

MICHIGAN LOSES IN BOUNDARY DISPUTE

WISCONSIN TO RETAIN LANDS IT POSSESSES

DECISION IS MADE BY SUPREME COURT.

Washington, Mar. 1.—(AP)—The present boundary line between Wisconsin and Michigan from Lake Superior to the middle of Lake Michigan will remain unchanged under a decision delivered today by the supreme court.

The line was attacked by Michigan, which contended that considerable territory between the Montreal and Menominee rivers within Wisconsin, properly belonged to her, that there should be a redistribution of islands in the Menominee river and that the boundary through Green Bay should be moved south so as to give her several islands now under the jurisdiction of Wisconsin.

Justice Sutherland, who delivered the opinion, stated that whatever might have been the merits of Michigan's contention her long acquiescence had established the right of Wisconsin's dominion over the land in controversy. For over sixty years Wisconsin has exercised undisputed sovereignty over the land, he pointed out, and it was now too late to go into technical questions as to what her rights originally may have been.

For its convenience in analyzing the dispute, the court divided the boundary line in controversy into three parts, first, that from the mouth of the Montreal river to the Menominee; second, the Menominee river, and third, the line through Green Bay from the mouth of the Menominee river to the middle of Lake Michigan.

Michigan's contentions in each of these sectors was fully presented by the court which refused to disturb the boundary which it stated had been marked and recognized by both states for more than sixty years.

Michigan, when admitted into statehood, was and since then had continued, the court stated, in possession of areas in dispute. Michigan failed, the court declared, "to maintain her case in any particular section and that the claims of Wisconsin as to the location of the boundary in each of the three sections are sustained."

The boundary seemed, the court declared, sufficiently defined for all purposes of future possession and jurisdiction and the two states were invited to present within 30 days a form of decree to carry the opinion into effect, notice being served that otherwise they fall to do so, the court would merely enter a decree dismissing the suit which Michigan had brought.

ESTATE TAXES RULINGS MADE

Supreme Court Decides Rights of States to Impose Tax.

Washington, Mar. 1.—(AP)—Two decisions were handed down by the supreme court today defining the rights of states in imposing inheritance taxes.

In one case, from Wisconsin, the court held that the fixing of any arbitrary time as a basis for determining when gifts should be considered as having been made in execution of death and subject to a state inheritance tax was obnoxious and that the matter to be determined for the purpose of such taxation must be in the intent of the donor.

In the other case, from North Carolina, the court decided that a state in which a non-resident company has property cannot tax the transfer of shares in it on a pro rata of the value of the property within its borders to the total property of the company.

The Wisconsin case was brought by the executors of the estate of Ferdinand Schlessinger and the supreme court's decision overthrew rulings by state courts sustaining a law which declares all gifts made within six years of the death of the donor subject to an inheritance tax.

In the majority opinion by Justice McReynolds, the supreme court denounced statutes which would determine the intent of the donor by fixing such a time limit as arbitrary and unreasonable.

The North Carolina case was brought by the Rhode Island Hospital Trust company to set aside an inheritance tax imposed upon the transfer of stock in the R. J. Reynolds Tobacco company under the will of George Briggs, who died, leaving a large estate.

YOUTH FOUND ON TRACK BY SWITCH CREW

SKULL FRACTURED, BOTH LEGS BROKEN.

Henry Derouin, 11 years old, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mose Derouin, 1201 North Eighteenth street, was fatally injured about 4:45 o'clock yesterday afternoon when he was run over by C. & N. W. freight train No. 280.

The accident occurred in the railroad yards here near the Coleman Nees coal sheds on Third avenue north. The boy was returning home from school, it is thought.

There were no eye-witnesses to the accident. Train No. 280, with Al Baker as engineer, was moving out of the yards with a switch engine following a short distance behind. Switch Foreman Michael O'Donnell and Switchman Charles Larson rode ahead of the switch engine on the caboose platform of No. 280, and as the train passed over the switch opposite the Coleman Nees sheds, they alighted. They sighted the boy lying between the rails just a few feet away.

Skull was fractured. The boy was unconscious when picked up and taken to the Coleman Nees office and later taken to the St. Francis hospital, where he died a few minutes afterward.

One of his hands was severed, both legs were broken and his skull was fractured. From all appearances, he had been dragged about two hundred feet.

The youth was not positively identified until about 7:30 o'clock. A boy, who arrived on the scene shortly after the accident, told A. C. Don Levy, C. & N. W. claim agent who investigated the case, that the injured youth was August Gafner, son of Hans Gafner, 628 North Twentieth street. August had not arrived home at that time, and a brother and sister went to the hospital to identify him, but as the boy was dying they were not allowed to see him. A short time later, they learned that August had arrived at his home.

None Raw Accident. The police were then notified. Shortly before 7 o'clock, the police department was notified by Moses Derouin that his son had failed to return from school. The father then identified the dead boy at the Alto Funeral home, where the body was taken to be prepared for burial.

How the boy lost his life is not definitely known. Members of the engine crew did not see him on the track ahead, and none of the train crew had noticed him.

It is reported that boys have been making a practice of catching rides on trains passing through the yards, and it is probable that the accident occurred in this manner.

Was Fifth Grader. Henry was in the fifth grade at St. Anne's parochial school. He had reached his eleventh birthday on last January 8. Surviving besides the parents are the following brothers and sisters: Mos Jr., Albert, Phillip, Rennie, Emil, Anna and Raymond.

Arrangements for the funeral have not been completed.

Feeds 300 Bums; 1,000 Come Out Following Day

Chicago, Mar. 1.—(AP)—Half of the itinerants of West Madison street, thoroughfare of hoboes, became stationary for an hour today at the doors of the Hobo college in anticipation of the return of the mysterious and affable stranger who has appeared daily at the hobo haven to stake the crowd to lunches.

The stranger, who refused to reveal his name, and who yesterday took 300 tramps to lunch, today attracted a crowd of 1,000 and then failed to show up.

"He just made a pile in a big 'crap' game and has blown it," one disappointed hobo surmised. But the majority believe he is at least a "big butter and egg man" and intend to come back tomorrow on the chance that he may have been detained today.

The benefactor of bums first appeared a week ago when he escorted six hoboes to lunch. Today there were 20, by Friday there were 50 and yesterday 300.

DRY LAW QUIZ PROPOSED BY SEC. ANDREWS

MELLON BELIEVES NO GOOD WOULD RESULT.

Washington, Mar. 1.—(AP)—Appointment of a presidential commission to conduct an investigation into the general effect of the prohibition amendment was proposed today by Assistant Secretary Andrews, in charge of enforcement, but it was frowned upon by Secretary Mellon.

Expressing the hope that the inquiry started today by the house alcoholic liquor traffic committee into prohibition would result in such a recommendation, Mr. Andrews, speaking informally, said it would do much to "quiet the public mind and aid enforcement work."

Mellon Opposes Plan. Secretary Mellon took an opposite view on the proposal of his chief enforcement officer, expressing the opinion that the public has made up its mind either for or against prohibition and such an investigation would be of little help.

Mapping out plans for its study of the effect of the operation of the eighteenth amendment, the house committee today decided to call Mr. Andrews as its first witness, probably next Monday.

Chairman Hudson indicated the proposal of the assistant secretary might be endorsed after a preliminary inquiry by the committee.

Wheeler's Viewpoint. Another viewpoint was expressed by Wayne B. Wheeler, general counsel of the Anti-Saloon League of America.

"Congressional leaders are not inclined to authorize any new commission to investigate the results of prohibition," he said. "A congressional committee is the usual one to investigate conditions on which congress acts. The alcoholic liquor traffic committee is making an investigation, and this is all that will be done at this session."

Nevertheless, the senate judiciary committee has decided to hear next Monday the proposals of Senators Edge, Republican, and Edwards, Democrat, New Jersey, and Bruce, Democrat, Maryland, for amendment of the Volstead act.

Insistent on a general public hearing by this or a select committee on the whole subject of prohibition enforcement.

Unwilling to make an estimate of the effect of the prohibition law himself, Mr. Andrews deplored today the "increasing number of wild statements" and expressed the opinion that, if proper enforcement were to be possible, the public mind must be quieted.

Mr. Mellon, on the other hand, held that the public generally knew the facts about prohibition and was in a position to obtain any information which a general commission might.

First Gov't Proposal. The inquiry outlined by Mr. Andrews would take into consideration all phases of the effects of the prohibition amendment, which he described as a "wonderful sociological experiment." He would have particular attention given to the economic and sociological effects of the amendment.

This is the first proposal from a government source for a general inquiry into the prohibition law in the six years since it became operative.

Representative Celler, Democrat, New York, in a statement today, described the alcoholic liquor traffic committee as composed of "hand-picked dregs."

Water Supply at Oil City Hospital Fails After Flood

Oil City, Pa., Mar. 1.—(AP)—The water supply to the Oil City hospital failed tonight, bringing to the city the first effect of the threatened water famine due to flood conditions in the Allegheny river valley.

With the city waterworks idle for the past 24 hours when the pumps were flooded by water backing up from a huge ice gorge, city officials were preparing for emergency measures in case the reserve supply was exhausted before the pumps again were placed in operation.

It was stated at the hospital that a day's supply of drinking water was on hand for the 35 patients in the institution and arrangements were made to haul water from other sections to keep the steam heating plant in operation.

The witness insisted that she did not smell liquor on Miss King's breath the night of the alleged attack.

Rotary Club Proposes Anchorage Basin for Boats on South Shore

A movement was proposed at the meeting of the Escanaba Rotary club yesterday for the construction of an anchorage basin for pleasure craft off the south shore, as a means of capitalizing the summer playground possibilities of this city when only automobile tourists were considered.

It was shown that the interest in lake cruising has increased in recent years tremendously and that Escanaba is making but a one-sided effort to take advantage of the summer tourist possibilities for this city when only automobile tourists were considered.

It was shown that an adequate anchorage basin could be constructed at a moderate cost, in clean and moderately shallow water and fully protected from all outside windstorms, on the south side of the lighthouse point. It was pointed out that a channel could be dredged through the sand bar that now blocks the inner south shore harbor and the basin of considerable size provided with but a moderate amount of dredging.

The matter was enthusiastically received by members of the club and steps were taken for the building up of public recognition of the need and the advantages that would accrue to Escanaba from such an improvement.

MELLON SCORES TWO VICTORIES OVER CRITICS

SENATE GIVES SECRETARY'S PRINCIPLES CLEAN TICKET.

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

(Copyright 1926, by the Escanaba Press)

Washington, Feb. 27.—Secretary of the Treasury Mellon has triumphed completely. Not only have the principles of taxation which he has espoused for five years been adopted as law but the United States senate has declined to take up the charges that he had used his official position to speulch against by the Department of Justice in connection with the activities of the aluminum company in which he is a large stockholder.

Senator Moses of New Hampshire, republican, openly accused Senator Walsh of Montana, democrat, during the debate of aiming the attack at President Coolidge by attempting to convict his secretary of the treasury of alleged improper activity. The senate by a close vote refused to pursue the inquiry any further and so that except the democratic minority has been deprived of an issue.

Democrats Save Day.

Mr. Mellon was warmly defended on the floor of the senate by regular republicans but the surprising feature of the debate was the way Senator Cole Blaise of South Carolina, democrat, regarded as a radical, joined hands with another democrat, Senator Bruce of Maryland, conservative, and gave the republicans the necessary votes to save the aluminum company from investigation.

The democrats are non-plussed today over the fact that two democrats deserted them. They had drawn to their side several insurgent republicans and it looked for a time as if the coalition formed in the last session of congress would be revived. Indeed, the vote was so close that it can be regarded as significant of future votes. In other words, the administration is far from possessing steam-roller strength in the upper house of congress.

There is no relationship, of course, between the proposed aluminum inquiry and the next tax law but several senators on the republican side who might otherwise have been stampeded into voting for the aluminum investigation felt that the secretary of the treasury was sufficiently popular at the moment to enable them to stand with him even on so intangible an issue as that presented in the Walsh resolution. Had there been a public opinion developed against Secretary Mellon in the aluminum controversy, even republican senators would have hesitated to vote against investigation.

Vindication of Principles.

The question was not whether the aluminum company had violated court decrees which had ordered restraint of trade to cease but whether the senate should simply examine the facts. Usually even though members have their doubts as to the outcome of a proposed inquiry they do not like to place themselves on record as opposing an ascertainment of the facts. In this case the number who ranged themselves alongside of Mr. Mellon is an indication of how strong they think he is with their own constituencies.

As for the tax law the democrats supported it so heartily by votes that they can hardly attack it on the stump though here and there murmurs are heard that the measure makes a substantial reduction on the income tax payments of millions and makes a relatively small reduction on the whole. Mr. Mellon has won a big victory but it is not a personal one because he has mingled it with a vindication of his principles which in the last two years have been persistently proclaimed before bankers, associations, chambers of commerce and civic bodies so that congress really felt the pressure from back home and took the Mellon plan almost in its entirety.

Rich Had Scratches on Face After Wild Night, Jean Says

State Rests Its Case in Attack Trial at Mason.

Mason, Mich., Mar. 1.—(AP)—With the introduction of further sensational testimony from Jean McBeth, former classmate of Louise King, and some expert testimony from Dr. Albert Warthin of the University of Michigan, the state closed its case in the retrial of Arthur C. Rich here this afternoon.

By calling Clyde C. Cortright, Calhoun county prosecutor, who conducted the first prosecution of Rich as the first witness, defense attorneys questioned him vigorously regarding the manner in which Miss McBeth had been induced to return to Michigan to testify.

Cortright denied the girl had demanded $250 to come back. He stated he corresponded with her father, a minister, who estimated her expenses would be that amount.

Mrs. Lillian Rich, grandmother of the defendant, and Martin Coffman, chauffeur for the Rich family, followed Cortright to the stand. They denied that young Rich's face was scratched the day following the alleged attack.

The defense started calling witnesses only a short time before court adjourned. Most of the day Miss McBeth held the center of the stage. She asserted Rich told her not to tell the officials of the Battle Creek college about Miss King or she would be expelled.

He offered to pay all the bills, she testified.

Defense Attacks Testimony.

At the conclusion of her direct examination, W. J. Barnard, chief defense counsel, launched a fiery effort to shake the unwelcome testimony. He directed his cross-examination at her character and reputation in bombastic strokes.

"Isn't it a fact that while you stayed at the Post Tavern you slept all day and stayed up all night?" he asked Miss McBeth.

She made a vigorous denial. He inquired into automobile rides and parties said to have been attended by Miss McBeth, insinuating throughout that there had been liquor and indiscretions. The witness flatly denied improprieties.

"You came back to testify for the good of the cause, didn't you?" "Didn't you write before the first trial that you would not come back unless you were paid?" "No, I did not write."

Denies Drinking Charge. The defense attorney traced her school days, asking her if she had not been expelled from school in Canada because of her conduct and been asked in Battle Creek not to return.

He intimated that she was a member of the "drinking and smoking set" and asked if the faculty at Battle Creek had not had her on the carpet for drinking and smoking.

Miss McBeth asserted all his statements were untrue.

The witness insisted that she did not smell liquor on Miss King's breath the night of the alleged attack.

ber part. The contention is devoid of merit. From Lake Huron to the south of the Menominee river the line, which is now fixed and finally established by long acquiescence, follows the channel of the Brule river wherever they are from islands; wherever are encountered above the Green Bay section, the line follows the channel nearest the Wisconsin mainland so as to throw all such islands into Michigan; and wherever islands are encountered below the Green Bay section the line follows the channel nearest the Michigan mainland, so as to throw all islands into Wisconsin.

Green Bay Section. Green Bay section: "It is established by long possession and acquiescence and this conclusion is justified by evidence and concession of the most substantial character.

There is evidence of acts of dominion and possession of some of the disputed islands while Wisconsin was yet a territory. Almost from the day of her admission, the state has continuously possessed, asserted title and exercised jurisdiction and dominion over all of the islands within the boundary claimed by her.

The evidence in respect of the other group of islands, while perhaps not so complete, is definite and clear to the same effect. The taxation of lands on Chamberlain Island began while Wisconsin was still a territory.

Evidence of early and continuing recognition and treatment of the islands as part of Wisconsin by the United States through its surveys, and so forth, is to the same effect as that in respect of the other group.

The absence of evidence of specific acts of dominion over the Strawberry and other small islands of this group is easily understood and does not affect the result. They are of little consequence, lying well within the boundary as claimed by Wisconsin.

In conclusion, the opinion stated: The boundary seems to be sufficiently defined for all purposes of future possession and jurisdiction; but the parties of either of them, if so advised, may within 30 days submit the form of a decree more particularly to carry this opinion into effect; failing which a simple decree dismissing the bill will be entered."

OLD DISPUTE. Washington, D. C.—(AP)—The boundary dispute between Michigan and Wisconsin, simmering since 1836, was brought to the supreme court to have three questions decided:

Whether it was the intention of congress that the line in the Montreal river sector should leave a lake at the headwaters of that stream.

Whether the islands in the Menominee river sector should be divided according to their location with respect to the main channel of that river; and

Which of two channels in the Green Bay sector was "the most usual ship channel in 1836."

Michigan Started Action. The case reached the court in a proceeding instituted by Michigan, and the controversy was traced directly to faulty geographical information in the hands of congress at the time Michigan was admitted to statehood.

In defining the southern boundary of Michigan's upper peninsula between Lakes Superior and Michigan, congress drew a line down the middle of the main channel of the Montreal river "to the middle of the Lake of the Desert."

Michigan contended that this provision must be interpreted as meaning a lake at the headwaters of the Montreal river. The state also insisted that the "main" channel of the river proceeded down its western branch to Island Lake and designated that lake as the starting point of the western end of the land line. This line was to cut across "in a direct line" to "the nearest headwaters of the Menominee river."

Wisconsin held that Lake of the Desert, is now known as Lac Vieux Desert, and is an essential part of the boundary. It insisted that wherever the line should be located with reference to the Montreal river it must pass through Lac Vieux Desert, and that the "main" channel of the Montreal river followed its eastern and not its western branch.

Menominee Line Disputed. The boundary line down the Menominee river was another source of dispute. Michigan demanding that it should run down the center of the main channel, giving to Michigan all islands on its side of the line. Wisconsin admitted that it had been the intention of congress to make the main channel the boundary line, but insisted that it was impossible at this time to determine where the main channel ran in 1836.

Based its position upon its own enabling act in 1846, Wisconsin asserted that Michigan, by accepting that act, agreed to take all islands above the Green Bay falls regardless of the location of the channel, and to recognize Wisconsin's title to all islands below those falls.

Usual Ship Channel? The controversy over the Green Bay sector centered around a determination of what congress meant when it provided that the line across the bay to the middle of Lake Michigan should follow "the most usual ship channel."

Michigan contended a line from the mouth of the Menominee river almost directly eastward across the bay and then northward through Death's Door into Lake Michigan would be "the most usual ship channel."

Wisconsin contended that the line should follow the channel nearest the Wisconsin mainland so as to throw all such islands into Michigan; and wherever islands are encountered below the Green Bay section the line follows the channel nearest the Michigan mainland, so as to throw all islands into Wisconsin.

berries and a few minor islands. Wisconsin contended that the present boundary followed "the most usual ship channel," and also that Michigan had long acquiesced in that boundary and it was now too late for her to seek to have it changed.

If Michigan is to have her boundary redefined, according to what she contends is the meaning of the enabling act, and no consideration is to be given the Wisconsin enabling act, Wisconsin has announced it will insist upon Michigan giving up a slice of territory now under her jurisdiction north of Brule river, and between it and Faint river.

LIQUOR CASES MANY IN N. Y.

Five Public Places Padlocked; Several Men Indicted.

New York, March 1.—(AP)—The machinery of the federal courts was thrown into high gear today to dispose of prohibition cases, with the following results:

Padlocking of five public places, including the Maxine Supper club, for one year; padlocking of three places for six months and bonding of two others for $1,000 in padlock court.

Indictment of five men and three corporations for illegal diversion of alcohol by a federal grand jury.

Opening of the trial of four men charged with having conducted from New York a huge mail order bootleg business.

The men indicted for illegal diversion of alcohol were Leo Blume, Nathan Sanders, Jesse Seligman, Joseph Rizzo and T. C. Martino, heads of corporations which handled a total of 15,300 gallons of alcohol monthly under federal permits. The corporations headed by Blume, Sanders and Seligman were also indicted.

The government had on hand 58 witnesses from various parts of the country when trial of the alleged mail order bootleggers began before Federal Judge Hickenlooper. Joseph E. Friedman pleaded guilty when the case opened, and Louis P. Shayne was granted a severance of trial because he was too ill to be in court. Albert H. Shayne and Charles F. Sakin went on trial.

The government charged that the men did business as the Walker Mercantile company and sent traveling salesmen through the country obtaining orders for liquor. The first government witness, the rental agent for the premises occupied by the Walker Mercantile company, said he was instructed by the building's owners to examine the contents of the waste baskets of the first and that he placed together many papers showing prices the company charged.

The government witnesses include persons from 18 cities and towns in Illinois, Iowa, Ohio, Indiana, Tennessee, Wisconsin, Missouri, Virginia, Michigan and West Virginia.

PATENT SUIT WON BY MINER

Carson to Get Millions From Copper Smelting Company.

San Francisco, Mar. 1.—(AP)—George Campbell Carson, copper miner and desert wanderer, who has looked up at the stars many nights from a bed of sand for want of a better couch, was placed in a position by the United States circuit court here today to receive a fortune of millions from the American Smelting and Refining company for alleged infringement upon a patent.

Every court into which the lowly, sandy haired miner has brought his case has sustained him, the list including the United States supreme court. The company sought to try the case all over again on new grounds, but the circuit court said today that the book of Carson's legal troubles was closed and that he should be given his due.

State Patent Charge. The case concerned improvements and refinements in the side-charging reverberatory furnaces used for smelting copper ores. The patented process greatly facilitated the work. The smelting company adopted the process, Carson contended, without giving himself or his patent credit. He demanded satisfaction. They told him they were using a process patented in Dollar Bay, Mich., to which they had a right.

Carson carried on the fight nine years without weapons or resources to begin with other than a native simplicity of speech and manner and a few blueprints and sketches. The United States district court of the state of Washington favored him with an imposing judgment. The circuit court upheld the district court. The supreme court upheld the circuit court. They were suing pending against other smelting companies, but the action which was decided was the key suit.

Wants to Experiment. The court noted in conclusion: "The ends of justice demand that the litigations should end here."

Carson, the wanderer, with a possible $20,000,000 coming to him and his associates, can now get the perfect laboratory tools and retorts that he needs in his work. It is something that he has always wanted, he said, but he had to go ahead with the tools that others had thrown away, broken and worn out.

He has no plans for the future other than his laboratory. He says that he does not want the riches that the action demanded be given to him. He merely wants the satisfaction of letting the world know that he made a valuable and lasting contribution to the refinement of copper ore.

Gas Tax Brings in 9 Million in Year

Lansing, Mar. 1.—(AP)—The two-cent gasoline tax enacted by the 1925 legislature netted the state $8,902,818 in the first 12 months since it went into effect, according to a report completed today by Charles J. Deland, secretary of state, today. This figure includes receipts up to February 1, as collections were not started until that date in 1925.

The revenue exceeded estimates made when the legislature adopted the levy by about $2,000,000. The average estimate was between $6,000,000 and $7,000,000.

Net receipts in January were $596,841 as compared with $677,009 in December.

Total revenues from the weight and gasoline taxes will run between $24,000,000 and $25,000,000, as compared with less than $21,592,453 in 1925, according to estimates.

RAIL DISPUTES BEING DECIDED

Washington, Mar. 1.—The supreme court went far today into the field of clearing up railroad disputes arising out of the federal control of railroads during the World War.

In 10 cases it held that railroad claims against the government arising prior to federal control were not foreclosed by contracts of final settlement and release which the railroads signed when the properties were returned to their owners.

In another case, which was regarded as a test of the right of short-line railroads to compensation from the government on the ground that they had been taken over under federal control, the court held that the short-line had failed to show that it had suffered damages, and therefore was not entitled to compensation. It declined to define what constituted a taking over by the government, leaving that question open.

The right of the railroads to prosecute claims against the government which arose prior to federal control was established by appeals by the government in cases against the Reading company, the Southern Railway, the St. Louis, Brownsville and Mexico, the New Haven, the Central New England and the Baltimore and Ohio railroads and the New England Steamship company, and in an appeal by the Pere Marquette Railway company and a counter appeal by the Reading company.

Chicago Tribune Prints Photograph of the Genna Banquet.

Chicago, Mar. 1.—(AP)—With the city's crime conditions and hints of political significance formally aired at Washington in the petition of the Chicago Better Government association for a congressional inquiry, Chicago Republican factions are at loggerheads.

Intense feeling here today centered about two photographs circulated in connection with the petition charges that State's Attorney Crowe was a guest at a 1924 banquet given by the Genna brothers and other gangsters.

One of the pictures was printed by the Chicago Tribune today and was a reproduction of the speakers' table at the banquet referred to in the petition presented to the senate Saturday by Vice President Dawes. It showed Mr. Crowe, Secretary of State Emerson, Lieutenant Governor Sterling and other state and municipal officials seated at the table.

Deneen at Party. Friends of the state's attorney pointed out that several representatives of the opposing faction, headed by Senator Deneen, were also in the photographs and a second one circulated of a party given in 1925 by "Diamond Joe" Esposito, Italian leader and alleged bootlegger, showed Senator Deneen and others as guests. Reverend E. L. Williams, law enforcement director of the Better Government association, returned today from Washington and issued a statement denying that the petition for a senate investigation of conditions in Chicago was drawn with the assistance of politicians.

Crowe is Warned. The association issued an open warning to Crowe that it is prepared to produce evidence to substantiate the charges made in the petition. The executive board met to consider further moves. The petition, which goes before the senate immigration committee at a special session tomorrow, alleges that Crowe attended the banquet, that Tony Genna, recently slain gangster and that other gangsters contributed to the dinner expenses and that at a recent trial of two gunmen for murder of police officers, testimony was excluded by a judge which would have proved 300 policemen were "collecting" monthly from the Gennas and protecting their liquor production and shipment.

State's Attorney Crowe charged the responsibility for the introduction of the petition to Senator Deneen and linked the senator's faction with Esposito and other characters. The senator, in a statement telegraphed from Washington, in turn asserted that charges that Esposito was a bootlegger sprang up after the Italian transferred his allegiance to the Deneen group.

Chamberlain Asks for Free Hand in Council at Geneva

London, March 1.—(AP)—The event of the day in the league crisis was Sir Austen Chamberlain's apology delivered to about 200 members of parliament of all parties. In effect, the speech of the British foreign secretary was a plea for a free hand as a delegate for a free hand as a delegate. The question the cabinet will have to decide at Wednesday's council is whether he shall be given that blank check or whether he shall have more or less definite instructions.

Judging from today's speech, Sir Austen has not receded from his previous stand in favor of enlargement of the council of the League of Nations.

Although he denied taking any decision in conference with M. Briand, the French premier, at the end of January, he refrained from any detail that an understanding may have been reached at the Locarno meeting itself without Germany's knowledge or enlargement of the council concurrently with Germany's entry which was one of the charges made against him here. His speech had a somewhat cold reception and Premier Baldwin's promised statement later in the week is awaited to throw further light on the question.

State's Attorney Crowe charged the responsibility for the introduction of the petition to Senator Deneen and linked the senator's faction with Esposito and other characters. The senator, in a statement telegraphed from Washington, in turn asserted that charges that Esposito was a bootlegger sprang up after the Italian transferred his allegiance to the Deneen group.

STEAM LAUNDRY HIT BY FIRE

Windows Broken but Little Damage Results Otherwise.

Safety appliances recently installed in the Escanaba Steam Laundry prevented serious damage to the plant yesterday when a spark of static electricity set off a "benzene flash" in the dry cleaning department. W. L. Parkan, cleaner, was painfully burned about the face and hands, but he was not injured. The machinery in the department was in operation again a few hours after the fire.

The concussion from the flash shattered two of the front windows of the building and cracked the brick wall in the cleaning room. Safety doors on the cleaning machine dropped automatically, the fire door to the room closed and the steam fire extinguishers did their work in a few seconds.

While the damage was confined to windows and to the kalsomine on the walls of the cleaning room, the laundry's "open house week" which was to have opened yesterday, has been postponed until repairs are made. E. A. Grabowski, the proprietor of the establishment, said.

Mr. Grabowski was presented with a beautiful loving cup yesterday by employees of the plant.

Grain Elevators at Pt. Arthur Crammed

Port Arthur, Ont., Mar. 1.—(AP)—Elevators at the head of the lakes are crammed to within a million bushels of their total blanket capacity and yards are filled with thousands of cars of grain waiting to be unloaded. The board of grain commissioners order denying elevators the privilege of taking any other than damaged grain into the house from the yards for drying purposes became effective today.

DODGE EARNINGS

New York, Mar. 1.—(AP)—Earnings of Dodge Brothers, Inc., an automobile manufacturer, established a new high record in 1925, with its income expanding to $28,692,346, compared with $19,965,440 in the preceding year. After allowing for taxes, interest and dividends on the preference stock, the profits were equivalent to $6.59 a share on the class "A" and class "B" common stocks.

Net sales of the company totaled $216,841,368, compared with $201,652,446 in 1924, the best previous year, and represented the turn-over of 255,322 cars, against 222,236 the year before.

The company's surplus on December 31, 1925, totaled $31,477,234, of which $6,676,722 arose upon acquisition of assets on May 1, 1925; $14,958,543 upon conversion of debentures, and $9,841,960 from earnings.

Quaker Oats
"stands by"
you through the morning

Feel hungry and "fidgety" before lunch?—try this

To feel right through the morning, you must have well-balanced, complete food at breakfast. At most other meals—that is, at luncheon and at dinner—you usually get that kind of food.

But at breakfast the great dietary mistake is most often made—a hurried meal, often badly chosen.

Thus Quaker Oats, containing 16% protein, food's great tissue builder; 55% carbohydrate, its great energy element, plus all-important vitamins and the "bulk" that makes laxatives seldom needed, is the dietetic food of the world today.

It is food that "stands by" you through the morning. Food that should start every breakfast in your home.

Quick Quaker cooks in 3 to 5 minutes. That's faster than plain oatmeal. Don't deny yourself the natural stimulation this rich food offers.

New York, Mar. 1.—(AP)—Acute weakness developed today in all the principal securities and commodities markets.

There was nothing in the day's news to account for the reactions in the speculative markets which Wall Street was inclined to regard as an overdue correction of speculative excesses that have been taking place since last fall.

The announcement before the opening that banking interests had taken over the holdings of certain groups which had been operating in American Brake Shoe and Foundry, Foundation Company and New York Cannery, all of which had recorded violent declines on Saturday, inspired sufficient short covering to give bullish transactions a firm tone.

As a result, scores of stop-loss orders which had been placed by frightened investors were touched off and sweeping declines took place in many sections of the list.

CHICAGO GRAIN

Chicago, Mar. 1.—Wholesale downward by a storm of selling the wheat market today suffered a fall of as much as 6-8c a bushel, and carried down other grains as well.

Official estimates that the amount of wheat held on hand in the States farms is much larger than generally has been supposed was among the chief factors which brought about the general rally to sell.

Downward swings of wheat values began about the time that estimates from private experts began to be circulated relative to domestic farm stocks of wheat.

MING REPLIES TO CRITICISM

Denies Being Approached by Administration Supporters.

Lansing, Mar. 1.—(AP)—The legislative controversy over the administrative highway and Grand Trunk bills took a new turn in the house this afternoon when administration critics were flayed.

Denies Being "Approached." Banging his desk, he asserted the only way for a member of the legislature to officially defend himself against lies is to go on the record in protest.

Ming Praises Governor. He praised the governor and mentioned the popular favor he appears to enjoy if the last vote is an indication.

The Broder bill, providing for the ratification of the agreement between the state and the Grand Trunk railroad whereby the D. G. H. & M. right of way will be turned over to the state for highway purposes and the road's special tax charter will be abrogated, struck a snag when it was considered in committee of the whole last week.

Representative Robert MacDonald of Laurium protested against the clause putting control of the funds invested in the deal in the hands of the state administrative board, but the bill passed the committee of the whole unscathed.

The McLain resolution is in committee. According to Representative Eugene Kirby, chairman of the committee, Rogora's report is satisfactory because it is all that can be obtained on short notice.

Both the Grand Trunk bill and the Kirby measure, providing for reducing state reward payments this year to $1,000,000 will be up for a final vote Tuesday. Indications were they will pass and that the legislature will speed up and adjourn this week.

Representative Fred R. Ming of Cheboygan, reacting from a newspaper controversy over the legislative highway and Grand Trunk bills took a new turn in the house this afternoon when administration critics were flayed.

BOARD PASSES RESOLUTION OF CONDOLENCES

Extends Sympathy to Widow of John Granholm

The township board of Ensign township of which John Granholm found dead in an Escanaba hotel a week ago, had been a member since July 5, 1924, passed a resolution of condolence at a special meeting held Saturday, February 27, in which the board extended its sympathy to the widow of the deceased.

The resolution, a copy of which was sent to Mrs. Granholm, follows: "Whereas, death has claimed John Granholm, member of the Township Board of Ensign Township since July 4, 1924. We, the undersigned, members of the Board in session at the clerk's office, February 27, 1926.

"Resolve, that this Board extend to the bereaved wife and children our sincere sympathy in their great loss, and though the loss to Mrs. Mary Granholm and children is immeasurable, we feel that the Township has also lost a valuable citizen;

"Be it further resolved, that a copy of this resolution be sent to Mrs. Mary Granholm, and that it be written into the minutes of this meeting.

"Respectfully submitted, "Harold F. Gustafson, Supervisor. "Maurice Shone, Justice. "Blanche Teinert, "Clerk."

U. GLEE CLUB MAY SING HERE

Cancellation of its proposed trip to the Pacific coast is contemplated by the University of Michigan glee club so that it can make a tour of the Upper Peninsula.

The university organization has notified the various alumni clubs in upper Michigan that it would change its plans if a reasonable guarantee would be made to finance the undertaking.

The board of governors of the Delta County University of Michigan club in a meeting last night voted to arrange for the appearance of the glee club here.

The glee club carries along on its tour the variety quartet and the variety dance orchestra. Whether the glee club will decide to tour the U. P. will be decided within a few days.

BILLY EVANS SAYS

SOUTHPAWS ERRATIC. What makes the southpaws wild?

Major league managers would welcome the answer to that question. Without a doubt the biggest disappointment of last season in the big show was "Lefty" Groves of the Athletics.

Lack of control made more or less of a "bust" out of Groves. The previous season with the Baltimore club of the International League, Groves had been the sensation of the circuit. He won 26 and lost only 6. Incidentally he struck out 231 men in 236 innings, almost one an inning. Some pitching.

When Groves got the ball over the plate in the American League he whiffed almost as effective for he whiffed 116 men in 197 innings. On the showing of Groves largely depends the chances of the Athletics to win this year.

"I wasn't so much wilder than usual last year," explains Groves, "it was the careful way in which league batters look over your stuff that made me seem so. They don't offer at many bad balls in the big show."

CASE OF HARPER

In connection with the experiences of "Lefty" Groves, I recall the case of Harry Harper who started his major league career with the Washington club. I have called balls and strikes for Rube Waddell when he was in his prime, seen all the great left-handers of the last 20 years in action and will say that few of them had more stuff than Harry Harper.

But Harper was wild and during his connection with the Washington club it was the exception for him to finish a ball game. When he pitched I was sorry I didn't have an inflated suit. Half of his heaves would strike the ground in front of the plate.

The Washington club finally decided never was one thing that Harper never would acquire, so he was passed on to the Minneapolis club of the American association. Joe Cantillon, former Washington manager, owned that club and there was a working agreement between the two teams.

Harper gave players and scribes of the association much to talk and write about before he had been in the league a month.

USUAL CAREER.

Last spring while touring the training camps, I bumped into Joe Cantillon in Florida. He was doing some scouting for the Chicago White Sox. Harper was one of the topics discussed.

"When Harry joined my club," said Cantillon, "he explained to me that he had been instructed to let up on his stuff if unable to get it over."

"I told him to forget about such instructions, that I wanted him to put something on every ball. I don't care if you give enough passes to make a parade of players from Minneapolis to Louisville, give 'em all you got."

"In his first game he lost 8-7 in 11 innings, striking out 16 and walking 9. He lasted four innings in his next start, whiffing 7 and passing 11. Must have thought he was rolling the dice instead of pitching a baseball."

"His wildest day was his third game, in eight innings of play he walked 20 and fanned 7. Of course he lost."

"That season he worked 133 innings and struck out 135 men, also walked 121. He averaged better than a strikeout an inning and almost a base on balls."

Unquestionably lack of control kept Harry Harper from being as much talked about as the late "Rube" Waddell.

FOUR TEAMS TO TAKE PART IN TOURNNEY HERE

Some Real Battles Are Anticipated Friday

Iron Mountain, Manistique, Menominee and Escanaba will be the participants in the district basketball tournament to be held at the high school on Friday and Saturday of this week.

The tournament will open at 7:30 on Friday night when Iron Mountain and Menominee clash. This game is being looked upon as one of the fastest of the tournament because both teams will be playing on a neutral floor.

At 8:30 Friday night Escanaba and Manistique will meet. Escanaba tied the Stickers earlier in the season but since that time both teams have shown a great deal of improvement and will be in their best form on Friday night.

The winners of the games Friday will meet Saturday night to decide first place honors and the losers of Friday's games will play to decide third place honors. Winners of first and second places will go to Marquette the following week.

The local basketball squad was cut to fourteen yesterday in order that more individual attention might be possible.

Condition of Hughie Jennings Very Serious

Asheville, N. C.—The manner in which the mental and physical strain of a gripping baseball race gnaws into the strength of the human physique of diamond athletes perhaps is better illustrated in the recent case of Hughie Jennings than in any athlete of recent years.

Jennings now is at Winyah sanitarium, Asheville, N. C., striving to recover his health. The strain and worry of the 1925 struggle the Giants and Pirates waged until the closing date of the race are reported responsible for Hughie's breakdown.

Physicians who examined him at Asheville declare. A rest of six months has been prescribed for Jennings. Should he insist on reporting to the Giants' camp at Sarasota, Fla., for spring training, the physicians in charge of his case refuse to assume responsibility for his condition. No visitors are allowed to see him.

Since his arrival at Asheville many admiring fans have showered him with flowers but physicians and attendants refuse to permit anyone to see him, save Mrs. Jennings. His condition is very serious.

Jennings, who managed the Detroit club for years before going over to the National League to join his old teammate at Baltimore, John McGraw, was McGraw's first lieutenant last season.

When the Giants lost, Jennings grieved and worried. When they won he relaxed a little. But the Giants fought a losing battle to the end and, when the season was over, Jennings was a physical wreck, exhausted and fatigued until the breakdown could not be avoided.

The gruelling years he has served on the diamond have slowly sapped stamina and power from his being. No longer does the gallant old veteran of many a memorable struggle possess the recuperative power that once was his.

Many fans read about the physical and mental strain of a hard season's grind. They pay little attention to it. Instead, they look upon it all as the pipe dream of some sports writer.

But in Hughie Jennings' case the fact has been driven convincingly to its target. The wear and tear of over 30 years' diamond slavery is beginning to collect its toll.

Although on the coaching lines the past several years, Hughie took defeat of his clubs to heart just as did Cobb or Crawford at Detroit or Frisch or Kelly at New York.

BADGERS LOSE TO WOLVERINES

Michigan Wins 24 to 23; Purdue Beats Illinois.

Madison, Wis., Mar. 1.—(P)—A free shot that Behr, Wisconsin forward, failed to sink gave Michigan a 24 to 23 victory over Wisconsin tonight in a hectic extra period game. The Badgers closed the home season in a brilliant upthill climb against the Wolverines. A one-hand shot by Behr saved Wisconsin at the end of the regular period, 21 to 21. Lineup and summary:

Table with columns: MICHIGAN (24), WISCONSIN (23), G, FT, PF, etc.

PURDUE BEATS ILLINOIS. Lafayette, Ind., Mar. 1.—(P)—Purdue won a Western Conference basketball game from the University of Illinois, 28 to 23, here tonight, the victory sending the Hoosiers to the top of the Big Ten standing. The game was marked by the playing of Wheeler, Purdue forward, and the frequent fouling by both teams. The locals led at the half, 17 to 9.

WORTH KNOWING

Paul Berlenbach, light-heavyweight champion, started his professional ring career in fitting fashion.

In his first 23 battles Berlenbach won 19 by knockouts, the 10 initial ones coming in a row. Five came in the opening round. He was twice held to a draw, once by Angie Ratner, the other time by Young Stribling. Johnny Gill fought him 10 sessions in no-decision affair.

Berlenbach met his only reverse against Jack Delaney. The French-Canuck kayped Paul in four rounds, much to the surprise of the fistic fraternity. The defeat came a few months after Berlenbach had turned pro in 1923.

Ty Cobb Undergoes Slight Operation

Baltimore, Mar. 1.—(P)—Ty Cobb, manager of the Detroit American League baseball club, underwent a successful operation for removal of a small growth from his left eye today. Dr. William Holland Wilmer, who performed the operation at the Wilmer Eye Clinic of Johns Hopkins hospital, pronounced the Georgia peach's condition as satisfactory.

Cobb, who expects to join the Tigers for spring training in a week or ten days, said he never felt better and that the operation was a precautionary measure. The growth had not seriously affected his sight, he said, but he considered this an opportune time to have it removed.

"Removal of the growth will result in my maintaining my batting average for a good many more years," he declared.

ST. JOE ALUMNI TO PLAY INDEES

Two Quints to Clash at High Gym Tomorrow Night.

The St. Joe Alumni basketball team, a newly organized outfit, and the Escanaba Independents will clash in a game at the Escanaba high school gymnasium tomorrow night, March 3.

A game well worth witnessing is promised. The St. Joe lineup includes the following: Gleib, O'Brien, Brunell, Moran, Sorenson, Brotherton and Bayce, all players of known ability, who ought to give the Indies some stiff competition.

The regular Indee lineup will be out for the game. The team is again at its full strength with Christenson, Blomstrom, Gafner, St. Louis, Schram, Soderberg and Andrews playing regularly again.

A good sized crowd of fans anxious for some snappy basketball is expected to attend. Earl Williams will referee the scrap.

HELEN DRAWS BYE. Mentone, France, Mar. 1.—(P)—Helen Wills drew a bye in the Mentone lawn tennis tournament, opening today, in which she again had the honor of being seeded at the top of the draw.

Referee Westlake pondered long over the question of seeding Senorita de Alvarez or Mlle. Dotti Vlasto in the lower half and finally promised by placing Mlle. Vlasto at the top of one quarter and the Spanish champion at the top of the other.

Miss Wills announced today that she will take a rest after the Cannes tournament, the third week in March, going to Florence, Italy, to attend a school for painting and drawing throughout April.

Baseball Scores.

New York, Mar. 1.—(P)—Superfrank scored by a length over Stanwix in the Cypress, feature at the Miami track today, pressing to the front in the stretch. The winner covered the 1 1/16 miles in 1:45 3/8. Kings Ransom placed third.

Jefferson Park at New Orleans announced extension of the present meeting to March 30. Today's feature, 1 1/16 miles for four-year-olds and up, went to President, over Bargain Day and Volt.

Variation captured the six furlong sprint at Tampa, with North Breeze second and Jubal Early third.

Excavate Tunnel to Avoid Burglar Alarm in Store

New York, Mar. 1.—(P)—Robbers circumvented an elaborate burglar alarm system by a tunnel, from which they removed five tons of earth and stole furs worth $100,000 yesterday from the Julius Klugman's Sons, Inc., establishment in Manhattan, it became known today.

Working within a hundred feet of a police station across the street, they are believed to have required a week for the operation, in which they dug a deep, prearranged hole and went horizontally for more than 20 feet, piercing the foundations of two buildings.

The robbers rented a vacant store in the rear of the fur establishment. A partition was erected to cut the view of the rear of the store from the street and the tunnel was dug from the shop. The dirt and rock was piled on the floor.

The thieves took 1,000 white and red fox skins and 1,000 baumartin furs.

Nine other robbers acted more impetuously than the patient diggers and today held up 35 employees of the Applebaum and Corn Fur Dressing company's shop in Brooklyn, taking furs valued at $50,000.

WAR INJURIES PROVE FATAL

Harry Roberts Passes
Away in Hospital at Maywood, Ill.

Injuries suffered in the World war caused the death yesterday in Hines Memorial hospital, Maywood, Ill., of Harry Roberts, of Escanaba. Roberts had been a patient in the Maywood government hospital for more than two years. Before that he was treated for an extended period at Ford hospital in Des Moines.

He is the second son his mother, Mrs. Adeline Roberts, gave to the cause of world democracy. The other son, Lawrence, was reported missing in action in France during the summer of 1918 and no trace of him ever was found.

Harry Roberts was one of the first Escanabans to answer President Wilson's call to arms in the spring of 1917. He spent 21 months in the army, serving with Company F, 62nd Infantry. While in France he contracted intestinal maladies from which he never recovered.

He was a member of Cleveland Post, American Legion, and during the early days of that organization, before his health forced him to seek hospital care, he was active in the post's affairs.

He is survived by his mother and the following brothers and sisters, Clifford, Roy, Melber and Miss Leona Roberts of Escanaba, and Mrs. Frank Roth of Denver, Colo.

The body will probably arrive here from Chicago Wednesday and present plans include a military funeral, under Legion auspices, from St. Joseph's Catholic church Saturday morning.

HOUSE PASSES RAILWAY BILL

Measure to Abolish Labor Board Goes to Senate.

Washington, Mar. 1.—(P)—The house today, by a vote of 381 to 13, passed and sent to the senate the Watson-Parker bill, which would abolish the railroad labor board and set up new machinery for voluntary adjustments of disputes in the industry.

The measure, drafted by representatives of railroad operators and employees, carries only two amendments with it to the senate. The proposal, as agreed upon in conference between the senate and house commerce committees, before it was reported to the house, is pending on the calendar.

When the senate committee bill is called up the house and senate sponsors of the plans have indicated that they expect the time of its enactment to hinge largely on the senate attitude toward the house amendments. These, both introduced by Chairman Parker of the commerce committee, provide a guarantee of retention of present powers of the interstate commerce committee and strike out the provision of $300,000 for expenses of the board of mediation substituting "such sums as may be necessary."

FARM RELIEF CAMPAIGN ON

Organizations to Launch
Drive on Congress
Today for Aid.

Washington, Mar. 1.—(P)—Farm organization leaders at a conference tonight completed plans for the long-heralded drive upon congress for agricultural relief legislation. It is expected to be launched tomorrow with the opening by the house agriculture committee of hearings on a number of farm relief bills, including the Dickinson surplus measure.

Attending the meeting tonight were Governors John Hammill of Iowa, and Carl Gunderson of South

Dakota, members of both house and senate, and a score of representatives of farm organizations in central and mid-western states. It was arranged by the executive committee of 22 of the north-central states agricultural conference, which has charge of the program adopted at the recent Des Moines conference. George N. Peck, chairman of the committee, in opening address, asserted that if congress should fail to pass farm relief legislation at its present session, "new political alliances" could be expected to arise "out of the common economic interest of the south, west and central agricultural states."

He reviewed at length conditions in agricultural communities and declared there "has been a progressive decline in the economic position of agriculture since the close of the last century."

SOCIAL

Bazaar a Success.

The bazaar and entertainment given Sunday afternoon and evening at the Eagle's hall by the local Jewish congregation with the help of the Jewish Ladies' Aid society was voted a big success, both socially and financially, by everyone present.

The entertainment feature was started by everybody singing "America" after which a fine program was carried out by a number of school children. Good talks were given by R. Oshinsky, Alex Madalla and George Coplan. This was followed by dancing and a fine supper served by the ladies of the congregation.

Several hundred dollars, the proceeds from the bazaar, will go into a sinking fund which will be used in the near future for the erection of a Jewish Temple by the local congregation. A series of entertainments are to follow in the near future.

Michigan, New York, and Indiana, through their attorneys-general, have filed with the United States supreme court briefs in support of the suit of Wisconsin, Ohio, Minnesota and Pennsylvania to stop the Chicago water steal.

traffic and better enforcement of laws designed to make the use of the highways safe.
Everyone will agree that the 24,000 lives sacrificed annually to what, in nine cases out of ten, are preventable accidents, is a deplorable condition and that it is a sorry reflection on the speed of American life and its regard for human values.

If we could put the 24,000 persons killed the last year and the 25,000 to be killed this year into a single cemetery and force every automobile driver in the country to go and inspect the havoc of their work, it would probably have a salutary effect, but a life taken here and there does not seem to make much of an impression.

The day is not far distant when public opinion will force an improvement in the use of the highways, just as it forced an improvement in the operation of railway trains.

We can help to improve the automobile disgrace in this community by dealing uncompromisingly with the drunken driver.

If our judges would only realize that a drunken driver has no claim to consideration, that he commits an offense which the law should not excuse, and would let the public know that this policy would be adhered to without fear or favor, punishing every culprit with what severity the law permits, they would soon break up a practice that has reached a point where it is a constant menace to life on every street and highway in the country.

Treks Thru Snow to Visit Schools

Those who judge the severity of the winter by conditions in Manistique have no conception of the amount of snow to be found in the outlying districts, says W. T. S. Cornell, local school commissioner, who has been visiting rural schools of the county.

Forensic Work Is Gaining in Favor

Inter-class debates are creating much interest at Manistique high school, and are being encouraged as a means of building up material for future high school teams.

The freshman class has about fifteen entries in this activity, and the juniors also have a squad of speakers. Some promising talent has been revealed among the underclassmen, and the students are gaining experience which will be valuable to them if they take part in contests next year.

Increasing interest indicates that there will be a good-sized group out for the high school debate team next year. The final record made by debaters this year served as an encouragement for stimulating the forensic activities.

The high school "M" is awarded to students serving on debate teams.

HIGH SCHOOL TO PLAY VETS ON WEDNESDAY

Whether the Manistique high school basketball team or the Manistique Legion team shall be acclaimed champions of Manistique is a question to be decided Wednesday evening in a match for the city championship at the high school gymnasium.

The battle for supremacy between the varsity and the vets is scheduled for 8:00 Wednesday evening, following an inter-class preliminary. The funds from the game will go to defray the expenses of the high school squad on their trip to the upper peninsula district tournament at Escanaba this week-end.

Any surplus receipts over and above the amount needed for the tournament will go to the Legion team to cover the deficit caused by poor attendance at recent games.

The teams seem to be evenly matched. Where the high school team excels in teamwork, the Legion lads have extra weight to offset this handicap, and the two squads appear to be equally proficient in basket shooting.

In view of the fact that the high school is depending on this game to give them funds for their trip, a large attendance is desired.

HER OWN WAY. A GIRL OF TODAY. CATASTROPHE.

I thought I was going to faint. I knew that my bag had been there on the table before me just the minute before. Then I remembered that a particularly flashy man had stopped at my table as though to speak to me and I had turned my face away for fear that he would oblige me to make some sort of a demonstration before he could be persuaded to leave.

Frankly I looked about the table and room, before I realized how silly it was, for I knew positively that the man had taken my bag.

Then it seemed to me that everything except despair had gone out of this world. I upbraided myself for doing such a foolish thing as drawing my money out of the bank, and then I forgot everything except the fact that I was in a strange town, penniless and alone.

Unsteadily, I got up from the table and made my way to the dressing room. I had grown panic-stricken at the thought that I had no place to lay my head that night, for I did not dare go back to the hotel and tomorrow morning have to tell them that I had not a cent in the world.

A feeling of nausea crept over me and I fell down in a chair. The dressing room attendant came up to me and said: "What's the matter, dearie?"

"Oh, how I hate that word 'dearie.' I disliked it before, but when I found my money was gone, it seemed as though I could not bear it."

Finally I managed to tell the woman that I had lost my money.

"Never mind," she said. "I'll give you a nickel to call your family on the telephone and then they can come after you."

I thanked her but found it impossible to make any explanations and with a great effort of will, I managed to rise and bathe my face in cold water.

While I was doing this, the attendant was called to the door and I heard her say: "Yes, I think the young lady is in here. She says she's lost her money."

My heart sank lower than ever at this. I realized it was the waiter and that I owed for my dinner and could not pay.

The attendant came back and said: "Your dessert is waiting, miss."

"I don't want any dessert," I answered wildly.

The woman looked at me suspiciously I thought and she said again: "Don't worry dearie. I'll loan you the nickel to telephone your friends if you have lost your money."

AT THE LYRIC.

Buffalo Bill, Jr., the popular young riding boy, who has won many friends by his fast-moving features during the past year, will be seen at the Lyric theater today in "Double Action Daniels," his latest thunderbolt thriller, the eighth and last picture of this favorite series.

Buffalo Bill, Jr., is steadily winning more friends by his daring feats of horsemanship and willingness to undertake any hazardous stunt to give his admirers an added thrill, and in "Double Action Daniels" he lives up to his reputation as a stunt performer of premier rank.

"ABRAHAM LINCOLN." Those who have ever lived or visited the capital city will always remember the view of Pennsylvania avenue with its rows of chestnut trees and the capitol's dome in the distance. They will appreciate more than others, the reproduction of this scene in the photoplay, "Abraham Lincoln," which is the current attraction at the Community theater.

Al and Ray Rockett, producers of this unusual screen drama, found themselves faced with the difficult task of reproducing the Pennsylvania avenue of 1860, in all its glory, where the picture was filmed. Some of the most stirring scenes of the picture are laid in this setting. How well they succeeded can be seen in the finished photoplay.

"Abraham Lincoln" has been acclaimed everywhere as one of the most unusual entertainment offerings of the year. It tells the life story of the great emancipator forcefully and dramatically, from the time of his birth to the last days of his presidency.

FAIL TO FIND MISSING BOYS AT GREEN BAY

Neil Jordan and Arthur Gravelle, Gladstone boys who disappeared from home on February 18, had not been located yesterday, while Mrs. P. Bellaire, mother of Neil, had returned from another trip, this time to Green Bay, in response to a message stating that two youths answering the description of the Gladstone boys, had been seen there.

The two boys, descriptions of whom tally with those of the Gladstone boys, were held by Green Bay authorities in the belief that they were two Iron Mountain youths who had disappeared. They were released when it was found that they were not the Iron Mountain boys, before the wire from Gladstone to hold them, was received.

Mrs. Bellaire, who had just returned from Minneapolis after word that it was believed that the two boys were there, left at once for Green Bay. She also got into communication with Manitowoc but without results, and she returned here.

It is believed, however, that the boys at Green Bay were the two Gladstone youths and the knowledge that they were well and safe up to that time has brought considerable relief to the anxious members of both families.

In the meantime, authorities will continue their watch for them.

"THE MENTAL LIFE" TOPIC FOR SERMON

The services at Alice Memorial church are open to the general public and all are cordially invited by the pastor to be present at them.

Questions on various matters are invited and the pastor will endeavor to answer the questions put to him each week at the service.

TOOK DI-JO FOR STOMACH

A Eustis, Fla., man, (name will be given upon application) suffered for years with stomach trouble. He was troubled with gas and heartburn, the gas apparently pressing against his heart, causing great distress. He bought a bottle of Di-Jo and secured almost immediate relief. "I carry it with me constantly" he writes, "if you suffer from stomach distress go to your druggist and get a bottle of Di-Jo. Take four tablets and then a glass of hot water. If you do not get immediate relief take four more in half an hour. If your bowels are lazy get a bottle of Di-Vac. It will release the poison from your system. Di-Jo and Di-Vac will sweeten the stomach, eliminate foul breath and give you a new lease on life. If your druggist hasn't Di-Jo or Di-Vac, write Drug Products, Marshall, Mich., and give the name of your druggist. Adv.

How Skinny Kids Gain Needed Weight

Weak, undernourished, underweight boys and girls who are peevish, fretful and sickly need McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets.

Cod Liver Oil would do just as well, but what parent would be so cruel as to give them the horrible nasty tasting, ill smelling stuff, when sugar coated cod liver oil tablets made by McCoy's Laboratories of New York are as easy to take as candy and won't upset their delicate stomachs.

There's more vitamins of the first class in cod liver oil than in anything else and for that reason thin, scraggly, sickly children commence to live up and take on good healthy flesh after McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets have been taken for just a few days.

Be sure and ask Hill Drug Co., or any druggist for McCoy's, the original and genuine Cod Liver Oil Tablets, if you want your delicate children to become strong, robust and active.

For grown-ups they are just as wonderful—one woman gained 15 pounds in five weeks. 60 tablets 60 cents and if they don't put 5 pounds of good firm flesh on any thin man or woman in 30 days, your druggist is authorized to hand you back the money paid for them. Adv.

BAIRD ISSUES FISHING ORDER

New Restrictions on Bass, Trout Are Framed by Director.

Orders regulating the taking of bass from the waters of the Upper Peninsula; closing streams to trout fishing and regulating the number of brook trout which may be taken have been issued by John Baird, director of the state department of conservation.

Briefly these orders provide: That the season on large-mouth and small-mouth black bass be extended from June 15 to July 1, inclusive, during which closed season from January 1 to July 1, inclusive, for a period of five years it shall be unlawful to take or attempt to take large-mouth black bass or small-mouth black bass from the waters of said counties (the entire Upper Peninsula) of a less length than twelve inches, or to take more than one large-mouth or small-mouth bass in one day; or to have more than ten such fish in possession at one time during the open season.

That, for a period of five years from the first day of May, 1926, it shall be unlawful to take in any one day more than fifteen brook trout or to have in possession more than twenty-five of these fish taken from the inland waters of the state.

That, for a period of five years from the first day of May, 1926, it shall be unlawful for any person to take, catch, or kill, or attempt to take, catch or kill any brook trout in the rivers and streams of the state excepting those streams designated, or to be designated, by the conservation commission.

Exemption Clauses of Income Tax Law Explained Here

The following statement from the Grand Rapids district revenue office explains the exemption portions of the new income tax law:

"If you are single and support in your home one or more persons closely related to you and over whom you exercise family control, you are the head of a family and entitled under the Revenue Act of 1926 to the same personal exemption allowed a married person, $3,500. In addition, a taxpayer is entitled to a credit of $400 for each dependent upon him for chief support, if such person is either under 18 years of age or incapable of self-support because mentally or physically defective. Such dependent need not be a member of the taxpayer's household. For example, an unmarried son who, supported in his home, is entitled to a credit of $3,500 plus the $400 credit for a dependent, a total of $3,900. If from choice the mother lived in another city, the son, although her chief support, would be entitled only to the $1,500 exemption, plus the $400 credit. The mother not living with him, he is not considered the head of a family.

"An exemption as the head of a family can be claimed by only one member of a household.

"The $400 credit does not apply to the wife or husband of a taxpayer, though one may be totally dependent upon the other."

He got in my way; I couldn't help it."

"You didn't try. You could have slowed down. I saw it. I could almost say you did it deliberately. Let me out, I'm going back."

He stopped the car, helped her out. "Oh, well, I'll go back with you. I'll buy him another dog."

Mary took the little boy in her arms. One swift look at the dog sickened her.

"Here, kid," said Church, producing some crisp new bills. "Now you can buy yourself another dog."

"I—I don't want another dog," the boy sobbed. "I want Spot."

"Tell me your name," said Santa Glaus, bringing up another little dog just like Spot—maybe Spot's brother.

"No, I want Spot." His chest heaved with his sobs.

"You see what you've done," she blazed at Church. "You've not only killed his dog—you've killed some thing inside that boy."

"Now, now, Mary, he pleaded, you're getting worked up over nothing."

"Take me home," she cried. "If there were a policeman here I'd have you arrested. It was your fault. You offered to buy him another dog, didn't you?" He turned again to the boy. "Here you are, sonny." But the boy again refused his money.

"I'm glad to learn just what kind of a man you are," Mary said to him. They were standing at her doorstep. She had been stonily silent the rest of the way home. "I'm through. Do you understand?"

"Now, Mary," he began, taking her arm, but she tore herself away from him.

"I mean it," she cried. "I never want to see you again."

"Mary, you're talking crazily." He grabbed her roughly and crushed her to him and, in spite of her desperate struggles, kissed her full on the mouth.

"You brute!" she gasped, striking at him with her hands and beating him away from her. "I hate you—you and your money. Here—try to buy somebody else." She tore the diamond ring he had given her off her finger and threw it at him and closed the door in his face.

Once inside her room she tore Church's picture off her table and threw it to the floor. Then she cried, and, oddly enough, it was the first time in week that she had been happy.

SQUARE SHOOTIN'

It doesn't make much difference where yer headin' for, or top, yer never gonna get there less you take the time to stop and think about the things you do, and have a bit of care, an' try to always play the game that keeps ya shootin' square.

The man who walks the right road is the man who knows his stuff, and realizes quickly that he can't get by on bluff. Perhaps he'll kid the world awhile, but puts upon the shelf the thought that he can close his eyes and try to kid himself.

It isn't what your friends alone may say that really counts, but what you think yourself. On that your real ambition mounts. No matter what the tide may be, the way to play the game is always fair and square, an' you'll get there just the same.

Can everything be happiness? Can everything be bright? Why, sure it can, if you just plan to always do what's right. You're hunting for the bright side an' you'll find it in it's lair, if you will just take aim—and pains—and do your shootin' square.

Better than Soda

Instead of soda hereafter take a little "Phillips Milk of Magnesia" in water any time for indigestion or sour, acid, gassy stomach, and relief will come instantly.

For fifty years genuine "Phillips Milk of Magnesia" has been prescribed by physicians because it overcomes three times as much acid in the stomach as a saturated solution of bicarbonate of soda, leaving stomach sweet and free from all gases. It neutralizes acid fermentations in the bowels and gently urges the souring waste from the system without purging. Besides, it is more pleasant to take than soda. Insist upon "Phillips." New Method Quickly Banishes Heavy Coughs

Why be annoyed and weakened by persistent, strength-sapping coughing spells when you can, through a very simple treatment, quickly stop all irritation and very often banish the trouble entirely in 24 hours?

This treatment is based on the famous prescription known as Dr. King's New Discovery for Coughs. You take just one teaspoonful at bed-time and hold it in your throat for 15 or 20 seconds before swallowing it. The prescription has a double action. It not only soothes and heals soreness and irritation, but it quickly removes the phlegm and congestion which are the real cause of night coughing. Thus, with the throat soothed and cleared, coughing stops quickly and you sleep all night undisturbed.

Dr. King's New Discovery is for coughs, chest colds, sore throat, hoarseness, bronchitis, spasmodic croup, etc. Big for children as well as grown-ups—no harmful drugs. Economical, too, as the dose is only one teaspoonful. At all good drugists. Ask for

"We have Never Lowered the Quality to Reduce the Price"

Since 1903, when the Ford Motor Company was formed, Ford cars have been constantly improved in quality, comfort, convenience and appearance. Recent improvements include new and attractive body lines—a lower center of gravity—closed cars in color, and all-steel bodies.

The basic features of Ford design have been retained. Three point motor suspension, planetary transmission, dual ignition system, torque tube drive, multiple disc-in-oil clutch, splash lubrication, thermo-syphon cooling system—all have been features of the Ford car for eighteen years. On the whole these features cost far more to manufacture than conventional design but are used because of their superiority.

The Ford Motor Company has carried out a program of price reduction that has consistently kept Ford value supreme in the automotive industry. This has been made possible by the magnitude of Ford production. With lesser resources, Ford quality would not be possible at anywhere near Ford prices.

The tremendous demand for Ford closed cars has again made possible substantial price reductions.

"A" STUDENTS CLUB'S GUESTS

Kiwanis Entertains Honor Roll Folks from E. H. S.

"All-A" students of the Escanaba high school were guests of the Kiwanis club at its regular luncheon meeting yesterday. The affair following the custom established by the club two years ago of recognizing the classroom achievements of the young men and young women who top the semester honor rolls at the school.

The program consisted of short talks by some of the members of the club who are "honors" of the school: L. A. Hoyer, J. J. Riley, Walter Dickson, Charles Stoll, H. H. Haggitt, J. E. Turner and Torvald E. Strom. The talks by Mr. Hoyer and Mr. Strom were particularly inspiring, the latter telling the young people how the school was conducted back in his own school days, a fraction of a century ago. O. Sundquist presided.

James Frost, president of the club and also an alumnus of E. H. S., welcomed the students and urged the Kiwanians to get and stay in closer touch with school activities and affairs.

S. R. Wickman awarded the weekly attendance prize to the member guessing the nearest to the correct number of cars of coal loaded at the Reiss dock in 1925. The dock loaded 9137 cars in Escanaba during the year.

AMUSEMENTS

AT THE DELFT.

How the express business followed the transcontinental railroad, expanding commerce and extending civilization into the West, is recorded with remarkable realism in the William Fox picture, "The Iron Horse," now showing at the Delft Theatre.

And it is shown too, how express was shipped before the railroad crossed the prairie, when Kit Carson rode one horse steadily, day after day, for 4,000 miles. The little animal became so shy of Indians that he would leave the ground at the sight of a feather. But Carson got through with government mail, small express packages and money.

The express commenced transcontinental business with the completion of the railroad in 1869. William F. Harnden had commenced the first express business between Boston and New York on March 4, 1839. In 1840 Alvin Adams established his express service. Wells Fargo first had the pony express with Buffalo Bill Cody as their chief rider.

With the opening of the railroad the express business became one of the most important and the most picturesque in existence. Express guards worked across the plains with their guns always in reach. Many a good man died defending his little wooden car from attack from Indians and bandits. They asked no quarter and gave none.

"The Iron Horse," reveals the thrilling life of this period of American history with telling effect. George O'Brien, J. Farrell MacDonald and Midge Bellamy have the leading roles. John Ford is the director.

AT THE STRAND.

"Pride of the Force," the excellent melodrama which will be featured at the Strand again today, concerns itself with the adventures of a "cop," slated for promotion who, through no fault of his own is demoted to desk duty, and then vindicates himself by leading a dangerous and heart-breaking raid.

Tom Santschi as the police is admirable; James Morrison, Crawford Kent, Gladys Hietze, Francis X. Bushman, Jr., and Edith Chapman are excellent in supporting roles.

The nature of the investigation at Sparta was not disclosed.
