

CAL MODIFIES MITCHELL'S SENTENCE

SENATE RULES ON TRIAL; GAG MAY BE USED

DAWES CAN SMILE AS HE SEES ATTEMPT AT CLOTURE.

BY DAVID LAWRENCE.

Washington, Jan. 25—Sitting in the vice-presidents chair with that satisfied smile which means that an unpleasant task has been accomplished, Charles C. Dawes today challenges the United States senate to prove or disprove what he has been saying about it ever since he was inaugurated on March 4th.

When Mr. Dawes proclaimed that a single senator could thwart the will of a majority, indeed could stand against the will of 95 other senators, he was rebuked by several senators who claimed that invariably the senate found a way to overcome this sort of opposition or release the filibuster position or else the filibuster was justified.

Senator Cole Bleese of South Carolina, Democrat, and irreconcilable opponent of American entrance into the world court declined on Friday to permit a unanimous consent agreement to be made whereby a vote could be taken on the world court protocol on February 10th.

When Senator Lenroot of Wisconsin, administration leader in favor of the world court, circulated a petition signed by forty-eight senators who were ready to invoke the cloture rule he secretly hoped that would not be necessary.

Cloture Still Threat. When Senator Lenroot of Wisconsin, administration leader in favor of the world court, circulated a petition signed by forty-eight senators who were ready to invoke the cloture rule he secretly hoped that would not be necessary.

Few Votes Changed. Yet a poll of the senate shows that few votes were changed on the world court since last spring. The truth is several senators are on the fence and if they see the tide of opposition rising they may switch at the last moment.

GERMAN MERGER. New York, Jan. 25—(AP)—America's financial participation in the gigantic combine of German steel and coal companies, which represents the latest undertaking of Dillon, Read and Company, will take form tomorrow with the flotation of a $25,000,000 loan for the Rheinebe Union, one of the largest units of the merger.

Limit Debate in Senate; World Court Entry Assured

RADIO TESTS INTERRUPTED BY SEA GALE

MANY SHIPS ARE IN DISTRESS ON ATLANTIC.

New York, Jan. 25—(AP)—For the second night in succession, eastern radio stations taking part in the international broadcasting tests, lost three-fourths of the time allotted to them because of mishap to a ship at sea.

The SOS from the Laristan was received at 7 o'clock tonight, but the identity of the ship was not known until half-past-ten. All broadcasting was held up during this period.

Ship Goes to Rescue. The distress signal from the Laristan was picked up by the liner Aquitania and relayed to Halifax. From there, report of the condition of the freighter Laristan was sent to naval communications at New York.

Two Seamen Drowned. After losing sight of the sinking British steamship Antiope in a squall in the mid-Atlantic, the President Roosevelt of the United States Lines, located her again this afternoon.

Antiope is Helpless. The Antiope is drifting helplessly, her boats, her radio gone and waves flooding one of her holds.

Message Sent by Capt. George Fried of the President Roosevelt said that the storm continued today with unabated fury, making rescue almost impossible.

RADIO TESTS RESUMED. New York, Jan. 25—(AP)—After the opening session of the third international radio broadcasting tests had proved successful in spite of an SOS call, an earthquake and adverse elemental conditions, the continents hobbled by radio again tonight.

Station WMCA, whose scheduled attempt last night to furnish music for dancers in the Hotel Metropole, London, was stopped by the distress call from the sinking freighter Solvang, once more tried to bridge the Atlantic

Margaret Shotwell of Omaha, Neb., who was made independently wealthy a few years ago when an aged bachelor for whom she used to play the piano died and left her his fortune, has eloped with Captain James W. Arnold, U. S. A., stationed at Fort Crook, Neb. She is 19 and he is 28.

FIERCE GALE ON ATLANTIC

Giant Ocean Liners Are Barely Able to Move Along. New York, Jan. 25—(AP)—Taking toll of life and property, a powerful gale was sweeping trans-Atlantic shipping lanes tonight.

While several liners have limped into Halifax, at least twelve are reported in the grip of the raging gale and all, including the Leviathan and the Aquitania carrying nearly 5,000 passengers will be two or more days late.

The Antiope carried wheat, a Cryptically the message described the plight of the stricken vessel: "Number 3 hatch stove in, all boats gone, water in the fire room, and radio out of commission."

Groesbeck Will Include Subject in Message to Legislature. Lansing, Jan. 25—(AP)—Eleven members of the legislature, who met here at the call of Fred B. Wells, speaker of the house, tonight requested Governor Groesbeck to open the way for the appointment of joint house and senate committees to study criminal practice, recommend ways of coordinating enforcing agencies to make more certain the apprehension of law violators and draft measures designed to bring criminals to swift and sure justice.

Practice, judicial statutes, appeal laws amended problems. They would recommend amendments, codifications and simplifications in 1927, designed to curb crime by holding over the heads of potential criminals the threat of swift and adequate punishment.

Propose Broad Survey. According to Speaker Wells, five joint committees are contemplated. They would be named during the special sessions expected to be held February, to study the crime situation and make recommendations to the next regular session of the legislature, in January, 1927.

The committees would survey the state, penal institutions, courts which help to impede justice.

Cloture Is Passed By 68-26 Vote

Washington, Jan. 25—(AP)—Entry of the United States into the world court was made certain today by a senate vote of 68 to 26 to limit debate on the issue.

Leaders on both sides in the now bitter struggle predicted a final roll call probably tomorrow and certainly not later than Wednesday.

Was Colorful Scene. Cloture came to the test amid a colorful scene, after last minute efforts to hold out the olive branch of an unanimous consent agreement to limit discussion had been swept brusquely aside.

Every senator save two was in his seat, the floor was crowded by members of the house and the galleries were overflowing. Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, wife of the war president, sat with Mrs. Swanson, wife of the senior senator from Virginia.

Senator Reed, Democrat, Missouri, a leading opponent of admission, moved that the senate adjourn. Senator Walsh, Democrat, Montana, a leader for ratification, countered with the suggestion of an absence of a quorum.

The clerk began reading the protocol at 1:30 p. m., but did not finish until 4:30 p. m., due to interruptions for quorum calls, motions to adjourn and speeches by senators explaining why they will vote as they will on the Swanson resolution.

2 Elaborate Services for Cardinal Mercier Thursday and Friday

Brussels, Jan. 25—(AP)—Two services, one national, and the other diocesan, and both celebrated with elaborate ceremony, will be accorded Cardinal Mercier. A cabinet council decided upon this tonight when the ministers ratified the wish of all Belgium that the highest rites within the power of the people should testify before the world the love and veneration in which they hold the member of an outstanding figure of the great war and the church.

The national funeral, accorded only three before in Belgian history, will take place at 11 o'clock Thursday morning at the cathedral of Saint Gudule, in Brussels, with a solemn high requiem mass chanted by the papal nuncio, assisted by a special pontifical legate.

House Passes Navy Measure. One Section Eliminated and Another Is Modified. Washington, Jan. 25—(AP)—The house today passed the annual navy department appropriation bill after eliminating one and modifying another of its sections dealing with new aircraft construction and the naval committee immediately took steps to draft a building program for the naval air service.

Philadelphia, Jan. 25—(AP)—Anthracite miners and operators gathered here tonight for the conference to be held tomorrow afternoon when another attempt will be made to agree on a plan that will end the long coal strike.

Plan of Publisher. The plan on which tomorrow's conference was called is that offered by E. J. Lynett, publisher of the Scranton Times. This plan was accepted in principle by the mine workers at the hall's negotiations but was rejected by the operators as fundamentally sound.

CONFESSES TO SLAYING GIRL, CUTTING BODY

PHILADELPHIA CHIROPRACTOR MAKES CONFESSION.

Philadelphia, Jan. 25—(AP)—David L. Marshall, Philadelphia chiropractor, tonight confessed that he had strangled Miss Anna May Dietrich to death before dismembering her body in his office last Tuesday night.

Denial Murder at First. During the questioning Marshall, who had kept steadfastly to his original confession that he had dismembered the body, but did not kill Miss Dietrich, suddenly flushed, and turning to the district attorney, cried:

Strangled Woman. There, parts of the latest confession as given out by the police said, she repeated her demands for money in the women's retiring room. Seizing her by the throat, he strangled her, he went on, until she dropped unconscious to the floor.

WILL RECEIVE HALF PAY AND ALLOWANCES

5-YEAR SUSPENSION APPROVED BY COOLIDGE.

Washington, Jan. 25—(AP)—By action of President Coolidge, William Mitchell, formerly a colonel in the army air service, passed off the commissioned roll tonight for a period of five years. The president approved the court-martial sentence imposed on him for violation of the ninety-sixth article of war, insofar as suspension from all rank and duty was concerned.

Mitchell May Resign. Mitchell did not break tonight the silence he has maintained since his trial began last October. There were strong intimations among his friends that he would submit his resignation from the army.

Representative Frank R. Relf of Illinois, who was chief defense counsel for Mitchell before the military court, issued a statement saying "they have finally 'got' Colonel Mitchell."

Coolidge More Lenient. President Coolidge followed exactly recommendations of Secretary Davis in disposing of the case. In doing so, he was a little more lenient than the war department board of review and Maj. Gen. John A. Bull, judge advocate general of the army.

Washington, Jan. 25—(AP)—President Coolidge today modified the court-martial sentence of Col. William Mitchell. The five-year suspension from military service was approved but the president ruled that Mitchell should receive all of his allowances and one half his pay during that period.

Sentence Approved. The sentence is approved and will be duly executed except as hereinafter provided. The secretary of war reports that the present monthly pay of the accused, without the special pay allowed to those who are actually engaged in flying, is $482.33.

Two Bolling Field Hangars Catch Fire. Washington, Jan. 25—(AP)—Two hangars at Bolling Field army aviation post were reported ablaze tonight. All available fire fighting equipment has been dispatched from Washington.

annual income of about $4,780.
 May Issue Statement.
 When informed of the action taken by President Coolidge, Colonel Mitchell intimated that he would issue a public statement, probably tonight, and there was reason to believe he would at that time make known his decision to vigorous criticism of the army officer to the president.
 In the event the officer, whose vigorous criticisms of the army and navy air service administrations aroused strong opposition among officials and finally led to his trial for insubordination, should submit a resignation, it is virtually certain that the war department would recommend that it be accepted by the president "for the good of the service," despite the fact that such action would automatically commute the five-year sentence and give Colonel Mitchell a complete civilian status.
 Secretary Davis' letter transmitting the case to the president for action showed that the war department board of review, while sustaining completely the procedure and verdict of the court on all legal grounds, recommended that the forfeiture, included in the sentence, be reduced to a suspension of all allowances and one third of monthly pay during the pleasure of the president.
 Major General John A. Hull, judge advocate general of the army, concurred in this recommendation and the secretary stated his own concurrence except that he recommended forfeiture of only one half of the monthly pay.

cargo dreaded by every seaman. Mariners point out that with a hatch stove in, the cargo would undoubtedly get wet, then probably swell and burst the ship. Further messages from the President-Roosevelt said that although she was struggling about the sea where she lost the Antine, no trace of the latter could be found.

Liners in Storm.
 Among other liners in the storm are the Caledonia, Columbus, Edson, France, Giuseppe Verdi, Lithuania, Montroyal, Regina, Transylvania and Zealand. The Lithuania and Zealand, due in Halifax today, were held up by the rough weather of the Nova Scotia coast.

At least one ship went down in the storm area. The tanker Vacuum passed inside the Delaware breakwater this afternoon, after having collided with the freighter Slovian last night. The Slovian was reported as having sunk immediately after the accident. All members of her crew except one man were rescued by the Vacuum.

Two of the passenger liners made port in safety late tonight. The Montroyal arrived in New York from Liverpool and the Zealand at Halifax to land passengers for Canada. The latter, however, turned about to again hold her nose to the sea for the run down the coast for New York, her ultimate destination.

ALUMINUM CO. PROBE ENDED

Washington, Jan. 25.—(AP)—Without calling any additional witnesses, the senate judiciary committee today suddenly closed its inquiry into the question whether the department of justice proceeded with due diligence in its investigation of charges that the Aluminum Company of America violated federal court consent decrees.

Senator Walsh, Democrat, Montana, prosecutor of the inquiry, announced that he would frame his report this week and present it to the committee next Monday with a view to early presentation to the senate.

Whether the committee will make any investigation of the company itself, in which Secretary Mellon is a stockholder, will depend on the action of the senate on the report, Senator Walsh said. He declined to say whether he would recommend that course.

KAPLAN WINS.
 Boston, Jan. 25.—(AP)—Kid Kaplan of Meriden, Conn., world's featherweight champion, won the judges' decision from Billy Murphy of Lowell in a ten round bout here tonight. Kaplan weighed 133 pounds and Murphy 135.

PLAY TO TIE.
 New York, Jan. 25.—(AP)—New York and the Montreal Maroons played through two overtime periods to a 1 to 1 draw in a National Hockey League game tonight. Stewart scored for Montreal in the second regular period and Bouchard for New York in the third. Although the contest was played fiercely throughout there were no major penalties.

Berlin and His Wife Throw Aside Shyness; Discuss Their Plans

Paris, Jan. 25.—(AP)—Irving Berlin and his wife, who was Ellen Mackay, have come to Paris from London and, instead of maintaining that shyness which has characterized their relations with the press ever since their marriage, they called together the Paris correspondents for an interview in their suite in one of the prominent hotels.

THE DAY IN WASHINGTON

The aluminum hearing was ended.
 The house passed the navy appropriation bill.
 The senate voted to limit debate on the world court.
 Federal Judge Harry B. Anderson was exonerated by a senate sub-committee of charges against him.
 President Coolidge reduced the Mitchell court-martial sentence to allow him half-pay and allowances during his five-year suspension.

CHAPMAN CASE TO HIGH COURT

New York, Jan. 25.—(AP)—The fight for life for Gerald Chapman, notorious bandit and convicted slayer of a policeman was carried to the United States circuit court of appeals here today, the case being transferred from the Connecticut courts on appeal. The appeal was argued by Frederick J. Groehl, chief counsel for Chapman, who is under sentence to be hanged in Connecticut, March 3, next.

Prepared to carry the case to the United States supreme court, if necessary, Mr. Groehl seeks by the proceedings begun here to have reversed a decision of Federal Judge Thmoas of Connecticut, denying Chapman's petition for a writ of habeas corpus that would have removed him from the jurisdiction of that state and returned to Atlanta penitentiary to complete a 29-year sentence for mill robbery.

Victory on three principal points in the lengthy appeal, Mr. Groehl said, if sustained by the supreme court, would let Chapman go scot free.
 The first of these declares that Chapman was illegally transferred from the Atlanta penitentiary to Connecticut to stand trial for murder of a New Britain policeman, committed during a robbery of a department store. The second point declares Judge Thomas erred in declining a request for a change of venue, and the third and principal point contends that the order of President Coolidge commuting Chapman's sentence so that he might be tried in Connecticut is an outright pardon and irrevocable; that the president has power only to pardon and not commute.

Beach Opens Fight to Transfer Wealth

New York, Jan. 25.—(AP)—Stanley Yale Beach, lineal descendant of William the Conqueror, first Norman king of England, prepared today to press his legal fight to transfer his income and part of his wealth to the woman who has been his mistress for nearly twenty years.

His inheritance was tied up by the will of his father, Frederick Converse Beach, at the instance of the other woman for many years. Now that the daughter of that union, Marguerite, is 17, Beach has begun his fight that he may give her "as much as I can give my other three children."

Beach also stated that his wife, Mrs. Helen Birdey Curtis Beach, who had known of his association with Caroline Watson, the "other woman," even before the birth of Marguerite, has repeatedly refused to divorce him. He stated that he would attempt to divorce her in order that he might marry Caroline Watson and legitimize Marguerite.

Solly Seaman Wins from Jim Goodrich
 Milwaukee, Wis., Jan. 25.—(AP)—Solly Seaman of New York outpointed Jimmy Goodrich of Buffalo, former heavyweight champion, in a ten-round bout here tonight. Seaman was too clever for Goodrich, whose ponderous attack was offset by the New York man's sharp shooting.

Babe Herman Wins from Bobby Garcia
 Philadelphia, Jan. 25.—(AP)—Babe Herman of California won on a foul in the seventh round of a 10-round bout with Bobby Garcia of Baltimore tonight.

Herman appeared to have the better of the fighting from the start, with the exception of a short time in the sixth round when Garcia had him against the ropes.

Wife Going Shopping.
 Mrs. Berlin explained that she was going shopping, "but," she added, "not immediately, because it is between seasons. I prefer to wait for the spring models."

"We are just a couple of human beings in love, who decided to get married," explained Irving, mildly protesting against the "sensationalism" which followed their marriage. Mrs. Berlin, with a "yes, Irving," frequently nodded approval.

"There was nothing sudden in our marriage," continued the song writer, "of which we had been thinking of and on for two years. We went to Atlantic City on our honeymoon; reporters followed and made a sensational story out of a perfectly natural happening. We resent greatly the sensational part, as can be easily understood."

Scores Newspapers.
 "We have not been in hiding, at all, except for a few days in New York, when, naturally, we wanted to be alone. We never even tried to hide, but told everybody we had nothing to say except that we were happy."

"But," he remarked laughingly, "the papers do not want us to be happy; they are not interested in our happiness; all they care about, now they have got us safely married, is news of the divorce. Well, we are not ready to gratify them."

Berlin partly revealed the "big surprise for American and English friends" which he has been hinting during his London visit by saying that he expected to remain in Europe for the next six months, absorbed in new work.

Irving Mixes Cocktails.
 "There is something in the wind about a new show in London," he remarked, "but I can't say yet with whom, nor about what. It will be a musical comedy, not a review, and it will open in London in September, after which I will take it to the United States myself. The book will be composed by a well-known author, I will do the music, and one of the best producers in London will stage it. The whole thing is practically settled, but I must reserve details until later."

The Berlins, though somewhat tired and nervous, were most amicable to the correspondents. When Mrs. Berlin retired, Irving remained to mix cocktails for his visitors. "I used to do this for a business," he said, "now just to oblige my friends. I've got a special touch."

Dry Enforcement Machinery Is Not Adequate--Andrews

New York, Jan. 25.—(AP)—Two of the men most involved in the enforcement of prohibition in country today told more than 200 ministers, the majority of them members of the Anti-Saloon League, that the present enforcement machinery is utterly inadequate. Both the speakers, Lincoln C. Andrews, assistant secretary of the treasury and Emory R. Buckner, United States district attorney, are the sons of ministers. They spoke at the annual union ministers meeting of the Anti-Saloon League.

Mr. Andrews said that a gradual breakdown in the morale of prohibition agents and the coast guard had resulted from the failure of the courts to function properly. Mr. Buckner said that only radical changes in the judicial machinery at a great expenditure could make prohibition successful. He charged that the "hired men" of the Anti-Saloon League at Washington were afraid to tell the truth about the situation.

Turning from the Anti-Saloon League's "hired men," the federal prosecution told of a conference soon after he took office with "one of the highest officials having to do with prohibition enforcement."

"This official," he told the ministers, "said it was never intended that the federal government should enforce the prohibition laws. I received not the slightest support from any federal authority."

with its music. Other stations made brave efforts to reach European listeners with their programs. When the American hour of broadcasting finished at 11 p. m., eastern standard time, European stations went on the air for an hour. In Berlin, singers of the Berlin State Opera were turning out of their beds before 5 a. m. continental time, to broadcast songs to reach the United States between 11 and 12 p. m. Spanish, Austrian, South American and Czech-Slovakian stations projected special musical programs over the ocean at the same time.

Members of the radio week committee still were busy late today checking up the results of last night's tests. Repeated inquiries regarding the source of ebimes that came on the air just as Lima, Peru was signing off, showed that the sound came from that station when a chime clock fell from a shelf as the broadcast ended.

A mysterious practical joking broadcaster, who signed himself "Eiffel Tower, Paris," was traced to Philadelphia, after the committee had received a cabled letter from France that the Eiffel Tower was on the air. The identity of the joker was not learned.

RECEIVE S. O. S.
 Norfolk, Va., Jan. 25.—(AP)—An SOS call that tonight held up radio broadcasting for more than three hours and was variously estimated as coming from different ships and different positions was traced by the naval communications office here at 10:30 tonight to an unidentified ship in distress off Martinique. The name of the ship was not deciphered, but she reported she was leaking badly. Her position was given as latitude 15:59 north and longitude 58:09 west.

The call letter from the ship appeared to be JUL, which would make her the steamship Corvus. The Corvus was last reported at Colon, January 6, enroute from Portland, Ore., to New York. It was not established definitely whether this was the ship reporting herself in distress or relaying a message from another vessel that had met with a mishap.

Key West, Fla., Jan. 25.—(AP)—Naval radio operators here tonight were unable to obtain the name of the vessel sending out SOS calls apparently in the Panama Canal zone. Other stations and heavy static, operators said, prevented them from understanding the message from the distressed ship.

Canada Protests Against Channel
 Ottawa, Jan. 25.—(AP)—Charles Stewart, minister of the interior, announced in the house of commons today that the government would protest to the American government against a bill before the United States senate providing for a nine-foot navigable channel in the Illinois and Mississippi rivers.

Mr. Stewart said the bill, sponsored by the Mississippi Valley association, calls for a channel which would divert from Lake Michigan through the Chicago sanitary canal not to exceed 10,000 cubic feet of water per second.

The minister intimated that his government has exchanged notes with the Washington government resulting in a clear-cut definition of the permit issued by the American secretary of war, March 3, 1925.

$700,000 Is Needed to Rebuild Normal at Mount Pleasant

Lansing, Jan. 25.—(AP)—In reply to recent assertion that the Mt. Pleasant Normal college was not so badly damaged in a recent fire as to warrant its removal elsewhere, Thomas E. Johnson, superintendent of public instruction, stated today that an expenditure of about $700,000 will be required to rebuild the institution. He said the fire destroyed the library, auditorium, cafeteria, kitchen, music department, commercial department, the administration offices and about twenty-five class rooms. The buildings left at the college are a dormitory, a science building, a training school and a gymnasium. The legislature, in its expected special session, probably will be asked to decide as to what is to be done with the college. It will be necessary to either make an appropriation to cover the cost of rebuilding or order the college transferred, partly, or in its entirety, to another city.

"The appearance of a new Douglas Fairbanks picture is always an event. 'Don Q. Son of Zorro,' is one of the most entertaining films that has ever emerged from the Fairbanks studio. Those who saw and thrilled at 'The Mark of Zorro' some years ago have the same sort of treat in store for them, considerably magnified in proportion. The interest never lags for an instant. Romance, a picturesque hero with ideals of the highest order, a lovely heroine and a wealth of fast and furious action, with the true Fairbanks dash apparent throughout the picture—such is 'Don Q.' The picture shows beyond the slightest doubt that Fairbanks knows what people want in the way of photoplay entertainment and knows how to give it to them."—N. Y. Evening Post.

"Swift, exciting, good humor and picturesque—that string of adjectives describes 'Don Q. All parties who had a finger in the picture, have done first rate work, and there is no reason why 'Don Q. Son of Zorro,' cannot give the best motion picture melodrama of 1925—as far as it goes."—N. DAVIS CAPTOR TELLS OF COUP

C. A. Clark, Gladstone, Gives Interesting Paper Before Rotary Club.

Clarence A. Clark, of Gladstone, read to members of the Escanaba Rotary club yesterday a fine first-hand account of the capture of Jefferson Davis, president of the southern republic, on May 10, 1865, as related by Capt. James F. Bullard, of St. Cloud, Fla., who today is the sole survivor of the capturing party of Union soldiers.

The paper read by Mr. Clark yesterday was in the form of an interview given by Captain Bullard, now 84 years old, when he visited Capt. George Clark, brother of the Gladstone man, at the Clark homestead at Gull Lake, Mich., last September. At that time the only surviving captor of Jefferson Davis and Capt. George Clark, who, himself, rendered distinguished service to the Union in the capture of a rebel flag, after a hand-to-hand battle, lived over again their stirring Civil war days, when both served as members of the Fourth Michigan Cavalry. The flag captured by Capt. Clark today hangs in the capitol building at Lansing as one of this state's most highly treasured relics of the War of the Rebellion.

When Captain Bullard was a guest at the Clark home at Gull Lake last fall, the following article appeared in a Kalamazoo newspaper and which article was read to the Rotary club here yesterday:

Two Civil war heroes—one nationally known as the only surviving captor of Jefferson Davis, and the other one enjoying the distinction of having been one of the three soldiers of his regiment to capture a rebel flag, are holding a reunion at Yorkville, Gull Lake.

These heroes are Captain James F. Bullard, of St. Cloud, Florida, and Captain George W. Clark, of Kalamazoo and Yorkville. On the spacious lawn of the Clark home, overlooking beautiful Gull Lake, Captains Bullard and Clark are living again in their memories the stirring years of 1861 to 1865 when they participated so conspicuously in the making of American history. Captain Bullard and Captain Clark were comrades in the same regiment—the Fourth Michigan Cavalry, which was rendezvoused at Detroit but which included in its roster men from southwestern Michigan. Although the two soldiers were assigned to different companies, they were together during most of the war—both of them serving during the entire life of their regiment.

Bullard Lone Survivor.

Captain Bullard is the only surviving captor of Jefferson Davis, Confederacy president. One other man, George Munger, of Schooncraft, was with Captain Bullard at the time of the capture but Munger died several years ago.

When asked to give a detailed account of the capture of Jefferson Davis, May 10, 1865, Captain Bullard stated he would consent to do so with the view to giving the public an accurate record of the historic event. He explained that a number of stories based on hearsay, wild rumors and resulting from imagination, have served to confuse public opinion relative to the capture of the Rebel president. He made it clear before launching into the account, that he was giving nothing but facts in the case as witnessed with his own eyes and as they transpired at the hands of himself and George Munger.

"And so here is Captain Bullard's story of the capture, beginning with the night of the pursuit of Jefferson Davis:

"We left Macon, Ga., at night and marched to near Hawkinsville, where we went into camp till daybreak," narrated the captain. "We then proceeded to Abbeville where our outfit met the First Wisconsin Cavalry under Colonel Heaton. At Abbeville the roads fork, one going to the Okmulgee river and the other one leading to Irwinstown. The colonels of the two regiments met and decided between them which road the two outfits would take. The two outfits then set out in search of the party with which Jefferson Davis was supposed to be making a frantic effort to escape over the Mississippi into Texas.

"After marching a few miles we came upon a man who had suffered a breakdown with his wagon. He informed us that a party which he said might be that of Jeff Davis had been seen in the vicinity of Irwinstown. We learned further that my tackle was round about course of some miles we could get in ahead of this party. Accordingly

128 of the best riders in the outfit were selected to make this dash toward what was supposed to be the Davis party.

"After a weary ride we drew up on the other side of Irwinstown and found what was supposed to be the party. We surrounded it while it was encamped and then rested. It was at this point that we ran into a skirmish with the First Wisconsin outfit, which also had encamped in the vicinity. Two men were killed and one wounded as a result of the fight between our two forces, before we learned of the mistake.

"While George Munger and myself were secluded in thickets justifying the success of our horses, Comrade Munger caught glimpses of a party of three all supposed to be ladies, walking rapidly along a narrow path. There go some women who shouldn't be permitted to leave camp," said Comrade Munger. I ordered Munger to go ahead and stop them while I finished buckling my saddle. I then caught up with him. As we approached the party of three we made a startling discovery which set our hearts beating rapidly. The skirts of a woman in the center had caught on some underbrush and in pulling loose a man's military boots were disclosed.

"We dashed up and ordered the trio to halt.

"'Woman is Davis.'

"I guess you're the man we are looking for," said Comrade Munger, as we stepped up to the central figure. We discovered the woman to be Jefferson Davis, president of the Confederacy.

"With the frantic cry, 'Don't shoot him,' one of the women in the party, whom we learned was Jefferson Davis' wife, threw her arm about his neck. The other woman, a sister of Mrs. Davis, drew close to her brother-in-law as if to protect him.

"Let them about me—I might as well be shot here as anywhere," replied Davis.

"We never intended to shoot President Davis. We dived him of his skirt and woman's shawl which he wore over his head. Now right at this point I want to state emphatically that Jeff Davis was disguised in woman's attire, which fact is disputed by many people, especially those of the South. Under the protection of the shawl, the company with his wife and sister-in-law, Miss Maggie Howell, Davis was attempting to make his escape. The women's clothing which was worn by Davis is an important part of the Civil war records at Washington.

"After he had captured Jeff Davis our outfit took him to Macon, Atlanta, Savannah and Hiltonhead, en route to Fortress Monroe. At Fortress Monroe we turned him over to General Miles.

Ordered to Washington.

"Following the delivery of Davis to General Miles, Comrade Munger and myself were ordered to Washington where we were required to give a detailed account of the capture of the Rebel president to Secretary Stanton.

"We learned, after we had come upon the Davis party, that a reward of $100,000 had been ordered by the government for the capture of the Rebel president. After three or four years this reward was distributed among the officers and men of the outfits which reconnoitered and participated in the capture of Davis. I received as my share about $240."

Captain George Clark had a no less thrilling and much more dangerous experience in the capture of the Rebel battle flag than had Captain Bullard and Comrade Munger in the capture of the Rebel president. It was a deed which exacted from the entire regiment praise for Captain Clark and one which placed him foremost in the admiration of the officers and men of his outfit.

"It was at the battle of Middleton, Tenn., that I captured that flag," reminisced Captain Clark, rising the while from his seat to lend emphasis to his remarks by extending his arm or his cane. "We had been in battle for some time and the conflict was waging hotly. We had advanced rather deeply into the battle lines of the Rebels' and were gaining ground rapidly. It looked like a certain victory for us.

Captures Rebel Flag.

"During the battle I had gradually worked forward and finally attained ground in the immediate vicinity of the Rebel flag bearer. I watched my opportunity and then made a dash hand-to-hand struggle and it was only after several minutes of such fighting that I succeeded in wresting the banner from the Rebels."

Captain Bullard augmented Captain Clark's story of this event by adding that Captain Clark had to battle four Rebels at once before he succeeded in getting the flag. The banner was that of the First Alabama Rebel Cavalry, and it is now on display at the state capitol in Lansing. It was during the battle of Middleton that Captain Bullard was wounded.

The two Civil war veterans have warm spots in their hearts for their old outfit—the Fourth Michigan Cavalry. They declare that this regiment saw the most service of any Michigan unit and stated they were under fire 400 different times and the outfit participated in 94 engagements, capturing a total of three battle flags. Some of the battles in which the Fourth Michigan played important parts were Prairieville, Murfreesboro, Stone River, Telemaha, Chickamauga, the Atlanta campaign and others. The two captains stated they were under fire at least once every day in the outfit was engaged in scouting or in battle.

Mr. Bullard, who is a native of Van Buren county but who has resided in St. Cloud, Florida, for the last 15 years, is visiting relatives and old acquaintances here for a few weeks.

European Radio Fails to Register

If any Escanaba radio receiving set owner was able Sunday night to pick up programs broadcast from Europe, he kept the fact of his success more or less secret yesterday. Inquiries at the various radio shops failed to disclose anyone who was successful. Mexico City came through well, however, several fans said. Fans throughout the country were again attempting to "get" international radio week programs last night.

LYRICS OF LIFE

By Douglas Malloch

THE HOUSE WHERE WE USED TO LIVE.

We have a porch and a parlor now, a porch that is wide and long.

We've a larger house, and a bigger yard, and a little bit better view.

For that was the house of the boy who died, and there was a baby born.

And there in the happy holidays we gathered on Christmas morn.

And there we met when the day was done, and talked of our work and play.

Yes, there the limbs of the young grew strong and the hair of the old grew gray.

Ah, there we learned of the joys that last, the joys that are fugitive.

For many the things that came to pass in the house where we used to live.

We made a bit and we saved a bit and we moved to a wider street.

FIDDLING'S REVIVAL.

Whether or not any plausible explanation can be given for the fact, there is no doubt but that genuine oldtime fiddling is enjoying a revival in the United States.

These more or less ancient tunes do bring a thrill to the heart and an irresistible desire to pat the foot, which is perhaps the sweetest test as to whether or not a melody possesses rhythm.

STOCK SALES AVERAGES.

Table with columns: Date, Industrials, Railroads. Rows: Monday, Saturday, Week ago, Year ago, High 1926, Low 1926, Total stock sales.

New York, Jan. 25.—(P)—Pool operations in a few industrial specialties, particularly in the food group, featured today's stock market. The general list failed to make much progress in either direction and the volume of trading which fell below 1,300,000 shares, was the smallest of any full session this year.

Buying of the food issues was based on unconfirmed rumors of capital split-ups and high dividends. United Fruit made a sensational gain of 19 points by touching 260. California Packing scored 13 1/2 points to 159 1/2 and Postum Cereal jumped 10 1/2 points to 119.

Sugar shares also continued to respond to reports that plans are under way for stabilization of the industry. Commodity markets were featureless. Wheat futures sold off at the opening on favorable weather reports from the winter wheat belt but later rallied and closed a cent or more a bushel higher on short covering.

A jump of over 5 points in Jordan Motors, based on unconfirmed rumors of a merger of that company with Dodge Brothers of Hudson, brought about rather active short covering in some of the other motors. General Motors, Hudson and Mack Trucks closing a point or so higher.

American Smelting soared over 6 points to 137 1/2 despite reports of a lessened demand for the red metal. Speculative interest in the rails was divided between the eastern coalers which improved on the announcement that the anthracite peace conference would be resumed tomorrow.

Call money held at 4 per cent all day. Time money rates softened slightly. The prime commercial paper rates were unchanged. Demand sterling was slightly firmer around $4.85 1/16 but most of the other foreign currencies were slightly reactionary.

REMODEL COURT ROOMS AT ONCE, MIXED JURIES

Plans for the immediate remodeling of the circuit court rooms so that women jurors may be accommodated, include the removal of the judge's bench and the jury and witness boxes to the south side of the room, the widening of a partition to make three jury rooms out of the present law library, judges and jury room, and the transformation of the present cloak room at the top of the stairs into counsel and judge's quarters, it became known yesterday.

The room now used by the barristers will be converted into a retiring room for women; the present judge's chamber will be enlarged for a jurors' consultation room, and the larger jury room on the southeast corner of the building will become a retiring room for men jurors.

The cost, it was said, will be somewhat less than the $2,000 appropriation made by the board. It is hoped to complete the work within the next three or four weeks.

District Basketball Tourney To Be Held In Escanaba

JUNIORS BEAT SENIORS, 4-2

Freshmen Quintet Drubs Sophomores by 4-3 Score.

The senior class basketball team of the Escanaba high school yesterday afternoon lost their chance to finish first in the class tournament when they lost to the junior class team by the score of 4 to 2.

The juniors did not loop one field basket all through the encounter, but due to the numerous personals called on the seniors, they were able to make four points on free throws. The senior team suffered the loss of their individual star for both team work and basket shooting when Eddie Berrigan was given the call for the varsity squad.

Swanson, the senior coach, started with a new lineup. Immediately after the first quarter ended, the lineup was shifted by putting McKenzie at center in place of Holt, who was injured. Beggs replaced McKenzie. The seniors were still at a loss. I. W. Soderberg, junior coach, did not put in any subs. The juniors played a very fast game featured by good defensive play.

At the beginning of the second half, "Buck" Curran went in for Holt at center, and the crowd gave him an ovation. The freshmen defeated the sophomores, 4 to 3, in a slow game. Each team had a great many chances for field goals, but only two were made. This is the second time that a freshman team has won in over four years, both the victories coming this year. Stahley, sophomore coach, started his second team, and the first team, when given a chance, did not seem to get warmed up.

The lineups were as follows: SENIORS—RF Johnson, LF Holt, C Nelson, RG Smith, PG Johnson, LG Manthly, HB Raymond, TB Tobin. PERSONALS—Seniors: Raymond 4, Johnson 2, McKenzie 1, Holt 1, Curran 1; Juniors: Manthly 2, Tobin 2, Smith 1.

The NUT CRACKER

BY JOE WILLIAMS

NO THIS IS TURKEY.

Sensational news from Turkey is that the great unwashed sheiks are going in for matrimony and divorce on a standardized, simplified basis and no foolin' around.

From now on matrimony in Turkey will mean "meet the little woman, just as it does in Dubuque, Ia.; Lanterjaw, Minn., and Tulsa, Okla."

Under the new wild game regulations a turbaned soap-evader must confine his interests, bank roll, alibis, halitosis and golf orations to one wife.

It's going to be all O. K. to have one wife in a thousand but having a thousand is out, like the third strike, or a pair of suspenders in a sorority house.

Civilization is spreading quicker than Harry Greb's smeller. Tossing the Turks a set of show-up divorce laws is almost as comical as initiating a Chicago gunman in the Boy Scouts.

Under the English prize ring rules the Turks could have as many wives as they wanted. But under the modern Queensberry system they will be able to get away from as many as they want to.

This makes it six of one and half a dozen of the other, which is the Turk equivalent to not being married at all.

Turk girls are besieging village justices for divorces in all the fashionable spring shades and sizes. They don't mind being lonely, they can be different.

Some of them don't know what a divorce is. Others don't care. But it will be a success if it makes a permanent wave permanent or stops a run in a silk stocking.

The Turk girls removed the veils from their complexions months ago only to find their American sisters were knees and shoulders ahead of them.

The moral of this is practically nothing except that where there is ham there must be eggs and a divorce without alimony is nothing to shoot off Roman candles about.

Anybody can get rid of a husband, even a Turkish husband, but it takes more than the rustle of a gingham house-apron to get the stable boy's mind off Pola Negri.

INDEES TO PLAY IN U. P. TOURNEY

The Escanaba Independents will be entered in the Upper Michigan Amateur basketball tournament to be held at Ishpeming during the early part of March, members of the local outfit said last night.

The tournament is being staged under the auspices of the Ishpeming Y. M. C. A. and is the first of its kind held in the peninsula. A large number of independent quintets are expected to be entered.

The entrants will be divided into two classes, "A" and "B," and silver loving cups and individual gold basketballs will be awarded the winners of first and second places in each class. The winners of first place in the two classes will play off for the independent amateur championship of Upper Michigan.

LENGLLEN NEXT FOE OF HELEN

Cannes, France, Jan. 25.—(P)—Suzanne Lenglen alone remains between Helen Wills and the tennis championship of France. The California girl today, after a strenuous battle in the finals of the metro polo tournament, defeated Miss Wills, who ranks number two among the women tennis players of France, by a score of 6-4, 7-5.

On Saturday she defeated Miss Contoslavas, ranking number three. She now has no other opponent worthy of her racket until she meets the mighty Suzanne.

Miss Wills' victory was easier than the score indicates. She played well within her best form, letting the French girl lead the attack until threatened, then herself applying a little more skill and power and winning with plenty in reserve.

Miss Wills won the first two games; then her opponent evened matters, later bringing the score to three all, but the American champion ran out three games and won the set.

Things looked dark for the Californian in the second set, with Miss Vlasto leading, 5-3. Then again, superior coolness and fighting spirit were revealed, and Miss Wills took four games, the set and the match.

It was thought by experts that Miss Wills made a mistake in playing exclusively to her opponent's back hand, which she believed to be as weak as in 1924, when the American girl defeated her in the Olympics. She showed her adaptable qualities later, by smashing every ball to the base line corners and running Miss Vlasto weary.

More than $500,000,000 worth of candies of all sorts are annually consumed in the United States.

HAYMAKERS THAT MADE HISTORY

Kayoing Carpenter Wins Fame for Tunney

BY JOE WILLIAMS. A crashing left-hook that wound itself like a darting snake and landed flush on the chin of Georges Carpentier set Gene Tunney definitely on the road to greatness, a road he is still traveling, with a possibility of seeing it carry him to the topmost pinnacle of fame—a match with Dempsey and the heavyweight champion.

The record books will tell you Gene Tunney knocked out Georges Carpentier in the fifteenth round of their memorable battle in the Polo Grounds July 24, 1924. But it was that smashing knockdown punch in the tenth that told Georges he was a beaten man. Only his unconquerable fighting spirit, that amazed 30,000 fans, carried the Frenchman through four more rounds. There was no possibility of his winning after the tenth.

For eight rounds Tunney had outboxed Carpentier. A boxing match was all it could be called. The burly Luis Firpo, overflowing in a ring-side seat, with the memory of his own marvelous battle with Dempsey in the same arena the September before, must have smiled derisively at the spectacle.

Tunney pulled up in the ninth and Carpentier carried the round. And with it went his final hope for victory.

The bell rang for the tenth. The two danced to the center of the ring and edged about watching for the opening that is always sure to come.

Suddenly Tunney hunched forward. His left whipped out and there was a crack as Carpentier's chin caught the full force of the blow. The Frenchman dropped instantly. Gene shot a right to the head.

Georges crashed to the floor like a wounded deer. The solemn tolling that was ultimately to be Carpentier's requiem began. The stricken battler began to weave his feet. At the count of nine he was up—and "out."

Tunney had ceased to be a single, active fighter for Georges Carpentier—he was a hazy procession of Tunneys that danced around Georges as the Frenchman's befogged brain sought to forget the scene before him. Tunney leaped forward. Another crack to the jaw and Carpentier went down again. He came up without waiting for the count and went into a desperate clinch. When things began to clear up a bit he backed away, latent on keeping the American off.

But Gene released a hard uppercut that rang as true as the home run of a Ruth or a Cobb. Griffin stepped up to lead the suffering fighter to the corner. The bout was obviously over.

But Carpentier, battered, bleeding, beaten, waved him away. Griffin stepped back in astonishment. And Georges returned to the fight.

Three uppercuts and another smashing left to the jaw and Carpentier was down again. As he grasped blindly at Tunney he made you think of a drowning man clutching at a straw. Tunney, thoroughly tired, tried to finish his work. A blow that was little more than a push sent Carpentier to the mat for the fourth time. And then came the bell.

Georges lasted the next three rounds because Tunney was too exhausted to hit a solid blow. And in the fourteenth Tunney put all his strength into a left to the body that sent Carpentier to the floor as the bell rang. The Frenchman writhed in pain and his handker, the valuable "dog camp," protested the blow was low.

But Georges came out for the fifteenth not even able to stand erect and Griffin led him back to his corner, closing a dramatic fight that had really ended in the tenth, when Tunney unleashed that ripping left to the jaw.

SMITH WINNER OF TEXAS OPEN

Dallas, Texas, Jan. 25.—(P)—MacDonald Smith of New York won his second open golf victory in Texas in two weeks by annexing the Dallas open championship today with a 298.

Abe Espinosa of San Francisco came second with a 301 and Bobby Cruickshank of Chicago, third, with a 303. Smith won the Texas open at San Antonio last week.

Joe Kirkwood of Australia and Willie Hunter, Los Angeles, finished with 305 each for fourth place. Harry Cooper of Dallas, who was fifth with 306. Harry Cooper of Dallas, who won the Los Angeles open recently, took sixth with a 307. Al Watrous, Grand Rapids, Michigan, and John Golden of New York, tied with 309, one stroke behind William Mehlhorn, Chicago, who had 308.

Herring Chokers Win from Baraca Quintet, 15-14

The Herring Chokers, formerly known as the Norwegian Lutheran basketball team, won from the Baptist Baracas last night in one of the fastest and closest games played on the Baptist gymnasium floor this season. The final score was 15 to 14, with the Herring Chokers holding the one-point lead.

The Norwegians snatched the lead in the first period and although their margin was slim at times, managed to hold on to it throughout the four periods.

The lineups of the two teams were as follows: H'CHOKERS—RF Simonson, LF Ingelbrizzen, C Johnson, W. Arntzen, RG O. Bowers, A. Arntzen, LG O. Bowers, E. Eriksson, C S. Eriksson, G R. Jefferson, Walker.

Local Outfit to Play at Niagara Wednesday Night

The Escanaba Independents will leave tomorrow for Niagara where they will clash with the Niagara Legion quintet of basket loopers Wednesday evening in what is expected to be a snappy battle.

The Niagara quintet is regarded as one of the best in northern Wisconsin and have hung up a long string of imposing wins this year.

The game will be played at the Kimberly Clark clubhouse gymnasium.

FIVE COUNTIES COMPETE HERE

Thompson Trying Out New Plan for State Meets.

Lansing, Jan. 25, (Special)—Escanaba is going to see some state tournament basketball. The upper peninsula basketball tournament committee of the Michigan High School Athletic association has voted that teams in Class B from five counties will assemble at Escanaba March 5 and 6 for the district tourney.

More basketball will be played in Escanaba during those two days than the city has seen in some time.

The C and D teams from this district will play at Norway this year, thus splitting up the good things so that everyone in the district can see some of the fun and also make it possible for all teams to compete at a minimum expense.

Counties that will send teams to Escanaba for the tournament are: Dickinson, Menominee, Delta, Schoolcraft, Mackinac.

The state association is trying out a new tournament plan this year. It is striving to put tournament basketball within the reach of every team in the state and give the little fellows a chance to show their talent in the race for state championship honors.

There may be a state champion in the Escanaba district. That remains to be seen. But it is certain that when these teams come to town for their tourney that every one of them will be followed by a loyal band of rooters. This ought to make for red-hot rivalry and competition.

Upper Peninsula Dates. Four district tournaments will be held in the upper peninsula on March 5 and 6. The regional tournament, or all upper peninsula tournament, will be held at Marquette at the Northern State Normal school under the direction of Mr. McClintock March 12 and 13. The following assignments were made for the district tournaments:

Places of Tourneys. District No. 29—Class B, Escanaba; Classes C and D, Norway. District 29 includes Dickinson, Menominee, Delta, Schoolcraft and Mackinac counties.

District No. 30—Classes B, C and D, Ironwood. District 30 includes Gogebic and southern Ontonagon counties.

District No. 31—Classes B, C and D, Houghton. Michigan College of Mines. District No. 31 includes Baraga, Houghton, Ontonagon and Keweenaw counties.

District No. 32—Classes B and D, Ishpeming; Class C, Munising. District No. 32 includes Marquette, Alger, Luce and Chippewa counties.

These arrangements must be approved, however, by the state athletic board before becoming final.

A new basis for classifying schools has been put into effect by the state athletic board this year: instead of three classes, the schools of the state have been divided into four classes on the basis of enrollment. Class A includes schools of 700 enrollment; Class B, 300 to 699; Class C, 100 to 299; and Class D, less than 100.

THE REFEREE

What was the result of the Ohio State-Illinois basketball game at Columbus last year?—S. S. S. They didn't meet in 1924. Does "Pie" Traynor of the Pirates bat left or right-handed?—G. H. J. Right.

Football can only exist where there is a minimum temperature of 50 degrees and an annual rainfall of 30 inches.

FAMOUS FEATS

COLLEGE STARS

MULLER OF CALIFORNIA.

One of the greatest of the greats, athletically speaking, ever turned out along the Pacific slope was "Brick" Muller of California.

Muller was an all-round athlete, par excellence. A star football performer, the big fellow could also hold his own with the best in track and on the diamond.

Muller, as you probably know, gained his most fame as a grinder playing end. He was good on both offense and defense. But his forte was throwing passes.

Endowed with an extremely large pair of hands, which permitted him to obtain an unusual grip on the ball, he could hurl the leather close to 75 yards with speed and accuracy. In a word, Muller was one of the greatest passers football has produced.

In the famous inter-sectional game with Ohio State, New Year's Day, 1921, Muller's passing was one of the outstanding features. His aerial work played a prominent part in sending the middle westerners back home with a stinging 28-0 defeat as a reminder of their jaunt to the coast.

Ohio, it will be recalled, won the Big Ten championship the preceding fall with one of the best teams that institution ever put on the field.

It was in that brush that Muller tossed one pass that traveled from deep California territory into the waiting arms of a Californian, perched almost on the goal line. Out in the west they still talk about that heave whenever football is the topic.

Roells Satisfied With Combination Tried at Menominee

Coach Roells of the Escanaba high school is satisfied with the results obtained by using his new combination on the basketball court, he said yesterday.

This combination will probably be used in all the following games as far as can be determined at the present time. Lawrence at center, Stegath and Roekburg, forwards, and Carlson and Gunderman, guards, proved the best combination that has been tried this season.

The locals, through lack of experience, have been able to win but one game this season. This week-end the team goes to Marquette where they will play the Marquette high school quintet. Marquette has a strong team this year which is evidenced by the fact that they held the strong Ne-gaunee outfit to a 26-20 score.

Danny Gallagher Wins His Heat in Silver Skate Race

Dan Gallagher Jr. of Escanaba, won his preliminary heat in the Boys' Juvenile event, held as a part of the Chicago Tribune's Silver Skates Derby in Chicago Sunday afternoon. He covered the 220-yards in 28.5, his father, Dan Gallagher Sr., said yesterday, winning by a wide margin.

In the semi-final of the event, according to the older man, there was considerable roughing it for positions and other unfair tactics. At that, Danny made an excellent showing.

Dan was the only Michigan boy to make the semi-finals of any of the day's events.

KNEE CAPS FOR WOMEN

London—Fur knee caps are the latest idea for women. The caps cover the unprotected area between the place where the stockings end below the knee, and where the skirt begins above the knee.

PURPLE BEATS IOWA, 37 TO 21

Chicago, Jan. 25.—(P)—Northwestern's Purple quintet won their first game of the Big Ten basketball season tonight, defeating Iowa, 37 to 21. The game was slow and featured by fouls which retired four players.

Fisher, Northwestern forward, was the principal scorer, with his 14-point total. Phillips, Iowa sub, led in the final period, but with individual success against the Purple defense.

Huggins and Sister Plan Baseball Deal

St. Petersburg, Fla., Jan. 25.—(P)—A big baseball deal involving well known players of the New York Yankees and St. Louis Browns is still pending, Miller Huggins, Yankee manager, admitted tonight before he left for the north to attend the annual schedule meeting of the major leagues.

"I am waiting for word from some player," said Huggins. "He will telegraph me his best proposal within a day or two. I am not going directly to New York at St. Peter knows where I will be and he has promised to wire me whether the deal is on or off."

Huggins has been in constant communication with Sister and recently spent several days at Miami talking with the manager of the Browns.

You can hit P. A. and it won't hit back

YOU can hit it up with a jimmy-pipe and P. A. from the moment you finish breakfast till you crawl between the sheets at night . . . slow or fast . . . pipe-load upon pipe-load. It won't bite your tongue and it won't parch your throat.

Because—the Prince Albert process hit Bite and Parch a body-blow in the very first round. Millions of men who thought they never could pal with a pipe are now Prince Albert regulars. They've found the one tobacco that fits their taste neat and nifty.

You'll say so. Cool as the well-known cucumber. Mellow as moonlight on a limpid lake. Fragrant as spring blossoms. That's Prince Albert all over. When you get going with a jimmy-pipe and P. A., you can lick the world with one hand tied.

Just around the corner is a friendly shop where they hand out P. A. sunshine in tidy red tins. This is your cue to turn your tiller in that direction. Get yourself a supply of this grand old tobacco that has made so many men downright pipe-happy.

PRINCE ALBERT

—no other tobacco is like it!

CHEMICALS USE UP WASTE WOOD

The wood chemical industry depends entirely for its raw materials upon the wastes of other branches of the forest product group, George Nolden of the Delta Chemical company told members of the Escanaba Kiwanis club in a highly interesting and instructive address yesterday.

"Lumber must be used in building," said Mr. Nolden. "Trees must come down, with them come the tops, the crooked, knotty trunks and limbs. Approximately 40 per cent of a tree can be used for lumber. Most of the remainder would be wasted if we could not use it in our industry."

The spirit and romance of Spain glow in Douglas Fairbank's new photoplay, "Don Q. Son of Zorro," which opened a four-day visit to the Delta theatre yesterday. A big crowd of school children saw the special 4 o'clock matinee showing yesterday afternoon and a large crowd of adults last night also pronounced it excellent entertainment.

The story is the dramatization of the old adage, "Truth crushed to earth will rise again." The hero, a dashing young Spanish Californian, is sent to Spain by his father to complete his education. It is soon demonstrated that he is an expert with the type of stock whip used at that time in California.

A bull, rushing in while the fight is on ends the combat and results in the hero saving his opponent's life. His reward for this is informal presentation at court, where he discovers many friends of his father.

Things go well until circumstances point him out as the murderer of a visiting aristocrat. He pretends suicide in a spectacular leap into a river, becomes the mysterious Don Q, and begins his search for the real murderer.

The charcoal is utilized in a charcoal-iron furnace which consumes 45,000 to 50,000 tons of iron ore annually. Mr. Nolden said. Charcoal pig iron is of a higher quality than coke iron, demanding a higher price, and is used by foundries in high grade castings only.

Wood alcohol or methanol is used extensively as a solvent and a raw material as chemical manufacture. The paint and varnish industry uses it as a solvent for gums and resins. It is also used in the manufacture of formaldehyde, aniline dyes and denaturing purposes; in connection with acetic acid and acetone in frosting celluloid and it also is employed in making artificial leather, pyroxylin plastics, cellulose acetates, dopes, lacquers, enamels, stains and fuels, paints, shellacs, drugs and paint and varnish removers.
