

AIR BOARD URGES AVIATION EXPANSION

CONGRESS MAY FORBID LOANS TO MONOPOLIES

RESTRICTION URGED TO PROTECT PUBLIC.

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Dec. 2.—Legislation is being planned by western members of congress to prohibit the lending of funds by the American people to any monopoly in a foreign country which engages in price-fixing of materials or products needed by the United States.

There is no indication as yet that the Coolidge administration will oppose such a restriction though such power is actually being wielded without legislation at the moment by the executive branch of the government.

The American government through the departments of state and commerce is doing all it can to discourage the practice whereby foreign-owned monopolies are exacting high tribute from the American consumer. Loans are being objected to right along by the department of state on the ground that American interests would be impaired by giving assent. In other words, the American investor is being indirectly prevented from using his money to injure his fellow countrymen.

Expect Loud Protests. That's the theory back of the custom but when it comes to putting it into law loud protests will be heard from the financial communities on the ground that this is too great an intervention by government into private business.

Just how a law of the kind proposed would be enforced and who would do the deciding on whether the fixing of prices was harmful from an economic standpoint is not clear. For example, funds left indirectly and through interlocking directorates are hard to follow. Corporations formed in this country to do a business abroad might circumvent the law without difficulty.

In defense of the plan, however, is argument that in England financial houses issuing securities have grown accustomed to asking the approval of the Bank of England while in France, Belgium and Italy the law requires supervision by the ministries of finance and foreign affairs. The practice in Japan is similar to that of Great Britain in that no legal requirement is in effect but the government's permission is considered necessary as a matter of course.

Asks Definite Pledges. It is being suggested that the American government obtain definite pledges from foreign syndicates and monopolies respecting the future trend of prices before permitting money to be loaned. But when the economic laws of supply and demand operate it is frequently difficult to say how much real and how much artificial stimulus is behind a curtailment of production and a raising of prices.

Most of the monopolies upon which the American consumer depends are either supported directly or indirectly by foreign governments. That's why the advocates of restriction feel that it is a governmental matter all the way through and that if a foreign government can participate in the (Continued On Page Two.)

FREIGHT RATE ON MEAT CUT

I. C. C. Orders Decrease on Shipments to Eastern Zone.

Washington, Dec. 2.—(AP)—Railroads were ordered today by the interstate commerce commission to reduce rates by February 10 on fresh meats, moving eastward from western packing houses.

The charge for moving 100 pounds of fresh meat from Chicago to New York, now 87 cents, was ordered reduced to 78 cents, with rates to the East from all other packing points cut in proportion, so that after the revision they would maintain the present relationship with Chicago rates.

At the same time the commission held that the present freight rates on cured meats and hides from the Western packing centers to Eastern territory were justifiable in general. The commission's action was brought about by complaints from nearly all of the larger Western packing concerns, who contended that livestock could be transported from Chicago eastward at a charge which made the rates on their products for similar movements unjust. Representatives of livestock producers and the American Farm Bureau Federation opposed any sharp reduction in the meat rates, arguing that such action would decrease competition in markets for animals in the West, by keeping the Eastern buyers out of the field.

Anthracite Coal Supply Diminished

Philadelphia, Dec. 2.—(AP)—Activity in the anthracite suspension was confined today chiefly to the consuming public, one of the three most vitally interested parties. This inactivity, for the most part, was devoted to efforts to replenish rapidly diminishing supplies. In most cases the efforts met with failure.

Only a few dealers in this section have any hard coal and what little they have is awaiting delivery.

5 LOSE LIVES WHEN ICE ON PONDS BREAKS

DETROIT CHILDREN DROWNED WHILE PLAYING.

Detroit, Dec. 2.—(AP)—Two 15-year-old boys, schoolmates, were drowned late today when they plunged through ice about an inch thick into 14 feet of water in a pond, formerly a part of Connor's creek, near Charlevoix street. The fatality was the third of the kind in two days.

The boys drowned yesterday were Henry Meyer and Marcellus Beels.

The bodies were not taken from the water for nearly two hours, although heroic efforts were exerted on the part of citizens, two of whom nearly lost their lives in the attempt.

The two boys were on their way from school, when, companions say, they decided to test the "rubber ice." They were in the center of the pond, about 400 feet square, when the ice gave way.

ONE DROWNED. Detroit, Dec. 2.—(AP)—Geneva Satlock is still in a critical condition tonight as a result of the first "thin ice" tragedy of the season, in which Howard Warner, 9 years old, was drowned late yesterday. The accident happened when the children were playing on thin ice over a pond in Monguagon township near here.

Two other children and a woman were rescued from the pond by a woman and her crippled husband. Told that the ice had broken under the weight of several children playing on a pond near his home, Alex Satlock, a cripple, hurried to the scene to find his wife already waist deep in the icy water trying to reach them. Paul Satlock 5 years old, Geneva Satlock and the Warner boy were under water 20 feet from shore.

On the arrival of her husband, Mrs. Satlock returned to the shore, and tearing her outer clothing, hurriedly provided a rope from the strips and held one end while the crippled man went beyond his depth holding one end of the rope. He brought Paul and Geneva to shore one at a time. He did not know the Warner boy was drowning.

Mrs. Pearl Warner, the boy's mother, was told that her son was drowning and rushed to the scene to find Mr. and Mrs. Satlock working to revive their two children. She rushed into the water but could not reach Howard, and returned to the shore in despair, tied about her waist by Mrs. Satlock. When the water reached her shoulders, she dove forward, disappearing under the water. When drawn out by Mrs. Satlock, she held the dead boy in her arms.

Mrs. Warner and Paul were revived, but physicians say Geneva is in a serious condition, threatened with pneumonia.

Joseph Harriman, Financier, Dead

Newport, R. I., Dec. 2.—(AP)—Joseph Harriman, New York financier, a brother of Mrs. William K. Vanderbilt, and son of the late Oliver Harriman, died at Elm Tree cottage, his residence here, tonight after a brief attack of pneumonia.

Rudyard Kipling Critically Ill

London, Dec. 2.—(AP)—Rudyard Kipling has been stricken with double pneumonia at the little Sussex village of Burwash. Late tonight London was filled with alarmist reports. One was that the disease had developed rapidly and that the condition of the noted author had become worse.

Lord Dawson, the king's physician, was called in consultation with the regular physician and this evening he informed The Associated Press upon his return to London that Kipling was suffering from double pneumonia and his condition was "anxious, but not dangerous."

Close friends of Kipling received a telegram at 8 o'clock tonight from Burwash, with Kipling's name attached, saying that the doctors were satisfied with his condition but that the disease must run its course.

FERGUSON AND MOODY IN ROW

Battle Over Texas Road Contracts Renewed at Austin.

Austin, Texas, Dec. 2.—(AP)—James E. Ferguson, husband and advisor of Gov. Miriam A. Ferguson, and Attorney General Moody renewed with vigor today their battle of statements centering around the contract let the American Road company by the Texas highway commission.

Ferguson, former governor of Texas and veteran of a number of hard-fought political campaigns, scoffed at the claim that Moody had served the state by forcing the American Road company to confess judgment in court of $600,000, alleged excess profits on the highway contract. He estimated Moody's prosecution of the road company would cost the state at least $900,000, the profit made by the company, and that the cost likely would reach $1,800,000, the profit, plus $900,000, which, he declared, the state will probably have to pay for a second course asphaltic treatment on 400 miles of state highways.

Ferguson spoke in this regard of "the great legal gymnastics of the youthful attorney general," and declared, "let these enthusiasts of the youthful attorney general analyze these figures to their hearts' content and they cannot deny or escape the fact that the state got the hot end of the poker as a result of Moody's big suit against the highway commission."

Moody replied by characterizing Ferguson's statements as a "labored attempt to juggle the figures and mislead the mind."

STUDENT KILLED IN AUTO CRASH

Car Crashes Into Train Near Detroit; Two Injured.

Detroit, Dec. 2.—(AP)—When an automobile in which they were riding crashed head-on into the side of a Perre Marquette freight train west of Detroit late today, Floyd A. Goodwin, Bay City, Mich., Michigan university student, was killed and Harold Kresge, son of S. S. Kresge, and James E. Bayne of Detroit, also students at the university, were injured severely.

The three youths were picked up by a passing automobile and taken to Fieble hospital, where it was found Kresge was seriously bruised about the body and Bayne's skull was fractured.

When questioned by state police immediately after the accident, Kresge said his name was Howard C. Jackson. The three were students in the literary department at the University of Michigan.

The term "gob" for a sailor in the American navy came into use about 1912.

KIP'S FATHER GIVEN BLAME FOR TROUBLE

MILLS SAYS YOUNG MAN WAS SLAVE TO ALICE.

White Plains, N. Y., Dec. 2.—(AP)—Pleating Leonard Kip Rhinelander, son of a wealthy old New York family, who is suing his mother, Alice Beatrice Jones Rhinelander, for annulment of marriage, as the "docile slave of Alice's feet" and the neglected son of a wealthy father, Atty. Isaac N. Mills occupied the entire court day in summing up for the plaintiff. He had not completed his summation when court adjourned for the day, and indicated that he would require most of tomorrow for the task.

Mr. Mills, appealing to the white jury for a verdict in favor of his client on the basis of racial differences, asserted: "Leonard will hail a verdict for the plaintiff as a prisoner on the steps of the scaffold halls a pardon from the governor."

Father Is Blamed.

Turning suddenly on the father of his client, Mills asserted that "Phillip Rhinelander is more to blame for the fool position that this young man has brought himself into than the young man himself."

He said that for years the elder Rhinelander had neglected Leonard and that not once had the father visited the boarding school in Connecticut which Leonard attended. He made a point of the fact that at no time had any member of Rhinelander's family been in the court while Alice had been supported by all of her kin. Mills pictured himself as the sole defender of his allegedly backward client.

Kip Dumb, Says Mills. "I do not claim that Leonard Kip Rhinelander is a fool but it is a problem how much intelligence he has," the lawyer asserted. "At the beginning of his acquaintance with Alice, although he was 13 years old, intelligence tests show that his intellect was not above that of a normal boy of 14."

The attorney reviewed what he called "Alice's regular campaign for her engagement to Leonard." This, he said, consisted of several phases; her constant mention in her letters of the incidents at the Hotel Marie Antoinette where Rhinelander had lived on two occasions with her before their marriage; her promotion of his jealousy by making him feel that he was likely to lose her, and her continual reminders that she was making great sacrifices in turning down other men for Rhinelander.

Didn't Reveal Race. Mills asserted that Alice's frank confession to Leonard that she had had relations with another man before she met him was not consistent with her concealment of her negro blood. Everything she told Rhinelander, Mills said, was calculated to promote her case, but she knew that to reveal her color would be to "ruin everything." Mills then asserted that Rhinelander had returned from the West to take Alice in honorable marriage only because he did not realize that she had negro blood.

The question which started the legal battle, that of color, Mills said, had been confessed by the defense, but it had not been eliminated from the issue. Referring to newspaper interviews immediately after the marriage had become public, Mills said that "Leonard then stood by his wife. He loved her—that is the wonder of this case."

Throughout the day both principal parties to the suit sat calmly through the waves of oratory which flooded the crowded courtroom. Neither appeared greatly moved. Just prior to adjournment, when Mills indicated that he probably would require most of tomorrow for completion of his summing up, Justice Morschauer announced from the bench that in that case he probably would not charge the jury until Friday, when the jurymen would be fresh and rested.

Youths' Elopement Ends in Columbus

Columbus, Ohio, Dec. 2.—(AP)—Neva Harrow, 15 years old, and her companion, Edward White, 19, who said they were high school students from Chesaning, Mich., were taken into custody here today. Their romance was shattered when a police sergeant, checking automobile licenses, came upon their new automobile.

Not satisfied with their explanation, the officer took them to the station, where authorities say they confessed they had eloped from the Michigan town.

"We drove all day Saturday and most of Sunday," White related, "and slept in the automobile. We could not afford to go to a hotel because we spent all our money for the down payment on the machine."

Chesaning authorities were notified and are expected to come for the youths tomorrow.

Iowa Girl and Indiana Boy Judged Healthiest at Chicago Stock Show

Chicago, Dec. 2.—(AP)—Kings of the barnyard and field, having been selected at the International Livestock Exposition, the climax came tonight with selection of the most perfect boy and girl in America.

Alice Burkhardt, 15, of Audubon county, Iowa, was chosen as the most perfect girl, and George Cuskaden, 14, of St. Paul, Ind., won the honors as the country's most perfect specimen of boyhood. The selections were made by competitive physical examinations of more than 600,000 farm boys and girls, members of the boys and girls agricultural clubs meeting here in connection with the exposition.

All States Compete. The healthiest boy and the healthiest girl from each state in the union met here for the final examinations, this week.

Alice Burkhardt scored 95.7 per cent. A slight cold from exposure to Chicago weather, and too little muscular development of the arms were her only defects.

The boy scored 97.7 per cent, his only flaws being one filled tooth, slightly enlarged nasal passages and a hardly perceptible tendency toward flat footedness.

The girl is 5 feet, 5 inches tall, weighs 131 pounds, milks the cows, rides horseback, swims, plays tennis and basketball but drinks neither tea nor coffee. She goes to bed at 9:30, gets up at 6, walks four miles to school, and possesses perfect teeth, feet, body, head, eyes, ear, and nose.

Wants to Teach. She is a junior in high school, wants to become a teacher, and is the fifth of six children.

George Cuskaden is 5 feet, 5 inches tall and weighs 155 pounds. He is an athlete, playing on his high school basketball, baseball and track teams. For exercise, he helps his father run a 200-acre farm, takes care of 20 head of cattle and a herd of swine. He is the eldest of three children and took first prize in the Indiana state fair with his Duroc-Jersey hog.

San Diego, Cal., Dec. 2.—(AP)—Colliding head on 1,500 feet above San Diego bay while their Voight airplanes were traveling faster than 100 miles an hour, Capt. Harry H. Shepherd and Lieut. John D. Christian, attached to the marine corps aviation squadron at North Island, were killed today.

The airplanes, their locked wings and fuselage parting after dropping 1,000 feet, plunged into the bay about four miles south of Coronado Tent City.

Lieutenant Christian's plane fell near shore and the aviator was still breathing when he was pulled from the wreckage. He died enroute to the naval air station dispensary. Captain Shepherd remained in the wreckage of his ship until the wrecking barge hoisted the demolished plane from the bay bottom. The body of the marine corps pilot was found huddled over the shattered steering stick.

A dramatic touch to the ill-fated maneuver in which the two aviators lost their lives was added when it was discovered that both men evidently had sensed their danger and for a fraction of a second had tugged at their parachutes, which were opened but still hid securely to the bodies of the dead pilots.

ASSAULT CASE NEARING CLOSE

Arthur Rich Denies Ever Striking Miss Louise King.

Battle Creek, Mich., Dec. 2.—(AP)—The story of Louise King on the witness stand was the most eloquent argument that any one could give. Andrew W. Lockton, assistant prosecutor, said in the state's early closing argument in the trial of Arthur Rich, son of a wealthy manufacturer, charged with felonious assault upon the pretty former Battle Creek college girl.

The defense rested at recess time this afternoon and Judge North allowed the state two hours and allowed three hours for closing arguments. Bernard J. Onen gave the early closing argument for the defense.

Mr. Onen complained bitterly of the fact, as admitted by state's witnesses, that he had been deprived of the right to talk with these witnesses, who were advised to refuse to discuss the case by the prosecution.

"I hope that if any of you men are ever charged with a crime your counsel will not find obstacles placed in your path by the prosecutor in attempts to learn the truth I have experienced," he said.

Mr. Cortwright broke in with "we were within our rights."

"I wouldn't say that, Mr. Cortwright," the court answered, and asked Mr. Onen to proceed. Mr. Onen referred to Meda Reasoner the other girl of the party. He called attention to the fact that she had not taken a drink.

"If Louise King's conduct had been the same as that of Meda Reasoner, I would not be here today," he said.

Arthur Rich, defendant, was on the stand most of the morning. He testified that he and Louise King had several drinks, that they were in an embrace in the car on the way to the country club and that when they got out of the car, he carried a jar of liquor and she a blanket. The two of them spread the blanket, he said. He said that there was no resistance. He denied that he had ever struck the girl.

DEFENSE PLAN OF MITCHELL NOT FAVORED

INVESTIGATING BODY SUBMITS REPORT TO COOLIDGE.

Washington, Dec. 2.—(AP)—Expansion of military and naval aviation but without drastic change in the present organization, was recommended today to President Coolidge by the special board appointed by him to investigate the condition of American air power.

The board's report, concurred in by all of the nine members, emphatically opposed establishment of a department of national defense or a unified air service, proposals endorsed by Col. William Mitchell, whose public criticisms of the war and navy department administration of aviation preceded the board's inquiry.

Board's Recommendations. The board's recommendations included: Creation of three additional assistant secretaries to handle aviation problems.

Special representation of aviation on the army general staff.

Representation for naval aviators in the office of the chief of naval operations and the bureau of navigation.

Designation of the army air service as the army air corps.

Adoption by the government of a continuing aviation policy to encourage better commercial aircraft development.

Elimination of governmental competition with civil industry in aircraft production.

Asks More Officers. Assistance to commercial aviation through the establishment of airways and air posts.

Provisions for two more brigadier generals for the army air corps.

Continuation of flight pay for all aviators and the conferring of temporary rank upon air officers commensurate with the duties assigned them.

The report took cognizance of the aviation controversy that has gone on since the war, and asserted that the "conflict is one between the old and the new, emphasized by the sharp judgment required in a period immediately following a great war."

In opposing combination of the government's military and commercial air activities under one head, the board observed that practice activities in the United States "have never been governed by military consideration."

No Lasting Solution. In presenting its recommendations, the board said "no solution at this time can be lasting," and thought it was most important to "lay emphasis upon the best method of achieving the desired result."

"To that end," it asserted, "we rely chiefly upon the appointment of an additional assistant secretary of war, assistant of the navy and assistant secretary of commerce, to devote themselves under the direction of their respective heads, primarily to aviation and jointly to coordinate so far as may be practicable the activities of their three departments with respect to aviation."

The additional assistant secretary of commerce, it suggested, should be placed at the head of a bureau of civil aeronautics, which would supervise air ports, landing fields, air ways, inspection of planes and the licensing of pilots. Commercial aviation, it found, had been retarded by the lack of basic air laws, a fear of air hazards by prospective passengers, and the "excessive burden" placed upon private capital to pioneer in development of airways and other matters contingent to commercial air activities.

Civil Aviation Report. Divided into three parts, the report first answered questions raised during the inquiry, emphasizing from various members.

Briand Receives Confidence Vote on Financial Measure

SECOND VOTE.

Paris, Dec. 3.—(AP)—M. Briand again successfully raised the question of confidence on an alternative bill introduced by M. Bokanowski, which provided for three billion francs inflation for immediate needs and leaving the other points in M. Loucheur's bill for inclusion in a comprehensive financial reform plan to be taken up later.

The vote was 362 against 186. An increase in taxes ranging from ten to one hundred per cent, as outlined in the bill, created consternation especially among the provincial representatives, inasmuch as the farmers will have to pay fifty per cent additional tax.

10 to 100 Per Cent Increase in Taxes Proposed.

Paris, Dec. 3.—(AP)—Aristide Briand, the new French premier, who appeared before parliament for the first time yesterday, early this morning received a vote of confidence from the chamber on his motion to proceed to discussion of the financial bill. The vote was 298 against 113.

General discussion of the "inflation bill" of Finance Minister Loucheur, which provides for an increase in the issue of paper money from 51,000,000,000 francs to 58,500,000,000, opened with criticism, both friendly and hostile, from various members.

The ministerial declaration, while non-committal on certain questions, took a decided stand on the settlement of inter-related debts, and the naming of Senator Berenger to proceed to Washington is regarded as imminent.

M. Briand was taken by surprise after the enthusiastic welcome which greeted him on his return from London, when he was faced by an antagonistic chamber in fighting mood, which contrasted sharply with the principles he advocated at Locarno.

M. Loucheur's financial plan is the bone of contention, inflation which already has reached 17,500,000 francs since the 1924 elections may prove a hard obstacle for the Briand government.

Dr. Little Suggests Luxury Tax on Cigarets, Cosmetics

Would Help Pay Cost of Education, College Head Declares.

Lansing, Dec. 2.—(AP)—A ten per cent luxury tax, to compel the users of cosmetics and tobacco to pay a large part of the state's educational bill, was suggested by Dr. Clarence Cook Little, president of the University of Michigan, in an address before the Michigan Association of Farmers' clubs here this afternoon.

In every state in the Union, men and women are spending eight or ten times as much for powder, perfumes, rouge and tobacco as they are contributing toward education, he said. Why should those who can afford these luxuries not help provide education for the children of those less fortunately situated? Dr. Little said he did not believe the boys are necessary aids to an education. The proposed tax, he said, would not deter their use and anyone would suffer. He estimated that at least $2,500,000 a year could be raised in Michigan from the suggested levy.

Dr. Little emphatically reiterated his advocacy of limitation of students at the university. He declared he would like to send trained investigators to interview every high school student who contemplates going to Ann Arbor. If they are not basically and mentally fitted to stand the temptations and the freedom of a college course they should not be sent, no matter what their scholastic standing, he said. Regarding the doubtful ones he would like to tell the parents to put them into positions of discomfort or hardship for a period to determine whether they can "stand the racket." It would be much more charitable to pursue this course than to let all students enter only to have them go smash and bring sorrow to themselves and their families, he asserted. Dr. Little hoped that no graduate of a Michigan institution would be forced to admit the statements attributed to "Red" Grange, that they are "better fitted for football than anything else."

Urges Good Roads.

The speaker urged co-operation between the farmers and the manufacturers. With the automobile industry in their back yards they should use motor transport to reach their markets and make their problems those of the manufacturers. This condition should build up a bond that would cause farmers and manufacturers to fight together for legislation, he stated. He urged the development of local roads.

Then Dr. Little said that all of his ideas are directed principally at the betterment of childhood and assuring the children and education and the good things of life. He told the farmers they are fortunately situated for bringing up children, as the rural environment is much better adapted to family life than the city tenements.

The automobile in which Dr. Little was riding from Ann Arbor to Lansing skidded and went off the road. It was righted, and he arrived in time to make three addresses, however. He was uninjured, Dr. Little said.

Dr. Kenyon L. Butterfield, president of the Michigan State college, urged an expansion of the community idea among farmers. He advocated groups and clubs to solve local problems and predicted the time will come when community churches will serve the farmers of all denominations.

sizing the board's opinion that military and civilian aviation should remain distinctly separate.

FARMERS CLUBS CLOSE MEETING

Resolution Playing Conduct of State Fair Not Adopted.

Lansing, Dec. 2.—(AP)—The Michigan State Association of Farmers' Clubs, in its closing session here today, refused to go on record as criticizing the state administration for its parole policies.

The board also stated that it did not see any force in the argument that the building up of a large air power—partly military and partly civilian—would be a peace movement.

Those who believe in the pro-creating effect of air power, however, are not talking of disarmament when they suggest the building of battle ships. They are talking of discarding the weapon they think is becoming useless.

Oppose Fair Carnivals. The farmers also refused to adopt a resolution flaying the governor and the state administrative board for making the state fair a "political football."

U. S. Not in Danger. The belief that new and deadlier weapons will shorten future wars and prevent vast expenditure of lives and resources is a dangerous one which, if accepted, might well lead to a readier acceptance of war as a solution of international difficulties.

Cook Named President. The farmers in other resolutions, advocated a continuance of the "pay as you go" policy of highway construction, payment of back state rewards to counties, a readjustment of the taxes on farm lands and a higher gasoline tax.

LAPPER FANNY says

Confessions of a Reformer (Scribner), by Frederic C. Howe—Mellow and disillusioned one of the rarest of the old crusaders sits back in his chair and tells tales of this muck-raking and that, wondering in the end if they meant a great deal. An extremely human and fascinating bit of autobiography.

Then Martin appears, a grown-up in stature, but a child in heart and soul. He can no more comprehend their involvements than could any child. An entire household, turned for a weekend picnic into turmoil, by complications directly due to his presence. Thunder has sounded on the left and they must lay down their affairs to study what omen Jove intends.

When a man hires a new stenographer he is in for a bad spell.

More than that, it has more beauty to a square page than any book to drift this way in many a day. And in its all-comprehending humanity and pity there is a bigger moral and sermon—if readers must have such—than in a whole 12-foot shelf of the ordinary "black" sermons.

It is handled in the ultra-modern manner, going in for staccato pictures and psychology, rather than for plot. At times it grows a bit dreary, but there are scores of pages of beautiful writing.

GUARD AGAINST YULE BLAZES

City Fire and Electrical Department Offer Services.

Christmas decorations in stores, store windows and homes should be carefully selected, and caution exercised to prevent them from increasing fire hazards, Chief Arvid Johnson of the Escanaba fire department, said yesterday.

Tinsel, cotton, paper ribbons and other such material is always dangerous and constitutes a very serious menace if great care is not taken when they are put into place, he declared. "Candles should never, under any circumstances, be employed to light Christmas trees. They are always dangerous. I hope that, with the co-operation of the public, we can make this one a fireless Christmas."

Free Advice Offered.

Jack Bowden, city electrical inspector, at the same time, extended an offer of free advice of his department in arranging any sort of electrical displays or decorations.

"Some electrical decorations are safe; others are not. None of them are safe unless they are installed properly," said he. "The city's inspection department will inspect any system contemplated anywhere in Escanaba and give advice and suggestions concerning it without any charge whatever."

"If there is any doubt about the safety of any of these devices, we urge that we be given a chance to look them over before the 'julec' is turned on. Better be safe than sorry."

"We, too, are hopeful that this Christmas will be fireless."

BLONDES CAN'T BE BEAUTIFUL

So At Least Says J. J. Shubert and He Ought to Know.

By NEA Service
Here are the "fourteen points" necessary for a beautiful woman, according to J. J. Shubert:

- 1—She must be a brunette.
- 2—She must have a beautiful figure.
- 3—She must have an average mind.
- 4—She must have poise.
- 5—She must have originality.
- 6—She must be agreeable.
- 7—She must be gracious.
- 8—She must be witty.
- 9—She must have personality.
- 10—She must be slim.
- 11—She must be tolerant.
- 12—She must be adaptable.
- 13—She must have good taste.
- 14—She must be demure.

Chicago—To be beautiful you must be a brunette.

Throw away that bottle of hair bleach lotion. Blondes are playing second fiddle—and hardly that.

This, at least, is the opinion of no less than authority than J. J. Shubert, internationally known theatre owner, who has been producing plays and musical shows for nearly a quarter of a century.

Beauty, Shubert explains, must be positive in nature.

Blondes Indecisive.
"And," he remarks, blondes may possess a sort of tearful gorgeousness, but their beauty is not decisive enough. The brunette's beauty usually is."

During his career in the theatres Shubert figures he has passed on the merits, or otherwise, of at least 100,000 young aspirants to stage laurels. And it is on the remaining licensees which these years of experience stored up that he draws in setting forth his ideas about feminine beauty.

Being a star on the stage is a difficult proposition and calls for extraordinary natural endowments, he explains.

"A woman who possesses a beautiful figure, an average mind, a certain amount of originality, and who conducts herself with a certain amount of poise can pass as a perfectly beautiful creature in the walk of life other than that which leads behind the footlights," he says.

"But once she is on the stage, under the glare of the white lights, she comes under the searching rays of professional criticism, and they will reveal plenty of flaws in beauty that is only average. Then she learns that beauty is a complicated thing.

"It demands almost perfection—and much intelligence.

"The beautiful woman must be agreeable. She must be gracious and imbued with the symbol of the theatre—personality.

"She must be witty but not sarcastic—not on any account. That is, she must be able to see and take a joke, but she must not be 'catty'.

"Beauty must be calm, but not phlegmatic. And the beautiful woman must be tolerant, but not indifferent, for indifference is what sets hard lines in the face.

"The beautiful woman must be able to adapt herself to associations and environment.

"She must have the best of taste in clothes—not only in the matter of selecting them, but even more so in the wearing of them after she has picked them out.

Insurance Company Stocks Good Investment Says Babson

BY ROGER BABSON
Babson Park, Mass., Dec. 2, 1925.—Roger W. Babson today discussed with this paper an industry to which we all contribute, but from which, he says, very few profit. That is to say, all of us pay premiums for life insurance, fire insurance, and other kinds of insurance, but to profit thereby we must die, have our property burn up, or be robbed! Even to profit from accident insurance we must hurt ourselves or someone else. Mr. Babson's official statement is as follows:

Growth of Insurance.

"Few realize the tremendous growth which has taken place in insurance during the past few years. Life insurance has grown with leaps and bounds and most companies are doubling their business every ten years. The figures of growth are almost staggering. This is because these figures are built up not simply from new business but also from the accumulation of interest payments. It must be remembered that a sum of money doubles itself in less than twelve years at 6 per cent compound interest. Of course, the growth of accident insurance, and to a certain extent fire insurance, is largely due to the automobile.

"Four factors have contributed to this growth:—Briefly these are as follows:

1. The selling of insurance has been put on a sound and high plane. Life insurance has probably the best organized sales force of any industry;—that is, such insurance today is sold while other things are merely delivered as orders come in.

2. Life insurance has become adapted to modern business, in that it has developed group insurance, the insurance of executives, and other forms of business insurance. New uses are continually being found and developed.

3. High wages among the wage workers have made millions able to take insurance who heretofore have not had the money to do so. These wage workers are very wisely taking out insurance to provide for the education of their children in case the father should die before the children are self-supporting.

4. Life insurance business was the original installment business. Once it was had form to buy anything on the installment plan, but this has now changed and life insurance has profited from bringing this change about.

Insurance Repeat Business.

"Although life insurance has had a great growth, yet automobile insurance has had even a greater growth. Of the 17,000,000 cars now being used in the United States it is said that half of them are insured against fire, and one-quarter of them carry liability insurance. Those bought on the installment plan must, of necessity, carry fire insurance until they are paid for. Consider that 20 per cent of the cars on the road are still unpaid for and 70 per cent of the new cars are being brought on the installment plan; this greatly stimulates the business of insuring automobiles.

The growth in ordinary fire insurance is usually proportional to the growth of building. Every house built is insured and the more new buildings the greater the new insurance that is placed. Furthermore the general rise in the cost of building has increased the value of older buildings and the insurance on these older places is gradually being increased.

The reason why the Eastman Kodak Company, the Gillette Razor Company, and various light and power companies are such splendid investments is because they have a 'repeat' business. When one buys a chair, a looking-glass, or a coffin, he makes only one purchase; but when he buys a camera or a safety-razor, or installs an electric fixture, he becomes a constant customer for films, blades, and electric power. This suggests a very fundamental principle which every business man and investor should grasp; namely—get into a 'repeat' business rather than in a 'single sale' business. Sell cameras and films instead of tables and chairs; sell safety-razors and blades rather than knives and forks; and sell electric power rather than electric fixtures. When this is applied to the building industry, one sees at once the great advantage which the fire insurance companies have over lumber and building supply companies. The lumber dealer has only one chance to sell to the builder of the house and hence can make only one sale on a given house. A fire insurance agent, however, has an income from the owner of that house forevermore.

Insurance as Business.

"When everybody is rushing to Florida or going into the real estate business in any section of the country, it is well to remember that the old reliable insurance business is still very worthy of consideration. Insurance is not a spectacular business and profits in it are not large; but it is a very secure and safe business. Both fire and life insurance must, of necessity, increase with the population and the prosperity of the country. Automobile, accident, and burglar insurance are bound to continue to grow. Other forms of insurance will develop from time to time. Bright young men who are looking around for a safe and profitable line of business will do well to consider the insurance business, especially fire insurance.

First, go to work for some insurance agent to learn the business and then get into business for yourself getting the privilege of representing a good line of companies. Insurance is a fine business for any young man who is willing to work. It is a business and ultimately grows to large proportions. Moreover, it should be a very profitable business in communities which are growing rapidly.

"Originally insurance was a cash business and then it became a 30-day business, but gradually the insurance companies are carrying greater accounts receivable. I believe that this feature will increase more and more as the years go on, thus giving those in the business who have capital a real opportunity to use it. Insurance credits are usually good. There is also an opportunity for the fire insurance agent to make a profit on the installation of sprinkler systems, sale of fire extinguishers, and various other side lines. It is surprising how few insurance agents are today taking advantage of the opportunity of selling these 'accessories' to their business.

Stocks as an Investment.

"The stock of no insurance company is listed on the New York Stock Exchange. Stocks of every other kind are traded in on the exchange excepting insurance companies' stocks. This does not mean that they cannot be bought as they are quite actively traded in by the brokers of Hartford and certain other insurance sections. It is always possible to buy fire insurance stocks—they have almost always proved a profitable investment. The same thing is true of automobile, accident, and other insurance companies. These stocks are seldom exploited, but are almost universally good investments. The largest life insurance companies are known as Mutual companies and either they have no stock outstanding or sell only a small amount.

"Insurance companies' stocks are good for two basic reasons:

1. The business is continually increasing. As already stated, the life insurance business increases as population increases and people become more prosperous; accident insurance increases as automobiles increase; while fire insurance increases as more buildings are constructed and as values rise.

ORE SEASON NEARS CLOSE

St. Paul Has Loaded Last Boat; North-Western Waiting.

The ore shipping season from the Escanaba docks is about over. The Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul docks loaded the final cargo of the season Sunday, the Bethlehem being the craft which steamed away with the year's final shipment.

Three more cargoes are ready at the Chicago and North-Western docks, it was said last night. It is possible that plans for loading them will be changed, however. The season is late and weather conditions not any too favorable for lake traffic.

It is indicated that total ore tonnage shipped over the docks this year will be quite a little larger than last year. Final figures have not been released.

OBITUARY

JOHN LUDVIG JOHNSON.

Funeral services for John Ludvig Johnson will be conducted this afternoon at one o'clock at the family home at Stonington when Rev. L. B. Sateren of this city will officiate. Burial will be in Stonington cemetery in the family lot.

MRS. MINNIE SCHULTZ.

Practically every resident of Rapid River attended the last sad rites which were conducted for Mrs. Minnie Schultz of Rapid River who had been a resident of that village for 55 years. Many out-of-town friends motored to Rapid River to attend the services which were conducted at 2 o'clock at the family home by Rev. C. A. Doehler of this city and at 2:30 at the German Lutheran church at Rapid River.

The pallbearers were Gilbert Grandchamp, John Grandchamp, Frank Wolfe, William Martin, Eli Schram and John McPherson. Burial was in Rapid River cemetery in the family lot.

JOHN BURKE, JR.

The body of John Burke, Jr., was removed from the Allo Funeral Home to the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Burke, Sr., 1720 First avenue south, Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock where it will remain until the hour of the funeral services which will be held at St. Patrick's church Friday morning at 9 o'clock when Rev. Fr. J. Mockler will be the celebrant at the requiem high mass. Burial will be in the family lot in St. Joseph's cemetery.

Out-of-town relatives who are expected to arrive for the obsequies are: Frank Burke of Cleveland, Ohio; Miss Madeline Burke, Chicago; Mrs. Henry Guay, Peshtigo, Wis.; and Miss Catherine Flynn, Oconto, Wis. Mrs. J. Burke, wife of the deceased, will also come to this city for the services.

OPPOSES MERGER

New York, Dec. 2.—(AP)—Stockholders of the Ray Consolidated Copper Corporation would lose $12,000,000 through the proposed merger of the concern with the Nevada Consolidated Copper company, Frank C. Armstrong, stockholder in the former company, alleged in final papers filed in supreme court today in a suit to prevent the merger.

"POT-HUNTERS" BUSY.

London—The opening of the winter season of fancy dress balls and carnivals brings out the "pot-hunters." Women who own one striking costume make the rounds of parties, going to a different one each night. They usually succeed in bagging one of the many prizes at each affair.

"MY CHINA DOLL"

Droll Originality and Tunefulness Make It First Rate Entertainment.

"My China Doll," with its droll originality, whimsical humor, colorful settings and costumes and tuneful music was enthusiastically received by a capacity crowd at the Delft show-shop last night. Few come-back visits have been more successful and none has better paved the way for future stop-overs in Escanaba—"if you get my meaning."

"My China Doll" is first-class entertainment, first because it is a well-written show, second because of the elaborate manner in which Messrs. LeCompte and Fleisher have staged it, and third because of the verve and energy the folks in the company put into their daily toil. Chief among these is Miss Cecil Manners, in the name part, who exercises charm and ability throughout her travels from a sort of melodious Ming Toy and Cinderella. The Spirit of Ragtime, and the Queen of a Flower Garden, to a society bride—certainly range enough for one evening even in these speedily moving times.

Miss Bessie Delmore, a versatile fun-makerette; William P. Murphy, a masculine edition of the same; Ames Harper, a leading man with a capital voice; and Tom Crowley, a blackface comedian were among those whose efforts pleased last night's audience most.

BRIDES MUST BE VEILED

London—Ruslip parish church now enforces a veil, and the prospective bride who appears without one must wear the parish apparel. The vicar announced that the rules of the church require a bride to be "decently apparelled," which means that she must wear a veil.

CREMONA GENIUS

London—Antonio Stradivarius, who lived in Cremona from 1644 to 1737, was a genius without knowing it. One of the violins which he made was recently sold to Mischa Elman for a huge sum.

SPORTSMEN'S BENEFIT SHOW HERE TONIGHT

Lovers of the outdoors will be at the Community theatre tonight in good crowds for the benefit show to be given by the Gladstone Sportsmen's association, at which "Big Game Hunting and Fishing," 5000 reels of Field and Stream pictures will be shown. The special reels on hunting and fishing will be followed by a Pathe comedy completing a regular picture program. Two shows will be held to permit everyone to see the pictures at the usual hours. Tickets for the benefit show have been on sale for some time and have been selling fast with the added attraction of a copy of Field and Stream to every purchaser of two tickets. The special show will be in parts as follows: Channel bass fishing off the Virginia coast, real surf casting by men who know how. Turkey hunting in Maryland, the finest picture of wild turkey hunting ever shown on the screen. Salmon fishing on the Patapedia. New Brunswick in which Edward R. Hewitt, the author of "Life History and Habits of the Salmon" a past master with the salmon rod, will be seen on the Patapedia river. A bear tale, made in Canada in which hunters go up the trees after them and take them alive. Deer hunting in New Brunswick, a picture of stalking deer in the north woods. Moose, a study of Canadian Moose in its natural haunts and some remarkable closeups of the big fellow at home. The program is one that will be enjoyed by sportsmen everywhere and capacity audiences will probably be at the theatre for both shows. For Wolf Hounds. The proceeds of the show will be used for the purchase of wolf hounds for hunts which the association will have during the winter to kill off wolves and other animals which are doing away with small game.

WOMEN WILL ORGANIZE SIX TEAM LEAGUE

Women bowlers will start their season at the Community alleys in earnest as soon as the formation of a six-team women's league, now being planned, is completed. It was announced yesterday by the management. The women's league will be organized along the lines of the men's league and a schedule of games will be arranged. Interest will also be centered in forming a Gladstone team to meet the Half-Ton team of Escanaba, which has asked for Gladstone games. The total weight of the five members of the Escanaba team is in the neighborhood of half a ton and the team boasts, in addition to its bowling ability, that its lightest member weighs 180 pounds. The bride wore a gown of French tan crepe satin with a hat of the same shade and carried Coolidge roses. Her bridesmaid, Miss Edna Mae Post, sister of the bridegroom, wore a gown of tan satin with a hat to match and also carried Coolidge roses. The bridegroom's attendant was Harold McLaughlin, a cousin. Following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bridegroom's parents. Mr. and Mrs. Post left on a short wedding trip to Chicago and Muskegon, after which they will return to Milwaukee to make their home.

Yeoman Lodge Meets Tonight

Every member of the Yeoman lodge is asked to be at Wasa hall tonight for an important business meeting of the organization. The meeting will begin at 7:30 o'clock. Matters of unusual interest will be taken up and every member is urged to be present.

INTER-CLASS TOURNAMENT ENDS TONIGHT

The inter-class basketball tournament at Gladstone high school will come to a close tonight with the deciding game between the Junior high winners and the Senior high victors to determine the class championship of the school. Coach Kell will referee the championship game. The tournament opened Thursday night with two games Tuesday and Wednesday nights. In the opening, the eighth graders trimmed the seventh grade quintet, 15 to 8, while the seniors won from the sophomores by a one point margin, 15-14. Red Kegel refereed and Harry Haglund umpired the first game. Coach Kell was official at the second. Last night the eighth grade was scheduled to meet the freshmen, who drew a bye, and the seniors to meet the juniors. The championship play will be tonight between the winners of these two games. The inter-class tournament precedes the opening of the regular basketball season with Gwin December 18, playing the first game of the season here.

ANNIVERSARY OBSERVANCE JANUARY 25

The annual anniversary service of Alice Memorial Methodist church, one of the most important events on the calendar of activities for the year, will be held on Monday, January 25, 1926. It was announced yesterday by Rev. H. W. Colenso, pastor of the church. The date of the anniversary banquet on Monday, with the church anniversary on Sunday, the day before, was set following the regular meeting of the church board held Monday evening. A general outline of the anniversary service was made at the board meeting and plans for the program which will be announced later were generally discussed. Rev. Frank L. Leonard of Marquette will be here for the anniversary and will be the main speaker of the evening. The banquet will be served, as is customary, Monday evening with a program following the banquet. (Church Service Sunday. The church anniversary service will be held on Sunday, January 24. The anniversary sermon at the church service will be delivered by the pastor. Committees for the anniversary observance have been appointed and will be announced later in the week.)

Edouard Horemans Wins 18.2 Balkline Title From Jake Schaefer

JAKE HAD ONLY 5 POINTS TO GO

Dethroned Champ Breaks World Record With Run of 432.

Chicago, Dec. 2.—(AP)—After the most extraordinary display of billiards ever witnessed, Young Jake Schaefer lost the world's championship at 18.2 balkline billiards to Edouard Horemans, the Belgian champion, 1,500 to 1,435, here tonight. Schaefer took the lead with a world's record run of 432 but fell down in his next inning and the little Belgian dethroned him by a run of 74.

Schaefer got only four, missing an open table lineup.

After all his hopes had vanished, the Belgian found himself with another chance, the three balls being grouped closely. With that start, he took the championship with a run of 74.

Belgian Had Start.

From the start of tonight's play Horemans appeared to be an easy winner. He had taken the first block, 500 to 301, and won the second block, by reaching 1,000 while Schaefer was bringing his total to 913.

In his first three turns at the table tonight, he scored 100, 125 and 89, while Schaefer appeared sadly off stroke and upset by the turn of events at last night and today and in four turns at the table counted only 82 points.

It was not until the eighth inning that Schaefer could get going. Until that moment it appeared that it was a matter of time until another world's championship would leave the United States. Finding the balls closely grouped, Schaefer proved himself the master of every billiard shot while he eclipsed two world's records in his determined effort to retain the championship.

Broke Several Records.

When he made 309 points he set a world's record for billiards played in 500 point blocks. When he made 401 he set a record for all classes of competition.

A shot that he apparently expected to make, a long bank from the red ball at the side rail to the white ball at the end rail, stopped him after he had made the high run. The shot that cost him the title was an open table lineup, the same shot which repeatedly stopped his efforts in the first two blocks. Willie Hoppe, former champion, who sat in Schaefer's corner tonight, said the cloth was slow, accounting for frequent line-ups and freezing of the balls.

Tonight's block was played under protest of Schaefer, who complained against a decision last night by the referee, J. Herbert Lewis, of Chicago. Schaefer today threatened to quit unless Lewis was replaced. It finally was agreed, however, that the winner of tonight's game should meet the loser again inside thirty days.

Score by innings:
Schaefer: 64, 18, 0, 0, 10, 50, 4, 432, 4—582—301—612—1,435.
High run 432. Average 64 6-9.
Horemans: 100, 135, 80, 0, 11, 0, 13, 86, 1, 74—500—500—500—1,500.
High run 135. Average 50.

Chicago, Dec. 2.—(AP)—Edouard Horemans, the Belgian champion and challenger for the world's 18.2 balkline billiard championship, clipped off 100 points in his first start tonight in the final 500-point block of the 1,500-point championship match contest with Jake Schaefer.

J. Herbert Lewis of Chicago again was referee, despite Schaefer's objection to him. Lewis ruled against Schaefer on a shot last night that permitted Horemans to complete the second block of 500 with a run of 131. It was that run Horemans completed tonight with 100, giving him a run of 231.

Schaefer continued play with Lewis only upon agreement that the loser could challenge inside of 30 days.

Schaefer Unsteady.

Schaefer played unsteadily and had no control over the balls. He scored 64 and 18 in two tries, while Horemans ran 135 in his second effort of the evening. The score was 1,235 to 985. Horemans was playing with extreme care with the championship possibly only a step away.

Horemans got 11 and missed a two-foot draw shot at the foot of the table. Schaefer stepped to the table facing a deficit of 331 points. "Come on, Jake," the crowd begged. They remembered once when Jake ran 400 from spot and a man could do that, 331 was not a too severe handicap. Ten was his best, however. He left an impossible shot and Horemans missed after mopping his brow and sighing.

Schaefer Shoots 51.

Schaefer shot a 51. The score then was: Schaefer 1,055; Horemans 1,326.

Horemans took dead aim on every shot. If a shot appeared the least bit difficult he would sight it from all angles before gripping his cue. Once he walked three times around the table, seeking the proper angle for the shot.

In this manner he counted 80 before he missed a lineup in the middle of the table. Schaefer has made much harder shots than Horemans left him, and may have missed intentionally to play Horemans safe. Safety became the order of the evening, both missing their next tries.

Horemans made 13, his last counter being a four-foot masse which

Dartmouth Coach Picks All-American Eleven

New York, Dec. 2.—(AP)—Because of the outstanding position occupied by Dartmouth on the national football horizon this year, unusual interest is attached to the all-American team picked today by the Green's head coach, Jess Hawley, and wired to the Associated Press from French Lick, Indiana.

Hawley honors three of his own stars, Parker, Diehl and Oberlander, with places on the team, but does not pick his brilliant end, Tully, who has been placed on nearly every all-star team named so far.

Illinois has two players on Hawley's eleven but no other team has more than one representative. Five eastern, four middle western and two far western men are included in the team, which follows:

Ends: Oosterbaan, Michigan, and Kassel, Illinois.
Tackles: Parker, Dartmouth, and Weir, Nebraska.
Guards: Diehl, Dartmouth, and Sturhahn, Yale.
Center: McMillan, Princeton.
Quarterback: Grange, Illinois.
Halfbacks: Oberlander, Dartmouth, and Wilson, Washington.
Fullback: Nevers, Stanford.

cost him control of the balls.

Crowd Cheers Jake.

Schaefer lucked one, made one, lucked another and made another for a count of four. The crowd roared at the second break for the former Chicagoan. Shooting his same careful, precise game, Horemans kept control of the balls until he missed at 86, within 75 points of the championship, while Schaefer still needed 441 to retain his crown.

With a display of rare courage, the champion set about retaining his crown, for the first time during the block playing the game of which he is capable. He scored rapidly and he capped his previous high run of 158, at 180 he had good control of the balls.

At 197 Schaefer encountered a lineup along the foot rails and played a marvelous three-cushion. He was pale and his paws were set, but his stroke never faltered.

At 237 he set a high run for the match, beating Horemans's 235, made the opening night.

Jake Sets Record.

When he reached 309 he made a new record for a high run in match play in 500-point blocks. The old record of 308 was made by Willie Hoppe against Welker Cochran.

Schaefer erased what had appeared to be an unsurmountable lead by continuing his world's record run to 367. The score then was: Schaefer 1,426; Horemans 1,425. Schaefer still was in control of the balls.

Schaefer set another record when he reached 401. Once he ran out from the opening shot in a 400-point block. At 420 he needed only 21 more to keep his title.

When he was within nine points of retaining his crown, Schaefer missed a hard bank from the red at the side rail to the white at the end. Horemans needed 75 and got only one. Schaefer then tried for his nine.

Halves: Grange, Illinois, and Britton, Illinois.
Full: Joesting, Minnesota.

Gil Doble, head coach at Cornell, has selected the following All-Eastern team for the Associated Press:

Ends: Korn, Swarthmore, and Thayer, Pennsylvania.
Tackles: Wiberg, Columbia, and Joss, Yale.
Guards: Carey, Cornell, and Diehl, Dartmouth.
Center: Robinson, Pennsylvania.
Quarter: Cheek, Harvard.
Halves: Tryon, Colgate, and Keeler, Brown.
Full: Oberlander, Dartmouth.

Coaches and sport writers throughout the South selected the following All-Southern team for the Associated Press:

Ends: Lowe, Tennessee, and Thompson, Georgia.
Tackles: Rives, Vanderbilt, and Goldstein, Florida.
Guards: Buckler, Alabama, and Levy, Tulane.
Center: Kent, Sewanee.
Quarter: Hulbert, Alabama.
Halves: Flournoy, Tulane, and Brown, Alabama.

A STARTER.

The auctioneer was holding up a pair of olive silver candlesticks. "Give me a start!" he cried.

"Fourpence!"

"What?"

"Ah," said the bidder. "I thought that would give you a start!"—Answers.

Mountain's Claim Draws Horse Laugh

Ironwood and Ishpeming football fans are enjoying hearty horse laughs over an item from Iron Mountain, which the Detroit News printed recently. The blurb declares that "Iron Mountain high school's football team has claimed the championship of the Upper Peninsula." The mountainers couldn't have been funnier if they had claimed the championship of Pike's Peak. There is no such thing as an Upper Peninsula championship and anybody who claims to have won it merely starts the rest of the folks on a giggling spree.

Stribling to Fight at Grand Rapids

Grand Rapids, Mich., Dec. 2.—(AP)—Young Stribling, Georgia schoolboy, light heavyweight boxer, arrived in Grand Rapids tonight for his battle here Friday night with Tommy Burns of Detroit. The two fought a little over a year ago at Toronto and Burns scored a knockdown for a count of five, which is said to have been the only time Stribling ever suffered a knockdown in the ring. Burns defeated Soldier King, a heavyweight of Grand Rapids, in a contest here last summer.

TO BOX REYNOLDS

Detroit, Dec. 2.—(AP)—Phil McGraw, Detroit lightweight, has been matched to meet Jack Reynolds of Muncie, Ind., at Lansing, next Monday night. Archie Sillman, his manager, announced here tonight. The bout will be under the auspices of the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Certainly is funny what some people call coffee.

"Mushy" Calahan Became Title Contender in Single Battle

BY DAN THOMAS.
NEA Service Writer.

Los Angeles, Dec. 2.—Two years ago "Mushy" Callahan was a young newsboy who picked up considerable side money by "scalping" tickets and selling boxing magazines in front of local fight arenas.

Today, others are "scalping" tickets—with "Mushy's" name printed on them in big type—and others are selling those same magazines—with "Mushy's" picture on the cover.

Callahan gained national recognition by knocking out Pal Moran, one of the greatest lightweights of all time, who in 15 years of ring battles was never off his feet.

Moran fought every great puncher the light-weight division has produced in the last 15 years. He dazed Benny Leonard to knock him out and smiled at the former champion's efforts. He laughed at the dreaded fists of Charley White, Lew Tendler, Bobby Barrett, Jack Zivic, Pinky Mitchell and Tommy O'Brien.

And Callahan, celebrating his twentieth birthday, put him down for the count of ten in the third round. It was the second time "Mushy" had knocked out a boxer who had never been down before. He stopped Russie LeRoy of North Dakota in the same ring, also in three rounds.

In the past year Callahan has not dropped a decision. He fought a draw with Ace Hudkins, the Nebraska "wildcat," but five of the six local papers gave him an edge in the fighting.

Eddie Sears, Callahan's manager, who is well known throughout the country as a handler of boxers, is trying to get local promoters to match Callahan with Jimmy Goodrich, recognized light-weight champion. "Mushy's" normal fighting weight is 128½ pounds and Sears has guaranteed he will make 135 pounds for Goodrich.

If the match is made, and it probably will be within the next few months, Callahan will be a 2 to 1 favorite among local boxing fans.

American Ass'n Raises Player Limit at Meeting

Chicago, Dec. 2.—(AP)—Club owners of the American association, opening a two-day meeting, voted today to increase the player limit from 18 to 20, but deferred action on adoption of the schedule for the 1926 season until tomorrow.

Under the new player limit, no rookies will be carried, that is, they will not be classed as rookies. The clubs will be permitted to carry 25 players until June 1, at which date the squads must be reduced to 20, and held at that figure until September 1.

Missouri Gridders Elect Two Captains

Columbia, Mo., Dec. 2.—(AP)—The University of Missouri Tigers, Missouri Valley champions, will have two football captains next year. An election today resulted in a tie between Pete Jackson in a tie between R. F. Baehus of Kansas City, both seniors next year. C. L. Brown, director of athletics, said the two would alternate in piloting.

Baehus is an all-conference end and Jackson an all-conference fullback.

'RED' STARS AS BEARS WIN, 39-6

Grange Makes 4 Touchdowns in Game at St. Louis.

St. Louis, Dec. 2.—(AP)—"Red" Grange performed spectacularly at Sportsman Park here today when he led the Chicago Bears, professional football players, to a 39 to 6 victory over the Donnelly Stars of St. Louis before a crowd estimated at 5,000.

The former Illinois captain scored four touchdowns. He stayed out of the contest for a greater part of the second and third periods, although the crowd put up several yells for his return.

Makes 33-Yard Run.

Grange gained 84 yards in line plays, while forward passes, which he threw or received, added 73 yards more. He made one run back of a punt for 33 yards, his longest run of the day. Thus in all, he accounted for 190 yards for his team.

Earl Britton, former Illinois fullback, whose interference helped make Grange a great ground gainer, made his debut with the Bears today.

Four forward passes in a row, netting 45 yards, gave the Donnelly their only touchdown.

Class Basketball Begins Tonight

Class basketball is again under way at the Escanaba high school, for the coming basketball season. First contests will be played Thursday night after at 4 o'clock, and no admission will be charged to those attending. The first night's schedule for the class teams will be: Juniors vs freshmen and seniors vs sophomores.

Ironwood Unbeaten in Last Three Years

Ironwood, Dec. 2.—Ironwood's high school football teams have not lost a game since 1922, when Iloh Black took up the job of coaching here, and John Cavosie, who captained the Red Devils this season, never has played in a game in which his team lost.

Black was as start coach for two years before he became head of the athletic department of the school.

When winter's snow is falling outside—and the noise of wind roars through the trees—when the house is dark but for the blazing logs in the fireplace—have a Camel!

WHEN it's a winter night and the day that was busy is done. And outside the snow is driving through the trees before the wind. When, inside, the crackling logs catch fire and burst into flames above the hearth—have a Camel!

For Camel is the tried and trusted friend of millions of experienced smokers. Whether your returning steps bring you home tired or jubilant, no sweeter, more mellow fragrance ever came to you from a cigarette. There's not a cigarette after-taste, not a tired taste in a whole county full of Camels. Only mild and mellow flavor, deep-down contentment in your home or any home where Camels are lighted.

So this night, before your roaring logs of oak or hickory—have a Camel. Open up the famous package of Camels and know the fragrance, the contentment that brings happiness to millions. Put a Camel between you and a light and taste the mellowest, most delectable blend ever made into a cigarette.

Have a Camel!

No other cigarette in the world is like Camels. Camels contain the choicest Turkish and domestic tobaccos. The Camel blend is the triumph of expert blenders. Even the Camel cigarette paper is the finest—made especially in France. Into this one brand of cigarettes is concentrated the experience and skill of the largest tobacco organization in the world.

Our highest wish, if you do not yet know Camel quality, is that you try them. We invite you to compare Camels with any cigarette made at any price.

WHY SHOULD MANISTIQUE HESITATE?

Escanaba has only the interest of a friendly neighbor in the result of Manistique's special election on Monday.

Escanaba took this important step in behalf of efficient management of its business affairs, nearly four years ago and has never regretted it.

Gladstone, lying even closer to Manistique than Escanaba, took a similar step three years ago and has never regretted it.

Sault Ste. Marie, Ironwood, Kingsford, Crystal Falls and Stambaugh are other peninsula cities in which council manager governments are functioning today.

Ninety-nine per cent of the people in every city, where a council manager government has been adopted, will testify that they are getting a dollar's worth of value for every tax dollar they spend.

Ninety-nine per cent of the people of Escanaba, of Gladstone, Sault Ste. Marie, Ironwood, Kingsford, Crystal Falls and Stambaugh, will testify that a council manager government has proven itself more responsive to the needs of all of the people of any city than any form of government yet devised.

Ninety-nine per cent of the people of Escanaba, of Gladstone, Sault Ste. Marie, Ironwood, Kingsford, Crystal Falls and Stambaugh will testify that their cities have been better places in which to live, through the operation of council manager governments.

Ninety-nine per cent of the people of Escanaba, of Gladstone, Sault Ste. Marie, Ironwood, Kingsford, Crystal Falls, Kingsford and Stambaugh will testify that a council manager government operates to the benefit equally of the small tax payers, the large taxpayers and of the entire community.

If ninety-nine per cent of the people of upper peninsula cities, who have tried council manager governments, will so testify, WHY SHOULD MANISTIQUE HESITATE?

DEMOCRATS IN QUANDARY. The Democrats, Washington reveals, are less inclined to make an issue over the taxation bill than they were when the present law was being framed.

growing out of the sustained prosperity of the country, never stood higher. Many Democratic leaders admit, as a matter of fact, that there is small chance of a successful campaign against the Republicans until the business and industrial situation has decidedly changed for the worse.

But, however that may be, the fact remains, and the Democrats are coming more and more to recognize their impotence, in light of the widespread feeling that well enough may be let alone.

HEAR THE WALL! Visitors at police headquarters on the morning of Jan. 2 will hear a flock of assorted wails and plaints because the department refuses longer to recognize the validity of 1925 automobile license plates.

The excuse will not be accepted. The license plates are now on sale here. There is no reason why a motorist should not equip his car with the new tin tags long before dead line time.

The procedure is easy. The process of application is the same as last year. The applicant must present a certificate of title with his formal request.

The ruling is just. It is reasonable and fair, but just wait to hear that wail in January!

A Lower Michigan shiek shot a girl who refused to kiss him. We aren't sure, but we are afraid he carried his insistence a trifle too far.

Milwaukee police found a man in a state of coma among 200 wine casks in a cellar. It was not explained how many of the casks were emptied before he lost consciousness.

The German crown prince is reported to be formulating plans for a new German empire. That would entitle him to the pipe dream championship were it not for the American scientist who is formulating plans for shooting a sky rocket to the moon.

The world may not be growing more sane, but it's a long time since we heard about somebody going over Niagara Falls in a barrel.

Luis Firpo demands a return match with Jack Dempsey. Luis has observed Jack's attitude towards the profession of flatcuffs long enough to decide that he's perfectly safe.

SPINSTERHOOD

BEGIN HERE TODAY BARBARA HAWLEY, 25, breaks with her fiancé, BRUCE REYNOLDS, when he proposes her plan to get a job on the Press and see life.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER VII. For a moment it seemed to Barbara that the clock must have made some insane leap around the circle.

When she entered Nikoloff's apartment, it had been only ten o'clock. It was now six minutes after twelve. No feature copy would be accepted after noon.

SCOT WEARS 3 SUITS London—A Scotch passenger on an Imperial Airways air liner was perishing abnormally when the ship landed.

"You might use it tomorrow," volunteered Barbara, quaking at her own temerity. "Tomorrow!" The city editor gave up the attempt to express his contempt.

Then, as if exhausted by Barbara's stupidity, he began to speak very slowly and patiently, as if to a little child. "In this game, Miss Hawley, there is no tomorrow.

"A story that is worth half a column today is not worth half an inch tomorrow. To be specific, Nikoloff gives his consent tonight, and leaves town at midnight. Tomorrow he will be as if he never had been, so far as Escanaba is concerned.

She did not want to think of him, but the thought would not be shut out. Just three days had passed since that last interview in the living room at home.

"The first lady prefers white to colored lingerie. Her purchases in the underwear departments yesterday afternoon adhered firmly to the conservative color note, in spite of the attempts of saleswomen to press upon her the latest in apple green combination suits, and orchid chemises.

"Whereupon she picked up her parcels of white unmentionables and departed for the glove department." There it was, right in the middle of page one, under a three-column cut of the governor's wife and a staring black headline, which read, "No Peach-Colored Nighties for Me," Says Governor's Lady.

There followed a favorable comment upon the taste of the enviable woman, an epic on her choice of furs, some remarks on shoes and gloves, and a lyric on her lingerie.

Barbara settled back in the creaking swivel chair. Her hand lay caressingly upon the smiling picture of the governor's lady.

"Guess so," said Barbara, happily. "It got good position, didn't it?" "Best in the world," said Bob. "Sort of stuff that means circulation, too. People rave on about yellow journalism, but gad, how they eat it up! And women make the best yellow journalists in the world, you know."

He looked at Barbara, expecting a sharp retort. But he was disappointed. "Surely they do," she said, "because they have a nose for gossip and a flair for picturesque impropriety. The talk that passes over the back fences in our street would keep any paper supplied with spicy news for weeks."

A telephone call took Bob away and left Barbara to her pleasant meditations. She picked up the paper again and gazed upon her story. Then, condescendingly, she opened the paper and began to read some of the copy of other writers.

She was beginning to feel the warm affection for the Press that young reporters develop, with their first "beat." Having read the news column rather thoroughly, Barbara glanced at some of the advertisements. Even for these she felt a personal affection.

WINS TUG OF WAR.

Solby LeFevre reports an exciting adventure of tug-of-war in which he had a decided advantage over his opponent which was a weasel. Going to his bars to do his round of chores he noticed that his dog was very uneasy and pawing around a plank. Mr. LeFevre moved this and saw the hind quarters of a rat sticking out of a hole and wiggling on the other side of the plank. He reached down and grasped the body of the rat and pulled. He felt a steady tugging on the head of the rat but while the weasel was grating to the last and hung on to his prey he had no show to pull against LeFevre's strong arm. And out it came rat and weasel too. So obstinate was the latter or so anxious to retain his Thanksgiving dinner that he made no effort whatever to get away so that his captor had no difficulty in killing it. The rat already dead.

NEW LIGHT PLANT.

Frank DeVet has just installed a Kohler electric light and power plant on his property at Fairport. Not only is the residence wired but the whole of his dock including the various fishing sheds located thereon. Electricians from the Radio Electric Shop of Escanaba did the wiring the early part of the week. On Saturday, Mr. DeVet and his sons made an unusually big list of twenty-five hundred pounds of chubs from five boxes of nets. It kept the whole crew of workers until one o'clock on Sunday morning dressing and preparing for shipment to Green Bay. It was then that they tested the value of their new shipment. Their benches and tables, wherever their work lay was flooded with light as bright in the sheds as daylight and they were able to put in those long hours of toil in comparative comfort. Mr. DeVet is exceptionally well pleased with his new investment.

DOCK EXTENDED.

John Geirke and his sons, Fairport fisherman, have spent a large part of the summer fixing and extending their dock. The work is completed and the dock is ready for business. But it cannot be used. By actual measurement it has been learned that from July to the 15th of November, the water has gone down fifteen inches. Lack of water has rendered the dock useless. It is stated that if the water goes down two feet more that none of the Fairport fisherman will be able to get in industry. In spite of optimistic statements by well-known authorities that by next midsummer the water will be back to normal, local men have their doubts.

MRS. PURTILL.

This village was shocked on the very eve of Thanksgiving by the news which came through from Green Bay concerning the automobile accident in which Mrs. Patrick Purtil of Van's Harbor was involved. At first it was generally believed that the accident had terminated fatally but this report was subsequently contradicted. It was found that the unfortunate woman had walked across the street and had been knocked down by an automobile. Her head was badly cut needing a number of stitches but it was not considered that her injuries were of a serious nature. Latest reports are to the effect that she is resting nicely. Mr. Purtil and his son Edward motored down to Green Bay on Wednesday.

A gift that only you can make, your photograph. Drop in early to Brault's, Manistique, and have some good ones made that you can use at Christmas time. 7428-337-11.

MRS. ELMER BONIFAS.

Mrs. Elmer Bonifas aged 26 of Isabella died Sunday morning following a brief illness occasioned by a cold. She is survived by her husband four children aged three years, two years and twins three months old, her mother, four brothers and five sisters. The funeral was held Tuesday morning from the Congregational church of which Mrs. Bonifas was a member. Rev. Morrison of Manistique and Rev. Smith of Rapid River officiated. There was a large attendance and the casket was covered with the floral tributes sent by the many friends who held Mrs. Bonifas in high esteem.

NETS ARE FOUND.

When John Chaffee and Frances DeVet went out on the Lake near Point DeTour on Saturday last they could not find their buoys. They had been caught by floating buoys which other fishermen had set and were pulled under water by the hooks. They drifted around for several hours in search of the buoys but finally had to give it up. They went subsequently equipped with grappling hooks and were successful in finding their buoys and nets.

GETS NEW BOAT.

Earl Killoran, Fairport fisherman, has just purchased a brand new forty three foot long boat. The engine uses crude oil for fuel and the boat is up to date in every respect. It is essentially a "rough weather boat" and considered to be one of the best light netting boats in service in local waters. It was built at Sturgeon Bay and is called "Silver Spray."

Will Any Suffer Refuse This Offer?

INDIGESTION

People's Drug Store Declares Money Back If One Bottle Doesn't Make Any Stomach Sufferer Happy.

Why bother with slow actors when one tablespoonful of Dare's Mentha Pepsin, a splendid and pleasant elixir will cause gas, bloating, heaviness, heartburn or any upset condition of the stomach to speedily vanish.

And why should any man or woman suffer another hour with indigestion or any stomach misery when the remedy that acts almost instantly can be easily procured?

But there is more to say about this remarkable remedy—something that will interest thousands of despondent people.

Dare's Mentha Pepsin not only quickly relieves stomach distress, but it also conquers stubborn indigestion, dyspepsia and gastritis and puts an end to dizziness, nervousness, headache, sleeplessness and despondency which distressing troubles are nearly always caused by chronic stomach disturbance.

Dare's Mentha Pepsin is pleasant to take, has a delightfully refreshing taste and after it has put your stomach in a clean and healthy condition, just notice how much better you look and feel, for besides correcting stomach disorders this supremely good remedy that People's Drug Store and druggists everywhere guarantee, is a fine tonic that builds you up and makes you work with vim, eat with relish and sleep soundly.

Indeed if it wasn't such a wonderfully efficient remedy tens of thousands of bottles would not be sold daily.

"HAM" HOLDS MOCK FUNERAL FOR SET
Lisbon, Portugal—When the Portuguese government issued an order preventing all private amateur radio stations from broadcasting, one amateur held a mock funeral for his set.
All of the solemn rites were carried out. The set was placed on a funeral carriage followed by mourners and taken to the display window of a radio store which had been converted into a chapel. The set was placed on a black-draped bier surrounded by wreaths and burning candles. Heavily black-bordered death notices were sent to friends.
