WETS AND DRIES CONTINUE ROW

Anti-Saloon League in Attack on Polls by Newspapers.

Washington, Mar. 11.—(AP)—The prohibition battle that has raged so fiercely during recent weeks in congress, developed today a trend toward sniping, with leaders of the contending wet and dry forces taking pot shots at each other from points of vantage.

But while this was going on, the subject did not lie dormant in the senate and house, for the senate judiciary committee got rid of a batch of troublesome modification bills by shifting the job of handling them to a sub-committee...

Dry Assault Polls. The Anti-Saloon League's executive committee opened the firing today with a statement assailing the accuracy of newspaper polls...

Some delegates expressed the fear that the appointment of any committee, however, unofficial, would be misinterpreted by the American people. They pointed out that if jurists representing the states which have adhered to the court are to examine the American reservations, an American jurist should be invited to sit with them.

The idea behind this suggestion, which emanates from Japanese quarters, is that the problem involved is technical and not political and that the question should be approached from an international standpoint, in order to reach a common accord in regard to the reservations to American adherence.

NELSON WANTS APOLOGY FROM SCHOOL FACULTY

server occasions in your heart and mind, with your often-confessed love for the grand old Christian faith and spirit of the founders and maintainers of Augustana college and theological seminary.

"The bald advocacy of doctrinal demands foreign to scriptures and to the confessed faith of our Lutheran church in these editorials of 'The Observer' ultimately undermine the deepest principles of Christian youth life, and of the professed Christian program of our institution. It creates a blasting confusion of the sense of eternal truth of these granite opposites of scriptural truth and unscriptural surmise.

Scott at Elders. The scoffing attitude towards elders and spiritual leaders delivers a blow at the seemingly regard for men and women of God, of whom these writers in The Observer are not worthy, for whom they have reason to cherish both a deep spiritual and intellectual respect as well as a cultural regard.

The open plea for a freer manner of amusement life, inclusive of the dance and equal substitutes, places our institution, were the matter condoned, on a basis far lower than the life of our congregations which support Augustana college and theological seminary.

We feel individually, with many others, a responsibility before God and our church in testifying against the libertine direction which this school organ is taking by the unwarranted and irresponsible authority personally assumed by its editors. It wrecks confidence out in the churches and in our communities to write as has been done. It will react in the spiritual and cultural ministry for which Augustana should continue to stand.

Pneumonia Fatal to Laretta Lee, Detroit Bandit

Detroit, Mar. 11.—(AP)—The body of Laretta Lee, Detroit's first woman bandit who died here today of pneumonia contracted while she was an inmate of the house of correction, will be taken to Alma for burial. Arrangements for the funeral are being made by Mrs. Jessie Wells, a cousin.

Mrs. Lee, who was serving a sentence of from 8 to 20 years for her part in the robbery of a jewelry store, died a free woman, a parole ordered by Governor Groesbeck last Saturday when the seriousness of her illness was reported, having been issued Wednesday.

Attempts were made today to reach Glenn Lee, divorced husband of Mrs. Lee to inform him of his former wife's death, but these were unsuccessful, according to Mrs. Wells. It is reported Lee remarried since he and his son, Gerald, visited the woman in a hospital here 10 days ago. He is living near McBride, Mich.

James J. Spillane, Mrs. Lee's attorney, announced that a small trust fund had been provided for the boy, about whom his mother was anxious during her last hours of life. A will providing for the fund was made just prior to her death, the attorney said.

Costello to Hang April 16; Is Sane

Chicago, Mar. 11.—(AP)—Raymond Costello must hang on April 16 for the murder of 17-year-old Madeline White, a jury tonight decided in declaring him sane.

Costello was previously sentenced to hang but the sentence was held up pending a test of his sanity. Madeline White was murdered after being criminally attacked about a year ago.

Hounds Collide Chasing Rabbit; Both Are Killed

Columbus, Kansas, Mar. 11.—(AP)—Two valuable hounds owned by Monk Cook of Columbus were killed yesterday when they collided while chasing a rabbit. The dogs were closing in from opposite directions when the rabbit suddenly turned and they crashed. One dog's neck was broken and it died instantly; the other died within a few minutes.

BARLUM WILL IS CONTESTED

Daughter Denies Wishing Detroit Packer Would Die.

Detroit, Mar. 11.—(AP)—A motion for directed verdict affirming the contested will of Thomas Barlum, millionaire packer, as his last will and testament was taken under advisement by Judge Harry Dingeman in recorder's court, at the conclusion of testimony for Mrs. Agnes Fox, who is seeking to break the will. The bulk of his fortune, estimated at more than $1,000,000 was bequeathed to three sons, leaving but small shares for five daughters.

Attorneys for the three sons, who are defending the suit, argued there was no evidence of undue influence or mental incompetency. Mrs. Fox has contended that she was cut off by the father's will because he believed she desired his death. On the witness stand today, she declared she had never wished her father's death or expressed such a wish.

Under cross-examination, Mrs. Fox said that in 1914, when her mother was ill, she had told her brother, Thomas Jr., she would rather lose her father than her mother.

"Do you know if it was repeated to your father?" inquired Percy W. Grose of the defense counsel. "No," she replied. "But after that your father's attitude changed?" "Yes."

Mrs. Fox said she had always had reason to believe herself the favorite daughter until 1914, but after her mother's illness Barlum refused to speak to her. She admitted she was aware of a provision in the will cutting off bequests of any who contested it.

EXTRADITION SOUGHT. Lansing, Mar. 11.—(AP)—A further hearing on the request of Indiana for the return of George Post, alleged swindler, was set for March 24 by Governor Groesbeck today. A hearing was held Tuesday and the attorney general took the matter under advisement, pending a decision as to his extradition. Counsel for Post today deposed a continuance until the date mentioned.

Post, who is being held in Calhoun county, is alleged to have worked a gold mine swindle in South Bend some time ago. The victim, according to the complaint, was a Benton harbor man who paid about $8,500 for a mine that did not exist.

WANTS OIL RIGHTS. Lansing, Mar. 11.—(AP)—E. T. Merritt, claiming to represent Oklahoma oil interests and to have millions of dollars at his command, today requested the state conservation commission to lease him the oil rights in state-owned lands in Presque Isle, Montmorency, Cheboygan, Alpena, Charlevoix, Antrim and Osego counties. His backers now hold leases on privately owned lands in the counties, he stated, and surveys have convinced them oil deposits will be found. No action was taken by the commission.

French Political Future Dependent on Geneva Meeting

Paris, Mar. 11.—(AP)—The political world of France, with Premier Briand away in Geneva, had its eyes turned toward Switzerland. The friends of M. Briand feel that his presence at the league council is the silver lining in the cloud which menaces French internal politics.

His enemies were exulting in the thought, tonight, that should M. Briand fall at Geneva the life of his ninth cabinet will be short-lived, probably fall on his return. Thus for the first time in the history of the third republic the fate of the French cabinet hinges on negotiations at Geneva.

M. Caillaux, in an interview today, explained that he had refused the portfolio of minister of finance because, in order to obtain satisfactory results the minister of finance must also be premier. He said he had a financial plan so comprehensive that it had gone beyond the frontiers of the ministry of finance, and even national territory and upon it would depend the entire mechanism of public life.

Administrator for Worthington Estate Named at Chicago

Chicago, Mar. 11.—(AP)—An administrator for the estate of John W. Worthington, "Wolf of LaSalle street," was appointed today at the request of his daughter, Alice Worthington, Percival B. Coffin, public administrator, was named by Judge Henry Horner of the probate court to take charge.

The Chicago Trust company presented at the hearing a will signed by Worthington on January 30, 1908. The will gives a $400 annuity to Worthington's daughter, Mrs. Adele W. Perrin, of New Rochelle, N. Y., and leaves the balance to his wife, for a period of 30 years.

EPISCOPALS MEET. Baltimore, Md., Mar. 11.—(AP)—A special convention called to elect a bishop co-adjutor for the Maryland diocese of the Protestant Episcopal church failed tonight to choose an assistant for Bishop John Gardner Murray of Maryland, primate of the church in America, and adjourned subject to his call for 18 ballots had been cast. Ballotting, which has been in progress for two days, failed to produce a candidate capable of breaking the deadlock which existed throughout the sessions.

Philippine Isles Have Prosperous Year During 1925

Manila, P. I.—The year 1925 was the most prosperous the Philippine government has experienced since the slump that followed the ending of the world war. It is semi-officially stated that when the books are balanced the revenues will show a surplus over expenditures of approximately $3,500,000.

Beginning this year, the insular government will adhere to a policy of diverting its surplus funds at the end of each fiscal year to Manila port works and to the irrigation fund until the entire sum authorized by law has been used in this direction. Quick results from Classified Ads.

Will Return Lyons Brothers to Ohio

Alpena, Mich., Mar. 11.—(AP)—Sheriff E. B. Gregory of Norwalk, Ohio, accompanied by four deputies, arrived today to return James and Leonard Lyons to Huron county, Ohio, to face charges of murder in connection with the slaying of Detective Frank E. McGrath of the American Railway Express company, on February 18. The pair were arrested in Lachne, 18 miles north of here, several days ago after they had shot and seriously, but probably not fatally, wounded Douglas Mackenzie, Alpena chief of police, and escaped in a stolen automobile.

The Lyons brothers waived extradition and will start back to Ohio tomorrow. They were identified by Deputy Sheriff F. A. Aedman, who was with Detective McGrath when he was shot.

Both men refused to give any information despite repeated questioning by Ohio officers. James effected an unconcerned attitude and sleeps or reads most of the time, while Leonard is sulky and reluctant to leave his cell for questioning.

Lover Is Acquitted in Triangle Killing

Elizabeth, N. J., Mar. 11.—(AP)—Joseph Cowen, Newark iron worker, was acquitted by a jury today of the murder of William J. Clark of Hillele, N. J., whose wife he admired.

Clark was killed by blows from a hammer as he was putting his car in the garage of his home last November. His assailant escaped after the attack without being seen. Because of his friendship with Clark's wife, Mrs. Priscilla Clark, Cowen was arrested the next day and charged with the murder.

Mrs. Clark also was arrested as a material witness when it developed that she and Cowen had an alleged elopement fund of $2,000 in a Newark savings bank. She said that Cowen had repeatedly begged her to run away with him but that she had refused. She was released under $2,000 bail pending trial of Cowen.

Anti-Evolution Law Is Opposed in Mississippi

Jackson, Miss., Mar. 11.—(AP)—Opponents of Mississippi's anti-evolution law, passed at the current session of the legislature, today began another attack on the measure simultaneously with Governor Whitfield's action in signing the bill.

Representative L. T. Kennedy, from Adams county, today introduced a bill to repeal the new law. The repeal was referred to the committee on education. It is expected to be brought up at a meeting tomorrow.

The new law, passed by large majorities in both houses, prohibits teaching in state-supported schools that man "ascended or descended from a lower order of animals."

SEES NO CONFLICT. New York, Mar. 11.—(AP)—The Bible teaches religion, not science, and its account of creation is not incompatible with the theory of evolution, Bishop William T. Manning asserted today, speaking at a Lenten conference in St. Thomas' Episcopal church.

"Anyone today who talks as though there were an irreconcilable conflict between science and religion is behind the times and gives evidence of that most dreaded of all maladies, a mid-victorian mind," he said.

PENSION PLAN MONEY SAVER

Costs Less Than Institutional System, Eagle Speaker Declares.

The old age pension movement, fostered in the United States by the Fraternal Order of Eagles, is not based on sentiment but on justice and good business.

Matter of Justice. "This movement was started three years ago without any motive except a square deal for the old man who had spent his life on a job which paid only sufficient wages to permit him to purchase the necessities of life for himself and his family."

Spreading Rapidly. "The plan of the campaign has been to set aside the facts before the public in community meetings and by the distribution of literature."

"You can no more stop this wave," he concluded, "than you could stem the tide of the Pacific ocean. If the Eagles have more than justified their existence in their advocacy of this great humanitarian movement."

Judge O'Donnell gave his audience much more interesting data concerning the order. It was responsible for the establishment of Mother's Day. It was the first to create a pension fund for the order's service men, 1300 of whom lost their lives in the World War.

Judge O'Donnell is a forceful and entertaining speaker and his address was enthusiastically received.

Escanaba Catholics to Send Delegations to Eucharistic Conference

Escanaba's Catholic churches will send large delegations to the twenty-eighth International Eucharistic congress, which will be held in Chicago June 20-24.

The event will be under the sponsorship of George Cardinal Mundelein, bishop of Chicago. In a bulletin concerning the conference, the following information is given:

BULLETIN OF INFORMATION XXVIII INTERNATIONAL EUCHARISTIC CONGRESS CHICAGO, ILL., JUNE 20-24, 1926.

Under the sponsorship of His Eminence, George Cardinal Mundelein, Archbishop of Chicago, the XXVIII International Eucharistic Congress will be convened in Chicago, June 20-24, 1926.

Doctrine of the Eucharist. In order to understand the purpose and significance of a Eucharistic congress it is necessary that something be said of the teaching of the Catholic Church in this matter. According to Catholic doctrine, the Blessed Eucharist, or the Sacrament of the Eucharist, is the "central fact of Catholic worship and devotion."

With this thought in mind it will be readily understood how, in all the ages since the dawn of Christianity, devotion to the Holy Eucharist has been, among Catholics, of whatever race or nationality, both spirited and widespread.

History of the Congress. The Eucharistic Congress is but the latest manifestation of this devotion. The movement had its origin in the piety of a devout French woman, Marie Tamisier, at whose solicitation Bishop Gaston de Segur convened the first Congress at Lille, France, June 21, 1881.

When the fourth Congress convened at Fribourg, Switzerland, added thousands of the clergy and laity met to participate in its ceremonies and deliberations. At the seventh Congress held at Antwerp, Belgium, in 1890, the popularity of the Congress movement was evidenced by the presence of more than 150,000 persons.

The pilgrims assembled in Jerusalem in 1893 for the ninth Eucharistic Congress, and on the Mount of Olives, where tradition states that the agony of Christ, before His betrayal, occurred, the adoration of the Blessed Sacrament took place.

The Eucharistic Congresses following the one in Jerusalem were held at Reims, France, 1894; Paris-le-Monial, France, 1897; at Brussels, Belgium, 1898; Lourdes, France, 1899, where 30,000 priests attended the Congress and took part in the processions.

The thirteenth Congress met at Angers in 1901; Namur, Belgium, was chosen for the following year; and the fifteenth Congress went to Angouleme, France.

Pope Pius X added to the solemnity of the Sixteenth Congress, which was held at Rome, by celebrating and receiving the delegates in special audiences. This Eucharistic Congress was held in Rome at the request of the Pope.

delegates to the first Eucharistic Congress to be held among, and under the auspices of, English-speaking people.

Cardinal Vincenzo Vannutelli, who was the Papal Legate to the London Congress, was the first of such Legates to visit England for more than three centuries.

The twentieth Congress was held in Cologne, in 1909, and the following year the first Congress in the Western Hemisphere was held in Montreal.

In the succeeding years the Eucharistic Congresses met in Madrid, Vienna, Malta, and in Lourdes in 1914. The World War interrupted the annual meetings, but after a lapse of eight years, the next Congress, the twenty-sixth, met in Rome in 1922.

It is to Montreal, however, that one must look in estimating the possibilities of the Congress to be held in Chicago next June.

The Congress at Chicago. Fifteen years ago, 715,000 visitors journeyed to the Canadian city for the Eucharistic meeting. Since that time, devotion to the Holy Eucharist has very greatly increased as is evidenced by the almost incredible growth of the practice of frequent communion.

Program of the Congress. The principal meetings of the Congress will be held in the huge stadium known as "Soldiers' Field" on the lake front of Chicago; in the famous Coliseum; and at the Theological Seminary of St. Mary of the Lake at Mundelein, Ill.

Chicago is, by its geographical position, admirably situated for such an international gathering. Where the Montreal of fifteen years ago was served by two railroads, Chicago is now the greatest railroad center of the world, with fifty-three roads either making their terminals or having junctions there.

It is estimated that upwards of 1,000,000 persons will journey to Chicago for the five-day meeting there next June. These people will come not only from all parts of the nation but from the four corners of the earth as well.

When the fourth Congress convened at Fribourg, Switzerland, added thousands of the clergy and laity met to participate in its ceremonies and deliberations.

The pilgrims assembled in Jerusalem in 1893 for the ninth Eucharistic Congress, and on the Mount of Olives, where tradition states that the agony of Christ, before His betrayal, occurred, the adoration of the Blessed Sacrament took place.

The Eucharistic Congresses following the one in Jerusalem were held at Reims, France, 1894; Paris-le-Monial, France, 1897; at Brussels, Belgium, 1898; Lourdes, France, 1899, where 30,000 priests attended the Congress and took part in the processions.

Tournai, Belgium, and Metz, were the cities of the seventeenth and eighteenth meetings, in 1906 and 1907. Each year the assemblies had become more international in their character, and it was decided to hold the nineteenth Congress in London.

in the Chicago assemblies. From all over the world will come Cardinals, bishops and priests of the Catholic Church. All these, together with great members of the laity, will have a part in the Eucharistic ceremonies, in the meetings and deliberations and in the great open-air procession which is to be held on the closing day of the Congress.

For more than a year twenty-three committees of both clergy and laity of the City of Chicago have been working away with the preparations for the Congress. These gentlemen are engaged in caring for the reception, transportation, housing, feeding and general welfare of Chicago's guests during their stay in the city.

His Holiness, Pope Pius XI, has selected as the general subject for discussions at the Congress, "The Holy Eucharist and the Christian Life."

Women will play a greater part in the meetings at Chicago than in any previous Congress. The third day of Congress will be their special day, and a Pontifical High Mass will be sung in the Stadium, with a choir of nuns of Chicago and visiting religious, thousands of whom are expected to be present.

The commissary committee, after a series of conferences with Chicago food producers, has announced that it will be able to care for the Congress crowds in matters of provisions and food supplies. Special efforts will be made to prevent any profiteering, and restaurants and hotels will be asked to cooperate with the committee by adopting a standard scale of prices.

The Congress will open Sunday, June 20. It is planned to celebrate Midnight Mass in all the Catholic churches of the city and to have a million Catholics receive Holy Communion, which is to be offered to the Pope as a "spiritual bouquet".

Invited to come to the city a week ahead of time to assist in the hearing of the confessions and in the distribution of Communion.

The formal opening will take place at noon on the same day with solemn ceremonies in the Cathedral of the Holy Name. This ceremony, celebrated with all the liturgical beauty of the church, will be the occasion of an address by the Cardinal Legate, representing the Pope.

The second day, a Pontifical High Mass will be celebrated in Soldiers' Field in Grant Park. This stadium, built last year as a memorial to the Chicago soldiers who fought in the World War, will accommodate 160,000 people.

One of the visiting Cardinals will celebrate the Mass, and a choir of 50,000 children from the parochial schools will sing. By use of the microphone and loud speakers, every member of the vast congregation will be able to hear the words of the sermon and the Mass.

Already evidences of the international interest in this Congress are being shown. A recent contest for a prize hymn brought thousands of responses, not only from America but also from the countries of Europe.

Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

RAIL STOCKS MOVE UPWARD

STOCK SALES AVERAGES. Twenty Twenty Date Industrials Railroads Thursday - 138.46 114.46

New York, Mar. 11.—(AP)—Revival of activity and strength in the railroad shares featured the resumption of the upward movement of prices in today's stock market.

Special strength developed in Chesapeake and Ohio issues on buying influenced by the belief that current earnings justified a substantially higher dividend.

Norfolk and Western was another outstanding strong spot, also soaring six points to 155, and closing within a fraction of the top.

Oils were helped by the increase in California and Gulf Coast crude prices and by a revival of merger rumors affecting several of the large producing companies.

American Locomotive ran into profit taking on the announcement that two shares of the stock would be given for three of Railway Steel Spring under the plan approved by directors for the merger of those companies.

Call money renewed at 4 1/2 per cent, which rate was maintained all day. Time money and commercial paper rates were unchanged.

With the exception of Danish kroner, which rallied 16 points to 26.10 cents, the principal foreign exchanges moved within narrow and irregular limits.

FRIENDS HELP COL. WILLIAMS

Get Evidence to Prove Marines Officer Was Not Drunk.

San Diego, Cal., Mar. 11—(P)—Although the impression among navy and marine officers today was that the court-martial of Colonel Alexander Williams of the marine corps, charged by Brigadier General Smedley D. Butler with intoxication in a public place, would not be held for several weeks, if the court-martial is ordered, friends of Colonel Williams were busy today assembling evidence in his behalf.

It is known that some of the officers present in the Coronado hotel when General Butler made his charge and put Colonel Williams under technical arrest, have declared that Colonel Williams, in their judgment was not intoxicated.

Woman Defends Williams.
To the list of those supporting Colonel Williams in this particular, there was added today, friends of Colonel Williams said, the name of a Boston woman, a guest at the hotel, who had known Colonel Williams for some time and who danced with him that evening. She declared that she saw no indication that he had been drinking and was quoted today as being "astounded" when she heard of the charge against him.

Officers today cleared up some doubt concerning Colonel Williams' "arrest." The "arrest" means that he is removed from command of the fourth regiment of the marine corps and cannot resume that command until the court-martial clears him or he is restored to duty by order from Washington. He is not confined to quarters and is not restrained in any other way. The maximum sentence he could receive, if found guilty by court-martial, would be expulsion from the service, navy officers said.

Report Sent on Way.
Rear Admiral Ashley Robertson, district commandant, today forwarded General Butler's report to Major General Wendell Neville, commanding the department of the Pacific, at San Francisco. After General Neville has perused the report and statements of witnesses, it will be sent to Major General John Lejeune, commandant of the marine corps at Washington. From General Lejeune the report will go to Secretary of the Navy Wilbur, who in turn, will hand it over to Rear Admiral Edward H. Campbell, judge advocate general of the navy. Admiral Campbell will then render a decision as to whether General Butler's charges are of sufficient merit to order Colonel Williams tried by court-martial.

NAVY RULES—BUTLER.
Los Angeles, Mar. 11—(P)—A vigorous denial that he committed a breach of hospitality in bringing charges of intoxication and conduct unbecoming of an officer and gentleman against Col. Alexander Williams, was made here tonight by Gen. Smedley D. Butler, commander of the United States marine base at San Diego. "It was all according to naval regulations—I simply followed naval regulations," he declared. "The case is similar to hundreds that occurred in the past and were regarded as every day incidents."

Recover Two More Bodies from Mine

Eccles, W. V., Mar. 11—(P)—The bodies of William Dickey and William Cyrus, who, it had been hoped, would be found alive, were removed from number 5 mine of the Crab Orchard Improvement company here late today. This made a total of 17 bodies recovered, while 10 men were brought out alive, thus leaving unaccounted for but two of the 29 men entombed in the mine following an explosion last Monday.

The body of M. E. Holt was taken from a water-filled sump at the bottom of the shaft today. The pumps were continued in operation tonight with the expectation that the remaining two bodies might be found in the same place.

Dickey and Cyrus were married, the former leaving one child and the latter two. Holt was single.

PERSONALITY SUCCESS KEY

Anderson Pace Speaks at Retail-Wholesale Dinner.

Success in merchandising hinges on the personal element, Anderson Pace of Chicago emphasized in his address last night to a large group of Escanaba wholesalers, retailers and their department executives. This personal element, in a retail establishment, is represented by the contacts between the clerk or salesman and the customer. Friendly, cordial, courteous personal service almost invariably stands for the difference in the decision "to buy or not to buy."

Mr. Pace gave his audience some straight-forward facts about the situation as he and his organization had found it in Escanaba and its trading territory. These were presented vigorously and bluntly but impressively.

Questionnaire Filled Out.
At the conclusion of this address, O. I. Handen, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, explained a questionnaire which present were asked to fill out, expressing their views on several projects which are a part of the campaign to increase Escanaba's popularity and widen its scope as a trading center.

The meeting was under the auspices of the wholesalers and retailers' division of the Chamber of Commerce. M. J. Fillion, chairman of the retailers' committee of the Chamber, presided. Music was furnished by Bink's Collegians.

Government Bonds Are Oversubscribed

Washington, Mar. 11—(P)—The $500,000,000 offering of 20-30 year bonds by the government was oversubscribed by $100,000,000, it was estimated tonight by treasury officials, who ordered the subscription books closed.

Satisfactory response also has been made to the treasury's offer to purchase the third Liberty loan bonds direct from holders for retirement March 15.

The bond issue was announced only Monday by Secretary Mellon and the interest rate, 3 1/2 per cent, was the lowest proposed in a government issue since before the war with the exception of the first liberty issue, which was wholly exempt from taxation.

Despite the over-subscription, the treasury plans to keep the allotment close to the $500,000,000 figure, which is expected with the quarterly tax payments to be sufficient to retire $120,000,000 in third Liberty bonds and $615,000,000 in short term securities maturing March 15.

MAKING ELLIS ISLAND HUMAN

A couple of years ago this country adopted a new immigration law, stricter than any it had ever had before. It was a law that was forced on us, so to speak. New conditions at home and abroad had made it imperative that the old policy of admitting to our shores anyone who cared to come be modified radically.

That which, more than anything else, they desired to find, was not only seen but four perfect specimens were bagged and brought back to this country. These prized trophies are four large rams of the ovia poli species of mountain sheep, never before mounted in any natural history museum and seen by few civilized men since their first discovery for civilization by Marco Polo in the Thirteenth century.

I'll have to admit that my lid looks like heck. So old that it's faded with wear. It's given real service till now it's a wreck, but anyway, whadda I care?

I toot it around 'cause I can't do it harm. I know that it's already spoiled. I tuck it right carelessly under my arm—this sky-piece that's terribly soiled.

Whenever it rains I just laugh in its face. My feeling is, shucks, let'er pour. I grab up my trusty and slip it in place. That's what an old bonnet is for.

It may be real ragged and faded a lot but, frankly, if truth must be said, to me this old lid is the best one I've got 'cause it feels so dern good on my head.

But that's to be expected. We never really grow up, and that feeling harks back to the days when we wanted all dessert and no ordinary dinner.

We forget that if it weren't for the mediocre songs, music and such that come sailing through the bud speaker, we couldn't really appreciate the better class.

And we also forget that radio entertainers can't be expected to bark thousand all the time.

HAYMAKERS THAT MADE HISTORY

Defeat of Freddy Welsh Leonard's Hardest Fight.

BY JOE WILLIAMS

Benny Leonard had to whip the timekeeper as well as Freddy Welsh in their memorable battle in New York May 28, 1917, when Leonard brought the lightweight title back to America.

Leonard knew he could beat Welsh; he had already outpointed him on two previous occasions in 10-round bouts. But knock him out?—that was the thumb in Benny's chowder. Leonard had to knock him out or in all probability lose his last chance at the lightweight title. Knock out one of the cleverest defensive fighters the ring has known—that was a large order for a fighter of even Leonard's known ability.

Leonard called that battle the hardest of his entire ring career, even though he came out of it with hardly a scratch. For days before the bout he had it dinned into his ears. "You must knock him out." Round after round during the fight, as Leonard pounded at Welsh's uncanny defense, he kept repeating to himself. "You must knock him out." Billy Gibson, his manager, and George Engel, his trainer, told him earnestly between rounds, "You must knock him out."

With that command ringing in his ears, Leonard tore into the champion from the opening bell. He showed rights and lefts at Welsh's head, most of which glanced off Freddy's arms and elbows as harmlessly as rain off a turtle's shell.

It was Leonard's fight all the way. It scored repeatedly. There was never a moment when he was in danger. But it was a no-decision fight. A knockout was the only thing that would help him.

It looked encouraging for Benny in the fourth. A right that weaved past Welsh's guard to his chin staggered the champion. Three more rights and lefts to the same spot had him on the run. But the canny Welshman called upon his defensive tactics and weathered the period.

Leonard's punching won out in the ninth. The finish was one of the most dramatic in boxing history. Welsh was boxing in his accustomed fashion. Benny looked somewhat discouraged at not being able to connect with his right. Suddenly he whipped over for Welsh's jaw. Welsh ducked but didn't entirely escape. It was a terrific blow and Freddy went to his haunches. He grabbed the ropes and pulled himself to his feet, but Leonard was at him like a tiger.

Then ensued a strange spectacle—Welsh pulling himself backward along the ropes with one hand and trying to hold off the young Hebrew batter with the other. A few savage chops and Welsh was down again. For the second time he pulled himself up and Leonard was at him once more, turning him into a human punching bag.

Virtually unconscious, Welsh was wedged in a corner. He dropped for the third time, but struggled to his feet, his hands hanging helplessly at his sides.

Referee "Kid" McPartland looked questioningly toward Welsh's corner. The champion's manager, Harry Pollock, stood waiting, the soggy sponge in his hand, watching to see if there was a chance for Welsh to get out of the corner.

McPartland took matters into his own hands. He ordered Leonard to his corner, while Welsh, still dazed, staggered to the center of the ring, reeled and fell through the ropes, thoroughly "out."

OSBORN RIVAL OF NORSE STAR

As All-round Athlete Illinois A. C. Representative Rates High.

New York.—(P)—Although Charles Hoff, Norwegian athletic star now touring this country stands in a class by himself as a pole-vaulter, he has a keen rival for all-around athletics honors in Harold M. Osborn, of the Illinois Athletics club.

The contest between these two in a seven-event duel featuring the Knights of Columbus games at Madison Square Garden March 16, promises to furnish one of the high spots of the indoor season as well as to help settle the question of versatile supremacy.

While specializing in the vault, Hoff has developed his attitude for other events to an unusual degree, so much so that prior to the Olympic Games of 1924 at Paris, Lawson Robertson, head coach of the American team, classified the Norwegian as the "greatest all-round athlete in the world."

Robertson delivered this verdict prior to Osborn's victory in the Olympic decathlon, emblematic of the world's all-around title. Hoff was unable to compete in that event, because of a foot injury, so that the relative merits of the two stars has remained in doubt.

Hoff's performances in outdoor competition give him a slight edge over Osborn, based on a decathlon or ten-event comparison. But conditions will be somewhat different in a seven-event indoor program which will comprise a 60-yard dash, 60-yard hurdles, shot-put, pole vault, running high jump, running broad jump and 440-yard run.

Hoff himself believes his duel with Osborn will be close, with the outcome likely to hinge upon the broad jump. Each has an outstanding speciality in which to roll up big point totals. Hoff in the vault and Osborn in the high jump. The Norwegian also concedes his rival an advantage in the hurdles and shot-put but considers his own chances of victory favorable in the dash and quarter-mile run.

One of Hoff's difficulties for this "septathlon" is the comparatively short time he has in which to prepare. He has about two weeks in which to regain his all-around form, where he has been specializing in the vault. The shot-put, for instance, requires the use of entirely different muscles, the development of which is a handicap to vaulting.

DOCK WORK TO BE "RUSHED"

St. Paul Company Assures State of Early Action Here.

Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul Railway officials are anxious to get the work of widening the ore dock span over North Sheridan road under way so that it may be completed as early as possible, according to a letter written by W. H. Penfield, engineer of the road's maintenance of way department, to Sherman T. Handy of the state utilities commission.

The commission recently asked the St. Paul, officially, whether the road expected to go through with the work this year, so that the state could be guided in the disposition of the case, filed by the city, now pending at Lansing.

Mr. Penfield told Mr. Handy: "Revised plans have been completed and estimates made. These are in the regular channels for approval. We are anxious to get this work started so as to have it completed at the earliest possible moment and the matter will be pushed as much as possible."

Means More Speed.

When the city of Escanaba, the state highway commission and division officials of the St. Paul got together recently a plan was worked out in which the cost of the change would be split "three ways."

The railroad officials recommended the acceptance of the plan and sent their reports to the road's Chicago offices. There it remained for some time—and still remains. The state utilities commission, anxious to learn whether an agreement between the interested parties could be worked out before it handed down a formal decision, asked recently for a report on the progress of the matter.

Mr. Penfield's personal assurance that the matter "will be pushed" gives new hope that the work will be done before the automobile season opens this spring.

AMUSEMENTS

AT THE DELFT.

"Laybones," which will be the feature at the Delft theatre today and Saturday, will have particular appeal for those who have lived in a small American town in the early 1900s, for the scenes are laid in Milo, Maine, a typical small town, and the characters are people one would expect to meet on any "Main street."

The story is woven around Steve Tuttle, better known as "Laybones," who, while he has never been known to do a "lick" of work in his life, is generous and true to a fault. He is in love with Agnes Fanning, daughter of Rebecca Fanning, an austere matron, who plans to lead in the social life of the town and who is now slow to voice her disapproval of Steve. She has planned a match between her daughter Ruth, who is away at school in Boston, and Elmer Ballister, the richest young man in town.

Ruth, however, has been secretly married and left with a baby when her husband is drowned. To protect Ruth, who has kept her marriage, the loss of her husband and the fact that she has a child, a secret. Steve adopts little Kit, the baby, and because of his silence and generosity, sacrifices his chances of happiness with Agnes.

AT THE STRAND.

"The Dangerous Flirt," starring Evelyn Brent, and new chapters of "The Green Archer," will be shown on the Strand theatre's program today and tomorrow.

"The Dangerous Flirt" is the story of a young girl who is brought up by a prim, priggish aunt and taught to repress all her emotions until she becomes little better than an iceberg in her contacts with the outside world. Her great thought is always "What will people say," and eventually this leads to the loss of her husband on their wedding night. Realizing at last that she truly loves him, the young bride goes to South America in search of her spouse, and there both are involved in a kidnapping. Subsequent developments make a thrilling story. Pierre Gendron, Edward Earle, Charless Selwyn and Ben Deely are featured in support of Miss Brent. Tod Browning directed the picture.

The Escanaba board of education hereafter will hold two meetings each month, instead of one, it was announced yesterday. The first meeting will be on the regular date, the second Tuesday of the month, and will be given over to routine and financial matters. This will enable members to keep in closer touch with details of the work being done in the schools, it was explained.

Art work, during the last few weeks in the public schools, has centered around the "thrift" idea and some clever and attractive thrift posters and slogans have been designed and executed by the children. Some of these have been the work of individuals, while still others have been made by entire grades. Each poster has been accompanied by an appropriate slogan.

Miss Lois Gaut, art supervisor of the grades, has been in charge of the thrift art campaign, and the results, school authorities said, are very gratifying.

Miss Flora Bowman, who was school nurse in the Escanaba public school system for several years, is still in a critical condition in Augustana hospital in Chicago, according to word received here by relatives. She submitted, recently, to an operation in the Chicago hospital and since that time her recovery has been in doubt.

Miss Bowman asked for a leave of absence from her duties here last November. Physicians had advised a long rest for her prior to that time, but she remained in duty longer than the condition of her health rendered advisable. She remained for a time at her home in Menominee, until she consulted Chicago specialists who counseled at the recent operation.

Miss Bowman has hundreds of close friends in Escanaba who are sincerely hopeful that she will be able to regain her health.

MYSTERIOUS FISH FOUND

Naturalist Needed to Help Classify Queer Creature.

Out of the nets of Daniels & Sons, commercial fishermen in Little Bay de Noc, came a little mystery fish which had local sportsmen and fish experts guessing yesterday.

Old-timers who saw the fish, dragged from the Daniels nets, were unable to classify it.

It is about a foot in length and without scales. The color is silver gray but there are no colored "speckles" or spots. Its head and mouth, including teeth, resemble those of the grayling trout but the body is nearer that of the herring. Its fins resemble those of the whitefish.

Herman Leisner, E. C. Voght and some others thought it was a member of the trout family. Peter Jensen said he believed it was a species of herring.

The only fish pictured in the best available text books on "fishology" which seems to fit is the smelt, a salt-water dweller.

Crippled Children Throughout State Aided by Clinics

More crippled children were examined at clinics of the Michigan Society for Crippled Children in 1925 than ever before, according to a report just completed by Miss Alberta Chase, executive secretary of the society, and made public here by the Rotary club's crippled children committee.

During the year 1924 crippled children in 17 counties visited the society's clinics. Miss Chase reported. Clinics were held for Wexford, Muskegon, Houghton, Kalamazoo, Alpena, Cadillac, Oakland, McComb, Delta, Monroe, Grand Traverse, Washtenaw, Eaton, Bay Branch, Lenawee, St. Joseph and Oshtemo counties. The greatest number of crippled children examined by any one clinic was 142, in Houghton county; 132 were cared for in Kalamazoo; 117 in Alpena; 116 in Cadillac, and 114 in Oakland in Cadillac.

Formation of county societies has resulted in a strengthening of the work of the society, the report stated. Two of the largest, Jackson and Oakland, have employed physiotherapists; Jackson has also employed a public health nurse to direct the work, and Mt. Clemens has a physiotherapist.

Special Services in Bark River

Rev. W. C. Bloomquist of Chicago will preach in the Bark River Swedish Methodist church four evenings next week, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, and twice on the following Sunday Rev. Perry Thompson, pastor of the church, has invited all the Scandinavian people of the community to attend the services.

EAGLE IS DESTRUCTIVE.
San Angelo, Tex.—An eagle has caused so much damage to George McEntyre's sheep that he conferred with owners of a commercial airplane in an effort to kill the bird.

A Double Treatment for Colds

It is an obstinate cold indeed that can resist the direct, double action of Vicks VapoRub. When it is rubbed over throat and chest at bedtime, Vicks acts in two ways at once: (1) Direct to the inflamed air passages with its medicated vapors, released by the body heat; and (2) Direct through the skin like an old-fashioned poultice, "drawing out" the tightness, soreness and pain. Head or chest colds may easily sap your vitality and undermine your health. Don't neglect them.

"The Changing World"

MANY hundreds of years ago men of prophetic vision foretold the universal use of the automobile, aeroplane, telephone and the wondrous radio.

In the year 1887 an entertaining writer, Edward Bellamy, predicted that in the 20th century, all cooking would be done in community kitchens.

His prediction is being fulfilled. More than half the food eaten today is prepared outside of our homes. This includes bread and not the least, cookies.

The Language of Squeaks

A LITTLE squeak here—another squeak there. The motor is talking to you. It is serious language if you only understand it. What's the matter? It needs oil.

Oil is an important matter. It serves two most necessary purposes in every car—it prevents wear between the fast moving parts of the engine, it seals compression, preventing the escape of power.

An inferior oil, or an oil not perfectly adapted to your engine cannot perform these services effectively. It becomes old and dirty—with grave results.

Oil is vital to the engine. If the engine is forced to circulate an old, dirty oil, laden with particles of abrasive grit, it gives righteous squeaks of protest.

Dirty oil does not make a good piston seal and the power generated by the engine escapes. When the oil is old and dirty, moving surfaces are no longer protected, metal rubs against metal, and friction begins to eat away the vital parts of the motor itself. Then squeak, squeak, says the engine ominously.

When this happens, heed the warning! Go to a Standard Oil Service Station or Authorized Garage. Consult the chart prepared by the Standard Oil staff of lubricating engineers. They have diagnosed accurately the oil needs of your individual car.

Have the old, dirty oil drained out of the crankcase, cleanse your motor thoroughly with Polarine Flushing Oil, and have the correct grade of Polarine put in. Then, you will sense the joy of a motor in perfect condition, flexible, responding instantly to the slightest touch because friction has been removed by Polarine and all the potential power of the engine is ready in reserve.

Did you ever stop to consider how many rubbers are lost by bad play? One very famous player is authority for the statement that four out of every five rubbers are "chucked," that is, lost by bad play or bad bidding. This observation is particularly true of a long, close rubber where the cards are breaking fairly even. In such a rubber, a close observer will notice many a slip before the rubber is finally settled. The writer was watching one of these close struggles the other evening and noted two hands, each of which if played correctly, would have won the rubber. See what you can do with them before reading the analysis.

Spades are trumps and Z, who is playing the hand must take all the tricks to win game and rubber. The dummy hand, Y, is in the lead. How can Z play the hand against any defense? Z is in a position to force discards from B. That is the secret of the problem. Z should lead the eight of diamonds. Y should discard the seven of clubs and B the seven of hearts. Z should now lead two rounds of hearts, winning the second round in Y's hand with the queen. B follows suit on the first round of hearts but what can he discard on the second round. If he discards a club, Y will play two rounds of clubs and then put Z's hand in the lead with the ace of spades and Z will make the jack of clubs. If B discards a spade, all of Y's spades are good. In either case, therefore, YZ must make the balance of the tricks.

tricks. If B refuses to trump, Z should also discard. Z should continue the heart lead for two more rounds, discarding if B does. On the sixth trick, B and Z each have two trumps but Z has the tenace position and must win both tricks. This is a situation that comes up repeatedly and should be carefully studied. The trumping of a good trick to shorten one's trump holding has been called the "Grand Coup" and is a play that all the experts love to brag about. Study over this problem and if you understand the principles and application you will be surprised how often you will have a similar opportunity.
