are discharged through tubes, alongside and smoke screens are laid down in the same way.

Elimination of funnels atop not only leaves the deck clear for planes but eliminates the danger that an aerial bomb will hit one, crash through and explode inside.

The mouth of a funnel is a small target, but the disaster which would result if an airman's missile fell inside always is in every naval commander's mind.

The new ships' hulls of course are provided with bilsters, as safeguards against submarine attacks.

Both vessels, in short, are as nearly invulnerable as naval science can make them and, when completed, certainly will be the most formidable craft afloat.

British Got Best of Deal.

In a sense they fill the function of both battleships and airplane carriers. In one respect they are at a disadvantage in comparison with the carriers, in that they lack the full length of a deck on which aircraft may maneuver. Planes perhaps can take off from them as well as from a carrier's deck, but a carrier can "head up into the wind" to receive a returning plane, which such a vessel as the Nelson or Rodney could not do, since turrets and fire control tower would be in the way. The former might be decked over, but not the tower.

On the other hand, a carrier, being vulnerable, must linger on the outskirts of a fight, so that its planes can serve only as scouts, while such a battleship as England's two new ones can carry its air force into the midst of an engagement and have it available for combat at any time.

The beauty of the arrangement, from the British standpoint, is that, under the treaty, England soon will have the two greatest fighting engines on the seas at her command, while America can do no more battleship building during the compact's duration.

"It was a compromise between us and the British," as a United States naval officer remarked, laying down a description he had been reading of the new ships. "Such a compromise, on our side," he added, "as a man makes with his wife."

DI-JO SWEETENS THE BREATH, DI-JO SWEETENS THE STOMACH. If there is any one disagreeable thing on earth it is a foul breath. It is unpleasant to the owner but a hundred times more unpleasant to those about him. Foul breath ordinarily comes from a stomach that is disordered. Food lies in the stomach undigested and there arises from it a stench that sickens the person who owns it and doubly sickens those about him. It isn't any reasonable excuse for foul breath. It can be quickly cured at small expense. If you have a foul breath go to the nearest drug store and buy a bottle of DI-JO. It comes in tablet form, is pleasant to take, and it does its work quickly and effectively. It doesn't contain any drug that works on the heart, nothing that will in the slightest degree harm you. There is no aspirin or anything of that nature in it. You'll find that your breath will be sweetened within a few moments after you have taken it and not only will it sweeten the breath but it will REMOVE THE CAUSE OF FOUL BREATH. If you are inclined to constipation take DI-JO for a day or two and then add plenty of fresh vegetables, fruit and bran bread to your diet and drink plenty of water between meals. DI-JO will not only sweeten your breath it will give your stomach a new lease of life and stop that incessant belching which most always goes with foul breath. Furthermore you'll feel so much better and happier that you'll notice the difference in your attitude towards life. Give your stomach a chance and take DI-JO. Adv.

They do that which dangerous calomel does without any of the bad after effects. All the benefits of nasty, sickening, griping cathartics are derived from Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets without griping, pain or any disagreeable effects. Dr. F. M. Edwards discovered the formula after seventeen years of practice among patients afflicted with bowel and liver complaint, with the attendant bad breath. Olive Tablets are purely a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; you will know them by their olive color. Take one or two every night for a week and note the effect. 15c and 30c.

TOWNSHIP CAUCUS

What was undoubtedly the largest caucus held here in recent years was held in the town hall on Saturday night last. The meeting was called to order by Supervisor Wm. McNally and Chas. Olmsted was appointed chairman of the caucus. Frank Tebo was elected as clerk with Chas. Gauthier and Henry Dotsch as tellers. Supervisor McNally was opposed for re-election by Wesley Gray who received seventy-one out of a total vote of two hundred and thirty-three. The balance going to the present incumbent. The present clerk Ed J. Purtil was returned for this office unopposed. There were five aspirants for the office of Treasurer. These were Henry Gauthier, Chester Winters, Vernon Hazen, Jos. Hynes and George Cousinid. The votes received were scattered but not one of the contestants received the required majority. The two latter mentioned withdrew from the race and a second balloting was made with the three former running. There was still a lack of the required majority and Vernon Hazen withdrew his candidacy leaving Chester Winters and Henry Gauthier alone in the race. When the next vote was taken the results were forty Gauthier one hundred and twenty three and Chester Winters one hundred and six. Highway Commissioner Joe Dushene was opposed by Nelson Tatrov, the former receiving one hundred and fifty-eight votes and the latter fifty nine votes. Pat Purtil was nominated as a Member of the Board of Review without opposition. Chas. Gauthier was appointed as Justice of the Peace for four years. Aristides Thibault for three years and Asa Tatrov for one year, all of these returns being opposed. The annual farce of appointment of township constables was again observed with Joe Dushene and Paul Lamkey vying for the office for some years past and it is apparently the only one of recent years to attempt discharge the duties of the office. He was again nominated with Chas. Tatrov, Alfis Thilault and George Joque as colleagues. It is stated here that not since the year of 1901 when William Bonifas and Van Winkle were running for Supervisor when three hundred votes were cast as there has been such a large number here in this case only men were voting whereas a large number of women voted on Saturday. In spite of the large crowd, the election was quiet and orderly throughout, without any sign whatever of disturbance.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to thank my many friends for the support accorded me at the caucus last Saturday. I will endeavor to serve loyally the interests of those who have supported me, as also all others. Henry G. Gauthier, 2854-78-11

BASKETBALL TOURNEY

On Friday and Saturday of this week, basketball fans can see six good games of basketball. The Perkins, Kipling and Cooks will comprise the visiting teams. Tickets are being sold by the High School students and it appears that there will be a large crowd present to witness the games. Loving cups for first and second place will be given and the tournament basketball will be awarded to the team winning the third place. A class C tournament will be something that has been lacking in this part of the state in past years. The teams competing have formed a team able to pick from the fifth Class "B" teams. Arrangements for coming tournament are in the hands of Principal Frank Tebo, Manager of the team, and coach Dotsch.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to extend to my many friends my sincere thanks for the splendid support extended to me in the caucus on Saturday last. I will make it my ambition to serve the best interests of all like in this township. Wm. McNally, 2854-78-11

Sylvester Lewis and family have moved to Escanaba where they expect to make their home definitely.

SETS STATE RECORD

Edmund Bureau, Clerk of the village of Garden, has just made what he believes to be a record hard to beat in the state of Michigan. On Thursday night last he scored in the new village. President James Dotsch and this made the sixteenth time he had conducted this ceremony. While not by any means an old man, he has filed a variety of local political offices. Besides the sixteen terms he has served as Clerk, he has also served terms as Treasurer, Assessor and President. In the year of 1907 he was appointed President pro tem on account of a dispute arising between the members of the board over the advisability of building a concrete bridge. He has the reputation of guarding jealously the interests of the taxpayers who elect him to office. The first President he chose into office was the late Mr. Merrill. Mr. Bureau has also filled a number of townships offices and has had the honor to represent his place at various political gatherings. He is a deeply respected citizen.

BATS IN ORGAN

Paris.—One of the finest pipe organs in the world, the great organ of Notre Dame in this city, is being gradually destroyed by mildew, dead bats and swallows. The organ, with more than a dozen keyboards, has not been cleaned since 1894, and the dead birds and dirt are clogging up some of the pipes. The parish has become an extremely poor one and does not have money to repair the instrument.

WASHIA LEGION VS. GARDEN

In the most game ever played on the Garden floor Garden downed the visiting team on Saturday night last by twenty to eleven. The visitors' passing was far superior to that of the home team but they lacked the eye to use the basket. La Valle scored 16 points for the Garden team, Tatrov four and Dotsch the other two. Time out was called from 10-0 on account of lackouts. A large number of spectators witnessed the game.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to cordially thank the voters of the Garden township for the confidence extended to me for the nomination, unopposed, to the office of Township Clerk for another year. I again pledge my best services in the interest of the public. Edward J. Purtil, 2854-78-11.

ICE TRIP FAILS

Paul Lamkey had an exciting trip in Fayette on Tuesday last. He took the shorter cut over the ice and when near the shore line on the Garden Bluff side, his team broke through the ice into about thirty feet of water. He struggled with them alone as best he could until Chester Winters and Nelson Tatrov, who were fishing not far away, came to his assistance. Other fishermen were soon on the scene. One of the animals disappeared altogether for a while and it is supposed that she went to the bottom. The efforts of the men to get the animals out were unavailing until they put a rope around their necks, pulled it tight and temporarily choked them. In this inflated condition, there was not much further difficulty in hauling them out and getting them home. Mr. Lamkey states that had not timely help arrived, he never would have succeeded in getting them out. He took a severe cold as a result of the exposure but is able to be around again. This is the third time this same team has taken the icy plunge. They and their owner have a reputation for intrepidity in winter driving that is enviable and it is freely admitted that if Lamkey and his team of spirited greys cannot make a difficult winter trip, other teamsters might just as well not make the attempt.

CAGE TOURNEY

Preparations are now being made for the Class C basketball tournament which will be held at the Garden high school on Friday and Saturday.

School teams of Perkins, Garden, Rock, Cooks and Kipling will participate in the matches. The Garden high school team is making a donation of two silver cups to be awarded to the winners of first and second place. The team coping third place will be awarded a basketball, the gift of the Rock high school team.

Garden and Perkins will open the tourney on Friday night. A preliminary game between Rapid River and the Garden Alumni is also on the evening's schedule.

Rock will meet Kipling on Saturday afternoon, and the championship game will be held in the evening.

DR. LA MOTTE

Dr. Edward LaMotte took a sudden turn for the worse on Saturday night last. Dr. Foote was immediately called. Members of the family were called to the bedside but about Sunday noon the aged gentleman rallied with no remarkable recuperative powers and at the time of writing he is apparently as well as he has been for some weeks past.

I AM BUYING CALVES And paying from 7c to 1 pound for same. JOHN CHRISTENSEN, Garden.

Night Coughing Stopped Quickly By Simple Treatment

Thousands who are troubled with persistent coughing at night, which by robbing them of valuable sleep weakens their systems and lays them open to dangerous infections, can quickly act to prevent this danger through a very simple treatment. People who have hardly been able to rest at all on account of coughing spells have found they can sleep the whole night through undisturbed often the first time they try it.

The treatment is based on a remarkable prescription known as Dr. King's New Discovery for Coughs. You simply take a teaspoonful at night before retiring, and hold it in your throat for 15 or 20 seconds before swallowing it, without following with water. The prescription has a double action. It not only soothes and heals soreness and irritation, but it quickly loosens and removes the phlegm and congestion which are the direct cause of the coughing. The result is you usually sleep soundly the very first night, and the entire cough condition goes in a very short time.

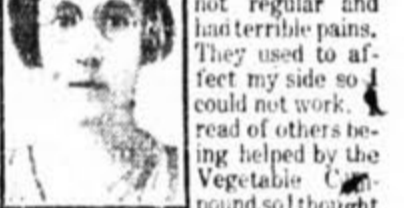

The prescription is highly recommended for coughs, chest colds, bronchitis, and whooping cough, and is equally effective for spasmodic croup—no harmful drugs, economical, too, as the dose is only one teaspoonful. At all good drug stores. Ask for
