DISCONTENT IN IOWA WORRIES PARTY LEADERS

FARMERS WANT HELP; MAY CAUSE TROUBLE.

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Jan. 2.—Although it is a little early to translate the Iowa discontent over the agricultural situation into political significance there is no doubt that the administration is a good deal worried over what the effect of the upheaval may be on the congressional elections next autumn.

Politicians know that the issue raised in the west, namely, a government subsidy to the farmer in handling the export problem, has all the earmarks of an effective campaign weapon. And the time is opportune because between now and next summer the aspirants for congressional nominations are looking around for an opportunity to oppose the men who hold seats in congress. This invariably has the effect of turning otherwise regular republicans into insurgents. The pressure from within is too strong to withstand. A regular turned insurgent is a loss to the administration strength in congress and the majorities in both houses are none too large.

Iowa is "Hinge"

In other words, on the way the agricultural problems of Iowa are handled by the administration may depend the whole course of administration policy in the next few months. The tariff which might be slumbering now in the bosom of the old guard with no likelihood of being tinkered with at any moment be the victim of an attack by agricultural members of congress. It is not so much that the tariff is sought as a protection for farm products. Its benefits are conceded to a certain extent but the farmer is being revoked to protest against a tariff that makes the prices of his purchases too high. Back of the attack on the tariff, however, is quite another principle, namely, that the industries of the United States are given a virtual subsidy by the Fordney tariff law and that the McNary-Haugen bill is really a tariff protection with the principle reversed so as to protect the farmer against loss costs of production in the foreign market and too great fluctuations in the export prices. If the government can protect industry by a tariff against imports, it can set up an economic barrier against the invasion of domestic farm prices by the export surplus price. That is the reasoning of the agricultural economists.

Many Revolts in Corn Belt.

It may be faulty but it has enough political ammunition in it to alienate a whole section of republican strength. Most revolts in the republican party have started in Iowa and the corn belt. The insurgency of Dolliver which led to the revolt of 1912 started there. The Brookhart movement which had its counterpart in neighboring states was an Iowa revolt. The situation today is somewhat different in that the regular republicans are better organized and withstanding the attack, the administration in Washington is at a disadvantage to political uprisings much more than its predecessors. Secretary Jardine has his ear to the ground and President Coolidge is listening in very carefully. The administration will therefore have some farm relief measure to propose as an alternative and will not meet the insurgency lying down. It's too early to say who will win out especially as the crisis will not come for several weeks when congress will have had a chance to study and debate the many proposals for farm aid by the government.

Police Dog Stops Escaping Burglar

Hancock, Mich., Jan. 4.—(AP)—A German police dog prevented the escape of a burglar in Hancock early this morning. A broken window in the unoccupied residence of the late Mrs. Jacob Gartner led to the discovery of the house-breaker by Hugo M. Field, Hancock merchant, who found him hiding under a bed in a second-floor bedroom. The man had several suitcases full of valuables ready to make his escape at the first opportunity. Field carried a large key in his hand, making the burglar believe it was a gun. He snatched him downstairs onto the porch. There the man discovered he was not "covered" and made a dash for liberty. Field's trained police dog was set after the fleeing burglar and it pounced upon his back, bringing him to the pavement. With the aid of the dog, the man was taken to the police station, where he gave his name as Joseph Boer, recently from the Pacific coast.

FARM RELIEF BILLS GIVEN TO CONGRESS

DISPOSAL OF SURPLUS CROPS PROVIDED.

Washington, Jan. 4.—(AP)—Farm relief proposals came before congress from a number of sources when it reconvened today, one of them a bill by Representative Dickinson, Republican, Iowa, a recognized leader in the house farm bloc.

The Dickinson proposal, drafted after the conference with various farming organizations, was designed to provide for the disposal through cooperative associations of the exportable surpluses of wheat, corn, rye, cotton, tobacco, cattle and swine.

Proposed Advisory Council. Machinery to be set up to handle the surpluses would comprise a federal farm advisory council and a federal farm board of seven members, including the secretary of agriculture and six others to be selected from 18 names submitted by the advisory council.

First Step in Marketing a Surplus

The first step in marketing a surplus would be a declaration by the farm board that an emergency existed in one or more basic commodities. Cooperative agencies would then be instructed to buy the commodity so designated at the domestic price and sell it at the world price. Later the agencies would be reimbursed for losses thus sustained from funds obtained by the collection of an equalization fee levied on producers.

Farm Credit Proposed.

Another proposal was a bill introduced by Senator McKinley, Republican, Illinois, to extend direct credit aid from government banking agencies to farmers' cooperative associations. Representative Tillman, Democrat, Arkansas, also introduced a measure calling for expenditure of $225,000 in the next two fiscal years for the creation and operation of cooperative marketing agencies in the agriculture department.

Still another proposal came from a group of dairymen who called on Senator Pepper, Republican, Pennsylvania, and urged an increase in funds allotted for the eradication of tuberculosis in dairy herds.

FLOODS SWEEP WEST EUROPE

Paris, Jan. 4.—(AP)—Transylvania, eastern Hungary and Rumania present the most critical situation in Europe, which is slowly emerging from one of the worst floods in its history.

The number of dead in these countries and the amount of damage inflicted probably will not be known for several days, perhaps weeks, because of the demoralization of communications and because vast areas of the territory are likely to remain under water for some time. But, it is certain that there will be a tremendous death toll and huge financial losses.

Western Europe Recovering.

The swollen rivers and canals in Belgium and Holland are going down, the German and Polish rivers also are receding. The situation in France remains at a standstill, but the rain there continues unabated. Details of the casualties and the suffering in Transylvania; Hungary and Rumania are slowly reaching Budapest and Bucharest. It is variously estimated that between 500 and 1,000 persons have perished while the loss in cattle and the damage to spring wheat and property is tremendous.

Small Communities Suffer.

Most deaths occurred in isolated hamlets and on small farms where the residents had no warning of approaching danger. This makes the task of close computation of casualties also impossible. Many died of hunger or exposure as they waited to be rescued from their houseboats or other vantage points.

Eastern Hungary has suffered greatly, but the wheat crops are more reassuring. Foxes are so numerous in East Kent this year that they have been seen in daylight in the lanes.

Lets Water From Rink to Prevent Drowning Mishap

Rosdorf, Hessen, Germany, Jan. 4.—(AP)—The people of Rosdorf are claiming the year's first "safety first" prize for their burgomaster.

Hoping to popularize himself with the skaters of the town—and most of the voters skate—the burgomaster clanged the village bell and announced that the community's large outdoor swimming pool was frozen and ready for skating. But skating enthusiasts found the ice cracked and sagged so that it touched the bottom of the pool.

The burgomaster explained that he drained all the water out to prevent drowning should anyone break through.

ROTARY CHIEF VISITS IN CITY

Lee Racey of Appleton Addresses Gladstone, Escanaba Clubs.

That Rotary, established in 2,290 cities of the world, with its fundamental principle of service being practiced by 113,000 individuals, cannot but constitute a force for good, that will increase with the passing years, was the message brought to members of the Escanaba and Gladstone Rotary clubs, in joint session at the Wells boarding house last night, by Lee Racey of Appleton, governor of the Tenth International Rotary district.

Replies to Criticisms.

In analyzing the criticism, both from without and from within Rotary, that the organization owes too much to its tangibility, and that the fundamental principles of Rotary express the highest type of philosophy of life, representing ideals that are constantly being striven for and it was his assertion that no individual could regularly attend the sessions of such an organization and escape the contagion of its precepts.

Through high ideals being constantly held before a definite group of men in hundreds of communities throughout the world, the speaker held that mankind could not but profit from it. In future crises that will develop in the history of the world, it was the argument of the speaker, the real virtue of Rotary will then be demonstrated, in offering a common ground of thought and of action.

Golden Rule's Benefits.

The benefits that must naturally flow through even an attempt to practice the Golden Rule in business and in professions by Rotarians, was counted as another of the tangible results being achieved through the existence of the Rotary organization. The speaker asserted that no matter how feeble may be the attempt on the part of all Rotarians to practice the Golden Rule in their business, the fact that better business ethics and methods are constantly being held before all members of Rotary clubs, through discussion at their sessions, is bound to produce beneficial results and this he recorded as another of the tangible results that Rotary, as an organization is accomplishing.

Friendships Worth While.

But the greatest of all benefits that accrue from Rotary, Dist. Governor Racey asserted, was to be found in the sincere and lasting friendships that are made possible through this organization. Through Rotary, the speaker pointed out, a common ground is offered upon which men of every business and profession can meet.

POPE PIUS EXPRESSSES SADNESS AT VATICAN.

Borghera, Italy, Jan. 4.—(AP)—As a family might mourn one of its best beloved members, Italy tonight mourned the loss of Dowager Queen Margherita of Italy, mother of King Victor Emmanuel, who died peacefully at 11 o'clock this morning, surrounded by her immediate family in her modest villa on the sunny shores of the Riviera.

Although her death was not unexpected, it brought forth a spontaneous wave of characteristic intense emotion from the entire land, plunging the Italians everywhere in sorrow for the passing of the gentle old woman, known as "the Italian queen," because she alone of Italy's feminine sovereigns was born on Cisalpine soil.

Blood Clot Fatal.

Death was due to cerebral thrombus, or blood clot, symptoms of which became manifest yesterday morning after the queen mother apparently had recovered from an attack of pleurisy pneumonia.

Immediately on being informed by Cardinal Gasparri of the death of the queen, whom he knew personally, Pope Pius expressed deep sadness and retired to pray in his private chapel. It is asserted, but cannot be confirmed that the pope conferred a papal benediction when it became apparent that the royal sufferer could not survive, this being significant in view of the friction between King Humbert, the queen's husband, and the Holy See.

Premier Mussolini issued a proclamation to the nation and the armed forces, recalling that Margherita had always been the symbol of regality and gentility. He lay in bed for Bordighera.

Funeral Plans Incomplete.

Throughout the nation normal activities have been stilled, buildings are draped with black and flags half-staffed. The theaters, schools, public buildings and most of the stores have been closed.

No Arrangements Had Yet Been Made Tonight for the Funeral.

It is believed it will be elaborately carried out at Rome. The press has appealed for her burial beside her husband in the Pantheon, the repository of the nation's most illustrious dead.

Coolidge Cables.

Washington, Jan. 4.—(AP)—President Coolidge cabled today to King Emmanuel of Italy the following message of condolence: "On behalf of the government and people of the United States, permit me to extend to Your Majesty and Her Majesty, the Queen, heartfelt sympathy at the death of your illustrious mother and the profound condolences of Mrs. Coolidge and myself."

Builder Blamed for Grandstand Collapse

Pasadena, Cal., Jan. 4.—(AP)—Blame for the grandstand collapse here New Year's day which resulted in three deaths and more than 200 injuries, was placed by a coroner's jury late today on Paul F. Manoney, who built the stand, and the building inspection department of Pasadena. "Carelessness and neglect" were charged in the findings.

Toledo Milk Plant Involved in Merger

Toledo, O., Jan. 4.—(AP)—The National Dairy company of Toledo with plants in Moreland, Pioneer, Camden and Seneca, Mich., Butler and Wolcottville, Ind., today became a part of a merger of milk plants under the title of the United Milk Products corporation, a $50,000,000 company, it was announced here.

Near East College Fund Drive Closes

New York, Jan. 4.—(AP)—The campaign of the fund for Near East colleges closed today, with a total subscription of $3,053,538, which is $2,523 more than the amount needed to operate five American colleges in the Near East during the next five years, it was announced.

GIVES UP THRONE FOR FREEDOM

Prince Carol of Rumania has renounced his rights to the throne and European gossip says that he is touring the continent with a beautiful woman, other than his wife. His royal rights fall to his son, Prince Michael, 4. Carol is shown at the left, and Princess Helena, his wife, at the right.

Royalty Getting Tired of Boredom in Palace; Seeks Revelry of Jazz

Paris, Jan. 4.—(NEA)—The jazz age has descended in column of fours on the crowned heads of the world. There is boredom in the palaces and blue-stocking revelry in the casinos.

Back in the good old days, when a throne was a throne and every king had a squad of royal executioners and soft-voiced ladies-in-waiting to keep him company, a crown wasn't so bad. But now it just naturally doesn't elicit.

Crown Prince Carol of Rumania, heir apparent to the Graustarkian throne of the little Balkan kingdom, is the latest to see the light. With one sweep of the hand he has tossed his rights to the crown out the royal window and has set out to be just folks for the rest of his life.

Alfonso Is Bored.

King Alfonso of Spain is one. Since General Primo Rivera came in to run the country Alfonso has found time hanging heavy on his hands, and recently the Spanish cabinet let it be known it deplored the royal fondness for bathing beaches, games of chance and vintage of '86 in preference to affairs of state.

And then you remember Sir Hari Singh, maharajah of one of India's many kingdoms and one of the richest and most powerful kings of the East. Sir Hari found life in India altogether too dull, so he went to London and began to make the rounds of the cabarets, hotels and criminal court-rooms with a carefree abandon.

The Shah of Persia was still another. He willingly abdicated his rights to the Persian throne and hastened to Paris, there to drown his sorrows, if any, in the sparkling wine of Montmartre. To be sure, being shah of Persia is something like being president of Nicaragua; it's a fine job, but you never can tell when the firing squad is coming to call. But anyhow, the shah wasn't at all disappointed over quitting the throne.

She Spurned Wales.

Then there was Princess Yolande of Italy. Princess Yolande, it is said, had a chance to marry the Prince of Wales and become, some day, queen of England, Ireland and Scotland and Empress of India, all rights reserved. And the crown prince of Belgium came calling, too, intimating that Belgium wasn't a bad country to be queen of. But Yolande spurned them.

Piggly Wiggly Suit Dropped in Court

Memphis, Tenn., Jan. 4.—(AP)—Suit instituted by E. A. Gullfoyle in behalf of himself and other stockholders against the directors of the Piggly Wiggly corporation, seeking judgment for approximately $2,500,000 as a result of the stock market transactions of Clarence Saunders in 1922 and 1923, was dismissed in chancery court today on motion of attorneys for Gullfoyle.

DOHENY LOSES IN APPEAL ON OIL LAND CASE

CANCELLATION OF LEASEHOLDS UPHELD.

San Francisco, Jan. 4.—(AP)—A decision which if upheld by the United States supreme court, will strip the Edward L. Doheny interests of all of their protected leaseholds in naval oil reserve number one in California, and deny them any relief for work performed in such reserves and at the Pearl Harbor oil station at Honolulu, was handed down here today by the United States circuit court of appeals.

The court upheld the action of the United States district court in Los Angeles in ordering the cancellation of the leaseholds in question on the ground that they were obtained through conspiracy and collusion. The court, however, reversed the finding of the trial court that the Pan-American Petroleum and Transportation company, the lessee, should be compensated by $11,786,928 for work done in establishing the Pearl Harbor oil base, and for exploration and drilling work in the Elk Hills fields, the focal point of the controversy.

FIRST CASE PROBED.

The government's suit against the E. L. Doheny oil interests was the first case investigated by the United States senate committee to come to trial. During the senate investigation Doheny testified that he expected to realize $100,000,000 on the leases and contracts involving the Elk Hills naval oil reserve, Kern county, California, and construction of the navy oil base at Pearl Harbor, Hawaii.

Federal Judge Paul J. McCormick at Los Angeles, after hearing the case, which opened in October, 1924, ordered the leases and contracts cancelled on two grounds. First, that they were against public policy because the action of the then secretary of the interior, Albert B. Fall, in making them was fraudulent, and second, because the executive order under which the instruments were executed was invalid.

In its complaint the government charged that a fraudulent conspiracy between Fall and Doheny entered into negotiations surrounding the leases. Government counsel charged specifically that the $100,000 "loan" Doheny made to Fall in November, 1921, was a bribe and constituted a fraud on the United States.

Counsel for Doheny defended the $100,000 transaction as a personal loan between friends of long-standing and held that it played no part in securing the leases since the lender took place more than a year previous to the letting of the major lease in suit.

Irving Berlin, Popular Song Writer, Married to Miss Ellin Mackay

New York, Jan. 4.—(AP)—Irving Berlin, the Russian immigrant and former Bowery saloon waiter, who later became a popular song writer and producer of reviews, today married Miss Ellin Mackay, daughter of Clarence H. Mackay, head of the Postal Telegraph company. The ceremony was performed by Deputy City Clerk McCormick, in the Municipal building.

When informed of the marriage, Mr. Mackay, prominent layman in the Roman Catholic church, issued a statement, asserting: "The wedding is a complete surprise and was without my knowledge or consent. Beyond that, I have nothing to say."

Three years ago, Miss Mackay, who is 22, made her debut in society. Berlin gave his age as 37. Father Opposed Marriage. Mr. Mackay's persistent opposition delayed the marriage which had been expected for months, by friends of Berlin and Miss Mackay. Her mother, who now is the wife of Dr. Joseph A. Blake, gave her consent several months ago.

Berlin's song, "Remember," which was sung by John McCormack in the international radio program New Year's night, was said to have been written to Miss Mackay.

ROBERT HELD IN PRISON AT SAN QUENTIN

INVOLVED IN DRUG STORE HOLDUP IN CHICAGO.

San Francisco, Cal., Jan. 4.—(AP)—Photographs in a Chicago police bulletin have identified John Redding, serving a sentence at San Quentin prison, as Robert B. Scott, sought in connection with the murder of Joseph Maurer, Chicago drugstore clerk, Duncan Mathyson, San Francisco chief of detectives, said tonight. Police consider the identification positive.

Scott's brother, Russell, was convicted for the Maurer slaying and was sent to an Illinois insane asylum after being saved from the gallows by a last-minute court order.

The prisoner known as Redding, was at a remote prison road camp tonight unaware that he had been identified as Scott.

The identification was made after the man known as Redding had been granted a Christmas parole for good conduct. He had no job to go to, and the parole was not made effective. The parole now is indefinitely held up, pending action by Illinois officials.

Sentenced in 1924. Redding was sent to San Quentin for the robbery of a haberdashery store in San Francisco in 1924.

The murder charge against Robert B. Scott was based on allegations of his brother, Russell, who asserted at his trial in Chicago, that Robert killed Maurer.

The Russell Scott case ended in a death sentence, but an eleventh hour reprieve saved him from the gallows. Later he was found insane.

WAS WIDELY HUNTED.

Chicago, Jan. 4.—(AP)—Robert Scott, who prison authorities at San Quentin say is serving a sentence there under the name of John Redding, was hunted throughout the country after his brother, Russell Scott had been arrested in connection with slaying of Joseph Maurer, drug clerk, during a robbery in 1924. Russell Scott, who, with his brother at one time headed a large Canadian syndicate, maintaining that Robert fired the shot which killed Maurer. Russell was sentenced to be hanged and several times escaped the gallows by a margin of only a few hours through court action.

Was Declared Insane.

One time he was saved by a telegram purporting to be from Robert and sent from Detroit to Governor Small. This message said that Robert was the slayer and was enroute to surrender. Russell's father and his wife appealed in vain for some word from Robert which would save Russell from the gallows.

Finally a sanity hearing was obtained for Russell a few hours before he was to have been executed and later he was declared insane and sent to the Chester asylum where he is now confined. Under the order of commitment, he is to be executed if he should ever be found sane.

Robert's wife recently was reported to have been located in an eastern city living under an assumed name.

SCOTT SILENT.

Chester, Ill., Jan. 4.—(AP)—Russell Scott, confined in the state asylum here, refused to make any statement when advised tonight by The Associated Press that a prisoner in San Quentin prison had been identified as his brother, Robert B. Scott.

He showed little surprise and refused to say whether he believes the man in the penitentiary is really his brother. He also declined to discuss an assertion he made during his trial for the slaying of Joseph Maurer that his brother, Robert, fired the shot that killed Maurer.

Governor Exonerates Sheriff in Bullfight Squabble in Florida

Tampa, Fla., Jan. 4.—(AP)—Sheriff L. M. Hiers, exonerated today by Gov. John W. Martin of a charge of failing to uphold the law by permitting a bull fight in Tampa, tonight was homeward bound, instant upon preventing Cuban and Spanish clubs from staging any more "bloodless" bull fights. The county official is quoted as saying in Tallahassee that there would be no more such exhibitions in Tampa. Fernine Suto, secretary of the Centro Espanol, which sponsored the fights here Saturday, today admitted his club and the Cuban club were planning to hold a series of them as soon as the "revolution is over in Tallahassee." The secretary was referring to the hearing of charges against Hiers by the governor.

WALES TO WED ASTRID, RUMOR

Reported Prince in Love With Swedish Princess.

London, Jan. 3.—(AP)—The matrimonial intentions of Edward, Prince of Wales, which, for the last decade, have allured or excited all, though they disappeared some of the subjects of his father, King George, are declared by persons close to the court to be centered on his cousin, the little known Swedish Princess Astrid, niece of the King of Sweden. She is one of the few daughters of royal blood eligible by religion to become the consort of England's heir to the throne.

The source of this information would appear to take the edge off recent general denials that there was a possible heir affair between the Prince of Wales and Princess Astrid, and that she contemplated an early visit to England. The princess is known and loved by the British reigning family and it is again asserted that she will pay an official visit to London next spring.

When the prince became heir to the throne, Britons began leisurely to look for a bride for him, and at one time or another all the princesses of Europe—the German and Austrian prominently in the days before the war—have been mentioned. With the demoralizing effect of the marriage of the Duke of York and Princess Mary with commoners, the names of many daughters of the peerage have been coupled with his.

The Prince of Wales is now 31 years of age. Not for hundreds of years has the heir to the British throne reached this age without a wife, and if this condition has not bothered him, as his intimates declare to be case, it has worked just the other way with the British people. Most of the British girls, believed at some time to be on the verge of marriage with Wales, found mates elsewhere. This, with the collapse of hopeful enthusiasm which surrounded the visits of Princesses of Spain, Belgium, Italy and Rumania to England, made many people believe the story that the prince had declared he would never marry.

It is authoritatively learned several years ago that Wales informed his family that he did not wish to marry until he had completed tours over the empire and that he would not take a bride unless he loved her. It is known that Queen Mary is anxious to see her children happily married, and that it was her desire for this happiness, which brought royal consent to the marriages of Princess Mary and the Duke of York outside of the reigning families, and it is suggested confidently that the Prince of Wales, who has often met Princess Astrid, has more than a cousinly feeling for the pretty Swedish girl.

The government introduced a mass of evidence designed to show that throughout the negotiations Fall and Doheny were the chief factors in all important matters leading up to the letting of the leases. Other evidence tended to show that secrecy surrounded the negotiations and that the leases were made without competitive bidding.

Contending Denby Approved. Countering this contention the oil magnate's counsel, through evidence and argument, held that Edwin Denby, at that time secretary of the navy and in charge of naval oil matters, was always informed of the various steps in making the leases and that secrecy was ordered by the navy department because of the Pearl Harbor project was included in the navy's war plans.

Defense counsel pointed specifically to testimony of Admiral J. K. Robison, in charge of oil matters under Secretary Denby, who testified that "I never did one thing in this oil business without its being approved by Secretary Denby first."

During the arguments on the appeals attorneys for Doheny called the attention of the court to the decision of Federal Judge Kennedy at Cheyenne, who declined to cancel leases held by the Mammoth Oil company, executed at about the same time as the Doheny leases, and quoted that part of the decision which said "to hold that it was not Denby's official act, it seems to us, little short of branding him as an imbecile."

The leases to Doheny were executed under the executive order of May 31, 1921, signed by President Harding, delegating power to lease naval oil lands to the secretary of the navy. Preceding this order was the congressional act of June 4, 1920, known as the naval oil reserve act, which authorized the secretary of the navy to lease and operate these lands "in his discretion" and "for the benefit of the United States."

Lee Trinkle, Jr., who was asleep on the third floor. She was burned about the face, neck and arms, but, with her son, leaped from his window to the ground. ASKS APPROVAL OF DEBT PACTS

Mellon Urges Congress Okeh to Improve Foreign Mart.

Washington, Jan. 4.—(AP)—Approval of the war debt settlements negotiated during the summer with Italy, Belgium and other nations by the debt commission, "in the interests of those American producers who must have a foreign market able to pay" was urged by Secretary Mellon today before the house ways and means committee.

Mr. Mellon discussed the negotiations and told the committee that the entire foreign debt is not worth as much to the American people in dollars and cents as a prosperous Europe as a customer. He described the settlements as "just and 'in the real interests of our country.'"

Favorable report to the house on the agreements is expected to be ordered tomorrow by the committee, and Chairman Green announced he would ask for their consideration before the end of the week after which they must be passed by the senate.

Bootlegging Ring's Activities Probed by Columbus Jury

Investigation by federal grand jury here of alleged activities of a Columbus and Detroit bootleg ring took on a wider aspect today as information was laid before the body which was said to have involved Philadelphia concerns purporting to manufacture perfume and toilet water.

Federal agents said the ring has been disposing 10,000 gallons of alcohol weekly in Ohio and Michigan and it was indicated a large part was fraudulently obtained from government warehouses in Philadelphia on permits to fictitious perfume companies. The hearing of witnesses and presentation of documentary evidence occupied all of today's session and will continue through tomorrow. Pictures of automobiles equipped with secret tanks for liquor and of a shop in Detroit where they were installed were included in the exhibits. Fleets of cars so equipped ran between Philadelphia and Cleveland, Columbus and Detroit, it was charged.

SENATE GIVEN TAX CUT BILL

Republican Insurgents to Fight for Tax Publicity.

Washington, Jan. 4.—(AP)—The tax reduction bill was started on its way in the senate today, making it a three-cornered fight. Secretary Mellon expressed the administration's position generally by warning the senate finance committee that the measure as passed by the house represented the total amount of tax reduction which the condition of the treasury warranted—about $330,000,000. This sum was the surplus the government had, he said, at the close of the last fiscal year.

Before the day was over both Republicans and Democrats of the committee met in separate conference to discuss changes in the bill. Simmons Opposes Bill. Senator Simmons of North Carolina, ranking Democrat on the committee, announced later he was dissatisfied with the house bill and hoped that senate Democrats would urge greater reduction than it provided, mentioning $400,000,000 as the minimum.

Chairman Smoot, spokesman for the Republicans, meanwhile has under consideration some changes in the rate of schedules which will not disturb the total amount of tax reduction. He is considering increasing the exemption from the admission tax from 50 cents to $1. He would offset this, under the tentative plan, by repealing provisions in the bill, cutting in half the alcohol levy.

$100,000 Loss Fixed in Clare Store Fire

Clare, Mich., Jan. 4.—(AP)—Fire which destroyed the Davy building here Sunday morning caused a loss estimated at $100,000, divided $35,000 on the building, owned by L. E. Davy, $50,000 on the stock of the Davy company—department store, and $15,000 on the stock of the Fred Fleming shoe company. The building was a two-story brick structure at Fourth and McEwen streets.

The fire started at 10 o'clock Sunday morning in the basement, when the janitor was firing the furnace and is believed due to an explosion of gas. Flames shot out of the furnace and his barely escaped. The Fleming shoe store occupied the basement and the Davy department store the first and second floors. CAL ASKS FOR PARLEY FUNDS

$50,000 Needed for U. S. to Attend Arms Conference.

Washington, Jan. 4.—(AP)—President Coolidge today put the question whether the United States should participate in the League of Nations preliminary disarmament discussion up to congress. In a special message, transmitted to both the house and senate, he recommended a $50,000 appropriation to defray the expense of American participation. Acceptance of the league council's invitation to take a hand in the work of the preparatory commission, he said, "involves no commitment with respect to attendance upon any future conference or conferences of reduction and limitation of armaments; and the attitude of this government in that regard cannot be defined in advance of the calling of such meetings."

The message was read in both houses and referred to the senate foreign relations committee and the house foreign affairs committee. Inasmuch as an appropriation, which must originate in the house, is involved, no move was made in the senate toward complying with the request.

Murders in Osage Country Probed

Oklahoma City, Okla., Jan. 4.—(AP)—Federal and state authorities today struck straight at the heart of the mystery that for more than two years has covered nearly a score of violent deaths in the Osage country, home of the world's richest Indian tribe. At Pawhuska, capital of the Osage nation, two men fell into a net spread through months of secret investigation to trap the leaders in an alleged murder ring said to be responsible for most of the 17 deaths.

A federal grand jury was empaneled at Guthrie to sift from a mass of rumors the facts that will reveal either, as a reality, or a myth, a gigantic conspiracy to remove, by death, an entire family, with scattered connections with a $2,000,000 fortune as the stake.

STATE TROOPS RIDING ROADS

Motor Vehicle Lights, Licenses and Mirrors Being Checked Up.

Troopers from the Negaunee state police detachment, working on Delta county highways over Sunday, picked up about a dozen motor vehicle violators who were fined $1 and costs each in Judge C. D. McEwen's court yesterday.

One of the offenders was caught driving his car with a 1925 license, two or three had no headlights, several had only one headlight, one or two had no "stern" lights, and one truck was not equipped with a rear-view mirror.

Special attention was paid to the condition of headlights and it was indicated that the inspections might continue at close intervals for some time.

Several cases in which auto owners procured pleasure car licenses for use on trucks last year also are being checked up by the troopers, it was hinted.

Lights Need Attention.

"In general," said one of the constabulary men, "the new licenses are pretty well distributed in this part of the peninsula. The condition, in this regard, is much better than in former years. Because most of the auto owners are trying to be fair—even laying up their cars until they can get licenses—we expect to swat the unfair driver all the harder. The headlight and tail light situation in this locality can stand a decided improvement.

There are far too many one-eyed cars on the roads. They are a menace to the safety of everyone they meet and we hope we can get them who are falling to comply with the laws governing the lighting of automobiles."

WIFE BEATER JOLTED AGAIN

Joseph Kolcilniak Served With More Serious Warrants.

Joseph Kolcilniak, of Ford River township, was arrested yesterday on a warrant charging him with assault to inflict great bodily harm less than the crime of murder and a date for the preliminary examination will be set at once.

Kolcilniak is now serving a 90-day sentence in the county jail on a charge of assault and battery upon his wife, the mother of ten children. Mrs. Kolcilniak will be sufficiently recovered from the beating she received at the hands of her husband to testify at the examination, it was said at the sheriff's office yesterday.

Mr. Kolcilniak, according to the officers, has been living a life of continual fear and abuse for years. Her husband has kicked her, beaten her and mistreated her frequently and then threatened to kill her if she told anyone about it. The conditions were discovered by neighbors whose complaints to the sheriff's office resulted in the investigations and Kolcilniak's arrest. The wife has been assured that she will be protected in the future and has assured the officers that she will tell the whole story in court.

The last beating, it was said, was even more severe than the others. In addition to the bruises and cuts, she suffered internal injuries which her physicians said were serious.

KELLIHER BAIL SET AT $30,000 BY JUDGE McEWEN

William Kelliher, 87, arrested Saturday night as a result of his mistreatment of three little girls aged seven, eight and ten years, was held yesterday in bonds of $30,000 to await a preliminary examination in Judge C. D. McEwen's court. Three charges—rape, attempted rape and taking indecent liberties with children—have been placed against him. He was unable to furnish bail and was taken to the county jail.

The man has not been given an opportunity to talk to officials about the case. "We have all the evidence we need," said Chief of Police John J. Tolson. "Any truthful statement Kelliher could make would be superfluous. The crime is one of the most revolting in local police history and this department will do everything it can to see that Kelliher pays the maximum penalty."

Has Police Record.

Kelliher has a police record. He was once arrested as a window peeper. On another occasion he was suspected of having taken part in a robbery. It was revealed. He also had been under surveillance, for several weeks, in connection with "Peeping Tom" complaints.

Quick Way to Stop Night Coughing

New Method is Remarkably Effective

No need to put up with that distressing, weakening, sleep-robbing night cough another night. For there is a simple but very effective treatment which, usually with a single dose, stops all irritation and lets you sleep soundly the whole night through.

This treatment is based on the prescription known as Dr. King's New Discovery for Coughs. You take just one teaspoonful at night before retiring and hold it in your throat for 15 or 20 seconds before swallowing it. The prescription has a double action. It not only soothes and heals soreness and irritation, but it quickly removes the phlegm and congestion which are the direct cause of night coughing. So the coughing stops quickly and you sleep all night undisturbed.

Dr. King's New Discovery is for coughs, chest colds, sore throat, hoarseness, bronchitis, spasmodic croup, etc. Fine for children as well as grown-ups—no harmful drugs. Economical, too, as the dose is only one teaspoonful. At all good druggists. Ask for

A THREE DAYS' COUGH IS YOUR DANGER SIGNAL

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the infected membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. Creomulsion Company, Atlanta, Ga. (adv.)

SNOW REMOVAL WORK ASSURED

State Makes Provision for the Job in Delta County.

The state highway department, in laying out its budget for work on the portion of highways in Delta county, included a sum of money for the removal of snow. County Highway Engineer R. P. Mason announced yesterday.

"The money allotted for snow removal," said Mr. Mason, "will permit us to continue this year on about the same scale we have followed in the past. That means that the state highways will be cleared of snow unless we have

Under the new highway law, the state assumes the financial burden. The work has been let, under contract, to the county highway commission.

ARMY CAPTAIN THANKS PUBLIC

Great Year of Usefulness Ahead, Leader Thinks.

Co-operation of the people of Escanaba—particularly the business men—with the Salvation Army during recent months has been very effective, and will make possible the most useful year the Army has ever enjoyed in this city, Captain Olive Jernberg said yesterday.

"The generosity shown in the drive last month for funds to finance our work during 1926, and the fine spirit of co-operation in our Christmas activities, has been very gratifying," said Captain Jernberg. "I want the people of Escanaba to know that the Army personnel here appreciates the wonderful interest and help given to us, and that we shall strive, every minute of the New Year, to merit our friends' confidence."

The Army has some very important plans for the immediate future, it was said. These will be revealed at an early date. This year the local staff will have the advice and aid of an executive committee of business and professional men, organized recently to serve as sponsors for the Army in this city, and even greater results are expected than those recorded last year.

"KISS ME AGAIN"

The sad truth that "when you get what you want you don't want it any more" is the basic theme of "Kiss Me Again," the newest Warner Bros. production that will be featured at the Lyric Theatre on Wednesday and Thursday.

"Kiss Me Again" is the latest vehicle for the directorial genius of the great Ernst Lubitsch, who has contributed more to the progress of screen development than any other director in the industry.

"THE GREAT DIVIDE"

TODAY'S NEWS OF THE SPORTING WORLD

CARPENTIER TO COME TO U. S.

French Fighter Will Be Offered Match With Jack Delaney.

Paris, Jan. 4.—(AP)—Georges Carpentier, former light heavyweight champion of the world, sails Wednesday for his third visit to the United States within five years.

TO FIGHT DELANEY.

New York, Jan. 4.—(AP)—Georges Carpentier will be offered a match with Jack Delaney, Bridgeport light heavyweight, when he arrives here from France, according to Jess McMahon, matchmaker for Tex Rickard.

Carpentier is expected to accept terms for this engagement, to be held, probably in February, at the Madison Square Garden. If victorious he will be offered a bout with Paul Benienbach, holder of the 175-pound title which "Gorgeous" Georges won from Battling Siki in 1920 and last to Battling Siki in 1922.

Visited U. S. in 1924.

Carpentier's last visit here was in 1924 when he lost bouts to Tom Gibbons at Michigan City, Ind., and Gene Tunney in New York. His most spectacular invasion occurred in 1921 when he was knocked out by Jack Dempsey in the "battle of the century" at Boyle's Thirty Acres, Jersey City, for the heavyweight championship.

Carpentier was considered to have been his fistic prime when he made his last American tour. He will be 32 on January 12, when he probably will arrive here. He has been fighting since 1907.

BILLY EVANS Says

Often one snappy remark will get an umpire out of what otherwise might be a very unpleasant situation. It is customary for every umpire to have his jinx ball club. The Athletics have always been a hoodoo team for Emmett Ormsby. When he has trouble it is invariably with the A's.

During the slump of the Athletics last summer, which put them out of pennant running, a ruling on interference by Ormsby in a certain game snuffed out an Athletic rally.

At the time the A's had lost 10 straight and any allbi was to be grabbed at. There was the usual kick and the continued shouts from the bench: "Well, you lost that one for us."

After listening to it for an inning, Ormsby quietly walked to the bench and remarked: "You can blame that one on me when you get back to Philadelphia but you are going to have a tough time explaining the other 10."

The retort courteous hit a tender spot and had the desired effect—silence. The Athletics may have thought a lot of things about Ormsby but didn't express them.

Baseball is filled with choice bits of repartee. Some of it, however, wouldn't make a hit in our best family newspapers.

Sports which have more than two or four players as contestants offer greater opportunities for the expression of one's feelings. That is why wise-cracks fly thickest in baseball and football, rather than golf, boxing or tennis.

Each sport has some particular feature which is typical of that amusement. For years in boxing the introducing of anywhere from 10 to 20 fighters was the custom before starting the main bout.

At first it was interesting to get a glimpse of the real celebrities of the ring. However, it got so that every "ham-and-egg" fighter in the country was clamoring to be introduced and usually got away with it.

Instead of being interesting, the stunt began to be ridiculous. The fans, in order to have their fun out of it, would yell in pure mockery, "Speech," "Speech" as each fighter was introduced.

Fighters as a rule are not gifted linguists, so the wall of the crowd for a speech generally fell on deaf as well as callflower ears.

Along these lines Scotty Monieth, former manager of Johnny Dundee, who is now handling Kid Kaplan, told me an interesting yarn.

Scotty once had in his stable a prelin fighter by the name of Sammy Marino. He was known as the original sphinx. Either native dumbness or a natural disinclination to talk caused the fight fans to wonder if he was both deaf and dumb.

Whenever he was at the ring-side the fans, purely as a joke, would demand that he be introduced and then they would clamor for a speech as he was dragged into the ring.

Marino would always back away without even so much as a smile or a wave of the hand. But the fans were insistent, hoping some day he would break the silence and give them a real laugh.

It so happened that one evening he gave the fans the shock of their life. Instead of backing through the ropes to the floor, he removed his cap, lifted his hand for silence, cleared his throat and spoke thusly: "Ladies and peepul! I fight anybody my heavy, winner take 'em everything."

No doubt this speech was inspired by the Ring Lardener school of English, which is nothing if not original. After that the fans were willing to let him confine his activities to fighting.

Baptist Bearcats Driven to Cover by Bulldogs, 27-21

The Baptist Bearcats, purring and meowing over what appeared to be a certain victory, were suddenly driven to cover when the Presbyterian Bulldogs unloaded an avalanche of field baskets with but three minutes left to play, and the score favoring the Baptists by 12 points. The final count was 27 to 21 in favor of the Presbyterians. The game was played at the Baptist gymnasium and was the first basketball tilt lost by the Baptists in several weeks.

The Bearcats appeared far superior to the Presbyterians throughout the first half, the second quarter score being 19 to 8 in their favor. The Baptists continued to hold the lead throughout the third period and the greater part of the fourth.

The lineups were: Baptists, O. Bowers and Walker, forwards; Booth, center; R. Bowers and Jefferson, guards; Holt and Embs, subs. Presbyterians, Eastwood and St. Louis, forwards; Dunn, center; K. and H. Bloom, guards.

Kissing is all right. We know it is. We know it is, simply by looking at the people who say it isn't.

JAKE LEADING IN CUE MATCH

Wins First Block by 500 to 375 Score Over Horemans.

Chicago, Jan. 4.—(AP)—Young Jake Schaefer, challenger of the world's 182 balking champion-ship, won the first 500 point block in the 1,500 point match with Edouard Horemans, Belgian, the champion. The score, Schaefer 500; Horemans 375.

Horemans didn't strike his stride until his eighth and last inning when he ran 243, the high run of the night. In the first seven turns at the table, he was extremely nervous. Schaefer played with far more deliberation than in any of his recent championship appearances. He reached triple figures only twice, however, in the second inning when he got 135 and in the sixth when he counted 138.

Score by innings. At the end of the block Schaefer left the balls in perfect position for his first shot tomorrow night. The score by innings: Horemans—17 15 8 0 1 2 89 243—375. High run 243; Average 46 7-8. Schaefer—37 135 1 0 85 138 82 22—500. High run 138; average 62 4-8.

JAKE STARTS WELL. Chicago Jan. 4.—(AP)—Jake Schaefer started fairly well tonight in his attempt to regain the 182 billiard championship from Edouard Horemans who was apparently nervous. Schaefer shot with deliberation.

Horemans won first shot but could not get control of the balls, scoring only 17. Schaefer counted 37 and missed when he got a frozen shot similar to that which caused the dispute that led to tonight's contest.

The champion scored only 15, missing an easy follow shot. Then Schaefer, taking prolonged aim at times, but keeping control of the balls, started a long run. At 75 he had the balls in a close nurse at the head of the table.

Horemans Nervous. Schaefer got 135 before he spread the balls and missed a carom off the red to the side rail and back to the white ball. Horemans seemed to plunge his cue instead of shooting with a firm smooth stroke, and missed after eight. He left a wide spread and Schaefer missed after counting one.

Each played safe and missed in his next turn at the table. Horemans counted one and then again played safe. Schaefer's shot-making stood him in good stead, and after half a dozen gathering shots, he got control of the balls at the foot of the table and clicked off 85. His last carom was a very difficult masse.

He made the eighty-sixth shot but had made two billiards inside the eighteen-inch line and it was not counted. Horemans was very nervous and scored only two.

Jake Out to Win. Schaefer used virtually every variety of shot in getting 135 in his next inning, and taking a lead of 396 to 43. Horemans remained nervous, but from the good chance left by Schaefer's nurse, he proceeded to make his high run of the night.

The champion scored 89 before he missed a six-inch draw shot as the crowd groaned. This run was liberally sprinkled with his famous masse shots. Young Jake seemed determined to regain his lost championship.

Needing 104 to clinch the first block he rattled off 80 points and still was going in excellent form. The score then was: Schaefer 476; Horemans 132.

Horemans improving. He got into trouble on the next shot, however, and after 82 missed on a cross table bank. He tried to leave Horemans an impossible shot, but the little Belgian made the best shot of the night, followed with a three-cushion shot and got the balls under control.

Several times he said the table was not level and that his long drives were rolling out of line. Horemans still seemed nervous but his stroke was better and he reached triple figures for the first time of the night. He still was shooting at 130.

Horemans struck his best stride and, keeping the balls close together, got the high run of the night, 243. He missed trying to count on a simple masse. The score then was: Horemans 375; Schaefer 478.

Schaefer stepped to the table and clicked off 22 needed to win the first block, leaving him with an unfinished run to start tomorrow night's run.

The NUT CRACKER

Football coaches will not be permitted to pick All-American football teams any more. This leaves the thing up to the 11-456,783 others who pick the team annually.

Strange as it may sound, John the Barber is the only manager Dempsey ever had who did not get his deserved cut.

Mr. O'Goofy wonders why tourists debate whether to take an English or an American liner to Europe these days. "It's a toss-up either way," he figures.

The Example Horrible. (A one-act playlet which tugs at the heart tendons, to say nothing of the whiskers.) Pops, see that funny-looking guy across the street. Which gentleman, Horace? See, Pops, the one that looks like a successful accident.

Yes, yes, but let's not be morbidly curious, my son. Oh gee! Pops, look! A big bozo just socked him an awful one on the back and three other fellows are coming after him. Come, come, my son. It's a sad, sad story.

But what did the poor bologna do, Pops? He looks all scared, like you did when you came home from the lodge and Moms met you at the front door. That will do, Horace! You remember the night I mean? When you came home with a waste basket on your head and a coal scuttle in your hands? Horace, I've heard enough from you!

And you were singing "The Sextette From Hoosegow!" One more word from you, Horace, and I'll kick you right square in the face, you little deer. All right, Pops, but why don't those guys quit punching the poor old man?

Well, if you must know—Yes, yes, go on. He's the sap who started the wisecrack—"So is your old man." (Contributed by the Pied Kappa of Ohio State.)

The Tigers had more runners left on the bases last season than any club in baseball. What Cobb seems to need is a traffic cop.

Nothing can surprise us now. The football coaches have just held a meeting and decided nothing is wrong with the game.

JORGENSEN MAY BATTLE BRADY

Local Boy's Pilot Wants to Stage the Bout in Escanaba.

There still is a possibility that local admirers of Mel Jorgensen, lightweight boxer who has hung up a chain of more than 30 consecutive victories—many of them knockouts—in the Lower Peninsula, will be seen in action here this winter.

Mel is here for a week's visit with relatives and friends. Dave Knight, his manager, indicates that, after many months of dickering, he has persuaded Jimmy Brady, Michigan lightweight champion, to agree to meet Jorgensen and that Escanaba can have the bout if anyone here wants it badly enough to lend its support and influence to the show. Conference, during the next few days, with Legion leaders and others will decide whether Jorgensen will get his chance at the Wolverine title in a local arena this year, it was stated.

If some sort of agreement can be reached here, Knight probably would come to Escanaba to assist the promoters or, perhaps, send some one here to handle the show.

Keeping in Shape. Mel is establishing training quarters in the rear of the Palace barber shop where he will take light workouts. Charley Call, Chet Johnson and Bill Jacobs, local leather pushers, will help him find plenty of action. Instead of road-work, Mel is skating regularly and he believes the exercise derived from the municipal rink ice will be superior to any highway "jorging" he might do this time of the year in Upper Michigan.

BOWLING PRIZES. The high scores for December were rolled by S. Meters, 278, who won first prize—a box of cigars; second prize, O. B. Brown, 257—a pipe and jar of tobacco; third prize, Ollie Pfister, 256—a pipe and jar of tobacco. Miss Laura Lauzon won the ladies' prize, a two-pound box of candy, with a score of 166.

IN NEW YORK

New York—Of all the specialists that make New York their camping ground the most picturesque, it seems to me, are the garlic and lemon peddlers. With packs thrown over their backs these connoisseurs go about districts where there is a particular demand for such wares.

The garlic peddlers may be found changing their cries outside the windows of the Italian districts while the lemon merchants haunt those sections where afternoon teas are most popular. In either case no other merchandise is handled.

Checking on these very exclusive street merchants I found that a considerable percentage were men who once had held indoors positions but who were ordered into out-of-doors occupations by physicians.

In the upper Nineties there is a cigar stand owner who can remember when girls blushed upon asking for a package of cigars. Since his customers are about 40 per cent women, his stand being in the heart of a residential section, he is qualified to report on what the well-smoked woman is puffing this winter.

Few women are buying high-priced cigars," he reports. "Which indicates that they are now regular smokers. In the first days of the woman smoker only gold-tipped and fancy brands of cigars were purchased. But those days are gone forever. The other day a middle-aged woman came in and after buying a package, lighted a cigaret at the counter lighter and had a smoke before going into the street. That's the first time, I believe, that this has happened, but it may be an indication of what to expect in the future."

Here is one pinocchio player, only: I have a seemingly attractive sport of a three-handed game, used in by a well-known actor. A moving picture official and a jeweler in which, it was agreed, a cumulative "kitty" could be taken by only a 400 hand.

Now, as every good pinochier should know, a "four-hundred" isn't particularly rare and should happen in at least an hour. But this game progressed into a night and the "kitty" grew into a fortune and then into a super-cat and then into a super-cat. Dawn came, and the weary players were almost driven to desperation.

The 400 hand appeared, I am told, after nearly 14 hours of play.

Waterways Meeting at St. Paul Today

St. Paul, Minn., Jan. 4.—(AP)—Efforts to decide on a definite program to bring the Atlantic ocean closer to the Middle West will be made here tomorrow when delegates from 18 states meet for the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence tide-water congress.

The governor's luncheon at noon opens the two-day session. Nearly every civic club of the northwest will have one or more spokesmen present.

W. L. Harding, former governor of Iowa, and Frank H. Keefe of Canada, will be evening speakers.

McQuittie, Mich., Jan. 4.—(AP)—Twenty-one upper peninsula men, including seven from Marquette county, left today for St. Paul, Minn., to join the Michigan delegation attending the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence tide-water congress, to be held January 5 and 6.

INDEXES TO PLAY TWO THIS WEEK

Meet Powers Tonight and Gladstone Thursday Evening.

The Escanaba Independents, showing mid-season form, will play two out-of-town games this week—the first with the Powers quintet of basket-tossers tonight at the town hall there and the second with the Gladstone outfit at the Community gymnasium Thursday night. Both games will be snappy affairs, with the locals being favored to win tonight's struggle and even odds being given on the Uphay affair.

Keddy Christenson, former Escanaba high school star, has joined the line-up of the Indies and will play in both tonight's and Thursday's games. Schram, Andrews and Gafner will hold down the forward berth, Blomstrom will open at center and Vandenberg, St. Louis, Soderberg and Christenson will alternate at the guard positions.

Very little is known regarding the Powers team. They have won several games already this season and rate above average, according to reports received here. The Gladstone team has been showing promise in its previous games and should prove a tough "nut" for the Indies to crack.

FAMOUS FEATS

Down through the years the annual grid struggles waged within the "Big Three," Yale, Harvard and Princeton, have taken their places with the game's classics.

Contests between the triumvirate are usually keen and hard fought. Most of the battles are closely contested, though in late years, especially, there have been several exceptions.

On of the toughest tilts staged by Yale and Princeton took place in 1912. Each boasted a strong outfit. Pre-game odds had it pretty much of an even bet.

Princeton, however, rather surprised the Bulldog cohorts by going into a 6-3 lead, so that with but a few minutes of play things appeared rather dubious for the New Haven crowd.

On the Yale bench was a big fellow named Pumpelly. He had squatted on the sidelines most of the season. Pumpelly was noted for his place-kicking ability. He could boost them over the bars with machine-like skill. He was often used in a pinch and usually made good.

Pumpelly got his biggest chance in the Princeton encounter. For, with the count 6-3, Princeton, as mentioned and time nearly up, Yale got the ball to the Tigers' 40-yard stripe.

There the game was halted while Pumpelly rushed into the proceedings to take a shot at the uprights in a last attempt to even the figures. Pumpelly stepped back to the 49-yard line and lifted the leather between the posts, knotting the count.

The final gun sounded shortly after. But Yale was satisfied it had got a tie when defeat seemed apparent, thanks to Mr. Pumpelly, the pinch place-kicker.

SYRACUSE GETS BIG STAKE RACE

Cleveland, O., Jan. 4.—(AP)—The new Hambletonian stake, valued at approximately $70,000, the richest ever to be raced by three-year-old trotters, has been awarded to the New York state fair and will be raced at Syracuse.

The New York state fair, sponsor of the Grand Circuit Syracuse meetings, outbid Kalamazoo and Atlanta, getting the stake by bidding $8,000.

Announcement of the award was made at the fifty-fourth annual meeting of the Grand Circuit stewards here today. The circuit rules and schedules committees met behind closed doors, but declined to make any announcement pending submission of their recommendations to the stewards at the final meeting tomorrow.

Reports that Indianapolis and Milwaukee would drop out were dispelled when their representatives applied for dates. As far as could be learned, Atlanta did not seek dates. That a meeting would be held at that track was indicated when its management bid for the Hambletonian.

Whether Milwaukee will obtain dates is problematical. That city applied for the week of August 30, which also was sought by Syracuse, and as the New York track is one of the oldest in the Grand Circuit, it was likely that it would be favored.

It is probable that the season will open at North Randall, July 5, the horses then moving to Toledo for a week's meeting, opening July 12, Kalamazoo following with a week starting July 19. This leaves the week of July 26 and four weeks in August open, preceding the Syracuse meeting. Indianapolis seeks the week of September 6, this to be followed by two weeks at Lexington, from where the horses would be taken to Atlanta.

AMUSEMENTS

AT THE DELFT. The question of leadership in the photoplay has, seemingly, once and for all time been decisively settled. And flimdom's crown now rests with the one and only Charlie Chaplin.

The crowds surging to the Delft theatre to see his latest and greatest comedy, "The Gold Rush," a United Artists Corporation release, proves conclusively that the owner of the most famous feet in the world—more famous than Tribby's, though, perhaps not so beautiful—has paraded them firmly and triumphantly on the pedestal of popular fancy.

With Chaplin away from the screen for over two years, it has been easy for other comedians to surge toward the front line of popularity. It was natural that picturegoers should lend an ear to their claims in the comedy field and forget somewhat of the man who once won their unswerving allegiance.

Now, with the showing of "The Gold Rush," the Charlie who the big shoes, the funny little derby hat, the baggy pants and the trick cane; not to forget the famous mouse mustache—is back to prove that he still stands unchallenged; the king of all comedians.

"This is the picture I want to be remembered by," is the only comment that Charlie has to make regarding his triumphant return to leadership. And as Manager Jacobs remarks: "How could anyone who sees 'The Gold Rush' ever forget Charlie Chaplin. The laughter and enjoyment he has brought to the world will be remembered forever."

Lessons in Safety Taken to Rural Schools of Delta by Michigan State Police

Classes in safety, stressing particularly the proper uses of the highways, are being conducted in the rural schools of Delta county by Troopers F. R. Enius and P. F. LaForge of the Michigan state police.

The classes are a part of a statewide plan being carried out of the State Department of Public Safety which has achieved exceptional results in the Lower Peninsula.

The children are taught how to walk in the highways with safety, how to cross the roads and warned against such practices as "hooking" rides, coasting in the roads and other hazardous pastimes.

Safety pledges are distributed. The child, his parents and the teachers are urged to sign them, pledging to the state of Michigan to carry out, at all times, the "Be Careful" idea. When all of the pupils in a school have signed the pledges, the cards are sent to Lansing and a certificate of merit is issued.

In addition, one or two pupils are elected or appointed in each school to be "Junior State Police." These youngsters are given arm bands, emblematic of their authority and are instructed in their duties which involve the aiding of younger children, and helping the teacher to enforce other rules and regulations laid down as a part of the campaign.

"Junior Troopers" who perform outstanding acts of courage or devotion to their job will be rewarded by the state with suitably engraved medals.

Troopers Enius and LaForge will visit all of Delta county's rural schools, they said last night. They reported that they were receiving excellent co-operation and that the children were exhibiting deep interest in the campaign.
