

LEAGUE ASSEMBLY TO ADJOURN TODAY

COOLIDGE TO TAKE NO PART IN WET FIGHT

DRY LEADERS SILENT AFTER VISIT TO WHITE HOUSE.

BY DAVID LAWRENCE (Copyright 1926, by the Escanaba Press) Washington, Mar. 16.—President Coolidge's conference with the sub-committee of the national executive committee of the Anti-Saloon League has stimulated considerable discussion here as to whether Mr. Coolidge will take an active or passive part in the prohibition controversy which is developing daily in congress.

Beyond the fact that some pending legislation relating to the administrative side of prohibition was discussed, there was no statement issued either by the White House or the Anti-Saloon League leaders. Usually, visits of this kind are followed by some word of praise for the co-operation being given by the chief executive in the enforcement of the law or some general comment on the sympathy of the president with the Volstead law but so far as can be learned today Mr. Coolidge made no statement to his callers that could be construed as an indication of his attitude toward the party now being made to amend the Volstead Act.

Careful in Statements. The president has been careful in all his public utterances to avoid any specific mention of prohibition enforcement, simply contending that all laws should be obeyed and enforced. Now that the congressional elections are a few months away and some Republicans as well as Democrats are serving notice of their intention to run on a platform advocating modification of the dry laws Mr. Coolidge is not going to say anything that can be used for or against candidates in local elections. Only today announcement was made that Representative Ware of Pennsylvania is to run on a wet plank in the Republican primaries against Senator Pepper.

The president is known to have referred to prohibition as an experiment that ought to have a fair trial. Whether the operations of the Volstead Act since 1919 have been a fair trial is not indicated by spokesmen for the president.

Complain About Andrews. When the delegation from the anti-saloon league went to the white house, there were rumors that a complaint was about to be made against assistant secretary Lincoln C. Andrews of the treasury department who is in charge of prohibition enforcement. Mr. Andrews is supposed to have made the statement to friends that if he found he could not enforce prohibition he would quit next October. There are hints that Mr. Andrews doesn't think the job can be done and plans to resign at an opportune time. The rumors arose because of a belief that such a step on Mr. Andrews' part would be construed as encouragement by the "wets" who have been to clamor for modification on the ground that the present law is not enforceable.

But after the conference white house officials said Mr. Andrews' name had not been brought into the discussion.

Believes in Prohibition. Mr. Andrews' work has not been criticized as he has been an unflinching believer in the Volstead act and the necessity of enforcing it but there are barriers over which even Mr. Andrews has been unable to climb, notably barriers of public sentiment in states where the violations of the law are most numerous. The anti-saloon league usually carries its problems direct to the white house and that's why the call of the sub-committee cannot be dismissed as a routine affair any more than the significant silence adopted by the white house after the dry leaders left. The inference generally drawn today was that Mr. Coolidge will play a passive part in any discussion of the merits of prohibition itself.

COMMENDED FOR COOLNESS

Miss Agnes Wright, a Kenosha, Wis., physician's assistant, was twice on railway cars that figured in accidents, and each time she administered first aid with a promptness and coolness that won her a citation from the railroad president. On one occasion she saved a man from bleeding to death.

FOUND GUILTY OF MURDERING FOSTER-CHILD

BALTIMORE MAN IS GIVEN 18 YEARS IN PRISON.

Baltimore, Mar. 16.—(AP)—Ralph V. Coursey, 22-year-old traffic violator, today was found guilty of second degree murder by Baltimore county circuit court at Towson for helping to kill the 15-year-old foster child, Eldridge. He was sentenced immediately to 18 years in Maryland penitentiary, the maximum penalty under the Maryland law. His wife, Mrs. Edna May Wright Coursey, herself convicted last week of manslaughter and now awaiting sentence in connection with the boy's death, took the stand against her husband yesterday and sobbed over the murder accusation for the second time. She has moved for a new trial.

As the prisoner was led from the courtroom by deputy sheriffs, he maintained the composure that has marked him throughout the proceedings since his arrest the day Eldridge died, his body covered with welts and bruises.

When he stood to receive sentence, Coursey had only one remark to make: "I would like to say, if my wife is given a new trial, I would like to testify against her."

On the stand Coursey admitted whipping Eldridge on the night of February 5 as detailed in his confession and related by his wife. He categorically denied touching the boy February 6, the date of his death. He directly charged his wife with flogging the child at that time, reiterating a previous statement that his whipping of the night before was not severe enough to cause death. Mrs. Coursey once confessed that she beat Eldridge just before he died, but repudiated the confession on the witness stand and placed the blame on the shoulders of her husband.

Hodgson, Williams Leading in Mayor Race at St. Paul

St. Paul, Minn., Mar. 16.—(AP)—Lawrence C. ("Harry Ho") Hodgson, former mayor, and Rev. Howard Y. Williams, pastor of the People's church, were leading for the "narrowly" nomination tonight when half the returns from today's municipal primary had been reported.

Omaha "Sniper" on Trial for Murder

Omaha, Neb., Mar. 16.—(AP)—The trial of Frank Carter, confessed "sniper bandit" charged with first degree murder in connection with the slaying of Dr. A. D. Searles last February 17, progressed rapidly today. A jury was obtained before noon and several witnesses offered testimony during the afternoon session.

British Industrial Men Visit Detroit

Detroit, Mar. 16.—(AP)—Welcome by the board of commerce, 11 British labor leaders and industrial experts arrived here today to study labor conditions and industrial methods.

MOON BUSINESS GOOD. New York, Mar. 16.—(AP)—Moon Motor Company reports that orders on hand for delivery in April, May and June exceed any previous year. On the strength of these bookings, company officials state second quarter earnings will more than cover the entire annual dividend. The company will be 20 years old next July. Its business has increased 500 per cent in the past six years.

Committee Approves Measure to Establish Prohibition Bureau

Washington, Mar. 16.—(AP)—The administration's bill to create a bureau of prohibition in the treasury department hearing the approval of the Anti-Saloon League and prohibition leaders generally, was approved today by the house ways and means committee.

The measure is the first proposed major change in the prohibition law to be reported out of a committee since passage of the Volstead act. It will give to the legislative right of way and be taken up in the house in the near future.

Open Way to Wet. While it is designed to strengthen the prohibition enforcement machinery, its consideration will open the flood gates of general prohibition debate, and may serve as the vehicle by which wet members can set before the house, in the form of amendments, their many and varied proposals for liberalization of the general prohibition law.

Heretofore, these proposals have been smothered in committee. The bill was introduced by Chairman Green of the ways and means committee. In addition to creating a prohibition bureau, it would set up in the treasury department a bureau of customs, and the two bureaus would be administered by commissioners appointed by the secretary of the treasury at salaries of $8,000 a year. The personnel of both bureaus, excepting the higher officials, would be subject to the civil service regulations.

Further hearings by the committee, Assistant Secretary Anderson, in charge of prohibition enforcement, endorsed the bill as providing a much needed re-organization of enforcement machinery.

Kansas City Bootleggers Working With Chain-Gang

Kansas City, Mar. 16.—(AP)—To the rhythmic clank, clank, clank of ankle-chains, Kansas City bootleggers, with pick and crowbar in hand, are working out their sentences these days, along with thieves, burglars, pickpockets and others of the county chain-gang. A batch of the liquor law violators pleaded guilty yesterday and received sentences at varying length at hard labor.

Out in the bright sunshine, with no moonlight except that streaming through the iron bars at night, the Volstead violators are digging gritty ditches, shoveling and digging, mity ditches, shoveling the county roads, while W. T. Cox, deputy sheriff, looks on complacently.

"Take your time, boys," advises Cox, noticing a disposition to rush the work. "There's lots of it ahead."

At that, Phil Kennedy, former policeman, smiles and makes the best of it. "I've done county roads before," he avers, "but never from this end of the deal. I've helped build 'em, but never with a pick and shovel."

5 LOSE LIVES IN IOWA FIRE

Another angle of the national defense issue raised by Representative Dempsey in urging that the board refuse the special report, developed today when Representative Wainwright, Republican, New York, former assistant secretary of war, suggested that the St. Lawrence route, favored by virtually the complete congressional delegates of 19 states of the Middle West bordering on the Great Lakes, might be hampered by neutrality considerations if the United States was at war and Great Britain neutral.

Senator Lenroot argued that such a contingency was unthinkable, since, when the United States was neutral in the early years of the European war, the bulk of Canada's wartime traffic had moved over international waterways without question.

Canada Might Disagree? In his closing argument, Representative Dempsey insisted that the New York route offered the only certain avenue for getting middle western products to the sea cheaply, since there was no certainty that Canada would agree to joint development of the river route.

"A canal can be built on American soil, but a canal cannot be built on Canada soil," he asserted. "All the evidence is that Canada will not agree now or at any reasonable time in the future to the St. Lawrence development."

Chapman's Counsel Seeking Loophole to Cheat Gallows

Hartford, Conn., Mar. 16.—(AP)—If in the law of the land or state there is something which may be used to delay the execution of Gerald Chapman, or save him from the gallows, counsel, it was stated today, hoped to find it. Now, having carried unsuccessfully his appeals through the state courts by questioning evidence which convicted him of murder of a New Britain policeman, and to the supreme tribunal of the country on contention that Chapman should serve sentence as a mail robber before hanging as a murderer, counsel are searching for no legal ground. There will be a conference in a few days.

It is stated that there will be no appeal to the state board of pardons, the ultimate step taken in the effort to save a person condemned to death. What counsel have in view as to a new move is unknown.

Foreigners Warned by Syrian Rebels to Quit Damascus

London, Mar. 16.—(AP)—A Jerusalem dispatch to the Daily Mail says that the national council of Syrians in rebellion against the government has issued a warning to the consuls, the heads of foreign companies and European residents of Damascus to quit the city immediately as they intend to sack it and expel the French. The insurgents declare they will not be responsible for what happens to foreigners and Christians who remain.

They added that a catastrophe could be avoided if the city is handed over to the police under the supervision of the nationalist government which they represent, and the French troops are withdrawn.

Seven Killed in Asia Minor Quake

London, Mar. 16.—(AP)—One hundred and ninety houses collapsed during a heavy earthquake at Denizli in Asia Minor today, says a dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph from Constantinople. Seven persons were killed and many injured.

Denizli is in the Vilayet of Afyon, in 1915. It is said 12,000 of the population were killed when the town was destroyed by an earthquake.

COL. COOLIDGE MUCH WEAKER

President's Aged Father Unable to Take Nourishment.

Plymouth, Vt., Mar. 16.—(AP)—John C. Coolidge continues to grow weaker tonight, Dr. Albert M. Green, his physician, announced in a bulletin issued at 8 o'clock. The physician said his patient had been unable to take nourishment.

After a telephone conference with the nurses on duty at the Coolidge home, Dr. Green, from his office in Middlebury, gave out this bulletin:

Colonel Coolidge is very weak tonight, even weaker than when he was examined earlier in the day. He has been unable to take nourishment and has taken his medicine with great difficulty.

Patient Much Weaker. "Respiration and pulse are practically unchanged, but the weakness apparently is more pronounced."

It became known tonight that Colonel Coolidge has been sending for his old neighbors, one by one, to visit him. Today, three of them answered his summons, calling at the Coolidge farmhouse and being admitted for brief visits in the sick room. Those who called today were Dick Brown, Orric Ward and Walter H. Lyndes.

One of these said later that he had noticed a great change in the Colonel's appearance since he saw him last, three weeks ago. The sick man, he said, had grown thin and haggard and appeared to be very weak. He recognized his visitors, however, and was able to exchange a few words with them.

GOODING BILL VOTE DATE SET

Senate Fixes March 26 to Decide Railway Rate Measure.

Washington, Mar. 16.—(AP)—The Gooding long and short haul railroad rate bill will come to a final decision in the senate at 2 p. m. March 24, under a unanimous consent agreement reached today.

The agreement was obtained after lengthy debate in which amendment was urged by Senator Pittman, Democrat, Nevada, and the measure was attacked by Senators Phipps, Republican, Colorado, and Bruce, Democrat, Maryland. It would prohibit railroads charging more for short intermediate hauls than for longer hauls to permit them to meet water transportation competition.

While Senator Bruce contended that "more is to be gained for the public welfare from elastic rather than rigid provisions limiting the interstate commerce commission," Senator Pittman said that body had assumed jurisdiction and powers beyond those authorized by congress.

Senator Pittman appealed for protection for the Panama Canal traffic which would be menaced, he said, by granting railroads differentials to permit them to compete with water transportation. He added that the railroads planned to put canal freight traffic out of business "just as they have driven all the river boats from the Ohio, the Mississippi, the Missouri and our other inland waterways which we have developed at the expenditure of hundreds of millions of dollars."

Senator Phipps based his opposition on the ground, that the Gooding bill would afford no substantial relief to the inter-mountain region, "but may actually prove harmful to western interests."

McLain Will Carry Groesbeck Fight to G. O. P. Convention

Lansing, Mar. 16.—(AP)—Richard W. McLain, member of the state house of representatives from Branch county, hopes to jar the next state Republican convention into going on record as opposed to the alleged "one-man control" of the state administrative board. He asserted he will consult with leaders of the anti-Groesbeck wing of the party in an effort to incorporate his ideas in the platform.

Geneva, Mar. 16.—(AP)—The signatories of the Locarno agreements issued an official communique tonight stating that if obstacles render impossible the admission of Germany to the League of Nations at this time, the Locarno signatories "are happy to recognize" that the work of peace realized at Locarno remains intact.

The communique expresses fear that the difficulties in the council

LITTLE HOPE FOR SEATING OF GERMANY

REPLY FROM BRAZIL NOT EXPECTED TO ARRIVE.

Geneva, Mar. 16.—(AP)—The league assembly will probably end its labors tomorrow, (Wednesday).

"They will adjourn the assembly anyway, whether Rio replies in time or not," said Senor d' Souza Dantas, Brazilian ambassador to France, on leaving thence which Count Ishii, president of the assembly, gave tonight to the council members.

The decision has already been taken to adjourn Wednesday. The German delegation announced that there were 29 chances out of 100 that Wednesday's assembly would adjourn immediately after convening and that the question of Germany's election to the league would not be passed upon.

New Difficulties. New difficulties have darkened the horizon, the little, tentative written engagement that they will support Rumania for a non-permanent seat next September as compensation for the projected restoration of Czechoslovakia, whose eminent statesman, Dr. Eduard Benes, has so brilliantly represented their ideas and interests in the league council.

Moreover, Spain, the seriousness of whose demand for a permanent seat has been rather ignored by the allies' leaders, came forward at tonight's tense secret session of the council and renewed her insistence for recognition. Furthermore, it is reported that not every government of Europe has made diplomatic representations to Rio Janeiro urging Brazil to recede from her intransigent attitude.

Spain's Ultimatum Denied. When a member of the council was asked tonight by The Associated Press correspondent if he still expected a reply from Rio Janeiro, he answered, "It cannot possibly come for three days. It may not come at all. Moreover, there are fresh difficulties including the Spanish difficulty, which make it practically certain that we cannot proceed tomorrow with the election of Germany."

Count Quinones de Leon denied tonight, vehemently, the report that he had sent an ultimatum to the council that Spain, like Brazil, would veto the election of Germany unless Spain was accorded a permanent seat in the council.

The Brazilian spokesman said tonight that he was unable to estimate when an answer would be forthcoming from Rio Janeiro. He volunteered the information that President Bernardes now was in the mountains, a two hours' journey from Rio, but thought, however, that this should not greatly delay the government's decision.

AWAIT BRAZIL'S REPLY. Geneva, Mar. 16.—(AP)—The allied and German spokesmen are awaiting word from Rio Janeiro and on this decision of the Brazilian government depends the question of whether Germany will enter the League of Nations at this time.

The agreement between the allied delegates and the Germans is that if by 10 o'clock Wednesday morning when the assembly will convene, a message has not arrived authorizing Afranio Melo Franco, the Brazilian delegate, to vote for Germany, Sir Austen Chamberlain, British foreign secretary, immediately will move adjournment until the next assembly of the question of Germany's election.

Answer Not Expected. Brazil had not abandoned her attitude of opposition to Germany, so far as known today, and so convinced was the council of the league that no answer would come in the next three days that it voted with great reluctance to postpone all action on Germany's application for league membership and for a permanent seat in the council as exacted by the Locarno accords.

The belief is held among the delegates that unless a miracle happens, Germany will remain outside the league at least until next September, which is the month in which the league assembly next convenes.

Geneva, Mar. 16.—(AP)—The signatories of the Locarno agreements issued an official communique tonight stating that if obstacles render impossible the admission of Germany to the League of Nations at this time, the Locarno signatories "are happy to recognize" that the work of peace realized at Locarno remains intact.

The communique expresses fear that the difficulties in the council

MOB MURDERS TEXAS FARMER

Victim Several Days Before Had Killed Neighbor.

Crockett, Tex., Mar. 16.—(AP)—The identity of a band of men who last night dragged Frank Johnson, a farmer, from his bed and shot him to death had not been learned tonight by officers who went to Center Point, a hamlet 25 miles southeast of here, to investigate the slaying.

Persons questioned showed reluctance to discuss the affair, it was reported. Johnson's widow was so badly frightened that she was able to give only a meager description of the men, who are believed to have been masked.

Sheriff Don English and Deputy Sheriff Spob English are conducting the investigation. An inquest will be held.

Johnson killed Homer Gibson, a neighboring farmer, in a fight last Friday. Johnson was confined to bed with serious wounds received in the fight when the mob entered his house last night and tore him away from the side of his baby. He was thrown to the floor and summarily shot, although he pleaded with his assailants not to kill him in sight of the child.

Deputy sheriffs, who had Johnson under surveillance, left the house at the request of the wounded man a short time before the mob appeared. The fight between Johnson and Gibson arose out of an argument over what school the Johnson children should attend, the conflict centering around school district boundaries.

Woman Arrested for Killing Son

Fairmont, Minn., Mar. 16.—(AP)—Mrs. Esther Atz was arrested tonight on a charge of first degree murder growing out of the death of her son, Raymond, five years old, who died suddenly December 14. A warrant was sworn following a report from the University of Minnesota medical school, asserting that poison had been found in the organs of the child.

The similarity of Raymond's death to that of his sister, two years old, started the investigation. Mrs. Atz made vigorous denial of the charges.

FRIENDS HELP IOWA SENATOR

Expect Fight on Senate Floor on Brookhart Report.

Washington, Mar. 16.—(AP)—Faced with the prospect for a report from the senate elections committee recommending that he be associated, supporters of Senator Brookhart in the Iowa election contest held their breath today toward bolstering a committee minority preparatory to a fight on the senate floor.

After a two-hour session behind closed doors today of the Republican caucus, which found that Brookhart had received a plurality in the Iowa election, the full committee adjourned until Sunday, when preparation of a report to the senate will be begun. Chairman Ernst declared after the meeting there was no question that a majority of the committee would endorse the sub-committee's report.

Senator Stephens of Mississippi, a Democratic member of the committee, has taken on the leadership of the minority and plans to present a report recommending that Senator Brookhart be retained in his seat. Several other committee members are known to be ready to endorse his views.

The issue centers on the question whether the Iowa state election law or the intent of the voter should be the controlling factor. The sub-committee, composed of Chairman Ernst and Senators Watson, Indiana, Republicans, Caraway, Arkansas, and George, Georgia, Democrats, hold that the intent of the voter should be followed, while Senator Stephens and his associates contend that state law should decide the case.

Three members of the sub-committee held that Stead had a plurality of 1,420, while Senator George reported a plurality of 75 for Stead. On the other hand, Senator Stephens contends that, under the sub-committee's system of counting the votes, Stead should be credited with a plurality of only five votes.

BIG BLAZE AT CRYSTAL FALLS

Fire Breaks Out for Second Time in Two Days.

Crystal Falls, Mich., Mar. 16.—(AP)—Firemen late today still were fighting the second fire that has broken out in the Stolberg business block within two days, and indications were that the loss would run close to $100,000.

The flames were discovered early in the day, and before the firemen could reach the scene three frame buildings were a mass of flames. They were able to make appreciable headway only by a concrete building, occupied by the Diamond Drill company, blocked the progress of the blaze.

The places destroyed included Richard's clothing shop, the Mroz jewelry store and the Stolberg tailor shop. The loss in these three was estimated at more than $50,000. Several other buildings were menaced.

The population of metropolitan Boston is 1,808,845.

trials will persist, but says the signatories are convinced that these will be surmounted on the occasion of the next league assembly and that an agreement concerning the conditions of Germany's entrance will be realized.

Text of Communiqué. The text of the communiqué reads: "The representatives of Germany, Belgium, France, Great Britain and Italy have met to examine the situation resulting from difficulties which have arisen and which hinder the accomplishment of their common wishes. They take note of the fact that they have reached an agreement and have overcome obstacles which had at one moment arisen between them. "If, as there seems reason to feel, the above difficulties persist, the representatives of the seven powers who signed the protocol of Locarno would regret not to be able at this moment to reach the goal which they had in view; but they are happy to recognize that the work of peace which they realized at Locarno and which exists in all its vigor and all its force, remains intact. "They remain attached to it today, and are firmly resolved to work together to maintain and develop it. They are convinced that on the occasion of the next session of the assembly, the difficulties which exist at this moment will be surmounted and that the agreement reached with regard to the conditions for the entry of Germany into the League of Nations will be realized."

AH YES, OF COURSE!

Ellis Island and Countess Cathcart made it famous. Edward Nagle put it on canvas for the Independent Art Society's exhibition at the Waldorf hotel, in New York. You'll have difficulty deciphering it, maybe, but nevertheless it's "Moral Turpitude."

LEITER CASE IS REVIEWED

British Relatives Object to Administration of Estate.

Chicago, Mar. 16—(AP)—The administration of the millions built up by Levi Z. Leiter, pioneer merchant prince of Chicago, in their relation to four members of the British nobility came up for review in the superior court of Cook county today. Lady Marguerite Hyde, Countess of Suffolk and Berks, seconded by her three nieces, Lady Cynthia Mosley, Baroness of Ravensdale, and Lady Alexandra Naldera Metcalf, daughters of Lady Curzon, once vicereine of India, instituted the suit to oust Joseph Leiter, her brother, as a trustee of the estate, which is valued from $50,000,000 to $100,000,000. Leiter, on the other hand, is supported by another sister, Mrs. Nancy Lathrop Carver Campbell, widow of Colonel Colin Campbell of the British army, and her three children.

Mismanagement Charged. Opening statements by Frank H. Scott, attorney for the Countesses of Suffolk and Berks, and George A. Cooke, counsel for Lady Cynthia and her sisters, occupied today's court session.

Both lawyers reiterated charges of gross mismanagement and dereliction of duty by Joseph Leiter, principally regarding the handling of coal mining properties and an extensive ranch in Wyoming, which also involved an irrigation project.

Under Levi Z. Leiter's will, Joseph, the countess, and Mrs. Campbell were made trustees, along with Mrs. Leiter, the widow, and Seymour Morris, both of whom since have died.

Oppose Warr As Trustee. These three, with William J. Warr, now are the trustees. In outlining their reasons for seeking the removal of Leiter, both attorneys said Warr for years has been a Leiter employe and had been dominated by Joseph Leiter. The countess never recognized Warr as a trustee, holding that the will provided "all" the trustees should agree upon replacements necessitated by deaths. She opposed the others in selecting Warr as a trustee.

5 Firemen Injured in Fire at Detroit

Detroit, Mar. 16 (AP)—Five firemen and an employe of the Fisher Wallpaper company were slightly injured, and an estimated loss of $100,000 was caused by a fire that swept the five-story building of the wallpaper company late today. The blaze was witnessed by a crowd of 25,000.

Another man saved himself from death by leaping to the roof of an adjoining building. When the first broke out, John Oils, about 23 years old, an employe of the wallpaper company, started to battle the blaze with a fire extinguisher. He soon found himself trapped by great clouds of smoke and leaped from the fourth floor to the third story roof of an adjoining building. He was uninjured.

Joseph Smith, another employe, was slightly burned while fighting the blaze and was given first aid treatment.

The fire is believed to have started in the elevator shaft.

Claim Costa Rican Death Train Took Curve Too Rapidly

San Jose, Costa Rica, Mar. 16—(AP)—Survivors of Sunday's wreck of an excursion train near San Jose in which 248 persons were killed are planning to take joint court action against the Northern Railway on whose line the disaster occurred.

Eye-witnesses assert that the wreck was due to the fact that the train took a sharp curve just before reaching the entrance to the bridge at an excessive speed. At this point there is a steep grade, and the wheels of the rapidly moving train could not hold the rails.

Costa Rica is in national mourning because of the disaster. Several relief movements have been inaugurated and public subscription lists to aid the families of those who perished are filling rapidly.

Hawaii Once Had Navy, Toast Shows

Honolulu, (AP)—Hawaii once had a navy—but that was long ago, in the days of King Kamehameha.

The "Navy" consisted of the old schooner Explorer, which was refitted and renamed the Kaimiloa. Nearly everything in the maritime arms of the island's fighting force from uniforms up and down, was copied from the British navy by a man formerly in the service of Queen Victoria.

It is told that when he came to the desire of the sword hilt he said to the king: "We can't use a lion's head on this, your majesty."

"Well, use a shark's head then," replied the king, and so they did.

The "navy" made one long trip to Samoa. The night before sailing a banquet was given at which a newspaper map offered this toast:

Street Car Falls in River; Several Passengers Injured

Chicago, Mar. 16—(AP)—A score of passengers were thrown into peril late today when a street car, running between Berwyn and Lyons, suburbs, left the rails and plunged into the Desplaines river while passing over a trestle. Firemen made a prompt rescue. None was killed.

The water was between three and four feet deep where the accident occurred and the street car was partly submerged. It remained in an upright position, however, and was supported by the bridge work.

Some of the victims were cut and bruised and a few were taken to hospitals. Firemen rescued the passengers through windows of the car.

CHANG SEIZES CARGO OF ARMS

Tientsin, Mar. 16—(AP)—A cargo of munitions valued at $2,500,000 Mexican money, fell into the hands of Fengtien warships of Marshal Chang Tso-Lin, the Manchurian warlord, with the seizure today of the Russian ship Oleg at Taku Bay.

The Oleg, from Vladivostok, a Russian port, was found to have aboard automatic rifles and large quantities of other munitions.

A blockade has been maintained at Taku for several days by reaching the Kuomichun national warships to prevent supplies people's army, supporting the Peking government.

The Oleg was boarded by marines from the Fengtien warships which, with trained guns, anchored on each side and played searchlights upon the seized vessel all night. The Oleg's captain asserted that she carried a cargo of sea weed and when the man-of-war signaled for a tug boat to take her across the bar, Foreigners aboard the tug were not allowed to board the Oleg, but they saw large quantities of sea weed with rifles and other munitions which had been brought to the decks from the holds by marines.

The Soviet vice consul with an interpreter motored from Tientsin to Taku the day of the Oleg's arrival and urged that the tugboat captains to take him over the bar to visit the ship. Unable to obtain a boat, the vice consul returned to Tientsin after learning that the Fengtien crews had taken possession of the Oleg.

Body of Woman Patriot to New Resting Place

Highland Falls, N. Y., Mar. 16—(AP)—The remains of Margaret Corbin, the "Captain Molly Pitcher" of Revolutionary fame, were removed today from their resting place of more than a century, on the Highland Falls estate of J. Pierpont Morgan, and reinterred in the Post cemetery at West Point, with appropriate services.

Rev. Roland J. Bunton, rector of the Church of the Holy Innocents of this village, read the committal service at the new grave. Delegates of the Daughters of the American Revolution from New York and Albany, headed by Mrs. Alton B. Parker, were present. The Daughters were responsible for the removal of the body. They will dedicate a monument over "Captain Molly's" grave next month and will unveil a tablet to her memory in the Church of the Holy Innocents here.

"Captain Molly," the first American woman to take a soldier's part in the war for independence, fought in the Battle of Fort Mifflin, November 16, 1775.

SEE EXODUS TO SMALL CITIES

Electricity Brightening Rural Life, Says Report.

Chicago, Mar. 16—(AP)—Prediction that population will drift away from congested metropolitan centers back to smaller cities and suburban areas is contained in a report on middle western power resources prepared by the power survey committee of the National Electric Light Association, Great Lakes division.

"The survey, which covers Michigan, Wisconsin, Illinois and Indiana and portions of Minnesota, Ohio and Iowa asserts that 41 per cent increase in population by 1950 will be accomplished by a tremendous development in the use of electricity.

"The use of electricity in small towns and rural districts," the report points out, "is making life there much more agreeable. The fact that many people in the large cities are dissatisfied with crowded living, crowded transportation and intensely competitive working conditions, will make them turn back to the smaller places, where the advantages of the city are brought there by the modern improvements in which electricity plays so great a part."

Michigan will enjoy the greatest percentage increase in population the report declares. The state in 1920 had a population of 3,668,400, or 64 persons to the square mile, while for 1950 it predicted a total of 5,800,800, or 101 persons to the square mile, an increase of 58 per cent, southern and eastern Minnesota, with probable increase of 48 per cent is placed second.

Defining super-power systems as those in which "electricity is generated with high economy in fuel-power or water-power stations, or both, and is economically distributed for the benefit of widespread populations," the report declares super-power had accomplished for electricity users the furnishing of service at practically pre-war prices while increased costs have greatly increased the prices of all other necessities.

London, Mar. 16—(AP)—The Daily Express says Lady Cathcart's play "Ashes" will be withdrawn from the London stage next Saturday. The play had its first presentation here last night.

Says Matteotti Died of Fright After Kidnaping

Chieti, Italy, Mar. 16—(AP)—Testifying in the court of assizes today as to the alleged murder of the Socialist deputy, Giacomo Matteotti, in 1924, Amerigo Dumini, one of a group of five Fascist charged with the crime, declared that Matteotti was kidnaped June 10, 1924, on unprovoked impulse and died a short time later from a pulmonary hemorrhage, brought on by the excitement.

Matteotti's body was found two months after his death in a shallow grave, and a medical examination at the time seemed to indicate that he had died from injuries.

The other four accused men admitted their presence in Rome on the day of Matteotti's disappearance but denied without qualification that they had any part in it.

Automobiles Will Not Mar Ancient Beauty of Venice

Rome, Mar. 16—(AP)—The beauty of Venice is not to be marred by the invasion of such modern innovations as automobiles, Giovanni Giurati, minister of public works, declared in the senate today.

This was in connection with his announcement that the government does not intend to enlarge the existing railway bridge connecting Venice with the mainland in order to permit automobiles to enter the city.

EXEMPTION OF CORN OPPOSED

Several Features of New Farm Relief Bill Attacked.

Washington, Mar. 16—(AP)—Rough going in the house agriculture committee is in prospect for the farm relief bill presented today by the middle western delegation appointed at the recent agricultural meeting in Des Moines.

No sooner had copies of the measure been distributed among committee members than several features of it were questioned sharply.

Representative Tincher, Republican, Kansas, announced that witnesses yet to be heard would oppose vigorously the proposal to exempt corn from an equalization fee that would be levied on crops classed as basic commodities—wheat, cotton, cattle and hogs—to bear the expense of marketing the farmers' surplus.

Tariff Not Included. Chairman Haugen, while he made no comment today, has served notice at previous sessions that he considers any farm relief bill worthless unless it contains provisions empowering the president to raise the tariff on any product to a point high enough to keep it out of America. The bill under consideration does not mention the tariff. It is understood that the farm delegates were divided on the tariff question.

Frank Evans, secretary of the American Farm Bureau federation, told the committee today he believed the principles endorsed by his organization were embodied in the bill.

Opposes Gov't Control. Matthew B. Wells, a farmer and banker of Bloomington, Ill., opposed any legislation for government control of crop or assessment of excise fees and urged a bill authorizing a loan of $200,000,000 to start a $100,000,000 agricultural corporation to be owned and managed by "farmers and their friends."

The middle western committee, which was appointed by the Des Moines Agricultural conference, issued a statement today explaining its position with regard to the new farm relief bill.

Several Rivers in Menominee County Opened to Fishing

Lansing, Mar. 16—(AP)—John Baird, state conservation director today designated streams in Houghton, Menominee, Baraga and Keweenaw counties, that will be open to trout fishing this year.

In the latter two counties no recommendations relative to closing streams were received from wardens or local organizations, so all trout waters except feeder streams were opened. The streams in Houghton that may be fished are:

Salmon, Trout, Graveler, Elm, Misery, Fire Steel, Pike, Main Branch of the Otter (partly), west branch of the Otter, Pilgrim, Slouts, both branches of the Sturgeon, Coles creek, east branch of the Ontonagon, Jumbo, Silver and Trap Rock. The list includes virtually all the main streams in the county.

In Menominee, the following streams were opened: Big Cedar from Green Bay to M-15; Little Cedar, from Menominee river to Hermandville; Little river, from Menominee river to trunk line 11; Shaker, from Menominee river to dam.

All trout streams were ordered closed last year. The conservation commission recently opened most of the streams in other counties but held up the four upper peninsula counties pending reports and investigation.

Pro Football Seeks Entente With Colleges

This, according to Joe P. Carr, president of the National Professional Football League, is behind the resolution of the league barring the playing of any college athlete in professional football until his class in college has been graduated.

"While we were glad to have 'Red' Grange with us, yet we would have preferred to have had him finish his college course and then come to our league," President Carr said. "I believe his drawing power would have been just as great next season as this. There always is plenty of time for a college football star to enter the professional ranks after he has finished his college course."

President Carr said a committee from his league would meet representatives of the Intercollegiate Athletic Union to work out rules for further protection against college athletes entering pro football.

Takes 20 Minutes to Attach Seal of State of Georgia

Atlanta, Ga.—(AP)—Twenty minutes are required for an expert to attach the Great Seal of Georgia to a document. Only a couple of seconds are necessary for the process in other states.

The difference is between the Seal of 1779, which the state still uses, and the Seal of modern invention.

Sealing wax is rolled into thin wafers when Georgia's Seal is made ready for operation. Gift paper, cut circular in form, the exact size of the die, with serrated edges, next is laid upon each side of the wax wafer. At the same time, ribbons are inserted between the water and the paper discs. The water then is placed between the plates of the die and stamped tightly, leaving the device imprinted on either side of the soft wax and revealing like an engraving on the gilded paper. This is attached by narrow ribbons to the document of state, forming what is known as a wax pendant.

Although legislation was passed in 1868 to have the Seal re-engraved, it was never done, and now the law is dead on the statute books.

The exact origin of the seal is not known, although the records indicate a belief that it was designed by Charles Walker, a 16-year-old South Carolinian, in a competition arranged by Governor James Jackson, the prize being $30.

NO PLANS TO STOP STRIKE

Washington, Mar. 16—(AP)—Discussion of plans for appointment of a grievance committee of three, composed of representatives of the manufacturers, workers and department of labor to suggest a plan for settling the textile strike around Passaic, N. J., was described as premature today at the department of labor.

Some such plan has been tentatively discussed, but no definite mode of approaching the situation has yet been decided upon.

Secretary Davis was represented as having taken quite an interest in the New Jersey strike, and he is understood to have been informed that the mill owners were open-minded to a policy not to negotiate with the strike leadership just what plan will finally be suggested to both sides in the controversy remains to be determined.

John A. Moffett and William C. Liller, department strike conciliators, who were taken off the case recently to attend to other duties, were said to have returned to Passaic today to resume their observations.

VanSwearingen to Release Deposits of Stockholders

New York, Mar. 16—(AP)—Without revealing his intention to revise or abandon the Nickel Plate merger plan, recently barred by the interstate commerce commission, the Van Swearingen interests offered to all stockholders who have pledged their securities in the support of the proposal an opportunity to withdraw their deposits.

Through the Nickel Plate deposit committee, the sponsors of the billion dollar merger indicated that pending any further proceedings under the plan it was deemed "for the best interests of the depositors" to return any stocks desired upon the surrender of certificates on or before May 1.

Hawaii Once Had Navy, Toast Shows

Honolulu, (AP)—Hawaii once had a navy—but that was long ago, in the days of King Kamehameha.

The "Navy" consisted of the old schooner Explorer, which was refitted and renamed the Kaimiloa. Nearly everything in the maritime arms of the island's fighting force from uniforms up and down, was copied from the British navy by a man formerly in the service of Queen Victoria.

It is told that when he came to the desire of the sword hilt he said to the king: "We can't use a lion's head on this, your majesty."

"Well, use a shark's head then," replied the king, and so they did.

The "navy" made one long trip to Samoa. The night before sailing a banquet was given at which a newspaper map offered this toast:

Hoff Wins World's Indoor Title; Breaks Two World Records

INJURY FORCES OSBORN TO QUIT

Norwegian Star Captures Five of Seven Events.

New York, Mar. 16.—(AP)—Shattering two world records and winning five of the seven events, Charley Hoff of Norway captured the world's indoor all-around athletic championship tonight, defeating Emerson Norton of Georgetown, after Harold Osborn of the Illinois A. C. Olympic and American titleholder, was forced out by a sprained ankle.

Hoff broke the world's indoor broad jump and pole vault marks in scoring a clean-cut triumph and registering one of the greatest all-around performances ever witnessed, indoor or out.

Vaults 13 Feet 7 Inches. The slim, debonair Norwegian displaced the broad jump standard with a leap of 13 feet 7 3/8 inches, after he thrilled the crowd of 10,000 at the Knights of Columbus track and field carnival, held in Madison Square Garden, by pole vaulting to a height of 13 feet 7 inches, the eighth time he has surpassed the listed record.

Blasted the hopes of both American stars, but it is doubtful whether either, in top form, could have taken the laurels from the vaulting viking tonight.

Hoff finished the seven-event competition with a grand total of 5,853.3 points while Norton amassed 4,768.4. Osborn withdrew at the end of the third event, with a total of 2,334.

New Record Broken. Another world's indoor record was broken when Georgetown University's crack quartet, Gagan, Ascher, Swinburne and Burgess, sped to victory over an all-star quartet in a 1600-meter relay race. Their time of 3:22 2/3 displaced the former mark of 3 minutes 24 4/5 seconds, set by Holy Cross last January.

Georgetown's team trailed over the first half of the distance, with Cooke of Syracuse leading Gagan by 10 yards on the first leg and Vincent Lally of New York holding a two-yard advantage over Ascher at the half-way mark. Swinburne, however, took the lead from Johnny Holden, of the New York A. C., on the third leg and handed a five-yard advantage to the Georgetown anchor man, Burgess, who stayed off a spirited closing rush by Ray Robertson, of the Boston A. A., to win by a scant yard.

Hoff took the 60-yard dash, broad jump, hurdles, pole vault and 400-meter run while Norton won the remaining two events, the shot put and high jump.

Hoff Starts Well. New York, Mar. 16.—(AP)—Charley Hoff, spectacular Norwegian athlete, got away to a victorious start tonight in his battle for world's indoor all-around honors when he defeated his two American rivals, Harold Osborn and Emerson Norton, in the 60-yard dash, opening their seven-event test in the K. of C. meet at Madison Square Garden.

Hoff won by fully three yards in a brilliant finish. His time of 6.25 seconds was exceptionally fast and gave him a total of 940 points under the death-scoring system, 60 more than Osborn, who barely beat out Norton for second place.

Osborn Sprains Ankle. The chances of Osborn in the all-around test faded in the second event, the running high jump, when he twisted an old sprain in his left ankle and barely cleared six feet.

Norton then won the high jump with a leap of six feet 1 3/4 inches, garnering 944 points, which put him temporarily in the lead with a total of 1,774 points.

Osborn, although jumping only six feet one-quarter inch, got enough points to put him in second place, so far as total points were concerned, while Hoff, as a result of clearing only five feet 9 1/2 inches, was third in the standing for two events.

GREAT FUTURE

VIRGINIA VAN WIE

One of the latest golfing sensations in the fair sex field is Miss Virginia Van Wie, 17-year-old Big Rapids, Mich., and Chicago star. She started the links fraternity the other day by defeating Glenna Collett, national women's champion, in the finals for the east coast title. A few weeks ago Miss Van Wie won the Florida state crown, Miss Collett having been put out in one of the earlier rounds. Great things are expected of this youthful golf celebrity.

Hollywood Styles Must Lead Country in Women's Apparel

Hollywood—To merely keep in style in Hollywood is to be old-fashioned.

Why? Because here the movie stars' apparel must predict the mode for at least six months in advance. Long has it been recognized that many women look to the screen for their fashions and this is one reason why the players must depict what is to come in the way of clothes.

In costume pictures, the question becomes one of turning backward and this is not so much trouble. But in the modern, up-to-the-minute photoplays the actors sometimes are hard put to accomplish the feat of being exquisitely and pre-modishly gowned.

To find their fashions, the stars turn to the different sources; their own genius and flair for clothing, the famous designing experts who have brought their art to Hollywood, and the salons of Paris.

For example, when Marie Prevost was given the lead in Warner Brothers' "The Caveman," she learned from the script that she was to be a sophisticated, smartly-gowned woman of cosmopolitan society. She then conferred with Director Lewis Milestone and it was decided to consult a famous designer.

After a set of sketches, complete as to color, material and style, had been submitted and approved, the tedious process of fitting took ten days of Miss Prevost's time before everything was ready for her to dress for the picture.

Irene Rich, on the other hand, designs almost every frock she wears and with the aid of expert modistes in her studio achieves effects distinctly individual. For her next photoplay, Miss Rich designed, in gowns and the Warner dressmaking staff was kept busy an entire week.

Paris supplies Patsy Ruth Miller with most of her gowns. She buys them from importers in Los Angeles, San Francisco and New York. Often the stars buy their clothes in advance for pictures while they are in Paris.

Dressing for picture work is an expensive and gigantic task, but one which most of the stars like.

Cars Store Selves in Modern Garage

Chicago—A twenty-two story garage in which motor cars will store themselves in record time, and as briskly roll forth at the touch of a button, is being built for the automobile-aholic Chicago loop district.

From forty seconds to two minutes will be delivery time in this garage, which occupies the central space of the Jewelers' Building now under construction. The owner drives his car upon a loading platform before one of the elevators. An attendant takes a key from a master board, numbered to correspond with a vacant stall. The withdrawal of the key makes electrical connections which set in motion a sliding platform above, and the vacant stall comes to rest in front of the elevator shaft.

Meanwhile the elevator operator punches a button which thrusts up mechanism under the loading platform, and the car slides into the elevator.

The operator dials a number and the elevator rises to the floor assigned, where the door opens automatically. The operator presses a button, and the platform in the elevator tilts, letting the car slide into its stall. There bumpers engage the tires and hold it in place until the owner returns for his car. A somewhat similar process returns the car.

College Youths Show Up Well in Training Camps of Big Leagues

New York, Mar. 16.—(AP)—Seldom do ball players make the big jump to the majors from college ranks with a year or less of professional experience, but at least a half dozen young stars in this category are occupying the limelight now in southern training camps.

Perhaps the most conspicuous of these newcomers is Ernie Nevers, Leland Stanford's crack pitcher and All-American fullback, who donned a professional baseball uniform for the first time when he joined the St. Louis Browns this year. Under the tutelage of George Sialer, the Browns' manager, who himself stepped to big league fame from

PALM BEACH MAINLY FOR MILLIONAIRES

BY HORTENSE SAUNDERS
Palm Beach, Fla.—Of Florida's myriad play spots, Palm Beach is the millionaires' "little place in the sun."

For years it has been the east coast's social capital. No other southern resort is as celebrated. Palm Beach had been established as America's Monte Carlo long before the discovery of Florida by the real estate fraternity.

Therefore there is nothing of the upstart or newly-rich about Palm Beach. Rather is it a place where wealth and exclusiveness are traditional. Bounded on the east by the ocean and on the west by Lake Worth, Palm Beach offers a vista of rare tropical loveliness.

Against the very blue sky, royal palms outline themselves with assurance and poise, while flaming hibiscus, gaudy poinsettias, and foliage of every shade of red and green make glorious screens for lovely villas. Look, If You Wish, But—Palm Beach says to the tourist: "Come look at our playground, if you like." But it does not extend an indiscriminating glad hand.

Social credentials are as essential to a warm welcome at Palm Beach as is a well-filled wallet. There is gambling on a big scale at Palm Beach just as at Deauville or the Monte Carlo of the Mediterranean, but here again social reputation is the pass key. For bathers, there is a gorgeous Italian pool at the Casino as well as the world-famous open surf. And women bathers incidentally.

Will NOT appear without stocking. Will NOT saunter back to the hotel in wet, dripping bathing togs. The one spot on the landscape where the one-piece bathing suit and the unstockinged leg do not offend is "Gus's Baths." And many a tired millionaire, "in said, has been known to forsake the Casino for a glimpse at the "Gus's Bath" crowds.

Even the Casino has its social distinctions. The most powerful socially, stick to the south end. The rest are grouped by a knowing beach proprietor who knows his Social Register, at the north end. Beach chairs are rented by the season, and placarded like the boxes of the Golden Horseshoe at New York's Metropolitan Opera.

Shark fishing and surf bathing go on side by side. A Horse or Wheel Car. Golf, tennis, riding, yachting—these and almost every other sport identified with luxurious living there are at Palm Beach, with rides along the Lake Trail in a wheel chair for those less energetic.

Then the grounds of the famous old Royal Poinciana hotel, there is no spot more enchantingly beautiful. The Poinciana and the newer hotels—the Albia, Whitehall and others—provide the last word in elegance and exclusiveness of atmosphere. You are only a tourist or a sightseer in Palm Beach unless you know the "real people." The clubs, the golf links, the dances are for those who "belong."

For camaraderie, you'll have to seek elsewhere. But you'll find no place more beautiful than Palm Beach, and none other so "ultra ultra." Palm Beach is Florida's petted queen.

The NUT CRACKER by Joe Williams

Bobby Jones is undoubtedly the greatest golfer that ever lived but Walter Hagen simply refuses to believe it.

The amateur champion now knows how it feels to run afoul of a pair of Dempsey fists, delivered with Fitzsimmons power and Greb frequency.

None of us imagined we'd ever live long enough to see a great bird like Jones beaten 12 up in a golf match. . . . Not without the aid of a tank of chloroform and an army at any rate.

Nothing can surprise us now. Walter Johnson can become a bull-pen pitcher, Earl Sande can go to training mules, Willie Hoppe can start racking pool balls and Babe Ruth can drop to the sandlots.

If any living golfer—even the great Hagen—can bounce Jones around until he's cross-eyed and knock-kneed, then anything can happen, and no doubt will.

Whether Hagen is actually that much better than Jones is a waffle you can try on your own grid-iron. Maybe he is and maybe he isn't. The important thing is that they paid off on those figures.

One feature about the Haig. He's always been stronger in a pinch than a New Jersey cop.

You can give him the tramps' exit in the assorted cold meats events, but when you start serving turkey he's there for a double helping, and gets it.

A lot of the spear-toters in the mashie-niblick ranks don't like him because he carries his chin high and wears his hat higher. . . . That bothers him about as much as a silver in a nightwatchman's wooden leg.

Alexander the Great had a quart-sized ego. Napoleon's vanity cracked a mirror. When Washington put on the Blitz it was becoming.

The inflated onion is galling most when misplaced. . . . The barnyard cow is an admirable animal but it is admirable only in the barnyard.

INFERNO WINS

New York, Mar. 16.—(AP)—Dante's Inferno, owned by E. E. Major, registered his fifth consecutive victory in the six-furlong dash at Tampa today. Agnes Call and Nassau pressed the winner but had to be satisfied with second and third. The time was 1:14.

New Orleans's fourth race went to Marvin May, with Baner a nose behind. Dr. Glenn was third. The time for the six furlongs was 1:11 1/5. Tia Juana's best offering was an allowance affair at 11-16 miles with Runstar the victor in 1:46 1-5. Manzana scored the place over Teton.

Nurmi, the Green Tree Stable's winner of the $30,000 New Orleans handicap, was en route here from Miami. Normal Professor Talks to Seniors With fashion magazines shrieking of shorter 'n shorter skirts, evening gowns as worn by Society with a capital seem to get longer and longer. As a guest at the White House Army and Navy reception a week or so ago I saw scores and scores of gorgeous evening gowns that swept the very floor. The bouffant robe de style or picture dress in pastel and hectic shades was much in evidence. And quite the most talked-about dress of the ball was a white satin heavily banded in black velvet at hem, neckline, and shoulders that, short in front, dwindled to the floor behind. Prof. C. C. Wiggins, head of the commercial department of the Northern State Normal school at Marquette addressed the senior class of the Escanaba high school yesterday afternoon on the subject of education. He presented his subject in a very tactful manner and made the students realize that this being their last year in high school that they would soon have to think about their life work and of what value an education would be to them. It was the regret of the entire class that the professor's time was so limited. FASHION. breeds the danger of lost appreciation. It is only by telling again and again the story of Escanaba's progress of the past four years, under a council manager government, that appreciation of those benefits can be made permanent.

ST. PATRICK'S DAY.
Today the world thinks a little of a green island in the North Sea where abide the fairies and the leprechauns, where the banshees tread the paths across the moonlit moors by night.

The world cannot think of Ireland without a little of the soft sentimentality that the songs of her sons have made almost universal. "Mother Machree," "A Little Bit of Heaven," "My Wild Irish Rose," and those other plaintive, happy, yearning, little melodies have won for Ireland a corner in the world's great heart.

It is a sweet thought, a little thought of Ireland's faith and undying belief, handed down from generation to generation, unchanging. It suggests that here is a people that will never die, but must go on, carrying the battered standard of its cause, forever.

A BUSINESS PROPOSITION.
Although there will be four candidates seeking two vacancies in the Escanaba council at the spring election on April 5, but a single issue will be involved at that election—the naming of two council members who will support the principles of this city's council manager government in spirit and in fact.

The Press believes that a contest for membership in the city council, such as is now offered for the coming election, is one of the most valuable developments of the day for the good of Escanaba's council manager government.

Club Interested In Federation Press Contests

Announcement has been made as follows of three contests which will be conducted by the Michigan Federation of Women's Clubs in which the Child's Welfare Club of this city, as a member of the federation, will be concerned:

To stimulate active interest among club women in publicity work the press and publicity department of the federation will feature three contests during the present club year, final decisions to be made at the annual meeting in Ann Arbor in October.

First contest—Prize of $5 for the best news story of club meeting or club affairs, written by a member of a club affiliated with the Michigan State Federation and published in a newspaper of the state during the federation year.

Second contest—Prize of $5 for the best feature story on a club project written by a member of a club affiliated with the Michigan State Federation and published in a newspaper of the state during the federation year.

Contestants may submit any number of "stories" provided that all conform to the stated requirements.

All stories must be typewritten on one side of the paper only and double spaced, paper to be about 8 by 10 inches. A copy of the newspaper containing the article must accompany each entry.

Contests are limited strictly to amateurs—all club members at present engaged in professional newspaper or literary work, or who may have been in the past, are barred.

Entries may be filed at any time with the state chairman of press and publicity.

Third contest—Prize of $5 to the club exhibiting the best and most complete press scrap book at the annual meeting in Ann Arbor this scrap book to contain clippings of publicity on the club's activities, members' work and affiliated projects during the federation year.

Further announcement of the active part which Gladstone members will take in the contest will be made later.

OBRECHTS WILL PRESENT FARCE COMEDY TONIGHT

The Obrecht Sisters Stock company which has been playing to delighted audiences this week at the Community theater will offer another rollicking comedy this evening entitled "The Unkissed Bride," featuring Neil Obrecht and Johnnie Sullivan.

"The Unkissed Bride," is a roaring farce. It centers about a mercenary girl who leaves Fred Forrest at the altar and another girl whose efficiency is a byword but who proves to be a good sport. Fred has an uncle who believes in giving $100,000 or so to each nephew who marries. Fred, on the grounds that he would marry anyone for $100,000, finds a girl on a minute's notice. Later he finds he wouldn't give her up for another $100,000—but the play tells the rest of the story.

The complications that ensue keeps the audience in a constant scream of laughter.

A. M. Kangas, who has been employed by the Soo Line in this city for some time, left Monday night for his home in Minneapolis.

Miss Faye Chase left Monday night for Dresser Junction where she will spend a few days with relatives and friends.

R. J. Guido of Boone, Iowa, is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Guido, Sr., of this city.

DINNER PARTY GIVEN FOR MR. SINCLAIR

George Sinclair, who is resigning his position at the Henry Rosenblum store here to leave for Rochester, Minn., where he will locate, was the honor guest at a farewell party held for him Monday evening at the Rosenblum residence.

The affair was a dinner party at which members of the management and the store staff were present.

At the close of a delicious dinner a short program was held at which Mr. Sinclair was presented with gifts, as tokens of the esteem in which he is held by his associates. The presentation was made by Mr. Rosenblum, speaking for the management, and by W. S. Skellenger, speaking in behalf of the store staff.

Dancing, music and other social diversions following were included in the entertainment during a pleasant evening.

PASTOR WILL BE HERE FOR SUNDAY SERVICE

The pastor, with members of his family, is expected to arrive here from Lodi, Wis., where he has been located, on Saturday, and he will take up his duties here at once.

Reverend Grant conducted services at the Presbyterian church a short time ago and a call to the pastorate here was immediately issued to him.

Mrs. Andro Sirola and son are expected to arrive tonight from New York City to join Mr. Sirola in this city.

ENGADINE NEWS

Gust Hose has returned from a three months' trip in Europe. He went via Montreal to St. John, New Brunswick, where he took a steamer to Liverpool. From there he went by water on to Hamburg, Germany and overlaid 200 miles to his old home, where he visited the aged mother and transacted business. He reports a wonderful trip and a beautiful country. All the main roads are paved and planted on either side with fruit or ornamental trees. He was 13 days returning over the same route. All aboard the ship were seasick from two to five days.

The township caucus passed off quietly Saturday. The more important officers were all re-nominated. A woman, Mrs. Charles McCarty, is up for constable. Business was soon over and all were ready for the treats passed out by the various candidates.

J. L. Burnett came in from camp for the caucus and to spend Sunday with his family.

Mrs. O. Walstead spent last Wednesday and Thursday with friends in Manistique.

Miss Bertie Click spent Saturday in Gould City.

Mrs. George O'Neil entertained a number of ladies at an afternoon party on Tuesday.

Dr. Perry of Newberry was called here Saturday to attend Mrs. Crouthers.

Ed Cantin, teacher in the Rexton high school, spent the week-end here with relatives. Engadine always welcomes Mr. Cantin.

Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Felton, who moved to Phoenix, Ariz., last year, are the parents of another girl. This makes two daughters and two sons in the family.

Our respected grocer, William Patterson, continues in poor health. Dr. Reese of Rudyard came over recently and started him on the road to recovery.

Miss Ruth Burns entertained a few friends in honor of her twelfth birthday anniversary Wednesday.

There were no English Lutheran services in town Sunday as Rev. Steiner is on the sick list.

Harriet Burnett celebrated her eighth birthday anniversary Tuesday by inviting a number of her school friends in after school. A fine time was had by all. Mrs. Burnett served dainty refreshments. C. W. Comfort, the newly appointed rural mail carrier, is now busy on the route. It has been nearly ten months since the examinations were held for this position.

Doesn't hurt one bit! Drop a little "Freezone" on an aching corn. Instantly that corn stops hurting, then shortly you lift it right off with fingers. HOLLYWOOD

Hollywood.—There is pathos behind the successful lives of D. W. Griffith, the master, and his wife, Linda. Though they have been married for more than 20 years, few who follow the secrets of movieland know it. They have not lived together for many years but why, they seem to figure, destroy the spell that once was theirs when love was young? Thus, they have never become divorced.

Regularly, Linda receives an allotment from D. W. on the side, more to kill the time than anything else, she writes a little. Her best and sincerest literary work has just been published by E. P. Dutton and Co. It is a book of reminiscences, "When the Movies Were Young."

It begins at the beginning and goes up to the making of "The Birth of a Nation." Beyond that, perhaps Mrs. Griffith feels, there is nothing else to tell.

In every written line is her love for the man whom fame has taken from her and between the lines is her story of remembering the long ago—back in 1903 in San Francisco when he was "Lawrence Griffith, a struggling actor in a stock company and she was Linda Arvidson, the leading woman of the same troupe."

They were broke in those days but young and full of hope. And so they married.

But in This Land Called Make-Believe only one lives happily ever afterward—when fame comes.

"A. E. F.," immortal relic of the past fracas, at last has received the ultimate definition. Of course, a Hollywood title writer is responsible. He says it means, "Am Expecting Flowers."

Recipe for success in movies: Become successful in any other line of endeavor on earth first and then filmmaking will beckon. As it is, Hollywood is full of failures aching to become successes.

He used to be just plain Charlie Mack, a gawky, good-looking "property" boy around the D. W. Griffith studio in New York.

AMUSEMENTS

AT THE DELFT
Strange as it may seem, Johnny Hines, who comes to the Delft today in the role of a cub reporter, does not produce a notebook to jot down notes while on the job.

For years newspaper reviewers and critics have delighted in calling attention to the fact that newspaper reporters never use a notebook but that film reporters are invariably shown doing so.

"Rainbow Riley,"—to be shown today under auspices of the ladies of St. Patrick's parish is an adaptation of Thompson Buchanan's stage play, "The Cub." Johnny Hines, who is cast in the role of a reporter is kept so busy trying to evade trouble in the Kentucky mountains where he has been assigned to report a feud that notebooks or any other kind of newspaper equipment are a burden instead of an aid.

In his role of the cub reporter Johnny might be forgiven even if he did use a notebook, since he is employed because of his nerve and not because of his experience. Johnny isn't on the job more than a few days when he is given the Kentucky feud assignment, and as soon as he reaches his destination the main concern is to save his neck instead of worrying about his story.

But despite his hectic experiences, he not only manages to obtain a scoop for his paper, but finally brings peace to the feudists and happiness for himself when he wins the girl of his dreams.

AT THE STRAND
In "The Yankee Senator," Tom Mix's newest picture, which comes to the Strand today, the popular western star demonstrates that he is something more than a mere doer of daring stunts on horseback.

Among other things, the script requires him to execute a "peppy" tango, since the locale is Mexico. Although tangoing has heretofore been a bit out of the cowboy actor's line, he took an intensive course and, according to advance reports from the Fox West Coast Studios, he maneuvers a saucy limb.

In order to master the tango, Mr. Mix was obliged to forego his daily boxing exercise and put in the time under the tutelage of Carlos Sebastian, internationally famous tango master, who expressed delight at the aptness of his famous pupil.

The cast in support of Mix includes Olive Borden, who appears opposite him as Manuella, a winsome senorita, Kathryn Hill, Martha Mattox, Alec Francis and Francis McDonald.

The use of Technicolor in many of the sequences greatly enhances the beauty of the picture.

Then one day the gods smiled and D. W. "discovered" Charlie—cast him in the leading role of "Dream Street," a petty cinema tale but an awful commercial flop.

Overnight he became Charles Emmett Mack, dignified in name but unappreciated the sudden recognition. And to this day Charlie has been the same sort of a guy even though he does knock off a thousand or so a week for permitting his lanky frame to decorate the silver screen.

Would that many others had started as "property" boys instead of waiters and chauffeurs.

Here is a story of the girls who failed.

They failed to become motion picture stars but, as Pollyanna would indite, they found happiness instead.

Dorothy Manners came to Hollywood from Ft. Worth, Texas. She craved to be a Lone Star State all by herself. For awhile she made good and then she decided that as an actress she was a fairly good writer. She is now contributing and selling to "fan" magazines.

Like Gloria Swanson once upon a time, Kathleen Kay told if she would bob her nose she would be given a job in the film business. But not like Gloria, Kathleen, who comes from New York City, did not make the grade—as an actress. She is now a designer in one of the studios here.

Marie Campbell came from Clinton, Mo., to woo fickle fame. She was taken on her long trip up the cinema ladder—became a leading woman—and now she is script girl for Henry King her director.

There is no moral to be deduced; for the few who succeed many must fail.

Delta Over Quota for Wilson Fund
Delta county went over the top handsomely for the Woodrow Wilson Memorial Fund, Gerald J. Cleary, county chairman, announced yesterday. Admirers of the nation's war president, Mr. Cleary said, gave the fund twice the amount requested by the national organization.

About the only real fighting our army has done since the World War was with General Mitchell.

HER OWN WAY A GIRL OF TODAY

IRISH BLOOD.

In a moment all was confusion. Sterns the manager, and Sellers, the house detective were immediately on the spot.

Horton had managed to plant one good blow in Jimmie's face, but he had caught his tooth in his lip and he was a mess in a bright red stiff bosom shirt as the detective helped him up.

Sterns tried to push Jimmie and me into his office, but the moment he laid his hand on me, Jimmie's fighting blood was up. He would have none of it. He hauled off and looked so fierce that the manager backed down.

"Young man," he said, "you can't make a rough house here. You get out and you too, young woman. You go with him. I've had quite enough trouble with you ever since you've been here. I took you in when you were on your uppers."

"Cut it out," said Jimmie, "my face as far as he opened his mouth with his fists clenched in the face to say more. You can make up your mind I'll be glad to get out of this blasted dump. Come on, Judy."

We started for the hat-checking counter, when the manager bellowed:

"Here, I want your name and address, young man. And, didn't I hear you call this young woman by some other name than the one she gave us?"

Jimmie looked at me in consternation. He did not know whether he had spilled the beans or not. At the sight of my face he recovered and blurted out:

"You go to hell, will you?" With this he turned and followed me to the hat rack.

"Get your hat and coat quickly, Judy. Let's get out of this. I guess we've picked up a devil of rumpus, enough to last these people for some time."

Mamie had started forward as she saw me coming and she was helping me on with my coat.

"Say, Julie, is that your gentleman friend?"

"No, dear, I'll introduce him to you if you like. He's a nice chap, Miss Riley, this is an old friend of mine from home, Jimmie Costello."

Mamie understood immediately. She knew I didn't want Jimmie Costello or anyone else to know that I was friendless in the city of Chicago. She neglected a man who wanted his hat and was asking if he couldn't get a little service while she talked to Jimmie and me.

"Let him take you out to our apartment when you've finished your dinner and I'll come home as soon as I can."

TOMORROW: explanations. CITY HAS 6552 REGISTRATIONS

Escanaba has a total of 6,552 registered voters at the present time. City Clerk Carl E. Anderson announced yesterday after he had finished tabulating the recent additions and changes which have come into his office.

The registration for new voters who expect to vote at the April 5 municipal election will be next Saturday, March 20. Those who have changed their residence from one precinct to another may register at any time, however.

The registration by precincts is as follows:

Table with 2 columns: Precinct Name, Registrations. Rows include First (845), Second (1052), Third (802), Fourth (822), Fifth (874), Sixth (792), Seventh (829), Eighth (536), Total (6552).

The Very Idea!

AN EXAMPLE. Ol' Peety Pat was a queer sort of guy, who ploughed through each day without batting an eye. His job wasn't sweet, but he never went lame, 'cause he knew there was fun in his toll, 'jest' the same.

It made little difference whatever his work as long as his spirit knew not how to shirk. He'd turn into good all the sides that were bad through making the best of whatever he had.

He never sat down just to worry and fret, but he tackled his task so he'd always be set to stave off the failure, the fizzle and flop, which stand in the way of your reachin' the top.

And why do I mention this guy, Peety Pat? It's likely you'll wonder about it, at that. It's just in the thought that you'll all get the hang of the tip that he gives to the rest of the gang.

It doesn't pay to borrow because the borrower has to. Prof. Otergosh Sakes figures that no matter how many tires have been manufactured in the last year, it's a cinch they'll go around.

She shot an arrow into the air. It came to earth she knew not where. And neither did the poor girl care. It was the beau she was interested in.

It's the irony of fate that often lets a justice of the peace marry a couple who spend the rest of their lives fighting.

She searched her husbands pockets. Which was quite a sneaky stunt.

But, shucks, he didn't mind it. He got up and helped her hunt.

NOW, HONESTLY—Course we've all heard about the ups and downs of the elevator man. And we've cracked on how he gives everybody a lift, but—

Seriously speaking, he really is due for a word of praise—which he seldom gets.

Nine out of ten people who yank the handle that runs an elevator greet the occupants of their establishment with a smile. And that's worth something.

And besides—think of the steps you've saved every day. There's only one room for one crank in an elevator—that's the lever that works the machinery.

My idea of an ideal wife is the one who razzberried the postoffice officials for postmarking a postal card from her husband, "Atlantic City," when she knew dern well he was in New York on business.

Judge Landis and a couple million office boys will soon be giving all their attention to baseball.

One of my kids came home the other night and said the teacher told him to find the "common divisor." My gosh, they've been looking for that thing ever since I was in school.

FABLES IN FACT. SALES CLASSES ARE STARTED

L. S. Bowe Has 100 Persons in Cloverland College Course.

Nearly one hundred salespeople from the Escanaba retail stores are enrolled in the sales-school which started Monday and Tuesday of this week in the Cloverland Commercial College under auspices of the Chamber of Commerce.

L. S. Bowe, of the National Cash Register company, will conduct the classes. His extensive experience as a salesman and a sales organizer and director especially fits him for the job, and those who attended the opening sessions were delighted with the material he had for them.

The class is in two sections. One will meet Monday of each week, and the other will have Tuesday as its meeting day.

Unproven and untried theory will be a thing entirely apart from the course. Mr. Bowe emphasized yesterday. There will not even be a text book. The lectures will consist of material collected by Mr. Bowe from many sources—text books and personal experience predominating. Concrete demonstrations will be featured.

A playlet, illustrating the right and the wrong method of making a sale will be staged in the near future, it was announced. Members of the classes will play the various parts in the skit.

But no one ever tires of seeing smiling faces in person. The smile of contentment M-J-B puts on a man's morning face is worth seeing. And it's all because of a flavor—a rich, full-fledged flavor that gives a man the "contented feeling" he expects from coffee. Years of seasoned coffee experience—plus a certain "sixth sense" in blending—give M-J-B a can't-be-copied flavor that belongs to M-J-B and to M-J-B alone: a flavor that makes you feel the world is good and the coffee is better. And this flavor isn't fickle—it's constant. It matters not what method of coffee-making you prefer. Nor how much or little you use to the cup. The same rich, no-mistake flavor of M-J-B is always there to match your morning mood. For M-J-B isn't simply coffee—it's coffee contentment from first sip to last!
